ONE-HUNDRED FOURTH YEAR NUMBER NINETY-FOUR

Council Adopts Budget, Discusses Census

A quite lengthy and varied agenda was disposed of by the City Council in relatively short order Tuesday night, with items including approval of the coming year's budget and discussion of the latest census data.

WITH NO ONE objecting at public hearing, the Council approved a fiscal year 1980-81 budget which calls for expenditures of $4,113,654 and a tax asking of $2,613,573. The local tax requirements are $2,137,121.

The budget, as approved, reflects cutbacks of nearly $178,000. These include the elimination of one employee in the Police Department and one in the Street Department. Also included in the cutbacks is a reduction in the cost of living raises from 8 percent to 6 percent.

The budget cuts were a result of decisions by the City Council after it was estimated the city would face a deficit of some $180,000 for next year. A double digit inflation rate, the 7 percent lid limitations and a dwindled electric reserve account were reasons for the deficit.

THE CITY'S administration plans to pursue a review of Census Bureau estimates that Wayne's population dropped from 5,380 in 1970 to 5,114 in 1980.

City Administrator Darrell Brewington said the city has "worked hard" to get an accurate count, and employees have investigated each of the various sets of figures provided by the Census Bureau.

To date, Brewington said, "we can find nothing in error" concerning the Census Bureau estimates. The city now has fewer than 10 days to mount an effective appeal before the figures become final.

CHAMBER OF Commerce, Executive Vice President Gary Van Meter said he was "very concerned about" population" and cited three areas the city should investigate in its review of the figures.

The college census survey may not be accurate, he said, citing reports that census bureau personnel had problems in counting college students. Boundaries of the city also should be considered as well as vacant houses and those which have been determined as uninhabitable.

Councilwoman Carolyn Filler, who was involved in census taking here, said she felt the count in the eastern half of Wayne was reasonably accurate.

"I WAS amazed at the number of vacancies (vacant houses) there were," she said. She pointed out, however, the possibility that data is still being received by the Census Bureau from Wayne.

Low bid of Brower Construction Co., Sioux City, Iowa, was approved for resurfacing of about 10 1/2 blocks of streets in the southeast quadrant of Wayne. Total bid was $27,880 and the work should take about five days from start to finish.

Other bids were from Western Engineering of Harlan, Iowa, $28,315; and Kraco Asphalt Co., Sioux City, Iowa, $28,254.

BIDS FOR renovating of the city's ball park also were accepted. These included Dakota Fencing and Supply, $11,459, for fence work; Schmader Electric Construction Co., West Point, $34,975 for electrical work; River City Builders, South Sioux City, $18,025, for restrooms and concession area, and William Wertz Construction Co., Decatur, $4,920, for the locker room area.

The project should be completed by late fall if enough volunteer help is provided by local citizens.

In other action, the Council asked the administration to review the ordinance on building code permit fees. There has been a discrepancy in what is included in building permits, and the Council wishes to review the matter.

THE COUNCIL gave City Clerk Norm Melton the approval to drop 23 delinquent accounts from the city's books. Totalling some $1,002.34, the accounts were for over due and uncollectable utility debts.

Melton said he is considering asking for higher hook up deposits to help reduce the problem, but will discuss that with the Council at a later date.

The Council approved an industrial development policy statement at the request of Chamber Manager Van Meter. It has as its overall goal the economic development of Wayne through the search of industry compatible with the community's orderly growth and available resources.

APPROVAL by the Council merely is reaffirmation of the same policy of two years ago, Van Meter said.

In other action, the Council: Approved the appointment of Chuck Barnes as a new member of the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department; Reappointed, at the Mayor's request, Howard Witt to the Wayne Housing Authority.

Approved final payments and certificates of completion involving street construction, water extension and sanitary sewer extension to Marywood Subdivision. Total project cost was $133,316 which included $10,000 in engineering fees.

Approval of an ordinance annexing Mohr industrial tract east and south of the railroad right of way;

GAVE THE administration the authority to seek bids on two new pickups (one of which will be an economy model), a new mid-size police cruiser and a loader for the Street Department.

Approved resolutions adopting plans and specifications for construction of Hillside Drive into Sunnyview Subdivision and Thorman Street into the Mohr Industrial Tract. Set bid opening of Aug. 26 on construction of street improvement districts for Hillside Drive and Thorman Street. Estimated cost of both projects is $84,000.

And entered into executive session to discuss administrative personnel.

Wayne Economy Shows Strength

Figures released by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln reaffirm Wayne County's surprising economic strength for the first quarter of this year.

WAYNE COUNTY is by several percentage points the leader in net taxable retail sales for January, February and March. The county recorded sales 15 percent ahead of the same period of 1979, while the region as a whole had sales only 6.4 percent ahead of last year.

Sales for the first quarter of 1979 were 16 percent ahead of the first quarter of 1978 as well.

Total volume of sales in the county was $10,837 for the first quarter and compare to $9,422 in taxable sales for the same period of a year ago. Madison County lead the region with sales of $48,631 compared to $46,685 during the same period of 1979.

Antelope County had sales 8.6 percent ahead of a year ago; Madison County 4.2 percent ahead of a year ago; Pierce County 7.4 percent head of a year ago; and Stanton County 6.4 percent ahead of a year ago.

OF ALL counties in the state, Wayne County ranked eighth in total number of net taxable retail sales. Gosper County in South Central Nebraska was the state's leader at 30.8 percent more than the same period of a year ago, with Chase County in Southwest Nebraska some 30.4 percent ahead of last year's first quarter.

But things statewide were not quite as rosy.

THE REPORT, issued earlier this week, said "it should come as no surprise that retail sales (in the state as a whole) failed to advance as rapidly as prices. The retail commodity price index increased 13.6 percent comparing the first quarter of 1980 with the first quarter of 1979."

Making allowances for a state population increase of 4 percent, real retail sales declined 8.4 percent during the first quarter of 1980 compared with year previous levels.

the report stated.

OF THE state's 26 planning and development regions, not one recorded a real increase in retail sales. The largest increase in retail sales during the first quarter of 1980 compared with the same period of a year ago was recorded in Region 10 (Boone, Platte, Colfax and Nance counties) where the dollar volume of retail sales increased 11.5 percent.

After adjusting for inflation, real retail sales in that region declined by nearly 2.5 percent.

Only four of the state's planning and development regions managed to record gains in retail sales above the state's average 5.6 percent increase. These include the following:

Region 10 recorded an 11.5 percent increase, Region 11 (Wayne, Madison, Pierce, etc.) a 6.4 percent increase, Region 21 a 6.1 percent hike, and Region 26 a 10.1 percent increase.

Regions 1 and 2, the state's two largest retail markets, were slightly below the state's average during the first quarter of 1980. Region 1 is Douglas and Sarpy counties, and Region 2 is Lancaster County.

THE GEOGRAPHICAL area where retail sales were slightly better than average were concentrated in the central and eastern sections.

There were some counties bucking the downward trend with notable gains during the first quarter of 1980 despite the overall dismal retail sales picture. These were Nance, Platte, Wayne, Kearney, Gosper, Hooker, Chase, Grant, Dundy, Kimball, Sioux, Brown, Blaine, Custer, Garfield, Wheeler, Furnas and Hitchcock counties, which had sales exceeding 10 percent.

The poor showing of Nebraska retail sales during the first quarter of 1980 placed Nebraska below the nation. Nationally, an approximately similar retail sales measure increased 9 percent compared to Nebraska's 5.6 percent.

A Fishing Trip

LITTLE EMILY WISER anxiously awaits her catch at a fishing pond, one of several games featured at the fourth annual Carnival Against Muscular Dystrophy held at the Dick Keidel home in Wayne Saturday. Although there wasn't any water in the pond, there were plenty of prizes for the young fishermen. Emily is the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Galen Wiser of Wayne. Jeff Keidel has sponsored the carnival for the past four years to raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Proceeds this year amounted to $145.07. Youngsters assisting Jeff included Bethany Keidel, Dean and Brett Fuelberth, April and Mark Schierling, Brian and Greg Schmidt, Andrea Marsh, Sarah Peterson, Marnie Bruggeman, Chrissie Nazarenko and Katy Griess. Howard Schmidt of Wayne was the winner of a transistor radio given away during the day.

Construction Outlook Here Cautious Yet Mixed

The immediate future for construction in Wayne apparently is a mixed bag, a survey conducted by The Wayne Herald found Friday.

Four local persons involved in construction had differing views of what the construction industry would bring here over the next few months.

THE MOST optimistic outlook was provided by John Vakoc who is in the process of developing Sunnyview Subdivision north of Amer Inn.

Although the industry has been down in recent months due to high interest rates and other economic factors, Vakoc feels the market will begin to show signs of strong recovery in the first half of 1981.

Vakoc Construction Co. has been building its operation for 20 years, he explained, and was geared to 20 new homes a year. But when the so-called recession hit, Vakoc employees were shifted to types of work they usually would not have undertaken. Consequently, they were trained for a variety of construction phases rather than just one or two.

ALTHOUGH Vakoc has had to take on work his company normally would not have taken on, interest rates have begun a slow retreat. This should start the construction business toward its previous levels, he theorized.

Vakoc said Sunnyview Subdivision is pacing its development to the market. It should be completed about the time the market returns early next year. "We're keeping our own people busy with paving, sewer and other improvements," he said.

His advice to the prospective builder is this: Competitiveness among contractors is high. Now is the time to build. Interest rates are down, prices are down. Waiting a few months, "may cost them thousands."

PAT GROSS, who is developing Marywood Subdivision and who was responsible for Terra Ridge, said his prospects "hinge on the cost of money. The entire program relies on interest rates."

He is confident that, with the recent decline in interest rates, the construction business will come back with the growth of the community. "Our entire economy bears on the farm prices. We need the rain to keep up the prices."

STEVE GULL of Heritage Homes says their business is showing signs of improvement also. "We have had a slight increase in the last two weeks and we're bidding on some governmental building projects, but won't know for sure until November," he said.

Initially, business declined because of interest rates, Gull explained. He cited recent dry weather as another factor in the industry's slow recovery.

TO INDICATE construction here is a long way from levels of a year ago, Bob Carhart of Carhart Lumber Co. said he sees the industry's future as "very poor."

Nothing he does not plan any new development projects soon, he said he does not see any change in the immediate future.

