Council Plans Long Agenda Tuesday

When the Wayne City Council meets Tuesday night at 7:30, it will consider adoption of nine ordinances in addition to other agenda items.

ITEMS FOR discussion will include awarding of contracts involving street improvements and water extension districts for an apartment complex; a status report on the comprehensive electric study; water and sewer improvements on Mohr Industrial Tract; water study review by Bruce

Gilmore & Associates, a resolution on a no parking sign, volunteer fireman application and the following ordinances:

ON WASTE disposal fees, Mayor's right to vote at Council meetings, a waiver of any open burning ban, a vacancy in the office of Mayor, appropriation of money, introduction of ordinances, resolution and motions, contracts and quit claim deed to the Wayne savings & loan associations and any other such items that may come before the Council.

WSC Enrollment Increases

Enrollment in institutions of higher education across the country are on the rise again this year, according to the National Center for Educational Statistics (NCES). The center estimates that total enrollment will be 11.7 million students, 1.1 percent higher than it was last fall.

PRELIMINARY enrollment figures at Wayne State College show a moderate student increase this fall of 3.5 percent, from 2,174 students last school year to 2,250 this year.

The present enrollment increase at WSC comes just as the 18 year old population is starting a decade of decline, Adrie Nab, WSC director of college relations, said. The national Census Bureau has estimated there are 1.9 percent fewer 18 year olds in 1980 than there were in 1979.

High school and elementary enrollments across the nation also have dropped an estimated 2.8 percent in the past year. A recent enrollment count reported in The Wayne Herald reflects this downward trend.

IN RESPONSE to the changing needs of society and Northeast Nebraska, Wayne State continues its annual program review in order to maintain quality and simultaneously respond to those changing needs, Nab said.

The college also continues its efforts to enrich student services programs which will help to integrate student activities outside the classroom into the total intellectual academic setting.

A committee has been formed at Wayne State to study the reasons for student withdrawals and transfers in an effort to retain students once they enroll.

MIKE GANNAWAY, assistant dean of students, said "the committee will study what programs or services need to be changed or initiated. The committee also will define attrition, determine informational needs, initiate appropriate research and make recommendations.

Several activities and programs designed to help students in their academic pursuits and to maintain stability in the years ahead already have been started at WSC. These include an early alert program, improving academic advising, the tutor program, the Information Referral Center, Extended Campus Regional Coordination and the three-day freshman orientation program.

WSC ALSO has started an extensive public relations program in order to increase the awareness of the institution, to broaden the base of support and to assist in recruiting outstanding new students and faculty, Nab explained.

The National Center for Educational Statistics forecasts increases of 1.25 percent in enrollment at public colleges and 7 percent at private institutions this fall. This would bring fall 1980 enrollment at public institutions to 9,150,000, and to 2,550,000 at private institutions.

The number of faculty members employed by colleges and universities this fall was estimated by the statistics center at 630,000, up from 620,000 a year ago.

ALL THE increase in faculty employment was at public institutions, where the estimated total this fall is 610,000, the center said.

A survey of applications for freshmen admissions showed that as of June 1, more than three-fourths of all institutions had received at least as many applications as they had the year before.

The 3.5 percent increase at WSC compares favorably with the growth at other Nebraska state colleges and universities. Final enrollment figures will not be available until December when all registration is completed, including Extended Campus courses, Nab said.

DR. LYLE Seymour, WSC president, said "the moderate increase in enrollment this fall will assist in maintaining stability at our institution as we continue to design and provide educational opportunities to traditional and non-traditional students whose goals may range from personal enrichment to professional advancement."

SHIRLEY HAMER, fourth grade teacher at West Elementary School, took a familiar glance backward last week when she took her class to the old one-room country school house on the Wayne State College campus. Mrs. Hamer was the last teacher to use the school before it was closed and moved to town. From left are students Ann Perry, Doug Larson, instructor Mrs. Hamer, Kelly Fleming and Paris Bartholomew.

A Backward Glance at Education

The Mamie McCorkindale School Museum on the Wayne State College Campus received a visit Tuesday morning from 24 fourth graders of the Wayne Elementary School.

ACCORDING to school principal David Luff, the visit coincided with reading a story on "Rural Schools 50 Years Ago." The pupils dressed up for the occasion, wearing vintage clothing like in the "old days" and sat on the benches of the one-room schoolhouse to get a feel of what it was like to go to school during the turn of the century. The school building, built in 1880, was moved by the Wayne State Foundation to the WSC campus during the spring of 1966. The museum was dedicated on July 2, 1966, with more than 200 persons present to tour the vintage one-room school building and to view the ceremony honoring Miss McCorkindale, who taught at Wayne State from 1920 to 1949.

VAL PETERSON, president of the Wayne State Foundation, introduced McCorkindale, and poet John G. Neihardt spoke briefly of his memories of rural school education. The building was restored to turn-of-the-century condition with gifts of alumni and friends of the college.

The building serves as an official Nebraska Centennial museum to recognize an era in Nebraska education to which Wayne State College made an early and significant contribution.

THE SCHOOL features a collection of art work done by students of Miss McCorkindale.

During the visit the fourth graders were addressed by WSC president Dr. Lyle Seymour on the concept of the one room schoolhouse.

Joynt Owner Will Continue Support Of Accessories Trade in Nebraska

The owner of the state's oldest head shop believes comments made by District Judge Richard Robinson leave the door open for a successful appeal of the decision supporting the state's controversial paraphernalia law.

DENNY ROBINSON (no relation to Judge) owner of The Joynt in Wayne, said Friday that although Judge Robinson found the state's law to be constitutional, he (the judge) admitted that the law will be hard to enforce.

In addition, the judge struck down two of fourteen guidelines that will be used in determining whether or not an item is drug paraphernalia.

Despite the local head shop owners feeling that the case will effectively be appealed, however, he has decided to sell out his drug paraphernalia stock. Robinson said he began clearing his shelves of the drug-related items in mid-August.

"IT BECAME A matter of economics," he explained. There comes a point, Robinson said, when making an item pay for itself and provide a profit takes precedence. The paraphernalia business generated from 5 to 10 percent of Robinson's business, he said.

But despite The Joynt no longer being a member of the Nebraska Accessories Association, Robinson said he will continue to personally support efforts to overturn the law. "I am carrying on in the association as a private citizen. I feel I'll be representing a minority of people who should be able to buy what they want to," he explained.

ROBINSON SAID he talked with the association's lawyer Friday morning after the ruling was made. The lawyer plans an immediate appeal of the verdict to the U.S. Court of Appeals in Saint Louis, according to Robinson.

The ruling was unusual, The Joynt owner said, because the judge struck down portions of the bill. The hardest clause for opponents of the bill to defend was thrown out, Robinson believes, making it easier for the new law to be challenged and overturned.

THE TWO SECTIONS of the bill that were struck down were as follows:

.....in order for an item to be considered drug paraphernalia, the following must be proven:

Direct or circumstantial evidence of the intent of an owner, or of anyone in control of the object, to deliver it to any person whom he or she knows, or should reasonably know, intends to use the object to facilitate a violation of this act. The innocence of an owner, or of anyone in control of the object, as to a direct violation of this act shall not prevent a finding that the object is intended for use, or designed for use as drug paraphernalia; Whether the owner, or anyone in control of the object is a legitimate supplier of like or related items to the community, such as a licensed distributor or dealer of tobacco products;

ROBINSON SAID there already is a law prohibiting minors from buying cigarettes. Based on current thinking by backers of the ban-the-bong bill, the minors should not be able to buy papers, either. Papers are exempt from the new law and will remain available.

Robinson said he feels strongly that the U.S. Court of Appeals will overturn the lower court decision. He cited a recent Colorado court case which found the state's paraphernalia law to be unconstitutional, and an Ames, Iowa, city ordinance that was found to be unconstitutional as well.

THE JOYNT owner said he fears that if the new law is upheld, it will force sale of these types of items underground. They will be sold mainly by drug dealers illegally. A black market will be created and the state will lose revenue, he said.

The new law has little chance of reducing drug abuse and use, Robinson said. He noted that Judge Robinson said virtually the same thing in his remarks after the decision.

Enforcement of the law may begin soon unless Donald Fiedler, attorney for the shop owners, convinces the 8th Circuit Court that the law should not be enforced pending an appeal.

Fiedler had argued that the new law, signed by Gov. Charles Thone last spring, violates the First Amendment right of free press and free speech; the Fourth Amendment right designed to protect the individual and his property; and the Fifth and 14th Amendments because it is vague and over-broad and criminalizes conduct that it does not adequately define.

Judge Robinson did note that the many requirements that the law places on law enforcement officers before they can make an arrest under LB 991 appear to make the law difficult to enforce.

ROBINSON SAID he is planning a benefit dance to help raise funds for cutting the legal fees which are beginning to pile up.

But drug users in Wayne no longer will be able to buy drug paraphernalia legally after The Joynt clears its shelves. Robinson said he expects a rush on his remaining items in the next few days.

Prof Philosophizes on Nation's Problems

He Argues Strongly Against Abortion in His Book

Allen O'Donnell, associate professor of social science at Wayne State College, is the author of the recently published book "Towards the Primitive Terror."

The book is "One man's philosophy on the major problems in the U.S. today," said O'Donnell. The idea for the book, published June 1, stems from O'Donnell's 1978 campaign for Congress.

"TOWARDS the Primitive Terror" began as a book on how to campaign. O'Donnell later decided to write about the issues that brought him into the campaign and what he learned from campaigning. He deals with a number of areas of political process, television, the growth of science and their effects on politics and change.

BOOK REVIEW

O'Donnell points out that "As an American people we are changing at a rapid rate and we are not in charge of our own lives." He used several illustrations of this, the first of which is television.

HE WENT on to say that by age 65 a person will have spent nine years watching television. He concludes by saying the television is now referred to as the "family entertainment center."

Another major area of the book is concerned with science. "Science and scientists dictate our lives. We program computers that tell us what to do," said O'Donnell. He added that science now gives us miracle drugs, clones and test-tube babies.

O'DONNELL'S strongest issue, used throughout the book to make his point, is abortion. "I am anti-abortion. It is wrong and science has proven this," he said. Abortion was a powerful issue when he was campaigning for Congress. He stated that politics is often based on one major issue. He said, "The political system is influenced by science and media."

Media has become a strong influence on politics recently, according to O'Donnell. "Now-a-days, every politician has a media consultant," he said. The way a media consultant works is to take politicians to see what kind of man the public wants. The consultant then works to produce that kind of an image in a candidate.

AS THE BOOK progresses, O'Donnell discusses how we go about rewarding people in our society. He stressed that "We are a materialistic and hedonistic people." He says that our reward system is one of profit — everything we do, we do for money. "We are taught that is the way it ought to be," said O'Donnell.

"So far, 'Towards the Primitive Terror' has dealt with questions raised about today's problems. In the final chapter, O'Donnell attempts to answer these questions. He feels 'We have to start changing our value system. A person is sacred because he or she is a human being.' He says it is the role of intellectuals — teachers, writers, artists, preachers; playwrights, etc. — to teach these values.

"EVERY HUMAN being deserves dignity and respect. A person should not be judged on wealth or success," stresses O'Donnell. He also uses the issue of abortion to stress the importance of values. "We are destroying our morals when we destroy life," he concludes. O'Donnell currently is working on a novel. The tentative title is "Nothing So Precious." It deals with politics and romance and also stems from his Congressional campaign. O'Donnell hopes to have it finished in about eight months. The title is contrived from a poem he wrote for his granddaughter.

