News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

NEBRASKA State Senator Loran Schmit, president of the Corn Growers Non-Stock Cooperative Alcohol Association, said last week that his Association intends to build an alcohol plant in South Sioux City. Schmit said the plant can become a reality because of the action taken by the South Sioux City city council. The council recently passed a resolution authorizing the issuance of up to $15-million in industrial revenue bonds for construction of an alcohol plant.

"BROWN bagging" was in vogue last Monday noon when protesting South Sioux City Senior High School students boycotted traditional lunch lines. By Tuesday, however, the situation was back to normal. Helen Murphy, lunch room manager, estimated about 100 lunches were served last Monday instead of the average 400.

A TEXAS truck driver had a near-miraculous escape from death last Thursday evening when the semi-tractor he was driving blew a front tire on Highway 81 four miles south of Wee Town. The rig, south bound, went off the right side of the highway and struck the only tree within a half mile. The cab jack-knifed and was wedged between metal culverts and the tree. The driver, Don Branson, Odem, Texas, suffered head lacerations.

EMPLOYEE of the Year Awards were presented to two persons by the Randolph Community Club last Sunday evening.

LeRoy Brummels was the recipient of the award for his 23 years of employment with the City of Randolph and for work performed not necessarily expected of an employee. Mrs. Jeanette Leapey was recognized for her 22 years of employment for Dr. Henry J. Billebeck and for church work that has helped members of her parish.

THE homecoming excitement which permeated Cedar Catholic High school in Hartington last Friday evening reached its climax with the crowning of Queen Joan Becker and King Ed Lammers during coronation ceremonies at the homecoming dance following the football game. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Becker and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lammers, all of Hartington.

MAIN Street shoppers in West Point will once again have to keep a few pennies in their pocket if they plan to park downtown legally. The city council recently accepted the recommendations of the Downtown Improvement Committee to reinstitute the meters, with one-half hour free parking and a nickel charge after that.

AN organizational meeting of the Madison Chapter of Kiwanis International was held recently. Officers elected to serve the new chapter are John Geary, president; Larry Grove, first vice president; Doug Jensen, second vice president; Art Lee, secretary; and Morris Moyer, treasurer.

The Abuses of Bureaucracy

Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation
By M.M. Van Kirk,
Director of Information

Recently both houses of Congress approved legislation amending the Farm Labor Contractor Registration Act (FLCRA) to force the Department of Labor to refrain from treating every farmer and rancher as a labor contractor and every agricultural worker as a migrant laborer. The legislation of last report was still in the House-Senate Conference Committee.

The story of the FLCRA is a story of how government bureaucracy all too often attempts to turn good intentions into something that is unfair, impractical and unworkable. Aided and abetted of course by would-be spokesmen for minorities and special interest groups.

The history of the FLCRA goes back to the early 1960's. Following the report of a study commission, Congress became concerned about the welfare of migrant farm workers. A part of that concern was translated into FLCRA. The purpose was to require farm labor contractors or crew leaders who recruit, hire and transport farm workers in interstate commerce to be registered with the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) and to comply with certain regulations designed to prevent abuse of such workers.

The 1963 national law was considered a fairly reasonable act and the DOL regulations to implement it fairly workable. But in the early 1970's, pro-labor groups began to agitate for a much more stringent law. In 1974, amendments were added to the Act, which brought both interstate and intrastate operations under the federal act, prohibited contractors from knowingly hiring illegal aliens and added a number of other requirements designed to further protect the welfare of migrant workers.

While Congress clearly intended to exempt a farmer from registering as a labor contractor, the DOL set out to interpret the law as applying to all agricultural workers. Actually, there are only about 225,000 migrant workers in the United States, about one-tenth of the agricultural workers in the nation which includes many family members and regular employees such as one finds primarily in areas such as Nebraska.

Three times in the past four years, Congress has moved to amend the Act to exempt particular groups who had been told by DOL that they had to register. The first were the custom combine operators and their crews whose annual harvesting operations are well known. The second group were the providers of poultry health services. Next Congress moved to exempt crews of hybrid seed corn defasslers, because DOL had ruled that all of the high school students in the local communities who had been doing this work for many years, were really migrants, so those who recruited and transported them were crew leaders or labor contractors.

A few months ago, the Labor Department ruled that cotton gin workers were migrant workers and that those employers were required to register. Some livestock feedlot operations also have been cited by DOL. Many farmers have been required to register as labor contractors, to be fingerprinted and to be investigated annually by DOL, to carry a registration card, to state publicly their salaries or income and to obtain a special medical examination.

In a little more than a week, the guessing game will be over.

We'll know for certain whether it will be Ronnie or Jimmy we can blame for the next four years. The makeup of Congress will be determined once again. Democrats say they will maintain control and the Republicans argue that it's time for a change.

Candidates from Rex Story and Doug Beruter for U.S. Congress to Chuck Barnes and Dean Craun for the Wayne Airport Authority will be able to rest more at ease.

We wish them all luck. For the most part, all races have been clean. There was some question in the 17th District State Senate race from the issues. We'd have to agree. Where a candidate gets his financial support — at least to us — is not as important as future water rights in Wayne County, the plight of the small businessman, the plight of the farm community, the economic stability of Nebraska, etc., etc., etc.

The Wayne Herald — more specifically myself — will be endorsing candidates in Tuesday's paper. There is little question whom I will support in most of the races, but the District 17 State Senate race is a toss up. My latest personal political poll of four persons — all Wayne Herald employees — tells me it will be a close race. Two said they favored Gerald Conway and two backed Merle Von Minden.

The candidates are as different as night and day. One has the background of farming, while the other has been in education and real estate. One is rural oriented, the other is more city oriented, having spent much of the last year in Lincoln.

One is more articulate than the other, but the other appears to have more compassion for the needs of District 17 patrons. One appears to have the interests of the district more in mind than the other, but the other probably will have more influence among the other senators in getting things accomplished.

In Thursday's Wayne Herald, voters — hopefully — will be able to review personal, professional and philosophical backgrounds on all candidates involved in most local and important races. We have sent questionnaires to candidates running for Wayne City Council, Wayne-Carroll School District board of education and District 17 Senate candidates.

Responses to the questionnaires will be printed in Thursday's paper, with some possibly featured in the Monday, Nov. 3, issue.

My endorsements will be my opinions alone. They will not necessarily reflect the views of the paper's manager or publisher.

My endorsements will be based on what I perceive to be the issues and needs of the 17th District, and how one candidate or the other will be able to reflect those issues and needs in the Unicameral.

Voters should be selective in their decision. All factors should be given careful consideration, not just background, or looks or contributors, or friends, or neighbors, and so forth.

Most importantly, everyone should have a voice in the future of the district and the state. Although it will be my name signed to the endorsement editorial Thursday, all of us at The Herald urge you to take time out Nov. 4 to vote.

An editorial in our paper last week pointed out some interesting circumstances which were determined by one vote.

President Harry Truman won the 1948 election, but would have lost if he had not carried California and Ohio. He did that by less than one vote per precinct.

In the same year, Texas sent the late Lyndon Johnson to the Senate by a majority of only 87 votes.

In the 1960 presidential election, the late John F. Kennedy defeated Richard Nixon for the highest office in the land by a hairline margin, averaging less than one vote per precinct.

What we're saying is this: If some of those people who thought their vote wouldn't count had voted, the results of those elections might have been different.

Many, many people are trying to justify not voting by claiming that the choice is poor. The poorest possible choices are far, far better than countries that have no voice whatsoever.

Countries in the Soviet Bloc are primary examples. They profess freedom, human rights, free press, freedom of religion, etc., but allow residents of their countries little freedom of expression at the ballot box. A weak voice is better than no voice at all.

I promised myself I would stay away from this subject this fall, but I can't resist. The Missouri-Nebraska football game is less than a week away and it is shaping up to be a barn burner as usual. Unless Oklahoma makes a valiant comeback, or Nebraska or Missouri stumbles, it will be a race between the Tigers and the Cornhuskers for the title.

However, watch for my Tigers to get knocked off by one of the lowly Big 8 teams. My prediction for the Nebraska-Missouri game: the Huskers by a few points unless Jarvis is too hurt to play. I am loyal, but not blinded by faith.

