ONE HUNDRED FOURTH YEAR NUMBER NINETY-NINE

'Summer' Nears Its End for Wayne, Area Students

The fun and games of summer — at least from a student's viewpoint — will soon be over, as school bells will ring again for the 1980-81 year this week and next.

WAYNE-CARROLL School District students will return to classes Wednesday morning, Aug. 27.

High school students who are new in Wayne or who have not registered for fall classes may do so beginning Monday (today) at the guidance counselor's office at the high school.

Students who registered last spring but who wish a schedule change may do so at this time.

Classes will take up on the 27th at 8:40 a.m. Freshmen are to report to the Lecture Hall at the high school at that time for a brief orientation prior to being dismissed to classes. Grades 10, 11 and 12 may pick up class schedules in the gymnasium beginning at 8:15 p.m.

STUDENTS wishing to buy lunch tickets for the first week of school may do so beginning at 8 a.m. on opening day.

As a result of board action last week, meal ticket prices will be increased this year to 80 cents for elementary students, 90 cents for middle and high school students and $1.10 for adults who plan to eat in the cafeteria. This compares to 75 cents for students last year and 85 cents for adults.

There will, of course, be a nickel discount per day for students buying meal tickets by the week, month, semester or year. Free and reduced lunch applications will be handed out on the first day of school. All applications must be returned to the building principal for approval. Notification will be mailed home to the parents.

HIGH SCHOOL and middle school students will begin school at 8:30 a.m. Class assignments for kindergarten through sixth grade will be posted in each building with teachers assisting students. Seventh and eighth grades will pick up their schedules in the middle school gym.

Dismissal times for each grade level in Wayne are as follows:

A.M. Kindergarten	11 a.m.
P.M. Kindergarten	3 p.m.
First Grade	3:15 p.m.
Second Grade	3:20 p.m.
Third Grade	3:25 p.m.
Fourth Grade	3:30 p.m.
Fifth Grade	3:30 p.m.
Sixth Grade	3:40 p.m.
Seventh & Eighth	3:45 p.m.

SUPT. OF Schools Francis Haun says that new students in the community should see the building principal to pre-register before Aug. 27.

Carroll Elementary School will begin on Aug. 27 as well. Bus schedules have been mailed out to the parents. If they have not received one, they should contact the building principal.

The Carroll school day will remain the same as in previous years. This will be 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

THE ONLY major policy or budget changes this school year will be the elimination of four teacher aides in language arts and math at the middle school. One of the language arts was a part-time position.

The board also approved a part-time school nurse whose salary will be shared with Educational Service Unit No. 1. Spring sports baseball and golf have been eliminated by board action based on economic and competitive conditions, and rural students will not be riding a new bus as previously anticipated. Purchase of a new one has been delayed until next fiscal year.

SUPERINTENDENT Haun reminded parents that the school district must provide services to handicapped children ages 0-20. Anyone with handicapped children not currently served or those who think their children might be handicapped in some way are asked to contact Haun.

Also, Haun said all kindergarten students must have physicals before starting school this fall.

Although classes do not start until Aug. 27, teachers will have two days of workshops Aug. 25 and 26.

Teachers will check in with building principals between 8 and 9 a.m. Aug. 25, with the first general session planned from 9 to 9:30 a.m. in the high school lecture hall.

THE FIRST session will include introductions, announcements and handouts and a state of the district report by Superintendent Haun.

The second session will run from 10 to 12 noon and will include a career education overview by guidance counselor Curt Frye. The all school lunch will be held at 12:10 p.m. and building meetings and teacher preparation time will be from 1:15 to 3:45 p.m.

On Tuesday, Aug. 26, the third session will feature a discussion on alcohol dependent youth by Maryann Porter, youth alcoholism consultant from Lincoln. The remainder of the day will include a Wayne Education Association coffee, meetings and teacher preparation time.

THERE WILL be several new faces in the school district this year. These include the following:

Lonnie Erhardt, math, high school football and assistant wrestling; Becky Kelley, American problems, social studies and western geography; Karen Roth, librarian and media director; Judith Schaffer, English 9 and 10.

Clifford Frye will be the new custodian at the new high school and Russell Beckman will be a new bus driver.

KELLEY received her bachelor's degree in education from Wayne State College in 1979. A native of Hawarden, Iowa, she has assisted in the admissions office at WSC since then. She also has been a secretary at WSC and for Ouray Social Services in Ouray, Colo.

ROTH received her bachelor's degree from the University of South Dakota at Vermillion and received a masters degree in library science from Emporia State University in 1979.

She was an elementary teacher and librarian in Newman Grove and also a media specialist in library science there.

in English in 1959 at Jamestown College, Jamestown, N.D., and also attended Minot State College in Minot, N.D., the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis and Wayne State College.

She taught in Racine, Wis., and in Shenandoah, Iowa, and has been an executive secretary at the First National Bank here for about a year.

ELLINGSON has been a staff nurse at Providence Medical Center for about three years. She was a licensed practical nurse at St. Mary's Hospital in Rochester, Minn. Mrs. Ellingson received a nursing degree from Northeast Iowa Technical College and received a chemistry and biology degree from Wayne State in 1979.

ERHARDT, who will be head football coach here, is a native of Plainview. He has been assistant football coach at Plainview High School for eight years.

A 1970 graduate of Wayne State College, he received his master's degree from WSC in 1978. Erhardt also served as head girls' track coach for seven years and boys' and girls' assistant basketball coach.

Ball Park Renovation Set

After a long and anxious wait, baseball enthusiasts in the Wayne area can cheer up. The State of Nebraska has given approval of August 25 as starting date for renovation of the Wayne ball park.

PLANS FOR ball park renovation were discussed at a special meeting Wednesday morning at the Wayne Chamber of Commerce office.

The first step of renovation will be the removal of the outfield fence. The Wayne Lions Club has offered to undertake that project.

Volunteer labor and financial aid is still needed to make the project a success as Wayne will be short in in-kind labor according to project estimates.

ANYONE WHO WISHES to do volunteer labor should leave his name and telephone number at the Chamber Office, along with a list of available working hours. The Chamber number is 375-2240.

Donations to the "Wayne Baseball Park Donation Fund" can be made at either Wayne bank. If funds are short, the softball and little league fields could be cut from the plans.

AT WEDNESDAY'S meeting, Wayne recreation director Hank Overin announced a shift of the "new construction" project towards a more informal method. In lieu of the previously required work contracts, a more verbal agreement with volunteer help will be utilized, he said.

Engineer Bob Berlin estimated that $8,000 will be needed for demolition costs for fence, lights (poles and wiring) and two minor sections of bleachers. A completion date of 1983 has been granted by the state, he announced.

Vern Schultz, public works director, offered storage of materials at the city shed and recommended storage at locations easily patrolled.

THE CHAMBER OFFICE will act as central location for logging hours of in-kind work. The office will also be calling workers to labor on specific dates to help Overin coordinate the effort of in-kind labor.

Berlin pointed out that payment will be made as the work progresses and added that he will supply a wage-hour guideline for computations.

Other areas of renovation that were discussed include an electric scoreboard, use of a crane for felling the light towers, price of steel forms for cement work and installation of cyclone fence.

It was suggested that someone approach the Coca Cola Company about possible sponsorship of an electric scoreboard. Cyclone fence installation allowance was estimated at $3,441. Low bid on the fence itself was estimated at $11,495.

The meeting was attended by Overin, Berlin, Schultz, Norm Melton, Clyde Flowers, Wayne Marsh, Keith Mosley, Jim Keating, Gary Van Meter, Sam Schroeder, Glete Sharer and Charlie Denesia.

Job Opportunities Here Open Up

Job opportunities in the Wayne area are up in August, according to sources at the local Rural Employment Service office, located at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The RES, sponsored by the Chamber, placed 29 individuals in jobs last month and already has received 26 orders for new openings in the past five days.

A VARIETY OF jobs have opened up, according to Gary Van Meter, Chamber spokesman. A local plant plans to start a six-hour night shift with openings for 10 new workers. There also is need for two full-time day shift workers along with one full-time construction job, he said.

Area farmers also are looking for both part-time and full-time help, Van Meter noted.

"A young couple is needed to help run a dairy operation on a permanent basis and several others are looking for part-time farm hands for the upcoming harvest season," the Chamber exec explained.

TWO SECRETARIAL openings also were phoned in Friday for temporary and part-time positions. Van Meter continued that "this could be an indication that employment and our local economy are picking up."

