Winside Man is Held in Shooting

A 36-year-old rural Winside man is being held in the Wayne County Jail on a suspicion of homicide charge in connection with the Friday morning shooting death of Marlen E. Kleinschmit, 40, also of rural Winside. Dennis Virgil Thorne turned himself in at the Wayne County Sheriff's Department Friday morning, about 10 hours after the fatal shooting. Early Saturday morning, Acting Sheriff Scotty Thompson said no formal charges had been filed against Thorne.

KLEINSCHMIT, a self-employed roofer, died about 2 a.m. Friday at a Norfolk hospital of an apparent gunshot wound to the chest, according to Budd Bornhoff, Wayne County attorney. Bornhoff said Kleinschmit was dead on arrival at the Norfolk hospital. Authorities believe the shooting occurred at the Kleinschmit residence, 14 miles west, two miles south and a quarter-mile west of Wayne. Funeral services for Kleinschmit are pending at Howser Mortuary, Norfolk. Survivors include his wife, Criss, and several children, all at home.

Fire Truck Shift Set At Hoskins

A Hoskins Volunteer Fire Department truck soon may be housed at a planned community center in Woodland Park, a growing Norfolk suburb.

The firefighting equipment, which is expected to be housed in the community center's garage, has been offered by the Hoskins firefighters as part of a long-range fire protection plan. Woodland Park is in the Hoskins fire district, and is only protected by the Norfolk Fire Department in mutual-aid situations.

HOSKINS firefighters, who have Woodland Park as a primary fire protection responsibility, operate three trucks out of the village fire hall — several miles from the Norfolk suburb.

A recent survey of Woodland Park residents found residents in favor — a 3 to 1 margin — of building the garage for the truck offered by Hoskins firefighters.

The garage would be part of the community center, a project begun by members of the Hoskins Fire Department who live in Woodland Park.

According to Lloyd Karella, a Woodland Park resident and Hoskins firefighter, the garage for the truck is expected to be completed in a few weeks.

Plumber's Nightmare

Alley-Cat Mechanic Builds Steam-Powered Runabout

By Randall Howell

He's known as Wayne's alley cat mechanic.

And, what gives him the greatest pride is the "plumber's nightmare" he's built after years of backshop and back alley tinkering with everything from electric bow ties to radio controlled model airplanes.

AT 36 YEARS of age, Bud McNatt has channeled his mechanical wizardry into the building of a steam powered, rubber tired, bell ringing, horn blowing, siren screaming, flag carrying, gadget laden, rainbow painted, umbrella protected get around.

Owner — but no longer operator — of McNatt's OK Hardware, the Lincoln born motorcycle enthusiast put his "Mark 56" together in about eight weeks, after buying the frame and steam boiler at an auction sale near his birthplace.

"The Mark 56 means could mean a lot of things," he grinned, his diamond studded brass teeth glimmering from the glare of a bare light bulb in the backshop of his recently closed Main Street hardware store.

"It has the ring of the future to it," he continued. "Or, maybe it means the thing only travels live or six miles per hour. It could represent my age, since I'm 56."

McNATT, WHO lives in an apartment over the downtown Wayne hardware store with his wife, Joanne, 51, and their two youngest children, Lisa, 14 and Rodney, 8, gave Wayne area curiosity seekers a glimpse of the collector's edition car at last Sunday's Wayne Municipal Airport 50th anniversary celebration.

It joined the show sporting a scale model, red and white, McNatt built '57 Mustang (Sputnik I) — a radio controlled airplane the hardware store owner built in 1958 when the Russians launched their Sputnik satellite.

It also joined the show with dozens of other gadgets fashioned by the "alley cat mechanic" during his days of car building this summer behind McNatt's Hardware Store.

A Lucky Strike chain smoker, McNatt was at the day long show explaining his "steam car" to visitors, while some children tried out the horns, seat and steering wheel.

OTHERS JUST stared in amazement at the colorful collection of gadgetry on the run about, and McNatt's flying goggles getup.

A promoter, showman and storyteller, McNatt began his work on the car soon after locking the front door of his hardware store — after some 53 years under family management — earlier this summer.

McNatt's late father and mother, Lloyd ("Mac") and Minnie, bought the store in 1929 from Charlie and Ben Carhart of Wayne.

"I've worked here since the day my daddy sat me down on the front steps and said I was going to have to help out," McNatt explained.

A 1942 graduate of Wayne High School, McNatt helped at the family hardware store until he joined the Army in 1943.

HE HAD already met, and liked, a young woman from Laurel who worked at the hardware store. So, when he returned from his World War II tour of duty, McNatt married Joanne Foster.

That was 33 years — and five children — ago. Eleven years later, in 1959, Bud and Joanne bought out Mac and Minnie. And, the younger McNatt family, including daughters Pamela, now 32, and Kathy, now 31, and eldest son, Bill, now 27, went to work as the new owners.

About six months ago, McNatt and his wife closed the front door, locked it, killed the lights, dropped the heat and took a vacation.

When they returned, the door stayed locked and McNatt, a car collector, stayed busy tinkering in his backshop and the alley.

"Help was hard to get and we couldn't sell enough flashlight batteries to pay the utility bill," he drooled.

"I'VE HAD a little static, but I've told them they could come around the back and I'd let them in...or they can make an appointment," he said.

"That way, my wife, can take off in her Cadillac when she wants to and I can play with my toys."

Area Sheepman's Success Started with 4-H

By Randall Howell

It's hard to pull the wool over Steve Gramlich's eyes. He's been around sheep too long for that to happen easily.

After starting his flock as a 4-H club project near Omaha in 1969, the Wayne County farmer has become a successful sheep producer.

IN ADDITION, Gramlich has played a leadership role in developing the Northeast Nebraska Sheep Producers Association.

The rural Carroll sheepman served as the fledgling association's first president and youngest member when area sheep producers organized in the spring of 1978.

Only three years out of 4-H club projects himself, Gramlich helped spearhead the year-long organizational efforts of the association in 1977.

The expert sheep shearer credits 4-H club membership for providing him with the foundation for his success as a sheep producer and association leader.

LAST WEEK, while working with his father, Roy, on the corn combine, Gramlich recalled a number of his experiences as a 4-Her, as part of his personal salute to youngsters throughout this area marking National 4-H week, Oct. 4-10.

The theme is "4-H Pathways to the Future." And, Gramlich noted that he is building his future with the help of past 4-H experiences.

Born in Omaha, Gramlich, 24, is the eldest child and only son of Roy and Mildred Gramlich. His sister, Sheila, 22, works at the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office in Wayne.

Getting his start in 4-H as a youngster on the family farm just outside Omaha, Gramlich also completed his elementary education there at Millard Public School.

GRAMLICH moved to the Wayne-Carroll area with his parents and sister in 1971. His father bought 240 acres and a farmstead northwest of Wayne, where the family raises corn, oats, alfalfa, sorghum, barley, hogs and sheep.

The young farmer, who is in a partnership with his parents, started his 4-H sheep project in April of 1969, after several years of experience with hog projects.

"I wanted another project," he grinned. "And, the choice ended up being rabbits or sheep. I took sheep. If I hadn't, we'd sure have a lot of rabbits running around here."

Gramlich started with 15 ewes. Today, he and his dad handle some 420 ewes in a birth-to-market sheep-production operation that involves a complex crossbreeding program.

AT NINE, Gramlich joined the Millard Livestock 4-H Club. When he turned to sheep in 1969, he dropped his 4-H hog projects.

"Dad kept the hogs from that point on," he explained. "I stayed with sheep until I went to college." His father runs a farrow-to-finish hog operation.

A 1979 University of Nebraska graduate, Gramlich pursued animal science and agronomy during his four-year stint in Lincoln.

Before his college career, however, the youngster spent five years as a member of Wayne County's Pleasant Valley 4-H Club.

A 1975 graduate of Wayne High School, Gramlich started his sheep project with crossbred and commercial white-faced ewes.

"I REMEMBER getting two blue ribbons and a red one at the Douglas County Fair my first year out," he said.

He said he entered market lambs and breeding ewes in the county fair exhibition. "I was bounced from the market lamb show for overweight livestock," he said, explaining that he competed with about 150 entries.

"I expanded my sheep project every year after that," he said. In 1970, Gramlich entered much the same classes, this time garnering his first purple ribbon.

"I went to Ak-Sar-Ben both of those years," he said. But, when the family moved to Wayne County in 1971, Gramlich did not exhibit.

By 1972, he had already become a member of Pleasant Valley 4-H Club, which was "primarily a livestock club" with about a dozen members.

Herb Niemann of rural Carroll was the organizational leader.

THE WAYNE County Fair's sheep program was "almost non-existent," recalled Gramlich, who exhibited about five head during the fall of 1972.

"The prominent thing in Omaha was showmanship," he explained. "Everyone was up on showmanship. Here, it looked like they ran out to the feedlot the day before the fair and picked a lamb."

Gramlich remembers bringing home some purple, blue and red ribbons in 1972. By 1973, sheep numbers at the Wayne County Fair were building, according to Gramlich.

"The fitting of the sheep brought to the fair improved and the competition was beginning to show," he continued. Gramlich continued to pull down blues and purples.

