Baseball Strikes Out With Board

After some rather complicated maneuvering Monday night, the Wayne-Carroll School District board of education voted 5-1 to eliminate baseball as a high school sport.

The lone negative vote was cast by former board President Wilbur Giese who wanted both golf and baseball dropped from the program. A motion to that effect introduced by Giese earlier was voted down by 4-2. Voting for the Giese motion were Giese and Dale Stoltenberg.

THE VOTE to drop baseball came despite objections from about half a dozen persons and the introduction of a petition signed by 119 persons.

Board members first officially considered dropping baseball and golf at last month's meeting when Supl. Francis Haun provided a list of six proposed budget changes. Basing his suggestions on effects of the 7 percent lid limit and inflation, Haun told the board some cuts would have to be made prior to the 1980-81 school year.

Other budget considerations were elimination of four teacher aids ($11,000 savings); contracting for a school nurse through Educational Service Unit No. 1 ($9,500 savings); delay purchase of a bus ($21,000); and elimination of summer driver's education ($3,000 savings). Driver's ed later was reinstated on a fee basis.

THE COSTS OF baseball and golf combined were about $3,500 ($2,500 for baseball and $1,000 for golf.)

Speaking on behalf of the baseball program Monday night, coach Mike Mallette said he "hated to see this activity dropped. I know we need a strong academic program, but students can gain more in a competitive situation than sometimes in the classroom."

The 15-year baseball mentor here said he sees a "lot of value in playing for a school and for a community." He asked the board to take a "real hard look" before making the decision.

Board member Dorothy Ley, however, cited other local opportunities for youth baseball through the American Legion team. "It's not that we don't realize there isn't value in the program. It's just that we're caught in the middle," she explained.

MALLETTE SAID he felt the longer exposure to baseball through the spring and summer programs has made a difference in the quality of players coming out of Wayne. "Some kids play this sport only, and if it's eliminated they won't have this exposure."

Wayne Nissen was primary spokesman for a group of about six people appearing on behalf of the baseball and golf programs. He presented the board with a petition signed by 119 residents supporting the two spring sports.

NISSAN SAID he felt the cost of the two programs — $3,500 — was "peanuts to the school's budget." He added that administrative costs should be cut rather than programs.

In his proposal, Nissen suggested that one of the school district's three principals be eliminated, that the school year be shortened by one week, that the Carroll Elementary School be closed, that admission be charged to baseball games, that the assistant baseball coach be eliminated, that transportation costs be eliminated by parents using their vehicles and that the Wayne Country Club eliminate annual dues.

COACH MALLETTE, responding to a question from the baseball group, said he did not think baseball could be self-supporting even if admission to the games were charged.

Superintendent Haun said the cost of the baseball program was not so much of a consideration as was the viability of the program.

He cited the fact that Wayne is the only Class B public school to offer baseball, and that there is an alternative program through Legion ball for area youth to participate in the sport.

Mallette said he was of the opinion that if Wayne dropped baseball, then the four other outstate schools also would be forced to eliminate their programs.

BOARD MEMBER Jim Hummel agreed with other board members that by dropping baseball, the board was not eliminating that sport as an opportunity for young people since there is a Legion program here.

"But if we cut industrial arts, or if other academic programs are eliminated, there won't be any other opportunity for these," he explained. Hummel also cited North Central Association accreditation as reasoning for dropping baseball rather than an academic program.

"Wayne students are as well academically prepared as students coming out of big schools," he noted.

MRS. LEY TOLD the group that the board would not be in as much of a dilemma if it was not for the 7 percent lid restriction. "The repeal of the lid is the solution to many of our problems," she explained.

The retiring board member also urged the group to "take their ambition to the state legislature" in hopes of convincing the Unicameral to repeal the lid.

Mallette also cited the advent of Title IX as one reason for financial strains on athletic departments. Title IX basically requires that girls be given the same athletic opportunities as boys.

Board President Neil Swanson thanked the group for showing interest. "We appreciate your work and your comments," he said, "and we will take this into consideration."

However, as noted previously, the board voted to eliminate baseball and will wait until next month to make a decision on golf.

THE WAYNE-Carroll Blue Devils finished 8-6 this year and were runners-up in the District Tournament.

A Novice Come Lately

A NOVICE gardener, Mrs. Varda Morris of 301 S. Nebraska Street uses the cool of the evening to scratch around in her garden. Her late husband, Alfred, was the gardener of the family, but Varda took over the responsibilities about three years ago after his death and has been "muddling" in her back yard ever since. Included in her vegetable plot are potatoes (above), peas, onions, radishes and spinach and other such items.

City Council Covers Numerous Items Quickly

Moving swiftly and efficiently, the Wayne City Council acted on several items Tuesday night and adjourned shortly after 8:30 p.m. In order of action, the board made the following decisions:

APPROVED A resolution authorizing the administration to apply for a grant which would help pay for the installation of an underground sprinkler system at the Wayne Municipal Golf Course.

The new system would be on the nine holes owned by the city and closest to Wayne State College. There would be no cost to the city since the grant pays for the work. About 25 percent of the cost would be provided through Wayne Country Club volunteers.

The new water line would save the city money in the long run since it is a smaller and more efficient line, ultimately using less water. The grant is through the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

The sprinkler system now is an above ground type.

THE COUNCIL approved a request by Peoples Natural Gas Co. for a 2.94 percent cost of doing business increase in rates. Keith Mosley, Peoples Natural Gas Co. district supervisor, explained.

The minimum bill will increase from $2 44 to $2.48. Mosley said there was an increase of slightly more than 1 percent last year, and more than 8 percent the year before.

Discussion on the 1980-81 budget was brief, with Council member Cliff Ginn asking that the Council be allowed input in determining the final fiscal year budget.

"I'M CONCERNED about having the background presented to us before we make the budget decisions," he told City Administrator Darrell Brewington.

Brewington said to become involved now would be premature since the entire budget picture has not yet been developed. "There is no need to make any cuts until we know the revenues," the city administrator said.

He assured Ginn and the Council that they would be given the opportunity to closely examine the budget before it is acted upon. Decisions must be made before the end of July, however, he said.

THERE WERE no objections at a public hearing on a rezoning request involving Block 2 of Farrens First Addition. The request, approved by the Council, was from business to residential.

There was but one person who opted to speak against a grant which would guarantee continuation of the Senior Citizen Mini-Bus for next year. A public hearing was held on the grant.

Dick Horton, himself a senior citizen, admitted he was "not exactly opposed to the mini bus as such," but instead was against the bus and the way it is handled.

HE WANTED THE operation of the bus to be handled through the city clerk's office or by a dispatcher rather than through Senior Citizen Director Jocell Bull.

Mrs. Bull spoke in favor of the grant, telling the Council that the mini bus was "the only means of transportation for our elderly." The total grant would be for $13,426, she explained.

The federal government provides $6,713, the Nebraska Department of Roads $3,356, and an in-kind amount of $3,357 is provided for Mrs. Bull's salary.

THERE WERE NO dissenting votes during the meeting and all Council members were present. Mayor Wayne Marsh was absent with Mayor Pro Tem Darrel Fueberth taking his place for the evening.

Teacher Salary Negotiations Stall

Wayne-Carroll School District board of education Tuesday night voted to eliminate the baseball program, gave the golf program a reprieve of at least one month and declared an impasse in salary negotiations with the Wayne Education Association.

THE DECISIONS on baseball and golf came after about 45 minutes of discussion with a small group of school district residents. For more information, see story elsewhere on this page.

AFTER FOUR months of negotiations between the board and the local teachers' association, an impasse or stalemate was declared since the two sides could not reach agreement on a salary package for the coming school year.

The board and WEA have been negotiating on eight different items, with agreement reached on some of these. Items that could not be agreed upon were base salary for next year, health insurance, life insurance, an additional step on the index schedule and extra duty schedule.

The standoff now goes to a fact finding committee consisting of a board representative, a WEA representative and an independent party. The WEA automatically is represented by someone appointed through the Nebraska State Teachers' Association, while the board must locate its own, Supl. Francis Haun explained.

IF THE TWO local fact finders cannot decide on a third fact finder in 10 days, then the State Department of Education is contacted.

The third member of the group is someone who is mutually agreed upon. A list of five candidates is provided by the Department of Education. The board and WEA each strike two of the five, with the remaining member selected as the other fact finder.

The fact finding group then meets to develop an impartial report which is submitted to the board and WEA for their approval. Either side has the option of rejecting the fact finding report which is not binding.

IF NEITHER side can agree, then the fact finding decision is appealed to the commission on Industrial Relations which has final arbitration authority. Its decision, usually based on salaries of area schools, is binding and the board of education must follow the decision.

Superintendent Haun said any Industrial Relations decision is retroactive to Sept. 1 (if the decision is made after that date) and applies to certified staff only.

The board asked Superintendent Haun to locate a fact finder to represent the board, although Haun said that task would be difficult.

For more information on salary negotiations, see story elsewhere in this issue.

IN OTHER ITEMS relating to the 1980-81 budget, the board gave Haun permission to hire a school nurse who will be contracted through Educational Service Unit No. 1. Last year's nurse Debra Hutton, resigned. Savings to the school district will be $9,500.

An estimated $13,000 was saved by eliminating four teacher aide positions after board approval Monday.

Superintendent Haun told the board he will not include purchase of a new bus in next year's budget, postponing a cost of $21,000 for another year. Haun also is seeking estimates on repair of the gymnasium floor at the Middle School.

In a related matter, the board set 8:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 11, as time and date for the annual budget hearing. The budget will reflect changes approved by the board Monday night.

SALARIES FOR employees who work for salary rather than an hourly wage also were approved by the board after an executive session. The increases reflect an average of about 8 percent and are as follows:

Superintendent, from $29,890 to $32,300, on a 12-month basis; high school principal, from $23,042 to $24,842, on a 10 1/2 month basis; middle school principal, from $21,917 to $23,667, for 10 months; elementary principal, from $20,179 to $21,929, for 10 months; building and grounds, from $12,757 to $13,800, for 12 months; board secretary, from $870 per month to $950 per month, prorated during summer; head cook, from $6,968 to $7,500, for 10 months; bus drivers, from $290 per month to $320 per month, for nine months.

These salary increases were by unanimous vote.

IN OTHER ACTION, the board approved the bid of Casey Roofing Co., Laurel, for replacing the roof on the Carroll Elementary School. Bid was $8,200 and includes tearing off the old and replacing with all new material. Voting against was board member Dorothy Ley.

In accepting the bid, the board again discussed the future of the Carroll facility. There was brief talk of closing the school based on financial considerations, but the vote to re-roof the facility was an indication the school will remain open a few more years.

A bid from Quality Coatings Co., Stanton, for a polyurethane (plastic) covering of the roof was rejected. That bid was $6,242.40, but did not include tearing off the old roof.

IN OTHER ACTION, the board: — approved increases in tuition rates for trainable retarded students from $3,050 to $3,600; for learning disabilities and educably mentally handicapped to $3,600; and high school out of district students from $3,100 to $4,500.

— approved subdivision plats for Westwood Addition, Papenburg Subdivision and Mohr's Industrial Tract.

— accepted the resignation of middle school and high school math teacher Larry Soelter, who has accepted a similar position with Hartfield, Minn., Consolidated School. — discussed litigation and salaries in executive session.

Fact Finder Committee Will Act on Stalemate

The Wayne-Carroll School District and Wayne Education Association are at a stalemate over salary negotiations, and out side help is now needed to solve the difference.