He added that while Wayne has been "fairly well insulated" from the national economic picture, there is little doubt that the season's slow construction and dry farming conditions have had an effect on job availability.

Persons interested in applying are invited to call the Chamber of Commerce at 375-2240 Monday through Friday.

And the Schedules at Other Schools

Most Wayne-area schools will begin classes in the next 10 days to two weeks. The following is an overview of each school's schedule:

ALLEN
Registration at Allen Consolidated Schools is planned from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Friday, Aug. 22. Students in grades 7 through 12 will be registering.
The first full day of classes there is Monday, Aug. 25. Classes for the year will run from 8:30 a.m. to 3:25 p.m. Kindergarten will be three full-day sessions on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

LUNCH PRICES at Allen have increased and will be 60 cents for elementary and 65 cents for high school students.
The bus routes will be altered slightly if the use of one bus can be eliminated. School officials are working on that now and hope to have a solution worked out by next week.
The position of high school principal will be combined with the superintendent's duties this year, since the firing of last year's principal Dale Kennedy was upheld by the Dixon District Court.

NEW TEACHERS will include Dan Looie, Karen Hotel and Jean Carlson.
Looie, from Walthill, will teach social science and will be assistant football, head boys' basketball and assistant girls' basketball coach.

Hotel will be the home economics instructor. She is from Morningside.
Carlson, from Allen, will be part-time elementary music teacher and full-time junior and senior high math instructor.
Celeste Torczon will be part-time guidance counselor and part-time art instructor, while Glenn Kumm will help with administration duties such as transportation coordinator, will be in charge of federal programs and will have his usual duties as activities director.

WAKEFIELD
The traditional flag raising ceremony will highlight the opening day of classes at Wakefield Community School District Monday, Aug. 25. The event is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. at the high school.
Students will have meetings the first day, but will walk through their class schedules on a shortened class periods.
Kindergarten hours will be in two sections — 8:30 to 11 a.m. and from 12:45 to 3:20 p.m.
School officials say there have been some bus route changes, but school district patrons have been notified of these.

MEAL TICKETS have increased at Wakefield also. They will be 55 cents for students in grades K-6; 65 cents for students in grades 7-12; and 90 cents for adults. These prices are based on tickets purchased for a week or longer, and a nickel more per day will be charged if tickets are purchased on a daily basis.

New teachers include Jan Johnson, Val Bard, Olga Tappe and Jackie Dittman. All are from Wakefield except Dittman who is from Wayne.

Johnson will be the Title I teacher; Bard the seventh and eighth grade English teacher along with drama; and Tappe will be the Spanish instructor; and Dittman will be the elementary and high school art teacher.

The new superintendent at Wakefield will be Derwin Hartman, who has been principal there for 16 years. He fills the position vacated by Dr. Gary Bennerroffe.

LAUREL
The first day of school at Laurel-Concord School District — Friday, Aug. 22 — will be primarily for registration from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Registration will run on an assembly line basis. In the morning, the students will check their registration from last spring, along with conducting class meetings, filling out school information and purchasing lunch and activity tickets.

Students attending Laurel-Concord for the first time and who have not yet registered are asked to contact the principal's office between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. any day.

New Trial Is Sought For Principal

Attorneys for former Allen School District Principal Dale Kennedy have filed a motion for new trial in Dixon County Court.

The motion was filed Wednesday. A District Court order dated Monday, Aug. 11, found just cause to terminate Kennedy's contract with the school district, thus upholding an Allen board of education decision last spring firing Kennedy.

DIXON CLERK of District Court Irma Faulks said the motion will be heard by Judge Francis Kneiff Sept. 3. Robert Wichser of the attorney firm Hirschbach & Wichser of South Sioux City is Kennedy's attorney.

The former principal's contract was terminated by the board and by the court for several reasons, some of which are as follows:

- * Failure to cooperate with school officials and law enforcement agencies concerning an incident involving damage to and theft of school property.
- * A disreputable course of conduct toward the superintendent and the teaching staff.

- * HIS FAILURE to follow procedures set forth by the office of the superintendent and the board of education.

- * His failure at the board of education meeting in July, 1979, to advise the board that a school bus was in the process of being repaired at substantial cost when the board considered and took action to sell the bus.

- * His failure to properly conduct his assignment as school bus supervisor.

- * Unprofessional and insubordinate conduct.

Senate Lifts Fund Freeze For Sewers

The U.S. Senate thawed a federal freeze on money to construct wastewater treatment plants, a move which has allowed the Nebraska Department of Environmental Control to hang out a sign "business as usual."

THE SENATE passed a resolution lifting a deferral of funds which has existed on construction grants since April. According to DEC grants administrator George Ludwig, 30 communities across the state are urged to submit applications for funding. Wayne ranks 27th on the priority list.

The communities are ranked on the department's priority lists for fiscal years 1979 and 80. They are Omaha, the Omaha Tribe, South Sioux City, Gering, Lincoln, Ogallala, Peru, Gordon, Pierce, Adams, Amherst, Brule, Cook, Corland, Firth, Johnson, Orleans, Talmage, Terrytown, Clay Center, Minatare, Pender, Sanitary Improvement District No. 2 in Lancaster County, Arcadia, Sargent, Spalding, Wayne, Elgin, Lewellen and Lyman.

IF WAYNE'S grant is approved, it will provide funds for revamping of the sanitary sewer system here. The project is estimated to cost well more than $1 million.

The Heck With the Fair

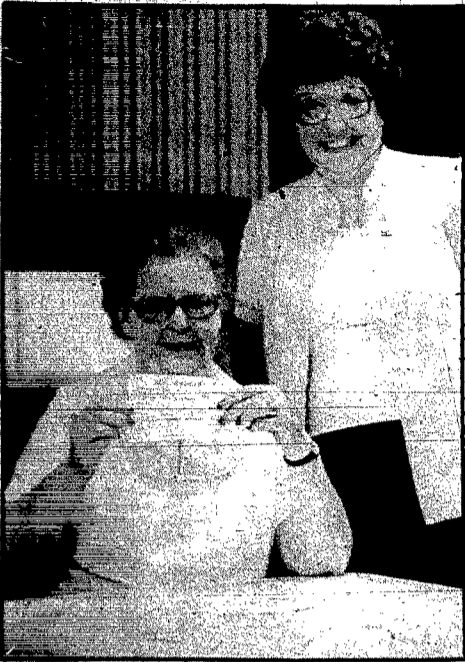

LITTLE GREG ADAMS, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Adams of Plainview, gave up early at the Dixon County Fair on opening day Thursday. The shoulder of grandmother Mrs. Austin Gother of Dixon afforded just the right comfort for a snooze, while the rest of the family took in the sights and sounds of the fair. Thursday included the annual free barbecue, gospel music by The Straub Family, rides and games at the Midway Show and livestock and other displays.

Another Winner

DOROTHY ZAPP of Wayne was the lucky winner of $1,000 Grand Give-A-Way bonus bucks Thursday night in downtown Wayne. Taken totally by surprise, she was at Jeff's Cafe when her name was called. One of those persons who has never won anything in her life, she said she would set aside the money and buy Christmas gifts this year. Bill Luenders Jr. of Bill's GW drew the name. At left is Dorothy along with Irene Jeffrey, co-owner of Jeff's Cafe. Watch Thursday's Wayne Herald for a list of participating merchants and details of the next drawing.

News Briefs

- Doug Marr Gets Stipend
A Charles H. Towle Scholarship, carrying a stipend of $200, has been awarded to Douglas Marr, Wayne. The scholarship is for the University of Nebraska at Lincoln. He was one of 45 students honored with the money.
- Seed Dealers to Iowa
More than 60 Pioneer Seed dealers, including 30 from the Sholes-Randolph area, Monday were airlifted from the Wayne Municipal Airport to Davenport, Iowa. There they spent the day inspecting one of the seed plants. Nine twin-engine airplanes from various cities, including Sioux Falls, S.D., took part in the airlift.
- Lisa Wood on Council
Lisa Wood, Allen, has been elected as a member at large at the 20th annual Nebraska Council of Youth State Conference. More than 450 high school students attended the three-day conference which focused on youth responsibility in the areas of youth voting, alcohol education, career choices and taxation and government spending. State officers elected for the coming year include Jeff Jaeggi, Columbus, a student at Wayne State College. He was named first vice-chairperson.
- Scholarship to Dawn Janke
A Winside native is recipient of the Kathy Klahn Memorial Scholarship of $200 to be used during the coming academic year at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln College of Home Economics. Dawn Janke, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Janke, Sr., will be a freshman majoring in interior design. She was a member of the National Honor Society and received many band honors in high school. The Kathy Klahn Memorial Scholarship is awarded to an outstanding woman entering home economics from the counties of Dakota, Dixon, Cedar, Thurston or Wayne.