ALSO IN 1973, Gramlich added to his farm flock. "I bought some breeding stock — Fin-

COSTS OF BUILDING Wakefield's new Senior Citizens Center have been kept to a minimum, thanks to the volunteer help of local residents. Volunteers who met last week to paint the center included, from left, Pauline Hank, Herman Luelleman and Mrs. Art Doescher. The new center is tentatively scheduled to open Nov. 1.

Wakefield's Elderly Look Forward To New Senior Citizens Center

A Senior Citizens Center scheduled to open its doors next month in Wakefield would never have been built if it weren't for the tremendous support shown by residents of the community.

Application for the new Center was accepted in May during a board meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging.

The board awarded $21,150 toward the renovation of the first floor of Wakefield's old high school building, which has been leased from the Milton G. Waldbaum Co.

ACTION by the board took place following a meeting of Wakefield residents last spring.

We were hoping for a turnout of about 20 persons interested in seeing a Senior Citizens Center in Wakefield, said Mayor Lyle Olson.

Olson said he was over-whelmed when over 70 persons jammed Wakefield's Centennial Center to hear proposals on the new project.

THE WAKEFIELD Senior Citizens Center Inc. a non-profit corporation, contracted with Charles Beardslee, Architect Inc. of Norfolk. Arnold Anderson of Town and Country Builders in Wayne was obtained to oversee renovation of the building.

Following approval of floor plans by the Center's board of directors, work on the new Senior Citizens Center got underway last month.

THE NEW Center will include a main activity room, large kitchen area, and restrooms.

The main entrance will be located on the west side of the building, where a ramp has been placed.

The kitchen, which is being equipped at a cost of about $20,000 will provide a nourishment program for the community's elderly.

Advertisements have been placed for one cook who will prepare one meal five days a week to be served at the Center.

The meal will contain one-third of the daily minimum requirements.

THE NEW CENTER also will offer arts and crafts, a telephone reassurance program, physical activities including pool tables for men and other inter-social activities.

LOCAL RESIDENTS have been busy the past several months in an effort to raise $12,500 for operation of the new center and to purchase equipment.

In a cooperative effort with the Aid Association of Lutherans, the AAL will match the local fund raising up to $12,500.

To date, $7,641.05 has been collected in Wakefield.

A spokesman for the senior citizens said costs of the project have been held to a minimum because of the tremendous amount of local volunteer labor.

LOCAL DONATIONS have been raised through contributions. Senior Citizens also have sponsored bake sales and coffees.

Senior citizens are planning to sponsor a white elephant sale on Saturday, Oct. 17 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The sale will be held in the new Senior Citizens Center and will be accompanied by the sale of coffee, rolls and bars.

Donations of items to be sold at the sale are being requested. Donors are asked to affix a fair market value to each article that is donated.

A spokesman for the group said they will accept all items of resalable nature, including clothing, furniture and knick knacks. Items should be thoroughly cleaned.

Donations may be taken to the center the Friday afternoon or evening before Oct. 17.

SENIOR CITIZENS also are sponsoring a program by renowned Nebraska storyteller Duane Hutchinson of Lincoln.

Hutchinson will be in Wakefield Oct. 30 through a cooperative program with the Nebraska Arts Council.

He will conduct a program that evening at the Senior Citizens Center.

PAULINE HANK, president of the Wakefield Senior Citizens Center, Inc. said the new center is tentatively scheduled to open Nov. 1.

Advertisements have been placed for a coordinator to oversee the center's operation.

country boy. . .

. . . by randall howell

Howdy.
For years, I've been fascinated by the way farmers use their hands to communicate.
Perhaps the most common example of that is the hand wave they give as they pass each other on the highways and byways of rural America.
Each farmer has his own unique style.
It's an identifying feature. And, it's as much a part of them as the machinery line they own, or the breed of cattle they raise.

I'VE SPENT a lot of time on the highways and byways of the rural Midwest and I've yet to see two guys wave the same way.

Sure, you can group the friendly farmers into general categories. But, there's a uniqueness to each one's wave that keeps them distinctly personal.
If you're a farmer, or a farmer watcher, you've seen the variety.

It seems to range from the hearty extrovert who hails you with his entire body in motion, to the introverted finger flipper who rarely gets his knuckle off the steering wheel.

Some guys will touch the brim of their hat, or just graze the bill of their cap with an index finger.

Others will grab the brim or bill between thumb and index finger. Most stop just short of tipping their hat or cap. But, I've managed to witness a number of them actually waving with an honest to goodness tip of the hat (or cap).

IT'S A SAFE way to do it, because if the other fellow doesn't wave back, you can always pretend you were just adjusting the darn thing.

Or, you can wipe the sweat off your brow without appearing to be committed to a full fledged wave.

It's unsafe to do that with both hands while driving a pickup or tractor. So, many have developed a one handed, tip the hat, wipe the brow wave.

You see, they grab their headgear in the initial stages of a wave, see that they aren't getting one back, and wipe their brow with the glove on the hand that holds the hat.

That keeps the other hand on the pickup's steering wheel, which is important. Who wants to be caught wandering into the ditch while waving to another farmer, or wiping his brow.

BEFORE we do any more talking about the different kinds of waves, it's important to know that the gesture involves an acute sense of timing.
Ideally, the wave and counter wave are simultaneous.

That eliminates a lot of questions about waving etiquette. We'll get into that later.
And, ideally, they are both done at just the right instant.

When the situation involves two vehicles meeting on the highway, the drivers must be close enough to distinguish each other's facial features.

However, the drivers must not be too close, or reaction time leaves them waving at each other's hogs or corn in the back of the truck.

ANY FARMER who reaches a point where he must turn his head to the left — even slightly — before waving to an oncoming farmer, has waited too long.
A late wave is lost and gone forever. A late wave is a missed wave. And, farmers remember missed waves forever. It's worse than a social snub.

And, of course, a premature wave is no wave at all. Both guys are left staring at each other or the road way in mortification as their vehicles sail past each other.

There's an emptiness to waving too early or too late. And, then frustration sets in, because it's something that just can't be redone.

YOUR CHANCES of meeting that same farmer at the same point on the highway on the same day with the same weather conditions a year from now are pretty darn remote.

And, even if it did happen, chances are the fellow would be driving a different pickup or be hauling something different.

Now, there are right-handers and southpaws in this waving thing. The southpaws are the most difficult to deal with, because sidewindows and door posts often obstruct the gesture.

But, the right-handers have a clear waving field from the top center of the steering wheel to the passenger-side door.

THAT'S PLENTY of room, even for the extrovert driver who starts his wave at the tip of his nose and knocks his hired hand's hat off before regaining the steering wheel.

Remember, though, that even the extrovert has a sensitivity to being snubbed. So, if the oncoming farmer is not in a waving mood, the grand gesture can always be converted into a move to adjust the rear view mirror, or readjust the radio dial.

The finger flipper doesn't have to worry quite as much about the social implications of an unreturned wave.

The finger flippers — and you know who you are — can always rationalize that it was nothing more than a slight adjustment in the grip they had on the steering wheel.

And, if that doesn't sound reasonable, it is easy to make the flip appear to be the innocent tapping of a finger on the steering wheel — a tap to the tune of country-western lute on the radio.

NOW, THE MOST difficult wave to catch through a dirty pickup windshield is the southpaw finger flipper. Seeing it at highway speeds is like trying to find a needle in a moving haystack.

It's always better to be faced with an extroverted southpaw, because the grand gesture usually carries far enough across the windshield to be identified as a wave.

Sideways, who would adjust a rear view mirror with their left hand from the driver's seat while meeting an oncoming vehicle. I suppose it happens, but probably not regularly.

Chances are if you are a finger flipping southpaw, your neighbors have been mad at you for the years you've been snubbing them. They all think you just aren't about to wave to them.

And, no amount of explaining is going to get you off the hook. The only thing that will do it is an immediate conversion to right-handed grand-gesturing.

AS SOON as you get used to identifying the basic hand waves — and, you must understand that I've only barely touched on a few — you find there's a whole world of farmers out there who wave without hands.

Yes, indeed. Waving with a nod of the head is a very common practice.

Some fellows, with hands gripped firmly on the steering wheel, will give you a quick toss of the head. Even the nod has its variations. Some guys will do a quick back toss of the head. It often looks like an invisible fist just cracked them with an uppercut to the chin.

Still others will nod forward — just a quick short one that often looks like someone just punched them in the midsection.

THE MOTION of the head nod wave is only slight at the chin but quite exaggerated at the brim of a cowboy hat or tip of a cap's bill.

Most farmers who use their heads, even southpaws, nod at an angle. Those who toss their chin up, usually nod backward in the general direction of their right shoulder.

And, those who drop their nodding noggin forward, usually do it to the left — just forward of their left shoulder.

Once in a great while you'll run across a maverick who'll drop his chin straight forward or toss it straight back.

And, I've even noticed a few who show no forward or backward motion at all. They simply whip their jaw out and back in a quick quarter-turn to the right.

MANY FARMERS use a combination head-and-hand wave.

You can imagine the infinite variety there, with caps, ties, heads, hands, fingers and thumbs — plus the unlimited number of gestures that can be made with each.

When you combine any number of them, the variety of waves becomes staggering.

With five fingers, alone, the variation and style runs a fairly wide range.

Earlier, we talked about the finger flippers. Well, braver souls will extend that wave to a finger-jab. A fully extended index finger can be, and often is, used.

On a good day, even the most introverted flipper will extend that index finger straight up off the steering wheel.

