Council Stays With Bid Decision

The Wayne City Council will stay with its March 11 decision to award the contract for water main construction in Marywood Subdivision to C.W. Albin of Oakland.

MEETING IN regular session Tuesday night, the Council heard Joe Krause, attorney for Haas Industries of Fremont, who argued that his client should be awarded the low bid. The Haas bid was rejected by split vote earlier this month after the Council decided Haas had been allowed to submit a double bid on the project.

Krause contended that because Haas was the "responsible low bidder" on the water project, he should be awarded the contract.

"I'M HERE TO suggest that the Council was in error because the aggregate (whole) bid binds the bidder," Krause explained. Although the overall Haas bid was lower than that submitted by Albin, the unit price for fire hydrants was higher than Albin's. "Logic and fairness" dictate that Haas should be awarded the contract, Krause said, but "state law...requires that he be awarded the contract because he was the low responsible bidder."

City Attorney Kem Swartz, noting the Council did not follow his original recommendation to accept the Haas bid, sided with the Council's Tuesday decision to stick with the Albin bid.

BASED ON THE fact the contract has been forwarded to Albin and Albin has made plans to begin work here, Swartz said "we are in the position of staying with our decision instead of the Council changing its mind."

However, attorney Krause countered that "aside from the legal ramifications, I think it's bad relations" for the Council to stick with its decision.

"THE LOWEST responsible bidder has to be awarded the contract," Krause said, "and the only way you cannot is if he's not responsible. You've already determined he's responsible by awarding him the sewer contract." Councilman Darrel Heier said he was concerned about the Council setting a precedent by accepting a bid that was not complete.

THE CONFLICT OF interest policy, originally recommended by City Administrator Darrell Brewington, was tabled again.

The policy was developed by Brewington several months ago after it became evident a conflict could result between the city, any subdivision developers and the city's engineer.

Each time the policy has come before the Council, it has been tabled so Council members could review it and receive legal input from its attorney.

COUNCIL MEMBERS, saying they were satisfied with a recommendation submitted by Mayor Wayne Marsh Tuesday, were about to approve the policy when attorney Swartz interrupted.

In his opinion, he said, a portion of the recommendation resolution, if approved, would constitute restraint of trade and thus would be illegal.

SWARTZ ALSO pointed out that he had not prepared the resolution and had not seen the recommendation until the Council meeting.

As a result, the Council voted to table the policy once more until the city attorney had time to review it and make the needed legal changes.

Mayor Marsh's recommendation came as a surprise to the city attorney who said he did not know who had developed the resolution.

IN OTHER action, the Council approved an ordinance involving access control from U.S. 35 east of Wayne. The ordinance turns over control of certain accesses from U.S. 35 to the State Department of Roads.

Clyde Flowers, local representative for Bruce Gilmore & Associates, outlined his company's plans for undertaking a study of Wayne's water system.

Flow testing was to begin Wednesday and run through Friday. A computer analysis, which the Council agreed to, will provide additional information on any future water system.

A REPORT WILL be made to the Council at its first regular meeting in April.

A committee of Council members was formed to help formulate plans on promotion of the city sales tax option which will be voted on May 13.

Council members on the committee will be Cliff Ginn, Keith Mosley, Sam Heppburn and Mayor Wayne Marsh. Additional input will be received from area residents, also.

APPOINTMENT of an alternate member to the board of adjustment was tabled since no one had been found to fill the position.

All Council members were present and all decisions were unanimous.

"I'm asking that he be awarded what is fair, what he has agreed to do — to perform the entire job as set forth by your engineer (Bruce Gilmore & Associates)," the attorney said.

MAYOR MARSH said he felt it was the consensus of opinion among bidders the night of bid opening that Haas was not entitled to the contract.

Attorney Krause added that Haas "did make a mistake and he is willing to live with it" by having to supply two additional fire hydrants at no extra cost.

Allen Budget Lid Issue Set by Board for May

Meeting in special session Monday night, the Allen Consolidated School District board of education voted to place a budget limit issue on the May 13 primary ballot.

THE SESSION, called so proponents of the budget limitation could present a petition requesting the special issue, became heated on numerous occasions, with parents, teachers and members of the school's administration exchanging charges.

Voters in Allen will decide the fate of the proposal which would limit the fiscal year 1980-81 budget to no more than this year's budget, officials have said.

SPENDING would be limited to $354,669 if a majority of those voting favor the proposed lid. The limit would apply to the general fund and the site and building fund (capital construction), the petition states. These funds now are levied at 30.52 mills and 92 mills respectively, generating $354,669.

The issue would limit next year's budget to not more than 100 percent of these figures, according to the petition.

The petition was circulated by Allen farmer George Emmons who also has filed for school board. The petition contains the names of 111 registered voters in the Allen School District.

MOST OF THE confrontations during the meeting were between Allen High School Principal Dale Kennedy, who supports the budget limit, and Supt. Bob Heckathorn, who is against the proposal. Kennedy is another who has filed for school board.

Kennedy and Heckathorn have been at odds for several months now, and Kennedy has been notified his contract will not be renewed next year. The principal has appealed the school board's decision to Dixon County Court.

SOME MEMBERS of the board said Monday night they felt the future of the school district would be adversely affected if the limitation is approved. Kennedy maintained, however, that he warned the district two years ago of impending financial problems.

In a related action, the board voted to hire Duane Reed, an Osmond public accountant, for a special audit of the school's finances. The audit report should be available by April 12 and is expected to cost the school district about $1,000, officials said.

HECKATHORN provided a dollars and cents account of what had happened in the past and what could be expected in the future if the limitation is passed in May.

"Even if the lid limit doesn't pass, we will have to cut back in some areas because of rising costs and inflation," Heckathorn explained.

ASKED to outline the cutbacks, the superintendent said activity bus transportation would be cut out and several sports would be dropped. These would include track for certain and basketball might also be scrubbed from the school's sports program. Football and volleyball would be retained, he predicted.

According to the petition, approval of the issue would not affect the special retirement fund nor the bonded indebtedness fund. It also does not involve the balance of the budget funded from other state, federal or miscellaneous sources.

ANY LIMITATIONS placed on the budget will remain in effect until a majority of the registered voters vote to alter, amend or revoke the limitation at a primary or special election, the state law says.

In other action, the board accepted the resignations of Dale Jackson, girls' basketball and track coach, and Gene Lauritsen, industrial arts instructor.

Roundup Set At Carroll

Kindergarten Roundup will be held in the Carroll School at 9 a.m. Wednesday, April 2. Any student in the Carroll area must turn five on or before October 15.

Students should register at 9 a.m. During this time, they all will be screened with the assistance of the Educational Service Unit No. 1. All Parents are asked to bring a copy of their child's birth certificate.

If there are any questions about Carroll Kindergarten Roundup, please contact David Luff at 375-3854.

6 Fire Violations at Courthouse

The State Fire Marshall's Office in Lincoln has found the Wayne County Courthouse to have six violations of state fire regulations, the Wayne Herald has learned.

DEPUTY STATE Fire Marshall Paul Lambrecht made the spot inspection March 11 at the request of a "concerned citizen," a spokesman for the state office said Monday.

While five of the violations are not serious, the sixth could cost taxpayers several hundred dollars. The violations are as follows:

— HOLES IN the ceiling of the basement (which could provide additional avenues for fire).

— Unnecessary combustible material in several storage areas of the basement.

— Fire extinguishers which have not been charged and maintained properly.

— A cord on the air conditioner in the County Treasurer's office needs to be replaced.

— Additional outlets are needed in the County Clerk's office to eliminate extension cords.

— SECOND EXITS are needed from each of the second and third floors and must face a street. (Currently, there is only one exit from any of the floors, and additional exits are needed to meet state regulations.)

According to state officials, there is no record available that the Courthouse was ever inspected, although it was built around the turn of the century. In May of 1979, the Courthouse was named a national "showplace" by the U.S. Department of the

The Crash-o-Matic

BRIAN LINA FELTER demonstrates the magnificent Crash-O-Matic during a Gong Show Saturday evening at Allen High School. Linafelter's act was among about 20 performed for nearly 800 persons. Proceeds from the show went into the Brent Chase Fund at the Allen Security State Bank. Chase, who suffered paralysis following an automobile accident near Allen on Feb. 15, is undergoing therapy at Craig Hospital, 3452 S. Clarkson, Englewood, Colo., 80110. According to his family, Chase hopes to regain partial use of his arms and hands and plans to return home by the end of June. Persons who would like to make contributions to the Chase Fund may do so at the Security State Bank in Allen.

Boys', Girls' Staters To Lincoln This June

Boys' and Girls' Staters from Wayne Carroll High School and their alternates for this year have been announced by their respective sponsors.

BOYS' STATER will be Perry Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Nelson of Wayne. His alternate will be Ben Cattle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donnell Cattle, Wayne. Boys' State sponsor is The American Legion Post, No. 43, Wayne.

GIRLS' STATER will be Lisa Ann Remer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Remer, Wayne. Her alternate will be Nancy Nuss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Nuss, Wayne. Girls' State sponsors are The Wayne American Legion Auxiliary, The Wayne Women's Club and the VFW Auxiliary.

NELSON IS A member of Grace Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, and belongs to the church's youth group called the Walther League.

A three-year member of the Wayne Carroll High School honor roll, Nelson has participated in the summer Walther League Softball Tournament and a variety of sports in high school. These include track, cross country, basketball and the American Legion Midget baseball.

CATTLE ALSO has been a member of the honor roll for three years and also has been active in sports. He is a member of the First Methodist Church in Wayne and sings with the choir and is president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Cattle has participated in basketball, baseball and wrestling, choir, speech and the drama club.

REMER HAS been active in drama all three years at Wayne Carroll, and has participated in band and choir also.

A member of the Evangelical Free Church, she is a member of the church's youth group, too. She has been a member of the honor roll three years, and participated in all-state choir.

Remer's sports involvement includes basketball, with summer interests including swimming and golf. She also has been involved in speech contests.

A MEMBER OF St. Mary's Catholic Church, Nuss also has been a member of the honor roll for three years. She has participated in basketball and choir.

Her summer activities include softball, swimming and jogging. Boys' State will be held June 8-14 in Lincoln, while Girls' State is scheduled for June 8-14 also.

Interest Rates Up, Studded Tires Out

CAPITOL NEWS
By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

The Legislature has passed and Gov. Thone has signed legislation that provides immediate increases in interest rates for general and installment loans. Interest charged by retailers on revolving charge accounts were raised in another piece of legislation. Enacted on a 46-1 ballot was LB276 under which a maximum interest charge of 16 percent can be levied on loans up to $25,000. Interest on higher amounts will be negotiable. That bill also boosts from 18 percent to 19 percent the interest on installment loans. Approved 46-0 by the lawmakers was LB279 that raises the interest rates for judgments, decrees and unsettled accounts. Another bill, LB308, which received a 37-10 final vote of approval from the legislators, provides for a 1.75 percent monthly interest charge on outstanding revolving charge account balances of less than $500 and 1.5 percent on balances exceeding $500. After the vote on that measure, Omaha Sen. Neil Simon tried to get his colleagues to return the bill to the floor for reinstatement of a provision that the higher rates would be applicable only to new charges. The lawmakers refused, and Sen. John DeCamp of Neligh said current law takes care of the concern Simon expressed. Sen. George Burrows of Adams wanted to delay passing the bill until it contained a "sunset" provision under which the higher interest rates would have returned to their current levels after three years. Burrows' fellow senators turned down his request.

Studded tires out Starting Sept. 1, the sale of tires equipped with spikes or studs will be prohibited. The use of such tires will be banned after April 15, 1982. There will be some exceptions, however. Exempted will be vehicles used by rural mail carriers, handicapped drivers and public safety and emergency personnel. The bill to outlaw the studded tires grew out of an interim study by the Miscellaneous

Subjects Committee of which Sen. Dave Newell of Omaha is chairman. Newell has argued passage of the measure would save the state government an estimated $12 million annually in highway maintenance costs. Local governments, he said, will realize a savings of $6 million annually. Newell described the studded tires as a luxury since only about 15 percent of Nebraska drivers use them. The state Roads Department had spoken out strongly for the legislation.

Budget debate opens Along about this time every legislative session, the lawmakers get involved in debate of the budget bills forwarded to them by the Appropriations Committee. The first eight bills proposing appropriations of nearly $330 million from the tax-suspended general fund triggered very little comment and got through their first test easily. Some of the Appropriations Committee members said they were surprised by the lack of opposition. Debate picked up some the following day when another of the budget bills, this one proposing the spending of more than $312 million in state and federal monies for a variety of aid programs, came before the lawmakers. Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, predicted not all the spending bills will get through their second floor test so easily. He said he expected quite a few amendments to be proposed when the bills come before the Senate for second-round consideration. With only a few weeks left in the session, Warner theorized the senators wanted to get the bills started through the legislative processes before getting heavily involved in trying to revise the committee's spending blueprint.

Committee denies claim The celebrated Joseph Soukup Jr. case has been back in the news, and apparently will be there again soon. The Business and Labor Committee recently decided the state should not offer Soukup any monetary compensation. He had filed a $1.25 million claim against the state, alleging he suffered permanent physical and psychological damage because he was improperly treated while in the state's custody. Soukup, who is 37, lives on a little more than $200 a month he receives from Social Security and welfare. He was placed in a boys' home when he was 10 and then spent 15 years in a number of institutions before getting released in 1969. After the Business and Labor Committee voted 4-2 to deny Soukup's claim — the largest ever filed against the state — Sen. Ralph Kelly of Grand Island said he will offer an amendment to the claims bill under which Soukup would be given a settlement of $50,000 to $100,000. Kelly said he will propose further that the money be kept under the jurisdiction of a court and that it be used for rehabilitating Soukup. Some of the money could be used for living expenses and to add to Soukup's income after he starts working, Kelly said. The committee motion to deny the claim was made by Sen. Martin Kahle of Kearney and was offered after the committee majority rejected settlement proposals of $15,000 and $35,000. Several committee members said they were afraid if the state made a settlement in favor of Soukup a precedent would be established that would lead to all kinds of claims being filed against the state. Brakenhoff resigns A familiar figure at the Capitol has resigned as executive director of the Nebraska Council of School Administrators. Loren Brakenhoff, who has held the position for 10 years, announced he will give it up to accept a job with an Oklahoma-based firm. He will continue to live in Lincoln. The council includes the Nebraska Association of Elementary School Principals, Nebraska Association of School Administrators, Nebraska Association of School Business Officials and Nebraska Association of Secondary School Principals. Harold Bennett, council president and superintendent at McCook, described Brakenhoff as a man of "great courtesy and integrity who will be hard to replace." He said Brakenhoff was tired of the travel the job entailed and of the "hustle and bustle of the Legislature."

WAY BACK WHEN

30 years ago March 30, 1950: Three Wayne High students won superior ratings in the northwest Nebraska district speech contest. They were Alan Cramer, radio newscasting; Chere Houdershell, dramatic reading and Patricia Buck, humorous reading. Toastmaster Don Warner placed second in an area speech contest at Norfolk. Gerald Melis, Wayne, placed third. More than 4,100 persons inspected the impressive array of appliances at the second annual Wayne appliance show. Work began this week on the remodeling and enlarging of the Standard Oil service station on Main Street.