Neither side will budge from the most recent figures, so a fact finding committee will take over where both groups failed. Negotiations on a salary package for the 1980-81 school year began in February.

AS EXPLAINED in a story elsewhere in this issue, fact finding is a rather complicated and non-binding procedure in solving an impasse in negotiations.

The board and WEA are negotiating eight items, with three of these already settled. These include: increment of pay based on experience, increment of pay based on education, leave policies, income disability and extra duty salary schedule.

Points of disagreement include base salary increase, health insurance and life insurance. However, another bone of contention — although not listed separately — is the number of steps on the index schedule.

THE LATEST figures on points of disagreement are as follows:

Base pay: the board has offered an increase from $9,450 to $10,350, or about 9 percent. The WEA wants base salary to increase from $9,450 to $10,600, or about 12 percent.

Health insurance: The board offered to increase its share of family health insurance from $44 to $50 monthly and would pay full single insurance. The WEA wants the district to pay full family and full single plus giving each single person a $25 bonus to even the difference between family and single coverage.

Life insurance: The board has offered to pay $2 per month toward $5,000 worth of life insurance. The WEA wants the school district to pay $3. Cost of such insurance to the district is about $1.82 per month.

THE BONE OF contention involving index of base pay based on education is with the number of steps on the index.

The board and WEA agree that each step on the index for education should be 5 percent of the base pay. However, the WEA wants an additional step on each level of the index.

Supl. of Schools Francis Haun says the board's package reflects an increase of about 11.25 percent, while the WEA's package asking is about 18.5 percent.

Cost of the board's package would run about $102,000. Haun said he has not figured the WEA package, but added it would be far beyond what the board could afford.

THE SALARY indexing schedule agreed on for the coming year is what is called a 4 by 5 index. This means that teacher salaries advance four percent of base pay each year for a certain number of years' experience and 5 percent of base pay for advances in number of years of education.

While the board and WEA agree on the 4 and 5 percent steps, the WEA wants an additional step in each column.

ON OTHER matters of agreement, the board and WEA settled on income disability payments by the board of $5 each month.

And, the two sides agreed for the next year only an extra duty schedule. Extra duty responsibilities include basketball, class sponsor, theater instructors, drama, drivers' education, etc.

And, leave of absence policy for next year also was a mutual agreement. There will be no change in the policy, which provides each certified staff member up to 10 days sick leave each year, accumulative to 70 days.

IF THE FACT finding process fails to bring either side closer, then either party has the option of appealing the fact finding decision to the Court of Industrial Relations, a totally independent and non-local entity.

Superintendent Haun said any Industrial Relations decision is binding and would be retroactive to Sept. 1 if the decision comes after that date.

Local Ministers Will Establish Food Help

The Wayne Ministerial Association is sponsoring an "emergency food pantry" for the Wayne area later this month.

THE PANTRY would issue a three- or four-day supply of food to any families or individuals determined to be in special emergency need. Officials of the agency explained. Once the pantry is established, referrals may come from the County Welfare Department, Wayne Police Department, local ministers, etc.

Suggested foods to be donated June 22, 29 and July 6 should be non-perishable canned goods, not including home canned goods. Items should be taken to the Presbyterian Church on the above-mentioned dates. Monetary donations also may be given to provide for perishable items that the pantry cannot stock, an official explained.

SUGGESTED foods include the following:

Canned: vegetables, fruits, fruit juice, soups, meat, baked beans, etc.
Boxed: macaroni and cheese, hamburger stretchers, etc.
Other: Macaroni, noodles, spaghetti, jelly, puddings, crackers, Kool-Aid, peanut butter, jelly, soap, cereal, salt, baking soda.

The governing committee will include the Rev. Doniver Peterson as chairman and Dorothy Stevenson as secretary-treasurer. Committed members include Maynard Warner, Starlyn Clark and Ron Scheirling.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Wayne County Weed Control Authority has dedicated itself not only to noxious weed control, but also to the prevention of dissemination of noxious weed seed. The Director of Agriculture has determined that noxious weed seed may be disseminated through the movement of machinery and equipment, grain and seed, hay, straw, nursery stock, fencing materials, soil, manure and soil as well as articles of similar nature. Methods of treatment have also been prescribed by the Director and may be obtained from the Wayne County Weed Control Authority.

With the harvest season approaching very rapidly, please keep in mind the provisions of the law requiring owners of harvest equipment to clean prior to movement to another field. This machinery and equipment being used in the harvest of crops should be treated or cleaned as follows:

1. Removal of all material from the tops and sides of all parts of the machine by sweeping and the use of forced air and water.

2. Opening the lower end of all elevators returns, and reaping devices and removal of all noxious weed seeds and seedlings from shakers, sieves and other places of lodgment.

3. Run the machine empty for a minimum of five minutes, alternately increasing and decreasing the speed.

4. Follow the manufacturer's detailed instructions for cleaning the machine.

These treatments should be performed while the article or the machine itself is still on the land in which it became infested if at all possible. This will not only prevent spreading noxious weed seed from one field to another, but also from one land owner to another.

For treatment methods of all other articles and questions, please contact the Wayne County Weed Control Authority.

According to Lucy Bighia, Nebraska coordinator of the National Unity Campaign for John Anderson, 2,500 valid signatures are needed by August 26 in order for Anderson's name to appear on the ballot. Bighia said petitions will be circulated in public locations, as well as door-to-door, in all three of the state's Congressional districts.

Persons who sign the petitions must meet the following qualifications, according to Bighia:

- They must be registered voters.
- They must sign the petition in the county in which they are registered to vote.
- If they are members of either the Republican or Democratic party, they must not have voted in the May primary.

Registered voters who are not members of either party or who did not vote in the primary are eligible to sign a petition, but no person may sign more than one petition.

Sheriff's Log

A pair of break-ins are keeping the Wayne County Sheriff's Department busy.

The first was reported at Charlie's Bar in Winside between 1:30 and 10 a.m. Tuesday. Taken was $6 in cash, 21 cases of beer, assorted drinks and quarts of liquor and several cartons of cigarettes for a total value of $209.89. Entry was gained through the rear of the building.

Undetermined items were taken from Valley Squire in Wayne sometime between closing and about 4:30 a.m. Wednesday. Entry was gained through the south side of the building, but owners had not determined yet Wednesday what had been taken if anything.

Investigation into both continues.

Police Report

Wayne Police Department reports an accident earlier this week.

According to the report, Barry A. Barge, 26, Wayne, was treated for a head abrasion at Providence Medical Center after an accident about 4:15 p.m. Sunday in the 1100 block of Main Street. Other car involved was driven by Lori L. Wolfgram, 18, Madison. Barge was transported to PMC by private transportation.

VA Hospitals Overflow; Census Nearly Complete

CAPITOL NEWS

Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

That devastating series of tornadoes which struck large portions of Grand Island recently posed some immediate problems for officials at the Veterans Administration Hospital in that city.

But the officials moved rapidly to evacuate the 130 patients to VA hospitals in Lincoln and Omaha.

The storm blew off doors and smashed windows but all the patients escaped injury, according to a VA spokesperson.

Janice Hermann, a public relations assistant at the Lincoln VA hospital, said she expected at least 50 of the Grand Island patients would be moved to the Capitol City facility.

The tornadoes at Grand Island caused devastation even worse than that experienced in the memorable 1975 Omaha tornado. In the opinion of F.J. Richter, Hall County Red Cross disaster chairman.

Richter said he participated in the cleaning-up job after the Omaha tornado.

"This was worse devastation than Omaha's," he said.

Gov. Charles Thone, while touring the tornado-struck areas the day after the storm, said the property damages were "unbelievable." He said he could not hazard a "guesstimate" on how high the financial toll would be.

Considering the extensiveness of the areas demolished, the low fatality count was a bit surprising, the governor indicated.

He attributed the small loss of life to the fact that citizens heeded warnings and took cover in time to save their lives. Thone noted the first two of the seven or eight tornadoes that smashed their way through portions of the city were not quite as severe as those that followed. That gave people time to get to places of safety, he said.

The state Insurance Department immediately asked insurance companies doing business in the Grand Island area to expedite the processing of claims and settlements. The department had representatives on the scene in order to help victims of the storm in any way it could.

Census almost completed

U.S. Census officials in Nebraska said residents of the Cornhusker State have been very cooperative in providing the data requested of them by the Census Bureau.

Judy Backhaus, of Lincoln, Eastern District manager, said fewer than 500 households in the more than 30 counties in the district refused to answer census questions. She said the refusal rate of less than 1 percent was "pretty good" and that enumerators and crew leaders will be rehired in an attempt to get the missing information and do other clean up work.

Barbara Nielsen, field supervisor for the Grand Island office, said a small percentage of the approximately 110,000 housing units refused to cooperate. She said another try will be made to get the desired data. Ms. Nielsen said it appeared census work in her 25-county area could be completed by July 1.

At North Platte, manager Shirley Parks said the census office there, which serves 36 counties, will probably be able to finish its work about Aug. 1.

Ms. Parks said she didn't have a precise figure on refusals to cooperate but said the percentage was small.

Orders fees paid

U.S. District Judge Warren K. Urbom has ruled the state must pay the fees of attorneys for Omaha clinics that successfully challenged portions of the Nebraska abortion law.

However, Urbom reduced considerably the amounts of fee money the attorneys requested.

Lawrence Batt of Omaha, who was the attorney for Dr. G. William Orr and the Women's Services P.C. clinic, should be paid $31,965. Urbom said. Batt had asked for $103,535 for his work in and out of court and help from his office staff.

Urbom refused another Batt request for $15,669 for expert witness fees. The judge noted Batt had not submitted an itemized request.

Mike Levy, another Omaha attorney, who was counsel for the Ladies Center and Dr.

M. John Epp, was awarded $26,400. He had asked for $77,000.

In his ruling, Urbom said attorneys in the case should be reimbursed at an hourly rate of $70 for time spent in court, $55 an hour for work outside the court and $50 an hour for time spent in conference with other attorneys. He also allowed $15 an hour for work done by law clerks and paralegals.

Contest road funds reduction

The state Highway Department has filed a lawsuit in U.S. District Court contesting what appears to be a cut of up to $18 million in federal funds for the state.

Gov. Thone requested the suit be filed. Named the defendant was Secretary of Transportation Neil Goldschmidt.

Nebraska became one of several states seeking a temporary restraining order and a permanent injunction against the fund reduction.

A hearing on the matter is scheduled for June 24 before U.S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt.

In an attempt to help balance the federal budget, President Carter on April 14 acted to trim the amount of federal funding available to states during fiscal 1980.

The lawsuit does not challenge Carter's action but deals with Goldschmidt's move to deduct unobligated monies from the total available to the states. Unobligated funds are those the states have not earmarked for specific projects.

According to the lawsuit, Goldschmidt's action results in unequal treatment of those states which have not obligated all of their highway funds.

Assistant Attorney General Gary Welch, who is handling the case for the state, said the transportation secretary's action provides a windfall for states that have obligated all their road funds. And Welch said Congress did not direct that unobligated monies be subtracted before Goldschmidt's formula is applied.

Part of Nebraska's highway funds are normally carried over to the next following year, Welch said.

