'Dr. Walter' Group Promises Memorable Event

The committee for Dr. Walter Benthack's Golden Anniversary Banquet promises attendees a most memorable evening Saturday (Oct. 25), according to spokesman Gary Van Meter, Chamber of Commerce manager.

THE COMMITTEE has strived to produce something more than "just another banquet" with a "mellow roast" of the Man of the Hour, Dr. Walter Benthack, Van Meter said.

Among some of the more humorous anecdotes to be delivered will be Mayor Wayne Marsh's recollection of minor surgery years ago performed years ago by "Dr. Walter" without the aid of anesthetic.

"His only anesthetic," recalls Marsh, "was Harry Manning holding my legs while I was flat on my stomach."

DR. ALISTAIR Connell, dean of the University of Nebraska Medical Center, and Dr. R. L. Gortly, president of the Nebraska Medical Association, will cast some humorous light on Dr. Benthack's contributions to medicine over the past 50 years, the Chamber manager said.

Freeman Decker, long-time acquaintance of the Benthacks, will have a bag full of anecdotes regarding the doctor's treatment of his family and others as he recalls them.

And, Van Meter added, Lyle Seymour will recall Dr. Walter's tenure on the college board of trustees from 1937 to 1945.

SEYMOUR remembers that during the war years as men were enlisting, college enrollment took a sharp drop. In an effort to counter this, the trustees invited the Army to set up its training and barracks on campus. While not sure what real improvement this action had on enrollment, Dr. Walter was sure that the coeds were at least happy with the decision.

Several other speakers will be on hand to recall these moments and many more to make the evening a memorable event for all, Van Meter explained.

In addition, a giant greeting card will be presented to Dr. Walter, with signatures from everyone buying a ticket to the event. Several awards and other recognition will be presented during the evening program.

VAN METER urged that all tickets be purchased by Thursday — Oct. 23 — the last day they will be available. No general admission tickets will be sold.

To refresh the memories of some and to educate others, it was April 5, 1942, when the new Benthack Hospital held its open house on Pearl Street in what is now the City Hall.

A news article of the time said that "throughout the hospital building and equipment, every effort has been made to provide every convenience and comfort for the patients."

THE HOSPITAL was billed as "probably the finest of its size in the Midwest." An editorial said the following:

"Throughout this section will be found many congratulatory messages, evidence that Dr. Benthack's friends and neighbors realize what his new hospital means to Wayne and are deeply appreciative of this stride forward in Wayne's parade of progress."

Another article went on to say that "Dr. Benthack received his medical degree at the University of Nebraska in 1924. He interned at the Clarkson Hospital at Omaha and practiced for four years at Pierce before moving to Wayne in the summer of 1930. Soon after moving here, he opened his first Benthack hospital, just across the street east of the site of his new hospital.

"It was only a five-bed hospital and the building was sold to Ed Seymour when Dr. Benthack purchased the John T. Bressler property at 320 Lincoln St. and converted it into a 10-bed hospital.

"Dr. Benthack remodeled the old Bressler home and converted it into a hospital which will serve him until the first of next week following open house when equipment and furnishings will be moved to his new, larger and far better equipped hospital."

Tickets to the Benthack mellow roast are available at either bank in Wayne.

United Way Past 66% of Its Goal

The United Way Fund Drive in Wayne passed the halfway mark Friday noon and board members are optimistic that this year goal of $15,500 will be reached if not surpassed.

THE United Way board of directors has scheduled a meeting Friday noon, Oct. 24, at the Black Knight, at which time board members hope to begin winding up the campaign.

CONTRIBUTIONS Friday amounted to $10,282. That sum is 66 percent of the goal, according to Marilyn Carhart, United Way secretary.

Mrs. Carhart said several cards are still out and volunteers are continuing their door-to-door solicitations. An all-school dance has been scheduled Nov. 14 at Wayne Carroll High School to involve students in the United Way campaign. All proceeds from the dance will go to the Community Chest fund.

RESIDENTS are asked to remember when making their contributions that much of the money collected during the yearly United Way Fund Drive stays in Wayne, with $4,325 going to the Wayne Recreation Program.

The Wayne Recreation Association activity list is long, including football for boys, basketball for boys, girls and men, baseball for pee wee through midget boys, softball for girls, golf, tennis, swimming, wrestling and volleyball.

Although Hank Overin directs most of the sport activities, association directors and volunteers provide leadership in many other activities — especially the summer park recreation program which attracts hundreds of youngsters.

THE WAYNE Senior Citizens Center also receives support from the United Way Fund. They are asking for the same amount they received last year, $900.

Mrs. Joceli Bull, center director, said senior citizens plan to use the money to dry clean drapes at the center, calk cracks in the floor covering and paint walls, along with many other fix-up chores.

OTHER AGENCIES supported by the local United Way Drive are the Mid-America Council of Boy Scouts, $3,600; Prairie Hills Council of Girl Scouts, $3,000; Salvation Army, $850; Arthritis Foundation, $1,150; Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, $300; Florence Criffenton Home of Sioux City, $275; and American Red Cross, $200.

The United Way board of directors budgeted $1,000 for a contingency fund and administration of the campaign.

DRIVE CHAIRMAN this year is Grant Ellington. He is being assisted by Dan Field.

Members of the board of directors are Pat Gross, president, Wilma Moore, Ed Carroll, Fred Webber, Randy Pederson, Vaughn Benson, Sheryl Jordan, LaVon Beckman, Merle Rise, Verneal Ellington, Cap Peterson and Doug Sturm.

RESIDENTS can monitor the success of the drive by watching a gaudy "thermometer" located on the corner of Seventh and Main Streets. The thermometer was erected to help keep track of the progress of the drive.

A narrated slide presentation of the agencies supported by the Community Chest is available to civic organizations and clubs in Wayne. Clubs who would like to view the slides are asked to contact Gross.

THE UNITED WAY goal of $15,500 is nearer after money was totaled Friday noon at a meeting of the Community Chest. The sign, which helps the public keep tabs on the fund's growth, is located at Seventh and Main Streets.

Von Minden Issues Challenge

As a direct result of the Monday, Oct. 12, forum here involving State Senate candidate Gerald Conway and Merle Von Minden, a challenge has been issued to Conway.

JOHN KINGSBURY, Ponca, campaign chairman for Von Minden, has challenged Conway to "tell the voters where he expects to raise the $5,000 or $6,000 he said he plans to spend in the general election."

At the Wayne Jaycee-sponsored forum, "Mr. Conway attempted to discredit Merle Von Minden's campaign for our contributions from commerce, business and agriculture, calling them big business or outside interests," Kingsbury said.

"I hardly believe the grain dealers or the car or implement dealers of Northeast Nebraska will appreciate Mr. Conway calling them outside special interests," he added.

KINGSBURY'S comments stem from charges by Conway that one-sixth of Von Minden's campaign contributions have been from big oil companies. Under questioning from the audience, Conway and Von Minden both said they plan to budget between $5,000 and $6,000 for their respective campaigns.

"The issue clearly is one where business and agriculture are supporting Merle Von Minden while Mr. Conway has not told the whole story as to where his money will come from. He told the forum in Wayne he has received about $900 dollars, but plans to spend $5,000 or so. I challenge him to tell the voters where the remainder will come from," the Ponca banker said.

"WE KNOW the Nebraska State Education Association is the single biggest contributor to his campaign to date. We also know he has the endorsement of the AFL CIO and more money available from the NSEA if he wants it," Kingsbury pointed out.

"If he chooses to compare our business and farm support with the NSEA or the $250 he received from the public employees political action committee, we will be glad to let the voters determine which interests best represent the people of Northeast Nebraska."

"But to call Merle's contributors outside interests is a slap in the face to a lot of their members here in Northeast Nebraska," Kingsbury said.

"WE HAVE NOT attempted to hide our contributions from business, farm and free enterprise associations until the last minute. We are proud to have these groups taking a position in this race."

"As retiring Senator (John R.) Murphy pointed out, this is not a race of personalities. It is a race of philosophy. I will be glad to compare our philosophical support against Mr. Conway's if he will only tell the voters where his money will come from before the election.

"The voters have a right to know and we have not attempted to stall our contributions from farm and business until the reporting deadlines which follow the election," Kingsbury said.

DURING THE forum, Conway admitted the NSEA will provide funding if needed. According to the State Accountability Commission, Conway received $1,500 from the NSEA Commitment to Representative Government group during the primary election campaign last spring.

Under state law, candidates must make three campaign contribution reports for both the primary and general elections.

The only contribution for the Conway campaign during the primary election was the $1,500. There were no reported contributions for Von Minden since he did not form an election committee until after the primary. Kingsbury said Von Minden did not want to form a committee until he was sure he would be a candidate in the General Election.

FOR THE general election campaign and as of Sept. 30, Conway had reported total contributions of $1,412 while Von Minden has reported contributions of $5,710, according to the Accountability Commission.

Conway's total consists of $250 from the Nebraska Political Action Committee, $200 from the Nebraska Realtors (PAC) Political Action Committee and $125 from O'Hara & Associates of Lincoln. The remainder of his contributions are gifts of $100 or less.

VON MINDEN'S camp has received $500 from Iowa Beef Processor's Inc., Dakota City.

Garbage Ordinance Talks Continue

The saga of Wayne's garbage continues. A committee of Council members, the Class A garbage haulers and city officials met Wednesday night in an attempt to resolve differences involving new garbage regulations.

ALTHOUGH no action was taken, each of the four demands by Class A haulers Frank Mrsny and Vern Russell was reviewed and discussed.

The central issues involve the hours that the transfer station are open, a permit fee of $10 charged to out-of-towners for using the station, whether or not the transfer station should be closed on holidays and changing the garbage rates to provide more equity between haulers and general customers.

Because the meeting was billed as informal, the committee was unable to take any actions and will report to the City Council at a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night at the City Hall.

THE CLASS A haulers refused Monday morning, Oct. 12, to haul garbage until the Council met four demands. In a regular meeting Tuesday, the Council agreed to talk with the haulers if they would resume garbage pickup here.

The Council has stood firm on its refusal to amend any of the ordinance, but has indicated it would consider some adjustments in other areas that might reduce expenses of the haulers.

Russell and Mrsny have maintained that the city is discriminating against the haulers because the haulers are charged $3.27 per cubic yard for garbage and residents are charged $2.50 per cubic yard.

