School Board Agrees to Undertake Negotiations; Learns of AA Status

At its regular meeting Monday night, the Wayne-Carroll School District board of education agreed to enter formal negotiations with members of the Wayne Education Association.

BOARD PRESIDENT Neil Sandahl received a letter dated Feb. 2 from Robert Porter, WEA representative, requesting that the board agree to negotiations.

The WEA submitted a list of items it wishes to negotiate and the board accepted. These include insurance (health and accident, disability and life), salary, leave policy and extra duty schedule.

However, the board did strike a paragraph that said "the terms and conditions previously negotiated are acceptable to the association and shall continue unchanged."

SALARIES AND benefits for Wayne-Carroll faculty were agreed to finally last fall for the 1980-81 school year after several months of negotiations and then fact-finding. Because of the settlement, the school district was forced to make additional cuts within its budget to compensate for the additional salary and benefit expenses.

In other action, the board agreed that members Becky Keldel, Milton Owens and Dale Stollenberg will be on the board's Negotiating Committee. Although he was not present to acknowledge the honor, Stollenberg was named chairman of the group.

SUPT. FRANCIS told the board the school district once again has received accreditation by the North Central Accreditation Association. The district has been recognized as such for the past 55 years.

The possibility of the school district providing some funds for speakers on special talents at pre-school teacher workshops in the fall was discussed. Board member Becky Keldel suggested that the district and Educational Service Unit No. 1 share the cost.

In informal agreement, the board decided to have Superintendent Haun budget a few hundred dollars in next year's budget for speakers.

SUPERINTENDENT Haun noted that two teachers will be resigning and the positions will not be filled because of declining enrollment. In fact, he noted, 2 1/2 positions will be eliminated at no loss to the district.

Effa Fisher is retiring after 43 years of teaching. She has been on the Wayne-Carroll faculty for 33 years and presently is teaching second grade at Wayne.

Marie Mohr has resigned as homemaking teacher after 18 years of service to Wayne High School. She taught English her first four years at Wayne. She is entering private business and Kathy Fink will take over her classes.

Haun said the changes in personnel will reduce salary requirements by about $36,000 (based on this year's salary schedule).

In a related action, the board approved the superintendent's recommendation that all current staff be re-elected for the coming year. The future of Title I positions is subject to funding.

THE BOARD authorized Haun to look into the possibility of buying a 10-passenger van for use on the bus routes rather than buying a new bus. The van would cost about half as much as a bus.

The possibility of using taxpayer funds for a donation to the Dorothy Loy Memorial Fund was discussed. It was decided, however, that each board member would make individual donations at his or her discretion rather than using taxpayer money.

Mrs. Ley was a board member for 17 years.

The school calendar for the coming school year was approved. It includes vacation days as follows:

SEPT. 7 — Labor Day; Oct. 29-30 — Teacher's Convention; Nov. 6 — Parent-Teacher Conferences; Nov. 26-27 Thanksgiving; Dec. 23-Jan. 4, Christmas and New Years; April 9-12 — Easter; May 28 — Last Day of School.

Sisterly Love

WILL BOTH of you be my Valentine, asks Laurie Burke (left), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Burke of Wayne? Laurie finds herself asking lots of double questions to twin sisters Amy (center) and Andrea. But in this particular case, Laurie is asking both sisters to be her special Valentines. Amy is starstruck by the thought of being "on camera" while Andrea is more interested in the Valentine. The twins are eight months old and Laurie is a five-year-old kindergartener.

New City Administrator To Start Duties March 3

Wayne's new City Administrator — Phillip Kloster — is expected to be on the job by March 1.

He vacated when former administrator Darrell Brewington resigned in August.

SINCE 1978, Kloster has been public works director for Forest City. He has an extensive background in accounting. Kloster was a full-time student at Waldorf College and Mankato State College from 1969-1973, receiving an associate of arts degree from Waldorf in 1971.

Kloster received a bachelor of science degree in business from Mankato State University in Minnesota in 1973. He also attended courses at Iowa State University from 1978 until the present time.

From 1963 to 1965, he attended business courses at the Hamilton School of Business. From 1965-1968, he was sales and traffic clerk for Northwest States Portland Cement Company in Mason, City, Iowa, and from 1968-69 he was an accountant in Sioux City.

In 1977 and 1978, he was a warranty auditor with Winnebago.

In 1960, he was named Forest City's Outstanding Young Man of America. He also was president of the Indian Springs Home Owners Association in Forest City, was charter secretary-treasurer for the Forest City Breakfast Lions Club and was a board member for the Chamber of Commerce Downtown Renovation Committee.

He also was chairman of the board for parish life at the Forest City Lutheran Church.

KLOSTER WILL begin his duties March 1, while his wife and two children will move here when suitable housing is found.

Council Okays Several Ordinances

A long list of "house cleaning" ordinances were approved by the City Council Tuesday night, and a formal oral objection to a street assessment was heard.

The Council also officially appointed Phillip Kloster as the city's new administrator. For more information, see story elsewhere on this page.

THE ORDINANCES were described by City Attorney Kom Swartz as ones bringing the city into compliance with state statutes. However, one of these does provide citizens for an avenue of complaint involving the sale of liquor.

Now, any five residents have the legal right to file a complaint with the city regarding any retail or bottle club licenses if they feel the licensee has been or is violating the state Liquor Control Act.

If the city is satisfied that the complaint can be substantiated, then a hearing will be provided within 10 days of the date the complaint was filed. If the city so deems, the matter can be turned over to the Liquor Control Commission.

IN OTHER action, Duane Schroeder, attorney for Dick and Dag Pflanz, orally objected to a proposed schedule of assessments involving the extension of Sixth Street south of El Toro. The Pflanzs own the El Toro.

After considerable discussion, the Council voted to assess the entire cost of constructing the street to Jerome Green of Morgan, Minn., developer of two apartment complexes south of the new Sixth Street extension.

Because the new street stub divides the Pflanz and the Green properties, both were assessed $6,463.66, or half of the project cost. Pflanz' attorney argued against the assessments, maintaining that the construction was illegal and that "if the project is not illegal, no part of the cost of this project should be assessed against Lot 1 (Pflanz) because the lot has not been benefited, but in fact has been damaged." Schroeder said that Pflanz' property did not, in fact, benefit from construction of the street.

CITY ATTORNEY Swartz said, in his opinion, the street's construction was not illegal. He pointed out, however, that the Green's did have an agreement with the city that Green would pay 100 percent of the assessments.

The Council also approved the Jones Subdivision Preliminary Plat which had been sent back for repairs after the last regular meeting.

It was discovered that several items had been left off the preliminary plat by engineers Bruce Gilmore & Associates. Thus, the plat did not meet minimum requirements of the city's subdivision ordinances.

THE ORDINANCES approved involved alcoholic beverages — except one which involves rezoning — and a brief summary of each is as follows:

Zoning Change — provides formal rezoning of several lots on the east side of Pearl Street north from Third Street and on the west side of Pearl north from Third Street. The Council approved a motion at its last meeting rezoning the lots from residential to business, but the rezoning must be done by ordinance.

Alcohol Licensee Requirements — persons selling alcoholic beverages must be residents of the county in which the establishment is located. The person must be of good character and reputation, must be a citizen of the United States, must never have been convicted of a felony, never been associated with or kept a house of ill fame, must never have been convicted of, or pleaded guilty to, a crime or misdemeanor opposed to decency or morality. The facility must meet the standards for fire safety.

Municipal Powers and Duties Regarding Alcoholic Beverages — the city is authorized to regulate the business of all retail and bottle club licenses.

Minors and Incompetents — It is unlawful for anyone to sell, give away, dispose of, exchange, permit the sale of or make a gift of any alcoholic liquors, or to procure any such alcoholic liquors to or for any minor or to any person who is mentally incompetent.

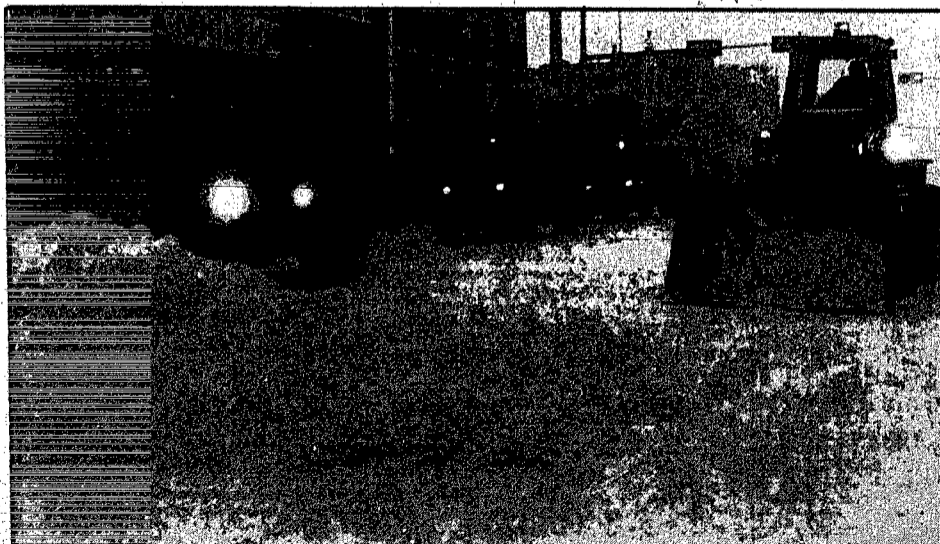

Hours of Sale — It is unlawful for anyone to sell at retail any alcoholic beverages during the hours that the polls are open on the day in which a city, state or national primary, special or general election is conducted.

Inspections — It is the duty of the governing body to provide inspections of all retail and bottle club licenses.

All Council members except Jim Craun were present and all actions were unanimous unless noted otherwise.

A Real Winter Storm

THE FIRST REAL snow storm of the year, considered by most to be a minor blizzard, swept through the area Monday and Tuesday. In its wake, the storm dumped four inches of snow, measured at 12 inches of moisture, and closed every school in a 100-mile radius Tuesday. While there were no serious accidents reported or no power outages, many employees were late getting to work Tuesday because of the numerous drifts caused by winds which gusted to 50 miles per hour.

Wednesday morning, temperatures fell to near record levels. The low in Wayne was recorded at 23 degrees while Wakefield officially hit a bone-chilling 30. Some reports in Northeast Nebraska had temperatures as cold as 40 degrees. Street crews were up early Tuesday, and Wednesday mornings clearing streets. Above, city crews clear a pile of snow from Main Street.

Economy Improves Some

Two reports received from the University of Nebraska Bureau of Business research this week concerning the economy in Wayne and in Wayne County are not too encouraging.

A REPORT on the third quarter 1980 retail sales indicates the local economy was about 17.5 percent behind the same quarter of 1979.

Also, the net taxable retail sales for October of last year were about 19.8 percent behind the same period of the previous year.

The figures are particularly disappointing since Wayne started out the year on a good note by leading the entire state in net taxable retail sales and unemployment. However, starting with the second quarter of the year, the bottom began to fall out of the local economy.

The state report on third quarter sales indicates Nebraska's strongest retail trade markets continued to be outside the state's metropolitan areas.

FOR EXAMPLE, the report pointed out, Region 12 (Howard, Hall, Merrick and Hamilton counties) recorded a 33.1 percent increase in dollar volume compared with the same period of a year earlier. This region was the only area of the state to record a real increase in retail sales during the third quarter.

Strong gains in Hall County were responsible for the boost in sales in this region, part of which may be associated with rebuilding after the Grand Island tornado, the report said.

Statewide, net taxable retail sales were a modest 1.9 percent above the total recorded during the third quarter of 1979.

COMPARED to other counties in Region 11, Wayne had the second poorest showing. Stanton was at the bottom of the ladder with a 19.5 percent decline from the same period of a year ago. Antelope County was 6.9 percent behind, Madison County was 5 percent behind, Pierce County was 15.4 percent behind.

Dakota County was 1.6 percent behind third quarter sales in 1979. Cumming was 6.5 percent behind, Thurston was 15.5 percent behind, Cedar was 9.1 percent behind a year ago and Dixon was 15 percent behind a year ago.

October net taxable retail sales for the city of Wayne were equally unimpressive, according to the report. However, the economy in October was much improved from September, which saw Wayne's net taxable sales plummet to 37 percent behind a year ago.

IN FACT, only two other cities reported net taxable sales poorer than Wayne in October. Those were Fairbury with 22.4 percent behind October of 1979 and North Platte with sales 20.6 percent behind the same period of 1979.

After two months of little change, the state's real outlook fell 9 percent in October. An examination of the Nebraska economy by sector indicates several currents. The agriculture sector recorded a 13.4 percent decrease, while the non-agriculture sector recorded a 1 percent increase.

