Garbage Shutdown Here Is Halted

Wayne's 29-hour garbage strike apparently has ended, making it the first and shortest such work stoppage here in recent history.

Both Class A haulers and a committee of city personnel agreed Tuesday night to sit down and discuss differences in figures regarding the city's transfer station.

THE DECISION to meet equitably came at the end of a lengthy Council meeting which involved attempted negotiations between the haulers and the City Council.

Vern Russell and Frank Mrsny, the city's only Class A commercial garbage haulers, were to meet with Council members and city personnel Wednesday night. The opposing factions hoped to reach an agreement over a disparity in expense and income figures for the transfer station.

Council members took a firm stand at the Tuesday meeting after learning from a radio broadcast early Monday morning that the two haulers had decided not to collect garbage until four "demands" were met. Councilmen were dismayed they had been given no advance warning of the impending strike.

COUNCIL MEMBER Cliff Ginn said he was "disturbed" that the Council and Mayor had been notified "after the fact."

Council members said there was no indication whatsoever after a three-hour meeting between the haulers and the Council Monday, Oct. 6, that any type of work stoppage was even considered.

That special Council meeting was held for the benefit of the haulers so differences involving a proposed ordinance could be discussed. As a result of the meeting, two changes in the ordinance were made. The new ordinance becomes effective with publication of today's Wayne Herald.

THE CENTRAL problem raised by the haulers is their claim that the city is discriminating against them and is inhibiting free enterprise. Fees charged Class A haulers should be more in line with what is charged residents who haul their own garbage, Russell told the Council.

Under the new ordinance, residents will be charged $2.50 per cubic yard to dump their uncompacted garbage while the haulers will be charged $3.27 per cubic yard for compacted garbage.

THE COUNCIL has argued that Mrsny and Russell can get several cubic yards of uncompacted garbage into one of their compacted cubic yards. Russell has contended that a yard of uncompacted garbage should be treated the same as a yard of compacted garbage.

However, at Tuesday's meeting, Steve Mrsny told the Council that the compacted ratio of his equipment was about 4 to 1. In other words, about four cubic yards of uncompacted garbage equals one cubic yard of compacted garbage.

Tuesday night's discussion about garbage opened with consideration given to possible violation by the haulers of the city's license requirements.

HOWEVER, City Attorney Kem Swartz said "my initial reaction is that this, per se, is not a violation." The city is in the business of selling licenses, he said, and in his opinion there are not any legal requirements that they must use the license.

Councilman Ginn said "if bothers me, as a citizen first, quite seriously when an individual will use his position to dictate the terms under which they operate." Ginn said he feels it is an affront to taxpayers that the haulers are "dictating to the taxpayers their terms of doing business."

There was serious consideration given by the Council to advertising the city's garbage business to another hauler. Other haulers have been contacted, Council members told Mrsny and Russell, and an alternative method of garbage disposal here is quite possible.

"IF NEITHER (Mrsny or Russell) is willing to work under the existing ordinance, maybe another hauler or possibly a franchise should be considered," Council President Darrel Fuelbergh said.

"There are other people interested in picking up garbage, but how seriously and for how much, we don't know yet," Mayor Wayne Maarsch added.

Hauler Russell said that, yes, he is sure there are others interested. "But when they see the circumstances they have to work under, they'll change their mind," he said. "We are not doing this for our benefit," he said, "but we are trying to maintain some fairness between us and the residents."

ATTORNEY Swartz told Russell that if he has a viable alternative to the present garbage program, it should be presented for the Council's consideration.

The Council, Russell and city officials tossed around figures, disagreeing on their importance and their accuracy.

"We sat here three hours with you last Monday and this is what you give us," Councilman Larry Johnson said.

"If you don't want to hear them, then I'll

GARBAGE WAS just beginning to become a nuisance around Wayne Tuesday when the City Council and Class A haulers averted further problems by agreeing to discuss mutual problems. The city was considering the emergency hauling of garbage from restaurants, the college, etc., to eliminate potential health problems if the haulers refused to go back to work. A meeting was scheduled Wednesday night at the City Hall.

Council Moves Quickly on Items Tuesday Night

The City Council moved through a variety of items of its regular meeting Tuesday night before tackling the recent garbage strike. (See garbage story elsewhere on this page.)

In order of appearance on the agenda, the following agenda items were covered:

THE COUNCIL adopted an ordinance which allows Blue Cross-Blue Shield to temporarily park a trailer in the Permida, Inc., parking lot later this month. Blue Cross officials will be on hand to serve customers of county banks.

Under the old ordinance, trailers for this type of use were not allowed.

Street improvement district, sanitary sewer extension district and water extension district work in Marywood Subdivision was accepted.

Public hearing on Marywood street improvement special assessments will be held at 8 p.m. Nov. 11 at the City Hall, a hearing on Marywood sanitary sewer extension special assessments will be held at 8:10 p.m. Nov. 11 at the City Hall and a hearing on Marywood water extension special assessments will be held at 9:20 p.m. Nov. 11.

THE COUNCIL was updated on the federally mandated sewage lagoon system project. Engineering costs for the project increased slightly, and paperwork has been approved for a bio-disk system grant.

Councilman Cliff Ginn said he wants to review the costs, advantages and disadvantages of the bio-disk system and the activated sludge system.

Dennis Hirschbrunner, representative of Bruce Gilmore & Associates of Columbus, will be present at a 7:30 p.m. special meeting Tuesday to discuss the status of the project.

THE COUNCIL approved a resolution placing no parking signs on the west side of Walnut Street just north of Seventh Street.

Agreements involving fill dirt for a construction project south of El Toro, for sewer improvements and for water improvements were approved.

The Council was updated on the city's water situation. It was discovered recently that one of the city's two remaining wells was not providing adequate supplies of water.

A test of the well found the water table to be lower than anticipated due to a lack of rainfall this summer.

THAT WELL is working at minimum capacity and the Council will consider drilling of additional wells when it meets with Hirschbrunner Tuesday night.

The Council agreed to allow Vakoc Construction Company to use concrete rather than asphalt for paving in Sunnyview Subdivision.

Vakoc also requested that the city terminate its agreement with DeWild, Grant Reckert engineering firm and allow Gilmore & Associates to inspect work at Sunnyview Subdivision.

Vakoc said fees charged by DG&R are "out of line" and that Gilmore would be less expensive.

THE COUNCIL decided to place the item on the special meeting agenda for Tuesday.

The Council also approved advertisements for a new city administrator and for an electric distribution superintendent.

All Council members except Carolyn Fitter were present and all actions were unanimous.

Court Removes Power Line Block

The U.S. Supreme Court has denied a writ of certiorari filed by the Winnebago Indian Tribe regarding a decision of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals to permit construction of a transmission line across the Missouri River from Raun, Iowa, to Hoskins, according to an order of the court, dated Oct. 6.

NEBRASKA Public Power District (NPPD) is building the 345,000 volt line between its Hoskins substation in Stanton County to the Raun, Iowa, substation owned by Iowa Public Service.

The line is needed by NPPD to supply electricity to growing agricultural and industrial loads and for reliability in northeast Nebraska. However, a series of legal moves initiated by the Winnebago Tribe have placed the line a year behind schedule.

THE LINE will pass through the Winnebago Indian Reservation in Thurston County. In May of 1979, the Winnebago Tribe filed suit against NPPD and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, alleging that an environmental impact assessment filed by the Corps had failed to consider possible harmful environmental impacts on the Indian reservation and the Missouri River valley wildlife, especially the bald eagle.

U.S. District Judge Albert Schatz dismissed the suit, stating that the tribe had not presented sufficient evidence to show that the power line would pose any environmental hazard.

The tribe appealed Judge Schatz's decision to the U.S. Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis, Mo. The Eighth Circuit Court upheld the U.S. District Court decision and refused to prevent construction of the transmission line. Attorneys for the tribe then filed a writ of certiorari — a request for review of the record of the case — before the U.S. Supreme Court. In the high court's decision Monday, the court denied the writ, which means they will not hear the tribe's appeal.

STRUCTURES for the transmission line have already been built to the Thurston County line from the east and west. District Judge Schatz has scheduled a condemnation trial for mid-December for the tracts lying within the Winnebago reservation in Thurston County.

Registration

Deadline Oct. 24

Persons who need to register to vote in the November General Election must do so by 6 p.m. Friday, Oct. 24, according to County Clerk Orgettta Morris.

MRS. MORRIS said registration may be made at the Courthouse in Wayne, at Commercial State Bank in Hoskins, the City Clerk's office in Winslow, City Clerk's office in Wakefield or Farmers State Bank in Carroll.

Persons who need to vote by absentee must make applications as soon as possible, she added. Absentee ballots can be received at her office through Oct. 31, but applications for such ballots can be made until 12 noon Tuesday, Nov. 4.

Von Minden, Conway Exchange Barbs at Forum

State Senate candidates Merle Von Minden and Gerald Conway had little to differ about Monday night at a "Get Out the Vote" forum until the last 15 minutes of the evening.

CONWAY, of Wayne, and Von Minden, of Allen, responded to questions posed by the moderator and by the audience, continually agreeing with one another.

When asked directly how they differed, Von Minden said he didn't think their philosophies "are that different." He said he felt his age and background made him more conservative than Conway.

Conway said he felt the major difference was that he had more ability to carry voters' ideas to the statehouse in Lincoln. "I have the talents to convince people," he said.

BUT a question raised late in the forum about major campaign contributors brought the hottest confrontation of the evening.

Von Minden was the first to respond to that question, telling some 40 persons gathered at the Jaycee-sponsored forum that he was unsure who had contributed and how much. He said ad groups and free enterprise groups were his major contributors. "But Conway told Von Minden that he (Conway) had taken the time to call the accountability disclosure committee for a complete list of contributors to both campaigns.

CONWAY pointed out to Von Minden that his (Von Minden's) contributors to date have totaled $5,710, while his (Conway's) were just $900. Conway listed

Von Minden's contributors for him, noting that one-sixth of his contributors have been from "big oil companies."

Von Minden responded: "This has been a clean campaign until now, and I would like to see it stay that way."

"Don't deceive the people by telling them you don't know who supports you," Conway shot back.

"I certainly wasn't. I knew who they were, but not the amounts," Von Minden replied.

VON MINDEN then said he did not like what the forum was turning out to be. When he was phoned about the event, he was led to believe it would be a forum, not a debate, she said.

Next, when the candidates were asked what their budgets were for the campaign, Conway said between $5,000 and $6,000. Von Minden said that was about the amount he planned to budget for his, but that "if I take more in, I'll spend more."

"That's what I call fiscal restraint," Conway replied.

The forum, held in the Women's Club Room at the City Auditorium, opened with each candidate providing statements.

Von Minden reiterated his major campaign plank that "inch by inch we are losing local control." He said that farm background and experience give him the expertise to accurately reflect the district's voters.

Conway said that "in times of budget cuts, I am deeply concerned about priorities and who will set them." He reviewed his major campaign theme that he is best qualified to serve constituents of the district.

THE FIRST question asked of the pair concerned the state's dwindling underground water supply.

Conway said he feels there is a need to monitor the water supply and establish priorities through adequate research.

Von Minden agreed that the supply needs to be monitored and added that local control should be maintained. The Allen farmer proposed that the Natural Resources Districts have a major responsibility in controlling water supplies.

ON THE SUBJECT of grain as a fuel additive (gasohol), Von Minden said he felt it was a good source of fuel and that he wants the state government to stay out of its production. "Private enterprise can do it much cheaper than the government," he said.

Conway agreed, saying "we should keep this thing in the free enterprise environment."

Use of wind or solar energy was supported by both candidates.

Conway said he is in favor of less restrictive government and that the state should do what it can to support energy conservation and alternate methods of supplying energy.

power such as an elimination of state tax on either.

The first sign of any significant disagreement between the candidates came on the issue of the 7 percent lid limitation being imposed by the state.

Von Minden said that in the Allen Consolidated School District, "it's not hurting them at all." He admitted, however, that he does not have data on other schools in the Uthamer district.

CONWAY SAID he feels the 7 percent mentality is a reflection of the bureaucratic philosophy. It is a poor approach to the management of government, he told those gathered.