HOWEVER, the Council argues that a cubic yard of garbage compacted by the garbage trucks contains several cubic yards of uncompacted garbage.

Russell and Mrsny want the transfer station to be open on all holidays so they can dump their loads. The haulers work on all holidays except Christmas and say that closing the transfer station will disrupt their pickup cycle.

Mrsny and Russell also say they transfer station should remain open "because it always has been."

THE COUNCIL pointed out, however, that Wayne is the only Class A city that opens its transfer station on holidays. Others close their for obvious economic reasons, the Council explained. The meeting lasted until after 10 p.m.

Nebraska 2000 Announces More Workers

Sheryl Marra, Wayne, the district coordinator for the pilot meeting of Nebraska 2000, has announced several area workers for the district meeting in Wayne Nov. 3 and a location. The announcements were made at a Thursday afternoon press conference at Wayne State College.

THE TOWNHALL-type meeting will be held from approximately 7 to 9 p.m. Monday, Nov. 3, in the Wayne State College Student Center.

Group leaders for the pilot meeting, representing Legislative District 17, include the following:

Wayne County — Mary Edmonds, minister's wife; Joe Claybaugh, farmer; Jack Middendorf, Wayne State College librarian; Donna Hansen, farm wife; Jay O'Leary, WSC music professor; and Sheryl Jordan, WSC business woman.

DAKOTA COUNTY — John McNell, Chamber of Commerce manager; Bob Wetland, real estate agent; Lance Hedquist, transportation director; Dennis Gann, former city administrator.

Dixon County — Earl Rowland, farmer and stabilization association president;

Fred Page, Waterbury mayor; Nile Buch, Ponca minister.

Assisting Mrs. Marra as county coordinators are Henry Trysla for Dakota County and John Kingsbury of Dixon County.

"EVERYONE with an interest in the future of the state and their community is encouraged to attend the Nov. 3 meeting," Mrs. Marra said. "So many people complain about government...this is their opportunity to have input into the future plans for Nebraska."

Nebraska 2000 is Gov. Charles Thone's long-range planning project. Its purpose is to involve citizens of the state in charting the course Nebraska should take in heading into the year 2000, explained 2000 co-chairman Alan Cramer of Wayne.

A committee was formed several months ago and identified 14 areas for citizen study. These include water, housing, food, health care, protection, education, transportation, environment, cultural enhancement, energy, recreation, human services, economic development and government.

SOME 80 trade and industrial organizations were invited to a briefing held last month to acquaint each with the project and to solicit their input and support through their newsletters and other communications, Cramer explained.

"Citizen involvement is the watchword for this project," he added. "One person can make a difference. This is your chance for involvement, this is your chance to be heard."

The basic format is that as citizens arrive for the meeting, each will be asked to join one of the 14 groups. A workbook with questionnaires pertaining to the individual category will be provided each attendee. Each participant will be asked to answer the questionnaire and group discussion will follow.

In addition, questionnaires will be available in all categories so citizens can address and have input into areas where they have special personal interest even though they may have participated in a different category for group discussion, Cramer explained.

AFTER NEBRASKA 2000 meetings have been held in each of the 49 state legislative districts, a Governor's Conference will be held next June in Lincoln. After that conference, a compilation of all the data gathered will be made and a final document published.

"This document will contain concrete recommendations to the Legislature and Governor for action to guide Nebraska into the year 2000," Cramer said.

The co-chairman explained that he does not anticipate any state money for support of the project. To date, the Department of Economic Development has provided $2,500 and a Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) grant is paying for staff personnel.

VARIOUS foundations have been contacted for their financial support as well, Cramer said at the press conference.

Mrs. Marra said she encourages younger people to become involved in the district meetings since they will be in the prime of their productivity when the Nebraska 2000 ideas are being implemented.

Cramer also announced that district Nebraska 2000 meetings will be held Nov. 19 in Hartington for District 19; Nov. 20 in Norfolk for District 21 and Nov. 21 in Blair for District 16.

DISTRICT 17 State Sen. John R. (Bob) Murphy and co-chairmen Lt. Gov. Roland Luedtke and Cramer will open the Nov. 3 meeting in Wayne.

Wayne RES is State Leader

The Wayne Rural Employment Service was the leader among nine state RES programs in its ratio of job openings to placements.

Marlin Kinney, field representative for the Nebraska Farmer's Union, announced Friday that the Wayne office had 186 job openings and placed 142. This, he said, was higher than any of the other offices.

KINNEY SAID "the Wayne office really shined" in that area. He also noted that the Wayne RES office placed second statewide in the total number of placements made during the fiscal year ending Sept. 30.

While the Wayne office was in operation in only 11 of the 12 fiscal months, the unit was able to place 142 workers into the working sector.

Schuyler was the leader with 219 placements and Wayne was next with 142 placements.

THE WAYNE RES office was started just more than a year ago under sponsorship of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce. Persons interested in working or employers seeking new employees are urged to contact Kathy Hufmann at 373-2240.

OBITUARIES

Theodore R. Gunnarson

Services for Theodore R. Gunnarson, 76, were held Tuesday, Oct. 14, from Evangelical Free Church, the Rev. John Westerholm officiating. Burial was in Concord Cemetery. Mr. Gunnarson was born Jan. 3, 1903, in Cedar County, to Carl and Johanna (Nelson) Gunnarson, and died Oct. 10 at Wakefield. On Oct. 11, 1935, he married Ida Forsberg. The couple farmed on the home farm southwest of Concord until retiring several years ago. He was a member of the Evangelical Free Church in Concord. Mr. Gunnarson was preceded in death by his parents, his wife, two brothers and two sisters. He is survived by one son, Theodore Gunnarson Jr., of Wayne; one daughter, Mrs. William (Sharon) Corbit of Wayne; and seven grandchildren.

Sheriff's Log

Wayne Sheriff's Department reports a pair of accidents recently, one of which resulted in minor injuries.

A mishap about 8:45 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 9, five miles east and one-half mile north of Wayne injured two women slightly.

Treated for minor back injuries were Jodi L. Greve, 17, Wakefield, and a passenger in her car, Coleen Neuhaus, 17, also of Wakefield.

According to the sheriff's report, the Greve car was southbound on a county road when it went out of control on loose gravel. The car hit a bridge and pole and rolled onto its top.

The other accident was reported about 2:30 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 11, about 3 1/2 miles south of Winside on U.S. 35.

According to the report, Dennis D. Carroll, 19, Wayne, fell asleep and lost control of the car which ended up in a cornfield. He was not injured.

Accident

Knocks Out

Power Friday

A car accident early Friday morning about one-half mile south of Wakefield resulted in a power outage over four counties.

Power was out in Wayne and Wakefield and rural areas around Wayne, Wakefield and Emerson for less than an hour shortly after midnight Thursday.

Reports indicate a car driven by Steve Anderson of Wakefield struck a guide wire on a transmission line pole. The wire snapped and hit the power line which caused a short in the line that serves the four county area of Wayne, Dakota, Dixon and Thurston.

Power was out 30 minutes in Wayne and about 45 minutes in the rural areas.

You Better Learn It Our Way... Or Else

Richard L. Leshor, President
Chamber of Commerce of the United States

Ask American parents what they want most for their children and invariably they will reply — a good education. The reason seems clear.

Throughout our history, the nation's classrooms have served both as a melting pot for newly-arriving groups eager to be assimilated into our culture, and as an important source of self-improvement, and thus, new opportunity, for anyone anxious to climb the ladder of upward mobility in hopes of ultimately realizing the great American dream.

Lately, however, parents have come to realize that money and personal sacrifices do not necessarily guarantee better learning. During the past decade, they've seen the federal government dictating more and more about what, where, and how their children will be educated. But even as government's involvement grows and its expenditures on education soar to new highs each year, they've also seen pupil achievement test scores declining all over the country. In fact, at the rate things are going, it won't be long before B.A. stands not for a Bachelor of Arts, but for Barely Able.

Parents are reacting to this problem in a way that testifies to their own good judgment. They want more autonomy returned to their local school districts, and they want to see greater emphasis placed on teaching basic skills again, as well as respect for authority and discipline. Predictably, Washington resists this idea with a vengeance. Here, as always, the attitude seems to be: "We have failed. Let us continue."

For example, last year many warned that creation of the giant $14.5 billion, 16,000 employee Department of Education would be a disastrous mistake. Why? Because it would finalize the shift in emphasis from supporting local school districts to establishing and implementing a national educational policy directed by Big Brother. The bureaucrats pooh poohed these protests, but look what's happening now.

The Department of Education recently issued a 25 page set of regulations that tells local school districts what they must do — or else — to instruct the some 800,000 children of foreign extraction who lack fluency in English. The regulations would require that schools with 25 or more limited English proficient students teach basic courses in their native languages as well as English. Any school district refusing to comply could be punished by a cut-off in federal funds.

The impact of this proposal would be absolutely devastating to local schools. In terms of dollars and cents, it could dump at least $400 million in new costs on already over-burdened municipalities. But even that number doesn't tell the story. Just imagine, for instance, the difficulty local school districts will have trying to locate and pay all the new instructors to teach algebra and history courses not just in French, German or Spanish, but in lesser spoken Asian and African languages as well. In some school districts around the country, more than 60 languages are spoken by foreign students... Mon Dieu... Quel cauchemar!

What's worse, the proposal would inflict further harm on the quality of education at the very time parents are urging schools to improve their instruction by reemphasizing the teaching of basic scholastic skills. Since society's resources are limited, and the proposed regulations are mandatory, something would have to give. That something would probably be the traditional courses offered in English to all students.

The Department of Education claims that in fashioning its regulations, it relied heavily on the advice of educational experts. To date, however, it has refused to publicize either names or evidence supporting its position. Little wonder then that Emlyn Griffith, president of the National Association of State Boards of Education, has warned:

"Our overriding concern is that (the proposal) seeks for the first time in American history, to create a federal requirement telling schools everywhere how they must teach students. We can scarcely imagine a more profound threat to our richly diverse education system than a federal attempt to order the nation's 16,000 school districts to adopt a particular way of teaching, to mandate conformity in place of the plurality which has been the mainstay of American education."