The Wisdom of Big Brother V in Fabricating A Letter

Richard L. Leshar, President
Chamber of Commerce of the United States

In case you missed the June edition of FDA Consumer, it began with a letter from 12-year-old Terry Jacobs to the FDA stating that he normally drinks at least two cans of diet soda a day. Terry had heard that saccharin used as a sweetener in soda could cause bladder cancer within 10 years, so in his letter he asked "I don't particularly want to drop dead on my 22nd birthday. Could you please send me some information about recent rumors regarding saccharin?" The young man's inquiry received special attention. FDA Commissioner Jere Goyan personally responded with a long letter explaining that, despite some disagreement, the FDA believes saccharin might cause cancer and that Terry may be "flirting with trouble" by drinking two cans daily. The Commissioner then assured Terry that taking his personal time to answer the boy's letter "was worth it because we were talking about you and the millions of young people like you."

Well, not quite. According to Charles Sieb, reporter for "The Wall Street Journal," young Terry never wrote the FDA. His letter was a fake, fabricated by the agency as a means of making their case against saccharin. FDA maintains that it had prepared a similar letter. But Edward Frantel, president of Seven-Up Co., a unit of Philip Morris Inc., called the entire episode a "sham" and vigorously disputed the assertion that saccharin causes cancer. He noted: "I was under the impression that the events of the 70's had resulted in an upgrading of our political appointees. It appears I was mistaken."

Thanks... But No Thanks. Oklahoma officials have decided to turn down federal grants totaling $1 million for an education program, because it costs them $3 to administer every $1 from Washington. Dr. Dan Hobbs, vice chancellor for planning, told the state's regents that acceptance of the funds would require Oklahoma to carry out follow-up reports on 27,000 students annually who participate in the program. He estimated that paperwork alone would gobble up at least 80 percent of the $1 million the state would receive and noted that state discretion in using the funds is almost nil.

Thanks, Oklahoma, we needed that Memo From OSHA

OSHA, which is coming to be known as the Obstacle to Safety, Health and Achievement, recently went out of its way to polish its image as the most counter-productive agency in government. Created to protect workers on the job, what do you think it did in California recently when fire fighters rescued a man from a caved in sewer excavation? It reprimanded them for going into a trench whose walls had not been fortified by metal-to-metal jack screw shoring. It also cited the fire fighters for entering the trench without any advance excavation training.

As Don Skinner, chief of the Moraga, California, Fire Department asked "What were we supposed to do, let the man sit there while we go find shoring from some unknown place that meets every code?"

Yup. Despite the public's earlier cool reception to the quarter-sized Susan B. Anthony dollar, coined in honor of the famous American feminist, the government has gone ahead and minted 800 million of the Anthony dollars anyway. To overcome any public rejection, the U.S. Postal Service has been ordered to force-feed 250,000 of the coins as change to the public each day. If people don't like it, that's tough. Their only recourse is to fill out complaint cards expressing their dissatisfaction. In other words, you accept the change or fill out paperwork. Fair trade?

Senator Bill Roth, of Delaware, also discovered that to promote the coins the government is spending well over $600,000 on an ad campaign. The package features pamphlets and suggestions for holding Susan B. Anthony parties, bingo parties to give away the money and a poetry contest for the new coin.

The Republican Study Committee in Congress recently itemized 107 selected federal recommendations issued between January, 1979, 1980, regarding specific, unnecessary federal expenditures resulting from waste, fraud or mismanagement.

Total: Thirty-four billion, four hundred eighty-four million, seven hundred sixty-four thousand, eight hundred ninety-four dollars.

Nonetheless, it is anticipated that Uncle Sam, starved for funds, will increase taxes this fiscal year by $86 billion.

Who's who, what's what

1. WHERE is James Whitmore going to perform Tuesday, Oct. 28?
2. WHAT high school took a superior rating at the Wisner-Pilger Invitational Marching Band Contest?
3. WHO is going to be the guest speaker at the Farmer-Businessmen's Banquet Nov. 15?
4. WHICH two projects will cost the city of Wayne thousands of dollars?
5. WHEN is Wayne State College holding a conference on human rights and political reality?
6. WHO won the $25 football contest last week?

ANSWERS: 1. Ramsey Theatre. 2. Wayne-Carroll. 3. Rex Messersmith. 4. Deteriorating water supply and a grant for construction of a sewage treatment plant. 5. Wednesday, Oct. 29. 6. Brad Saunders, Dixon.

First Baptist Church to Hold 'Music With a Message' Series

The First Baptist Church of Wayne announces its second "Music With a Message" series on Sunday, Nov. 2, through Wednesday, Nov. 5.

The Rev. Eddie Carter, pastor, said the series was scheduled again because of the large attendance at last year's programs.

Pastor Carter and his wife, Ruth, will present the musical messages each evening at 7:30 p.m.

Churches throughout Wayne County have been invited to attend and to send a delegation to represent the local assembly. A 15 minute prelude will be followed by congregational singing, special music and a message.

Pastor Eddie and Ruth, who are no longer strangers to Wayne, said they are grateful for the warm reception they have received. They encourage all local and area residents to attend at least one service in the "Music With a Message" series.

Babysitting services will be provided each night.

Carters are native New Englanders and both hold A.B. degrees in theology. They assumed the pastoral responsibilities in Wayne following over 29 years as itinerant evangelists and 11 months as ministers of music and pastoral assistant.

They remain available for occasional campaigns and crusades elsewhere to present the gospel of Christ and an "in depth" ministry geared to reach all ages.

Pastor Carter is an inspiring song leader and preacher. Mrs. Carter, an outstanding organist and pianist who served four years as an instructor of music after graduating from college is the arranger of most of the team's instrumental and vocal numbers. In addition to her ministry in music, Mrs. Carter is available to speak to women's groups.

Carters have traveled extensively east, west and north in the United States and the Provinces of Canada, and in the Caribbean, and have been well received by clergy and lay people of many denominations.

Norman Decks Celebrate 35th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Deck of Hoskins were honored during a social hour and dance at the VFW Club in Stanton Oct. 18 for their 35th wedding anniversary.

The party was hosted by their children: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slahn, Chris and Anne Marie of Norfolk and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Deck, Steve and Pat of Stanton.

Jer Jo Duhachek of Meadow Grove registered over 175 guests and Jon and Pam Hamm of Pender served punch. Chris Slahn and Steve Deck presented each couple with a thank you scroll as they arrived.

The anniversary cake was cut and served by Mrs. Wilmer Deck of Carroll and Mrs. Raymond Duhachek of Meadow Grove. Mrs. J. C. Beech of Meadow Grove presided at the serving table and poured.

Waiting tables were Shealy and Kevin Libengood of Norfolk and Matthew Hamm of Pender. Women assisting in the kitchen for the reception were Mrs. Charles Slahn, Mrs. Laurence Stevens, Mrs. Tom Klug and Mrs. Frank Bright all of Norfolk, Mrs. Roger Deck and Mrs. Ron Pohlman both of Stanton, Mrs. Mervin Hamm of Pender, Mrs.

Ron Tuma of North Bend, Mrs. Brian Sutter of Omaha, and Shirley Lauer of Battle Creek.

Norman Deck of Hoskins and Fern Duhachek of Meadow Grove were married Oct. 17, 1945 at the Buffalo Creek Lutheran Church south of Meadow Grove.

Visitors in the Deck home during the week prior to their anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Duhachek of Belle Plaine, Iowa, and Hal Beech of Kansas City, Mo.

They reside on a farm east of Hoskins.

Eagles Donning Costumes

A Halloween costume party for Wayne Eagles Aerie and Auxiliary members will be held Saturday, Nov. 1 at 8 p.m. with judging of costumes at 9 p.m.

A costume party for children of Aerie and Auxiliary members was scheduled Sunday, Oct. 26, from 2 to 3:30 p.m. Chairmen were Dorothy Nelson and Gayle Mau.

The FOE Auxiliary met last Monday with 16 members. Plans were discussed for a Christmas party on Dec. 6. More details will be announced.

District 6 held its monthly meeting in Wayne Oct. 19. Auxiliaries were represented from Norfolk, O'Neill, Fremont, South Sioux City, West Point, Plainview, Blair, Plattsmouth, Columbus and Wayne. Several past and present state officers were recognized.

