Council Examines Construction Bids

The Wayne City Council took care of business in short order Tuesday evening, then entering into executive session at the meeting's end to discuss a garbage ordinance.

THE MAIN ORDER on the special meeting agenda was to open bids on construction of a water main extension and street improvements for an apartment complex to be located directly south of El Toro. Only one bid was received for the street work which will involve less than one block of paving. That bid — $10,872.60 — was received from Concrete Specialties Inc. of South Sioux City. Approximate starting date is Oct. 1.

Concrete Specialties also is contractor for Hillside Drive leading into Sunnyview Subdivision for Mohr's Industrial Tract south of U.S. 35.

THREE BIDS were opened for extension of the city's water main into the apartment complex area. These were as follows:

C W Albin Excavation of Oakland, $8,428.
E L Black & Sons Inc of Dakota City, $8,687.50; and Lee Swinney Trenching of Wayne, $8,099.70.

Although Swinney and Concrete Specialties were the apparent low bidders, engineers for Bruce Gilmore & Associates will review the bids and report at Tuesday's regular Council meeting.

A 20 unit apartment complex is planned for the area south of El Toro. The street extension will be an extension of Sixth Street south of El Toro eastward about 125 feet. The water main will be an 8" main from the existing 12" main.

THE COUNCIL entered into closed session to discuss some type of problem with the garbage ordinance. Although neither personnel nor litigation were cited as reasons for the session, it was not made clear why the session was being held.

Problems involving Mohr's Industrial Tract were discussed, and the Council will review preliminary and final plats of the project before taking any actions.

A representative of Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Nebraska was present to ask the Council's permission for a permit to park a mobile trailer at Pamida, Inc. for a few weeks in October.

SINCE THE item was not on the agenda, the Council informally instructed City Attorney Bob Enax to prepare an amendment to the existing city ordinances. Currently, all commercial or residential trailers must be parked in a trailer court regardless of how long they are to be inside the city limits.

Blue Cross-Blue Shield hopes to set up a temporary office here to provide insurance benefits to customers of seven banks in Wayne and Thurston counties. All Council members were present except Leo Hansen. Council members Cliff Ginn and Darrel Fueslberth left early. All actions were unanimous.

United Way Fund Drive Set Oct. 2

The time of year has rolled around again when Community Chest volunteers will be collecting for the annual United Way Fund Drive.

UNITED WAY is designed to provide financial assistance to several organizations considered beneficial to Wayne.

The Community Chest has begun organizing for its 26th annual fund drive. Grant Ellingson is drive chairman with Dan Field acting as assistant drive chairman. Marilyn Carhart is doing the leg work as secretary of the organization.

Oct. 2 is scheduled as the kickoff for the drive. Team leaders have been busy lining up workers to assist them and all hope for a speedy conclusion. Ellingson said.

THE GOAL THIS year as set by the board is $15,500 and represents an increase of $270 over last year's goal, or about 1.7 percent.

Twenty five years ago, during the first United Way campaign in Wayne, residents were asked to donate $6,500. This year, Ellingson said the board has adopted the $15,500 budget to help support nine agencies.

Chairman Ellingson said the majority of this year's money will be returned to the city in the form of its recreation program and the like.

A TOTAL OF 60 percent (the same as last year) of the planned budget will go to the Wayne Recreation Program (26 percent), Mid-America Council of Boy Scouts (23 percent) and the Prairie Hills Council of Girl Scouts (19 percent).

Ellingson noted that these three agencies alone touch the lives of nearly every family in the city.

A complete breakdown of the agencies which the United Fund helps support is as follows:

Wayne Recreation Fund, $4,325; Mid-America Council of Boy Scouts, $3,600; Prairie Hills Council of Girl Scouts, $3,000; Arthritis Foundation, $1,150; Salvation Army, $850; Wayne Senior Citizens Center, $800; Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation; Florence Crittenton Home of Sioux City, $275; American Red Cross, $200.

Only about seven percent of the total goal, or $1,000, is budgeted for a contingency fund and administration of the campaign.

BOARD MEMBERS are optimistic the goal will be reached by Oct. 31, the date set for an all-school dance to involve students at Wayne-Carroll High School in the campaign.

Some residents are unsure exactly what to donate to the United Way. Residents this year are being asked to donate a half day's pay.

"Residents might ask how many dollars is it worth to give a youngster a year's experience in one or more activities in the Recreation Program, or in Scouting, or in Red Cross-sponsored swimming and lifesaving lessons," Ellingson said.

Board President Pat Gross said civic organizations and clubs in Wayne who wish to see a narrated slide presentation of the agencies supported by the Community Chest can contact him.

A PAINTED "thermometer" will be placed on the corner of Seventh and Main Streets and will keep track of the progress of this year's drive.

Board members, besides Gross, include Mrs. Carhart as secretary-treasurer; Wilma Moore, Ed Carroll, Fred Webber, Randy Pederson, Vaughn Benson, Sheryl Jordan, Merle Rise, Verneal Ellingson, Loren Ellis, Doug Sturm and LaVon Beckman.

Fire Destroys Tanker

WAYNE VOLUNTEER FIRE Department averted a potential disaster Wednesday morning by quickly extinguishing a blazing State Department of Roads oil truck at the state barn on U.S. 35 east. The undercarriage of the truck, fully loaded with road oil, was on fire when the units arrived. Firemen put out the blaze and at the same time kept the tank portion of the truck cooled down to avert an explosion. The fire started near the rear of the truck where oil is heated before being used as a sealer on roads. There were no injuries and the truck was considered a total loss.

County Enrollment Drops

Enrollment in Wayne County public, parochial and rural schools is down 38 students from a year ago, reflecting a continued decline in enrollment.

BUT NOT ALL schools had decreases in pupil numbers, as rural county schools had an increase of eight pupils over 1979 and St. Mary's Catholic School had a difference of two. There were a total of 1,813 students attending schools in Wayne County last year compared to 1,775 this year, figures supplied by the office of the county superintendent show.

St. Mary's added a kindergarten class this year which provided eight more students than normally would have been enrolled. Had the kindergarten class not been added,

St. Mary's would have been down six students from a year ago.

The largest decrease was in public city schools, as a total of 47 students were lost. Wayne led the way with a decrease of 22 students from a year ago. Winside was next with a loss of 14 and Wakefield School District (which is in Wayne County) had a loss of 11 students.

THE THIRD-DAY of school figures come as little surprise to anyone since enrollments have been declining for several years and are expected to drop for a few more before leveling out.

The only real surprise was an increase in country (rural) school enrollments. The net increase was eight, although four of the rural schools showed losses, two stayed the same and six had increases. District 32 was dissolved and combined with District 5.