Preparing for 'Fiddler'

MEMBERS OF THE SET crew for next month's production of "Fiddler on the Roof" is hard at work preparing for the big event. NRD Plans Meeting Lower Eikhorn Natural Resources District board of directors will meet at 8:30 p.m. Thursday in the Birch Room at Wayne State College. Agenda items for the regular meeting include a Soil Conservation Service report, LENRD administrative report, recommendations by legislative and budget subcommittees and action by the LENRD on the fiscal year 1981 budget. The public is invited to attend.

Area Students Returning to Classes

kindergarten, with the morning session running from 8:30 to 11:15, and the afternoon session from 12:30 to 3:15. Grades 1-6 will meet from 8:30 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. and grades 7-12 will meet daily from 8:30 a.m. to 3:16 p.m. Lunch prices this year will be 65 cents daily or $13 per month for elementary students; students in grades 7-12 will pay 75 cents daily or $15 a month. Parents who wish to apply for free or reduced price lunches before Aug. 22 may pick up their applications from the administrative offices.

Bus service will begin Friday, Aug. 22, with rural bus routes essentially the same as last year. However, some adjustments will have to be made. Rural residents not aware of the changes should contact the administrative offices. There are six new teachers in the Laurel-Concord system this year, including Therese Logue, Jody Williams, Hyrma Zakahi, Lynn Schuett, Westley McCullough, Tricia Goddard and Renae Brown. Logue will be the elementary principal. Williams is the home economic teacher. Zakahi is the Spanish instructor. Schuett is the social studies teacher. McCullough is the high school science instructor. Goddard is the art teacher, and Brown is the elementary resource teacher.

WINSIDE
The first full day of classes for students and teachers in the Winside School District is Wednesday, Aug. 27.

Registration for those that need changes or who are new to the system will begin at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 20. Teacher workdays will be Aug. 21 and 22. School will take up each day at 8:50 a.m. and will dismiss at 3:30 p.m. The doors to the buildings will not be opened until 8:40 a.m. If a student is having problems with a class or homework, he or she may obtain a pass from that particular teacher to enter the building prior to 8:40 a.m.

TEACHER hours are from 8:10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Due to a decrease in the number of students riding the buses last year and because of more efficiency in pupil transportation, the bus routes have been revamped and reduced to three this fall. Each child will ride the same bus morning and night. All kindergarten students must have a physical and dental examination before entering at Winside. This rule applies to all area schools as well. All seventh grade students and those new to the Winside system must meet the immunization law. For more information, contact the principal's office.

The board of education voted to increase meal ticket prices this year. They are as follows: grades 1-6, 65 cents daily or $6.50 for a 10 meal ticket; grades 7-12, 75 cents daily or $7.50 for a 10 meal ticket.

New faculty include Paul Sok, science, volleyball, assistant track and wrestling; Coleen Jeffries, vocal music; Belinda Sieler, English and speech; and Ronald Leapley, principal for grades 7-12.

HOSKINS

Hoskins Public Schools will open Monday, Aug. 25. Teachers are Mrs. Zita Jenkins, principal; Mrs. Alta Roberts and Mrs. Jerdine Luebe.

Trinity Lutheran School also will begin on Monday, Aug. 25, with an opening service at 9 a.m.

Teachers are Paul Bauer, principal, and Emily Priour. Priour will teach grades K-4 and Bauer grades 5-8.

Anyone having questions should contact any of the schools' respective principals or superintendents.

Getting the News Out of 'Fat City'

by dan field

the pied typer

This is a story about cats and rats — a story taken in by news media in Nebraska City as true. The developer of the corporation is a former Otoe County commissioner and owned a supermarket and farm center in Nebraska City as well.

The C and R Corporation proposed to establish, operate and maintain a fur-producing facility in the county. Its plans called for rearing and slaughtering its own animals for a feed source and rear, slaughter and sell the fur bearers as well.

The Chamber of Commerce and Nebraska City industrial organization were impressed with the prospects of a corporation that would employ 200 persons and would require at least 100 acres of rural property.

"Our payroll will consist of 10 percent skilled or white collar people and 90 percent skilled or unskilled workers. Most of our labor force will be hourly employees, and in so far as possible, will be drawn from the ranks of the presently unemployed. The payroll should substantially reduce the unemployment and welfare rolls in Otoe County," the prospectus touted.

A 100,000 square foot building would be constructed and the facility would need an all-weather road to it as well as electricity, sewer, water, natural gas and telephone services.

"It is important to note that our product currently is in demand and will be offered on the world market as it is produced," the information stated.

And here is the meat of the proposal: "We expect to maintain a fairly constant inventory of 2,500,000 brown Norway rats and 300,000 domestic cats. We will slaughter 12 percent of our rats weekly. These animals will be dried and ground. Nitrogen free extract fiber filler and adequate chemical medication will be added to produce a high protein cat food and will support our cat population."

"We will slaughter 10 percent of our cats weekly. These animals will be pelted, the fur stretched, dried, graded and prepared for sale on the New York International Fur Market. The carcasses of the cats will be dried and ground. Nitrogen free extract, fiber filler and adequate chemical medication will be added to produce a high protein rat food that will support our rat population."

Now if you believe that, as the adage goes, then I have a piece of land in Georgia I'd like to sell you. But the Nebraska City News Press was serious when it wrote:

"The idea of importing 2.5 million rats into Otoe County is, on the face of it, quite appalling. It sounds like something out of 'Willard,' that horror movie about the crazy kid and his pet rats.

"Rats have a terrible PR (public relations) problem. They are noted for being among man's worst enemies, dating back to the bubonic plague, or Black Death of the Middle Ages.

"Normally, a business venture of this size, providing employment for an estimated 200 people and a concurrent boost in the county's economy, would receive our unconditional endorsement. That we cannot give at this time.

"Nor can we condemn it. As distasteful as it may seem to some people, particularly cat lovers, the cat fur business is a legitimate one. And the developer promises strict controls which will be used to keep the stock from escaping. But, he hasn't said what these controls will be.

"We do, however, feel that it is in the public's interest to know just what precautions will be taken to keep the rats under control. Such controls should be no less strict than those governing the operation of the nation's nuclear plants. The people who will be living in proximity to this plant have the right to this information — the right not to live in fear.

"Experts estimate that the black rat and the Norway rat destroy four percent of U.S. grain by either devouring or contaminating it. Their intelligence and adaptability make these rats hard to get rid of. They soon learn to avoid poisoned food and to spring traps without getting caught. Rats can gnaw through wood and plaster, making it necessary to ratproof food storage buildings with metal and concrete."

A subsequent letter from the prospective owner of C and R Corporation contained the following:

"...This predominantly negative attitude has been caused by misunderstanding and a lack of information. First of all, at no time was any mention made of the use of local cats in this venture. I propose to rear all animals needed from a nucleus of breeding stock purchased from willing sellers.

"In view of the lack of public acceptance... I am having second thoughts regarding a location. I have been informed by friends in Los Angeles and Las Vegas that land is readily available in a remote area in Wyoming. It seems possible that such a facility could be constructed and operated there with absolutely no publicity and no public criticism. This location certainly deserves further investigation."

So there!!!

There's nothing sure except death and taxes — and increases in the cost of oil.

The nation's capital of Washington, D.C., has the largest press corps in the world. At last count, approximately 3,000 correspondents and photographers, including television representatives, are accredited or assigned to cover Congress.

Across the city a contingent of 1,700 media representatives is accredited to cover the White House, and with the national political conventions, in July and August, a throng of 3,000 press people covered the Republicans in Detroit and 4,000 the Democrats in New York.

But you can count on one hand — possibly one finger — the number of investigative reporters assigned full-time in Washington to tracking down waste and extravagance in the federal bureaucracy — probably history's greatest dispenser of favors, which spends and misspends over $600 billion a year.

Donald Lambro, special projects reporter for United Press International, one of the major wire news services, is a unique reporter in Washington and may well be the only one assigned exclusively to investigating and writing — in his words — "about the issue of excessive, extravagant, unnecessary and ineffective federal spending."

