ONE-HUNDRED FOURTH YEAR NUMBER EIGHTY-SEVEN

6-Year Highway Plan Includes 15

The only highway construction planned in Wayne County during fiscal year 1981 is reconstruction of Nebraska 15 from Wayne north to the Dixon-Concord spur, according to the six-year highway program announced today (Thursday) by the Department of Roads.

HOWEVER, grading of shoulders and replacement of structures on Nebraska 15 from the spur into Laurel have been included in the state's projected plans for fiscal years 1982-86.

Estimated cost of the 10.2 miles of Nebraska 15 from Wayne to the spur is $4 million, while the work from there to Laurel is estimated to cost some $863,000.

The only other highway work planned inside the county by 1986 is reconstruction of U.S. 35 from Hoskins to Norfolk. Only 6.9 miles are to be graded, have structures replaced and the highway resurfaced, with estimated cost at $4.32 million.

ACCORDING to District III Engineer Tom Mc Carthy in Norfolk, preliminary work on Nebraska 15 from Wayne north should begin this fall. The highway will not be under construction until the spring of 1981 in order to provide an open and through highway to area residents during the winter months.

Bid letting is anticipated for fall, with construction to run from about March of 1981 to November of 1981. During that time, the highway will be closed and U.S. 35 and U.S. 57 will be used as detours.

Mc Carthy said at one time, Nebraska 15 from Wayne to Laurel was planned for reconstruction, but the Concord-Laurel segment was resurfaced in 1973 because of need. Proposed construction on that segment from 1982-86 will involve replacement of culverts, bridges, etc., and grading of the shoulders, the district engineer explained.

THE DISTRICT engineer noted that from the north entrance of Wayne State College to the north edge of the city limits the highway will be resurfaced only. But from the city limits north, the highway will be regraded and resurfaced.

Mc Carthy said the existing asphalt will be "reclaimed" for use in mixing the new material.

According to the six year program, the following Wayne-area projects are planned:

Dixon County: Nebraska 9 from Wakefield north to U.S. 20 will be resurfaced and the structures replaced at an estimated cost of $3.77 million. The project is divided into two phases: Wakefield to South of Allen and from there to U.S. 20.

Nebraska 12 from Maskell to Newcastle will be graded, resurfaced and structures replaced for 6.5 miles at an estimated cost of $1.69 million.

Dixon and Dakota: U.S. 20 from Nebraska 116 to Nebraska 12 will be resurfaced to include surfaced shoulders for 18.8 miles at an estimated cost of $1.83 million.

Cedar and Pierce: U.S. 20 from Osmond to Randolph for 13.1 miles will have its shoulders surfaced at an estimated cost of $863,000.

STATE HIGHWAY Engineer David O. Coolidge said total statewide plans call for the expenditure of $111 million on the state system and $27 million on the local systems. The combined program of $138 million represents an increase of $18.8 million more than the 1980 highway program.

Principal reasons for the increase are the hike in federal funding for the bridge replacement and rehabilitation program on both the state and local systems, and the shift in federal funds made available as a result of dropping I-580 from the Nebraska segment of the Interstate Highway System.

While federal funds available for the state and local 1981 programs are up $20.8 million over last year, state funds available for the state construction program are down $2.6 million from the 1980 program.

INFLATION caused hikes in non-construction expenditures, and the decline in gasoline consumption have contributed to this decrease in state fund availability for construction, Coolidge explained.

If it had not been for passage of LB 722 by the 1980 Legislature (the two percent excise tax on motor fuels which goes into effect Oct. 1), there would have been only $11 million in state funds for the fiscal 1981 construction year program, rather than $37.2 million estimated.

Coolidge estimated this probably would have precluded the state's being able to match all of its federal highway fund apportionments, and would have reduced the number of projects which could be let to contract in the new construction year.

THE TWO percent excise tax, levied on the basis of the average price the state pays for its motor fuels, is expected to produce $14.2 million from its inception through June 30, 1981. Since a construction year covers 18 months, it is necessary to make revenue estimates beyond the current fiscal year.

Thus, assuming the rate continues at two percent for the remainder of 1981, this revenue should amount to $12.5 million for the last six months of the construction year.

The state's $111 million program calls for improvements to be made on 384.8 miles of its primary, secondary and urban systems, and for major repairs on 186 miles of the interstate system during the new construction year. In contrast, the 1980 program had improvements scheduled on 341.6 miles of the primary, secondary and urban systems.

Holiday Closings Friday

While most retail businesses will be closed Friday, July 4th, a Chamber of Commerce poll indicated that the majority of member stores will be open on Saturday, July 5.

All grocery stores will observe regular hours Friday and Saturday, as will service stations and, of course, the farm community.

ACCORDING to Gary Van Meter, Chamber manager, the majority of retail businesses will remain open for the public's shopping needs unless otherwise noted in advertisements in this issue.

In addition to most businesses, the Courthouse and City Hall will be closed for business Friday, as will all financial institutions. Business will resume as normal on Saturday.

THE WAYNE Herald will be closed Friday and will not publish a paper Monday, July 7. The next Wayne Herald will be published Thursday, July 10. Regular advertising deadlines prevail.

The Wayne Herald employees wish you a safe and enjoyable holiday.

Council Begins Task Of Reducing Budget

The City Council held its third workshop involving the fiscal year 1980-81 budget Tuesday night.

In light of an anticipated deficit of more than $100,000 next fiscal year, the Council has been meeting with Administrator Darrell Brewington to balance the budget.

THE COUNCIL and administrator are attempting to make the necessary monetary cuts in the budget to reduce the projected deficit. A city sales tax issue was defeated May 13 by Wayne voters. The tax would have raised more than $200,000 to help offset the deficit, officials said.

Each department in the general obligation budget — that which is operated from tax revenues — is being examined, and recommendations are being made by the Council the administrator. He will in turn revamp the proposed budget to meet Council suggestions.

AFTER THE Council completes its review of the general obligation portion of the budget, it will take a close look at fee services such as water, sewer and electric. Recommendations are expected in these areas as well.

A more detailed report on the budget situation will appear in several weeks.

Square Dance at Thursday's Market

A square dance exhibition will help get Wayne's first Farmers' Market off and selling Thursday night, July 10.

STARTING AT 7 p.m. in the First National Bank parking lot on East Third Street, a square dance exhibition will be presented. Darrel, Nancy, John and Anita Fuebberth, Bob and Pat Dolate and Calvin and Doris Ward will give the demonstration. Clyde Flowers will be the caller.

TO ADD TO the market flavor, store merchants and clerks will be dressed in their farm work clothes all day Thursday. And although it is still early for farm produce, Chamber manager Gary Van Meter said there will be a variety of other goods available for browsers and buyers.

Handcrafted wares, macrame, crocheted and knitted items are just some of the goods that are already signed up for selling. Van Meter urged area clubs and other individuals to sign up before next Thursday for space.

THE MARKET Thursday will be the first in a series of weekly farmers' markets scheduled this summer. Vendors will be charged a fee of $2 per day or $12 per season. The event is scheduled from the second week in July to October.

Regulations include the following:

— Each seller must have a sales tax permit prior to obtaining the Wayne Farmers' Market stall permit.

— Organization time will be from 3:30 to 4 p.m. with selling time from 4 to 8 p.m. Clean up time is scheduled from 8 to 8:30 p.m.

— The area must be kept clean and every seller will be responsible for cleaning his stall when he leaves.

— The stall fee is to be paid at the time the stall permit is issued.

— Each seller will be assigned a stall as space permits.

