United Way Fund Drive Tops Goal With $15,437

Just a month after kicking off the United Way Fund Drive in Wayne, drive officials last week announced that slightly more than $15,437 has been collected from residents in the community.

Bill Dickey, president of the board of directors of the Wayne Community Chest, said that amount is about $207 over the $15,230 goal adopted for this year's campaign.

DICKEY, who credited the success of the campaign to the initiative of campaign workers in completing the drive in such a short length of time, said Wayne area residents also deserve a big vote of appreciation for their generosity.

Dickey said several cards have yet to be turned in by drive workers and he urged them to do so as soon as possible. Those outstanding cards could push the total up another $500.

Eleven board members, along with drive chairman Dick Dilman, assistant drive chairman Grant Ellingson, and more than 100 campaign workers, were involved in the campaign.

A breakdown shows that this year's goal will be divided among nine agencies in the following fashion:

Wayne Recreation Program, $4,000; Mid-America Council of Boy Scouts, $3,500; Prairie Hills Council of Girl Scouts, $2,920; Salvation Army, $1,400; Wayne Senior Citizens Center, $800; Arthritis Foundation, $860; Cystic Fibrosis, $300; Florence Crittenton Home, $250; and American Red Cross, $200.

About seven percent of the total goal is budgeted for a contingency fund and administration of the campaign.

United Fund Drive

100% of goal

To Date: $15,437
Goal: $15,230.00

MEMBERS of the board of directors are Bill Dickey, Pat Gross, Merle Rise, Randy Pederson, Ed Carroll, Fred Webber, Doug Livermore, LaVon Beckman, Doug Sturm, Wilma Moore, Anna Mae Wessel and Verneal Ellingson.

Marilyn Carhart is secretary of the organization.

Wayne-Carroll High School students can also be credited for helping surpass the goal this year. Seniors Jeff Zeiss and Penny James helped organize an all-school disco dance following the Hartington Cedar Catholic and Wayne football game on Oct. 24.

NEARLY 225 students turned out for the dance, which raised about $195 for the Chest fund drive. The dance was co-sponsored by Wayne Radio KTCB.

Sentencing Is Friday In Robbery

Sentencing of two men in connection with robbery of the Commercial State Bank in Hoskins will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Wayne County Courthouse.

Kevin D. Wehrer, 18, Norfolk, and Douglas L. Schulz, 18, Pierce, pleaded guilty Oct. 18 in District Court here to a charge of theft by unlawful taking. Another charge against them, use of a firearm to commit a felony, was dismissed by Judge Merrill C. Warren after plea bargaining between the prosecuting and defense attorneys.

According to testimony at an Oct. 4 hearing, Schulz and Wehrer robbed the Hoskins bank shortly after 1 p.m. Sept. 27 of $4,389.

Prosecuting Attorney Budd Bornhoff, Wayne, made the recommendation for dismissing the firearm charge and will make no recommendations at time of sentencing.

ESU Board to Make Decision

Educational Service Unit No. 1 board of directors will pick a site for their new combined facility at their next regular meeting Dec. 4.

At the regular meeting in Wayne Tuesday night, members present voted unanimously to make the decision at the next board meeting.

Primary sites under consideration are Wakefield and Wayne. The board has been considering the acquisition and remodeling of two Wakefield structures as well as construction of a new facility on the Wayne State campus.

The governing board of the Nebraska State Colleges has pledged support to the ESU and will make campus land available should the service unit board wish to locate on the campus. Other existing sites in Wayne also are under consideration.

Every Cloud Has Its Silver Lining

ALTHOUGH most residents found the season's first substantial snowfall a bit depressing, youngsters had a way of turning even the darkest moments into a joyful experience. The area was blanketed with about three inches of snow Monday causing various power outages around the county. Most were due to ice and wind whipping electric transmission lines together, resulting in breaker switches being kicked out. There was little or no damage to the city of Wayne. Making the best of the snowfall were from left: Ryan Pick, 3; Shelly Pick, 10; Kathy Stalling, 9; Brent Pick, 11; and Valerie Stalling, 11. The quintet was constructing its first snowman of the season on Hillcrest Road.

Car Dealers Say Business Steady, And Plenty of Financing Available

Car dealers in Wayne say their businesses are doing well despite a nationwide tightness in the supply of money.

RESPONDING to recent reports that potential car buyers were having difficulty getting loans through local banks, the car dealers said their supply of money for financing of cars is readily available.

Glen Ellingson of Ellingson Motors Inc., said the tight money supply has had some effect overall, but not as much as in the metropolitan areas.

AREA farmers have a good crop this year and a good carryover crop from last year and this has provided a boost to the area's economy, Ellingson explained. Rural America is not hurtling from the money crunch as much as the metropolitan areas, mainly because of two years of above-average crops, the car dealer explained.

THERE HAS been some decline in sales, he added, because farmers have been too busy harvesting crops to get to town. Tight money and other inflation factors have had a limited effect, he said.