SOME GUYS will give you the double-finger salute, which involves the first two fingers — often with the thumb tucked in the palm of the hand.

Then there's the fellow who jabs the air with his thumb. Although there are variations on that style, most commonly the fingers are clenched in a loose fist and the thumb is extended.

With a flick of the wrist, the farmer simply jabs the air with his thumb. When you add that to any kind of grand gesture with the forearm, it's pretty impressive and easy to see.

So far, we've been talking about two farmers meeting each other on the road — a very typical double-wave situation.

Both are operating under the same, or similar, circumstances in that situation.

IT'S ALTOGETHER different if you are on the highway and the farmer is in his barnyard or a nearby field.

If he's just standing there looking at a piece of equipment or surveying the cattle, chances are you'll get an exaggerated wave with the hand and arm extended.

But, you've got to watch for it. Darn few wave twice. That means, you've got to keep your eyes on the road and somehow make simultaneous contact in time to wave.

Making that contact is a split second exercise. Once a farmer begins his wave, he often looks away. You'd have to drive into his field and tap him on the shoulder to get his attention again.

And, if he's doing something that requires the attention of his hands, you'll get that head nod, which sometimes is difficult to catch from the roadway.

ALTHOUGH, I'VE seen guys throw their head so hard they fall down.

And, I've seen many a feed sack dropped while a farmer flings out his hand for a friendly nod you do.

I've even seen the wrong cattle slip through a sorting gate, while 10 guys look up for a split second to wave to a passing neighbor.

Apparently, that's the price you pay for being a farmer. And, a small price it is, indeed, for being friendly in a world that often cares so little.

Well, folks, we didn't get around to the etiquette of waving. You know what I mean. You don't wave to your banker in the same way you wave to your wife.

AND THE WAVE to the neighborhood kids has to be different than the one to a passing salesman.

And, we've only touched on where and when to wave. Plus, there are times when waving is just not the thing to do.

Let's talk about that, and some of the hand signals farmers use when they are around noisy equipment, on another day.
Catch you next week...

Future Feedback

Public opinion.

It can be a valuable tool for shaping the future. And, it can be a valuable measuring stick for gauging the past. But, it's only as valuable as the commitment to seek it and accept it.
The Wayne Community Improvement Committee has made that commitment. It is actively seeking feedback from village residents.

Furthermore, it also has made a commitment to seek feedback from those who live within a three-mile radius of town.

The committee is distributing a questionnaire this month in a sincere attempt to survey the attitudes of village and nearby residents.
It's a golden opportunity for residents to get involved in shaping the future of their town. But, that's not all. The committee has committed itself to a public town-hall type meeting where the results of the questionnaire will be presented.

The survey itself covers a broad range of topics — almost every phase of town life — from recreation to business.

The committee is to be applauded for its commitment to the attitude survey project. Once the questionnaires are circulated, the success of the survey rests with villagers who are willing to respond.

The committee is committed to a door-to-door delivery of the questionnaires on Oct. 17 and 18; then, a pick up of responses on Oct. 21.

Let's hope villagers respond with the same kind of commitment that brings the questionnaire to them.

The value of public opinion is such that nothing worthwhile can be accomplished without it and anything worthwhile can be accomplished with it.

Animal Activists

"How to Cope with Animal Rights Issues" . . . "Livestock Organization Hears Animal Rights Discussion" . . . "Only Pigs on Pasture Condoned by Wellfarists" . . . "Legislation Considered on Animal Rights Issues" . . .

Articles with these headlines appear in many magazines and newspapers, including producer trade publications.

Producers should try to keep abreast of developments in the animal rights issue. Do not take the controversy lightly.

Proposed animal welfare legislation, introduced into the U.S. House of Representatives, provides two years for a farm animal husbandry committee to probe animal agriculture production.

A 16 member group, to include people from animal agriculture, animal science, animal welfare, environmental groups and others, would look at confinement operations and overall animal agriculture and report its findings to Congress.

Producers should monitor closely the progress of these events in Washington. The nation's hog producers are coming under increasing fire by animal welfare advocates. Most producers draw this criticism unjustly. People leveling the attacks usually have little or no concept of what is involved in raising animals for food and fiber.

Reputable livestock producers respect the rights of the animals under their care. They know from experience and research that animals kept under maximum comfort conditions will grow and perform best and result in the greatest profit.

Animal comfort is only expressed in economic terms. For the adage that if you take care of the animal it will take care of you is more true today than ever.

Dear Readers,

Thanksgiving Day is only a few short weeks away. It's a day we set aside each year to be thankful for the many good things in our lives.

If you are like me, some very special "good things" have happened to you over the years because someone took the time to care, or to help.

And, if you are like me, there is no way you could possibly repay that special someone for that good deed, that act of kindness.

Maybe you got the chance to quietly thank them, vowing to seek a more suitable way to show your gratitude.

Or, maybe you didn't get the chance to thank them at all.

Well, The Wayne Herald staff is willing and ready to help you with that. All you have to do is take a few moments during the next few weeks to tell us about it in your own words.

So, get a pencil or pen and a piece of paper. Write us — in 500 words or less — about that good turn, that special person. Please pick a "special someone" who is alive and in our circulation area, so they can read about your thankfulness.

You see, if you drop your personal story in the mail to us by Tuesday, Nov. 10, we'll publish it. We'll publish it — just as you wrote it with your name on it — in a special Thanksgiving Day section of the newspaper entitled: "Why I'm Thankful." That section will be published on Wednesday, Nov. 25 — the day before Thanksgiving Day.

Maybe you'll write about Aunt Kate, who helped out last winter when mother was ill. Or, maybe you'll write about grandma and the special tea cakes she used to make for you. Or, maybe you'll write about your neighbor, who is always walking that extra mile to give you a helping hand.

Whoever it is, tell us your story. Sign your name, include your address and telephone number. Then, drop it in the mail to:
Why I'm Thankful
The Wayne Herald
P.O. Box 71
Wayne, NE 68787

Our panel of judges will select the best "Why I'm Thankful" story in four categories — kindergarten through fourth grade, fifth grade through eighth grade, ninth grade through 12th grade, and adult (out of high school).

The Wayne Herald will accept drawings from those kindergarteners and first graders who would rather show, than tell, their thankfulness.

Four Wayne merchants — Bill's GW, Wellman's IGA, Rich's Super Foods and Johnson's Frozen Foods — will provide the winning writers with a free Thanksgiving Day turkey. And, Bill's GW also will provide a free tub of broasted chicken to the "special people" the winners write about.

So, write on...

State Border Mail Route Changes Delayed

Freeze is Lifted on Recreation Projects

I was especially pleased last week to inform residents of 11 First District communities that their towns would be receiving Land and Water Conservation Fund grants for outdoor recreation facilities. There had been some concern about the future of these projects after the Administration put a freeze on all money remaining in the fund.

Unfortunately, by the time the freeze was imposed, the towns involved had incurred numerous costs in gearing up to carry out their projects. In some cases, bond issues had been passed and consultants had been paid for planning costs.

The projects had been approved at the state level, by the Game and Parks Commission, and the localities fully expected to receive funding. It was for these reasons that earlier this year I asked Budget Director David Stockman to consider granting exceptions for projects already begun.

Now, with the release of these funds, Deshler can continue with its swimming pool project. Valparaiso with its ballfield and many other Nebraska communities with their recreation projects.

RELIEF FOR FARMERS — Recently, I discussed with Secretary of Agriculture John Block the possibility of re-opening the farmer-held reserve for the 1980 and 1981 corn and grain sorghum crops.

In the midst of one of the worst years since the Depression for American agriculture, it is somewhat heartening to read of a report by Department of Agriculture finance analysts predicting a much improved long-term financial picture for farmers in the decade of the 1980s.

These analysts anticipate expanding export markets, a sustained recovery in the nation's economy, and a reduced rate of inflation.

CO-TERMINUS POLICY — Recently the Postal Service announced plans to realign some of its delivery boundaries in areas where mail routes cross state lines. Right now, some families living very close to the Nebraska border have their mail delivered by a South Dakota-based mail carrier.

Therefore, they have South Dakota addresses. The new Postal Service policy would require that these people be on Nebraska routes and have Nebraska addresses.

Postal Service officials tell me that the reason for the change is to avoid confusion about motor vehicle registration, school registration, and census counts. They say that local authorities, insurance companies and some local residents have asked for the change.

IN SOME areas, people have learned that the change in routing may result in day-late delivery of newspapers and in longer trips to the post office serving them.

I wrote to the postmaster general and asked him to reconsider the policy for these areas. The Postal Service has responded that in such areas, where residents have identified problems with the new policy, customers will not be required to change their address at the present time.

In these communities, residents and local postal officials will have an opportunity to consider some alternatives to the new policy.

letters

To the editor:
We, the Wayne Lions Club, would like to take this method and opportunity to thank various groups who helped make our annual Halloween Candy Sales this past weekend a success.

First, we would like to thank all the Wayne area residents who supported our project by buying candy. The profits realized from this activity are directed to various sight and hearing projects of the club. In particular, the club will use these monies to purchase a television telecaption adapter which allows any television set to receive and display subtitled versions of about 22 hours of regularly scheduled television programs for the hard of hearing. The adapter will be installed at the Wayne Care Center.

We would also like to thank radio station KTCH and The Wayne Herald for their public service announcements and news articles and releases informing the public of our project.