25 years ago March 24, 1955: Mr. and Mrs. William Benense, Winside, will leave Sunday by plane for their first trip back to Germany since they immigrated here about 30 years ago. Their trip will include visits in Denmark, Norway, Sweden, the Netherlands and Switzerland. They will return in November. Fourteen University of Nebraska college of medicine students were recently elected to membership in Alpha Omega Alpha, national honorary medical fraternity. Included in the group was Lloyd R. Schulz, Wayne. Ward Gilliland, Wayne, has just purchased the young Guernsey sire, Skyline Le Benefactor, from Lawrence Liebers, Lincoln, according to the American Guernsey Cattle Club. Ralph Beckenhauer, Wayne, was elected a director of the Elkhorn Valley Cooperative Milk Association at the group's annual meeting in Norfolk Monday.

20 years ago March 24, 1960: Firemen were called to the Mrs. A.A. Welch home early Wednesday morning. An electric iron which had been left unconnected in an upstairs room had set fire to the ironing board and the floor. The fire was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Kelley. Only slight damage resulted. A Certificate of Appreciation has been awarded to John H. Mohr, Wayne, by President Eisenhower in grateful recognition of five years of service to the nation as a member of the Wayne County Selective Service board. Barbara Wolske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wolske, has been named to represent Wayne at Girl's State June 11-17 at Lincoln.

15 years ago March 25, 1965: Wayne City council approached some new and old problems this week. A meeting Thursday is set to consider a new landfill dump; managers for the swimming pool have been selected; and closing of an alley is to be brought up. The Episcopal Church in Wayne, after five years of regular Sunday services in the Wittse chapel, is acquiring "a local habitation and a name." The recent purchase of lots 24-25-26 block 23, College Hill Addition, from Dr. and Mrs. Roy Matson makes it possible for the church to have a permanent location in Wayne. Boys and girls county government day will be held Thursday, March 25, in the courthouse in Wayne under sponsorship of the Legion and Auxiliary posts at Carroll, Winside and Wayne. Wayne police have been called for 13 separate cases of larceny involving items taken from automobiles in a little over a week.

10 years ago March 26, 1970: About 10 youngsters turned out Sunday afternoon in Wayne for the first clinic for the youngsters interested in entering the coming Soap Box Derby scheduled for Norfolk. Sue Russell of Wayne has received the Linder Memorial Scholarship for study this term at Wayne State College. A group of local residents have incorporated as the Wayne Community Kidney Aid Non-Profit Corporation and have ordered an artificial kidney machine to be used by Pete Haberer and others in the area who might need such equipment, according to a corporation spokesman. A Chicago based Farm Bureau executive addressed about 325 persons attending a Wayne and Stanton County Farm Bureau banquet Monday night at the WSC Student Center telling them that America is being invaded hourly by a group of persons — namely youths. Wayne area residents are being urged to turn out in Wayne the second week in April for a two-day workshop on drug use and abuse. Another speaker and an exhibit of Danish art have been added to the program of the "Spotlight: Scandinavia" conference scheduled April 5-6 at Wayne State College.

Double the Effort for 1980 Arbor Day: Thone

"If just two more trees were planted for each Nebraska resident, we could this year make more than 3 million additional investments in our state's future. Right now, Nebraskans plant about 3 million trees per year. Planting two more trees per person in 1980 is a very realistic goal; but if we are to achieve it, we can't wait until Arbor Day, April 22nd, to begin planting. Arbor Day is the holiday that originated in Nebraska and is now observed internationally. J. Sterling Morton of Nebraska City conceived the idea of a day dedicated to free planting and helped change the description of our state from the 'Great American Desert' to the 'Tree Planter State.' Now we are in danger of gaining a reputation as the 'Tree Removal State.' About 35 percent of Nebraska's tree acreage has been lost since 1955. By planting 6 million trees in 1980, we can begin to reverse this trend. Because some of our citizens won't be able to participate, some of us will have to plant more. Homeowners can gain energy savings by planting trees. Evergreen trees on the north side of a house will help reduce winter fuel bills. Trees that shed their leaves planted on the south side of a house will provide summer house cooling but let in the warmer winter sun. Farmers can grow more crops and livestock by planting windbreaks. A 1976 study showed that a 40 acre field in corn was not as profitable as 34 acres in corn, produced by 4 acres of trees and 2 acres for border. Civic clubs of all kinds can help by planting trees along streets and roads, in parks and in other public areas.

"Entire cities and villages can help reach the goal of two more trees per Nebraskan this year by establishing community forests. A few acres of trees can cleanse the air, cut down noise and beautify an entire area. A community considering such a forest is advised to seek free advice from the Nebraska State Forester in Lincoln or at the University of Nebraska Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources District Offices throughout the state. J. Sterling Morton said, 'Arbor Day is not like other holidays, as each of those reposes on the past, while Arbor Day proposes for the future.' Nebraskans can make the future brighter for ourselves if we doubled our tree planting efforts."

What Kind Labor Law?

Chamber of Commerce of the United States "Show me the man, and I will show you the law." Scottish proverb Congress went to a great deal of trouble in the 1940's to bring about a separation of powers within the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), which acts as umpire in thousands of labor-management disputes. Business wants to keep it that way but fears things may change if organized labor's choice becomes the new general counsel of the NLRB — the independent post established in the 1940's. Outcome of the controversy is still in the balance in the Nation's Capital. Originally, the board was prosecutor, judge and jury, weighing which complaints to prosecute, prosecuting them and then determining, in effect, the guilt or innocence of the accused.

community to perceive Mr. Lubbers as satisfying the statutory mandate of independence. These fears were anything but diminished when Lubbers' office, in one of his first acts as general counsel, reversed the former general counsel and sided with a labor union in arguing that unions had the right to penalize workers who quit the union to return to work in a strike.

Although he has been an NLRB staff aide for years, the Chamber found Lubbers has limited administrative experience for a job that involves supervision of 33 regional offices, 2,500 or the NLRB's 3,000 employees, a $100-million yearly budget and 50,000 cases a year. The solution, says the Chamber, lies in selection of a qualified candidate whom both business and labor can accept. That is what umpiring is all about. For centuries, beginning with the Assyrians and the Egyptians, adobe bricks have served civilization as a durable building block in arid regions of the world. But after all these centuries the adobe's days may be numbered. The cost of mixing clay, a little grass, water and sunshine may become prohibitive for today's builders. Government regulation is responsible. According to a recent article in the "Wall Street Journal," federal officials concede that the cost of conforming to federal regulations can add up to $20,000 to the cost of an adobe home. Such homes are still being built in the Southwest with stucco exteriors. The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has questioned the energy efficiency of adobe and, among other things, requires expensive insulation and waterproofing of adobe bricks used in government-financed low cost housing in the Southwest. Builders fear that if other regulators take the same attitude, adobe bricks will be too expensive to use in private construction as well. Not surprisingly, another costly regulation stems from the ubiquitous Davis-Bacon Act, a depression-born law for whose repeal the U.S. Chamber of Commerce has been working for years: The law regulates wages private contractors must pay on federal construction jobs. According to "Washington Watch," regulatory newsletter published by the U.S. Chamber, the Labor Department insists that laborers who mix adobe blocks should be classified as bricklayers and paid rates up to three-times the laborers' rates. HUD has commissioned consultants at a cost of $235,000 to study the heat efficiency of the adobe brick. Funny, the Assyrians or Egyptians didn't come up with the problem.

LETTERS

Dear Editor: In regard to the letter opposing a 1 cent sales tax — I feel that it would be a "very good deal" for the city. Sales taxes are the easiest way to get extra money which is what our city needs. Poor people and those folks who own no property pay no real estate taxes — just think, would I cent hurt you that much? (You'd best approve the buying of new band uniforms to save money.) Ha. Go to Soo City to buy groceries! Have you figured the price of gas to get there? Most station wagons and vans only get 12 to 14 miles a gallon. Soo City is a 90 mile round trip (remember you would also drive to other stores there). At $1.25 a gallon gas, it costs you $6 to $7 to drive there — that $7.50 for gas would pay the tax on about a $250 grocery bill in Wayne. Also do you know Jack and Jill has double coupon day on Wednesday? The coupons you find in papers, magazines, etc. will pay for lots of sales tax on food. I, myself have saved $8 the past three weeks using double coupons. Try it. Then, too, you get a refund of $28 from state! I do hope folks realize that if they expect good streets, sewer, parks, ball park remodeling, good police protection, etc. — it will cost money — the tax on property has really gone up this past year. Unless we raise money there will be one big tax revolt. There is (with sales tax) even talk of getting out a petition to put a lid on the school expenses — so let's all pull together and help Wayne pay expenses — vote for the increase in sales tax. Let's hear from more folks on this subject. Name Withheld by Request

Dear Editor: I wish to set the record straight if the party or parties who wrote the letter to you

OUT OF OLD NEBRASKA

The Nebraska dugout and soddy In the Depression 1930s The Federal Writers Project (WPA) working out of the Nebraska State Historical Society library put young writers to work on phases of Nebraska history. The essay on the dugout and soddy is quoted below. Another excellent source on sod construction is Everett Dick's, "Conquering the Great American Desert," a publication of the Nebraska State Historical Society (page 21ff): "Having access to supplies of stone and timber in only a few areas of Nebraska, principally the Missouri River counties and the Pine Ridge, Nebraska pioneers were hard put to find material for building homes. Settlers on the prairie found another medium — sod, which was used in two structural forms: the sodhouse and the dugout. To build that architectural anomaly, the dugout, a hybrid cellar-house habitation, the pioneer first selected a favorable side of a ridge and began by laying out the floor dimensions. He then dug straight down into the bank until he arrived at a point 2 or 3 feet below the level of the surface. In front. The plastic soil allowed him to dress the sides and floor as smoothly as if the cavity had been cut from solid marble. Proceeding to the nearest creek bottom, he obtained two forked saplings for door posts. These he placed upright in position and put across them another sapling to support the ridge pole. The other end of the ridge poles rested in the bank at the rear. He covered the roof with such twigs and branches as he could find; even a board or two might find a place here. Over this he tacked sod about our upcoming vote on limiting our school budget were really interested in keeping our school and a nice quiet, peaceful community they would've signed their name or names for all to see instead of withholding them from print.

They quite obviously never attend a school board meeting or budget hearing. Also they probably pay little or no taxes or possibly have relatives on the school payroll. If they care to look at the budgets carefully and examine their tax receipts they will find over $200,000 of fat in the budget, including, a to date unexplained $30,000 miscellaneous expense account. Also they will find a huge carry over of money two years in a row. Our school will be going strong well into the next century.

If our referendum under LB2 passes there will be little or no changes in the school. The extra fat in the budget more than overtakes the present inflation rate and will more than take care of it. There will only be some ball lightening and no extra frills or unexplained miscellaneous expense account.

Any cuts made in school programs or activities if our LB2 referendum passes have been planned well in advance and would've been put into effect without the referendum. The quality of education in Allen will remain high and not be affected either way if the election carries.

The only way Allen could possibly lose it's school is by mismanagement, neglect of the school building and finally greatly inflated budgets resulting in unpayable taxes. Allen, let's right the ship and demand a reasonable budget and well managed school with no frills.

People should attend board meetings and see how the money is spent and demand to know where any and all money is and how it's invested and what rate of return to the taxpayer is being brought in from it. George Emmons Allen

Four Wayne Area Engagements Are Announced

Thomsen-Dixon

The engagement of Denise Thomsen to Calvin Dixon has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomsen of Columbus. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pryor and Mrs. Lydia Thomsen, all of Wayne. She was graduated from Columbus Senior High School in 1978 and Grand Island School of Business in 1979. She is employed at Nebraska Public Power District. Her fiancé, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Dixon of Columbus, also was graduated from Columbus Senior High School in 1978 and is attending Platte College in Columbus. An Aug. 16 wedding is planned at the Federated Church in Columbus.

Wiltse-Potts

Mr. and Mrs. Rowan Wiltse of Wayne announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol, to R. Joseph Potts II, son of Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Potts of Battle Creek, Mich. No wedding date has been set. Miss Wiltse is a 1975 graduate of Wayne Carroll High School and attended Colley College, Nevada, Mo., Wayne State College, and the Indiana College of Mortuary Science at Indianapolis. She will be starting at the University of Nebraska Medical Center in September of this year and presently is employed at Wiltse Mortuaries, Inc., in Wayne. Her fiancé, a 1974 graduate of Battle Creek Central High School, attended Kellogg Community College, Battle Creek, Mich., and the Indiana College of Mortuary Science at Indianapolis. He presently is attending Michigan State University at East Lansing, Mich., where he plans to graduate in August with a degree in personnel administration, and is employed at Jacobson Stores Inc. of East Lansing, Mich.

Luschen-Gathje

Making plans for a June 7 wedding at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne are Sandra Luschen and Rick Gathje.

The engagement and approaching marriage have been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Luschen of Wayne. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gathje, also of Wayne.

Miss Luschen, a 1977 graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School, is employed at Bill's GW in Wayne. Her fiancé was graduated from Wayne High in 1976 and attended Northeast Technical Community College at Norfolk. He is employed by Christiansen Construction Co. of Pender.

Lubsen-Reinders

Mr. and Mrs. James Lubsen of rural Sioux City and Mrs. Mijo Reinders of rural Mallard, Iowa announce the engagement of their children, Judy Kay Lubsen and Mark Alan Reinders.

The bride-elect, a 1977 graduate of Lawton Branson High School, is a junior at Wayne State College majoring in business administration. Her fiancé was graduated from Mallard Community High School in 1976 and is a senior at Wayne State majoring in English. He plans to graduate in April.

Plans are underway for a June 21 wedding at Morningside Lutheran Church in Sioux City.

Housing Program Slated

Kathy Parrott, extension specialist in housing and interior design at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, will be conducting two workshops in the northeast Nebraska area during April.

The workshops are designed to help individuals and families considering a change in housing — buying, building or remodeling. Dates and locations of the workshops are:

April 9 — Congregational Church, basement, Hartington, 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

April 10 — Courthouse meeting room, Dakota City, 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

3:30 p.m.

Topics to be discussed in the morning include housing decisions — looking at family needs, costs, lifestyle and floor plans when renting, buying or remodeling; and housing selection — how to decide what you need, location, evaluating quality, energy considerations and neighborhood.

The afternoon will focus on remodeling — what are the possibilities? Is it a good financial decision? how to plan your remodeling, and do-it yourself versus contractor.

The workshop is free, with each participant providing for his or her own lunch. All interested persons are welcome to attend either the morning, afternoon, or both sessions.

Persons interested in attending are asked to contact Val Ebberson, area extension agent, at the Cedar County Extension Office in Hartington, 254 6821, or the Dakota County Extension Office in Dakota City, 987 3541. Participants are asked to make reservations by Friday, April 4, indicating where they plan to attend and if they are considering buying, building or remodeling.

Joyce Haun Gurney Taking Residency At Medical Center

Joyce Haun Gurney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Haun of Wayne, is one of 133 senior medical students from the University of Nebraska College of Medicine, Omaha, who have received residency appointments for post-graduate medical education at health care institutions.

With 39 taking residencies at the University of Nebraska affiliated hospitals, Mrs. Gurney will begin her training at the University of Nebraska Medical Center in Omaha.

Most of the residency appointments were made through the National Intern and Resident Matching Program, an organization started in 1953 to insure an orderly process of resident matching.

Births

BRADER — Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brader, Carroll, a son, Kevin Lyte, 8 lbs., 12 oz., March 21, Lutheran Hospital, Norfolk. Kevin joins two brothers, Chris and Cory. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Cunningham of Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brader of Randolph. Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Meier of Sioux City, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brader of Wayne, and Mrs. Charles Junck Sr. and Frank Cunningham, both of Carroll.

CONRADSON — Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Conradson, Omaha, a daughter, Lori Corinne, 8 lbs., March 20. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Don Oxley, Laurel. Great grandmother is Marion Oxley, Sioux City.

