Winside twirler whirls her way to the top title

By Randall Howell

She's a bundle of curls, swirls, whirls and twirls. And, at 13 years of age, the rural Winside farm girl's baton twirling is among the best in the country.

Despite that, Kim Damme, the eldest of three children born to LeRoy and Eileen Damme, remains a Wayne County country girl with an exploding talent for music.

IN FACT, THE Winside seventh-grader works hard to squeeze baton twirling into her school and music study schedule. (She's an A-plus student with a predilection for mathematics.)

Damme, who attends Winside Junior High School, has captured the United States Twirling Association's (USTA) Nebraska championship in advanced baton twirling. The Winside teen won the Nebraska USTA state advanced baton twirling crown March 21 at the Nebraska-Iowa USTA State Baton Twirling Championship and Open Contest in Fremont.

But that wasn't enough for the accomplished classical pianist. Damme also walked away with the Nebraska state advanced USTA two-baton championship.

WITH TROPHIES, banners and flowers for both honors, the gospel pianist and vocalist twirled on.

Soon she had earned three first-place trophies in hoop baton twirling, advanced solo twirling and advanced two-baton twirling in the open contest held after the state competition.

The youngster's state awards made her eligible to twirl for the grand champion award, which involved all Nebraska and Iowa state winners.

And, before that twirl-off ended, the organist had twirled her way to a third place in two-baton competition and a fourth place in solo competition.

Still beaming modestly from her most recent accomplishments, Damme is giving serious thought to entering the USTA nationals scheduled in August for San Antonio, Tex.

AND, IF THAT seems to be too far off, she can qualify for the National Baton Twirling Association's (NBTA) national competition in Las Vegas next month.

"I don't know if we'll make it to that one," said the teenager's 39-year-old mother, a Madison native who twirls a baton.

"It costs a lot of money to hit every one of those contests," explained the

Council puts teeth in city nepotism ban

Wayne's City Council has put teeth in the municipal personnel manual's ban against nepotism.

In a lopsided 9-1 vote Tuesday night, the Council banned nepotism on the strength of a new city ordinance.

First Ward Councilman Darrel Heier, who voted against the measure, questioned the need for having "a blanket ordinance like this in a city of this size."

THE ORDINANCE (82-4) was prepared "as an enforcement tool," according to Phil Kloster, city administrator.

Kloster said the city's legal counsel was of the opinion that the ordinance "would do a better job than the (city personnel) manual."

In fact, according to Kloster, the anti-nepotism ordinance was developed from a section of the city's personnel manual, which lacks the force of law.

"Given the situation in government today, it's in our better judgment to have that on the books," Kloster told the Council during its regular end-of-the-month meeting.

HEIER, WHOSE SON Todd worked for the municipal Recreation Department for many years but no longer is employed by the city, contended that qualified people would be passed over because of the ban on nepotism.

"It will make the job (of hiring) easier for Phil (Kloster) and anyone else doing the hiring," Heier said.

"But, I'm not sure we're that large that we need that (the ordinance),"

Third Ward Councilman Keith Molsley, who eventually introduced the measure, called it a "good ordinance" and "a necessity."

UNCONVINCED, Heier said that his son, for instance, would have completely lost out on years of experience and an opportunity to contribute to the city's recreation program if the ordinance had been on the books.

"If (the ordinance) is the easiest way, but I'm not sure it's the best," Heier said.

"I'm sure some who could do a good job for the city are going to be passed up," he added.

Second Ward Councilwoman Carolyn Filter said the ordinance was not pointed at any individual.

"There are going to be instances where you have to pass over qualified people," Kloster said. "I'm not aware of any (nepotism) conflict at this time, but potentially we could have problems down the road."

Civil Defense sirens costly

The cost of upgrading Wayne's Civil Defense sirens would bust this year's budget.

Preliminary cost estimates for adding three new Civil Defense sirens are nearly three times greater than funds budgeted for the project.

Last fall, the City Council approved a project that called for three new sirens at an estimated cost of some $9,000.

ACCORDING TO Phil Kloster, city administrator, the city has discovered that the cost of these sirens is more like $24,500.

"I'd like to be the first to say we need to do something with that (the present) system...but we couldn't handle it before Aug. 1," Kloster said. The next fiscal year begins on Aug. 1.