ALL SECTORS except government and agriculture were up during October. This has led some observers to suggest that better days are ahead for the Nebraska economy, because the agriculture sector should show considerable improvement due to higher grain prices and the prospects for improved livestock prices, the report said.

The ag sector declined 13.4 percent in October from the September level. Cash farm marketings were down 16.3 percent, or nearly 94 million, on a seasonally adjusted basis from September to October.

By contrast, cash farm marketings for the United States were up 2.7 percent during the same interval.

THE STATE'S manufacturing sector recorded a 4 percent increase from September to October. The construction sector recorded a 4 percent increase in October and output in the distributive trade sector increased 1.9 percent. Output in the government sector continued to decline, with the index recording a 2.2 percent decrease in real output.

Nebraska retail sales were down 2 percent from September to October. On a year-to-year basis, real retail sales were down 4.3 percent. Dollar volume sales were up 8.9 percent, but pushed the general price level higher, the report stated.

Wayne Seniors Attend Workshop

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Chambers, Mrs. Albert Soules and Mrs. Jocelyn Bull of the Wayne Senior Citizens Center attended a legislative workshop Feb. 4 sponsored by the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging.

Roberta Kaplan, community services coordinator for the agency, was workshop leader. The group viewed a film, entitled "There Ought to Be a Law," explaining the functions of the Nebraska Unicameral.

Workshop participants studied a number of bills pertaining to the elderly. The group also called state senators serving on the Urban Affairs Committee and discussed two transportation bills affecting senior citizens, LB 85 and LB 144.

Mrs. Bull encourages senior citizens to write to Senators who are serving on the Urban Affairs Committee to help get LB 144 moved from committee and on the floor for debate.

If passed, LB 144 would exempt mini buses with less than a 20-passenger capacity (such as the bus operated by the Wayne Senior Citizens Center) from the Nebraska Public Service Commission and out of the same category as commercial buses.

Mrs. Bull said the Nebraska Community Aging Services Act (LB 404) also needs the support of senior citizens to help get it moved from committee.

Senators serving on the Urban Affairs Committee include Dave Landis, Sam Cullum, George Fenger, Rex Haberman, Margo Higgins, Richard Peterson, R. Wiley Remmers and Loran Schmitt.

Letters will reach them if addressed to the State Capitol, Lincoln, Neb., 68509.

Mrs. Bull reminds residents they may receive a copy of Legislative Review, which lists bills and their standing every two weeks, by sending their name and address to Nebraska Commission on Aging, P. O. Box 95044, Lincoln, Neb., 68509.

Open House to Honor Former Allen Woman

Over 400 Attend First Annual Bridal Show

BRIDES WERE THE ATTRACTION at the Wayne city auditorium Sunday afternoon during the first annual Bridal Show sponsored by several local and area merchants. Despite frigid temperatures, over 400 persons turned out for the show, which featured fashions for both the bride and groom and their wedding party. Merchants set up display tables and were available to visit with prospective couples regarding their future wedding plans. In the top left photo, eight-year-old Melinda Burst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Burst of Wayne, prepares to light candles prior to the style show. Among the many models were Lisa Brandt and Brent Pedersen, top right photo, who display fashions for the bride and groom. Lisa also is pictured at right in a gown for the bride's attendant. Joanie Burst, owner and operator of Joanie Designs, was coordinator for the event. Other sponsors included The Headquarters, Blake Studio, Evelyn Ruback, Country Girl Bridal Salon, The Cupboard, Inc., The Rusty Nail, The Silver Image and The Diamond Center. T and C Electronics of Wayne provided the speaker system, and Hospe's Mr. Music of Norfolk furnished the organ music. Winners of door prizes given away during the afternoon by the participating merchants were Gloria Leseberg, Lorraine Johnson, Mrs. Chuck Ahlvers, Kathy Schultz, Shirley Hamer, Lisa Nuss, Shirley Fletcher and Mrs. Glenn Granquist, all of Wayne, Penni Emrich of Norfolk and Shirle Koch of Concord.

30 Young Wakefield Residents Vying for Prince, Princess

Plans are being completed for the Wakefield Centennial Princess and Prince contest, slated this coming Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Wakefield Community School auditorium.

Mrs. Dennis Fredrickson, chairman of the event, said 17 girls and 13 boys, in kindergarten and first grades, will be competing for the titles.

The youngsters are scheduled to practice for the contest this Friday evening.

Contestants for the princess contest will appear in an old-fashioned or other long dress and will be judged on poise and personality. Boys, who will be attired in western garb, will be judged for the "Best Smile."

Winners of both contests will receive a $50 savings bond and will appear in a variety of Centennial activities planned in the community throughout 1981.

Strawberry shortcake and coffee will be served following Saturday night's activities.

Mrs. Larry Baker is chairman of the lunch. Persons who wish to donate angel food or shortcake for refreshments are asked to contact her at 287-2833.

Contestants for the prince contest, with parents' names in parentheses, are Michael Anderson (David), Anthony Brown (Lyle), Ryan Eckberg (Dwayne), Darrell Johnson (Randy), Jason Johnson (Roger), Jon Johnson (Lowell), Scott Johnson (Alan), Scott Mattes (Bill), Thad Nixon (Eldon), Brian Olson (Larry), Shane Peters (Tony), T. J. Preston (Gary) and Kelly Turney (Tom).

American Legion Auxiliary Meets at Wayne Vet's Club

Several reports were given when the American Legion Auxiliary met Feb. 2 at the Wayne Vet's Club.

Ten members attended the meeting, which was opened by president Helen Siefken, with the advancing of the colors by Marguerite Hofeldt and Emma Soules.

Chaplain Mary Kruger read the opening prayer, followed with the flag salute and singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." The unit repeated the preamble to the constitution of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Readings were given by Mary Kruger, leadership development chairman, on "The ABC's for Members," and Shirley Wagner, Americanism chairman, "What Kind of America Do We Want?" and "The Auxiliary Role on Americanism."

Girls State chairman Eveline Thompson announced that a Wayne girl will be named shortly to attend Girls State next summer in Lincoln.

Department education chairman Florence Cox reminded members to keep in touch with local school officials regarding scholarships available to students.

Department community service chairman Nell Kiopton urged women to become involved in their local communities, and department foreign relations chairman Amy Jensen encouraged donations to the National League of Families.

Florence Schweer, department energy conservation chairman, announced that the theme for this year's essay contest is "Energy Conservation, Our Key to Tomorrow." Entries for the contest must be received before April 15.

Department Americanism chairman Laverne Oman announced that the theme for the Americanism essay contest is "How I Can Be of Service to America."

Department leadership development chairman Eveline Dvorak encouraged each unit to have a short leadership program.

The District III Convention will be held March 8 in South Sioux City, with a noon banquet at the Marina Inn. Chairman of pages is Eveline Thompson, Louise Kahler and Helen Siefken are pages from Wayne.

A Field Service Orientation Program will be given at a department representative at the Norfolk Legion Hall on Feb. 21 at 1 p.m.

Members were reminded to save Proctor and Gamble proof of purchases for special olympics.

Thank you letters were received from the Norfolk Veterans Home for the donation sent for the purchase of a popcorn machine, and from Florence Slemers for the Christmas present she received. The unit also received a thank you card from the family of Martha Sieckmann.

Chaplain Mary Kruger read the prayer for peace, followed with the Little Red Schoolhouse march and singing of "America," accompanied by Evelyn Carlson. Serving were Mary Tieg, Lillian Swinney and Betty Willig.

Next meeting will be March 2 at 8 p.m. at the Vet's Club.

WSC Presenting 'The Lion in Winter' January 31 Wedding Rites Unite

The castle of Henry II, King of England, is the setting for James Goldman's "The Lion in Winter," the next play being presented by the Wayne State College theater department.

The play, which takes place in the year 1183, will be staged this Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in Ramsey Theater on the college campus. There will be a matinee at 2 p.m. Sunday, followed with evening performances at 8 p.m. Monday and Tuesday.

NANCY HEWITT

TOM EDMISTEN

"THE LION in Winter" is directed and designed by Arthur L. Dirks. Pat Meis is assistant to the director.

The historical material on Henry's reign is considerable insofar as battles, plots, wars, treaties and alliances are concerned. The play—while simplifying the political maneuvering combining a meeting of the French and English Kings in 1183 with a Royal Court held at Windsor in the following year into a Christmas Court that never was—is accurately based on the available data.

The cast of "The Lion in Winter," their character and positions, while consistent with the facts available, are fictitious.

The play contains anachronisms in speech, thought, habits, custom and so on. They are deliberate and not intended to outrage the historical aspects of the script.

LEADING THE cast of characters are Tom Edmisten as Henry II and Nancy Hewitt as Eleanor, Henry's wife.

Edmisten, a 1980 graduate of Wayne State, comes from South Sioux City. He has appeared in "The Collection," a student directed one-act, and as Fyedka in the Wayne Community Theatre production of "Fiddler on the Roof." He currently is a graduate student in English.

Mrs. Hewitt, a senior at Wayne State majoring in speech with minors in music and Spanish, appeared last fall as Grandmother Tzellé in "Fiddler on the Roof." She also has directed a one-act, entitled "Zoo Story," for the Wayne Community Theatre. Other past roles include Kale in "Kiss Me, Kate," Lady Macbeth in "Macbeth," and Eliza Doolittle in "My Fair Lady."

CORINNE George, a freshman from Winside, has been cast as Alais, a French princess, in "The Lion in Winter."

Miss George has a double mafor in theatre and home economics and was very active in high school theatre. She appeared last fall as Alexandra in "The Little Foxes."

Don Green, from Paxton, Ill., has been cast as Phillip, King of France. Green is a junior majoring in communications and has appeared in many Wayne State productions. He is treasurer of Alpha Psi Omega, the honorary theatre fraternity.

Playing the role of Richard Lionheart, the oldest son of Henry II, is Tim Ryan, a graduate of Millard High School. A senior at Wayne State with majors in art and theatre, he also has appeared in "Slam the Door Softly" and as Anselme in "The Miser."

GEOFFREY, the middle son, will be played by Jeff Clem, a sophomore from South Sioux City majoring in English and broadcasting. Last fall he appeared as Arnold in "Crawling Arnold," a student directed one-act.

Rounding out the cast is Carl Johnson as John, the youngest son of Henry II. Johnson is a 1980 graduate of Benson High School and is currently majoring in political science and public service. This is his first role at Wayne State.

ADMISSION to the performance is $3 for the general public and $2 for high school students. Group rates also are available. For further information write the Theater Department, Wayne State College, Wayne, Neb., 68787, or telephone 275-2200, ext. 234.

January 31 Wedding Rites Unite Connie Langston-David Powley

Connie Langston and David Powley exchanged wedding vows Jan. 31 at the First Baptist Church in Wayne.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Langston of Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Powley of Pender.

Officiating at the 2 o'clock double ring rites was the Rev. Edward Carter of Wayne. Decorations included bouquets of pink and white carnations and daisies at the altar.

Mrs. Ruth Carter accompanied herself as she sang "One Hand, One Heart." She also played the traditional "Wedding Song."

Guests were ushered into the church by Ken Powley, Paul Powley and Dwayne Breitkreutz, all of Pender. Trainbearer was Michelle Burgett of Omaha.

For her wedding day the bride chose a long, white empire gown of nylon tulle with a full chapel train. Lace and pearls trimmed the waistline; long sleeves and scooped neckline. Her attached hood was edged in matching lace and pearls, and she carried a silk bouquet of roses and carnations with satin ribbons in pink, wine and white.

The bride's attendant, Mrs. Karla Moore of Wayne, wore a wine polyester dress in full length with a matching jacket. She carried a smaller bouquet identical to the bride's.

The best man, Marty Vandeburg of Pender, was attired in a burgundy tuxedo with a ruffled shirt, trimmed in wine. The bridegroom wore a burgundy tuxedo with a white ruffled shirt and pink rose boutonniere.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Langston chose a two-piece street-length dress of pink and wine polyester. Mrs. Powley selected a beige two-piece knit, also in street length. Both mothers wore a corsage of silk pink and wine roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Volders of Pender greeted the 150 guests who attended a reception in the Wayne Woman's Club room following the ceremony. Guests were registered by Teresa Wagner of Bancroft and gifts were arranged by the bride's sisters, Deborah and Jerri Langston of Wayne.

Mary Ann Eichler of Pender and Mrs. Sandra Weander of Wayne cut and served the cake. Mrs. JoAnn Burgett of Decatur and Mrs. Wanda Langston of Norfolk poured, and Shirley Jean Westerhold of Omaha served punch.

Waitresses were Diana Langston and Mrs. Peggy Smith, both of Norfolk.

The newlyweds are at home at Pender. The bride, a 1980 graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School, is employed at Neska Oil Corp., Pender. The bridegroom was graduated from Pender High School in 1979 and is employed at the Pender Body Shop.

