3 to 5-Year Sentence Handed Down to Pair Involved in Bank Theft

Two men who pleaded guilty Oct. 17 to a charge of theft by unlawful taking in connection with a Hoskins bank robbery were sentenced Friday afternoon to serve from 3 to 5 years in the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex in Lincoln.

KEVIN D. Wehrer, 18, Norfolk, and Douglas L. Schulz, 18, Pierce, appeared in Wayne County District Court before Judge Merritt C. Warren who handed down the sentences. The pair will be given credit for 44 days spent in the County Jail while awaiting sentencing.

Schulz and Wehrer pleaded guilty to the theft charge in District Court after a charge of use of a firearm to commit a felony was dismissed by Judge Warren at the request of prosecuting attorney Budd Bornhoff. They robbed the Commercial State Bank in Hoskins Sept. 27.

Wehrer told the judge he quit school at the age of 16 and received all his education in California except one year in Norfolk. He had been spending the summers with his grandparents in Norfolk until moving there permanently a couple of years ago.

Under questioning by the judge, Wehrer said his mother now lives in California, but is unsure as to the whereabouts of his father.

WHEN ASKED if he used drugs, Wehrer said he used marijuana "three or four times a month" but had not used it the day of the robbery. He said he had consumed about six cans of beer that day, telling the judge he thought he was intoxicated.

Schulz was questioned similarly, admitting he too had drunk about six beers but did not believe he was intoxicated. Schulz also said he had smoked marijuana six or seven times in his lifetime.

BORNHOFF and defense attorneys David Domina, Norfolk, and John Addison, Wayne, requested the reduced charge agreement through plea bargaining.

After both men were sentenced Friday, Judge Warren said the $4,389 taken from the Commercial State Bank in Hoskins would remain as evidence until the appeal time had expired.

Wehrer was sentenced first, and appeared before the judge in white dungarees and a western-style shirt. Schulz stood before the judge later dressed in a brown corduroy suit, open at the neck and without tie.

JUDGE WARREN questioned the two separately and thoroughly about their feelings concerning the robbery, their plans for the future, their family life and their background. Also before sentencing, Judge Warren gave careful consideration to pre-sentence investigations for both men.

Schulz and Wehrer both told Judge Warren they were sorry for what they had done and that both had matured considerably since serving 44 days in jail.

THE PAIR told the judge in separate comments that the robbery was a spur-of-the-moment decision made some 20 minutes before the crime was committed. Would they have robbed the bank had they not been drinking? Probably not, they said. They had agreed beforehand to use the gun, they said, which was described by Schulz as an antique that hadn't been loaded for three years. It also was agreed that Schulz would do the talking because Wehrer had braces and could be more easily identified by bank employees.

SCHULZ and Wehrer said that as they drove through town that day, they "saw how dead it was" and how easy it would be to rob the bank.

Schulz said he had talked with an "ex-con" and got the idea for a bank robbery from him. Schulz admitted that the "ex-con" had been caught for a similar crime, but "I didn't really think about it (getting caught). I guess."

Concerning the idea to have the bank employees lie on the floor and later lock them in the vault, Schulz said he had seen that happen on television.

IN CONSIDERING Wehrer's pre-sentence investigation report, Judge Warren noted he (Wehrer) had no serious prior record except for some minor traffic violations and other incidentals for which he was placed on probation.

The probation officer also noted in his report that Schulz and Wehrer were "not the usual bank robbers" in that their prior records were not extensive and were not of the type that usually accompanies a felony such as robbing a bank.

Schulz' testimony showed a similar background of a broken home and a lengthy custody fight for him and his twin brother.

SCHULZ QUIT school at 17 years of age after he found himself failing and disinterested in school. He, too, had minor traffic violations for a prior record.

Schulz' attorney, Domina, had compiled extensive pre-sentence investigation information to convince Judge Warren that his client was in truth a victim of circumstances.

DOMINA TOLD the judge that his client would not profit from serving a sentence of more than a year. "I don't think serving three to five years or 20 years would promote respect for the law," he argued.

However, Judge Warren did not agree with Domina's interpretation of the situation and handed down an identical sentence for Schulz.

"I HAVE to balance what's best for you (Schulz) with what's best for the public," the judge said. "If you're going to go around robbing banks you have to pay for it."

In Schulz' defense, Domina entered letters of support from a variety of church-related personnel and a drug counselor, personal testimony from Schulz' natural mother from Texas, personal testimony from his natural father from Pierce and Schulz' own testimony.

Schulz and Wehrer were remanded to the custody of Wayne County Sheriff's Department overnight and taken to Lincoln Saturday morning to begin their terms.

Judge Warren said the pair might be paroled in two years, if they become model prison citizens.

The program drew over 250 persons and honored all United States veterans. Students in the Winside Elementary School (above) sing several patriotic songs in honor of veterans, at the program, Friday. The students range from grades three through six.

Winside Salutes Veterans Friday

Sixty-one years ago, a "war to end all wars" ended. "And Johnny came marching home."

JOHNNY CAME marching home again after a second world war. And again after the Korean War. And again after Vietnam. "A war to end all wars. What a mockery."

Those were the comments of George Reed, director of the social security office and a school board member in Norfolk. He was the guest speaker at the annual Winside High School Veterans' Day program held Friday in Winside's multi-purpose room.

REED pointed out to the audience of more than 250 persons that apathy and the ignorance of people and nations caused World War II. "Apathy is a word none of us likes to hear," he said.

The Randolph High School graduate, who attended Wayne State College, told members of the audience they should realize how lucky they are to be able to choose what they like, say what they want, travel where they want, and worship how they wish to worship. "We must practice our rights to keep them alive," he added.

THE PROGRAM stressed that Veterans' Day is a day for all Americans, old and young, to honor all those who are not with us today. Veterans' Day is dedicated to more than 44 million persons who "died to protect the freedom and rights of all Americans. Reed told the audience.

"We should keep aware of what's going on and speak up when we don't like something," said Reed. "We can celebrate the heritage of the proud men who fought so that we may enjoy all that America has to offer. There is much to celebrate."

THE WINSIDE program was dedicated specifically to four veterans who died during the past year. Magnus Pedersen and Joe Cadwallader were Legion members and Chester Wylie and Wallace Cadwallader had been charter members of the Legion. These four were recognized in an address by Gladys Reichert, Auxiliary historian.

Mrs. Werner Mann, treasurer of the Auxiliary, also participated in the program. The Winside Legion Post 252 opened the program with a presentation of colors.

Musical pieces were performed by the Winside High School band and grades three through six. The Roy Reed Auxiliary gave a reading and a tribute to veterans. The Pledge of Allegiance was recited by Girl Scout Brownies led by Mrs. Ron Hayes and Pastor Len DuBoise gave the invocation and benediction.

Pender Girl Named Queen At Pork Producers' Event

A Pender High School senior was crowned 1980 queen of the four-county Northeast Nebraska Pork Producers at its annual awards night Sunday, Nov. 4, at Wayne State College.