Statewide Burning Ban in Effect

WAYNE VOLUNTEER Fire Department personnel were called to a grass fire late Monday afternoon about 2 1/2 miles east of here on the U.S. 35 right of way. Several hundred square feet were burned. Fire Chief Dick Korn reminds area residents of a statewide burning ban imposed for the rest of the year. Dry conditions have created fire hazards such as the dry grasses and timbers along the state's roadways. Persons must secure a burning permit from Korn before they can burn anything outdoors. This excludes approved incinerators, burning barrels, etc.

 The business had been in the Anderson family for 64 years, and has been in the same location on the Main Street corner.
 For many, their motto — try the drug store first — was a way of life in the Allen area. Helen and Armond plan to stay in the Allen area and "take life easy." The Schroeders have named their new business "Something Country."

Winside School Tax Asking Declines

The financial picture at Winside School District is looking up.

SUPT. DON Leighton said the school district will realize an actual decrease in property tax askings for the coming 1980-81 school year. In contrast, the district came face to face with a rather large increase in tax askings a few years ago.

The property tax request for Winside will be down approximately $24,624.57 for the coming year, the superintendent said. On the present valuation, this would be a decrease of some 2 mills.

INCREASES IN the amount of state aid for next year and a reduction in staff are major factors contributing to the projected decline in tax requests.

However, Leighton warned, "with the 7 percent lid in mind, the school could face problems in the future with less income because the 7 percent will be figured on a smaller number. But I feel that property owners need the break now."

The school's operating budget will go up 11.9 percent for the 1980-81 school year, or $91,847. Of this increase, $29,496 — or 5.3 percent — is due to salary and salary related items, Leighton explained.

ACTUALLY, the superintendent explained, the amount of the budget spent on salary and salary related items will decrease from 59.4 percent in 1979-80 to 55.8 percent next year.

"The reason for this is a reduction in staff employed by the school. The guidance counselor's position was cut back to a 50 percent position and one physical education position was not refilled when it was vacated. His position was absorbed by another faculty member," Superintendent Leighton noted.

Salary settlements in the school system this year for beginning teachers with no experience went from $9,125 to $10,250. The superintendent's salary went up from $25,320 to $27,620 which includes insurance and other benefits.

NON-CERTIFIED salaries went up 12.33 percent. Health insurance is provided for the teachers in addition to their salary, Leighton explained.

The total budget, which includes the cash reserve, will be up $126,847, representing a 14.8 percent increase. However, the superintendent noted, this will be well within the 7 percent lid law.

Wayne Wranglers

The leader showed slides on "Haltering, Bridling and Saddling," "Grooming" and "Hauling Safety." The group discussed projects for the Wayne County Fair.

The club will meet before the fair to practice with their horses. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

American Iris Society Selects Local Varieties

Roger Nelson, local iris grower and hybridizer, recently received word that two of his iris originations have received honorable mention awards from the American Iris Society.

Honorable mention is the first award an iris is eligible for after it has been registered and released.

In announcing its awards for 1980, the American Iris Society chose a California originated variety called Mystique to receive the Dykes Medal, the highest award bestowed by the Society.

Of the 90 honorable mention awards, Nelson received two for his varieties known as Glory Bound and Metropolitan.

Receiving 19th place honorable mention, with 71 votes, was Glory Bound, a dinner plate sized blend of rose and deep orchid with a touch of amber in the center and a large red beard. Metropolitan, which has blue-white top petals, smooth raspberry orchid bottom petals and a large red beard, came in 29th, receiving 56 votes.

Nelson said both irises are vigorous and dependable performers in cold climate as well as warm. The top vote getter was Christmas Rubies, originated by Melba Hamblen of Roy, Utah. Mrs. Hamblen introduced both Nelson's Glory Bound and Metropolitan varieties to her garden in 1978.

Winner Goes to State

Will it be Wayne or Wakefield?

ANYWAY YOU look at it, a lot of runs were scored in the Area 3, Class B Tournament at Wakefield this week. Above five runs are scored by the Wayne Midgets in a 12-0 shutout of Hartington, Sunday night. Six individuals scored for the locals, who reached the finals

Area 3, Class B Results

There were no real surprises in the first two days of competition at the Area 3 Class B Tournament in Wakefield, Sunday and Monday.

In the Midget division, Wayne annihilated Hartington 12-0 and Wakefield trounced Randolph 12-5 setting up Wednesday's final between the two area teams. The winner of Wednesday's matchup will qualify for the State Tournament at York.

In the Legion division, probably the biggest surprise was the absence of South Sioux City. Hartington received a first round forfeit when South Sioux failed to show up for their scheduled Sunday night game. Because of the forfeit, the original five-team field has been reduced to four teams.

The remaining four teams are Wayne, Wakefield, Randolph and Hartington. Hartington eliminated Randolph 10-3 Tuesday night and Wakefield defeated Wayne 9-6. Wayne was scheduled to face Hartington Wednesday night with the winner meeting Wakefield on Thursday.

Games were scheduled last night, tonight (Thursday) and possibly tomorrow night to decide the state qualifier. As host team, Wakefield will automatically qualify for state. If the hosts should win districts, the second place team will also qualify.

Sunday: Hartington Juniors, 1, South Sioux 0 (forfeit)
Wayne Midgets 12, Hartington 0
Wakefield Midgets 12, Randolph 5

Monday: Wayne Juniors 7, Hartington 6
Tuesday: Hartington Juniors 10, Randolph 3,
Wakefield Juniors 9, Wayne 6

Wednesday: Hartington Juniors vs Wayne Juniors, 5:30 p.m.
Wayne Midgets vs Wakefield Midgets, 7:30 p.m.
Thursday: Wakefield vs Wednesday's winner (finals).

Wakefield Reaches Finals

Host Wakefield made sure Sunday afternoon, that the finals of the Area 3 Class B Midget Tournament will be played between area teams. The home team creamed Randolph 12-5 in first round play.

Wakefield coach Paul Eaton moved several Midget players up to the Legion team to strengthen the club for district play. Thus, the Midgets are now forced to rely on several Pony League players and a couple of players from Allen, who joined the team earlier in the season.

One of those Allen players, Robb Linafelter earned the pitching victory in Sunday's win over Randolph. Jeff Coble offered relief help as Randolph was held to two base hits.

Offensively, Wakefield took advantage of eight errors and added seven hits to run up the score. The hosts scored twice in the first and third innings and added eight more runs in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings. A four run fifth inning was the decisive one.

Randolph scored one run in the second and two each in the third and fifth innings.

Midgets Force Showdown with Wakefield

The Wayne Midgets capitalized on eight Hartington errors and pounded out eight hits to reach the finals of the Area 3 Class B Tournament at Wakefield with a 12-0 win, Sunday night.

Wayne and Wakefield, a 12-5 winner over Randolph, were scheduled to meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the championship game. The winner will qualify for the Class B State Tournament at York.

Jim Sperry limited Hartington to four hits in the game which was shortened to five innings because of the 10-run rule. The locals didn't open the scoring until the third inning. Six runs in the third and six more in the fourth put the game well out of reach.

Wayne's third inning rally began with two outs. Chad Dorcay started things off with a base hit and Mark Hummel entered the game as a pinch runner. Todd Pfeiffer drew a walk to move Hummel into scoring position.

A hard grounder by Sperry was misplayed, allowing Hummel to score from second. Jeff Allen walked and Jeff McCright pounded a two-run double. The rally continued as two more runs scored on a grounder by Al Lindsay that was misplayed Steve Overin and Todd Schwartz each reached base on errors, scoring Lindsay with Wayne's sixth run

Wayne blew the game wide open with a similar fourth inning. Dorcay, Pfeiffer, Sperry, Allen, McCright and Lindsay all scored. The big hit of the inning was a two-run single by McCright. Tim Heier drove in one run with a sacrifice fly.

Wayne's defense held Hartington scoreless in the final two innings, securing the victory and advancing the Midgets into Wednesday's finals against Wakefield.

Laurel Midgets Stop Emerson For 3rd Straight District Crown

Phil Martin fired a no-hitter at Emerson to lead the Laurel Midgets to their third consecutive district championship. Monday night, Laurel defeated host Emerson 6-1 in the finals.

Martin mixed a good curveball with a tailing fastball to record 10 strikeouts. Laurel coach Bob Weisenberg said, Ron Hirschman ripped a long homer to right center to get Laurel started in the second inning. Dave Marquardt pounded a bases loaded double in the fifth to give the locals some breathing room. Hirschman followed with a single to score Marquardt.

"Phil had an outstanding pitching effort and received very good defensive play," Weisenberg said. "The timely hitting by Dave Marquardt sure helped out."

Marquardt had three RBIs and Hirschman had two to lead the attack.

In earlier tournament action, Laurel rolled over Ponca 10-0 by the 10-run rule. Thursday night Laurel's top five hitters collected all seven hits and scored eight of the 10 runs.

Jamie Johnson and Brian Marquardt each slashed out a pair of hits to back the three-hit pitching of Phil Martin. Martin earned his 10th victory with the shutout. Dave Marquardt and Martin drove in two runs each. The local Midgets also smashed Coleridge 26-0 in the district tournament. Laurel will now compete in area playoffs, with the winner qualifying for state.

Wakefield Gains Favorite's Role in Area 3 Classic

HERMAN CARROLL steps on the plate for the winning run in Wayne's first round game as Jeff Zeiss waves him in. The throw home (lower right hand corner) was too late for the catcher to put the tag on Carroll. Wayne won this game 7-6 but lost to Wakefield 9-6 in second round competition Tuesday night. Wakefield defeated Randolph 19-0 in its opening round game. Wayne was scheduled to play Hartington in a rematch Wednesday night and Wakefield will play the winner tonight (Thursday) in the finals.

A new favorite was born in the Area 3, Class B Tournament, Tuesday night at the Wakefield city ball park. The host Wakefield Juniors handed top seeded Wayne its first loss 9-6.

A day of rest proved helpful to Wakefield which was able to go with ace pitcher Mark Starzl on the mound. Starzl pitched the first two innings in Wakefield's 19-0 romp of Randolph, Sunday night.

Wayne, which had to play without a day of rest according to the tournament pairings, used three different pitchers in the game.

The hosts are now in the driver's seat of the double elimination tourney. They stand 2-0 and will receive another day of rest due to the victory over Wayne.