Kloster told the Council that state and federal matching money was no longer available for Civil Defense projects.

Kloster asked if the Council wanted him to continue with the project by putting together some specifications — a preliminary procedure for bidding.

The Council gave him the go-ahead to do so despite the increased cost estimates.

Partners purchase city clothing store

Another Main Street business has changed hands in Wayne.

Marie Mohr, a Wayne businesswoman, and her brother-in-law, Allen Thorman, a West Point businessman, have purchased Swans' Apparel at 218 Main Street.

Monday, the new owners took over operation of longtime business, owned and operated by Troy Vaught since 1962.

Vaught has retired from the business, a women's apparel store on the east side of Main Street.

MOHR, WHO ALSO owns and operates the Black Knight Restaurant, 304 Main Street, with her husband John, said she plans to remain involved in both businesses.

Her brother-in-law partner and his wife, Fern (John Mohr's sister), operate a flower and gift shop in West Point, where the couple has been involved in business for over 25 years.

No name change is planned for Swans' Apparel, according to the partners.

However, interior renovation, remodeling and rebranding of the store is being planned, according to Mohr.

Mohr said the renovation is expected to begin soon with the new owners planning a grand opening promotion to follow.

"WE ARE GOING to continue carrying present clothing lines with additional lines and sizes being added," Mohr explained.

In addition, the store has contracted the services of a professional tailor for Swans' Apparel customers, Mohr said.

No staff changes are expected at the

Dear Readers,

It's hats off to our friends in Neligh, South Sioux City, Tekamah.

Without them, you would not be reading your copy of today's newspaper.

When the electric motor blew on our Goss Community offset press late Tuesday, we were faced with the problem of how to print 14 area weekly newspapers and stoppers.

After an overnight emergency effort to repair our press motor was unsuccessful, our newspaper friends in Neligh, South Sioux City and Tekamah came to the rescue.

As a result, these area publishers who have printed in our central plant for years — without missing a beat — were able to put out their newspapers this week.

And, we reced The Wayne Herald on to the press in Neligh Wednesday afternoon so you wouldn't miss out on your Thursday paper.

Thank you, friends.

Open house at Wayne schools

Parents, grandparents and friends of students in Wayne's West Elementary and Middle Schools are invited to attend open house at both schools Tuesday evening, April 6.

Hours for the open house are 7 to 9 p.m., and coffee and cookies will be served.

Elementary principal David Lutt said students will be displaying work they have completed during the year. The work will be displayed on desks and bulletin boards.

Fifth through eighth grade students in the Middle School will hold a science fair, according to principal Richard Metteer. Metteer said there will be a number of science displays throughout the building, as well as other student work.

Some students this year have selected social studies projects instead of science, said Metteer.

Legion Post wins awards

The Wayne Irwin L. Sears American Legion Post Number 43 received two awards at the Third District American Legion and Auxiliary Convention held Saturday in Wakefield.

The local post was given an Americanism Citation for outstanding service to the community for 1980-81 and a Children and Youth Citation for outstanding work for children. Third District Commander Art Heinemann presented the awards to Chris Bargholz, local post representative.

The program was attended by 52 delegates and approximately 170 attended the noon banquet. Wayne Davis, alternate National Executive committeeman of Hays Springs, was the featured speaker. The 1983 convention is planned at Newcastle.

City gets minibus grant

The City of Wayne has received a $2,058.36 grant from the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging.

The grant money is earmarked to help the city purchase a radio communications setup for the Senior Citizens Center minibus.

Phil Kloster, city administrator, said the minibus operation needed to become more efficient.

"Without a radio the vehicle makes a number of extra trips each day because seniors phone their ride request into the center, but the bus is out picking up other passengers," he explained.

With the radio, Kloster said, the center could be in constant contact with the minibus driver on ride requests.

Winside roundup rescheduled

Kindergarten roundup at Winside Public Schools will be held at 9 a.m. Tuesday, April 6, instead of April 7 as previously announced.

WSC students spend spring break in France

While the majority of Wayne State College students celebrated "Spring Break" by going home, five students spent their spring break touring France with WSC assistant professor of French Janet Schmitz.

IN ADDITION, WSC alumnus Ginger Weber, a French graduate now teaching in West Point, and a cousin of Krystal Sisson, Shea Schwanke, went on the journey.