Finally, think of the potentially tragic consequences the proposal could have for our entire society. What was it, after all, that made America so great, so unique? Was it not precisely the desire by millions of people from different backgrounds to join together in communities linked by a common culture and shared values? Yet, here suddenly is the federal government, barging in, and practically mandating every splinter group to ignore the community, stay apart and do its own thing. In reinforcing this native language dependency then, the government could actually give us the worst of both worlds: By denying access to common language it will limit opportunities for and delay assimilation of foreign students; and, by fostering the fragmentation of America, it will weaken the links of our common culture.

Maybe, just once, the public will get mad enough to let its representatives in Washington know this is one "reform" it would rather do without.

Two of my favorite subjects — as they are with anybody nowadays — are garbage and politics.

Don't misunderstand me. They aren't my favorites by virtue of choice, but because they both persist in making headlines.

Putting the two topics in the same sentence could easily infer a similarity between them. But out of respect for area politicians — and the garbage haulers — we'll try, with a certain amount of restraint, to keep them on separate turf.

The dilemma of which is more important is a problem. Wayne's garbage is more important to many because it's a subject that reeks of special interest pressure. But others could argue that politics reek, too, so where does one start? My, my. Such a problem to have.

By drawing straws, however, politics gets the nod.

We have a hot race shaping up here in District 17 between Wayne's own Jerry (I can do better) Conway and Allen's Merle (I want local control) Von Minden.

It was a mundane campaign until last week. Each candidate was plodding along, talking to groups which each candidate felt would benefit his campaign most. There was the Senior Citizens for Conway, the Veterans of Foreign War for Von Minden.

Neither was making any brash promises or campaign statements. It was just a nice, dull campaign.

As usual in a non-partisan race, voters are taking sides according to political affiliation. Although some voters maintain that using a party affiliation on campaign literature is unethical, it's being done in the campaign for District 17 State Senator.

On the other hand, many of those complaining are well aware that Republicans have the majority of registered voters in the district and that provides an automatic advantage for the GOP.

There is a large slate of voters concerned about sending another educator to Lincoln to represent a farm-oriented district. At last count, there are four educators in the State Senate now, trying to influence the other 45 senators. With that type of ratio, I'm concerned.

A voter who votes against someone because he is an educator or because he is a Democrat or Republican is a voter of narrow vision.

The race for Senator Murphy's chair in Lincoln flared up last week because the candidates are having difficulty convincing the voters there is any real appreciable difference between them.

The steam began to rise when Conway listed Von Minden's campaign contributions after Von Minden said he didn't know who they were.

Mark up a political boo boo for Von Minden.

But Conway's ploy wasn't much better since he charged that one-sixth of Von Minden's campaign contributions are from big oil companies.

There is sound argument that the Nebraska Petroleum Council and the Nebraska Amoco Political Action Council are hardly big oil interests.

Local service station owners like Bob Merchant or Eldon Barelmah or Swede Frederickson need to be represented in Lincoln just as the Wayne Herald is represented by the Nebraska Press Association.

What we're saying is this. We hope voters will look past these smoke screens that candidates sometimes use to divert attention away from the issues. Judge the candidate by his philosophy and his ability to communicate, not whether he is an educator or a Republican.

And now, onward and upward to garbage.

Look at it this way. How would the public react if Mike Perry-Chevrolet — a private enterprise business just like the Class A haulers — refused to service the city's vehicles because Mike Perry didn't like the city's bid specifications on police cruisers?

Or let's say, Bruce Gilmore & Associates, the city's engineering firm, threatened to stop working for the city unless the city revamped the recent conflict-of-interest ordinance?

I know what that answer would be. Tough cookie!

Then why is the city fooling around so long with Mrs. Sanitation and Wayne Refuse? Because the subject is garbage, and as noted last week, that is a tangible item. Nobody wants their garbage to get any deeper.

I still believe it is sad when a private business is run so inefficiently that it must coerce the city into bending its rules to make the business more efficient.

The Class A haulers will tell me I don't know what I'm talking about because I'm not in the garbage business. Fine. They aren't in the business of running city government, but they certainly are trying their hand at it.

I still maintain that the city of Wayne should not set a precedent by allowing a private enterprise to set the rules by which it operates. The attitude by the haulers smacks of unionism, something we shudder about when considered.

Don't you think the city employees are saying to themselves that gee, if Vern Russell or Frank Mirny can get something they want by striking and they don't even work for the city, then maybe we should band together and ask for something like that?

The 'Real Price' of Food

NEBRASKA FARM BUREAU FEDERATION
By M.M. Van Kirk,
Director of Information

Could you believe a statement that the "real price" of food has declined 10 percent since 1955?

The average U.S. consumer who has been going to the supermarket weekly for the past 25 years probably has trouble accepting such a contention no matter who makes it. However, there is some logic in the theory and it comes from sources with qualifications meriting quotation.

In this case it comes from a copyrighted column by Michael Hirsley of the Chicago Tribune quoting Roger Kormendi, an economist and an associate professor at the University of Chicago Graduate School of Business.

Kormendi uses an example with the price of milk. If a consumer paid 88 cents per gallon for milk in 1955 and $2.08 per gallon last year, how much more was the consumer paying last year than in 1955?

Kormendi's answer is that milk prices went down from 1955 through 1979. His reasoning in 1955 the average wage earner's spendable earnings after taxes were $43 per week. A person earning that amount buying a gallon of milk for 88 cents was spending 1.4 percent of his weekly income and worked 34 minutes to buy a gallon of milk. Last year, the average wage earner's spendable income after taxes was $194 per week. If a person earning that amount paid $2.08 for a gallon of milk, he was spending 1.1 percent of his weekly income and would have worked 26 minutes to buy a gallon of milk.

The economist got his price and income figures from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and the average wage earner is defined as a "non-supervisory private production worker" and is assumed to be supporting a family of four and working 40 hours per week.

Kormendi found a number of products commonly perceived to be more expensive than ever before are actually less expensive than they used to be. He arbitrarily selected the years 1955 and 1965 for comparison with 1979, the most recent year for available statistics.

By his method of calculating "real prices" as a percentage of a wage earner's salary or work time, the economist came up with the following conclusions:

Apartment rents were 45 percent lower last year than in 1955, and 22 percent lower than in 1965.

Car prices were down 53 percent from 1955, and down 31 percent from 1965.

Clothing was 45 percent cheaper last year than in 1955, and 24 percent cheaper than in 1965.

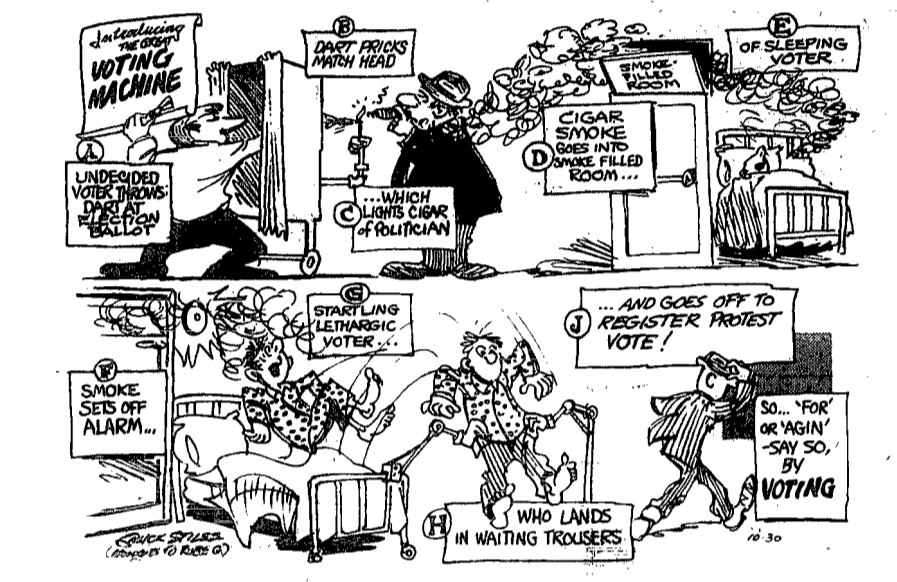

The economist found some instances in which last year's "real prices" were higher than those in 1955. For example, medical services were 20 percent more expensive and fuel oil costs were up 70 percent, by his calculations.

Kormendi said that while most economists do not find his conclusions too surprising, this is not the common view among the general public and the news media.

He notes that beef prices hit their all time high in 1974, even so far as real price was concerned. But he said when beef prices went up one cent in 1977, that fact brought headlines that they were at a new record high. He said the truth was that prices of other products had gone up much more dramatically than beef at that time, and wages had also gone up enough to make beef, despite the price increase, the cheapest it had ever been in terms of real price.

Kormendi says that wages have not been growing faster than prices since 1970, but from 1955 to 1970 wages grew 14 percent faster than prices.

Actually, the economist's contentions parallel those of USDA statisticians who have estimated for a number of years that American's spending on food has been around 16 to 17 percent of their spendable income as compared to as much as 25 to 30 percent in the early 1950's.

Weekly gleanings... News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

IT now appears that members of the Madison High School senior class will be able to enjoy the new school building for a short time this spring before the end of the school term. Members of the Madison school board said last week that construction was 30 to 40 days ahead of schedule and that they expected the new high school building to be ready for occupancy in April.

TWO board members and two alternates were appointed by the Cuming County Board of Supervisors last week to serve on the recently reorganized Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District. Appointed members of the board were Hilmer Wlig of Bancroft and Mike Wortman of West Point. Alternates named were Doug Steffensmeyer of Beemer and Willa Toelle of Wisner.

GEORGE Boucher of Ravenna talked to a group of some 50 persons at the Cedar County Fair Grounds last Sunday on the topic of farm alcohol production. The event was sponsored by the Small Farm Energy Project and the Nebraska Alternative Energy Organization. A one-bushel batch alcohol plant was demonstrated during the day, producing 165 proof alcohol from corn.

DON Hogendorn, a Pierce farmer, narrowly escaped serious injury last Friday evening when his sweatshirt caught on the top auger of his combine puffing his face down into the auger. He suffered a broken nose and severe facial lacerations and is in the Lutheran Community Hospital in Norfolk.

KENT Warneke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Warneke of Plainview and a junior at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UN-L), was one of 18 students selected as candidates for Homecoming Royalty at UN-L. Homecoming festivities were held Saturday, Oct. 18, with winners announced at half-time of the UN-L vs. Oklahoma State football game.