Labor Suit

May Settle

Out of Court

It appears as though a suit brought by the Department of Labor against the Wayne-Carroll School District will be settled out of court.

ATTORNEYS for both sides have been meeting and are attempting to settle the matter before trial.

According to Supr. Francis Haun, the dispute alleges pay discrimination between housekeepers and custodians in the school district. The difference is that housekeepers do all the domestic work at the schools and custodians move bleachers, shovel snow, etc. Haun explained.

Originally, the suit involved sex discrimination and equal pay for equal work. However, the sex discrimination aspect has since been dropped.

THE SUIT was leveled against the school district in 1977 and attorneys have been wrangling over the matter since. A decision is hoped for in the next 30 to 45 days. The suit has been the subject of numerous executive sessions held by the board of education over the past three years.

Police Report

Wayne Police Department reports an accident about 8:25 a.m. Thursday at E Seventh Street and Walnut Drive. Drivers involved were Jodene R. Nelson, 20 Wayne, and Cynthia E. Tuller, 36 Wayne. The Nelson and Tuller cars received minor damage.

Three area servicemen recently completed One Station Unit Training (OSUT) at Fort Benning Ga. These were Pvt. Roy F. J. Rewinkel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin J. H. Rewinkel. Wakefield; Kelvin J. P. Wurdeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arland W. Wurdeman, Wakefield; and Gerald L. Obermeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laverie Obermeyer, Wakefield. OSUT is a 12 week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training. The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling land mine warfare, field communications and combat operations. This qualifies the soldier as a light weapons infantryman and as an indirect fire crewman. Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

Livestock Groups Will Merge

In a joint meeting, the directors of the Sioux City Livestock Exchange and the Sioux City Livestock Market News Foundation have finalized plans for a merger of personnel within the two organizations which are located at the Sioux City Stockyards. Effective Monday (today), Allen E. Welding will assume the position of executive director and be charged with overall operation of both offices. The boards concurred that this merger would be of economic advantage to the membership, plus it would alleviate overlapping responsibilities, thus making for a more efficient operational structure of the yards.

Bereuter Urges Action On Business Legislation

Congressman Doug Bereuter has urged immediate action on legislation to reimburse small business owners who successfully challenge the federal government in court. "This legislation would help balance the scale of justice for the most productive sector of our economy," Bereuter said. "Too often small businesses face unwarranted legal action brought by the government and decide to go ahead and pay the required fine rather than pay prohibitive court costs." The Small Business Equal Access to Justice Act of 1980 would allow small business owners to recover reasonable attorney fees and costs if they are successful in fighting civil or administrative charges brought against them by the Federal government. The small business owner still would not recover these costs however, if the court determines that the action by the government was substantially justified. "That is a reasonable limitation," Bereuter said. "Because the Carter Administration has lobbied intensely against this bill, the majority leadership in the House has repeatedly thwarted the efforts of those of us who want to bring the bill to the floor for a vote," Bereuter said. "I certainly urge that immediate action be taken." Bereuter said, "The Administration opposes the bill, despite the fact that it won overwhelming approval by the Senate, and despite the fact that

OBITUARIES

Ernest Wilhelm Ekeroth

Funeral services for Ernest Wilhelm Ekeroth, 95, were held Thursday morning from Bressler Funeral Home in Wakefield, the Rev. Robert V. Johnson officiating. Burial was in Wakefield Cemetery. Mr. Ekeroth was born June 28, 1885, in Sweden to August W. and Emma Johansdotter Ekeroth, and died Monday, Sept. 22, at Providence Medical Center in Wayne. Mr. Ekeroth came to the United States in 1903 and to Wakefield several years later. He made his home there until moving to the Wayne Care Center several years ago. He married Elsie Miller in Sioux City, Iowa. Pallbearers were Don Stipp, Harold Stipp, Fred Hinrich, Arl Hinrich, Robert Hinrich and Ferris Bennett. He was preceded in death by his wife, his mother and father, a brother and a sister. Survivors include two sons, Laurence of Lakewood, Colo., and Milton of Loredo, Texas; three daughters; Nettie Ekeroth of Omaha, Mrs. James (Adah) Thompson of Virginia Beach, Va., and Charlotte Ekeroth of Wakefield; a brother, Karl Einar of Grand, Sweden; nine grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Beekeeper Field Day Planned

All beekeepers are invited to attend a fall Beekeepers Field Day at the University of Nebraska Northeast Station one mile east of Concord on Saturday, Oct. 4 at 1 p.m., according to David L. Keith, Extension entomologist, Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. The meeting is sponsored by the Nebraska Department of Agriculture and the Cooperative Extension Service, IANR. Marion D. Ellis, state apiarist, and Keith will conduct the meeting, with assistance from professional beekeepers and cooperative extension personnel. This meeting is an excellent opportunity for beekeepers to get "hands on" experience in removing surplus honey, extracting, comb honey production and packaging, recognition and prevention of bee disease and preparation of colonies for overwintering. Be certain to bring your own coveralls, bee veil and gloves so you can participate first hand. Be present to have your questions about beekeeping answered.

Ties With Our Allies Are Stronger Than Ever?

Richard L. Loshor, President
 Chamber of Commerce of the United States

Economic progress and individual prosperity depend upon many things — incentives, competition, capital investment and an ability by governments to conquer inflation and restrain excessive regulation. Another condition sometimes overlooked is the growth of international trade, which, historically has resulted from cooperative initiatives of Western nations, led by the United States.

transfer of nuclear technology, even if that meant violating treaties we had already signed. Coupled with the embarrassments caused by Andy Young, almost on a weekly basis, and those resulting from the ineptitude of certain unqualified ambassadors, appointed despite Mr. Carter's promise to select only qualified professionals, the United States has increasingly been treated with ridicule rather than respect.

A strong military is the foundation for a secure West. But through such unilateral actions as cancelling the B-1 bomber and the neutron weapon, delaying the M-X missile and Trident submarine programs, and neglecting to modernize our conventional forces, Mr. Carter has sacrificed much of what our allies once considered a military machine second to none.

Those perceptions have changed — dramatically. Already by December, 1978, former British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was observing: "Things are as bad for the West as they could possibly be, and they are getting worse. The Europeans have to deal with the weakest American Administration in my lifetime."

More recently, Senator Sam Nunn (D-Ga.) returned from a European trip and revealed: "Talk to some West Germans off the record and ask them what they think of the U.S. ability to fight a war. It's very, very low."

So, after three years of systematically reneging on our responsibilities, and severely testing our relations with the rest of the world, it should not be surprising that many countries no longer follow our lead. Some of our allies laughed at our grain embargo of the Soviet Union and bought from us so they could sell to the Soviets at higher prices. Others ignored our pleadings to stay away from the Moscow Olympics or to break economic relations with Iran after that country seized the American hostages. I can sympathize that many Americans feel betrayed by these actions, but the essential point is the United States no longer commands the respect it once did.

No, I for one remain unconvinced about the strength of our relations with our allies. I hope they get better, just as I hope our economy gets better and our defense gets stronger. I'd say we could use a lot of improvement in all three.

Jimmy Carter has spoken often of his successes in the area of international relations. For example, in his State of the Union speech in 1979, he observed: "We are building the foundation for truly global cooperation, not only with Western and industrialized nations but with the developing countries as well. Our ties with Japan and our European allies are stronger than ever, and so are our friendly relations with the people of Latin America, Africa and the Western Pacific and Asia."

During the last two years, I have travelled more than 60,000 miles, been on all the continents except Antarctica, and visited with business people, politicians and heads of state. Looking back, I must respectfully disagree with Mr. Carter's statement. In fact, I could not disagree more, nor have I found a single individual who agrees with it. Unfortunately, quite the opposite is true — our relations with at least some of our allies have seldom been worse.

If we had deliberately set out to botch up our relations with our allies, we could not have done a better job of it. Starting with the infamous human rights crusade, we attempted, in quite boorish fashion, to impose our ideas on other nations. More often than not, we heaped most of the abuse on smaller countries which had traditionally been our friends.

This was followed by a naive attempt to change the rest of the world by nullifying the

My first novel will be called "How to Remodel Your Basement and Keep Your Marriage."

It surely will be a best-seller, since every husband is becoming a handyman around the house and is taking the construction tasks upon himself.

Remodeling or refinishing a basement, a room or an entire house with the help of one's wife (or husband) will do one of two things: it will make your marriage stronger, or it will put you in divorce court.

For example, I'm a firm believer in women's rights. So, I was puzzled when my assistant foreman hesitated when asked to help carry 30 2 x 4's to the basement without chipping the paint off the upstairs' walls. She might get a splinter, she trembled. Why do you think they invented sewing needles, I replied.

Then there was time we had to use concrete nails to put up furring strips. Ever watch a woman use a 16 ounce hammer and hit concrete nails? When that task arises, it's time to send her after a large glass of iced tea and some potato chips.

Despite what the liberationists will tell you, there is a separation of responsibilities when remodeling a basement. You have your domestic duties and you have your construction duties.

Take tiling a ceiling with foot-square tiles, for instance. It's the man's job to climb up the ladder, bend his body into some grotesque shape to staple the tile. But it is the fine eye of the woman to help line up the tiles.

When starting the project last winter, we were in our fourth year of marriage. There were days when both of us thought we'd never see number five. There were days we thought we'd never see the end of the week.

The perspectives that two married, supposedly adult persons can have on a particular situation is something that should be catalogued.

There was a time I struggled to devise a way to cut a board a certain angle in a corner that wasn't square. For 20 minutes I measured, figured and cut. The board wouldn't fit. Then suddenly from nowhere, comes this innocent voice, "Why don't you do it this way?"

I mean, here she is. She's great on the iced tea and chips. What does an elementary school teacher know about the macho job of the construction business?

It won't work, I told her. Why not, she asked? Because it won't, I replied. Try it, she suggested. I need some more iced tea and chips, I said. Try it anyway, she reiterated.

Off to get the tea and chips she went. Off to the saw I went. Not only is she good at tea and chips, she has a good eye for angles. The idea worked.

Wives as assistant foremen are good at reminding their husbands not to forget something. I won't forget, I told her. Okay, she said. She went after some more tea and chips, and I forgot to do what she said not to forget.

Surprisingly enough, we agreed on the decorating aspects — within reason, of course.

The wife always knows what her color scheme will be. And with a few modifications and suggestions by the foreman, off to the local "decorating centers" we went.

Of course, her first choices are the most expensive and will cost as much as our last new car — too much. A few more modifications and a substantial tax return did the trick. Then we only had to borrow about half as much as before.

There will be a chapter in my new book on how to teach your son the construction empire and convince him not to take the 16-ounce hammer to the recently-polished paneling.

Don't hit the pretty wood with daddy's hammer, was the request. But you hit the nails, daddy, and I was trying to hit the nails, too. Of course.

No wonder they grow up so confused. Daddy puts nails in his mouth when he is hammering, but little two-year-old can't. Daddy marks on boards with a pencil, so why can't the little one do the same with crayons? Interesting world we bring them up in, isn't it?

The project took all winter; numerous arguments and some spankings (of the little one). It is yet to be completed, mainly because we keep running out of money. All is done but one wall, and we haven't settled the argument on whether we want a smoked mirror with beveled edges or plain mirror without beveled edges.

It's the little things that keep marriages together.

Who's who, what's what?

1. WHO says Communists don't rule?
2. WHY was Kevin Pifers of Waverfield all smiles?
3. WHAT hazards should farmers be especially aware of at this time?
4. WHO is going to merge to become the eighth largest savings institution in the state of Nebraska?

