A Little Help From Mom

WHILE DAD GROOMS his steer (in the background), 14-month-old Jessica Mohr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mohr, gets a helping hand with her shoes from her mother, Karen Friday, as a marked contrast to Thursday at the County Fair with temperatures reaching into the low 80's rather than near 100 on Thursday. The cooler temperatures afforded Jessica the chance to lounge on her blanket on a bale of hay while her dad labored nearby to prepare the steer for the evening's Livestock Parade. When judging of livestock was completed Friday.

The following were named grand champions or tops in their category: Horse Performance, John Etter, Champion Hog, Trudy Hansen; Champion Sheep, Jim Krajcick; Champ Goat, JoAnn Carlson; Champ Market Steer, Brian Bowers; Champ Market Heifer — Joanne Bowers; Champ Dairy Cow, Dennis W. Anderson; Champ Cow/Calf, Kila Wittler. Pictures of all the winners will be in Thursday's Wayne Herald.

Wayne Economy Takes A Nose Dive

As Sir Isaac Newton so long ago theorized, what goes up must come down. So be it for the Wayne economy.

AFTER BOASTING one of the best first quarters (January, February and March) in the entire state, Wayne's economy has fallen off dramatically for April, a report by the Bureau of Business Research, College of Business Administration at the University of Nebraska, indicates.

In fact, Wayne had the worst economic showing in the entire state in April, reporting net taxable retail sales 37.1 percent behind the same month of a year ago. Only Hartington, also in Northeast Nebraska, had similar economic woes. Sales there were about 34 percent behind a year ago.

As reported previously, Wayne showed that net taxable retail sales in March were 19.8 percent ahead of March of 1979. But sales for April were down drastically.

LOCAL AND state officials were at a loss as to the reason, but suggested that Easter sales might have had some influence.

Chamber of Commerce Vice President Gary Van Meter pointed out that Easter — one of the most prosperous holidays of the year for local merchants — fell on April 6 this year with most sales recorded in March. However, a year ago, Easter was later in April, with most sales recorded in that month.

According to Van Meter, 1978 retail sales during March, April and May were highest in April. In 1979, April again was the most prosperous of the three months while this year, March has been the most prosperous month since the first of the year.

"IF THE entire second quarter (April, May and June) is down, then that is a significant," The economy here would be reflecting a nation wide downturn, while the local and county economy led the state the first quarter.

According to the report from the Bureau of Business Research, April generally was a poor month for the state's economy, with declines in most of the major economic indicators.

Because cash farm marketings for Nebraska and the United States were unavailable before the information from UNL was disseminated, overall indexes and indexes for agriculture sectors could not be computed.

BASED ON the physical volume index for the nonagricultural sectors, however, real output for the state fell 9 tenths of a percent from its March level and was 5.3 percent below its value of last year. Comparable national figures indicate losses of 1.4 percent and 3 percent, respectively.

The March to April loss in nonagricultural activity was broadly based, as all sectors recorded declines. The month-to-month losses for these sectors were distributive, down 2 tenths of a percent; government, down four tenths of a percent; manufacturing, down two tenths of a percent; and construction, down seven tenths of a percent.

CONSTRUCTION has been hardest hit by the current slowdown. Even though this sector has not shown an increase since May of 1979, the first four months of 1980 have been especially devastating. Since last May, the index has fallen 35.8 percent, with half of this drop occurring during 1980. All segments of the construction industry — residential, non-residential and non building — have experienced declines. Compared to April of 1979, the number of housing units authorized in Nebraska fell nearly 50 percent.

April employment data show an increase of 9 tenths of a percent (7,000 persons) compared to April, 1979. Despite this increase, there are indications of softness in Nebraska's employment situation. Not only was April's increase the smallest year-to-year increase since last May, but there also was a 6,900 person growth in the number of unemployed, pushing the unemployment rate to 3.4 percent.

This increase in unemployment was the largest since November, 1975. Nebraska's unemployment rate, however, stands well below the U.S. rate of 6.6 percent.