Leora Beckman, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beckman of rural Pender, was crowned by this year's queen, Cheryl Roebber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marie Roebber of rural Wayne, during the 14th annual pork awards event.

Named first runner-up was Teresa Nettleson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Nettleson of rural Wakefield. Second runner-up was Kathy Gustafson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gustafson, also of rural Wakefield.

The queen and the runners up received cash prizes and a charm bracelet showing a pig.

The crowning capped an evening long program which included a H awards, annual pork awards and special awards in the association's counties of Dakota, Thurston, Dixon and Wayne.

Four H awards were presented to junior, intermediate and senior swine showmen. Jana Thraalk received a trophy as junior showman from Dakota and Thurston counties. Russell Longe was named Junior showman for Wayne County and Doug Olson represented Dixon County in the junior division.

Intermediate trophy winners were Liesa Reppert, Dakota and Thurston counties; Karen Longe, Wayne County; and Dirk Carlson, Dixon County.

Receiving trophies in the senior division were Liesa Reppert, Dakota and Thurston counties; Kelly Isom, Wayne County; and Rick Curry, Dixon County.

Carcass champion from Dakota and Thurston counties was Carl Crossgrove. Terry Gilliland had the carcass champion in Wayne County and Dirk Carlson picked up his second trophy of the evening for having the carcass champion in Dixon County.

Pork demonstration awards went to Mari and Sheri Peters of Dakota and Thurston Counties and to Rene Weststrand of Dixon County.

Archie White, public relations director for the state association, named Bill's CW Super Market as winner of the pork booster award.

Snow Brings City Crews Into Action

A pair of early-season snows has moved the city's snow removal crews into preparedness, reports Public Works Director Vern Schulz.

Cooperation of the city's residents and businessmen is asked in order to speed the efficient removal of snow, Schulz said.

A nine-man crew is on call throughout the winter months and a street sander goes into operation as soon as freezing rain or snow begins to fall.

SNOW FLOWS begin clearing operations as soon as snowfall exceeds two inches, concentrating first on emergency and major traffic routes and then branching out to clear other streets. In the final phase of snow removal, snow is removed from the downtown business district and pathways on residential streets are widened.

In the downtown area, snow removed from sidewalks can be thrown into the streets, but must be at least one foot from the curb. Sidewalks should be cleared as soon as possible, he said.

VEHICLES parked on streets hamper operations and Schulz said it is helpful if as many cars as possible can be parked off city streets when snow is expected.

"No Parking" regulations for specified hours are in effect in much of the city and the public works director said illegally parked vehicles will be towed away when they impede snow removal.

Snow plows must continue to clear streets to their normal width and detours around parked cars mean extra trips and added expense, Schulz added.

Private snow removers are reminded that when clearing snow from driveways, parking lots or sidewalks, snow is not permitted to be blown by snow blowers or pushed by machine back into the city streets. This also is a violation of city ordinance.

HOWEVER, in the business district snow should be thrown at least one foot into the street as soon as possible so the street crews can remove it, he said. He also pointed out that all sidewalks must be cleared to full width within 24 hours after a snowfall. Those who fail to comply could receive a summons to appear in court and could be required to pay for labor hired by the city to do the job for them, he explained.

Vets' Day Parade Set

A Veterans Day parade is scheduled for 10 a.m. today (Monday) on Main Street.

Sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign War, the Disabled American Veterans and the Erwin L. Sears Post of the American Legion, the parade will include a short talk in front of the Wayne Vet's Club Inc.

The parade will begin at Seventh and Main Streets and halt momentarily at the Vet's Club. It will disband near First Street.

The Wayne-Carroll High School Band also will participate, weather permitting.

City Council Will Meet

Wayne City Council will meet in regular session at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the City Hall.

Agenda items will include an audit report from Arthur Anderson & Co., a curb-and-gutter improvement proposal, a request for a city donation to the mental health board, consideration of a standard specifications resolution and consideration of a resolution establishing participation in state-federal property assistance program.

Others include ordinances on council meetings (quorum, time), publication of ordinances, annexation of property, adoption of uniform building code, adoption of a uniform housing code and adoption of a life safety code.

Annual 'Smokeout' Is Planned for Thursday

The Great American Smokeout is upon us again.

Several smokers in the area a year ago pledged to stop smoking for 24 hours as part of the American Lung Association's light-hearted effort to encourage smokers to quit.

Mayor Wayne Marsh recently signed a proclamation noting this Thursday as the Great American Smokeout Day. Many smokers have indicated a willingness to participate in the event, the proclamation says, and the health benefits of not smoking are substantiated and well known, it says.

There are additional civic benefits such as a reduction of the risks of accidental fire, the proclamation said.

In signing the statement, Mayor Marsh urges all cigarette smokers in the community to demonstrate to themselves and their friends that they can do so if they wish.

This year, each person signing a pledge card is asked to pledge a friend for not smoking for 24 hours. "This is not a 'knock the smoker' day, a spokesman said, but an awareness raising day to help people quit smoking.

CENSUS BUREAU TO VISIT

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment in this area during the work week of Nov. 19-23. Leo C. Schilling, director of the bureau's Regional Office in Denver has announced.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compute statistical totals.

School Board Agenda Set

Wayne-Carroll School District board of education will meet in regular session at 7:30 p.m. Monday (today) at the high school.

Agenda items will include reports on the middle school window project, reports on an achievement series for Middle School grades and ninth grade, reports on junior high mathematics and parent-teacher conferences, annual review of school board policies, authorization to take bids on a school bus, review of valuation of buildings and contents for insurance purposes, review of proposed substitutions and any other such items that may come before the board.

Editorial Decisions Won't Wait Forever

Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation
By M.M. Van Kirk,
Director of Information

A bill is being drafted for this session of the Nebraska Legislature which is going to force Nebraskans, both urban and rural, to make up their minds on some major water resource issues.

As recently reported by the chairman of an ad hoc committee which has been studying the water legislative situation, Sen. Peter Hoagland of Omaha, the bill would contain these key elements:

- Require permits for irrigation wells drilled within a mile of a stream or reservoir when the pumping would interfere with surface water rights.
- Allow the director of the Department of Water Resources to initiate control areas rather than waiting for the local Natural Resources District to take the initial steps as is now required by the Ground Water Control Act
- Increase the taxing authority for NRDs operating control areas from one-fourth mill to one mill.

—Stiffen enforcement measures for ensuring compliance with requirements for well registering and check valves on irrigation systems.

—Eliminate a Natural Resources District's power to impose a well-drilling moratorium.

—Widen the criteria for establishing a ground water control area.

Sen. Maurice Kremer, chairman of the Public Works Committee and a recognized authority on the subject of water legislation, has said he supports the bill but hasn't decided whether to be a co-sponsor of it. Statements of general opposition to some of the contents and concepts of the bill have come from Sen. Loran Schmit, chairman of the Agriculture Committee. Both Kremer and Schmit are veteran farmers and pump irrigators — Kremer in Hamilton County and Schmit in Butler County.