— Sellers must have grown or made the items offered for sale.

— One vehicle will be allowed per stall. No vehicle larger than two tons or four wheels will be allowed in the market.

— Application should be submitted not later than one week prior to the market date requested.

— It is suggested that each seller provide a sign identifying his products and price.

— Each seller must abide by the regulations or his permit could be suspended.

LENRD Approves Strip Cropping

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District board of directors approved an agreement with the University of Nebraska board of regents to do a groundwater quality study in Pierce County.

MEETING IN regular session Saturday, the board decided that samples of groundwater will be taken from wells by Bruce Hanson, a research hydrogeologist from the Conservation and Survey Division.

The samples will be lab tested to determine the levels of nitrate concentrations. The report then will give base line data on which future reference and comparisons can be done. The NRD will provide $4,400 which is about 50 percent of the cost of the study, less lab costs.

Directors also approved changes in the Wildlife Habitat Program which will substantially increase payments to landowners. A new practice — strip cropping with oats and sweet clover — will pay landowners $0 dollars per acre annually to plant oats and sweet clover in contour strips in existing crop fields.

ANOTHER NEW practice — strip cropping with permanent cover — will pay landowners $50 per acre annually to establish contour strips of permanent cover in existing crop fields.

The board also approved a $25 per acre land preparation payment to be used with practices which establish habitat, and raised the practice III (oats and sweet clover) to $30 per acre. These last two changes had previously been adopted by Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

IN OTHER action, the board: — approved income of $150,052.19 and expenses of $174,883.91.

— voted to transfer $250,000 to the fiscal year 1980 budget from the general fund to the Willow Creek Sinking Fund. This action provides a total of $525,000 for Willow Project in LENRD funds which is about one-half of needed local dollars for the project, officials said.

— approved a policy favoring a voluntary approach to soil conservation with ample cost share and incentive.

— voted to oppose proposed legislation which would give NRD's the authority to establish an "Interim Control Area" through the Nebraska Groundwater Management Act.

— deferred to LENRD budget subcommittee a recommendation from personnel subcommittee on purchase of an additional vehicle, mileage rate and increase in salaries for fiscal year 1981.

Region IV Board Okays 4.4% Salary Increase

All Region IV Office of Developmental Disabilities employees will receive salary increases of 4.4 percent for the coming fiscal year, plus 19 cents per hour or $3% annually.

Meeting in regular session June 20, the Region IV board of directors approved the increases and gave final approval to the fiscal year 1980-81 operating budget of $3.24 million.

TENTATIVE approval of the fiscal year 1981-82 budget request was given, with final approval to be discussed at the next board meeting in August.

The governing board again reaffirmed its Feb. 28 decision to eliminate weekend residential services at the Wayne Children's Developmental Center.

The issue was re-examined so statements from a fiscal analyst that the region had $100,000 which might be used for such programs as the CDC might be explained. A review of the amount in question showed that the funds were earmarked specifically for the deinstitutionalization of Beatrice State Developmental Center clients. According to legislative intent, the money may not be used for other purposes.

IN OTHER matters:

— the board gave approval of a contract with the Nebraska Office of Mental Retardation to place up to 11 Beatrice State Developmental Center clients in the region during fiscal year 1980-81.

— authorized roof and furnace repairs for a client residence in O'Neill.

— granted approval for the replacement of a furnace and air conditioning system for a client residence in Norfolk.

— by unanimous vote, retained the same board officers for the coming fiscal year. These are Carl Weeder, chairman; Ronald Blaser, vice chairman; Orin Weatherholt, secretary; Roger Nelson, treasurer; and Marvin Hartung, past chairman.

Council, Board Meetings Set

Wayne-Carroll Board of Education and the City Council will meet in regular session Monday and Tuesday nights respectively.

The school board will meet at 8 p.m. at the high school with the following agenda items scheduled:

Review of special education policies, a review of the proposed budget for next fiscal year, a report on staffing by Supt. Francis Haun, discussion on the future of golf, a report on roof repair at the Carroll Elementary School and other items that may come before the board.

The City Council will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the City Hall. A list of agenda items is available at the City Hall.

Board Fact Finder and Board Get Acquainted

Wayne-Carroll School District board of education held its first official meeting Monday night with its fact finder in preparation for further teacher salary negotiations.

SUPT. FRANCIS Haun said the board met with Gary Stover, vice president of administration at Northeast Technical Community College at Norfolk. Stover was selected by Haun after the board instructed him at a recent meeting to do so.

Although the Monday meeting was closed to the public to discuss negotiations strategy, the superintendent did say the meeting was a get acquainted session. There were no motions or actions taken by the board.

ACCORDING to state law, Stover will meet with the Wayne Education Association fact finder representative Jerry Krihs of Lincoln. The two will have 10 days from their first meeting to select a third and independent fact finder before negotiations can resume.

The fact finders will review salary packages of comparable schools that already have settled negotiations and report to the board and WEA. If that solution is not satisfactory to either side, the decision may be appealed to the Court of Industrial Relations.

SUPERINTENDENT Haun said a decision may take as much as a year if the issue reaches the court. Whatever the decision, it will be binding and will be retroactive to Sept. 1.

The board and WEA officially reached a tentative several weeks ago on salary negotiations for the 1980-81 school year.

Baseball Group Seeks Reversal

A contingency of Wayne, Carroll School District taxpayers is expected to be on hand for the regular school board meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the high school.

ALTHOUGH NOT slated on the agenda, the group plans to ask board members to reconsider their decision last month to eliminate baseball as a high school spring sport.

A handful of persons was on hand in June when the board voted to drop the baseball program. Since then, however, there has been a concerted effort among baseball supporters in Wayne to convince the board to reactivate the program.

Signs urging strong support at the Monday meeting have been posted in businesses around Wayne, and area baseball coaches also have asked to comment on the situation.

THE BOARD decided to drop the program based on the program's viability. Wayne is the only remaining Class B public school to offer baseball as a sport, and there are only nine Class B schools in the entire state. Board members have indicated that baseball is not a sport of the future here.

As a lesser consideration, the board felt cutting the baseball program along with several other budget cuts will help improve the financial picture of the school district.

Darrell Moore, a spokesman for the group in support of baseball, said the financial burden of baseball is a moot question this year since businessmen and other taxpayers have pledged enough money to pay for the sport next year.

"WE HOPE TO raise enough interest to get the board to realize the sport is wanted here," Moore said. The lack of competition among schools also is a "poor excuse" for dropping the program, Moore added.

Harder-Thompson Plan August Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Harder of Allen announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Darcy Annette Harder, to Douglas Allen Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Thompson of Minneapolis, Minn.

Legion Posts 14th Win

Midgets, Juniors are Victorious

Depth in the pitching department is an asset for the Wayne Junior Legion baseball team this year. With Tim Pfeiffer, Herman Carroll, Jeff Zeiss and Kevin Nissen sharing duties on the mound, few teams can match the Wayne bullpen.

Carroll and Nissen took their turns on the mound this week, leading Wayne to its 13th and 14th victories.

Nissen threw a six hitter and struckout 11 batters as Wayne defeated Loomis 8 5, Saturday in Wisner. Wayne coach Hank Overin played his second team in that game.

Then, on Monday, Carroll fired a one-hitter to blank Winside 10 0 in Ralph Bishop League play. Carroll fanned 10 batters in the five inning game.

Bunt is Effective
Wayne's reserves took advantage of six hits and six walks to push eight runs across the plate for an 8 5 triumph over Loomis, Saturday.

Nissen limited Loomis to six singles but errors helped the invaders account for five runs.