In county parochial schools, District 9 in Hoskins, Trinity Lutheran, had a loss of one student, while St. Mary's in Wayne had an increase of two students.

THE HOSKINS Public School system also recorded an increase of five students, the third day reports indicate.

The total rural enrollment this year was 233 compared to 225 last year. Wayne had 864 this year compared to 886 last year. Win-

Charlie's Liquor License to Remain

Charlie's Bar in Winside will have a liquor license, at least for another year.

That decision was the result of a public hearing Tuesday night at the Winside Auditorium during which two persons objected to noise resulting from an outdoor "recreation" area behind Charlie's.

THE HEARING was called by members of Winside's village board of trustees pursuant to state law. Three persons had objected in writing about noise problems at the Main Street bar, owned by Charlie Weible, and the hearing was called to consider the possibility of not renewing the bar's liquor license.

After about 20 minutes of discussion from the audience, the village trustees closed the public hearing and held discussion among themselves before opening a regular meeting to recommend renewal of the license.

HOWEVER, audience members were confused by the unusual parliamentary maneuvering and believed the trustees were closing the meeting to the public. The news media remained during discussion by the trustees and for the unanimous vote which was held in open session.

Jean Gahl, who lives with her husband about three blocks from Charlie's Bar, was first to object during the hearing. "She told the trustees she had no desire to keep Charlie from making a living, but added that 'I do not think he has the right to make a living at the discomfort of others.'"

MRS. GAHL said she had no objection to the liquor license, but was concerned about the noise. "It sort of bothered me, but someone had said if the old people don't like it, then they can get out of town," she said.

Only one of the three objectors was present at the start of the meeting, but Fred Brader, who lives a little more than two blocks away, arrived late and provided additional comments. The other official objector — Mrs. Gahl's mother, Jo Thompson — was absent due to illness.

"I think it (the noise) should be controlled without a doubt," Brader said. "There are a lot of older people who get their sleep in the early evenings. Staying up until 11 or 12, these people get tired."

ONE TRUSTEE said he had received several phone calls about noise from the outdoor area behind Charlie's Bar, but none of those persons was at the meeting, he noted.

"Another trustee said 'personally, it's never bothered me.'"

Bar owner Weible admitted that the "first couple of times it was a little loud. I have to

Power Line Preliminaries Underway

Preliminary field activities related to the MANDAN Project are to begin soon in North Dakota, South Dakota and Nebraska along the recently announced MANDAN Project power line corridor.

THE CORRIDOR is about six miles wide and extends from near Winnipeg, Manitoba, to near Hoskins. The project is a proposed 500 kilovolt line designed to exchange power between the Canadian province and the three states. Several utilities are interested in building the line.

Personnel will be conducting field reconnaissance of possible line routes in North Dakota, South Dakota and Nebraska. Additional investigation related to gathering data for the environmental report also will take place. All work will be conducted from public roads or lands and is scheduled to begin after Sept. 22, MANDAN officials said.

THE CORRIDOR crosses or touches portions of the following counties: North Dakota — Pembina, Walsh, Grand Forks, Steele, Barnes, Ransom and Sargent; South Dakota — Marshall, Day, Clark, Beadle, Kingsbury, Sanborn, Miner, Hanson, Hutchinson, McCook and Yankton; Nebraska — Cedar, Knox, Pierce, Wayne, Madison and Stanton.

Following additional study of the field work data, several alternate routes will be selected within the corridor. Public meetings on the alternate routes will be held this fall, followed by selection of a preferred route.

Wayne Federal, Midwest Fed Merger Okayed

The merger between Wayne Federal Savings and Loan Association and Midwest Federal Savings and Loan of Nebraska City has been approved by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. It was announced by Betty Addison, Wayne Federal manager.

THE MERGER will make the combination the eighth largest savings institution in the state of Nebraska, with assets of $130 million.

Under the merger plan, an advisory board of directors for the Wayne area will be retained. Betty Addison will become vice president of Midwest Federal and serve on its board of directors. The president of Midwest Federal is Duane W. Hall of Nebraska City. Senior officers of the association are Gary Alles, director of lending; Pauline Stanley, director of business development; and Arnold Beckman, director of administrative services.

WAYNE FEDERAL, formed in 1935 by a group of Wayne businessmen, has operated continuously since that time. Midwest Federal was formed in 1887 in Nebraska City and also has operated continuously. With the merger, Midwest Federal now has nine offices with other offices in Auburn, Plattsmouth, Syracuse, Falls City, Crete, Weeping Water and Humboldt.

The merger will make more mortgage funds available for the Northeast Nebraska area. Over the last 10 years an average of $13 million per year has been loaned by Midwest Federal to home buyers. In the same time period, more than $28 million in interest has been paid to depositors. General reserves are $5.5 million. All accounts are insured to $100,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

AN OPEN house is planned Oct. 11 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. All area residents are invited.

Siren Test Is Friday

The city of Wayne will conduct the monthly testing of civil defense sirens at 1 p.m. Friday.

Sirens will be allowed to run only one minute with a three-minute pause between each siren test. Sirens will be tested in the following sequence:

Alert (used for tornado or other natural disaster warning) — both high and low siren on for one minute.

Pause — three minutes.

Attack — both high and low on for 10 seconds, off for 10 seconds, continuing for one minute.

Normal time sequence for each of the sirens would be a full three minutes. Since this is for testing purposes only, we will shut them off after one minute each so the public can quickly determine the difference between test and an actual warning.

If this were not a test, the public should immediately take shelter upon hearing either the alert or the attack signals given.

Wayne's Perfect 10 Sweeps Cedar Midland Upends WSC; Cats Prepare for Western

The cross country dual win over Hartington Cedar Catholic was like a routine practice run over the 5,000 meter course, Tuesday afternoon.

The Wayne Blue Devils breezed to an easy team victory with a perfect score of 10. Cedar Catholic scored 28 points.

The Wayne varsity literally ran as a team as the top four individuals crossed the finish line simultaneously. Doug Proett and Steve Monson, who have been Wayne's top two runners, slowed down in the final mile and Joel Mosley and Henric Olsson, Wayne's third and fourth runners, speeded up to catch the two.

The foursome crossed the finish line in unison to the delight of a home crowd which attended the race at the Wayne Country Club. Their time in the cool, windy weather was 17:42.

Missing from the all-Wayne finish was Jeff Baier who was hampered by what is believed to be tendonitis. He was forced to walk over one stretch of the course and finished seventh with a time of 19:08.

Glenn Elliott, the only reserve runner on Wayne's team, was clocked in 22:40, an improvement from his previous best time.

Next action for the Devils is scheduled at 3 p.m. tomorrow (Friday) in the Crofton Invitational Wayne will host South Sioux City at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

The Wayne State College Wildcats took it on the chin last weekend, losing to the Midland Lutheran Warriors 24-13.