THURMOND — Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thurmond, Lincoln, a son, Kevin Michael, 8 lbs., 10 1/2 oz., March 22. He joins two sisters, Kristin and Karen. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Moomaw, Wayne.

Cantata Scheduled

The Laurel-Concord Community Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. L. J. Mallatt, will present its seventh annual Easter Cantata.

Performances are scheduled Palm Sunday, March 30, at the high school gym in Laurel at 8 p.m., and at the Evangelical Free Church in Concord on Good Friday at 8 p.m.

There will be a free will offering at each presentation.

Home Health Services Topic Of Program at Senior Center

Ann Witkowski, who is heading up the newly formed home health services program in Wayne, was a guest at the Wayne Senior Citizens Center March 19 for the monthly potluck meal.

Fifty two persons attended the meal and program by Mrs. Witkowski, R.N., who explained the special medical services available to homebound persons in a 25-mile radius of Wayne.

Home health services are intended for patients who are homebound and who require services of a registered nurse but do not need to be in a hospital or nursing home.

Mrs. Witkowski explained that the federally funded program is not a Medicare program, but rather is approved by Medicare. Persons qualifying for Medicare will have from 80 to 100 percent of their costs paid, she added.

Mrs. Witkowski's office is located in Providence Medical Center (PMC) and the Home Health Care Agency of the Norfolk Lutheran Community Hospital are sponsors of the program, with the Norfolk hospital acting as the primary agent. Persons who have questions regarding the program are asked to call Mrs. Witkowski at 375 3800.

Mrs. Virgil Chambers arranged the floral centerpiece for the monthly potluck luncheon and gave the invocation Mrs. Harry Wirt was chairman of the kitchen committee.

The next potluck luncheon will be at noon on Wednesday, April 16.

Pitch was played during a card party at the Senior Citizens Center March 19. Receiving prizes were Clarence May and Emma Soules, high, and Francis Tweehouse and Vi Frink of Laurel, low. Anton Pedersen received a prize for making the most eight bids. The prizes were donated by Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Chambers.

Following the card party, a drawing was held for an afghan, pillow and tied double knit comforter and quilt. Mrs. Hansen won the afghan and pillow and Dagmar Jensen was the winner of the quilt.

Another pitch party is planned at the center on Wednesday, April 16, at 2:30 p.m.

Members of the Senior Citizens Center's Bobbles and Bubbles band entertained for the senior citizens of the Norfolk Food and Fun Center last Thursday. Attending from Wayne were Alma Spittgerber, Myrtle Spittgerber, Lottie Longnecker, Emma Soules, Viola Lawrence, Mary Hansen, Anton and Rena Pedersen and Rose Heithold, accompanied by Mrs. Joceli Bull, center director.

Transportation to Norfolk was provided by Anton Pedersen and Joceli Bull.

There were 27 at the Wayne Senior Citizens Center on Friday afternoon for a sermonette, entitled "In Him," given by the Rev. A.R. Weiss of the Assembly of God Church in Wayne.

Pastor Weiss led in the singing of favorite hymns, accompanied by Alma Spittgerber at the piano.

Candidates Attend Republican Meeting

Richard Peterson of Enota, J. Paul McIntosh of Norfolk, and Fred Mann of Wayne were guests of the Northeast Nebraska Republican Women at their March meeting.

Peterson and McIntosh are candidates for the 21st District of Nebraska Legislature, and Mann is a candidate in the 17th District. Following short talks by the candidates, questions were asked about inflation, government spending, gun control, taxes, and various other issues.

Other candidates will be invited to future meetings.

Speaking of People

Golden Anniversary Observed At Wayne Methodist Church

Nearly 135 friends and relatives attended an open house reception of the First United Methodist Church in Wayne Sunday afternoon, marking the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson of Wayne.

Hosts were the couple's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph (Beverly) Etter of Wayne, and grandsons John and Thomas Etter.

Kathy Kay of Wayne registered the guests, who attended from Spirit Lake and Sioux City, Iowa; Lincoln, Omaha, Norfolk, Laurel, Concord, Dixon, Stanton, Walthill, Waco and Wayne. Gifts were arranged by Fern Erickson of Wayne and Arlyce Carlson of Concord.

Beverly Etter was mistress of ceremonies for the program and welcomed the guests. She also read scripture and special poems in honor of her parents. Three songs were presented by Kristl and Chad Blecke, who were accompanied on the guitar by their mother, Patty.

The program also included two songs by Kim Blecke, accompanied by pianist Tom Fletcher. Grandsons John and Thomas Etter spoke, and prayer was by the Rev. Kenneth Edmonds.

Alvina Stanley of Dixon baked and decorated the anniversary cake, which was cut and served by Emma Anderson of Wayne and Betty Anderson of Concord. Evelyn Kay of Wayne poured and Alvina Swanson of Omaha and Lillian Anderson of Wayne served punch.

Women assisting in the kitchen included Mary Nichols, Jeanette Geiger, Gerelda Lipp, Nancy Fugelberth, Donna Shuffelt and Susan Schroeder, all of Wayne. Albert Anderson and Edna Mae Jeffrey were married March 24, 1930, in Sioux City. They farmed 25 years north of Wayne and have resided in Wayne for the past 25 years.

Couples Are Celebrating

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Frey of Pender and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Evans of Fremont will be honored at an open house reception for their 45th and 40th wedding anniversaries respectively. The women are sisters and the men are cousins.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend the event on Sunday, March 30, from 2 to 4 p.m. at St. Luke Lutheran Church in Emerson. No other invitations are being issued.

Hosts will be their children and families.

Rose Schulz Club Hostess

The Progressive Homemakers Club met with eight members March 18 in the home of Rose Schulz.

Cards furnished the entertainment, with prizes going to Mrs. Otto Saut, high, and Anne Lage, low.

The April 15 meeting will be at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Harvey Reibold.

Wakefield Class Play

"HOW THE WEST WAS FUN," is the title of the senior class play at Wakefield High School, which will be staged this Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium. Tickets will be available at the door. The play is being directed by Mrs. Kristi Reeves. Members of the cast, pictured in the Red Stocking Dance Hall and Saloon, include, from left at table, Barry Jones as Curley, Kim Fischer as Miss Lilly, Magnus Forslund as Sergeant Major Tyree Turwilliger, and

Date Set for Annual Bazaar

The Wayne Community Hospital Auxiliary has set Saturday, Nov. 15, as the date for its annual fall bazaar.

Members of the auxiliary met in the Chapin Room at Providence Medical Center Friday afternoon.

Cecelia Olson, a representative of the State Health Department, explained the purpose of the prenatal program and the importance of the fetal heart monitor, which the auxiliary recently purchased for the hospital. Also speaking was Mrs. Anh Wilkowski, R.N., who told about the newly organized home health service program for homebound persons in the Wayne area.

Mrs. Donna Schumacher, auxiliary president, appointed yearly committee chairmen. They are Julia Haas, courtesy; Jean Ben-thack, gift shop; Jan Kohl, membership; Jean Mau, hospitality, and Lola Bressler, publicity.

Bride Is Honored

Joyce Pesek of Yankton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pesek of Tyndall, S. D., was honored with a bridal courtesy at the Trinity Lutheran Parish Hall in Martinsburg Sunday afternoon.

Miss Pesek and Kenneth Diederik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Diederik of Allen, will be married April 12 at St. John's Lutheran Church in Tyndall.

Nearly 65 guests attended the fete from Avon, Tyndall and Yankton, S. D.; Sioux City, Akron, Kingsley, Merrill and Lawton, Iowa; Allen, Laurel, Waterbury, Ponca, South Sioux City, Dixon and Concord.

Decorations were in mint green and white. The program included a mock Lawrence Welk program, directed by Mrs. Don Diederik. Assisting with the program were the hostesses and Michelle Peffl, Julie Book and Joleen Pearson.

Mrs. Kenny Powers of Avon, S. D. and Carol Diederik of South Sioux City assisted with the gifts.

Hostesses were Mrs. Martin Blohm, Mrs. Francis Mattes, Mrs. Richard Blohm, Dortha Hasseler, Mrs. Loren Book, Mrs. Don Diederik, Mrs. George Rasmussen, Mrs. Dave Diederik and Mrs. Steve Diederik.

85th Birthday Marked Sunday

About 80 relatives and friends attended a dinner and afternoon open house reception Sunday in the Wayne Woman's Club room to mark the 85th birthday of Virgil Chambers of Wayne.

The event was hosted by his wife, Cordella, and daughter Clara Heimemann and family.

Relatives came from Iroquois, S. D.; Sioux City, Iowa; Omaha, Homer, Pierce and several area towns.

Wayne Junior Receives Art Scholarship

Kim Blecke, a junior at Wayne High School, was awarded a special art scholarship by the District III Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs (NFWC) during its annual district Arts Festival held at Lyons Saturday.

The scholarship is to attend the All-State Fine Arts Program for a week next June on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus. Kim is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Blecke of rural Wayne.

Alternate for the scholarship was Corinne Bos of Howells. Two hundred and fifty club women from District III turned out for the annual Arts Festival at Lyons. Judging of art, crafts and scrapbooks began following the morning registration. Music and sewing contests also were held.

Other morning activities included demonstrations in ceramics, crewel work and stained glass craft.

Following lunch served by the Lyons club, the afternoon began with music by the Lyons High School band, directed by Robert Widener.

Mrs. Frank Hightree, president of the Lyons club, and the Rev. Lawrence Woodcock of the Lyons Presbyterian Church, welcomed the visitors. Mrs. Lambert Zvacek of Pender, District III president, and president elect Mrs. Vern Hagedorn of West Point responded.

State officers and other notables were recognized and district officers and chairmen were introduced.

The afternoon program included performances by winners of the speech, music and sewing competitions. Mrs. Dorothy Urbanc of Pender delivered her winning speech on the topic "You Hold the Key."

There also were performances by the two winners of music scholarships, Leha Uehling of Uehling, who played the piano, and Colleen Mackey of Laurel, who played the oboe. Second alternate to Leha Uehling, Tom Fletcher of Wayne, also played the piano.

Mrs. Eldon Lorenzen of Lyons, district sewing chairman, presented a style show by sewing contestants. Fourteen high school students and five adults took part.

Names of blue ribbon winners in arts and crafts, and scrapbook competition were read by the chairmen of those divisions. A drawing for door prizes and a silver tea closed the day's activities.

Announcing: 1980 All-Area Teams

All-Area Boys' Basketball

Bob Hawkins Lon Swanson

Scott Hallstrom

Jeff Zeiss

Lee Hansen

The 1979-80 Wayne Herald All-Area Boys' Basketball Starting Five combines many facets of the game including quickness, accurate shooting, solid rebounding and good ball handling. Probably the most important asset of the team is leadership.

One player was selected to the Starting Five from each of the five area high schools (Allen, Laurel, Wakefield, Wayne and Winside).

The Starting Five is composed of Scott Hallstrom of Wakefield, Lee Hansen of Allen, Bob Hawkins of Winside, Lon Swanson of Laurel and Jeff Zeiss of Wayne. All five are seniors.

A strong bench is a key to any successful team and The Wayne Herald All-Area team should have added depth because of its second team and honorable mention backups. A new addition to the All-Area squad this year is the selection of a Sixth Man. Those shoes will be filled by Perry Nelson of Wayne.

Scott Hallstrom

Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernell Hallstrom of Wakefield. The 6-0 senior doubled as guard and forward this season while leading Wakefield to a 12-6 record. He is the only repeat selection off of last year's All Area First Team.

Hallstrom averaged 18.1 points per game while shooting 49.2 percent from the field. From the free throw line he was even more impressive, hitting 83.3 percent. Scott, who was always a line of fence player, showed much improvement defensively this season while making 31 steals.

His most memorable experience this past season was upsetting Lewis Division champion Ponca on Parents' Night.

"Scott was our leading offensive ball player. We needed his scoring to operate well and when he was on, the team was on," Trojan coach Ernie Kovar said. "He really came around as a ball player this year. His rebounding helped us this season."

Hallstrom earned All Conference first team basketball honors and Omaha World Herald All-State honorable mention honors. He also has been a standout in football and baseball. His past season goal was to play to the best of his ability and have a winning season.

Looking back at the past season, Scott says it ended on a bad note with a loss to Ponca since the Trojans had defeated Ponca earlier in the year. He said however that it was great to have a winning season. Hallstrom hopes to play college ball in the future.

Lee Hansen

Lee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hansen of rural Allen. The 6-1 senior forward was the team leader during a 7-12 season for the Eagles.

Hansen was the team's top rebounder pulling down about 8.5 rebounds per game. In addition, he averaged 9.5 points a game and his assist total of 48 was second highest on the team.

The most memorable experiences for Lee this season were beating Waltham in districts, collecting 20 rebounds in one game and leading the team in rebounding.

"Lee was our leading rebounder and he was a very good team ball player. He was one of the best defensive players I've coached," Eagle coach Bart Kneiff said. "When the chips were down, he took it upon himself to go to the basket and pull us through. Lee was a hard worker and fine young man."

Hansen's past season goals were to have a winning record and reach the district finals. He said he feels Allen's season could have been better but pointed out that the team had some problems and started out slowly early in the season.

Lee, who was named as an All Conference second teamer, was also a top football player. He plans to either attend a technical school or work following graduation from high school.

Bob Hawkins

Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hawkins of Winside. The 6-3 senior center averaged 15.2 points per game while shooting 41 percent from the floor as Winside compiled a 7-8 record.

Hawkins averaged over 11 rebounds a game and shot 66.7 percent from the free throw line. His aggressive play sparked the team during many of its wins.

Bob's most memorable career experience was his senior season. Everyone played together as a team and finally realized that they could win, he said.

"Bob has been a starter for three years. This year put him in a new role as a rebounder and scorer. He handled it well and the team went to him when we needed to score. We also used Bob to break any presses used against us because he handles the ball well for being 6-3 and is able to throw over traps or go around them," Wildcat coach Dennis Gommerman said. "He was also a hard worker in practice and was a good example for our younger players. He will be missed next year because of his fine all-around game."

Hawkins' best single game performance this past season were 26 points against Hartington and 18 rebounds against Wyolet. His pre season goal was to pull down more than 11 rebounds a game.

Looking back at last season, Bob said it could have been a better season but pointed out that the Wildcats didn't start playing as a team until after the Christmas break.

Hawkins, who also excelled in football, was a first team choice in All Conference basketball selections and was named honorable mention All State by the Omaha World Herald. He is uncertain about future plans but may attend college after graduation from high school.

Lon Swanson

Lon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swanson of rural Wayne and attends Laurel-Concord High School. The 6-2 senior doubled as center and forward while leading the Bears in a 6-14 season.

Swanson averaged 9.9 points and 6.7 rebounds per game, totaling 199 points and 134 rebounds for the season. He made 23 steals and 20 assists to complement the Laurel offensive attack. The team relied on his scoring, rebounding and leadership.

The most memorable experience for Swanson this past season was scoring 21 points and pulling down 17 rebounds in a victory over Coleridge.

"Lon has been a real pleasant person to work with," Laurel coach Joel Parks said. "He is real attentive, follows the game plan and is an intelligent hard worker."

Swanson's pre season goals were to average in double figures, average around 7 or 8 rebounds, score 20 points at least one, have a winning record and give 100 percent effort all the time.

Glancing back on the past season, Lon says he is disappointed that Laurel didn't win more games but adds that the team always gave a good effort. "We lost quite a few close games that could have turned the season around," he said.