New district officers were elected and ritual work was done by the Fremont ritual team. Results of the women's bowling tournament held that morning at Melodee Lanes were announced, with Wayne teams taking first and third.

Winners of a drawing held following the meeting were Dick Wert, alghan, Sally Hammer picture clock, and Larry Test loin of beef.

A ham dinner was served, with social time following.

Next regular meeting of the local auxiliary will be at 8 p.m. Nov. 3.

Extension Club Elects Officers

Mrs. Del Sorensen was elected president of the Three M's Home Extension Club when it met this month.

Six members and a guest, Nancy Elwood, attended the meeting last Monday evening in the Jack Rohrberg home.

Other newly elected officers are Mrs. Richard Baier, vice president; Mrs. Jack Rohrberg, secretary; and Mrs. Sam Schroeder, treasurer.

The lesson, "Dressing for Your Life Style," was given by Mrs. Schroeder.

The group will meet Nov. 10 in the Schroeder home to make tray favors for the hospital.

CONSTRUCTION ON THE NEW St. Anselm's Episcopal Church in Wayne is expected to be completed by early winter. Pictured is the architect's drawing of the new structure which is located north of the State National Bank Drive-in. It is the first Episcopal Church ever built in Wayne.

Construction Nears Completion on St. Anselm's Episcopal Church

The new structure going up on Main Street just north of the State National Bank Drive-In is the first Episcopal Church ever built in Wayne and the long-awaited hope of St. Anselm's congregation.

A spokesman for the congregation said construction on the new church began in August.

The church is served by the Rev. James Barnett of Norfolk.

St. Anselm's had its origin in the fall of 1959 in Canterbury work with Episcopal students on the Wayne State College campus. Twelve to 14 students gathered for learning and discussion led by Pastor Barnett of the Trinity Episcopal Church in Norfolk.

Shortly afterwards, at the students' request, a celebration of the Holy Eucharist in the College Chapel preceded the Wednesday evening meetings. The Chapel services were open to the public and announced to the townspeople.

In the spring of 1960, four men of the Norfolk Trinity Episcopal Church volunteered to be lay readers for the Sunday morning services in Wayne if a location could be found. Willse's Mortuary Chapel provided a place of worship for the next 13 years.

Sunday services began April 20, 1960, the day before St. Anselm's Day. Later, when a name was to be chosen for the congregation, Doug Spencer of Wayne State suggested St. Anselm's. The new name was thought to be appropriate not only because of the date, but because St. Anselm was an Archbishop of Canterbury and a scholar.

Looking to the future, the Bishop and Trustees of the Diocese of Nebraska, in 1965, purchased the site of the new building but made no immediate plans for building. A building fund was opened about that same time.

Three years later the building fund was nearly doubled when the Norfolk lay readers turned over to St. Anselm's a passbook savings account of the weekly travel money that St. Anselm's had paid them for eight years.

While waiting several years for construction of the new church to begin, St. Anselm's built and furnished a small temporary chapel in the basement of Dr. Laura Franklin's home in Wayne, where they have continued to meet since 1973.

Members of the congregation hope to be in their new church by early winter.

Proett, Monson Win Medals

Blue Devils Place Sixth at State

The Wayne High cross country team renewed old acquaintances in Kearney, Friday. After a 13th place finish in last year's state meet, the Blue Devils had entertained thoughts of a state championship. It was within their reach but it wasn't to be. Competing in a balanced field of 18 teams, Wayne placed sixth. Although team members were somewhat disappointed, the sixth place finish put the final touches on a fabulous season.

Careers come to a close
All five of Wayne's varsity members ran their final race in a Blue Devil uniform. Two of Wayne's runners won individual medals. Doug Proett placed third and Steve Monson fifth in a field of 98 competitors. Monson placed sixth in Class B last year, running for Wahoo. He was one of five returning medal winners in the Class B field. Proett placed 19th at state last season. Proett opened with a strong pace leading the field of 98 runners for the first third of the race. Steve Doran of Grand Island CC, the only runner to defeat Proett in competition this season, came on strong for the final two miles of the race to finish first. Tim Ekberg of McCook placed second. Proett ran a good race but just didn't have enough kick to defeat the top two runners. His time was 16:47, 12 seconds behind Doran and 10 seconds behind Ekberg. "It was pretty fun. It was great leading the race but Doran was too strong in the wind. The wind blew me around. I'm happy though," Proett said. "It's too bad it's our last year." Proett said that his legs were numb after finishing the race in the cold weather. He said he was glad he wore a stocking cap. Proett added that he had trouble sleeping in his Kearney motel room because of anxiety and nervousness Thursday night and probably got only about four hours of sleep.

Exciting Finish
Monson improved on his 1979 finish by edging out Ron Moran of York at the finish line. Heading down the final mile and a half the course, Monson passed four or five runners to place fifth. He just squeezed in front of Moran by inches. Monson's time was 16:58, five seconds behind the fourth place time. "Proett held his own until Doran came up. It was really cold and my lungs froze. I was all hyped up and breathing hard," Monson said. "Fortunately, I had a good kick." Henrik Otsson placed 64th and Jeff Baier followed in the 65th position to round out Wayne's scoring for a 137 total. Joel Mosley was bothered by an ailing hip and finished back in the pack.

Auburn won the Class B title with 55 points. No Auburn runners placed in the top 10 positions but four runners placed in the top 20 to capture the title. Three juniors and two sophomores compose the Auburn team. Auburn places: 11, 13, 15, 16. Roncalli finished second with 76 points. Place points: 7, 18, 25, 26. Elkhorn, one of the Class B favorites, placed third with 118 points: 12, 29, 34, 43. York finished fourth: 6, 8, 44, 71. Grand Island CC was fifth: 1, 24, 42, 69. Wayne and York were the only two schools to place two runners in the top 10 positions.

Worked Hard
Wayne's two leading runners said they felt that this year's extra conditioning paid off. "It was the hardest I've ever worked for anything," said Proett. "Dave (Hamm, the assistant) helped us a lot. He was a big part of our success. It really helps to have a coach running along and pushing. He kept the minds of the runners straight." The two runners said "We ran about twice as much this year as we did last year. Mac (coach Maciejewski) made sure that we were in good shape. He and Dave really helped us. Coach Maciejewski was disappointed yet satisfied with his team's performance. "Naturally, we hoped we would finish higher. We were hoping for our best effort of the season but we didn't run as loose. I don't know if it was the cold or what," Mac said. "We had a tremendous year. It's difficult to be front runners all the time. A team must be highly competitive to be champion here. We just weren't strong enough in our third, fourth and fifth positions. "If our third man would have finished farther in front, it would have been important. I was hoping the state race would bring one of our other runners up," said Mac. "I think the boys ran as well as they can but I think they are physically tougher than they showed. It takes a lot of heart. We always have hopes. The season was a lot of fun, we got a lot of recognition and I'm sure we'll remember the winning season."

Keys to Success

"I couldn't have asked for a better bunch of kids. The attitudes were good. The parents' support was really helpful and Dave Hamm played a big part in our success as our assistant," Mac, who is in his 28th year of coaching, said.

Weather Doesn't Hinder Meet

Temperatures dipped into the upper 30's as some 550 high school athletes prepared for the state cross country meet at the hilly Kearney Country Club course. Boys entered in the competition numbered 260 in three classes. For the first time in Nebraska history, girls competed in cross country. The turnout for the first state turnout was 287. All girls were eligible to compete without qualifying this year. In the boys' field, 14 medal winners in 1979 returned. Steve Monson of Wayne was one of five returning medal winners in Class B. He placed sixth for Wahoo last year and bettered his performance with a fifth place finish this year. Other returning Class B medal winners were Ron Moran of York, Steve Doran of Grand Island CC, Jeff Hayes of Grand Island NW and Tim Ekberg of McCook. All five won medals again this year. The boys' course covered 5,000 meters and the girls covered 4,000.

Winside Closes Vball Season

The regular season came to a close on a losing note for Winside's volleyball team as Norfolk Catholic defeated the Wildcats 16-14, 16-14, Thursday night. Leading players for Winside were Tammy Thomas and Lisa Jensen with 21 points each. Thomas had nine ace serves. Norfolk Catholic also won the reserve match 15-10, 16-14. Daria Janke and Lisa Jensen seven points apiece. Winside will open district action the first week of November. No pairings have yet been announced. Lewis and Clark Conference all conference teams will be announced Monday.