Wayne and Hartington were scheduled to meet in a do-or-die matchup last night. The loser is eliminated from the tourney while the winner advances to face Wakefield at 7:30, tonight (Thursday).

A rundown of the tournament games shows that Hartington won by forfeit over South Sioux City in a preliminary game. Wakefield downed Randolph 19-0 in first round action, Sunday and Wayne topped Hartington 7-6 in the other first round game, Monday.

If Wakefield should lose tonight (Thursday), a final game will be played tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. to decide the championship. Win or lose, Wakefield will qualify for state because it is the tournament host. The other team to reach the finals will also qualify.

An erratic but effective Mark Starzl held Wayne to six hits, pitching his way out of jams in the second, fifth, sixth and seventh. The hard throwing right hander struckout 13 batters.

Jeff Zeiss started for Wayne and pitched 3 1/2 innings before receiving relief help. Herman Carroll pitched to two batters in the fourth inning and Kevin Nissen finished up by pitching the final 3 1/2 innings.

The hosts scored in the first inning when

Larry Soderberg singled, stole second and came home on a base hit by Barry Jones.

Wayne added three runs in the second inning to take its only lead of the game. Jeff Dion singled and Tod Heier beat out a bunt. Jere Morris then drew a walk to load the bases with one out. Back to back walks to Zeiss and Carroll brought home Dion and Heier for the first two runs. Morris scored on a wild pitch.

Momentum Shifts

The turning point of the game came in the fourth inning when Wakefield scored six runs on two hits and an error. Blaine Nelson reached base on an error and Wayne Guy drew a walk. Both runners advanced on a wild pitch.

Then, with two outs, pinch hitter Rick Guy walked and Tom Preston singled in two runs. The next two batters walked bringing in another run. Starzl helped his own cause by driving in two runs with a base hit and Jones later scored on a wild pitch.

Leading 7-3, Wakefield added an insurance run in the sixth. Preston walked, stole second and scored on a base hit by Jones. The inning ended when Wayne right fielder Jeff Dion threw out Jones as he tried to score from second on a hit by Starzl.

Wayne, the home team in the game, had stranded three base runners in the fifth inning but managed to score one run in the bottom of the sixth. Pinch hitter Pat McCright reached first base on an error and took second and third on a throwing error of an attempted pick-off play. Carroll slapped a triple to the left field wall for an RBI.

Tim Pfeiffer walked and stole second base but both runners were stranded as the inning came to a close. Twelve Wayne runners were left on base in the seven inning game.

The final blow was dealt in the top of the seventh inning when left handed Dale Phipps blasted a hard shot over the right field fence for a solo home run and Wakefield's ninth run.

Just when things looked hopeless for Wayne, the Juniors put together a rally which held fans in their seats until the final out. With one out, Heier walked and stole second and third bases.

One out later, pinch hitter Sperry walked and stole second base. McCright singled in one run and Zeiss was hit by a pitch, loading the bases. Carroll was hit by a pitch, scoring Sperry for Wayne's sixth run of the game. However, with bases loaded and two outs, a ground ball was fielded by shortstop Preston and thrown to first base for the final out.

Wakefield Tornado Strikes 19-0

Randolph was no match for the finely tuned Wakefield Juniors, in Sunday's first round tournament matchup. The Area 3, Class B hosts lowered the boom on Randolph with an embarrassing 19-0 romp, Sunday.

Pitcher Mark Starzl, who has moved up as Wakefield's number one pitcher because of an injury suffered by Rick Guy a month ago, fired a one-hitter to stifle Randolph's offense. He recorded 11 strikeouts in the five inning game and let only five batters reach base.

Wakefield cracked seven hits and used 15 walks and seven Randolph errors to run away from its opponents.

The locals scored six runs in the top of the first inning and came back with three more in the second to put the game on ice early. Larry Soderberg ripped an in the park home run to the left field wall to lead the attack in the first inning.

In the second inning, Rod Nixon slammed a double and Soderberg added a single to lead the way.

The third inning was even more productive for the hosts. Five of the first six batters walked and the other reached base on an error. Then, Dale Phipps rapped a bases loaded triple for the big blow.

Wayne Guy doubled home two more runs

In the fourth inning to round out the scoring Barry Jones and Bill Warren added singles in that inning.

Leading scorers were Jones and Scott Hallstrom with four runs each and Soderberg with three runs. The win advanced Wakefield into Tuesday's semi final game against Wayne. The double elimination tournament was scheduled to continue Wednesday, Thursday and possibly Friday at the Wakefield city ball park.

Happy Ending for Wayne Juniors

A story book ending lifted Wayne's Juniors from the jaws of defeat and carried them to an exciting 7-6 triumph over Hartington, Monday night in the Area 3, Class B Tournament at Wakefield.

Tim Pfeiffer pitched the complete game for Wayne and was credited for the win.

Herman Carroll charged home with the winning run on a base hit by Tim Pfeiffer in the bottom of the seventh inning. Carroll's run capped a three-run one out rally.

Wayne, entering the game with a fine 21-4 record, didn't look like the same club that fled for first place with Wisner in the Ralph Bishop League this season. The Juniors committed five errors and struggled to slip past Hartington in the double elimination tournament.

The first inning went according to the game plan. Wayne's first three batters managed to score, putting pressure on Hartington early in the game.

Jeff Zeiss walked and stole second base. Herman Carroll doubled home Zeiss and then stole third base. Consecutive walks to Tim Pfeiffer and Dan Mitchell loaded the bases with no outs.

Relief pitcher Gerald Wieseler forced a pop out and strikeout on the next two batters. Then, Jeff Dion cracked a hard grounder which was misplayed. Carroll and Pfeiffer both scored giving Wayne a 3-0 advantage.

Hartington struck in the third inning, erasing Wayne's early lead, and reversing the advantage. A three-run homer by Chris Walt capped a five run inning which put the visitors on top 5-3. Four singles added to the attack.

Patent Wayne scored one run in the fourth as Carroll walked, moved to second base on a balk and scored on an error. Left hander Dean Millander took over relief duties for Hartington in that inning.

Hartington got the run back in the bottom of the fifth inning as Tim Bonertz rapped a high fly ball to right field. The ball was lost in the lights and dropped for a triple. Bonertz scored on a sacrifice.

Top seeded Wayne tried to make a comeback in the fifth and sixth, innings but couldn't get a key hit when needed. Two runners were stranded in the fifth inning and a double play, ended a scoring opportunity in the sixth.

Things looked bleak in the seventh and final inning as Bruce Schaffer grounded out to open the bottom of the inning. Speedy Jere Morris drew a walk and lead-off hitter Jeff Zeiss followed that by drawing a walk of his own.

With runners on first and second, clutch hitter Carroll came through with his third base hit of the game, scoring Morris. Zeiss held at third base and Carroll moved to second on the throw into the infield.

Tim Pfeiffer took his turn by facing a single down the third base line to score Zeiss for the tying run and Carroll with the winning run.

Wayne and Wakefield were scheduled to meet in second round action, Tuesday. The double elimination tourney continues tonight at the Wakefield city ball park.

Will it be Wayne or Wakefield?

Midgets Force Showdown with Wakefield

The Wayne Midgets capitalized on eight Hartington errors and pounded out eight hits to reach the finals of the Area 3 Class B Tournament at Wakefield with a 12-0 win, Sunday night.

Wayne and Wakefield, a 12-5 winner over Randolph, were scheduled to meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the championship game. The winner will qualify for the Class B State Tournament at York.

Jim Sperry limited Hartington to four hits in the game which was shortened to five innings because of the 10-run rule. The locals didn't open the scoring until the third inning. Six runs in the third and six more in the fourth put the game well out of reach.

Wayne's third inning rally began with two outs. Chad Dorcay started things off with a base hit and Mark Hummel entered the game as a pinch runner. Todd Pfeiffer drew a walk to move Hummel into scoring position.

A hard grounder by Sperry was misplayed, allowing Hummel to score from second. Jeff Allen walked and Jeff McCright pounded a two-run double. The rally continued as two more runs scored on a grounder by Al Lindsay that was misplayed. Steve Overin and Todd Schwartz each reached base on errors, scoring Lindsay with Wayne's sixth run.

Wayne blew the game wide open with a similar fourth inning Dorcay, Pfeiffer, Sperry, Allen, McCright and Lindsay all scored. The big hit of the inning was a two-run single by McCright. Tim Heier drove in one run with a sacrifice fly.

Wayne's defense held Hartington scoreless in the final two innings, securing the victory and advancing the Midgets into Wednesday's finals against Wakefield.

Area 3, Class B Results

There were no real surprises in the first two days of competition at the Area 3 Class B Tournament in Wakefield, Sunday and Monday.

In the Midget division, Wayne annihilated Hartington 12-0 and Wakefield trounced Randolph 12-5 setting up Wednesday's final between the two area teams. The winner of Wednesday's matchup will qualify for the State Tournament at York.

In the Legion division, probably the biggest surprise was the absence of South Sioux City. Hartington received a first round forfeit when South Sioux failed to show up for their scheduled Sunday night game. Because of the forfeit, the original five-team field has been reduced to four teams.

The remaining four teams are Wayne, Wakefield, Randolph and Hartington. Hartington eliminated Randolph 10-3 Tuesday night and Wakefield defeated Wayne 9-6. Wayne was scheduled to face Hartington Wednesday night with the winner meeting Wakefield on Thursday.

Games were scheduled last night, tonight (Thursday) and possibly tomorrow night to decide the state qualifier. As host team, Wakefield will automatically qualify for state. If the hosts should win districts, the second place team will also qualify.

Sunday: Hartington Juniors, 1, South Sioux 0 (forfeit)
Wayne Midgets 12, Hartington 0
Wakefield Midgets 12, Randolph 5

Monday: Wayne Juniors 7, Hartington 6
Tuesday: Hartington Juniors 10, Randolph 3,
Wakefield Juniors 9, Wayne 6

Wednesday: Hartington Juniors vs. Wayne Juniors, 5:30 p.m.
Wayne Midgets vs. Wakefield Midgets, 7:30 p.m.
Thursday: Wakefield vs. Wednesday's winner (finals)

Wakefield Reaches Finals

Host Wakefield made sure Sunday afternoon that the finals of the Area 3 Class B Midget Tournament will be played between area teams. The home team creamed Randolph 12-5 in first round play.