The group drove to Omaha on Saturday, March 6, took a flight to Chicago, then flew from Chicago to Zurich, Switzerland where they made another short flight to Paris. The group returned via the same route on Sunday, March 14.

Schmitz estimated the cost of the trip at approximately $900 per student.

PARTICIPANTS spent their first two full days seeing the sites of Paris, including the Notre Dame Cathedral, Champs Elysees, Napoleon's Arch of Triumph, and the Eiffel Tower.

The group also enjoyed shopping and dining in French restaurants both in Paris and throughout the trip.

The group then took a five day excursion through the south of France. Among the noteworthy stops were Cannes, Marseille, Nice, Monaco, Monte Carlo, and Avignon.

One of the top attractions was the wine making region of Southern France. Schmitz reported.

SCHMITZ WAS pleased that the students put their French studies to good use, and reported that the group had little problems with the language barrier.

Laurel Concord Relays tomorrow (Friday) at Wayne State College. Three are seniors and two are juniors.

Relays open tomorrow

The annual Laurel Concord Relays will again open the track and field season, Friday. Field events will begin at 9 a.m. and running will begin at 11 a.m. Laurel track coach John Jonas is promising that the strong wind will die down and temperatures will reach into the 60's. The annual event has often been marred by cold, damp weather. Teams participating in the Laurel Concord Relays are Allen, Battle Creek, Bloomfield, Clarkson, Coleridge, Crofton, Emerson-Hubbard, Hartington, Hartington CC, Howells, Newcastle, Pender, Ponca, Laurel, Randolph, Stanton, Wakefield, West Point CC and Winside.

Seniors Don Luhr and Todd Heitman will both compete in the 400 and 800. The other senior, Scott Haahr, will specialize in the shot put and discus. Junior lettermen are Mike Jonas, who will run the 800 and 1,600, and Shane Heydon, who will run the 400. The rest of the team is made up of juniors, one sophomore and freshmen. Freshmen are Emmett Johnson, Earl Johnson, Marty Jones, Scott Rath, Troy Heitman, Jim

Rescheduled games

Wayne blasts Westmar in Saturday doubleheader

By Kent Probst
Wayne State College

The weather finally cooperated with the Wayne State baseball team, and the Wildcats took advantage by posting 11-1 and 8-0 wins over Westmar at LeMars, IA., Saturday.

The games were originally scheduled for March 24 at Wayne, but wet grounds forced the postponement and change of site. The Cats were to host Brlar Cliff on Tuesday travel to Kearney State this Saturday, then host Concordia of Minnesota on Monday, April 5 at 1 p.m.

COACH RON JONES' squad did about everything a coach could hope for. The Cats hit the ball well and, in fact, raised their team batting average 11 points; both starting pitchers threw complete, two-hit games; and the team committed just one error on the day to raise its record to 3-9.

Junior pitcher Grady Hansen went the distance in the opener to even his record at 1-1. Hansen gave up one run off a pair of fourth-inning singles for the lone Westmar score of the day. Hansen struck out two batters in lowering his earned run average to 5.28.

Senior catcher Mike Meyer led the hitting attack, going 2-for-3 with two runs and two RBIs. Bill Schwartz, senior first baseman, drove in three runs on 1-of-2 hitting. Tom Todd scored two runs and stole two bases for the Cats.

Sophomore pitcher Dan Hilgenkamp had a no-hitter going into the final inning, but gave up back-to-back singles before logging the shutout. It was Hilgenkamp's first win in three decisions, and lowered his ERA to a fine 3.71. Hilgenkamp struck out six and walked just two.

SOPHOMORE GREGG CRUICKSHANK led the Wildcat hit parade by going 3-for-3 from his first base spot. Third baseman Rich Murcek went 2-for-4 with three RBIs; Sophomore right fielder Doug Starzl also went 2-for-4 including a double, ironically Wayne's only extra-base hit on the day; Speedy Jeff Zeiss failed to get a hit, yet scored two runs on three walks.

On the day, the Cats successfully stole bases in all 13 attemps.

Wind postponements

Wayne State College baseball, track and softball events scheduled for Tuesday were postponed because of strong winds.

The baseball games with Brlar Cliff and the track meet with Dana, Westmar and Morningside were rescheduled for today (Thursday). The softball has been rescheduled April 12.