DOUG PROETT leads the pack as he turns at the half-mile mark on the scenic part of the Kearney Country Club course.

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Hasca!

THE TRIP FROM Wayne to Kearney is a long one to witness a cross country race that lasts some 17 or 18 minutes. But, I'm sure that every Wayne fan who made the trip agrees that it was worth it. Family members of every Wayne runner attended the state meet despite a drive of about 3 1/2 hours. I know for a fact that few schools can boast of a figure like that. The family support has been good all season and the runners and coach told me that was one of the reasons for their success. It's nice to compete when some home town fans are backing you. This year's trip was much more fun than last year's. At least for this reporter. Last year I was sick and drove most of way. This year, Keith and Carol Mosley invited my wife and me to ride with them. We took a van-full of fans and left Wayne at 6 a.m. We were in great company and really enjoyed ourselves while doing our part to conserve energy. My thanks to Mosleys for organizing the car pool. I HAD HOPES that Wayne would win the Class B title but knew that the odds were against them. They put out a good effort but after the first mile of the race I was almost sure their chances for a championship were slim. The competition was keen and Wayne held its ground while placing sixth. Any people who believe that cross country isn't a major sport and think that only football rejects compete, should have witnessed the state meet. To see 100-plus individuals abuse their bodies physically by running more than three miles in near freezing weather is really something. The determination of these athletes, who have tired aching muscles at the end of the race, is just as strong as the determination in any sport. LARRY FAUSS, former public relations man for the Nebraska All-Star basketball games in past years and now a PR man for Doug Bereuter, was covering the state cross country meet as a part-time Omaha World Herald assistant. As usual, Fauss was the life of the meet. At the Kearney Country Club, located near the heart of Kearney State College, Fauss was seen wearing a Wayne State College stocking cap. The Kearney State folks didn't let him forget it. CROSS COUNTRY is over but football and volleyball teams continue to grind out their weekly routine for at least another week. Yet, for a short moment, I'm going to turn some attention to basketball. Believe it or not, Class B district basketball schedules have been set up already. Members of the B-4 district are Wayne, Lakeview, Scotus, Hartington CC, Schuyler, Tekamah-Herman and West Point. Site for the B-4 district tournament will be

Northeast Tech in Norfolk. Dates for the girls' tournament are Feb. 23, 24 and 26 (Monday, Tuesday and Thursday). Three games will be played on the 23rd, two on the 24th and the championship game on the 26th. Dates for the boys' journey are Feb. 28, March 2 and March 3 (Saturday, Monday and Tuesday). Seeds will be determined by season records. FOOTBALL AND VOLLEYBALL releases from the Central States Intercollegiate Conference and District 11 show several Wayne State athletes with impressive statistics. In volleyball, Mariene Mogensen of WSC is the second leading spiker with 245 spikes in 83 games for an average of three per game. Cheryl Abts is ranked in total points and assists, Kelly Heitholdt and Annette Reiman are ranked in assists and Marilyn Strate is among the leaders in assists, spike points and block points. WSC football players whose stats are impressive in the CSC are Rick Lado and Kelly Neustrom in total offense and passing, Pat Maxwell in receiving, punting, punt returns and kickoff returns, Jeff Ingnum in scoring and receiving, Ed Blackburn in scoring and Steve Atamian in the interception department. Maxwell is now ninth in the nation in receiving and second in punt returns. Wayne State is ninth in passing offense (Washburn is first).

Wildcats Clinch Title; One Step from Playoffs

The Winside Wildcats clamped onto the Clark Division title and moved within one step of qualifying for state with a surprisingly easy 34-7 win over Hartington, Wednesday night in Winside. The victory gave Winside the conference championship with a 6-0 record and improved the Wildcats' overall record to 7-1. A win over Walthill next Friday will clinch a state playoff berth for the Cats. "We're looking forward to playing Walthill. We can't look past them. If we win, we're in the state playoffs," Winside coach Dennis Gonnerman said. "Our defense did come of the game were rushing yardage and return yardage. Winside rushed for 256 yards and held Hartington to only 74 yards on the ground. The visitors entered the game averaging more than 200 yards rushing per game and were led by fullback Chris Folkers. Folkers was averaging more than 120 yards a game. Brian Foote, who entered the game as the leading scorer, leading all-purpose runner, leading kick scorer, and leading kick-off returner in the Lewis and Clark Conference, strengthened all of his statistics with a fine performance. Foote had four punt returns for 96 yards, two kickoff returns for 31 yards, 129 yards rushing on 16 carries, two of three PAT's, two touchdowns, a two-point conversion and two field goals of 24 and 25 yards respectively. The 130 pound senior broke Hartington's back on the final play of the first half. Hartington punted the ball with about 10 seconds remaining in the half and Foote returned the ball 73 yards for a TD as the half came to a close. He added the two-point conversion to give Winside a 17-7 half-time lead. Brad Roberts had a key block on the punt return. Hartington put the first points on the board in the game by marching the opening kick-off downfield for a touchdown and a 7-0 lead. After giving up the opening touchdown, Winside switched from a six man line to a 5-4-2 Oklahoma defense, and held Hartington's offensive output to 104 total yards. The Wildcats put together a drive of their own in the second quarter and Foote kicked a 24 yard field goal to pull the hosts back within four points. Winside took the lead later in the second period when Tom Koch scored on a reverse play. Foote's punt return ended the first half scoring. Winside added three more points in the third quarter on a control drive. Foote booted a 25-yard field goal for a 20-7 advantage. The score became lopsided in the fourth period when the Cats added two TD's. Bill George scored on a screen pass from Mark Koch which covered 29 yards and Foote scored on a 47-yard counter play. Rushing leaders for Winside were Foote with 16 carries for 129 yards, Rod Doffin with six carries for 47 yards, Tom Koch with 39 yards in four carries and Byron Schellenberg with seven carries for 31 yards. George was the leading receiver with two catches for 54 yards. Defensively, the Wildcats displayed a strong team effort. Barry Bowers was the leader with 15 tackles followed by Brad Roberts with 11, Joel Broekemeier with 9 and Jim Hawkins with 7. Five of Hawkins' seven tackles were quarterback sacks.

Trojans Rebound for Share of Clark's Runner-up Spot

A combination of a Trojan victory and a Hartington loss gave Wakefield's football team a share of second place in the Clark Division of the Lewis and Clark Conference, Wednesday night.

The Trojans defeated Coleridge 14-6 in Coleridge to do their part for the bid. Wakefield is now 4-2 in Clark Division competition and 6-2 overall.

Wakefield entered the game ranked second in scoring defense and second in total defense in the Lewis and Clark Conference.

Season record:

Wakefield (6-2)
Homer	25-12

Wausa	14-8
Hartington	7-14
Wynot	20-6
Osmond	7-0
Winside	20-27
Coleridge	14-6
Oct. 31	vs. Laurel

The Trojans had given up an average of 7.7 points and 151 yards per game.

Those statistics were bettered as Coleridge scored just six points and managed only 113 total yards.

"We weren't real sharp. Coleridge did some things that we shouldn't have let them do. We were lucky to win," Wakefield coach Dennis Wilbur said. "Coleridge has a scrappy young team and they'll be tough in coming years. They're small but quick and will be a good club in the future."

Wilbur said he felt Wakefield's loss to Winside last week had some bearing on the team's mediocre performance Wednesday.

Despite the close score, the Trojans really had control of the game. They outyarded Coleridge 236 yards to 113 and put together their longest drive of the season.

Wakefield scored its first touchdown in the second quarter when Joedy Sherer barreled in from one yard out. The PAT failed and the Trojans led 6-0 at the half.

In the third quarter, the locals put together a 74-yard drive for a TD. The longest run in the drive was an 11 yard gain. "We just punched the ball," Wilbur said. This time, Jerry Roberts did the honors, taking the ball in on a three-yard run. He added the two-point conversion for a 14-0 advantage.

Coleridge came back with its only score in the third period. John Hoffart scored on a two-yard run.