Laurel does not compete in a conference so Lon was not eligible for any all conference honors. He is a football and baseball standout, however. Lon plans to attend the University of Nebraska and major in agriculture after he graduates from high school, he said.

Jeff Zeiss

Jeff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Zeiss of Wayne. The 5-6 guard, who is the shortest member of the Starting Five, led the Blue Devils to a 12-8 record this season.

Zeiss averaged 14.1 points per game while hitting 42 percent of See The 1980 All-Area Teams, page 10.

All-Area Girls Show Balance

The 1979-80 Wayne Herald All-Area Starting Five girls' basketball team is composed of area high school girls who played mainly the guard and forward position. Combining the scoring average of each player gives this year's Starting Five a team scoring average of nearly 60 points per game.

This year's team combines some height, good outside shooting and good ball handling as well as a potent defense. One player was selected from each area school (Allen, Laurel, Wakefield, Wayne and Winside). Nominations were received from area coaches and final selections were made by The Wayne Herald sports department.

Named to this year's squad are: Jolene Bartels of Wakefield, Jolene Bennett of Wayne, Lisa Erwin of Allen, Roxie Kraemer of Laurel and Kathy Thies of Winside.

A new addition to this year's All-Area team is the selection of a Sixth Lady. Because good substitutes are vital to a successful team, this year's Starting Five is backed up by a Sixth Lady, Marci Thomas of Winside.

Jolene Bartels

Jolene is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bartels of Wakefield. The 5-10 forward led the Trojans to a 6-11 record during her senior year.

Bartels, who is the only repeat selection from last year's team, was named the most valuable player for Wakefield. She shot 44.1 percent from the field while averaging 10.18 points per game. Jolene was also the team's leading rebounder with an average of 12 rebounds a game.

"It Jolene played well, the team played well. She was a catalyst. We tried not to go to her all the time but when we needed points, she did it for us," Wakefield coach Dennis Willbur said. "She was a good rebounder and good inside shooter and was voted most valuable player by her teammates. Jolene was pretty important to the program. Of course, she'll be missed."

Jolene pulled down 21 rebounds against Pender and 20 against Newman in her best performances this season. She was the fifth most effective rebounder in the Lewis and Clark Conference this past season.

Bartels has earned all conference honors in both basketball and volleyball and is a track letterman. After graduation from high school, she plans to attend college.

Jolene Bennett

Jolene is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Bennett of Wayne. The 5-10 senior forward led the Blue Devils during a 4-10 season.

Bennett averaged 12 points and 5.7 rebounds per game and hit 63 percent of her free throw attempts. She also led her team in assists.

"Jolene was the key to our offense this year. She was a good all around player and handles the ball well," Wayne coach Curt Frye said. "She has been very coachable the last few years and will probably play college ball. I think she has the potential."

Jolene's most memorable career experience was winning the West Husker Tournament and scoring 28 points her junior season. As a team leader she was called upon to score points, handle the ball, make assists and rebound.

Looking back at last season, Jolene said she had fun even though it was a disappointing season and added that she met a lot of girls. Her pre-season goals were to do the best she could, contribute to the team anyway she could and win some awards.

Bennett, also a volleyball and track standout, was named to the Wayne State all-tournament team, the West Husker all-tournament team, the West Husker all-conference team for the past two years and was an honorable mention selection in the Norfolk Daily News Top 12 a year ago.

After she graduates from high school, Jolene plans to attend college and major in physical therapy.

Lisa Erwin

Lisa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Erwin of Concord. The 5-9 junior played all three basketball positions while leading the Allen Eagles to a 10-8 record and a berth in the Class D state tour-namment. Erwin is probably the most explosive offensive player on the Starting Five, averaging 17.77 points per game while hitting 40.5 percent from the field, mostly on outside shooting.

Her 70 percent accuracy mark at the free throw line and rebounding average of 10.77 rank her among the leaders in the Lewis and Clark Conference. Lisa's most successful offensive outings were 27 and 26 point performances in two games against Newcastle. In addition, she was a good ball handler and defensive player.

"Lisa ran the team and controlled the tempo of the game. If she had a good game, everyone else had a good game," Allen coach Dale Jackson said. "She made quite an improvement from the start of the season to the end. I look for her to be even better next year."

Lisa's most memorable season experience was upsetting the state's number one ranked team Decatur in the district finals. Her pre-season goals were to win conference, win districts and play at state. One of her big goals, she added, was to play with 100 percent effort.

Looking back at the past season, Erwin said she feels her team could have played much better but never really reached their potential. Playing well in districts and qualifying for state was a very big honor she added.

Lisa, an all-conference player in basketball and volleyball and a track letterman, said she is looking forward to her senior season. She said she plans to play college basketball as a guard after she graduates but presently has no idea which college she will attend. Erwin intends to practice basketball this summer and lift weights for her jumping ability, she stated.

Roxie Kraemer

Roxie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marlen Kraemer of Laurel. The 5-4 senior guard is probably the best defensive player on this year's Starting Five.

Kraemer just completed the most memorable season of her basketball career, leading Laurel to a 9-8 record. She averaged 7.2 points per game while hitting 41 percent from the floor.

Her biggest contribution to the team was through hustle and strong defense. As the key to Laurel's pressure defense, Roxie forced many turnovers and led the team in steals. She constantly hustled up and down the court, always threatening to steal the ball and score an uncontested layup.

"Roxie is the most aggressive girl I've ever coached at Laurel. She was definitely our floor leader on offense and defense," Laurel coach Ev Jensen said. "I don't believe she realized her potential until the last three games. Her desire and hustle will be missed."

Kraemer is also a letterman in volleyball and track. Laurel does not compete in a conference, so she was not eligible to earn any all conference honors.

After graduating from high school, Roxie plans to attend Wayne State College. She will major in physical education and try to play college basketball, she said.

Kathy Thies

Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thies of Winside. The 5-7 senior guard also played at a wing position while leading her team to an 11-4 record.

Thies averaged 12.73 points, 6.5 rebounds and 2.83 steals per game. She shot 38.2 percent from the field and 68.2 percent from the free throw line as a consistent team player.

Two of her single game performances led the team charts. Kathy scored 24 points in one game and also made 11 free throws in a single contest. Her season free throw mark of 45 and her 34 steals are also season highs.

"Kathy was definitely a team leader. She shared the most valuable player award with Marci Thomas and is a very fine shooter," Winside coach Kathy O'Connor said. "She and Marci were team leaders together and both worked extremely hard."

Kathy's most memorable career experience was the past season, which she says was the best season ever at Winside. She said that everyone worked together as a team with no selfishness on anyone's part.

Her pre season goals were for her team to win districts and qualify for state and for her to win individual honors. Kathy was a leader for the Wildcats and helped everyone work together.

Looking back at the past season, Kathy feels it was a very successful season because everyone worked together to accomplish their goals. Everyone was more concerned with team honors than with individual ones, she said.

This was a Lewis and Clark all-conference player, team captain, co-most valuable player with Marci Thomas and an all-around athlete. After graduation from high school, Kathy plans to continue her education and hopefully play more basketball, she said.

Marci Thomas

Marci shared most valuable player honors at Winside with Kathy Thies and statistics of the two were very similar. Thomas averaged 11.5 points, 6.5 rebounds and 2 assists per game.

Her single game performance of 12 field goals is a team leading mark. She shot 37.2 percent from the field while scoring 74 field goals.

Every All-Area player will receive a certificate of achievement.

Talent Laden Crew Fills Wrestling Squad

There is talent and experience to spare on the second annual Wayne Herald All Area Wrestling Team. Twelve individuals from Wakefield, Wayne and Winside compose this year's first team. Another seven wrestlers were selected to the honorable mention list.

This year's team could stack up against anyone in state. With four individuals coincidentally selected from each area wrestling team, the team is made up of 12 state wrestlers who won over half of their matches.

Combining the individual won lost records of these 12 first teamers gives the All Area team a record of 264 wins, 96 losses and one tie. Five seniors, two juniors, three sophomores and two freshmen were selected to the squad.

At the top of the list is Class D state champion Brian Foote, a Winside junior who compiled a 30-1 record. Another Winside wrestler, sophomore Mark Koch placed fifth at state and finished the season with a 27-3 record.

Wayne freshman Jon Jacobmeier qualified for state in his first year of high school competition and ended the season with a 17-12 record. Wakefield sophomore Dirk Carlson finished with an 18-12-1 record and wrestled in the state tourney.

Wayne senior Dan Mitchell placed fifth in Class B and racked up a 23-4 record. Rick Bowers, a Winside junior, recorded 28 wins and five losses enroute to a third place finish at state.

Rick Johnson completed his career at Wayne as a state qualifier with a 19-6 record. Junior Aaron Schuett, a Wayne junior, qualified for state and ran up a 22-10 record.

Wakefield seniors Blaine Nelson and Mark Schopke had identical 20-10 records and both qualified for the Class C state tournament.

The remainder of the All Area team is composed of freshmen and sophomores. Barry Bowers, a Winside sophomore won 21 matches and lost 12 while earning a spot in the state tourney. Jon Stelling, a Wakefield freshman, impressed some people at state by placing third and running his record to 19-11.

Track and Field into Full Swing

Track and field will shift into full speed as 16 Northeast Nebraska schools compete in the Laurel Concord Relays, Tuesday, April 1 on Wayne State College's all-weather metric track.

Included in the Invitational are four Wayne Herald area teams: host Laurel, Allen, Wakefield and Winside. Other teams in the field include: Battle Creek, Beemer, Bloomfield, Coleridge, Crofton, Emerson-Hubbard, Hartington, Hartington CC, Pender, Stanton, Wausa and West Point CC.

Eleven Wayne Youths Swim in Interstate Meet

Eleven members of the Wayne Swim Club qualified and competed in the Great Plains Swim Meet, held March 21-23 in Lincoln's Bob Devaney Sports Complex. Some 487 swimmers from seven Midwestern states participated in the meet.

Two Wayne individuals won events in the prestigious competition.

Heidi Reeg (8 and under) won the 50 yard butterfly in 37 seconds, placed fourth in the 100 yard IM, finished sixth in the 50 yard free and seventh in the 50 yard backstroke.

Eric Liska (8 and under) won the 50 yard free in 35 seconds, placed second in the 50 yard backstroke and took fifth in the 50 breast and 50 butterfly.

Robin Luff (8 and under) finished fourth in the 50 yard butterfly. The boys' 10 and under 200 yard free relay team placed third. That team is composed of Matt Hillier, Eric Liska, Jed Reeg and Jason Liska.

The boys' 11 and 12 free relay team placed third. That team is composed of Tom Perry, Tim Fleming, Jim Thomas and Andy Hillier. Jodi Diltman also competed in the meet.

Fleer Wins At Horse Show

Eddie Fleer of Wayne won one event and placed in three others at the 13th annual Sioux Center Quarterhorse Show, Saturday.

Fleer won the youth reining competition, placed second in the open reining class, finished fifth in the three year old gilding class and fifth in the trail class.

'A' League Race Tightens

Entering the final two weeks of Men's Recreation: A League basketball action, the team race continues to tighten up. Team Two, which was idle Monday night is at the top of the pack with a 2-1 record in second round play.

Team Six is currently alone in second place with a 3-2 record. Teams One, Four and Seven are tied at 2-2. Team Five stands at 2-3 and Team Three is at the bottom with a 1-3 record.

This week, Team Six edged Team Five 72-69, Team One blasted Team Three 85-70 and Team Four slipped by Team Seven 77-76 in overtime.

Big Rally to Win
Team Four constructed a fourth quarter rally to tie the game at the end of regulation and then pulled ahead in overtime to nip Team Seven 77-76, Monday night.

Bill Schwartz, who finished with 26 points, scored four in the overtime period. Neil Blohm, who hit 24 points, scored a basket. In the overtime and Herman Carroll sunk a free throw to provide the winning margin for Team Four.

Earle Overlin led the scoring for Team Seven by connecting for 28 points. John Rudebusch and Rob Mitchell scored 14 points each and Mark Gansbom added 10.

Team Four trailed for the entire before staging the late rally. A four point, first quarter deficit turned into six points at the half and nine after the third period. Then Blohm and Randy Workman went to work scoring seven and six points respectively for a 21-17 fourth quarter advantage. Workman finished with 12 points.

Team (3-3): Schwartz, 28; Blohm, 24; Workman, 12; Stollenberg, 4; H. Carroll, 9. Team Seven (4-2): Hansen, 6; Overlin, 28; Rudebusch, 14; Mitchell, 14; J. Davie, 4; Gansbom, 10.

Team Six Holds on
A late rally by Team Five fell just short in Monday night's opening game as Team Six held on for a 72-69 win.

Eric Christensen, who scored only one point in the first quarter, more than made up for it by pumping in 25 points in the final three quarters. He hit 19 in the second and third periods.

Team Five led 14-12 after the first quarter and held on for a 21-17 tie at the half. Then, behind Christensen's performance, Team Six pulled away in the third period.

A fourth quarter rally by Team Five cut the deficit from six points to three but couldn't steal the lead. Dave Burke and Bill Schultz scored 17 and 14 points respectively in the win.

For Team Five, Jerry Goeden, Jon Erwin and Mark Statler split scoring duties with 19, 18 and 16 points respectively. Each of those players had at least one big quarter.

Team Six (3-3): Schultz, 14; Christensen, 26; Burke, 17; Gansbom, 8; S. Meyer, 7. Team

Five (3-3): J. Erwin, 18; B. Erwin, 8; Dunklau, 8; Goeden, 19; Statler, 16.

Team One Pulls Away
All five players hit double figures as Team One used scoring spurts in the second and fourth quarters to pull away from Team Three 85-70 in Monday's other game.

Team Three forced a first quarter tie as Tim Koll hit for 10 points. Then the high scoring attack of Team One took over.

Pat Dougherty scored 10 points in the second quarter to lead a 28 point output for the winners. Duane Smith countered with eight points for Team Three but his team didn't show enough balance and fell behind 44-31 at the half.

Smith and Koll worked together to cut Team One's lead to seven points in the third period but the winners pulled away again in the final quarter. Dave Schwartz and Dean Carroll combined for 17 points in the fourth period for the final surge.

Al Nissen and Mark Engler scored most of Team Three's fourth quarter points in the losing effort.

Team One (4-2): B. Keating, 17; D. Schwartz, 16; Dougherty, 22; Dean Carroll, 19; J. Keating, 11. Team Three (1-3): Koll, 23; Nissen, 8; Engler, 15; Smith, 20; R. Davie, 4.

Wednesday's schedule (April 2): 7 p.m. — Team 1 vs. Team 2; 8 p.m. — Team 6 vs. Team 4; 9:15 — Team 7 vs. Team 3

Wayne Native Lowe Ends Lancer Career

YANKTON, S.D. — He came to Mount Marty College (Yankton) over four years ago as a highly successful high school athlete. Like so many high school athletes, he wondered if he could contribute at the college level. For many, it takes years to find out — for him, it took a few weeks.

His name — Monte Lowe, a 1976 graduate of Wayne High School. Lowe just completed his fourth year as a member of the Mount Marty College Lancers basketball team. He played in 114 games, more than any other Lancer. And coach Doug Martin would like to see him play in 114 more games. "Enough can't be said about student-athletes like Monte. Their contributions, both on and off the court are realized by colleges for years and years."

Monte was recruited by former Lancer coach Frank Evans, who labeled him as a "gifted athlete with good speed and determination." He added, "his leadership abilities as a freshman were remarkable."

The Wayne native earned a starting berth at the guard position half way through his freshman year, and the team went on to win the NAIA District 12 crown and a berth in the NAIA National Tournament.