The locals trailed 1 0 after two innings but scored twice in the third. Doug Proett and Jeff Sperry walked and both moved into scoring position on a sacrifice bunt by Kevin Nissen. One run scored on a fielder's choice by Todd Heier and Brian Fleming brought in the other run with a sacrifice bunt.

Wayne struck for three more runs in the fourth on four base hits. Perry Nissen singled with two outs. Proett doubled, Sperry doubled and Nissen singled. Nelson, Proett and Sperry scored the three Wayne runs.

Fleming, Jeff Brandt and Todd Skokan added three more runs in the fifth for the winners. Nelson had a sacrifice bunt.

roll, an RBI single by McCright, an RBI single by Bruce Schafer and a single by Dion.

Schafer, Doug Proett and Carroll crossed the plate for the final three runs in the top of the fifth. Carroll collected his second double and Pfeiffer added a two-run single.

The win over Winside upped Wayne's Legion record to 14 1. The locals will travel to Wakefield tomorrow (Friday) and to Emerson Monday for further Ralph Bishop League action. Midget action will begin at 6 15 p.m. and be followed by Legion games at 8 30.

Carroll Silences Winside
Carroll took his turn in the pitching rotation and came away with a one-hit shutout over Winside on the road, Monday night.

Jeff Dion, Dan Mitchell, Kevin Nissen and Carroll were the big guns for Wayne offensively. Dion had three singles in three plate appearances. Carroll had two doubles and one RBI. Nissen had two singles and two RBIs and Mitchell had two singles.

Paul Roberts hit a solid base hit in the bottom of the fifth inning to break up Carroll's no-hit bid. Carroll then struckout the final three batters to end the game 10 0 on the 10 run rule. Brian Foote was the only other Winside batter to reach base. A Wayne error put him on first base in the second inning.

Offensively, Wayne scored one run in the second, six in the third and three in the fifth.

Dion led off the second inning with a single and scored when Mitchell and Nissen rapped back to back base hits.

Carroll, Tim Pfeiffer, Dion, Nissen, Jere Morris and Pat McCright all scored in the third. Key hits in the inning were a two run double by Jeff Zeiss, a two run single by Nissen, a double by Car-

Wayne Midgets Gain Win
Jeff Sperry pitched a two-hitter and nine Wayne runners crossed the plate as Wayne trimmed Winside 9 1 in Midget action of the Ralph Bishop League, Monday night in Winside.

Jeff McCright was the game's leading hitter, driving in three runs with two triples. Steve Overin also had a double and a single to bring in two runs.

McCright's first triple brought home Jeff Allen in the first inning. McCright later scored from third on a passed ball. The game's first run was scored by Sperry who reached base on an error.

Overin's double in the third inning scored Al Lindsay and Todd Schwartz to give Wayne a 5 0 advantage. Three more runs in the top of the fourth put the game well out of reach. Sperry and Allen scored on McCright's second triple of the game. Then, Lindsay drove home McCright with a sacrifice fly.

A run by Todd Pfeiffer in the fifth put the final margin at 9 0. Pfeiffer walked, took second on a wild pitch, reached third on a passed ball and finally scored on another passed ball.

Winside's Barry Bowers and Rod Doffin had the only hits for the host team. Doffin broke up the shutout in the bottom of the sixth inning. He reached base on a Wayne error, advanced on a sacrifice by Doug Jaeger, reached third on a passed ball and scored on a sacrifice by Curt Janke.

Midget & Legion Games:

Laurel Wins 3 of 5

Scott Hallstrom belted a seventh inning home run to help Laurel's comeback bid and give Wakefield a 7-5 win in Junior Legion action, Thursday night at Laurel. Laurel won the Midget game as Phil Martin tossed a two-hitter for a 6-3 triumph.

In the Legion game, Wakefield scored in the top of the first inning but Laurel took a 3-1 advantage at the end of the first. Wakefield rallied to score four runs in the third for a 5-3 lead.

The hosts came back and chiseled away at the Wakefield lead, scoring one run in the fifth and one in the sixth for a 5-5 tie. Hallstrom's two-run shot in the top of the seventh secured the victory for Wakefield.

Tom Prestori was the winning pitcher and Lori Swanson suffered the loss.

In the Midget game, Phil Martin slowed down Wakefield's bats and Kelly Robson led Laurel's hitting attack.

Losing pitcher Mark Stanzel had both Wakefield hits.

For Laurel, Robson drove in two runs with two base hits in two plate appearances. Mike Jonas also had two RBI's and one single. Ron Hirschman drove in another run with a base hit. Brian Marquardt and Jamie Johnson had the other hits for the home team.

Laurel 11, Pender 5. Laurel had an explosive first inning and then survived a shaky second inning to post an 11-5 win over Pender in Ralph Bishop League Legion baseball action, Monday night at Laurel.

The hosts knocked in nine first inning runs, gave up four runs in the second and then settled down to take the 11-5 decision. Brian Buss carried the hot bat for the winners, going 3-for-4 at the plate and driving in five runs. Doug Lute had a double and single in three at bats and Randy Martinson had two RBI's and a base hit to lead the hitting attack. Laurel's nine run first inning all but put the game away early. In the Midget game, pitcher Dave Marquardt held Hartington to three singles and he was backed by the errorless play of Laurel's defense.

Jamie Johnson had two hits and one RBI. Ron Hirschman, Mike Jonas and Curt Christensen collected one hit each for the winners.

Laurel 020 111-5 5
Hartington 000 020-2 3

Staying Afloat

JEFF STRUVE floats on his back at swimming lessons, Tuesday morning in the Wayne municipal swimming pool. Lifeguards have been keeping busy teaching full classes of youngsters the basics of swimming.

Softball Fever Coming

"Softball Fever" is in the air and will soon be invading the community of Wayne.

Not the same softball fever that has possessed so many active people in recent years, but a zany, four player softball team that has accepted a challenge to play a group of local stars.

"Softball Fever" has scheduled a game Sunday, July 13 against a group of all stars from the Wayne Men's Slow Pitch Soft ball League. The fast pitch game will be played at 7:30 p.m. at the Wayne city ball park.

Team captain Gary West played shortstop with Eddie Feigner's famous "The King and His Court" for 10 years before starting his own group.

The softball exhibition will include pitching behind the back, between the legs, from second base and from center field from Bob Edgar, West, Edgar and two other players will share the shortstop, first base and catching duties. One of the players is a girl.

The group bills itself as a cross between "The King and His Court" and the "Haemoglobin Globetrotters".

Advance tickets will sell for $1.50 for adults and $1 for persons age 12 and up. Persons under 12 years of age will be admitted free of charge.

Town Team Ball Scheduled Tuesday

A small crowd of baseball fans witnessed the return of Town Team baseball to Wayne in a 9-3 win over Laurel last Thursday. Now coach Hank Overin is hoping that a larger crowd will watch his team return to the home field at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, July 8 against Wakefield's Town Team.

The scheduled game against Wakefield is the second of several exhibition games planned this season.

The Wayne players are hoping to draw enough interest to reorganize Town Team baseball on a regular schedule for next year.

Most of Wayne's team members are currently playing baseball for other Town Teams in Northeast Nebraska. Next year, tryouts for local players only will be held to start up a Town Team. The program was dropped after the 1978 season.

Admission for the exhibition game against Wakefield will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for high school students. Younger persons will be admitted free of charge. Any profits will go toward a ball park renovation fund.

Registration Open For Tennis Lessons

Pre-registration for free tennis lessons through the Wayne City Park and Recreation Program was held at 11:30 a.m., Wednesday at the Wayne State College tennis courts.