ANSWERS: 1. Henric Olsson, Sweden; 2. A 300 bowling game; 3. Silage gas, tractor overturns, fires and farms lung disease; 4. Wayne Federal Savings and Loan Association and Midwest Federal Savings and Loan of Nebraska City.

Israelis Use Total Conservation

Arab neighbors who have similar problems. During the next 10 years, the Israelis plan to make the Negev Desert the focal point of a nation building program aimed at turning the desert into one of the most productive and attractive regions in the Middle East. They have established a Desert Research Institute as a division of Ben Gurion University to steer development of the nation's desert region.

Israeli scientists cite the diversity of natural resources to be found in the Negev — phosphates, magnesium, potash and bromine, to name a few. Unlike the petroleum rich deserts of her Arab neighbors, Israel has no oil, which prompts some of the locals to quip that Moses took the wrong turn when he brought the Children of Israel out of the wilderness.

But the major resources of the Negev are an abundance of land and year round sun shine. The Negev makes up over 60 percent of Israel's terrain but contains only 8 percent of the population. The key to revitalization of the desert lies in increasing water resources. One possibility being considered is construction of a trans-Negev canal to transport water from the Mediterranean to the Dead Sea which is evaporating at an alarming rate. The canal would be the source of cooling water for local industry and desalinated water for farmers.

Scientists also plan to tap groundwater resources under the desert, recycle waste water and desalinate sea water. As a result of advanced irrigation and soil management techniques, Negev farmers are already growing export crops directly with brackish (moderately saline) water, tapped from underground aquifers.

Desalination of seawater is already underway at Eilat where a large scale plant is providing the Red Sea port with nearly one half of its water needs. Another painstaking technique is that of "closed system agriculture" used in hot houses. Here, water that condenses from plants during the process of transpiration is trapped in the hot house roof and recycled for use in irrigation.

Desert researchers are testing model structures which rely entirely upon solar energy for year round cooling and heating. More efficient and less expensive solar collectors, made of plastic, are being developed for heating domestic water supply. Israel already leads the world in this field with 20 percent of the nation's homes outfitted with solar systems.

Israeli researchers have found that algae thrive on the desert's intense solar radiation and brackish water and are growing protein rich algae in saline water ponds. Current research is focused on using the water plants as a supplement in animal feed and scientists say the day may come when hungry children may be eating "algaeburgers" and enjoying them.

The Israelis have already developed techniques of drip irrigation whereby water is delivered directly to individual plants by a network of plastic pipes and release valves. Drip irrigation is now being researched and tried in the United States.

They have also revived "runoff farming," a system conceived over 2,000 years ago in that area, using hillside canals and catchment basins to trap sparse rainfall in the desert. Like the ancient desert farmers, scientists are now using the system to grow lush orchards of almonds and pistachios and fields of fruits and vegetables on less than four inches of rainfall per year.

Conservation to the Israelis is a total effort in a life and death struggle under the most adverse conditions and the great lesson for the rest of the world is that they are making it work.

Work Begins on County History

In an effort to update the history of Wayne County, several residents of the county met in Wayne last week to begin planning for a new history book.

The last history of Wayne County was published in 1938 by Dorothy Huse Nyberg and is no longer available to persons requesting copies.

Publication of the new 1981 History of Wayne County is being sponsored by the Wayne County Historical Society. Cleve Sharer, president of the organization, said at least 100 persons have been contacted to arrange and classify material.

Co-chairmen of the project are Sharer and John T. Bressler.

The book will be designed for all Wayne County families, new and old, as well as former residents. Each family is being invited to write their own historical sketch to appear in the book.

The book also will include a general county history. Other possible inclusions are histories of various organizations, businesses, schools, landmarks, churches, etc.

Sharer said instructions and guidelines on how to compile their own history for the book will be sent to each family in the County.

The hardcover volume will be 8 1/2 by 11 inches and will contain between 300 and 500 pages. It will be harvest-russet in color with a logo on the cover outlining Wayne County. Superimposed on the logo will be Wayne County's three largest attractions — 1) agriculture, 2) government, including the county courthouse, which is recorded on the National Register of Historic Sites, and 3) education in the form of a small rural schoolhouse.

Ted Blenderman, art instructor in the Wayne Public Schools, is designing the logo.

The book will be published by Taylor Publishing Co. of Texas. Publication consultant Bob Jonson will be assisting county residents throughout the project.

At least one representative from each precinct or township in the county is needed to help compile the history. Sharer will be contacting persons during the next couple of weeks asking for their assistance.

Persons interested in representing their township or in helping with any aspect of the history are asked to contact Sharer or Lucile Larson, also a member of the Historical Society.

"Old books of this nature become priceless family heirlooms," said Mrs. Larson, "so the Society will devote many hours and much work to create the best history book available."

Interested persons attending a meeting recently to discuss the publication were Cleve Sharer, Leon Meyer, John T. Bressler, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Eleanor Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baier, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Johnson, Mabel Sorenson, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Shuffell, Anne Lage and Lucile Larson, all of Wayne, Veryl Jackson of Winside, and Bob Jonson of Omaha.

Serving with Sharer as officers of the Historical Society are Donna Shuffell, secretary, and Leon Meyer, treasurer.

More information regarding the new history book will be announced in upcoming editions of The Wayne Herald.

Mrs. Julia Haas entertained JE Club Tuesday afternoon in cards. It was Peg Gormley and Camilla Liedtke.

Next meeting will be with Camilla Liedtke on Oct. 14 at 2 p.m.

Oregon Couple Honored at Senior Center

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sutherland of Sandy Ore., parents of Dr. Robert Sutherland of Wayne, celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary Tuesday at the Wayne Senior Citizens Center during the noon congregational meal.

Sutherlands were honored with the anniversary song.

Andrea Marsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Marsh of Wayne and a piano student of Mrs. Evelyn Carlson performed several numbers at the Senior Citizens Center following a recent congregational meal. Andrea played "The Band Played On," "Brian's Song" and "The Barn Dance."

Forty-six persons had their blood pressures checked free of charge at the center Sept. 17. The blood pressures were taken by Mary Nichols, R.N. The next free blood pressure clinic at the center will be from 9 a.m. to noon on Wednesday, Oct. 15.

ALCOHOL AND DRUG ABUSE were used as the theme for a booth sponsored by the Wayne County 4-H Alcohol Impact Team during the recent Community Health Fair in Wayne. Members of the Alcohol Impact Team who were present at the booth to distribute information regarding the illicit use of drugs were, pictured from left, Cynthia Walde of Winside, Mary Pat Dolata of Wayne and Turena Walde of Winside.

4-H Alcohol Impact Team Sponsors Booth at Fair

Members of the Wayne County 4-H Alcohol Impact Team combined alcohol and drug abuse for the theme of their booth at the Community Health Fair in Wayne Sept. 19.

Turena Walde, a member of the fair's planning committee and county contact for the Alcohol Team, said drug abuse should be added to the present alcohol program because the combination of alcoholic beverages with some of the most common prescription and non-prescription drugs is often deadly.

Turena went on to explain that illicit (illegal or unnecessary) drugs include heroin, which is not legal, and glue, gasoline and aerosols when they are sniffed to produce a drug like state.

"Illicit drugs vary in their dangers," said Turena, adding that some, such as cocaine, do not cause physical dependence, however they can create a strong psychological dependence.

Tranquillizers can create both a physical and psychological dependence, said the 4-H member, adding that they also can become deadly when an over dose occurs. Over inhalation of chemicals can cause liver, kidney, bone marrow and brain damage as well as death, she added.

"Abuse of social drugs such as alcohol and marijuana cause problems with school, family, friends and jobs, as well as trouble with the law," added Turena.

In citing recent statistics, Turena said alcohol plays a major role in an estimated 30,000 yearly fatalities and an additional 500,000 disabling injuries. "The drinking driver is one of the greatest threats to life, limb and property faced by Americans," she added.

Groups or organizations wishing more information about these problems are asked to contact a member of the Wayne County 4-H Alcohol Impact Team for a presentation at their meetings.

Members of the team are Shaun Niemann, 375-2534, Marcia Rothwisch, 375-3486, and Turena and Cynthia Walde, 585-4865.

Officers Elected At Monday Mrs.

Monday Mrs. Home Extension Club held election of officers at its September meeting.

Ten members attended the meeting in the home of Mrs. Barbara Heier. The group responded to roll call with what they enjoy most about extension clubs.

New officers for 1981 are Phyllis Rahm, president; Lynn Bruns, vice president; Judy Peters, secretary-treasurer; Carol Baier, health; Joann Baier, historian; Marie Hagemann, cultural arts; Sharon Corbit, citizenship; and Diane Glassmeyer, family life.

Joann Baier was in charge of the lesson. Members made bead star Christmas ornaments.

Virginia Backstrom will entertain the club at 8 p.m. Oct. 20.

Regional Arts Council Has Busy Year Planned

A photography show, a photography workshop, the reorganization of a community choir, and a guitar concert by Neill Archer Roan are some of the immediate activities being planned by the Wayne Regional Arts Council.

The Arts Council board of directors met recently to confirm plans for its new season.

Jane O'Leary, coordinator, said the current membership of 107 is still in progress. All contributions received go to support the programs for the year.

Mrs. O'Leary said supporters of the Arts Council's activities are asked to send their contributions to Wayne Regional Arts Council, 908 Circle Dr., Wayne.

In addition to its many programs, the Arts Council is planning a downtown art project with the Wayne Chamber of Commerce Downtown Improvement Committee, and a summer children's art project.

The board of directors is still seeking a small arts center for art shows and workshops.

Reorganization of the community choir will get underway during a rehearsal scheduled this Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the United Methodist Church fellowship hall. Rehearsals will be held for six consecutive Tuesday evenings, climaxing with a concert on Nov. 14.

The choir will be directed by Matt Smith and accompanied by Bonnie Sletken. Anyone interested in singing is welcome to join the choir and urged to bring friends. For more information, contact Mike Carney, 375-1114.

Neill Archer Roan will present a classical guitar concert on Nov. 7 at 8 p.m. The concert in Wayne will be immediately prior to his return to Carnegie Hall the following week.

The annual meeting of the Wayne Regional Arts Council general membership will be held at 8 p.m. Oct. 2 in the community room at Columbus-Federal-Savings and Loan. Persons interested in the arts in this region are invited to attend.

Sioux City Women Sponsoring First Designers Showcase

The Sioux City Symphony Women will present their first Designers' Showcase during the week of Oct. 11-19.

Several of Sioux City's top interior designers have completely renovated a contemporary home located at 3800 Chippewa Court, Sioux City. The results of their work can be seen during the Showcase week, which is a benefit for the Sioux City Symphony Orchestra.

Showcase week will be highlighted by demonstrations on floor and carpet care, painting and wallpapering, discussions with the designers, as well as the Symphony Women's popular Holiday House Boutique.

Advance tickets are $4 and are available from Mrs. Joseph King, 3811 Orchard St., Sioux City, Iowa, 51104. Dates and times of special events will be printed on the tickets.

Carol Wiltse-R. Joseph Potts Marry at Redeemer Lutheran

Carol Ann Wiltse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rowan Wiltse of Wayne, and R. Joseph Potts II, son of Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Potts of Battle Creek, Mich., were married Sept. 20 at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony were the Rev. Daniel Monson of Wayne and the bride's uncle, Dr. Harlan Heier of York.

