Jaycees get a base hit with softball complex

The Wayne County Jaycees have at least a base hit with the City Council on the proposed softball complex.

But, to score on the project, Jaycees have been asked to meet several city mandated requirements, including a property lease and $500,000 liability insurance certificate.

Phil Klostler, city administrator, has been directed by the Council to prepare a lease for examination at the next meeting.

DURING TUESDAY'S brief Council meeting, Klostler told Jaycees that city legal counsel and engineers have advised the two parties to enter into a lease for the softball complex on property — some 14 2 acres east of the city lagoon.

Klostler explained that the property lease could run up to 10 years for the four proposed softball fields planned at the complex site.

Furthermore, he said, the Council could decide on the terms. "It could range from $1 a year to, say, $100 a year depending on what the Council thinks is fair," Klostler said.

Klostler said the city's request for proof of $500,000 in liability insurance coverage would involve an annual recertification process.

IN ADDITION, Klostler said his research indicated the city had no business granting rights to a concession stand at the complex.

"We should be leasing the entire operation to the Jaycees and letting them decide on the concession," Klostler added.

The city administrator also told Jaycees that some 15,000 cubic yards of city owned dirt stockpiled at the site would have to be moved northwest of the complex site.

Klostler said that amounted to about 6 inches of dirt had to be moved off the complex site before construction could begin.

"Since the Jaycees have indicated some leveling and grading work must be done, perhaps the dirt can be moved at that time," Klostler said.

KLOSTER INDICATED that assigning financial responsibility for the cost of moving the 15,000 cubic yards of dirt could be decided by the Council as part of the terms reached between the city and the Jaycees.

Later on in the meeting, Mayor Wayne Marsh explained to Jaycees representatives that construction fill was difficult to come by in the Wayne area.

He said the city had stockpiled the dirt on the complex site and wanted to keep it available without having to destroy the softball fields to get at it.

Klostler also asked the Jaycees representatives about the "problem of drinking" at present softball fields during games and tournaments.

AFTER SOME discussion, consensus was that the drinking problems were more closely associated with softball fans than players.

Bob Ensz, city legal counsel, told the Jaycees that city ordinance prohibits drinking alcoholic beverages on public property.

He suggested a sign be placed at the complex site to warn drinkers about the law.

"You've got to do the best you can," Mayor Marsh told the Jaycees representatives. "The drinkers are responsible for their own actions."

Klostler explained that the proposed softball complex site would have to be rezoned for recreational purposes. The land is zoned for light industrial use.

JAYCEES CHAPTER president Del Penlerick asked Klostler about the insurance request.

Both Klostler and Marsh indicated that the premium on that kind of policy was lower than the Jaycees might expect.

Klostler also suggested that the group might explore the availability of insurance coverage through the Jaycees organization.

Discussion of the proposed complex was interrupted by a public hearing on the city's proposed One & Six-Year Street Improvement plan.

However, the Jaycees attending the meeting took advantage of the break to discuss the city's proposal.

After the public hearing closed, Mayor Marsh told the Jaycees that the city would "have something ready" for the next Council meeting.

"It does look like this thing is going to be a reality," he said.

AS THE COUNCIL meeting opened, Klostler read two letters of support for the proposed Jaycees softball complex.

The first letter, signed by Mike Beier-

'82 rural electric rates up some 14%

Rural electric customers face an estimated 14 percent rate hike this month from Wayne County Public Power District.

The hike, which took effect on Jan. 1, was approved by the WCPPD's board of directors during December's regular monthly meeting, according to Sam Schroeder, district manager.

Rural, residential and commercial WCPPD customers in Wayne and Pierce counties are affected by the rate increase, Schroeder said.

ACCORDING TO Schroeder, the hike is expected to boost the average monthly farm electric bill from $71.30 to $81.

That boost is based on average monthly farm electric usage of 1,500 kilowatt hours, Schroeder said.

"That's strictly an average," he explained. "Many farms use more than that and many are far below that usage."

The only Wayne County towns affected by the rate increase are Carroll and Sholes.

THE DISTRICT serves about 2,450 rural, residential and commercial customers throughout the two counties.

The added revenue is needed to offset an estimated increase in wholesale power costs of $215,000 and a $52,000 increase in maintenance and operating costs for 1982," according to a company issued statement on the rate increase.

WCPPD last raised electric power rates in January of 1981. That increase amounted to about 10 percent, according to Schroeder.

WCPPD CUSTOMERS soon will be getting a letter explaining the cost increases, according to Schroeder.

Schroeder said that the increase was "one of those necessary evils that we need to continue meeting the needs of our customers."

He said that those hit hard by the increase should continue to work toward more energy conservations, particularly during the daily and seasonal peak demand periods.

Peak demands set the price of power WCPPD purchases for its customers.

Baby, it's cold outside

JANICE GAHAN of Oakland, a senior at Wayne State College, jogs into the city limits near campus after a January run in sub-zero temperatures Tuesday. Wayne area residents have been coping with the unusually cold winter weather since Saturday when thermometers plunged to more than 25 degrees below zero. High winds pushed the chill factor toward the 70 to 80 degrees below zero range over the weekend, freezing water pipes in dozens of Wayne homes and stalling motor vehicles throughout the area.

New officers elected for coming year

School Board reviews vocational proposal

Members of the Wayne-Carroll Board of Education elected new officers Monday at their first meeting of the year.

Allison Owens was elected to serve as president of the board, after serving the past year as vice president. He succeeds outgoing president Neil Sandahl.

Becky Kedei was elected vice president, and Doris Daniels was reappointed secretary-treasurer.

All of the officers were elected for one year terms by unanimous choice.

AFTER COMPLETING the election, the board approved the minutes of the last meeting and reviewed financial reports.

Jim Hummel volunteered to represent the Wayne Board of Education by serving on the Nebraska State School Boards Association Legislative Relations Network.

In other business, the board of education approved adoption of the school calendar for 1982-83.

SUPERINTENDENT Francis Haun told board members that a professional energy audit of Wayne Elementary School is scheduled to get underway this week.

In November, the board hired R. W. Beck and Associates, a Columbus-based energy auditing service, to conduct the audit for a fixed fee of $1,500.

Haun said the firm was scheduled to conduct the audit last month, however plans were delayed.

THE $1,500 fixed fee will pay for the first part of a three-part program offered to the district by the consulting firm.

In the first phase of the program, potential energy conservation measures will be investigated and a report prepared. The report will become part of the board's application for state financial assistance.

The board is expected to seek state matching funds under LB257, which became law during the last session of the Unicameral and offers funds — up to $100,000 per building — to school districts under a plan that requires a certified energy audit of the structures earmarked for such projects.

ALTHOUGH BOARD members contracted only for the first phase (energy audit), the Columbus consultants can also prepare contract documents for construction of the energy conservation measures which are cost-effective (second phase).

The third phase would be construction. Board members have not contracted for the second and third phases of the program.

HIGH SCHOOL principal Donald Zeiss reported to the board on behalf of the Vocational Advisory Committee.

The council is studying the needs and requirements for possible expansion of the present woodworking and auto mechanics wing at the high school.