Wakefield coach Paul Eaton moved several Midget players up to the Legion team to strengthen the club for district play. Thus, the Midgets are now forced to rely on several Pony League players and a couple of players from Allen, who joined the team earlier in the season.

One of those Allen players, Robb Linafelter earned the pitching victory in Sunday's win over Randolph. Jeff Coble offered relief help as Randolph was held to two base hits.

Offensively, Wakefield took advantage of eight errors and added seven hits to run up the score.

The hosts scored twice in the first and third innings and added eight more runs in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings. A four run fifth inning was the decisive one.

Randolph scored one run in the second and two each in the third and fifth innings.

Laurel Midgets Stop Emerson For 3rd Straight District Crown

Phil Martin fired a no-hitter at Emerson to lead the Laurel Midgets to their third consecutive district championship, Monday night. Laurel defeated host Emerson 6-1 in the finals.

Martin mixed a good curveball with a tailing fastball to record 10 strikeouts. Laurel coach Bob Weisenberg said of Phil Martin. Martin earned his 10th victory with the shutout. Dave Marquardt and Martin drove in two runs each. The local Midgets also smashed Coleridge 26-0 in the district tournament.

Laurel will now compete in area playoffs, with the winner qualifying for state.

Ron Hirschman ripped a long homer to right center to get Laurel started in the second inning. Dave Marquardt pounded a bases loaded double in the fifth to give the locals some breathing room. Hirschman followed with a single to score Marquardt.

"Phil had an outstanding pitching effort and received very good defensive play," Weisenberg said. "The timely hitting by Dave Marquardt sure helped out."

Marquardt had three RBIs and Hirschman had two to lead the attack.

In earlier tournament action, Laurel rolled over Ponca 10-0 by the 10-run rule. Thursday night Laurel's top five hitters collected all seven hits and scored eight of the 10 runs.

Jamie Johnson and Brian Marquardt each slashed out a pair of hits to back the three-hit pitching of Phil Martin. Martin earned his 10th victory with the shutout.

Wakefield Gains Favorite's Role in Area 3 Classic

HERMAN CARROLL steps on the plate for the winning run in Wayne's first round game as Jeff Zeiss waves him in. The throw home (lower right hand corner) was too late for the catcher to put the tag on Carroll. Wayne won this game 7-6 but lost to Wakefield 9-6 in second round competition Tuesday night. Wakefield defeated Randolph 19-0 in its opening round game. Wayne was scheduled to play Hartington in a rematch Wednesday night and Wakefield will play the winner tonight (Thursday) in the finals.

A new favorite was born in the Area 3, Class B Tournament, Tuesday night at the Wakefield city ball park. The host Wakefield Juniors handed top seeded Wayne its first loss 9-6.

A day of rest proved helpful to Wakefield which was able to go with ace pitcher Mark Starzl on the mound. Starzl pitched the first two innings in Wakefield's 19-0 romp of Randolph, Sunday night.

Wayne, which had to play without a day of rest according to the tournament pairings, used three different pitchers in the game.

The hosts are now in the driver's seat of the double elimination tourney. They stand 2-0 and will receive another day of rest due to the victory over Wayne.

Wayne and Hartington were scheduled to meet in a do-or-die matchup last night. The loser is eliminated from the tourney while the winner advances to face Wakefield at 7:30, tonight (Thursday).

A rundown of the tournament games shows that Hartington won by forfeit over South Sioux City in a preliminary game. Wakefield downed Randolph 19-0 in first round action, Sunday and Wayne topped Hartington 7-6 in the other first round game, Monday.

If Wakefield should lose tonight (Thursday), a final game will be played tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. to decide the championship. Win or lose, Wakefield will qualify for state because it is the tournament host. The other team to reach the finals will also qualify.

An erratic but effective Mark Starzl held Wayne to six hits, pitching his way out of jams in the second, fifth, sixth and seventh. The hard throwing right hander struck out 13 batters.

Jeff Zeiss started for Wayne and pitched 3 1/2 innings before receiving relief help. Herman Carroll pitched to two batters in the fourth inning and Kevin Nissen finished up by pitching the final 3 1/2 innings.

The hosts scored in the first inning when

Larry Soderberg singled, stole second and came home on a base hit by Barry Jones.

Wayne added three runs in the second inning to take its only lead of the game. Jeff Dion singled and Tod Heier beat out a bunt. Jere Morris then drew a walk to load the bases with one out. Back to back walks to Zeiss and Carroll brought home Dion and Heier for the first two runs. Morris scored on a wild pitch.

Momentum Shifts

The turning point of the game came in the fourth inning when Wakefield scored six runs on two hits and an error. Blaine Nelson reached base on an error and Wayne Guy drew a walk. Both runners advanced on a wild pitch.

Then, with two outs, pinch hitter Rick Guy walked and Tom Preston singled in two runs. The next two batters walked bringing in another run. Starzl helped his own cause by driving in two runs with a base hit and Jones later scored on a wild pitch.

Leading 7-3, Wakefield added an insurance run in the sixth. Preston walked, stole second and scored on a base hit by Jones. The inning ended when Wayne right fielder Jeff Dion threw out Jones as he tried to score from second on a hit by Starzl.

Wayne, the home team in the game, had stranded three base runners in the fifth inning but managed to score one run in the bottom of the sixth. Pinch hitter Pat McCrigh reached first base on an error and took second and third on a throwing error of an attempted pick-off play. Carroll slapped a triple to the left field wall for an RBI.

Tim Pfeiffer walked and stole second base but both runners were stranded as the inning came to a close. Twelve Wayne runners were left on base in the seven inning game.

The final blow was dealt in the top of the seventh inning when left handed Dale Phipps blasted a hard shot over the right field fence for a solo home run and Wakefield's ninth run.

Just when things looked hopeless for Wayne, the Juniors put together a rally which held fans in their seats until the final out. With one out, Heier walked and stole second and third bases.

One out later, pinch hitter Sperry walked and stole second base. McCrigh singled in one run and Zeiss was hit by a pitch, loading the bases. Carroll was hit by a pitch, scoring Sperry for Wayne's sixth run of the game. However, with bases loaded and two outs, a ground ball was fielded by shortstop Preston and thrown to first base for the final out.

Wakefield Tornado Strikes 19-0

Randolph was no match for the finely tuned Wakefield Juniors, in Sunday's first round tournament matchup. The Area 3, Class B hosts lowered the boom on Randolph with an embarrassing 19-0 romp, Sunday.

Pitcher Mark Starzl, who has moved up as Wakefield's number one pitcher because of an injury suffered by Rick Guy a month ago, fired a one-hitter to stifle Randolph's offense. He recorded 11 strikeouts in the five inning game and let only five batters reach base.

Wakefield cracked seven hits and used 15 walks and seven Randolph errors to run away from its opponents.

The locals scored six runs in the top of the first inning and came back with three more in the second to put the game on ice early. Larry Soderberg ripped an in the park home run to the left field wall to lead the attack in the first inning.

In the second inning, Rod Nixon slammed a double and Soderberg added a single to lead the way.

The third inning was even more productive for the hosts. Five of the first six batters walked and the other reached base on an error. Then, Dale Phipps rapped a bases loaded triple for the big blow.

Wayne Guy doubled home two more runs

In the fourth inning to round out the scoring, Barry Jones and Bill Warren added singles in that inning.

Leading scorers were Jones and Scott Hallstrom with four runs each and Soderberg with three runs. The win advanced Wakefield into Tuesday's semi final game against Wayne. The double elimination tournament was scheduled to continue Wednesday, Thursday and possibly Friday at the Wakefield city ball park.

Happy Ending for Wayne Juniors

A story book ending lifted Wayne's Juniors from the jaws of defeat and carried them to an exciting 7-6 triumph over Hartington, Monday night in the Area 3, Class B Tournament at Wakefield.

Tim Pfeiffer pitched the complete game for Wayne and was credited for the win.

Herman Carroll charged home with the winning run on a base hit by Tim Pfeiffer in the bottom of the seventh inning. Carroll's run capped a three-run one out rally.

Wayne, entering the game with a fine 21-4 record, didn't look like the same club that tied for first place with Wisner in the Ralph Bishop League this season. The Juniors committed five errors and struggled to slip past Hartington in the double elimination tournament.

The first inning went according to the game plan. Wayne's first three batters managed to score, putting pressure on Hartington early in the game.

Jeff Zeiss walked and stole second base. Herman Carroll doubled home Zeiss and then stole third base. Consecutive walks to Tim Pfeiffer and Dan Mitchell loaded the bases with no outs.

Relief pitcher Gerald Wieseler forced a pop out and strikeout on the next two batters. Then, Jeff Dion cracked a hard grounder which was misplayed. Carroll and Pfeiffer both scored giving Wayne a 3-0 advantage.

Hartington struck in the third inning, erasing Wayne's early lead and reversing the advantage. A three run homer by Chris Walz capped a five-run inning which put the visitors on top 5-3. Four singles added to the attack.

Patience Wayne scored one run in the fourth as Carroll walked, moved to second base on a balk and scored on an error. Left hander Dean Miltner took over relief duties for Hartington in that inning.

Hartington got the run back in the bottom of the fifth inning as Tim Bonertz rapped a high fly ball to right field. The ball was lost in the lights and dropped for a triple. Bonertz scored on a sacrifice.

Top seeded Wayne tried to make a comeback in the fifth and sixth innings but couldn't get a key hit when needed. Two runners were stranded in the fifth inning and a double play ended a scoring opportunity in the sixth.

Things looked bleak in the seventh and final inning as Bruce Schafer grounded out to open the bottom of the inning. Speedy Jere Morris drew a walk and lead-off hitter Jeff Zeiss followed that by drawing a walk of his own.

With runners on first and second, clutch hitter Carroll came through with his third base hit of the game, scoring Morris. Zeiss held at third base and Carroll moved to second on the throw into the infield.

Tim Pfeiffer took his turn by lacing a single down the third base line to score Zeiss for the tying run and Carroll with the winning run.

Wayne and Wakefield were scheduled to meet in second round action, Tuesday. The double elimination tourney continues tonight at the Wakefield city ball park.

Laurel Midgets Roll To Win Three Games

The best time to peak during baseball season is near district time and Laurel coach Bob Weisenberg has to be happy that his Midget team is doing just that.