Anyone who missed pre-registration will still be able to register from 8 a.m. to 12 noon Monday, July 7 at the college courts. Lessons will begin at this time. Registration at this time is necessary so instructor Tom Roberts can divide individuals according to age, sex and ability.

The lessons, which will run through the end of July, are offered for persons at least 10 years of age and no older than 18. This is the sixth year lessons have been offered through the Wayne Recreation Tennis program. Classes will be held at 8, 9, 10 and 11 a.m., daily Monday through Thursday.

Youths will be required to furnish their own shoes and racquets if possible. A limited number of racquets will be available. All tennis balls will be furnished by the Recreation Department. United States Tennis Association certificates and badges will be awarded to those individuals who successfully complete the classes. One can of tennis balls will also be given for each award earned.

Roberts has completed two USTA sponsored tennis teaching clinics.

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Huscoll

WHEN TALKING TO a friend last week at the Morye Hall reunion at Wayne State College, I learned that former WSC standout baseball catcher Lyle Smith had been offered a graduate assistant's job to help coach baseball at the University of Colorado.

That was before Colorado dropped baseball as I mentioned in this column about a week ago. Smith's former WSC coach Larry Schultz was head coach at Colorado until the school announced its plans to cut baseball. Smith may still accept a grad assistant job in the physical education department.

Former Wayne State coach Schultz accepted a head coaching position at Fort Hays College in Kansas after leaving WSC and before taking over the helm at Colorado. In last week's column, I incorrectly stated that Schultz had coached at Emporia State. Seems I got my Kansas colleges mixed up. Thanks to Jeff Dion for straightening me out on that.

THE EXHIBITION Town Team baseball game between Wayne and Laurel last week was really enjoyable. That was baseball at its best in this area.

Many of the same players who "broke me in" at sports writing when I accepted this job over two years ago, played in that game. I thought they were good ball players when I watched them play for Wayne's Legion and Town Teams in the past two years, but their improvement has been incredible.

After a decline in Town Team interest in the past years, Town Team baseball may again be on the upswing. I hope the small turnout of fans at the exhibition game last week was no indication of the interest in this area.

The caliber of baseball played by these individuals is too high to risk another year of "Town Team-less" baseball. Hank Overin is planning to re-organize his post-Legion team again next season and I'm all for it.

Another exhibition game, this time against Wakefield, is scheduled Tuesday, July 8 at the Wayne city ball park. If you're interested, show your support.

WHILE ON the subject of baseball, supporters of the Wayne High School baseball team are urging people to voice their opinions at the Wayne-Carroll school board meeting at 8 p.m., Monday, July 7.

This may be the last chance for supporters to challenge the decision of the school board to drop baseball for the 1980-81 school year.

MEANWHILE IN THE world of tennis, Bjorn Borg attempts to win his fifth consecutive Wimbledon title. He's definitely the best tennis player in the world today and probably the best in history.

According to Arthur Ashe, only about three players are capable of defeating Borg and all are left-handers. On that list are Jimmy Connors, John McEnroe and Roscoe Tanner.

I've been a Tanner fan for several years and hope that he can accomplish what he nearly achieved last year, defeating Borg and winning Wimbledon.

But realistically, I have to say that Tanner probably has the least chance of defeating the hard hitting Swede. I used to cheer for Borg years ago when he was on his climb upward. Now, mainly because I don't like to see one individual dominate, I am hoping Borg loses soon.

I'm not a fan of Connors or McEnroe but will be backing them 100 percent if either should meet Borg. It's time an American again won Wimbledon.

Greens, Blues Prevail In Boys T-Shirt League

The Greens defeated the Browns 9-4 and the Blues defeated the Reds 7-1 in the Wayne intra-city baseball league, Tuesday night at the city ball park.

Greens 9, Browns 4: Rick Haase was the winning pitcher and Brad Moore was the loser. Leading hitters for the winners were Don Larsen with a triple and single, Bob Sherman with a two-run single and Haase with a double. For the Browns, David Longe had a two-run double and a single and Ted Luaders had two hits.

Blues 7, Reds 1: Winning pitcher was Brent Pick who threw a three-hitter. Losing pitcher was John McCright. Leading hitters for the winners were Kevin Maly with a triple and two doubles, and Pick with two hits. Rod Gilliland had a double to pace the Red team.

Recession Means Balanced Budget for '81 Is A 'Sham'

A deepening recession means the balanced budget proposed for fiscal year 1981 is a "sham," Congressman Doug Bereuter said recently.

"Carter Administration officials, including Treasury Secretary (G. William) Miller, are now beginning to concede what I have been saying all along — that the balanced budget proposed for fiscal year 1981 is a sham," Bereuter said. "I deeply regret that fact."

"As we go deeper and deeper into a recession, the high unemployment that follows will bust the budget because the government will receive less in tax revenues and pay out more in unemployment benefits."

"Those officials who tell the American people that the budget has been balanced and will stay in balance are only uttering hollow rhetoric typical of an election year," Bereuter said.

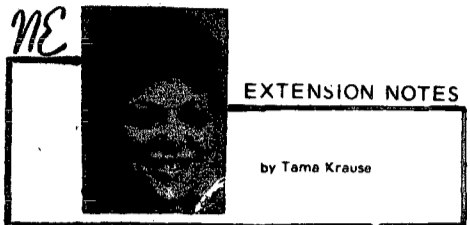

Bereuter made his remarks in connection with small business and energy advisory committees in Fremont. Similar remarks were made before small business and energy advisory committee meetings in Norfolk, South Sioux City and before a meeting of his education advisory committee meeting in Wayne.

"I am certainly in favor of a budget that is balanced through reduced expenditures, not through increased taxes. But let's be honest about how and when a balanced budget will be achieved."

The Administration proposed a budget for the next fiscal year with a surplus of about $16.5 billion, but because of action taken by the majority in the House and Senate, the budget will run a $10 to $20 billion deficit, by conservative estimates.

Without any tax cuts, Bereuter said, individuals next year will have to pay Federal income taxes averaging 11.8 percent of their personal income, the highest proportion since 1944.

EXTENSION NOTES

by Tama Krause

CAUTION KEY TO REFREEZING FOOD

Be cautious when you store food in your freezer. Plan a course of action in case of an emergency to prevent your food from thawing.

After a freezer failure, you must make sure that the foods stored in it are still frozen. If the shut-down lasted longer than 24 hours, check every package of food to make sure that none have thawed.

If a package still has ice crystals in it and feels firm or hard when you squeeze it, it has not thawed and is safe to refreeze. Those packages that have thawed can sometimes be refrozen if the food has not spoiled. Immediately destroy any packages that have a questionable odor or color.

Some foods that have completely thawed can be frozen, depending on how cold they have remained. Thawed fruits can be refrozen safely. If the fruit has warmed, however, the texture may be affected and fermentation may have begun.

Uncooked vegetables can be refrozen if they are still very cold, however their quality will be affected. It is recommended that vegetables warmer than the approximate temperature of the refrigerator not be refrozen because their quality will be very poor.

Uncooked meats and poultry which have remained below refrigerator temperature can be refrozen if they do not have a questionable odor. However, ground and diced meat that has been thawed for more than a day should not be refrozen. Meat and poultry that are warmer than refrigerator temperature should not be refrozen because of potential bacterial growth.

Cooked foods are more likely to show growth of undesirable bacteria than uncooked foods. This is because food poisoning organisms may be introduced during handling, and after cooking few other bacteria are present to compete with the food poisoning organisms for food. Most cooked food which has completely thawed should not be refrozen, even if it has remained below refrigerator temperature.