The candidates did differ on a question regarding a proposed state constitutional amendment (No. 4) involving a system of financing public education which does not impose an unfair and excessive property tax burden.

Von Minden said he was against the amendment. He would like to see the state fund money back to the local school districts. "But if we do we'd lose local control."

CONWAY DECLINED to take a stand on the amendment, saying he wants to study it more before making a decision. He feels the "thorough and efficient" portion of the amendment is open ended.

In a direct reference to Von Minden, Conway said he does not think that someone who knows no more about it then he does should take a stand on it.

He added, however, that if he cannot get adequate information on the amendment he will "take the conservative way out and vote against it."

VON MINDEN replied that income and sales taxes are the only "true" taxes, not property taxes.

On a question involving the state's right-to-work law, both candidates said they would be against any attempt to repeal the law.

Garbage Shutdown

(Continued from page 1) sit down," Russell replied. "That's fine with me," Johnson retorted, as Russell sat down. AFTER RUSSELL agreed to provide additional and "fresh" information for the Council's benefit, he was given a chance to talk. "I'm not here to listen to ridicule. I'm here to listen to new and pertinent information," Councilman Keith Mosley told Russell. The Council and Russell proceeded to discuss differences of opinion regarding Russell's figures and the city's figures. Russell admitted some of his were estimates, while Public Works Director Vern Schultz said the city's figures could be documented. "They are here in black and white," he told Russell. BUT IN ORDER to get the haulers back to work, the Council agreed to sit down and review all data relating to the transfer station. Russell said there are "dozens" of persons violating the city's garbage ordinance by hauling their garbage "to their farms." In addition, he said, there are several who are hauling as unlicensed Class B haulers. When asked who, Russell charged that Al Ahlman "is hauling illegally."

station at times is leaves and the plastic garbage sacks and dump the leaves, he said that would be too costly and he would not go along.

Gospel Truth and Kerri Giving Concert in Wayne

The Gospel Truth and Kerri will share a concert of gospel music at the First Baptist Church in Wayne on Sunday, Oct. 19, at 7:30 p.m. The group is comprised of Lynn and Carol Iverson and their daughter, Kerri, and Bruce and Bonnie Linafelter, all of Albion. Linafelter is a native of Allen. The Iversons farm northwest of Albion and the Linafelters are employed by the Albion City Schools. The Gospel Truth and Kerri began singing together in 1976 and have appeared throughout central and eastern Nebraska and eastern Iowa. Their concerts include traditional gospel quartet favorites, solos, duets, and instrumental selections. In 1979, the group recorded their first album, "I'll Be Joy," which will be available at the conclusion of the program. The Rev. Eddie Carter, pastor at First Baptist Church, said the concert is open to the public. A free will offering will be received.

Pork Producers Seek Candidates

The Northeast Nebraska Pork Producers are seeking young women between the ages of 16 and 19 to enter the 1981 Pork Queen contest. Contestants must reside on a farm in Wayne, Dixon, Dakota or Thurston counties in Nebraska on which pork is raised, or be the daughter of parents now actively engaged in pork production. Contestants will be required to present a short oral essay on subjects dealing with pork, and will have private interviews with the judges. Judging will be based on beauty, neatness and personality. The essay contest and oral interview, presentation and poise. The contest will be held Nov. 2, 1980, at 3 p.m., with the crowning at the Pork Producers banquet that evening. Each contestant will be a guest of honor at the evening banquet. The queen will receive her crown, $25 cash, and the chance to compete in the state contest. First and second runners-up will receive $15 and $10 respectively. All interested contestants are asked to contact Mrs. Mary Nichols, Rt. 1, Wayne, Neb., 68787, phone 375-1950. Deadline for applications is Oct. 27.

Area Women At Convention

Women from Wayne, Wakefield and Concord attended the 19th annual convention of Nebraska Lutheran Churchwomen Oct. 6-8 in North Platte. The area women were among over 300 officers, delegates, board members and guests at the three-day meeting. Theme was "Believe, Rejoice, Proclaim." The first evening concluded with a tea and fellowship hour honoring past Nebraska Lutheran Churchwomen presidents, including Betty Heier of Wayne. Highlights of the convention included an overseas, phone call from Dr. Dennis Anderson, Bishop of the Nebraska Synod Lutheran Church in America, who was attending a bishops meeting on St. Thomas Island, and messages from Mary Ann Spengler, auxiliary representative. Group discussions centered around a slide presentation, entitled "Everything You Have Always Wanted to Know About LCW But Been Afraid to Ask." A love offering of $4,120.48 was received. A Centennial skit celebrating 100 years of women's work in the church was presented. Centennial history booklets, "A New Pattern," have been printed and are available for $2 each. The books may be purchased from Dorothy Decker, 2200 Sheridan, Lincoln, Neb., 68502. There is a 50

Board Hikes Salaries

After enough members arrived for a quorum, it didn't take long for the Wayne-Carroll School District board of education to work through its agenda. THE MEETING began 20 minutes late because a quorum was not available at the scheduled 8 p.m. starting time. Board members Dorothy Ley and Wilbur Giese were absent and member Dale Stoltenberg was about 30 minutes late. Mostly routine items occupied the board for a little more than an hour, although subjects dealing with finances were most prevalent. Upon recommendation of Supt. Francis Haun, the board increased wages of hourly personnel by 15 cents an hour to bring them more in line with what teachers received. SALARIED workers (teachers) received an increase of 4 percent in their base salary. These changes are retroactive to the first of September and are the result of recently-completed negotiations. When the 1980-81 budget was figured, Superintendent Haun estimated that for the school's budget to stay within the 7 percent lid limit, the teacher salary package increase would have to be about 10 percent. However, when negotiations were completed several weeks ago, the average increase was 14 percent. The 4 percent increase approved by the board makes up the difference. Haun noted he would rather have seen the increase settled at about 11 percent. This year's settlement is about equal to what was settled upon the last two years combined. THE SUPERINTENDENT also asked that a salary increase not be considered at this time. The board voted to increase mileage payments to school personnel to 20 cents per mile, an increase from last year's 18 cents per mile. Some consideration was given to leasing a car, but recent increases in lease fees make that possibility even more expensive. Improving insulation at the Middle and Elementary Schools was discussed, but no action was taken. Cost estimates for adding insulation have been between $9,000 and $10,000, but bids have not been taken as yet.

THE BOARD also awarded the garbage collection contract to low bidder Vern Russell, dba Wayne Refuse Co. His bid was $2,520 compared to a $2,551 bid of Frank Mrsny, dba Mrsny Sanitation Service. Sandra Elliott presented the board with a report from the Community Council dealing with nutrition. The report will be distributed to parents during National School Lunch week and again at parent/teacher conference time. The board commended Mrs. Elliott for the work of her committee.

HAUN noted he would rather have seen the increase settled at about 11 percent. This year's settlement is about equal to what was settled upon the last two years combined.

Wayne Band to Compete in Wisner-Pilger Contest

Sixteen bands will compete in the ninth annual Wisner-Pilger Invitational Marching Band Contest Saturday beginning at 1 p.m. Sponsored by the host school, the contest is sanctioned by the Nebraska School Activities Association. Contest director Jim Johnson, director of the Wisner-Pilger band, said that two other contests scheduled for Saturday have caused fewer entries as 29 bands competed at W.P.H.S. a year ago. Bands will compete in four classes Saturday. There are five entered in class C, five in Class B, one in Class A and five in Class AA. Judges for this year's event are Dale Duensing of Hastings, Larry Marik of Columbus and Larry Kisor of Sloan, Iowa. Trophies have been donated for the event by the Wisner Lions Club and the Wisner Junior Women's Club. Presenting the trophies will be the Wisner-Pilger Principal Dr. Duane Anderson. Ratings will be given following the Class C, B and AA competition. Competing bands, their director and estimated time of performance are as follows: Class C — Laurel-Concord, Dale Irvin, 1:00; Bloomfield, Randy Neuharth, 1:10; Aurelia, (Iowa), Gene PeFry, 1:20; Elkhorn Valley-Tilden, Darrell Neitzke, 1:30; Homer, Lois Mendlik, 1:40. Class B — Stanlon, Dennis Ehmeke, 1:50; Plainview, Alan Sipes, 2:00; Wayne, Ron Dalton, 2:10; North Bend Central, Mark Miller, 2:20; Wisner-Pilger, Jim Johnson, 2:30.

Guitarist Plans Recital

Guitarist Nell Archer Roan will perform in recital at 8 p.m. on Nov. 7, at the Woman's Club Room of the Wayne City Auditorium. Roan will perform a variety of selections including the works of Giuliani, Bach, Tarrega, Tansman, Berkeley, and Bartok. Roan has appeared at various universities and concert halls throughout the United States, Canada, Central America and Europe. His engagements have included such notable places as Carnegie Recital Hall, the Wigmore Hall in London, The National Theatre of Costa Rica and the British Columbia International Festival. Currently, Roan serves on the faculties of music at the University of Nebraska at Omaha and Creighton University. The Wayne recital will be presented one week prior to a return performance at Carnegie Hall. General admission will be $2.50 and $1 for children under 12 years of age. The program is sponsored by the Wayne Regional Arts Council with the support of the Nebraska Arts Council.

Wayne State Theatre Season Opens Sunday With 'The Little Foxes'

The Wayne State College Theatre Department, under the direction of Dr. Helen J. Russell, will begin its theatre season this Sunday afternoon with Lillian Hellman's "The Little Foxes."

The cast is now in its final week of rehearsals for the show which will run two evenings and an afternoon in Ramsey Theatre at the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center.

Curtain time is 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 19, and 8 p.m. nightly Monday and Tuesday.

THE PLAY focuses on the unscrupulous dealings of the Hubbard family in the deep south in the 1920's.

David Sindelar is cast as Ben Hubbard, a single, greedy man. Sindelar, a senior majoring in math and theatre, is from Silver Creek. Other productions he has appeared in at Wayne State are "Hot L. Baltimore," "The Night of the Iguana" and "Alice in Wonderland."

Doyle Anderson of Hartington portrays Ben's brother, Oscar Hubbard, who is manipulated by his brother.

Anderson, a junior at Wayne State majoring in theatre and music, also has appeared in "The Miser," "The Bald Soprano," "Hot L. Baltimore," "How to Succeed" and "The Night of the Iguana."

THE PART of Regina Giddens, a dominating woman and a sister to Ben and Oscar Hubbard, is played by Karen Achor of Bellevue.

Miss Achor is a junior at Wayne State with majors in theatre and English, and has appeared in many college productions, including "Shadow Box," "Beauty and the Beast," "How to Succeed," "Hot L. Baltimore" and "The Night of the Iguana."

The cast also includes Ron Foxhoven as Regina's husband, Horace Giddens, a kind and gentle man in ailing health.

Foxhoven, a senior theatre and math major from Wynot, also is not new to the Wayne State stage. He has appeared in several productions, including "Hot L. Baltimore," "The Night of the Iguana" and "Alice in Wonderland."

Anderson, a junior at Wayne State majoring in theatre and music, also has appeared in "The Miser," "The Bald Soprano," "Hot L. Baltimore," "How to Succeed" and "The Night of the Iguana."

JEANNIE Robinson of Fort Calhoun portrays Oscar Hubbard's wife, Birdie, a sweet and innocent woman who is kept silent. Miss Robinson is a senior with theatre and business administration majors. She has appeared in "Professor George," "An Enemy of the People," "Shadow Box" and "Alice in Wonderland."

One of the newest members of the Wayne State theatre department is Gregg Juhlin, a TV-Radio major from Park Ridge, Ill. Juhlin has been cast as the dislikable Leo Hubbard, son of Oscar and Birdie Hubbard.

OTHER members of the cast are Pam Eibracht as Addie, John Saunders as William Marshall and Dan Springer as Cal.

The production staff includes Arthur Dirks as scene designer; Dale Cuffel, assistant designer; Pat Mels and Kathy Riedmann, co-heads of costumes; Denise Lee, stage manager; and Michele Brockmoller, assistant to the director.

WAYNE State College students and faculty members will be admitted to the performance free of charge with identification. All other tickets, advanced and at the door, are $3. Group rates are available.