Unknown to most persons, financing for a new or used car is available at rates as low or lower than can be offered elsewhere. Ellingson said rates through GMAC (General Motors Acceptance Corporation) have remained stable for several years, while the cost of money elsewhere has risen. By using its own cash flow and cash reserve, GMAC is able to provide financing at rates lower than those offered by most financial institutions, he explained.

"Financing is available at a good, competitive rate through GMAC," he explained. "We haven't had a bit of trouble getting money for loans."

A GMAC survey recently showed that 13 percent of car loans on the local level were financed through GMAC while in the metro areas, 53 percent of car loans were financed through the parent company, Ellingson noted.

This, he said, helps point up the fact that the economy in rural areas is much healthier than in the metro areas.

Mike Perry Chevy-Olds, also a member of GMAC, is in a similar situation as far as car financing and sales.

PERRY SAID business is down (three sales from a year ago as of September), but not to the degree that the situation is considered serious. Citing healthy crops in recent years,

Perry said there is "good potential" for a healthy fourth quarter. "It's a favorable situation to be in."

In comparison to the metro areas, local car sales are doing quite well, he said.

GMAC financing also is available through Mike Perry Chevy-Olds. He said the program was started to help dealers maintain a balanced inventory and to provide a financial service to the general public.

Arnie Reeg of Arnie's Ford-Mercury provided the following comment: "The article published in last week's Herald came somewhat as a surprise to us as we have not experienced any problems in obtaining financing for our customers. We realize that the national money market is tight at the current time, but our local economy, being mostly agricultural, is at its strongest level in recent years. We are very optimistic about auto sales in Northeast Nebraska for the rest of 1979 and into 1980."

DUTCH Fuelberth of The Chrysler Center echoed the sentiments of other local car dealers, saying his sales were affected more by the money supply but that the area's economy was strong.

Chrysler also has on-the-spot financing available.

'Mature Students' Find College Life A Challenge, But Problems Exist

At 40, Ardith Hughes of Emerson is the mother of five children, happily married and a student at Wayne State.

She is one of 508 "mature undergraduate students" (students over 23) attending WSC this fall, a figure that reflects a growing national trend of senior students who have "stopped out" of education and are returning to enroll in colleges and universities throughout the U.S.

FOR ARDITH, her shopping around at the end of the high school grade and a family worked for some time and was held off in 1974. Her 12 years away from college education have made the decision to obtain a General Education Degree (GED) and to enroll as a freshman at Wayne State College, 32 miles from her home, "I adjusted," she said. "And it has not been nearly as difficult as I thought it would be." She carries a 3.0 average (on a 4-point scale) and will graduate next fall.

The decision to return to college for the average mature student is not an easy one. Concern over academic success or failure, financial burdens on students and their families; adjusting to a life style that, in many cases, conflicts with a variety of pre-existing priorities have all played important factors in inhibiting many would-be mature college students from returning to school or pursuing a new career.

INCREASINGLY, however, those fears are being overcome and older students are enrolling for classes, changing the makeup of today's campuses, including Wayne State's.

A 1977-78 study of the needs of WSC's mature students, conducted by WSC graduate Nicki Newman, herself a mature student, revealed a number of specific needs for such students. As a result of the study, the group "College Horizons Expanded for Mature Students" (CHEMS) was formed and a number of new programs were initiated to accommodate mature students.

"WE ARE basically a voluntary support group for mature students who have taken the step to return to college and have already run into problems that all of us face," said Ardith Hughes, a leader in the CHEMS group.

"It really helps to know you are not the only one facing problems when you return. We have the same problems as traditional students, along with a strong feeling of alienation."

The study, which included a survey of mature students, indicated a number of problem areas for the older students, including a general lack of awareness of college offerings and facilities. Most mature students at WSC have family or job responsibilities and commute to campus only long enough to attend their classes, contributing to the awareness problem.

"BEFORE CHEMS was formed, many students felt no social ties to college," Ms. Hughes said. They missed out on dorm life and if they had problems there was no help to any kind, they were on their own.

"We found most did not know about financial aid programs or that they had problems in classes because they could not stay after and ask questions," she added. "I think part of the problem was that most people identified student loans or grants with the traditional student because mature students usually feel they have to make it on their own."

The CHEMS group has attempted to organize older students into an active body to enhance campus life for mature students and to inform them. A major CHEMS achievement thus far was a June, 1979, orientation designed to ease the transition to college life. Information covered college course offering; financial aid; problem areas older students should expect to face and how to handle them, both socially and academically, along with information on general campus facilities.

MS. HUGHES said that through the CHEMS orientation, the students were encouraged not to leave campus without first stopping by the Student Union to visit with other students, thus forming social ties to campus and providing a friendly outlet for discussing problems or events of the day. She said the results of the orientation program and other CHEMS activities can be seen this fall and should continue to add to a more informed mature student in a comfortable environment.

"We are seeing a greater number of mature students in the Student Union," she said. "The students are taking an active part in the social aspects of college life, which is many times just as important as the academic aspects."

"FOR MOST OLDER students, if they have actually started classes they have taken the most difficult step in improving themselves," she added. "Most find they have established goals, more so than the traditional student, which helps them do better academically on an average, despite their fears. They also find they are welcomed in the classes because they can provide input from their personal experiences."