It's a "monumental" story, he believes, but largely "unreported by the media." Despite UPI's interest, Lambro feels the story still is not covered adequately, and that is why he has written a new book, "Fat City: How Washington Wastes Your Taxes." Four years ago he wrote a similar book, "The Federal Raffle."

Lambro talked about his new book with another renowned critic of government waste, Dr. Richard L. Lasher, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, as guest on "What's the Issue?" a Mutual network show produced by the Chamber.

"Fat City" is loaded with "specifics" documented by Lambro.

How many taxpayers are aware, for example, that they must pay:

- $100,000 a year to provide masseurs for members of Congress who take rubdowns in the Capitol gyms.
- $8 million a year for travel services.

Up to $750 million a year to provide groceries and other commodities at cut-rate prices for retired military personnel, many of whom hold second career jobs.

— $2 billion a year for a consultants' industry mushrooming around Washington which frequently engages in "duplicative, needless or wasteful studies."

— Several hundred thousand dollars to a consultant to learn whether community block grants help the poor. (When the consultant replied it was not possible to tell the government reauthorized the study for three or four more years.)

— $25 to $50 billion a year in waste and abuse of federal programs because the programs are so numerous and broad that they present vast opportunities for chiselers and mismanagement.

— The salaries of 63,000 federal workers who have been added to the payrolls since the Carter Administration took office.

— $50 to $60 million a year more than needed for a host of advisory commissions and panels which perform little practical service.

High interest rates in order for the federal government to borrow billions to distribute under revenue-sharing programs to states and cities, which often have surplus funds.

According to Lambro, these are simply a few of the examples of waste that could be eliminated in full or in part if Congress and the White House took seriously the task of riding hard on spending by the agencies — and their own.

The media, like the bureaucracy, tends to dismiss stories of waste and mismanagement as old news. But just imagine how many new stories could be ferreted out if the media were to assign say a hundred or so investigative reporters full-time to the biggest story in town.

Sharing the Social Security Burden

Although the Social Security system now covers 90 percent of all workers, 10 percent are still outside the system. Most of these work for government or nonprofit groups.

Such a system is bound to have inequities. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce points out, for example, that under our present dual system, federal workers — and members of Congress — are exempt from paying their fair share of the welfare aspects of Social Security. Social Security is the nation's largest income distribution program. Today's work force pays the benefits distributed to those who already are retired or who are widows, orphans and disabled — some 36 million Americans.

Come Jan. 1, 1980, Social Security taxes will jump again — by some $14 billion a year.

Nine of 10 American workers will be affected by the 1981 increases but not federal employees or members of Congress. The question naturally rises: Why should any select group of taxpayers be relieved of paying their fair share of the nation's taxes?

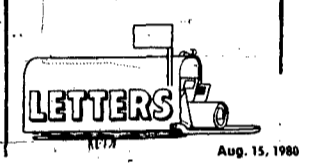

The answer, of course, is that no group of taxpayers should be relieved of this duty. Social Security should be expanded to include all workers. — U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Dear Editor: A few citizens are attempting to start a local program named The Wayne Citizen Advocacy Program.

This program is designed to help persons living in our area who have mental or physical disabilities. The purpose is to find people in the community who will be a friend on a one-to-one basis. I have heard people say that "making friends has been hard for them under normal circumstances. We can all realize how difficult for some. When Sister Teresa, who won the 1979 Nobel Peace Prize, wanted to help others, she went to Calcutta where people were steeped in poverty and illness, and with no apparent resources she helped millions of people.

In our community, our resources are many and our problems few. But we are having a difficult time finding people who want to help. In a poem by Edwin Markham, he writes, "There is a destiny that makes us brothers. None goes his way alone. All that we send into the lives of others comes back into our own."

If you are willing to spend an hour or two a week either helping to develop the program or in being a friend and advocate to someone, please call me at 375-1449 or evenings at 375-3461. I urge you to consider helping.

"WISH I WAS TAKING A DAY OFF WORK INSTEAD OF BEING OUT OF WORK!"

The Senate's Superfund — Another Boondoggle for Big Brother

Richard L. Lasher, President Chamber of Commerce of the United States

For centuries, people believed the oceans, land, and air could absorb any amount of human or industrial waste. Consequently, very little attention was paid to proper disposal. But now, in view of the discovery of the infamous abandoned, hazardous waste site at Love Canal in New York, and given the federal government's failure to adequately assist the residents of that stricken community, Americans suddenly have become very concerned about waste site dangers.

Everyone today agrees that these sites must be cleaned up, and as quickly as possible. Everyone does not agree, however, on how best to do the job. This is a question that concerns you, since, as a consumer, you will be paying for the incremental costs of clean-ups either through higher prices or higher taxes. What we must decide is: Should we move ahead calmly and intelligently, looking for the most cost-effective ways to meet these responsibilities; or, should we embrace the extravagant demands of hysterical environmental extremists — demands which could cost enough to buy us all gold-plated garbage containers, but which would have all the effectiveness of trying to kill flies with an ax?

The environmentalists are determined to make Americans believe that Love Canal is merely the first of many more industrial time bombs to come. Thus, once the public is in a state of panic, the conditions will be right for the federal government to massively intervene, bulldozing its way through all the regulations and laws many states have already enacted to deter improper disposal and storage. To accomplish this goal, the environmentalists have grossly misled the American public in two fundamental ways.

First, the Environmental Protection Agency released the results of a study it commissioned which estimated a national inventory of 50,666 hazardous waste sites. Upon inspection, however, it was revealed that the study had been conducted in just 60 days, and that it was based on questionable assumptions extrapolated from 232 cases — only 24 of which were actually visited. Texas Congressman Bob Eckhardt's Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigation, which estimated the country has only 851 potentially hazardous waste sites, had this to say about the EPA's commissioned report:

"While this report has many methodical flaws, the inadequacy of its fundamental data base alone is enough to discredit the study. The estimate of the number of sites and the degree of hazard that they pose is a little better than pure guesswork."

Second, Michigan Congressman Dave Stockman has pointed out that EPA's definition of hazardous is so sweeping it includes any substance that is flammable, corrosive, reactive, or toxic. He remarked:

"My own home is filled with hazardous substances, including sodium hypochlorite (bleach); sulfuric acid and lead (batteries);

Who's who, what's what

1. WHO has accepted a position with Core Laboratories, Inc., in Dallas, Texas?
2. WHAT did Rick Guy, son of Mrs. Louis Guy, Wakefield, receive recently from Wayne State College?
3. WHAT did the Region IV board of directors vote to do at their Aug. 8 meeting in O'Neill?
4. WHAT did the Nebraska Department of Energy recently approve that will benefit the Wayne community?
5. WHO received a Juris Doctor degree from the John Marshall Law School recently?
6. WHAT was held at Wakefield Friday for the second straight year?

ANSWERS: 1. Steve Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Johnson of Easton, Md., and grandson of Mrs. Robert Johnson of Wayne. 2. A Presidential Scholarship award to attend Wayne State College. 3. To keep the Children's Developmental Center at Wayne open every other weekend. 4. A $2,600 energy audit grant to the Wayne Chamber of Commerce. 5. Ronald E. Seymour, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lyle Seymour of Wayne. 6. The Kansas City Royals held a baseball tryout camp.

naphthalene ('Mr. Clean' or 'Fantastic Spray Cleaner'); as well as essentials for life on Capitol Hill such as 'Mouse-Rid', 'Rat-Kill', and 'Rat-Guide'. Every municipal dump in the country probably contains hazardous substances... Every telephone pole or railroad tie treated with creosote — a hazardous substance on the EPA list — might need to be inventoried and assessed."

So, by enumerating as hazardous thousands of waste sites which are not, and by defining hazardous substances so broadly that virtually any substance could be included, considered by the Senate. It could more accurately be called a $50 billion super-boondoggle. The bill embodies a scope which extends far beyond the primary problem of inactive hazardous waste sites. It is so punitive it would establish legal procedures exposing industry to incalculable financial liability, and it would probably create situations where companies will have to pay for cleaning up wastes for which they were not even responsible. Indeed, the bill would turn the burden of proof of existing law upside down by forcing defendants to show that releases did not cause injuries or illnesses allegedly suffered by plaintiffs.

The U.S. Chamber understands that the business community has responsibilities, that it must clean up abandoned or inactive hazardous waste sites, and that it must support third party injury claims. But that is a far cry from the legislation now in the Senate which makes not even the pretense of being equitable.