Leading rushers for Wakefield were Roberts with 24 carries for 110 yards and Sherer with 89 yards in 19 carries. Wayne Guy carried the ball eight times for 40 yards. Starting quarterback Mark Starzl was hit in the ribs in the first half and played only on defense in the second half.

Defensive leaders for the Trojans were Vaughn Nixon, Roger Echtenkamp, Jeff Hallstrom and Alan Echtenkamp. Roger Echtenkamp and Starzl had one interception each.

Wakefield and Laurel are scheduled to meet in Wakefield on Friday. Wilbur said he is looking forward to playing the Bears and also looking forward to Laurel joining the Lewis and Clark Conference next school year.

"It's parents night and hopefully we'll have a good sized crowd. I would like to see a lot of Laurel people at the game," said Wilbur. The six seniors on Wakefield's squad will be honored at the game.

Devils Lose to Cedar; Set Sights on Win at Madison

JIM SPERRY (15) of Wayne grinds out a few yards against Hartington Cedar Catholic's stacked defense. Other identifiable Wayne players are Richard Poehlman (19), John Anderson (63), Alan Lind Ailing from two key injuries, the Wayne Blue Devils played Hartington Cedar Catholic a close game Wednesday night in Hartington and then began preparing for next week's battle with Madison.

Cedar won the West Husker matchup 11-0 handing Wayne its eighth loss of the season.

With its top two running backs watching from the sidelines, Wayne's offense couldn't get untracked. Kevin Nissen and Chip Carr sat out the entire game due to injuries aggravated last week. Both players are expected back at full strength for Friday's season finale at Madison.

Season record:

Despite the loss, Wayne fans did have something to cheer about. The Blue Devils put together a tremendous goal-line defense that held Cedar short of a touchdown. Hartington was stopped within mere inches of the Wayne goal on a fourth quarter drive.

"Our defense did a good job. We've been real respectable in that area. Our offense should start generating again next week," Ehrhardt said. "We played a good football game. If we would have completed some more passes we would have been okay."

Wayne's defense has given up only one touchdown in each of its last two ball games and has been effective against the pass all season. Every cloud has its silver lining and Wayne's bright spot is its passing defense which Ehrhardt boasts is one of the state's best.

Passing yardage allowed in eight games this season: Cedar, 15 yards; Emerson, 0 yards; West Point CC, 81 yards; Albion, 45 yards; Wisner, 118 yards; Lakeview, 25 yards; Blair, 20 yards; South Sioux, 0 yards.

Hartington scored the only touchdown of the game in the second quarter on a run by Tim Schieffer. A two-point conversion gave the hosts an 8-0 advantage. Schieffer added a field goal in the third quarter.

Ehrhardt said that his team drove the length of the field in the second quarter but failed to convert a fourth and one situation at the CC six-yard line. The Devils trailed 8-0 at the time.

Defensive leaders for Wayne were Aaron Schuett with 17 tackles, Tod Heier with 15 tackles, Brett Frevert with 14 tackles, Tim Heier with 13, Eric Brink with 11, Jeff McCright with 10, Dallas Hansen with 9 and Pat McCright and Rich Glass with 7 tackles each.

Offensively, Jim Sperry rushed for 24 yards and Kurt Janke rushed for 19 yards. Heier completed four of 13 passes for 87 yards. Leading receiver was Pat McCright with four receptions for 44 yards. Tom Feilmeler fueled Cedar's attack with 129 yards rushing.

Wausa Second Half Explosion Stops Bears; Laurel Will Finish Season at Wakefield

Hopes for a winning season diminished Wednesday night as the Laurel Bears were defeated by Wausa 26-6 in Wausa.

Laurel played well defensively but the offense had its troubles. The loss dropped the Bears to 3-5 for the season with one game remaining. Laurel will play at Wakefield, Friday.

"Defensively, we played real well. Brian Marquardt had a super defensive game," Laurel coach Lynn Schuett said. "We defended well but they outexecuted us. They just outran us."

Schuett wasn't as pleased with his offense which managed only 129 total yards and scored one touchdown.

Laurel turned the ball over five times, three times on interceptions. A strong pass comd quarter for a lead of 6-0. Two TD's in the third period opened the lead to 20 points. Mike Erickson scored two TD's, Ned Blankenship scored one and Lackas added the other.

rush by Wausa caused several bad passes and led to the interceptions.

Quarterback Joe Olsen, who was pressured all evening, completed five of 17 passes for 87 yards. Schuett said that Laurel's offensive line "let people wade through" to the quarterback.

Wausa scored one touchdown in the second quarter for a lead of 6-0. Two TD's in the third period opened the lead to 20 points. Mike Erickson scored two TD's, Ned Blankenship scored one and Lackas added the other.

Laurel used the big play to set up its scoring drive of three plays. The Bears took over the ball at their own 21-yard line and wasted no time in scoring.

After an incomplete pass, Olsen dumped off a wingback screen pass to Dave Marquardt. Marquardt rolled 53 yards down to the Wausa 26-yard line. Curt Saunders then carried the ball in for a touchdown on a draw play from the 26.

Saunders finished with 63 yards in 10 carries. Leading receivers were Dave Marquardt with one reception for 53 yards, Brian Marquardt with two receptions for 16 yards, Tim Bloom with one catch for 14 yards and Brian Buss with one catch for 14 yards.

Defensive leaders were Brian Marquardt, Todd Twiford, Scott Norvell and Jeff Anderson. Schuett said that Marquardt had "a super game", Twiford played "real well", Norvell played "well" and Anderson had a "pretty good" game.

BRIAN MARQUARDT of Laurel (27) knocks down a Wausa pass at the last second for an incompletion. Despite Laurel's loss, Marquardt played "a super defensive game" according to Laurel coach Lynn Schuett. This was just one of his many fine plays.

Loss to Walthill Ties Allen for 2nd Place

A couple of bad breaks hindered chances for the Allen Eagles to claim sole possession of second place in the Lewis Division of the Lewis and Clark Conference.

Walthill defeated the Eagles 12-2 Wednesday night in Walthill. Both teams are now 3-2 in division play and 3-4 overall. Lewis Division leader Ponca defeated Bancroft Thursday night in a key contest.

Ponca's victory gives the Indians first place in the division and drops Bancroft into a three-way tie for second with Allen and Walthill.

The Allen-Walthill game was a defensive battle with neither team scoring in the first half. An Allen fumble led to Walthill's first touchdown in the third period.

Walthill gained possession of the ball in Allen territory and a pass interference call moved the ball deeper into Eagle land. Terry Stansberry scored on a 15-yard run for a 6-0 Walthill lead.

The Eagles put two points on the board with a safety early in the fourth quarter. The middle of Allen's defensive line was credited with the safety which reduced Walthill's lead to four points.

Allen had an opportunity to take the lead and possibly win the game. The Eagles moved the ball down to the 11-yard line of Walthill but failed to score when a fumble turned the ball over to the Bluejays. The fumble recovery was returned 60 yards into Allen territory.

Walthill put the finishing touches on the game when Tom Wingett scored on a seven-yard TD run.

The Eagles had one other scoring opportunity earlier in the game but time ran out in the first half with Allen down to the Walthill 10-yard line and threatening to score.

Defensively, Allen had a good game. Defensive leaders were Randy Smith, Rick Gotch, Terry Brewer, Frank Lanser and Robb Linafelter. Randy Smith had 15 tackles to lead the effort.

"Walthill is a real quick team but I don't think we were mentally ready for them," Allen coach Bart Kneiff said. "We were driving the ball at the end of the game but fumbled and they took advantage of it. It's just one of those things. Now we have to get back up for Wynot."

Offensively, Allen was led in a balanced attack by Linafelter, Gotch and Terry Brewer. Gotch had 67 yards in 12 carries. Brewer carried seven times for 46 yards and Linafelter totaled 42 yards in 10 carries.

The Eagles are scheduled to finish their season at Wynot, Friday.

South African Kicks Way from NFL to Wayne State

By Randy Mascoll

In mid-summer, he one would have dreamed that someone who lived some 2,000 miles from Nebraska and had never touched a football would be handling place-kicking duties for the Wayne State Wildcats this season.

Then along came 21-year-old Gary Cook of Johannesburg, South Africa, son of a building contractor.