Ms. Hughes said most mature students have few problems being accepted by the younger student population. For her, a constant effort is needed to organize, both at home and in her academic life.

State's Usury Law Remains Unchanged

CAPITOL NEWS

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Members of the Legislature's Revenue Committee decided recently to put off — at least temporarily — a vote on a proposal calling for a special legislative session this year to change the state's usury rate.

Several of the committee members said they thought it would be better to address the issue in the regular session that will open in January. Others said they needed more information on the state of economic affairs before they could make a decision on whether a special session was warranted.

Sen. John DeCamp of Neligh said the matter could be discussed again at a committee meeting, if the members thought it advisable.

Talk of the special session was triggered during a hearing on problems stemming from the state's 12.5 percent usury rate, which is applied to most loans of up to $100,000.

During the hearing, members of the financial, housing and automobile industries said a special meeting of the lawmakers should be called to consider abolishing or raising the usury rate.

According to testimony presented, the present rate has been an important factor in the shortage of credit and that the Uniformed cannot afford to wait to fix the problem.

DeCamp said he had been advised by Gov. Charles Thone that the governor continues to be opposed to a special session.

The Neligh legislator said, "We seem to have a tendency, particularly in this state, to resolve things by crisis." He added he believes there are going to be unemployed people, some who will go broke and others unable to buy or sell homes if the usury rate isn't altered.

Sen. Dave Landis of Lincoln argued a special session would be unwise at this time and suggested a comprehensive education campaign before the Legislature does anything about usury rates.

Landis said the situation will become more grim between now and the first of the year. But he added, "We do not face a disaster."

Would ban studded snow tires

The Nebraska Advisory Highway Commission has gone on record in favor of requesting the Legislature to prohibit studded snow tires.

At their last monthly meeting, the commissioners heard Lincoln and Omaha officials voice their support of the proposed ban.

Commissioner C. Mickey Skinner of Omaha suggested the Legislature consider outlawing the tires for a one- or two-year period.

According to D.J. Erington, Omaha Public Works Director, his city is forced to resurface roads repeatedly and that damage to Omaha streets exceeds $1 million annually.

Erington said damage to all Nebraska highways is estimated at $10 million a year.

He also said he agrees with studies indicating studded tires have only limited value in cutting safety hazards and function better than regular tires only on glare ice.

Lincoln City Engineer Rex Smith told the commission studded tire damage eventually will show up in all parts of the state, not just in Omaha.

Others supporting the ban included the Chamber of Commerce in Lincoln and Omaha, the Nebraska Society of Professional Engineers and the Douglas County attorney's office.

Strong feelings about smoking

There were some strong feelings — and they were evident — during the most recent hearing on proposed rules and regulations for the Nebraska Clean Indoor Air Act which will go into effect next year.

Many of those at the hearing wore anti-smoking buttons and told those sitting near them to extinguish their cigarettes.

After one smoker noted the new law won't go into effect until January 1, 1980, a woman responded: "How would you like it if I started coughing in your face? Better yet, how would you like it if I vomited all over you?"

A non-smoker told a nearby smoker: "Either you put out that cigarette or I'll put you out." Many other non-smokers fanned smoke away from their faces.

Under the proposed regulations, businesses would have to have a physical barrier, such as a wall or partition, at least 36 inches high or leave four feet of floor space between smokers or non-smokers. The business would have the option of doing those things or installing a ventilation system that would renew the air in the room 12 times an hour.

Opponents of the new law claimed the various proposed regulations exceed the intent of the Legislature.

That was the view expressed by an attorney for the Nebraska Licensed Beverage Association.

But the non-smokers said the only way smokers' rights would be protected is through the new law.

The 17-page State Health Department draft of regulations for implementation of the law was written after six public hearings in various parts of the state. The State Health Board will adopt the final version Dec. 17.

In addition to the Licensed Beverage Association, Chambers of Commerce and industry representatives objected to various sections of the proposed regulations.

But the president of the American Lung Association of Nebraska, Dr. Walter O'Donohue, said the latest draft was not tough enough.

Cautions against hasty revisions

State Sen. Ernest Chambers of Omaha has cautioned his colleagues on the Legislature's Judiciary Committee against acting hastily on suggested revisions in state statutes that make insanity a defense in criminal proceedings.

The issue has been in the spotlight since a jury in Lincoln found Erwin Charles Simants innocent by reason of insanity in the slaying of six members of a Sutherland family four years ago.

Until there is "deep understanding" of how the system works, Chambers told the committee, it would be wise in the face of this one case to try not to bring about drastic changes.

Committee counsel John Goc said the insanity defense has been under study since April. He said there are several possible alternatives to the innocent by reason of insanity plea. Those alternatives will be ready for the committee's consideration before the 1980 legislative session, Goc indicated.

He said they will be different from what Sen. Patrick Venditte of Omaha has been advocating. Venditte has said he will sponsor a bill under which the burden would be on the defendant to prove he was insane.