LANCE Hedquist, 30, assistant director of the Siouxland Interstate Metropolitan Planning Council, has been hired as South Sioux City's new city administrator at a starting salary of $28,000. Hedquist, a native of South Sioux City, will succeed Dennis J. Gann, 33, who has resigned to become development officer with Weinberg-Investments Inc., of Elk Point, S. D.

LETTERS

Oct. 17, 1980

To the Editor:

On election day 1980, we have to choose between three major candidates, two of whom would bring more of the same false hopes and empty promises that have been standard fare for the past two years. These candidates are, of course, the Democratic and Republican nominees for President!

However, President Carter will not be re-elected because of his dismal record. Those who vote for him will probably do so because of party loyalty or out of fear of Ronald Reagan.

Governor Reagan should not be elected for any one of several reasons. He bases his qualifications for the Presidency on his tenure as Governor of California.

History shows us, though, that most Presidents who have not been in the House or the Senate rarely make good Presidents. President Carter is a prime example of this. Even if we grant that his policies are good, because "good" policies or not, they are worthless without implementation. His policies are not implemented because he cannot deal effectively with Congress. As a consequence, Mr. Carter is not effective, and therefore, he is not a good President. There is no reason to believe Governor Reagan can or will do any better.

Reagan believes that his policies would be good for the country. I do not believe he has any policies of his own, other than those offered by his party. He has only sweeping generalizations and homilies to offer us in lieu of sound leadership. If, however, we should grant that some of his/their/Republican party's policies are soundly-based, there are still two major flaws in their platform: The anti-E.R.A. stance (which goes against many years of Republican support), and the anti-abortion stance (which is only supported by a vocal minority and by no means reflects the will of the majority).

The importance of such issues as reducing inflation and lowering unemployment are self-evident, but these must not preclude or be equated with the paramount importance of preserving personal liberty, the foundation of this Democracy. These stances alone are enough for me to reject Ronald Reagan as a candidate.

This leads us to John Anderson, the best choice for President. He has served in Congress and has been a foreign service officer. Of all the major candidates, he undoubtedly has the best base for dealing with Congress effectively. John Anderson has a platform of his own — one not subject to the whim and fancy of others. It is a specific platform which deals substantially with the ills of our nation.

If elected President, Anderson will push for a 50¢ per gallon tax on gasoline to finance the Social Security Administration, and for a program to revitalize deteriorating cities through taxes on tobacco and alcohol. He is against compulsory draft registration, for the E.R.A., pro-choice on the abortion issue, and for equitable prices on farm commodities. All in all, John Anderson's platform totals more than 300 pages and is a detailed, plausible and sensible proposal for successful leadership of this country.

Not voting for Anderson because he is not a viable candidate is one thing; it is quite another when he is the only good candidate. Voting for Carter or Reagan based on party loyalty or because one is believed to be the lesser of two evils is a foolish proposition — why not vote for none of the above? Voting in such a manner makes us all losers. We should vote with conviction for the man who can and will get the job done — John Anderson.

Speaking of People

'Why, Thank You Andy'

THIS YEAR'S TABLE FASHIONS on Parade show sponsored by the Wayne County Historical Society appealed to youngsters as well as adults. Little Heidi and Andy Muller, children of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Muller of rural Concord, thought it was great fun to sip tea from a table prepared by the Wayne Area Retired Teachers Association. Heidi, 6 and Andy, 3, were especially careful with the dishes, which belong to Beulah Atkins and come from Germany. The vase and children's furniture were gifts to Clara and Flora Bergt from their father and now belong to their grandmothers, Barbara Daniels. The entire display is 70 years old. The show, which was held Thursday afternoon and evening at the city auditorium, featured 21 table exhibits and was attended by some 200 persons. The most popular exhibit was an antique blue table sponsored by the Carroll Woman's Club. Money raised during the show will go towards improvements at the County Museum.

Klick and Klatter Meets

Klick and Klatter Home Extension Club met with 13 members Tuesday afternoon.

Hostess was Mrs. Harvey Beck. President Mrs. Marvin via for opened the meeting with the collect.

Mrs. Alex Luska led group singing of Beautiful Nebraska, accompanied by Mrs. Beck. Each member was given a copy of the song to keep.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Harvey Larsen secretary.

Safety leader Mrs. Paul Sievers talked about the importance of carrying fire extinguishers on campers and combines. Mrs. Earl Larson told about the vital of life and how they are used.

The president reported on the county council meeting. The club discussed goals for 1981. It was announced that the county tour will be to the St. Michaels in South Dakota in March. Mrs. Lou Luff is chairman of the tour.

Mrs. Earl Larson is planning to attend a Christmas craft workshop at the Northeast Station near Concord on Oct. 27.

Mrs. Jim Corbit, Mrs. Fred Gildersleeve and Mrs. Earl Larson arranged a table for the Table Fashions on Parade show sponsored by the Wayne County Historical Society Oct. 16.

The lesson, "Dressing for Your Lifestyle," was given by Mrs. Edwin Eiler. She was assisted by Mrs. Harvey Larsen.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Rolfe Longe on Nov. 13 at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Walter Moller will have the lesson.

Manley Performing Lead Role in UN-L Operetta

Joseph Manley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Manley of Wayne, will be performing the leading role of Ralph Raskstraw in the University of Lincoln School of Music's production of the operetta "The Pirates of Penzance" at the UN-L on Thursday and Saturday.

Performances will be at Kimball Hall, 11th and R St. on Thursday Oct. 23 through Saturday, Oct. 25 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 26 at 3 p.m.

Manley, a graduate student at UN-L, will perform the lead role for the Thursday and Saturday performances only.

The operetta is a light-hearted spoof on the Victorian class system. The story takes place aboard the HMS Pinafore, with Captain Pinafore at the helm. The original production of HMS Pinafore opened at the Opera Comique in London on May 25, 1878.

Tickets for the UN-L production are $1 for children, students and senior citizens, and $4 for the general public. Tickets may be obtained by calling Kimball Box Office 372-1125.

Manley, a native of Illinois, began his career in public work before his graduation from North Central Bible College in Minneapolis, Minn. Since that time McGarvey has spent the past several years performing and touring with his ministry.

McGarvey has traveled extensively within the United States and in Canada and has performed in churches, retreats, camps, hospitals, schools, on television, at banquets, and in concerts.

Besides being a performing magician, McGarvey has authored several puppet plays and children's stories. He currently belongs to the International Brotherhood of Magicians, the Fellowship of Christian Magicians, and the North American Association of Ventriloquists.

Auxiliary Being Honored

The American Legion Auxiliary met Oct. 6 at the Vet's Club. Thirteen members attended the meeting, which was called to order by President Helen Stefken.

The colors were advanced by Marguerite Hofeldt and Emma Soules. Chaplain Mary Kruger had the opening prayer, followed with the flag salute and singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

It was announced that the local auxiliary is being honored for hosting three bingo parties during a year's time at the Norfolk Veteran's Home.

The award will be presented Oct. 26 at 2 p.m. in the chapel at the Norfolk Regional Center. Planning to attend from Wayne are Mary Kruger, Helen Stefken, Louise Kahler, Marguerite Hofeldt, Mary Tieggs, Julia Haas, Marie Brugger, Neva Lorenzen and Eveline Thompson.

Members who took part in Wayne State's homecoming parade Oct. 11 were Emma Soules, Lottie Longnecker, Neva Lorenzen, Winnie Thompson, Mary Tieggs and Eveline Thompson.

Leadership chairman Mary Kruger read an article on the auxiliary emblem. Membership chairman Eveline Thompson announced that three more members are needed to reach 100 percent.

Letters were received from department membership chairman Mildred Wagenknecht, and department children and youth chairman Irene Mueller. The auxiliary received its hospital gift shop assignment from district president Laura Tipperly. She also reminded the auxiliary to send in its per capita tax.

Thank you notes were read from Hazel Bressler, Eveline Thompson and Martha Sieckmann.

Chaplain Mary Kruger read the prayer for peace, followed with group singing and the Little Red Schoolhouse March. Neva Lorenzen, Helen Hupp and Thelma Bradford served lunch from a table decorated in the Halloween theme.

Several women are planning to attend the county convention in Winside this Tuesday, beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Legion Hall. Next regular meeting will be Nov. 3 at 8 p.m. at the Vet's Club.

Evangelist Coming To Wayne Church

Evangelist Don McGarvey will be speaking at the Christian Life Assembly Church in Wayne Oct. 26-30, beginning at 7 p.m. each evening.

McGarvey presents the gospel in a unique and interesting way that appeals to persons of all ages. He illustrates his messages with sleight of hand, illusions and through the non-verbal communications of a bald headed buzzard named "Buzz."

McGarvey has traveled extensively within the United States and in Canada and has performed in churches, retreats, camps, hospitals, schools, on television, at banquets, and in concerts.

United Way Program Following Potluck Dinner at Senior Center

Pat Gross and Marilyn Corhart, members of the board of directors of the Wayne Community Chest, and drive chairman Grant Ellingson, presented a slide program at the Senior Citizens Center Wednesday.

The slides, which were shown following the monthly potluck luncheon, were of the nine agencies supported by the United Way Fund Drive in Wayne.

Those agencies include the Wayne Recreation program, Mid-America Council of Boy Scouts, Salvation Army, Wayne Senior Citizens Center, Arthritis Foundation, Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, Florence Crittenton Home of Sioux City, and the American Red Cross.

The board has adopted a budget this year of $15,500.

Senior Citizens who would like to donate to this year's drive are asked to give their contributions to center director Mrs. Jocelyn Bull.

Also speaking at the Senior Citizens Center Wednesday was Gerald Conway, candidate for the State Senate from the 17th District. A question and answer session followed.

Gene Levine, hearing aid specialist, also was at the center Wednesday to conduct free hearing tests for senior citizens.

Sixty-seven persons attended the potluck dinner. Gladys Peterson arranged the floral centerpiece and Lottie Longnecker gave the invocation. Louis Korbacher, who celebrated his 75th birthday Wednesday, was honored with the traditional birthday song.

Next potluck luncheon will be at noon Wednesday, Nov. 19. Mary Nichols, R.N., will be present that day to take free blood pressure readings.

There were 36 persons present for the monthly dance and sing-along at the center Tuesday afternoon.

The group also observed the birthday of Mrs. Virgil Chambers and the 52nd wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. August Doran. Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Brug ger gave a monetary donation to the Senior Citizens Center in honor of their 55th wedding anniversary.