Cook began playing soccer when he was five or six years old. Like many famous kickers, Cook made the switch from kicking a soccer ball to kicking a football. That change came only a couple of months ago and Cook says it didn't come easy.

"The toughest thing to learn is the coordination between the center and holder and kicker."

Two weeks ago and Cook says it didn't come easy.

"The change from soccer to football was a tough one. People kept advising me to kick different ways. I've only been playing 6 or 9 weeks so I've got a lot of work to do and a lot to iron out," said Cook with a British sounding accent. "The toughest thing to learn is the coordination between the holder and kicker."

"There is a big difference in the flight of the two balls and I have to compensate for the fantastic winds here," Cook stated.

Cook's presence at Wayne State is a story of itself. As a foreign exchange student, he stayed the Ron Pfeiffer family of Chicago. The family later transferred to Norfolk.

Gary's American brother Scott Pfeiffer enrolled at Wayne State and when Gary looked for an American college, he naturally looked into WSC. Now he and Scott are roommates in Bowen Hall. "I liked the atmosphere and way of educational opportunities in the United States," said the pre-law major. "I decided to try football so I told Coach Stoltenberg that I wanted to try out and he said that was fine. At the time, I didn't even know that several soccer kickers were playing football."

"I took Cook awhile to learn some of the terminology of football and understand the rules of the game. In fact during practice he asked with his South African accent for the 'bull stand' referring to the kicking tee."

It didn't take Gary long to learn that football is a contact sport. And when he did learn, he found out the hard way.

In the opening game of the season against Chadron, Cook suffered a broken rib when one player blocked him after a kickoff.

As a soccer player, Cook was a mid-field player. In South Africa, he played for the National Football League, a semi-pro soccer league. However, he didn't sign a contract with the team and didn't lose any amateur status in the United States.

Instead of football, South Africans play rugby, Cook said. The other sport that is foreign to America is cricket.

It is compulsory in South Africa for males to serve two years in the army. At age 18, Cook joined the army and served as commander in his border patrol platoon.

Gary was born 21 years ago in Johannesburg, a metropolis of about one million. He points out that the differences between South America and the United States are numerous. He said that the Nebraska temperatures are quite a change from the sub-tropical climate in his native country.

Other main differences are imposition of embargos and strict, conservative education. Cook said that youths are required to wear uniforms, short hair and attend school until 16 years of age. "School is far learning. Athletics are not a major part of education but we do have extramural club activities," he explained.

Cook stated that South Africa is a "very independent country" but pointed out that many countries including the U.S. have influence and interests in South Africa. The United States has considerable investments in gold and diamonds in the English and Dutch speaking country.

price of gasoline was about four dollars a gallon and people who drive, own only German and Japanese subcompact cars.

Gary explained that the racial problems in South Africa are similar to those that the U.S. went through years ago. "I believe in equality for everyone," he said.

"We must help the person at the bottom of the ladder. That person is now the one getting hurt."

Making the change from soccer kicker to place kicker hasn't been easy for Cook. He said he feels a lot of pressure when he enters the game. He has kicked a 42-yard field goal in a reserve game and a 35-yarder in varsity action against Washburn.

"I'm not having any problem with extra points. I haven't had many opportunities to kick field goals but when I did I should have put them through," Cook said. "I watched the Giants on television and their kicker made only one of five attempts so I didn't feel so bad."

"There's been a lot of pressure. Everyone knows about me and expects me to do well. It isn't easy," Gary said. "The chaps on the team have been good to me. When I miss a field goal they tell me that's okay and assure me I'll do better next time. I'll do my best. There's nothing else I can do."

CONTEST RULES

One football game has been placed in each of the 20 ads on this page. Indicate the winner by writing in the name of the winning team on the proper line on the entry blank. No scores. Just pick the winners, or ties. In case of tie, write "tie". Use the entry blank below or a copy of equal size.

Pick the score of the "Game of the Week" and enter that score in the appropriate blanks. The correct closest score will be used to break ties, and will be used only in the case of ties.

One entry only to each contestant, but members of a family may each submit an entry. Entries should be brought or mailed to The Wayne Herald office not later than 5 p.m. Thursday, or if mailed, should not be postmarked later than 5 p.m. Thursday. You need not be a subscriber of The Herald to be eligible for prizes.

The Winners will be announced weekly on the Thursday sports page of The Wayne Herald. There will be duplicate prizes awarded if winning scores are identical. Employees of the Herald and their immediate families are ineligible. Judges' decisions will be final in every case.

Star of the Week

This week's star of the week is Bill George of Winside who did his part to lead Winside to a 27-20 win over Wakefield last Friday. George covered lots of ground as one of Winside's defensive leaders. He intercepted a pass and recovered a fumble to thwart two Trojan drives. The end had only one reception during the game but that was a 63-yard touchdown pass.

Other players who were nominated for the award for last week's performances were Terry Brewer of Allen, Jeff Anderson of Laurel, Brett Frevert of Wayne, Steve Hawkins of Wayne State and Mark Starzl and Rod Nixon of Wakefield. Because Trojan coach Dennis Wilbur couldn't separate the performances of his quarterback and receiver, both Starzl and Nixon were accepted as nominees.

It's a tradition... like father & son.

Most local storekeepers aren't "Johnny-come-latelys." Some have been serving this area for many, many years. A number of stores are now being run by a second, and in some cases even third, generation of the same family.

Locally stores have a fine reputation to uphold. That's why you can be sure of getting the kind of friendly service you want and deserve. That's a strong reason why you should shop locally. Part of every dollar you spend is for service, so why not get it. You are paying for it.

Retention Is Military Key: Bereuter Tells Vets Group

The nation's defense readiness depends on keeping experienced, skilled men and women in uniform, Congressman Doug Bereuter said recently.

"Retention is the key to readiness," Bereuter told members of the student Veterans organization of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, in a speech Saturday evening.

"We must reverse a dangerous trend of qualified service personnel abandoning military careers in favor of better-paying civilian jobs," he said.

"This country can have the best weapons systems known, but without the skilled manpower to operate and maintain the hardware, those weapons are ineffective," Bereuter explained.

The pay gap between the military and comparable jobs in the private sector is a primary reason for serious retention problems experienced by all branches of the service, Bereuter said.

"This is particularly true for technical specialists, such as radar technicians and aviation mechanics, whose skills are in great demand by private industry.

"For example, a Navy boiler technician who makes $12,500 would earn $23,000 in a comparable civilian job. A lieutenant commander on a nuclear submarine with 10 years experience earns about $35,000. The civilian nuclear industry offers starting jobs at salaries averaging $45,000, with $60,000 commonly promised in five years. How can we expect that lieutenant commander to stay in uniform when industry can make such attractive offers?"

"Part of the discrepancy results from military pay caps imposed by President Carter for three consecutive years, limiting increases to no more than 7 percent. Average compensation for all ranks is only $13,741.

"It's a shame when young people who have volunteered to serve their country have to go on food stamps to survive," Bereuter said.

Bereuter said the 11.7 percent pay raise recently granted to all service personnel still will not bring military pay in line with the private sector.

Former Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird has estimated that service personnel would have to receive a 17 percent pay raise in order to restore their purchasing power to 1971 levels, Bereuter told the student veterans.

"When you consider the unique demands and the sacrifices entailed in military life, we owe our men and women in the Armed Forces the best compensation we can reasonably afford," Bereuter concluded.

Weather Equipment

WHILE HARVESTING corn, Frederick Vahkamp of rural Wayne discovered some weather equipment in a local corn field southwest of Wayne. The remains of a hot air balloon attached to a parachute and some equipment were found laying across several rows of corn. Monday. The equipment belongs to the National Weather Service in Kansas City, Mo. and was being returned by mail, Tuesday. According to information contained with the equipment, the hot air balloon was released Oct. 3 from Huron, S.D. The balloon and equipment are expected to reach an altitude of about 17 miles after they are released. The equipment was discovered on the Emil Vahkamp farm

Wayne State Students Will Perform Recitals

The recital is free and open to the public. They will be singing songs by Mahler, Schubert, Barber and Head, also featuring operatic arias by Leoncavallo and Ponchielli. A special feature of the recital will be a duet cantata by Buxtehude with violinists Dr. Christopher Bonds and Bill Fletcher assisting. Piano accompanists for the recital will be Mrs. Linda Baddock of Wayne and Mrs. Karen Cox of Clarkson. Crosgrove of Modale, Iowa, is listed in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" and has been a state and regional NATS singing winner for two years, and is an active member of WSC's band, orchestra, choir, madrigal singers, Blue Key, Alpha Lambda Delta and Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship. He is also an active member of the Wayne First Church of Christ.