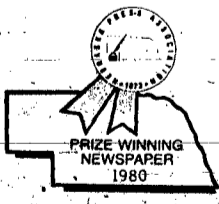

WE ALL WANT TO HEAR ABOUT IT!

Garden Ceremony Unites Zautke-Brown in Wayne

Linda Zautke of Osmond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Zautke of Plainview, and Lavern Brown of Osmond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brown, were united in marriage Aug. 9 in a garden ceremony at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Wayne.

Associate County Judge Luverna Hilton officiated at the 10 a.m. double ring ceremony among a setting of garden flowers and in the presence of the immediate family and close friends of the couple.

The bride's dress, in street length, was of white chiffon with a yellow ribbon at the waist. Blue flowers trimmed the center front of the skirt. She carried a bouquet of yellow daisies, carnations and baby's breath.

Mrs. Gay Weber of Wayne provided organ music and accompanied Beth Lingenfelter of Lincoln, who sang "Evergreen."

Mrs. Gary Warner of Meadow Grove, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a black and white sundress and a corsage of daisies and carnations. Personal attendant was Kathy Zessin of Grand Island. Pinning flowers was Gwyn Spatz of Lincoln.

The bridegroom wore white trousers and a yellow shirt. His bestman, Steve Meyer of Norfolk, was attired in a light tan suit.

The mother of the bride was dressed in a light green summer floral print. The bridegroom's mother selected an ivory floral print. Their corsages were yellow daisies and white carnations.

A buffet dinner was served at the Black Knight in Wayne following the ceremony. The wedding cake was served by Mrs. Larry Zautke of Madison. A reception was held in the evening for relatives and friends at the home of the bride's parents in Plainview.

The bride, a graduate of Plainview High School, is employed at Rainbow Cafe and Lounge in Osmond. The bridegroom, a graduate of Wayne High School, attended Wayne State College and is employed by Buchanan Well Co. in Osmond.

Following a wedding trip to Alaska, the newlyweds will reside in Osmond.

Assistant Finishes at Clinic

JOHN WOODRUFF of Grand Island and Dr. Bob Benthack check out an X ray at the Benthack Clinic in Wayne. Woodruff, a 22 year-old student at the University of Nebraska Medical Center at Lincoln, is completing a four week session as assistant in Wayne. He spent time working at Providence Medical Center and Benthack Clinic. Most of his time was spent working with a therapist and learning about the operation of the hospital and laboratory. The session was part of a Medical Education Communication Orientation through UNL. Woodruff, who recently finished his first year of studying medicine, said he was very impressed with the medical facilities at Wayne and especially the staff at the hospital and clinic. Some 25 students were enrolled in the project over summer vacation. The student MECO director contacts clinics and sets up assistantships for students. The intent is to present rural communities to students and at the same time provide pre-clinical students with patient work, Woodruff said.

State Legion Finals Match Wakefield and Wayne

Members of the Wayne Legion baseball team are hoping the fourth time is a charm. Most of the players on this year's squad are making their fourth state tournament appearance.

As Midgets, they finished second in state in 1978 and 1979. Last year as Juniors they qualified for state but failed to place. This year, they have their sights set on the championship. And only Ralph Bishop League arch rival Wakefield stands in the way.

The locals reached the finals of the Class B Tournament with a remarkable rally in the bottom of the seventh inning which eliminated Lexington 6-5, Friday night.

Saturday's scheduled meeting between Wayne and Wakefield would be the sixth confrontation between the two ball clubs this season. Wakefield leads the series, three wins to two. The hosts reached the finals after defeating Wayne Thursday night and then winning a coin toss.

Wayne coach Hank Overin's vacation plans were foiled again this year as his Juniors pulled the victory out of the hat. The Overin family has been known to schedule vacation at this time of the year and then postpone plans because of a state baseball tournament. This year is no exception but the Overins certainly weren't complaining.

"This ball club played from the heart tonight," Overin said following the game. "After making some mental mistakes last night (in the loss to Wakefield), they regrouped and hung in there."

Delirious Wayne fans rushed onto the field in the bottom of the seventh inning as the Juniors scored the tying and winning runs.

With Tim Pfeiffer on second base and Kevrin Nissen on first, Tod Heier stepped into the batter's box. With a one ball, two strike count, Overin called for a double steal. Heier slapped a hard grounder past the third baseman who was moving toward third to cover the bag.

Pfeiffer scored the tying run easily and when the ball rolled past the left fielder, Nissen beat the throw home for the winning run. Heier had two base hits and three RBI's in the game.

Several dejected Lexington players lay on the turf in disbelief and disappointment following the play.

Lexington's Juniors led for the entire game before falling victim to Heier's base hit. The visitors scored three runs off of starter Herman Carroll in the first inning.

Larry Luther, Mike Niben and Gary MacDonald all scored runs in the first inning on five base hits, a sacrifice and one Wayne error. Dave Tomasek rapped a two-run single and Mark Holbrook squeeze bunted in the other run.

Tim Pfeiffer pitched 5 1/2 innings in relief after Carroll left the mound. Pfeiffer was pulled in the sixth inning when he had completed his allotted innings. Pitchers are allowed to pitch 12 innings within a 72 hour span. Kevrin Nissen finished out the final 1 1/2 innings to gain the win.

Wayne came right back with two runs in the bottom of the first inning off of Lexington ace MacDonald. Jeff Zeiss scored from third base on a sacrifice fly by Dan Mitchell and Carroll scored the second run on an overthrow of third.

Lexington struck again in the top of the third inning when MacDonald and Tomasek each scored for a three run advantage.

Carroll tripled to lead-off the bottom of the inning and Dion cracked an RBI single. Dion scored on a base hit by Heier two outs later.

Lexington's 5-4 lead held up until the final inning. The leaders had a golden opportunity to pad their lead in their last turn at bat but were shut off by Wayne's defense.

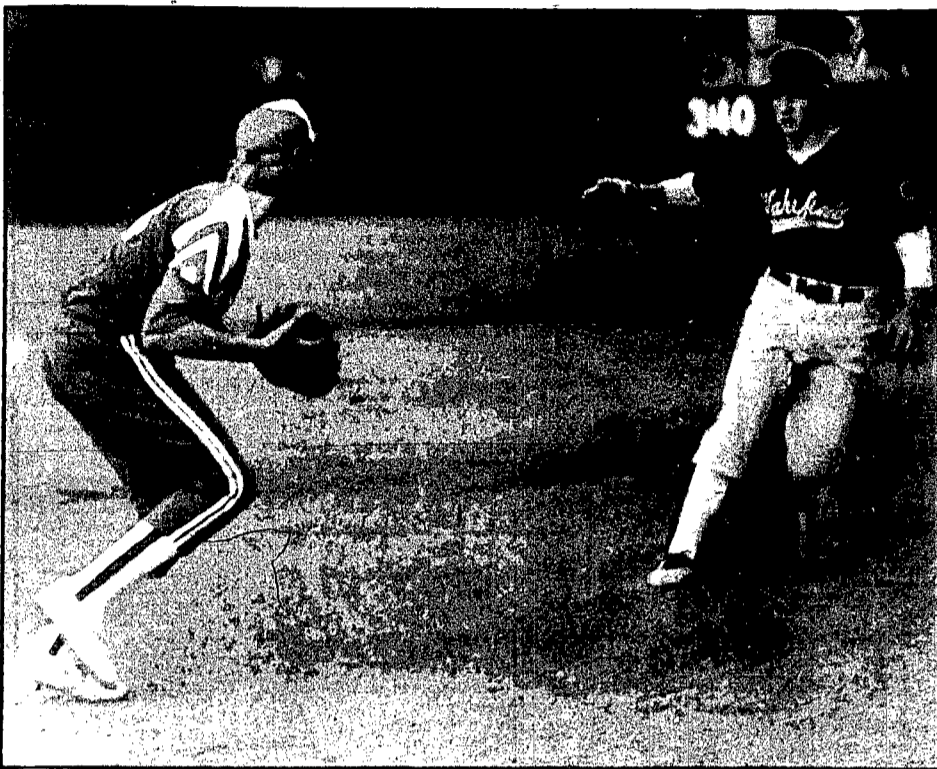

With no outs and Lexington runners on second and third, the next three batters were retired on two ground balls and a pop-up.