The project has been under review by the council for the past three school years. In addition, the area was one suggested for review by the North Central and State reviewing committees which visited the school district during the 1976-77 school year.

IN HIS REPORT, Zeiss told the board that within the mechanics curriculum it is feasible to have a power mechanics class to replace one section of Auto Mechanics I.

Zeiss said that would encourage additional female enrollment and better sequen-

Wayne County Board elects new chairman

Kenneth Eddle of Carroll has been elected chairman of the three-member Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

During a reorganizational meeting Tuesday, Eddle was not only elected to the County Board chairmanship, but also re-elected chairman of the Wayne County Board of Welfare.

Eddle, who has served on the County Board since 1970, will serve as chairman until the next reorganizational meeting in 1983.

OTHER BOARD members include Gerald Rospishil and Martin Boelermann. During the reorganizational meeting County Clerk Gregoria Morris was again selected as clerk-secretary for the board.

In another development, Mike Karel of Wayne and Herman Opler of Hoskins, both veteran members of the Wayne County Noxious Weed Board, have filed for re-election on non-partisan primary election ballot.

Karel and Opler hold two urban seats on the board. They are seeking re-election for four-year terms.

The primary election is May 11.

MATILDA NELSON will observe her 100th birthday.

100 years old

Family, friends honoring Mrs. Matilda Nelson

Matilda Nelson, born in Orsta, Sweden on Jan. 20, 1882, will observe her 100th birthday this weekend at the Wakfield Health Care Center where she has resided the past two years.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend the open house reception Sunday, Jan. 17, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Hosts are her children, Lloyd and Anne Surber of Ponca, Raymond and Marilyn Nelson and Robert and Eva Nelson, all of Wayne. Leonard and Peggy Nelson of Tucson, Ariz., and Guyvive Nelson of Norfolk.

There are 21 grandchildren, 34 great grandchildren, and six great great grandchildren.

MATILDA, one of 10 children is the only surviving member of her family.

She came to the United States in April of 1908 and was united in marriage in May of 1908 to Carl Charles Nelson.

The Nelsons resided in Wayne County until 1912 when they returned to Sweden. Matilda came back to the United States in 1916 and made her home with her husband and family in the Wayne County community.

Mr. Nelson died in 1953 and Matilda continued to make her home in Winside until two years ago when she moved to the Wakfield Health Care Center.

MATILDA, who speaks in both English and Swedish, recalls the 10-day boat trip in 1916 which brought her and her four small children back to the United States.

Her husband had returned two years earlier to make a home for his family.

Four more children were born to the couple in Winside. These are deceased - Margaret Nelson, Mau, Harold, and Segvard.

MATILDA STILL hears from her nieces and nephews residing in Sweden and smiles sweetly as she recalls her life there.

She especially remembers the times spent ice skating with her children to the church picking berries and nuts, and the May Day festival where she danced all night.

She also recalls when she was struck by lightning while living in Wayne County.

Matilda recalls the happiest time - smiles Matilda. It was too long ago to remember.

ALTHOUGH MATILDA is confined to a wheelchair, she is in good physical condition. The only medication she takes is vitamin pills each day.

She especially enjoys reading her Swedish newspaper, many times without the aid of glasses, and plays bingo every Friday with other residents of the center.

Revenge in CSIC

Late free throws lift Cats to win

By Kent Probst
 Wayne State 51D

The Wayne State College basketball squad, showing flashes of brilliance not previously seen this season, posted a 63-62 win over Missouri Western at Wayne, Tuesday.

Coach Rick Weaver's cagers next embark on the long road trip to Pittsburg State (Kan.) and Missouri Southern on Friday and Saturday, then visit Doane at Crete on Jan. 20. The next home dates are Jan. 22-23 when Washburn and Emporia State visit.

The narrow win over Western avenged an early-season 91-77 loss to the Central States Intercollegiate Conference opponent. The win pushed Wayne State to 9-7 on the year, while Western moved to 9-3. Both squads are 1-1 in the CSIC.

With five seconds remaining and Western in possession of the ball trailing 61-60, Griffin Jim Finley was whistled for a charging violation to give Wayne State the ball. Wildcat guard Brad Edwards was intentionally fouled one second later, and the junior from Carroll, Iowa calmly drilled both free throws at the buzzer to account for the five-point margin.

Wayne State led throughout much of the game, including a 10-point bulge at 47-37 with 14:39 to play. But the visitors roared back, outscoring the Cats 14-2 over the next four minutes to take a 51-49 lead, and the game was close to the end.

Junior forward Grady Hansen once again paced WSC scorers with 17 points. Junior forward Brian Platt added 15 points in a fine effort, while sophomore guard Russ Uhng chipped in 10 in his first starting assignment. Senior center Al Jones led in rebounding with nine.

Western's Pete McNeal came off the bench to score 23, while Kenny Brown added 17 points and nine rebounds before fouling out late in the game.

Allen Eagles sweep doubleheader from Bancroft

Williams, Harder lead girls to win Outside shooting lifts boys in overtime

Des Williams and Michelle Harder led a list of 10 Allen players who scored as the Eagles won a Lewis Division matchup 61-41 over Bancroft Tuesday night.

Williams led the winners with 18 points and Harder scored 13. Shelly Williams and Tami Jewell added nine and eight points respectively.

Allen's 6-0 senior Janet Peterson missed the game due to illness and Bancroft took advantage by relying on 6-0 Junior Jill Samuelson who dumped in 25 points.

ALLEN DOMINATED the game while racking up its sixth consecutive victory. The Eagles broke away out in front in the first quarter by means of a full court press.

Bancroft had trouble just inbounding its passes against the press and by the end of the quarter, Allen had erupted for a 22-6 lead. Des Williams scored eight points, Harder scored six and Shelly Williams and Tami Jewell each added four in the opening period.

The action slowed down in the second quarter and Allen coach Gary Troth began substituting players off his bench. The hosts coasted to a 32-17 half-time lead.

Samuelson, who was held to two points in the first quarter and six in the second, broke loose in the second half and connected for 17 points.

DESPITE SAMUELSON'S performance, the outcome of the game was never in doubt. When Deanna Hansen hit the basket which put Allen over the 60-point mark, the crowd roared its approval.

The Eagles held a slight rebounding edge of 25 to 24. Harder led the winners with six rebounds and Shelly Williams and Jeanne Warner each grabbed five.

"We hustled well in the first quarter but were a little flat in the second," said Allen coach Gary Troth. "I thought we did a good job on Samuelson in the first half. Then, we got to substitutions. I was happy I guess."

Troth complimented Tami Jewell for her hustle while starting her first game in place of Peterson. He also said that Harder played a sound game. Shelly Williams hustled well and Des Williams played a consistent game.

Bancroft committed 24 turnovers against Allen's pressure defense. "It was kind of a fun game for us. I didn't realize how short we are without Janet (Peterson)," said Troth.

The 6-1 Eagles will host Winnebago tonight (Thursday) and play at Winside on Tuesday.

Allen takes title from hosts

Near perfect free throw shooting paced the Allen girls as they gained revenge by winning the Ponca Tournament Saturday night.