There has been some criticism voiced because Sen. Hoagland, an urban senator, is sponsoring the legislation and taking an active role in its promotion. But several rural senators, including Kremer and Sen. Tom Vickers of Farnam, have acknowledged that urban interests and economies have an interrelated stake in the state's water resources. When rivers and streams turn dry and municipal well-fields show signs of depletion, the domestic needs and industrial economies of the communities dependent on them will be in jeopardy.

Support for water conservation and control legislation is directly related to the local situation. People in a water control area where reservoirs and streamflows are short and water table declines are becoming critical are a great deal more supportive of control and conservation legislation than those where water is plentiful and under ground recharge is assured.

The question is regularly asked, "How long can we put off and delay corrective measures without doing irreparable harm to our vital water resources?" A recent report showed that in 1978, a generally favorable rainfall year, water tables in most areas of the state registered substantial declines. This continues a pattern of many years.

There are already classic examples in the state where indiscriminate and costly irrigation development of relatively inferior land is threatening reclamation projects, small dam impoundments and historic surface water rights to stream flows. While precipitous legislative action should be avoided, Nebraskans should keep in mind that if they do not support state and local guidelines and effective remedies, there are more than a dozen proposals pending for Federal Government agencies to move into the water resources control and allocation field.

5. WHO were the three athletes selected as players of the week?
6. WHO is this year's poppy girl in Wayne?

Sometimes we in the newspaper business take ourselves and our basic premise for granted. We forget that some of our readers are unfamiliar with our responsibilities.

You've seen here a number of times our interpretation of the First Amendment. We have a basic responsibility to print the truth, to keep our readers informed. We are a watchdog of the government, and are charged with helping educate the public as well as ourselves.

We print the good news — and there is an abundance about which to be thankful in these parts. But we also must print the bad news — the news that may inadvertently make some people grimace.

Despite what some may say, we cannot ignore the realities of day to day life. It is difficult to argue that inflation is not having a major impact on our lives. We consider ourselves middle class (quote, unquote), yet the cost of diapers has risen from $1.25 in Red Oak in 1978 to $2.85 in Wayne 1 1/2 years later. Don't forget the cost of petroleum products, shelter and clothing. And, of course, there are food costs.

What's the point? We were taken to task over a recent article in The Wayne Herald concerning the availability of money. It's tight. Few will deny that. By saying more, I'll just add fuel to the fire.

We'll be the first to agree that the news is not real optimistic about the supply of money. We have it far better here than in Sioux City, Omaha, Lincoln, Grand Island, or any "metro" area, however.

But, we have an obligation, a responsibility, a duty to print the bad news right along with the good news. Sorry. We refuse to be a mouthpiece for the Chamber, the city of Wayne, the school district, the business district, or those who would like us to print nothing but good news. We report the news and we comment editorially on the news.

Mr. Webster in his New World Dictionary says:

Three Bedroom Castle for Sale

President
Chamber of Commerce of the United States

Throughout most of our history, owning a home was an impossible dream. It's only during the past 20 years that it has become an attainable goal for 60 percent of the American people. Now there are ominous signs that, unless we shape up and correct some of our mistakes, home ownership will begin to decline. We face a future in which the opportunity to buy will begin to be regulated to a small elite, perhaps one as small as 20 percent of the population.

Already the weeding out process is underway. The price of a new home has almost doubled since 1972, and in some areas prices have shot up even faster. When a typical couple decides to venture into the housing market, they often find price tags averaging $75,000. So let's say the couple has managed to save $15,000 for a down payment, which is a feat in itself, and thus needs a $60,000 loan. If mortgage money is available, and there is no guarantee that the man and his wife might be quoted an interest rate above 13 percent. That means the couple will face monthly payments exceeding $700. If the entire loan is paid off over 30 years, the actual cost of the mortgage will be over a quarter of a million dollars. They don't call a man's home his castle for nothing.

Added to these underlying inflationary pressures have been special problems within the housing market itself that have exacerbated the price spiral. For example, the near explosion in the demand for new homes has been accompanied by severe constraints on the ability of builders to supply them. Land now costs 25 percent of the base price of housing — up from about 10 percent earlier — because of various development restrictions such as excessive zoning requirements. Also, the government has squeezed the supply of timber and driven up its price by restricting harvesting on huge areas of public lands.

Federal, state and local regulations also increase the cost of housing. Housing experts feel that 20 percent of the current cost of housing can be traced to excessive or antiquated government regulations. In North Carolina, approximately $6,000 has been added to the cost of a new home just from regulations since 1970. One builder in the Midwest noted that no less than six different inspectors had to approve a house before it could be occupied. The longer they take, the more you pay.

What to do? One popular idea is to establish a graduated mortgage with scheduled monthly payments starting at a lower level than a standard fixed payment, and which then gradually increase to a pre-determined level. This is an interesting idea, but we should understand that it treats only the symptoms, not the causes of the disease. Another proposal would extend credit allocation to the housing market alone. There are two fundamental defects with credit allocations: When this basically protectionist strategy fails, as it has in the past, housing is left with no financing. Also, the cost of this special allocation will be increased interest rates to the rest of the economy. In other words, the consumer will end up paying the same bill in a different form.

To keep the price of new homes within reach of the average American family we must do three things and do them fast: First, resolve to fight inflation, and I mean really fight it by insisting politicians either stop their wild spending or be voted out of office; second, develop common sense performance oriented building codes and development regulations; and third, free up some of the vast forest areas now locked in a different form.

If we don't take these measures, only kings and sheiks will be wealthy enough to buy our homes.

Out of Old Nebraska

The 1979 APPLE CROP in southeast Nebraska has been an excellent one, though small by comparisons with the yields of yesteryear, when thousands of commercial orchards dotted the hills from Omaha to St. Joe, Mo.

Until the deadly Armistice Day storm of 1940, the apple industry thrived. Thousands of orchards in the Missouri River counties in Nebraska and Kansas were wiped out when extremely low temperatures followed an extraordinarily mild autumn. Since World War II the fruit-growing industry has been concentrated in other states.

The small orchard on Nebraska farms has dwindled, too. Almost every farm at one time had a few apple trees — or peach, pear, or plum.

Some recall that promoters once trumpeted the Sandhills of north central Nebraska as a second area for the orchard industry. "The Hooker County Tribune" (Mullen) wrote this story for its May 20, 1927, issue (see files in the Ne. State Historical Society Archives):

"Gold Mines For the State of Nebraska"

James Sandoz of Ellsworth, Neb., the Luther Burbank of the Nebraska sandhills, predicts that fruit will be the future gold mine of western Nebraska. The horticulturist was born in Switzerland 69 years ago. He is obtaining a thousand dollars an acre from raising cherries on his sandhills farm.

"For over 20 years Mr. Sandoz has been experimenting with fruit culture in the sandhills region which embraces Sheridan, Garden, Grant, Arthur, Hooker, McPherson, Thomas, Logan and Blaine counties. He can also see in the future flourishing fruit orchards on every hill throughout the length and breadth of the large area."

"The McIntosh Red, the finest apple that grows in America, is particularly well adapted to the sandhill," says Sandoz. "In one or two places in Canada and in the Bitter Root valley in Montana are the only places these apples thrive. They are far superior to the Delicious, Winesap, Jonathan or any other apple now familiar to this locality."