Burgundy pompoms and dusty rose carnations decorated the altar of the church for the 4 o'clock ceremony. A seven-branch candelabra with ivory candles, greenery and burgundy bows enhanced the chancel. Pew decorations included three-tiered candelabras with burgundy candles, greenery and burgundy and ivory bows.

Organ selections were played by Antony Garlick of Wayne. Trumpeter was Randy Jary.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding day she chose an ivory Quiana dress in floor length designed with a basque bodice adorned with Venice appliques, and long narrow sleeves edged with matching lace. The attached waltz train draped softly into a full train. Her scalloped bridal illusion veil was attached to a tiara headpiece encrusted with hand-clipped appliques, and she carried a cascade of white butterfly roses, white stephanotis, ivy and eucalyptus with a handkerchief given to her by her aunt, Faunell Pickett. White satin bridal streamers flowed from the cascade.

The bride's gown was accented by a string of pearls worn by her mother on her wedding day. Her earrings were a gift from the bridegroom. She also carried a white Bible, which was carried by Mavis Dalton of Wayne on her wedding day.

Maid of honor was Ann Ellis of Denver, Colo., and bridesmaids were Joy Potts of Battle Creek, Mich., a sister of the bridegroom, and Kim Wilson of Seattle, Wash., and LouAnn Wiltse of Wayne.

The bride's personal attendant was Beth Heier of Omaha.

Her attendants wore wine-colored Quiana dresses designed with sweetheart necklines, blouson style bodices and long pleated skirts. They carried crescent style bouquets of fresh dusty rose miniature carnations, pink forget-me-nots and wine baby's breath with wine streamers.

Flower girl was Kathy Dalton of Wayne and ring bearer was T. J. Schuessler of Belleville, Ill.

Jay Cravens of East Lansing, Mich. served as best man. Groomsmen were Mark Wiltse of Wayne, brother of the bride, Keith Braun of Brooklyn, Mich. and Richard Bokhart of East Lansing, Mich.

Guests were ushered into the church by Tod and Tim Heier of Wayne and Charles Von Hout of Battle Creek, Mich.

The bridegroom wore a gray cutaway coat with peeked notched lapels with satin piping, gray striped pants, and a miniature pleated ivory shirt with a winged collar and bow tie. His boutonniere was a white butterfly rose and stephanotis. His attendants were attired in Sterling stroller dinner jackets with coordinating pants. Their boutonnières were dusty rose miniature carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wiltse wore a long polymagic knit styled with a sheer multi-crystal pleated bodice and ivory skirt. The bridegroom's mother selected a long mauve knit designed with a pleated skirt. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Heier and Mr. and Mrs. Ron Carnes, all of Wayne, greeted the guests at a reception at the Wayne Country Club following the ceremony. Guests were registered by Cathy Volk and gift carriers were Peggy and Lori Volk, all of Palatine, Ill.

Mrs. Byron Heier of Wayne and Mrs. Harlan Heier of York cut and served the cake. Mrs. Fritz Ellis of Wayne poured and Joyce Heier of York served punch. Beth Sellers of Battle Creek, Mich. served champagne.

Waitresses were Becky Heier of Wayne, DeAnne Heier of York, Christa Biltoft of Coleridge and Kristin Schuessler of Belleville, Ill.

Others assisting at the reception were Mrs. Earl Echtenkamp, Mrs. Willard Jeffrey, Mrs. Melvin Froehlich and Mrs. Kent Hall. Rice boys were Neil and Regg Carnes.

The newlyweds will be at home at 4726 Frances St., Apt. 79, in Omaha.

Omaha Home for Newlyweds

Making their first home at 811 N. 47th Ave., in Omaha, are Mr. and Mrs. Terry Lee Pfeiffer, who were married Sept. 20 in double ring rites at the First United Methodist Church in Wayne.

Mrs. Pfeiffer, nee Kathy Jo Dranselka, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dranselka of Wayne. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Don Pfeiffer, also of Wayne.

Guests, registered by Carolyn Belermann of Wayne, were ushered into the church by Doug Straight of Shickley and Rick Straight, Tim Pfeiffer and Todd Pfeiffer, all of Wayne.

Candles were lighted by Tim Pfeiffer and Todd Pfeiffer. Flower girl was Wendy Belermann of Wayne.

The Rev. Kenneth Edmonds of Wayne officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony. Wedding music included "Longer," "Through the Eyes of Love," "Follow Me" and "Sunrise, Sunset," sung by Don Straight of Kearney, Kay Ruback of Omaha and Chuck Pierson of Omaha, who also was guitarist. Organist was Linda Baddorf of Wayne.

The bride, who was escorted down the aisle by her father, wore a traditional long white gown of chiffon with Schiffl lace embroidery. The dress was designed with a lack yoke, high banded collar, fitted waistline and long sleeves ending in ruffled cuffs. The skirt extended into a chapel-length train. She wore a fingertip veil with matching Schiffl lace and carried roses, daisies, miniature carnations and stephanotis. Teresa Dranselka of Norfolk was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Jennifer Widner of Wayne and Judy Honts and Dawn Lang, both of Omaha.

They wore long daphne rose silesta knit gowns with four-panel skirts. The bodice featured a draped jacket topping a blouson bodice. They carried nosegays of daisies, miniature carnations and miniature mums.

Serving as best man was Dan Grone of Lincoln. Groomsmen were Barry Ruback and Tim Rees, both of Omaha, and Jerry Munter of Wayne.

The bridegroom's gray tuxedo and tails featured a notched lapel and self-top collar trimmed in rice braid. He wore matching gray slacks and a white wing collar shirt and gray bow tie. His attendants were attired in matching tuxedos with formal length jackets.

Mrs. Dranselka wore a daphne rose silesta knit dress in floor-length with a matching sleeveless jacket, and the bridegroom's mother chose a beige and rose crepe dress. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Dawn Creamer of Wayne and Kaylene Creamer of Stanton arranged gifts at a reception at the Eagles Club in Wayne following the ceremony. The 140 guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Straight of Wayne.

Jullianne Helman of Omaha and Verna Mae Creamer of Carroll cut and served the cake. Pouring were Helen Weible of Wayne and Evelyn Straight of Wichita, Kan. Diane Creamer of Carroll served punch.

Waitresses were Laura Blenderman and Tammy Oberg, both of Wayne.

The newlyweds traveled to Las Vegas.

The bride was graduated from Wayne-Carroll High School in 1976 and is employed at the University of Nebraska-Omaha. The bridegroom, a 1973 graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School and a 1975 graduate of Northeast Technical Community College in Norfolk, works for Baker's Supermarkets.

Grones Celebrating

Mr. and Mrs. George Grone of Pierce, formerly of Wayne and Randolph, will observe their golden wedding anniversary Saturday, Oct. 4, with an open house reception at King's East in Norfolk from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. A dance will follow at King's Ballroom, Norfolk. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Former Area Residents Celebrating in Texas

Ernest and Ella Muhs will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Oct. 4 at their home near Granger, Texas.

They were married Oct. 2, 1930 in the Wayne area and resided here until 1972 when they retired from a career of farming. In 1972 they moved to Taylor, Texas, where Muhs became involved with public relations work for The Graham Ford Co. The couple sold their home in Taylor in 1979 and purchased a small farm near Granger, where they are semi retired.

They have two sons, two daughters, 23 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Muhs are planning to have family and friends at their home for the Oct. 4 weekend to help them celebrate their 50 years of marriage.

Cards and letters will reach them if addressed to Rt. 1, Box 282 A, Granger, Texas, 76530.

Winside Gets Overtime Victory With Help from Goal Line Stand

Winside football coach Dennis Gonnerman has always been a firm believer in playoffs to break ties and he's especially happy that Nebraska finally adopted a playoff rule.

The Wildcats put together a goal-line stance that was as strong as a brick wall in regulation and then scored a touchdown in an overtime playoff to trim Wausa 7-0, Friday in Wausa.

"I like the playoff system and always have," said the Iowa native, who was familiar with the playoff system in his home state. "A tie is like kissing your grandmother or sister. Nobody likes a tie so the playoff system is a good deal."

Three crucial situations led to the Winside victory. First was a solid goal-line stance that held Wausa on four consecutive plays from the one-foot line in the fourth quarter to preserve the shutout.

The second was a touchdown in the overtime period by Brian Foote. The third was a fumble by Wausa on the following possession in the overtime. The first half of the game was played with each team driving the ball into the opponent's territory but neither team threatening to score.

In the second half, Winside received the kick-off and drove the ball clear across the field. However, Wausa's goal-line stance held the Cats six inches short of a TD on a fourth down play.

Wausa turned right around and drove the ball down field deep into Winside territory. The drive ended after total gains of 99 yards and two feet. Winside stopped Wausa on four plays from the one foot line and took over possession of the ball at the six inch line.

A drive by the Wildcats to the Allen 30-yard line ended the fourth quarter.

"It was a fantastic goal line stance. We moved Brad Roberts over to the other side of the line and he put the whammy on them," Gonnerman said. Defensively, it was a heck of a game and Roberts did a fine job.

Winside took over possession of the ball at the Wausa 10-yard line according to rules of the playoff system. Brian Foote moved the ball to the six on the first play from scrimmage and ran it in on the following play. He kicked the PAT for a 7-0 lead.

According to playoff rules, the opposing team receives an opportunity to tie or win the game. Wausa took possession of the ball at the Winside 10-yard line, looking for a TD.

The Vikings moved the ball to the three on a pass play and threatened to score. Winside's Bill George hit Wausa's I back and forced a fumble on the next play. The ball was recovered by Jim Hawkins to put an end to the game.

Gonnerman described the triumph as "a great win" as the Wildcats moved into sole possession of first place in the Clark Division of the Lewis and Clark Conference. The other leading teams were defeated in action, Friday.

Defensively, Winside was led by Roberts with 23 tackles including 11 solos, Barry Bowers, Joel Broekemeier and Jim Kravick with 17 tackles each. Offensively, Foote was the team leader with 64 yards rushing in 16 carries.

The Wildcats return to the home turf Friday when they host Coleridge for homecoming. Byron Schellenberg, who was sidelined for the past two games with an injured leg, is not yet expected to join the team as a regular. Winside is 3-1.

Wayne Gets Even

Devils Hand Wisner Loss

Revenge was especially sweet for Wayne as the Blue Devils stunned previously undefeated Wisner-Pilger 15-15, Thursday in the Wayne-Carroll gym.

The two teams had met earlier in the season at the Beemer Invitational. Wisner won that one in a tough three-game set.

The ease of the win for the hosts was a surprise to most of the people who witnessed the match. It was expected to be a typical nip-and-tuck match between the two rivals.

"Everything went our way. The girls showed good teamwork. Facing tough competition after two losses gave the team desire," Wayne coach Mavis Dalton said. "All six girls on the court deserve credit for the win. They were all in the right position and did a good job."

Seven girls actually saw action for Wayne's varsity and according to Dalton all seven did their job well. Jenni DeTurk, Lisa Peters, Tracy Stoltenberg, Lynn Surber, Tammie Thomas, Sandy Utecht and Jill Zeiss combined to lead the varsity.

Wayne exploded with the opening serve and rattled off 12 consecutive points for a 12-0 lead. Lynn Surber, Jill Zeiss and Jenni DeTurk were the leading servers in that game. Wisner put an end to the humiliation of a shutout by scoring one point in the opening game.

The Devils then scored the next three points for a big 15-1 win. Sandy Utecht started the hosts off on the right track in the second game by serving the first three points. Wayne extended its lead to 6-1, 8-2 and 11-2 on the serving of Surber. Thomas and Zeiss Utecht and Surber led the attack with fine performances. Serves by Thomas brought the score to 13-3 and Surber put the Blue Devils on top 14-4. The teams exchanged serves about five times before Zeiss stroked the winning serve in a 15-5 victory, handing Wisner its first loss of the season.