The center received a corn plant and lavender mum from former Wayne resident Mrs. Pearl Griffith of Millbrae, Calif., who will celebrate her 83rd birthday Oct. 21. Cards and letters will reach her if addressed to Mrs. Pearl Griffith, in care of Jack Trippy, 40 Arroyo Seco Ave., Millbrae, Calif., 94030.

Senior citizens telephoned birthday greetings to Melba Grimm, who was home sick with the flu.

The Rev. Larry Ostercamp of the Evangelical Free Church in Wayne conducted Bible study of Exodus at the center last Monday afternoon. Twenty-one persons attended.

The next Bible study will be at 2:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 10.

Library hour at the center Oct. 9 was conducted by assistant public librarian Judy Blonderman.

Mrs. Blenderman told about books that can be checked out at the center and returned there or to the Wayne Public Library.

The books include "White House Nannie," "The Complete Book of Walking," "The Day of the Butterfly," "Abigail Adams: An American Woman" and "My Son's Story."

Jack Middendorf, Wayne State College librarian, also was present and distributed brochures telling about the U. S. Conn Library on the Wayne State campus.

Jan Montag, Wayne State College coordinator of technical services, gave a demonstration on mending books. Senior citizens plan to mend books for the college library.

Next library hour will be Thursday, Nov. 13, at 2:30 p.m.

Senior citizens also are involved in a physical fitness class led by Wayne State practicum student Roger Lebbert. Lebbert will be at the Senior Citizens Center each Thursday at 2 p.m. All area senior citizens are invited to take part.

Women Meet at Grace Lutheran

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid met Oct. 8 with president Mrs. Marvin Victor.

Forty-nine members attended the meeting and program, which opened with the song "Spread O' Spread Thou Mighty Word." Devotions, entitled "Fingers of God," were given by Millie Thomsen, Karen Mendenhall and Ruth Victor.

Hostesses were Mrs. Larry Lubberstedt, Mrs. Bud Luff and Mrs. Ben Fuelberth.

Several guests attended, including Mrs. William Haisch, Lorraine Johnson, Janet Heithold, Violet Bruns, Carol Rethwisch, Dorothy Dangberg, Darlene Johnson, Mrs. Terry Janke, Mrs. Jack Langemeier and Mrs. Evan Bennell.

The visitation report was given by Mrs. Melvin Utecht. New members of the visiting committee for October, November and December are Mrs. Marvin Victor, Mrs. Wallace Victor and Mrs. Allan Wittig.

Linda Grubb and Elenora Heithold are co-chairmen of the next group to visit Wayne Care Centre.

It was announced that Christmas cards have arrived and are on sale from the committee.

Ardena Nelson, Leona Janke and Mona Meyer are serving on the nominating committee for November.

Seminar '80 will be held Nov. 3-4 at the Villa Inn in Norfolk. Honored with the birthday song were Mrs. Marvin Victor, Mrs. Ed Baker and Mrs. Bud Luff.

Women who have been members of the Ladies Aid for 40 years or longer were honored during the afternoon program, entitled "Fishers of Men." The program, given by Mrs. Robert Thomsen and Mrs. Tom Mendenhall, included selections by the Ladies Aid choir.

Ladies receiving recognition were Matilda Barelman, Dora Claussen, Elenora Heithold, Mrs.

Roy Langemeier, Mrs. Ed Frevert, Linda Grubb, Ethel Johnson, Lillian Berres, Mrs. Otto Saul, Mrs. Raymond Langemeier and Mrs. Henry Rethwisch.

Women who have been members of the Ladies Aid 40 or more years but were not present at the program were Mrs. Ed Echtenkamp, Mrs. Otto Miller, Mrs. Henry Weseloh and Mrs. Herman Stuve.

Next meeting will be Nov. 12 at the church. Hostesses will be Mrs. Tom Mendenhall, Mrs. Robert Meyer and Mrs. Orville Nelson.

Wayne State Play Opens

"THE LITTLE FOXES," a play by Lillian Hellman, opened Sunday afternoon at Wayne State College. The play, which is under the direction of Dr. Helen J. Russell, will run tonight (Monday) and Tuesday at 8 p.m. each evening in Ramsey Theatre in the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center. Tickets are $3 and may be purchased at the door. Pictured is a scene from the play, which focuses on the unscrupulous dealings of the Hubbard family in the deep south in the 1900's. Dr. Russell said the technical aspects of the production are fairly basic except for a new type of floor plan. The floor is made entirely of a series of platforms used at different heights to reflect different areas of rooms of the home in the setting of the play. The designer and major constructor of the set was Arthur Dirks.

'Sewing Sensations' Workshop Scheduled at Northeast Station

A one-day demonstration workshop entitled "Sewing Sensations" will be held at the Northeast Station near Concord on Saturday, Nov. 8.

All persons interested in sewing are invited. Instructor will be Marie Kehr of Lincoln, who recently was awarded her teacher certification by the National Council of the Bishop Method of Clothing Construction.

The Bishop Method was devised by Edna Bryte Bishop from a background in education, factory techniques and custom made establishments. It's a "common sense" approach to sewing garments with a professional look.

The techniques are designed to achieve perfection in a minimum of sewing time and with a minimum of effort.

Mrs. Kehr will be discussing and demonstrating fabric selection, grainline, setting in sleeves, sleeve vents, interfacing, collars, cuffs, hems and other techniques applicable to a variety of sewing projects.

The workshop will begin at 9:30 a.m. and dismiss at 3:30 p.m. Registration fee is $10 for adults and $5 for youth age 18 and under. Pre-registration with payment is requested before Oct. 30. Checks should be made payable to Home Economics Expense Fund and mailed to the Northeast Station, Concord, Neb., 68728.

Those attending are asked to bring a sack lunch, note pad and pencil.

For further information contact Anna Marie White, Dixon County Home Economics Extension Agent, Northeast Station, Concord, phone 584-2261.

Laurel, Wayne Students Begin Medical Studies

Alfred Felber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Felber of Laurel, and Carol Wilfse Potts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rowan Wilfse of Wayne, are among 153 students who have begun their first year studies at the University of Nebraska Medical Center's College of Medicine.

A minimum of 90 premedical college semester hours are required for admission. The students will study basic sciences and clinical medicine for four years at the Medical Center and affiliated health care institutions.

Area Republican Women Donate Book to Library

Northeast Nebraska Republican Women are participating in a nation-wide Marie Eisenhower Library Project.

"When Free Men Shall Stand," a book by United States Senator Jesse Helms, is being donated to libraries in northeast Nebraska as a current project of the area group.

The book takes a "sobering look at the super-taxing, super-spending and super-bureaucracy in Washington."

Helms, from North Carolina, serves on the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry, the Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs, the Joint Committee on Congressional Operations, and is vice chairman of the Senate Steering Committee.

Wildcats Clinch Share of Clark Title

Only two teams stand in the way of Winside's quest of a conference championship and a berth in the state playoffs. The Wildcats defeated Wakefield 27-20 Friday in Winside to move one step closer to their goal.

Hartington is the only team which can prevent Winside from winning the Clark Division title hands down in the Lewis and Clark Conference. Hartington can still tie Winside for the title. If Winside defeats Hartington on Wednesday, The Cats need only a win over Walthill a week from Friday to clinch a Class C-2 playoff berth.

Friday's game between the third ranked Trojans and fourth ranked Wildcats (Northwest Daily News top 5) had high stakes. The two teams were tied in district 2 point standings and both had sights set on the Clark Division title.

Cats hold Division Lead

The hosts used a strong rushing defense and took advantage of some breaks to knock Wakefield out of contention for the Clark title. Winside is now 6-1 overall while Wakefield falls to 5-2.

Each coach had praise for the opposing team following the game.

"They scouted us well and capitalized on the breaks. Foote (Brian) is a good ball player and is tough to tackle," Wakefield coach Dennis Wilbur said. "We played a good team and I think they realize we're a good team. They're quick in the line and we couldn't run against them. They're an opportunistic ball club. We hope they go far."

"Wakefield scored quickly. They have an effective passing game and they did a fine job," said Winside coach Dennis Gonnerman. "Our defense let down and they took advantage of it."

Score on blocked field goal

Winside took advantage of two early breaks to score the first touchdown. Bill George intercepted a pass at the Trojan 48-yard line and runs by Brian Foote moved the ball into scoring position.

A 28-yard field goal attempt by Foote was blocked by Jeff Hallstrom and the ball rolled deep into Wakefield territory.

Several players touched the ball as it rolled toward the goal line and Winside's Rod Doffin covered the ball in the endzone. The officials ruled that a Wakefield player had gained and lost control of the ball on the play. Thus, Winside was credited with a touchdown. Foote kicked the PAT for a 7-0 lead.

Winside's defensive line shut down Wakefield's running game and held the Trojans to 18 yards rushing. The two teams exchanged the ball several times on tumbles and punts deep in Wakefield territory.

Faked punt for TD

The Trojans faced a fourth and one situation in their territory and failed to convert. Four plays later, Winside faked a punt and punter Bill George passed to Brian Foote for a 25-yard touchdown. Foote passed to George for the two-point conversion and a 15-0 lead.

The 15-0 score held up through the rest of the second quarter as neither team could sustain a drive.

The hosts scored early in the third period on a 63-yard pass play from Mark Koch to George. The PAT failed but Winside's lead increased to 21-0.

Needing a touchdown desperately, Wakefield put the ball in the air and came through under pressure. On a fourth and 10 situation at the Winside 30, Starzl passed to Jeff Hallstrom. Hallstrom was stopped short of the first down but a pass interference call gave Wakefield a first and 10 at the Winside 15.

Leading the districts

"We were lucky. We had some breaks that went our way. We shut down Wakefield's running game. It was a good game for us," said Winside coach Gonnerman. "We were up 27-6 and all of a sudden our defense let down. They were passive not aggressive. I hope we're ready for Hartington Wednesday."

"The win was especially big for us because we clinched a share of the conference championship and we're standing well in districts."

Foote, the leading all-purpose runner and scorer in the Lewis and Clark Conference, added to his league-leading figures with a touchdown. PAT, 61 yards rushing and 90 yards of returns on punts and kickoffs. Rod Doffin rushed for 26 yards in four carries.

Leading receivers were George with one reception for 63 yards and a TD. Foote with two receptions for 30 yards and a TD and Schellenberg with one reception for seven yards.