Mrs. Johanson of Centereach, N.Y., is active at Wayne State College in Alpha Lambda Delta, Cardinal Key, choir and madrigal singers and has been a reporter for the "Wayne State" (WSC student newspaper) and member of the choir at Wayne First United Methodist Church.

Both singers toured Germany and Austria this spring with the WSC Choir, and both hold Arnold Conn Scholarships.

The recital begins at 8 p.m.

Urban Congress Needs To Know Farm Needs

Farm State representatives, to be effective, must make special efforts to "educate" congressmen from urban and suburban areas about agricultural issues, Congressman Doug Bereuter said recently.

"I spend a large part of each day in Washington on agricultural issues, because I know how important a healthy farm economy is to all Nebraskans and to the nation," Bereuter told members of the Nebraska Agricultural Council in Lincoln. "Equally important, I concentrate on educating urban and suburban congressmen about the needs and interests of our food producers.

"I view my role in informing urban congressmen as absolutely essential, given the fact that today only one out of four members of the house comes from a district dominated by agriculture. At the same time, I believe I have to show a willingness to understand concerns that are particular to other areas of the country. For example, if I am to expect a colleague from the Pacific Northwest to be concerned about our farm problems, in return I must try to understand the problems of their timber and fishing industries.

"In the long run, members of congress from great plains and farm states lose when we are too parochial in our focus.

Bereuter said he plans to initiate an exchange program, whereby he would invite congressmen from urban areas to Nebraska to get a first hand look at farm operations and farm life. "Likewise, I will accept invitations to visit their congressional districts to understand better the situation of, for example, a businessman or home owner in the Bronx."

"One priority will be to convince the majority in congress that increased farm exports and a healthy farm economy will benefit both producers and consumers, Bereuter said.

"Today farm exports are the major factor in reducing the nation's trade deficit. One out of three productive acres in America produce crops for export. The American economy has a big stake in increased sales of farm products abroad. Farm exports help create jobs, reduce inflation and strengthen the dollar."

Bereuter is a member of the congressional farm export project, a group recently formed for the purpose of developing a strategy to boost farm exports in the coming decade. Farm exports have the potential to double by 1985, and triple by 1990, according to Bereuter.

Bereuter was critical of President Carter's export policies.

"This administration has failed to be consistent in its trade policies. The grain embargo against the Soviet Union is a glaring example. The embargo has damaged this country's standing as a reliable trading partner," he said.

Story Faults Bereuter On Agricultural Interests

At a Nebraska Agricultural Council meeting Tuesday afternoon, Rex Story agreed with his opponent that agricultural interests are definitely underrepresented in Congress and commented this was "largely the fault of the current First District Representative."

"I agree with Mr. Bereuter that we need to educate urban representatives about agricultural issues, but it also appears we need to educate our own First District Congressman and stress upon him that he is representing an agricultural district while he is in Washington."

Mr. Bereuter tried to convince ag leaders he could better serve their interests by not being on the House Agricultural Committee, subsequently admitting he never even sought a seat on the House Agricultural Committee even though on Nov. 22, 1978 in front of the Nebraska Agricultural Council he assured the group this would be a "first priority."

Bereuter sought positions on the Urban Affairs and Public Works committees subsequently gaining seats on Small Business and Interior Affairs Committees," Story said.

Story stated, "in order to better represent the agricultural interests of this state," he would have a full-time staff person assigned to agriculture and agricultural related issues while Bereuter seems to place such incidental importance on agriculture that he only has a staff member working part time on ag issues. "Is this really the type of Congressman you want representing your interests in Congress," he asked?

Story once again emphasized he would actively pursue a seat on the House Agricultural Committee if elected and would sponsor legislation beneficial to the farmer.

"I would be a spokesman for the farmer, being considerably more active in sponsoring and drafting agricultural related legislation, something the current Congressman has refused to do. My first goal would be to obtain a seat on the House Agricultural Committee so this state can have a full time representative of the farmer rather than a do nothing Congressman."

Story also made reference to Bereuter's inconsistencies on his position on the Soviet grain embargo. "Mr. Bereuter stated his support of the grain embargo on Jan. 7, 1980, then on July 29, 1980, he stated he had 'opposed it from day one and that he didn't see any inconsistencies in his statements.' It is very disturbing to me that we have a man representing us who is unable to admit his errors."

Story criticized Bereuter's vote against Federal Crop Insurance reminding ag leaders of Bereuter's big business connections and campaign contributions and that no other member of the Nebraska delegation voted against this farmer oriented bill. "I find it deplorable that Mr. Bereuter, who is supposedly representing agricultural interests, voted against Federal Crop insurance," Story stated.

Order Trees

Landowners should order their windbreak trees for next spring windbreak planting as soon as possible, reminds Don C. Spitzer, Wayne County Extension agent.

The Clarke McNary tree program offers landowners a selection of seven conifers, seven hardwoods and nine different shrub species in multiples of 100 delivered next spring.

More information and order blanks may be obtained from the Soil Conservation Service or Wayne County Extension Service in Wayne.

Trees should be ordered soon as some of the more popular species sell out very fast!

Bonds, Notes Interest Rate Rises

Secretary of the Treasury G. William Miller announced that President Carter approved a 1 percent increase in the interest rate paid on United States Savings Bonds and Savings Notes.

The President acted after signing legislation permitting the Secretary of the Treasury, with the President's approval, to raise Savings Bonds interest rates by up to 1 percent during any 6-month period. Previously the interest rate ceiling was fixed by statute.

The interest rate on Series EE Bonds purchased on and after Nov. 1 is being increased from 7 percent to 8 percent, compounded semiannually, when the Bonds are held to original maturity. The term to maturity is being shortened from 11 to 9 years.

The interest rate on Series HH Savings Bonds purchased on and after Nov. 1, 1980, is being increased from 6 1/2 percent to 7 1/2 percent to their original maturity, which remains at 10 years. Interest on these Bonds is paid semiannually by check.

All outstanding Series E, EE, H and HH Savings Bonds, as well as outstanding Saving Notes (Freedom Shares) will also benefit from a 1 percent increase to their next maturities. The redemption value of E and EE Bonds and Savings Notes and the interest on H and HH Bonds during periods before their maturity will be improved. In general, the increase will be effective with the first semiannual interest period that begins on or after November 1, 1980. Maturity period for these bonds and Notes will not be changed.

enormous investment needed to revitalize our economy in the 1980's.

Depending on market conditions a further rate increase of up to 1 percent may be made as early as May 1, 1981.

The new 8 percent rate for EE Bonds and 7 1/2 percent rate for HH Bonds will be guaranteed minimum yields to their original maturities.

Continuing benefits of Series EE Bonds include their exemption from State and local income taxes, the option to defer Federal income taxes on accrued interest, the low minimum purchase price of $25, and the right to redeem the Bonds anytime after six months at issue price plus accrued interest.

Treasury hopes that the higher interest rates will increase purchases of Savings Bonds, particularly through payroll savings plans, as well as reduce redemptions. The unprecedented market interest rates during the past year have resulted in a heavy volume of redemptions and declining sales.

Secretary Miller said "This action and the phase-out of ceiling on deposit interest rates that was begun earlier are major step toward the Administration's goals of assuring a fair rate of return to small savers and encouraging greater total savings."

"Giving small savers a fair return and encouraging increased savings in this country are integral parts of our efforts to reduce inflation and provide the

Von Minden Questions Conway's Lack of Position on Proposition 4

State District 17 Legislative candidate Merle Von Minden criticized opponent Gerald Conway for his "failure to take a position on Proposed Amendment 4 on the November ballot. I am strongly opposed to the ramifications of the wording in Amendment 4 and Mr. Conway should not dodge this tough issue because of the support he is receiving from the state education association."