During his sophomore year, the Lancers posted a 24-6 record. But a repeat trip to the national tournament was stopped at the hands of Eastern Montana in the district finals.

Current Lancer coach Doug Martin joined the team for the 1978-79 season with Lowe as the only returning letterwinner. The team started strong, winning 12 of its first 18 games, but ran out of steam and lost its last seven contests. Monte served the team as captain and was voted the squad's "best defensive player."

The 1979-80 season ended last week, as the Lancers lost to Northern State in the finals of the NAIA District 12 Independent Tournament. Their 21-11 record gave Lowe a career record of 80.39 as a Lancer.

Statistically, his senior year was his best. With potent scoring both inside and outside, Lowe was looked upon to defend against the opponent's leading scorer. "Monte is regarded as one of the area's best defensive players, so we always have him guard our opponent's big gun," says coach Martin. But he proved that he could play offense as well, as he averaged nine points per game. In addition, he averaged 5.6 rebounds, and dished out 71 assists. He ended the season with a 53.7 percent field goal accuracy.

"We really hate to see Monte go," said coach Martin. Lowe will graduate this spring with a major in business and accounting. "He has been our team leader and captain for the last two years and his leadership abilities have been a tremendous asset to the Lancers."

Monte will miss being a Lancer next year. But he will be missed more by those fans who remain.

WSC 'Nine' Sweeps Yankton

The Wayne State College baseball squad swept a doubleheader from Yankton College Saturday in Wayne 12-0 and 8-4 giving the Wildcats a split in last week's action. Earlier in the week the University of Nebraska had won a pair from the Cats 12-1 and 11-0.

The opening game victory over Yankton snapped an eight game Wayne State losing streak. Wayne State used an eight run sixth inning and the combined three hit pitching of Randy Heyling and Al Voigt in posting the 12-0 win. The win evened Heyling's record at 1-1.

In the nightcap, Brian Blatchford stroked a three-run homer in the third inning and Mike Meyer added a two-run shot in the fourth to lift the Wildcats to an 8-4 win. Mark Larson (1-3) picked up the victory in relief of Rocky Thompson. The two victories improved Wayne State's record to 3-14.

The Wildcats travel to Sioux City to meet Morningside College at 1:30 p.m. Friday in Headid Park. The Chiefs of Morningside are 8-8 thus far in 1980 but have completed against NCAA Division I competition in all eight contests.

Mark Larson (1-3) and Al Voigt (0-0) are scheduled starters for the Wildcats. The first game of the double-header will be Morningside's 1980 home opener.

WSC Sports Calendar
Friday, March 28 — Baseball at Morningside College (Headid Park); 1:30 p.m.

Friday, March 28 — Track (men and women) — Wayne State Triangular.

March 29 and 30 — Softball at Missouri Western Round Robin Tournament.

Tuesday, April 1 — Baseball vs. Peru State at Nebraska City or Auburn; 1 p.m.

Tuesday, April 1 — Softball vs. Kearney State in Wayne; 1:30 p.m.

Wednesday, April 2 — Baseball at Briar Cliff (North High School); 1:30 p.m.

Wednesday, April 2 — Softball at Nebraska/Omaha; 3 p.m.

Other Spring Sports
Wayne State's softball and outdoor track teams open their 1980 seasons this week in Wayne. Sue Kovar's softball squad was scheduled to host Wesleyan

Wednesday while the men's and women's track teams open their season at 2 p.m. Friday in Memorial Stadium.
South Dakota/Springfield, Westmar College, Dana College and Northwestern (Iowa), will join the Wildcat trackers in Friday's opening meet. Wildcat men's track coach LeRoy Simpson indicated Northwestern will probably be the team to beat. Field events begin at 2 p.m. and running events at 2:30 p.m.

Cats Split Games Against Buena Vista

Freshman Grady Hansen pitched a three-hitter in the second game as Wayne State split a doubleheader with Buena Vista at the WSC field Tuesday afternoon.

Buena Vista scored four runs in the seventh inning on four Wayne State errors and a wild pitch to nip the Wildcats 4-3. Dewey Edgar went the distance on the mound for Wayne, giving up only four hits.

The Cats scored one run in the second inning and two in the sixth to post a 3-0 lead before the seventh inning mistakes lost the game.

Things went smoother in the second game as the Wildcats blasted Vista 13-1 in six innings. Hansen gave up only three hits and one second inning run. The WSC defense improved and made only one error.

Wayne State scored four runs in the third inning and nine in the sixth. Mike Test and Tom Carden pounded two-run home runs in the fourth inning and Bill Schwartz smacked a two-run shot in the sixth.

The split improves WSC's record to 4-15 and drops Buena Vista to 3-10. The Cats are scheduled to play at Morningside College Friday. A Wayne State softball game scheduled Wednesday was postponed due to the weather.

The 1980 All-Area Teams

his shots from the field. He was an exceptional free throw shooter, converting 82 percent from the line.

"Jeff is a four year letterman and holds the record for number of assists," Wayne coach Bill Sharpe said. "He is a good outside shooter and probably the best passer I've ever coached. He would be an All-Stater easily if he was a couple of inches taller."

Jeff's biggest asset is his ability to handle the ball and find the open man with a pass. He made 120 assists this season upping his career total to 379. He also recovered 73 loose balls this year.

The most exciting experience for the Wayne senior was the first game against Madison this past season. He hit a 40 foot basket and send it into overtime. The Devils went on to win the ball game.

As the team leader, Zeiss contributed by getting out on the fastbreak, feeding the open man, bringing the ball down court against the press and scoring points. His pre-season goals were to play in the state tournament, break the school assist record and be named to All-Conference and All-Tourney teams.

Jeff was selected to the West Husker All-Conference team twice, to the West Husker All-Tourney team twice and to the Wayne State Tournament All-Tourney team. The Omaha World Herald recognized him as an All-State honorable mention choice. He is also a football and baseball standout.

Looking back at the past season, Zeiss said he is happy and disappointed. He feels that the Devils had too much talent to end the season the way they did but said he had a lot of fun playing with the team.

Jeff plans to play baseball in a small college and try out for basketball. He is undecided between three colleges he said.

Perry Nelson
Perry showed considerable improvement during his junior year and is expected to lead the Blue Devils to a winning record next season.

The 6-5 senior shot 48 percent from the field while scoring 244 points. He averaged about eight rebounds per game to lead Wayne in that category. He has been selected as Sixth Man on this year's All-Area squad.

Every All-Area selection will be presented a certificate of achievement.

Area Men Win Judo

Bob Eckhoff of Wayne and Bob Bowers of Winside continued their success in judo competition at the Sioux City Invitational. Sunday. The tournament was sponsored by the American Health Club.

Eckhoff placed second in the 189 pound class, losing a split decision in the finals. Bowers placed third in the 154 pound class behind two black belts.

In another tourney, the MJA Championships at Topeka, Kan., Eckhoff placed third in the 189 pound class and Steve Schultz of Norfolk finished second at 209 pounds. The tourney, held Saturday, March 15 paired competitors from a five state area.

The next judo tournament in the area is the Norfolk YMCA invitational scheduled at 12 noon Sunday, April 13 in the Norfolk City Auditorium. For advance tickets call 375-1264. Tickets are $1.50 in advance and higher at the door.

Erwin and Team in AAU Games

The McGill Bluejays of Omaha, a basketball team combining former athletes from Wayne State College, Creighton University, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, the University of Nebraska-Omaha and Hastings College has qualified for the national AAU basketball championships scheduled today (March 27) through March 30 in St. Augustine, Fla.

Steve Erwin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Verdel Erwin of Concord, is a member of the team. So is former Wayne State standout Dave Schneider.

The Bluejays defeated the Iowa Pistols of Ames, Iowa 108-82 in the finals of the midwest tournament at Elkhorn to gain the national berth.

Rick Apke and Randy Eckker, former Creighton players joined Nebraska University alumnus Erwin, WSC grad Schneider and Mike Trader of Hastings as Bluejay starters.

Others in the McGill lineup are Ted Wuebben of Creighton U., Glen Moberg of UNO and Mike and Pat Sijorius of Hastings College.

More Sports...

Because of lack of space due to the All-Area announcements, more sports stories will be included in Monday's edition of The Wayne Herald. Area track and field and baseball information will be published in that issue as well as bowling standings and miscellaneous stories.

Fluffy Snow, Spring Showers May Not Be Good for Health

By Barbara S. Moffet
National Geographic News Service to the streams.

No new fish

Those sweet spring showers and pure fluffy snowfalls turn out not to be so sweet and pure after all. In fact, some rain and snow are downright filthy.
High in the sky, before falling to earth, rain and snow often mix with pollutants — mainly sulfur dioxide and nitrogen oxide — and through a series of chemical changes become acidic.
By the time it reaches earth, the stuff farmers and skiers are calling "acid precipitation." Some rain and snow that have made their way to earth in recent years in this country have been almost as acidic as vinegar, and the acid precipitation problem seems to be spreading.

Scientists there think the fish probably died out because, in the acid-laden water, they lost capacity to reproduce. Some have been killed more directly, in sudden surges of acid resulting from quick snow thaws.
The sterile lakes don't appear murky or polluted. Instead, they are blue and clear, the "ideal of a pristine lake," observed Thomas J. Butler of Cornell University, who is studying acid precipitation's effects on aquatic life. "I've been diving in some of those lakes and there's nothing left except a few water bugs," he said. "People who used to fish there in the '50s just don't go there anymore."
The high acidity already has taken an economic toll. The Adirondack Park Agency estimates the decline of game fish has meant an annual loss of at least $1 million in recreational revenue.
Exactly what acid precipitation does to plants and crops is not as clear, but preliminary data show reduced seed germination, damage to seedlings, interference with photosynthesis, lowered resistance to disease, and lesions on leaves. And there is direct evidence that acid precipitation leaches minerals from soil and can even release soil's metals, sometimes sending them into streams or water supplies.

Tons of trouble
About 50 million metric tons of sulfur dioxide and nitrogen oxide are spewed into the air every year in the United States, as byproducts of fossil fuel combustion. Car engines, home furnaces, coal-burning power plants, and smelters all contribute.
As the use of coal increases, these pollutants can intensify, an idea that worries scientists because they really don't know how the pollutants travel or what happens after they come down.
Many do believe that acid precipitation can wipe the fish from lakes, corrode buildings and statues, leach minerals from soil, and possibly slow tree growth, damage crops, and taint drinking water.

Some of the world's most majestic man-made structures — the Parthenon, the Colosseum, Taj Mahal — also are feeling acid precipitation's effects. The progressive disfiguring of the sculptures on the Acropolis, for example, has been the work of acid rain.
"We can even see streaking on the Washington Monument — possibly the result of acid rain's grooving and pitting effects," Hood said. "Rock that might last

Hood is being paid to try to find out. He is executive secretary of the Acid Rain Coordination Committee, set up last year by President Carter to manage a 10-year research effort. Ten million dollars is budgeted for several government agencies in their first year of tackling the problem.
Researchers already know that almost 200 lakes in New York's Adirondack Mountains that once drew fishermen are now fishless, apparently because of much greater than normal acidity. The dead lakes are at high elevations, where soil lacks buffering agents that neutralize acid as it pours in.

Effects in dispute
But some people are not convinced that acid precipitation is really hurting anything.
"We recognize the potential for harm, but we're not convinced that acid rain actually is doing damage in the real world," said Dr. Ralph Perach, acting director of the Electric Power Research Institute, an organization set up to do research for power companies. "We also know that coal-fired plants contribute to acid rain, but do they contribute 5 percent or 100?" The Institute is funding studies of acid precipitation in the Adirondacks as well as in Britain.
Most scientists agree that the effects of acid precipitation are still in question, but they'd rather not wait around for a more precise picture to be drawn. As a plant physiologist studying the phenomenon said: "By the time we determine the full effects of acid rain, it will be too late to reverse them."

Area Students Winners In WSC Science Event

About 100 high school and junior high school students, including several from the Wayne area, participated in the Northeast Nebraska Junior Academy of Science Saturday at Wayne State College.

Students submitted papers in the areas of mathematics, chemistry-physics, biology, earth science, junior high life science and junior high physical science.

First place winners included David Blendeman and Ben Caille; Wayne Carroll, Effect of Gibberellic Acid on Phaseolus vulgaris Germination; Layne Johnson, Laurel-Concord, The Assessment of Preference.

All three received cash awards of $50 for their presentations.

Second place winners included Jim Casey, Laurel-Concord, Powerful Wheel; Kelly Robson, Laurel-Concord, The Effect of Color on Gerbils When in a Maze.

Third place winners included Craig Hanson, Laurel-Concord, Capillary Action in Soil; Larry Dybdal, Laurel-Concord, Daily Effects of Weather; Carolyn George, Laurel-Concord, Erosion; The Wearing Away of Land; John Chace, Laurel-Concord, Bottled Candles: How Long Will They Burn.

Other third place winners included Jackie Crisp, Laurel-Concord, Germination of Plant Seeds; Mike Dietrich, Laurel-Concord, Circulation of Air in a House.

Wayne Eagles to Sponsor Art Contest

The Wayne Eagles Club announces the fourth annual art contest for children in grades three through six. The contest is sponsored by the Grand Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles. Subject of the contest is "What I Like Best About My Home Town." Rules and entry forms are available at the Eagles Club here.

Top prize will be a $500 savings bond. Four $125 in each of the grade categories will also be given, 17 prizes in all. Entries must be received by April 15.

Entries will be judged at the Grand Aerie Headquarters in Milwaukee, Wis. Patrick Rowan, noted artist and an associate professor of art at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, will head the judging. Originally as well as artistic merit will be emphasized in the judging. Winning entries will be displayed at the Grand Aerie convention in Salt Lake City later this year.

The art contest is part of the FOE "Boost Our Home Town" program. Its goal is to highlight the environmental factors, individuals, businesses and institutions that have contributed to the well-being and growth of the home town.

The Wayne Aerie also will award prizes for the best three in each grade as follows: first place, $5; second place, $3; third place, $2.

Pseudorabies On Increase

New cases of pseudorabies in swine reported in the United States increased in 1979 but were fewer than in 1977, a U.S. Department of Agriculture official said recently.

Jim Downard, chief staff veterinarian for pseudorabies activities for USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, said there were 1,135 new cases reported in 1979, compared with 1,052 in 1978, 1,256 in 1977 and 125 in 1974, the first year for which nationwide figures are available.

Downard stressed that this is a report only of new cases for the year 1979 and is not a report of the total number of pseudorabies-infected herds. The number of infected herds would be several times the number of new cases for each reported new case.

Iowa led all states with 566 in 1979 compared with 476 in 1978. Illinois and Nebraska ranked second and third, respectively, in 1979.

Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Michigan, Minnesota, Texas and Wisconsin — also had significant increases in cases reported last year.

Eight states, however, reported significantly fewer new cases. They were: Indiana, Kansas, Montana, Missouri, North Carolina, Ohio, South Dakota and Virginia.

An additional eight states reported about the same number of cases in 1979 as in previous years. Those states were: California, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi, New Jersey, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Pseudorabies, also known as Aujeszky's disease, "mad itch" and infectious bulbar paralysis, is a herpes virus disease primarily affecting swine. Losses are highest in suckling pigs. The disease also affects cattle, sheep, dogs, cats and some wild animals, where it is almost always fatal. Affected swine are believed to be the main reservoir of the disease.

Federal regulations for shipping hogs across state lines became effective last May 17. They are designed to help prevent the interstate spread of the disease. Hog producers also are urged to take safeguards of their own to keep their herds disease free.