The Warriors played a controlled game, limiting the Wildcats to 68 rushing yards to their 254. The Warrior offense completed 5 of 14 passes for 125 yards while the Wildcats had to rely on their passing game to gain yardage. Three quarterbacks for the Wildcats threw 40 passes, completing 15 for 200 yards. The passing total looks good on paper, but the Wildcats could not connect on enough passes back to back to sustain scoring drives.

Midland drew first blood in the first quarter with a 37 yard field goal by Hank Schollmeyer. The field goal capped a 37-yard drive from the WSC 47-yard line. On the next set of downs the Wildcats scored on a 69 yard touchdown pass from Rick Lade to Ed Blackburn, the only time in the game that the Wildcats had a lead. The Warriors regained the lead for good in the first quarter on a 21-yard pass from Steve Carlson to Grandee West. Hank Schollmeyer made good the PAT.

Midland controlled the second quarter, rolling up two touchdowns and limiting the Wildcats to 14 passing yards and 13 rushing yards. The Warriors' first score of the quarter came with 9:21 on the clock on a 31-yard pass from Carlson to West. Their second and last score came with 3:19 on the clock on a Kent Beckman 3-yard run. Schollmeyer kicked both PAT's.

The third quarter was marked by a change in Wildcat quarterbacks. Mike Warren stepped in completing 4 of 14 for 23 yards. The Wildcats scored early in the third on an 11-yard pass from Warren to Ed Blackburn. The PAT attempt by Gary Cook was wide. That was the last score through the Cats were close several times, failing to convert fourth and short. With 3:09 on the clock, Cook attempted a field goal but slipped and turned the ball back to the Warriors.

In the fourth quarter the Cats again went to the air to gain yardage. This time Kelly Neustrom came in and hit 6 of 12 for 68 yards. Again the Wildcats were close to scoring but failed to convert the fourth and short yardage.

The Warriors were close enough twice in the fourth to attempt field goals. One was a 29-yard attempt with 14:06 on the clock, the other was a 51-yarder with 10:51 remaining. The Wildcats were on the move late in the quarter on Neustrom passes to the six-yard line. On fourth down, Warrior Jay Larson intercepted a Neustrom pass to finish off the game.

The game was costly for the Wildcats not only in win loss, but in players as well. Linebacker Steve Dennis was injured early in the game and is questionable for Saturday's contest. Linebacker

Tony Scudder broke his foot and is out for the remainder of the season.

The next game for the Wildcats is on the road against the Missouri Western Griffons. The Griffons have victories over Evangel 21-13 and Concordia 22-7 and a tie with Augustana 22-22. Game time is 1:30 at Spratt Memorial Stadium in St. Joseph, Mo.

Bears Fall To Wynot

The early season schedule continued to be rough for Laurel's volleyball team as Wynot handed the Bears a 15-3, 15-8 loss, Tuesday. Laurel has not yet played at home.

Kay Anderson led the locals with what coach Dwight Iverson described as "a pretty good performance." She scored six points.

In B team action, Wynot took a 14-16, 15-3, 15-4 win from Laurel and in the C team game, Laurel lost 16-18, 15-9, 9-15. For Laurel, the B team leader was Jill Twilford and C team leader was Cam Crookshank.

Last Thursday, the Bears lost to Plainview 1-15, 8-15. The B team lost 10-15, 5-15 but Laurel's C team picked up a victory 15-13, 15-7.

Laurel will open its home schedule Tuesday when Osmond invades the locals.

Lady Cats Place 2nd in Tourney

The Lady Wildcat volleyball team had a very busy but productive week. On Wednesday night the Lady Cats traveled to Sioux City, Iowa for their first league game against Morningside College.

The varsity and the junior varsity both played four games apiece. The varsity ripped off two quick wins by identical 15-9 scores before Morningside took one game away 15-7. The Lady Cats ended the night on a winning note taking the fourth game 15-6.

The junior varsity also fared well against the Morningside squad. The first two games belonged to the Lady Cats 15-4, 15-5. The third game was won by Morningside 15-13 before the Lady Cats put the finishing touches on the evening 15-18 in league play. The Lady Wildcats are 2-0 on the season.

Over the weekend the Lady Wildcats traveled back to Sioux City for the six team Briar Cliff Tournament. The tournament was attended by Briar Cliff, Augustana, Creighton, Dordt College and Southwest Minnesota as well as Wayne State.

Play was arranged in round robin with each team playing two games with all others. The winner was determined by over all win loss record at the end of play.

The Lady Wildcats emerged with a 7-3 record, good enough for second place. Briar Cliff, the only team to beat the Lady Cats twice, won the tournament with a 9-1 record. The only other loss the Lady Cats sustained was at the hands of Dordt College.

Wayne State traveled to Omaha for a triangular against the University of Nebraska-Omaha, and Doane College, Wednesday. The Lady Cats return to Omaha for a triangular with St. Mary's and Peru tomorrow (Friday). These are all league games. The first conference game for WSC is Oct 1 against Missouri Western in St. Joseph, Mo.

Norfolk Spikers Slip by Devils

A fine rally came up just short as Wayne's volleyball team lost its match with Norfolk 7-15, 15-13, 14-16 in the Wayne Carroll High School gym, Tuesday night.

The Devils jumped in front 5-0 in the first game but Norfolk tied the score at 6-6 and pulled away for the win.

In the second game, Wayne became the aggressor and opened a 4-0 lead. Led by the spiking of Tammie Thomas and Lisa Peters, the Blue Devils rallied from 8-4 and 11-6 deficits to gain the lead and win the game.

The serving of Lynn Surber and Jill Zeiss brought the hosts back within two points at 12-10. Then Peters and Thomas took over to forge a 13-13 tie. Sandy Uehrt served the final two points for a 15-13 triumph.

The third game was nip and tuck all the way. After an early 5-5 tie, the Blue Devils fell behind 9-5. Both teams put on an exhibition of spiking and saving as Wayne pulled back within one point at 9-8 but fell behind 14-8.

With a never say die attitude, the hosts put together a final comeback attempt. Led by Surber's serving, Wayne scored six consecutive points to knot the game at 14 points each. Norfolk regained control of the serve and scored the final two points for a 16-14 victory.

Coach Mavis Dalton said that her team played well but added, "Against Class A competition, we must play better than usual. They looked so good for awhile."

Leading server was Lynn Surber with nine points and one ace. Leading spiker was Lisa Peters with 13 spikes. Leading setter was Jill Zeiss with 29 sets.

Shari Schwede led Norfolk with her spiking and hustle on the floor. The loss dropped Wayne's record to 5-3. The Devils will host Wisner Pilger tonight (Thursday) and travel to Emerson Hubbard Tuesday.