"Right on top of the sandhills," says Mr. Sandoz, "and there are enough of them to grow all the fruit that can be used in the United States, if they are properly cultivated."

"Mr. Sandoz has developed a vineyard of Red Lucille grapes, the most luscious in the whole list of grapes, and they grow abundantly. He does not favor the Concord grape because if winter kills in one or two seasons, and he no longer plants his trees and vines in protected valleys because the drainage makes freezing of the roots too easy."

"Apples, cherries, plums, pears, and grapes grow better on top of sand hills than they do in lower valleys, the sandhills naturalist declares. He came to this part of Nebraska when the Indians were swarming the plains and he lived with the Sioux tribes for the first two years. He knows the country as few men know it and he says from actual experience that the sandhills region will some day supply the nation with fruit."

Weekly gleanings. . . News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

A $50,000 public subscription drive to help finance the purchase of needed, modern up-to-date X-ray equipment for the Oakland Memorial Hospital was announced last week. Total cost of the equipment will be $95,000 if a before the end of the year purchase deadline can be met. The $45,000 difference in the purchase price will be made by The Lutheran Hospitals and Homes Society, the non-profit organization that has operated the hospital since its construction, and by the hospital board.

KEVIN Moody, 24, of Clarksville, Tenn., assumed the duties of Ponca Police Chief Oct. 29. A native of Thayer, Kan., Moody is married to the former Pat Walsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walsh of Ponca.

JIM Knievel, president of Farmers & Merchants National Bank in West Point, has announced that he will retire at the end of this year. Knievel joined the bank in August of 1949 after graduating from Creighton University. Knievel plans to remain as a member of the bank board of directors.

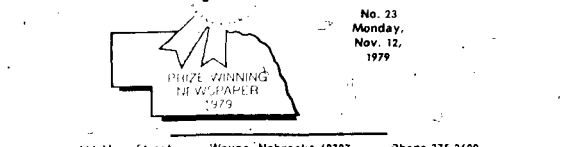

IT was just over five years ago that voters across the State of Nebraska were faced with the issue of whether or not to fluoridate their city or village water supplies. Wisener voters will again answer that question Tuesday, Nov. 13, when they go to the polls in a special election to bring to an end the fluoridation controversy in the community.

FIVE persons were elected to the board of directors of the South Sioux City Area Chamber of Commerce last week. Named to three-year terms were Wayne Boyd, Kent Brockhill, Sandy Inkster, Tony Nielsen and Bob Westhead. Other members of the board are Pat Brady, Winton Buckley III, Kathryn Dawkins, Dennis Gann, Jerry Gunsonley, Randy Jansen, Harry Kuhl, Dexter Nygaard, Tom Ross, Dick Stinger and Roy Yaley.

THE Randolph High School Drama Club will present their annual school play Friday, Nov. 16, at 8 p.m. in the West School gym. The three act comedy is titled "Lock, Stock, and Lipstick." The cast includes Brian Bargstadt, Doug Albers, Susie Korth, Kathie Backer, Dan Stevens, Bill Hamilton, Kathy Helsing, Joni Robinson, Kelly Lackas, Koni Daws and Linda Bierschenk.

My favorite regular program has to be Lou Grant for obvious reasons. First, it's a relatively accurate reflection of what goes on in the newspaper business.

The football season is over for followers of Wayne football. Seasons for both the high school and college were disappointing. Although both displayed excellent defense most of the season, neither team exhibited much of an offense.

Despite the cheap shots at officials of the Missouri-Nebraska game by most Nebraska newspapers, it was a typical and grueling matchup.

With Missouri's record going into the game, I can't be too disappointed with the results.

As for the "Cheap shot" to the knee of Jarvis Redwine by Missouri's Goodman: Turn back to the Oklahoma-Nebraska game of a year ago. Recall the horrendous tackle made by a Husker of an Oklahoma player on a kickoff return. The Oklahoma player was knocked out, but at the time the Nebraska press virtually ignored it or considered it part of the game.

In other words, it's okay for Nebraska to smash an opposing player, but when it happens to a Husker, then kick the turkey out, huh?

All is fair in love and war especially football.

Miss Morris November Bride of Randall Park

Theresa Joan Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris of Omaha, and L. Randall Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Park of Wayne, exchanged wedding vows Nov. 3 at St. Plus The Tenth Church in Omaha.

The Rev. Vincent Mainelli officiated at the double ring 2 o'clock ceremony. Ushers were Pat Dougherty, Norm Brown, Mark Schram and Jim Stevens. Wedding music included "Hallelujah, Chorus," "God, A Woman and A Man," "The Living Song" and "The Babe," sung by Lyette Schultz and Dave Baffer, accompanied on the organ by Rob Schelbhofer. Guitarist was Dave Baffer and flutist was Amy Morris, sister of the bride.

Honor attendants were the couple's sister and brother, Judy Morris of Omaha and Bryan Park of Wayne. Bridesmaids were Patti Morris, Cathy Morris and Mary Morris of Omaha, all sisters of the bride. Groomsmen were Rod Turner, Jeff Friend and Kevin Barton.

Ring bearer was Scott McGill and flower girl was Angie Brown.

For her wedding day, the bride chose a traditional long, white gown trimmed in Chantilly lace and fashioned with a train. Matching lace accented her veil and she carried a cascade of white roses and lily of the valley.

The bride's attendants carried in peach gowns and wore peach gowns with stephanotis and baby's breath. The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo and a white rose boutonniere. His attendants were attired in brown tuxedos and wore peach rose boutonnières.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the New Tower Inn in Omaha. Guests were registered by the bridegroom's sister, Julie Hans.

Reception servers were Heather Cain and Paula Taylor. The newlyweds took a wedding trip to Kansas City and the Ozarks and will be at home in Omaha, where both are employed.

The bride was graduated from Burke High School in Omaha and attended Wayne State College for two years. The bridegroom, a graduate of Wayne High School, also attended Wayne State College, where he was affiliated with Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Wayne Hosts County Meeting

The Wayne American Legion Post and Auxiliary were hosts last Monday evening to the annual Wayne County Convention.

Legionnaires and auxiliary members attended from Wayne, Winside and Carroll.

Guests at the auxiliary meeting were Mrs. Ardell Mueller of Thurston, department education chairman, and Mrs. Otto Field of Winside. Twenty seven auxiliary members from the three units in the county were present.

Eveline Thompson, county president and department county government chairman, conducted the business meeting. She appointed Marie Brugger county secretary.

Advancing the colors were sergeants at arms Marguerite Hofeldt and Emma Soules. Chaplain was Mrs. Linda Grubb. The meeting opened with the flag salute and singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." Pianist was Mrs. Earl Larson. The group also recited the preamble to the Constitution of the United States.

Reports were given by Mrs. Ella Jones of Carroll, Mrs. Adeline Anderson of Winside and Shirley Wagner of Wayne. Leadership chairman Mrs. Helen Siefken read an article, entitled "The Auxiliary Emblem," which is a five pointed star.