Laurel's Midgets won three of four games before entering districts last week.

The locals defeated Hartington 10-6, Emerson 22-5 and the Norfolk 'B's, losing only to Wakefield by a 2-1 margin.

Against Hartington, Ron Hirschman and Kelly Robson drove in two runs each. Jamie Johnson gained the win, going the distance on the mound for Laurel.

Against Emerson, Phil Martin picked up his ninth win by tossing a three-hitter. Dave Marquardt had a big day at the plate with three hits and 5 RBIs. Kelly Robson and Dennis Martinson each had two hits.

Martin struckout 11 batters while notching his eighth victory against Norfolk. He threw a four hitter and Dave Marquardt had four base hits to lead Laurel. Brian Marquardt, Jamie Johnson and Mark Hermann had two hits apiece.

The Marquardt brothers each drove in three runs.

Wakefield stopped Laurel 2-1 in Ralph Bishop League action. Mark Starzl fired a two-hitter to gain the win and Jamie Johnson was tagged for the loss.

School Meeting Immunization Requirements of Health Dept.

The Nebraska State Health Department has published rules and regulations for the enforcement of the childhood immunization law, which requires that school children in grades kindergarten through 12 be immunized against the seven childhood diseases — measles, mumps, rubella, poliomyelitis, diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus.

The purpose of this law is to raise the levels of protection against these serious diseases. Childhood immunizations should be completed prior to the beginning of the fall term, 1980, a health official stated.

Immunization recommendations vary with the age of the child and the age at which the first immunizations were received. However, all students must have received at least three doses of DTP/Td and oral polio vaccine. One dose of measles, rubella and mumps vaccines, either in combination or separately, must have been received at or after 12 months of age.

Wayne-Carroll High School Principle Don Zeiss says the immunization program has been in effect for several years, and that letters are sent each year to parents informing them of the law. There has been little, if any problem in getting students immunized.

Stipulations regarding the law that will be of interest to parents are:

- 1) Each student shall be protected with childhood immunizations by Nov. 1, 1980, (or 60 days after enrollment for students transferring from another school), unless the student by that date provides the school district with a written statement from his or her parent or guardian that he/she does not wish the child to be immunized.
- 2) The evidence necessary to prove immunization is month and year of each immunization and where obtained; or laboratory confirmation of circulating antibodies against measles, mumps, or rubella; or epidemiological confirmation of measles, mumps, or rubella by both a clinical history of the disease and association with a laboratory proven case in State Health Department files.
- 3) Any student who does not comply with the two previous stipulations shall not be permitted to continue in school until he or she shall comply.

If a parent waives immunization of a child or children, the school has the power and authority to keep that child or children from attending in the event of an outbreak of a contagious or infectious disease.

For immunization information and services, contact your physician or local immunization clinic or local Health Department.

SSI Checks can be Deposited

People receiving social security checks in the Northeast Nebraska area can have them deposited directly into a checking or savings account at a financial institution of their choice. Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk said recently:

Direct deposit has several advantages, Branch said, including:

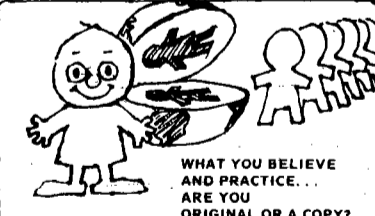

- No worry about check being lost.
- No worry about check lying in mailbox when away from home.
- Savings in time and transportation and no standing in line to cash or deposit check.
- Money in an account is safer than carrying cash.

A person can deal with any financial institution he or she chooses, including a commercial bank, savings bank, savings and loan association, Federal or State credit union, or similar institution.

Since banking practices vary, a person should find out how the financial institution handles direct deposits, whether a statement is sent, about any service charge, minimum deposits, interest rates, and special services provided.

To arrange direct deposit, a person should complete a form, SF-1199, available at the financial institution. A monthly benefit check shows all the information necessary.

Direct deposit only authorizes deposits into your account. It does not authorize withdrawals. For more information, ask for a copy of the leaflet, "Direct deposit of your monthly benefits," at the Norfolk social security office, located at 1310 Norfolk Ave., Norfolk. The telephone number is 1-800-642-8310.

FACTS CONCERNING THE NEW TESTAMENT CHURCH

We are often met with the following questions: Are the churches of Christ (or Christian churches) any different from other churches? Why do these churches exist? What do they believe? To answer these questions is the purpose of this tract.

WHY DO WE EXIST?

The object of existence is not to add another to the many denominations that are now found. A divided church is contrary to the teaching of Christ and His apostles (1 Corinthians 1:10, 11; John 17:23). The world will never be led to Christ so long as sectarian schisms continue to be emphasized. The prayer of Jesus (John 17), the teachings of the apostles, the condition of the world and the desire of hosts of Christians demand the laying aside of the doctrines of men and a return to the church as it was in the days of Christ's apostles.

Hence our aim is:

1. The restoration of primitive Christianity, and consequent union of all the followers of Christ in one body (John 17:23).
2. To exalt Christ above party and His Word above all human creeds.
3. To build a church of Christ without denominational name, man-written creed or other barrier to Christian unity, whose terms of fellowship shall be as broad as the conditions of salvation, and identical with them.
4. To lead sinners to Christ in the clear light of the New Testament teaching.

On nonessentials we admit the largest liberty; on the essentials we appeal to the New Testament. "Where the Bible speaks, we speak; where the Bible is silent, we are silent." (Write P.O. Box 498 or call for more information.)

Baccalaureate Degree: What's It Worth

In September, 1979, the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) selected Wayne State College as one of 10 geographically and structurally diverse institutions of higher education throughout the United States to participate in the "Academic Program Evaluation Project" (APEP).

The APEP project concerns itself with the question of what a college or university degree is "worth." This evaluation project focuses not on the financial cost of obtaining a degree (these figures are all too well known) but on the social and intellectual value of certain skills obtained by the graduated individual: How useful are these skills to the company or institution this individual is going to work for in the 1980's and beyond, and how well is the student prepared.

Dr. Ed Elliott, vice president of Wayne State College and associate of AASCU's Resource Center for Planned Change, explained that the college was chosen to participate because of its ability to handle this significant project.

The 2½-year evaluation program is supported in part by a grant from the "Fund for the Improvement of Post-Secondary Education to AASCU's Resource Center for Planned Change." The nine other participants are: Ball State University, Indiana; California State University, Chico; North Adams State College, Massachusetts; Potsdam College of Arts and Science, New York; Ramapo College, New Jersey; Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville; University of Nebraska, Omaha; Western Carolina University, North Carolina; and Western Kentucky University.

Wayne State College's participation in this project has been widely publicized by the Nebraska media, and the AASCU publication "Alternatives" recently devoted their entire Summer, 1980, issue to this project, reporting in depth each institution's program in this study.

Dr. Elliott, campus director of the APEP committee, explained that the project originated from the general concern about the lack of understanding of the baccalaureate degree program. "This program will begin to identify the true meaning of a degree which will make us do a better job of preparing the student," Elliott said. "It will allow us to give better academic advisement to students for the programs we offer."

Elliott further explained that Wayne State already has developed a good program evaluation system. "The APEP project, however, adds a new dimension to our evaluation process which will be critical to our students." He added, "Eventually, 10 significantly different designs will surface, one from each participating institution. This will allow us to find out whether our program does what it is supposed to do. Based upon that assessment, we will know where to apply the resources of various existing programs in order to prepare our students better for the standards of today's society."

A social and intellectual preparedness of today's work force is becoming increasingly more important in the 1980's as life-style and careers are becoming more complex and competitive. Elliott said, Wayne State's direct involvement in the APEP awareness project will be of "great benefit" to the academic programs of the institution and the quality of the work force in the nation, he explained.

Since most students (70 percent of the 2,400) graduated from WSC are residents from the 23 counties within 150 miles of the college and 15 percent from Western Iowa, it will directly benefit the prospective employer in that area.

Other committee members at WSC are: Dr. Bartholomew Clampa, director of general education and graduate studies and APEP campus coordinator; Dr. Michael Blayney, history; Dr. Arnold Emry, secondary education; Antony Gorlick, music; Dr. J. S. Johar, chemistry; Anton Netherda, industrial technology education; Dr. Robert Ridings, English philosophy; Del Stollenberg, physical education and football.

Political Campaign Spending Restrictions Discussed

CAPITOL NEWS
By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Whether restrictions should be placed on political campaign spending was discussed recently during a lengthy hearing before the Nebraska Political Accountability and Disclosure Commission, which is commonly referred to as the Sunshine Commission.

Just about all of the witnesses made some reference on the controversy dealing with Neleigh Sen. John DeCamp's use of campaign contributions during the last year. Some people have questioned the manner in which some of those contributions were used.

When asked by commission members to propose possible restrictions on campaign spending, DeCamp said there was not a person in the hearing room who could say what those restrictions should be. The hearing attracted about 100 people, including state senators, lobbyists and legislative staff members.

According to DeCamp, the commission does not have to do anything beyond enforce the campaign financing disclosure law.

Sen. Chris Beutler of Lincoln suggested itemization of expenditures that would be forbidden when using campaign contributions, as well as time limits during which such contributions could be permitted and when they could be accepted.

But Sen. Rex Haberman of Imperial, whose legislative district sprawls over nine counties in southwestern Nebraska, said he doubted Beutler's suggestions were practical. Haberman said it is impossible to cover that much territory in a few weeks time.

Sen. Peter Hoagland of Omaha said the important thing is to get legislation passed next year that would address some of the points that have been raised by the recent controversy.

Commission Chairman Wallace Peterson of Lincoln said he did not know immediately what would result because of the hearing. He said he would be "leery" of having the commission set down stringent rules because "that gets into the realm of legislation and I'm not sure we should do that."

But Peterson added the commission will review the testimony and probably come up with recommendations before the start of the next Legislature.

DeCamp has used campaign contributions for buying office furniture and a microwave oven and for investment in South African Kruggerands.

Bingo law upheld

The Supreme Court has unanimously upheld the 1979 bingo law, which limits the number of bingo occasions that can be held in the same building to two each week.

Ruling in a Douglas County case, the court said it is important to recognize bingo is a form of gambling regulated by state law.

"Gambling is an activity that, for the most part, is prohibited and, where permitted, may be subject to strict regulation," the court said.