Allen, which had suffered its only loss in a season opener with Ponca, avenged the loss by defeating the Indians in their own tournament.

THE EAGLES HIT 12 of 13 free throws compared to 3 of 17 for Ponca. Des Williams led the winners with 16 points and Janet Peterson scored 10.

"I thought we played better. We're still improving and gaining confidence," said Allen coach Gary Troth. "We're still not working the ball offensively well enough but we had a tremendous defense. This was probably one of our best defensive performances in the last two years."

Allen stopped Ponca's scoring threats Wendy Harder and Janell Peters. The two had combined for more than 30 points in Ponca's win over Allen this year but were held to seven points each this time.

The Eagles jumped out in front 16-8 by the end of the first quarter but Ponca closed the difference to three points by half time. Allen had to settle for four points all on free throws in the second quarter. However, Allen outscored the hosts 10-4 in the third period to pull away.

TROTH SAID the game was "never truly in jeopardy" with the Eagles holding a good lead in the first quarter. The Allen coach said his team played an aggressive first quarter, a bad second quarter and an aggressive third quarter.

Allen hit eight free throws in the final period to account for an 11-point victory. Leading rebounders for the winners were Peterson with 10, Beth Stalling with 7 and Michelle Harder with 6. The Eagles ruled the boards 33 to 19.

"We played defense the way we had to play it. We did a good job," Troth said. "Shelly Williams had a good defensive game and Michelle Harder did an excellent job on the weak side, preventing Ponca from rebounding. Janet Peterson had one of her better games. Hopefully, she'll continue to get more aggressive and dominant." The win improved Allen's record to 5-1. The Eagles hosted Bancroft Tuesday and are scheduled to host Winnebago tonight (Thursday). On Monday, Allen will play at Winside.

Eagles edge Newcastle for third

A win over Newcastle Saturday night netted the Allen boys a third place finish in the Ponca Tournament. The Eagles defeated Newcastle 42-38 in the consolation game.

"Allen got off to an extremely slow start and didn't score until the last minute of the first quarter. Then, Robb Linafelter hit two field goals to cut Newcastle's first period lead to 7-4. The Eagles exploded in the second quarter and outscored Newcastle 14-4. At one time, Allen led by 15 points. The large lead was cut to two points in the fourth quarter as Newcastle rallied.

A pair of free throws by Linafelter with eight seconds remaining gave Allen a four-point edge and iced the game.

Linafelter scored 15 points to lead the winners and Troy Harder hit 10. Derwin Roberts scored seven, Dennis Smith scored six and Bruce Malcom added four.

Linafelter was leading rebounder with 10 and Roberts pulled down seven. Allen held a rebounding advantage of 29 to 25. Roberts made five steals and Harder made four to give the Eagles an advantage.

Allen, 2-6, hosted Bancroft on Tuesday and will host Decatur this Tuesday.

A driving basket by Dennis Smith and two clutch free throws by Derwin Roberts in overtime lifted Allen to a 43-41 win over Bancroft Tuesday night in Allen.

With the game tied 39-41 at the end of regulation play, the Eagles scored the first four points of overtime. Smith took a pass and drove the lane for the go-ahead basket. The Eagles got the ball back and went into their passing game.

Then, with a minute left, Roberts was fouled and stepped to the line to shoot a four-and-one. He hit two free throws for a one-point Allen lead. The Bulldogs had two one-and-one opportunities but missed the first shot both times.

WITH 11 SECONDS remaining, Bancroft's Dan Larsen hit a layup but Smith took the inbound pass and dribbled the ball until time ran out to preserve the Eagle victory.

Bancroft had an opportunity to win the game in regulation but a last shot bounced off the rim as time expired.

Robb Linafelter was the key performer in Allen's win. The 6-2 senior hit 10 field goals from the outside to break Bancroft's zone defense. He started the game shooting from about 15 feet but was backed up to about 25 feet by the end of the game as Bancroft sent its defenders out to guard him. His shots kept dropping and killed the Bulldogs' defense.

Allen had built up a big lead in the first half but watched the advantage slip away. The Eagles led 14-4 after the first quarter and 22-12 well into the second period. However, the Bulldogs pulled within five points at 22-17 by half-time and gained the lead in the third quarter.

LARSEN, A 6-5 SENIOR, gave Bancroft its first lead at 27-26 with 3:34 remaining in the third quarter. The lead held up until the final period.

Linafelter scored to give Allen a 34-33 lead early in the fourth quarter. Smith padded the advantage with a 20-foot shot and Linafelter added another basket from 25 feet for a 38-33 lead.

Allen slowed the tempo down with its passing game but Bancroft crept back into the game with five consecutive points by Larsen which tied the score at 39-41. It remained there until the Eagles took back the lead in overtime.

Linafelter finished the game with 21 points and Smith followed with 10. Smith also had five steals and seven assists. Leading rebounders were Troy Harder with seven, Linafelter with six and Smith and Bruce Malcom with five each. Jay Jones had a key rebound near the end of the game and Roberts made an important block of a Bancroft shot.

Winside gals top Trojans

In a low scoring Clark Division matchup, Winside's girls put together a solid second half to trim Wakefield 27-20, Monday night.

The shooting in Monday's game was about as cold as the Winside gym. The school has had trouble heating the gym and temperatures on the court dipped below 60 degrees as temperatures outside dropped near zero.

The hosts held a 13-12 lead at the half and pulled away by outscoring Wakefield 14-8 in the second half. Darla Janke led all scorers with 10 points.

The lead had changed hands many times in the first two quarters. The Trojans tied the score at 13-13 early in the third period but a basket by Karlene Benschoff gave Winside the lead for good. The Wildcats opened the game up by taking a 19-13 advantage as Wakefield missed its shots.

Finally, Brenda Jones broke the Trojans' scoring drought with a basket in the final 30 seconds of the third quarter.

The hosts held their biggest lead when Kelly Leighton hit a field goal and Benschoff made a steal and layup for a 23-15 lead in the fourth quarter. The teams could only exchange baskets in the final five minutes as Winside held on for a 27-20 lead.

In addition to Janke's 10 points, Benschoff scored six and Kim Frederick added four. Wakefield was led by Michelle Meyer and Jones with five points each and Renee Wenstrand and Kelly Greve with four points apiece.

Rebounding was even with each team racking up 41 rebounds. Winside was led by Jaeger with 14 and Janke and Leighton with six each. Jones led Wakefield with 12 rebounds.

"Darla did a super job defensively on Jones. She got a lot of help from the rest of the team and Jones only scored one field goal," said Winside coach Kathy O'Connor.

In junior varsity action, Winside edged Wakefield 19-16. Winside scorers: Trisha Topp 6, Missy Jensen 4, Leah Jensen 4, Pam Frevert 4, Tammy Brudigan 1. Wakefield scoring: Roni Starzl 7, Debi Meyer 5, Kris PUJs 3, Melodie Witt 1.

Winside, 3-2, played at Snyder Tuesday and will host Allen Monday. Wakefield, 0-9, will host Ponca Monday.

RENEE WENSTRAND (23) of Wakefield ties up Winside's Darla Janke as Wakefield's Teresa Biggerstaff helps defend. Winside won the Clark Division game, Monday night.