Cooked meat, poultry and fish which have thawed should not be refrozen. Neither should combination dishes of meat or poultry, casseroles or soups.

Ice cream and sherbet will be very poor quality if refrozen. Fruit pies which have remained below refrigerator temperature can be refrozen. Other baked goods, bread, cookies and cakes also may be refrozen.

No cream filled pastries should be refrozen, regardless of temperature. The milk and eggs in the cream fillings promote bacterial growth.

Food that is refrozen should be used fairly quickly. The quality of all food that is refrozen will be reduced compared to foods frozen only once.

If much of the food in your freezer has thawed, it is possible to can some of it. Can the food before it spoils or treat it like fresh food and use it quickly. If there is too much for your family to use immediately, give it to friends, or have a party.

'Energy Seminar' Set in Hartington

The Small Farm Energy Project will conduct its third annual "Small Farm Energy Seminar" in Hartington on Aug. 15 and 16.

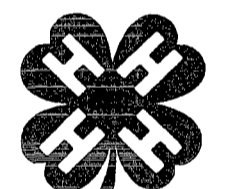

Alternatives to high costs of energy and fertilizers will be featured during the two day event. A number of new energy devices will be on display in addition to those of earlier seminars.

The two day event will feature tours on Friday and Saturday of farms in the Hartington area which have participated in the project for three years. Seminar participants will have the opportunity to see solar water heaters, a portable solar air heater, a wind electric generator, several solar grain driers, minimum tillage implements, manure composting equipment and other innovations. The composting process converts farm waste into valuable humus fertilizers.

The seminar will also include research reports on three years of studies by the energy project, including the performance of solar systems. Special reports will also concentrate on small farms with diversified livestock enterprises, which have proven to be most profitable enterprises related to energy use. The public is invited to all sessions and tours.

The energy seminar is being directed by the Small Farm Energy Project, a research effort sponsored by the Center for Rural Affairs in Walling. Forty-eight farms in Cedar County have cooperated in the project, which began in the fall of 1976. The project has demonstrated the use of energy conservation and alternative forms of energy on small, low-income farms. In 1979, cooperating farms of the energy project saved an average of nearly $1,100 per year in energy compared to other farms not making changes in energy use patterns. More information on registration fees, agendas, meals and lodging is available by writing Energy Seminar, Small Farm Energy Project, Box 736, Hartington, 68739, phone 254-6893. Early registration is Aug. 5.

Keep on Picking to Keep on Growing

With a vegetable garden, the more you harvest, the more you have to harvest! When your produce is ready to harvest you must keep your plants picked if you want them to continue to bear.

Kathy Weiss, home gardening coordinator for the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources says this is why planning your garden is so important.

If you plant one variety of a vegetable all at the same time, the fruits will all mature within a few days of each other and large quantities will be ready at once. Because you want to pick your vegetables at their prime, stagger planting dates so you don't have too much to use at one time, she says.

Knowing when vegetables have reached their prime and are ready to be picked is a skill that will improve with experience, Weiss says. Generally pick them when you're ready to use them because vegetables quickly lose their garden fresh quality as time passes. If for some reason vegetables can't be used right away, store them in a cool place to keep deterioration to a minimum, she advises.

Early spring crops seem to mature quickly and there is a very short period in which they are in their prime. "A lot of these crops can be harvested before full maturity to spread out the eating time," she explains. Examples are spinach, lettuce, carrots, beets, onions and summer squash.

When harvesting, biggest is not always best as far as quality is concerned. Grow a giant pumpkin if that's your goal, but for the best eating quality, vegetables should be harvested when they are table size. "If this is hard to visualize, notice the size of most of the vegetables in the produce department of your grocery," Weiss says.

She offers these suggestions for garden crops now being harvested:

— Beans. Harvest young, tender beans, no larger than a pencil.

— Carrots. Pull carrots when they're young and tender. Maximum size should be the diameter of a quarter.

— Spinach, lettuce, chard. The first two may be at about the end of their harvesting season. If not, try cutting the entire plant off one to two inches above the crown, including the small and large leaves. If you do this, three harvests usually are possible before bolting. Chard can take the heat, so if it's harvested by cutting, it should produce all summer

The temperature of the interior of the sun is estimated at 20 million degrees Fahrenheit.

— Peas. Harvest time will depend on the variety, but at any rate, harvest snow peas when the pods are flat, snap peas anywhere from flat pods to full sized peas. English peas before the peas become large and hard.

— Radishes. Pull these when young and tender. Leave them too long and they crack and become hot and woody.

— Tomatoes. They're ready when red ripe on the vine. Gardeners are usually ready for the tomatoes before the tomatoes are ready for them.

— Zucchini. Harvest this squash continuously, with a maximum length of six inches for best eating quality. Zucchini blooms are edible.

— If proper harvesting techniques are used, the more you harvest the more you will end up growing," Weiss reiterates.

By having a garden, you have the opportunity to have vegetables of the highest quality.

"This doesn't happen automatically," she repeats. Quality is something that must be worked for. It's not guaranteed with every garden.

Large Demand Shown For Ethyl-Alcohol

The latest government figures for imports indicate a large demand in this country for ethyl-alcohol for a variety of purposes.

Congressman Doug Bereuter said recently.

The Department of Commerce has released figures showing imports of ethyl alcohol of nearly 12.2 million gallons for the month of April. Bereuter said the alcohol, which is used for a range of non beverage purposes, is valued at over $14 million.

"The high level of imports clearly indicates a tremendous demand for alcohol, whether for gasohol or other uses," Bereuter said.

"This confirms what many of us here on Capitol Hill have been saying for quite some time, that a substantial and growing market exists for alcohol based fuels and that the government should actively encourage domestic production of alcohol for fuel, instead of relying on alcohol produced in other countries."

Ethyl-alcohol or ethanol is derived from grain.

Bereuter is co-sponsoring major legislation (H.R. 3905) to provide direct loans and loan guarantees for construction and operation of alcohol-fuel plants.

Of the total imported, 7.7 million gallons came from Brazil and 3.7 million gallons from Argentina. The rest is supplied by Canada, Norway and West Germany.

Hearing Census Planned By State Group

The Nebraska Commission for the Hearing Impaired is conducting a voluntary census of all the hearing impaired/deaf people in Nebraska.

This census will include all people in Nebraska that have a hearing impairment. A hearing impairment can range from a mild loss in one ear to those who are profoundly deaf in both ears.

It is very important that the hearing impaired/deaf people of all ages volunteer to be counted in this census. All names and addresses will be kept confidential by the Nebraska Commission for the Hearing Impaired.

By knowing who and where all the hearing impaired/deaf people in Nebraska, it will be possible to:

- Determine what the hearing impaired/deaf needs are; send information on new laws and rights; learn how many hearing impaired/deaf people are interested in adult education and what types of classes they want; locate interpreters and provide interpreter training; find out who has a television decoder or would like to learn more about it; learn what assistance or information NCHI can provide; share information on activities and events.

If you are hearing impaired/deaf, include name and address and write to Nebraska Commission for the Hearing Impaired (NCHI), 4600 Valley Road, Lincoln, Neb. 68510.

LENRD Approves Water Study

CAPITOL NEWS
By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

In what was described as one of the most significant decisions in many years, the state Supreme Court has ruled that transbasin diversion of water is not prohibited by Nebraska law.

The court, in its unanimous decision, said it came to the "inescapable conclusion" such diversion is permissible.