The law had been challenged by Veve Rankin of Omaha, along with other groups licensed to conduct bingo games. Mrs. Rankin runs Ames Avenue Bingo and rents the structure for bingo sessions.

One of her claims was the law discriminates against licensees who do not own a facility in which bingo can be conducted

Another of her arguments was the law creates an arbitrary and unreasonable trade barrier for a legitimate business.

The high court agreed the law will place a hardship on smaller, non-profit organizations but added it did not consider the regulation "so unreasonable that it is invalid."

The court said the 1979 law apparently was designed to discourage the establishment of "bingo halls" where people could attend a bingo session every night of the week.

The law will tend to encourage a wider geographical distribution of places where bingo can be played and avoid the placing of the game in "relatively few locations," the court said.

Recommend prosecution

The attorneys for Ralph Lubeck have suggested that he appeal an order by the Nebraska Political Accountability and Disclosure Commission that Lubeck be prosecuted.

The commission recommendation that Lubeck, who is from Stamford, be criminally charged marked the first time since the agency was established in 1977 that such action was proposed.

Lubeck allegedly double-billed two state agencies for some travel expenses. Lubeck has said he did not violate any laws and that the double-billing resulted from sloppy bookkeeping. He has since repaid each agency $1,221. Lubeck is an elected director of the Nebraska Public Power District and an appointed member of the state Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

The commission order asked for prosecution after finding Lubeck "used state public offices to obtain financial gain for himself, other than compensation provided by law."

Attorney General Paul Douglas says the commission's conclusion that Lubeck broke the law has no standing in court and is only a recommendation that a criminal charge be filed. Douglas says the prosecution would have to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that Lubeck violated the statute.

He said the appropriate county attorney would probably file the misdemeanor charges if asked by the commission counsel to do so Lubeck has 30 days in which to file an appeal.

Immunization Reminder

The state Health Department has reminded parents that students in kindergarten through 12th grade must be immunized against common childhood disease by Nov. 1.

In a recent news release, the department said the immunizations should be completed before the start of school this fall.

Parents were encouraged to check with their doctors, local health departments or immunization clinics to make sure their children's immunization records are up to date.

State law provides children must be immunized against measles, mumps, rubella, polio, diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus.

In order to be exempted, a student must provide a written statement from his or her parents or guardian stating they do not wish to have the child immunized.

If a parent waives immunization, school officials can forbid the child to attend school if a contagious or infectious disease breaks out.

Plagues: Grasshoppers Not the Only Pest To Bedevil Nebraska Homesteaders

With the summer season came the mosquitoes and grasshoppers, but there were other pests that made life uncomfortable for homesteaders the year 'round. Two of them were rats and lice. Edwin R. Keyes, son of an 1870 Furnas County settler, recalled the difficulty his family had with them and wrote an essay on his childhood experiences. His manuscript is on file at the Nebraska State Historical Society.

"In the summer of 1875 the grasshoppers came in clouds, and ate all the crops that we had at that time. As there were no vegetables raised, my mother became very ill with scurvy; but finally a man went over on the Platte and brought back a few cabbages and potatoes, and she recovered. We had a lot of hardships in those early days. We raised little patches of wheat and rye some years, and we used to spread that out on the ground and lead one mule and ride the other around to thresh it, and then we would wind it out and take it down on the Muddy to a little burr mill to get a little flour. But in the grasshopper years we generally had Johnny-cake for dinner, mush and milk for supper and fried mush for breakfast.

"We were bothered with pack rats. They would get into the dugouts, and if you did not

July 28, 1980

Dear Editor:

I am writing in reference to the letter of July 11, 1980, referring to The Joyn and the Nebraska paraphernalia law.

Personally, I too feel that the article on The Joyn was informative and to the point. But was it done in poor taste or did it promote some goodness out of it?

What is wrong with the Nebraska paraphernalia law? Shouldn't laws be made to protect the innocent and not the pushers? One should not look for loop holes in the law to justify any wrongful cause.

Let's get our head on straight and use our good old common sense, spoons, etc. were not made with dope in mind while articles in these shops are sold with this in mind.

Anybody with a little common sense knows when an article is designed and sold for dope and those that are not intended for such use. Why should they be catalogued as such even though they are misused for it? Just think a minute and get that old common sense a going again, most anything can be used for dope, even a human body has been known to conceal it! The list, indeed, would be numbeable and beyond sensibility.

I do not have to write any legal aid or quote statistics on what drug is the worst. I don't care, all I know is that they are ALL wrong and the evidence is all around us to prove that this is so. I have yet to see any good come from any excessive and improper use of any kind of drugs whether it be cigarettes, alcohol or drugs. Eventually the results of a drug being used tells us of its potency (Berra's Law - You can observe a lot just by watching).

What about the outcome of marijuana when one's youth is gone? Is it worth getting involved in? Does marijuana lead to harsher drugs? Should we yield to our own flesh? The psychological and euphoric effects of marijuana is a concern. It is not a normal feeling. A wrong kind of spirit can also be found in a bottle or a can. Does the mind differ from the True Spirit?

Too many of us waste time arguing what is lawful or what is the worst, which is irrelevant. The aim should be to get rid of the source of the problem. Also, we could argue on this point, what is worst, being held up by a person with a gun or by a cheating pencil? I would prefer one to the other but still they are both wrong.

I do not condone any special generation to a contributing factor of drugs. They are all in it together and have been for years. Let's put the blame where it really belongs, on the one's that use them and especially those (devil inspired) that promote it. If we wouldn't misuse anything many problems could be solved.

Remember the hate is with the drugs not the user. Many addicts are loved but do not bring joy to their family. We are not in this world to do our own thing by our own self-justification. Yes, we are to love ourselves but not to be first and everyone should know who comes first. We have only one Person to please and then everything will follow. (Drugs will wear away, honor may perish in a day, but a portion of Christ instead can never decay.)

Common sense, what is it? Judgement or intelligence, ordinary good (godly) sense.

Thank you for letting me speak up for our social welfare. I hope the message is important and not my name.

Potential for Trans-Basin Diversion Takes New Look

NEBRASKA FARM BUREAU FEDERATION
By M.M. Van Kirk,
Director of Information

The potential for trans-basin diversion of water in Nebraska has taken on a new look since the June 24 decision by the Nebraska State Supreme Court overturned a 1936 opinion from the court that interbasin surface water transfers would be illegal.

Inter-basin transfers of water as a proposed solution to water shortage problems always rate more discussion during periods of drought because irrigation needs become more critical. The June decision by the court takes on a "landmark" appearance as more areas of the state begin to fall into the category of "water-short" areas as a result of declining water tables. The decision was made in the case of Little Blue Natural Resources District vs. Lower Platte North Natural Resources District. The Little Blue NRD had made application to the Department of Water Resources (DWR) seeking diversion of 125,000 acre feet of water from the Platte River to irrigate land in the Little Blue basin.

The director of the DWR had determined that there was sufficient unappropriated water to meet the Little Blue project water supply requirements but denied the applications on grounds that it was illegal to make such a transfer according to the 1936 Supreme Court decision. That decision had been made relative to a suit involving the Tri-County project (Lake McCaughy) which originally proposed to irrigate land in the Platte, Blue and Republican river basins.

After that decision, the Tri-County water was restricted to irrigating lands in the Platte watershed only. The project has been highly successful and one of the great benefits over the last 40 years has been that seepage from the canals and rest of the surface distribution system has raised the water tables and permitted extensive pump irrigation development in the Tri-County project area which has enjoyed an unpredicted extra benefit from splendid groundwater recharge. Without that recharge, it is probable that pump irrigation development would have taken place regardless and water tables would have been depleted as has occurred in so many other areas of the state.

J. David Aiken, Extension water law specialist, University of Nebraska Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, in an analysis of the court decision, notes that in 1936, the Supreme Court interpreted Nebraska Revised Statutes No. 46-206 and 46-265 as prohibiting interbasin transfers.

Section 46-206, originally enacted in 1893, states that interbasin transfers would be permitted only on streams wider than 100 feet, and that up to 75 percent of the flow could be appropriated for use in another water basin. Section 46-265, enacted in 1895, requires that unused irrigation water be returned to the river of origin or to the Missouri River. Dr. Aiken says this statute, the apparent intent of which is to prevent waste of water from irrigation canals, was interpreted by the court in the 1936 case to prevent interbasin surface water transfers.

Aiken says the court has interpreted 46-265 to permit interbasin transfers when the unused water was returned to the Missouri River, noting that all Nebraska is ultimately drained by the Missouri River. He adds that the court ruled that the DWR director was required to determine whether the proposed interbasin transfer (Little Blue application) "is contrary to the public interest." The director's decision is likely to be appealed to the Supreme Court by project opponents if the applications are granted; by the Little Blue NRD if its applications are denied; or perhaps by both parties if the applications are approved by the director with conditions imposed to protect the public interest.

The recent decision of the court, Aiken notes, offers little guidance regarding how the public interest issue is to be resolved. But it does open the whole subject of interbasin transfers, from what was previously interpreted as a flat "NO" from the court to "if it's possible under certain conditions."

From now on the action is going to heat up, as the water-short areas seek to replenish their surface and groundwater supplies from those areas where water resources so far are more plentiful.

Farm

Buying A Tractor Should Be Same As With Car

Buying a tractor should be like buying a car. A farmer should shop around and compare so he can buy one that best suits his needs.

That is the advice of Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources staff member Kenneth Von Borgen, professor of agricultural engineering at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. He discussed this and a method of selecting a tractor in a paper presented at an American Society of Agricultural Engineers meeting. The paper was co-authored by graduate student Paul Jasa and former extension staff member Allen Rider.

Many factors should be considered when buying a tractor. Von Borgen said, such as fuel efficiency, lugging ability, transmission, sound level and the reliability of a dealer. These aspects can be rated through a Tractor Selection Worksheet designed to be used with information gathered on tractors tested at the UNL tractor test laboratory. He said rating the different aspects with the worksheet helps farmers determine which is most important and what will best suit his needs.

"With recent fuel price increases and anticipated shortages in the future, fuel efficiency is becoming a more important selection factor for farmers," he said adding that this might be a secondary consideration for another farmer.

Fuel efficiency is defined as the work produced per gallon of fuel and is measured in units of horsepower hours per gallon. Von Borgen said. Lugging ability is the capacity of an engine and transmission to withstand momentary overloads by increasing pull with reduced engine speed.