June 15, 1950: Art work of Charles Carhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carhart, Wayne, is being presented at the student exhibition of the American Academy of Art, Chicago. Charles will be home from Chicago June 24 for the summer and then returns in September for another year of study at the academy. Reports of deer in the Wayne area were confirmed by a telephone call to The Herald. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson Jr. and Jack Filch saw two deer near the Rendering Plant Friday evening. The pair included a doe and a fawn. Thieves, or a thief, made quite a haul at Fredrickson's Service Station early Sunday morning. About $100 was taken from the station, located two miles north of Wayne on Highway 15. This is the fifth in a series of recent break-ins in Wayne.

June 8, 1955: Wayne is expected to have a new police car next week. Mayor Glen Houdersheldt said this week. City councilmen authorized purchase of the new vehicle from Coryell Auto Co. last week. Coryell's bid of $455 and the old trade-in was the lowest of six received. Glenn Paulson has opened a body repair shop in Wakefield in the Hendrickson garage building. It will be known as Glenn's Body Shop. Margaret McQuistan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McQuistan, has been named "Student Nurse of 1955" at the University of Nebraska school of nursing. She will be graduated June 18. Summer school enrollment at WSTC reached the highest total since 1950. Registrar M.B. Childs announced Wednesday. A total of 814 students had registered up until Tuesday morning. This is close to the 1950 figure of 847. Last year's total was 771. Summer sessions were started at WSTC in 1911. The initial enrollment was 264.

June 9, 1960: Alden Dunklau suffered burns on his hands and his tractor was almost destroyed in a fire Monday afternoon on his farm nine miles northwest of Wayne. Wayne firemen responded to the call. Wayne has been chosen as the site for the 1962 district convention of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League. The selection was made at Omaha Tuesday at the group's annual convention. Ralph M. Carhart, Wayne, was elected junior warden of the Nebraska Masonic Grand Lodge. Al

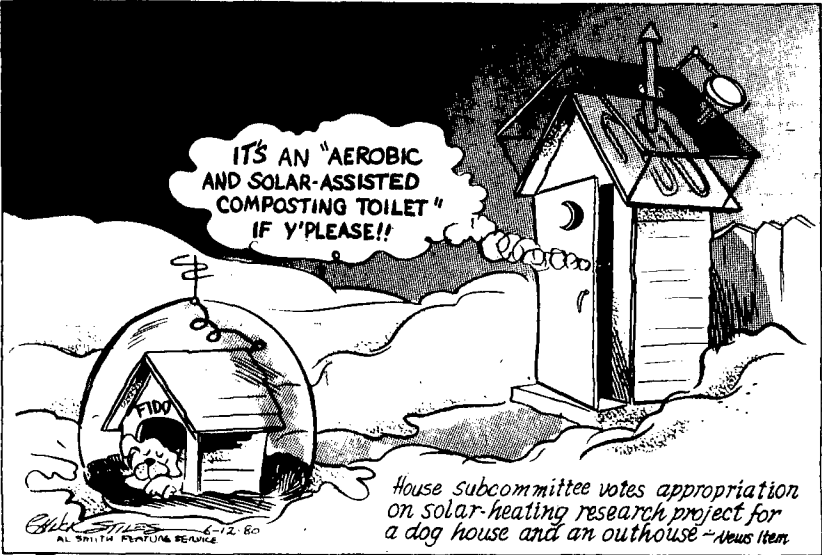

Bahe, Wayne, was elected president of the Nebraska State Bowling Proprietor's Association. The plat of the Cecil Wriedt subdivision was approved by the Wayne city council at its regular meeting last Tuesday night. The tract, located between Seventh and Ninth Streets from Walnut Street to Pine Heights Addition, contains 17 lots. Paving and sanitary sewer construction is anticipated later this summer.

June 10, 1965: Wayne County will have an "ambassador" to Rhode Island this month. It is probably another "scoop" on the rest of the state in the promotion of the Nebraska Centennial. The Wayne County Centennial committee officially named John Retzwich, postmaster at Carroll, as the county's ambassador. Dr. Lyle Skov is the new president of the Wayne State Educational association, local chapter of the Nebraska State Education association. Serving with him in the coming year will be Dr. Harvard McLean as vice president and Mrs. Ruby Pedersen as secretary-treasurer. Working together for the safety of the city, the Wayne Kiwanis Club and the Wayne Jaycees are co-sponsoring a two-day vehicle safety check on a basis set up for similar checks throughout the nation.

Dear Editor:

I would like to know the reason for not having a pharmacist on duty or at least on call on Memorial Day.

I believe everyone is entitled to a day off, and holidays should be taken. I also believe my sick little boy is entitled to the medication prescribed to him - holiday or not.

Dear Editor:

This letter is to express the neglect of Greenwood Cemetery for weeds and dandelions where our loved ones were laid to rest in the new part on the west side.

I'm wondering if any of the board members would have their loved ones resting there under such conditions.

Memorial Day should be a day of dignity and respect to honor the loved ones.

Surely opinions from visitors must not have been pleasant.

If it is our hope this condition is corrected to show the respect to our families, all of whom are concerned.

State Energy Cuts Save $$: Thone

"You're familiar, I'm sure, with the phrase 'being nickled and dimed to death'.

"In a state budget involving hundreds of millions of your tax dollars, there's a tendency to think of items that cost only a few thousand dollars as 'nickle and dime' spending. I'm totally convinced, however, that the only way to make substantial savings in the overall budget is by holding down spending on thousands of relatively small expenditures.

"One way we are holding down spending is in heating and cooling state buildings. For example, this year we didn't turn on any air conditioning in the state capitol until May 28th. In past years, some air conditioning had been used even as early as March.

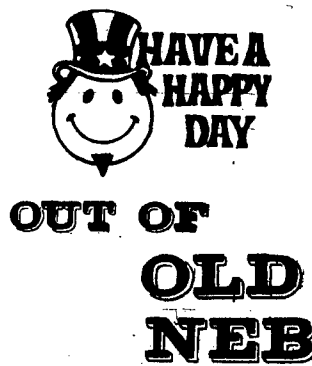

"The average for cooling the capitol in the period prior to May 28th for the years 1976 through 1979 was about $6,000, compared to zero in 1980.

"The use of heat in the capitol and the state office building was cut by nearly 42 percent for the six months of September, 1979 through February, 1980 compared with the same months a year earlier. The reduction was partly because the last winter was milder than the year before but mostly because we turned down the thermostats.

"The heating savings for the two buildings over a year earlier were more than $39,000. "We've been constantly reminding state employees to turn off lights when they're not needed. We reduced the electricity usage in those two buildings by 5 percent in the same six months as compared with a year earlier.

"In May, 1979 I ordered state employees under my control to reduce their automobile travel for that month only by 40 percent. For succeeding months, I ordered a 25 percent reduction from the same months a year earlier. From May, 1979 through March, 1980, the average monthly reduction has been nearly 29 percent, and the reduction in March, 1980 was 36 percent.

A Letter From

Gov. Charley Thone

"Your state government is looking for the big dollar savings too, but to hold costs down we must seek savings in thousands of little ways. By so doing, we can improve state services, even in this time of inflation, while holding down state tax rates."

Let Farmers Speak For Themselves

NEBRASKA FARM BUREAU FEDERATION
By M.M. Van Kirk,
Director of Information

Farm and ranch people should be aware that the churches to which they belong and contribute have been prescribing for them concerning future U.S. agricultural policy.

A news release issued recently relative to an "interfaith Statement on Public Policy and the Structure of Agriculture" which was submitted to the U.S. Department of Agriculture included recommendations as to what should be written into the 1981 Food and Agriculture Act.

The list of signers of that "interfaith Statement" was made up of the clerical leaders of most of the nation's major religious denominations. None of them appeared to be farm and ranch people with firsthand knowledge of agricultural problems and realities.

The statement starts out with a call for support of "a farm policy which would save small and moderate-sized farms from extinction." The problem with such generalities on which nearly everyone can agree, is that they require specific actions to give them meaning. The statement's major recommendations to accomplish such a goal included the following:

"Ensuring that families that derive a substantial part of their livelihood from farming can earn an equitable return on labor and management. Commodity pricing policies should consider both justice to American farmers and possible disincentives to developing nation farmers from underpriced exports."

QUESTION: Are church leaders saying that prices of U.S. farm commodities in export must not be advantageously competitive with what is produced by primitive methods of agriculture? Who is to decide and enforce such a policy?

"A restructuring of the tax laws, and eliminating incentives that favor large units, stimulate absentee ownership, or encourage corporate control of resources. Making low cost credit loan guarantees available to small and beginning farmers with limited resources."

QUESTION: Is this aimed at eliminating family farm corporations and penalizing established, successful farmers in order to subsidize those who lack not only financial but experience qualifications? Who is to decide who should or should not farm? a government agency? a church group?

"Programs to stop the loss of land by minority farmers, to help qualified farmworkers become farmers in their own right, and providing farmworkers with the basic privileges and protections enjoyed by other American workers."

QUESTION: Is this recommendation aimed at saving family farmers or promoting social action programs and land redistribution schemes?

"Better distribution of public land and water rights and greater attention to developing technologies appropriate for use on small and moderate-sized farms?"

QUESTION: In this day and age, what is considered a small or moderate-sized farm?

In Latin American and South American countries where the role of the church and state has been dominant and acting in unison for centuries, the backwardness of agriculture has gone hand in hand with an uneducated peasantry. One of the great problems currently is how to deal with the people of Mexico, Haiti and Cuba who can't use their agricultural resources to feed their exploding populations and are scrambling constantly to find refuge in the United States.

U.S. farmers are feeding the nation and also providing the world's largest single source of food for international trade. They are traditionally generous and deeply religious. Let them as farmers and members of church organizations speak for agriculture and its needs rather than yield such prerogatives to the hierarchies of religious denominations.

and beside our esteemed old friends Mrs. Theron Nye and her Brother, S.B. Colson, and their honored father, who was never happier than when playing Money Musk or Virginia Reel of The Arkansas Traveler for the young people who gathered at their homes to pass away many an otherwise long winter evening.

"As there is nothing new under the sun, perhaps it will interest some of you to know that the 'Society Reporter' lived in those days, which I can prove to you by this little incident. It was decided one night to have a dance at the log cabin, occupied by the bachelors. Gold had just been discovered at Pikes Peak and immigration to the Rockies had commenced. Camp fires could be seen nightly on the outskirts of town. Attracted by the music, a couple of campers came to the door of the cabin and were immediately invited in. Alas! there was no one to tell us. A chiel was among us taking notes (an allusion to Robert Burns' "On the Late Captain Grose's Peregrinations thro' Scotland"). Three months afterwards, a paper, printed in New Hampshire, made its way to our little homes. It contained a vivid description of a dance in the far West. I remember as if it were yesterday. Parts of that letter, I will read for your benefit.

"Across one end of the cabin was a carpenter's bench, on top of which was seated upon an old nail keg, the fiddler; his head adorned with a white plug hat; tall candlestick in between the togs. By forked sticks or their fingers having fastened the candles in potatoes lighted the room. Wolf skins nailed up to dry adorned the walls in every direction. The Western girls danced about like peats in a Dutch oven, while General _____, was floor manager for the occasion. Now all this was true, if it did reflect upon the grace of the young girls just from the Hub of the Universe, and who thought they knew all about dancing."

'Goona Goona' Coming to Wayne

The Haven House Family Services Center in Wayne, in cooperation with the Nebraska Arts Council, will sponsor a production of the play "Goona Goona," a family musical by the Omaha Magic Theatre on Sunday, June 22, at 8 p.m. in the Wayne-Carroll High School auditorium.