Statistically, Thomas and Peters were two of the team leaders. Thomas was the leading server with nine points and four aces. Peters was the leading spiker with nine spikes and four aces. Wayne's record is now 6-3. In the reserve match, Wayne defeated its Wisner counterparts 15-11, 15-3. Pam Nissen was the leading server with 13 points. Missy Stoltenberg was the leading spiker with six spikes and two aces and Tami Murray was the leading setter. Wayne coaches indicated that the performance was one of the best this season for the JV team. The Blue Devil freshmen lost their match 2-15, 15-8, 6-15. Fran Gross scored seven points to lead the hosts. Next action for Wayne is scheduled Tuesday at Emerson Hubbard.

SANDY UTECHT of Wayne sets the ball up on this games, Thursday evening, handing the Gatorettes bump shot following a spike by a Wisner Pilger their first loss of the season. Wayne defeated Wisner in two straight games.

Defense Sparks Laurel Triumph

A defensive performance that held Walthill to only 89 total yards was the key to success as the Laurel Bears gained their second consecutive victory, a 34-14 shelling of Walthill, Friday night.

Meanwhile, the Bears racked 437 yards total offense and scored five touchdowns. Phil Martin and Jamie Johnson each scored two touchdowns.

"We played well defensively. We really shut them down. Offensively, we got off to a slow start and hurt ourselves with penalties. We got on track in the second quarter and moved the ball well the rest of the game. Laurel coach Lynn Schuett said "Our size was an advantage. Walthill is a good team and they played hard but we capitalized on their mistakes. We played pretty well."

The Bears intercepted four Walthill passes and recovered one fumble. After a scoreless first quarter, Laurel scored three TD's in the second quarter and two more in the fourth. Walthill scored both of its touchdowns in the final stanza.

Schuett said that both teams had lots of penalties but added that the referees did a good job. Laurel was penalized more than 100 yards on what Schuett described as stupid mistakes.

Defensive leaders for the Bears were Jeff Anderson, Todd Twiford, Brian Marquardt and Tim Bloom. Curt Saunders rushed for 73 yards in 18 carries to lead the offense. Joe Olsen completed 19 of 37 passes for 259 yards and rushed for 61 yards in five carries. Jamie Johnson added 19 yards in the rushing department.

Laurel is scheduled to host Osmond in the Bears' homecoming game, Friday.

Fifth Ranked Trojans Fall Victim

All good things must come to an end but for the Wakefield Trojans the end came too soon.

Wakefield, ranked fifth in the state after a win over previously rated Wausa last week, saw its three game winning streak and number five ranking evaporate, Friday night.

Hartington downed the Trojans 14-7 in Wakefield.

Wakefield scored on the fifth play from scrimmage but that was the last time the hosts crossed the goal line. Joedy Sherer rambled 19 yards for the lone Trojan TD and Jeff Hallstrom added the PAT.

Hartington came back with a TD late in the second quarter to tie things up as the first half came to a close. The Wildcats struck on a 61 yard bomb to Troy Fuetlberg on a fourth down play with 30 seconds left in the first half.

"It all comes to an end. They (Wausa) took our game away. They controlled the game," Wakefield coach Dennis Wilbur said. "We have a tough game next week at Wynot and we'll need a better effort."

Hartington took the lead in the third period and never relinquished it. Chris Vokers scored on a three yard run.

Wilbur pointed out that fumbles and penalties were crucial in the game. The Trojans lost two fumbles and had eight penalties called for losses of 95 yards. Wilbur said several big plays were called back because of penalties.

Hartington has a good set of backs (Vokers and Fuetlberg) and we couldn't handle them. They controlled the ball better than we did. We had some breakdowns, Wilbur said.

Sherer carried the ball 15 times for 127 yards and Mark Starzl rushed for 90 yards in 10 carries. Running back Jerry Roberts set out the first half with a knee injury but carried the ball six times for 39 yards in the second half.

Defensively, Wakefield had 11 tackles for losses totaling 32 yards. Leaders were Starzl with 18 tackles, Roger Echtenkamp with Jeff Hallstrom with 11 and Alan Echtenkamp with 9 tackles. The Trojans now 3-1 hope to get back on the winning track at Wynot on Friday.

Ponca Smothers Allen's Flame

Ponca played the role of the villain by spoiling Allen's homecoming, Friday night. Homecoming games don't come much tougher and the Indians thumped the Eagles 39-7 to extinguish any hopes of a homecoming win.

Despite the one-sided score, Allen coach Bart Kneiff said he thought his team played "one whale of a game". He pointed out that the game was much closer than the score indicated and added that Ponca ran the score up by playing its first string throughout most of the game while Allen's reserve team saw considerable action.

The Eagles saw plenty of two Ponca players named Koeppel and Bostwick. Those two players scored all six touchdowns. Ponca scored the first touchdown of the game in the first quarter but Allen came right back to take the lead.

Terry Brewer broke free to score on a 60 yard touchdown run and Robb Linafelter kicked the PAT for a 7-0 advantage. The Indians put an end to the Allen lead by scoring two more TD's in the first half on runs of two yards and three yards. The final TD of the half came with about a minute to play.

Because running back Scott Carr broke his arm in last week's victory over Bancroft, Kneiff moved Rick Gotch into the backfield. He carried the ball seven times for 28 yards to complement the attack by Brewer. Brewer carried the ball only four times but gained 71 yards. He had one reception for 35 yards. Brewer was shaken up when he received a helmet in the thigh.

The Eagles rushed for 118 yards and had 153 total yards. Five lost fumbles and one interception riddled the offensive attack.

"The score was a lot worse than the game was. They left their first string in against our junior varsity," Kneiff said. "I was real pleased with our defense, they hit like jack hammers. Offensively we didn't play very well. We have to regroup and play tough against Newcastle next week."

Defensive leaders for Allen were Rick Gotch, Randy Smith, Frank Lanser, Bruce Malcom and Terry Brewer. Kneiff added that it was a team effort, defensively.

Allen will play at Newcastle Friday and will have an open date in the scheduled next week.

Wisner Runners Roll Over Wayne

Wayne's winless football team battered Wisner-Pilger evenly for one quarter but the game turned around in the second quarter and the Blue Devils failed to threaten again as the Gators took a 45-12 win on their home turf, Friday.

The Devils ran 18 plays in the first quarter compared to only four plays for Wisner. Yet the score was tied 7-7 at the end of the quarter. Kevin Nissen scored Wayne's TD on an eight yard run. The turning point of the game according to Wayne coach Lonnie Ehrhardt came in the second quarter. Jeff McCright intercepted a pass and returned the ball 75 yards to the Wisner 12-yard line. On the following play, Wayne was called for a penalty and assessed 15 yards. The Blue Devils failed to score on that series and the momentum picked up for the Gators.

Wisner scored two touchdowns in the second quarter, one in the late seconds of the half, to take a 20-6 half-time lead.

"We started off pretty well. We moved the ball down and scored in the first quarter. The turning point came when McCright intercepted the pitchout and we couldn't score," Ehrhardt said. "Wisner's touchdown just before the half really hurt. Their option worked really well all night. We tried different defenses but we couldn't stop them. They're a good ball club."

Wisner amassed 432 yards rushing compared to 168 yards for Wayne. Leading rushers for the Devils were Kevrin Nissen with 10 carries for 59 yards, Tod Heler with 13 carries for 32 yards, Richard Poeslman with 27 yards in 6 carries, Chip Carr with 11 carries for 25 yards, Kurt Janke with 16 yards in 3 carries and Jeff McCright with 1 carry of 9 yards.

Nissen was also the leading receiver with three catches for 56 yards. Terry Gilliland had one reception for seven yards. Nissen scored Wayne's other TD on a one-yard plunge in the fourth quarter. Leading tacklers for Wayne were Heler with 18, Aaron Schuett with 13 and Pat McCright with 11. Eric Brink, Steve Koff, Brett Frevert and Jeff Loberg were also some of the leading tacklers in the game.

The Blue Devils will seek their first victory at Albion, Friday.

Wayne Is Back on Top In Crofton Invitational

More hardware was added to the Wayne Carroll High School trophy case as the Wayne cross country team got back on top by winning the Crofton Invitational, Friday afternoon.

The Blue Devils scored 23 points to finish ahead of runner up Crofton with 45 points.

Doug Proett added another gold medal to his collection by winning individual honors in a time of 10:52 on the hilly two-mile course. His time was only 22 seconds off the two-mile record.

Again, Wayne's top four runners won medals. Medals were given to the top 20 finishers. Steve Monson placed third with a time of 11:30. Henry Olsson finished seventh in 11:41 and Joel Mosley placed 12th in 12 minutes flat. That rounded out the team scor-

Wildcats Play Well To Defeat Stanton

With their best team effort of the season according to coach Paul Sok, Winside defeated Stanton 15-5, 6-15, 15-11 in volleyball action at Stanton, Tuesday night.

Joni Jaeger and June Meyer scored nine points each to lead the varsity to its second victory in six games. Sok credited the entire team for a good performance.

"It was largely a team effort. The girls really played like the volleyball team they are," Sok said. "Our floor play was consistent. I felt we set up very well and picked up on the other team's serves very well. We came into our own 11-5 was a real good victory as far as total play. If we continue to play like we did tonight, we'll be ready for our opponents." In reserve action, Winside topped Stanton 13-15, 15-4, 15-3. Darla Janke and June Meyer scored 10 points each for the winners.

Winside's C team came out on the short end, dropping a 14-16, 10-15 decision. Shelli Topp scored seven points.

At the junior varsity level, Winside won the eighth grade match but lost the seventh grade match. The older girls won 12-15, 15-9, 15-6 led by Trisha Topp with 15 points and Deanna Schmidt with nine. The younger girls lost 6-15, 4-15. Kay Meierhenry was the leading server with four points.

The Wildcats are scheduled to host Coleridge in a volleyball football doubleheader, Friday, Oct. 3.

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Huscaff

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK for the Wayne State College Wildcats were named by coach Del Stoltenberg at the Second Guessers meeting, Thursday noon.

Ed Blackburn was named offensive player of the week and Ron Gilbert was named defensive player of the week. In addition, WSC volleyball coach Bernice Fulton named Cheryl Abts her player of the week for the Lady Wildcats.

WAYNE STATE'S players of the week in the Wildcats' opening win over Chadron a week ago were defensive player Steve Dennis and offensive player Steve Zellinsky.

A RELEASE which came in the mail this week indicates that Janet Walton, a 1980 graduate of Laurel-Concord High School, is a member of the women's varsity volleyball team at National College in Rapid City, S.D.

CSIC STATISTICS show two Wayne State players who are leaders in respective categories: Pat Maxwell is the conference's leading punt returner with an average of 22.6 yards per return. He has five returns for a total of 113 yards and one TD.

Ed Blackburn is the scoring leader in the CSIC. Not including the game against Missouri Western Saturday, Blackburn had scored 18 points on three touchdowns.

HONORARY COACHES at last week's Wayne State-Midland game were George Phelps and Bill Carlson. The two were selected by a drawing at the Second Guessers meeting a week ago.

BOWLING FEVER seems to be in the air. Last week, Kevin Peters of Wakefield bowled a perfect 300 game. In the same match, teammate Randy Johnson bowled a 252. That was the Wednesday Nile Owls league of a week ago.