The varsity also lost to Columbus Lakeview 1-15, 15-12, 9-15 on the home court, Friday. Jill Zeiss was the leading server with nine points and Tammie Thomas was the leading spiker with 14 good spikes.

In reserve action against Norfolk, Tuesday, Wayne lost 3-15, 0-15, dropping to 1-3 for the season. Wayne's freshman team lost a close one 12-15, 15-9, 13-15. "The freshmen were a much, much improved club," said coach Mavis Dalton. Cheryl Sukup scored 15 points as the freshmen improved their record to 1-1.

Lady Cats Prepare

Carroll's Recruits Promising

By Diana Daniels
Wayne State SID

The task of recruiting future Lady Wildcats is nearly completed for third year coach Helen Carroll. There yet remains the task of making cuts and shaping the remaining players together as a team when practice officially starts Oct. 8.

After a slow season as the year before, the Lady Wildcats improved their record to 14-15 last season. "One of the greatest accomplishments of the past seasons was for us to go back out and surprise teams that had beaten us by a considerable margin the year before," commented coach Carroll.

Two of the leading recruits are Carol Durkee of Papillion and Stacy Moore of Missouri Valley, Iowa.

Durkee, at 5-7, was a metro Omaha standout having been named to the World-Herald all-metro second team, all-conference second team and most valuable player in the north-south all star game. Durkee averaged 10 points and eight rebounds per game last season with a high game of 27 points.

Moore was recruited primarily for track and field but is also a standout basketball player. She was named to the all-southeast Iowa team two years in a row and most valuable player last season.

Two players who participated in the 1980 all-star classic in Omaha are now at WSC trying out for a berth on the Lady Wildcat team. These players are Patty Carey from Norfolk and Sue Juhlin from Battle Creek.

Carrey is a 5-7 guard who led her home town team in total points with 241 and assists with 84. Patty was honored by being selected to the second team all-state and all-conference team as well as playing for the north all-star team. Juhlin is a 6-0 forward who scored an average of 16.3 rebounds and hauled in an average of 11.4 rebounds a game.

Another of the top freshmen recruited to try out for the Wayne State Lady Wildcat basketball team is 6-1 Jolene Kaminski from Loup City. Kaminski has fine jumping ability, averaging eight rebounds per game, to compliment her 11 points per game scoring average. Kaminski was named to the all-conference team and was honorable mention all-state her senior year.

The Lady Wildcats have about 10 players returning from last year's squad for tryouts this season. This group will form an experienced nucleus on which to build this season.

Top rebounder Julie Repronis returns to the Lady Cats in rebounding with an average of 12 per game. Repronis was the only Lady Cat named to the first team all-conference squad.

Top scorer for the Lady Cats, sophomore Lisa Draper also returns. As a freshman last season, the 5-6 forward from Council Bluffs scored an average of 12.3 points and if things go her way, she is expected to be a prime candidate for all-conference selection this season.

Honorable mention all-conference guard, Lori (Erwin) Koester also returns for tryouts. She was only one point behind teammate Draper in the final point standings last season. Koester and Draper are expected to furnish a very effective one-two punch for the Lady Cats this season.

Outstanding softball player, senior Lynn Larson, could also be a prime contributor to the Lady Wildcat offense. Last season, the 5-7 guard was one of the most effective players under pressure for Coach Carroll. According to Coach Carroll, the record last season is not a true indication of the progress that the Lady Wildcats made. Carroll commented that if took part of the first half of the season for the girls to settle down and get to know each other. She added that the last half of the season showed the actual potential.

At the end of the season the Lady Cats ran off four wins. Three were against conference opponents who had beaten them the first game, and the other was a significant win over the University of Nebraska-Omaha. The year before, UNO had beaten the Lady Cats by a large margin.

In terms of the outcome of the 1980-81 season, Carroll said, "The outcome of the conference will depend on what the other members of the conference were able to recruit. We have a good group of seniors coming back along with the recruits we drew in. On the whole, we're looking for progression and aiming at a third or fourth place finish in the conference."

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Huscall

WAKEFIELD'S 14-8 VICTORY over Wausa Friday night moved the Trojans into The Omaha World Herald's Class C-2 ratings. In fact, the Trojans jumped all the way up to the fifth position to take over the spot vacated by Wausa.

Wakefield is ranked first in the Norfolk Daily News top five in Northeast Nebraska, again filling the spot that Wausa had held. At the time this column was written, the Lincoln Journal had not yet released its top 10.

According to the Class C-2 football play-off standings, Wakefield is leading District 2 with a total score of 43.6. Winside is tied with Humphrey St. Francis, Leigh and Lyons for second place with 36.6 points.

VOLLEYBALL STATISTICS released by the Nebraska School Activities Association which were once compiled from reports submitted by coaches on Sept. 19 show several individuals among the state leaders. More than 200 schools participated in this project.

In Class B, Wayne's Lisa Peters was the number nine performer in spiking percentage with 90 percent efficiency. Lynn Surber and Jill Zeiss of Wayne rank high in the ace serves category. Surber is tied at third with 17 ace serves and Zeiss is tied in the sixth position with 16 ace serves.

In Class C, Shelley Paul and Deb Foole of Wakefield are ranked third and fourth respectively in the ace serves department. Paul had 19 ace serves and Foole had 18.

In Class D, Colette Kraemer of Allen is one of 10 individuals with a 100 percent serving percentage. She has 36 good serves in 36 attempts. Kraemer also has 31 ace sets to rank fourth in that area. Lore Rastle of Allen is tied for sixth place on the ace serving chart with 19 ace serves and Janet Peterson of Allen has 21 ace spikes, ninth in that department.

LEWIS & CLARK CONFERENCE statistics compiled by Winside athletic director Jim Winch show several area athletes who are leaders in various categories. These stats were compiled after the first two games of the season and do not include last Friday's games.

Brian Foote of Winside was the leader in kick scoring with 12 points. Individual scoring with 24 points, punt returns with an average of 15 yards per return, kick off returns with an average of 45.5 yards per return and all purpose running with an average of 152 yards per game.

Terry Brewer of Allen was the leading receiver in the conference with seven receptions for 82 yards. Rod Nixon of Wakefield was the second leading scorer with 18 points and the leading punter with an average of 36 yards per punt.

All of these statistics are due to change when Friday's results are included.

THE WEST HUSKER Conference may soon be a four-team conference. Emerson-Hubbard had earlier announced that it would drop out of the conference and join the Lewis and Clark Conference effective with the 1981-82 school year.

Madison announced that it would leave the West Husker to join the Mid-States Conference also effective at the start of the 1981-82 school year.

Now, Columbus Lakeview will probably soon be leaving the conference. The Vikings, who defeated Wayne in football action Friday, will be joining the Central Nebraska Conference, an expansion of the Central 10 Conference.