Persons who would like more information about the production are asked to call the theatre department, 375-2200, Ext. 234.

Wildcat Fever Rises with Homecoming Win

JEFF INGRUM leaps in the air to make a touchdown catch in the back portion of the endzone as two Washburn players attempt to push him through the endzone. Ingrum had two touchdown receptions in the game.

by Randy Mascall

The Wayne State Wildcats brought out their heavy artillery in the fourth quarter to shell Washburn and conquer the Ichabods 24-18, Saturday. The homecoming victory put the finishing touches on WSC's Wildcat Days.

About 3,000 fans witnessed the three hour long aerial dog-fight at Memorial Field.

Because Washburn and Wayne State entered the game ranked first and sixth respectively in the NAIA passing charts, the game was billed as a passing duel. Despite a strong northwest wind, neither team fell short of expectations.

The Ichabods, averaging 326 passing yards per game, put the ball in the air 67 times and completed 32 of those attempts. However, the Cats recorded five quarterback sacks, intercepted four passes and limited Washburn to 266 yards in the air.

Wayne State's receivers had trouble holding onto the ball in the first half but came on strong late in the game to lead a winning rally. The Cats completed 13 of 31 passes for 222 yards with only one interception.

Three Quick Touchdowns

The hosts trailed 18-3 with 14:52 left in the game but scored 21 unanswered points in a come from behind win.

The winning touchdown capped a 75 yard drive with 4:05 remaining. The TD was set up on a 62 yard pass play. Quarterback Rick Lade, who replaced starter Kelly Neustrom late in the second quarter, faded back to pass but was pressured by a strong Washburn rush.

With a man dangling on his leg, Lade lofted the ball downfield. Pat Maxwell, running a cross pattern, grabbed the pass and drove to Washburn's 13-yard line. On the next play, Lade hit Jeff Ingrum in the endzone. Gary Cook added the PAT.

Wayne State shut down Washburn on two final attempts to score. Kirk Schroeder's recovery of a fumble on a faked punt and an offensive pass interference call were key plays in WSC's final defensive stand. The Ichabods had scored earlier on a faked punt.

We were a little worried when they scored on that fake punt," said WSC coach Del Stollenberg. "Our kids played so tough on defense that the offense got back up and put together three excellent drives. The drives were a direct result of our defensive effort."

Turnovers crucial

The Central States Intercollegiate Conference matchup was a game of giveaway early. Wayne State committed six fumbles and lost possession four times.

The Cats fumbled the opening kickoff at their own 10-yard line but Washburn returned the favor on the first play from scrimmage. Tony Scudder recovered the fumble for WSC.

Wayne State again coughed up the ball on the next series, this time at the 35-yard line. Steve Atamian got the ball back for the hosts when he made a diving interception at the five.

Once again, the Ichabods recovered a WSC fumble at the Wildcat 10 yard line. The Wayne State defense rose to the occasion with a fine goal-line stance and look over at the three. The Ichabods put two points on the board with a safety by Mateo Alvarez.

Wayne State's first score was set up on Atamian's second interception at the WSC 47. He returned the ball to the Washburn 17. The Cats settled for three points on a 35-yard field goal into the wind by Cook.

Using five receivers and the shotgun formation, Washburn came back in the second quarter with a touchdown on a 12-yard pass from Mike Atkins to Ron Hamilton. The PAT was wide left and the Ichabods led 8-3.

Washburn intercepted a pass and added three points to its total on a 32-yard field goal with 4:22 left in the half.

Half-time too long

Things got off to a rocky start as the second half opened as Wayne State was penalized 15 yards for delay of game. Because of numerous homecoming activities, half-time festivities lasted 28 minutes, eight minutes longer than allowed. As the WSC marching band left the field at the close of half-time festivities, the Cats were assessed a penalty on the kickoff.

Washburn scored its second and final touchdown of the game on a fake punt that caught Wayne off guard. Short man back Andy O'Neill took the snap and carried the ball 34 yards for a TD. The PAT brought Washburn's lead to 18-3 with 14:52 remaining.

Ken Kohloff picked off an Atkins' pass to set up WSC's first TD. Lade took over, hitting Randy Frink and Maxwell with passes to drive the ball. An 18 yard pass from Lade to Maxwell gave Wayne a much needed TD. Lade connected with Blackburn again for the two-point conversion to bring the score to 18-11.

The Cats wasted little time before putting some more points on the board. A four-yard pass from Lade to Ingrum capped a 62-yard drive with 6:54 in the game. This time the Cats faked the kick and tried a two-point pass play. The gamble failed with Washburn leading 18-17.

The final scoring pass from Lade to Ingrum with four minutes left put the Wildcats on top to stay.

Lade completed 11 of 24 passes for 202 yards, Tony Marinella rushed for 41 yards and Randy Frink added 33 yards rushing for Wayne State. Maxwell had six receptions for 119 yards, Blackburn had three receptions for 58 yards and Ingrum had two receptions for 17 yards to round out WSC's offensive attack. Leading receiver for Washburn was Ron Hamilton with 12 receptions for 158 yards.

Parents Day, Saturday

Wayne State is scheduled to face conference rival Pittsburg State University at Memorial Field. It will be Parents Day with many parents of players on hand for the game.

The Pittsburg State Gorillas are currently tied with Wayne State and Missouri Western for second place in the conference with 2-1 records. Pittsburg had been ranked 17th in the NAIA several weeks ago but losses to the University of Missouri at Rolla and Washburn University have knocked the invaders out of the ratings.

Last weekend, Pitt won its homecoming game 21-17 over Ft. Hays. Stan Patton rushed 21 times for 117 yards and two touchdowns while the conference's second leading rusher, Richard Overton, scored the other TD. Player of the week on defense was John Pringle with 14 tackles, two interceptions and a blocked punt.

Eighth Grade Finishes Undefeated

Wayne's eighth grade football team is getting people's hopes up for the future. The eighth graders finished their season with a perfect 4-0 record by crunching West Point Central Catholic 32-6 Tuesday afternoon.

Central scored its touchdown on a 40 yard touchdown against Wayne's second string in the final minute of the game. Those were the only points scored against Wayne in 16 quarters of play. The Blue Devils outscored their opponents 114 to 6.

"Our offense was strong while the first team defense was tremendously strong. The team had a great year," said Wayne coach Al Hansen. "It's been a great privilege working with these boys and I certainly wish them added success in future years."

Hansen credited Steve Overin with a "super offensive game" and Kevin Koenig with a "super defensive game."

Overin scored three touchdowns on long runs of 35, 51 and 57 yards and passed to Kevin Maly for another 25 yard touchdown play. He completed four of five passes for 39 yards, scored one two-point conversion and passed for two others. Defensively Overin had five tackles and one assist.

Koenig led the team in tackling again with 10 unassisted tackles and three assists. Offensively Koenig carried the ball six times for 64 yards.

Brad Moore rushed for 17 yards. Chris Weiseler rushed for 16. Jassi Johar rushed for 14 and Jeff Sherer and Darrin Barner each carried the ball for short yardage. Moore, the second string quarterback, completed one of two passes for 11 yards.

Maly was the leading receiver with two catches for 16 yards. Weiseler had two receptions for 11 yards and Pete Warne had one catch for three yards. Weiseler scored two conversions and Warne scored the other.

Defensively, Barner had three tackles and one assist. Rob Allen had three tackles and Pete March had one tackle and two assists. Rod Luff, Gregg Elliott and Jay Rebersdorf recovered one fumble each. Barner had an interception.

Two touchdowns were called back on clipping penalties. One was a 70 yard punt return by Weiseler and the other a 30-yard run by Moore. Hansen said that his first and second teams played about equal time.

Norfolk Edges Wayne Junior Varsity

Norfolk's junior varsity football team proved to be slightly better than Wayne's JV squad Monday afternoon.

Norfolk won the area contest 16-14. The Panthers scored their first touchdown on a run in the first quarter and then added a field goal in the second quarter for a 10-0 lead at the half. Another TD in the third period brought the score to 16-0.

The Blue Devils did all of their scoring in the fourth quarter. The Wayne defense was responsible for the first touchdown with a strong rush on a Norfolk punt.

The snap was high and Wayne players surrounded the punter as he failed to control the ball. Three or four Blue Devils handled the ball before Mark Botenkamp picked up the loose ball and carried it six yards for a TD. Jeff McCright scored the two-point conversion.

The other TD was scored on a 10 yard pass from Mark Hummel to Tim Heier. Wayne had a chance to tie the game but the two-point conversion attempt failed.

"Although we lost, it was an awfully good game. We played a real good team," Wayne coach Ron Carnes said.

Leading tacklers for Wayne were Jeff McCright with 15, Richard Poehman with 14, Tim Heier with 12, Rod Gilliland with 10, Jim Sperry with 10 and Kurt Janke with 9.

Wayne's team suffered a blow when Jeff Loberg sustained a knee injury. He will be gone the rest of the season. Final action for the Wayne reserves is scheduled at South Sioux City at 4:15 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 28.

Lady Cats Defeat Midland, Lose in CSIC

Utilizing its strengths, Wayne State's volleyball team spiked its way past Midland College 15-10, 16-14, 15-2 in a best-of-five match Tuesday night in Rice Auditorium.

Led by the serving of Cheryl Abbs, the setting of Kelly Heithold and the spiking of Mariene Mogensen, the Lady Wildcats turned back the challenge of their opponent.

Abbs had 16 serving points and two ace serves in three games for an average of six points per game.

Mogensen was the leader at the net with 11 spikes for an average of 3.6 spikes per game. She is presently the second leading spiker in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference.

Heithold had 13 assists for points in the match for an average of 4.3 assists per game. Deb Poehling was the team leader in total points with 33 for an average of 11 total points per game.

In junior varsity action, Midland came out on top of a 6-15, 15-13, 5-15, 15-4, 14-16 marathon match.

Sharon Luchsinger was the team leader with 20 serving points in the five games. She had seven ace serves and an average of 5.4 serving points per game. Luchsinger also scored 47 total points for an average of 9.4 points per game.

Other top players were Judy Jarecki and Laura Asmusen. Jarecki had 11 spike points in the match and Asmusen had 26 assists.

Wayne State is scheduled to compete against Kearney State.

Emporia State and Missouri Southern at Kearney Friday and Saturday.

The Wayne State volleyball team traveled to Emporia, Kan. over the weekend and played matches against three conference opponents. The Lady Cats lost all three matches.

WSC played on Friday against Ft. Hays losing the match in three games 11-15, 13-15 and 4-15. In match play on Saturday, the Lady Wildcats played top rated conference opponent Pittsburg State. The Lady Cats played tough but lost the first game 14-16. In the second and third games the momentum was maintained by Pittsburg to down the Lady Cats 7-15, 8-15 and seal the match.

Wayne State played its third match against Emporia and stretched the match to five games before losing. The first game was won by the Lady Cats 15-10. The second game was turned around by Emporia to down the Lady Cats 15-11. The Lady Cats regained the momentum in the third game to win 15-3 but lost the match by dropping the final two games 4-15 and 13-15.

The Lady Wildcats are now 1-7 in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference and 8-14 overall.

WAYNE STATE players Annette Reilman and Marilyn Strate (right) combine to block a Midland spike as Deb Poehling prepares to go after the loose ball.

Cedar Defeats Wayne

Hartington Cedar Catholic, the number one ranked volleyball team in the Norfolk Daily News top five, extended its winning ways with a victory over Wayne, Tuesday.

Cedar defeated the Blue Devils 15-6, 15-3 in varsity action. The win improved Hartington's record to 11-1.

"They just plain outplayed us," said Wayne coach Mavis Dalton. Wayne's reserves lost 4-15, 0-15 and the Blue Devil freshmen lost their match 1-15, 4-15.

The Blue Devils are scheduled to host Pierce tonight (Thursday).

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Huscell

ACCORDING TO INFORMATION released from the Nebraska School Activities Association this week, Winside and Wakefield are tied for first place in the Class C-2 district 2 standings.

Both teams have 40.8 points with three games remaining. The district leader at the end of the regular season will qualify for state playoffs.