Randy's Recap

By Randy Mascall

THE RECENT cold weather has just gone too far. For the first time in my life, I have seen fans cuddle up in blankets to watch a basketball game.

No fooling. As temperatures dropped down low enough to send shivers down a penquin's spine, the Winside High School gym cooled down considerably.

The school has had trouble getting heat in to the gym area and the result Monday night was a cold basketball game. It felt more like hockey weather.

Actually, the temperature dipped just below 60 degrees for the Winside Wakefield girls game. That may not sound too bad but fans sure seemed affected and none of the players seemed to work up a sweat!

At the scorers table, Wakefield graduate Joan Miller was keeping Wakefield's scorebook while wearing winter gloves and a coat. Keeping track of field goals and free throws while wearing gloves has to be a real trick.

Then, there was Californian Fred Smith who is assistant coach for the Winside boys' team and stockkeeper for the girls' team. Wearing a stocking cap and winter coat, he said he almost missed the mud slides in California. And then there were the fans who actually were wrapped in blankets. The scene brought back memories of late season football.

WAYNE AND WAKEFIELD will both host American Legion area baseball tournaments this summer. The State Athletic Committee of the American Legion of Nebraska met Saturday in York and announced sites for 1982 post-season tournaments.

Wayne will host the Class B, Area 3 tournament for Midgets and Juniors. Wakefield will host the Class C, Area 4 tournament. Class C area tournaments will start July 29 and Class B area tournaments will begin July 27. State tournaments are scheduled to begin Aug. 5.

American Legion Junior baseball competition in 1982 is open only to players born on or after Aug. 1, 1963. Midget competition is open to players born on or after Aug. 1, 1965.

Class B will consist of all teams whose school or combination of schools has a total enrollment of 400 through 999. Class C will consist of those teams whose school or combination of schools has an enrollment of 399 or fewer.

Class B sites: State Junior tourney—Ord, State Midget tourney—O'Neill, Area 1—Beatrice, Area 2—West Point, Area 3—Wayne, Area 4—David City, Area 5—Broken Bow, Area 6—Holdrege, Area

Gering. Class C sites: State—St. Paul, Area A—Wakefield, Area B—St. Edward, Area C—Yacumseh, Area D—Rushville.

THE SUPER BOWL this year should be a great one. No two teams are more deserving of Super Bowl berths than San Francisco and Cincinnati. They have the winningest records in the NFL this past year.

Finally, some fresh blood in a Super Bowl game! Neither team has ever reached the Super Bowl before. Two fine quarterbacks will go head-to-head in the big game this year.

Ken Anderson and Joe Montana both had good years. Anderson was top ranked quarterback and player of the year and Montana, who is known for his quick release, was one of the top five ranked quarterbacks.

Fans will pack the Silverdome in Pontiac, Mich., and millions of other fans will crowd around their television sets. It should be a whale of a game and I think I'll cheer for Frisco.

Homer inside game stops Bears

Homer's inside game proved to be the difference as Laurel lost 62-47 to the Knights, Tuesday.

The Bears were right in the game all the way but were forced to foul in the final minute. Homer hit his free throws near the end of the game to preserve the victory.

"Overall, we played pretty well. We were up and were in the game all the way. In the last minute, we were eight or nine points down and had to foul," said Laurel coach Juel Parks. "We played a good team and played well but Wilke (Bryce) and Jensen (Bruce) were too strong on the inside. It was the same song, different verse. They hurt us real bad inside."

Wilke scored 23 points and Bruce Jensen scored 15 for the winners. Both players are 6-3.

Laurel led 24-19 with three minutes remaining in the first half. But a "six point play" turned the momentum in Homer's favor. Laurel was at the free throw line shooting a one-and-one with a chance to increase its lead to seven points.

The front half of the one-and-one was missed and Homer rebounded. The Knights scored and were fouled on the play. The free throw attempt missed but a Homer player tipped the ball in for two points and was fouled. Again, the free throw missed and again Homer rebounded and scored for six unanswered points in a matter of seconds.

Homer worked the ball inside most of the night and hit 60 percent of its shots while Laurel hit about 39 percent. Dave Marquardt led the Bears with 14 points and seven rebounds. Brian Marquardt scored nine points and Tim Bloom hit eight.

In junior varsity play, Laurel rolled to a 37-14 win. Paul Lofquist scored seven points and Jerry Kastrop and Troy Young each scored six. Other scoring: Mike Jonas four, Ron Hirschman four, Kyle Daberkow four, Mark Penlerick two, Mark Herrmann two, Dave Kardell two.

Laurel is scheduled to play at Wynot Friday and will meet Ponca at 7 p.m. Saturday in the championship game of the Ponca Tournament. The game was rescheduled from last weekend due to weather.

Ponca tournament

Allen boys find 'lid on basket'

Host Ponca advanced to the championship game of its own tournament by handling Allen 53-31 Friday night.

The Eagles got off to a slow start and couldn't quite get on track against the Indians.

Allen trailed by 11 points at the end of the first quarter and after two quarters of even basketball still found itself 11 points down with one quarter to play.

"There was a lid on the basket," said Allen coach Dag Looft whose team hit 30 percent from the floor. "We couldn't make our free throws."

The Eagles hit "only" one of seven free throws and turned the ball over 22 times. Keith Curry scored 19 points and Brian Mabes hit 16 for the winners.

Allen was led by Dennis Smith with 10 points, Robb Linafelter with seven and Derwin Roberts with six.

Coach Jan JirSAk's crew will now take a 75 record on the road as they travel southward to meet CSIC opponents Pittsburg State (Kan.) and Missouri Southern on Friday and Saturday. The next home action will be on Tuesday, Jan. 19, when the Lady Mavericks of UNO come to town. The Lady Mavs are coached by Wayne State alumni Cheri Mankenberg. Sophomores Robbie Lehr and Tammy Blackburn led the Lady Wildcats scoring with 12 points each. Lehr, making her first start before the home crowd, also top led the rebounding category with 13. Blackburn pulled in six for WSC.

Sophomore guard Maggie Alberts added 11 points and five rebounds, while teammate Patty Carney dropped in eight points.

Snyder escapes Winside's rally

A fierce rally fell just short as Snyder edged Winside 55-52 in boys basketball action, Tuesday night in Snyder. The Wildcats scored 23 points in the fourth quarter but fell three points short. Winside and itself in foul trouble through most of the game.

Jim Kraljick had three fouls in the first quarter and fouled out midway through the third period. Jon Meierhenry fouled out halfway through the fourth quarter.

Neither team had much success at the free throw line. Winside hit 6 of 22 shots and Snyder made 9 of 28. The Wildcats were led by Meierhenry with 19 points and John Hawkins with 10. Scott Janke scored eight. Ronnie Prince scored seven and Kraljick added six. Prince hit the boards well and collected 16 rebounds. Janke and Hawkins each pulled down nine rebounds. Snyder was led by Jeff Hunke and Larry Helmann with 17 points each.