It was confirmed at a league meeting last week that Lakeview, Fairbury and Hastings Adams Central will be added to the conference. All nine members of the league voted to allow the addition of these teams and create the Central Nebraska Conference instead of the Central 12.

When Lakeview signs a written contract as if most surely will, only Wayne, Wisner-Pilger, Hartington Cedar Catholic and West Point Central Catholic will remain in the West Husker Conference.

This may leave Wayne in a slightly difficult position. Lakeview has verbally agreed to remain on Wayne's athletic schedule next season but a contract has not yet been signed.

If Lakeview should drop off the schedule, Wayne would have only seven games scheduled in the 1981 football season. Scheduling will become a problem. It won't be easy to pick up schools of similar size within a reasonable distance of Wayne. The smaller schools don't want to play Wayne and distance prevents other matchups. Wayne athletic director Mac Maciejewski said.

Don Zeiss, Wayne Carroll High School principal, stated however that the remaining West Husker schools are not worrying about their future. It is believed that some members of the NENAC and East Husker Conferences may want to join the West Husker Conference in the future.

JAY STOLTENBERG of Wayne, is now competing on the Northeast Technical Community College golf team. In a two-day invitational at Scottsbluff, NTCC came home with a 26 stroke victory.

Stoltenberg was tied for the position of number five medalist. Nine schools participated in the tourney.

CONGRATULATIONS to Kevin Peters for bowling a 300 game at Melodee Lanes last Wednesday. That's quite an accomplishment and something that hasn't happened at the bowling alley in its span of two and a half decades.

Thanks to Ken Jorgensen for calling me the night Peters bowled the 300. His phone call made it possible for me to get a picture of Peters only minutes after the accomplishment.

THEY WERE UNDEFEATED champions of the Minnesota Conference and the second highest scoring college team in the country. They were the St. Olaf College football team of 1930.

Eighteen players, two coaches and a trainer will gather at St. Olaf in Northfield, Minn. Saturday to relive those glory days of 50 years ago. Among the 18 players will be Norman Nordstrand of Wayne.

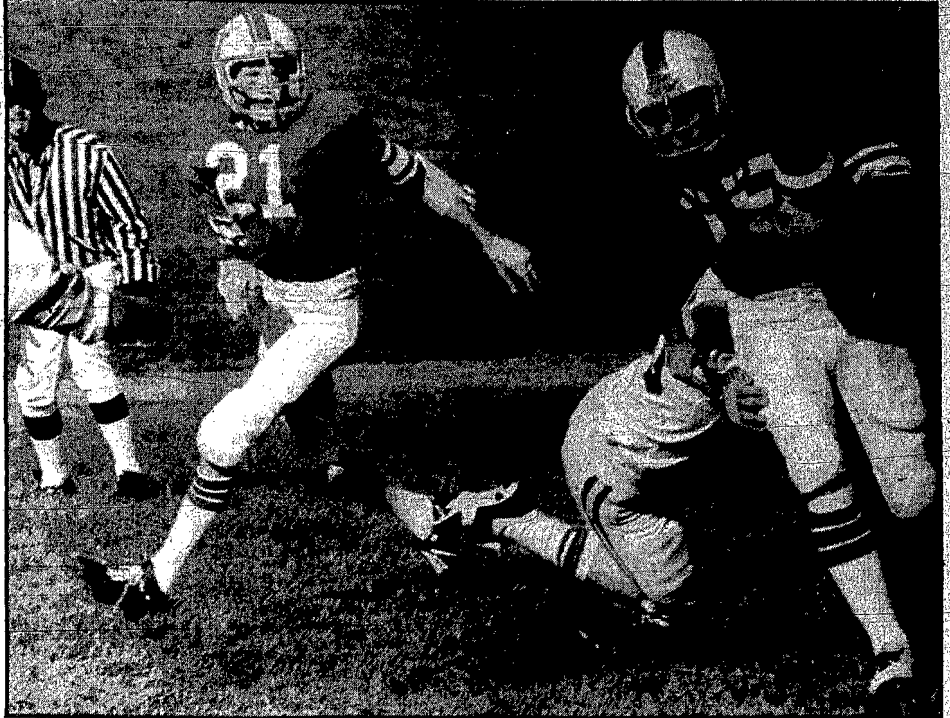

AND LAST AND LEAST, you all remember Bud Wilkinson, right? Well good, old Bud, the ex-Oklahoma coach who used to enrage Nebraska fans with his color commentary on ABC-TV, is now analyst for ESPN (Entertainment and Sports Programming Network).

His pre-game commentary for the Nebraska-Iowa game is typical of Wilkinson's usual comments. Lincoln residents were able to catch the commentary Tuesday on cable television.

His comment: "Everybody thinks Nebraska will totally dominate Iowa and this will be a one-sided game. But I don't think so. I think it's going to be one whale of a football game." Nebraska fans probably got their jollies hearing the comment after the game was already decided. Enough said.

AND FINALLY, my top 10 and bottom 10:

BREAKING A tackle and driving for a first down is Wayne's Jim Sperry (15) while Jon Jacobmeier (21) prepares to throw a block up field. Wayne's junior varsity lost to Pierce 8-6, Tuesday afternoon.

Wayne JV is Two Points Short

A two-point conversion was the deciding play as the Pierce junior varsity took an 8-6 win over Wayne's JV football team, Monday afternoon on the Wayne High School field.

The junior Blue Devils put points on the scoreboard first as Jeff McCright scored on a two-yard run in the first quarter. The PAT attempt failed, leaving Wayne on top 6-0.

Charlie's Bar Given Okay on Liquor License

agree with her (Mrs. Gahl). But, he added, the outdoor drinking area is new to Winside and "it takes time to adjust. But people do get carried away sometimes."

Mrs. Gahl said that "when you can sit up there and have to put cotton in your ears to keep it quiet, then it's time something is done."

SHE ASSURED Weible and the trustees that her intention was not to stop Charlie's Bar from operating.

"I have no intention of going any further with this," Mrs. Gahl said. "This (the hearing) is what I wanted to do... bring it to everybody's attention." Mrs. Gahl said she wanted assurance that if the license was renewed there would be quiet.

Weible said the situation already has been improved. After a few complaints and calls from city officials, Weible said the noise problem was toned down considerably.

Mrs. Gahl said the problem seems to have rectified itself since she was not aware dances had been held outdoors in recent weeks.

ONE TRUSTEE said that "it's no worse than kids tearing up and down the streets on their motor cycles."

Winside patrons have 60 days to appeal the trustees' decision to the State Liquor Control Board. If someone does complain, the license of Charlie's Bar will be temporarily revoked until a review can be completed.