"Amendment 4 would give the courts the direct authority to determine what type of educational system and financing Nebraska will have in the future. It impowers the legislature to enact the system and the courts to determine if it is 'thorough and efficient,'" Von Minden said.

"What concerns me," Von Minden said, "is the portion which reads 'the state's responsibility to provide maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of common schools'."

"I think what is thorough and efficient is a local concern primarily and should not be given directly to the legislature and the court system. I am also concerned about the words 'common schools' which many believe could lead to a single, statewide public school system similar to some other states."

"I believe the passage of Amendment 4 would make the locally elected school board a rubber stamp board following legislative actions and court interpretations. I think the wording is too general and could be a large step toward central school authority," Von Minden added.

"They have purposely said in the amendment that we should not allow 'excessive burden imposed on property tax.' This is to make the legislation attractive since we are all concerned about what is happening to property taxes. I agree that excessive burdens on property taxes cannot carry the full burden of financing our schools. But, 'the amendment itself does nothing to reduce property taxes and the other words are of grave concern to me,'" he added.

"Mr. Conway has said he does not understand the issue enough to take a position," Von Minden said. "I believe this is a crucial test of his positions on education and local control and he certainly ought to understand this issue. I believe he hopes to dodge the question since the position the N.S.E.A. may want him to take may not agree with the people of the 17th District who support local control and do not want to see the legislature and courts institute a system of efficient common schools which is what the amendment really says."

Von Minden concluded "I am going to stick with a position that favors local decision-making and I urge Mr. Conway to make that same decision and oppose Amendment 4."

Foundation Plans Celebration

"Exciting new plans for Wayne State College are in the offing," Norman Nordstrand, executive secretary of the WSC Foundation said this week.

Nordstrand said the WSC Foundation, made up of friends of the college from all over the world, will grant more than $30,000 in scholarships this year to students to WSC through the financial aid department.

The foundation also presents an annual Academic Challenge Award to a faculty member for assistance in a special research project.

In celebration of its 20th anniversary in 1981, the foundation is innovating a long range program for the physical as well as academic improvement of the college.

"A new traffic flow, including a safe ingress and egress, perhaps even a mall within the campus will be studied," Nordstrand said.

During a recent meeting the foundation board of trustees elected Hilda Nehardt Petri of Columbia, Mo. as president. She succeeds Val Peterson, one of the founders and president since the foundation's beginning. The board named Peterson president emeritus.

This year the foundation will help finance a "program of excellence" which will bring some well-known outside lecturer to the campus for a series of talks or workshops.

Nordstrand spoke with pride of the art collection which the foundation began acquiring 20 years ago. The current collection, displayed in buildings throughout the campus, is valued at $50,000. "It is unique cultural addition to the college," he said.

"More than 10,000 letters were sent out by the foundation last year urging interested Wayne State College alumni and friends to support the goals of the Foundation," Nordstrand said. "This grass roots approach is essential to the continuation of the programs which we have instituted on the campus."

Emotional, Physical Health To Be Topic of Workshop

The Wayne State College Extended Campus Division will offer a workshop called "Emotional and Physical Health Through Visualization and Imagery" on the WSC campus.

The one undergraduate graduate credit hour course will be in workshop format and will present a theoretical and academic background to visualization and imagery to relaxation, meditation, to hypnosis and self hypnosis. Each presentation will be followed by an experiential exercise incorporating the materials presented.

The purpose of the course is to learn to pragmatically relieve ourselves of debilitating stresses and to function at a high level of wellness both emotionally and physically.

Workshop dates are: Friday, Oct. 31 from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.; Saturday, Nov. 1 and Sunday, Nov. 2, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The workshop will take place in the Birch Room of the Student Center on the WSC campus.

Cost for Nebraska residents is $22. Cost for non residents is $37. A $10 matriculation fee will be charged for first time WSC students.

The instructor, Dr. Larry Kerrigan, is a clinical psychologist at Weld Mental Health Center in Greeley, Colo.

For further information contact regional coordinators Jill Brink, 402-375-4291, or Betty King, 402-375-1647 in Wayne, or contact the WSC Extended Campus Division directly by calling Dr. Cheryl Beamer at 402-375-2200 extension 232 or 238.

Alcohol Plant in South Sioux

Nebraska State Sen. Loran Schmit, president of the Corn Growers Non-Stock Cooperative Alcohol Association, said yesterday that his association intends to build an alcohol plant in South Sioux City.

Schmit said the plant can become a reality because of an action taken by the South Sioux City city council on Tuesday. The council passed a resolution authorizing the issuance of up to $15 million in industrial revenue bonds for construction of an alcohol plant.

For the past several weeks, Senator Schmit and his associates have been working closely with the South Sioux City Chamber of Commerce, the Industrial Development Committee and the city. In his statement, Schmit thanked the city and announced plans to speak at two luncheon meetings designed to tell corn growers how they can participate in the ownership of the plant.

The meetings will be sponsored by the South Sioux City Chamber of Commerce. They will be held at the Paddock Steak House at noon on Monday, Nov. 3 and Tuesday, Nov. 4. All corn growers in Dakota, Wayne Thurston, Dixon and Cedar counties are invited.

Senator Schmit, a long-time advocate of alcohol production from farm products, said "everybody is talking about building plants but few are in production. So I've come to the conclusion that if alcohol plants are to be built they will be built by corn producers and not by the federal government."

To get things started, he said he and other corn producers formed the Corn Growers Non-Stock Cooperative Alcohol Association, with only corn growers and land owners eligible for membership. "We want to promote the use of surplus grain, we want to help solve our country's energy problems and we want to build an alcohol plant in South Sioux City," he added.

Senator Schmit urged all area corn growers to attend one of the meetings because "the success of this community project depends on the participation of all greater Siouxland corn producers. Reservations are available by calling the South Sioux City Chamber of Commerce at 494-1626."

Small Business Nominations Sought

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) has urged small business leaders and small business associations, other trade associations, chambers of commerce, SBA's Advisory Council members, state and local officials and bankers to submit nominations of persons to be honored during 1981 Small Business Week.

Each year SBA notes the achievements of small business by sponsoring a week long national program. During this program, called National Small Business Week, the beneficial role of small companies in the national economy is stressed and outstanding small business persons around the country are honored.

Also honored are a number of persons with outstanding records for having acted as advocates for the small business community and for performing with distinction on Federal procurement contracts.

Selected to be honored during the week is the Small Business Person of the Year, whose accomplishments are traditionally cited by the President in a White House ceremony held during Small Business Week. The Small Business Person of the Year is selected from among persons chosen as state small business persons of the year.

SBA's Office of Advocacy directs Small Business Week activities. The President designates the time for the week which usually is held each spring.

SBA Administrator A. Bernon Weaver and Milton D. Stewart, chief counsel for advocacy, said that "we are seeking to broaden participation in 1981 Small Business Week, so we encourage small business persons, bankers, trade associations and others to nominate candidates to be honored during the week. We want to involve as many persons and organizations as possible in the selection process at the national, state and local levels."

Stewart said SBA is seeking advocacy candidates in eight categories: banker, family owned business, minority business, accountant, research, innovation, media and lawyer advocate.

SBA offices around the country, Stewart said, "can supply criteria to be used by judges in selecting the winners."

He said the national winners will be chosen from among state winners in each of those advocacy categories.

Nominations of Small Business Week candidates should be sent to the nearest SBA field office.

Von Minden Is Endorsed By Governor and Lieutenant Gov.

Nebraska Lt. Gov. Roland Luedtke endorsed Merle Von Minden for the State Legislature in South Sioux City recently and brought the personal endorsement of Gov. Charles Thone with him.

Luedtke, a former Speaker of the Legislature, spoke at the Marina Inn to Von Minden supporters and volunteers and said that "I journeyed here today to personally appeal to you, the voters of the 17th Legislative District, to make certain that your representative continues the philosophy and dedication to good government evidenced these past eight years by your own Sen. John Murphy.

Luedtke also brought a prepared statement from Governor Thone which said that "I know Merle well - and, of course, he has been involved in government and civic affairs in Northeast Nebraska for many years."

"Our legislature needs people experienced at home who understand what the people want. We must send people like Merle Von Minden who have common sense and practical experience to Lincoln."