THE APRIL growth in employment occurred primarily in the distributive sectors, with services leading the way. The three remaining nonagricultural sectors all recorded declines compared to April, 1980, as durable manufacturing, building construction, and local government recorded the greatest losses in their respective sectors. Twenty-one of the 26 reporting cities recorded employment gains in April.

Retail sales dropped substantially in April, continuing a trend which began in January. After adjustment for price changes, net taxable sales fell 10.5 percent below those of April, 1979. Much of the loss was due to a 27.9 percent decline in motor vehicle sales, but non-motor vehicle sales fell 6.4 percent.

Wayne was not alone in Region 1) with falling economic health. Norfolk had a 15 percent decline in retail sales for April compared to April of last year.

College Board Acts On Presidents' Reports

The Nebraska State College board of trustees met in regular session at Wayne State College on Saturday, Aug. 9.

The presidents of the four state college presented their reports of which some items are highlighted as follows:

DR. LYLE SEYMOUR, president of Wayne State College, requested approval for the final acceptance of the maintenance building and botany laboratory. Both are newly constructed facilities on the Wayne State campus.

Dr. Brendan McDonald, president of Kearney State College, reported on the Diamond Jubilee activities which involved a 75-year anniversary of the Kearney State Normal School. On June 19, KSC honored that historic occasion with a variety of events.

DR. EDWIN NELSON, president of Chadron State College, reported on the dedication activities of the Donald M. Burkhisser Technology Complex. Three portions of the eight-year-old building, formerly called the Industrial Education Home Economics Building, also were named for former Chadron State College faculty members including the Frank A. Thoenold Woodworking Laboratory, the Lawrence G. Lindahl Drafting Laboratory, and the Ethel L. Delzell Home Economics Laboratory. President Nelson also requested approval of the acceptance of a $100,000 U.S. Department of Education fund, to improve administrative and academic computer services at Chadron State College.

The fourth and final report to the board was presented by Dr. Larry Tangeman, president of Peru State College. Among other items, Dr. Tangeman requested approval of receipts of Title III funds called, "Strengthening Students Services." This two year grant award of $100,000 of federal funds will concern itself with the strengthening and improving of student services such as counseling and advising. Together with state funds, this grant totals $137,260.

THE BOARD office reported on the appointment of a fiscal officer, Donna Dee Nelson, a graduate of Wayne State College.

The final item on the agenda will be reports of each of the four subcommittees. The Budget/Legislative Subcommittee, chaired by J. Alan Cramer, board member from Wayne, requested approval, among others, for 1981-82 Expansion Projects and 1981-82 Capital Construction.

The Physical Plant/Revenue Bond Subcommittee, chaired by Keith Kemper, board member from Alliance, requested approval for various renovation projects taking place on the state college campuses of Kearney and Wayne.

The Personnel and Policy Subcommittee, chaired by Muri Mauser, board member from Big Springs, requested approval of the Support Staff Contract Proposal, while the Program and Student Services Subcommittee, chaired by Ann Campbell, board member from Lincoln, discussed a possible statewide study of teacher education and present an enrollment report.

THE PUBLIC is invited to attend. A complete rundown on the meeting will appear in Thursday's edition.

Energy Grant Approved For Infra-Red Program

The Nebraska Department of Energy announced last week the recent approval of a $2,400 energy audit grant to the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

ACCORDING to Teri Cary, local programs coordinator in Lincoln, the program is a two part project involving energy conservation. Sponsored by the Chamber and chaired by Dean Metz, assistant professor of physics at Wayne State College, the program involves an infra red energy scan and an energy alert program.

The energy scan will determine the heat loss characteristics of Wayne businesses and residences. The energy alert program is designed to curtail power use during peak demand hours in the city.

IF SUCCESSFUL, both programs will better inform the public of its needs to insulate and will save the city the increased dollars needed to purchase power during peak demand hours.

Back-to-School Event Planned by Chamber

The Wayne Chamber of Commerce Retail Committee announced today a new promotion designed to take the sting out of back-to-school shopping for area students and their parents.