Defensive leaders for Winside were George, Schellenberg and Foote with interceptions and Doffin and George with fumble recoveries. Leading tacklers were Barry Bowers with 12 tackles and Foote, Joel Broekemeier and Brad Roberts with nine tackles each.

Wakefield relied on its passing game. Starzl completed 13 of 31 passes for 203 yards. His favorite receiver was Rod Nixon with seven receptions for 134 yards and one TD. Sherer had three receptions for 34 yards. Brent Kahl had two catches for 15 yards and Jeff Hallstrom had one reception for nine yards.

Leading defensive players were Roger Echtenkamp with eight tackles and a fumble recovery. Mike Clay with six tackles. Nixon with seven tackles. Starzl with 13 tackles. Hallstrom with a blocked field goal and four tackles. Doug Verplank with 10 tackles. Alan Echtenkamp with seven tackles and Sherer with a fumble recovery and interception.

Still a fine season

Our defense did a good job really. Throw away the first half and we showed we're a good team. They have a good team but they hung on with their life. If we just had more time, Wilbur said. Winside scored their first touchdown on a judgment call. Maybe they called it correct. They said Nixon gained control or changed direction of the ball on the blocked field goal.

Wilbur said that his team believes it is still having a fine season and added that he is looking forward to the next two games. "We came up short but we're not down," he added.

TD on fourth down

Three plays elapsed and again the Trojans faced a fourth and 10 situation, this time at the 15. Starzl passed to Rod Nixon for a 15-yard TD with a 39 left in the third quarter. The PAT failed and Wakefield trailed 21-6.

An interception and long runback by Foote set up Winside's final TD in the third quarter. Koch passed to Byron Schellenberg from six yards out for the score and a 27-6 lead.

Wakefield receiver Rod Nixon kept Wakefield alive in the fourth quarter. Nixon caught three consecutive passes including one which he carried to the two-yard line. Starzl took the ball in on a quarterback sneak. A two-point conversion pass from Starzl to Jeff Hallstrom cut Winside's lead to 27-14.

The Trojans gained possession of the ball again with 2:20 remaining. A long pass play to Nixon again kept Wakefield alive. Starzl ran the option play and a face mask penalty gave Wakefield a first and goal at the Winside eight-yard line.

A six-yard pass from Starzl to Sherer resulted in Wakefield's final TD. Starzl completed his last seven passes. The PAT failed with Winside leading 27-20. The following kickoff carried out of bounds and the Wildcats took over at their own 40 with 1:27 in the game. The hosts ate up the clock to preserve the win.

Rushers Lead Eagles to Win over Homer

Terry Brewer and Rick Gotch combined for 264 yards rushing behind an explosive offensive line to lead Allen to a 21-8 win over Homer in a Lewis Division matchup. Friday in Allen.

The Eagles evened their overall record to 1-3 with the win and stayed in contention for conference honors with a 3-1 record. Allen will play at Walthill Wednesday in its final conference division game. A win would guarantee at least a tie for second place in the Lewis Division final standings.

Football Games Played Wednesday

Because of Teachers' Convention scheduled Thursday and Friday, all area high school football games will be played Wednesday night.

Allen will be at Walthill. Laurel will play at Wausa. Wakefield will beat Culveridge. Winside will host Hartington and Wayne play at Hartington Cedar Catholic.

Brewer, who carried the ball 15 times for 159 yards, scored two of Allen's three touchdowns and passed for the other Gotch carried the ball 18 times for 105 yards. Brewer's first TD came in the second quarter on a 31 yard run. Robb Linafelter passed to Frank Lanser for the two-point conversion and an 8-0 lead.

The second TD was scored in the third quarter when Brewer broke away for an 80 yard touchdown run. Linafelter kicked the PAT for a 15-0 advantage. In the fourth quarter, Brewer passed to Linafelter on a halfback pass play which was good for a 20 yard TD. The PAT attempt failed.

Homer's lone touchdown came on a 40 yard pass from Wilke to Harris Barclay added the two-point conversion.

"We played pretty good ball. When two guys rush for over 100 yards each, you have to give a lot of credit to the offensive line," said Kneiff. "Composing the offensive line were Randy Smith, Frank Lanser, Wayne Trevett, Keith Rhode, Dennis Smith, Leonard Wood, Mike Rhodman and Dave Hansen. Trevett and Rhodman alternated to replace regular Bruce Malcom, who was injured."

Allen passed the ball four times and com pleted three passes. Lanser had two receptions for nine yards and Linafelter had one reception for 20 yards.

Defensively, Kneiff said the Eagles had "a good team effort." He credited Randy Smith, Gotch, Lanser, Pat Understahl, Linafelter and Brewer as team leaders.

There were no turnovers in the game.

Pender Surprises Bears

Laurel's offense never got untracked as the Bears lost to Pender 13-6. Friday in Laurel. Two of Laurel's starters were lost due to injuries in the first quarter.

Pender scored one touchdown in the first quarter and one in the third and Laurel scored its TD in the fourth quarter. The loss dropped the Bears below the 500 mark at 3-4.

"They just outplayed us. We lost two starters in the first quarter and that didn't help," Laurel coach Lynn Schuett said. "Pender played well enough to beat us. We had the opportunities but failed to cash in."

Jamie Johnson left the game with a minor hip pointer and Phil Martin was taken out with an injured arm. He was taken to the hospital but returned to play in the fourth quarter when his arm passed the doctor's exam.

Curt Saunders scored Laurel's TD in the fourth quarter on a one-yard plunge. The PAT failed. Saunders carried the ball 23 times for 90 yards. Joe Olsen passed the ball 17 times and completed 8 for 97 yards.

Leading receivers were Brian Marquardt with two receptions for 39 yards, Tim Bloom with two catches for 26 yards and Brian Buss with two receptions for 20 yards. Schuett said that Marquardt had "a nasty night."

Defensive leaders for the Bears were Jeff Anderson with 12 unassisted tackles and twins Brian and Dave Marquardt. According to Schuett, Anderson had an excellent performance and the Marquardt had good, solid defensive games.

Despite a lackluster performance offensively, the Bears outyarded Pender 160 to 155. Laurel committed only one turnover compared to two for Pender.

The Bears will take a 3-4 record to Wausa Wednesday night.

Laurel Improves but Loses

Although the Laurel Bears lost two volleyball matches this week, coach Dwight Iverson said his team is playing much better than early in the season.

Laurel lost to Sioux City East 8-15, 6-15 on Tuesday and then lost a close match with Randolph 9-15, 15-11, 13-15 on Thursday.

"Right now, we're playing as well as we did last year but our opponents are tough. We feel like we should have about a .500 record," Iverson said. "We played our best volleyball of the season against Randolph. But, most of the teams we've played have lost only once or twice."

Against Randolph, Kay Anderson and Lynda Ebmeier scored eight points each. Iverson credited Cammie Crookshank with "an excellent game."

Laurel lost the first game but rallied to win the second. The hosts trailed 4-10 in the final game but came from behind with a strong performance to threaten their opponents. However, Randolph cut the rally short and claimed a 15-13 win.

Randolph won the B team match 4-15, 15-11, 15-13. Jana Cunningham scored 10 points and Jill Twford scored eight, Iverson said that Renee Gadenek had "an outstanding game."

Laurel lost the C team match 10-15, 13-15. Leading scorer was Jean Lute with nine points. Kelli Johnson had a good floor game for Laurel.

Sioux City East too Tough

Laurel found Sioux City East too experienced and talented as the Iowans took a 15-8, 15-6 match win, Tuesday. Cyndi Jonas led Laurel with six points.

East won the B team match 11-15, 15-7, 15-11. Jana Cunningham scored six points to lead the Bears. The C team match was won by East's sophomores by a score of 15-7, 15-13. Jackie Crisp scored seven points for Laurel.

Next action for Laurel is scheduled tomorrow (Tuesday) night at Walthill.

Devils Aim for Class B Title

Wayne cross country coach Mac Maciejewski had the luck of a winning poker player as the school year opened at Wayne-Carroll High School. Now, Maciejewski will be playing his best in the big poker game at Kearney.

The Blue Devils, who week after week prove that they are the best in Northeast Nebraska, will now challenge the rest of the state. Wayne won the B-4 district meet at Albion with 28 points. Friday afternoon, a vehicle full of parents made the trip to support the local runners on parents day.

The state meet is scheduled Friday morning at Kearney Country Club. Class C action will open the competition at 10:30 a.m. Class B action will follow.

At the beginning of the season, Mac had Doug Proett, Jeff Baier and Joel Mosley returning from a squad that placed 13th in the Class B state tournament last year. Proett, who placed 19th in state last season, was Maciejewski's ace in the hole. Baier and Mosley were expected to improve and be a big help to the team.

Comparing Wayne's cross country team to a poker game, Maciejewski had a fair hand and drew two cards for a full house. Steve Monson, a transfer from Wahoo High School, and Henric Olsson, a foreign exchange student enrolled at Wayne-Carroll High School and have taken a big burden off of Maciejewski's back.

In seven invitationals this season, Wayne has claimed team honors six times and finished second once, despite tying the first place team's score. The Blue Devils have easily won their two duals and one triangular.

The most important trophy this far was captured Friday at districts. Wayne's two leading runners had two of the four best state qualifying times in the state.

Because districts are run on six different courses, times can't be compared equally. However, Doug Proett and Steve Monson were two of Class B's four runners to break the 16 minute barrier over a 5,000 meter course at districts. Tim Ekberg of McCook and Dan Swesey of Alliance posted the other two sub-16 minute times.

Proett set a course record at Albion CC, covering the 5,000 meters in 15:42. Teammate Monson again placed second with a time of 15:57. In B-6 districts at Kimball, Ekberg placed first in 15:49 and Swesey finished second in 15:57.

Olsson turned in his best time of the year, placing 10th with a time of 17:30.3. Baier also turned in his best time, finishing 15th in 18:06.5. Mosley was hampered by hip troubles and had to settle for 25th place. Maciejewski said it took a lot of effort for Mosley to compete with the injured hip and added that it was quite an accomplishment to finish 25th under the circumstances.

"It has been an outstanding year for this team and they had another fine effort in districts. Naturally, we will shoot for the top at state. We have two runners we feel are as good as any in the state," Mac said. "A lot depends on our number three runner and if he can improve we could be contenders. If we hope to place high in state as a team our third and fourth runners must bunch up there. The big question is, 'Do we have a chance to win it all?' If we aren't bothered by injuries for fitness we can do well."