Sen. William Nichol of Scottsbluff, committee chairman, said the unit will want to review Goc's proposed legislation before a decision is made on introduction of a bill.

"I don't think this is something we want to jump into and make a quick decision on," Nichol said. "This is an extremely sensitive area."

In advising his fellow committee members to move slowly, Chambers said, "It's better that 10 guilty people go free than one innocent person be punished."

OBSERVATIONS

Our Thanks to the Farmer

Webster's New World Dictionary defines agriculture as "the science and art of farming, work of cultivating the soil, producing crops and raising livestock."

This week, we made a special salute to area farmers with a pull out section of The Wayne Herald.

Farming truly is an art or a science. It involves careful and expert breeding of livestock, the careful and knowledgeable application of all types of insecticides and herbicides, and the nurturing of seeds into grain that helps feed the world.

In the face of adversity year after year, the American farmer has found the inner resources to uphold the traditions of hard work, intelligence and resilience.

Along with the Herald's special section honoring area farmers, the Chamber of Commerce is planning its annual Farmer Appreciation Night Dinner Saturday at Wayne State College.

Wayne primarily is an agricultural community and businesses and residents of the area owe their successes to the successes of the farming community.

If market conditions, or inclement weather or government interference affect the farmers' profits, the reflection of those financially hard times is found in the business community.

Likewise, when farming is on a financial upswing, a rural community such as Wayne carries a kind of communal smile showing the interconnection between the farmer and community.

As noted in a recent article in The Herald, farmers are no different when it comes to inflation and its effects on people. In the breadbasket of America, we all suffer together or we all prosper together.

The special supplement is our way of thanking the farmer for his perseverance, for his fortitude, for his insight into the future, for his contributions to feeding the world, and for his willingness to do business in our town. — Dan Field

OUT OF OLD NEBRASKA

Nebraska men participated in every phase of military service during World War I on land and sea, and in the newest war machines in the air. Unlike the 1st Nebraska Volunteer Cavalry Regiment of the Civil War or the 1st Nebraska Volunteer Infantry Regiment in the Spanish American War, state boundaries were not commonly observed in constituting units. The conscription system of obtaining men changed Army organization.

Men fought in amalgamated units with units from other states or even under Canadian, British, or French command as the Allies moved against Germany. There were, however, some distinct Nebraska units in the war. They were in the 355th Infantry Regiment (called "Nebraska's Own" or the "Fighting Farmers") in the 89th Division (the 314th Ammunition Train and the Field Hospital No. 1). The last named, attached to the famous 42nd "Rainbow" Division, was first constituted in 1903. It was the oldest unit in the 117th Sanitary Train of this division.

Nebraska also financed Base Hospital 49 at Allerey, France. Its staff of 400 men and women went on active duty on Sept. 12, 1918, performing an average of 20 surgical operations a day until the Armistice was signed on November 11. It performed a total of 614 operations, and treated 180 "gassed" soldiers. Poisonous mustard and other gasses were employed by Germany. Of all the American hospitals in Europe the 49th Base had the best record of saving lives. The hospital had been organized at Omaha by the University of Nebraska College of Medicine; its personnel largely drawn from the faculty and alumni.

Nebraska went to work with food production and its people bought $240 million in bonds, not only exceeding the quota, but buying more War Waving Stamps, according to population, than any other state.

The 34th Division (National Guard), its insignia a black oval encircling a red bovine skull, was organized at Camp Dodge, New Mexico, on Oct. 2, 1917. It was made up of guardsmen from Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, North Dakota, and South Dakota. Upon arrival at Cody, the 4th Nebraska Infantry Regiment was reorganized into the 127th Field Artillery, the 5th Nebraska Infantry designated the 134th Infantry, and the 6th was broken up into Military Police, Ammunition Train and other organizations, all a part of the 34th Division. It sailed overseas in Sept. 1918, via England, the last units arriving in France on Oct. 24, 1918. The Division was ordered to the Le Mans area where it was broken up.

The 89th Division was organized under the provision of the draft law of May, 1917, providing for the National Army. The men were drawn from Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, Nebraska, South Dakota, Arizona, New Mexico. Men coming from Nebraska were assigned to the 355th Infantry and to the three machine gun battalions organized with the division. One of these battalions was the 341st, composed entirely of Omaha men. The first men to answer the draft from Nebraska reached Camp Funston, Kansas, on Sept. 5, 1917, and were assigned to the various companies of the 355th. These were the men commonly known as the first five percent. On Sept. 19, the first 40 percent of the drafted men arrived at Funston. The majority of those from Nebraska, outside Omaha, were assigned to the 355th Infantry. The 89th Division sailed for France on June 4, 1918.

Although Nebraska had over 55,000 men in the service, and of this number over 47,000 were in the Army, 6,000 in the Navy, and 500 in the Marines, The Air branch at that time was a part of the Army. Nebraska furnished 375 nurses to the service. There were 1,655 casualties among the Nebraskans.

Nebraska's highest ranking officer was Gen. John J. Pershing, commander of the American Expeditionary Force who, although born in Missouri, had lived, taught school, attended school in Nebraska, and had close relatives living here.