Weible said he plans to have polka bands at his outdoor recreation area eventually.

"Why go to King's (Ballroom in Norfolk) to dance when we can draw people here from all over this area?"

WEIBLE TOLD the trustees that the liquor department on courages outdoor recreation areas such as his in hopes of cutting energy consumption.

SELLING VS. SELLING!

The case before the court is:

Whether or not it is a crime to slash an advertising budget during an economic downturn.

NO

Attorney for the advertiser points to the potential injury to the bottom line as a clear-cut motive to reduce ad expenditures. He reasons that budgets must always relate to sales and pleads self defense rather than temporary insanity for using the knife.

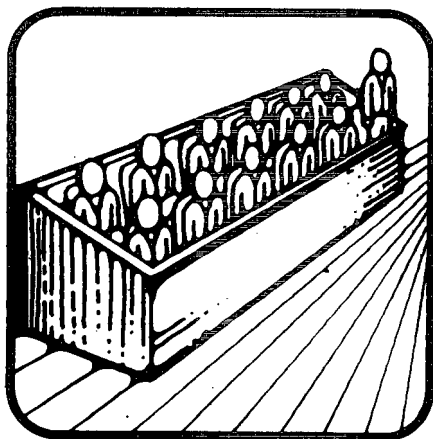

YES

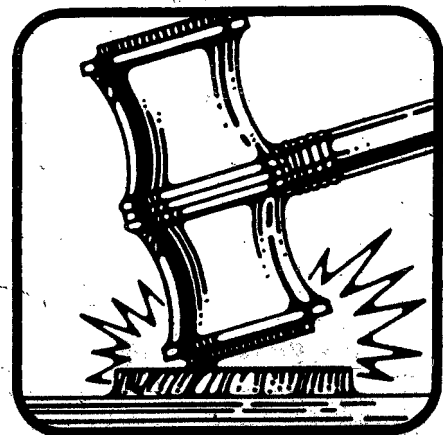

Defense attorney cites previous case of ad slashing and offers as exhibits A,B,C,D post mortems of retailers who lost their confidence in their ability to motivate consumers and move merchandise.

YES

In charging the jury, the judge states that they must decide whether advertising budget-makers should cut and run from recession talk or attack the problem with more selling... more advertising.

NEW ELECTRONIC SPARK CONTROL

To control knock and still enable the engine to operate at peak efficiency, an Electronic Spark Control system was developed. It features a sensor that listens for detonation in the engine and at the first hint of knock, instantly signals a control unit which then retards engine timing to control knocking. The unit then allows the timing to adjust back to the highest possible spark advance for the right combination of performance and efficiency.

Joni Kraemer Kraemer, who is a member of the Allen FFA Chapter. Is the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Kraemer. She was selected to be part of the National FFA Chorus from more than 252 applications from 42 states.

Participants are recommended for the National FFA Chorus by their state FFA association and their high school vocational agriculture instructor and choir director. They are selected on the basis of these recommendations and past experience and achievements, according to Stan Kingma, National FFA Chorus Director. Kingma, the former musical director at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, assumed the duties of director formerly held by Marvin Myers who died on Jan. 2.

A month prior to the convention a complete set of music is mailed to each FFA member selected for the Chorus. Each Chorus member must study the music prior to arrival in Kansas City two days before the opening of the convention. Practice sessions begin on Sunday afternoon and last for several hours each day until the first performance of the Chorus at the Tuesday evening Vespers service that precedes the convention.

Bereuter Criticizes Budget Proposal

First District Congressman Doug Bereuter, in a statement appearing in a recent "Congressional Record," strongly criticized House majority leaders for proposing a continuing budget resolution which would fund government activities until Dec. 15.

Bereuter favors a continuing resolution which would extend current funding only until Oct. 18, and would require House members to vote on key spending proposals before the November election.

"This resolution was presented to us today for one reason, and one reason only, to get the majority off the hook," he said. "They don't have to vote on the key spending proposals until after the November election."

Bereuter stated in his message to House Speaker Tip O'Neill that he would continue to oppose the "lame duck" session and have so stated their intention. They don't want to stand on their record before the people go to the polls on Nov. 4. Indeed, they are afraid to even complete a record! The only "hitch" in their plans is that the government needs money to keep running regardless of whether we complete action on all of the necessary appropriations measures before we adjourn.

This Continuing Resolution, with its Dec. 15 date, gives them the "break" they need. By approving this resolution, Congress can recess before the election, without a guilty conscience, knowing that the government will continue. Once the pressures of facing the electorate are removed, they expect to return to Washington and deal with the tough spending decisions they could not — or would not — face before the election.

Bereuter noted Administration and majority leadership promises earlier this year for a balanced budget. He also stated that the budget decisions remaining are difficult for the majority, in light of the balanced budget promises, on which the majority cannot deliver.

He added, "I reject the philosophy that allows members of Congress to duck tough spending issues and avoid the criticism that is bound to come from the American taxpayers. We should not let those who control Congress 'off the hook.' The problems are of their own creation. They have slyly made an effort to solve our budget problems. They control the committee of Congress, the flow of the legislation to the floor — indeed, the entire scheduling of legislation. To say that Congress can't get the job done on the budget is a severe indictment of their failed leadership — both substantively and procedurally."

Bereuter stated that, so far as the Appropriations Committee staff knows, this is the first time in the history of the Congress that the majority has voted to delay spending votes on the fast-paced approaching fiscal year deadlines until after the election.

He concluded in his statement, "I oppose this resolution and I am prepared to work around the clock if it needs be, but I believe we have an obligation to complete the work of this Congress by Nov. 4. And then it is up to the people to judge the merits of that record."

Nebraska Land Values Increase

Farm land values in four Midwestern states have increased an average of 10.5 percent during the past year, according to a report released by the Federal Land Bank of Omaha.

The study surveyed farm land sales in Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming from June 1979 to June 1980. Vice President Jerry Kjerstad said the Land Bank designated "benchmark" farms in each state that represent different agricultural operations. The sale prices are compared to the benchmark farms to determine the indicated value of land.

The survey showed that Nebraska had the largest increase in farm land value with 12.8 percent. Iowa land increased 10.3 percent, while Wyoming increased 8.7 percent and South Dakota 8.4 percent.

In Nebraska, corn and small grain farms and gravity irrigated land in Eastern Nebraska increased 19 percent.

Corn and small grain enterprises and grain and livestock farms in Central Nebraska, as well as Western Nebraska wheat farms, experienced an average increase of 15 percent.

The smallest increases occurred in gravity irrigated land in Western Nebraska (3 percent), and sprinkler irrigated land in Central Nebraska (4 percent).

between 1978 and 1979, the value of land in the four states increased 13 percent. Kjerstad attributed the 2 1/2 percent drop between the 1979 and 1980 studies to a lower price for commodities and an increase in operating costs.