Send in Family Histories

Wayne County residents are reminded that Sunday, Feb. 15, is the deadline for submitting their family histories for publication in the all-new History Book of Wayne County.

Mrs. Lucile Larson, a member of the history book committee, emphasized that residents who are working on their family histories but will not have them completed by the deadline are asked to continue working on them as the committee will be compiling and arranging stories and pictures for several days.

Mrs. Larson said the committee will incorporate all contributions for the book. She said more information is needed about businesses and industries in the county, as well as topical histories.

Histories should be mailed along with pictures to Donna Shuffelt of Wayne.

The Wayne Area Retired Teachers Association is editing the life histories.

The history book committee is planning to meet at the Wayne County Historical Museum this coming Monday at 9 a.m. with Bob Janson of Omaha, publication consultant for Taylor Publishing Co.

Families who have not yet written their history are reminded that the stories should be 500 words or less and may include one picture.

Following is the family history of Vernie Larson and Lucile Sundahl. Mrs. Larson offered to have her family history printed in the Wayne Herald as a guideline for other families.

Vernie V. Larson and Lucile E. Sundahl
Vernie V. Larson was born in Claremont, Nebraska on September 17, 1896 to Frederick and Ellen Larson. He attended school in Tekamah and Oakland and enlisted in the U.S. Navy in 1917.

He made several trips to Marsellee and Bordeaux, France transporting armed forces and, after the Armistice, to Amsterdam, Holland transporting foodstuffs to Holland, Belgium and other liberated countries. He was injured on the last trip and was discharged in 1919.

Lucile E. Sundahl was born near Carroll on April 17, 1905 to Thomas R. Sundahl and Mary E. Thompson Sundahl. They moved to a farm near Sholes where Lucile attended school until 1924.

After graduation from Wayne State College in 1928 she taught in high schools until she and Vern Larson were married on December 24, 1930.

They lived in Oakland, Nebraska; St. James and Worthington, Minnesota; LeMars, Emerson and Sioux City, Iowa.

Lucile lived in the Wayne County Historical Society and the Wayne Area Retired Teachers Association. She has continued travel in the U.S. and accompanied friends to Europe in 1977.

A son, Harris Wendel, born in VERN AND LUCILE Larson traveled extensively on vacation trips until his death in 1972. Vern worked 40 years with the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad. Lucile, a former teacher, continues to make her home in Wayne. Mrs. Larson has submitted the above photo of she and her husband, along with their family history, for publication in the new Wayne County History Book.

Regional Arts Council Board Meeting Tonight

The Wayne Regional Arts Council Board of Directors will meet tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. at the Windmill Restaurant to discuss activities through spring.

On the agenda are the date and plans for the annual Spring Arts Festival, Community Choir activities, workshops and miscellaneous art shows.

Anyone interested in participating in any of the activities of the Arts Council is invited to attend the meeting.

The Arts Council is currently sponsoring a photography workshop to be followed later in the spring with a similar workshop in intermediate photography techniques. Also scheduled for the very near future are workshops in oil painting and beginning guitar.

The Wayne Regional Arts Council is a non-profit organization that is supported by local donations and the Nebraska Arts Council.

Pancake Supper

The Winside Community Club invites the public to a pancake and sausage supper this Saturday evening.

A spokesman for the club said serving will be from 5 to 8 p.m. in the city auditorium. Cost is $1 for all you can eat.

25th Anniversary Fete at Wisner

Over 350 relatives and friends gathered at the Wisner City Auditorium Saturday evening for an open house reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Don Matthes of Wisner on their silver wedding anniversary.

Hosts were their children, Layne of Wisner, Lonnie of Perry, Okla., and Loy and Jaelene, both at home.

Jaelene Matthes of Wisner and Laura Victor of Wayne registered the guests, who attended from Sioux City and Wall Lake, Iowa; Perry, Okla.; Winside, Pilger, West Point, Carroll, Hoskins, Norfolk, Wayne, Fremont, Dodge, Seward, York, Lyons, Omaha, Osmond, Madison, Beemer, Howells and Wisner.

The program was conducted by Lonnie Matthes. Music was provided by Bob Rabe of Wisner.

Mrs. Roland Victor of Wayne and Mrs. Richard Gadenek of Beemer cut and served the anniversary cake, which was baked and decorated by Mrs. Harvey Mohlfeld of Wisner.

Mrs. Warren Marotz of Winside and Mrs. Vernon Miller of Hoskins poured, and DeLana Marotz of Winside and Carla Miller of Norfolk served punch.

The waitresses, who also assisted in the kitchen, included Mrs. Larry Cleveland and Mrs. LaVorie Miller, both of Norfolk; Coleene Miller of Hoskins; Mrs. John Grondin of Sioux City; Mrs. Dana Raasch of Wisner; and Myra Victor and Mrs. Mark Victor, both of Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthes were married at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Winside on Feb. 12, 1956 and have resided near Wisner since that time.

Among the guests attending their anniversary observance were their wedding attendants, Mrs. Warren Marotz of Winside, Mrs. Vernon Miller of Hoskins, Roland Victor of Wayne, Richard Gadenek of Beemer and LaVero Roggenbach of Norfolk.

Circle Dines With Husbands

Central Social Circle members and their husbands dined at the Black Knight in Wayne Feb. 3. Six couples attended.

Pitch furnished the entertainment, with prizes going to Glenn Granquist and Verdelle Reeg, high; Lillian Granquist and Ray Reeg, low; and Joclell Bull, traveling.

Members are to bring something homemade for an auction at the next meeting, at 2 p.m. March 3 at Jeff's Cafe. Hostess will be Mary Kieper and leader will be Deloris Thies. Members will answer roll call with the most treasured item they purchased at an auction.

To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harrison of Omaha announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen Harrison of Wayne, to Bob Berg of Wayne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berg, also of Wayne.

The couple plans a June wedding in Wayne.

90th Birthday Dinner Sunday

Kunzmann Will Be Remembered as One of WSC's Best

A second-degree murder charge was filed Tuesday against an Omaha man in connection with the apparent death of Connie Kunzmann, a Nebraska Wrangler basketball player and former Wayne State College standout.

According to Douglas County officials, the 24-year-old forward for the Nebraska Wranglers of the Women's Professional Basketball League reportedly was killed and then thrown into the Missouri River sometime early Saturday.

Lance E. Tibke, 25, of Omaha turned himself in to police early Tuesday and is being held on the murder charge. Meanwhile, the search for Miss Kunzmann's body continued along the banks of the river.

Kunzmann graduated from Wayne State in April of 1978. Shortly after graduation, she signed a contract with the Iowa Cornets pro basketball team. Last fall, Kunzmann signed with the newly formed Nebraska Wranglers.

The Wayne Herald contacted Missouri Southern women's basketball coach G. J. Willoughby for comments. Wednesday morning. Willoughby coached Kunzmann during her college career at WSC.

"Connie was the best women's basketball player I've ever had an opportunity to coach. Really good players only come along once or twice in a lifetime, especially at the small college level," Willoughby said. "We had winning teams at Wayne State and Connie was definitely one of the main contributing factors."

Kunzmann was a two-sport standout at Wayne. In addition to her basketball success, she was also successful on the WSC softball team. Willoughby pointed out that the outfielder was one of the leading three hitters for Wayne State each season.

"Connie had the coordination and body control to be successful in several sports. She was a fierce competitor and hated to lose. Connie was a fighter from beginning to end. She would never give up and never think that anything is impossible," said the former Wayne State coach.

Two former teammates of Kunzmann are also at Missouri Southern. Pat McKay is a member of the women's basketball team and Suzie Scheef is currently serving as assistant softball coach. Willoughby pointed out that all three plan to attend funeral services.

According to reports, Kunzmann was last seen about 1 a.m. Saturday at Tiger Tom's Bar in Omaha where she was celebrating a good personal performance in a game, police and friends said.

Reports show that Kunzmann and Tibke apparently left the bar together; went to Dodge Park; some kind of altercation occurred; she was hit possibly with a fire iron and then possibly stabbed and thrown into the river.

In high school, Kunzmann played in the non-shooting guard court until her senior year. She earned all-state honors and also competed in softball and track.

Kunzmann averaged 58 percent shooting from the field for Wayne State College and grabbed 219 rebounds her senior year. She also set a school mark in softball with five home runs in five games. Kunzmann was named Wayne State Woman Athlete of the Year as a junior.

Connie was the daughter of Eleanor Hartman of Everly and the late Ray Kunzmann.

Laurel Rallies to Claim Title

Using a fine come-from-behind performance, the Laurel Bears stole the championship trophy at the Ponca Tournament with a 56-47 overtime victory over the host Indians, Saturday.

The Bears scored only 18 points in the first three quarters but put together a strong finish to score 22 points in the fourth period. Laurel tied the game with about 2:30 remaining in regulation and went for the last shot by using a stall game.

The last shot failed and the game went in to overtime with Laurel opening up its offensive game to outscore Ponca 16-7 in the extra period.

"It was one of the fastest turnarounds I've ever seen. With 4:33 left we were 10 points down. We caught up with 2:30 remaining, stalled and went for the last shot," said Laurel coach Joel Parks. "I don't know if we woke-up or took off our overshoes or what."

Ponca outscored Laurel 11-8 in the first quarter and 9-4 in the second quarter. Parks pointed out that his team's defensive performance was good enough to keep the Bears within striking distance through three periods.

Joe Olsen scored 17 points, Matt Johnson scored 10, Jamie Johnson scored eight, Scott Norvell scored seven and Kevin Erwin added six. Leading rebounders were Olsen with six and Matt Johnson with five.

Ponca shot 55 percent from the field while Laurel hit 43 percent but the Bears took more shots and held a rebounding edge of 22 to 15. Laurel committed only seven errors compared to 14 for the hosts.

Parks was disappointed with his team's slow start but gave Ponca credit for good defensive play. "It was good to know we could come back like we did and should help us realize that we can come back when we're down. I was pleased with the win but it was a little different."

Ponca was led by Keith Curry and Kevin Dohma with 19 points each. Laurel's game with Osmond was postponed due to Tuesday's snow storm has not yet been rescheduled. The Bears will play at Wausa tomorrow (Thursday) and at Plainview Saturday.

After Even First Half Wayne Falls to Wisner

The Wayne lady Blue Devils were outscored in the second half leading to a 36-28 loss to West Husker Conference rival Wisner Pilger, Monday night.

The game was tied 10-10 after the first quarter and 16-16 at the half. Wisner scored 20 points in the second half while Wayne managed only a dozen.

Leading scorers for the Devils were Jill Zeiss, Lynn Surber and Missy Stoltenberg with six points each. Stoltenberg grabbed eight rebounds, Tammie Thomas grabbed seven and Deb Prenger pulled in six. Thomas returned to action against Wisner after missing several games due to illness.

Wayne was troubled by cold shooting from the field. The hosts hit only about 20 percent of their field goal attempts. Wisner also won the junior varsity game.

The Blue Devils are scheduled to play at Emerson Hubbard tonight (Thursday).

Allen Boys Rebound For Third Place Finish

The Allen Eagles clinched third place in the Ponca Tournament by defeating Wynot 76-68, Saturday.

Four players hit double figures for the winners. Frank Lanser hit 25 points and grabbed 20 rebounds in a game-winning effort. Terry Brewer scored 19 points and had seven rebounds. Robb Linateller scored 12 points. Rick Gotch made 10 points and seven assists and Bruce Malcolm had six rebounds.

Allen coach Dan Looke said that his team played real well and pointed out that the starting five players all hit at least 50 percent of their shots. The Eagles hit 53 percent for the game while Wynot made 36 percent. Allen held a 42-25 lead at the half but Wynot pulled within two points at one time in the third quarter. The Eagles pulled away again and held on to protect the lead.

Next action for Allen is scheduled tomorrow (Friday) on the home court against Roselle.

Wayne 8th, 9th Grade Boys Come Out on Top

Wayne's eighth and ninth grade boys basketball teams were in action on the road Saturday and Monday.

The freshmen lost 64-38 to Norfolk Catholic on Saturday but rebounded to defeat Pierce 34-22 Monday. Wayne's eighth graders topped Norfolk Catholic 54-36 Saturday.

Freshmen Split Games The freshman Blue Devils earned their first win of the year 34-22 over Pierce, Monday.

Coach Duane Blomenkamp reported that Wayne got ahead early and played well. "The kids played better than they have. They went after it for the whole ball game."

Leading scorers were Blaine Johs with 10 points and Randy Gamble with seven. Other scorers: Jim Poehlman, 5; Ted DeTurk, 4; Brendan Dorsey, 2; R.J. Metteer, 2; Lelf Olson, 2; Layne Marsh, 2.