Children's Play Opening At WSC

The Wayne State College theatre department will present "Alice in Wonderland" — a children's play — in Ramsey Theatre of the Fine Arts Building on the college campus.

Performances are scheduled at 2 p.m. on March 30; 1 p.m. on March 31; and 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. on April 1-3.

The play is a dramatization by Charlotte B. Chorpennin from the works of Lewis Carroll. Directing the college performance is Dr. Helen J. Russell.

"Alice in Wonderland" tells the story of Alice, played by Laura Leach, who follows a talking white rabbit down his hole and finds herself in Wonderland, where she meets many interesting creatures.

The various creatures do their best to confuse Alice, despite her attempts to adjust to their eccentricities and find her way back home. Alice overcomes her fears, insecurities and temper to outwit the creatures at their own games and assert herself.

Some of the familiar scenes the audience will view include Alice's tea party with the March Hare, played by Dave Sindelar, the Mad Hatter, played by Ron Foxhoven, and the Dormouse, played by Sally Taylor; the

Be Watching Mail For Census Forms On U.S. Population

Households in the area will receive something in the mail this Friday — a questionnaire from the U.S. Bureau of the Census for the 1980 Census of Population and Housing.

JUDY BACKHAUS, district manager of the census in Lincoln, asks residents watch for the large, white envelope with blue lettering. The census questionnaire for households will be delivered by address, not on the basis of name.

Below the address will be a telephone number to call if help is needed in answering any questions. With the questionnaire will be a yellow instruction guide that gives examples on how to fill it out, and a brown, pre-addressed, postage-paid envelope for mailing it back.

THE 1980 census symbol — a pencil inscribed "April 1" filling in the zero of "Census '80" — appears on the envelope with this

Heart Bowl Raises $159

Some $159 was raised for the heart fund at a bowling tournament held Feb. 25 in Melodee Lanes. Tournament director Roberta Carman announced.

Mrs. Carman, a past heart chairman, said that the tournament took in $223 and $64 was awarded in prizes. Winning bowlers were Roger Anderson in the men's division and Ella Luff in the women's division.

The top six men finishers are: Roger Anderson 627, Randy Johnson 621, Roger Geiger 620, Randy Barghoiz 614, John Rebersdorf 610.

The top six women finishers are: Ella Luff 581, Linda Janke 563, Judy Carlson 555, Jo Ostrander 551, Geri Marks 543.

Mrs. Carman said that she wished to express her gratitude to Melodee Lanes for the use of the bowling facilities and to the bowlers for making the tournament a success.

Minerva Plans Club Luncheon

Minerva Club is planning an 11:30 a.m. luncheon April 14, with the location to be announced. Hostesses will be Lola Bressler and Marvel Corbit.

Following lunch, the group will return to the Pauline Nuernberger home for an afternoon program on children's literature presented by Minnie Rice.

The club met Monday afternoon in the home of Norma Koeber. Mrs. Ida Moses presented a program on the training of children.

Wayne Woman Attends LWML Board Meeting

Mrs. Dwaine Rethwisch of Wayne attended an executive board meeting of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League of Nebraska North March 14 at Zion-St. John's Lutheran Church in Wisner.

Mrs. Rethwisch is regional vice president and Christian leadership training coordinator.

Mrs. Leonard Warneke, Plain view, district president, conducted the board meeting. Final plans were made for the district convention to be held at Christ Lutheran Church, Norfolk, on June 9 and 10. The board also chose the mission projects to be placed on the ballot at convention.

The dates of the retreat, Sept 8 and 9, were announced. There will be "If I Have Not Love, I Am Nothing." A report was given on Seminar 80 to be held Nov. 3 and 4.

Wayne Student Speaking to Senior Citizens

A student in the home management class at Wayne State College will be guest speaker at the Wayne Senior Citizens Center on Monday, March 31, at 11:15 a.m.

Karen Kieckhafer of Hooper will give a talk, entitled "Contributions of the Four Basic Food Groups." She also will be handing out information on important functions and sources of key nutrients, meat, poultry and fish buying tips, unusual names used for meat cuts, basic food shopping hints, and cooking for one.

The public is invited to hear her talk.

Famous Persons Named at Club

Pleasant Valley Club met with Mrs. Harvey Beck March 19. Co hostess was Mrs. Earl Bennett.

Seventeen members and a guest, Mrs. Marvin Victor, answered roll call by naming a famous person born in March.

Mrs. Albert Bichel and Mrs. Paul Baier were on the entertainment committee. Pitch was played, with prizes going to Mrs. Charles Helkes, Mrs. Ervin Hagemann and Mrs. Erwin Fleer. Mrs. Walt Pearson received the door prize.

Mrs. Ed Frevert will be the April 16 hostess at 2 p.m. Assisting her will be Mrs. Charlie Helkes.

Probation System Outlined

An overview of the probation system was provided to Kiwanis at their luncheon meeting Monday by District Probation Officer Merlin Wright.

Wright, who serves a seven-county area, said most of the people he works with through the judicial probation system are those who have made poor judgments.

The current philosophy of probation is the marrying of the penalty to the opportunity, he further explained. Under this philosophy, if a person completes his probation successfully, then the record is cleared for employment purposes.

The most discouraging thing that Wright experiences in his working with offenders is that "so many people program their minds for destruction...and seeing people who could have control but do not care or do not have the guidance."

Probation is as economically feasible program, Wright said. The program is saving taxpayers money.

For example, the average cost per capita in prison is estimated at $10,000 each year, while the cost of keeping someone on probation is about $400 annually, he said.

Guests at Kiwanis were Merle Von Minden, Allen, a candidate for District 17 State Senator; David Cooley, local dentist; and three members of the Wayne State College Circle K Club.

800 Attend Gong Show

A CROWD ESTIMATED AT 800 filled the Allen High School auditorium Saturday evening to watch a benefit Gong Show for the Brent Chase Fund at the Allen Security State Bank. Gary Troth, Allen High science instructor, was emcee for the program, which included about 20 acts. Among the performances were the Country Kids, pictured above, singing a country tune. Members of the group, from left, are Craig Noe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Noe, Brian Malcom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Malcom, and Ryan Creamer, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Creamer. The show was halted temporarily when a fire alarm brought Allen High vocational instructor Gene Lauritsen to the rescue, pictured at right. Lauritsen managed to douse the emcee with a bucket of water before discovering the alarm.

was false. Judges for the show were Dale Jackson of Allen and former coaches of Brent Chase, Cliff Jorgensen of Arcadia and Ron Wecker of Randolph. Michael Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duke Johnson, was winner of a drawing during the evening for an Allen Eagles comforter. An auction of cakes, baked by coaches Bart Kneiff, Dale Jackson, Gary Troth and Gene Lauritsen, raised another $357 for the Chase Fund, which now totals over $2,000. Chase was injured in an automobile accident near Allen last month and is undergoing treatment at Craig Hospital in Englewood, Colo. Persons who would like to donate to the fund to help defray his medical expenses can do so at the Allen Security State Bank.

Dixon Cattlemen Organize

About 70 Dixon County cattlemen met recently at the Wagon Wheel in Laurel to organize a County Cow Calf Association, reports Stan Stirling, Dixon County Extension agent.

Earl Rowland of Newcastle was elected president of the association. Larry Koester of Allen is vice president and Stirling will serve as secretary-treasurer. Directors were selected to represent the various township areas of the county as follows: Kurt Armstrong of Ponca; James Hoising of Newcastle; Ken Pelt of Allen; Dale Jackson of Allen; and Willis Kahl of Wakefield.

The nominating committee played a key role in organizing the association. Committee members are Don Curry, Don Dahma, Dale Jackson, Willis Kahl, Norman Meyer, Frank Plueger, Earl Rowland and Don Thomas.

Membership includes both men and women, recognizing the role of both in the livestock enterprise. Those present listened to presentations by Stirling and Vernon Krause, district beef specialist. Views of the present and long term livestock situation as well as specific Dixon County needs were reviewed. Information regarding current university programs for cow calf producers was outlined by Krause.

Some suggested goals of the association were discussed and a survey distributed to those present. Results of the survey have now been determined, Stirling says, and are reported in a related article. Due to the interest shown in the association, some special programs are planned with the Cooperative Extension Service.

Cow calf producers who were not present at the meeting but would like to be involved with the association are invited to contact the Dixon County Extension office at the Northeast Station, Concord, by card or letter, or by telephoning 384-2261. Extension programs are available to all residents, and those interested will be welcomed, reports Stirling.

Farm Thoughts of Another Dust Bowl Prompt Call for Water Control

The controversy surrounding control of water in the Sandhills moved to the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education in Lincoln recently during the 1980 Nebraska Water Conference.

THE SPECTER of another dust bowl era calls for more local control of water use, and the location of who actually owns the water were some of the issues raised during an afternoon panel discussion. The conference was sponsored by the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources and the Nebraska Water Council.

The Sandhills was once a sand sea, said James Swinehart, research geologist with the IANR Conservation and Survey Division. He said the area was a desert and is now a "fragile" area protected from wind erosion and excessive water loss by grass cover.

SWINEHART said misuses of the region could result in its reversion to desert conditions and increase its susceptibility to blowing.

The Sandhills are also the site of large water-holding rock formations which in recent years have been tapped to increase the productivity of the land.

The uses of this water and controls of that use are the issues underlying the Sandhills water controversy.

"THERE IS no issue that needs more studying and more understanding than does the water issue," said Sen. Loran Schmit of Bellwood. Schmit said he believed Nebraska landowners have a right of access to available water. And he added that he believed water that flows out of the state unused is not benefitting Nebraska's economy or agriculture.

He said any control of water use by the legislature would have to treat all landowners equally. "Well spacing requirements could not be enforced if the policy would limit a person's ability to put wells on his land," he said.

SCHMIT SAID he hoped that the difference within the agricultural industry about use and control of the water supply could be resolved amicably and that Nebraska was fortunate to have separate branches of government, the Natural Resources Districts, that deal with water and soils.

E.H. Shoemaker, president of the Milldale Ranch Co. of North Platte, said, "It is my belief that the NRDs must have the authority to take all necessary steps under local control to avoid possible mining or depletion of water."

"Proper funding is needed to implement additional recorder or observation wells, as the irrigation wells are increased in number and capacity."

Shoemaker said the number one priority for water use in Nebraska should be for agricultural purposes including water for livestock and farm operations.

"I AM INTERESTED in such questions as adequate levels of Sandhill lakes, stock wells, sub-irrigated hay meadows and economic development, as well as environmental impact," he said.

With increasing numbers of irrigation wells, lakes and sub-irrigated land could be affected unless proper research is conducted, he said.

"We already have evidence of water level decline from several ranches in our area," he said.

"This is a challenge for all NRDs which cannot be thrust aside indefinitely," he said.

"WITH TRACTS of ranch land changing hands, real estate interests promote and advertise irrigation potential for questionable economic return in spite of increasing capital and energy costs," he said.

"Many locations in the Sandhills are unsuitable for irrigation, but the trend continues unabated."

Shoemaker was quick to point out that he was not entirely against irrigation in the Sandhills.

"I recognize the importance of irrigation development in the state of Nebraska and heartily condone continuing sound and practical use of our water resources to improve our agricultural economy."

Shoemaker said he feared that if the Natural Resource Districts did not step in, the U.S. Department of Agriculture may intervene with fines and penalties, thus sinking "the shaft of federal control deeper into agriculture."

SHOEMAKERS opinions were echoed by Jim Wolf, a cattleman and banker from Albion and president of the Sandhills Resources Council.

Wolf said his organization also is concerned about the large scale development of irrigation in the Sandhills.

"Large scale development typically results in pivot-to-pivot systems in order to have a large block of land for economy of scale," Wolf said. "This in turn usually requires developing marginal land that would not be used in smaller more selective development."

Wolf warned of the possible consequences to the soil if large scale corn production proved to be uneconomical.

"IF AND WHEN commercial corn production in the Sandhills becomes uneconomical and developed land is idled, erosion, especially in pivot-to-pivot developments could be severe."

The large scale development often is done by non-Sandhills residents who usually do not understand the fragility of Sandhill soils and the harm that can be done by over-fertilization and over-irrigation, he said.

"This raises the specter of a possible partial repeat of the failure of dryland farming in the Sandhills during the '20s and '30s."

It has taken 20 to 40 years to recover from that disaster."

Wolf also pointed out that he was not "totally against irrigation in the Sandhills, rather that his organization was opposed to rapid and large-scale irrigation development."

"We think such development threatens the physical and economic viability of the Sandhills," he said. "For this reason all Nebraska should share our concern."

"WHO OWNS the water?" is a question that needs to be answered said Glenn LeDoyt, president of the LeDoyt Land Company of Omaha.

He said local control of the water resources will benefit the entire state's economy.

Roland Langemeier, a rancher with operations near Petersburg and Schuyler, said he believed that Sandhills landowners have a right to use the water that is available and that increasing controls would limit free enterprise and agricultural efficiency.

Weed control in your garden
Now is the time to start planning the weed control in your garden. One method is by using the chemical Dacthal. Dacthal is the herbicide that has label registration for weed control on the greatest number of garden crops and is also most readily available market wise.

Garden crops for which it is registered include snap beans, broccoli, brussel sprouts, cabbage, cantaloupe, cucumber, eggplant, lettuce, onion, peppers, potatoes, squash, strawberries and tomatoes to name a few.

The time of application varies with different garden crops. Dacthal can be applied at seeding or transplanting on broccoli, brussel sprouts, cauliflower, cabbage and onions. It should be used at seeding time for snap beans and turnips. For cantaloupe, watermelons, cucumbers and squash, Dacthal should be applied post-emergence 4-6 weeks after seeding.

Follow closely the directions and precautions on the label, including information on the rate of application and time of application. An application of 1/2 to 3/4 inch of water soon after application will improve the performance of Dacthal.

Sprouts on potatoes
If potatoes are stored at temperatures above 50 degrees F, they will sprout after 70 to 90 days. Fusarex or chloro IPC can be applied to stored potatoes to prevent sprouting. The problem is finding these chemicals in small amounts.

Poisonous houseplants
Beware of dangerous houseplants!

In 1970, 4,308 incidents of plant ingestion occurred in the United States, according to reported information. Children under the age of 5 were involved in 3,149 of those cases.

Fewer than 100 of all children who ate plants in 1970 required hospitalization, according to the data.

Here are several potentially harmful houseplants. The plants and the specific parts of them that are toxic include castor bean seeds, dieffenbachia, caladium and some philodendrons, all plants hyacinth narcissus, and daffodil, bulbs, rosemary, seeds and oleander leaves and branches.

Precip Levels Above Normal

Preseason precipitation levels for much of Nebraska's corn acreage are higher than normal this year, the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources extension climatologist reported Friday, March 21.

Ralph Neild in the Center for Agricultural Meteorology and Climatology in IANR is studying relationships between weather and dryland corn yields.

LINCOLN was the only location of five studied which had lower than normal preseason precipitation. Neild said The site was 6.8 percent below normal with 9.02 inches of moisture received between Sept. 1, 1979 and March 17, he said. In contrast, North Platte was nearly 49 percent above normal with 8.19 inches of moisture since Sept. 1.

Research by Neild shows an important relationship between moisture received after Sept. 1 and yield. "This precipitation replenishes soil moisture used by last year's crop and supplements the next season's rain fall," he explained. "Rain following sowing usually is sufficient to grow up to fesseling in July when the grain begins to form."

AT TASSELING, the corn plant reaches its greatest moisture demand, he said, and roots extend more deeply into the subsoil in quest of moisture during this critical period. "If adequate moisture is available from preseason, it will be extracted, and with current rains, will help meet the needs of the developing grain."