Wakefield is ranked third and Winside fourth in the Norfolk Daily News top five for Class C-2. Winside currently leads the Lewis Division of the Lewis and Clark Conference with a 4-0 conference record. Wakefield is tied with Hartington for second with conference records of 3-1.

The Wildcats and Trojans are scheduled to clash at 7:30 p.m. Friday in a big game. The winner will lead the conference and district standings, probably move up in Norfolk's ratings and possibly break into the top 10 of the Omaha World Herald or Lincoln Journal.

There is a lot riding on the game for both teams and I'm hoping for a thriller.

DARN THESE LONG sports seasons. It seems I've been getting football mixed up with baseball lately. I've recently been caught referring to divisions in football games as innings instead of quarters.

With professional baseball season finally nearing its end, football getting a good start and pro basketball just beginning, I'm liable to start referring to free throws in football and clipping in basketball. Last year, it was reported that I referred to a wrestling takedown as a touchdown.

Those stupid little mistakes are especially easy to make because I write the football stories from 10:30 p.m. to about 3 a.m. on Friday nights (Saturday mornings). I'm not exactly wide awake at that time of the day, so please bear with me. In fact, sometimes I find myself typing parts of my dreams while I droop over the typewriter.

Then, I come back down to the Herald between 6 and 7 Saturday morning to lay out my pages so we can go to press by noon. Who knows, maybe one of these days a story from my sports section will be sent to "Real People". I always wanted to be famous, but not for my mistakes.

I'm trying to improve. In fact, my wife, who is a teacher, makes me write "quarter not inning" on our blackboard 100 times each evening. I sure hope it works.

WAYNE STATE quarterback Rick Lade and Pittsburg State cornerback John Pringle have been selected as Central States Intercollegiate Conference players-of-the-week for performances during their teams' victories, Saturday.

Lade, a 6-1, 190 pound senior from Tekamah, threw three touchdown passes in a six minute span during the final eleven minutes of the fourth quarter as WSC rallied to defeat Washburn 24-18.

Pringle, a 6-0, 175 pound cornerback from Miami, Fla., had two key interceptions, 11 tackles and a broken up pass in Pittsburg's 21-17 win over Ft. Hays.

Those two players should be seeing a lot of each other this weekend.

The CSIC game-of-the-week, selected by the CSIC office in St. Joseph, Mo., is none other than the Wayne State-Pittsburg State game scheduled at Memorial Field, Saturday.

Involved in a three-way tie for second place, the winner of the game could solidify its claim as a title contender. Both are explosive offensive teams and both have been involved in close games over the past two weeks.

Pittsburg is averaging 359.8 yards per game while WSC is averaging 358 yards a game. The defending CSIC co-champion Gorillas rank last in the league in pass defense. Wayne State is averaging 226.6 yards through the air.

PEOPLE WHO HAVE scoffed about my ratings positioning Texas as the number one team in the country can't laugh so hard any more. The Longhorns defeated Oklahoma, and surely have to be at least as good as Alabama, which is the nation's number one team in most polls.

Because USC has looked strong and because UCLA rallied to defeat Stanford I give those two Pac-10 schools possession of second and third. I had earlier predicted that Stanford would upset the Bruins.

Florida State did it again, thumping Pittsburg. Thus, the Seminoles move up and Pitt falls out of the top 10. Notre Dame clobbered Miami (my 10th rated team) and now moves up to fourth. The Fighting Irish are much stronger than in past years and now play a formidable schedule. In previous years Notre Dame played rinky dinky teams and was over-rated. Probably not so this year.

The Crimson Tide, with its brilliant performance against Rutgers, drops from second to fifth. Nebraska got back on track with a land-slide win and moves up to sixth. Georgia slipped by Mississippi and falls to eighth. North Carolina can no longer be overlooked and Ohio State moves back into the ratings with a 63-0 win over Northwestern.

Northwestern, with that loss, pulls even farther away from the group in my bottom 10 ratings. Perennial Southwest Conference cellar dweller Vanderbilt (a tough Alabama foe) moves to number two. Oregon State, Texas Christian, Colorado (despite scoring more points against Oklahoma than any team will this year), Duke and Memphis State follow with winless records.

Texas El Paso, Wisconsin and Kent State round out the bottom 10. I think the NCAA should think about adding some bowl games to determine the worst teams in the country: the Wool Bowl, the Saccrine Bowl, the Lime Bowl, the Dandelion Bowl, the Skunk Bowl and the Toilet Bowl.

Randy's Ratings:

Top 10	Bottom 10
1. Texas (5-0)	1. Northwestern (0-6)
2. USC (5-0)	2. Vanderbilt (0-4)
3. UCLA (5-0)	3. Oregon St. (0-4)
4. Notre Dame (4-0)	4. TCU (0-5)
5. Alabama (4-0)	5. Colorado (0-5)
6. Nebraska (4-1)	6. Duke (0-5)
7. Florida St. (5-1)	7. Memphis St. (0-5)
8. Georgia (5-0)	8. UTEP (1-5)
9. N. Carolina (5-0)	9. Wisconsin (1-4)
10. Ohio State (4-1)	10. Kent St. (1-4)

Homecoming First Place Entry

FIRST PLACE in the dormitory category at the Wayne State College Homecoming parade went to Bowen Hall (above) with its rendition of "Shootout at WSC Corral"

Former Nixon Aide Liddy to Speak

Gordon Liddy will appear at Wayne State College on Monday, Oct. 27 in Ramsey Theatre at 8 p.m.

He has been called fearless to the point of being awesome, and to historian Theodore S. White he is a thoroughly dangerous man. Yet Barbara Walters says "he has a brilliant mind."

Liddy was the Watergate "mastermind" who defied the efforts of all three branches of the U.S. government to force him to betray his associates through four and a half years of imprisonment. It included 106 days of solitary confinement and death.

Serving two years as an Army officer and five as a special agent of the FBI, after six commendations Liddy became, at age 29, one of the youngest men ever to serve as a Bureau Supervisor on the staff of J. Edgar Hoover. He also served as a prosecutor and an unsuccessful candidate for congress.

Liddy returned to Washington from Manhattan to become special assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury and its Enforcement Legislative Council before becoming staff assistant to the president in the first Nixon administration.

There he served in the special investigative unit "Odessa," which later became known as the "Plumbers." Liddy then became general counsel to the Committee to Re-elect the President, from which he directed the Watergate break in.

Liddy and his wife, Frances, have five children. Now, a novelist and lecturer, Liddy's autobiography "WILL" became the number one bestseller in the country.

The event is sponsored by the WSC Student Activities Board. Gordon Liddy's lecture is open to the public. Tickets will be sold at the door — $3 for general admission and $1.50 for area high school students.

Trustees Student Rep Is Balancing Force on Board

Jeff Jaeggi, a junior at Wayne State College, was nominated to the college board of education trustees. Jaeggi is originally from Columbus and is a business administration major. He has participated in numerous organizations around the area.

The board of trustees within the Nebraska state colleges is a ruling board which approves and is responsible for the operation and direction of the four state colleges: Chadron, Peru, Kearney and Wayne.

Jaeggi's position is a student board member for WSC. There is one state representative member for each of the four state colleges. Jaeggi said that he applied for the position to the Student Senate and was chosen by the Senate.

The function of the organization consists of the student board member providing an insight to the feelings of students on any particular campus. Jaeggi said that policies and decisions the board makes concerning the reactions of the four state colleges, rely on student opinions.

Jaeggi serves on the Personnel and Policy Subcommittee that discusses collective bargaining security for the four state colleges, policies for student records, political leave for the faculty and the security and litigation organization. Jaeggi added that currently, the committee is looking at tuition, administration and faculty evaluations as well as retirement and contract proposals.

According to Jaeggi, his main goal while being on the committee is to show concern for the student of WSC. Jaeggi also is concerned with the state colleges of Nebraska, giving students a quality education.

Jaeggi has also been involved in various other organizations as well. These include the Wayne State Judicial Committee, the March of Dimes, the Nebraska Committee for Children and the Nebraska Conference of Youth.

LAND SELLERS BE ALERT!

A bill to simplify installment sales (contracts) has been passed by Congress and awaits only the President's signature to become law. This is H.R. 6883 which had the support of Realtors. This Bill, when signed, will affect the amount that can be paid down; eliminate the "2 year term" requirement; permit "related parties" use of the installment method if there is no tax avoidance, and would permit "like kind" exchanges without counting "value in exchange as a "first payment."

We will know when this bill is signed. We can consult with you if you will consult with us.

Rex Story Says Vote on the Issues

In a campaign tour of Northeast Nebraska, Rex Story, Democratic candidate for Congress in the first district, told voters that he feels the energy crisis is one of the most pressing problems facing the country.

Story was in Wayne Sunday night and Monday while completing a campaign swing through Norfolk, Stanton, Ponca and Wayne before returning to Lincoln. After speaking to the Kiwanis Club over the noon hour, Story stopped at The Wayne Herald for an interview Monday afternoon.

Other previous stops in Wayne included a taping session at KWSC-TV and an appearance in a class taught by Allen O'Donnell. Both appearances took place at Wayne State College. Story is opposing Republican Congressman Doug Bereuter in the election.

"I'm trying to get people to vote on the issues not for the most advertised candidate," Story said. "One of the main issues is the energy crisis which is causing inflation. We aren't putting money where it is needed. We need to turn our attention toward gasohol and solar and geothermal energy."

When asked about his stand on nuclear energy, Story replied, "I think we need to continue to use nuclear power, but I don't think we should mass produce power plants. We need some new nuclear sites but we need to research, keep the sites away from large populated areas and keep the Nuclear Regulatory Commission in charge."

Story said that if elected he would vote:

- to stop major oil companies from using their excess profits to buy up coal, real estate and department stores.

- to stabilize gasoline prices by controlling the price of oil.
- to tax the oil companies' windfall profits so the excess profits may be returned to the people.

According to Story, Bereuter "voted in favor of the oil companies." Other main issues on which the candidates differ are agriculture and health, Story said.

"The major medical groups...are financing Bereuter. He's fighting for them rather than the consumer," said Story. "Medical insurance and hospital costs are too high. Hospitals need to take a look and see where they can save money. These costs should be controlled with a hospital containment bill."

Then Story turned his thoughts to agriculture. "We need an agriculture oriented person in congress. We need a representative on the ag committee. There are 435 people who have to be convinced," he stated. "I believe that the family farm must be maintained." Story added that he is opposed to the grain embargo.

When asked what he would do to curtail inflation, Story replied that a low interest rate must be maintained, opening the way for more business, more production and thus more jobs. He added that the government should make it easier for young people to get loans, especially farm loans.

"I hope people vote on the issues," Story emphasized at the end of the interview.

Power Line Problem to Be Topic

A group processes class at Wayne State College, under the direction of Dr. Bob Johnson of Ponca, WSC professor of communication arts, will undertake a problem of public concern.

The group's interest this semester has been directed to the Raun, Iowa Hoskins powerline to be constructed by the Nebraska Public Power District and all other power lines being constructed in this area.

The group processes class chose this project following a visit to their class by Scott Raymond, former resident of Winnebago and former editor of the Winnebago Indian News. Raymond informed the class of the viewpoint represented by the Winnebago Tribe of Nebraska on issues of the powerline.

Raymond is a Rosebud Sioux Indian and presently a staff member of the University of Minnesota student newspaper.

The goal of the WSC class project is to have a forum of various representatives of the public in which they can discuss and inform the public of their viewpoints concerning the Raun Hoskins Powerline.

The forum is scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 7, at 7 p.m. in the North Dining Room of the WSC Student Center.

Special guests have been invited to attend the forum in December. J.L. Monk of NPPD in Norfolk and John Hobling of NPPD in Columbus are among the invited guests as well as Dr. Harold Baltaxe of the University of Nebraska Medical Center in Omaha, U.S. Rep. Doug Bereuter of Washington, D.C. and Robert Schoenfelder, anesthesiologist of Yankton, S.D.

Also invited are the Union of Concerned Scientists, Noelyn Isom of the Game and Parks Commission in Omaha and farmers Val Damme and Victor Kniesche of Wayne.

Scott Raymond and Rueben Snake will represent the Winnebago Tribe.