Against Norfolk Catholic, Met-

teer scored 10 and Johs scored nine. Other scorers: Gamble, 6; Poehlman, 6; DeTurk, 5; Jeff Stratton, 2.

The Devils are scheduled to play in the Randolph Tournament, Monday. Norfolk High School may be the first round opponent although no details have yet been released.

Eighth Grade Wins Finale The Wayne eighth grade boys finished their season with a 54-36 win over Norfolk Catholic on Saturday.

Wayne coach Darrell Heier said that his team got off to a slow start as Norfolk scored the first eight points of the game.

The Blue Devils rallied with 26 points in the second quarter to pull away. A 16-7 advantage in the third period put the game out of reach.

"I was real happy with the team, they played well. After a bad start, they turned things around," Heier said.

Steve Overlin scored 18 points to lead all scorers and Kevin Koenig scored 10. Rick Nelson and Kevin Maly each scored eight points. Other scorers: Chris Wieseler, 6; Peter Warne, 2; Darrin Barner, 2.

Wayne finished the season with a 4-1 record.

Izaak Walton Game Feed

The Wayne Izaak Walton League will hold its annual game feed at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 15 in the Women's Club Room of the city auditorium.

Bill Bailey, assistant director of the Nebraska State Game Commission will speak to the group.

Anyone who has any wild game or fish for the Izaak Walton group should contact either Richard Dittman or Glenn Walker.

Lady Wildcats Handle Southern

What Sue Juhlin started, Julie Petronis finished as the Wayne State College Lady Wildcats defeated the Missouri Southern Lady Lions 78-65 Saturday in Rice Auditorium.

Juhlin led the Lady Wildcats to a 35-33 halftime lead as she hit on 6 of her first 8 shots and grabbed up 11 rebounds in the first half to give the Cats the spark they needed en route to their eighth win of the season.

Petronis picked up where Juhlin left off as she came out at the start of the second half and scored 22 of her game high 32 points in the period. Lori Koester also added 11 points to the Wildcats total as they won their second CSIC contest.

Juhlin and Petronis led all players in rebounds as they pulled down 14 and 32 caroms respectively. After this weekend's results, the Lady Wildcats now stand 8-12 overall and 2-8 in conference play.

Cats Lose by One to Southern

The actors were there but the script was wrong as the Wayne State College Wildcats lost a thriller to the league-leading Missouri Southern Lions by the score of 70-69, Saturday in Rice Auditorium.

Southern came into the game with two recent big wins over Kearney State and then NAIA number one rated team Fort Hays State.

The game's momentum switched several times as the Wildcats jumped out to an early first half lead of seven points on several occasions. The Wildcats settled for a five point margin at half-time 37-32 as the Lions' Willie Rogers hit an eight-foot jumper at the buzzer.

At the beginning of the second half,

Southern ran off six straight points to cut the seven point Wildcat lead to two points and went ahead 48-47 at the 14:42 mark. The Lions, with 1:18 to go in the contest, led 70-65 when Rogers went in to stuff the ball and missed. He was called for a technical foul for hanging on the rim and at the same time was fouled by Wildcat Al Jones.

Rogers missed both of his foul shots and Wayne State's Grady Hansen hit on his one attempt to close the Lions' lead to 70-66. Jim Reinders then took the inbound pass, scored a basket for the Cats, and at the same time was fouled. Reinders, connecting on the three point play, put the Wildcats, to within one point, 70-69 with 31 seconds to go in the game.

With Missouri Southern in possession of the ball, Tom Baumer fouled the Lions' Jerry Wilson with 23 seconds on the clock. Wilson missed the free throw with Reinders grabbing the rebound to set the stage for the exciting finish.

Grady Hansen's shot from the corner, with eight seconds remaining, bounced long, and the Wildcats' guard Shawn Kelly attempted a last second shot which went astray.

Leading scorers for the Wayne State squad were Hansen with 23, Reinders with 15 and Jones with 11. Jones and Reinders led all rebounders with 11 and 10 boards each. Wayne is now 3-7 in CSIC play and 11-15 overall.

Randy's Recap

According to Randy Mascol

WAYNE STATE is playing an exciting type of basketball this season and the fans are filling Rice Auditorium to watch the Wildcats go up against some good opposition.

I attended WSC from fall of 1974 to spring of 1978 and have since watched numerous basketball games. I don't ever remember seeing as many big crowds in Rice Auditorium during that time.

The Wildcats are playing good basketball and the fans are turning out to watch. Wayne State has a good thing going and with the help of a good recruiting year, fans may be hanging from the rafters next season.

CLARK COCO, assistant basketball coach and head sports information director at WSC, is smiling a lot more these days.

It seems Coco made a small friendly wager before basketball season began that the Wildcats would win at least 10 games this season. The Cats attained that goal with a win over Chadron State Tuesday night.

When Coco made the bet, nobody seemed to back him. Now that Coco has won the wager, he says he has a lot of friends hoping to share the winnings. But the assistant coach is somewhat reluctant to share the liquid refreshments.

A COUPLE OF WSC recruits were visiting campus last week and stopped in to chat with the Second Guessers.

Brad Edwards of Carroll, Iowa and Brian Platt of Casper, Wyo. will be joining the Wildcats next season. Edwards played for Grandview College and will be a junior next year. Platt played at Casper Junior College and will also be a junior.

BECAUSE I'M A FAN of Vince Ferragamo, I hope that the former Nebraska star doesn't ruin his career by asking for more money and dealing with the Canadian Football League.

By National Football League standards, the quarterback was definitely underpaid for his talents but greed has been the downfall of numerous NFL stars since the time of Joe Kapp.

In a way, Ferragamo finds himself between a rock and a hard place. He can stay with the Rams for about $250,000 or deal with other clubs. Any team in the NFL which would sign Ferragamo would probably have to give up about $300,000 a year and a couple of first round draft choices. I doubt that any team would do that.

Yet, the Canadian League team that is looking at Ferragamo reportedly would offer $300 or 360 thousand a year. The Los Angeles deal doesn't sound all that bad to me.

JUST HOW MUCH of a mess can fans make at a basketball game? After watching dozens of games this winter, I have seen some pretty wild fans.

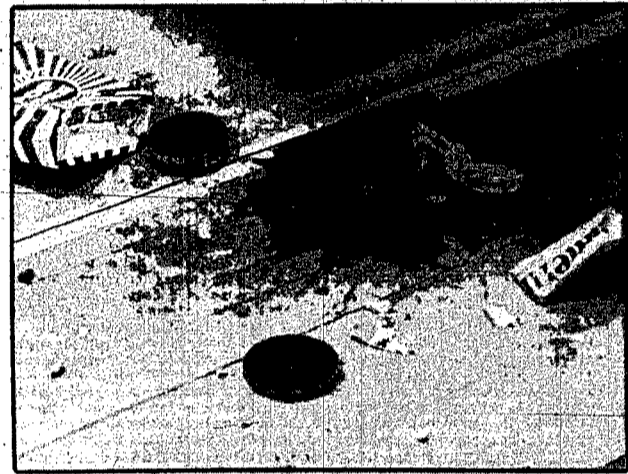

One of the biggest displays of foolishness was witnessed at one girl-boy basketball doubleheader this season. At the end of the girls game, the opposing pep club filled the air and covered the court with confetti.

The court had to be swept off before the boys game could begin and then pep club members began picking up the used confetti to use again.

However, I've never seen anything quite like the mess a few fans made at the West Husker Tournament last week.

A few tobacco spitting fans apparently had a spitting contest as three large puddles of tobacco juice were found under the stands next to empty cans of chew.

I guess they have never seen the advertisement "Just a pinch between the cheek and gum" is all you need.

Wayne, Ne.

PEOPLE WHO KNEW Connie Kunzmann were shocked by the news that the former Wayne State star was apparently murdered this week.

I graduated from WSC at the same time as Connie and watched her play in numerous basketball games and a few softball games. She was an outstanding athlete and led Wayne State through several winning seasons.

Anyone who knew her was certainly saddened by word of the tragedy.

One Pin Short

KENNY SPLITTGERBER bowled a 299 at Melodee Lanes last week. He left only the four-pin.

Allen Girls Gain Third

Third place in the Ponca Tournament was captured by the Allen Eagles who defeated Laurel 50-38 in girls basketball action, Saturday.

The Eagles led 32-14 at the half but the Bears made the game closer in the second half when Allen's leading scorer Lisa Erwin injured an ankle.

The highlight of the game for Laurel was the fact that Kay Anderson became the all-time leading scorer in Laurel High School. She managed 16 points against Allen. Cyndi Jonas scored 10 in her best performance of the year.

The performance upped Anderson's career total to 553 points breaking the record of 541 held by Cheryl Abis.

The winners were led by Des Williams with 14 points, Shelly Williams with 11, Janet Peterson with nine, and Lisa Erwin with eight.

Both teams tallied 30 rebounds each. The Eagles hit 43 percent from the field. Beth Stalling grabbed eight rebounds for Allen and Renee Gadeken pulled down nine for Laurel.

Both teams are now preparing for district action scheduled next week.

Allen Band Students Raise $1,143

Allen band parents and students raised $1,143 during a pancake breakfast served Sunday in the high school gymnasium. Expenses amounted to around $100.

Items for the breakfast were donated by the Cash Store, Rahn Mobile Service Station, Security State Bank, Dixon County Farm Bureau, Stewart's Feed and Farmers Co-Op, all in Allen, the Allen Fire Department, Martinsburg VFW, Roeder's Honey, Dixon, Gillette Dairy, Norfolk, the Milton G. Waldbaum Co., Wakefield, Sunshine Store in South-Plou City, Bill's GW in Wayne, and Cooper's Feed, South Plou City.

Helen Mogen, band director, said the students are planning another breakfast to raise money for their trip to Dakota Band Days in Rapid City, S. D. in May. Winning grocery door prizes at Sunday's breakfast were Joy Reithwisch, Jeni Gustafson, Wakefield, and Clarence Rastade, Concord.

Contest Results
Future Farmers of America chapter leader at Allen High School, Mr. Wilmes, reported that 18 schools and nearly 400 students took part in the Freshman District III Contest last Wednesday at Logan View School.

Creed speaker Kirk Hansen received a red ribbon. The junior parliamentary procedure team placed fifth out of 15 teams and received a blue ribbon. Team members were Kirk Hansen, Keith Karlberg, Ed Sturges, Derwin Roberts, Doug Ellis, Kevin Chase and Mike Hingst.

Special Army Incentive

The Army recently announced an increased cash enlistment bonus of $5,000.

To qualify for the bonus money, a young man must be a high school graduate, or a senior scheduled to graduate this spring, not have previously received an enlistment bonus, and must enlist for one of fourteen combat arms jobs. Applicants meeting these criteria can also enlist in the Army's Delayed Entry Program and delay the start of their military training up to nine months.

This $5,000 bonus is over and above a soldier's regular pay which now starts at over $500 per month for a private.

4-H'ers Can Get Financing For Livestock Projects

To many Nebraska 4-H'ers, the winter months hardly seem like the time to prepare for summer activities and county fair projects, but it may be the best time to start planning.

The Nebraska Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) may be able to help 4-H'ers who want to start a project for livestock shows and county fairs, but who may not have the proper income or savings to support it.

More commonly recognized as a rural lending agency for farmers, ranchers and small businesses, FmHA also makes loans to individual rural youths, allowing them to establish and operate income producing projects in connection with their participation in 4-H clubs.

To be eligible, the applicant must be between the ages of 10 and 20, be a United States citizen, live in the open country or town of less than 10,000 people and be unable to get a loan from other sources.

The project must be a part of an organized and supervised program of work that is planned and operated with the county extension agent's help. The project should be capable of producing sufficient income to repay the loan and should provide the youth with practical business and educational experience.

Some typical projects include lawn and garden services and livestock and crop production enterprises.

The applicant must sign a promissory note and incur personal and full responsibility of the debt. A co-signer may be required.

Security will also be obtained from products for sale, property including livestock, equipment and fixtures purchased with loan funds.

A repayment schedule will be determined between the applicant and the FmHA County Supervisor. Payments will be made according to the type of project involving the loan.

Application forms and additional information are available from an FmHA county supervisor.

Water Hearing Brings Results

An estimated 30 persons attended a public hearing Monday (Feb. 2) at the Winside City Auditorium involving proposed improvements in the city's water system.

SEVERAL PERSONS voiced their opinions on possible construction of one or two wells and a treatment plant. City Clerk Lynne Wylie said the hearing was beneficial to all persons involved.

According to Wylie, the majority opinion of the group was to forego construction of a treatment plant if water in the proposed test wells meets the necessary regulations. Financial proposals on test wells is expected in about 30 days.

Wylie said the spectators were in agreement that the water system — particularly the water quality — needs to be improved. For many years, the town's water system has depended on just one well. If that well malfunctions or if the underground water supply begins to dry up, residents would be left without any water at all.