Also we thank Pamida Inc. for supply us with the bulk candy at near cost and Vakoc Construction Co. for providing facilities to store, sack and distribute the candy.

And last, but not least, we thank the 30 or so Lions Club members who helped sack the candy and who went out and sold the candy this past Sunday and Monday evenings.

Ella Retires

Laurel School Teacher's Career Spans 47 Years

By LaVon Beckman

Miss Ella Larsen, whose love of learning has been passed on to generations of youngsters, arrives at the door wearing the same gracious smile that for the past 47 years has greeted hundreds of school students in Dixon and Cedar Counties.

A short, bubbly woman, Ella's eyes twinkle as she begins to talk about the teaching career she "chanced" into so many years ago. "I'd always wanted to be a nurse," she laughs. "I don't think I ever completely gave up the idea of nursing until after I had taught 20 years or more."

SCHOOL administrators, students and parents throughout Dixon and Cedar Counties, especially in Laurel, are glad that Ella's dreams of pursuing a career in nursing never materialized. Ella taught school in Laurel for nearly 26 years before retiring last month.

Before coming to Laurel she taught 21 years in several other area schools, as well as in the American-Dependent Schools in Nuremberg, Germany.

OVER 400 persons from this area as well as other parts of the country gathered at the Laurel Concord School auditorium on Sunday, Oct. 4, to pay tribute to Ella and to wish her well as she begins a life of retirement, although not necessarily a life of leisure.

"I've never been kissed, hugged and squeezed so much in my life as I was that day," giggles Ella. "It was just a fun time," she laughs.

ELLA SPEAKS in a voice that sounds like wind chimes, each word musically striking another, as she fondly recalls the 47 years spent teaching.

She sips 7-Up and munches a cookie from a tray in front of her. Her mind travels back through the years as she fingers an afghan spread across the back of the sofa.

"If I have been the kind of teacher many people seem to think I have been, it's because it was a talent the good Lord gave to me, and it was my responsibility to use it."

BORN in Dakota County, at Homer, Ella moved near Wynot in Cedar County with her family when she was in the seventh grade.

"We lived 10 miles from town and I would have never gone to high school if K. R. Mitchell, who was superintendent in Wynot at the time, hadn't come out to recruit tuition students."

Because of Mitchell, Ella went on to attend high school in Wynot. She stayed in town during the school week and worked at various odd jobs to earn money for her room and board.

Today Mitchell is retired and lives in Allen where he also served as superintendent for a number of years.

ELLA WAS valedictorian of the 1933 high school graduating class at Wynot and received a teacher's scholarship to Wayne State College.

Although she still dreamed of a nursing career, Ella took advantage of the scholarship and enrolled in a one-year rural school course at Wayne State, againing working for her room and board.

"Then I applied for jobs," says Ella. "I don't remember how many."

JUST WHEN she was about to give up, Ella heard about a teaching position open in School District 24 east of Hartington.

"My dad took me up in the morning to put in my application," laughs Ella as she recalls her first interview in the cemetery.

Members of the school board were mowing in the cemetery at the time and young Ella was one among many applicants who paraded in and out of the cemetery in hopes of landing a teaching position.

"I got the job," smiles Ella.

ELLA'S FIRST contract was for $40 a month. "My salary really grew," she laughs. "During my third and last year at the school I was receiving $60 a month, $10 of which went for my room and board."

WITH THREE years teaching experience under her hat, Ella left District 24 to teach in District W. 3 in Cedar County for the next four years.

Several years later, a former student of the school was serving on the school board and asked Ella to come back to teach his children.

Ella declined.

AFTER LEAVING District 24, Ella taught one year in a rural Dixon County school, near Maskell, and the next year at District 10 in St.

James, Cedar County. Then along came the war.

"There was a real shortage of teachers," recalls Ella, "and I was asked to go into teaching high school on a temporary certificate."

Ella returned to her alma mater, Wynot, to teach high school for two years. For the next four years she taught at Oberlin, serving as superintendent the last two years.

IT WAS DURING her years in Oberlin that Ella was lovingly referred to as "coach."

"There were no coaches, because of the war, and I just tried to teach the kids some sportsmanship. I hate to call it coaching. I just sponsored and guided."

Ella "guided" the boys in baseball and basketball. The players were loaded into the back of stock trucks to travel to games.

Practices during the basketball season took place in a old store lined with sacks of feed.

ELLA LEFT Oberlin to go back to teaching in Wynot for three years.

In the meantime, having decided that her love of teaching outweighed her love of nursing, Ella attended summer school, took correspondence classes, and participated in various study centers, earning her degree in 1947.

AFTER LEAVING Wynot she taught one year at Wisner, and it was there she received an overseas appointment to teach in the American-Dependent Schools in Nuremberg, Germany, working with the Department of Army.

"I just got itchy feet," laughs Ella. "I wanted to see and experience the world."

AS THE AROMA of fresh baked bread drifts through the house, Ella nestles back in the sofa and continues her story.

"You sure you want to hear all this," she smiles.

"I TRAVELED a great deal while in Oberlin. I taught school in Germany. I visited Denmark where my grandmother was still living."

"I've traveled in every country this side of the iron curtain, plus Yugoslavia and East Berlin."

WHEN Ella returned to the states two years later she applied for a teaching position at Laurel with the idea of teaching there one year before moving on to a city school.

"That was in 1955," recalls Ella, "and I've been here ever since."

THROUGH THE years I've taught everything," smiles Ella. "From science and math, to history, English and speech."

"I wasn't qualified to teach everything, but I did. I was a jack of all."

At the time of her retirement, Ella was teaching in her major fields, history and American government.

ELLA HAS the reputation of being a warm, dedicated teacher who encouraged her students to always maintain a zest for life and strive for excellence in all things.

Ella closes her eyes and thinks for a very long time before judging her own performance as a teacher.

"I don't know," she laughs. "I love kids and I like people."

I try terribly hard to look at the bright side of things and not be a griper or a complainer. And goodness knows that the Lord takes care of us."

ELLA STEPS over to a basket overflowing with cards she has received since the announcement of her retirement.

"Maybe some of these will give you an idea of what some students thought about me as a teacher," smiles Ella as she fingers through the huge stack.

A CARD from one former student praises Ella for her "warm hearted guidance," while another student says he continues to strive toward the excellence of performance which Ella taught everyone to aim for.

"Thanks so much for the love of learning you passed on to," says another student.

"I like that one," smiles Ella. "That's really what I've aimed for all my life — to pass on a love of learning."

ELLA SAYS that if she had her life to do over again, she would do it much the same way.

"I love life and I've never regretted anything I've done."

"I've only done my job," she smiles.

ELLA, WHO has never been married ("I've always been missed") will be 68 years old in December and has made her home with Vera and Ruth Ebemeier in Laurel for the past 25 years. Vera, a teacher whose career spanned more than 40 years, passed away this past summer.

Photography: LaVon Beckman

ELLA LARSEN DISPLAYS THE same smile that for more than 47 years greeted hundreds of area school students.

The three women traveled together on a trip around the world in 1970. Ella has traveled twice to the Holy Land, the second time last winter when the leader was her own local minister, the Rev. Kenneth Marquardt of the United Lutheran Church.

She sponsored a group of high school students on a trip to Europe in 1967, and went back to Europe four years ago. Her visit then included a tour of Lutheland in East Germany.

Ella also has traveled extensively in the United States.

NOT MANY people who retire are given the kind of farewell that Ella received last Sunday. Ella was met at her home by two Model A Fords, one of which escorted her to the school.

Also greeting her in front of her home were former students representing each of the 26 years Ella taught school in Laurel.

Master of ceremonies during a "This Is Your Life" program was Bill Norvell, a former school principal who now serves on the school board.

SPEAKING DURING the program were many friends and family members, as well as former school administrators, faculty members and students.

A surprise guest was Ella's sister, Vera Mierke, who flew in from Indianapolis for the special occasion. Ella's brother, Paul, also attended from Hartington. Other special guests included K. R. Mitchell, and George Stone of Fort Collins, Colo., who was superintendent at Laurel and recommended Ella for her teaching position there.

STEVIE SHANAHAN, the current secondary principal at Laurel Concord High School, presented Ella a special recognition plaque. It reads:

"For outstanding and dedicated service to the Laurel-Concord Public School and community. The Board of Education, the faculty and the school administration extend our congratulations, our appreciation and gratitude for your 25 years of service to the children, to the district, and to our community."

ELLA IS an active member of her church. She also is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, a teachers honorary society, the Cedar County Historical Society, the Laurel Book Club and the Laurel Tuesday Club.

She also enjoys playing cards and reading, and says she hopes to do more traveling.

"What I'd really love to do," says Ella, "is write a book about my experiences as a teacher."

WHATEVER ELLA sets out to do following her retirement, you can bet it won't be done within the confines of a rocking chair.

"I'm sure as heck not going to sit in a rocking chair," laughs Ella.

Carroll Church Site of Rees-Stoltenberg Rites

Zion Congregational Church in Carroll was the scene of Sept. 25 wedding rites uniting in marriage Holly Rees and Verlyn Stoltenberg.

Parents of the couple are John and Dorothy Rees of Carroll and Dale and Norma Lee Stoltenberg of Wayne.

The newlyweds are at home near Carroll following a wedding trip to Yellowstone National Park.