WSC students will be represented at the forum by Blue Key, Cardinal Key and 4-H.

Students participating in the Group Processes class are Lenora Driver, Missouri Valley, Iowa; Julie Nelson, Wausa; Cindy Langhorst, Howells; Penny Roberts, Wakefield; Nancy Hewitt, Wayne; Linda Pichal, Omaha; and Janice Beauvais, Norfolk.

Parents Day Is Saturday At College

Parent's Day at Wayne State College is Saturday. All parents of WSC students are invited to attend various demonstrations around campus during the day.

Activities include broadcasting demonstrations, presentations in home economics, industrial education and micro computer (business) an art gallery showing and teaching/learning center open house.

There also will be a planetarium show at 10 a.m., 11 a.m. and 12 noon in the basement of the Carhart Science building. Lunch will be served in the cafeteria beginning at 11 a.m.

The Wayne State College Wildcats will take on Pittsburg State at 1:30 p.m. There will also be a special half time marching band presentation. Following the game at 4:30 p.m. there will be a sing along at the Windmill Restaurant featuring banjo player Les Corey of Omaha.

Doyle Anderson Takes First at Singing Contest

Placing first in Wayne State College's junior men's division of the annual National Association of Teachers of Singing contest was Doyle Anderson, a junior voice major from Hartington.

Doyle Anderson

Members of the NATS throughout Nebraska colleges sponsored this event held at Nebraska Wesleyan University Oct. 3. Wayne State students were in competition with voice students from Concordia, Doane, UNL, UNO, Kearney, Nebraska Wesleyan and Midland College.

Other WSC students who placed in the competition are Susan Erwin of Concord, second place, sophomore women; Connie Linder of Onawa, Iowa, third place, sophomore women; Steve Linn of Laurel, third place, freshmen men; and Jamie Dale of Hagerstown, Ind., honorable mention, freshmen men.

Cash awards were given to winners. The WSC competitors are students of Mrs. Connie Webber, assistant professor of music and Dr. Cornell Runestad, professor of music.

Joe DiMaggio's streak of 54 successive games hit safely in 1941 was quite spectacular. First DiMaggio passed the Yankee record of 23, then the National League tally of 33, and then the major league mark of 44, which had stood since 1897.

TAKING FIRST PLACE in the Wayne State College Homecoming parade Saturday was the WSC Industrial arts/home economics classes. Each year the class has an animated or mechanical float. This year's float theme was "Brand 'Em Cats."

Bowen Hall, Industrial Arts Take Top Honors at WSC Homecoming Parade

A weekend of activities round up the final days of Wayne State College Wildcat Days 1980. Chi Omega sorority and Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity took the championships Friday evening in the Willow Bowl.

Skills presented by WSC freshmen from each dormitory were presented Friday night. After all skills were judged, Nelhardt Hall emerged the victor. The evening ended with a bonfire and pep rally.

WSC Homecoming day began with a parade. During that time, everyone had an opportunity to view floats which were made by the students. The floats were judged for dormitory and campus organizations.

Bowen Hall dormitory was awarded first place and Morey Hall received second place. In campus organizations category, first place went to Industrial Arts/Home Economics, second place to Phi Beta Lambda and third place to Alpha Beta Sigma.

There also were prizes for billboards on campus with Morey Hall taking first place in the dormitory division and Berry Hall taking second while foreign languages and Kappa Mu Epsilon tied for first place in the organization category. For best floats trophies were awarded for first and second place with cash prizes going to first, second and third place for organizations.

After the parade was a royally reception open to all students, faculty, family and guests. Pre game activities began at 1:30 with a performance by the Wayne State College marching band. A chill supper at the Wayne Country Club followed a 24 1/2 com eback win for the Wildcats against Washburn.

The evening and the week end with the Homecoming dance.

Music was provided by "Blackberry Winter."

The board of trustees of the WSC Foundation also gathered on the college campus for a luncheon and board meeting on Friday, followed by a dinner at the Black Knight Restaurant in Wayne.

On Saturday, the trustees and members visited President Seymour's residence in Wayne for a brunch. Approximately 120 people attended.

There were tours on campus prior to the football game and a social gathering following the game at the Wayne Country Club.

OBSERVATIONS

Private Citizens Should Not Coerce the Council

We abhor any attempts by private citizens or private businesses to coerce the city of Wayne into accepting demands which would benefit the private sector.

The city's two Class A garbage haulers are doing just that. Although they say they have the interests of the public in mind, they admit they want to make a profit.

Striking or refusing to work, as the haulers did Monday morning, is a subtle form of blackmail. If you don't give us what we want, we won't haul your garbage, they are seeming to say. Their attitude certainly lacks the professionalism that a private business should promote. The haulers were given a three hour opportunity Oct. 6 to air their views and present their figures, but at no time indicated they were considering a work stoppage.

Councilman Cliff Ginn charged at Tuesday's Council meeting that the Class A haulers are dictating to the taxpayers. We agree. No private enterprise or any individual should be allowed to do so.

The Council needs to consider alternatives to the present system of garbage disposal. The city has discussed other methods, and the recent strike by the haulers indicates little concern for the welfare of the taxpayers. The haulers want the fee system more equitable so they can make a larger profit.

The city has operated the transfer station at a deficit for the last two years. The fee service should not be supported by the general obligation portion of the budget, but should be made self-supporting. As long as the city loses money on the transfer station, it will have to subsidize its operation with tax money.

City officials are considering a contract with an out-of-town garbage hauler. Brief discussions with the corporation indicate the hauler can do the job as cheaply as or cheaper than local haulers. The option should be considered since local haulers apparently are unwilling to work under the existing ordinance.

Not only should this avenue be considered, but also other types of disposal need to be examined. The Council has its back unnecessarily against the wall and needs to be cautious and bold in its actions.

At least for the time being, the haulers are back in operation. None of the haulers' demands were met, but the Council did agree to sit down — again — and attempt to settle the differences.

The Council has been more than compromising in dealing with the two haulers. Unless the city's figures are in error, we would hope little ground is given up. Dan Field

School Group Opposes Amendment

CAPITOL NEWS
By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Because proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 4 has "enormous ramifications," it will be opposed by S.H. "Zeke" Brauer, executive director of the Nebraska School Improvement Association.

State Sen. Donald Dworak of Columbus recently let it be known he too is urging people not to support the amendment that would change the financing of Nebraska education.

Brauer told those attending a recent news conference he will be the treasurer of Save Our Schools, a political action committee formed to fight the amendment that will be on the Nov. 4 general election ballot.

Sen. John DeCamp proposed the amendment that would require the Legislature to establish a "thorough and efficient" system of public schools that would be financed in such a way that property owners would not carry an excessive tax burden.

Brauer said he fears people will think the amendment's approval would be an assurance they would receive tax relief. He said state aid to schools apparently would make up for the reduced dependence on property taxes and the higher state aid would be generated by higher sales and income taxes.

In Brauer's view, tax relief will be realized only by limiting government spending. That goal, he said, has not been attained through the spending lid law under which local governmental units must function.

Brauer said despite DeCamp's statement that nothing in the proposed amendment demands consolidation of school districts, he believes the existing six classifications of school districts would be eliminated, if the amendment became part of the state constitution.

Like other opponents of the amendment, Brauer says the requirement for "thorough and efficient" schools is vague and the interpretation of those words would lead to a long series of lawsuits. Then judges, not elected officials, would determine educational policies, he said.

Brauer has long been active in controversial political issues and has been a strong advocate of small schools in appearances before legislative committees.

In 1979, he led a petition campaign to place a constitutional government spending limit on the ballot. That effort failed after the Legislature passed into law the statutory lid. Brauer was also involved in the repeal, through an initiative petition in 1978 of the $20 million in state aid the Legislature approved for the schools.

Dworak claims the proposed Amendment No. 4 was approved by the lawmakers during the hurried last day of the legislative session and did not receive proper consideration.

Parole Discussed
John Greenholtz, the chairman of the state parole board, says he sees no way to place prisoners in work release or parole programs more rapidly.

State Corrections Director Jerry Bolin met recently with the board to discuss ways to trim the number of adult offenders confined in prisons.

On Sept. 24, 1979, Bolin reported 1,002 men and women offenders with 156 on work release and 315 under parole supervision. About a year later, there were 1,178 prisoners with 152 in work-release programs and 253 on parole.

Crowded conditions have been cited for creating the tension in the penal complex trusty dorm as a possible reason for a disturbance on Aug. 22. A fight erupted among dormitory residents, some armed with baseball bats and weight lifting bars.

Greenholtz says the Parole Board places offenders back into society as soon as it is legally possible to do so. He also noted there are statutory regulations that spell out standards for parole and work-release candidates.

Bolin and Greenholtz said there is a national trend of more people being sentenced for longer terms for violent crimes. That same point was made during a recent corrections conference in Lincoln, which attracted a number of penal experts from different parts of the country.

Greenholtz said the Parole Board has satisfied the requirements in the law to review each inmate's case within 60 days of his or her eligibility for parole.

He said additional prison facilities eventually may provide the only answer to the problem of overcrowding.

Completion of the Lincoln Correctional Center and the Diagnostic and Evaluation Center has helped to some degree, he said.

Hiring decline slows
The rate of decline in the number of persons hired by the state slowed in September, mainly because employees had to be hired to staff the newly opened Fitzgerald Veterans Center in Omaha.

Gov. Charles Thone imposed a state hiring freeze on July 1.

State employment dropped by 75 workers in September, leaving the total decline in the number of employees since the freeze at 545.

In July, the state employment rolls were reduced by 172 and in August by 298 employees.

State Budget Administrator Don Leuenberger, coordinator of the freeze, said of the 211 employees hired in September, 110 were for the state Department of Public Institutions, and most of the 110 were for the Fitzgerald Veterans Home. The Corrections Department hired 25 workers.

Both those departments have blanket exemptions from the freeze, if crucial positions are involved. Those departments also have a high turnover rate.

Overcharging Investigated
Attorney General Paul Douglas says two Nebraska pharmacies are under investigation for possibly overcharging on prescriptions for welfare recipients.

Investigators from Douglas' office have found at least 2,000 cases of pharmacies overcharging welfare recipients. But the office is precluded from prosecuting because of an apparent loophole in the law.

The overcharges varied from $1.60 to $4 for each prescription.

Under the scheme, Assistant Attorney General Bud Packell said, a pharmacy would bill welfare agencies for more than a prescription was worth. The person on welfare did not pay the bill, which went directly to the agency.

Packell said the legal loophole, which he declined to explain, blocks the state from prosecuting the pharmacies.

He said one of the pharmacies is in Lincoln and that case has been given to Lancaster County attorney's office for possible prosecution.

State Guards Capitol As 7th Wonder: Thone

Nebraska's state capitol has been described as one of the seven wonders of modern architecture and it is important that we protect our investment in this magnificent structure.

In the 48 years since the present statehouse in Lincoln was completed, gradual deterioration has occurred and the building has not always been properly maintained. The legislature and the governor have now agreed on a program of preventive maintenance and restoration which should have the building sparkling like new for its golden anniversary in 1982.

Work began on the capitol in 1972. When it was completed in the depression year of 1932, it had cost $9.8 million, all of which had been paid. It has been estimated conservatively that it would cost more than $100 million to duplicate the building today, so we must be good stewards and protect the investment that was made in this beautiful structure by the Nebraska taxpayers of the 1920's and 30's.

Currently the mortar is being replaced as needed on the entire stone exterior. Other projects planned, underway or completed include restoration of the paintings and murals in the governor's office, cleaning and preservation of the leather doors at the entrance to the legislative chamber, installation of new elevators and restoration of the tower elevator cabs. In addition the original handmade rugs, draperies and wall hangings in the second floor rooms are being cleaned and restored. We're also going to take out the present chrome public telephones and put in the walnut lined phone booths that were originally planned.

The capitol has four outside courtyards that are surrounded by the base of the building. These had been so neglected that access to them had been closed. Now these courtyards are being restored to their original appearance and planned use.