Winside coach Dennis Gonnerman was pleased with the performance of Prince and players who came off the bench. "We had some kids who came in and really hustled. We nearly pulled it out," Gonnerman said. "But, we could play a lot better than we did."

The Winside coach said he believed the facilities at Snyder were a factor in the game. He pointed out that the tile floor was slick but added that teams must sometimes put up with things like that. The loss dropped Winside to 2-5. The Wildcats will host Wakefield Friday and play at Stanton Saturday.

WSC men split two point decisions

The Wayne State Wildcats were involved in a pair of two-point decisions over the weekend, with the Cats dropping a 73-71 decision to old nemesis Concordia and taking a 69-67 win over Peru State.

The results left Wayne State with an 8-7 mark heading into Tuesday's Central States Intercollegiate Conference game with Missouri Western in Wayne. Wayne State makes the long trip to CSC foe Pittsburg State on Friday and Missouri Southern on Saturday.

Brad Edwards hit a pressure-packed 20-foot jumper with two seconds remaining to give Wayne State an important 69-67 win over the scrappy Peru State Bobcats at Peru on Saturday.

Wayne State had to surmount a 14-point Peru State lead in the second half for the win. The victory kept Wayne State 2-0 in the race among five Nebraska colleges (Wayne, Kearney, Chadron, Peru and Bellevue) for a spot in the NAIA District 11 playoffs.

The Wildcats shot a torrid pace from the field, hitting 56 percent on 25 of 45 shots. Peru State was right behind with 55 percent on 27 of 48. Wayne State hit on a lackluster 19 of 29 free throws compared to 13 of 20 for the hosts. Bench strength was the key to the Wayne victory, as Wildcat subs Dana Childs and Cedric Edwards spearheaded the comeback with 13 and 12 points, respectively. Edwards fired in six of seven shots and Childs hit nine of 10 three throws. Wayne reserves contributed 32 points compared to 15 for Peru subs. Grady Hansen had 11 points and Brian Platt added 10. Everett Smith paced Peru State with 24 points and seven rebounds, both game bests.

Hartington CC girls impress Laurel in win

Hartington Cedar Catholic left a lasting impression on Laurel coach Dwight Iverson Monday night. Hartington CC's girls ripped Laurel 55-37 in a battle of Cedar County teams.

"I was very impressed. I hope we don't see anyone like that again. They're so big that they could just grab the rebound from us when we had position," said Iverson. "Cedar is stronger and quicker. They are by far the best team we've played this year."

CEDAR USED its height advantage to gain inside shots while Laurel was forced to shoot most of its shots from the 10 to 15 foot range. The Trojans pressed throughout the first half but Laurel did a good job of breaking the press and scored often on fastbreak baskets.

"Offensively I was pretty pleased. Defensively, we let them go pretty much where they wanted. We made things too easy for them," Iverson said.

The Bears, who shot 27 percent from the floor, were led by Anne Schultz with 15 points. Renee Gadeken with seven and Kim Sherry with six. Cyndi Jonas scored four points. Dee Maxon and Kelli Johnson each added two and Jill Hanson added one. Sherry led the team with six rebounds. Hartington CC was led by Deb Leader with 19 points.

LAUREL WILL take a 5-6 record into action tonight (Thursday) at Wynot and will host Hartington on Tuesday.

Hartington CC handed Laurel its first junior varsity loss 32-27 in a preliminary game. Jana Cunningham scored nine points and Kelli Johnson scored six for the Bears. Laurel held an 11-point lead at one time in the third quarter but saw the lead vanish

Ranked Midland drops WSC ladies

The Wayne State College Lady Wildcats got behind early and dropped a 70-61 decision to nationally ranked Midland in Fremont last Saturday.

The loss left Coach Jan Jirsak's squad with a 7-4 record entering Tuesday's home game with another nationally ranked opponent, Missouri Western. That game marked the Central States Intercollegiate Conference debut of WSC. The Lady Cats travel to Pittsburg State (Kan.) on Friday and Missouri Southern Saturday at CSC matchups.

Despite the loss to powerful Midland, there were positive notes for Wayne State. Incoming Robbie Lehr, in only his third outing, netted 20 points and grabbed 15 rebounds for WSC against a tall Midland club.

Sophomore guard Jackie Schrimontz, a recent addition to the Lady Wildcat starting lineup, came through with 14 points and seven rebounds. Sophomore forward Patty Carney had eight points and six rebounds, while sophomore guard Maggie Alberts had eight points.

Sophomore guard Janet Lee gave assists to go with four points. Wayne State's leading scorer this season, Tammy Blackburn, was blanketed by the Midland defense as she wound up with just five points. Bri Kramme led Midland with

A couple of cut-ups for the Carroll barber

GORDON DAVIS of Carroll cuts Phil Olausen's hair during a Monday night skit that roasted Carroll's Leonard 'Shorty' Halleen as part of the communities tribute to the barber's 50th birthday anniversary. Davis, a horse trainer and mail carrier, and Olausen, owner and president of Farmer's State Bank, brought the house down as they spoofed and joked about Halleen for nearly 30 minutes after a prime rib dinner in Ron's Bar, Steakhouse and Garage.

LEONARD 'SHORTY' HALLEEN is joined at dinner by his wife Alice, right, and Doris Jones during a Monday night tribute to Carroll's only barber. Below, Halleen receives a plaque from Jones on behalf of the Carroll Community Club. The plaque offered a salute to Halleen's 50 years of barbering in Carroll. More than 35 members of the club attended the dinner at Ron's Bar, Steakhouse and Garage.

 ing of the new 12th grade Auto Mechanics classroom at the 17th grade level.
 No additional classroom space is planned in the auto mechanics area, and no plans to expand the program.
 The committee is studying the possibility of more in-shop construction by having additional space.

ZEISS SAID the existing facility is 40 feet by 73 feet or 2,920 square feet, and allows for no more than three vehicles to be moved indoors. He said that virtually eliminates any building of large projects in the woods area.

The auto mechanics arena measures 1,300 square feet with the remainder of the 2,920 square feet allotted to the woods department.

Zeiss said no new equipment is necessary within the woods department. Equipment for the auto mechanics arena would include several top priority items including a steam cleaner hoist and dust collector.

Zeiss said other equipment could be purchased over a period of several years and according to space and curriculum available.

RECOMMENDATIONS presented by ZEISS at Monday night's board meeting included attaching to the west side of the existing facility a 60 feet x 82 feet (4,920 square feet) addition with large doors on the south side.

The existing 40 feet x 70 feet structure would be utilized by the wood department with the addition to be used for auto mechanics and metals.

Zeiss said the new facility should match present outside decor. It would also include space for automobiles, welders, forges, lockers, wash up area, project storage, tool cage, and an enclosed classroom area utilized also for an electricity laboratory.

FOLLOWING ZEISS' report, superintendent Francis Haun told the board that because of limited funds it is not possible for the new addition to go in excess of 3,000 square feet.

Haun said a maximum of $92,000 is available for the project, forcing the council to back off on its original plans.

The board authorized Haun to meet with the architects to draw up alternative plans within the district's budget for approval or rejection.

Haun said he will contact the same architectural firm that constructed the high school building, Davis, Lincoln, Stange and Darling of Lincoln.