The first two Wayne batters in the bottom of the seventh inning made outs and the locals had only one chance. Pfeiffer and Nissen both drew walks to keep the hopes alive. Heier's base hit then won the game.

Wayne collected six hits in the game compared to nine for Lexington. The win improved Wayne's record to 28-6. Lexington finished its season at 24-20.

KEVRIN NISSEN of Wayne and Dale Phipps of Wakefield seem to be having a stare down on this confrontation near third base. Nissen fielded a ground ball and tagged Phipps out here as the runner was forced to go to third. Phipps later had the last laugh when he scored the winning run as Wakefield nipped Wayne 4-2, Thursday night.

Things Fall Wakefield's Way As Hosts Win Game & Coin Toss

A come-from-behind victory and a lucky toss of the coin put Wakefield in the favorite's role at the State Class B Legion Tournament at Wakefield, Thursday night.

The hosts scored two runs in the 10th inning to hand Wayne its first loss in the double elimination tournament. The Wakefield win left three teams alive in the tourney, Wayne, Wakefield and Lexington.

Following Thursday's three hour game, coaches of the three teams gathered at home plate for a coin flip to determine the team with the bye. All three coaches flipped heads, forcing a second flip.

Wakefield coach Paul Eaton, apparently superstitious, insisted that someone else represent the team in the second coin toss. This time Dale Phipps flipped tails as the other coaches turned heads. Thus, Wakefield received Friday's bye while Wayne and Lexington were scheduled to play.

The game between the Northeast Nebraska rivals was a typical Wayne-Wakefield matchup. It was the fifth meeting between the teams this season with Wakefield now holding a 3-2 edge.

The suspense-filled cliffhanger went into extra innings before a packed crowd at the Wakefield ball park. Wakefield scored twice in the top of the 10th to win the game 4-2. Fans sat on the edge of their seats until the final out.

Date Phipps reached first base when his high infield pop-up dropped between two Wayne players. One out later, clean-up hitter Mark Starzl cracked a double. The runners held at second and third. Tim Pfeiffer, who was relief pitcher, attempted a pick-off play at third base, but threw the ball into the dirt, allowing both runs to score.

Trailing 4-2, Wayne had one last chance to tie or win the ball game in the bottom of the 10th.

Hosts Eliminate Blair In Rain Delayed Game

Hosts Eliminate Blair
Wakefield kept its hopes of a state championship alive by eliminating Blair 5-2 Wednesday. The game which was resumed in the fourth inning because of a rain delay which postponed Tuesday night's action.

The hosts took the lead for good by scoring three runs in the sixth inning. Barry Jones scored the final run on a sacrifice fly by Larry Soderberg.

The Area 3 champions came within inches of doing just that. Tod Heier reached base on an error and with one out, lead off batter Jeff Zeiss came to the plate. He blasted a long fly ball down the foul line and well over the right field wall. The ball was ruled foul by inches as Wayne's first base coach Mike Meyer disputed the call.

Zeiss followed his near homer, with a single off of the glove of shortstop Tom Preston, keeping Wayne's hopes alive. Heier moved to third base on a sacrifice fly by Herman Carroll and Zeiss stole second.

With two outs and runners on second and third, Pfeiffer took a called third strike, ending the game.

The hosts scored in the first inning and held the lead until the bottom of the fifth. Blaine Nelson walked, reached second on a fielder's choice, moved to third on an error and scored on a wild pitch in the opening inning.

Wayne took the lead in the bottom of the fifth. Pat McCright walked and scored on a hard double by Kevrin Nissen that landed at the foot of the 360 foot wall in left-center field. Heier moved Nissen to third with a sacrifice bunt and Jeff Sperry brought him home with a perfect bunt on a squeeze play.

Both teams received effective performances from reserve pitchers in the first half of the game. Jeff Zeiss started on the mound for Wayne and went 6 1/2 innings, allowing two hits and one run. He walked four batters and struckout eight. Pfeiffer took over in the seventh inning.

Jeff Hallstrom started for Wakefield and pitched four complete innings. He gave up three hits and walked three batters while striking out two. Mark Starzl entered the game in relief and held Wayne to two hits, seven strikeouts and two walks. Wayne

Guy pitched the final inning to earn the save.

Wakefield tied the game in the seventh inning, sending it into extra innings. Rick Guy singled up the middle and Dean Miller and Larry Soderberg drew walks. With one out and bases loaded, Phipps drove a sacrifice fly ball into left field for an RBI.

Third Straight Win

Wayne Hands Ogallala 1st Loss

The Wayne Juniors prevailed when two undefeateds clashed in the winners' bracket of the Class B State Legion Tournament at Wakefield, Wednesday night.

The win moved Wayne a step closer to its shot at the state title and dropped Ogallala from the ranks of the unbeaten. Thursday's pairings matched Wayne against Wakefield and Ogallala against Lexington as the winners' and losers' brackets are dissolved according to the schedule.

Wayne grabbed its third consecutive victory in another exciting state match up. The locals scored two runs in the third and three in the fourth for the difference.

Ogallala got on the scoreboard first when Marly Bassett scored on a passed ball in the first inning.

Wayne returned the favor in the top of the third inning with its first two runs. Jeff Zeiss drew a walk, reached second on an error, took third on a fielder's choice and scored on another Ogallala error. Jeff Dion drove in Herman Carroll for the other run.

The visitors came right back with three runs in the top of the fourth inning. Bases were loaded when Tod Heier was hit by a pitch. Pat McCright walked and Kevrin Nissen was hit by a pitch. One run scored when Zeiss was hit by a pitch. Carroll drove in another run on a fielder's choice and Tim Pfeiffer singled in the third run.

Ogallala struck back with one run in the fourth, one in the fifth and one in the sixth. A walk, passed ball and base hit accounted for the run in the fourth. In the fifth, an error, a walk, a sacrifice bunt and a sacrifice fly brought in a run. Three walks, a single and a wild pitch produced the final run of the game in the sixth.

Carroll gained the win for Wayne pitching four complete innings and holding the opponents to two hits and one run. Pfeiffer earned the save by pitching the final three innings. He pitched out of a bases loaded jam in the sixth.

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Haszall

THE CENTRAL STATES intercollegiate Conference begins its fifth year of competition this fall. It looks like the same old story in the CSIC football race this year according to a coaches preseason poll.

Defending co-champions Kearney State and Pittsburg State are expected to battle for the top spot again in 1980. After finishing the 1979 season with identical 6-1 records, the two schools each received four first place votes and a total of 59 points, based on an 8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 scoring system in the poll.

Kearney, ranked fifth in the final NAIA national poll last season, and Pittsburg, ranked 15th nationally at the close of the year, are followed by Missouri Western, Missouri Southern, Fort Hays, Wayne State, Emporia State and Washburn University on the CSIC ballots.

Wayne State will open its season on Sept. 13 while the other conference teams will get a one week jump on the Wildcats, opening Sept. 6. Conference competition are scheduled to begin the last weekend in September.

IF FARMERS had only known that tournaments cause rain, they could have scheduled some earlier in the season when they needed rain badly.

One baseball tournament and two softball tournaments were scheduled in the Wayne area. In the past week and Mother Nature did her part to dampen the fields enough to postpone the action.

The Class B, State Legion Tourney in

Wakefield had been postponed two full days and part of another because of a wet field. Rain Friday night and Saturday morning threatened to move the finals game back as well.

Wayne's slow pitch men's and women's leagues both opened tournament action Friday night in the misting rain. By Saturday's second round, the fields were too wet to continue play.

POOR LEXINGTON! Anyone, with a heart, who attended Friday night's Class B Legion game between Wayne and Lexington has to feel at least a little bit sorry for the Lexington players.

Wayne whipped up a near-miracle finish with two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning to eliminate the visitors from the state tournament.

Lexington was one of the finer teams in the tournament and represented its community well with a good show of sportsmanship and baseball abilities. Unfortunately for them, someone has to lose.

HIGH SCHOOLS will soon be opening their school year and the fall sports schedule will be heavy again.

The Nebraska School Activities Association is always looking for good officials and this year is no exception. Rules meeting for football and volleyball are scheduled through the remainder of August. Any of officials or persons who would like to become officials can contact for a schedule of the meetings if interested.

The nearest site for one of these rules meetings is Norfolk. Football and volleyball meetings will both be held Thursday (Aug. 21). The football meeting is at the Norfolk High Little Theater and the volleyball meeting will be held at the Norfolk High gymnasium.