The autumn vegetable

The pumpkin symbolizes Nebraska's late summer and fall harvest bounty as does no other fruit or vegetable. Large ears of yellow corn, apples and apple cider all signal summer's end. But the lowly pumpkin — hollowed and carved as a jack-o'-lantern for Halloween, or gracing Thanksgiving tables in pies — is a universally recognized harbinger of autumn.

One of the chief uses of the highly colored pumpkin has always been in ornamentation. Autumn floral arrangements or centerpiece frequently feature red and yellow leaves, colored ears of Indian corn, and orange pumpkins — or their smaller botanical relatives, gourds. The November 2, 1906, "Alliance Semi Weekly Times", on file at the Nebraska State Historical Society, describes decorations at a 1904 Halloween party given at the home of Dr. Bowman by his daughter, Miss G. Frances, and Miss Alice Acheson. The decorations were appropriately made of pumpkins, autumn leaves, and cranberries. The November 3, 1905, "Valentine Republican" says ornamentation at a 1905 Halloween party given by "Miss Noble and Miss Kortz... at the home of F.M. Walcott and wife" was "in keeping with the celebration, all lights being in pumpkins and pumpkins everywhere as seats."

The "lights... in pumpkins" — better known as jack-o'-lanterns — were derived from European custom. The Celts of Britain and northern France believed that each October 31 the spirits of dead ancestors haunted the earth; humans who went abroad on that night carried a lantern for protection. It was a Scottish custom to hollow out large turnips or rutabagas and cut holes in the sides to allow a lighted candle to shed light from inside the vegetable. Later the holes were carved as faces, possibly to frighten evil spirits. An Irish legend about a miserly man — sometimes named Jack — condemned after

The Nebraska State Capitol Commission which continues to be responsible for our statehouse, issued this statement in 1970: "The capitol of a state is the outward sign of the character of its people. Their respect for its traditions and history, their belief in its importance and worth and their love of its fair name — let the new capitol be its symbol."

"I am proud that this capitol continues to stand as a symbol of the stalwart character of the people of Nebraska."

Issue 3: Conservation

Editor's Note: Nebraskans will be voting on 4 issues November 4. So that voters can better understand these important issues that would change the State's Constitution, the Nebraska Press Association in cooperation with this newspaper, has prepared a series of news reports on each of the 4 proposed issues. Each story in the series concentrates on a single issue, briefly defining the issue, explaining its purpose and finally stating the arguments both for and against the issue.

The following is the third in the special public service series.

3. ENERGY CONSERVATION/AMENDMENT

"Constitutional amendment to authorize the Legislature to provide a tax exemption on energy conservation improvements as prescribed."

"PURPOSE: Currently, improvements on real estate often result in higher tax valuations. The amendment would permit — but not require — the Legislature to enact a law under which improvements designed primarily for energy conservation would not boost tax valuation, thereby amounting to a tax exemption for such improvements."

SUPPORT: The case for the amendment says the state should encourage energy conservation by granting property-tax relief in this fashion.

OPPOSITION: The Legislature already has the power to allow sales-tax exemptions on energy conservation improvements, say some sources. Others believe energy conservation technology is not sufficiently advanced to warrant what amounts to a state subsidy.

Dear Editor:

I would like to appreciatively thank the Wayne Women's Club for the lovely picnic and presents they furnished for our clients on the evening of Sept. 19 at Bressler Park.

Their gesture allowed several handicapped individuals to feel very happy inside. The club provided them with some exceptionally good food and fun as well as a chance to intermingle with other members of their community and to really feel as if they are a part of the Wayne community.

Thank you once again to the Wayne Women's Club. I believe that Wayne is extremely fortunate to have such a group as outstanding as this in its community.

CONTROL OF FACE and horn flies is becoming more and more important for cattle producers. The type of fly dust applicator pictured above is becoming the most efficient, the simplest and most inexpensive.

One of the types of fly control. County Ag Agent Don Spitzke notes the importance of placing the bags of dust properly so the dust is applied evenly over the critter.

Eliminate Flies and Make Money

Although this year's fly season is nearing its end, a study conducted by Northeast Nebraska Experimental Station and the Wayne County Extension Office indicates that eliminating fly problems around cows is easier than most cattle producers realize.

The application of almost any fly dust by using bags has proved to be effective in combating face and horn flies which have significant effect on rate of gain. Flies also can be a major cause of pink eye in cattle, according to County Extension Agent Don Spitzke.

The experiment was conducted on cattle in two county pasture areas — the Shane Giese farm and the Melvin Melterhenry farm.

Spitzke said the type of bag used is important. It must be heavy enough to keep the fly dust dry during damp weather and should have some type of netting to provide an even distribution of the dust on the backs of cows.

The location of the bags is all important, Spitzke said. They should be placed so cattle hit at least one of them once every 24 hours. He suggested placing bags near a water source.

The passageway through which the cattle travel should not be much wider than the cow and the bags should be low enough so they hit the cow in the horns or forehead and down the back.

A major benefit to fly control is an improved rate of gain in weaning calves. Spitzke said studies show a 13.14 pound increase in gain in calves that are weaning from their mothers.

Fly control allows more milk production in mothers, and Spitzke estimated that adequate control can add from $13 to $15 per head. Spitzke said the experiments involved only pasture cattle. Feedlot cattle require a different type of insecticide. The study involved beef cattle and not dairy cattle, he noted.

There are other methods of fly control available, he said, such as oil, ear tags and spraying. However, the dust bag method appears to be the easiest, simplest and cheapest.

For more information, contact Spitzke at the Wayne County Courthouse, Shane Giese or John Witkowski at Northeast Station near Concord.

Avoid Grain Discounts With Care

Farmers who want to avoid discounts when they take their grain to market should take extra care to combine, dry and store it properly.

A small investment of time can make a big difference on the plus side of the balance sheet, according to Lynn Lutgen, extension economist in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources at the University of Nebraska.

"A lot of farmers want to see how fast they can get over the land" when combining, he said, instead of taking the necessary time to do the job right. That haste can hurt at the elevator, Lutgen cautioned. In an informal survey of three terminal markets in Nebraska conducted in early October, discounts of one to two cents a bushel were being assessed on No. 2 yellow corn for each percentage over 5 percent of cracked and broken kernels.

While prices at terminal markets would not seem to affect producers directly, local elevators will pass those costs along to farmers, he said. "They may not be apparent, but they're there," he said.

Discounts for excess moisture in corn ranged from 2 to 3 cents for each half percent above 15.5 percent moisture, Lutgen said. The three terminals assessed a 1 cent discount for each pound of corn that was under its standard weight of 56 pounds.

Sour corn was discounted from 3 to 5 cents a bushel, as was musty grain. Weevils in corn brought a 3 to 4 cents discount and foreign matter above 3 percent was discounted from 1 to 3 cents per percentage point at the three terminals.

At one of the markets, sour grain that showed heat damage was taking an 8 cents a bushel discount, Lutgen reported.

For grain sorghum, discounts up to 15 cents per hundredweight were applied for damaged and sour grain. Musty, weevily or discolored sorghum was discounted 5 cents at one of the terminals. Discounts for moisture were being assessed at 2 to 3 cents per quarter percent above 14 percent.

"All of this points to the need to harvest, dry and store grain properly, Lutgen said. For example, in combining corn, excess cracking could be caused by a cylinder set too close or by returning too heavy.

Although not directly related to the quality of harvested grain, Lutgen noted that with high European corn borer infestations this year, it appears that "keeping your machine right on the row is quite important, so you don't knock off ears that have been weakened by borers."

Checking grain regularly, depending on the time of year, also is essential. Knowing the condition of the grain is important in making marketing decisions, he said.

Producers always should check around when they have grain to sell, but especially so if some type of damage condition is present. In a sense, all discounts are negotiable, he said. "Often the rate of discount is related to the amount of damaged grain an elevator is getting at that time. If they're not getting much, the discount might not be so great, since the elevator can mix it with good stuff and get it back up into condition."

Often, farmers can work with the elevator if they have grain they know to be going out of condition, so they won't suffer quite as large discounts, Lutgen said. But, he added, "If grain's going out (of condition) and it won't stop by drying or moving, it's best to move it out right away."

If grain has something wrong with it which would not be affected by storage, farmers could hang onto it until the mix of damage conditions changes at the elevator, he said.

4-H'ers May Apply For Energy Grants

Nebraska 4-H'ers are invited to apply for a $25,500 grant from the Nebraska Energy Office in cooperation with the Nebraska Association for 4-H Development and the State 4-H Youth Department.

There will be 40 grants awarded, with the funds used to defray costs of materials to construct working models which exemplify a solution to the problem in production or efficient utilization of fossil fuels, solar energy or other alternate energy sources.

Grant requests should include the 4-H group name, leader or advisor, the number and age of the members, why the group is interested in the project, name of a contact person, a budget request and one or two paragraphs describing the tentative plan and the process to be used in designing, constructing and testing the model.

Model specifications include that it is built by a 4-H group effort; that the working model must not exceed dimensions of four feet deep, four feet wide and four feet high; must have a central theme related to solving an energy problem, must be safe to be on public display and have an adequate explanation provided on the working model for the viewer to understand the function, results and estimated economic impact.

All grant requests should be typed and sent to Glen Krohn, 4-H Specialist, 116 Ag Hall, ISNR UNL, Lincoln, Neb., 68583. Grant requests must be in the 4-H department on Dec. 15, 1980.

Krohn said participating groups will be asked to bring their completed model to Lincoln in late April for a special 4-H Energy Exploration Day. The exhibits will be reviewed by a panel of experts and comments given to the club members in an interview-discussion format.

"All groups and individuals participating will receive specially designed ribbons to denote involvement. A plaque will be given to the top model in each division — fossil fuels, solar energy and alternate energy sources," Krohn said.

There are two sides to every outlet.

	COAL	45%
	WATER	29%
	URANIUM	16%
	GAS/OIL DIESEL	10%

This is ours.

Actually, when it comes to electricity, you should only have to be concerned about using it efficiently. It is our concern to be sure that the power comes out of an electric outlet when you need it. However, all of us share the concern of keeping energy costs as low as practical.

So we're trying to take good care of the power on our side, generating it with the fuel mix that's currently most economical, reliable and available. And as conditions change, so does the "mix".

Today, for instance, we are continuing to reduce our dependence on such costly and unreliable sources as gas and oil, setting them aside primarily to meet reserve requirements and high summer peaks. We are utilizing more of the plentiful supplies of coal, and are continuing to rely on nuclear (uranium) and hydro (water) power.

It's our job to make sure you get the power you must have on your side of the outlet. It's your job to use it efficiently.

Wittig's IGA

Will Not Be Undersold

Every supermarket has weekly specials, and the prices on those items may be below IGA's regular shelf price... but when that happens, just follow three simple steps, and we'll SAVE YOU MONEY. It's as easy as 1-2-3.

Check all Wayne supermarket ads published this week.

2.

If you find an item with a price you like, just tear out the entire ad and take it to IGA.

3.

If our price isn't already lower than our competitor, we'll meet the price in their ad.

Legals

Deadline for all legal notices to be published by The Wayne Herald is as follows: 5 p.m. Monday for Thursday's newspaper; 5 p.m. Thursday for Sunday's newspaper.

Every government official or board that handles public moneys should publish at regular intervals a statement of how each dollar is spent. We hold this to be a fundamental principle to democratic government.

PUBLIC MEETING NOTICE
The regular meeting of the Wayne County Board will be held at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, October 24, 1980 at the Regional IV Services - Norfolk at 218 Braess Avenue, Norfolk, Nebraska.

NOTICE OF MEETING
The Wayne County Board of Commissioners will meet on Tuesday, October 21, 1980 at the Wayne County Courthouse from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. The agenda for this meeting is available for public inspection at the County Clerk's office.

WAYNE COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS
Wayne, Nebraska
October 7, 1980
The Wayne County Board of Commissioners met with all members present at the Wayne County Courthouse.

The agenda for this meeting was published in The Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper, on October 7, 1980. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The following officers reports of fees collected during the month of September and remitted to State and County Treasurers were approved as follows:
Orgratta C. Morris, County Clerk - $245.20
Donald G. Wagner, County Treasurer - $54.96
Joann Ostrander, Clerk - $179.15

The Distress Warrant Certification submitted by Leon Meyer, County Treasurer, was examined and approved.
The Quarterly Fee Report of Leon F. Meyer, County Treasurer, was examined and approved.