OFFICIATING AT the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Gail Axen of Stanton.

Cats Run Wild in Winside Homecoming Romp

MARK KOCH (20) follows his blockers on a breakaway run.

Photograph - Randy Maxwell

Winside senior homecoming candidates Mark Koch and Barry Bowers haunted their opponents by scoring three touchdowns apiece to lead Winside to a 54-14 thrashing of Wynot Friday.

The homecoming win evened Winside's overall record at 3-3 and improved its Lewis & Clark Western Division record to 2-1. Koch carried the ball 13 times for 129 yards and accounted for three TD's. Bowers returned two interceptions for touchdowns and added a final TD on a 34-yard run from the fullback position.

THE WILDCATS' 54-point total broke their modern-day school record of 53 for most points scored in a game.

"I think we were disappointed in last week's play (against Coleridge) and entered this game fired up. Wynot just happened to be in the wrong spot at the wrong time," Winside coach Dennis Gonnerman said. "Wynot showed a lot of sportsmanship. It's not easy getting beat that bad. They had some tough kids who hit hard and the team didn't quit."

The one-sided affair gave Gonnerman a chance to get his reserves in the game. Twelve different players carried the football and 20 of the 26 players on the squad got in on at least one tackle.

"A lot of people got a chance to play. We've played some pretty tough teams and it was nice to have a game like this to give some of our other players some playing experience," said Gonnerman.

DISASTER STRUCK early for the Blue Devils. Winside scored its first touchdown on a time-consuming, 42-yard, opening drive. Koch scored from six yards out with 6:40 remaining in the first quarter. Jon Meierhenry added the two-point conversion for an 8-0 lead.

The next two touchdowns came in the final 15 minutes of the first period. After Winside forced Wynot to punt, Koch scrambled 33 yards to the Wynot 27-yard line. Later, facing a fourth and eight situation, a well-timed rollout pass from Meierhenry to Koch gave the hosts a first down at the one-yard line. With 1:29 left in the first quarter, Koch took the ball up the middle on the next play for his second TD. The two-point conversion failed.

Approximately a minute later, linebacker Barry Bowers intercepted a pass at the Wynot 31 and sprinted into the endzone. The two-point conversion failed leaving Winside on top 20-0.

WINSIDE HAD another scoring opportunity early in the second quarter when Meierhenry picked off a pass. But, Wynot's defense tightened and held on downs at its own 16.

After a penalty, the Devils quick kicked on first down. The ball rolled into Winside territory and stopped at the 45. However, the Cats used the punt to their advantage.

Koch broke free on the first play from scrimmage and galloped 55 yards for a touchdown. Meierhenry added the two-point conversion with 8:44 left in the half.

Bowers scored his second touchdown just more than a minute later when he picked up his second interception. This time, Bowers rambled 53 yards with 7:26 in the half. The two-point conversion attempt failed with Winside leading 34-0.

ANOTHER POSSIBLE Wildcat touchdown was prevented on an interception by Wynot's Bob Promes. Dean Wieseler scored on a 37-yard pass play against Winside's reserve defense to give Wynot its first touchdown. Promes added the two-point conversion for a 34-8 count with 3:47 remaining in the first half.

The second half started off in Winside's favor with John Hawkins recovering a fumble at the Wynot 13-yard line. The sophomore scored on a 12-yard run and Koch added the two-point conversion for a 42-8 lead.

The next touchdown was scored on a 35-yard halfback pass from Hawkins to Jim Krajiček. The two-point conversion failed with Winside on top 48-8. Barry Bowers was moved to the fullback spot for the first time and scampered 34 yards for another Winside TD—his third. The two-point conversion failed and the Wildcats led 54-8 with 2:05 left in the third period.

WYNOT ADDED its final touchdown early in the fourth quarter on an unusual play. The Blue Devils attempted a pass play but it appeared the pass would be incomplete as a hard hit knocked the ball loose.

However, the ball popped into the hands of another receiver, who was nearby, and the player scored on a 45-yard play. The two-point conversion brought the final score to 54-16.

In addition to Koch's 129 rushing yards, Hawkins had 11 carries for 53 yards. Krajiček had two receptions for 56 yards and Koch made two catches for 38 yards.

Defensive leaders were Barry Bowers with nine unassisted tackles and one assist and Brian Bowers with seven solos and one assist. John Thies made five unassisted tackles and one assist.

Winside, which has lost only four fumbles all season, did not lose a fumble against Wynot. The Wildcats added three interceptions and a fumble recovery to their total of 19 take-aways entering the game.

The hosts were averaging 16.2 points and 151.2 yards rushing per game. The solid performance will raise those two figures considerably.

Next action for Winside is scheduled Friday at Allen.

Clash of Unbeatens

'Wish' Comes True; Trojans Break 'Bone'

Rod Nixon's toe must have felt like a million bucks Friday night. The junior kicker booted the winning extra point which gave the Wakefield Trojans a slim 7-6 overtime victory over Osmond.

It was a fitting finish to a well matched game between two of northeast Nebraska's best Class C-1 teams. Both teams were undefeated entering the game.

The win keeps Wakefield right on the heels of Norfolk Catholic in the running for the state playoff among District 3 football teams. Osmond was listed behind Plainview and Battle Creek in the District 4 standings.

SEVEN TEAMS in the state had higher district point averages before Friday's game yet both Wakefield and Osmond were overlooked by the state's prep football raters. The Trojans made their bid for a spot in the rankings Friday.

Wakefield's defense put together a fine effort holding Osmond's explosive wishbone offense to 108 yards rushing and 40 yards passing. Osmond entered the game averaging 34.8 points, 299.4 yards rushing and 113.8 yards passing per game.

In addition to leading the Lewis & Clark Conference offensive charts, Osmond also was the defensive leader, giving up only six points all season and an average of 82.7 yards total offense each game.

The well-matched foes battled to a scoreless tie after four quarters of play. Wakefield won the toss to open the overtime period and elected to give Osmond first possession.

QUARTERBACK STEVE Fuetberth dropped back to pass on third down and broke out of the pocket when his receivers were covered. He scored on a nine-yard run to give the hosts a temporary lead. The point after attempt was wide left, leaving Osmond on top 9-0.

The Trojans took over for their opportunity to score. Following a two-yard run, Mike Clay caught a Mark Startz pass and moved the ball to the one-foot line. Startz scored on the next play and Nixon boomed the point after through the center of the uprights to clinch the triumph.

Wakefield ground out 14 first downs while rushing for 116 yards and passing for 88. Neither team put together a serious drive in the first half but the Trojans were stopped on two scoring opportunities. The second half was a defensive struggle.

In the third quarter, Wakefield drove the ball to the 17-yard line but lost its scoring opportunity when a run for first down was called back because of a clipping penalty. Nixon missed a 36-yard field goal attempt.

ANOTHER DRIVE was killed in the final period. Wakefield had the ball at the Osmond four-yard line but a fumbled pitchout turned the ball over to the hosts and time ran out.

"We're quite happy with the win. We were looking for a little respect and showed we can play team football. Osmond has a mighty fine team. They have the best offensive and defensive lines I've seen all year," Wakefield coach Dennis Wilbur said.

Startz carried the ball 20 times for 44 yards and Mike Clay rambled for 43 yards on eight carries. Jerry Roberts, Wakefield's leading rusher this season, carried 11 times for 16 yards before leaving the game with an injury.

"We had two of our best practices of the year this week and we were mentally and physically ready. Osmond has some tremendous kids," said Wilbur. "We had a good following of fans and received good support from the crowd. The school, coaches and players appreciate the support home and away."

WILBUR POINTED out that his team controlled the ball throughout much of the game. The Trojans ran off 13 plays in the third period compared to only six for Osmond.

Startz completed 7 of 16 passes for 88 yards. Clay had two receptions for 30 yards and Vaughn Nixon had three key receptions in traffic for 28 yards.

"It's real nice to be 6-0. We got the job done and that's a credit to the kids," Wilbur said. "Startz did the job with good running and passing. We miss Wayne Guy who underwent surgery on his knee. He is a tremendous athlete." Guy injured his knee early in the season and has not played since.

Roger Echtenkamp recovered two fumbles and Jeff Coble and Startz each made one recovery. Echtenkamp had one unassisted tackle and nine assists to lead the tackle charts. Roberts had one solo and four assists and Startz had two solos, four assists and a blocked pass.

The Trojans are scheduled to take their 6-0 record in Lewis & Clark East Division play to Homer Friday.

Hard Hitting

Newcastle Wins Division Game

Former Allen football coach Bart Kneiff handed his old school a loss as Newcastle shut out the Eagles 14-0 Friday.

Newcastle used an effective ground game and some hard hitting to stop Allen. The Eagles had 78 rushing yards and 39 yards passing compared to 176 on the ground and 69 through the air for Newcastle.

"They blew us apart at the line. They are the hardest hitting team we've run into," Allen coach Dan Looft said. "It was a good football game but they controlled our offense. Newcastle looked good. They only have three seniors and the team is coming along."

HARD HITS were responsible for a long injury list. Among the Allen players injured in the game are Marly Mahler, Robb Linafether, Bruce Malcom, Keith Rhode, Keith Karberg and Bryson Bogges. Looft was uncertain of how serious the injuries are.

Newcastle scored one touchdown in the first quarter and another in the second. A two-point conversion accounted for the 14-0 difference.