Lady Wildcats open the year with pair of road victories

The 1982 softball season at Wayne State College got off to a rousing start last weekend as the Lady Wildcats swept a twin-bill at the University of South Dakota Vermillion by 16-8 and 4-2 scores.

Wayne State was scheduled to face Nebraska Wesleyan at Lincoln Tuesday, then travel to Iowa Falls to participate in the Ellsworth Junior College tourney on April 23. Coach Deb Weaver's squad will travel to Kearney State on April 6 and Dana on April 8.

In the first game, a 16-8 WSC win, Wayne State jumped out to a 16-2 lead going into the bottom of the fourth before surrendering six runs over the next two innings to force the game to go the distance. The Lady Cats delivered 12 hits and committed a single error compared to USD's six hits and four errors.

Senior pitcher Cindy Stella earned the win and threw six strikeouts on the way. Senior outfielder Lynn Brandt banged a home run while sophomore shortstop Tammy Blackburn hit a double. Sue Plumb was 3-for-4 at the plate with four RBIs. Four Lady Cats — Blackburn, Linda Prchal, Lori Johnson and Cindy Gessman — scored three runs each.

The second game was considerably tighter, but WSC held on for the 4-2 victory. The Lady Cats jumped to a quick 3-1 lead after the first inning, and both teams added a run in the third to end scoring.

TWO BIG INFIELD double plays in the last two innings stemmed any thoughts of a USD rally. Weaver lauded the play of first baseman Cindy Gessman, who turned in a "fine effort" according to the coach.

Particularly pleasing to the coach was the two-hit pitching of freshman Laurie Owens. Top batting efforts were turned in by Lori Johnson, who went 3-for-3, and Sue Plumb at 2-for-3. Johnson and Lynn Brandt each drilled a triple for the Cats.

Wakefield sweeps Bancroft

A bases loaded walk scored the winning run in an extra inning as Wakefield swept a doubleheader from Bancroft. Tuesday in the Northeast Nebraska League baseball openers.

The Trojans were forced into an extra inning before winning the second game 11-10. Wakefield ran away with the first one 11-2. Both games were scheduled for five innings.

IN THE SECOND contest, Bancroft scored six runs in the fourth inning and four in the fifth to send the game into an extra inning.

Troy Greve led off the bottom of the sixth inning with a single and moved to second base on an error. A base hit bunt by Lee Foote moved Greve to third. Bancroft loaded the bases by walking Jeff Coble and Brian Soderberg drew a walk to force in the winning run.

Soderberg was the offensive leader for the Trojans with three hits and two runs in three at bats. He also had two stolen bases. Foote went two for two and Mike Clay was two for four.

Wakefield jumped out in front early with three runs in the first inning and five in the second. The Trojans, who collected 12 hits, led 9-0 after three innings, but Bancroft's Mark Elasser hit a three-run homer in the fourth inning.

WAYNE GUY and Soderberg shared pitching duties for the winners. Guy pitched the first three innings before being relieved by Soderberg in the fourth. Bancroft did all of its damage off of Soderberg but Wakefield coach Joe Coble said he "deserved a better fate."

Coble explained that wind blown hits and three Trojan errors in the fourth inning "opened the flood gates." Guy reentered in the fifth inning and struckout a Bancroft batter with the go-ahead run on third base. He retired the opponents in order in the sixth inning to take the victory.

The first game was a runaway with the Trojans collecting 11 hits. Coble led the forces with four hits in four at bats. He scored three runs and drove in three others. Keith Roberts had only one hit but it was a big one—a solo home run. Mark Starzl had two hits in three plate appearances.

Guy pitched 4 1/3 innings, gave up no hits, walked five batters and had five strikeouts.

THE TROJANS scored three runs in the first, third and fourth innings and two runs in the second. Starzl pitched all five innings and held Bancroft to two hits. He walked four batters and struckout 11. Rick Logeman suffered the loss for Bancroft.

Wakefield will take its 2-0 record into play at home Monday against Laurel.

SOLID HITTING, tough defense, and strong pitching performances helped the Lady Cats to the impressive victories over USD. Wayne State pounded out 20 hits including four for extra bases against their hosts, while limiting USD to eight singles.