Effort to Repeal Tax Exemptions Pending

Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation
By M.M. Van Kirk,
Director of Information
Whose special interests?

The frequency of editorials in the state's metropolitan newspapers attacking the personal property tax exemption law and statements made at tax study committee hearings should alert Nebraska farmers and ranchers that a redoubled effort to repeal or drastically alter those exemptions is pending.

Main target of these forces is the 1977 personal property tax exemption law which called for total exemption of personal property taxes on farm equipment and livestock in 1980. The law set a limit of $70 million on the total annual reimbursements to be made by the State from sales and income tax sources to the counties to compensate for their losses of personal property tax revenues. It is contended that the formula for distribution of such reimbursements to the counties should be revamped to overcome the factor of obsolescence as time passes.

However, one remedy suggested, that of restoring 25 percent of the personal property tax, would mean returning to enumeration of all farm and business personal property. Under such an arrangement, owners of farm and business personal property would live under constant threat of reverting to payment of 100 percent of the tax.

Those who have opposed the concept of personal property tax exemption have never recognized that it is basically an unfair tax, and they do not even mention that factor in their arguments now. Yet it is the main reason that more than 30 of the 50 states have eliminated personal property taxes in favor of other forms of taxes.

The inequity is that taxpayers such as farmers and businessmen must own large amounts of personal property to earn their living, in contrast to those who need little or no personal property, for example, executives, salesmen, skilled workers, lawyers, professors, newspaper editors, bankers, etc. Farmers and business people pay the same sales and income taxes as do all other taxpayers, but have historical ly had to bear the extra burden of personal property taxes.

A cattle feeder might lose $100 per head on his cattle at market time as was common a couple of years ago, and at the same time be obligated for personal property taxes on those cattle, using updated valuation figures. A farmer could lose his crops to drought or hail and still owe for the personal property taxes on the array of machinery required for modern farming, valued at guideline figures updated each year.

Farm and ranch people particularly should not be misled and intimidated by charges that they are a "horrible special interest group" because they have supported elimination of the personal property tax inequity. Certainly they should not permit themselves to be conned into working for its restoration. Other states which have eliminated personal property taxes have not gone back to them nor have their taxes on real property had to make up for all the attendant reduction in local revenues.

It is ironic that the main clamor against the personal property tax exemption law is centered in Lincoln and Omaha which for 25 years prior to passage of the state's first sales and income tax law in 1967 had bitterly opposed all attempts to weaken the State from its total reliance on property taxes. Yet soon after passage of that sales and income tax law, the major cities got legislative authorization to "muscle in" on the State's sales tax revenues by levying their own municipal sales taxes. The Omaha city sales tax is now at 1 1/2 percent, others are at 1 percent.

Who is looking for whose "special interests"?

One other tax issue which bears watching is the suggestion that the sales tax include services. Under such a tax, the farmer would again find himself paying not only the same taxes that everyone else pays but much more. He has tractors, tractors, and farm machinery on which repair bills can be a very large annual item. Such a tax could also be applied against veterinary services, custom farm work and many other farm service items.

Inflation caused primarily by federal deficit spending and financing is the main culprit behind spiraling state and local tax spending. There are many tax problems in Nebraska but they will not be solved by restoring old inequities and adding new ones.

The bride's fingertip veil, edged in lace to match her gown, was attached to a headpiece of matching lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of peach roses, stephanotis and greenery.

Her attendants were attired in floor-length frocks and dusty peach Quiana fashioned after the bridal gown, with cowl necklines, pleated skirts and three-quarter sleeves. They wore flowers in their hair and carried colonial bouquets of silk peach roses with ivory and brown accents.

The bridegroom was attired in a white tuxedo with a peach rose boutonniere, and his attendants wore sandalwood tuxedos trimmed in brown with ivory shirts. They wore peach silk flower boutonnieres.

The bride's mother wore a silver blue Quiana dress and the bridegroom's mother selected a pink polyester knit. Both wore white silk gardenia corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sherer of Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Don Dreesen of Columbus greeted the guests who attended a reception in the church parlors. Dining room hostess was Mrs. Jeannie Gardner of Wakefield.

Thought for Today
 By Carol Wiltse

"A wise man turns chance into good fortune..."
 Chinese Proverb

A chance turn of events can often be utilized to good advantage. Occasionally, as we go about our everyday business, something totally unexpected will pop up. It may even be a temporary obstacle which must be removed or bypassed.

No matter what happens, the wise man, with vision, courage and spirit of adventure, will try to turn each whim of chance into good fortune. He will succeed often enough to make his efforts well worth while.

Spare your family the need for making painful decisions. Arrangements made prior to need will permit you to make all decisions in exact accordance with your desires.

Wayne State Migrates To Kearney With .500 Season On The Line

by Kevin Weiberg
Wayne State SID

Football powerhouse, Kearney State College hosts intra-state rival Wayne State College in the fifty-third renewal of one of Nebraska's best small college battles Saturday.