A motion was made by Eddie and seconded by Popshish to adopt the following Resolution:
WHEREAS, the budgets for School Districts 15, 23, 33 and 45, and for Wakefield Fire District No. 9 were submitted to the Wayne County Leveing Board before August 25, 1980, as provided by law, and

WHEREAS, the levies for the above named entities were set as follows, on September 11, 1980 by the Wayne County Leveing Board:
School District No. 15 5.00 Mills
School District No. 23 4.48 Mills
School District No. 33 11.32 Mills
School District No. 45 13.50 Mills
Wakefield Fire District No. 9 7.90 Mills

WHEREAS, due to the entities exceeding the 7% lid bill, the budgets were corrected by the Nebraska Department of Revenue, and
WHEREAS, the levies which had been adopted by the Leveing Board on Sept. 11, 1980 were amended and adopted as reads below:
School District No. 15 4.76 Mills
School District No. 23 4.27 Mills
School District No. 33 11.11 Mills
School District No. 45 10.92 Mills
Wakefield Fire District No. 9 7.00 Mills

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, the above listed entities will observe the levies as amended and approved.
Roll call vote resulted in all Ayes.
The following Resolution was adopted:
RESOLVED, that whereas the deposits of this county in Winstate State Bank do not now exceed $250,000.00, said bank is entitled to and is hereby permitted to withdraw the following securities held in escrow by Omaha National Bank Trustee to secure deposits of this county in said bank, to wit:
FEDERAL BOND $100,000.00
BOOK EVIDENCE $100,000.00
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the County Treasurer is hereby instructed that the maximum amount of deposits to which said bank is entitled is hereby reduced and that the County deposits in said bank shall not exceed the sum of $250,000.00 until additional securities, approved by this board, have been deposited with said trustee as security for county deposits.

The foregoing resolution was moved by Eddie and seconded by Popshish and on roll call the vote resulted in all Ayes.
The Board accepted the resignation of Harold Witter from the Wayne County Planning and Zoning Commission.
The quarterly number for the Federal Aid Project No. BRO 7090 (4) will be designated at the next meeting.
The request of Judge Merrill Warren for a new desk for the Conference room was discussed and tabled until a future meeting.

The Board reviewed bids for the County Wide Bridge Signing project which had been opened on September 23, 1980. It was apparent that Hall Signs, Inc. of Bloomington, Ind. had the low bid for Weight Limit Signs and that Wheeler's Sign Paper Co. of Norfolk, Nebraska had the low bid for Posts and Hardware.

Also Included Are Statements Of Explanation In Italian Prepared By The Executive Board Of The Legislative Council.

Proposed Amendment No. 1

A vote FOR this proposal will reduce the number of Supreme Court judicial districts from 6 to 3, with these to coincide with the 3 congressional districts; provide that 2 judges would be selected from each of these 3 districts; provide that any judge serving on the effective date of this amendment would continue to serve until his position became vacant for any reason; and repeat the provision for the redistricting of the former 8 Supreme Court districts following the U.S. census every 10 years.

side that 2 judges would be selected from each of these 3 districts; provide that any judge serving on the effective date of this amendment would continue to serve until his position became vacant for any reason; and repeat the provision for the redistricting of the former 8 Supreme Court districts following the U.S. census every 10 years.

A vote AGAINST this proposal will retain the present 6 Supreme Court judicial districts and the provision for redistricting of them after the U.S. census every 10 years.

"Constitutional amendment to change the number and formation of Supreme Court judicial districts.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska,

Section 1. That at the general election in November, 1980, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the following amendment to Article V, section 5, of the Constitution of Nebraska, which is hereby proposed by the Legislature:

"Sec. 5. The Legislature shall divide the state into six contiguous and compact districts of approximately equal population, which shall be numbered from one to six, and which shall be known as the Supreme Court judicial districts. The Legislature shall redistrict the state after each federal decennial census. In any such redistricting, county lines shall be followed whenever practicable, but other established lines may be followed at the discretion of the Legislature. Such districts shall correspond in location and numbers with the congressional districts of the state. An equal number of judges of the Supreme Court shall be selected from each of the districts, except that any judge serving on the effective date of this amendment may continue to serve from the district from which he was originally selected until his position becomes vacant because of retirement, resignation, death, or removal from office whether by rejection by the voters or otherwise. Such districts shall not be changed except upon the concurrence of a majority of the members of the Legislature. Whenever the Supreme Court is redistricted, the judges serving prior to the redistricting shall continue in office, and the law providing for such redistricting shall where necessary specify the newly established districts which they shall represent for the balance of their terms."

Proposed Amendment No. 2

A vote FOR this proposal will reduce the membership of the Commission on Judicial Qualifications from 11 to 10; add the sanctions of reprimand, discipline, censure and suspension of judges without pay for not to exceed 6 months to the present ones of removal or retirement; add a new ground of conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice for such sanctions; and authorize the Supreme Court to qualify a judge whenever there is pending against such judge a felony charge, and on its own motion or recommendation of the Commission remove a judge whenever such judge pleads guilty or no contest to a felony charge.

A vote AGAINST this proposal will retain the membership of the Commission on Judicial Qualifications at 11; will retain the present provisions allowing only the sanctions of removal or retirement of judges on certain grounds and not add the proposed additional sanctions listed above; will not add the additional ground for sanctions of conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice; and will not add the proposed new authority of the Supreme Court regarding the qualification or removal of judges when charged with or pleading guilty or no contest to felony charges.

"Constitutional amendment to change membership of the Commission on Judicial Qualifications and to provide additional disciplinary measures and an additional ground for discipline applicable to a Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska,

Section 1. That at the general election in November, 1980, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the following amendment to Article V, sections 28, 29 and 30 of the Constitution of Nebraska, which is hereby proposed by the Legislature:

"Sec. 28. The Legislature shall provide for a Commission on Judicial Qualifications consisting of (1) Two Judges of the Supreme Court, two judges of the various district courts, one judge of a municipal court, one judge of the Nebraska Workers' Compensation Court, and one judge of the county courts. Three judges, including one county court judge, one county court judge, and one judge of any other court inferior to the Supreme Court as now exists or may hereafter be created by law, all of whom shall be appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court; (2) two three members of the Nebraska State Bar Association who shall have practiced law in this state for at least ten years and who shall be appointed by the Executive Council of the Nebraska State Bar Association; and (3) two three citizens, neither none of whom shall be a Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or Judge of any court, active or retired, nor a member of the Nebraska State Bar Association, and who shall be appointed by the Governor; and (4) the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, who shall serve as its chairperson.

Sec. 29. The Commission on Judicial Qualifications shall select one of its members to serve as its chairman. The commission shall act by a vote of the majority of its members and no action of the commission shall be valid unless concurred in by the majority of its members.

Sec. 30. (1) A Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or Judge of any court of this state may be reprimanded, disciplined, censured, suspended without pay for a definite period of time, not to exceed six months, or removed from office for (a) willful misconduct in office, (b) willful disregard of or failure to perform his or her duties, (c) habitual intemperance, (d) conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude, or (e) disbarment as a member of the legal profession licensed to practice law in the State of Nebraska, or (f) conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice that brings the judicial office into disrepute, or he or she may be retired for physical or mental disability seriously interfering with the performance of his or her duties if such disability is determined to be permanent or reasonably likely to become permanent. Any citizen of the State of Nebraska may request the Commission on Judicial Qualifications to consider the qualifications of any Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge, and in such event, the commission shall make such investigation as the commission deems necessary and in its discretion may shall, upon a finding of probable cause, privately reprimand such Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge or order a formal open hearing to be held before it concerning the reprimand, discipline, censure, suspension, removal, or retirement of such Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge. In the alternative or in addition, the commission may request the Supreme Court to appoint one or more special masters who shall be judges of courts of record to hear and hold a formal open hearing to take evidence in any such matter, and to report to the commission. If, after formal open hearing, or after considering the record and report of the masters, the commission finds good cause therefor that the charges are established by clear and convincing evidence, it shall recommend to the Supreme Court that the Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court to be reprimanded, disciplined, censured, suspended without pay for a definite period of time not to exceed six months, removed, or retired as the case may be.

(2) The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings and in its discretion may permit the introduction of additional evidence. The Supreme Court shall make such determination as it finds just and proper. It may order the reprimand, discipline, censure, suspension, removal, or retirement of such Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge, or may wholly reject the recommendation. Upon an order for retirement, the Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge shall thereby be retired with the same rights and privileges as if he or she had retired pursuant to statute. Upon an order for removal, the Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge shall be removed from office, and his or her salary shall cease from the date of such order, and he or she shall be ineligible for judicial office. Upon an order for suspension, the Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge shall draw no salary and shall perform no judicial functions during the period of suspension. Suspension shall not create a vacancy in the office of Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge.

(3) Upon order of the Supreme Court, a Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge shall be disqualified from acting as a Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge, without loss of salary, while there is pending (a) an indictment or information charging him or her with a crime punishable as a felony under Nebraska or federal law; or (b) a recommendation to the Supreme Court by the Commission on Judicial Qualifications for his or her removal or retirement.

(4) In addition to the procedure set forth in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, on recommendation of the Commission on Judicial Qualifications or on its own motion, the Supreme Court (a) shall remove a Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge from office when in any court in the United States such Justice or Judge pleads guilty or no contest to a crime punishable as a felony under Nebraska or federal law; and (b) may suspend a Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge from office without salary when in any court in the United States such Justice or Judge is found guilty of a crime punishable as a felony under Nebraska or federal law or of any other crime that involves moral turpitude. If his or her conviction is reversed, suspension shall terminate and he or she shall be paid his or her salary for the period of suspension. If he or she is suspended and his or her conviction becomes final the Supreme Court shall remove him or her from office.

(5) All papers filed with and proceedings before the commission or masters appointed by the Supreme Court pursuant to this section prior to any formal open hearing shall be confidential, and the filing of papers with and the testimony given before the commission or masters of the Supreme Court shall be deemed a privileged communication of the Supreme Court shall by rule provide for procedure under this section before the commission, the masters, and the Supreme Court.

(6) No Justice or judge who is a member of the commission or of the Supreme Court Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge shall participate, as a member of such the commission, or as a master, or as a member of the Supreme Court, in any proceedings involving his or her own reprimand, discipline, censure, suspension, removal, or retirement.

law or (b) a recommendation to the Supreme Court by the Commission on Judicial Qualifications for his or her removal or retirement.

(4) In addition to the procedure set forth in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, on recommendation of the Commission on Judicial Qualifications or on its own motion, the Supreme Court (a) shall remove a Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge from office when in any court in the United States such Justice or Judge pleads guilty or no contest to a crime punishable as a felony under Nebraska or federal law; and (b) may suspend a Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge from office without salary when in any court in the United States such Justice or Judge is found guilty of a crime punishable as a felony under Nebraska or federal law or of any other crime that involves moral turpitude. If his or her conviction is reversed, suspension shall terminate and he or she shall be paid his or her salary for the period of suspension. If he or she is suspended and his or her conviction becomes final the Supreme Court shall remove him or her from office.

(5) All papers filed with and proceedings before the commission or masters appointed by the Supreme Court pursuant to this section prior to any formal open hearing shall be confidential, and the filing of papers with and the testimony given before the commission or masters of the Supreme Court shall be deemed a privileged communication of the Supreme Court shall by rule provide for procedure under this section before the commission, the masters, and the Supreme Court.

(6) No Justice or judge who is a member of the commission or of the Supreme Court Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge shall participate, as a member of such the commission, or as a master, or as a member of the Supreme Court, in any proceedings involving his or her own reprimand, discipline, censure, suspension, removal, or retirement.

Proposed Amendment No. 3

A vote FOR this proposal will authorize the Legislature to enact legislation providing that the increased value of real property resulting from improvements designed primarily for energy conservation may be exempt from taxation, such exemption to be upon any terms, considerations and restrictions prescribed by the Legislature.