The high point of Allen's outing was a 58-yard interception return by John Stapleton. The defensive end was dragged down from behind and the Eagles failed to capitalize on the play.

Allen's rushing attack was balanced between eight running backs. Leading receivers were Troy Harder with two receptions for 15 yards and Jody Mahler with one catch for 24 yards.

DEFENSIVE LEADERS for Allen were Keith Rhode with 10 solo tackles and 10 assists; Linafether with 17 total tackles and Jeff Chase with 13 total tackles.

The Eagles are scheduled to host Winside Friday.

Passing Not Enough As Bears Are Toppled

Laurel's hopes of gaining its first victory this season were dimmed when Hartington turned back the Bears 14-0 Friday night in Hartington.

The score was tied 0-0 at the half but the Wildcats struck for one touchdown in the third quarter and another in the fourth.

The Bears relied on their passing attack that has accounted for the majority of their offensive punch. They entered the game averaging 79 yards through the air and surpassed their average which was fourth in the Lewis & Clark Conference.

DAVE MARQUARDT improved his passing efficiency by completing more than 73 percent of his passes. He completed 11 of 13 passes for 102 yards with one interception.

Phil Martin, the other half of Laurel's one-two punch, was on the receiving end of seven passes for gains of 60 yards. He entered the game as the second most successful pass receiver in the conference. Mike Jonas had three receptions for 35 yards.

Marquardt also had a fine defensive outing as he doubled his pass interception total. He picked off three passes to move into contention for the conference lead in total pass interceptions with six.

"I didn't feel that we played as well as we could have. I thought we would play better," Laurel coach Lynn Schuett said following the game. "Hartington played good solid football and took the game to us. They were consistent."

HARTINGTON RUSHED for 249 yards and chalked up 16 first downs. Laurel was held to two first downs.

Defensively, Schuett said Dennis Martinson had a "super game". Marquardt made 11 unassisted tackles and six assists to lead the tackle chart. Tim Bloom had seven solos and six assists and Martin had five unassisted tackles and eight assists.

The upcoming schedule is a tough one. The Bears are scheduled to host Ponca Friday, host Wausa the following Friday and finish the year at Osmond.

Blue Devils Near Showdown For West Husker Hardware

Wayne's rushing attack rolled over a West Point Central Catholic's defense like a Sherman tank Friday as the Blue Devils chalked up their second victory, a 38-20 West Husker win on the road.

The triumph insures a shot at the West Husker Conference title when the Devils host Hartington CC on Friday, Oct. 23. Wayne is 2-0 in conference play with wins over Wisner and West Point CC and Hartington Cedar is 1-0 with a win over Wisner.

The West Husker championship will be on the line when the two teams meet. But, the Blue Devils don't plan to look ahead to that game just yet. They will play at Emerson Hubbard this Friday.

JUNIOR RUNNING back Danny Frevert had by far his best performance of the season. He carried the ball 14 times for 146 yards and scored three touchdowns. As a team, the Blue Devils amassed 372 yards rushing and 415 total yards.

Kurt McCright had 13 carries for 98 yards. Jeff Janke had 14 carries for 63 yards and Steve Overin carried nine times for 53 yards. Other running backs who saw action were Jim Poehlman, Richard Poehlman, Brad Moore and Mark Hummel.

Overin completed only one of five passes but the completion was a key one. Janke was on the receiving end and rambled 43 yards for a touchdown. Overin and McCright each scored one touchdown.

Wayne's defense dominated the ball game except for a couple of big plays. West Point CC had less than 50 yards rushing until the final two series against Wayne's reserve players. The hosts had no passing yards.

TWO OF WEST POINT'S three touchdowns came on big plays. The first TD was scored on a 14-yard quarterback option in the third quarter. An 84-yard kickoff return and a 71-yard run resulted in the other Central Catholic scores.

"The kids are really playing football. Once we got rid of our fumbles, we started to get it. We played power football and took it to them," Wayne coach Lonnie Ehrhardt said. "We had a good defensive performance other than two plays against the reserves. We're really coming along."

After a scoreless first quarter, Frevert accounted for the game's first points on a three-yard run with 5:23 remaining in the first half. Three minutes later, Overin passed to Janke for a 43-yard TD and a 12-0 half-time lead.

Central Catholic scored the first TD of the second half on a 14-yard run to pull within five points. Wayne opened the game up later in the third period with two more touchdowns. Frevert galloped 66 yards for the first touchdown and Overin ran 41 yards for the second TD. Frevert's extra point gave Wayne a 25-7 lead.

WITH 11:38 LEFT in the game, Frevert scored his final touchdown on a 24-yard run. The PAT made the score 32-7. The hosts scored the next touchdown on an 84-yard kickoff return.

McCright scored from nine yards out to end the Blue Devils' scoring for the night. A 71-yard run with 21 seconds remaining gave West Point CC one final touchdown.

Defensively, Richard Poehlman, Eric Brink and Mark Kubick each had a fumble recovery. McCright intercepted a pass and Frevert blocked another pass.

"We could end the season with a 5-4 record yet. It's a matter of hard work and we'll take it one game at a time," said Ehrhardt. "I think we can win the conference title. The kids are really playing ball."

TACKLING LEADERS were: Tim Heier, 2 solos, 13 assists; Eric Brink, 4 solos; 10 assists; Dallas Hansen, 1 solo, 13 assists; Kevin Koenig, 2 solos, 12 assists; McCright, 8 tackles; Kubick, 7 tackles; Frevert, 6 tackles; Jim Poehlman, 5 tackles; Janke, 5 tackles; Al Lindsay, 3 tackles; Gerald Monk, 3 tackles.

The Blue Devils will play at Emerson Hubbard Friday, host Hartington CC next Friday and travel to O'Neill for the season finale on Thursday, Oct. 29.

The varsity meet was won by powerful Crofton with 21 points. O'Neill finished second with 24 points.

Gadeken Leads Laurel Past Wakefield

Led by the strong spiking of junior Renee Gadeken, the Laurel volleyball team dined Clark Division rival Wakefield 15-11, 16-14 Thursday in Laurel. Gadeken played a near-perfect match at the net. She connected on 18 good spikes in 18 attempts and had about 10 ace spikes. She also seemed to be Laurel's inspirational leader throughout the match.

"Being in a conference helps. We're in contention and I'm pleased with the conference," Laurel coach Dwight Iverson said referring to his school's first year in the Lewis and Clark Conference. "We have won four in a row and I'm pretty satisfied. I thought Wakefield played a heck of a game. We played good, fundamental ball and had some players come off the bench and do a good job for us."

ALTHOUGH THE MATCH was won in two sets, it turned into a thriller before it was completed. With the score tied at 14-all, the hosts scored two straight points to wrap up the match.

Anne Schultz served and Gadeken spiked for a 6-15-14 lead. Then, a Wakefield miscue following Schultz' next serve resulted the match point. Due to illness, Schultz saw limited action in the match but came through with the pressure on.

"I wasn't disappointed. We were a little slow getting started but our consistency is coming along. I was really happy to see our hitters getting aggressive. They're following through—not stopping," Wakefield coach Mary Schroeder said.

"We still need to work on our hitting coverage and defensive coverage. If we keep on the offensive, we're fine but if we have to play defense, the ball will eventually drop," said Schroeder. "Our court sense is improving a lot. We're getting a little bit better each game and we hope to peak at districts."

BOTH TEAMS made some nice defensive saves early in the first set. Led by the serving of Cynld Jonas, Gadeken and Jayne Reynolds, Laurel opened up a 10-2 lead. The advantage was upped to 12-3 before Wakefield started its rally.

The Trojans refused to give up and fought back within two points, cutting the score to 13-11. Finally, Laurel turned back the comeback attempt as Gadeken's hard spike set up the game point. In the second set, Wakefield jumped out to an early lead. Led by the spiking of Rita Wilson, the Trojans found themselves on top 5-0. Wilson spiked, dinked and blocked to set up the five point advantage. Susan Baker made some good sets and Trudy Hansen hit some good serves during the span of points.

Laurel broke the string of scoring but the serve alternated numerous times as both teams had trouble putting points on the board. The Trojans took advantage of Laurel mistakes to extend their lead to 9-1. Wakefield sophomore Shelley Krusemark played well at the net for the Trojans.

STRONG SERVING of Laurel's Reynolds closed Wakefield's advantage to 9-5. Cammie Crookshank played well and Gadeken hit solid, spinning spikes in the four-point string.

Hallstrom put Wakefield on top 11-5 by scoring two service points. The Bears rallied again behind the serving of Jonas who brought the score to 11-10.

The Trojans again extended their lead to three points behind solid team play as Trudy Hansen's serves made the score 13-10. Wakefield was stuck at 13 for quite awhile as Gadeken's spiking shifted the momentum once again.

Crookshank served four consecutive points and Jones blocked a shot to give Laurel its first lead at 14-13. The battle became defensive at that point as each team fought off the other's serves several times.

AN ACE SERVE by Wakefield's Baker knotted the score at 14-all. The opponents appeared tense and the score remained tied until Schultz scored the final two service points for a 16-14 victory.

Wakefield was led in spiking by Wilson with 15 of 17 for 11 ace spikes. Hallstrom who was 9 for 12 with three aces, Renee Wendstrand who was 9 for 10 with two aces, and Krusemark who was 11 for 13 with three aces.