The opinion, written by Chief Justice Norman Krivosha, said the state constitution is clear on the point. There is nothing to indicate use of the water of every natural stream is to be limited to within a particular watershed basin. Krivosha said, adding: "Quite the contrary, the clear and unambiguous language constitutionally mandates that the use of every stream, regardless of its location, be dedicated to all of the people, regardless of their location."

In upholding a 1936 Supreme Court ruling, the 1980 court said the earlier decision "totally ignored" provisions of the state's constitution.

The opinion was issued in connection with an appeal from the Little Blue Natural Resources District which sought to divert 125,000 acre-feet of water from the Platte River.

Last winter following a long public hearing, John Neuberger, director of the Department of Water Resources, found there was water for diversion, but he cited the 1936 court decision as the reason for not allowing it.

The court sent the Little Blue NRD matter back to Neuberger who now will have to determine whether the diversion would be in the public interest.

Dave Mazour of Davenport, manager of the Little Blue NRD, said the court's ruling delighted him because the proposed project, if it becomes a reality, would enhance farming operations in seven counties — Adams, Webster, Clay, Nuckolls, Fillmore, Thayer and Jefferson.

But Mazour cautioned there still are obstacles, the most obvious being the question of public interest. He also said the economic feasibility of the project would have to be studied as would ways of financing it.

Now that the law has been decided, Neuberger said, he will consult with his attorney in order to determine administrative procedures to use in deciding the public interest question.

He said the public interest issues were presented during the previous hearings and that it might be possible to come to a decision after a review of the hearing record.

Neuberger also noted any public interest decision would be appealable to the Supreme Court.

Among the diversion opponents was the Central Platte Natural Resources District in Grand Island whose manager, Ron Bishop, said the claim diversion in the public interest will be strongly disputed. One of his NRD's arguments will be that Platte River flows are an important source of ground water recharge, he said.

Confidence of success

Even though the Nebraska Tax Limit Coalition Inc. did not gather enough signatures as quickly as he had hoped, Ed Jaksha of Omaha expressed confidence recently the group's petition drive to restrict government spending will be successful.

Jaksha, president of the coalition, said he did not receive sufficient signatures in his Omaha headquarters by his own self-imposed deadline, but added, "People have a habit of holding onto these petitions until the last minute."

If the proposed constitutional amendment proposal is to be included on the November General Election ballot, the petitions must be signed by July 3 by 49,242 registered voters or by 10 percent of the total vote for governor in 1978.

Jaksha said he thought another legal requirement — that 5 percent of the registered voters in 38 counties sign the petition — had been satisfied.

Leaders of the coalition hope to collect between 60,000 and 70,000 names to provide a margin for signers who will be disqualified because they are not registered voters.

Jaksha said one reason for his optimism was he knew that in certain counties people with 1,000 collected signatures had not yet turned them in.

He said the statewide campaign has been more difficult than the successful drive last August to put a property tax ceiling on the school district.

One provision in the rather complicated constitutional amendment proposal would limit real estate taxation to no more than 1.5 percent of the actual value of the property. The proposal also includes a freeze on local property tax collections, state assumption of local costs of programs if requires local governments to implement, and a rollback of state and local budgets to their 1979-80 levels in the 1981-82 fiscal year. After that, spending could increase at a rate equal to one half of the annual rise in Nebraska's average per capita income. However, the maximum increase could not exceed 7 percent annually.

Economic summit meeting held

About 150 people attending the Governor's Nebraska Economic Summit Conference were told residents of the Cornhusker state can expect the current recession to be severe but relatively brief.

That message came from John Zanzow, a Chase Econometrics Inc. representative who predicted a gradual improvement in the economy starting early next year.

Zanzow, who is from Pennsylvania, characterized the slump as the second worst since World War II. Only the recession in 1974-75 was more serious, he said.

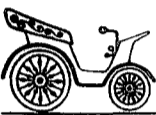

The rate of recovery will be slowed, Zanzow said, by continuing inflation.

The Nebraska Conference of Agriculture and Business arranged the summit gathering, which was attended by representatives of a wide variety of agricultural and business interests.

Many of the speakers blamed the federal government for many of the problems plaguing the business and farm sectors.

President Carter's embargo of grain sales to the Soviet Union also received sharp criticism. Frank Johannsen of Bayard, spokesman for the Nebraska Wheat Growers Association, estimated Nebraska farmers lost $12 million because of the embargo.

A committee will try to summarize the complaints and recommendations voiced during the conference and will send them to members of the Nebraska congressional delegation.

WAY BACK WHEN

30 years ago
July 6, 1950: Repairs to the 51-year old Wayne County courthouse and the Wayne County jail will be completed some time next week. The commissioners ordered the slate roof of the courthouse repaired, bricks in the old building laced pointed and asphalt replaced in the tower. ## Tremendous Cooperation In Grand Island: Thone

Tremendous cooperation by local and state officials during the Grand Island tornado aftermath and since helped to save lives and to restore all vital services as quickly as possible.

Grand Island Mayor Bob Kriz is a dedicated, capable leader who worked almost unceasingly. Every segment of the community has responded. Nearby communities helped, the private agencies have been magnificent and we have had support from federal officials at every level. . . . even personal support from President Carter. Response by state agencies made me extremely proud and I visited the city twice within several days to make certain the state was doing everything possible.

State civil defense headquarters in Lincoln has personnel on alert 24 hours each day. The first tornado didn't touch down in Grand Island until nearly 9:30 p.m. on June 3rd, but as early as 7:15 that evening the state civil defense headquarters had warnings of possible tornado conditions and began alerting local civil defense organizations. That's a response that goes on un-noticed many times when luckily there are no touchdowns during a period of a tornado watch.

"By 11 p.m. on the night of the Grand Island tornado, Hastings Company C of the Nebraska National Guard had been called up for duty. The Grand Island unit was on annual training duty at Fort Carson, Colo., but was called back early and by the following Saturday joined in the protection of those who had damaged property."

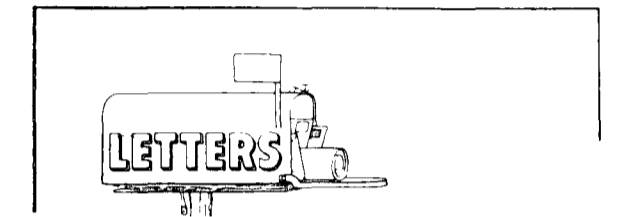

"The state fire marshal had two people on duty in Grand Island by 10:30 on the night of the tornado. Four people by midnight, eight by 2 a.m. and 14 by the next noon. They assisted local urban and rural fire departments in fighting and preventing fires, crowd control, search and rescue and in eliminating electrical hazards. The state patrol and roads officials were also on the scene the night of the tornado.

At least ten other state agencies provided help during the days after the tornado. The last of the state officials who helped to cope with emergency conditions left Grand Island on June 17th. State officials coordinating federal and state programs to help rebuild will be in the Hall County seat as long as needed, which should be a couple of months yet.

State Senator Ralph Kelly of Grand Island, a deeply devout man, has been a source of inspiration to the shocked citizens of that city. State Senator John DeCamp, Neligh, held a hearing of the legislature's energy committee in Grand Island to urge the rebuilding of property in ways that will conserve energy and use less fossil fuels. The state energy office has personnel in Grand Island now to help achieve that goal.

"Destruction in the Grand Island tornado was much more extensive than any other in Nebraska in recent years. The great cooperation among all elements, however, is going to bring about the creation of a city that will be much more attractive and an even better place to live than Grand Island had been before."