Tickets for the performance are $2 for adults and $1 for students and may be purchased in advance by calling Haven House, 375-4633. Tickets also will be available at the door.

"Goona Goona" is a musical, slapstick comedy extravaganza about modern American family violence.

According to Jan Stalling, coordinator of Haven House Family Services Center, "To portray the family in conflict, the actors gymnastically tumble, roll and fall throughout the 2-act play — recalling the style of the masters of slapstick. The Marx Brothers, Chaplin, Keaton and the Punch and Judy Puppets."

"We feel extremely honored to have the Omaha Magic Theatre bring their production of 'Goona Goona' to Wayne," said Mrs. Stalling, adding that it is one of the most accurate depictions of modern American family violence she has experienced. "It is evident that extensive research on the subject was done."

"Goona Goona" was written especially for the Omaha Magic Theatre Co. by Megan Terry, the theatre's playwright in residence. Ms. Terry is an internationally acclaimed dramatist who has published over 45 plays and musicals. She won the 1970 Obie Award for Best Play and was recipient of a 1977 Guggenheim Fellowship.

May Wedding in Omaha

Dundee Presbyterian Church in Omaha was the scene of the May 31 wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Ann Pedersen and Patrick Gleeson, both of Omaha.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ruby Pedersen of Wayne, and the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Ed Gleeson of O'Neill.

Dr. Gerald Hazelrigg and the Rev. Anthony Milne, both of Omaha, officiated at the noon ceremony. The church was decorated with a seven-branch candelabra and urns of greenery for the couple's double ring rites.

Guests, registered by Jan Rasmussen of Omaha, were ushered into the church by Gary Randall and Bob Kersenbrock, both of Omaha, Pat Mattern of Lincoln and Jim Meuhr of Denver.

Wedding music included "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer," sung by Lee Chelminiak and accompanied by Dr. Brantigan, both of Omaha.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, James Pedersen of Minneapolis, wore an ivory silk organza gown in floor length, designed with a silk embroidered overlay, a long-sleeved jacket with cuffs and a peplum, and a short train. She wore a matching hat with a face veil and carried white lilies.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Amanda Randall, and bridesmaids were Mary Catherine Gleeson and Jean Haskell, all of Omaha. Their ankle length dresses were of ivory rayon and polyester styled with short sleeves, peplums, and slit fronts. They wore ivory pillbox hats and carried purple, lavender and pink carnations.

Michael Gleeson of Arlington, Va. served as best man, and groomsmen were John Gleeson of Ventura, Calif. and Tom Gleeson of Omaha.

The men in the wedding party wore gray cutaways with striped pants and white shirts.

Mrs. Pedersen wore a lavender linen suit in street length and a corsage of pink lilies, and Mrs. Gleeson chose a green polyester dress. She had a white lily corsage.

Nearly 300 guests attended a reception at the Omaha Press Club following the wedding ceremony. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. William Shanahan of Omaha and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Devoy of O'Neill. Gifts were arranged by Diane Thiesen of Lincoln.

The newlyweds took a wedding trip to San Francisco and Lake Tahoe, and will make their home at 3702 Pacific, in Omaha.

The bride, a 1970 graduate of Laurel-Concord High School, received her journalism degree from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in 1974 and is employed as assistant news director at WOWT. The bridegroom was graduated from St. Mary's School in O'Neill in 1970. He attended Regis College in Denver and was graduated from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in 1975. He is employed as a sales manager at Business Service Equipment Co. in Omaha.

Ayrshire Award To Allen Girl

Jeanne Warner of Allen was awarded a trophy for the 1979 Outstanding Ayrshire Youth of Nebraska during the annual Nebraska Ayrshire picnic held at Allen recently.

Hosting the event were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Warner. Families attended from West Point, North Bend, Wayne, Allen, Walton and Bennington.

Miss Warner received the trophy for her participation in promoting the Ayrshire breed, at fending shows on the local, district and state levels, and for her demonstrations promoting dairy products on the local and state levels.

Following the picnic, the group toured the Jack and Jim Warner farms.

Club Displays Baby Pictures

Alma Spittiger entertained the BC Club Friday. Nine members answered roll call with their family or baby picture. Guests were Rose Heithold and Mrs. August Dorman.

Pitch furnished the entertainment. Receiving prizes were Mrs. Glenn Wade, Mrs. Orville Lage and Mrs. Lon Soden. Mrs. Darrell Fanden will be the July 11 hostess at 2 p.m.

Wayne Woman Delegate to LCA Convention in Seattle

Mrs. Betty Heier of Wayne will be an official delegate to the 10th biennial convention of the Lutheran Church in America in Seattle June 25 through July 2.

The 687 delegates from the United States, Canada and the Caribbean will meet in the Seattle Center. Theme for the convention is "Confessing Christ Today," marking the 450th anniversary of the Augsburg Confession.

Blaese Family Reunion Held

The annual Blaese family reunion was held Sunday at the Hoskins fire hall, beginning with a noon carry-in dinner.

Thirty-five relatives were present from Norfolk, Stanton and Hoskins. President John Scheurich conducted the business meeting.

One marriage and no births or deaths were reported during the past year. The oldest present was Frank Marten, 88, of Hoskins, and the youngest was Lynn Scheurich, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Scheurich of Hoskins.

The 1981 reunion will be held at the Hoskins fire hall the second Sunday in June. Officers who are in charge of arrangements are Gerald Roker, president; John Scheurich, vice president; and Lois Reineke, secretary-treasurer.

While the convention will review programs of the past biennium and act upon matters for the 1980-81 years, the Rev. Dr. James R. Crumley, president of the 3.1 million member denomination, will ask the convention to consider long-range planning that will carry through the 1980's.

The delegates will be asked to adopt a social statement on Economic Justice which would ask the church and its members to be exemplary as employer, purchaser and consumer. If approved it would become the 15th such policy statement for the LCA since it was constituted in 1962.

At the same time, the delegates will express concern for their own in the form of increased pension and health benefits and efforts to equalize benefits to lay employees when compared with those for clergy. Also coming up for final approval is consideration of the title "bishop" for the president of the LCA and its 33 districts.

One of the long-range concerns will deal with the possible merger of U.S. Lutheran churches. If approved, a two-year study process will lead to a 1982 recommendation on the form three Lutheran churches may take to better fulfill their mission.

Mrs. Heier is a member of Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne. Her husband, Darrell, will accompany her to the convention.

Right to Life Meets in Wayne

The Wayne County chapter of Right to Life met in the meeting room at Columbus Federal Savings and Loan in Wayne June 3.

Members viewed a cassette film by Dr. Jean Garton of Lutherans for Life, entitled "Abortion Double Speak."

The local unit hosted a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Nebraska Coalition for Life on June 7 in Wayne.

Plans are underway for a booth at the Wayne County Fair in August. There will be no meeting in July.

Miss Thomas Honored

Thirty-five guests attended a miscellaneous bridal shower in the Trinity Lutheran School basement in Hoskins Monday evening, honoring Kathy Thomas of Hoskins.

The guests, registered by Mrs. Richard Krause, came from Norfolk, Wayne, Carroll, Wakefield, Plainview and Hoskins. Decorations were in rainbow colors.

The program included advice to the bride, written by the guests, and a reading by Mrs. Orville Broekemeier.

The hostesses were Mrs. Richard Doffin, Mrs. Orville Broekemeier, Mrs. Bill Willers and Mrs. Richard Krause, all of Hoskins, and Mrs. Dan Fulton of Norfolk, who presented the honoree with a corsage.

Melissa Fulton and Traci Thomas carried gifts and assisted the bride in opening them. Others helping the honoree with her gifts were Mrs. Richard Krause and Tammy Thomas. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Vernon Miller, poured.

Miss Thomas, daughter of Robert Thomas of Hoskins, and LaVerle Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Miller, also of Hoskins, will be married June 14 at the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Hoskins.

Families Gather At Wayne Park

Twenty-five members of the Magdanz family gathered for a reunion Sunday afternoon at Bressler Park in Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Gallop and David of Stratford, Okla. attended from the farthest distance. Other towns represented at the reunion were Kansas City, Kan.; Kansas City, Mo.; South Sioux City; Pender; Carroll, Norfolk, Pierce, Bloomfield, O'Neill and Wayne.

Eva Schulz of Pierce was the oldest in attendance; and Theresa Temme of Norfolk was the youngest. Three marriages, four births and two deaths were recorded during the past year. John Schnoor of Norfolk is a serviceman stationed in Kodiak, Ala.

The 1981 reunion will be June 14 at Carroll.

HERO or HASBEEB

Dads, our influence upon our children will either last a life time or be rejected in their teenage years. We'll either be "Heroes" or "Hasbeebes". Lots of counseling hours have been spent with brokenhearted parents frantically asking, "what went wrong, didn't we give him everything?" But in reviewing, the "everything" excluded time and love.

Dad, are you so possessed with making a living that you can not show your kids how to live? Are your values solid? Making leads to love property and use people. God would have us love people and manage property. If your kids see a false value system, or emphasis upon secondary things then your influence will be a "hasbeeb".

In the past 25 years we have seen the evidence of materialistic parents generating resentment and rejection of parental values. Searching for something more meaningful. The Bible reveals principles that help balance the values of life. These have been tried and prove to be successful. While on the other hand materialistic values or any self-centered value system has yet to prove its trustworthiness — look around at the results of world philosophies, depression, oppression, hunger in a million that flourish feed every mental illness on the increase in all our sophistication and scientific progress we find our lives more threatened day by day. Evidence that world philosophies fail.

Dad, you can take charge of your private world and make it productive, happy and peaceful. You can be a "hero" to your kids. Give them standards that work, priorities that count, time and love, set the values for your home in line with the values that have been proven successful. Be a "HERO".

We spend a lot of time at First Church of Christ teaching basic life principles. We believe in the family. We believe our children will benefit and so will their children. There are principles to make a "hero" out of a "hasbeeb" too.

Top Allen Riders

THE SECURITY STATE BANK of Allen recently presented a joint savings bond to Robin and Lisa Osbahr, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Osbahr of Allen. The girls were the top riders from Allen in the American Diabetes Association Bike-A-Thon at Wayne last month. Craig Williams of the Security State Bank and Virginia Wheeler, representing the Diabetes Association, are pictured presenting the savings bond to the girls. Robin, pictured second from left, was the top rider in the 15 to 18-year-old division and received a $5 gift certificate from The Joint in Wayne. Lisa collected the most pledges in the 11 to 14-year-old division and was presented a tote bag from Griess Rexall Store. Approximately $3,000 was raised for the Diabetes Association during the May 4 event.

Pastor Returns for Dedication

DR. WILLIAM MOST OF LOVELAND, COLO., pictured in center, returned to Winside Sunday for a special dedication service marking the new addition to the Winside Trinity Evangelical-Lutheran Church. Pastor Most, who served as minister at the Winside church nearly 50 years ago, delivered the address at the afternoon service. Pictured with Pastor Most are the Rev. J. Frerichs, at left, assistant to the President of the Nebraska Synod, who delivered the address at the morning worship service, and the Rev. Lon DuBois, at right, pastor at Trinity Lutheran. Other former pastors who spoke briefly at the afternoon service were the Rev. H. G. Knaub of Lincoln and the Rev. Paul Reimers of Osceola. Plaques, carried by Mark and Diane Suehl, were dedicated and placed in two of the new rooms in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Trautwein and E. T. Warnemunde.