RECENT SCORES that were reported to the Herald include a 2-7 by Paul Tappan, a 2-5 by Ted Ellis, a 2-6 by Norman Deck, a 2-4 by Bob Nissen and a 2-5 by Lester Deck. One of the previously high games of the year was a 2-6 by Kevrin Spillinger.

The women are also off on a hot streak. The past week, Addie Jorgensen and Melodie Robinson bowled 223 games in the same league. A 213 by Gari Marks, a 210 by Fern Test, a 209 by Mary Poeslman and a pair of back-to-back 200 games by Judi Topp rank as some of the top games of the week.

TALK ABOUT reverse discrimination! Kearney State College, Wayne State's rival in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference, may have had a male homecoming queen.

Russ Loonijer, a 23-year-old broadcasting major, was the first homecoming queen male candidate in Kearney State history to make it into the finals after preliminary voting and interviews last week. However, Loonijer dropped out of the competition this week after getting pressure from the Kearney State administration. He had entered the competition in protest because KSC does not select a homecoming king.

WSC Hall of Fame Induction Set Oct. 11

By Diana Daniels
Wayne State SID

The selections for the Wayne State College Hall of Fame are complete for another year. The ceremony for the induction of these individuals selected will take place during the half-time activities at the 1968 homecoming football game, Oct. 11.

This is the fourth year for the induction of Hall of Fame selections. The concept of the Hall of Fame is to honor past students of Wayne State College who have contributed significantly to intercollegiate athletics at Wayne State College either as an athlete, a coach or as an athletic administrator.

Requirements for selection indicate that the candidates have been a student at Wayne for at least two years, a coach at Wayne, or an athletic administrator at Wayne. Athletes become eligible for selection five years after graduation, and coaches and athletic administrators five years after they leave those positions at Wayne, or after 10 years of service.

Individuals may be nominated by any alumnus or friend of the college. Nominations are made at the start of each academic year. The names of the nominees are then sent to the Hall of Fame committee for consideration. The committee reviews each nominee and votes for those to be inducted that year. The selection committee is composed of three college faculty members and three members of the Second Guessers organization; an organization for the support of Wayne State athletics.

In addition to the Hall of Fame inductees, there will also be a ceremony for the Hall of Contributions inductees. Each year two individuals who have made outstanding contributions to the athletic program at Wayne State College are eligible for selection. The individuals selected for this honor do not have to be graduates of Wayne State, neither do they have to be athletes.

Nominations for this award can be made by anyone and should be based on the contributions which the candidate has made to further the interest of athletics at Wayne State College. Nominations are handled in the same manner as those for the Hall of Fame; the individual who receives the highest number of votes is presented with the award.

This year there will be five inductees into the Wayne State Hall of Fame and one inductee into the Hall of Contributions. Of the inductees to the Hall of Fame, all are former standout athletes who have contributed significantly to Wayne State athletics. One award to the Hall of Fame will be given post-humously. There will be one inductee this year to the Hall of Contributions.

Senior inductee to the Hall of Fame is Warren P. (Bud) Best. Warren attended

Wayne State from 1939 to 1943 graduating with a degree in health, physical education and recreation. Warren was the second athlete in the history of Wayne State College athletics to achieve the distinction of having won a varsity letter in three sports the four years he attended; a total of 12 varsity letters.

As a football player, he was awarded all-conference distinction three straight years, 1940, 1941 and 1942. Warren played basketball during the same years and was named All-conference guard in 1942 and 1943. In track, Warren held the 100 yard dash record of 9.9 seconds which he set in 1943. That record has been one of the longest standing track records in Wildcat track history.

After graduation, Warren taught in the Albion School District from 1946 to 1952 where he taught and coached football, basketball and track. From Albion he moved to the Norfolk area to teach and coach football and track and field for five years. Warren was an associate professor of health and physical education at the University of Northern Colorado from 1957 to 1967. While at the University of Northern Colorado he was the head swimming coach, head backfield coach in football and the assistant baseball coach. At the present time, Warren is at the University of Northern Colorado as the director of career and placement and teacher of college student personnel administration.

Warren is married to Karen Lee Best and they have a son John Ray and two married daughters, Mrs. Michael Torrey and Mrs. Randall Gelst. Bud and Karen have two grandchildren; Sarah Torrey, 5 and Adam Torrey, 3.

Next senior inductee is Rod Tietfort. Wayne State College football fans will remember Rod as one of the outstanding pass receivers in Wildcat football during the late 50's. Rod attended Wayne State from 1957 to 1961 and played football all four years. During the 1958 season he caught nine passes good for 130 yards and kept improving. In 1959 he caught 18 passes for 246 yards and in 1960 led the Wildcats in the receiving department. Rod was named football MVP by his teammates in 1958, 1959 and 1960, and was named to Honorable Mention Little All-American in 1960. Rod also played baseball for Wayne State in 1959 and 1960.

Since leaving Wayne State, Rod has attended the University of Northern Colorado and Colorado University for post-graduate study. He has been teaching and coaching at the high school level at Jefferson County Public Schools, Denver, Colo., since that time. Rod's wife is Judy Tietfort and they have two children, Brooke, 5 and Amy, 1.

Next inductee is Robert Gaeta, one of the outstanding baseball players in Wayne State history. Robert attended Wayne State from 1963 to 1967 and played varsity baseball those four years. As a third baseman in 1964, Robert was voted to the first team NAIA All-American, the only sophomore to achieve that honor.

In that year, he batted a hot .400, swinging for five homers, two triples and two doubles; a total of 24 hits in 64 times at bat. In 1965 and 1966 Robert was voted Honorable Mention NAIA All-American as an outfielder. During his four year stint at Wayne, he was also voted All-district 5 for four years and All-conference (CSIC) for four years.

After leaving Wayne, Robert went on to the University of South Dakota and earned a master of arts degree in Physical Education and Secondary School Administration. At present, he is the senior underwriter for the Security Mutual Life Insurance Company of Nebraska at the Omaha office.

Robert remains very active in athletics as a coach and as a participant. During the summer he coaches youth flag football and baseball. He is also a competitor in softball and in racquetball. In 1979 he was second in regional racquetball competition, and in 1980 qualified in the senior division for national competition. Robert is married to Dolores Gaeta; they have two sons, Alfred, 10 and Daniel, 8.

The next inductee is a more recent graduate of Wayne State College: Michael Reidman attended Wayne State from 1971 to 1976 and participated in athletics as a wrestler and as a football player. Mike came to Wayne never having played football before. He wanted to try it out and was assigned as a linebacker. As his seasons at Wayne drew to a close, Reidman was voted NAIA All-district and All-conference (CSIC) in 1975.

Mike is best known for his ability as a wrestler in the 190 pound class. In 1976 the squad won both the conference and district tournaments and set a record for the most dual wins in one season, including two shutouts and a win over the University of Nebraska/Omaha. Mike tied the record for most wins in a single season and was second in the National Tournament. In 1975 and 1976 he was the captain of the wrestling squad. In 1976, in addition to the football honors, he was also NAIA All-American honorable mention and most valuable wrestler at Wayne State.

Mike gained additional national recognition as a member of the AAU-NAIA All-star wrestling squad which toured Japan and Korea during the summer of 1976. Reidman graduated in 1976 and is currently a sales associate for Allen and Young Associates, a real estate firm in Omaha. Mike's wife, Colleen is a 1976 graduate of Wayne State College. They have one child.

The next inductee has earned his recognition on the football field as a college varsity athlete and as a professional athlete. Stan Lewis attended Wayne State College from 1971 to 1976. He played football for the Wildcats from 1971 to 1974 at the defensive end position. In 1974 he earned distinction by being voted to the NAIA All-district team at that position.

In his senior year, Stan was credited with 30 tackles and 24 assists, plus 13 quarterback sacks, six forced fumbles and five passes batted down. He probably could have had more had opposing offensive strategies not worked to the opposite side of the field. Stan earned his degree from Wayne State in 1976 in health, physical education and recreation.

Stan was drafted by the Cleveland Browns football organization and played defensive end for them for one season. As the expansion teams were organized, he was picked up by the Seattle Seahawks. From the Seahawks, Stan migrated to the Canadian football league for several seasons. He was injured while in that league and has since dropped out of professional football. He now resides in the Chicago area and is involved in youth oriented activities.

The next award to the Hall of Fame is to be given posthumously to another outstanding athlete in Wayne State College athletic history. A.D. "Barry" Benson was a student at Wayne from 1964 to 1968. He was an outstanding athlete in cross-country and track and field. A.D. lettered all four years in both cross-country and track and field.

As a distance runner he was the NCC cross-country champion for two years and the NAIA cross-country champion for two years. In national competition Barry placed 14th in the NAIA Nationals and achieved NAIA All-American status in 1967.

A.D. served his country as a 2nd Lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps. He was killed in action in Viet Nam on July 5, 1969. The record A.D. set for the Sidney School and the conference mile still stands.

The conference mile has been named in his honor; the A.D. Benson Memorial Mile and a traveling trophy is presented each year to the conference mile champion. Two $100 scholarships are awarded in his memory each year to Sidney High School graduates. A.D. was awarded the Purple Heart, the National Defense Medal and the Viet Nam Service Medal from the military.

The recipient of the Hall of Contributions award this year is a former student of Wayne State College, W. Rowan Wilts. Rowan attended Wayne State from 1951 to 1953 and has also taken classes here in the past several years. From Wayne, Rowan went on to Nebraska Wesleyan, and graduated from the Worsham College of Mortuary Science in Chicago, Ill.

Rowan has been a resident of Wayne since his graduation and has served the community and the college in many capacities. He is a past president of the WSC Second Guessers organization and a member of the Jaycees. As a long standing member of the Jaycees, Rowan was honored in 1959 as the Jaycee of the year for his community service. Rowan has been involved with the local Boy Scout organization, serving as the Scoutmaster for Troop No. 175 from 1967 to 1973. He is the past county chairman of the March of Dimes and is a past member of the State March of Dimes Advisory Board.

Rowan received the Second Guessers President's outstanding projects award in 1975 and 1976 for his work on the Wildcat room, most of the carpentry work which he did himself. Rowan has devoted more than this share of spare time to the support of Wayne State athletics, both directly and through the Second Guessers organization.

Frosh Offense Sputters In Loss at Schuyler

The Wayne freshman football team fumbled away its chance of winning its second consecutive game at Schuyler, Thursday afternoon. Schuyler took advantage of a high scoring second quarter to defeat the Blue Devils 26-0.

"It wasn't one of our better performances. We made a lot of mistakes in the first half," said coach Duane Blumenkamp.

The Devils lost eight fumbles as the Warriors scored one touchdown in the first quarter and three in the second. The scoreless second half was much more even.

Blaine Johns rushed for 46 yards and Jim Poehlman rushed for 41 yards to lead the offensive attack. Defensively, Poehlman had 10 tackles. Ted DeTurk had nine and Randy Gamble added eight.

The freshman will travel to Emerson Thursday, Oct. 9 to face the Pirates in their next game.

First Deer Bagged

VAUGHN GLASSMEYER of Wayne bagged a four point White Tail buck with a bow and arrow at about 8:45 a.m. last Sunday. Glassmeyer was hunting by himself south of Wayne at the time. The buck was the first one checked in this season at the Wayne County Sheriff's office.

CONTEST RULES

One football game has been placed in each of the 20 ads on this page. Indicate the winner by writing in the name of the winning team on the proper line on the entry blank. No scores. Just pick the winners or ties. In case of tie write "Tie". Use the entry blank below or a copy of equal size.