By offering shopping discounts for area students 5 through 18 years old, businessmen hope to provide area parents and students with some relief from inflation.

A TAKEOFF of a similar promotion ran last year for Wayne State students. This year's promotion will make available a one-day shopping spree at substantial savings for area elementary, junior and high school students.

"Discounts from 5 to 20 percent and even some free services are being offered by 28 participating Chamber member stores," according to Merle Rise, Retail Committee chairman.

He said that all students have to do is stop by a participating store and ask for a free back-to-school discount coupon. They will be available starting Wednesday for as long as supplies last.

THE DISCOUNT coupons will be good all day long on Thursday, Aug. 21, for as many times as the bearer can use it in as many participating stores as they wish. Students need only to show the coupon at time of purchase to take advantage of some substantial savings.

Can parents of students use the coupon? "Only if their kids let them!" Rise said.

Participating stores include Kuhn's, McDonalds, Rusty Nail, Wayne Shoe Co., Gless Rexall, Sav-Mor Drug, The Cupboard, Wayne Bookstore, Bill's GW, Rich's Super Foods, Wittigs, Carharts, Coast to Coast, Sherry Bros., Western Auto, Gerald's Decorating, The Diamond Center, Jeff's Cafe, Scott's, Eldon's Standard, Fredrickson Oil, M & S Oil, Coryell Derby, Carl's Conoco, Arnie's Ford-Mercury, Mike Perry Chevy-Olds, Ellingson Motors and Pamida, Inc.

City Loses Laurel Garbage Contract

A garbage contract the City Council once felt it had firmly in its grasp has slipped away to another competitor.

THE COUNCIL, the Mayor and the administrator were informed by letter July 24 that the city of Laurel had rejected an offer by the Wayne City Council and instead signed a similar contract with Hartington.

The contract involves disposal of solid waste material for which Wayne had been negotiating. Wayne felt that one city's garbage was another city's source of revenue. And besides, said City Administrator Darrell Brewington, the additional income would help improve the financial picture of Wayne's transfer station.

The scenario of the negotiations went something like this:

THE COUNCIL of its April 29 meeting asked its attorney to begin contract negotiations with Laurel for use of Wayne's transfer station. It seems that — like many other small Nebraska communities — Laurel had been asked to close its landfill and was seeking an alternative for its garbage.

At that point in the negotiations, a charge of $3.15 per cubic foot had been considered. That figure would provide Wayne with a cushy profit and yet Laurel would not be financially strapped by the fee.

In fact, only "wet garbage" would be allowed here from Laurel, and the visiting community would have had to dump its heavy items elsewhere. This was yet another advantage for Wayne's transfer station since the likelihood of a breakdown caused by Laurel's garbage was minimal. In other words, little mechanical and no financial risk to the city of Wayne.

THE CONTRACT would have been for three years, but would have been negotiated at any time and could be cancelled at any time. It was estimated Laurel would be hauling about 80 cubic yards of refuse here each week, or about $252 of virtual profit for Wayne.

Negotiations moved along smoothly with Laurel considering and apparently verbally agreeing to the $3.15 per cubic yard fee as proposed by Wayne's City Council.

At the May 27 Wayne Council meeting, approval was given to the contract. But there was a slight change. Council members had come to understand through unofficial channels that Laurel would have been willing to pay as much as $3.40 per cubic yard or even up to $3.65 per cubic yard.

SO, THE Council hiked its end of the agreement to $3.40 per cubic yard and returned the contract to Laurel for its approval. Minutes of the May 27 meeting show that the agreement with Laurel was approved "with the exception that the fee of $3.15 per cubic yard be changed to read $3.40 per cubic yard."

BUT ABOUT two months later, on July 24, City Administrator Darrell Brewington received the following letter from the city of Laurel:

"Thank you for the efforts expended in attempting to assist the city of Laurel in establishing a solid waste disposal contract with the city of Wayne. We sincerely appreciate the opportunity to work with our neighbors on municipal problems.