He noted that substantially all of the increase in the 198 study occurred during the last six months of 1979.

"Since the first of the year, the sales pattern has been quite erratic, the number of sales have been down significantly, and the overall trend has not been upward," Kjerstad said.

He added that if the situation continues, land values may decline. Recent hikes in commodity prices have been encouraging, and will probably cause the selling price of land to increase slightly, he said.

Overall, Western Nebraska had a 12 percent increase in land values with an average selling price of $459 an acre; Central Nebraska had a 10 percent hike at $674 an acre and Eastern Nebraska had a 17 percent hike at $1,277 an acre mainly due to a strong market for irrigated farms.

Last year's study revealed that

Lower Cattle Prices Expected

Recent U.S. Department of Agriculture reports should alert Nebraska cow-calf and feeder cattle producers to expect lower prices this fall, a University of Nebraska livestock marketing specialist said Wednesday, Sept. 17.

AI Wellman, extension economist in the NU Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, said hot, dry weather in the major feed grain producing areas has reduced substantially potential yields, compared to the record grain crop harvested in 1979. USDA projects the 1980 corn crop to be down 16 percent from 1979 levels.

"Range and pasture conditions for Nebraska and surrounding areas are down substantially from year ago levels," Wellman noted. However, the July 1 cattle inventory indicated that calf numbers increased about 6 percent compared to a year earlier. Estimates for all feeder cattle and calves outside feedlots on July 1 totaled five percent higher than on the same day a year ago.

"The combination of reduced feed grain supplies resulting in higher prices and poor range-pasture conditions, coupled with a 6 percent increase in the 1980 calf crop, signals a less optimistic outlook for this fall," he analyzed.

Feed grain production, plus available stocks, could be 16 percent lower in 1980-81 than in 1979. Corn prices in Nebraska and surrounding states could run 50 to 75 cents per bushel higher in the fourth quarter of 1980 than during the same period in 1979, he said.

Consequently, calf prices this fall may average 10 to 15 percent lower than the mid-90's level recorded during the last three months of 1979.

Prices for 400 to 500 pound steer calves for the remainder of 1980 are expected to average in the mid to upper $80's per hundredweight compared to the mid 90's in the last quarter of 1979.

Yearling feeder cattle are expected to average only slightly above fed cattle prices for the remainder of the year, Wellman said.

Choice 600 to 700 pound feeder steers should run $10 to $12 per hundredweight lower than the calves or possibly about equal to choice slaughter steer prices, he added. "If corn prices continue to increase, these feeder steers could sell at a discount to slaughter steers."

Feeder cattle and calf prices for the first half of 1981 may be stronger if fed cattle prices move back to the mid-$70's or higher, he added.

Livestock producers need to analyze their marketing strategies and consider all available alternatives, Wellman advised. Options include:

— Growing or over-winter feeder cattle-calves to heavier weights on roughage rations or wintering rations for sale in spring 1981.

— Retaining ownership of calves and yearlings — have a background or feedlot operator grow or feed them out.

— Examining the futures market for opportunities to shift the price risk. Establish a profitable hedge position after all costs are considered. — Consider selling some cows to gain current income and provide capacity to keep calves or yearlings.

Producers should examine alternatives closely this fall to insure maximum flexibility and to determine the best strategy for their individual operation, Wellman summarized. "The cattle business looks good for the longer term but producers must continue to sharpen their short-term marketing skills," he added.

This and That... from YOUR COUNTY AGENT

WAYNE COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

Purple corn
There are many reports of purple corn or red corn. Since red coloring of leaves is the standard nutrient deficiency symptom for phosphorus deficiency, this red color is too often diagnosed as a phosphorus problem. This purple or red coloration can be caused by any number of stress problems besides a phosphorus deficiency.

The red color is caused by an accumulation of sugars. This accumulation can be caused by physical damage such as corn borers which interrupt the translocation of sugars to the ear.

Sugar translocation can also be interrupted by poor pollination which removes the ear as a place for the sugars to go. The result is either a partially red plant or a plant which has varying degrees of red colors.

Poor pollination can be the result of any increased stress factor. This year stress was high due to the temperatures. Poor root worm control in certain areas of fields or differences in water holding capacity of soils sometimes has affected the degree of stress and therefore possible pollination. Poor pollination shows up as poorly filled ears on the tip or on the underside of the ear causing the ear to sometimes curl. This year some corn has filled on the tip but not on the butt.

Crickets
Crickets are real nuisances this time of year. Here are some control measures that should be of help.

Residual sprays of Diazinon five percent, malathion three percent can be applied to areas frequented by crickets, such as behind appliances, in furniture and in cracks and crevices in walls and floors. Treat around door sills and frames, since this is frequently the point of entry. Use diazinon outdoors around the foundation to prevent movement into houses.

Corn Borer Plans Should Be Designed

Nebraska farmers plagued by European corn borer this year may now be considering preventive measures for next year.

Unfortunately, there is no reliable practice that can or should be done this fall, according to Bob Roselle, extension entomologist in the University of Nebraska Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. Making plans for next year is the only helpful practice at this time, Roselle said.

"Some farmers have tried burning stalks in the fall. However, this practice was tested many years ago in the eastern states. The results were only loss of nutrients and winter moisture," he said. Burning will not be helpful in reducing the corn borer population in 1981, he added.

Plowing down stalks in the fall also has been tried. "Even though stalk shredding and plowing can kill 50 to 60 percent of overwintering borers, it isn't feasible because the resulting erosion and loss of winter snow retention is most likely to be more serious than the borers," he explained.

Weather next June and August will have the largest influence on 81 borer populations, Roselle said. Cool nights retard adult flight and hot, dry evenings cause to desiccate, but warm, calm nights cause eggs to be laid in great numbers.

Planting time is one good defense against the borers, Roselle pointed out. Early corn is more attractive to first brood corn borers and late corn to second brood. "A general guide from years past is to plant early and treat the first brood if necessary. If the second brood is a problem, save the spray money and harvest early," he advised.

Some species of gulls drop shellfish from heights onto rocks, cement and macadam roads to break their shells.

Farmer-Owned Corn, Sorghum Is Redeemable

Producers may redeem corn and sorghum from the new farmer-owned grain reserves established in August (reserve III) without penalty, as the national average market price for corn is $2.99 per bushel and $5.03 per hundred-weight for sorghum, Ray Fitzgerald, administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, said.

Farmers also may continue to place grain in reserve, he said. Farmers may sell their reserve corn and sorghum after repaying their CCC price support loans, Fitzgerald said. Reserves being in release status however, does not require farmers to redeem or sell their grain at this time. Further, storage earnings will continue through the end of September, he said.