Dear Editor

The surge of recent letters concerning the increase in seasonal swimming pool fees leaves me perturbed. The people of your area apparently can't appreciate a good deal.

We are former residents of Wayne who purchased and made use of the family season pass and swim lessons included in the cost of the pass. We felt it was a reasonably priced form of entertainment.

We now live in Lincoln, family passes are $65-$70 and we are charged extra for any swim lessons at an average of $15-$18 per session per child.

A swimming pool is basically a swimming pool and water is water. For services being pretty much the same I feel the people have nothing to complain about.

perence as a parent that any young person who has studied a subject in high school under a WSC trained teacher and then attends a college with high academic standards — necessarily of course, outside the state of Nebraska — may find himself or herself very badly prepared in the subject.

Dear Editor

The school administrators' evaluations of recent Wayne State College graduates who are now in their first year of teaching which were the subject of a recent article in The Wayne Herald, have no validity at all as measurements of the quality of the WSC teacher training program, for at least three reasons.

1. No school administrator will publicly state that a teacher he or she recently hired is incompetent. If only because such a statement could embroil the administrator with his board.

2. No school administrator is qualified to evaluate any teacher's "knowledge of subject" without frequently attending a teacher's classes, and administrators are too occupied with administering (whatever that is) to attend any teacher's classes frequently.

3. Very few, if any, administrators are competent to judge more than two subject areas, and many are not competent to judge as many as two, so that even if an administrator frequently attended a teacher's classes he or she could not evaluate the teacher's "knowledge of subject" unless the subject were the administrator's own major or minor field.

This writer can testify from his ex-

July 30, 1980

According to a businessman friend of mine, psychologists have proven that there are five major characteristics that a successful person has. They are: empathy, courage, belief, and ethics. It is also known that these are developed by the approximate age of 21.

We believe these characteristics to be nourished and developed in the athletic situation. In view of Wayne High's past performance in baseball, and knowing that success tends to enhance future success, I find it difficult to understand the elimination of this sport in the high school.

I believe this program has benefited too many youngsters coming up through the Wayne system to deserve such a casual elimination by the board. We at Laurel have competed against this baseball program since we developed our own program in 1977.

As the Laurel coach, I've seen many good baseball players come through Wayne schools since we've competed against them. More important, I believe I've seen a number of young men gather characteristics that are going to help them to future successes. Mike Mallette's baseball program has always been well disciplined, organized and goal oriented. I really believe that the programs participants derive benefits from this type of participation.

Times are rough for public education, but it's unusual that an opponent would see more in a school's program than members of that school and it's district. We hope you can find a way to continue, we will all miss the excitement and intensity of our battles if you don't.

Best of luck for the reinstatement of your baseball program.

The $100 Billion Story The Networks Forget

Richard L. Leshar, President Chamber of Commerce of the United States

Donald Lambro, a reporter for United Press International, has just written a book that is most reading for every American taxpayer. It's called "Fat City: How Washington Wastes Your Taxes." . . . and Lambro spent more than three years researching it, digging up information about wasteful, mismanaged federal programs, and countless others that are either totally ineffective or outdated. I recently had the pleasure of speaking with him on the Chamber's weekly radio program, "What's the Issue?"

Lambro says no taxpayer can wander through the maze that is official Washington without concluding that we have more government than we need, more than we can afford, and certainly more than the American people want. Nevertheless, as he researched this problem and discovered its staggering proportions — he estimates that through waste alone, the federal government squanders $100 billion in tax money each year — he was shocked to see the news media virtually ignoring it. Indeed, one of the questions he asks is this: "When was the last time you can remember a network news program doing a documentary or a special on-unnecessary and wasteful federal spending. . . . When was the last time an American news magazine devoted its cover to the story?"

To those who say any cut in federal spending would take food out of the mouths of the poor and throw old ladies out in the snow, Lambro replies:

"What we're talking about are tens of billions of dollars in unnecessary programs which I detail in this book, everywhere from $100,000 a year we spend on the masseurs in the travel spas, to $8 million to a U.S. Capitol agency, to three-quarters of a billion dollars a year we spend to provide cut-rate groceries for retired military men who are in second career jobs."

"This is the kind of waste we're talking about. And if we get rid of that, neither the national welfare or the national security would be harmed. There would be more money left in the pocketbooks of the American wage earner, and we'd have a little bit more money to put in those programs that are truly necessary."

Why is this waste not being eliminated? Lambro cites two specific reasons. First, Congress is not doing a proper job of oversight. He notes that the subcommittee hearings, where the oversight should be taking place in the form of tough interrogations of federal officials, are normally attended by no more than two or three members of Congress. Sometimes, just one member, the chairman, is present.

But Lambro also points his finger at the Administration, which promised bold initiatives and then failed to deliver. He devotes a chapter of his book to examining President Carter's pledge to reduce the number of federal agencies from roughly 1,900 to no more than 200. Lambro told me: "When we really boiled it down, you get down to 80 agencies that the Administration says have been abolished. Now, we looked at those 80 agencies and found that. . . the overwhelming majority of them were merged or hidden, if you like, into larger and newly created programs. The only things that have disappeared in the budget are the titles of these agencies. The functions are still being performed. The employees are still there. The program is still there."

Result? Less than a dozen unknown, invisible, little offices have been terminated. By every criterion, the government has grown. The payroll is up by 63,000 since Gerald Ford left office. The commitment to restrain spending remains a hollow promise.

Donald Lambro's book performs a much needed service of translating the debate on federal spending from generalizations to specifics. It provides taxpayers with detailed facts about where and how their money is being wasted. This is precisely the kind of information the public should be receiving systematically from the news media. The fact that apparently it is not, however, only makes Mr. Lambro's exhaustive effort all the more worthwhile.

FREEDOM

What is a universal concern. Nations go to war to get or keep it. Children run away from home in search of their idea of it. Married couples divorce to have their definition of it. Inhabited people declare bankruptcy to get out of responsibility — one idea of freedom. Some move to the city in search of anonymity — another idea of freedom. Others move to the country in search of fewer pressures and more flexible schedules — another concept of freedom. Sociologists speak about freedom from others — environment. Psychologists speak about freedom from self.

But what is freedom? How is it obtained? What are the responsibilities... what is the role of others... what is the role of God?

The desire and struggle for freedom is not new. It is as old as the Garden of Eden, where Adam and Eve rebelled against God. That rebellion brought enslavement rather than freedom. From that experience we learn that real freedom from slavery is connected to our relationship to God, the Creator and Lord of all the universe — and the liberator of all, Israel's history in the Old Testament teaches us much too.

We learn that to put freedom, for freedom's sake, in the spotlight, God is too often not clearly seen. Thus real freedom is hidden. But when we put God in the center-spotlight, real freedom results — whether or not we were intentionally seeking it. And there is a good reason, for as freedom is a universal concern, God is the Universal One. Only He can meet the universal needs of humanity. Faith in Him frees us from fetters — whatever they may be.

We invite you to confide and learn of genuine Freedom which can be the foundation for every and all freedoms.

Farm

Forward Pricing Is Consideration

Editor's Note: This is the eighth in a series of several articles developed by the Cooperative Extension Service in Lincoln. The articles provide some practical advice for making the best of a bad situation. The articles will deal with farm management practices, cropping decisions, marketing and financing.

Forward pricing 1980 crop grain
The fact that current corn, wheat, soybean and milo prices are well below the production costs is even more reason for producers to be concerned about taking advantage of opportunities to forward price their 1980 crop.