Pender Couple Plan Observance For 50th Year

MARK IV PICTURES INCORPORATED PRESENTS
A Thief in the Night and there will be no place to hide!

A THIEF IN THE NIGHT is a mighty motion picture about Bible prophecy. It shows what can happen when Jesus Christ returns. This exciting story centers are Patty, an average girl caught up in living for the present, with little concern about the future. What happens when this thinking finally catches up with her provides an action packed, unforgettable drama.
 The fast moving pace includes a young man confronted by a deadly Asian cobra, a young girl's daring escape from jail, and a take-over by "The Imperium" that regards all, who are not properly identified, as enemies of the system. Filmed on location in Iowa, this picture portrays with devastating reality the Biblical prediction, "There will be no place to hide." One does not merely view this film, he experiences it. Every thinking person will seriously consider its impact.
 A THIEF IN THE NIGHT was given the "Best Film of the Year" award by the National Evangelical Film Foundation of Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. The lead actress, Miss Patty Dunning, was given the "Outstanding Female Actress" award at the same time.
 The film has been produced by MARK IV PICTURES, INCORPORATED, of Des Moines, Iowa.

Craig Moyer of Wood River threaded the needle by sinking a nine foot down-hill birdie putt on the 27th hole to win the Wayne Memorial Open Golf Tournament, Sunday at the Wayne Country Club.

Moyer, under pressure from Tim Marchese and Knox Jones in his own foursome, rolled his birdie putt into the center of the cup on the sloping 18th green as a large gallery watched. The birdie gave him a 102 total for 27 holes and a one stroke win over Marchese of Omaha.

Marchese birdied the final three holes of the championship round to drop to five under par for the tournament. Moyer needed to sink his birdie putt to go six under par and win the tourney without a sudden death playoff.

The pressure had been applied to Moyer only minutes earlier when Moyer ramed in an 11 foot up-hill putt that bounced off the back of the cup and dropped to the bottom for a three on the par four finishing hole.

Knox Jones, a two-time winner of the Wayne Open, missed his 15 foot birdie putt on the final hole and finished at 104, two strokes off the pace. Moyer, who plans to compete in the state amateur tournament at Lochland Country Club in Hastings, also won this event in 1977.

Mike Stevens of Sioux City finished fourth with a 105, Randy Sock of Norfolk was fifth at 106, Bob Bowman of Omaha and Mark Morrissy of Blair finished fifth and sixth respectively at 107 and Greg Vonnahme of Omaha followed with a 109.

The leader after 18 holes, former Wayne State golfer, Larry Franzen of Sioux City fell apart on the final nine holes, carding a 46 for a 113 total. Franzen held a two stroke lead at 67 after 18 holes.

Other contenders Warren Sasse of Lincoln and Lee Tate of Omaha faded to 110 and 111 totals respectively. Stan Truhson of Sioux City withdrew after shooting a 70 on the first 18 holes.

Locals Grijers Win

Five Wayne golfers won their respective flights in the tournament. The Open was broken into championship flight and 10 other flights.

Bob Reeg of Wayne won the first flight with a 38-37-75 total to edge out Larry Barres of St. Louis.

Jim Lindau won the third flight by shooting a 39-40-79. He was tied with Dean Haze of Sioux City but won a playoff for first place.

Phil Griess was champion in the fourth flight. He carded a 37-42-79 score to defeat Ron Otte of Carroll.

In the fifth flight, Tom McClain turned in a 39-42-81 to beat Bill Voigtlander of Columbus by two strokes.

The other Wayne winner was Gary Vopalensky of Wayne, who shot a 41-41-82 in the 18 hole competition.

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Hascall

KEVIN SAVIO, former outstanding football player at Wayne State College, is now playing professional football for the Shreveport Steamer, according to information received by WSC defensive coordinator Ralph Barclay.

In a game program, Savio is listed as a 6-3, 240 pound center and was a starter against the Austin Texans.

The Shreveport Steamer (of Shreveport, La.) is a member of the American Football Association. Austin, Carolina, West Virginia, Jacksonville, Kentucky, Fort Worth and San Antonio are other members of the league.

Playoffs are scheduled in mid August with the American Bowl planned for Sept. 6.

SOMETHING NEW is being planned at the Wayne Country Club this year—an interclub junior golf league.

The league will be in addition to a full schedule of Friday morning clinics and competitions run in conjunction with the City Recreation Program.

Every other Friday, beginning tomorrow (June 13) at Wayne, teams of five junior boys (17 and under) and five junior girls (if enough are interested) from five golf courses will compete.

Standings will be kept for teams from each course. The schedule opens tomorrow at Wayne, then continues at Sioux City Country Club on June 27, at Columbus Elks Club on July 11, at Southridge C.C. in South Sioux City on July 25, at Sioux City Boat Club on Aug. 8 and finishes Aug. 22 at Norfolk Country Club.

Qualification rounds will be held on Fridays prior to each week's competition.

ANOTHER NBA COLLEGE player draft was held this past week and it appears the Boston Celtics will be the team to beat in the next season of competition.

The Celtics acquired 7'0" center Robert Parish from Golden State in a trade and then selected 6'11" Kevin McHale of Minnesota in the draft, filling their need for a big man who can fit into a starting position.

The only bad break the clever Celtics had was when they couldn't persuade 7'4" Virginia freshman Ralph Sampson to leave college and join their team.

I WAS RECENTLY contacted by Crumbia Pictures about starring in a new movie production. Someone informed them about my golf game Sunday and now they want to put out a new disaster movie. They'll call it "Out of Bounds."

They're willing to bill the proposed production as "the first disaster movie with an unhappy ending." Other members of the all-star cast include Lassie (as my ball retriever and caddy), Edgar G. Sand Trap, Valerie Water Hazard and Charlton Rough.

The script starts out with a mild mannered, humble, average golfer (me) playing in a tournament. Suddenly disaster strikes. A few topped shots, missed putts and off line approach shots lead to the exciting climax.

Out of bounds which first struck on the second hole, strikes again on the 13th hole and then takes its toll again twice on the 16 hole. Crumbia Pictures officials said they hope the movie is as successful as "Airport '82."

However, I'm considering calling them up and informing them that I'm not interested in the starring role. I don't want the movie to interfere with my sports writing job and after all, who wants to break into movies as a loser?

THE ABOVE PASSAGE refers to my extravagant in the Wayne Open golf tournament Sunday.

I was entered in the second flight but my score wouldn't have won any of the 10 flights. It was one of those days when everything seemed to go wrong and things got worse instead of better.

On the 18th hole, I thought I was finally regaining my form. After hitting a long, straight drive down the left side of the fairway, I placed my approach shot about 10 feet past the flag. However, when I tried to run my downhill birdie putt into the center of the cup, I rolled about four feet past and ended up three-putting for a bogie five.

Golfers better look out in the next tournament because I might be a real threat in the last flight.

Wayne Boys Split Games with Pender

Wayne's 12 and under boys had a hey day but the Pony League had a disappointing day in Ralph Bishop boys' baseball action at Pender, Tuesday afternoon.

Don Larson fired a no-hit shutout for Wayne and the offense erupted for 19 runs to earn a landslide victory. Larson struckout 10 batters in the five inning game. Only four Pender batters reached base, two on walks and two on errors.

Leading batters for the locals were Joel Jorgensen with three hits and Brent Pick, Tim Fleming and Shannon Dorcy with two hits each. Pick, Dan Gross and Tom Perry scored three runs each for the winners. Dorcy and Rod Gilliland scored two runs each.

Wayne's Pony League held a 2-0 lead entering the bottom of the fifth inning but gave up two runs in the fifth and one in the sixth to drop a 3-2 decision to Pender.

Steve Overin retired 13 batters on strikeouts while pitching a three-hitter.

Overin, who collected two of Wayne's four hits, doubled and scored in the fourth inning. Randy Gamble singled home Kevin Koenig for Wayne's other run.

Wayne gave up two runs on a single and two errors in the fifth as Pender tied the game. Three more errors in the bottom of the sixth allowed the hosts to score the winning run.

Chris Wieseler, Jeff Jorgensen and Gamble had one hit each to complement Overin's two-hit performance. Eleven Wayne batters struckout in the game.

Next action for Wayne is scheduled at 1 p.m. today (Thursday) at Wakefield. Emerson will invade Wayne, Tuesday afternoon.

Pfeiffer Strikes Out Emerson; Sperry Leads Midgets to Triumph

JIM SPERRY rounds first base in action at the Wayne-Emerson Midget game, Monday night at the Wayne city ball park. Sperry scored the winning run on an interference call in the bottom of the sixth inning. Wayne won both the Midget and Legion contests.

Tim Pfeiffer treated his teammates to an easy night defensively as he fired a two-hit shutout against normally strong hitting Emerson. The ace right hander recorded 17 of 21 outs by strikeout in a 5-0 win, Monday night at the Wayne city ball park.

Only five Emerson players reached base. Pfeiffer yielded a double and single to the number three batter and walked two other batters. One player reached base by virtue of an error.

The hosts weren't much more impressive at hitting the ball but took advantage of several opportunities to score five runs. Jeff Zeiss, Pat McCright and Bruce Schafer collected Wayne's only hits.

Zeiss scored the first run in the opening inning. He singled, stole second base, reached third on an error and sneaked home when Emerson threw out Pfeiffer on a called third strike which was dropped. Zeiss slid safely in a close play at the plate.

The locals struck again in the bottom of the fourth. Dan Mitchell, McCright and Tim Fleming crossed the plate on three walks, a single and a sacrifice for a 4-1 advantage.

The final run of the game came in the fifth inning when Steve Sorensen, pinch running for Dan Mitchell, scored on a passed ball.

Wayne is now 3-0 in Ralph Bishop League action and will receive a bye in tomorrow's (Friday's) regular Ralph Bishop schedule. Instead, the Juniors will host South Sioux City in two games beginning at 6:15. Wayne will host Wisner Monday.

Sperry Scores Winning Run

A big four-run sixth inning enabled Wayne's Midgets to come from behind for a 6-5 win over Emerson, Monday night at the Wayne city ball park.

Jim Sperry scored the winning run on an interference call with one out in the bottom of the sixth. With Sperry on third, Jeff Allen on second and Al Lindsay on first, Wayne coach Hank Overin called for a suicide squeeze play.

Sperry charged toward home but Jeff McCright's attempt to bunt failed. The catcher grasped the pitch and forced Sperry into a rundown between third and home.

Sperry broke home again and collided with the catcher who was standing in the base path without the ball. Interference was called and the run automatically scored.

Emerson never trailed until the final run scored. The visitors scored one run in the first, three in the third and one in the fourth on eight hits.

McCright slapped a base hit to bring home Todd Pfeiffer with the first Wayne run in the bottom of the first inning. Sperry scored the hosts' second run on an Emerson error in the third.

Trailing 5-2, Wayne's Midgets struck off their final opportunity. Schwartz scored the first run of the inning and Peter Craun, who was pinch running for Chad Dorcey, pulled Wayne within one run. Shaun Dorcey scored the tying run as Al Lindsay drew a walk with bases loaded.

The call on Sperry's winning run drew a lengthy argument from Emerson's coaches but the umpires upheld their initial call, giving Wayne the triumph. McCright, Jeff Allen and Schwartz collected the hosts' three base hits. Pfeiffer pitched all six innings to earn the victory for the Midgets.

Wayne will host Wisner at 6:15 p.m. Monday. The Midget game will be followed by a Legion contest at approximately 8:30.