Plans proposed by the architect will be presented to the advisory council, who will in turn present a new proposal to the board.

SERVING WITH Zeiss on the Vocational Advisory Council are Mrs. Sharyn Paige, Bill Wilson, Mike Mallette, Carl Frye, Dr. Don Koerber, Stan Morris, Dr. Randy Shaw, Keith Mosley and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hummel.

ZEISS ALSO reported during Monday night's board meeting on the status of the West Husker Conference, which includes athletics, speech contest, one act play contest and a junior high music contest.

Zeiss said four schools have withdrawn from the conference, including Columbus, Lakeview, Emerson Hubbard, Madison and Stanton.

Schools remaining in the conference include Wisner, Pilger, Wayne, Carroll, Hartington, Cedar Catholic and West Point Central Catholic.

Zeiss said Wisner, Pilger also is thinking of dropping out and going with the East Husker Conference.

No action was taken by the board.

THE BOARD tabled action on the appointment of a negotiations committee until next month's meeting.

Board members have scheduled next month's meeting in the afternoon due to possible adverse weather conditions. They will meet at 2 p.m. on Feb. 8.

Dear Friends,
 I would like to thank you for the times we've had together and the future we've given each other.
 I have new appointments to keep. Knowing you is missing you.

 man of the TP Lounge softball team, formed the project "An asset to Wayne" and urged Council approval of the project.
 The second letter, signed by Randy Hascall of the Taco del Sol softball team and sports editor of The Wayne Herald, pointed out that Wayne's "lack of facilities has hindered the growth and improvement" of the softball program.
 Hascall's letter also urged Council approval of the complex.

"No one spoke or wrote in opposition to the Jaycees proposal."

BEFORE ADJOURNING, the Council unanimously approved the city's proposed One & Six-Year Street Improvement Program as presented by Vern Schulz, city public works superintendent.

The proposal had already received unanimous approval from the City Planning Commission.

The Planning Commission also has gone on record in support of moving the city's proposed widening and resurfacing of Seventh Street (state Highway 25) back onto the Nebraska Department of Roads, One & Six-Year plan.

Schulz and the commission are seeking City Council support for the request.

Kloster said the Council would act on that request at the next meeting.

In other action, Joe Nuss and Clete Shearer were reappointed to the city Civil Service Board.

Activist's proposals threaten economical food production

Wayne County farmer raps animal rights movement

The "animal welfare" movement is a "sleeping giant" that poses a threat to the economical production of food in America's breadbasket.

That's the well-researched opinion of a Wayne County farmer who has spent years in poultry, egg and cattle production.

Joe Claybaugh of rural Carroll told Wayne Kiwanians Monday that animal welfare activists "certainly will change the low-cost production of food" that Americans have grown accustomed to buying.

According to Claybaugh, who has been keeping track of the activists' organizational activities for years, the movement has spawned dozens of groups throughout the country.

He said the movement, which seeks to guarantee "the rights of animals," is head-quartered in the political power base of the country — Washington, D.C.

During a noon-luncheon presentation to Kiwanians, Claybaugh discussed the ramifications of animal welfare issues and used his operation, TWJ Farms, to illustrate some of the dilemmas presented by the activists.

Apparently the activists of the 1960s and 1970s found themselves running out of things to do," Claybaugh said.

Explaining that many of the activists have rallied around the animal rights issues, Claybaugh said it is ironic that this country "has the people and the money to be concerned about animal welfare," when there is such "tremendous hunger" in the world.

The Carroll farmer told Kiwanians that the activists are well-financed. For example, he said, the Chicago Anti-Cruelty Society, which was organized in 1899, has $1.5 million at its disposal from some 3,400 contributors.

Claybaugh listed nearly a dozen groups that have organized around the animal rights issues.

Among them were groups dedicated to vegetarianism. "They want to cut meat consumption by 50 percent," Claybaugh explained.

According to Claybaugh, the animal rights movement started in Europe during the 1960s.

He said that during that decade, the English appointed a committee to study the confinement of animals, particularly farm animals.

That committee, said Claybaugh, ended up setting standards for confinement. And other European countries — Switzerland, Belgium and Holland, for instance — soon joined the cause.

Claybaugh said some of those countries outlawed cages. The Germans, he said, didn't outlaw cages, but they did outlaw the standard sized cage.

The activists are concerned that "animals interact with other animals," Claybaugh explained.

HE SAID THE activists make a special point of humanizing animals, insisting that they have emotions and feelings similar to those found in people.

"I guess we can thank the era of animated (Walt) Disney characters for that," Claybaugh said.

According to Claybaugh, some of the things opposed by the animal rightists include crate-cafed veal production, tethered farrowing sows, teeth clipping on piglets and poultry debeaking and molting practices.

He noted that several large East Coast newspapers recently carried advertisements — sponsored by the Humane Society — that urged consumers to stop buying veal.

"And, they've gone beyond the animals rights issues into what they call the factory farms," Claybaugh said.

"They call the factory farms barbaric, inhumane and inefficient," he added.

CLAYBAUGH SAID that what the activists seem to overlook is that it has been an age-old rule on farms that livestock will not produce unless it is in a proper environment.

"You can't demand production from an animal," Claybaugh explained, indicating that the animals had to be properly cared for or they would not produce.

"If they don't produce, they aren't economical," he continued.

Claybaugh told Kiwanians that the activists' issues bring up a question that society has to answer.

"We have to decide whether to keep the emphasis on low-cost, high-protein food production or shift it to animal rights," Claybaugh said.

CLAYBAUGH ALSO noted that the animal rights activists are beginning to push programs in school systems.

He said some of the programs ask kids whether they had eaten an animal and whether the animal had to be killed for food. "The animal rightists' proposals, Claybaugh said, "would reduce 100,000 chickens to 25,000 birds — a level of production that would be uneconomical for him."

"Debeaking, in my mind, is like cutting a fingernail," he explained. "Would the activists rather see the destruction of chickens, picking the flesh of other birds?"

HE ALSO NOTED that the activists' proposals would force poultry producers back to a floor operation, where birds would be exposed to disease and eggs would be subjected to filth and breakage.

During a question-and-answer period following his presentation, Claybaugh said he doubted whether many of the activists ever had been on a farm.

Claybaugh's farm, which features modern technology and management techniques for poultry, egg and purebred cattle production, is just south of Carroll.

Applicators are subject to national regulations

Commercial pesticide applicators in Nebraska are subject to all regulations governing national standards for proper disposal of hazardous waste that were made effective by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency last fall, according to Emery Nelson, extension specialist in pesticide training at the University of Nebraska.

Because each state is expected to adopt and implement its own plan for disposal of hazardous waste, the Nebraska Department of Environmental Control will establish a regulatory agency to ensure that these standards are followed. Until then, commercial applicators may find that they are subject to regulations of which they are not completely aware, Nelson explained.

Farmers disposing of hazardous materials acquired for personal use on their own property are exempt from the law.

HAZARDOUS WASTE, according to the EPA, is solid or liquid waste which, when mismanaged, may pose a threat to the health of the environment. EPA regulations require special handling in disposing of hazardous waste when the amount exceeds specified standards for different categories of chemicals.