Everything is on the line for the Antelopes of Kearney State including a Central States Intercollegiate Conference championship and a possible trip to the NAIA national playoffs. Kearney State is 7-1 overall, 5-1 in the CSIC. The Antelopes share the conference lead with Pittsburg State but have defeated the Gorillas and a win over the Wildcats will secure the conference crown.

In contrast, Wayne State, due to last Saturday's loss to Missouri Southern, has been eliminated from the conference race.

The Wildcats are 3-3 in the CSIC, 4-4 overall.

Offensively the Wildcats have struggled throughout the year. In the Cats' 18-14 loss to Missouri Southern the defense scored both touchdowns with interception returns. WSC's offense has managed only three touchdowns in four games.

Wayne State's young defense has continued to improve throughout the season and the Wildcat black shirts may have to come up with their best performance of the year to shut down Kearney State's offense. The Antelopes are the CSIC's and District 11's leading offensive team averaging 379.9 yards per game.

Junior quarterback Dean Carstens directs the Kearney offensive attack. Carstens has completed 58 of 116 passes for 809 yards while also rushing for 315. Team depth is probably the Antelopes best asset and so far this season seven Kearney offensive players have rushed for more than 100 yards. Junior fullback Dan Bonhower leads all Antelope rushers with 725 yards.

WSC head football coach Del Stollenberg says the Antelopes have changed their football philosophy in recent years.

"Some years ago they used to emphasize outscoring you. And generally we and other teams could get quite a few points and quite a few yards," he said. "Now they have kind of changed their philosophy and are emphasizing defense."

Kearney State leads in the series 31-15-6 and has won the last seven straight including last year's 39-0 win in Wayne.

Late Fourth Down Run Stings WSC Wildcats 18-14

A fourth down desperation gamble turned into a touchdown late in the game as Missouri Southern rallied for an 18-14 win over the Wayne State Wildcats Saturday in Wayne.

Lion halfback Ron Harris burst through the line and dashed 68 yards for the winning touchdown on a fourth and 2 play with only 2:16 left in the game. The run was one of several big plays that marked the game. Wayne State scored on two interception returns while the Lions relied on a 100-yard kickoff return and a WSC fumble for their first two touchdowns.

Turnovers were the order of the day for both teams as the two clubs combined for 13 total miscues. Wayne State had four passes intercepted and lost two fumbles while Missouri Southern also had four passes intercepted and lost three fumbles.

WSC scored first when linebacker Steve Dennis intercepted a Dan Allison pass and raced 12 yards for a Wildcat touchdown. Earl Emanuel's PAT gave the Cats a 7-0 lead with 7:59 left in the first half.

On the ensuing kickoff Lion return specialist Vince Featherston dashed 100 yards for a Missouri Southern score. The PAT failed and WSC held a 7-6 lead with 7:43 remaining in the second period. For Featherston, the kickoff return was his second 100-yard burst of the year. Last year the 5'11 1/2-pounder led the NAIA in yards gained per kickoff returned.

About halfway through the third quarter Wildcat cornerback Jay Sandy picked off another Allison pass and ran untouched 41 yards for the final WSC touchdown. Emanuel's extra point kick gave the Wildcats a 14-6 lead with 7:33 left in period number three.

After the two teams traded interceptions and fumbles, Missouri Southern pulled back within two points as Steve Stallard capped a five play 15 yard Lion drive with a 3 yard touchdown plunge. With only 8:18 left in the game the Lions decided to try for a two point conversion but Stallard was stopped short and the Wildcats maintained a 14-12 lead.

The Wildcats moved into scoring position one final time but when Emanuel's 40 yard field goal attempt stayed wide to the left Missouri Southern took over setting up the final Lion score.

Starting from their own 24-yard line Missouri Southern advanced to the 32 before electing to gamble on a fourth and 2 situation. Harris burst through the left side of the line and raced to the winning score.

The Lion victory crushed WSC's hopes of staying alive in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference (CSIC) race. The Wildcats fell to 3-3 in the CSIC, 4-4 overall. Missouri Southern is now 5-4, 3-3 in the conference.

TIM HURLEY

STEVE ATAMIAN

Three Athletes Selected As Players of the Week

Three players have been named Wayne State College "players of the week" for their performances against Missouri Southern last Saturday. Offensive center Ron Price was selected for the first time this year while defensive end Tim Hurley and safety Steve Atamian were chosen for a second time.

Price has been the Wildcats' special team center throughout the season snapping the ball on all punts and place kicks. Wayne State head football coach Del Stollenberg said he gives the 5-11, 195-pound freshman from Lincoln some of the credit for the improved play of the special teams this year. Price may get a chance to start for the first time Saturday against Kearney State because of an injury to senior center Kevin Savio.

Hurley and Atamian are the Wildcats' number five and six tacklers respectively thus far in 1979 despite both men having missed one game due to injury. Against Missouri Southern, Hurley recorded six total tackles, a fumble recovery and his ninth quarterback sack of the year. The Omaha product has 70 total tackles in 1979. Atamian, Schaumburg, Ill., had eight tackles against Missouri Southern including a quarterback sack. He also added a pass interception and two batted passes.

Harriers Place Last

Wayne State's cross country team placed last in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference meet Saturday in Hays, Kan.