THE QUALITY of the water currently meets federal and state health requirements. However, Winside residents have complained for many years about the water's pungent odor. In fact, some residents have gone so far as to compare the smell to rotten eggs or even worse.

City Clerk Wylie said most residents at the hearing were against construction of the treatment plant because of cost considerations. Estimated expense for construction of the two wells and the treatment plant has been estimated at $313,500 with the city providing about $3,000. The remainder would be in the form of a Farm and Home Administration loan at 5 percent interest.

Representatives of Associated Engineers in Lincoln were present Monday to discuss the problems, and Bob Jedlicka of FmHA also was present at the hearing. A representative from the engineering firm will be in Winside again at 7:30 p.m. March 12 to provide additional information. It is believed cost proposals on two test wells will be available at that time.

AT A MEETING in January, the Winside board of trustees voted to apply for an FmHA loan. The money would be used for the wells and treatment plant unless the water is of high enough quality that treatment is not needed.

Two locations for the proposed wells are being considered. One is a half-mile south of Winside across from the cemetery and the other is a mile south of Winside across from the Winside De Hy plant. The well near the cemetery is the most favorable since a test well is being drilled on private property there for irrigation.

The project the board is considering — either with or without the treatment plant — is about half of what originally was considered. Initially, the two wells, the treatment plant, a new storage tank and additions to the distribution system were reviewed, but the $620,000 project cost was considered too costly.

BASED ON THE original figure, the cost would have been an extra $20 per average user per month. However, the latest project — not including the treatment facility — will be about $10 per user.

At its January meeting, the board decided against a storage tank because the existing tank is in good condition having been repaired last fall.

The existing lone well provides the city with about 350 gallons of water per minute, which is adequate to meeting current needs. However, if the community continues to grow or if the well pump were to break down, the city would be without water.

State Teenworld Contest Open

Statewide competition for the Nebraska Teenworld contest has just been announced for July 17-19 at the Hilton Hotel in Lincoln.

Teenworld will select outstanding young women from all over the state to participate in the three days of activities. A $500 college scholarship and a $1,000 scholarship to the Fashion and Art Institute of Dallas will be awarded to the Nebraska winner. She will also receive an all expense paid trip to the Teenworld National Finals in Atlanta, Ga., and a $1,150 scholarship to the Nancy Bounds Modeling School in Omaha, Lincoln and Norfolk.

The Teenworld program is designed to recognize young women, 14 to 18, who excel in scholastic achievement and community involvement. Contestants are judged on poise, personality, grooming and a speech or talent presentation, as well as scholastic and civic achievements. Entrants must have a "B" or better cumulative grade average and be able to document at least 10 hours of volunteer service to a community or charitable organization. Swimsuit competition is not part of the program.

Further information on applying for the Nebraska Teenworld competition is available from State Director Carol Conroy at the Teenworld Regional Office, 3550 W. 109 St., No. 200, Overland Park, Kan. 66211, phone 913-341-5588.

Tammi Kerr of Hastings is the reigning 1981 Miss Nebraska Teenworld and will crown the 1981 winner. The Nebraska Pageant is the official state preliminary for the Teenworld National Pageant to be held at the Omni International Hotel in Atlanta, December, 1981.

Teenworld finalists from all 117 states will compete for $18,000 in cash and scholarship awards; a new automobile for the national winner's reigning year, a $2,000 wardrobe, a $5,000 personal appearance contract, and many other special prizes. Throughout the year, the National Teenworld Scholarship Program will award over $80,000 in scholarship and tuition grants across the nation.

About Those Returns

Federal income tax returns must be signed and dated, the Internal Revenue Service said, in the case of married taxpayers who file jointly, both spouses' signatures must appear on the form.

When married taxpayers file joint returns, lack of income or absence from the home of one spouse is not a valid excuse for a missing signature on the return. Both spouses must sign regardless of their individual incomes. If one spouse is away from home, the return should be sent to him or her prior to filing.

Spouses who cannot sign due to disease or injury may have their husbands or wives sign for them. After signing the spouse's name in the proper space, the words "By (name of the spouse who signed), Husband (or Wife)" should be added.

The spouse who signed should also attach a dated statement to the return that includes the following information: the name of the return, the tax year, the reason the other spouse cannot sign, and that the ill or injured spouse has agreed to having their name signed.

If a spouse cannot sign the joint return for any other reason, the husband or wife can sign only if given a valid power of attorney.

Taxpayers generally must attach a separate "Wage and Tax Statement" Form W-2 to their 1980 Federal Income Tax returns for every job they held during the past year, the Internal Revenue Service said.

The form, which serves as proof of the taxpayer's income and a record of taxes withheld in 1980, should be given or sent to the taxpayer by his or her employer by Jan. 31.

The IRS suggested that taxpayers who have not received the form by this date, or received an incorrect form, contact their employer and request that a Form W-2 or a corrected Form W-2 be sent. Taxpayers who still do not have a W-2 by Feb. 15 should call the IRS toll-free number for their area that is listed in the telephone directory.

Failure to attach Copy B of a Form W-2 for each job held during the past year needlessly slows the processing procedure and may spark correspondence between the taxpayer and the agency, delaying any refund due.

Taxpayers must also attach all supporting forms and schedules to their returns. The IRS suggested that the return and accompanying material be mailed in the cosidd envelope which is pre-addressed and also sized to fit the return. The envelope appears in the tax package mailed to taxpayers.

Loan Repayment Extended Additional 30 Days: USDA

Farmers who must settle their reserve corn loans will have at least an additional 30 days to repay their loans, according to Edward Hews, acting administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The extension was made to assure orderly marketing of corn, which was jeopardized by transportation problems caused by low water levels on the nation's major grain-shipping rivers, Hews said.

The settlement date for corn in Reserve I was Feb. 9; the settlement date for Reserves II and III is April 15.

During the 30-day period farmers will pay 15.25 percent interest on their loans, Hews said. Previously, there was no interest charged on these loans.

Hews said the interest rates were changed to reflect the cost of borrowing from the U.S. Treasury and to provide producers an incentive to settle matured or called farm-stored loans promptly.

The new rates take effect the day after the loan's maturity, or, in the case of reserve loans, the day after the original date on which settlement is required after a reserve loan is called.

After the final date for settlement, issuance of delivery notices and warehouse takeover for corn under reserve or regular loans will be delayed at least 30 days based on current available storage space and transportation conditions to allow for orderly marketing, Hews said.

"As of Jan. 28, the three reserves held 994.2 million bushels of corn and all three reserves have been called," said

Hews. "The settlement date for the 10 to 15 million bushels in reserve I was Feb. 9. The new interest rates for these loans began on Feb. 10."

"April 15 is the final settlement date for Reserves II and III. Under the new rule, producers must pay interest from this date until the called loans are settled," he said.

Hews said interest on regular, nine-month government price support loans would be increased from 11.5 percent to 15.25 percent beginning the day after the loan's maturity date. Producers with these loans also will have at least 30 additional days following the maturity date to redeem their loans or deliver the grain to USDA, Hews said.

WAKEFIELD NEWS / Mrs. Hale 287-2728

CPR Class Scheduled in Wakefield Thursdays

A cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class begins tonight (Thursday) at the Wakefield fire hall and will run for three consecutive Thursday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m.

The classes are open to the public and are being sponsored by Salem Lutheran Churchmen.

Ladies Aid

Thirty members of the Ladies Aid of St. John's Lutheran Church met Friday afternoon. Mrs. Raymond Prochaska had the opening devotions and reported on a meeting she attended in St. Louis.

The group sang "With The Lord Begin Thy Task" and "Am I a Soldier of the Cross?" It was announced that the Spring Workshop will be held April 28 and the theme is "You Are God's Gift."

The Rev. Ronald Holling took pictures of the church altar at Christmas time and the Aid is planning to use them on Christmas cards for next year.

Pastor Holling is hosting a pastoral conference March 3. Those serving will be Mrs. A. D. Brown, Lucille Bartels, Viola Holm and Lillian Fredrickson.

The Aid will serve lunch following Lenten services on March 25. The friendship committee reported visiting Dave Elton, Martha Stalling, Vergie Holtorf, John Greve, Deloy Benne, Lori Hallstrom, Mrs. Fred Paulson and Mrs. Dale Murrin. Get well cards were sent to Mrs. Fred Paulson, Mrs. Dale Murrin, Deloy Benne, John Greve and Mrs. Randy Johnson. A baby card was sent to Lori Hallstrom. Thank you notes were read from Judy Helling, the George Elckhoff family and Esther Dersch.

The Aid helped Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Lubberstedt celebrate their golden wedding anniversary that day. Mrs. Melvin Witt baked the anniversary cake, and they were presented with a gift from the Aid.

The birthday song was sung for members with birthdays in February, and the meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. Harold Holm and Mrs. Clarence Baker served lunch. Next meeting is March 6 at 2 p.m.

Happy Homemakers

Ten members of the Happy Homemakers Home Extension Club met Feb. 4 with Mrs. Dennis Fredrickson.

Members responded to roll call by telling what comes into their minds when they think about George Washington or Abe Lincoln.

President Mrs. Walter Hale opened the meeting with the Extension Club Creed. Members discussed serving lunch following the Cantata on Sunday, April 26.

Changes were made in the bylaws and Mrs. Willis Kahl and Mrs. Lowell Newton gave the lesson, entitled "Change, A New Opportunity for Growth."

Mrs. Walter Hale will be the March 4 hostess at 2 p.m. and Mrs. Dennis Fredrickson and Mrs. Derwood Wriedt will give the lesson.

Annals on Sale

The 1980-81 Wakefield Community School Annals are now on sale through Feb.-13 at the school.

Cost is $8 with a name printed on the cover and $7 without the name. Orders may be placed with Mrs. Norman Swanson at the high school. The annals are to be paid for when they are ordered.

Contest Pictures

Pictures of the girls who participated in the Miss Wakefield Centennial Contest are available. They will be on display at the True Value Home Center for the next two weeks.

Girls who wish to order pictures may do so at the store.

Lutheran Circles

Eleven members of Circle 1 of the Salem Lutheran Church met with Mrs. Charles Pierson last Thursday afternoon. Guests were Mrs. Robert Johnson, Eydith Bressler and Helen Sundell. Mrs. Johnson gave the lesson.

Mrs. James Chambers will host the March 5 meeting at 2 p.m. in the fellowship room.

Mrs. Emil Muller hosted Circle 2 in the fellowship room with five members present last Thursday afternoon. The lesson was given by Mrs. Francis Fischer.

Linnea Olson will host the March 5 meeting at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Otto Nelson gave the lesson when Circle 3 met in the home of Eveline Ring last Thursday afternoon. Four members attended.

Hannah Anderson will be the March 5 hostess at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Jack Park hosted Circle 4 at 9:30 a.m. last Thursday in the fellowship room. Mrs. Dale Anderson gave the lesson.

Hostess for Circle 4 on March 5 at 9:30 a.m. will be Mrs. Weldon Schwarlow.

Circle 5 met Feb. 3 at 8 p.m. with Mrs. Merle Schwarten. Ten members were present for the lesson by Mrs. Paul Fischer. Mrs. Fischer will be the March 3 hostess at 8 p.m.

State Aid to Local Schools Is Examined

CAPITOL NEWS

By Melvin Paul

Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Nebraska's lawmakers have begun the task of finding a way to distribute $70 million in state aid to local governments. But the task won't be easy.

The Legislature four years ago decided to exempt business and farm equipment and inventory from taxation, and created a fund to reimburse local governments for revenue they would lose when the property was gradually taken off the tax rolls.

The 1980 Legislature, in action that lasted until the waning days of the session, renamed and revised the distribution formula. The formula for distributing the $70 million that had been approved by the Legislature in some respects perpetuated the old formula, a fact that concerned Attorney General Paul Douglas.

Douglas took the law directly to the Nebraska Supreme Court for a ruling on the validity of the formula. The court looked it over, and in December ruled the formula was unconstitutional.

The court's ruling prompted immediate calls for the Legislature to quickly find a constitutional formula for distributing the money, which was to be doled out in seven equal payments of $10 million. The first payment was scheduled for December.

Lawmakers, well aware that local subdivisions of government, including cities, schools and counties, had budgeted in anticipation of receiving the money, did head to the drawing board immediately to find a valid formula for disbursing the money.

Three major proposals have been presented to the Legislature's Revenue Committee, which already has conducted public hearings on the bills. One proposal to win an interesting mix of support was sponsored by Bellwood Sen. Loran Schmitz, who was actively involved in pushing the exemption bill four years ago and in last year's debate on a new formula.

Schmitz's plan, a revenue-sharing proposal, has won the support of such diverse groups as the Nebraska Agricultural and Business Coalition and the Nebraska State Education Association.