New Football Course Offered at Wayne State

John "Jersey" Jermier, former Kansas State athletic director and currently assistant director at Northern Iowa University, will join Ken Stephensen, offensive coordinator at the University of Kansas as guest coaches at an Advanced Football Techniques course offered at Wayne State College June 23-27.

Jermier and Stephensen will assist WSC coaches Del Stoltenberg, Ralph Barclay and Pat Donohoe with teaching the course, worth three graduate or undergraduate credits through the WSC Extended Campus Division.

Participants in the course will examine various defensive and offensive styles of play, scouting techniques, coaching methods, film appraisals and problems of organization. Sessions will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. throughout the course.

For details or to register phone Dr. Ralph Barclay at 402-375-2200, Ext. 349.

Laurel Splits With Pender

Laurel's Little League baseball team dumped Pender 10-5 Thursday and Pender came back to win the Pony League game 7-3.

Brent Haisch was the winning pitcher for Laurel in the Little League game. Paul Pearson provided relief help in the fourth inning to hold Pender to two hits. Laurel collected five hits.

In the Pony League game, Craig Hanson suffered the loss as pitcher for Laurel. He and reliever Kyle Daberkow held Pender to four hits but allowed seven runs.

Candlelight Rites Unite Lori Johnson-Monte Lowe

Lori Johnson became the bride of Monte Lowe in a 7 o'clock candlelight ceremony May 31. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lowe, all of Wayne. The Rev. Thomas Mendenhall officiated at the double ring ceremony at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne. Music included "Wedding Prayer," "Wedding Benediction" and "All Good Gifts," sung by Peggy Lowe of O'Neill, Lisa Nuss of Wayne and Wayde Blumhardt of Leola, S. D. Organist was Elaine Rump of Wayne.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long white gown of baroque lace and chiffon, designed with a Victorian bib bodice, high mandarin collar and cape sleeves. Her fingertip double tiered circular veil was attached to a mantilla headpiece and she carried red carnations and lily of the valley.

Matron of honor was Jennifer Widner of Wayne, and bridesmaids were Lori Sturm of Wayne, Cheryl Heller of Wisner and Lori Lovejoy of Kearney.

Their red gowns were of polyester double knit styled with blouson bodices, Victorian yokes of white Nottingham lace, and long skirts slit in front. They carried red carnations with white spider mums.

Mark Lowe of Wayne served as best man. Groomsmen were Doug Straight of Wayne, Wayde Blumhardt of Leola, S. D. and Brian Corlett of Hawarden, Iowa.

Guests were ushered into the church by Brent Pedersen and Rick Lutz, both of Wayne, Keith Heingartner of Yankton, S. D. and Brad Lowe of Ponca.

The bridegroom was attired in a white tuxedo and his attendants wore black slacks and vests with white coats.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Johnson selected a cream and blue polyester knit. Mrs. Lowe chose a pink polyester knit. Both mothers wore lily corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Saul of Wayne greeted the 250 guests who attended a reception in the church basement following the ceremony. The guests were registered by Debby Madden of Norfolk. Gifts were arranged by

MR. AND MRS. MONTE LOWE

Beth Grenz of Omaha. Helen Kalin of Coleridge and Hollis Frese of Wayne cut and served the cake. Veronica Calhoun of Laurel and Barbara Pedersen of Wayne poured, and punch was served by Tammi Kirby of Wausa and Ann Fredrickson of Wayne. Waitresses were Shelly Lackas of Carroll, Jodi Frese of Wayne, Beth Kalin of Coleridge and Ann and Paula Lowe of O'Neill. Following the reception at the church, there was a wedding dance at the National Guard Armory in Wayne. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Kearney Lackas of Carroll. Bartenders were Ed Hastings of Yankton, S. D. and Brooks Widner of Wayne. The newlyweds are making their home at 3400 E. 11th, Apt. 301, Sioux Falls, S. D. The bride is a 1978 graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School and a 1980 graduate of Northeast Technical Community College, Norfolk. The bridegroom was graduated from Wayne High in 1976 and from Mt. Marly College in Yankton, S. D. in 1980. He is employed at Northwestern Banco Corp., in Sioux Falls.

Public Speaking Class Designed For Homemakers

Wes Wingett, Norfolk counselor and educator, is conducting public speaking classes for homemakers throughout the month of June.

The classes, organized by the Cooperative Extension Service, are designed to help women gain self-confidence in voicing opinions and in leadership rolls.

Anna Marie White, area extension agent, said the class will meet Tuesday, June 17, at the State National Bank meeting room in Wayne, and Tuesday, June 24, in the meeting room at Columbus Federal Savings and Loan in Wayne. Both sessions run from 9 to 11 a.m.

Canners Urged to Check Gauges

"Homemakers should be checking their supplies and equipment for home food processing," says Anna Marie White, area extension agent.

Mrs. White says now is the time to inventory supplies to make sure you'll have the quantity and sizes of jars and lids needed when garden products are ready for canning.

"Good canning equipment, properly cared for, is essential for successful food processing with maximum safety and minimum spoilage," adds Mrs. White.

The extension agent says gauges on pressure canners should be checked at least once a year, so that food will be processed at proper temperature and pressure.

Anyone wishing to have a gauge tested may do so at their County Extension Office. Two testing clinics also are scheduled.

On June 16, gauges will be tested at the Northeast Station near Concord. On June 17, testing will be done at the Wayne County Extension Office in Wayne.

Testing will be done between 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. on days of the clinics.

In order to have gauges checked, homemakers need to bring only the canner lid or the dial gauge. Lids brought for testing should have the owner's name, address and phone number attached. Gauges may be brought to the clinic site prior to the testing date and left for testing.

For further information, contact Anna Marie White, Area Extension Agent, Concord, Neb.

Jeanine Harmer is May Bride

Candelabras with greenery and daisies decorated the altar of the First United Methodist Church in Wayne for the May 31 ceremony uniting in marriage Jeanine Luree Harmer and Russell Reid Longnecker.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Harmer of Carroll. She was graduated from Wayne-Carroll High School in 1979 and from Northeast Technical Community College at Norfolk in 1980, and is employed at the Farmers State Bank in Carroll.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Longnecker of Winside, is a 1978 graduate of Winside High School and a 1980 graduate of Northeast Technical Community College. He is employed at Geary Electric Co., Norfolk.

The Rev. Janet Baerstein of Winside officiated at the couple's 7 o'clock double ring ceremony. Candles were lighted by Deanna Willis of Winside and Byron Wylie of Norfolk.

Flower girl and ring bearer were Danielle Nelson of Carroll and Doyle Baker of Kingsley, Iowa.

Wedding music included "Wedding Song," "Come Live With Me," "Follow Me" and "We've Only Just Begun," sung by Deb Johnson of Norfolk and accompanied by Leneil Zoffka of Winside.

For her wedding day, the bride chose a long, white dress of Nottingham lace and sheer organza. The Nottingham lace bodice featured seed pearls and was edged with Cluny lace. The long sleeves were of matching Nottingham lace. The bride's full sheer organza skirt and chapel train were edged in a deep ruffle of Nottingham lace. The train and skirt were dotted with motifs of silk venice lace. The bride's illusion veil was scattered with silk venice motifs and seed pearls, and she carried blue and white daisies, pink butterfly roses and yellow princess roses with white stephanotis and baby's breath.

Matron of honor was Jane Rolles of Norfolk, and bridesmaids were Holly Rees of Omaha and Connie Jaeger, Lisa Cleveland, sister of the bridegroom, and Nancy Thies, all of Winside.

Their pink polyester knit gowns were in floor length and were designed with spaghetti straps, empire waistlines, accordin pleated jackets and cap sleeves. They wore daisy flower combs in their hair and carried round nosegays of pink miniature carnations, white daisies, baby's breath and yellow forget me nots.

Dennis Newman of Norfolk served as best man. Groomsmen were Bob Hawkins, Bob Bowers and Kevin Cleveland, all of Winside, and Jim Harmer of Carroll, brother of the bride.

The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo and tails and a boutonniere of pink, blue and yellow sweetheart roses. His attendants were attired in light blue tuxedos and had white carnations. Ushers were Stan Stenwall, Randy Willis and Dan Brockman, all of Winside, and Chuck Mann of Hoskins.

The bride's personal attendant was Renay Harmer of Omaha. Laura Wylie and Kathy Wylie, both of Norfolk, were in charge of programs, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Kerstine of Carroll pinned on flowers. The guests were registered by Sandy Backer of Randolph and Sheri Triggs of Wayne.

Both mothers wore light blue polyester knit dresses in floor length for the marriage of their children. They also had white Japette orchid corsages.

A reception for 350 guests was held in the church parlors following the wedding ceremony. The guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Don Harmer of Winside and Mr. and Mrs. Don Wylie of Norfolk.

Gifts were arranged by Becky Owens and Ann Holmberg, both of Norfolk, Shauna Roberts of Lincoln, and Cindy Clausen, Kathy Schmale and Shelly Davis, all of Carroll.

MR. AND MRS. RUSSELL LONGNECKER

Gift carriers were Clinton Wylie and Charla Jo Wylie, both of Wichita, Kan.; Dana Nelson and Kelly Davis, both of Carroll, and Laura Ann Baker of Kingsley, Iowa.

Arlene Willis of Winside, Donna Bowers of Carroll, Laura Baker of Kingsley, Iowa and JoAnn Wylie of Wichita, Kan. cut and served the cake. Janice Bowers and Barb Stenwall, both of Winside, poured, and Peggy Bowers of Osmond and Darci Janke of Lincoln served punch.

Waitresses were Megan Owens and Lori Burbach, both of Carroll, and Jani Bowers and Dawn Janke, both of Winside.

Women assisting in the kitchen included Donna Schlus of O'Neill, Helen Hancock of Winside, and Pauline Frink, Norma Davis, Sandra Nelson, Mary Davis and Pat Johnson, all of Carroll.

The newlyweds took a wedding trip to Lincoln and are making their home at Winside.

Open House Reception For Wakefield Couple

An open house reception was held at the Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield Sunday afternoon to observe the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Marland Schroeder of Wakefield.

Hosts were their children and families, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin (Mariane) Nixon of Wakefield,

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schroeder of Danville, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Lynn (Cindy) Sellers of O'Neill, and Terri Schroeder of Wakefield. Also hosting the event was Mrs. Schroeder's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Backstrom of Wayne. Schroeders have seven grandchildren.

Vaughn Nixon of Wakefield registered the 180 guests, who attended from Colorado and Iowa; Wakefield, Wayne, Concord, Emerson, Laurel, O'Neill, Omaha, Wausa, Allen and Carroll.

The cake, which was baked by Mrs. Art Greve of Wakefield, was cut and served by Mrs. Lynn Sellers. Mrs. Eric Nelson of Concord poured, and Terri Schroeder and Marci Nixon, both of Wakefield, and Jennifer Schroeder of Danville, Ill. served punch.

Women of the Salem Lutheran Church assisted in the kitchen. Schroeders were married June 8, 1940, at the Concordia Lutheran Church in Concord. They farmed in the Concord area for 12 years, moving into Wakefield in 1952.

A supper for relatives and the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Johnson was held in the Schroeder home following the reception.

Club Tours Antique Shop At Stanton

Following a noon luncheon at the Black Knight in Wayne Monday, members of the Kluck and Klatter Home Extension Club toured the home and antique shop of Mrs. Inez Melcher north of Stanton.