Shirley Wagner conducted a memorial service for Laura Lyons of Carroll, Irene Gaebler of Winside and Hattie McNuff of Wayne. Memorial chairman was Ethel Johnson, and chaplain for the memorial program was Linda Grubb.

The gold star program was given by Mary Kruger, who read several poems.

It was announced that Gifts for Yanks will be delivered to the Norfolk Veterans Home on Dec. 14. The mid-year conference will be held at North Platte Jan. 12 and 13.

New county officers, elected during the meeting, are Mrs. Adeline Anderson of Winside, president; Mrs. JoAnn Owens of Carroll, vice president, and Mrs. Vera Mann of Winside, secretary.

Wayne County commander Chris Barholtz of Wayne presided at the post meeting. A memorial program was conducted for deceased veterans.

Members of the post reviewed the improved American Legion Life Insurance program.

Harvey Reitz, Emerson, District III commander, spoke on membership, stating that it is important that all members renew their memberships this month.

The District III convention will be March 16 at Emerson.

Leland Anderson, Winside, was elected county commander and Donald Langenberg, also of Winside, was elected county vice commander.

Following the meetings, post and auxiliary members met for entertainment and lunch. Accordion music was provided by Otto Field of Winside and Erwin Longe of Wayne.

Serving on the kitchen committee were Mrs. Dorothy Parenti, Mrs. Don Sberbarin, Mrs. Betty Lessmann, Mrs. Rose Fredrickson, Mrs. Larry Gamble and Mrs. Jim Sturm. In charge of decorations were Thelma Bradford, Mary Kruger, Marie Brugger, Marcella Larson and Eveline Thompson.

An invitation was extended by the Winside unit to host the 1980 county convention.

Wedding Plans Told

The engagement of Lisa Kathleen Tooker of Wayne to Daryl Wittstruck of Fort Calhoun has been announced by the couple's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tooker of Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wittstruck of Martell.

Miss Tooker was graduated from Wayne High School in 1976 and will graduate from Wayne State College Dec. 16, 1979. She will be employed in Omaha. Her fiancé, a 1975 graduate of Crete High School and a 1979 graduate of Wayne State College, teaches at Fort Calhoun.

The couple plans a Dec. 15 wedding at the United Presbyterian Church in Wayne.

WSC Helps Sponsor 'Confrontations'

"The Approaching Confrontations" is the overall theme of the Midwestern Conference on Food and Social Policy to take place on Nov. 14-15 at the Hilton Inn in Sioux City, Iowa.

Sponsors include Wayne State College, Morningside, Briar Cliff, Westmar and University of South Dakota. It is funded by 17 Sioux City business firms.

Now in its 4th year, the conference has become the most distinguished debate forum in the Midwest on the basic issues affecting agriculture, according to Dr. Miles Tommeraaen, current chairman of the symposium and president of Morningside College.

The conference brings together leading thinkers and policy makers in the U.S. to discuss problems affecting food supply and distribution in the face of rising population, energy shortages and other uncertainties. The emphasis is on current public issues and their long range impact on the Midwest economy. Tommeraaen said.

The conference starts at 8:30

Featured among the 18 speakers in nine separate panels are: Lester Brown, president of the Worldwatch Institute, in Washington, D.C.; John M. Deutch, Under Secretary of the U.S. Department of Energy, and U.S. Senator John Melcher, chairman of the Subcommittee on Environment and Conservation of the Senate Agriculture Committee. Also highlighted are Ralph W. McCracken, associate director of Science and Education at the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and Ralph W. Cummings, author, and program officer of the International Development

Service of New York. The confrontations, described in a preliminary Conference brochure, are seen as a conflict of forces caused by the population explosion, the energy crisis, the per capita decline in the food supply, the effect on resources of affluence and poverty, economics vs. ecology, federal government intervention and control, and threats to survival of the open-market enterprise system.

Club Has Guest

Mrs. Otto Baier was a guest at T and C Club, which met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Chris Baier. Card prizes were won by Mrs. Paul Baier and Mrs. Russell Lindsay Sr.

Next meeting will be at 2 p.m. Dec. 13 in the home of Mrs. Russell Lindsay Sr.

Right to Life Chapter

Receives Party Proceeds

Wayne County Right to Life met in the home of Mrs. Jean DeWald Nov. 1.

The Wayne chapter received a check for $149.80 from Mrs. DeWald for proceeds from a merchandise party held Oct. 8.

Mrs. Jerry Dorcy reported on "A Positive Position... On My Right To Be a Woman," a seminar sponsored by My Right To Be a Woman Committee.

Main speaker for the seminar, held Oct. 25 in South Sioux City, was Elaine Donnelly, National Media Chairman for "Stop E.R.A."

Mrs. Donnelly addressed the 200 men and women on the ramifications of the Equal Rights Amendment.

Several Wayne pro-life members announced plans to attend a turkey dinner Nov. 6, sponsored by Birthright of Norfolk. Guest speaker was Louise Summerhill, founder of Birthright.

The meeting closed with a tape by the Rev. James Robison, entitled "Child Abuse and the Christian Home." The tape is available from the Wayne County Right to Life and may be obtained by calling 375-4409.

Next meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Dec. 4 in the Joe Rieken home.

Officials Guests at Senior Center

Mayor Wayne Marsh and City Administrator Darrell Brewington and his wife were guests at the Senior Citizens Center Nov. 8 for the daily congregate meal.

Twenty-three persons ate dinner at the Senior Citizens Center that day.

Following the meal, the group viewed a film by the Goldenrod Hills Community Action Agency, entitled "Saving Energy and Fuel." The film was arranged and shown by Mrs. Larry King.

Community Choir

Plans Rehearsal

The Wayne Community Choir will meet at the First United Methodist Church Tuesday, evening Nov. 13, at 7:30.

The choir, which meets the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month, is currently rehearsing for special Thanks giving and Christmas concerts.

Demonstration Given

Evelyn Ruback demonstrated how to make a Christmas wreath at the Nov. 6 meeting of Central Social Circle, held in the home of Mrs. John Gathje.

Ten members attended the meeting, answering roll call with a favorite Thanksgiving recipe.

The club is planning a potluck dinner and grab bag gift exchange on Dec. 4 at 1 p.m. in the home of Mildred Gramlich. Co-hostess will be Kay Giltfert.

Wayne State's Opener

Olympic Uruguayans Down Wildcats

A group of Uruguayan basketball players preparing for the 1980 Summer Olympics in Moscow, built an early lead and held on for a 74-61 exhibition win over the Wayne State Wildcats, Friday night in Rice Auditorium.

The game was the first of seven exhibitions in a 10-day tour of Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin. The game was played according to international rules and involved a 30-second clock and extended foul lines. The rules were expected to produce a high scoring game but didn't.

The Wildcats, playing without the services of 6-2 guard Jay Bellar and 6-5 center Bill Milks, cut Uruguay's lead several times but could never pull ahead.