Studies by Neild using data from 1950 to 1974 for 17 Nebraska counties showed the average dryland corn yield increased or decreased about one and a half bushels per acre for each inch that precipitation between Sept. 1 and May 15 varied from the average.

IN ADDITION, years with above normal preseason precipitation are more likely to give favorable response to higher than normal planting rates and nitrogen fertilizer, Neild said.

"Lower planting rates, less or no nitrogen fertilizer or perhaps planting more drought tolerant grain sorghum are considerations when moisture is below normal at planting time," he added.

Normal preseason precipitation from Sept. 1 to May 15 and actual precipitation from Sept. 1 to March 17 are listed in inches below for five locations in eastern Nebraska where most dryland corn is grown.

Glenn Loberg Honored

GLENN LOBERG (right) of rural Carroll was recognized by DeKalb AgResearch, Inc. at the company's recent Yieldmasters Club meeting in Lincoln for producing a 131.83 bushel per acre yield with XL 64. The Carroll corn grower comprises one of nearly 200 corn and sorghum growers honored at the meeting. At that meeting, the growers heard the state yield average in the club was 145 bushels per acre, 11th highest in the country. Those in attendance also heard that almost 1,300 corn and sorghum growers from across the country submitted yields to the club. The average corn yield of all those entries was 156.5 bushels per acre. At left is Gene Gubbels, DeKalb dealer from Carroll.

The how-to-session on filling out the request forms will be conducted by Dale N. Kindred, executive director. The necessary forms will be supplied and the date that the completed forms are due in the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging Office will be announced April 2. Anyone wishing additional information should call 1-800-672-8368.

Which Grain to Plant

by Don C. Spitzer
Wayne County Extension Agent
It will soon be time to be thinking about planting small grains. But before you plant you first must decide, oats? wheat? barley? Production costs would be similar for these three crops except for some differences in seed and harvesting costs, he said. So differences in gross per acre would be useful as a guide for which crop you should plant.

Spring Barley 3 year average Top 3 Varieties
Northeast Station, Concord
61.3 bushels per acre
Oats 5 year average of Top 5 Varieties
63.80 bushels per acre
Spring Wheat 5 year average of Top 3 Varieties
28.99 bushels per acre

After you decided oats? wheat? barley? You need to determine which variety. Here are some comparative yields that will help you make that decision.

Oats Yield Data-Northeast Station, Concord

Variety	1975-79 Average Yield	1975-79 Average Weight
Long	70	28.6
Bates	63	30.8
Stout	63	29.2
Wright	62	32.7
Kelsey	61	29.7
Burnett	59	28.2

Spring Barley Yields - Northeast Station, Concord

Variety	1977-79 Average Yield	1977-79 Average Weight
Bowers	62	47.5
Custer	61	47.9
Stepolt	61	44.7

Spring Wheat Yields - Northeast Station, Concord

Variety	1975-79 Average Yield	1975-79 Average Weight
Bounty 309	28.6	59.1
Olaf	27.8	58.3
Waldron	30.6	59.6

NOTE: Spring wheat yield is highly erratic and will vary greatly from year to year.

There are other factors than yield which must be taken into account when selecting variety. Factors such as maturity rate and standability must also be considered. This information is in the Nebraska Spring Small Grain Variety Tests 1979 available at the Extension Office.

One important thing to remember is that spring wheat should be planted as soon as possible. If you don't have soil tests results, a rule of thumb guide for small grain fertilizer is 50 lb. N and 20 lb. P2O5 per acre. Use a seeding rate of 2 1/2 bushels per acre for oats; two bushels per acre for barley; and 1 1/2 bushels per acre for wheat.

Now that you have decided which crop to plant and have selected your variety the rest is up to the weather cooperating for a bountiful harvest.

Fraternity To Roll Keg For Children

Rolling a keg of beer to benefit children?

Though that concept may sound rather unorthodox, that is what members of the Wayne State College Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity are planning. Their motivation is to raise money for St. Jude's Children's Hospital in Memphis, Tenn.

The kegrill will take place Sunday, April 13, starting from Sioux City and ending in Wayne. Beginning March 22, TKE will solicit sponsors in the area.

Brian Hahn, TKE keg roll chairman at WSC, said "I guess it started about two years ago when Danny Thomas went to TKE and asked for help. All TKE chapters across the country have pledged $1 million for this cause."

St. Jude's Children's Hospital is the only research center in the world that is completely and solely dedicated to conquering childhood cancer, a spokesman for TKE said. In addition, the center also is working to cure other terrible diseases of children.

Those wishing to sponsor or donate anything are asked to call the TKE house at 375-9903.

Kuhnheims joined the group for dinner Saturday.

Mrs. Ron Magnuson and Krista went to Friend March 19 to visit in the Don Weber home. Ron Magnuson and Mitch Baier went to Friend on Friday. The Magnusons attended the golden anniversary reunion of the School of Technical Agriculture at Curtis. The observance was held in North Platte.

Dennis Magnuson, Omaha, spent the weekend in the Melvin Magnuson home.

Mrs. Esther Batten spent March 19-22 in the Will Davis home, Stromsburg.

Les Janssen, Bemidji, Minn., spent March 10-11 in the Harold Wittler home. Janssen is a brother of Mrs. Wittler.

Ervin Wittler is a patient in Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital in Norfolk, where he underwent surgery Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Williams, Jack and Mary, Lincoln, spent the weekend in the Ervin Wittler home. Coffee guests Sunday morning to visit the out of town guests included Mrs. Bessie Neffleton, Mrs. Allen Frahm, the Murray Leicys, Duane and Will, and the Harold Wittlers, Benji and Bobby.

The Alan Finns moved March 15 from a farm home north of Carroll to a home owned by Richard DeNaeyer southwest of Wayne. The Roger Brandts, Norfolk, moved to the farm home vacated by Finns.

The Cliff Burbacks and Dean visited in the Dale Ballentine home at Fullerton Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Karnes, Hartington, were Sunday guests in the Cliff Burback home.

Mrs. Johanna Evans, Neligh, and Mrs. Irene Harmer were dinner guests Saturday in the Harry Hofeldt home.

Mrs. Johanna Evans, Neligh, came March 19 to visit until March 24 in the home of her sister, Mrs. Irene Harmer. Ron Otte and Becky joined them for dinner Sunday.

The Lonnie Forks, Angela, Kimberly, Jennifer and Tamara, were dinner guests Sunday in the Edward Fork home to honor the birthday of Mrs. Lonnie Fork.

The Edward Forks spent Thursday and Friday in the Kermit Fork home, Prior Lake, Minn. En route home they visited in the Gladys Fork home, Sioux City.

The Perry Johnsons of Carroll, the Don Sherbans of Wayne and the David Warnemundes, Julie and Jeff of Winslow had dinner March 16 in the Dennis Johnson home in Plainview to honor Scott's ninth birthday.

The Sam Schrams, Eric and Aaron, South Sioux City, came March 13 to visit in the Russell Hall home enroute to Denver. Aaron remained with his grand parents for a few days.

Wayne Grain Recognized

Wheat Committee Promotes

"Since the enactment of the Wheat Resources Act in 1955, the Nebraska Wheat Committee has promoted wheat on behalf of Nebraska producers and the entire state's wheat industry."

"Through the Wheat Division of the Department of Agriculture (the committee's administrative arm) the committee has developed and implemented programs of research, utilization and foreign and domestic market development," reports Dan McGuire, Nebraska wheat chief.

"IN THIS, year number 25 for the committee and the division, it's appropriate to reflect on the accomplishments achieved and the direction of wheat promotion for the future," says McGuire, "and certainly the most dramatic area of activity has been the committee's wheat promotion programs in foreign countries."

The first wheat promotion of wheat were set up by the Nebraska Wheat Growers Association in the late 1950's in Lima, Peru and Rotterdam, the Netherlands. At that time total U.S. wheat exports were just over 200 million bushels. Wheat producers from the states of Colorado and Kansas set up similar check off programs and joined Nebraska in forming the market development organization of Great Plains Wheat, Inc. in 1959.

THE NEBRASKA Committee was then the first GPW state to join Western Wheat Associates, a counterpart organization based in Portland, Oregon and promoting wheat in the Asian area. Both GPW and WWA carried out programs to increase wheat consumption by changing the diets of foreign consumers.

Examples of the programs include mobile bakery demonstration vans, establishing wheat foods in foreign school lunch programs, assisting U.S. firms such as McDonalds and Mister Donut etc. to set up business in overseas markets, training foreign millers and bakers in the best processing and utilization techniques using U.S. wheats, training home economists, housewives and other educators in the preparation and use of U.S. wheat, hosting foreign wheat customers to the U.S. and conducting quality and promotional seminars on wheat around the world.

"OF COURSE all of this work would be useless if it hadn't accomplished something," adds McGuire. "and through this promotion work wheat exports have gone from that low 200 million bushel level to 1.3 billion bushels annually to Nebraska that means an average of 50 million bu. wheat exports annually and at the average 1979 price, those exports mean $166 million to Nebraska producers and many times that figure to the economy of the state and both the ag and non-ag related businesses.

"Going into the decade of the 80's market development for U.S. wheat is strengthened by the merger of GPW and WWA. The new organization, U.S. Wheat Associates, Inc., will capitalize on the strength and success of the past as well as the efficiencies of one organization for the future.

RUN BY Nebraska Wheat Committee members and producers from 12 other states, USWA will continue to promote all classes of U.S. wheat to the overseas market. Through U.S. Wheat Associates, the Nebraska Wheat Committee and Wheat Division continue to represent the wheat producers and the wheat industry of the state, and incidentally, wheat exports for the current marketing year are moving at a record pace," concludes McGuire.

Congressman Doug Bereuter has called on the Department of Agriculture to change its policy and allow reimbursement of transportation costs to farmers who move corn in reserve to storage terminals.

In a letter to Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland, Bereuter said that farmers should be reimbursed from moving corn, just as they are now reimbursed for handling and freight charges for transporting wheat and grain sorghum.

Bereuter emphasized that the grain embargo and the Administration's decision against a paid diversion program have created a pressing need for more storage space.

"Grain storage facilities in Nebraska are very full. There is little prospect that enough grain will be moved before the next harvest to allow existing storage facilities to handle even an average crop yield," Bereuter said.

"With rapidly rising costs, particularly interest rates, it is unlikely that enough new storage capacity will be built in the state to handle both the projected carryover and the new crop."

Reimbursing transportation costs for corn would ease the burden on grain elevators and storage facilities on farms by encouraging shipments to warehouses near ports, according to Bereuter.

In the same letter, Bereuter reiterated the need for a paid diversion program for 1980 and asked the Administration to reconsider its decision against paid diversion.

Hobbies Are Told at CC Club Meeting

All members of the CC Club met last Thursday in the home of Mrs. Marvin Anderson in Hoskins. For roll call, members displayed and told about their hobbies.

Thank you notes were received from Mrs. Norris Janke and Mrs. Marie Suehl, and the birthday song was sung for Mrs. Julius Eckert and Mrs. Jo Thompson.

Pitch furnished entertainment, with prizes going to Mrs. Alfred Janke, Mrs. William Holtgrew and Mrs. Bernie Bowers.

Mrs. Bowers will be the April 17 hostess. Members will tell what they did with their club tray for roll call.

Dixon Cow-Calf Group Establishes Its Priorities

The newly-organized Dixon County Cow-Calf Association surveyed members to determine their top priorities for association activities. Survey results have been compiled.

Top ranking goal was to carry out practical educational programs in cooperation with the County Extension Agent, Stan Starling. Second priority was the mutual encouragement of members in keeping useful herd records and using these in management. Close behind in ranking was practical pasture improvement and utilization of forages.

Students in grades five through eight at the Wakefield Community School will participate in the fourth annual spelling bee today (Thursday).

The public is invited to attend the event, which will be held in the mini gym. Teachers will be judges, and spellers will receive their words from Duane Tappe.

A total of 50 words will be given during the written portion of the bee, which is scheduled to begin at 1:45 p.m. Top spellers will then go on to participate in a spell-down, slated to begin at 2:30. The winner of the spell-down will be named the Dixon County Champion and will go on to compete in the Midwest Spelling Bee in Omaha on April 12.

In addition the winner will receive a $50 savings bond from the Wakefield Republican. A dictionary will be presented to the runner-up. Cash prizes will also be given by the Republican to the top speller in each participating grade.

The National Honor Society of Wakefield High School has scheduled a style show Monday, March 31, in the school auditorium.

Leaders Mrs. Merlin Felt, Mrs. Bud Erlanson, Mrs. Ebba Holm and Mrs. Mabel Fieelwood asked questions of four small groups and led in the discussion concerning the good news Jesus brings in to lives.

The meeting closed with a chorus number, group singing and prayer.

Mrs. Elwin Fredrickson and Mrs. Lavern Fredrickson served a St. Patrick's lunch.

Next meeting will be April 9 at 2 p.m.

Centennial Meeting A centennial meeting will be held today (Thursday) at 8 p.m. at the Wakefield fire hall.

Norman Minola has been selected to head the centennial committee. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Ronald Sampson and Mrs. Sam Utecht.

A-Teen Extension Club Meets at Hoskins Church

Mrs. Fred Bargstadt was hostess for the March 19 meeting of the A-Teen Home Extension Club, held in the Zion Lutheran Church. Mrs. Bill Shelton was a guest.

Mrs. Guy Anderson conducted the meeting, which opened with the club song "Onward, Ever Onward." Roll call was answered with an original four-line poem.

Mrs. Elaine Ehlers gave the secretary and treasurer's reports.

It was announced that the Spring Arts Festival will be held April 26 in Wayne.

Mrs. Fred Bargstadt and Mrs. Elmer Koepke were honored with the birthday song, and the anniversary song was sung for Mrs. James Robinson.

Mrs. Harold Wittler, health leader, reminded members of the Helen Becker Health Conference, which was held Tuesday in Norfolk. She also read an article, entitled "Radiation in Nebraska: What It Is, Where It Is, and What to do About It."

Mrs. James Robinson, cultural arts leader, announced that will be an opera in Norfolk on April 8. She also announced that the Piped Pipes of Lincoln will be at Johnson's Park in Norfolk on June 7 and 8.

The group sang several Irish songs, led by Mrs. Leon Welch. The lesson, "Quick and Easy Nutrition," was given by Mrs. Duane Kruger.

Mrs. Earl Anderson will be hostess for the next meeting, on April 9.

Tour College
Mike Behmer, Joannie Brudigan, Pam Peter and Kathy Gnrk, seventh and eighth grade students at the Trinity Lutheran School, accompanied Principal and Mrs. Paul Bauer to New Ulm, Minn. Friday.

They attended a musical at Dr. Martin Luther College Friday evening, and on Saturday toured the college campus, returning home that evening.

LWMS Meets
The Lutheran Womens Missionary Society met in the Trinity School basement last Thursday afternoon. The Rev. Wesley Bruss had devotions and Mrs. Lane Marotz presented the topic, entitled "Preaching the Word in Indonesia."

Mrs. Leonard Marlen, president, conducted the business meeting. The secretary and treasurer's reports were read by Mrs. Alfred Mangels.

Letters were read from missionaries in foreign fields.

It was announced that a bus will be going to the LWMS Spring Rally in Omaha on April 26. Local members are making a poster for the rally.

Mrs. Lane Marotz was coffee chairman for the no host lunch.

Next meeting will be on April 17. Mrs. Alvin Wagner will have the topic.

Guests at Club
Mrs. Harry Weiher and Mrs. Henry Langenberg Jr. were guests at the Thursday afternoon meeting of the Get to Gether Card Club. Hostess was Mrs. Raymond Walker.