"Laurel has entered into a contract with the city of Hartington for the disposal of solid waste at the Hartington landfill site. We agreed to pay $6 per capita per year for this privilege. This affords the city of Laurel a considerable savings, and will permit quite reasonable rates to be maintained.

"ONCE AGAIN, I personally wish to extend my most sincere thanks to you for your efforts in this project."

L.J. (Ole) Mallatt, City Administrator, Laurel.

Contacted Friday, Mallatt said the matter was unfortunate, but that Laurel had been negotiating with several communities for its garbage disposal.

"We would rather have gone to Wayne," he said, "but we did find an offer that was more economical and about the same mileage and decided to go there."

ALTHOUGH there were "no hard feelings on the part of Laurel," the fact Wayne raised the rate from $3.15 to $3.40 did have some bearing on the city of Laurel's decision, Mallatt said.

Based on an estimated population of 1,581, Laurel will pay Hartington about $9,486 per year for garbage disposal. Based on $3.15 per cubic yard and 80 cubic yards per week, Laurel would have paid Wayne $13,104. Based on $3.40 per week, Laurel would have paid Wayne $12,104 per year.

'I Can Cope' Program Slated

PROVIDENCE MEDICAL CENTER and the American Cancer Society (ACS) are sponsoring an eight session program for cancer patients in the Wayne area called "I Can Cope." Residents of Wayne met last week with representatives of the ACS to finalize plans for the program, which is slated to begin Sept. 26 at Providence Medical Center. Pictured discussing details of the program, from left, are Mrs. Fred Gilderleeve, service and rehabilitation chairman in Wayne County, Doris Mueller of Omaha, director of medical affairs for the American Cancer Society, Edna and Chris Tietgen of Wayne, and Shelley Bursick of Norfolk, area representative for the Cancer Society "I Can Cope" is a learning program designed for all cancer patients and their families. It is not intended only for use by those experiencing difficulty coping, but rather as an integral part of the treatment program of any cancer patient. The program will be conducted at Providence Medical Center beginning Sept. 26. There will be a session each Friday from 2 to 4 p.m. for eight consecutive weeks, ending Nov. 14. For information or registration, contact Mrs. Gilderleeve, 375 3484, or Edna Tietgen, 375 1423. More details of the program will be announced in upcoming editions of The Herald.

Several Local Youngsters Appearing in 'Fiddler'

"Fiddler on the Roof," which will be presented by the Wayne Community Theatre Sept. 5, 6 and 7, will feature several local youngsters, according to Ann O'Donnell, publicity chairman. "Fiddler," a musical production about a Jewish community in Czarist, Russia, has received world acclaim and is filled with laughter and tenderness. The children, said Mrs. O'Donnell, help illustrate village customs and hope to persons threatened with exile. Chris Hillier, 14-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Hillier, plays the son of one of the villagers. Chris, who attends Wayne Middle School, was born in Montana and has appeared in two school plays, "How to Study" and "Not Fit for Man or Beast." He is a member of the Wayne Swim Club. Sandy Blenderman plays the part of Bleike, youngest daughter of Tevye. Sandy, 11, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Blenderman and attends Middle School. She was born in Sioux City, Iowa and has appeared in the school play "The Trail of Billy Scott." Lesa McDermott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDermott, is one of the village daughters. She is 12 years old and was born in Wayne. A student at Wayne Middle School, she has had dancing lessons and has appeared in school plays. Also appearing as village daughters are 11-year-old Jody Dittman and 12-year-old Julie Mettler. Jody is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dittman and was born in Wayne. She attends Middle School and is a member of the Wayne Swim Club. Julie, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mettler, was born in Grand Island and also is a student at Middle School. Scott Fuelberth, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fuelberth, is eight years old and is the youngest member of the cast, playing a village boy. He was born in Granby, Colo., attends Wayne Elementary School, and is a member of the Wayne Swim Team. Kurt Runestad, 12, is cast as the "Fiddler." He was born in Fargo, N. D. and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornell Runestad. Kurt, who has studied violin for three years, attends Middle School and has appeared in school productions. He also plays piano and trumpet. Linda Wood is cast as Tevye's daughter, Sprintridge. Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Wood of Allen and is 15 years old. She attends Allen High School and has appeared in the school play "When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet." She also appeared in the Bicentennial play in Storm Lake, Iowa. Linda has taken vocal lessons and received a scholarship to Wayne State Music Camp. Starring in "Fiddler on the Roof" are Alan Cramer as Tevye, Diana Runestad as Golda, Alice Froeschle as Yente, and Mike Carney as Lazar Wolf. The production is directed by Ted Blenderman. Assistant director is Joanie Hochstein.