EPA standards for each of three classes of hazardous waste are as follows:

The first is known as the "2.2 pound list." These chemicals are classified as "acutely toxic." If an applicator stores holds or disposes of more than 2.2 pounds (1 kilogram) in a month, he is subject to strict procedures for disposal outlined by the EPA.

Insecticides in this category include Temik, Phostoxin, Parathion, Carbon disulfide, Cygon, Endrin, Heptachlor, Toxaphene and Thimet. Two herbicides included are Acrolein and Dinoseb. Rodenticides on the list include warfarin, strychnine and zinc phosphide. An avicide is Avitrol.

Chemicals in the second group are considered by the EPA to be less dangerous. This category is known as the "2,204 pound list." Applicators accumulating more than 2,204 pounds (1,000 kilograms) in a one month period, are subject to the same strict disposal procedures as mandated by category No. 1.

Insecticides on this list include chlordane and carbon tetrachloride. Among the herbicides listed are 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T.

The third category involves the disposal of toxic chemicals in solution. The seven chemicals listed in this category and their maximum concentration per million parts are as follows: Endrin, 0.2; 2,4-D, 10.0; Toxaphene, 0.5; Lindane, 0.4; 2,4,5-T Silvex, 1.0; Methoxychlor, 10.0.

THESE CHEMICALS in solution exceeding the specified concentrations are subject to the full provisions of the hazardous waste law. Also, if an applicator starts with 2.2 pounds or more of a chemical on the 2.2 pound list, he is already subject to disposal restrictions.

What are these restrictions? Nelson explained that ideally accumulated waste material should be used, recycled, treated, or stored. If an applicator accumulates more than the critical amount of a specified chemical, he may store the waste for 90 days without a permit before disposing it. If he doesn't have these options and has quantities exceeding the EPA's limits, he must follow several steps in disposing of the chemical, he said.

The most important step is to file notice with EPA as a disposer of wastes on one of the three lists, Nelson said. Then, the disposer should also ask the state regulatory agency or the EPA whether he is obligated to file a "Superfund" notification. This may entitle him to some federal money allotted for hazardous waste clean up.

The next step, Nelson said, is to locate a suitable disposal site. None in Nebraska has been designated by the EPA or the Nebraska Department of Environmental Control, but either office has a list of locations, he explained.

SINCE THE SHIPMENT of hazardous waste is governed by the EPA and the U.S. Department of Transportation, an applicator must fill out a "transportation manifest." DOT provides information on how to fill out the manifest, and on packaging, labeling, marking and placarding the shipment.

"It is the operator's responsibility to see it gets where it's supposed to go," Nelson said. The applicator must keep records for a minimum of three years and may need to submit an annual report to the EPA. If less than the critical amount is slated for disposal, it may be taken to a state licensed landfill, Nelson said.

Pesticide containers that have held chemicals on the 2.2 pound list that have not been triple rinsed are also regulated under this law, Nelson said. The weight of the unrinsed container is included in the weight considered a hazardous waste. If containers have been triple rinsed, they are not subject to EPA regulations. Rinsed containers should be disposed of according to label instructions and state guidelines, he said.

Federal penalties ranging up to $25,000 can be assessed if a person violates hazardous waste law. Both federal and state regulations permit fines and prison sentences, Nelson noted.

Farm Bureau women's conference

The 1982 Mid-Winter Farm Bureau Women's Conference will be held at the Holiday Inn in Kearney Feb. 1 and 2. Registration begins at 11 a.m. on Monday, with adjournment at 2 p.m. on Tuesday. Conference theme is "Belong-Participate-Succeed."

The Monday evening banquet speaker will be Ron Hanson, associate professor of Ag Economics. His topic will be "Keeping Family on Friendly Terms While Farming Together."

The Tuesday morning workshop will feature Mrs. Kathy Koubek, State Department of Agriculture home economist, and Frank Chambers, director of field service.

Tuesday will conclude with a noon luncheon. Speaker will be Sue Palmore, coordinator of the Women's Farm Bureau Federation.

Area women interested in attending the two-day meeting are asked to contact Mrs. Harold George, Dixon, 584-2625. Registration deadline is Jan. 17.

Livestock feeders meeting

The annual meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association will be held at the Oasis on Monday, Jan. 18. The social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. with dinner at 7:30. The Oasis is located at the Sioux City Municipal Airport.

Mickey Stewart, state ASCS director, will be guest speaker. Mickey will be speaking on animal care, a subject which urban consumer activists have become very involved in recent months.

These activist groups are working to change many of the modern methods of raising livestock.

Paul Johnston, executive vice president of the Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association will give an update on some other areas of interest to NLFA members.

The annual business meeting along with election of local board directors will be held.

Vacation guides to promote state

Applications for summer employment in the Nebraska Vacation Guide Program are now available through college placement offices, Job Service offices and local chambers of commerce. The program, sponsored by the Nebraska Department of Economic Development, is in its 10th year of promoting Nebraska's attractions, services and resources to interstate travelers.

Guides are trained and will work June 1-Aug. 13, 1982 at the rest areas. Applications will be accepted through Feb. 26. For more information, contact Cindy Kaliff, Nebraska Department of Economic Development, division of travel and tourism, Box 94666, Lincoln, Nebraska 68509. (402) 471-3798.

CCC loan interest rate lowered

Commodity Credit Corporation commodity loans disbursed in January will have a 12.25 percent interest rate, Everett Rank, executive vice president of the corporation, announced.

The new rate, down from 14.5 percent, reflects the interest rate charged CCC by the U.S. Treasury in January, Rank said.

Rank also said that outstanding 1981-crop CCC loans will be adjusted to reduce the original 14.5 percent interest rate charge to 12.25 percent.

The 12.25 percent interest rate applies also to outstanding and new farm storage facility loans which are subject to the variable interest rate, Rank said.

Delegates to ASC Convention

The three regular members of each community were delegates to the December 17 County ASC Convention. They elected Dean Owens to a three-year term on the County Committee and Melvin Wilson to a one-year term. Alvin Sundell and George Jaeger were elected as alternates.

Erwin Morris is the carryover committee member and was elected as chairman for 1982. Dean Owens will be vice chairman, and Melvin Wilson regular member.

Morris farms southwest of Carroll, Owens north of Carroll and Wilson south of Wakefield.

Conservation tillage conference

The Tri-State Conservation Tillage Conference will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 17 and Thursday, Feb. 18 at the Marina Inn in South Sioux City. Participants may choose either day as the program is the same for both days. Pre-registration is required. Interested persons should contact the Soil Conservation or Extension Service Office.

Rye production up 20 percent

Production of rye during 1981 totaled 798,000 bushels, up 20 percent from last year's revised production of 666,000 bushels. Average yield of 21 bushels per acre was 3 bushels above a year earlier.

Acres harvested at 38,000 moved up 3 percent from the revised 37,000 for 1980.

Barley production down 6 percent

Barley production in 1981 totaled 697,000 bushels, 6 percent less than the previous year. Average yield was 39 bushels per acre, up 1 bushel from 1980.