State relay team will lead Laurel girls team

With all four runners returning from a team which holds the school record, the 3,200-meter relay should be one of the strongest events for the Laurel girls.

The team placed third in districts last year and is hoping to qualify for the state meet this year. Team members are seniors Dee Maxon, LaRae Nelson, Shell Taylor and Cyndi Jonas.

Coach Al Siepkas has 15 girls on the team this year and quite a few are out for the first time in their careers. Among them are five juniors. Siepkas says he is hoping those newcomers come around toward the end of the season.

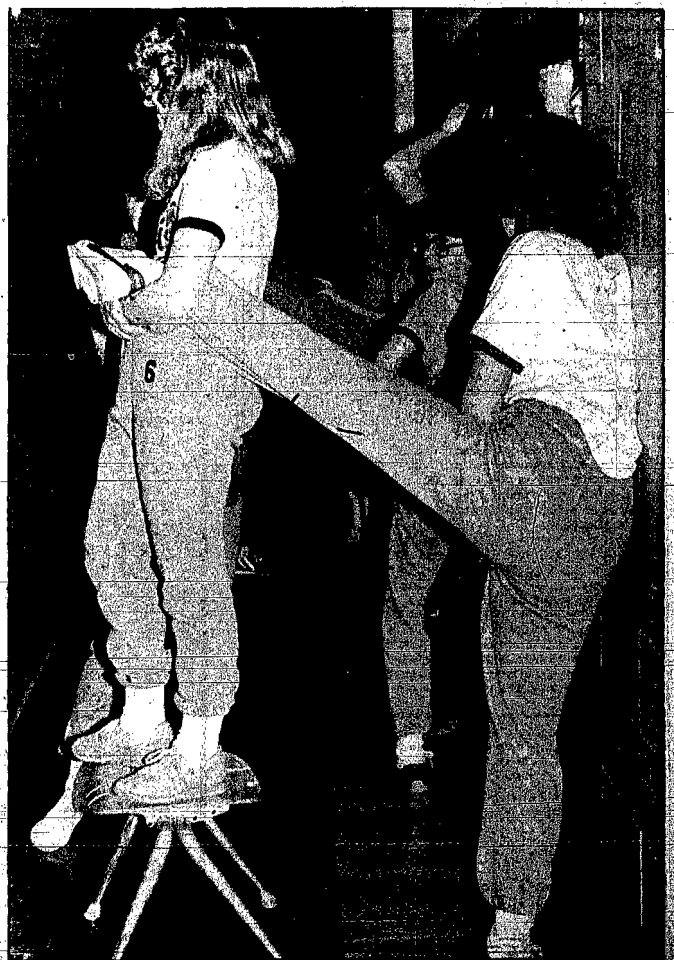

In addition to the two-mile relay, Maxon will run in the mile and mile relay. Nelson and Taylor will run in the mile relay and Jonas will run in the mile relay and 800-meter run.

Other returning lettermen are senior Donna Rhodes who will throw the shot and discus, junior Patsy Thompson who will run the mile and two-mile, and sophomore Carla Stage in the high jump.

The five juniors who are out for track for the first time are Renee Gadeken (high jump, shot put, discus), Kim Sherry (400, hurdles), Sandy McCorkindale (shot put, discus), Sarah Swarthout (mile), Rojana Bowman (400 relay, 800 relay).

Three freshmen will join Bowman on the 400 and 800 relay teams. They are Denise Burman, Lori Lindsay and Chris Lemmon. Lindsay also will run the 200.

The Laurel girls will be host team in tomorrow's (Friday) Laurel-Concord Relays at Wayne State College.

Wayne Rec boys in Fremont Tourney

The Wayne Recreation eighth grade basketball team is scheduled to compete in the Fremont Tournament this week. The locals, who compiled an 11-2 record against strong competition this season, will face a powerful opening round foe, the Lincoln Northeast Lakers. That game will be played at 6 p.m. Friday in Fremont Bergan High School. A Wayne victory would pit the winners against the Omaha Cavaliers at 9 p.m. Friday. A loss would send Wayne to an 11 a.m. game Saturday in the double elimination tourney. Eighty percent of Wayne's games this season were against Class A competition.