The veteran Wayne coach said that with temperatures in the 50's and a little wind, it was a good day to run. "The course was in good shape and the kids really put in a good effort. They put out their best," Mac stated. "Baier had a real good race and he more or less decided the outcome of the team race."

The top three teams in each district qualify for the state tournament.

B-4 team standings: 1. Wayne 28, 2. Columbus Scelus 32, 3. Albion 57, 4. Ord 71, 5. O'Neill 87, 6. Columbus Lakeview 89, 7. Ainsworth 99, 8. Hartington CC 109.

A total of 18 teams will compete in the Class B meet. Other district qualifiers:

Emerson Wins in Defensive Battle

More frustration was added to a disappointing season for the Wayne Blue Devils, Friday night.

Wayne lost a conference game against West Husker rival Emerson-Hubbard 6-0 before a Parents Night crowd at Wayne State's Memorial Field. It was Emerson's third consecutive win after a slow start. Last week, the Pirates upset Hartington Cedar Catholic 8-0.

The Blue Devils will close out their season with games at Hartington Cedar on Wednesday and at Madison a week from Friday.

The first quarter deflated the hosts as Wayne's top two running backs were sidelined with injuries. Kevin Nissen left the game with bruises and a sore ankle. Chip Carr was taken out of the game when he injured a leg. Nissen returned to action for a short while but was sat out most of the game when he was re-injured.

With Nissen and Carr out of action, Wayne was forced to rely on some inexperienced running backs. Junior Jim Sperry carried the ball 10 times for 28 yards, sophomore Jeff McCright carried six times for 18 yards and junior Richard Poehlman carried four times for 11 yards. Carr had 23 yards in three carries and Nissen 10 yards in three carries when they left the game.

"We started out okay but we had a let-down with our two leading running backs out. Then, we had a mix-up in our backfield and that hurt," Wayne coach Lonnie Ehrhardt said. "It was a good, hard-fought ball game. We have Cedar next week in another tough game."

The West Husker matchup was a defensive battle with neither team penetrating the other's defense. Emerson broke the shutout with a touchdown in the final 29 seconds of the third quarter. Rich Pfanz scored on a one-yard plunge for the decisive score.

Leading rushers for the Pirates were Pfanz with 22 carries for 49 yards, Jim Gable with 22 carries for 61 yards and Kenny Füscher with 32 yards in nine carries.

Defensive leaders for the Blue Devils were Aaron Schuett with 21 tackles and Brett Frevert with 17. Schuett had seven solos and 14 assists. Frevert had two solos and 19 assists. Other leaders were John Anderson with 13, Eric Brink with 12, Dallas Hansen with 12, Jeff McCright with 11, Nick Sieler with 10 and Pat McCright and Paul Warne with six tackles each.

Pro Wranglers to Visit

The Wayne State College Lady Wildcats basketball team has a treat in store for followers of women's basketball. The Lady Cats will be hosting the Nebraska Wranglers professional basketball team at Rice Auditorium on Thursday, Oct. 30 as part of a women's basketball double-header.

The first game of the evening will feature a pre-season scrimmage between Wayne State and the University of South Dakota. Game time is scheduled at 4 p.m. The second game of the twinbill will feature an intrasquad match with the Nebraska Wranglers, scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. The Nebraska Wranglers are the former California Dreams who have now relocated in Omaha.

Former Wayne State standout Connie Kunzman, a 1978 graduate, is playing for the Wranglers. As a senior she was second in scoring with a 15 point per game average, and led rebounding with 10 per game. Last season Kunzman played for the Iowa Cornets pro team before moving to the Wranglers.

High school teams are invited to attend this night of women's basketball. There will be no charge.

Blue Devils Win on Parents Day

Members of the Wayne varsity volleyball team treated their parents to a victory, Thursday night in the Wayne-Carroll High School gym. The Blue Devils defeated Pierce 15-7, 15-4.

Wayne's reserve team also won its match but the freshmen lost in back-to-back marathon matches. Tami Murray and Jill Zeiss scored 10 service points each to lead the varsity to a win. Lisa Peters was the net leader with six spikes. The triumph upped Wayne's record to 9-6.

The Devils are scheduled to meet Emerson-Hubbard in opening round play of the West Husker Tournament at 6 p.m. today (Monday). That tourney will be played at the Wisner Pilger High School gym tonight and tomorrow. Pairings are published elsewhere in the sports section.

The reserves and freshmen engaged in close three-game matches. Wayne's reserves won their match 16-18, 15-7, 15-12. Missy Stollenberg was the leading player with 11 serve points and 19 spikes. Wayne coaches credited her with "a terrific freshman".

The freshmen match was nearly as close. Wayne lost that one 7-15, 15-8, 15-17. Christy Neisius scored 12 points to lead Wayne and Sarah Bliven had a good floor game for the hosts.

West Husker Tourney Opens

Competition promises to be strong as seven teams open the West Husker Conference volleyball tournament at Wisner tonight (Monday).

Teams had a combined record of 51-20 at the time of seedings a week ago. First round action is scheduled tonight with semifinal and final play scheduled tomorrow (Tuesday).

Class B power Columbus Lakeview is seeded first and will receive a first round bye. Wayne, seeded fourth will meet fifth seeded Emerson-Hubbard at 6 p.m. today in the Wisner-Pilger gym. At 7:15 p.m., third seeded Wisner-Pilger, a Class C power, will host West Point Central Catholic. Second seeded Hartington Cedar Catholic, another Class B power, will meet Madison at 8:30 p.m. The top three seeds have only one loss each. Wayne handed Wisner its only loss of the season. The winner of the Wayne-Emerson match will advance to play Lakeview at 6 p.m. Tuesday. The other two winners will compete at 7:15. The championship match is scheduled at about 8:45 p.m.

Competing against two Lewis and Clark Conference foes, the Wakefield Trojans split volleyball matches this week. The Trojans defeated Clark opponent Winside Thursday but lost to Lewis opponent Walthill on Tuesday.

"We've been playing pretty well and our team work has been good. We can't be disappointed," said Wakefield coach Ernie Kowar.

Wakefield defeated Winside 15-11, 10-15, 16-14 on the home court. Julie Sherer and Deb Foote led the scoring with eight points each. Foote also has five aces and scored seven consecutive points in the first game.

Tammy Thomas led Winside with eight points. Laurie Gallop also had a good night for Winside. Joni Jaeger continued her string of consecutive successful serves. She has missed only one serve all season.

"Our offense has done a 100 percent turnaround in recent weeks," Winside coach Paul Sok said. "With 1½ weeks left before districts, we should be ready by then. Our play is a lot more consistent."

"In a reserve game, the Trojans won a three-set match 11-2, 2-11, 14-12. Wakefield also won the C game 11-1, 11-2.

CONTEST RULES

One football game has been placed in each of the 20 ads on this page. Indicate the winner by writing in the name of the winning team on the proper line on the entry blank. No scores. Just pick the winners, or ties. In case of tie write "tie". Use the entry blank below or a copy of equal size.

Pick the score of the "Game of the Week" and enter that score in the appropriate blank. The correct closest score will be used to break ties and will be used only in the case of ties.

One entry only to each contestant, but members of a family may each submit an entry. Entries should be brought or mailed to The Wayne Herald office not later than 5 p.m. Thursday, or if mailed, should not be postmarked later than 5 p.m. Thursday. You need not be a subscriber of The Herald to be eligible for prizes.

The winners will be announced weekly on the Thursday sports page of The Wayne Herald. There will be duplicate prizes awarded if winning scores are identical. Employees of the Herald and their immediate families are ineligible. Judges' decisions will be final in every case.

Star of the Week

This week's star of the week contest was another tough one. Because of his outstanding defensive performance in a losing effort, Aaron Schuett of Wayne was selected as this week's star. Schuett had consistently led the Blue Devils on defense this season and had his best performance of the year last Friday night. The 190 pound senior recorded 29 tackles in Wayne's loss to West Point Central Catholic. Wayne coach Lonnie Ehrhardt said, "Aaron was involved in so many tackles and hit so hard that he was seeing double. And he still did a good job."

Other players who were nominated for the award for last week's performances were Rick Lade of Wayne State, Jeff Hallstrom of Wakefield, Brad Roberts of Winside and Curt Saunders of Laurel. Because Allen was idle last week, no player was nominated for the Eagles this week. Not to be overlooked is Lade's performance for WSC. He passed for three TD's in six minutes to lead the Cats to a come from behind win. For his performance he was named offensive player of the week in the CSC.

Wayne, Laurel Bands to Compete At Pershing Auditorium Eighty-one Nebraska high school bands will perform before five nationally known judges and capacity crowds at Pershing Municipal Auditorium on Saturday, Oct. 25. Competition will begin at 8:30 a.m. and will continue until 10 p.m. There will be an admission charge for persons wishing to attend the event. Participating schools include Laurel-Concord in Class C and Wayne-Carroll High School in Class B. Olympic style judging will be used. Each judge will rate bands on the basis of national standards from outstanding to excellent, average, below average and poor to give each band a corresponding division rating of I, II, III, IV or V. One high rating and one low rating will be cast out and the three remaining ratings will determine the band's final score. Each band will receive additional constructive criticism from the judges by means of recorded comments made during each performance. Judges this year will be Gordon L. Collins, band director and Music Department Chairman at the W.T. White High School in Dallas, Texas; James W. Herbert, festival artistic director of Music Maestro Please; Alton P. Poik, director of bands, Mesquite, Texas, High School; Dr. Alan H. Drake, director of bands and chairman of the Department of Music, Ohio Northern University, Ada, Ohio; and Mark S. Kelly, director of bands, Bowling Green, Ohio, State University.

LOWER ELKHORN NATURAL RESOURCES DISTRICT

Plan Windbreaks Now

Landowners looking forward to planting trees next spring should begin planning now. The Clarke-McNary Program offers landowners a selection of 7 conifers, 7 hardwoods and 9 shrub species. However, the more desirable species go quickly, and must be ordered early.

Clarke-McNary trees may be for windbreaks, woodlots and wildlife habitat. The seedlings must be ordered in lots of 100, at a cost of $19.95 per hundred delivered. In Cuming and Dodge counties, people who order through the NRD tree planter need not order in lots of 100.