Ten clubwomen attended the luncheon and tour. For roll call, members told where they would like to spend their vacation.

During the brief business meeting, Mrs. Robert Sulzstead, Mrs. James Corbit, Mrs. Joe Corbit and Mrs. Harvey Beck were named to a committee for this year's fair booth. The club will not meet during July and August.

The next meeting, Sept. 9, will be in the home of Mrs. Harvey Larsen. The lesson, entitled "Influenza: A New Battlefield," will be given by Mrs. Lou Lutz Sr. There also will be an election of new officers at the September meeting.

Laurel Class of '25 Returns

The Laurel High School graduating class of 1925 held its 55-year reunion May 31 at the Black Knight in Wayne with 11 of the 24 member class attending with their husbands and wives.

Five members of the class are deceased.

"I Remember When" was the theme of the program, which included a review of the 1920's by Joe Maun.

Those who attended the reunion were Kathleen (Cherry) Murphy of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Vic (Ann Hanson) Redigoe of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence (Gustie Bruggens) Lyons, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nunemaker of Sioux City, Iowa, Olive (Johnson) Nelson and her sister Norma of Albert Lea, Minn., Mae (Popenhonsen) Weaver of Jefferson, Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mittelstadt of Fort Morgan, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Maun of St. Paul, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Antman of Sioux Falls, S.

D., and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Quist and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bass of Laurel.

They were all Sunday morning breakfast guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Quist.

Guests Attend

OES Kensington held a 1 o'clock Guest Day luncheon Friday with 18 guests attending.

The program was given by Mrs. Eddie Carter and Mary Marlin.

Bible School Concludes at Concord Evangelical

Forty-two students attended vacation Bible school classes at the Evangelical Free Church in Concord May 27-31.

Teachers were Mary Dahlquist, Vicki Carlson, Linda Westerholm, Lorna Stamp and the Rev. John Westerholm. Assisting them were Joyce Benstead, Judy Anderson, Marlyce Carlson, LaVonne Bloom, Sandy Ostercamp, Carolyn Harder, Rhonda Bloom and Judy Kvols.

The daily offering was designated for vehicles for EFC missionaries in Japan, Germany and Venezuela.

Bible school youngsters held a picnic the closing day of classes and presented a program Sunday evening, June 1.

"God's Happy People" was the theme of vacation Bible school classes at St. Paul's Lutheran Church June 2-6 for nursery through junior high students. Teachers were Loree Rastede and Beth Stalling, Lesa Rastede and Marcia Smith. Kelly Kraemer assisted with the younger grades and was in charge of the music. Superintendent was Karen Anderson.

A picnic was held the final day of classes.

The youngsters sang during the worship service Sunday, June 8. A banner made by junior high students hung in the church.

Concordia Lutheran Church conducted daily vacation Bible school classes June 2-6. There was "Jesus Lord and Savior."

Teachers were LaRae Nelson, Layne Johnson, Jill Hanson, Denise Magnuson and Suzie Johnson. Naomi Peterson and Nicki Newman were in charge of the music, and the Rev. David Newman had morning devotions.

Daily offerings were taken and a picnic dinner was held Friday to culminate weeklong activities.

Doris Nelson was Bible school superintendent.

Couples League
 The Couples League of the Concordia Lutheran Church met for a progressive supper Sunday evening.

The evening began with punch in the Wallace Magnuson home, followed with the main course at the Marlen Johnson home, and a meeting and program by the Rev. and Nicki Newman at the church.

A film was presented and dessert was served at the church. There will be a family picnic in July.

Club Takes Tour
 Seven members of the Three C's Home Extension Club toured the Southern Hills Mall in Sioux City Saturday. They had dinner at Bishops.

There will be no meeting in July, however the club will meet for coffee.

Lutheran Circles
 Circles of the Concordia Lutheran Church met last week.

Bible study was taken from Luke 11 and members brought saleable clothes to send to the Lutheran Thrift Shop in Omaha.

Hannah Circle met June 3 with Mrs. Ernest Swanson. There were 13 members present. The Bible study was led by Helen Carlson. The group plans to visit the Hillcrest Care Center at Laurel in July.

Mrs. Norman Lubberstedt was hostess for Lydia Circle on June 5. Eleven members attended and Mrs. Glen Magnuson presented the Bible study. Mrs. Jim Nelson will be the July hostess.

Sarah Circle met June 5 at the Wakefield Health Care Center with eight members present. Mrs. Pat Erwin gave devotions and Mrs. Keith Erickson read several poems. Group singing served for entertainment, followed with refreshments. The July meeting will be with Mrs. Virgil Pearson.

Mrs. Rich Kraemer presented the Bible study at the June 5 meeting of Rebekah Circle in the home of Mrs. Tim Anderson. The circle plans to visit its honorary members at the Care Center in July.

Welfare Club
 The Concord Womens Welfare Club met June 4 with Mrs. Dick Hanson. Mrs. Robert Anderson opened the meeting with a reading, entitled "Look on the Sunny Side."

Fourteen members answered roll call with their best vacation. A tour in August was discussed and one birthday cake was reported.

It was announced that the public is invited to attend the Senior Citizens pancake supper at the Concord gym today (Thursday) from 5 to 9 p.m.

Esther Peterson was in charge of the entertainment and read "Father That Wonderful Man About the House" and "Brides Still Cherish Old Traditions." She also led several pencil games.

Rachell Willers is a new club member.

Mrs. Glen Magnuson will be the July hostess. Dues will be collected.

Piano Recital
 Piano students of Mrs. Roy Hanson and Mrs. Iner Peterson presented a recital at the Concordia Lutheran Church Sunday afternoon.

The program included several solos and duets, and the students received pins and certificates.

The students and their parents presented corsages and gifts to the teachers, and mothers of the students served refreshments following the program.

Attend Graduation
 Eighty five friends and relatives from Woodbine, Iowa, Concord, Wakefield, Wayne, Allen, Martinsburg, Wausa, Omaha and Lexington attended the graduation Friday of Shelly Anderson, daughter of the Clayton Andersons of Wausa, from the nursing program at St. Luke's Hospital in Sioux City.

Andersons are former Concord residents.

Ag Production Costs Still Outpace Inflation

Congressman Doug Bereuter has expressed alarm over new production cost estimates by the Agriculture Department showing increases of as much as 42 percent over last year.

This report substantiates what farmers have been saying all along — that production costs are outpacing inflation at an alarming rate. Bereuter said, "And the administration has done little more than turn a deaf ear."

According to the USDA estimates for the 1980 crop year production costs for grain sorghum will soar 42 percent per bushel, 37 percent for a bushel of wheat, and 36 percent for a bushel of corn.

A number of proposals are pending in Congress to increase price support loan levels, but the Administration has not exercised the leadership necessary to bring them to a vote. Bereuter said, "It is imperative that action be taken immediately to offset the production cost increases."

We cannot sit idly by and watch our farm economy collapse. Costs are soaring at a time when prices farmers receive for their crops are down. Minus action by the Administration, this is an equation for disaster," Bereuter said.

Putt for Dad This Saturday On Main Street

The annual Putt for Father contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, June 14, in front of Gerald's Decorating Center on Main Street.

Several participating Chamber merchants are donating prizes for the event. A hole in one gets a discount coupon or gift certificate for dad's gift!

The event is held each year to help those who don't know what to get father for his special day.

For a complete list of gifts and sponsors, see advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

Ag Cost-Price Freeze May Be Worst Since Depression

Editor's Note: This is the fifth in a series of several articles developed by the Cooperative Extension Service in Lincoln. The articles provide some practical advice for making the best of a bad situation. The articles will deal with farm management practices, cropping decisions, marketing and financing.

Farmers participation in 1980 government farm programs
The current financial stress in agriculture finds farmers facing undoubtedly the most severe period of cost-price squeeze that has occurred since the drought and depression years of the 1930's.

Costs of most of the inputs needed in crop production have increased sharply for 1980 over the costs incurred for these same inputs in 1979. Unfortunately, the prices farmers are receiving for most farm crops in recent months are below their costs of production.

The cost-price squeeze for cash grain producers was further aggravated by the Carter Administration's decision on Jan. 4, 1980 to place an embargo on shipments of grain to the Soviet Union of more than 8 million metric tons during the current marketing year.

Since the Soviet Union had previously received authorization from the USDA to purchase up to 25 million metric tons of grain during the 1979-80 marketing year, the embargo suspended sales of at least 17 million metric tons of grain. Included in this total were 13 million metric tons of corn and 4 million metric tons of wheat.

The Carter Administration decision not to include any type of diversion of acreage or set-aside program for the 1980 Feed Grains Program also placed added pressure on already depressed grain prices.

As it now stands, feed grain producers will be eligible for participation in the 1980 Feed Grains Program on a two tier basis. Those farmers who remain within their farm's assigned Normal Crop Acres (NCA) allotment from their county ASCS office will be eligible for the higher target prices established under new legislation enacted by the Congress and signed into law by the President in March, 1980. Those farmers who elect to exceed their farm's assigned Normal Crop Acres (NCA) will be eligible for the lower level target prices.

Since there will not be any type of set-aside or crop acreage diversion in effect for 1980 crops, those growers who exceed the NCA assigned acres for their farm will be eligible for the other farm program benefits as well as the lower target prices. Additional program benefits include eligibility for disaster payments in the event of crop failure or serious yield reductions as the result of any weather, insect or disease problems that may occur. Such payments are limited to a maximum of $100,000 per farm entity.

Here are the comparisons on 1979 and 1980 farm loan rates and target prices for the principal crops produced in Nebraska.

The USDA announced that effective April 16, 1980, the interest rate on crop price support loans and for on-farm storage facility loans would be increased to 13 percent. Prior to April 16, 1980, CCC crop price support loans were at 9 percent interest while on-farm grain storage facility loans were at 10 1/2 percent interest.

Those farmers who were signed up and in compliance with the provisions of the 1979 Feed Grains Program can still enter any of their 1979 crop corn in the three-year Farmer-Owned Grain Reserve Program. Those farmers who sign up at their local ASCS office for this program can obtain a corn price support loan (National average loan rate is $2 per bushel for 1979 corn) with interest being waived for the first year. No interest is charged during the second or third year for grain placed in the three-year Grain Reserve Program.

For those producers who did not sign up or comply with the provisions of the 1979 Feed Grains Program, the USDA announced in mid-April that the three-year Grain Reserve Program is being opened to ineligible producers of 1979 corn. Secretary of Agriculture Robert Bergland, stated that they would accept a maximum of 295 million bushels into the reserve of 1979 corn from non-compliers on a "first come, first served" basis until the limit has been reached or May 15, 1980, whichever occurs first. However, non-compliers will not be eligible for the waiver of interest on the first year of the loan so they will be assessed an interest rate of 13 percent for 1979 corn entered in the loan and reserve program.

Secretary Bergland said those farmers who cooperated in the 1979 acreage set-aside feed grains program will continue to be eligible to enter 1979-crop corn into the

New 4-H program
A new 4-H Program called 4-H Garden Insect Scouting Program is being started in Wayne County.

The requirements are that each 4-H'er must check for insects on 20 percent of the plants of two different kinds of vegetables every three days. The 4-H'ers must identify any insects found and fill out a report on damage done, etc.

This project is unique because it's the only one in the state and six Wayne County 4-H'ers designed this project. 4-H entomology members in this new project include Stuart Rethwisch, Steve Rethwisch, Rich Roland, Jassi Johar, Vini Johar and Blaine Johs.