Pick the score of the "Game of the Week" and enter that score in the appropriate blanks. The correct closest score will be used to break ties and will be used only in the case of ties.

One entry only to each contestant, but members of a family may each submit an entry. Entries should be brought or mailed to The Wayne Herald office not later than 5 p.m. Thursday, and entered that score in the appropriate blanks. The correct closest score will be used to break ties and will be used only in the case of ties.

The winners will be announced weekly on the Thursday sports page of The Wayne Herald. There will be duplicate prizes awarded if winning scores are identical. Employees of the Herald and their immediate families are ineligible. Judges' decisions will be final in every case.

Star of the Week

Because of two fine performances by individuals this week who led their teams to their first wins of the season, co-stars of the week were selected for the first time. The two individuals are Rod Nixon of Wakefield and Curt Saunders of Laurel.

Nixon led the Trojans to a 14-8 upset win over fifth ranked Wausa last week. He scored both touchdowns for the hosts, one on a pass and one on the ground. He had two receptions for 46 yards and carried the ball twice for 13 yards. His first touchdown was scored on a pass in the waning seconds of the first half. He also had a key interception to stop a Wausa drive deep in Wakefield territory.

Saunders carried the ball 18 times for 142 yards in the Bears' 26-18 win over Plainview last week. He scored Laurel's second touchdown on a 77 yard run up the middle and literally ran out the clock by grinding out several first downs in the late minutes of the game.

Other players who were nominated for star of the week are Terry Brewer of Allen, Brian Foote of Winside, Tod Heier of Wayne and Ron Gilbert of Wayne State.

Laurel Homecoming Week Begins

CARROLL NEWS

Mrs. Ed Fork

Homecoming festivities at Laurel-Concord High School will begin today and continue throughout the week.

The theme for this year's homecoming week, "Homecoming for the Holidays" was chosen by the varsity cheerleaders. The week's activities will be coordinated by the varsity cheerleaders and sponsored by the student council. Each day of homecoming week will signify a holiday season and appropriate activities are planned each day.

Royalty candidates were announced at a pep rally Friday afternoon. Queen candidates are: Kay Anderson, Shelley Cooper, Jodi Kessinger, Kathy Stage and Dianne White. King candidates are Jamie Johnson, Ray Kneiff, Scott Norvell, Curt Saunders and Scott Sherry.

Coronation is planned in the gym following the Laurel-Osmond football game, Friday night. The game is scheduled at 7:30 p.m.

Today (Monday) is designated as Halloween and students will wear costumes to school. The sub-theme is "Witch way to a victory".

Tuesday is designated as Thanksgiving and the sub-theme is "We're shooting for a victory". A pep rally is scheduled at 3:16 p.m.

On Wednesday, students will wear bonnets in commemoration of Easter. A bunny hop is planned at the pep rally which will be held at 3:16. Sub-theme is "Hop to a victory".

Thursday will signify Christmas and the sub-theme is "We've got the game wrapped up". Students will bring either fruit or baked goods which will be collected by the cheerleaders before school. All of the collections will be taken to Hillcrest Care Center after school.

The week will come to a close with New Year's eve on Friday. The sub-theme is "We're kissing for a victory". A parade and pep rally are planned downtown following school.

Convocation is planned in the gym at 3 p.m. with the public invited to attend. Royalty candidates will be introduced at that time. The football game and coronation are planned later that evening.

Mistress and master of ceremonies at the coronation are Lori Heese and Joe Olson. Todd Heitman and Shelli Taylor are the junior attendants who were selected by the senior class. Crown bearers are first grade students Jason Kvols and Susan Cornett.

136 Registered at Party

Mrs. J. C. Woods registered 136 women during the annual birthday party of Carroll United Methodist Women, held Sept. 24 at the church.

The theme was "The Morning God Called." Mrs. Louise Boyce made paper telephone name tags. Ushers were Mrs. Bill Landanger, Mrs. Gary Landanger and Mrs. Gene Reifswich.

Mrs. Wayne Hankins and Jill Kenny played an organ-piano duet and furnished music for the prelude. The group was welcomed by president Mrs. Merlin Kenny. United Methodist Women sang a welcome song.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Don Harmer and Mrs. Robert Johnson and accompanied by Mrs. Wayne Hankins.

Mrs. Duane Creamer presented a special membership pin to Mrs. Don Harmer, who recently was re-elected to a third term as vice president of United Methodist Women.

A gift of missions was given for Nicole Marie Fredricksen, Nicole, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fredricksen, was presented a membership certificate.

Mrs. Don Harmer was in charge of a memorial, which was presented to Mrs. Earl Davis in memory of Mrs. Emma Davis.

Mrs. Merlin Kenny announced that a communion table and scarf were given to the church in memory of William Swanson by his children. The church also received a new refrigerator purchased in honor of Mrs. Maude Hampton and Mrs. Emma Davis.

Mrs. Don Harmer and Mrs. Don Harmer sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Hankins.

Mrs. Merlin Kenny recognized women who served on committees for the party. They included Mrs. Perry Johnson, chairman of the serving committee; Mrs. Clair Swanson, dining room; Mrs. Ed Simpson and Mrs. Walter Lage, entertainment; and Mrs. J. C. Woods, program idea.

Mrs. Walter Lage portrayed the woman who had received a call from God, and Mrs. Ed Simpson read the narration.

Women receiving potholders, chosen from registration numbers, were Mrs. Gary Landanger, Mrs. Lowell Olson, Mrs. Cliff Rohde, Mrs. John Bowers, Mrs. Esther Batten and Mrs. Tom Bowers, all of Carroll; Mrs. Margaret Dickey, Mrs. Agnes Burns and Mrs. Lillian Anderson, all of Laurel; Mrs. Bernice Lindsay of Winside, Mrs. Mildred West and Mrs. Charles Nichols, both of Wayne; Mrs. Leona Black and Mrs. Lillian Meyer, both of Randolph; and Mrs. Sadie Van Doren of Norfolk.

Guests attended from Methodist churches in Laurel, Randolph, Winside, Wayne, Hoskins and Carroll; the Lutheran churches of Carroll and Randolph, Trinity Lutheran Church in Winside, Mt. Olive Lutheran Church in Norfolk, the Norfolk Presbyterian Church, Carroll Catholic Women, and Carroll United Presbyterian and Congregational Churches.

The Rev. Kenneth Edmonds of Wayne gave the benediction. The closing hymn was "He is Knocking."

Mrs. Walter Lage and Mrs. Duane Creamer poured for the coffee hour.

Legion Auxiliary
Nine members were present at the Tuesday meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, held in the home of Mrs. T. P. Roberts.

Mrs. Elery Pearson was chaplain. Mrs. Keith Owens, president, conducted the meeting and Mrs. Faye Hurlbert read the secretary and treasurer's reports. Letters were received from Mrs. Charles Whitney and Mrs. Robert Peterson, both of Norfolk, and Mrs. Marge Nelson Woodall of Arlington.

The president reported that most of the dues have been collected. The County Convention will be held in Winside on Oct. 21 at 7:30 p.m.

The local group made five or six dozen tray favors for the Norfolk Soldiers and Sailors Annex. Poppies have been ordered for the new year.

Next meeting will be Oct. 28 in the Don Harmer home.

Seventh Birthday
Mark Janssen was honored for his seventh birthday Sept. 21. Guests in the Richard Janssen home included the Bill Landanger family, the Dean Juncks, Pam, Duane and Maribeth, and the Carl Janssens, all of Carroll, and the Jack Rohde family of Randolph.

Mark's classmates honored him after school last Monday. They included Jason Krueger, Trevor Topp, Shannon Hundert, Cory Jensen and Craig Brugger.

Honor Iowans
Sixty-six family members attended a picnic Sept. 21 to honor Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bonewitz of Ackley, Iowa. Mrs. Magdaline Dicks of Kelsey, Iowa, and Mrs. Jim Bradley of Monticello, Iowa.

The women all are sisters of Mrs. Reynold Loberg of Carroll and had spent last Friday to Sunday in the Loberg home.

Other guests attending the picnic came from Sioux City, Carroll, Laurel, Randolph and Lincoln.

Witllers Travel
The Ervin Witllers and Will Leicy went to Ida Grove, Iowa Sept. 20 and had dinner with Melvin Shufeldt and Todd. Todd accompanied the Witllers and Leicy to Fairmont, Minn., where they visited in the Don Bach home.

The men attended a ballgame in Minneapolis. Enroute home they visited Witllers' brother and family, the Elmer Witllers of Spirit Lake, Iowa. They returned to Carroll last Monday. Mrs. Bach is a daughter of the Ervin Witllers.

Mrs. W. E. Maki, Cloquet, Minn., visited Tuesday in the Milton Owens home and remained overnight. The women are sisters.

The Lester Bethunes were guests in the Merle Bethune home at York Sept. 17 to help Paul celebrate his seventh birthday.

The Merle Bethune family of York, the Bob Bethune family of Storm Lake, Iowa, the Tom Townsend family of Grand Island and the Lester Bethunes of Carroll met at the Stanton Dam Sept. 19-20 to celebrate the birthday of Mrs. Lester Bethune.

The Darrell French family went to Mapleton, Iowa last Saturday to attend the wedding of Dan Christopherson and Peg Krayenhafen. The bridegroom is a nephew of Mrs. French. The French family remained overnight in the home of her mother, Mrs. John Christopherson of Danbury, Iowa. While there they also visited with Mrs. French's sister, Mrs. Tom Keishiemer of California.

The John Petersons hosted a supper at the Wagon Wheel Steakhouse in Laurel Sept. 14 for their silver wedding anniversary. Guests were their children, including the Lane Esterdotts of Dixon, and Larry and Kathy Peterson, both of Carroll.

Mrs. Sena Ulrich, Sherwood, Ore., came Sept. 19 to spend the weekend in the home of her nephew and family, the Russell Halls. They took her to Lyons last Monday, where she is visiting relatives.

The Sam Schrams and sons of South Sioux City and Mrs. Anna Hansen and Arnold Hansen joined the Russell Halls and Mrs. Ulrich for supper last Sunday in the Hall home.

Mrs. Carl Janssen was a patient in Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital in Norfolk Sept. 11-17.

Mrs. Linda Lawless, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, spent Sept. 19-21 with her cousin and family, the Gary Landangers.

Program Will End

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's beekeeper indemnity payment program will be ended Oct. 9, according to Ray Fitzgerald, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

"We are taking this action because of the limited scope of the program and its lower budgetary priority contributing to its relative ineffectiveness," Fitzgerald said.

The program — which had been in effect since June, 1971 — provided for Federal indemnity payments to beekeepers whose bees were killed by insecticides approved for use by the government.

Announcement of the proposal to terminate the program was made on April 4. Interested parties had until June 12 to submit comments.

Notice of termination appeared in the Sept. 9 Federal Register.

Serve All Club Elects Officers

Serve All Home Extension Club had election of officers when it met Sept. 17 in the home of Mrs. Louie Hansen. Ten members attended, and guests were Mrs. Roger Hansen and Brad.

Officers for 1981 are Mrs. John Boeckenhauer, president; Mrs. Cornelius Leonard, vice president; and Mrs. Fred Utchert, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. John Boeckenhauer called the meeting to order, with members responding to roll call with their summer activities.

Mrs. Kenneth Gustafson, cultural arts leader, reported on her visit to the Shelton Art Museum, where she viewed works by Jim Bama, painter of Indian, cowboy and rodeo scenes. Mrs. Gustafson also reported on the rock and gem show she attended in Lincoln. The fair booth committee reported that the booth received a red ribbon at the county fair.