Supervised tests for officials will be held Tuesday, Sept. 9 at Norfolk High and Wednesday, Sept. 17 at the Wayne High School library.

STATE FOOTBALL PLAYOFFS will begin about Nov. 4. The state cross country meet is scheduled Oct. 24 and the state volleyball tournament will be played Nov. 14 and 15.

District football assignments have been formed by the NSAA. Wayne will in district B-4 with Ainsworth, Albion, Lakeview, Scotus, Creighton, Cedar Catholic, O'Neill, Ord, Schuyler and West Point.

Laurel will compete in the Class C1 district with Clarkson, Dodge, Emerson, Howells, Oakland, Pender, Ponca, Stanton, Wisner, West Point CC and Wynol.

Allen, Winside and Wakefield are all bunched in the Class C2 district along with Bancroft, Coleridge, Hartington, Homer, Humphrey S.F., Leigh, Lyons, Newcastle and Walthill.

Wayne-Carroll Boosters Meet

The Wayne Carroll Athletic Booster Club has scheduled a meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday (Aug. 21) at Bressler Park. In addition to regular business, members may order sweaters at that time. Any new members are welcome to attend. Anyone who is interested in ordering a booster sweater but unable to attend the meeting should call Vicky Skokan at 375-3406.

Fresh Football Opens

Ninth grade football practice for all interested freshmen at Wayne Carroll High School will begin at 3 p.m. Monday, Aug. 25. Players should meet at the high school boys' locker room, coach Duane Blomenkamp announced.

B-ball Awards to Thomas

Tammie Thomas of Wayne won several awards at the Doane College basketball camp held a couple of weeks ago in Crete. She was one of five individuals named to the all-star team. Joining Tammie on the all-star squad are two girls from Omaha and two from Crete. Thomas also received awards as top hustler and top rebounder in the camp. Over 130 girls participated in the camp, directed by Doane basketball coach Bob Erickson.

V-ball Honor to Zeiss

Jill Zeiss of Wayne was named most improved player at a volleyball camp held Aug. 2-7 at Briar Cliff College in Sioux City. Between 80 and 100 girls participated in the camp. Zeiss will be a junior at Wayne Carroll High School this fall.

Robinson, Orris Win Wisner Raft Regatta

Denny Robinson and Don Orris of Wayne teamed up to win the third annual Rafting Regatta on the Irwin F. Toelle Wildlife Management area, south of Wisner, last Sunday.

The team earned second place honors in last year's race. This year, the regatta was moved from the Elkhorn River to Toelle Lake, offering a shorter course.

Orris was a double winner as he teamed up with Wisner's Russ Schultz to win the men's canoe division.

Melodie Robinson of Wayne and Cathy Brahmmer of Wisner, also using the Robinson raft, placed second in the powder puff division.

Allen Goes to Bat for Brent Chase

BRENT CHASE SHARES A LAUGH with a disguised Pearl Snyder, Allen's village clerk who doubled as bat girl during a benefit ball game for Brent last Sunday. The game was between the Allen Fire and Rescue Squad and the Channel 9 Heavy Hitters of Sioux City. Although cloudy skies threaten ed to put an early end to the afternoon activities, they didn't dampen the enthusiasm of the over 500 persons who turned out. Brent was paralyzed following an automobile accident near Allen last February.

AN ESTIMATED $1,200 WAS RAISED for the Brent Chase Benefit Fund during a baseball game between the Allen Fire and Rescue Squad and the Channel 9 Heavy Hitters last Sunday afternoon in Allen. Over 500 persons turned out for the game to raise money for Brent, who was injured in an automobile accident last February near Allen. Brent threw out the first ball. The Heavy Hitters were escorted into town by the Allen rescue unit and fire truck and were treated to supper at the Allen fire hall following the game. The Heavy Hitters reported their largest turnout for a game, including team member Miss Teenage America Lori Herron of Akron, Iowa, who is working for Channel 9 during the summer. A concession stand, sponsored by the Pleasant Hour Club of Allen, raised nearly $90. Donations for Brent, who was paralyzed from the neck down, with partial use of his arms remaining, are still being accepted at the Security State Bank in Allen.

NO, THEY AREN'T ALL MEMBERS of the Allen Fire and Rescue Squad. These youngsters hopped aboard Allen's fire truck for a ride Sunday during a break in the ball game. Driver Paul Rahn had a slow start when the truck's motor died. Quick to the scene were the Channel 9 Heavy Hitters, who attempted to push the vehicle across the field. The truck started soon afterwards and the children were treated to a ride around town.

TOM PETERSON, CHANNEL 9 weatherman couldn't make it around the bases without taking a rest stop at third. Quick to the rescue was the water girl for Allen's ball team, Joanne Rahn. Joanne found that cold water over the head brought Tom to his feet in a hurry.

SWING, DAD, SWING says two-year-old Josh Snyder. Josh thought his dad, Pete, needed all the help he could get out on the playing field and so decided to go along and call the shots as he saw them.

CRAIG WILLIAMS, PRESIDENT of the Security State Bank in Allen, didn't win the game for the Allen Fire and Rescue Squad, but he did take a swing at it. Craig also was pitcher for the Allen team. Standing in the background is the Channel 9 cameraman.

BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW

Every government official or board that handles public moneys, should publish of regular intervals an accounting of it showing where and how each dollar is spent. We hold this to be a fundamental principle to democratic government.

IRRIGATION HOTLINE REPORTS

Daily reports on crop water use information will continue on local radio stations until the end of August. These reports aid irrigators in scheduling water application, and are provided by Lower Elkhorn NRD and the Cooperative Extension Service. The reports are aired on these stations:

KHUB — 1340 — Fremont 6-7:00 a.m. and 12:40 p.m.
KTCH — 1590 — Wayne 6:35 a.m. and 12:34 p.m.
WJAG — 780 — Norfolk 7:30 a.m.

ment and utilization of our surface water resources would be inefficient and wasteful.

Tom Lamberson, Water Resources Engineer for the Department of Water Resources monitoring stream flow of Union Creek.

STREAM GAGING IN NORTHEAST NEBRASKA

The economy of Nebraska is largely built on the availability of water for agriculture, industry and recreation. For this reason, it is to everyone's benefit to manage and allocate the waters of the state in a fair and efficient manner. The Department of Water Resources has been charged with certain responsibilities, and carries out these responsibilities in the following ways:

1. Administer stream pumping permits for irrigation or industrial use.
2. Administers the Flood Plain permit program which regulates building in flood plains of streams.
3. Carries on dam safety inspection on a regular basis.
4. Registers groundwater wells.
5. Stream gaging — personnel measure and record stream flows periodically and at times of high or low flows.

Stream gaging in Northeast Nebraska is accomplished by Department of Water Resources personnel who are officed with the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District on Highway No. 81, south of Norfolk. These personnel in cooperation with the U.S.G.S. maintain 17 continuous recording stations. Gaging is done on a monthly basis on 10 other streams, and 45 streams are measured in spring and fall.

The measurements taken are expressed in volume and time, usually cubic feet per second. The first records were collected in 1894 and were concerned only with surface irrigation. By 1912 the program was expanded because electricity generating plants were becoming popular, and there was a lack of accurate data necessary for planning them.

Major floods in the 1930s, 40's and 50's brought public support for flood control projects. These projects again accelerated stream gaging programs to obtain flow data necessary for planning and engineering.

The Department of Roads and counties use stream gaging records to design roads, bridges and culverts. Adequate design will substantially reduce flood damages, and save tax dollars. Water samples obtained while stream gaging are used by other agencies to record water quality data. Evaluations can then be made on the natural and altered environmental conditions of streams.

Stream gaging data is also used in flood plain zoning to prevent construction in high risk areas. This reduces losses in times of flooding, thus saving property, money and sometimes lives.

Feasibility studies for recreation or water resources projects depend on accurate stream flow data. Without accurate stream flow data, the develop-

TEACHERS ENVIRONMENTAL WORKSHOP

A weekend workshop for teachers will be held October 3-6 at Camp Newman, east of Lincoln. The interdisciplinary Environmental Education Workshop is being organized by the Department of Environmental Control and will use a curriculum developed by the U.S. Forest Service.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln will offer up to two hours of graduate level credit through the Departments of Elementary and Secondary Education.

This is a professional, but low cost workshop designed for all teachers, not just science teachers. For more information contact the Lower Elkhorn NRD office in Norfolk.