Lower Elkhorn NRD provides a low cost tree planting service and weed control spraying. Local Soil Conservation Service personnel are available to assist landowners with design of tree plantings, species selection, and ordering trees. Cost sharing is available in some counties through ASCS for purchase and planting of seedlings.

Orders for trees will be accepted November 1, so landowners should contact their local SCS office as soon as possible in October. Tree order forms are also available at Lower Elkhorn NRD, ASCS, and Extension offices.

State Land Judging Contest at Wayne

Lower Elkhorn NRD will sponsor the state land judging contest in cooperation with Wayne County SCS, ASCS and Extension Service. The contest will be at the Wayne State College on October 21.

Eight area contests will be held throughout the state, where participants may qualify for the state contest. Teams consist of three or four persons and compete in FFA or 4-H division. The top three teams in each division qualify for the state meet.

Participants have the opportunity to evaluate soil features, recommend land treatment practices and judge residue effectiveness for erosion control.

At each of the four sites, the soil's features are judged for depth favorable to rooting, surface soil texture, permeability of subsoil, thickness of the surface soil, how wet the soil is and whether it floods, its slopes, organic matter content and how badly it has been eroded.

After the land capability class is determined, the contestants must determine the recommended farming practices and how to install proper conservation practices to maintain the soil productivity over a long period of time.

Residue evaluation is another important area of land judging. In this section, contestants judge the amount of wheat, corn, sorghum or other plant material left on the surface to protect it from erosion. The plant residue provides the best protection to the soil against wind and erosion.

The top FFA and 4-H club teams in the state contest are eligible to attend the International contest in Oklahoma City in May 1981.

Area Range Judging Contest

The Newman Grove FFA Chapter won the top team honors at the Northeast Area Range Judging Contest, while Marty Laska of St. Edward had the top individual score. The team of Steve Boller, Don Gasper, and Joe Gasper took the purple ribbon in the team division.

The contest was sponsored by Lower Elkhorn NRD in cooperation with Madison County SCS and Cooperative Extension Service. Northeast Technical Community College provided the site for registration and award presentations. Award winners included:

- Teams:
1st — Newman Grove — Boller, Gasper, Gasper
2nd — St. Edward — Laska, Reed, Reardo, Stock
3rd — Newman Grove — Fowikes, Korth, Priester, Shanle

County Teachers Institute

Rural school teachers from Madison, Pierce, Stanton and Wayne Counties attended an all day institute October 3. The institute was sponsored by Lower Elkhorn NRD in cooperation with the Cooperative Extension Service and County Superintendents from each county.

The theme of the institute was energy, and participants attended workshops on the 4-H Energy manual, food dehydration and solar collectors.

Gene Phillips, Stanton SCS, spoke on conservation tillage and windbreaks. Joe Flash, NPPD, spoke on "The Energy Situation."

The institute closed with a tour of an earth sheltered home.

1980 Nut Tree Seed Program

Nut bearing trees are a valuable source of food for wildlife and humans. For Nebraska's interest in growing nut trees from seed, the Nebraska Nut Growers Association, in cooperation with the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, Nebraska State and Extension Forestry, University of Nebraska Horticulture Department and Nebraska Statewide Arboretum System is again sponsoring a seed distribution program to encourage the planting of nut producing trees in rural and urban Nebraska.

Seed packets will be sold for $8.00 per packet delivered. Each packet will contain a total of about 25 seeds from at least 5 available species. Possible species for 1980 include American Chestnut, Chinese Chestnut, Shellbark Hickory, Pecan, Butternut, English Walnut and Hazelus.

For more information and application forms contact your local County Extension, SCS, ASCS or NRD office or write directly to the Nebraska Nut Growers Association, P.O. Box 4644, Lincoln, Nebraska 68504.

The remainder of Von Minden's contributions are $100 or less. The Accountability Commission said the next contribution reporting deadline is Monday (today). The final deadline is Dec. 3, a month after the election. A spokesman for the AFL-CIO said he hopes local (District 17) unions will contribute to Conway's campaign, although the state office has no plans to do so. The spokesman said his group endorsed Conway "based on his responses to issues that affect working people in the district."

James Whitmore to Perform At Wayne State on Oct. 28

James Whitmore will perform at Wayne State College at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 28, in Ramsey Theatre. Whitmore's performance is the opening of the WSC Special Programs Season for 1980-81. Other performances during the season will be: St. Olaf College Orchestra on Wednesday, Nov. 12; Sweden's leading tenor Rolf Bjorling on Tuesday, Feb. 24; and the Omaha Ballet on Wednesday, April 22. Whitmore will present a one-man conversation with his most unforgettable characters as he portrayed them: Theodore Roosevelt in "Bully," Will Rogers in "Will Roger's U.S.A.," and Harry Truman in "Give 'em Hell Harry!" The Tony Award-winning James Whitmore was nominated for an Oscar for his virtuoso one-man show on stage, film and television as Harry Truman in "Give 'em Hell Harry!" He also produced — along with George Spota — "Eleanor," a one-woman show starring Eleanor Heckart at Eleanor Roosevelt, and was seen as Oliver Wendell Holmes in the revival of "The Magnificent Yankee." He just finished starring as Sheridan Whiteside in "The Man Who Came To Dinner." Whitmore was born in White Plains, N.Y., raised in Buffalo and educated at Connecticut's Choate School. Interrupted in his prelaw studies at Yale by World War II, he received his degree while in boot camp and served as an officer in the Marine Corps. Upon his discharge at the end of the war, he joined the USO and after that studied at the American Theatre Wing and performed in summer stock. His first Broadway role was in "Command Decision" for which he won a Tony for best supporting actor and the Donaldson Award for best newcomer of the year. His first film, "The Undercover Man," with Glenn Ford, was followed quickly with "Batleground" for which he won an Academy Award nomination. His favorite films include "The Asphalt Jungle," "The Next Voice You Hear" and "Black Like Me." He was also seen in "Kiss Me Kate," "Battle Cry," "The Eddie Duchin Story," "Who Was That Lady," "Planet of the Apes," "The Split," "Madigan," "Guns of the Magnificent Seven," "Tora! Tora! Tora!" and "Chato's Land." He has a wide following on television due to his three successful series: "The Law and Mr. Jones," "My Friend Tony" and "Temperatures Rising." He was last seen in "The Word" for CBS. Whitmore lives in Mammoth, Calif., with his family. Tickets for the performance are $2.50 for the general public and will be on sale through Tuesday at the WSC Computer Center, lower level of Hahn Administration building from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Telephone reservations can be made by dialing 375-1550. Tickets, if available, will also be on sale to the general public at the door of the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center at 7 p.m. on the night of the performance. All reserved tickets must be picked up by 7:45 the night of the performance.

Mrs. Hall Honored at Carroll Presbyterian

Mrs. Charles Hall of Randolph was honored for her 80th birthday when Carroll United Presbyterian Women met Wednesday afternoon in the church fellowship hall.

Twelve members and several guests attended the meeting and birthday party. Mrs. Hall, who will observe her birthday Oct. 25, was honored in song.

The guests included Mrs. Gladys Jensen of Randolph, Mrs. Owen Jenkins, Mrs. Eva Glass and Mrs. Allen Pritchard, all of Norfolk, Mrs. Ann Roberts and Mrs. T. P. Roberts, both of Wayne, Mrs. Meivin Jenkins and Mrs. Lloyd Morris.

Mrs. Esther Batten prepared the program and Mrs. Lem Jones read a birthday poem. Mrs. Hall was the recipient of many gifts.

The business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Enos Williams, opened with a song, "In the Garden," accompanied by Mrs. Lem Jones.

Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Batten read the secretary and treasurer reports.

A birthday cake, baked by Mrs. Enos Williams and decorated by Mrs. John Williams, was served with ice cream for lunch.

Next regular meeting of United Presbyterian Women will be Nov. 5. Hostesses will be Mrs. Lem Jones, Mrs. Frances Axen, Mrs. Esther Batten, Mrs. O. J. Jones and Mrs. Clifford Lindsay.

Loberg Injured

Jeff Loberg, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Loberg of Carroll, was injured during a junior varsity football game between Wayne and Norfolk last Monday. The game was in Norfolk.

Loberg underwent extensive knee surgery at Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital in Norfolk.

Happy Workers

Mrs. Adolph Rohlf of Winside was hostess Wednesday when the Happy Workers Social Club met with 10 members.

Mrs. Lyle Cunningham, activities chairman, conducted a brief business meeting. The group made plans for the annual Christmas supper, card party and gift exchange. The event will be held Dec. 17 at 7:30 p.m. at Ron's Steakhouse in Carroll. Husbands will be guests and there will be a $1.25 gift exchange. Each member is asked to bring Christmas cookies for a coffee hour at the close of the evening.

Pitch was played at Wednesday's meeting, with prizes going to Mrs. Anna Hansen, high, Mrs. Russell Hall, low, and Mrs. Lyle Cunningham, traveling. Mrs. Cliff Ronde will be the Nov. 19 hostess.

Three Guests

Mrs. Rick Backer of Randolph, Mrs. Tom Bowers and Mrs. Ron Rees were guests at the Tuesday meeting of Hilltop Larks Social Club, held in the home of Mrs. John Bowers.

Mrs. Jim Florine conducted the business meeting and Mrs. Paul Brader reported on the last meeting. Roll call was answered with members telling what they would like to change in their spouse.

Plans were made for a Christmas supper in December at the Black Knight in Wayne. The date will be announced.

Mrs. Darrell French read "A Farm Wife's Version of the 12 Days of Harvest," and Mrs. Jim Florine read "Each Fall."

Cards furnished entertainment, with prizes going to Mrs. John Williams and Mrs. Jim Florine.

Mrs. Williams received a birthday gift from her secret sister. Next meeting will be Nov. 11 in the Merton Jones home.

Leases Station

Don Frink of Carroll has leased the Conoco Service Station in Carroll from Howard McLain of Wayne, effective Oct. 1. McLain had operated the station about the past 10 years.

The Don Frinks moved last month into the new home they purchased at the east edge of Carroll. Frinks, who came to Carroll this past summer from Norfolk, had been living in the Methodist parsonage.

The Brad Frinks and Jeremiah of Lincoln spent last weekend with his parents, the Don Frinks. The Roy Belhunes of Grand Island, spent last weekend in the home of his parents, the Lester Belhunes.