Fort Hays State won the five-mile event with 24 team points. Emporia State and Kearney State tied for second with 56 points while Pittsburg State was fourth with 91 points and the Wildcats last with 141 points.

Curt Shelman, Fort Hays State, won the meet in a time of 24:44. Wayne State's best finisher was Dave Hauser who finished in a time of 27:25. Hauser has led the Cats in every meet he has participated in this year. Other WSC runners and their times were: Mark Baumert, 27:38; Arld Johnson, 29:31; Ron Keegan, 29:33 and Doug Petersen, 30:15.

Uruguayan Game Opens Wayne State Basketball Season

The Wayne State College basketball team kicks off its 1979-80 season at 8 p.m. Friday in WSC's Rice Auditorium as the Wildcats host the Uruguay Olympic team in an international basketball contest. The game is open to the public.

The Uruguayan team is composed of athletes from throughout the South American country and is the same group that will represent Uruguay in the 1980 Summer Olympic games in Moscow. Wayne State is the first stop on a four-state tour that matches the Uruguayans against teams from Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Seven games have been scheduled in 10 days for the visiting Olympians.

The game will provide spectators with a chance to see basketball played under international rules. WSC head basketball coach Bill Ivey says he is not too concerned about the differences between international and American basketball rules.

"We have not spent a great deal of our time on the international rules," he said. "We are going to be concerned about the basic changes, but for the technical things we don't have the time to spend on them."

Two rule changes the Wildcats will focus on are the "no dead ball" rule and the extended foul lane area.

According to international rules an official does not have to touch the ball before it can be put back in play following a turnover or nonshooting foul situation. Ivey said he feels the Wildcats could use this rule to their advantage.

"I do know we are extremely quick and if we do adjust to the rule it would prove to be an advantage to us," Ivey commented. "I'm looking for an exciting ball game, the possibility of an extremely high scoring game exists with the no dead ball rule."

In contrast, Ivey said he feels the expanded foul lane may hurt the Wildcats. On the collegiate level in the United States the foul lane is approximately 12 feet wide while under international rules the lane extends to a maximum width of about 22 feet at the base line. Ivey said the expanded width of the lane could force the Wildcat offense out side.

"Our offense is geared to getting the shots along that area, and we're accustomed to setting screens along our own baseline and therefore that is going to move us out some," he said.

Tickets will be available at the door or can be obtained by calling the WSC athletic ticket office at 402-375-2200, ext. 260. Prices are $3 for adults and $2 for the 17 and under age group.

An added attraction at the game will be a halftime gymnastics performance by Gymnastics World, an independent club from Fremont. The group, coached by Pat Craun of Wayne, competes against other independent clubs from throughout Nebraska and will perform floor exercise demonstrations as well as work on the balance beam, uneven parallel bars and the vault.

Districts Volleyball Action-Trojans Into Tonight's Finals

The Wakefield Trojans will meet West Point tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 in the finals of the C-4 volleyball districts at Wakefield High School. Wakefield defeated Ponca 15-1, 15-7 Monday in the opening round of districts and then dropped Homer 8-15, 15-11, 15-2 in the semifinals Tuesday.

Against Ponca, Jolene Bartels led the team with 17 service points in an easy win. Bartels also paced the Trojans with nine points in the Homer match. Kathy Gustafson tallied 13 down spikes and Joni Erb made 12 sets for aces for Wakefield.

"The second game against Homer was a marathon game," said coach Ernie Kovar. "It was a tough match. We played hard and kept battling. What a struggle."

The win upped Wakefield's record to 12-5 for the season, entering tonight's finals match.

Schuyler Upsets Wayne

A disappointing upset eliminated the Wayne Blue Devils from B-4 district volleyball action Monday in Norfolk. Schuyler upended the Devils 13-15, 15-11, 15-7 in first round action, ending Wayne's season with a 12-6 record.

"We sure didn't play well," said Wayne coach Deb Boden.

Schuyler was up for us. They had one girl who did most of the damage, she spiked well and we stood around."

Leading servers for Wayne were Lisa Peters with 11 good serves and Lynn Surber with nine good serves. The Blue Devils led 13-3 in the first game but stumbled at that point.

Homer Trips Winside

The Winside Wildcats completed their volleyball season with a 8-15, 8-15 loss to Homer in the opening round of C-4 districts at Wakefield, Monday night. The loss eliminated Winside from the competition.

Coach Jim Winch credited Kathy Thies with good play but said that his team played poorly in the first round match. The loss completed a seven match skid that left Winside with a final 4-11 record.

Bloomfield Tops Laurel

The Laurel Bears saw their volleyball season come to an end with a 10-15, 5-15 loss to defending state Class C champion Bloomfield, in the opening round of C-5 districts at Wausa, Monday. The loss eliminated Laurel from the competition.

Paula Chace was the team's leading player with six points and strong net play. "The match was indicative of our season," said coach Dwight Iverson. "We were inconsistent which is the way we played all year. We would make some points and then make mental mistakes and snowball downhill."