Farmers with farm-stored reserve grain must request a release from their county office of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service before removing the grain for sale.

Fitzgerald said that on Oct. 2 CCC will review the average price for corn and sorghum under reserve III to determine whether the release authorization should remain in effect.

Data used by CCC in determining the release level include five-day average prices as reported by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service which show prices bid by buyers at selected markets. Chicago, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Omaha and St. Louis are the daily markets reviewed by CCC for corn. Kansas City and Texas High Plains are used for sorghum.

The five-day average of these market prices, adjusted to reflect prices received by farmers, was the basis for today's action, Fitzgerald said.

Silo Filling Brings Potential Hazards

As silo filling time is here, farmers must become aware of potential hazards such as silage gas, tractor overturns, fires and farmer's lung disease.

That is the advice of Rollin Schnieder, Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources extension safety specialist, who warns farmers to be concerned about life-threatening problems.

Carbon dioxide and nitrogen dioxide are both gases produced from silage fermentation, he said. Carbon dioxide can cause suffocation through lack of oxygen. However, nitrogen dioxide gas, also can kill or permanently injure those working in its presence.

"The gas has an odor similar to laundry bleaches and is heavier than air. It usually settles in the partly filled silo below the door and may accumulate at the base of the chute," he said.

Occasionally silo gas may have very little odor, Schnieder warns, but usually it has an irritating odor that can be detected by a burning sensation in the nose, throat and chest. Inhaling even a small amount of the gas produces a choking and burning sensation in all of these areas and, if too much is taken in, death occurs quickly.

Methane gas can also be a problem in the first 10 to 14 days. It is explosive, consequently, sources of flame should be kept away from the fermenting silage during that period.

Although the problem is not always as obvious, Schnieder said farmer's lung, the result of inhaling moldy forage dust, is also an acute problem.

"Moldy hay, oats, barley, corn or beet pulp are the main contributors to the disease. These ensiled forages usually have a 30 percent moisture content that can mold and produce spores which are then carried by the forage dust," Schnieder said.

Those exposed to the spores experience chills, fever, severe headaches, shortness of breath and dry cough. Like silage gas poisoning, victims of farmer's lung could suffer permanent disability, Schnieder warned.

Prevention of farmer's lung can be done by checking the moisture content of silage, particularly guarding against storing wet hay. He suggested wearing a respiratory protector if the mold problem is severe.

In addition to respiratory dangers, farmers with open pit silos must also avoid tipping their tractor over when packing ensilage, according to Schnieder. About one farmer per year loses his life because of attempting to drive forward up a steep pile or driving too close to the edge and tipping sideways.

"If tractors are used for ensilage packing, wheels should be kept as far apart as possible," he suggests. "The wide front end tractor is more stable than the narrow front end and it is safer to back on the pile than to attempt to drive forward up it. Using duals on the tractors helps to reduce the side overturn, but increases the chance of a backward overturn."

If using tractors for ensilage packing, roll bars or crush-resistant cabs are important.

Fires in silos are an overlooked hazard, but they can present a potential fire trap, Schnieder said. These fires usually are caused by spontaneous ignition and can occur at any time during the year, not just at silo filling time.

Despite the term oxygen-free silos, there is still the possibility of a fire developing when a small amount of oxygen comes into contact with an ignition source. "Do not open the silo up and apply water or any other extinguishing agent. Gases produced by the burning silage can cause an explosion when mixed with the air being fed into the silo. Farmers have been killed when they introduced water through a nozzle. The oxygen brought in helped to produce an explosive mixture," Schnieder said silos should be emptied by removing the burning materials. However, the danger of explosion during this procedure is possible, he said.

A vertical concrete silo presents less of an explosion hazard. In case of fire, seal the silo as tightly as possible and allow the fire to burn itself out.

"When water and foam is applied, use caution and avoid excessive use because the extra weight of the water could cause a structural failure," Schnieder said.

There is no threat of an explosion in trench silo fires, but flash-over fires might be caused by rising gases appearing on the surface. Extinguish with water and remove the burned or burning silage as soon as possible, he advised.

"The most logical way to avoid silo fires is to make sure all forage is above 45 percent moisture when it enters the silo. Unless the silo is definitely air tight, it should not be filled with alfalfa, clover, grass or hay silage containing between 20 and 45 percent moisture," Schnieder concluded.

Farmer-to-Consumer Extension Is Sought

"I would like to see Congress continue to promote the program for direct farmer-to-consumer marketing past its scheduled termination at the end of the 1980 growing season," Democratic Congressional Candidate Rex Story was quoted as saying at a meeting with ag leaders in Beatrice Tuesday night. The statement was made in regards to a report released by the General Accounting Office encouraging the extension of the Farmer-to-Consumer Direct Marketing Act which is designed to provide additional income for farmers and cheaper, fresher food for consumers. "If this program will aid in the survival of the family farm and contribute to energy conservation as the GAO report suggests, we must make every effort to encourage its continued operation. Far too much energy is being expended to transport products to faraway regions when there is a market for the farmer's goods right here at home. "I believe it is time for the farmer to receive more than 6.8 cents out of the average retail price of 36 cents for a loaf of bread. Through extensive promotion of the direct farmer-to-consumer program we can both increase the price the farmer receives for his product and decrease the cost to the consumer," Story emphasized in his discussion with the Farmer's Union Members. Story went on to express his conviction to become a spokesman for the farmer "something the current representative has not been. My opponent has not introduced or sponsored any significant legislation at all, let alone authoring any bills pertinent to the agricultural sector of Nebraska. As your Congressman I would expect to be an outspoken representative of my constituents, particularly those in the agricultural sector." Story stressed his farming background and experience when stating he is "familiar with the plight of the farmer and will be enthusiastically working for Nebraskans when elected. I would work energetically to preserve the family farm and would expect to be active in sponsoring legislation to serve my constituents, rather than being a do-nothing representative."

Three Area Couples Mark Anniversary

Mrs. Kenneth Eddie, director of the Carroll Senior Citizens Center, presented an anniversary cake and ice cream for lunch Sept. 15 to honor the wedding anniversaries of three couples. Honored were Mr. and Mrs. Ellory Pearson, 61 years, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lage, 50 years, and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hank, 50 years. The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Lonnie Fork. Cards furnished entertainment, with prizes going to Mr. and Mrs. Walt Lage and Mrs. Otis Wagner. Bingo was played at the center Sept. 16, with prizes going to Mrs. Anna Hansen, Mrs. Christine Cook and Mrs. Emil Hank. The group met last Thursday to make quilt blocks and play cards. Painting and crafts were the entertainment Friday.

Merlin Jenkins, president, conducted the business meeting and Mrs. Etta Fisher reported on the last meeting. The Rev.