Wedding Unites Reeg-Steidinger

The American Lutheran Church of Windom, Minn., was the setting for the Aug. 2 wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Jana Reeg and Mark Steidinger, both of Windom. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Reeg of Wayne and Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Steidinger of Platteville, Wis. The bride attended Wayne State College and graduate school at the University of Minnesota-Minneapolis. She is employed as a high school librarian in the Windom Schools. The bridegroom, who is an instrumental music instructor in the Windom Schools, attended the University of Denver and the University of Wisconsin Eau Claire.

The Rev. Joe Nystuen of Windom, assisted by the Rev. Michael Gray of Platteville, Wis., officiated at the rites. Decorations for the 10 a.m. ceremony included a wedding banner made by the bride and designed by Joe LaCanne of Windom. Other decorations included potted palms and wicker garden baskets filled with blue, yellow and white carnations. Mrs. Pat Sween of Red Wing, Minn., and Tom Berlage of Wauwatosa, Wis., sang "Song of Farwell." Organist was Mrs. Karen Wojahn of Windom. Youths Enrolled in Story Hour

The Winside Library Board met Aug. 2 with three members present.

New books which have been received at the library are "Jon!" and "Crying Wind." Also received was a complimentary copy of "A Compendium of Nebraska Laws Concerning Children and Youth" by the Nebraska Committee for Children and Youth.

It was announced that 34 youngsters were enrolled in story hour at the library, which ended July 26. Thirteen children had perfect attendance.

Games and readings furnished entertainment the final day. Each youngster received pencils, balloons and ice cream bars.

Readers this year were Jean Gahl, Delores Gable, Angela Thies, Lynn Wacker, Joann Field, Betty Thies, Esther Carlson, Julie Kant and Helen Hancock.

Next library board meeting will be Sept. 6.

Senior Citizens met Tuesday at the Winside Stop Inn with 18 present for a 12:30 p.m. dinner. Mary Nichols of Wayne, R.N. was present to take blood pressure readings for persons requesting it.

The monthly business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Elie Miller, president. The secretary and treasurer's reports were read and approved.

A thank you was received from Mrs. Edna Kramer, who was hospitalized.

Pitch served for entertainment.

Next meeting will be Aug. 12 at 2 p.m. at the Stop Inn.

Wayne-to-Wakefield Planned Sept. 4

Billed by officials as a 10-mile exercise of goodwill, the Wayne Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a Wayne to Wakefield run on Thursday, Sept. 4.

THE RUN coincides with the 30th anniversary celebration of Waldbaum's Egg Plant in Wakefield and will honor both that event and the long standing good relations between the two communities throughout the years, according to Pat Gross, Chamber spokesman and organizer of the event.

"The two communities have a long history of friendship and mutual support and we'd like to do something to promote just that. The 30th anniversary is a perfect time to honor our neighbors to the east," he said. "Waldbaum's success gives both towns something to be proud of. They've been a real economic benefit for the entire area."

GROSS ADDED that the run will start from the steps of the City Hall in Wayne and an attempt will be made to carry an egg all the way to Wakefield along with greetings from the people of Wayne. Anyone interested in making the goodwill run is encouraged to contact the Wayne Chamber of Commerce at 375-2240.

Neighbors Lodge 505 Club

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Capps and son Forrest of Lakewood, Colo., spent last Friday to Monday in the John Asmus home. The Earl Katts, St. Paul, Minn., spent last Saturday to Tuesday in the Asmus home. Visiting with them last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Thies, Norfolk, and the Les Allemans.