"Most tractors with selective fixed gear ratios have comparable transmission efficiency, therefore, the primary factor to consider during tractor selection is the availability of gears within the range of speeds suitable for field work," Von Borgen noted.

Because of harmful effects of prolonged exposure to excessive sound levels, he said the levels are also rated. According to Occupational Health and Safety Administration guidelines, tractor noise levels should not exceed 95 decibels if it is operated more than four hours and not more than 85 decibels if it is operated 16 hours. Von Borgen warns that some tractors have measured in excess of 95 decibels and this continued exposure could result in the partial or complete loss of hearing.

"Yet, the most important selection factor of most farmers is determining the ability of a tractor to produce work during the critically timed field operation," he said. "A tractor must be reliable because most farmers do not have an extra tractor of comparable or larger horsepower to accomplish the field work during breakdowns which is why the location and service available from the dealer is critical."

A dealer must be located reasonably close to the farmer and his supply of parts should be immediately available. Although most tractors must be brought in for repairs, Von Borgen said some tractors can be repaired at shops closer to the farm.

Most of the above information is available in the Nebraska Tractor Test Reports, Von Borgen said, and the worksheets can be obtained through the agricultural engineering department.

"If a farmer takes the time to gather the information, he can make unbiased decisions and get the best tractors for his needs," he said.

Drought Damaged. Corn Is Good Feed

Because of the timeliness of this story by Vernon Krause, I'm going to quote his entire article. "Severe drought is a financial blow for farmers. Yet, to a cattle man drought corn is a valuable and useful crop. Data collected from Northeast Station indicates growing cattle utilize drought corn silage from 80 to 100 percent as well as normal corn silage.

Therefore, dollar value of drought corn silage to growing cattle is nearly as good as normal silage. With an oversupply of drought corn available for harvest, considerable savings may be made in the cost per ton of silage.

Yields are often 20 to 25 percent of normal silage, so harvesting costs can be a little higher since more ground must be covered Careful harvest is extremely important. Stalks of drought corn are high in sugar (more so than normal), therefore time harvest carefully so that the corn doesn't get too dry, and destroy some of the sugars.

On the other hand, immature drought corn can be very high in moisture. Harvesting too early can result in seepage and an undesirable fermentation in the silos. Harvesting at 60 to 70 percent moisture is best for ensiling. At this moisture a major part of the plant is still green so sugar content should still be high. Harvesting as dry fodder will destroy the sugars.

Drought corn also can be high in nitrates. If fed as green chop, a nitrate test would show whether precautions should be taken when feeding the forage. If ensiled, a nitrate test should be determined after ensiling but before feeding.

If drought silage can be bought at a low enough price, considerable amounts could be held over for the following year. The factor influencing how much to hold over is primarily interest on money invested. Drought silage ensiles very well and will be good quality after a year in storage properly covered and packed.

For the grain farmer selling drought corn to the livestock farmer allows some return to the cash investment made to raise the corn crop. While plowdown of drought corn has some fertilizer value, harvest as drought corn silage can return 2 to 3 times the nitrogen value of drought corn.

Drought corn causes many problems, but also gives unique opportunities. Harvest as silage benefits both the grain farmer and the livestock farmer.

USDA to Call Sorghum

The national average market price for sorghum has reached $5.08 per hundredweight, the level requiring the U.S. Department of Agriculture to call the commodity from the old farmer-owned grain reserve, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture official.

Ray Fitzgerald, executive vice president of Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC), said calling loans on sorghum in the reserve means that farmers have 30 days from the date of notification of the call to repay their old reserve loans.

Under the grain reserve program, farmers own the commodities and are not required to sell their grain. However, they are required to repay the loan, forfeit the grain to CCC or convert to the new reserve program within 30 days.

About 234 million hundred weight (1.1 million metric tons) of sorghum are under old reserve agreements and about 18.6 million hundredweight (.8 million tons) are in the new reserve.

County offices of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will officially notify producers their grain has been called and the date by which the loan must be redeemed.

Under the farmer-owned grain reserve program, established by Congress in The Food and Agriculture Act of 1977 and designed to stabilize marketing, farmers are eligible to place wheat and feed grains into a reserve during periods of low prices. In return, farmers receive CCC price support loans on the grain in reserve as well as annual storage payments. If prices rise to the "release" level, farmers can repay the loan and market the crop without incurring a penalty.

The call level for feed grains under the old reserve program is 140 percent of the national average loan rate and under the new reserve program 145 percent. The 1979 loan level for sorghum is $2.00 per bushel ($3.37 per hundredweight). Data used by CCC in determining the call level includes a daily report by the Agricultural Marketing Service which shows prices at selected markets. The markets reviewed by CCC for sorghum are Kansas City and Texas.

Formed Beef Steak Formula

Studies conducted at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources have netted a formula for producing sectioned and formed beef steaks that are attractive to both the consumer and the meat processing industry.

Two studies showing the ideal mixing time of steaks produced from different muscles and the effects of muscle type in binding the steaks together were presented in Ithaca, N.Y. at the annual meeting of the American Society of Animal Science.

The research is part of the doctorate thesis of Al Booren, who will soon take a meats extension position in the Department of Food Science and Human Nutrition at Michigan State University.

Previous research into restructuring meat by flaking, freezing and pressing into steaks was done in the 1970's, with current research aimed at restructuring a steak that will contain larger meat pieces and have a more desirable texture and color. Research attempted to look at variables of producing formed and sectioned steaks with half of one percent salt as the only additive to the binding process.

The first of the two studies focused on the effect of muscle type in producing steaks from the larger meat pieces and after a shelf life of 90 days.

Steaks from USDA choice chucks and U.S. standard rounds were tested at varying temperatures and mixing times and then evaluated mechanically and by a trained consumer test panel.

In the minus 1 degree Celsius temperature range, an acceptable color — bright red and pink inside if cooked rare — was reached and evaluation showed acceptance of tenderness, taste, texture and bind after 12 minutes of mixing for both steaks.

The panel, Booren said, found more connective tissue residue in the steak made from the chuck, but it was not an undesirable difference.

Mixing time greater than 12 minutes produced a less desirable color, but a greater cooking yield and greater tenderness was seen after six minutes mixing.

A second study surveyed the proteins involved in the binding process, in an attempt to pinpoint a specific protein or combination of proteins responsible for the binding at certain mixing temperatures and times.

The binding increased each minute up to about 12 minutes, but after 12 minutes, Booren said, the steaks would not bind any better. Adhesion was tested by lab machines and the consumer panel.

Of two basic groups of proteins found in exudates scraped off the steak, the group of myofibrillar proteins was found to contribute to the binding.

However, Booren said, "we cannot selectively extract a specific protein. We get them all."

All muscle types bind about the same, Booren said, which is good news for packers who can mix muscle types to produce a desirable sectioned and formed beef steak.

Tomato Problems
Extreme weather conditions such as we have had this summer can cause some problems with garden crops such as tomatoes and peppers. Blossom end rot usually occurs on the blossom end of the fruit and is dry, sunken, leathery or papery, and brown to black in color.

This problem is brought about by extreme changes in weather and uneven soil moisture.

In order to control this problem and lessen the chances of fruit rots spreading, pick and destroy damaged fruit, keep an even soil moisture content, avoid cultivating beneath the plants, and don't over fertilize plants with nitrogen. Mulching underneath your plants will also help maintain a more even soil moisture.

Blossom Drop
Blossom drop can be a problem this time of year on tomatoes, squash, melons, peppers and many garden crops may be behind in production.

During hot dry periods when the temperature gets much over 90 degrees, the pollen is not effective in fertilization. Fruit may start to develop, and then fall off prematurely because it wasn't fertilized.

When plants do fail to set fruit, you could contact your local garden store and pick up one of the new cans of materials that encourage blossom set.

Cattle on Inventory Show Upward Trend

Cattle in Nebraska had 7.15 million calves and calves on hand as of July 1. This inventory was up 6 percent from a year earlier and 5 percent above 1978. Beef cow inventory jumped 10 percent to 2.11 million head, while milk cow numbers increased to 121,000 head, up 3 percent.

Beef replacement heifers more than 500 pounds numbered 300,000, down 1 percent from a year ago. Milk cow replacements in the same weight group totaled 34,000, an increase of 10 percent. Other heifers 500 pounds and over numbered 893,000, 2 percent above a year earlier. Calves under 500 pounds totaled 2,03 million, up 7 percent from July, 1979.

Nebraska's 1980 calf crop is expected to be 2.04 million head, 7 percent more than 1979 and 4 percent more than the 1978 level.

All cattle and calves on hand in the United States on July 1, 1980, are estimated at 123 million head, 4 percent above July 1 a year ago and 1 percent above July 1, 1978. This is the first herd increase for July 1 following four consecutive years of reduction and starts the upward trend of the cattle cycle. All cows and heifers that have calved, at 50.1 million head, are up 5 percent from a year ago and 3 percent above July 1, 1978. Beef cows, at 39.3 million were up 6 percent from 1978. Milk cows, at 10.8 million head, were up 1 percent from 1979 and up slightly from 1978.

Other classes on July 1 and the change from a year earlier are as follows:

All heifers over 500 lbs., 17.9 million, up 1 percent; Beef replacement heifers, 5.87 million, up 2 percent; Milk replacement heifers, 4.39 million, up 7 percent; Other heifers, 7.63 million, down 2 percent; Steers over 500 lbs., 16.6 million, down 1 percent; Bulls over 500 lbs., 2.62 million, up 7 percent; Heifers, steer and bulls under 500 lbs., 36.0 million, up 6 percent.

The 1980 calf crop is expected to be 45.5 million head, about 6 percent above the 42.8 million born in 1979. This would be the first increase in the calf crop after 5 consecutive years of decline.

Bereuter: Japan Should Drop Trade Restrictions

Congressman Doug Bereuter said this week that, given the Japanese pressure on the American auto industry, the United States should immediately apply pressure on the Japanese to drop trade restrictions on American beef and citrus fruits.

"The Japanese government has allowed the existence of unofficial trade barriers that discourage imports of American beef and citrus fruits," Bereuter said in remarks delivered before the Wahoo Chamber of Commerce. "These unreasonable restrictions contribute significantly to our balance of trade deficit. In fact, our trade deficit with Japan last year accounted for over one-third of our global trade deficit of $24.7 billion and was the largest single deficit we had with any one country."