The Trojans were led in setting by Hansen and Baker. Hansen had 20 good sets in 20 attempts and six sets resulted in ace spikes. Baker made 19 good sets in 19 attempts with seven sets for ace spikes.

In serving, Lana Erb was nine for nine with four aces. Hansen was 10 for 10, Wilson was seven for seven, Baker was five for seven, Teresa Bloggerstaff was five for seven and Wendstrand was four for six. Coach Schroeder reported that Kelly Greve, who had an excellent game against Osmond on Tuesday, probably would miss the rest of the season with mononucleosis.

LAUREL WAS LED in serving by Jonas with 11 points and Reynolds with nine. Gadeken was 18 for 18 at the net with 10 ace spikes. Coach Iverson said that spiker was ill and saw very little action in the match.

Leading setters were Crookshank with 15 sets and Carol Osborne with 11 sets. The win improved Laurel's Clark Division record to 4-1 and Iverson began looking ahead toward a possible division title.

Should Laurel win its match against Winside Tuesday and Wynot win its match, the meeting between Laurel and Wynot next Thursday could be a showdown for a possible division championship.

The junior varsity match was won 15-5, 15-3 by Laurel. The winners, who upped their record to 6-1, were paced by Judy Burns with 13 points and Jana Cunningham with 11. Iverson said Jean Lute had the best all-around performance for Laurel which hit 88 percent of its serves.

LEADING SPIKERS for Wakefield's B team were Michele Meyer who was 16 for 18 with three aces, Brenda Jones who had 9 of 14 spikes for four aces and Kiela Lund and Susan Rouse. Lana Erb had 16 sets in 16 attempts for five ace spikes and Cristy Hingst had 16 of 20 sets for two ace spikes. Erb was leading server with 13 of 13 good serves for four aces. Hingst was 10 for 10. Michele Meyer was seven for eight and Kris Fredrickson was five for seven.

The C match was won 12-10, 11-1 by Wakefield. The Trojans rallied from a 3-0 deficit in the first set to win the match. The winners were paced by Roni Starzl, Melodie Witt and Karla Stelling with six points each.

Laurel was led by Lynn Malchow who was 12 for 12 for seven service points and Lori Lindsay who was five for seven for three points.

Laurel's teams are scheduled to play at Winside Tuesday and at Randolph Thursday. Wakefield will host Washfill on Tuesday.

Wynot Play Too Tough For Winside

Clark Division volleyball leader Wynot demonstrated its abilities by rolling past Winside 15-2, 15-0 Friday in a volleyball football doubleheader. The Blue Devils used consistent serving, good setting and strong spiking to hand the hosts a homecoming loss.

Lisa Jensen scored Winside's two service points in the match. Wynot's Kelly Schroeder led the winners' solid spiking game. Karen Wieseler scored 18 service points in the two sets.

The Wildcats had trouble picking up Wynot's serves and setting the ball up for spikes. Following the match, Winside coach Paul Sok said he was impressed with Wynot and pointed out that the visitors' height was a deciding factor.

In reserve action, Wynot rallied for a 5-15, 15-2, 15-8 win. Judy Bauermeister led the hosts with 10 points and Lori Schrant followed with six points.

Last Friday, Winside's varsity lost an 11-15, 7-15 match to Coleridge. Kelly Leighton scored six points to lead Winside. Coleridge won the junior varsity match 15-13, 15-8. Winside was led by Shelli Topp with seven points and Lori Schrant with four.

Next action for Winside is scheduled Tuesday on the home court against Laurel on Friday. The Wildcats will travel to Allen in a volleyball football doubleheader.

Lady Cats Win One of Four

It was another "roller coaster" week for the volleyball team at Wayne State College as the spikers won one game and lost three others to push their season record to 5-17-2.

After home matches this Friday and Saturday, Oct. 9-10 against Chadron State and Bellevue, the squad travels to Columbus to face Platte College and Concordia in 6 p.m. action. The squad returns home next Friday and Saturday to host a CSIC quadrangular featuring Washburn, Kearney State and Missouri Southern. Friday action gets underway at 7 p.m., and play resumes at 9 a.m. Saturday morning.

In action at Seward on Tuesday, host Concordia claimed a pair of 15-10 wins in the best two-out of three series. A strong Hastings College squad fell to the young Lady Cats, 15-9 and 15-9 for only their third loss this season.

The following night brought Central States Intercollegiate Conference opponent Missouri Western to WSC's Rice Auditorium for two matches. The Lady Griffins put on a fine display of power volleyball as they dashed the host Cats in straight set in the first match, 15-4, 15-5 and 15-5.

In the second best-of-five game against MWSC, the hosts played better but still came up short. Western clobbered the hosts 15-2 in the first set, but WSC rallied for a 15-13 win in the second. The Lady Cats had several opportunities to win the third set but came up short by 15-13, and western crushed any comeback hopes with a 15-2 win in the finale. At Concordia, Anne Montag stood out with 21 points and nine downed spikes. Freshman Beth Erickson had 10 downed spikes. Junior Annette Reiman had 22 assists for the Lady Cats.

Against Western, senior Linda Prchal led the offense with 11 points and Reiman chipped in nine. Sophomore Bobbi Gierman turned in her best performance this season with 10 downed spikes. Reiman had 23 assists, nine points, and five blocks.

At approximately the midway-point of the season, Reiman stands out as the top scorer for Coach Berniece Fulton's squad. Reiman has tallied 101 points in 65 sets. Right behind her is Montag with 100 points in 55 sets, while Prchal and Erickson have 95 and 90 respectively.

Montag tops the spikes chart with 58 in 55 appearances. Erickson has 47 followed closely by senior Deb Poehling and sophomore Diane Wacholtz with 46 apiece, while Reiman has 45.

Wacholtz leads in the dinks column with 16, while Reiman has 14 and Montag 12. Erickson leads in blocks with 20, followed by Reiman with 15, Poehling with 14, Wacholtz with 13 and Montag with 12.

Reiman also tops the assists list with 227, followed closely by Prchal with 224.

Trojans Stage Rally To Defeat Osmond

A come-from-behind victory in the varsity match made it a clean sweep for the Wakefield volleyball team over Osmond, Tuesday night.

The Trojan varsity defeated Osmond 9-15, 15-4, 15-5 to clinch a sweep of freshmen, junior varsity and varsity matches. Wakefield coach Mary Schroeder said she was pleased with all three teams. "Every team played very well. We had 24 ace spikes in the varsity match and were really aggressive," she stated. "Kelly Greve had by far her best performance of the year and Lisa Hallstrom played an excellent match."

In the spiking department, Greve was 19 for 19 with nine ace spikes. Hallstrom was 12 for 15 with four aces. Rita Wilson was 15 for 17 with seven aces and Renee Wendstrand was 10 for 13 with four aces.

Leading setter was Susan Baker who made 40 good sets in 42 tries and had 13 sets for ace spikes. Trudy Hansen made 12 of 12 sets with five sets for aces. Serving leaders were Trudy Hansen who was 12 for 12, Wilson who was 15 for 16 and Wendstrand who was 18 for 19. The win opened Wakefield's conference record at 2-2 and improved its overall record to 4-6.

"It was a really good match. We came back after losing the first set. Our players are more relaxed and we had a total team effort," said Schroeder. "Our setters did a good job too. It was outstanding."

The Trojans also rallied to win the B match 6-11, 13-11, 11-5. Shelley Krusemark and Lana Erb both were 11 for 11 in serving. Spiking leaders were Brenda Jones who was 13 for 17 with seven aces and Krusemark who was 11 for 13 with three aces. Cristy Hingst made 25 good sets in 27 attempts with seven sets for aces and Erb was 18 of 19 in setting with two sets for ace spikes.

The C match was won by Wakefield 11-1, 11-3. Roni Starzl scored the first eight points of the second set and Debi Meyer scored eight points in the first set.

Randy's Recap

By Randy Hascall

ATHLETICS ARE an important part of life and I believe in some type of athletic program at nearly every age. I know that sports can be pushed too far but also know that they are a vital part of our society.

As a whole, high school students today spend a great deal of time being involved in activities, particularly athletics. Where would these students be without the activities?

National surveys reveal that students participating in high school activities are more likely to have higher academic averages and far better attendance records.

Of the students who drop out of high schools, 94 percent have not been involved in any school activities such as athletics, music, speech or student government.

The best predictor (according to ACT and SAT studies) of success in later life is previous participation in high school activity programs - not high school or college grade point average, test score or rank in class.

Generally participation in activity programs teaches values that make children happier and better citizens, builds strong minds and bodies, instills poise and confidence and emphasizes that competition is not evil and that race, color, sex and economic status are not obstacles for participation.

Nationally, more than one-half of the high school student population participates in high school activity programs for approximately one percent of the total school budget.

Activities are the "other half of education" and anyone who fails to take part in some activity is truly missing out. Those who take advantage of the activities offered then won't be sorry.

WAYNE STATE's annual Hall of Fame ceremony is scheduled at half-time of next Saturday's homecoming game between Wayne State and Fort Hays. Individuals to be inducted are Dave Gunther, Loren Andrews, Bill Goodwin, Duane Wehrer, Henry Schmittz and Dale Gutshall.

A buffet luncheon in honor of the inductees is planned from 10:45 a.m. until kickoff time of the day of the game. The public is invited to attend the luncheon which is sponsored by the Second Guessers at the Black Knight. The inductees will be there.