Four of the five North Carolinians on the Wayne State roster led a balanced scoring attack. Zake Lorick led the Cats with 14 points followed by Willie Summers with 12 and Joe Lindsey and Wattle Rhoda with 11 points each.

The Uruguayans took advantage of the international "no dead ball" rule to gain some easy baskets in the early going and build a solid lead. Wayne State patiently rallied and cut the deficit to six points with fine outside shooting by Lindsey and Summers. Uruguay held on for a 42-34 half-time lead.

The determined Wildcats came out in the second half and quickly moved within four points at 45-41. That was as close as the Wildcats could get.

Wayne State went cold at the free throw line and also from the field as Uruguay extended its lead with fast break baskets. Carlos Peinado sparked the South Americans in the second half.

Lorick scored eight second half points and Rhoda scored all 11 of his points in the second half to keep the Cats close.

Wayne State's next home game is scheduled Nov. 26 against Bellevue College. The Uruguayans will play Dakota Wesleyan, Southwest Minnesota State, St. Mary's of Minnesota, St. Norbert's of Wisconsin, Northland College of Wisconsin and Mankato State in Minnesota.

GRADY HANSEN (40) and Bret Bakley (30) tangle up with a Uruguayan player in attempts to control the basketball. Uruguay won the game 74-61, Friday in Rice Auditorium. Hansen is a 6-4 1/2 walk-on from Omaha Central and Bakley is a 6-2 senior from Boxholm, Ia. Zake Lorick (10) watches the action.

Basketball Season Open

Wildcats Show Speed, Depth

Opening their long season with a Nov. 9 contest against Uruguay National basketball team, Wayne State's basketball cagers began their 1979-80 preparations Oct. 1. Second year coach Bill Ivey is optimistic about the upcoming season.

The Wildcats, who finished 1978-79 with a 12-17 overall record, have added some much needed depth on the front line. Two 6-6 freshmen, Doug Emanuel of North Bend, and Grady Hansen of Omaha, are expected to see playing time this year.

Last year's second leading scorer Wattle Rhoda of Elizabethtown, N.C., (13.4 average) and 6-3 Joe Lindsey of Wadesboro, N.C., give the Wildcats a solid nucleus inside. Ivey indicated that those four players may hold the key to the Wildcats' success this season.

"If we have a good year out of three of those four people we should have a good season," he said.

Ivey said he feels that the Wildcats have two of the area's top backcourt performers in North Carolina duo Zake Lorick and Willie Summers. Lorick was the first freshman to lead the Wildcats in scoring, averaging 13.8 a game in 1978-79. Summers was the third leading scorer last year averaging 12.3 a game.

The Wildcats appear to have adequate depth at the guard positions also. Doug Hutchinson, a 6-1 junior of Council Grove, Kan., played in 25 of the Wildcats 29 games last year and should see considerable action again in 1979-80. Also coming off the bench for the Wildcats will be 6-0 freshman walk-on Cedric Edwards of Lincoln, who according to Ivey "does an adequate job ball handling and does not make many turnovers."

Overall team speed may be the Wildcats' greatest asset this year and Ivey said he plans to take advantage of it.

"With our quickness and overall team speed a running game fits the personnel that we have and we are definitely looking to run this year and fast break at every opportunity," he commented.

Following the game with the Uruguayans the Wildcats are idle for over two weeks before hosting District 11 opponent Bellevue College Nov. 26 in Wayne.

Men's Recreation B-ball Season Near

Another season of Wayne Recreation men's basketball will be opening within the next two weeks. It was announced by Hank Overlin, Wayne Recreation director.

The adult league will again be divided into three age divisions. The A league, for men ages 19 through 25, will open its season Monday, Nov. 26. High school graduates who are not yet 19 are also eligible. The B league, ages 26 through 30, will begin on Tuesday, Nov. 27 and the C league, for ages 30 and over, will start Wednesday, Nov. 28.

Players should bring equipment with them on the opening nights and be ready to play. Persons who did not play in any league last year should meet at 7 p.m. on their respective night. A second session will begin at 8:30 p.m. Overlin will notify people to play in the later session. If a person is not notified, he should attend the opening session.

Anyone who cannot attend the leagues during the week of the 26th or the week of Dec. 3, should contact Overlin, so he can place them on a team.

Eligible players include men from Wayne and the surrounding rural areas. College students are not eligible unless they are graduates of Wayne High School or played in the league last year.

Several changes have been made in the basketball league this season. Teams will practice only two weeks before the season actually begins and will have a two-week layoff during Christmas and New Year's holidays.

Basketball season will end in the last week of March this year and the tournament at the end of the season will be single elimination instead of double.

Trojans
Stopped
Two Steps
Short in State Bid

STRANGE LOOKING cheerleaders, identified as Dennis Tullberg and Loren Erlanson keep the crowd alive as Wakefield plays West Point in C-4 district volleyball finals, Thursday. At right, Jolene Bartels puts the finishing touches on a spike against West Point. The Trojans lost the finals match before a home crowd.

A successful Wakefield Trojan volleyball team, which turned its season around after a dismal 2-5 start, made its bid for a state Class C tournament berth but fell two steps short Thursday night in Wakefield.

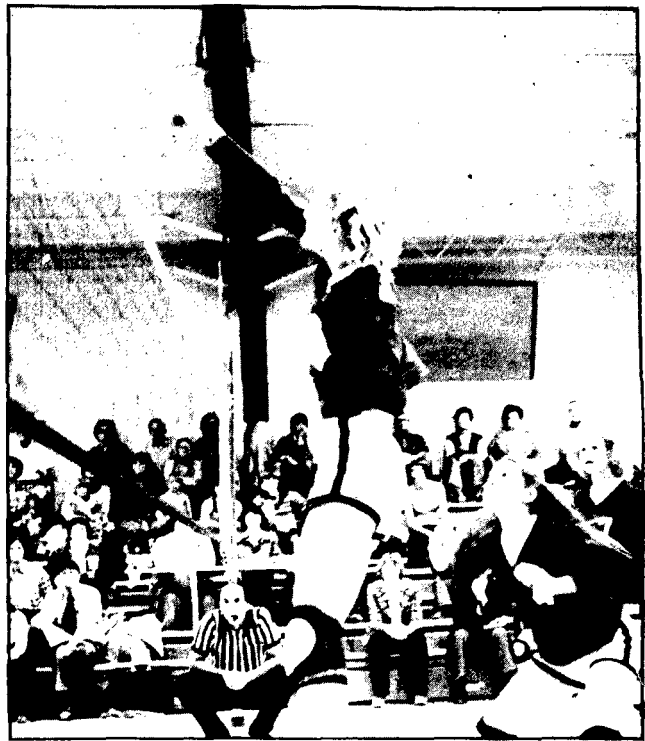

After defeating Ponca and Homer in the first two rounds of C-4 districts in their home gym, the Trojans ran into a tough West Point team and finished as district runners-up after a 12-15, 4-15 loss Thursday.

Wakefield had won 10 consecutive matches entering the finals, including a team championship in the Wakefield Invitational Oct. 20. The loss ended the Trojans' season with a 12-6 record.