The Bellwood lawmaker has proposed major changes in the fiscal relationship between local and state governments. He is suggesting a $315 million fund to be shared by schools, cities and counties. The fund would be supported by state sales and income taxes.

Schmitz's bill also includes a formula for distributing the $70 million that local governments say they urgently need. The Revenue Committee likely will take a close look at Schmitz's proposal, but certainly will not overlook the other two bills.

One of the measures includes a formula that calls for distributing the money solely on the proportion of a county's real estate valuation. That approach typically is backed by rural groups and lawmakers, primarily because of the heavy reliance on property considerations.

The other bill before the committee, a Revenue Committee plan that is similar to a measure considered until the waning days of the 1980 session, bases distribution of the money on a property-population formula. This approach wins more support from urban lawmakers because of its inclusion of population as a consideration.

But Schmitz's proposal, if for no other reason than because it is different from the serious contenders before lawmakers during the 1980 session, appears to stand a good chance, at least with some amendments, of being considered by the full Legislature. During the recent legislative hearing on Schmitz's bill, senators were told LBS24 appears to offer the best long-term solution to the ever-pressing questions of how to best provide state aid to local governments and property tax relief.

No issue is immune from being scrutinized by the Nebraska Legislature, be it international affairs, state animals, Omaha finances, irrigation or anything else.

For that reason it should come as no surprise to learn Nebraska lawmakers have been talking about man's creation.

Freshman Sen. Howard Peterson of Grand Island brought to the Legislature this year a bill that would require public schools to provide balanced treatment for the creation theory of life.

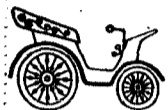

State educators have said the proposal would be expensive, arguing it would cost a lot to change texts and course materials—and to train teachers—to address both the creation and evolution theories.

The Legislature's Education Committee conducted a five-hour hearing on Peterson's bill, which the panel later killed on a 5-2 vote. But the issue isn't necessarily dead.

Peterson and the other sponsor of the bill—Sen. Maurice Kremer of Aurora—could ask their colleagues to raise the bill from the dead and place it before the full Legislature. They also could reintroduce the measure next year, spending the interim lobbying for their proposal and trying to find the necessary votes to prevent a repeat performance next year.

But Peterson's legislation does clearly make a strong point. Nebraska lawmakers are not afraid to bring before the public issues that are certain to be controversial, even if they deal with God, motherhood and apple pie.

election days, is a useless law. It was first enacted in 1881, some 100 years ago when circumstances were very much different than they are now. Today, a person must be registered to vote far in advance of the actual election day. Years ago, a political boss could stroll into a bar and hustle up a few incoherent drunks to vote for his political puppet. The laws and the times have changed and that just isn't likely. This law, then, no longer serves the purpose for which it was intended.

Merle's Message

by Sen. VonMinden

In today's world, however, it actually causes a harm, especially in our area of the state. South Dakota and Iowa both permit sale of liquor on election day, so we are losing tax money that would normally go to Nebraska, to those states when someone drives to those states for a dinner and drink. More important, however, is the impact this has upon restaurant and liquor store owners and employees. The employees are not permitted to earn a fair wage on these days. There is one example of a restaurant in South Sioux City which experiences a 66 percent reduction in income on election day. All of this for no particular gain.

The work of the Legislature goes on. I would like to encourage you to write or call my office in Lincoln. I will always try to make myself available to your thoughts and suggestions.

Look Before You Leap Is Budget Plan: Thone

"Before any new state spending program could be started, the legislature would be required to forecast how much it would cost over a four year period, according to a proposal I am advocating.

"This 'look before you leap' spending control plan would also require the unicameral to budget all expenditures two years at a time. Appropriations would be made by the legislature only in odd-numbered years. This would leave the unicameral more time for thorough consideration of non-budgetary matters during its sessions in even-numbered years.

"State Senator Jerome Warner of Waverly, chairman of the appropriations committee, has introduced LB 535 on my behalf, to begin implementation of these proposals. They would amend the state constitution. If the bill is passed by the 1981 legislature, it would be placed on the ballot in November, 1982 for approval or rejection by all the state's voters.

"We've got to avoid beginning spending programs without knowing what the cost of continuing them will be.

"On the other hand, the state can get some things accomplished much cheaper if money is available for a two-year period than is the case where parts of projects must be purchased in one-year increments.

"If state agencies had two-year appropriations, they would be forced more often to solve problems with existing funds, rather than running to the legislature for additional money whenever new situations develop.

"Most importantly, a two-year budget cycle would allow state agencies to begin some sensible long-range fiscal planning. As it is now, an agency usually doesn't know what its budget for a fiscal year beginning July 1st will be until about June, and by September 15th it has to submit its budget for the next year.

A Letter From
Gov. Charley Thone

"With a two-year budget cycle, state agencies, the legislature and the Governor, would be able to review new programs to see if they were not only effective but also cost efficient.

"Many groups compete for a share of the limited financial resources of state government. A two-year budget cycle will allow both the governor and the legislature more opportunity for establishing priorities so that the taxpayers' money is spent on those programs that are most important to taxpayers."

A Matter of Grace

Credit should be given where credit is due, and Sen. Merle Von Minden of Allen seems to be edging his way into the legislative scene with grace.

When Senator VonMinden went to Lincoln in January, he faced three choices.

One, he could sit patiently by, voting on the bills as they were presented to him. Offering little in the way of benefits for Northeast Nebraska and the state.

Two, he could burst upon the scene with mouth yapping (as many freshmen senators do in trying to change the world). He could generate a name for himself and a reputation by introducing silly bills that have little effect on his constituents.

Three, he could wisely and carefully survey the legislative scene and enter with grace and dignity. Commenting openly on bills and rules, he could bring respect and notoriety to this corner of the state.

It appears the senator has chosen the latter of the three. Two of the bills he has introduced, or has helped introduce, lend themselves to respectability. They are not earth-moving, nor are they silly. They are thoughts that have affected almost all of us at one time or another.

VonMinden wants to allow the sale of liquor on election days and wants to prohibit the sale of beverage cans with removable tabs. The first law is long-ago outdated and was the topic of his comments in a column recently. The other is a safety concern which has plagued many a person. Dan Field, Editor.

OUT OF OLD NEBRASKA

Nebraska State Historical Society

President Lincoln's Influence on Nebraska

Probably no person has more completely captured the imagination of Nebraskans and is more firmly enshrined in our traditions than Abraham Lincoln, whose birth-day we celebrate on Feb. 12. Our capital city and one of our large counties are named in his honor. His statue by Daniel Chester French, backed by a tablet of polished granite on which the Gettysburg Address is engraved, dominates the west approach to the capitol.

As a war president, Lincoln naturally exercised a great deal of influence over the lives of all Americans. Because Nebraska was a territory during the Civil War, the President exercised much influence over its affairs.

All executive and judicial officers of the territory, for example, were appointed by the President. In the State Historical Society museum there is displayed a commission re-appointing Alvin Saunders as governor of Nebraska Territory. It is dated April 13, 1865—the date of Lincoln's assassination—and according to a statement by Mr. Saunders the commission was signed just before the President left the theatre in which he met his death.

Undoubtedly, though, Lincoln exercised his greatest influence on the development of Nebraska in selecting Omaha as the starting point for the Union Pacific Railroad.

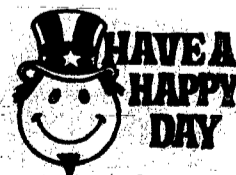

Strictly speaking, the President's order designated a point, "within the limits of the township in Iowa opposite the Town of Omaha," as the place of beginning; and the citizens of Council Bluffs always maintained that their city was the eastern terminus of the road. Even though the Iowans were upheld by the Supreme Court in that view, Omahans have always contended that their city was the starting point of the road.

Be that as it may, Omaha reaped rich rewards from President Lincoln's decision, and the significance of that decision in the city's development was recognized from the beginning.

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held in Omaha on Dec. 2, 1863—the very day that word of Lincoln's decision was received. In less than an hour after receipt of the telegram, a committee on arrangements was appointed, and by two o'clock in the afternoon, a crowd of 1,000 had assembled at the place where the ground was to be formally broken.

Though it was to be many months before actual construction got underway, the die had been cast. President Lincoln had assured Omaha's future.

Minister's Wife Wins State Essay Event

A 30-year-old former art teacher and wife of a Church of the Brethren minister — Susan Eikenberry, formerly of the Carleton area — was first place winner in the 1960 essay contest, "A Free Press Safeguards My Freedom," sponsored by the Nebraska Press Association.

Mrs. Eikenberry received a $100 cash award for her first place essay which now has been entered in the national competition being sponsored by the Newspaper Association Managers, Inc.

Winners in the national contest will be announced at the National Newspaper Association's Government Affairs Conference in Washington, D.C., in mid-March, where prizes of $1,000 for first, $300 for second and $200 for third will be awarded.

Mrs. Eikenberry's essay was top winner in the contest sponsored by The Nebraska Signal at Geneva. Mrs. Eikenberry lived in the Carleton area for five years, where her husband was pastor of the Bethel Church of the Brethren. She and her husband have recently moved to Springfield, Mo., where her husband is attending seminary and serving a new pastorate.

Second place winner in the state-wide contest was Debby Baillie of Loup City. Debby, a 1979 graduate of the high school at Loup City recently married Jon Baillie, a farmer, and she is working as secretary to the county attorney. She receives a $50 cash award. She was winner in the contest sponsored by The Sherman County Times at Loup City.

Winner of third place, and a cash award of $25, is Lana Welsh, a 16-year-old junior in Fairbury High School. She was winner in the local contest sponsored by The Fairbury Journal-News.

The Wayne Herald's winner was Rudy Froeschle, who received $100 for his efforts. "A Free Press Safeguards My Freedom"

By Susan Eikenberry
Freedom must go on record as being one of the most misunderstood concepts in America today — the reason being that freedom, the ability to make individual choices and the opportunity to act on those choices, is never free and seldom cheap. A price is always paid.

When the history of the free press is examined one is introduced to scores of persons for whom the freedom to print their own individual ideas was a very costly endeavor. It is no secret that colonial America, herself, did not always offer a platform for persons to exchange freely their own ideas in print but, rather, kept a watchful eye on possible revolutionary ideas. History has shown, however, that even the most majestic of watchful eyes cannot always curb a revolution and out of the struggles of that colonial America came a constitution for a new nation, complete with a Bill of Rights that assured freedom of the press.

Today, as one sits comfortably amid stacks of newspapers, journals, digests and magazines, the scenes of threatened journalists, bruised printers and burning newsprint seem far away indeed. American newspapers feature headlines that put government officials on the firing line. The moves of politicians and people of influence are examined with exacting scrutiny. Thousands have made the uncovering of truth and its subsequent printing their lifelong profession. Uncensored reportings of injustice and corruption funnel down to the American reader daily. All too often, however, the reader is not aware of the previous freedom that has made this process possible. There is also little awareness that this freedom can be lost.

One does not have to look far to find peoples who have either lost their basic human freedoms or who have never had them. Countless persons suffer continued injustice and there is, for them, no way to make known the truth of their condition. In attempts to speak out through the printed word, underground writers are brutalized at the hands of government and special interest groups. These yearned-for freedoms have become commonplace for the average American. While in distant cities truth is spoken only in quiet whispers and distributed only by the underground, here in the United States there exists a free forum of ideas that prides itself on stating facts and representing all viewpoints. The free press definitely is one of the foundation blocks of the democratic system. The printed word can give attention to voices that might otherwise go unheard. The hallmark of true democracy is that every voice, no matter how small, be heard. In providing an arena for Americans to speak out on issues of their choice, the free press becomes an effective vehicle for protecting and even promoting the basic rights of each citizen.

The reader, however, must do more than merely appreciate the press that safeguards his or her freedom. A more active role is required of the person who really understands that his freedom was bought with a price and that he, too, must be watchful to see that so dear a purchase is not easily taken away. It is possible to lose or even give away the right to be informed of the facts upon which a reasonable choice can be made. The two things that encourage this loss of liberty are ignorance and the more sinister, neglect.

While education holds a top priority in the American system, there are many for whom democracy is a theory only. The practice of governing is lost to them because of the lack of understanding the process. Even the most basic understanding of democracy equips a person with the knowledge that he or she is responsible for the governing of the nation. The question must be asked, then, — is the American citizen ignorant to the democratic process — or — is total absorption in one's own private life allowing him or her to conveniently neglect so great a responsibility?