4-H entomology has been an extremely strong project in Wayne County. This project over the last couple of years has produced a state entomology winner — Mike Rethwisch, and two state insect identification winners at State Fair — Blaine Johs and Rich Roland.

4-H sheep project

June 5 was the date that all Wayne County 4-H sheep were weighed and sheared. Steve Gramlich, a former Wayne County 4-H member and now Wayne County 4-H Sheep Chairman, sheared the 50 or so project sheep.

Shearing the wool makes the sheep cooler and improves gain. The wool collected is donated by the members and the money from the sale of the wool is used to buy trophies and equipment for the sheep project.

Sheep members in the county include Barb Pam and Mark Svoboda, Jerrae Dorcay, Valerie and Marc Rahn, Angie and Jason Schulz, Darin Splitterger, Tami Jenkins, Karlene Keriane and Kristi Benschoot, Julie and Jim Krajcek and Amy Peters.

Teen Supreme Livestock judging contest

The Teen Supreme Livestock Judging Contest will be held June 19. Swine judging will be held at the Cyril Hansen farm, beef judging at the Walter Jager farm and sheep judging at the Roy Gramlich farm. July 29 the Teen Supremes will sponsor a dairy judging workshop.

The Teen Supremes is Wayne County's Junior Leader organization and is led by Mr. and Mrs. Herb Niemann and Dwight Anderson. This organization is also planning a Jr. Olympic program for July 19. They will be hosts to teenage 4-H'ers from 13 counties in Northeast Nebraska.

Dixon Farmer Magazine Feature

DIXON FARMER Floyd Bloom, above, was featured in a recent issue of a national crop management magazine called "The X-Tra". Bloom reported yields of up to 270 bushels per acre on 80 acres of irrigated land, using Trojan TXS115A seed. The rural Dixon farmer has been raising corn, soybeans and cattle all of his life.

Dixon Sheep Weigh-In Day This Saturday

Dixon County 4-H Sheep Weigh, Tag Day is from 7 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday, reports Stan Starling, county extension agent. Shearer will be Harold Murock. In 1978 and 1979, members paid for shearing, then donated the wool to the 4-H program. Several items of equipment for the 4-H program have now been purchased through these donations. This year proceeds from the wool sale will be used to offset shearing costs. Accordingly, only 25 cents per lamb will be charged to cover any deficit for shearing costs, with the balance used for additional equipment. Lambs will also be weighed and tagged. The official weigh-in will begin the rate of gain contest. Sheep leaders and older 4-H members are asked to make plans to help with the weigh-in, tagging and shearing, according to Starling.

Official Urges Caution In Career Opportunities

Beware of moving too fast or into too narrow a field in exploring lifetime career possibilities. University of Nebraska President Ronald W. Roskens told about 200 Nebraska 4-H members here Tuesday, June 3.

Roskens, a former Clay County, Iowa 4-H member and national 4-H alumna award recipient, urged youths attending the State 4-H Conference not to draw conclusions on career-potential too hastily as they prepare themselves through education for a vocation.

He noted that substantial numbers of college degree holders are not pursuing their original career choices five years after graduation. And he underlined the vast number of new positions and occupations constantly evolving as new technology is developed. A U.S. Department of Labor publication shows 2,100 new job titles nationwide since 1970, Roskens said, and because the publication is not up to date, the actual number would be even higher.

He traced the importance of exploration and discovery in the development of America as a nation, beginning with early European explorers and extending through such contemporary symbols as the Explorer series of spacecraft.

The NU administrator said young people must put equal emphasis on educating themselves for careers, personal development and citizenship responsibilities.

He deplored individual goals of preparing for a specific job after graduation, at the expense of studies which are cultural assets, such as history, the classics and foreign languages.

Conceding that these sources often seem remote in usefulness to many students, he called for "businessmen who read literature, physicians who read poetry" and a work force of creative persons "who are not intimidated by computers."

He likened 4-H'ers experiences in developing lifetime skills as building an inner core of capabilities, like the seed of an apple. Such a core, he said, is needed "to withstand the whim of deceit and fancy" young people will encounter later in life. He challenged the 4-H members to look at the difference between development of an apple and an onion — the former with "seeds for later growth," or the onion: "do you prefer merely another layer of experience?" "I would opt for the apple," Roskens commented.

Heat Stress in Pork Is Frequent

With the approach of hot weather, area pork producers need to keep in mind the fact that heat stress does occur more often than they think. These words of advice come from Mike Brumm, district swine specialist at the University of Nebraska Northeast Station.

Hot summer weather can adversely affect feed efficiency and rate of gain in market hogs and reproductive performance of boars and females. Since swine cannot sweat, they must lose heat by increasing their respiration rate through panting. Other efforts to remain cool include less activity and less feed intake.

While fans to circulate air are of some benefit, they become less effective when the air temperature approaches that of the pig's internal temperature. Brumm states that one of the most energy efficient methods of cooling swine is a combination of shade and wetting the animal. As the water evaporates from the pig's body, it cools them, just as perspiration evaporation cools humans.

The preferred method of cooling is intermittent spray cooling where the hogs are wet down once every hour and allowed to dry. Research at Kansas State University indicates that approximately one-tenth gallon of water per pig per hour is sufficient. If this amount is sprayed during a two minute period each hour, a nozzle capacity of .05 gallons per pig is needed.

It is best to use nozzles which discharge droplets, Brumm says, rather than a fine mist or fog. The mist or fog may drift and not wet the pigs thoroughly. Nozzles should be placed at one end of the pen, preferably over the manure collection area. This allows those pigs which are comfortable to stay out of the spray.

to come on at temperatures above 80 degrees F. According to Brumm, pigs may become chilled if the system comes on below 75 degrees F and heat stressed if a producer waits until 85 degrees F to turn the system on.

For producers who must move hogs in hot weather, Brumm advises using wet sand in the vehicle as bedding. If at all possible, move the animals early in the day. Avoid over-exercising the pigs and over-crowding. Take your time loading and unloading. If the pigs begin to pant, allow them to cool before continuing. While prices for live pigs may be low, remember that a dead pig is worth even less.

FARMERS AREN'T the only persons getting headaches from the weather. Al Robinson, manager of the Wayne Municipal Airport, is watching Logan Creek closely as it winds its way across the west end of airport property. The last big downpour caused some 25 feet of embankment to give way just 100 yards from the west end of the Northeast-Southwest concrete runway. Weather has been eroding the embankment for years, according to Robinson, but this is the most drastic drop-off since he has been manager. He said there is no immediate danger to the runway but stated that if the erosion continues, something will have to be done to shore up the embankment or possibly change the channel of the creek.

Thistle May Hinder Crops

Recently completed research shows that Canada thistle, one of Nebraska's noxious weeds, may interfere with crop growth more than once thought.

This is the finding of Lloyd Haderlie and Robert Wilson, Jr., Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources weed scientists. Their research sustantiates that Canada thistle produces allelotoxins, a poison released in the soil which injures other plants, a process known as allelopathy.

Haderlie said evidence suggests there is more to interference of crops from Canada thistle than just the competition for light, carbon dioxide, water and nutrients. Wilson, located at the Panhandle station in Scottsbluff, found that grinding Canada thistle roots and shoots and mixing them with soil would reduce growth of several crops. Sugar beets were most sensitive to Canada thistle residue, but winter wheat, alfalfa, corn and seedlings of Canada thistle also were reduced in growth vigor. The amount of growth reduction depended on how much Canada thistle material was mixed with the soil.

At the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Haderlie and graduate student Ray Hoefler researched allelopathy by growing Canada thistle in large pots which were then planted with crop plants. Allelotoxins reduced sugar beets' growth even when competition for light, water and nutrients was reduced. In earlier studies, when water was leached through the Canada thistle roots into pots with crops growing, crop growth was reduced.

"If allelopathy is occurring in the crop fields from Canada thistle, there is even more reason than originally thought for control of this serious weed," Haderlie said. "Efforts by everyone involved with control of Canada thistle must be united and vigorous in order to stop it from invading more of our Nebraska farmland."

Winside Cemetery Board Meets

The Board of Trustees of the Pleasant View Cemetery at Winside met in special session recently.

The board asks persons who have memorial flowers and boxes at the cemetery to pick them up by Sunday, June 15, so the cemetery can be mowed. Only flowers in cemetery vases can be left.

The board voted to establish a memorial tree fund. Persons who wish to make a donation or memorial contribution to the fund can contact a member of the board.

Another special meeting is slated June 23. Persons who have suggestions are asked to contact a board member before that time.

The Board of Trustees, including Leon Koch, Ted Hoernan, Russell Prince, and Arlene Zofka, wishes to thank persons who gave donations and memorials during the past year, and for other help and courtesies extended for the upkeep of the cemetery.

Ken Swartz met with the Board to discuss the vacating of a road in Hunter precinct, within jurisdiction of the City of Wayne. A decision was tabled until a later date.
A motion was made and seconded by Popshtil to transfer $200.00 from the Miscellaneous General Fund to the Jail Fund. Roll call vote resulted in all Ayes. The following Resolution was adopted:
WHEREAS, the budget for 1979-1980 allocated to the Jail Fund and contained within the County General Fund to an unforeseen inflation in supplies and an increased amount of Jail Surveillance, has been depleted to the extent that it will be impossible to finish the current fiscal year.
WHEREAS, there are ample funds in the Miscellaneous Fund which is also included within the County General Fund.
IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED, that a sum of $500.00 be transferred from the Miscellaneous General Fund to the Jail Fund to permit its function the remainder of the fiscal year.
On motion by Popshtil and seconded by Eddie the plat of Papenburg Subdivision presented by the City of Wayne was approved. Roll call vote resulted in all Ayes.
The following officers reports of files collected during the month of May and remitted to State and County Treasurers were approved as follows:
Oregretta C. Morris, County Clerk - $1,480.00
Joann Ostlander, CDC - $253.30

Mental Health Center Open House Is June 22

Open House will be held on Sunday, June 22, to display the new offices of the Northern Nebraska Comprehensive Mental Health Center at Skyview Medical Center, Suite 22, 109 North 15th Street, Norfolk.

Hours will be from 1:30 to 5 with the public invited to attend. Tours will be conducted through the center offices and refreshments will be served. Open house includes only the Mental Health Center, not the other offices at Skyview Medical Center.

Exhibits with films and discussions are planned by each program. Northern Nebraska Comprehensive Mental Health Center staff members will be available to discuss their program and the services of the Mental Health Center.

Northern Nebraska Comprehensive Mental Health Center was relocated to Skyview Center on April 1. The center formerly was located in the east wing of the Norfolk Regional Center building.

Northern Nebraska Comprehensive Mental Health Center serves the 22 counties of Northern Nebraska with the main office in Norfolk and 3 full-time branch offices in Ainsworth, Columbus and South Sioux City.

In addition, there are six satellite centers offering weekly or monthly services depending on the needs of that particular community. Satellites are located at Valentine, Hartington, West Point, O'Neill, Albion and Wayne.

Bullheads are Biting

WAITING FOR the fish to bite are brothers Larry (left) and Shane Jacobsen, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jacobsen of Dixon. The pair rode their bicycles to a nearby creek just south of Dixon, put worms on their hooks and cast out into the slow moving current, hoping to bring back some bullheads for supper. However at the time of this picture, the brothers weren't having very good luck. They had seen a turtle and caught a cradad but hadn't yet caught any fish.