Wakefield and West Point engaged in a tight exciting first game with a packed house in the Wakefield High School gym. The Trojans and Cadettes exchanged leads several times and stayed neck and neck despite mistakes by both teams.

Joni Erb did much of the setting as Jolene Bartels and Kathy Gustafson took over spiking duties at the net. Donna Kleckhafer, Jackie Lueth and Kelly Murphy substituted frequently to do much of the setting and bumping while Joan Miller and Rhonda Wilson helped with spiking duties. Ardie Barker and Shelley Paul were called upon to help the Trojans with their serving.

Wakefield battled until the final point but finally yielded to the West Point attack for a 12-15 loss. The second game belonged to West Point and the Cadettes went home district champions who will face Tekamah Herman in regional play.

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Hascall

ADULT VOLLEYBALL players in Hank Overlin's Recreation League, who missed league play last Wednesday, should meet at 8:30 p.m. this Wednesday in the City Auditorium.

FOOTBALL AND VOLLEYBALL in the state are reaching the final stages of the season. The top football teams in the state are competing in playoffs, hoping to grab that much coveted prize — a state championship. Meanwhile, volleyball teams are battling through district playoffs hoping for a state berth.

The five football teams in The Wayne Herald area have completed their seasons and none qualified for the state playoffs. In fact, only Allen (4-3-1) and Winside (4-3) finished the year with winning records. The other three teams, Wayne, Laurel and Wakefield all compiled records that were disappointing to the players, coaches and fans. But the season is behind now and records cannot be changed. The teams can only look forward to next year.

Four of the five area volleyball teams were eliminated from districts in the first round. Only Wakefield advanced beyond the first round, after entering the competition with a 10-5 record. The first round losses to Wayne and Allen had to be especially disappointing since both teams entered districts with successful records (12-5 and 11-5 respectively) and seeded third in their respective district pairings.

Wakefield made a strong bid for a state volleyball berth but lost to a fiery West Point team in the finals of C-4 districts. The Trojans won 10 consecutive matches before falling to the Cadettes.

ATHLETES ARE BUSY practicing for wrestling and basketball with regular seasons scheduled to begin during the first week of December.

AS DURING THE PAST YEAR, The Wayne Herald will again select All Area football and volleyball teams. These selections are currently in the process of being made and will be announced when selections are final.

Wrestling and basketball previews will be printed over the next three weeks so keep an eye open for a preseason article on your favorite team.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL FANS are talking bowl games already this season, imaginarily matching Alabama against Nebraska, Florida State against the Southwest Conference champion and Ohio State against Southern California. It's still too early to seriously think about who will play whom.

I personally don't care much for the bowl games are handled. The bowl committees and conferences have more contracts than the mafia.

The Big Eight champion is committed to the Orange Bowl, the Big Ten and Pac Ten champions matched in the Rose Bowl, the Southwest Conference champ stuck in the Cotton Bowl and the Southeast Conference winner contracted to the Sugar Bowl. These are only the four major bowl games. Other minor bowls are also contracted.

Suppose that the Southeast champion is ranked number one in the country, the Big Eight champion is number two, the Southwest champion is number three, the Big Ten champ is number four and the Pac Ten champ is number five. Three of the top five teams in the country would be matched against lower rated teams, some may even be mismatches. If the top four teams in the country all win their respective bowl games, who can really say which team is number one.

If bowl contracts were abolished, bowl committees would be free to offer berths to the top two ranked teams in the nation. The bowl games would probably be much more exciting and people would have a better idea which team is actually number one. It would also eliminate the possibility of a mediocre team (like Georgia (4-4 record) playing in the Sugar Bowl.

Ladies Aid Plans Guest Day Dec. 5

The Ladies Aid of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will hold its annual Christmas guest day meeting on Dec. 5. All ladies of the congregation are invited to the 1 p.m. meeting.

The kitchen committee is Mrs. Lester Menke, Mrs. Ray Reeg, Mrs. Lydia Witte, Mrs. N.L. Dittman, Mrs. Ben Fenske and Mrs. Gilbert Dangberg. On the entertainment committee are Mrs. Fred Vahlkamp, Mrs. George Voss and Mrs. Alvin Carlson.

Twenty-four members of the Ladies Aid met Nov. 7. Mrs. E.T. Warnemunde was a guest.

President Mrs. Gary Kant conducted the meeting. Opening devotions were by Mrs. Karl Frederick. The group sang "They'll Know We Are Christians," followed with scripture. Mrs. Frederick read "Thank You," followed with the song "Thank You."

Mrs. Arnold Janke and Mrs. Werner Mann reported on the success of the bazaar held Nov. 3 at the church.

Mrs. Werner Mann was appointed to purchase additional lace tablecloths to be used by the church. Mrs. Mann presented a cake knife to the Aid in memory of Rudolph Greunke from the Dennis Greunke family.

Mrs. Herbert Jaeger showed the new altar bouquets that were recently purchased. A report on the Lutheran Family Service meeting held in Emerson the morning of Nov. 7 was given by Mrs. Leo Hansen.

The group voted to present monetary gifts taken at the Christmas meeting to Camp Luther, Lutheran Family Service, and the Martin Luther Fund.

Mrs. Lester Menke and Mrs. Don Langenberg will work at the snack bar on Nov. 20.

Mrs. Don Langenberg and Mrs. Gary Kant were hostesses for the November meeting.

LWML Meets

The LWML of St. Paul's Lutheran Church met Nov. 7.

Mrs. Arnold Janke reported on the Fall Rally held recently in Wakefield. Eleven members attended from the Winside congregation.

A thank you was read from Ken Crouch at the Martin Luther Home for the package he received from the LWML.

Members of the visitation committee are Mrs. Gary Kant, Mrs. Dean Janke and Mrs. Byron Janke. Mrs. Herbert Jaeger was re-elected secretary of the LWML for a two-year term.

The lesson, "Children in the Home," was given by Mrs. Dean Janke and Mrs. Russel Hoffman, and the meeting closed with prayer.

Federated Women

Mrs. Robert George entertained eight members of the Winside Federated Woman's Club Nov. 7. Co-hostess was Mrs. Jay Morse.

The program included a talk on domestic violence by two members of the Norfolk Task Force. Reports were given on the Halloween party held Nov. 3. Next meeting will be a 6:30 p.m. no-host dinner on Dec. 5 in the Howard Iverson home.

American Legion

American Legion Roy Reed Post 252 met at the Legion Hall Nov. 6 with 16 members.

Don Langenberg conducted the business meeting. The Legion and Auxiliary planned to participate in the Veterans Day program held Friday, Nov. 9 at the Elementary School.

Topic At South Sioux

How can you cope with children who mope? What can be done with a child who bites or throws things?

These and other aspects of problem behavior will be discussed by Dr. Wes Wingett, a well-known counselor and educator from Norfolk, at a workshop, "Coping with Problem Behavior," to be held at the Sioux City High School, 33rd and G Streets, on Nov. 20 from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 33.