2-INCH RAIN EQUALS 250 HP PER ACRE

Like small bombs, rain drops hit soil, gouging and splattering exposed land, says Robert Walker, University of Illinois natural resource specialist.

A rainfall of 2 inches per hour equals about 250 horsepower on an acre, Walker says. This is equal to the force necessary to lift the top 7 inches of topsoil 3 feet in the air 86 times during an hour's rain. A single raindrop can splash wet soil as high as 2 feet and as far as 5 feet from where the drop hits.

Raindrops often play the key role in the first stage of the erosion process by providing the force to dislodge the soil and break particles into a size that can be carried by runoff. Unprotected soil is more vulnerable to this runoff.

Leaving crop residue on the soil surface is the most effective way to stop this action. The residue takes the impact of the rain and slows the movement of water down the hill. Depending on the slope of the hill, adequate residue can cut soil erosion in half.

4,000 Mile Trip

TWO WAYNE couples and two Denver, Colo., couples recently completed a 4,000 mile motorcycle trip through Nebraska, South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Alberta and British Columbia, Canada. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stoltenberg and Mr. and Mrs. Ron Thorsten, all of Wayne; and Mr. and Mrs. Don Maudlin and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Turner of Denver spent two weeks travelling. The four couples camped out most of the trip, but were forced into a motel at Calgary, Canada, because of ash from Mount St. Helens. At one point on the trip, their camp was invaded by a bear which devoured their food supply. The cycles, which averaged about 50 miles per gallon fully loaded, carried clothing, rain gear, tents, sleeping bags, cooking utensils and food. Pictured standing from left are the Stoltenbergs, the Thorstens and the Maudlins; and kneeling are the Turners. Diane Turner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stoltenberg.

Farm Safety From Mental, Physical Angles Examined

Educating the public on farm safety from the physical and mental capabilities angle may be the approach of safety specialists during the next several years, according to one National Institute for Farm Safety (NIFS) member.

"During the past 10 years, safety specialists haven't made much headway. I think we need to go down a new road in our method of educating people on farm safety," said Ordie Hogsett, University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill. Hogsett and NIFS President Clair Young, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, and William Field, Purdue University West Lafayette, Ind. addressed the NIFS summer meeting at the Villager Motel here June 26.

In 1970, NIFS established a 10-year goal of reducing farm-related accidents by 50 percent. Field said. While the number of accidents has trended downward, the cut hasn't been by 50 percent, he said, adding there might even be slippage in progress to achieve the goal.

In 1975, there were three major accomplishments in the farm safety area," Field said. "The USDA budgeted for a safety specialist in every state, and had created an advisory committee, and OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health Administration) had established a set of standards for farms. Today, the budget is in jeopardy, the advisory committee no longer exists and the OSHA standards no longer apply to small farms."

To counteract this, Young suggested that specialists who attended the 1980 summer meeting apply different teaching methods to their own safety programs. "An obvious benefit of this meeting is to share successes and failures, especially the failures," he said. "This way others are aware of what doesn't work. They can also take new ideas across the state line, modify it for their own use."

Young stressed the only limiting factor for the specialists was their imagination, not funding.

However, Hogsett emphasized a new approach of applying human factor engineering to prevent farm accidents.

"Everyone has a limiting factor for both mental and physical. When people extend beyond this limit we get in trouble. How many farmers do this without realizing it?" he asked. After looking over old material, Hogsett said the same information could be used that was new 30 years ago with a few modifications.

"We have lost some old hazards and gained some new ones, but basically, the information is still the same," he said.

According to Hogsett, the emotional maturity of the farm population must be evaluated to solve the accident prevention problem.

"There is a basic problem in the whole system," he explained. "Farmers must be aggressive to be successful and most have to farm large acreages. We have seen that it is the aggressive farmer who has a tendency to have accidents.

Educating farmers of their human limitations, both physical and mental, can be the life saving force in the future, he concluded.

Conway Named As Outstanding Young Man

Gerald A. Conway, Wayne, has been selected to receive the "Outstanding Young Man of America for 1980" award.

The Outstanding Young Men of America award is endorsed by the U.S. Jaycees and is presented nationally to young men who freely serve their communities, states and nation. The award reads: "In recognition of outstanding professional achievement, superior leadership ability and exceptional service to the community."

Conway is a member of the Midwest Business Administration Association, Industrial Relations Research Association, Action Corps of Executives, Delta Sigma Pi business fraternity, Father Tracy Council of the Knights of Columbus, St. Mary's Catholic Church of Wayne, American Legion, VFW, Phi Delta Kappa, Wayne County Farm Bureau, Sigma Nu and the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association.

He is a 1965 graduate of South Sioux City High School and holds a bachelor of science degree from the University of South Dakota, a master of science degree from Chadron State College and is presently completing the requirements for a doctorate degree from the University of Nebraska.

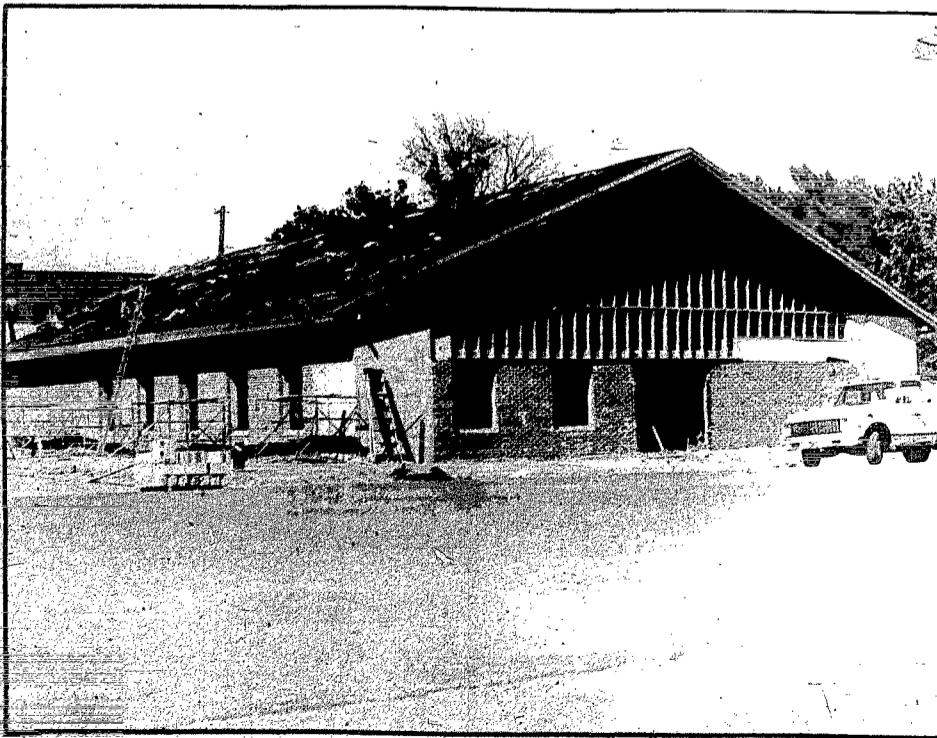

Conway joined the Wayne State College Faculty in 1975, where he teaches in the Division of Business in the areas of finance, insurance, and real estate. He is also a candidate for the Nebraska Legislature representing the 17th District in Northeast Nebraska.

Conway, his wife Kathleen, and daughter Jennifer, reside at 1115 Lawndale Drive in Wayne. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C.P. Conway of rural South Sioux City.

Allen FFA'ers Are Third

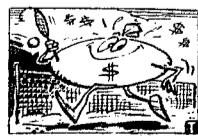

TWO ALLEN Consolidated School District Future Farmers of America (FFA) members placed third in overall competition at the District Tractor Driving Contest in West Point Thursday evening. Ross Lund placed third and will be first alternate to the State Fair, while Scott Carr was 13th. Overall standings had Howells in first and Leigh in second. There were 30 students and 17 schools participating in the annual event. Lund is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Lund, and Carr is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Carr. FFA advisor at Allen is Tom Wilmes.

Laurel Bank Construction

CONSTRUCTION OF the new Security National Bank building in Laurel is progressing on the north side of Laurel's main street. Here, workers are busy putting shingles on the roof. The vault and much of the wall construction have already been completed. The target date for completion of the building is about the first of the year.

Tennis was played in the first eight Olympic games. The record of the longest career in tennis belongs to C. Alphonso Smith, born in 1909. He was the U.S. National Boys title in 1924 and in 1974 won the National 65 and over title.