In most years there are opportunities during the growing season to establish a favorable price, usually due to concern over weather related problems. The usual harvest time transportation and storage complications are generally not reflected in the spring or mid-summer price rise of fall futures contracts.

The producer must decide on "a favorable price" for his particular operation. The place to start is budgeted cost of production. The cost of producing crops will vary from farm to farm and from one area of the state to another. The cost of producing irrigated and dry land crops will likely be different. All costs should be included. Don't overlook labor, management, and return on investment in machinery, equipment and land.

Producers may contract with a local elevator for the sale of grain and establish the price prior to harvest, or establish a selling hedge in the futures market. The hedge is established by selling futures contracts. The sale of futures contracts is a substitute for selling cash grain which is being produced. To evaluate hedging opportunities the producer must be able to estimate the expected "basis" at the time the crop is sold locally and an offsetting futures contract is purchased. The "basis" on that date is the difference between the cash price received from the elevator and the price at which the offsetting futures contract is purchased.

A local "basis" history is necessary to evaluate hedging opportunities. By obtaining past Thursday bid prices for a local elevator producer can have a local "basis" history. With these prices, County Extension Agents can produce a local "basis" history through an AGNET program.

At the present time, hedging opportunities are not attractive. On April 15, December, 1980, corn futures closed at $2.98 per bushel. If a producer's local "basis" history suggests a "basis" of 50 cents per bushel, the $2.98 futures price (April 15) might net the producer $2.48 less hedging cost of 1-2 cents per bushel, ($2.98-.50). In view of 1980 production costs the producer may not find a $2.98 futures price ($2.48 net) to be a favorable forward pricing opportunity.

To be aware of better forward pricing opportunities producers should 1) know their production costs, 2) develop a local "basis" pattern to estimate expected "basis," and 3) keep informed — know what futures prices and cash contract opportunities are throughout the growing season.

A word of caution! Don't overcommit a crop which has not been harvested through hedging or contracting. At planting time be cautious about pricing more than 20 percent of expected production. Be a hedger, and not a speculator in the futures market. Losses in grain farming can be small compared to speculative losses in the futures market.

Farmers Plant More Grain Items

Nebraska farmers have planted more corn, sorghum, soybeans, oats, dry edible beans, sugar beets, popcorn and fewer acres to barley this spring than a year earlier.

Corn growers planted 7,650,000 acres up 4 percent from 1979. This acreage is 2 percent above April 1 intentions. Acreage intended for grain harvest is estimated at 7,150,000 acres, 4 percent higher than last year.

Sorghum producers planted 2,150,000 acres, 8 percent more than a year ago. Estimated acreage for grain harvest at 1,930,000 is 5 percent higher.

Soybeans were planted on 1,830,000 acres, 12 percent above last year's record 1,630,000 acres. Acreage for harvest is estimated at 1,780,000, 11 percent more.

Wheat acreage planted has been revised upward 100,000 acres to 3,200,000 acres, 7 percent higher than the 1979 crop. Acreage for harvest is indicated at 3,100,000, up to 22 percent. The percent of acreage planted last fall expected to be harvested based on June conditions is 97 percent and, if realized, would be the highest percent since 98 percent for 1946.

Oats were planted on 510,000 acres, up 2 percent from last year. Acreage for harvest as grain is estimated at 380,000, the same as 1979.

Barley plantings at 28,000 acres and acreage for harvest at 26,000 are both 7 percent lower than last year.

All hay acreage for harvest is forecast at 3,700,000, unchanged from a year earlier. Alfalfa acreage at 1,650,000 also is the same.

Dry edible beans were planted on 155,000 acres, exceeding last year's record high by 11 percent.

Sugar beet growers planted 88,000 acres, 14 percent above 1979.

Popcorn acreage at 63,000 exceeds last year's record of 58,000.

Caution Urged in Spraying Sunflowers

Honeybees and other pollinating insects are very important to commercial sunflower growers. Insects are necessary for complete pollination of flowers and seed production. Unfortunately, a very destructive insect, the sunflower head moth, also is present during the bloom ing period of sunflowers. If not controlled, head moths frequently make profitable sunflower production impossible in Nebraska. Insecticides used to control head moths also kill bees, so a carefully planned control program is essential.

The most realistic approach to sunflower head moth control is to use an insecticide only when necessary.

Controls are used to kill moths before eggs are laid. Insecticides after the moth larvae are in heads are not highly effective.

To determine the time for application, look for moths in the evening when they are most active. A damaging infestation is likely when there is one or more moths found per five plants. Moths are about 3/8 inch long with wings rolled tightly around the body when they are at rest. They are buff to grey color, and most will have one or two small brown dots on each forewing. The spots are good identification characters, but frequently are rubbed off when moths are captured.

Apply insecticides only when the count is one or more moths per five plants, and sunflowers are not past 10 percent bloom. If moth flights continue, a second application may be necessary.

To protect bees and other pollinating insects and assure good pollination, notify all beekeepers in a radius of two to three miles when fields will be sprayed, so they can move or cover hives. County agents have locations of most beekeepers in their counties. Sprays should be applied only late in the evening when moths are active, and honeybees are not in the field. By careful planning and application, bee losses will be minimized and more efficient pollination will be realized.

Public Comment Sought On 1981 Wheat Program

Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland has asked the public to comment by July 21 on provisions of the 1981 wheat program.

The secretary said the department is seeking comments on the amount of the national program acreage, the reduction from the previous year's harvested acreage required to guarantee established target price protection on the total 1981 planted acreage, whether there should be a set-aside and if so, the extent of the set-aside, if a set-aside is required, whether a limitation should be placed on planted acreage, whether there should be a land diversion program, and if so, the extent of such a diversion and the level of payments.

The public is also being asked to comment on the loan and purchase levels for 1981 crop wheat and whether the special wheat acreage grazing and hay program should be implemented. Under new authorities granted under the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1980, the secretary may consider current cost of production estimates to determine 1981 target prices. In the past, changes in target prices were derived based upon a formula considering only prior year's costs. Because of these new authorities, Bergland said, the department is asking for comments on how the 1981 target price should be adjusted from 1980 levels and whether producers should be required to comply with established farm normal crop acreage to be eligible for program benefits.

If a set-aside program is implemented, the secretary has discretionary authority to adjust the target price to compensate producers for participating in such a program. Comments are requested on whether this authority should be used and the extent of any adjustment. Like in the past, the public is asked to give input on related program provisions such as commodity eligibility, storage requirements, premiums and discounts, establishment of county rates and other provisions needed to carry out the loan and purchase program.

Most of these determinations for wheat are required to be made by the secretary by Aug. 15. However, Bergland said he hopes he will be able to announce the 1981 program before that date. In making the final decision, recommendations and views submitted by the public will be considered as will the best data available on world and U.S. crop conditions, production and consumption prospects. Written comments must be received by July 21. They should be sent to the director, production adjustment division, ASCS, USDA, room 3630 S. Box 24155, Washington, D.C. 20013. All comments will be available for public inspection at the director's office during regular business hours.

WATERING — LAWNS

During July and August when it's hot and windy, your lawn may lose one fourth inch of water daily. This means watering your lawn every fourth or fifth day with one to one and half inches of water. Don't sprinkle lawns early as it promotes weed growth and shallow grass roots.

WATERING — TOMATOES

Tomatoes need about one inch of water each week. This will vary according to temperature, type of soil, rainfall, and whether or not a mulch is used. Sandy soils require more frequent watering. Heavy soakings at weekly intervals are better than many light soakings. Light frequent waterings promote shallow root systems. Mulching will reduce water loss from the soil.

One fourth of the body's bones are in the feet.