"The variety of non-tariff barriers can make the already difficult task of marketing in Japan even more difficult, if not impossible, for American businesses and agricultural cooperatives."

The American auto and steel industries and countless other industries here are demanding import restrictions to stem the influx of foreign-made products, Bereuter said.

"Certainly, therefore, I believe now is the perfect time to convince other countries — Japan, especially — to remove their import restrictions. Our government should exert pressure on the Japanese to drop unfair, informal import barriers on beef and citrus fruits, in particular."

"The real barrier exists within the Japanese distribution system. That is, a small volume of goods and limited territory are handled by a relatively large number of middlemen. This increases the costs and planning required for market entry."

"It takes both time and money to convince these many distributors that they should sell U.S. products, when they are doing well selling Japanese products."

"Furthermore, the distribution system results in high mark-ups on many consumer items, beef and fruit included.

"In effect, Japan is unfairly protecting her own market by allowing significant price differences between comparable American and Japanese goods," Bereuter concluded.

Last year the United States exported $4.4 billion of agricultural commodities to Japan.

In addition, Bereuter reiterated the need for establishment of export trade companies, which would facilitate efficient and affordable overseas marketing programs for small and medium-sized businesses and cooperatives in this country.

EXTENSION NOTES

Here are two different methods:

FIRST METHOD: Soak, using enzyme containing product. Launder. If stain remains, use chlorine bleach. Rinse thoroughly.

SECOND METHOD: Follow each step until the stain is removed, then wash the item.

- 1) Soak in a solution of 1 quart (960 ml) warm water, 1/2 teaspoon (3 ml) liquid hand dishwashing detergent, add 1 tablespoon (15 ml) vinegar for 15 minutes.
- 2) Rinse with water.
- 3) Sponge with alcohol.
- 4) Wash.
- 5) Soak in a solution of 1 quart (960 ml) warm water and 1 tablespoon (15 ml) enzyme product for 30 minutes.
- 6) Wash.
- 7) Bleaching may remove the final traces of stains. Use chlorine bleach.

Chlorine bleach is used to remove the color in many kinds of stains. It may, however, damage some fibers, dyes and finishes. Check the clothes care label for warnings about the use of bleach. Read the label on the bleach container for warnings and test methods listed by the manufacturer.

Good Lawn Deters Insects

A properly managed and maintained lawn is the best defense against insects that attack turf in the summer, according to Bob Roselle, extension entomologist in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Several insects will damage lawns during the summer, so treat the lawn with care to reduce the stress that hot, dry July and August conditions bring about, he said. "Never mow lawns short during the summer — always have the mower height as high as possible" or about three inches.

Second, never mow during hot days. "If the temperature is much higher than 85 degrees and moisture is short, wait until the temperature is lower or the days are cloudy before you mow."

Third, use adequate irrigation on bluegrass lawns to prevent drought stress. At least one inch and sometimes two a week are required.

If there is an insect problem, it's probably one of the three that's most likely to attack in summer. Any of the three can be serious, Roselle said, especially if grass is under heat stress.

Webworms always are present and will damage grass if there are 15 or more per square yard, especially if moisture is short. Under good growing conditions, most webworm infestations aren't serious because the grass can grow faster than webworms can eat it, he noted.

Billbug larvae and white grubs feed on roots and will kill the grass if the roots are destroyed. "This can be rapid under stress, and can occur over a period of time, even if moisture is good."

Of the three, webworms are the easiest to control because they feed on blades. Billbug and white grub larvae are hardest to control because it is nearly impossible for chemicals to penetrate the thatch and soil to reach them as they feed.

"All that can be done is to apply granular diazinon or Dyltox, then irrigate immediately with at least one inch of water. Use additional irrigations every three or four days if it doesn't rain," Roselle advised.

Conway Asks Equalization Board to Be Reconvened

Gerald Conway, 17th District Legislative candidate and professor of finance at Wayne State College, has requested that Gov. Charles Thone find a means to reconvene the state board of equalization.

"The purpose of this meeting would be to adjust the state's tax rates to correct for the impact of erroneous data provided to this board at its earlier meeting," Conway said. He continued by explaining that the board of equalization is dependent on the data provided by the Department of Revenue, and this year that data was faulty to the extent that an approximate $29 million surplus (beyond the maximum 7 percent reserve) can be found in the state's treasury — $29 million that, according to Conway, "has been virtually robbed from Nebraska citizens."

"I have not named Governor Thone or the Department of Revenue as my trustee to hold my savings for a rainy day and I resent their paternalistic attitude regarding my financial well being," Conway explained.

Conway sees only one recourse for the excess funds collected, that being for a much needed tax relief to Nebraska taxpayers. There are other proposals being discussed, said Conway, but he feels none of these makes as much sense as tax relief once they are analyzed.

"The idea of using these funds to pay off bonded indebtedness just doesn't wash," Professor Conway contends, "when in fact these various debts are on schedule for repayment with relatively low interest rates and will be paid in the future with cheaper dollars, while the citizens must take on debt that has considerably higher interest rates."

He believes the most appropriate step would be allowing the $29 million to work its way back into the hands of the farmers, businessmen, and wage earners through reduced tax rates and allow them to save or spend the money in a way that will stimulate the economy of this state.

"A more positive approach for state government is to stimulate a strong economy, not hoard for a poor one," the professor said. He also contends that if the money is left in the State Treasury "every agency in the state will attempt to show justification for need of additional funds in light of reductions faced in recent years."

Dixon Forestry Winner Hansen

Top individual in the Dixon County 4-H Forestry Contest was Lisa Hansen, daughter of Kenneth Hansen, Allen. She is a member of the Martinsburg Merymakers 4-H Club. Mrs. Darrold Harder is club leader.

Ribbon results are as follows: Purple — Lisa Hansen; blue — Brian Hansen, Barbara Hansen (Barbara was the top junior competitor); red — Derwin Roberts, Mark Schuttler; white — John Schuttler, Deanna Hansen, Ron Obermeyer, Kevin Malcom, Michael Helthold, Curtiss Blohm.

Participants competed in the identification of 25 trees and shrubs, answering 20 questions on forestry, and a short essay on windbreaks.

Five of these individuals are eligible to compete in the State Fair contest. They are Lisa Hansen, Brian Hansen, Derwin Roberts, Mark Schuttler and Kevin Malcom.

Washington or Bust

CROSS COUNTRY bicyclist Homer "Marlin" Smith, Seattle, stopped at the Robert Haas home in Wayne Sunday evening for a brief stay. Smith left Wayne Monday morning enroute to Washington, D.C. by bicycle. The 30-year-old "long lost" cousin of Haas left his home in Seattle four weeks ago and plans to reach Washington, D.C. before Labor Day. Less than four weeks from now, Smith said he is making the trip because "it's a challenge" and because he can "see the country from a different world on a bike than in a car." Smith said he thinks Nebraska is a wonderful state but wasn't too pleased with the highway system. He added that Highway 20 was the worst road he had been on anywhere on the trip. Despite the recent hot weather, Smith says he was fortunate to have encountered nice weather along the way. He also has had no mechanical failures. Smith says he travels about 85 miles a day, stopping each day at about 6:30 p.m. While riding through the Rocky Mountains, Smith covered about 70 to 75 miles a day. His longest one day trip was 103 miles in Wyoming. When Smith reaches Washington, he plans to visit his family for a few days and fly back home. Wayne was one of the rare stops along the way where Smith was able to sleep indoors. He has been camping overnight throughout the trip and added that Nebraska has the best park system he has found anywhere.

Concrete Grain Structures May Create Problem

Using concrete for building grain mills allows for larger structures along with eliminating fires. However, by doing this, the industry might be creating a worse problem.

This warning from Dr. Gary Nelson of Texas A&M, College Station, Texas, and Ray McManus of Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, La., came during the National Institute for Farm Safety summer meeting in Lincoln The 1980 summer meeting, "Improving Our Teaching Capabilities," was held at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln East Campus June 23-26.

Little attention had been given to grain dust explosions until 1977 when three major grain elevators in Texas and Louisiana exploded, killing 32 people in one location, Nelson said. "Before then there were explosions, but because structures were made out of wood little damage resulted because there was only a primary explosion. But concrete doesn't expand and a primary explosion is quickly followed by the secondary which is where the extensive damage is done."

A grain dust explosion must have oxygen, airborne dust as fuel, an ignition source and a closed container, Nelson said. The primary explosion, generally small, is enough to loosen dust on ceilings and walls throughout the elevator to provide fuel for a secondary explosion within seconds of the first, he said.

According to Nelson, ignition of grain dust particles is lower than that of propane. The pressure generated is between 13,500 and 16,000 pounds, he said, adding that most elevators are built to withstand about 1,800 pounds of pressure.

The severity of the pressure after ignition, which is measured in the maximum amount at the time of explosion and how quickly that maximum is reached is a main concern, Nelson said.

The sensitivity of the ignition or how easily the grain ignites is also a major factor. "Farmers generally don't have much of a problem with dust explosions because their structures are not as large and they don't have the equipment to cause major damage," McManus said.

Ignition can happen in a number of ways, he noted. Spontaneous combustion isn't a problem but open flames, uncovered lights, hot motors, friction belts or impact sparks, are often sources. However, welding and cutting jobs seem to be a primary source, Nelson said. It is best to have parts that can be unbolted and repaired rather than using these tools in the elevator.

Prevention is the key to controlling the devastating secondary explosion," Nelson said. "We've got to clean up our act. Housecleaning is number one," McManus said.

"The amount of dust, ignition sources and oxygen must be reduced, but mainly we must prevent the accumulation of dust," Nelson said. He stressed this should be done as economically as possible and cited one elevator that had reduced its insurance premium enough to pay for a continuous cleaning crew. Efficiency is even increased in these plants because the product is cleaner and both management and crew are happy.

"If some dust couldn't be put back in the grain, that would solve half the problem," McManus said. "Especially when grain is shipped, all the jarring reduces its size and increases the chance of ignition."

Nelson said that some grain mills are even bagging and selling the dust as feed for livestock.

"We have the knowledge to prevent these explosions. It's a matter of getting it out to the elevators and getting them to use it," Nelson said, warning of government regulation intervention unless something is done soon.