The loss dropped Laurel's season record to 5-12. The Bears lost a close match to Hartington Cedar Catholic, 14-16, 10-15, Thursday. Kay Anderson led the team with eight points. Laurel took a 7-2 lead in the second game but Paula Chace was injured and the offense didn't operate as well.

"This was the best team we've played all year," said coach Dwight Iverson. "and we played as well as we have all year."

Coleridge Ousts Allen

The Allen Eagles completed their volleyball season with a 13-15, 15-8, 8-15 loss to Coleridge in the opening round of D-3 districts at Pender, Monday night. The loss eliminated Allen from the competition.

"We didn't react, we didn't play defense," said coach Gary Troth. "Our moves were mechanical and we didn't put together successive plays. Our floor game and serving hurt us."

The Eagles had played Coleridge in the final regular season match, Thursday, and defeated them 15-11, 6-15, 15-10. The loss in districts dropped Allen's season record to 11-6. Des Williams was the leading player for the Eagles in the first round match.

L & C All-Conference Teams Picked

Seven athletes in The Wayne Herald area were named to the 1979-80 Lewis and Clark All-Conference teams, selected Saturday.

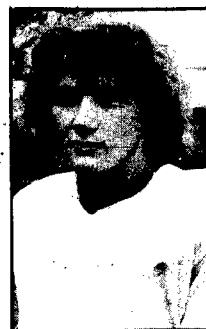

Named as honorable mention selections were Lee Hansen and Robert Malcolm on offensive and Randy Smith and Rick

Giving Awards
Dale Kennedy, principal at the Allen Public School, has announced that seniors are buckling down to take full advantage of the opportunity to win local, state and national awards by demonstrating their awareness, concern and knowledgeability about the needs and challenges that are expected to face the nation in the future. Kennedy said one enterprising high school senior in the nation will win an $11,500 scholarship as the top national prize in the Century III Leaders Scholarship Program.

Two students from each state and the District of Columbia will win $1,500 scholarships and the opportunity to talk with national leaders in a conference at historic Colonial Williamsburg, Va.

Before the national winner is announced in Williamsburg, nine finalists will have earned $500 awards on top of the $1,500 scholarships. Two alternates from each state will receive $500 scholarships.

"We feel the program is very worthwhile for many reasons," said Kennedy, adding that Allen seniors are being encouraged to participate in the program.

Kennedy said the Century III Leaders is a national scholarship program open to all high school seniors to emphasize the future concerns of America.

Students, who are initially judged on their leadership ability, also are required to write a brief projection outlining what he feels is a particular issue America is likely to confront in the future and how such a challenge should be met.

The Century III Program is administered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals and funded by the Shell Oil Co. Deadline for student applications is Nov. 10.

The Earth Stove

Check these facts before you buy any other stove!

- The Earth Stove burns 1/3 the fuel of many stoves because pre-heating draft manifold promotes efficient and complete combustion like solid fuel power plants. Super-heated air prevents "cooling" of fire unlike manual "hole" drafts do. Even large chunks burn slowly and completely—eliminates frequent ash removal.
- Even temperatures thermostatic draft automatically maintains temperature you select. Levels out uneven cycle of wood combustion (Manual drafts cannot do this). Home temperatures more even than furnace heat.
- Burns 14 hours on one wood load
- Converts to open fire instantly
- Cook top Just set thermostat to cooking heat desired — ideal for "Crock-Pot" style cookery
- Wood gases not wasted Secondary drafts introduce oxygen above primary fire zone to burn volatile gases such as methanol, pyroigneous acid, etc.
- Air tight Prevents heat loss up chimney.

The Earth Stove makes use of modern technology to improve the great institution of Wood Heat.

CPR Training For Families

CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) is a basic life saving procedure which at least one member per family should be trained to perform.

This life support procedure is used to help an individual whose heart has stopped beating and who is not breathing. Such persons may be victims of heart attack, drowning, suffocation, smoke inhalation, poisoning or electrocution.

A CPR training course is being offered at the Northeast Station near Concord on Nov. 20 and 27 at 7 p.m. Persons interested are asked to notify the Northeast Station (584 2261) by Nov. 16. Instructors for the course will be Anita Eckert, Dixon, and Mary Juhlin, Laurel.

Anyone who completed a basic CPR training more than 12 months ago is required to repeat the training to update certification.

Poppy Girl

THIS YEAR'S POPPY GIRL in Wayne, Lori Perry, will be helping with the annual poppy sale this Saturday in downtown Wayne. Proceeds from the sale, sponsored by the Wayne VFW Auxiliary, will be used for the benefits of disabled and needy veterans and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans. Mayor Wayne Marsh last week signed the annual Poppy Day proclamation, urging citizens of the community to recognize the merits of this cause by contributing generously to its support through the purchase of Buddy Poppies. "I urge all patriotic citizens to wear a Buddy Poppy as mute evidence of our gratitude to the men of this country who have risked their lives in defense of the freedoms which we continue to enjoy as American citizens," said Mayor Marsh. Poppies will be on sale in downtown Wayne all day Saturday. Lori is the daughter of Mrs. Marian Perry.