Neglect one's responsibility to the actual governing of the nation. There are always a handful who take it upon themselves to speak out on social ills, to herald causes, and just simply get involved where they are not welcomed. But, for the average, democracy is really not an involving process. One enjoys benefits that the free press and other assured liberties provide — but does nothing to see that these freedoms stay free. As more become silent, the right of the individual is given away to anyone desiring control over people. The variety of voices heard from quiet down to a roar. The open forum of ideas that the free press has espoused becomes a platform for a few. To see democratic freedom weakened and distorted because the people themselves did not care enough to thwart it should spark a new awareness in the duties of American citizenship. Just as the free press has acted as a watchdog to keep secure the personal freedom of each American, so the individual need to exercise responsibility to insure the future of the press to freely print what it knows to be truth. Responsible readership can be part of the answer. Growing awareness of an apparent loss of interest in liberty should promote, for one, more careful reading of the news. Renewed support of community newspapers who daily put their professions on the line, printing facts; even when the decision to print is difficult, is also required. Responding to the news and to editorial comment is another avenue the individual has to undergird the free press. Hundreds of local papers offer space for such reader response.

Have Americans been enjoying for too long freedom paid for by others, without any thought of what they themselves might owe? Is there interest sufficient to start making payments on so rich a set of liberties? The survival of freedom itself may depend on the answer.

Valentine Food Exchange at EOT Club

EOT Club met last Thursday in the Lowell Rohlf home with Mrs. Ron Sebade as assisting hostess. Guests were Mrs. Adolph Rohlf of Winslow and Mrs. Tom Guillian.

For roll call, each member wore something red and brought baked items for a Valentine food exchange. The afternoon was spent making Valentines for husbands.

Plans were discussed to treat husbands to supper out in March. A family card party will be held Feb. 20 in the Ron Sebade home. Co-hostess will be Mrs. Lowell Rohlf.

Next regular meeting will be in the Ron Magnuson home March 5, with Mrs. Dale Claussen as co-hostess.

Presbyterian Women
A no-host noon dinner Feb. 4 preceded the meeting of United Presbyterian Women.

Seventeen were present for the dinner and Mrs. Erwin Morris was coffee chairman.

Mrs. Enos Williams conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Lem Jones reported on the last meeting and Mrs. Esther Batten read the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Milton Owens had the lesson, "Song in a Strange Land," and Mrs. Jones accompanied for group singing of "All the Way My Savior Leads Me."

The afternoon was spent quilting. Next meeting, on Feb. 18, will follow a noon dinner. Mrs. Leonard Pritchard will be coffee chairman and Mrs. Esther Batten will have the lesson.

Guests were Mrs. Mildred Jones and Mrs. Ralph Olson, and prizes were won by Mrs. John Rethwisch, Mrs. Ann Roberts, Mrs. Frank Vlasak and Mrs. Mildred Jones.

Mrs. Lloyd Morris will be the Feb. 19 hostess.

Anniversary Dinner
A dinner last Thursday evening at the Wagon Wheel Steakhouse in Laurel honored the 35th wedding anniversary of the Arnold Juncks.

Guests included Mrs. Junck's sister, Mrs. Eveline Thompson and Harold of Wayne, and the couple's children, the Jerry Juncks and the Dennis Juncks, all of Carroll, and the Chuck Rutenbecks of Wayne.

Senior Citizens
A potluck dinner preceded cards at the Senior Citizens Center Feb. 2.

Michael Krochmalny, legal aid representative, and Mrs. Ron Sebade, LPN, were guests.

Mrs. Sebade took blood pressure readings for persons requesting it.

Mrs. Ruth Jones of Wayne, a former resident of Carroll who recently celebrated her 80th birthday, furnished cake and punch and served coffee for a luncheon in the afternoon. Mrs. Emma Eckert of Wayne also was a guest.

Receiving card prizes were the Lloyd Morrises, Ted Winterstein and Mrs. Emil Hank.

Mrs. Leo Stephens was a guest at the Senior Citizens Center Feb. 3. Receiving bingo prizes were Arthur Cook, Mrs. Louise Boyce, Ted Winterstein and Mrs. Anna Hansen.

Crafts and cards were the entertainment last Thursday, and Kay Gilfert assisted with painting on Friday.

Agriculture

State's Ag Is Powerhouse

Nebraska agriculture is a "powerhouse" for the state's economy, with $6 billion in annual cash receipts from farm marketings, along with a multiplier effect that maintains the economic viability of Nebraska and its communities.

But like the "Big Red" football team, agriculture faces a tough "conference schedule" of problems and obstacles.

This was the analogy drawn by Glenn H. LeDioy, president of LeDioy Land Co., Omaha, in an address delivered at the fourth annual University of Nebraska College of Agriculture Alumni Day, held Saturday, Feb. 7, at the NU East Campus Union.

LeDioy identified Nebraska agriculture's toughest "opponents" as the weather — "a bag of trick plays no amount of scouting can prepare you for"; rising cost of production; "getting bigger and less manageable each year," led by petroleum and "Big Steel"; Washington "Bureaucratic Overkill," featuring "unsportsmanlike conduct" by OSHA, FDA and consumer advocates in USDA; and on occasion, the difficult tests of transportation and marketing.

LeDioy said Nebraska "is doing something" about the problem of an orderly marketing system for wheat, soybeans and feedgrains. He pointed to the Jan. 1 on-farm storage capacity of 1.058 billion bushels — second only to Iowa — plus a half billion bushel commercial grain storage capacity. Other encouraging developments, LeDioy said, are efforts by the Thone Administration to develop increased Missouri River barge traffic and to open Nebraska trade offices in Frankfurt, West Germany and Tokyo, Japan.

LeDioy reminded ag college graduates that Nebraska's agricultural industry powerhouse — like the Big Red grid machine — is in the "top ten" in ag production: first in the nation in alfalfa meal, popcorn and Great Northern beans; second in fed cattle and calves, cattle on feed, commercial cattle slaughter and commercial livestock slaughter; third in production of corn for grain sorghum for grain and all cattle and calves and fourth in winter wheat production.

LeDioy said productivity per farm worker in the United States has increased by 200 percent over the past 25 years, and he credited a good share of the productivity increase to "the untiring work-of such organizations as the NU Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

The Omaha businessman noted that the College of Agriculture has awarded almost 8,000 Bachelor of Science degrees, since its inception. LeDioy said NU Agricultural Experiment Station research workers have published scientific articles at the rate of one a day, putting the IANR unit in the national top ten of articles published per full time-equivalent agricultural scientist.

LeDioy, himself an ag college graduate, recalled that there were 303 students when he was on campus, while current undergraduate enrollment is 1,889 — an all-time record, and a 34 percent increase over a decade ago.

LeDioy quoted recent figures regarding the dollar value added to Nebraska's economy from research conducted by the NU Agricultural Experiment Station. "From just 15 projects, the value received was $410 million," he said, which he observed is 50 times the average annual state budget for agricultural research.

LeDioy singled out three research efforts among those conducted by the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources in carrying out its mission:

— Energy development, conservation and use: projects on the use of photovoltaic systems for irrigation, development of low pressure center pivots, development of methane from livestock waste, solar heating for livestock housing, development of more energy-efficient crop driers and the world's largest solar cell-powered crop irrigation system at the NU Field Laboratory near Mead.

— The AGNET computer network which links Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Wyoming and Montana, and is connected to the office of the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture. This computerized information system was conceived and nurtured by IANR faculty members and developed into a project sponsored by the Old West Regional Commission.

— Water resources: The Institute has provided, and is continuing to provide, the results of valuable research into the complex and controversial legal issues involved in the management of groundwater and Riparian water rights in Nebraska.

Paul Harvey to Speak

Paul Harvey, internationally known news commentator, is coming to Norfolk for a public appearance on Friday, March 27. Radio station KNEB-FM is sponsoring the event.

Harvey is best known for his unusually candid radio and television broadcasts that span the continent. He has the world's largest one man news network.

Through a middle of the road independent who steers by his own star, he is referred to as the "burr under the saddle of the American conscience."

He has been quoted by virtually every national publication, and every major veterans organization has saluted his efforts. He has received ten honorary degrees. His broadcasts and newspaper columns have been reprinted in the Congressional Record more than those of any other commentator. . . 102 times to date.

Harvey's speech is filled "A New Beginning." It will feature comments on the current American scene, a challenge for a greater future and some of his latest bumper stickers.

Appearing with Harvey will be two former Norfolk area residents: Ronald Sapp as master of ceremonies and Tim Peterson, singer. Harvey will speak for approximately one hour.

Tickets are now on sale at Griess Rexall, Wayne.

Higher Prices for Fed Cattle Expected

The stage is set for higher prices for fed cattle in 1981. But an interplay of positive and negative factors will cause price instability. In fact, relatively volatile price movements will be common throughout the year as short-term news influences the market.

That's the prediction through a cloudy crystal ball by Dr. Al Wellman, University of Nebraska extension livestock marketing specialist, who comments candidly that "reviewing past livestock price and supply outlook statements is sometimes rewarding and other times humbling."

Linking past, present and future, he says "1980 was disappointing for the 'bulls' (optimistic forecasters) who were predicting record slaughter cattle prices. My more conservative outlook turned out to be reality for 1980, but higher prices appear to be a distinct possibility for 1981.

"Assuming that the best set of conditions will prevail," Wellman sees choice slaughter steers at Omaha could average in the low to mid-$70's (per hundredweight) during the first half of the year.

"Prices for fed cattle could approach record levels by mid year if beef demand picks up sharply in the summer," the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources economist reasons.

Further predictions are for choice steer prices at Omaha to average in the mid to upper $70's during the last half of 1981 — if price levels predicted for the first six months hold true. "The average price for the year could be near $75 per hundredweight or slightly higher for choice steers on the Omaha market," Wellman concludes.

Cattle feeding profits in 1980 were "low and far between" for most feedlots, Wellman recalls, with top managers with an enlightened marketing strategy faring the best.

Beef production in 1980 was only slightly higher than 1979 levels, featured by larger than expected non-fed steer and heifer slaughter during the last three quarters. "This increase more than offset the reduced fed cattle marketings during the first three quarters of the year," Wellman notes.

The beef herd expansion in 1980 of 4.5 percent over the previous year was alarming to some cattlemen, Wellman says, but he points out that the estimated 115 million head inventory on Jan. 1, 1981, is still well below the record count of 132 million head.

A slower rate in national beef herd buildup expected in 1981 and into 1982 reflects the dampening effect of disappointing price levels in 1980 and the increasing cost of finishing inputs, Wellman explains.

"It looks like the current cattle cycle will have a longer than normal expansion phase, with a temporary peak in the mid to late 1980's," he speculates. Cattle numbers may plateau at this peak — similar to the late 1960's — before continuing a slow, gradual herd buildup, he believes.

Slightly higher placements of cattle in feedlots in the U.S. during the last quarter of 1980 will ensure fairly ample beef supplies during the first three months of this year, Wellman says. Slight increases in beef production expected in 1981 will be due almost entirely to increased fed cattle marketings (versus a decline in non-fed cattle slaughter), and consequently heavier slaughter weights.

He terms beef production for the last half of 1981 as "very uncertain." Pivotal factors include costs of feed and feeder cattle, grazing conditions in the spring, and feed grain crop prospects.

If the projected supply side factors materialize, Wellman warns, "the key to slaughter cattle prices in 1981 may be determined by what happens on the demand side of the market." Economic signs and signals indicate a much stronger economy developing by mid-1981.

Rising consumer incomes, less unemployment, strong economic signals from the Reagan Administration and a "good feeling about the future" by the consumer would be very positive for the beef market, Wellman observes.

Lower interest rates and stable energy costs would fuel the consumers' appetite for beef.

On the other hand — "international and domestic conflicts would be a negative factor to the beef market. Rapidly rising energy costs would be a damper on beef demand."

Soot in chimneys

Soot which builds up in stovepipes and chimneys can combine with water vapor, become creosote, baked on, and later burn at high temperature to cause a chimney fire.

This can be prevented or inhibited, by occasionally spunking the fire with a mixture of table salt and zinc oxide, which is available at most drug stores. Mix one cup of salt and one cup of zinc oxide. Sprinkle part of it on a hot fire. After about five minutes distribute the balance on nearby stocks of wood.

The cost of this mixture is about 12 cents an ounce. Store the mixture in a glass or plastic container in a dry place. Do not breathe the fumes of soot removers as they burn.

Controlling sparrows

English sparrows can be controlled by shooting, poisoning, trapping or scaring. Shooting with low-powered guns is selective and will reduce infestations if persistently used.

Grain poisoned with strychnine is registered by the EPA for English sparrow control. If poisoned grain is used, prebait for several days in areas close to buildings to minimize hazard to beneficial birds and other wildlife.

Poisoned grain should be distributed only after the English sparrows readily consume the prebait. Do not use the poisoned grain if non-target birds or mammals are using the area.

Dead animals and remaining poisoned bait should be picked up and destroyed when the desired control has been obtained. The use of poisoned grain is hazardous and should only be used by trained personnel.