Card prizes went to Mrs. Marvin Malchow, high, Mrs. Irene Fletcher, second high, and Mrs. Herman Opfer, low. Mrs. Weiher received the guest prize.

Mrs. Vernon Behmer will entertain the club on April 17.

Services Slated
Hoskins area churches have announced plans for special services during the week of Easter.

The Zion Lutheran Church, served by the Rev. A. G. Deke, will have regular services on Palm Sunday at 8:45 a.m. Worship services on Good Friday are scheduled at 8:45 a.m., with an 8:45 a.m. communion service on Easter Sunday. Special music will be presented by the choir.

Sunday school youngsters will provide special music during worship services Palm Sunday at 10 a.m. at the Peace United Church of Christ. The Rev. John C. David, pastor, has announced there will be a communion service Maundy Thursday at 7:30 p.m. A 6:30 a.m. sunrise service is planned Easter morning, followed with breakfast and an Easter egg hunt for the children. There also will be a 10 a.m. communion service on Easter Sunday, with special music provided by the choir.

The Trinity Lutheran Church is planning its regular 10:15 a.m. service for Palm Sunday and a communion service at 7:30 p.m. Maundy Thursday, with special music by the choir. There will be a song service on Easter Sunday at 10:15 a.m., with the choir and school children presenting special music. Pastor is the Rev. Wesley Bruss.

'Saturday Night' Is Allen Feature

It's the main event, not just another Saturday night, when student councils from towns in Northeast Nebraska present "Not just another ... Saturday night" at 8:30 p.m. at the Allen High School gymnasium.

The event attracted more than 500 people in 1979, and appearances were made by Nebraska Secretary of State Allen Beermann, who brought gifts from the governor, and University of Nebraska football star Steve Lindquist.

Sponsors aren't telling who'll be dropping by this year, but several radio and television personalities in the area have said they will try to stop by.

According to one of the organizers, Gary Troth of Allen, "It started out as a benefit dance in connection with the March of Dimes, but it has developed into a little bit of everything. Last year was our first attempt at an adventure like this, and we had such feedback that we decided to do it again."

One of the competitive events, which occasionally will interrupt the dance, is the "stuff a pottle" contest. Teams will try to stuff as many people as possible into a port-a-pot. Also planned are drawings for prizes, prizes for trivia questions and other excitement.

The sound system is being provided by Bill Amundson of TEAM Electronics in Sioux City. All profits from the event will go to the March of Dimes. The dance is open to the public, and, as Troth stated, "It's a good time for a good cause."

Energy Ideas To Be Topic Of Meet

The first of three public meetings designed to provide money saving energy conservation information will be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Monday at the meeting room of Commercial Federal Savings and Loan Association, 602 Norfolk Avenue, Norfolk.

These are free public forums and this first meeting will cover guidelines and techniques in heating or cooling the home. There will be discussion and demonstration of solar heating technology, something practical that you can build yourself for your own home. Other alternative uses also will be discussed. The forums are being sponsored through Northeast Technical Community College and the Nebraska Committee for the Humanities.

The panel for the March 31 meeting will include Ann Brockhoff, residential energy specialist of the Nebraska Energy Office, Lincoln; Howard Stoll, NTCC instructor in Energy Conservation and Solar Heating; and Sayre Anderson, regional humanist, of Wayne State College.

Two other forums, one in April and one in May, will continue with the general topic of "Energy And The Way We Live." On April 17, the session will cover the problems of energy relating to the automobile with emphasis on operational and maintenance techniques; and the May 22 meeting will be on governmental and legislative issues pertaining to the energy shortages. These last two forums will be held at the college at 7 p.m.

Opportunities to speak out as well as to listen are a part of these programs.

Market Spread Widens

The difference between what farmers receive and consumers pay for food — called the marketing spread — widened nearly 12 percent in 1979, the largest increase in five years, according to a report issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The marketing spread, representing charges for handling, processing and distributing a market basket of U.S. farm foods, accounted for slightly over half the 10.8-percent rise in grocery store food prices last year. Increased farm value accounted for about a third of supermarket food increases and higher fish and imported food prices accounted for the rest of the 1979 gain, according to the report by USDA's Economics, Statistics and Cooperatives Service. Unlike the farm value of food, the marketing spread has risen each of the past 10 years and has been the most persistent cause of rising food prices, the report said. The report also shows these facts about 1979 food prices: — Grocery store food prices increased only 3.9 percent (annual rate) in the last 6 months of the year; but a 15.5 percent annual rate during the first half raised the average for the whole year to 10.8 percent. — Farmers received about 39 cents of every food dollar spent in grocery stores, virtually the same as in 1978. — Retail prices rose 17 percent for red meat, 12 percent for fresh fruits and vegetables, 10 percent for bakery products, 8 percent for fats and oils, and 5 percent for poultry. Dairy product prices went up 12 percent, while egg prices average 10 percent higher. — Prices of inputs, such as fuel and food containers used by food processors and retailers, rose 13.5 percent. — Average hourly earnings of workers in processing and retailing rose 8.3 percent. — After-tax profits of food chains with over $100 million in annual sales averaged 1 percent of sales for the second and third quarters combined of 1979, compared with 0.9 percent during the same period in 1978. After-tax profits of food manufacturers averaged 3.4 percent of sales during the first 9 months of 1979, compared with 3.2 percent a year earlier.

Viewing The Stars

STUDENTS AND teachers at Laurel Public Schools received an opportunity to view the stars and constellations in a portable planetarium last week. Here, science teacher Dwight Iverson points out various constellations in total darkness. The inflatable portable planetarium is named "ESU 5 Star Lab" and was made available through the Education Service Unit in Beatrice. Laurel classes had the facility booked all day, every day. Iverson said. A projector shines the stars on the dome.

Easter Program Presented at Concord

Concordia Lutheran Churchwomen met last Thursday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Tekla Johnson opened the meeting with a poem, entitled "Easter Thoughts." Members were reminded of the LCWD District Assembly to be held this Friday at Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield. Registration, at 8:30 a.m., will be followed with an hour of renewal at 9. Women are asked to bring leaflets for Lutheran World Relief. Churchwomen voted to purchase a garbage can for the church kitchen. Women also will obtain an Easter lily for the church.

It was announced that a workday will be held March 31 at 1 p.m. to tie quilts.

Lydia Circle presented the Lenten program, entitled "Encounters With Christ," which included responsive readings depicting Jesus, Pontius Pilate, Peter, Judas, thieves, the woman, and the army captain. Irene Magnuson and Dorin Nelson sang "Were You There?" Helen Pearson and Verlyn Anderson gave devotions and prayer, followed with hymns by the group.

Hannah Circle served refreshments.

Churchmen Meet
Concordia Lutheran Churchmen met last Thursday evening at the church with Wallace Anderson and Clifford Fredrickson on the program committee.

Guest speaker was an exchange student, Gabriel Prelo of Uruguay, who is spending six months in the Wallace Anderson home while attending Laurel-Concord High School.

Norman Anderson served lunch.

Birthday Guests
Mrs. Elmer Lehman was honored for her birthday last Thursday during a dinner at the Wagon Wheel Steakhouse in Laurel.

Attending were the Lehman family, the Harlin Beckmans and Carmen, and the Alfreid Beckmans of Pender.

They all returned to the Elmer Lehman home for the evening.

Mrs. Orville Rice was a Friday afternoon guest.

Attends Exposition
Layne Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marlen Johnson of Concord, attended the Northeast Nebraska Junior Academy of Science Spring Exposition at Wayne State College Saturday.

Layne, who is a junior at Laurel-Concord High School, demonstrated the use of parasitoid wasps in his project, entitled "The Life Cycle and Preference of Muscidifurax Raptor." He showed how both the house and stable fly population can be successfully controlled.

In the senior high biology division, Layne received a first place award for his display and a $50 check for his second place paper. The money will be used in the science department of his school.

Winside plans 'Crossroads'

The Winside High School Fine Arts Department, under direction of Jean Dederman and assistant director Debbie Brockman, will present a three act Gay Nineties melodrama entitled "Dirty Work at the Crossroads."

The production will be staged at 8 p.m. Thursday (tonight) and Friday in the elementary school multi purpose room.

Munro Murgatroyd, played by Randy Ritze, is a crafty villain who is only looking to make himself richer. In doing so, he encounters Nellie Lovelace, played by Robyn Winch, and her family.

There is murder, intrigue and suspense in the melodrama. Other cast members include Byron Schellenberg as Adam Oakhart, Mary Bowder as Ida Rhinegold, John Schlueter as Mookie Maguggins, Sue Meierhenry as Widow Lovelace, Dawn Janke as Mrs. Asterbuilt, Corinne George as Leonie Asterbuilt, Michele Brockmoller as Fleurette, Karlene Benshoof as Little Nell and Kim Leighton as Piano Player.

Thursday night's performance will be 75 cents for students and $1.25 for adults. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

The Friday evening showing will be by advance ticket sale only and will be preceded by a salad bar supper from 6:30 to 7:45 p.m. Admission price Thursday is $3.50 for adults and students and includes the meal and the show.

Wayne Students Make Magazine With Bloopers

Students in Angela Denesia's science classes have made the big time, of sorts — their bloopers were printed in the February issue of "Current Science."

The featured bloopers included the following:

It was Wilber and Orville Left who invented the airplane.

People who have diabetes have to give themselves shots of insulin.

On Arbor Day, you plant fleas all around.

A disease that is spread from one person to another is called community disease.

Do you like corn on the crop?

We have a blubber plant.

There were other bloopers made by students in her first and second science classes which did not make print. These included the following:

Question: What is pasteurization?
Answer: Pasteurization is when cows have to go out and stay in the pasture overnight so the milk is pasteurized.

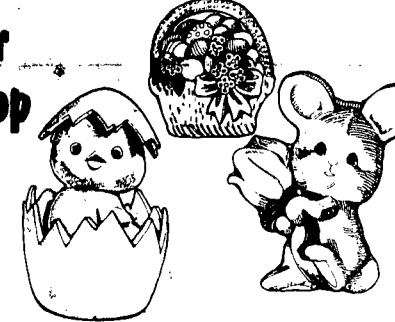

Give the meaning of microscope: A microbe who uses scope mouthwash.

Bugs are sometimes dangerous for little children.

Mrs. Denesia is a sixth grade reading and math teacher at Wayne Middle School.

Wayne State Elects Officers

Cathy Hain, Ulysses and Dave Shively, Norfolk, recently were elected as Student Senate president and vice president at Wayne State College for the 1980-81 school year.

Hain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hain of Ulysses, is a 1978 graduate of Aquinas High School and a sophomore business administration major at WSC. She replaces Tom Grange of Grand Island.

Shively, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Shively of Norfolk, is a 1978 graduate of Norfolk Senior High School and a sophomore public service major at WSC. He replaced Mark Placek of Bruno.

Hain and Shively were elected by a popular vote of 399 out of 535 total votes cast during balloting held last week on campus.

Farm Program Changes Told

Acting Secretary of Agriculture Jim Williams has announced changes in the 1980 farm programs, including higher target prices for wheat and feed grains.

Producers who stay within their normal crop acreage (NCA) qualify for farm program

Kid Power
The Kid Power 4-H Club held their first meeting of the season March 16 in the home of Ed Gnirk, Hoskins. The opening of the meeting was followed with the flag salute and 4-H pledge.

New officers are Lori Gnirk, president; Mary Wantoch, vice president; Ellen Wockman, secretary-treasurer; Dean Wockman, game and song leader; and Kathy Gnirk, news reporter. Leaders are Mrs. Robert Gnirk, Mrs. Ed Gnirk and Mrs. Kennard Wockman.

The upcoming speech contest to be held in Wayne was discussed. Projects chosen for the year are "Plant and Soil Science"; "You Learn to Bake"; "Let's Create"; "Better Breakfast"; "Tricks for Treats"; "Fun with Jack and Judy"; "Gardening"; "Child Development"; "Lunches and Suppers"; and "Adventures With Dinners and Foreign Foods."

The next meeting will be April 9 in the home of Robert Gnirk with hostess Lori Gnirk.

Careful examination of the proposal and analysis of comments from government officials and representatives of the hospital community will be essential toward ensuring that the intent of Congress has been followed," he said.

Bereuter said he intends to

The Health Care Financing Administration has proposed the new uniform cost reporting requirements for hospitals nationwide as an alternative to the System for Hospital Uniform Reporting (SHUR) Bereuter last year led the effort in Congress to reject SHUR, which he termed "a classic example of government overregulation."

In letters to chairmen of the House health subcommittees, Bereuter asked that the proposed requirements be scrutinized to avoid such overregulation.

"I believe we have an obligation to make certain the new regulations are not simply a cosmetic, watered down revision of the SHUR proposal. Your benefits based upon the new announced target prices, Williams said.

"President Carter has signed the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1980 which raises the 1980 wheat target price to $3.63 a bushel and the 1980 corn target price to $2.35 a bushel," Williams said. "We are also setting the 1980 sorghum and barley target prices at $2.50 and $2.55 per bushel, respectively."

However, Williams said producers who want to receive the higher target prices must stay within their normal crop acreage.

"Those who exceed their NCA will receive benefits based upon the formula target in the Food and Agriculture Act of 1977," he said. "This formula establishes 1980 target prices for wheat at $3.08, corn at $2.05, sorghum at $2.45 and barley at $2.29," Williams said.

Williams also announced 1980 target prices for upland cotton and rice and the loan price for rice. The target price will be 58.4 cents per pound for upland cotton and $9.49 per hundredweight for rice. The 1980 loan rate for rice will be $7.12 per hundredweight.

The new act extends the disaster payments program through the 1980 crop year for producers of wheat, feed grains, upland cotton and rice. Producers who plant within their NCA will be eligible for disaster payments on wheat and feed grains based on the highest target levels. However, combined disaster payments under all programs will be limited to $100,000 per person," Williams said.

survey hospitals in his district for comments on the new regulations. His survey of local hospitals last year indicated SHUR would have placed an excessive regulatory burden on them.

Bereuter then introduced an amendment to the Labor HEW

People receiving social security benefits who earned more than the annual exempt amount in wages or self employment during 1979, have until April 15 to file an annual report of their earnings. Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk, said recently.

The 1979 annual exempt amount was $3,480 for people under 65 and $4,500 for people 65 or over. In general, a person has $1 in benefits withheld for each $2 of annual earnings over the exempt amount.

The annual report is used by the Social Security Administration to determine whether the person received the correct amount of benefits during 1979. If too much or too little was paid, any adjustment necessary is made after the annual report is received.

appropriations bill to block implementation of SHUR. Following overwhelming House approval of the amendment, House-Senate conferees agreed to send Administration officials back to the drawing board to revise the regulations.

"SHUR amounted to a uniform accounting system, rather than a uniform reporting system, as intended by Congress," Bereuter said. A uniform hospital cost reporting system is required under the Medicare/Medicaid Anti-Fraud Amendments of 1977.

A special monthly test is used during a person's first year of retirement. Under this test, a person can receive a benefit for a month in which he or she did little or no work regardless of total annual earnings. This monthly test can be used only in the person's first year of retirement.

Most people who need to file a report should have received one in the mail. If a person did not receive a form, or lost or misplaced it, he or she can get additional copies of the annual report form from the Norfolk social security office. The people at the office will be glad to answer any questions. They also have a leaflet, "If you work after you retire," which contains more information about the annual earnings test.

The annual exempt amount for 1980 is $3,720 for people under 65, and $5,000 for people 65 or over.