Sponsored by the Day Care Training Program at the University of Nebraska at Omaha, the workshop is open to anyone interested in better child care. Co-sponsor is the Northeast Technical community College at

Norfolk

The session is designed to be especially useful to day care providers and nursery school staffs. Interested parents are also invited to attend.

Dr. Wingett and his wife, Terry Hamilton Wingett, operate a private counseling and education service. He grew up in northeast Nebraska, received his bachelor's degree in education at Wayne State, and his master's and doctor's degrees in guidance and counselor education from the University of Wyoming in Laramie.

Persons who wish to attend the workshop are asked to register in advance by calling Charlene Webber in Dakota City at 987-3445.

Pre-registration is not necessary, however.

BEING LIKED IS THE NEXT BEST THING TO BEING LOVED

Sometimes being a good parent means losing the popularity contest with your kids. When you teach them the right thing to do, they don't always like you for it.

But they'll love you for it later, once they come to understand why you did it.

The more guidance you give your children at home, the less discipline their teachers have to give them in school. That gives teachers more time to teach, and children more time to learn. And isn't that what school is all about?

The better your children behave, the more they learn.

The more everybody learns.

Manufacturing Expanding

Manufacturing positions in Nebraska continue to expand as the sector assumes an increasingly important role in the state's economy.

Recently released data from the 1977 Census of Manufactures indicates 90,000 persons were employed in Nebraska's manufacturing establishments in 1977. This represents a six percent increase from the previous census taken in 1972 when manufacturing employees totaled 84,000. If comparisons are made with 1967, the increase in manufacturing positions was 13,000, up from 77,000.

Writing in the November issue of "Business in Nebraska," Donald E. Pursell, director of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln College of Business Administration's Bureau of Business Research, noted that manufacturing positions were more widely dispersed across the state in 1977 than in 1967 and that the state's reliance upon food and kindred products industry for jobs diminished over this interval. Pursell noted that 46 percent of the manufacturing jobs in Nebraska were in the state's rural areas in 1967 but in 1977 the proportion of manufacturing jobs in rural Nebraska climbed to 50 percent.

The state's leading industry in terms of employment and value added (a measure of the net contribution of an industry) was food and kindred products. In terms of employment this industry accounted for nearly 22 percent of all employees in 1977. The industry recorded an output of $850 million in terms of value added or approximately 30 percent of the state's total value added output in 1977. The number of employees in food and kindred products was down from 26,000 in 1967 and the proportion of value added in the state's total decreased as well.

Sets Fund Drive

The Northeast Nebraska Youth Symphony is currently having its annual fund drive. The symphony is funded in part by the Nebraska Arts Council, but this fund must be matched by local support. It is estimated that the budget for this year will be $3,500, of which $2,500 must be raised locally.

The Northeast Nebraska Youth Symphony makes it possible for young people from all over northeast Nebraska to participate in an orchestra. It helps them develop an interest in classical music as well as extend the cultural boundaries of all those who hear their concerts. The funds raised are used for salaries for conductors, for music, and for other expenses incurred.

Those wishing to contribute to this organization should send their donations to the Northeast Nebraska Youth Symphony in care of Hugo Sieler, Treasurer, 116 22nd Drive, Norfolk, Nebraska.

In conjunction with this fund raising drive the parents of the symphony are having a dinner on Sunday, Nov. 11, at Alumni Hall on the Nebraska Christian College campus. All those donating $15 or more will be invited to a 6:30 p.m. prime rib dinner and to enjoy a "Night with the Symphony". The symphony, as well as small groups and soloists from the organization will perform.

manufacturing establishments, even those with only one employee are covered by the census. The 1977 Census of Manufacturers was the 30th such census of manufacturing establishments in the United States, the latest in a series published on a quinquennial basis in years ending in two and seven.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CHAIRMAN AND VILLAGE BOARD OF THE VILLAGE OF WINSIDE, NEBRASKA:

SECTION 1. The rates charged by Kansas Natural Gas Company, Inc. for natural gas supplied to firm users in the Village of Winside, Nebraska, hereinafter referred to as "Village," unless otherwise approved by the Chairman and Village Board, shall not exceed the following:

First 1,000 cu ft per month $3.00 per 1,000 cu ft -
 Next 1,000 cu ft per month $2.435 per 1,000 cu ft -
 Next 45,000 cu ft per month $2.235 per 1,000 cu ft -
 All Additional $1.985 per 1,000 cu ft -

Minimum Monthly Charge $3.00 -
 Delayed Payment Charge 3 percent on first $20.00 of bill, plus 2 percent on excess.

With respect to Part B, the retail rate applicable to all customers in the Village may be adjusted from time to time to reflect increases or decreases in seller's unit cost of purchased gas. The difference between the current unit cost of gas and the base unit cost of gas shall be computed to determine the increase or decrease in the cost of purchased gas of each basic source of supply for the Village. The purchased gas adjustment to be applied to each step of the seller's rate schedule shall be the aggregate increase or decrease of all sources of supply used and useful for the customers in the Village. A roll call vote was taken with all members present voting yes.

SECTION 2. This ordinance shall be in full force and take effect from and after its final passage and publication as required by law. Passed and approved this 5th day of November 1979.

Fleer Qualifies for World Event

Months and months of practice paid off recently for Edward Fleer and his horse Skipsweet Fantasy, as Fleer won reserve senior reining honors in Nebraska for 1979. He received the award after totaling points throughout the year. Fleer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haas, Wayne, and his grandmother Julia Haas share ownership of the horse. They received the trophy at the awards banquet in Grand Island Saturday Nov. 3. Skipsweet Fantasy, a 1974 quarter horse, also qualified for the 1979 World Championship Quarter Horse Show scheduled Nov. 13-18 in Oklahoma City. This show is sponsored by Copenhagen Skoal Tobacco Company. Fleer will enter senior reining seeking the world championship title. To qualify for this invitational show, horses must earn a pre-determined number of points by competing in AGHA shows held during 1979. Winning a world championship, the Oscar of the quarter horse industry, is considered the highlight of the show season for American quarter horse owners. Some 1,100 horses are expected for the show with total prize money to exceed $160,000.

PICK THE WINNERS
 IN THE WAYNE HERALD'S Football Contest

1st Prize $25 GIFT CERTIFICATE

2nd Prize $5 GIFT CERTIFICATE

CONTEST RULES
 One football game has been played in each of the blanks in this page. Indicate the winner by writing in the name of the winning team on the proper line on the entry blank. No scores are to be written, or ties. In case of tie, write "tie" on the blank line with a reasonable fair mind.
 Pick the score of the "Game of the Week" in circles that appear in the appropriate blanks. The correct answer will be used to break ties and will be used only in the case of ties.
 One entry only to each contestant, but one person in a family may each submit an entry. Entries should be brought up to the Wayne Herald office not later than 5 p.m. Thursday. Contestants should not be permitted to mark later than 5 p.m. Thursday. Contestants must be a subscriber of the Herald to be eligible for prizes.
 The winners will be announced weekly in the Friday sports page of The Wayne Herald. There will be duplicate prizes awarded if winning scores are identical. Employees of the Herald and their immediate families are ineligible. Judges' decision is final in every case.