Potential problems with English sparrows can be greatly reduced by destroying nests and eggs at two-week intervals during the spring and summer. By keeping entrances to buildings or implement sheds closed. The elimination of nesting and roosting sites is the best permanent solution to the problem.

Irrigation Association Session Set

The annual meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Irrigation Association will be held Monday at the VFW Clubroom in Harlington.

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. with the business meeting to follow. After the meeting there will be a free social hour in the lounge.

Jack Odgaard, executive director of the Nebraska Water Resources Association will speak at the meeting.

Taking into account the nationwide drought this country is experiencing, the proper management of water resources is becoming increasingly important. All interested parties are invited to attend.

Banker Says Ag Outlook to Improve

A Fremont banker painted a rosy picture for agriculture in the decade of the 1980's in a talk delivered at a University of Nebraska-sponsored Area Swine Days Program in Beatrice Jan. 23.

Jack Paulson, senior vice president of the Fremont National Bank, predicted a slow start in the economic turnaround in 1981, picking up steam in 1982.

In 1985, Paulson said, "agriculture could be in the enviable position it is in today." Conditions then, he projected, should allow farmers to have a fair rate of return on labor, capital and management.

Paulson, who also is a hog producer, based his optimistic outlook in the '80s on the ultimate demand for food by a growing population. "They (consumers) will find a way to buy it (food) and pay for it," he told some 175 producers at the meeting.

Agriculture will continue to turn in an excellent performance, but the rate of excellence in improving production will not be as great as in the past, he said.

Farmers who will survive and share in profits in the mid '80s will be those who have the ability to effectively manage their resources and the ability to market effectively, he stressed. "Having the most efficient production system will not be enough to assure success in the future," Paulson warned.

More and more credit will be needed to provide operating capital needed by producers, Paulson said. Good records, he said, will be critical for a borrower to get along with the banker.

"Gone are the days when you can play fast and loose with your credit," he told the producers.

Sufficient credit will be available to farmers in the '80s, the banker assured, but lenders will require documented farm plans, economic forecasts and cash flow projections.

Even under high prime interest rates, credit was available, he said, but in some instances borrowers were short of collateral.

Paulson said bankers are giving agricultural loan applications a closer review, and are looking at four criteria:

- Feasibility of a particular enterprise.
- Security for the loan (collateral).
- Profitability. Interest is paid from profits.
- Good records.

Along with the conventional farm ledger of current income and expenses, and a balance sheet of assets and liabilities to determine net worth, bankers will increasingly require a cash flow statement. This serves as a "financial road map... It makes you (producers) analyze your business," Paulson explained.

In answer to a producer's question, Paulson said he expects interest to be at an annual average rate of 15 to 15 1/2 percent in 1981.

Inflation is the key, he said. A prime goal is to move inflation rates below the double-digit level. Interest moves with inflation, he noted.

Austin Lewis, associate professor of animal science at NU, told producers they need to look more closely at the amino acid components of protein in swine rations.

He listed 10 essential amino acids, of which he said five are critical.

Cereal grains, such as corn and sorghum, are deficient in one or more amino acids, according to National Research Council nutritional requirements for optimum performance of pigs at various weights.

One of the values of a protein supplement, such as soybean oil meal, is how well the amino acid pattern complements that of cereal grains.

Lysine, an important amino acid, is generally deficient in corn and sorghum, he said.

When various protein supplements are added to bring up the lysine content to 100 percent desired level, other amino acids become excessive, some reaching 500 or 600 percent of the needed level, he said.

Previously it was felt that excesses in amino acids were only wasteful and added expense, Lewis said. Now, some livestock authorities are raising the possibility that high levels of some amino acids may be interfering with the utilization of others by the pig, resulting in possible inefficiency of gain.

"NU animal scientists have four experiments underway to test this theory, he said.

Lewis said a producer can't do much with a 16 percent protein supplement, as a typical example, to lower excesses of amino acids. No practical recommendations can be given when feeds are farm-mixed without access to a master computer system, Lewis said.

Lewis summarized that current but sparse data support the idea that excessive amino acids can reduce gains.

"You'll be reading more and more about amino acid content, and less about protein content per se... we need to be more precise," he stated.

Which Oats to Plant

by Don C. Spitze
Wayne County Extension Agent

It soon will be time to be thinking about planting oats. But before you plan you must decide which variety.

Top yield is not the only characteristic in choosing a variety. Other factors such as straw strength, bushel weight, height, protein and even color of grain are to be considered.

Characteristics of six top oat varieties

Variety	Grain Color	Maturity	Straw Strength	Bushel Weight	Height	Protein 1980 Test
Bates	Dark	Early	Strong	High	Short	13.7
Benson	White	Med-late	Medium	Medium	Tall	13.3
Burnett	Ivory	Medium	Medium	Medium	Medium	13.9
Lancer	White	Medium	Medium	High	Medium	15.6
Lang	Yellow	Early	Strong	Medium	Short	12.6
Stout	Ivory	Early	Strong	High	Short	13.1

Even though these six varieties exhibit many differences in growing characteristics they have almost identical average yields though in any one year their yields may vary as much as 10 bushels per acre between some of the six varieties.

Northeast Nebraska district oat variety yield tests

Variety	Yield 1979-80
*Bates	89
*Benson	88
*Burnett	85
*Lancer	89
*Lang	91
*Stout	85

Now that you have decided on which variety to plant the rest is up to the weather cooperating for a good harvest.

*Certified Seed is grown in Wayne or adjacent counties for this variety. Ask the Extension office for 1980 Growers Directory from Nebraska Crop Improvement Association.

Auto-Owners Car Insurance
You can run into all kinds of trouble with your car. That's why Auto-Owners has all kinds of unique extra protection. Like up to $200 coverage on most personal possessions etc. car. Up to $300 in substitute transportation expenses. Discounts to most retirees. And more. Ask your independent Auto-Owners agent about it. Because if you're not getting all this from your present policy, you could be asking for trouble.

Every government official or board that handles public money, should publish an accounting of it showing where and how each dollar is spent. We hold this to be a fundamental principle to democratic government.

Robert Jones Has Winning Yield

Robert Jones, Wakefield, is recipient of a regional winner trophy, cash award and certificate of merit from Crow's Hybrid Corn Company.

The awards were presented to him by officials of the seed corn firm, the result of his yield entry in Crow's 1980 Corn Master Yield Project. Award meetings which included a special program on the commodities market were held throughout the Corn Belt in January to honor more than 500 entrants in the project.

Jones' winning yield came from Crow's 5L65, a full season hybrid. The hybrid shelled out at 105.17 bushel, No. 2 corn per acre from a final stand of 17,000 plants per acre. Harvest moisture was 15.7 percent. He planted the hybrid on May 6 in 30 inch rows and harvested the crop on Oct. 15.

Highest yield in the project came from George Hale, Jr., Carlisle, Ind., who received an A.F. Crow Founder's Trophy for his winning entry. Hale's yield was 251.41 bushel, No. 2 corn per acre from Crow's 688, a full-season hybrid.

Crow's yield project is held each year to provide an opportunity for farmers throughout Crow's sales area to compete for recognition and to exchange corn growing and management information.

Crow distributes its seed corn through a network of 1,700 dealers in ten Corn Belt states.

A YIELD OF 105.17 bushels of No. 2 corn per acre from Crow's 5L65, a super-lysine mid-season hybrid has earned Robert Jones, right, Wakefield, a regional winner trophy, cash award and certificate of merit in Crow's 1980 Corn Master Yield Project. Making the presentation is Gary Blecke, left, District Sales Manager.

Investment Is Possible

Nebraska residents will have an opportunity to invest at least $2 million in energy projects this year with Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) financing, according to figures released by FmHA State Director Leonard T. Hanks.

The $2 million (insured loans) is a "base" figure, Hanks said, being allotted to all states for Biomass Energy (BE) projects under the new Energy Security Act. No allotment for guaranteed BE loans has been made at this time.

Hanks also said that although each state is receiving a base allocation for fuel production loans, additional funding for biomass projects will be available from a national pool.

Other allocations include $107 million for farmer assistance, $6.2 million for business and industrial loans, $38.8 million for housing loans and grants, and $11.5 million for community programs.

The total allotment for the State of Nebraska was $165,466,000.

These figures are part of nationwide allocations prepared by the agency following the passage of the Agricultural Appropriations bill in December. Funds are divided among the states on the basis of rural population and rural income.

Farmers Home Administration in Nebraska tries to invest its money according to its State Management Plan which is published every October.

"The plan, which details our priorities on a county-by-county basis, enables us to make the most of the agency's limited funds to serve individuals and communities who need help the most," Hanks said.

FmHA is represented by the State Office in Lincoln, eight district offices and 36 county offices throughout the state.

United Nations Program Offered

For the eighth consecutive year, the Wayne State College Public Affairs Institute will sponsor the National Model United Nations Program in New York City for 15 students of Wayne State College.

Cost is $250 per person, including transportation, hotel and tuition. Food is not included in the price. The students will leave the college on April 13 and return April 20. The trip coincides with Easter vacation.

Wayne State College is the only school in Nebraska that offers participation in the annual Model United Nations Program which is open to all WSC students and the community at large. There are no special course requirements, nor any special degree requirements for participation.

This year, Wayne State College will represent a "major" European power — the Federal Republic of Germany (West Germany), at the United Nations, which is recognition of the college's increasing role in the New York program.

The course is designed for "experiential learning" — learning by doing, through students playing the role of professional diplomats at an international conference.

Also, special diplomatic briefings at the international mission of the member countries are arranged. This year, the WSC students will be briefed on their "roles" by professional diplomats of the West German Mission in New York City.

Further, the opening address for the conference this year will be given by a member of the United Nations Secretariat, a representative of Dr. Kurt Waldheim, the U.N. Secretary General.

Over 1400 students from more than 100 colleges and universities across the United States and Canada take part in the program each year.

While in New York, all students stay at the Statler-Hilton Hotel which is within walking distance of Madison Square Garden, Macy's, the Empire State Building and "The Pride of the Big Apple," Broadway and Times Square.

Anyone interested in taking part should visit the WSC Extension

Lydia Circle Sponsors Birthday Party Friday

Lydia Circle of the Concordia Lutheran Church sponsored a birthday party honoring honorary member Ethel Erickson Friday afternoon.

About 40 relatives and friends attended the party at the Senior Citizens Center in Concord. Mrs. Jim Nelson, a member of Lydia Circle, baked and decorated a birthday cake which was served with the cooperative lunch.

Circles Meet
Circles of the Concordia Lutheran Church met last Thursday afternoon. The Bible study was "Conflict and Reconciliation."

Each circle reminded members of the LCW District Assembly to be held in Pender on March 30. Articles for Bethpage are to be brought in before that day. A new mailbox missionary was revealed. It was announced that spring table centerpieces for the Hillcrest Care Center will be made. Quilts will be made for Lutheran World Relief. The first quilt tying will be held Feb. 9 at the church.

Hostess for Hannah Circle was Mrs. Arvid Peterson. Twelve members attended and Esther Peterson gave the Bible study. Mrs. Quinten Erwin will be the March hostess.

Twelve members attended Sarah Circle in the home of Mrs. Carol Erwin. Mrs. Iner Peterson gave the Bible study. The March hostess will be Mrs. Arthur Johnson.

Lydia Circle met with 10 members and a guest in the home of Mrs. Roy Pearson. Mrs. Clarence Pearson presented the Bible study. Mrs. Norman Luberstedt will be the March hostess. Mrs. Evert Johnson presented the Bible study at Rebekah Circle, which met in the evening in the home of Mrs. Winton Wallin. Nine members were present. The March hostess will be Mrs. Doug Krie.

Affend Meeting
Clifford Fredrickson and Verdel Erwin attended the Lutheran Churchmen meeting held Saturday at Zion Lutheran Church in Platte Center.

Theme was "Believing, Caring, Sharing." The key address was given by the Rev. Lyle Seggern, with Bible study by the Rev. Dana Mark. The Rev. Ralph Ritzen was the speaker for the evening banquet. About 90 persons attended.

Couples League
The Concordia Lutheran Couples League met Sunday evening with the Virgil Pearsons and Lee Johnsons on the program committee.

Mrs. Virgil Pearson gave devotions and Mrs. Lee Johnson read "Take Time to Love."

Nicki Newman introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Hallie Sherry, director of Haven House Family Service Center in Wayne. She spoke and showed slides on domestic violence.

Lunch was served by David Newmans and Doug Kries.

Birthday Observed
Sharon Newman celebrated her birthday Feb. 3 when she and her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. David Newman, met Ted McIntyre of Lyons at a Sioux City restaurant for supper.

Friday overnight guests in the Newman home to honor Sharon were Rachel Beckenhauer and Shawn Westadt.