A vote AGAINST this proposal will not authorize the Legislature to enact legislation of any kind providing that the increased value of real property resulting from improvements designed primarily for energy conservation may be exempt from taxation.

"A constitutional amendment to authorize the Legislature to provide a tax exemption on energy conservation improvements as prescribed.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska,

Section 1. That at the general election in November, 1980, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the following amendment to Article VII, section 2, of the Constitution of Nebraska, which is hereby proposed by the Legislature:

"Sec. 2. The property of the state and its governmental subdivisions shall be exempt from taxation. The Legislature by general law may exempt property owned by and used exclusively for agricultural and horticultural societies, and property owned and used exclusively for educational, religious, charitable, or cemetery purposes, when such property is not owned or used for financial gain or profit to either the owner or user. Household goods and personal effects, as defined by law, may be exempt from taxation in whole or in part, as may be provided by general law, and the Legislature may prescribe a formula for the determination of value of household goods and personal effects. The Legislature by general law may provide that the increased value of land by reason of shade or ornamental trees planted along the highway shall not be taken into account in the assessment of such land. The Legislature by general law and upon any terms, conditions, and restrictions it prescribes, may provide that the increased value of real property resulting from improvements designed primarily for energy conservation may be exempt from taxation. The value of a home substantially contributed by the Veterans Administration of the United States for a paraplegic veteran or multiple amputee shall be exempt from taxation during the life of such veteran or until the death of his widow or her remarriage. The Legislature may exempt from an intangible property tax life insurance and insurance annuity contracts, and any payment connected therewith and any right to pension or retirement payments. The Legislature may exempt from taxation in such manner as it sees fit, and may exempt any of such classes, or may exempt all personal property from taxation. No property shall be exempt from taxation except as provided in the Constitution. The Legislature may by general law provide that a portion of the value of any residence actually occupied as a home by any class of owners as determined by the Legislature shall be exempt from taxation."

Proposed Amendment No. 4

A vote FOR this proposal would provide that the Legislature shall enact a method of financing public education which would meet the state's responsibility to provide maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of common schools, which method shall not rely on property taxes to the extent that an unfair and excessive burden is imposed on property owners.

A vote AGAINST this proposal would not add to the constitution the above mandate to the Legislature relative to the enactment of a plan for the financing of public education in the state.

"Constitutional amendment to provide that the Legislature enact a method of financing public education which does not impose an unfair and excessive property tax burden.

LWML Sunday Observed at St. Paul's

"Sow the Seed, Share God's Love," was the theme of LWML Sunday worship services Oct. 12 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Gilmore Sals, local Christian growth leader, distributed special leaflets at the service. A new banner for the church proper was made by Mrs. Arthur Cook.

The Rev. Fredrick Cook of Laurel was in charge of the invocation and delivered the morning message. A chancel drama, entitled "The Good Samaritan," was presented by Mrs. Gilmore Sals, Mrs. Arthur Cook, Mrs. Lumir Buresh and Mrs. Murray Leicy. Narrating the drama was Mrs. Arnold Junck.

Sunday school youngsters, led by Mrs. Dennis Rohde, sang "Father, Abraham" and "Walking and Talking and Prais-ing God."

The service closed with prayer and a hymn accompanied by Mrs. Edward Fork.

Following the service, breakfast was served to about 65 persons in the church fellowship hall. The breakfast was sponsored by the Ladies Aid and LWML.

Pastor Fredricksen served St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Carroll from 1934 to 1946.

Skating Party
All Faith Youth are planning a roller skating party at the Wakefield Recreation Center Thursday evening, Oct. 23.

The group met Oct. 8 at the Methodist Church with 13 members present. The Rev. Kenneth Edmonds had the opening prayer and presented the lesson, entitled "What the Bible Is."

Mrs. Randy Schlus served lunch.

The Rev. Gail Axen will be a guest at the next regular meeting, scheduled Oct. 22.

Fork Honored
Edward Fork observed his birthday last Thursday evening.

Guests in the Fork home included Gladys Fork of Sioux City, the Pete Vollersons, the Ernest Forks and Ed Gadeken and Renee, all of Laurel; the Kenneth Dunklaus of Wayne; and the Lonnie Forks, Angela, Kimberly, Jennifer and Tamara.

Senior Citizens
Carroll Senior Citizens met for crafts and cards last Friday afternoon. On Thursday, Kay Giltner of Norfolk assisted with painting.

Bingo furnished entertainment Oct. 7, with prizes going to Mrs. Ruby Duncan, Mrs. Louise Boyce and Mrs. Emil Hank.

Harry Hofeldt, Louise Ambroz, Mrs. Christine Cook and Mrs. Bertha Isom were winners at cards following a potluck dinner Oct. 6 at the Senior Citizens Center.

Allen FFA Selling Fruit

The Future Farmers of America (FFA) chapter at Allen High School began their fruit sales last week.

Members are taking orders, with delivery expected the second week in December.

Prices are $16 for a 40-lb. box of Red Delicious extra fancy apples, containing 125 apples per box; $12 for a box of grapefruit, including about 36 Florida grapefruit per box; and $12 for a box of about 75 Florida naval oranges.

Customers also may order a box of half apples and half grapefruit for $14; a box of half apples and half oranges for $14; or a box of half grapefruit and half oranges for $12.

Cost of a box containing one-third each of apples, oranges and grapefruit is $14.

FFA's also are selling gift boxes of cheeses, which arrive in white postal mailer cartons. There are four gift selections.

Persons who have not been contacted and wish to order fruit or cheese can do so by contacting any FFA member.

Bazaar Stated

Allen United Methodist Women are planning a craft bazaar and bake sale this Friday at the church, beginning at 1 p.m. A supper of chicken and biscuits will be served from 5 to 8 p.m.

The supper precedes the Allen-Homer football game. Tickets for the supper are on sale from any Methodist Woman at a cost of $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children five through 12 years of age. Children under five can eat free.

The ticket price is for all you can eat.

Hansen is First

Dave Hansen won first place from among 55 senior individuals participating in the District Future Farmers of America Dairy Judging contest at Blair last Tuesday.

Hansen received a first place trophy and a purple ribbon.

Also receiving a purple ribbon was Bruce Malcom, who placed 11th out of the 55 senior individuals.

Jeff McAfee placed in the blue ribbon senior group and Pat Onderstal placed in the red ribbon senior group.

The senior team of Hansen, Malcom, McAfee and Onderstal placed second out of 14 teams, and the junior team of Kevin Chase, Jody Jones, Rick Boyle and Keith Karlberg placed in the red ribbon group.

Individual placings were as follows: Keith Karlberg, blue; Kevin Chase, blue; Rick Boyle, red; and Jody Jones, red.

Male in Female Dorm Is 'Friend'

Mark Reinders of Curlew, Iowa, is the only man around the house at Nelhardt Hall.

Reinders had some doubts about living with 115 women when he became resident director at WSC in August.

"But when the girls found out I could hammer nails and hang pictures, I was everybody's 'friend,'" he said with a smile.

Reinders credits part of his acceptance as the first male director of a women's dorm at Wayne and one of the few in the state, to his wife, the former Judy Lubben.

"It was an asset for me to be married. I'm sure that was a definite factor in my getting the job," he said. She had lived in the hall last year.

After graduating last May from Wayne State with an English major, Reinders is now studying towards an additional major in journalism.

"We had looked upon this job as just an intermediate thing, but it has proved so satisfying to both of us that we are having second thoughts about moving away at the end of the year when Judy graduates and my classes are completed," he said.

Three semesters as editor of the Wayne Stater while an undergraduate student, Reinders worked at The Wayne Herald this summer and added photography to the skills he hopes will enable him to find career newspaper work in Lincoln or somewhere in Colorado.

Because he likes to inject personal opinions into his writing, Reinders would prefer to be a columnist. He has high regard for Jack Anderson and Peter Citron.

Reinders also enjoys movies and thinks being a movie critic for a newspaper would be "the ideal job."

Reinders is concerned for the safety and security of the women in Nelhardt and like the father of any teen-age daughter, sleeps with "one ear open," listening for signs of any disturbance from within or without the building.

Last year, Reinders was a resident assistant on a men's floor of a co-ed dorm. "I never thought I would admit it," he said with a grin, "but women are easier to work with than men."

Janine Thull, a farm girl from Kewaskum, Wis., who is learning to call "bubblers" water fountains and to drive on unpaved Nebraska roads, is the new resident director of Anderson Hall.

Coming from a family of five brothers and four sisters, Thull welcomes the activity and "superintendence" of the campus and finds her life at Wayne more diverse than at Lakeland College in Sheboygan, Wis. She graduated from there last May with a bachelor's degree in sociology and behavioral science.

In her first job, which she read about in a placement magazine, Thull is putting the knowledge she acquired in undergraduate school to practical use. "But I never realized the problems I studied about in books would be so much different from the actual situations," she said.

Excited by challenges of her position and by a desire to correlate practical experience with more education, she has enrolled in a graduate course in counselor education at Wayne State.

She enjoys living and working in the attractive apartment on Anderson's first floor provided for her as a part of her salary. "My home is my work and my work is my home," she says proudly. "I have no office and no office hours." She maintains a true "open door" policy and students are encouraged to come in with their questions, watch TV or just visit at any time.

As resident director, Thull is responsible for the security and concerns of students living in the hall. "Even if they don't believe it, I am personally interested in every one of the 100 girls in Anderson and each is a unique individual to me," she said.

New School Lunch Rules To Identify, Correct System

A comprehensive management system for identifying and correcting problems in local school feeding programs will take effect Jan. 1, according to Carol Tucker Foreman, assistant secretary for the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

Regulations issued by USDA establish new requirements for state reviews of lunch programs, actions to remedy problems found by reviewers and plans for recovering federal funds misspent in the program.

"This new system is designed both to improve administration of the program and make certain that all required components of school meals are being served to children," Foreman said.

Audits conducted by USDA and the General Accounting Office in recent years revealed weaknesses in state and local management of school lunch programs.

Some of the deficiencies cited were inadequate procedures for reviewing student applications for free and reduced price meals, errors in counting, claiming and costing of meals served; and lack of compliance with federal standards regarding meal components.

The new regulations require states to monitor school lunch programs by conducting on-site reviews to determine compliance with national standards.

States may select one of three systems for monitoring the lunch program under the new rules. The three options include an audit system, a review system or a combination of audits and reviews. Each system requires on-site evaluations of school programs.

However, requirements vary with each system regarding frequency of visits and actions taken regarding deficiencies.

"In providing three options for states, we are attempting to provide them flexibility to do the best possible job," said Foreman.

This flexibility is provided to states as a result of comments received on proposed regulations issued last year. Commentors, representing local and state officials, school administrators, school food service workers and parents, emphasized differences in problems and resources from state to state.

An additional $4 million in federal funds are being provided to states to offset expenses for monitoring responsibilities.

Currently, 27 million children receive meals in 95,000 schools through the national school lunch program at a federal cost of $3 billion a year. Schools and states file claims for federal money based on the number of free, reduced price and paid meals they serve that meet federal standards.

SSI Recipients Should Report Important Events

People who receive social security benefits have the important responsibility to report events to the Social Security Administration that could affect payment of those benefits. Dale Branch, social security district manager in Norfolk, said recently:

Failure to report could mean that a needed check might not arrive on time, or it could result in an overpayment a person can not afford to repay, Branch said.

Things everyone needs to report are:

- Change of mailing address, even if the person's checks are deposited directly into a checking or savings account;
- Earnings of more than the 1980 annual limit — $5,000 for people 65 and over and $3,720 for people under 65;
- If the person goes outside the U.S. for 30 days or more;
- If the person works outside the U.S.

Things disabled people must report:

- Any improvement in condition;
- Any work;
- Receipt of, or change in the amount of, workers' compensation;
- Things dependents or survivors must report;
- Divorce or annulment;
- Marriage;
- Adoption of child;
- Child leaves care of wife, husband, widow, or widower;
- Child nearing 18 is full-time student.

Someone should report for a beneficiary if:

- A person is unable to manage funds;
- A person getting benefits dies.

More information about these events can be obtained at the Norfolk social security office, located at 1310 Norfolk Ave. The telephone number is 1-800-442-8310.