A thank you was read from the Wakefield Health Care Center for playing bingo with its residents in July. The club plans to entertain again at the Care Center in October.

Mrs. Boeckenhauer reported on the Wakefield Centennial meeting. A food and recipe exchange was held following the meeting. Mrs. John Boeckenhauer won the hostess gift.

Tentative plans are for a tour Oct. 15 in place of the regular meeting.

Attend Ladies Day
Mrs. Albert L. Nelson, Mrs. Romlie Krusemark, Mrs. Paul Jackson and Mrs. Clifford Baker of St. Paul's Lutheran Church attended the 32nd annual Ladies Day sponsored by the Auxiliary of the Lutheran Family and Social Services of Nebraska.

The event was held Sept. 18 at Wiager. Attending from St. John's Lutheran Church were Mrs. Arvid Samuelson, Mrs. Randy Blaffert, Mrs. Anders Jorgenson and Mrs. Melvin Kraemer.

12 at Even Dozen
Twelve members attended the Sept. 16 meeting of Evan Dozen Club, held in the home of Mrs. Dean Meyer.

Guests were Mrs. Harry Gust, Mrs. Jerald Meyer, Kelly and Megan, Mrs. Dave Swanson, Kristin and Joshua, and Mrs. Glen Nichols and Heather.

President Mrs. Verona Henschke conducted the business meeting. A thank you was received from Mrs. Elsie Tarnow. The birthday of Mrs. Glen Nichols was observed in song.

The group is planning to entertain at the Wakefield Health Care Center in the future.

Mrs. Louie Hansen was in charge of entertainment. Receiving game prizes were Mrs. Jerald Meyer and Mrs. Dan Dolph. Pitch prizes went to Mrs. Arnold Hammer, high, Mrs. Eimer Bargholz, low, and Mrs. Dan Dolph, traveling.

Mrs. Albert G. Nelson will entertain the club on Oct. 14.

Draperies, Computers Are Courses

Wayne State College Extended Campus Division will offer two courses called "Drapery Selection and Construction" and "Introduction to Computer Programming." Both courses will be taught at WSC campus in Wayne.

"Drapery Selection and Construction" will be taught from Oct. 7 through Dec. 9 from 6 to 8:10 p.m. in Benhack Hall. The course will deal with the implications of window type, fixtures, fiber content and fabric relative to window treatment decisions, requirements and yardage requirements as determined by fabric design; window type — treatment; and rod selection — placement, selection of appropriate construction techniques for specific window treatments and fabrics.

A notebook including assignments reinforcing these concepts will be required as well as construction of six miniature drapery projects as planned on an individualized basis by student and instructor. (Sewing skills of the student will be considered in planning these individualized projects.)

The two undergraduate/graduate credit hours course costs $44 for Nebraska residents and $74 for non-residents. The instructor, Dr. LaVera Roemhildt, has her doctorate in textiles and clothing. She has developed the interior design program at Wayne State College and is in supervision of interior design internships.

"Introduction to Computer Programming" will be taught on Nov. 15 and 22, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., in the Carhart Science Building and will get the students hands-on experience programming a computer using the language basic. They will have the opportunity to learn computer programming by actually writing and running programs on the computer with individual help in "debugging" the programs.

The Apple II microcomputer will be used.

The one undergraduate/graduate credit hour course costs $22 for Nebraska residents and $37 for non-residents.

Instructors for the computer programming course are Dr. Jim Palge and Dr. Hilbert Johns.

A $10 matriculation fee will be charged for first-time Wayne State College students.

For registration and information contact the office of the Extended Campus Division, Wayne State College, Wayne, Neb., 68787, telephone 375-2261, Ext. 232.

Ruth Carter Speaks To Covenant Women

Mrs. Ruth Carter, pastor's wife from the First Baptist Church in Wayne, spoke to nearly 100 women during a salad luncheon and program Sept. 18 at the Wakefield Covenant Church.

Ladies from the various churches in Wakefield were guests for the program, hosted by the Covenant Women.

Mrs. Russell Swigart, president of Covenant Women, welcomed the women and opened the program with thoughts on the need for all women to be good stewards of what God has given them. The group sang "Trust and Obey."

Mrs. Bud Erlanson introduced Mrs. Carter, who presented her testimony in word and song. Her talk was based on Psalm 139.

"God is a personal God to each of us," said Mrs. Carter, adding that he cares so specifically for us as individuals that he planned everything around us. "He schedules each day before we even come to it," she said.

Mrs. Carter interspersed her talk with several vocal selections, including "Oh the Wonder of It All," "Jesus is the Sweetest Name I Know," "Saved By His Power Divine," "Without Jesus You'll Have Nothing At All,"

"God is Always at Our Side" and "I Know This Great Savior, Do You?"

Mrs. Carter challenged the women to go out into the world and live as Christian women should live — with smiles on their faces and a will to serve Him daily. She closed her program with the song "Onward Christian Soldiers" at the piano.

Health Fair Draws 400

Nearly 400 persons visited the Community Health Fair held at the Wayne City Auditorium Sept. 19.

The event, sponsored by the Wayne and Dixon County Home Extension Clubs, was planned as a part of the statewide "Health Awareness" program for 1980-81.

The major objective of the fair was to create greater awareness and interest in preventive measures which maintain health and promote wellness. Visitors had an opportunity to view exhibits and displays by nearly 30 health-related organizations and agencies.

Free testing or screening services were offered for high blood pressure, hearing, vision, glaucoma and diabetes. Blood typing also was offered. Many people took advantage of these services.

In addition to viewing exhibits, many fairgoers took time to listen to special speakers on topics such as alcoholism, total care for crippled children, fraudulent health practices, scoliosis, dealing with family stress, and safety of X-rays. Another feature of the fair was the Wayne Rescue Equipment Unit, which was open for visits.

Wayne and Dixon County 4-H youth displayed their exhibit on 4-H Alcohol Impact Project. They also had charge of the sale of snacks and beverages.

Serving on the planning committee for the Health Fair were Mrs. Marian Jordan and Mrs. Larry Nichols, Wayne; Mrs. Melvin Dowling Randolph, Mrs. Jim Norenburger and Mrs. Francis Muller, Wakefield; Mrs. Larry Lubbersfeldt, Dixon; Mrs. Glen Magnuson, Concord; Mrs. Carl Armstrong, Ponca; Mrs. Herb Niemann, Carroll.

Shawn Niemann, Carroll and Tereza Walde, Winside, represented 4-H youth on the planning committee, and Anna Marie White, Dixon County Home Extension agent, assisted with fair arrangements.

AMONG THE SERVICES provided free of charge at the annual Community Health Fair were eye examinations. Above, Dr. Donald Koerber, a local optometrist, examines the eyes of one of 400 persons who attended the health fair at the City Auditorium.

Homecoming This Week at Winside

With a theme of "Country Western", Winside High School begins its week of Homecoming celebration today (Monday).

The week will culminate with a football game with Coleridge, crowning of Homecoming King and Queen at halftime and the traditional dance after the game.

Each day of the week has been designated as a particular dress day: Monday is Hillbilly Day, Tuesday is 1950's Day, Wednesday is Toga Day, Thursday is Western Day and Friday is Red and White Dress Up Day.

A volleyball game with Coleridge will begin at 5:30 p.m. and the football matchup will start at 7:30 p.m. The dance will run from 9:30 to 12 p.m. with "Stanton Sound" providing the entertainment.

All of last year's seniors are invited to the dance.

Homecoming candidates include the following: Laurie Gallop, daughter of Mr.

College Evaluation Program Is Now in the Assessment Stage

Wayne State College was selected in 1979 by the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) to participate in the "Academic Program Evaluation Project" (APEP).

WSC was one of 10 geographically and structurally diverse institutions of higher education throughout the United States to be chosen.

The program is now in the assessment stage. The APEP committee is concerned with learning whether, where and to what extent undergraduates develop communication, quantitative communication, analyzing and valuing skills. The assessment stage will help determine where, within the curriculum, these five skills are provided by instructors and learned by students. The assessment stage involves several steps, the first being a series of reports and research on courses in each division by faculty members.

Second, Dr. Bartholomew Ciampa, APEP campus coordinator, and Dr. Ed Elliott, vice president of WSC and associate of AASCU's Resource Center for Planned Change, recently attended a planning meeting in St. Louis to discuss the assessment stage.

Finally, a workshop was held on the WSC campus Thursday to bring all those involved at WSC up-to-date on the project and prepare for the assessment stage.

The workshop, coordinated and directed by Dr. Ciampa, involved members of the faculty senate, Futures Planning Committee, division heads and the APEP committee. Three faculty members who served as resident critiques to the project also participated in the workshop. These members are Sayre Andersen, Randy Shaw and Don Hickey.

The APEP Project, as a whole, concerns itself with the question of what a college or university degree is "worth." It focuses on the social and intellectual value of certain skills obtained by the graduate.

Vice President Elliott explained that WSC was chosen to participate because of its ability to handle this project. The project originated from the AASCU-RPC's general concern about the lack of understanding of the baccalaureate degree program. Eventually, 10 different designs from the different institutions will surface. Based on this, it will be known where to apply the resources of various existing programs in order to prepare the students for the standards of today's society.

Two stages remain in the project. The evaluation stage, designed to evaluate the data on student performance and to determine the level of student generic skill attainment consistent with the role of WSC; and the policy development and decision-making stage, designed to allow an opportunity to remove discrepancies between desired and actual levels of student attainment and re-enter various project stages if definitions need modification or if new assessment/evaluation procedures are to be adopted. The first two stages are to be completed by January, 1982.

The nine other participants in APEP are: Ball State University, Indiana; California State University, Chicago; North Adams State College, Massachusetts; Potsdam College of Arts and Science, New York; Ramapo College, New Jersey; Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville; University of Nebraska at Omaha; Western Carolina University, North Carolina; and Western Kentucky University.

Scholarship To Hamm

Wayne State College recently awarded Presidential Scholarships to eight students from Nebraska and Iowa for Fall Semester, 1980. The scholarships are awarded to quality students not qualified for financial aid through WSC.

David Hamm is the son of Derald Hamm and the Rev. Melva Tranmer. He is a 1979 graduate of Oakland-Craig High School where he was active in athletics, German Club and National Honor Society. David plans to major in social science at WSC.

Bereuter Opposes 'Lame Duck' Session After Election Day

First District Congressman Doug Bereuter has urged Nebraskans to write to House Speaker Tip O'Neill to express their opposition to the "lame duck" session which has been scheduled for after the November elections.

"There are only eight days left before Congress is set to adjourn, and the American public should not let these days slip by without holding the Democrat leadership responsible for the action," Bereuter said.

Bereuter recently voted against postponing crucial budget votes until after Election Day. He criticized the lame duck session as an insult to the voters.

"I hope many Nebraskans will let Tip O'Neill know that they don't approve of Congressmen ducking budget votes simply because elections are approaching," Bereuter said. He added that Nebraskans should send their letters or telegrams to Congressman Thomas O'Neill, U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

MEN—WOMEN
No experience needed. Plenty of desire required.
Even if you don't have any experience, you could still qualify for skill training in today's Army. That's if you have the proper desire and everything else it takes. We'll test you to discover your aptitudes. Then if you qualify, we'll give you skill training that fits the Army's needs and your abilities. You'll start at $448 a month (before deductions). In several years, you could come out with plenty of experience in mechanics, construction, radio repair, personnel, communications, or one of several hundred other skills. How high is your desire?