Acres harvested at 23,000 was 2,000 acres below 1980 and the lowest since 1870.

Corn rootworms are farmers' top concern

Western and northern corn rootworms remain the number one concern for farmers in 1982, in terms of potential costs of prevention and control, a University of Nebraska extension entomologist said this week.

Robert E. Roselle said approximately $41 million are spent each year for soil insecticides to prevent rootworm infestations. "Many other insects can be serious threats, usually in specific locations, but none is as general as corn rootworms," Roselle pointed out.

THE PRACTICE of continuous corn in many areas of Nebraska provides a favorable food supply every year for rootworms, he explained, and the worms overwinter in the egg stage, protected in the soil.

Current preventative insecticides are not completely reliable, Roselle reported. In certain fields, most insecticides work quite well, in others, none will provide the degree of control that is desirable, he said.

Many factors affect the efficacy of an insecticide in controlling rootworms, even with the same chemical used in an area. Factors influencing reliability include the time of application, the number of rootworms, pH of the soil, excessive moisture, the rate of application and the effectiveness of incorporating the material into the soil.

Farmers cannot alter weather conditions and in many cases the alkalinity of soils, but they can change the timing of applications and do a more effective job of calibration and incorporation in the soil, Roselle stated.

HE CITED tests by Dr. Z. B. Mayo, NU entomology researcher, which show that insecticide granules applied just before egg hatch will be more reliable and effective than those applied at early planting. Chemicals wear out if they are in the soil for long periods before rootworm egg hatch, he said.

Farmers may calibrate for the correct rate of chemical application by using 1,000 feet of row. They should catch the granules from each box for a known length of row in feet and weigh them.

Be sure granules are applied in bands and covered with soil, he added.

Rootworm eggs hatch around June 1 each year, although there is some variability, Roselle said.

If it is not possible to apply granules at cultivation, the producer must be ready to accept some rootworm damage, the insect specialist said. He advised using Coumat, Amaze or Dyfonate at early planting. Furadan also can be used if it has not been applied in the field the past two or three years, Roselle cautioned.

DO YOUR HOUSEPLANTS HAVE A DRINKING PROBLEM?
If you are having a problem with your houseplants the odds are it's a watering problem—too much, too little, or the wrong time. Here are some ideas that will help eliminate a drinking problem your plants might have.

TYPES OF DRINKING WATER
First let's examine the types of water available. Rainwater or melted snow is best although distilled water also works well. If you use distilled water, remember to stir it to mix in air. Water from a dehumidifier works just as well and cuts down on expense. If it isn't convenient to collect fresh water, you can also grow lush plants using well water or city tap water.

CHEMICALS IN WATER
Two chemicals commonly found in city water are chlorine and fluorides. Chlorine does not usually harm indoor plants but as a precaution you can allow the water to stand for 24 hours in an open container to allow most of the gas to escape. Fluoride can cause leaf burn on certain plants such as spider plants. An occasional flushing of the soil of these plants may help eliminate buildup of fluorides and other salts.

It is ideal when 10 percent of the water added at a watering comes out the bottom of the container into the catch basin. This achieves a desirable flushing action in the soil. However, do not let the excess water stand; empty it out or you will be defeating the purpose.

Avoid water from a water softener. Chemical water softeners replace calcium with sodium, which may produce dangerous accumulations of soil salt. Homes having a water softener should run off plant water from a faucet located ahead of the place where the water pipe enters the softener unit.

The frequency of watering depends on many factors such as room temperature, light, plant size, humidity, time of year, etc. In winter, many thin leaved plants require watering only once or twice a week. Thick-leaved plants and plants having large pots are satisfied with an once-a-week or every other-week drink. Use room temperature water.

Beware of overwatering. More houseplants are killed by too much water than by too little. The main rule of watering is to wet the entire soil ball every time you water and then allow the soil to dry before watering again.

Commercial devices are available that reportedly "tell you when to water." These devices may be used as a guideline but the old "finger test" is still perhaps the best indicator.

Certification training is planned in March

Commercial pesticide applicators who have never been certified to apply restricted-use pesticides or those who have let their certification lapse can take initial certification training in March at six locations around the state.

Emery Nelson, University of Nebraska extension specialist in pesticide training, said the training should not be confused with recertification opportunities being offered in January, February and March. Those are only for current holders of certification, he emphasized.

Initial certification training is available in any of the numerous commercial applicator categories, Nelson said. However, applicators desiring such training must request study materials in advance for their category or categories.

This also will ensure that the desired training and testing will be offered at the meeting the applicator plans to attend, Nelson added. Forms to request the study materials and to register for the training are available from Cooperative Extension Service offices in all Nebraska counties.

The training is provided by the Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service and will emphasize the basic, safe use of pesticides, Nelson said. The testing following the training will be administered by a representative of the Environmental Protection Agency which issues the certification. Participants need to score 70 or better on the test to be certified, he said.

ASCs office deadline near for oat acreage reports

Reports of 1980 and 1981 crop oats acreages are being taken at the ASCS office now.

According to Erwin Morris, chairman of the Wayne County ASC Committee, the reporting deadline is Feb. 5.

The 1982 farm program will include oats as a feed grain base crop. Therefore, acreage history and crop use certifications are needed to establish oat base.

The 1982 program could include an acreage reduction provision if the Secretary of Agriculture decides this provision is needed. Details of the 1982 program have not been received in the county ASCS office, but are expected soon, Morris said.

More Valley Corner Systems every year,

because it's the least costly investment per acre.

It's going to be harder to make farming pay off in the years to come. Harder for many reasons.

So if anything makes sense, it's to maximize the potential of the land you now farm. Irrigating with a center pivot is one way. Irrigating with a Corner System is even better.

A Corner System can irrigate 19 to 45 more acres than a regular pivot, producing extra income on acres already being farmed. That's why nearly one out of every six pivots sold today is a Corner System.

And when it comes to Corner Systems, nobody knows more than Valmont. They're proven reliable with nearly 3,000 systems in operation. That's at least 20 times more than any other brand.

Before you buy any center pivot, see us. We'll tell you how a Valley Corner System can add to your bottom line profits while being the least costly investment per acre.

Valley dominates the field.

A total of 324 blue lights were bought for the Christmas trees at the Wakefield Health Care Center last year.
The lights are given in memory of a deceased loved one or to honor living loved ones. The project is sponsored by the Hospital Auxiliary with Mrs. Gordon Bressler and Mrs. Gordon Bard in charge.
This is the tenth year for the project and the committee would like to thank everyone for their support. When a decision has been made as to how the money will be used at the hospital it will be announced.
INSTALLED NEW TELEPHONE SYSTEM
The Wakefield Health Care Center has installed Com Key Telephone System at the hospital. Each patient room now has a telephone. To call a patient, the receptionists or someone who is on duty will connect the caller with the patient's room. Anyone wanting to speak with a patient is to dial 287 2586. Do not call the hospital number 287 2244 to talk to a patient.
Patients may call out but the phones are not designed for the patient to dial the number. This is done by the receptionists.
The new system makes it easier for people to call into the patient's room than for a patient to call out, according to Russell Swigart, administrator.