A PERSONAL THANKS to Lee and Rosie Koch of Winside for inviting me to attend their annual luncheon for the Winside High School football and volleyball players.

The luncheon was held at noon on Friday—homecoming day at Winside. The Kochs kept bringing out more and more delicious chicken.

I arrived late and sat down at a table with Don Leighton, Jim Halerty and Ron Lesley. Fortunately, by the time I was ready to eat, those three had devoured five or six chickens and were nearly full. Otherwise, I might have starved trying to get a piece of chicken away from them.

THE WAYNE city ball park looks like a baseball field now that the park is covered with bluegrass. Volunteers have been busy scraping and painting the outfield fence and working on the grandstand.

It's beginning to look like one heck of a nice facility so if you haven't been there area, stop by and take a look at it. It may be possible that Wayne could host a state Legion baseball championship here within the next two or three years.

CO-STAR OF THE WEEK

Several fine individual performances made this week's selection of star of the week especially difficult. Offense seemed to rule as all leading candidates for the award were nominated for offensive performances.

Two of the nominated players led their teams to victory while the other two had fine performances in losing efforts. For the first time this year, co-stars of the week were selected although all four nominations had performances which were nearly equally impressive.

Phil Martin of Laurel made 10 receptions for 147 yards in Laurel's loss to Wakefield last week. He scored two touchdowns including a 73 yard TD reception late in the game.

Jerry Roberts of Wakefield, who has already won the award once this season, joins Martin as star of the week for last week's game. He carried the ball 13 times for 203 yards, had one reception and scored three touchdowns.

Other nominees were:

Robb Linafelter of Allen who scored two touchdowns and passed for two others to lead the Eagles to their first win. He had 89 yards rushing on 11 carries and an intercepted pass.

Jeff McCright of Wayne who carried the ball 21 times for 146 yards in Wayne's loss to Lakeview, made 11 tackles and caught one pass.

Winside coach Dennis Gonnerman did nominate a player for his team's loss to Coleridge last week.

YOU CAN EARN MORE THAN 15% on your money when you buy a home! It's true — homes have gone up an average of 15% per year in the last 5 years! And unlike interest, gains on real estate is deferred and taxed at the capital gains rate. And you can buy a Sunrise Townhouse Condo at last year's prices. But don't wait! Builders and developers must pay interest too, and the prices must go up! Yes, you can actually save by buying now when interest rates are high and construction costs are low. And you own a Sunrise Townhouse just like any home or real estate, except:

1. You save on the purchase price because construction costs are lower.
2. You don't worry about maintenance and insurance.
3. You don't worry about snow and lawn service.
4. The exterior real estate is owned jointly by all owners.
5. You are always a member of the Homeowners association.
6. Condos have a better tax advantage for those that need every deduction you can get.

Each 1180 sq. foot Townhouse has oak cabinets and trim, dishwasher, main floor laundry, private patio, central air, gas heat, a complete energy efficient insulation package, and are situated on the highest hill in Wayne, next to the college and hospital. The Marywood subdivision is a prestigious place to live, and an "easy to sell someday" type of location that will protect your investment for years to come.

So don't put your money in the bank and pay taxes on the interest. You not only defer the tax on real estate appreciation, you only pay at the capital gains rates (about 30% of the regular rate).

Runabout

Of course, he just built himself the biggest toy he's had to date. And, he insists he's not done, yet. Pulling packages out of a shipping crate, McNatt explained that, in addition to the noisemakers already on the Mark 56, he will soon add a wild turkey horn, a donkey horn, a wolf whistle, an old-timer's horn, a king-of-the-road horn and a trucker's horn.

The steam-powered car operates with a three-speed Cushman transmission and rear end mounted on a frame he bought at the Lincoln auction.

Supported by Cushman tires, the car frame — complete with seat and steering wheel — provides the base for a steam engine, boiler (both also bought at the auction) and water supply tank.

"We hauled the frame, engine and boiler home from Lincoln in my pickup," explained McNatt.

WHEN McNatt got home, he said he sought advice on the steam engine from Wayne's Keith Mosley and his sons. The Mosley boys have been collecting, building, repairing and running steam engines for several years.

He said he also sought advice from Carl Johnson of rural Wayne, another steam engine collector, builder and operator.

"After a month of illness and a week's vacation, I had some ideas on how to make everything work," McNatt beamed, giving a salute to Wayne's "friendly junkyard dealer Ivan Beeks" for helping the hardware store owner come up with old parts.

After two or three trial runs every device seems to be working well," he said earlier this week, while surveying his handiwork.

The car's top speed is about 10 mph. "There was no point in trying to get a license for it," he said. "I just put two slow moving (vehicle) warning signs on it — one on each end. But, I intend to put in all the lights and turn signals so it can be licensed."

THE SIGNS ARE there among the barmobile gadgetry, chrome motorcycle fenders and multi-colored reflector tape.

A friend asked me why I'd waste my money on a slow moving warning sign for the front," he said eyes twinkling with the thought of another story.

"I told him that with a car of the calibre no one would know if I was coming or going," he added.

Another friend stopped in the alley one day while I was working on it," he continued, eyes dancing. "He asked me if it would fly. And, I told him to read the sign on the golden eagle below the steering wheel."

Sure enough, written on the golden eagle perched there is the answer. "Sure it flies."

McNATT'S WORKSHOP is to

Shooting

THE WAYNE County Sheriff's Department and the Nebraska State Patrol are investigating the shooting incident.

Both law enforcement agencies referred all inquiries to the county attorney.

Late Friday, Bornhoff declined to elaborate on the shooting.

Bornhoff also declined comment on whether law enforcement officials had any suspects in the case despite the fact that Thorne had already turned himself in to authorities.

Bud McNatt

the rear of the hardware store, where he remembers working as a boy.

"This area was an old tin shop," he said. "I grew up in the business, but hardware stores don't have them anymore."

There's a very special piece of tin on McNatt's Mark 56. It's a tin smokestack that he said he found in the basement. Today, it sits on top of the steam car's boiler.

And, it's painted blue, except for one small square patch that shows a wholesale code and a price ($3.50) written in grease pencil.

"That's my father's hand writing and I left it there on purpose so I could paint a nice frame around it," McNatt explained. "Today, that smokestack would cost you over $20."

McNATT SAID, he spent about seven weeks getting the car ready to roll under its own power.

I wanted to get it ready in time for the big threshing bees around here this fall," he explained.

Hoskins

KARELLA, one of three Hoskins volunteer firefighters who live in the suburb, said the presence of the Hoskins' fire equipment in the community would cut response time on fire calls by 5 to 15 minutes.

"We've been working on this for a couple of years," Karella said.

Arvon Kruger, assistant Hoskins fire chief, explained that minor fires could be handled by the three volunteers with the other two Hoskins based trucks able to assist.

"Having a truck out there (in Woodland Park) would help us a great deal," Kruger said.

Kruger also said he hoped more Woodland Park residents would join the volunteer squad, which also operates a 24-hour rescue squad service out of the Hoskins fire hall.

Wednesday, Oct. 14: Roast pork with brown gravy, whipped potato, winter mix vegetables, blushing pear salad, whole wheat bread, rice raisin custard.

Thursday, Oct. 15: Oven fried chicken with cream gravy, whip ped potato, buttered green beans, frosted apricot salad, dinner roll, ice cream sundae.

Friday, Oct. 16: Tuna croquettes with cheese sauce, oven browned potatoes, spinach fresh vegetable salad, whole wheat bread, fruit cocktail.

The boiler, McNatt said, is fired with propane gas, which he said is carried in a yellow tank just behind the vehicle's right front wheel.

"I designed a power-booster blower to produce more air, which gives a bluer flame," he said, a mischievous grin crossing his face.

"That had enough air left over for me to have it directed to the transmission to keep it from getting red hot at speeds in excess of 100 mph," McNatt added, his diamond ringed finger bobbing with the weight of another cigarette.

With a holley car bell and a brass steam whistle, the McNatt car features an array of insulation wrapped pipes, that somehow brings things together.

FROM THE RED Southern solid comfort, toilet seat to the anodized glass hood ornament — a twice broken twice glued orange swan — that stands between eyelash headlights, the machine defies description.

Motorcycle carrier, bumpers and barmobile style mud flaps accent the wheels, while a modified hockey puck pulley runs the alternator charged headlights, as well as a center spotlight.

With a flick of the wrist the headlights rotate together in a sharp one direction while the spotlight simultaneously searches in the opposite direction.

At the rear a giant cigar smoking stuffed white bear sits comfortably in a rumble seat complete with foot rests and an ashtray.

When Joanne's not in the seat, my friend the polar bear is a theme," McNatt said. "I furnished him with all the cigars he can smoke."

CARTOON characters, Willy Coyote and the Roadrunner decorate the side of the water supply tank. And McNatt has signed his name in white paint on the outside of the blue smokestack.

A dark, atomic bomb explosion has been painted on the propane tank, along with the word danger, in big bold red letters.

McNatt figures the tank cost $3,500 into the machine. And he said he plans to build a garage on wheels for it.

He plans to take it to car shows if they let me in, and is already designing the trailer he intends to pull behind his 1968 Lincoln Continental.

A day's reminder what my father used to say," McNatt mused, as he lingered a few of the gadgets aboard his Ruben Goldberg get-around.

A competent two legged man can make anything.