Coed volleyball tourney planned

A coed volleyball to raise money for the Wayne Jaycees Softball Complex is being planned by Delta Sigma Pi, professional business fraternity of Wayne State College. The tournament will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday, April 4 in WSC's Rice Auditorium. Entry fee is $15 per team and between 8 and 12 teams are needed. First and second place trophies will be awarded. To enter a team call 375-4637. There will be no admission charge for anyone who wishes to watch the matches.

Wayne swim clinic tonight

A half-day clinic to train and inform swimming pool operators is scheduled tonight (Thursday) in Wayne. The clinic is one of nine planned across the state, all sponsored by the Nebraska Department of Health, Division of Housing and Environmental Health.

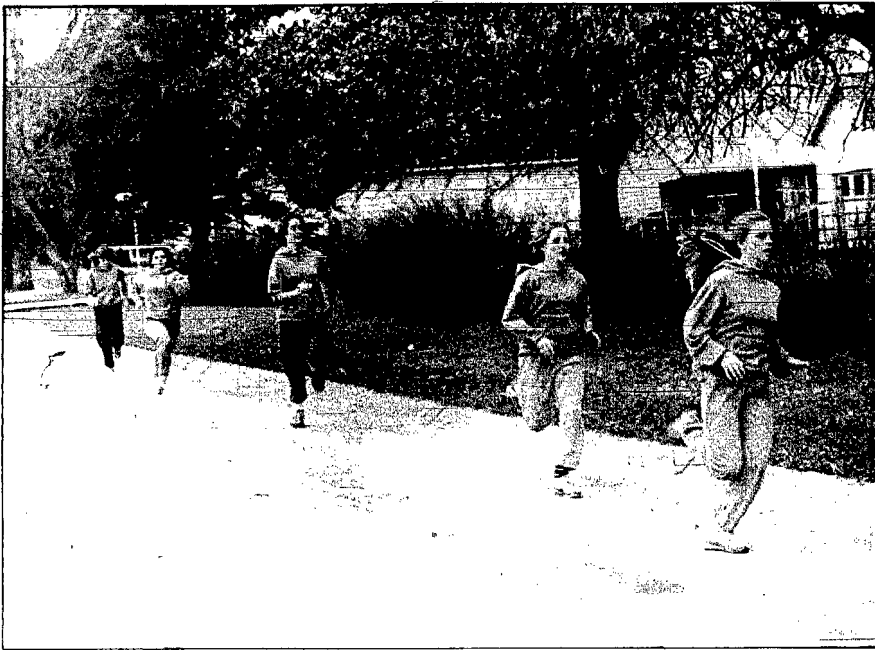

The Wayne clinic will be held from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the city auditorium.

Winside youngsters do well

The Winside Kids Wrestling Association brought back 15 individual medals from Saturday's Osmond Tournament.

Winside wrestlers who won individual titles are Chad Carlson, Scott Jacobsen, Max Kant, Mace Kant and Brian Thompson. Second place winners were Corey Miller, Jason Krueger and Shane Frahm.

Finishing third or fourth were Jason Magwire, Jeff Carlson, Shannon Hunter, Darin Schellberg, Chris Mann, Dustin Longe and Brett Serven. WAKEFIELD GIRLS workout by running the streets.

THE TROJANS should be strong in the sprints.

Trojans track and field

Juniors, sophs compose girls squad

Four lettermen return to the squad of 17 girls on the Wakefield track team.

First year coach Merlin Lahm says he has a large corp of distance and middle distance runners and is short sprinters. There are no seniors or freshmen on the squad.

Returning lettermen are junior Kris Fredrickson and sophomore Susah Rouse. Michele Meyer and Trisha Willers. Fredrickson will compete in the middle distances and long sprints. Rouse and Meyer are sprinters and Willers is a middle and distance runner.

Wakefield will be weak in field events but Brenda Jones is expected to pick up points in the weight events.

Another promising girl is Karla Stelling. In the distance races Ed Lahn says his team probably won't be extremely competitive as a team due to lack of participants, but adds that he is looking forward to some fine individual performances.

The Trojans probably will have one or two relay teams. Only three juniors are on the team. In addition to Fredrickson Dilynne Byers and Cheryl Engstedt are hoping to score some points for Wakefield.

The rest of the squad is made up of sophomores. Joining Rouse Meyer, Jones, Stelling and Willers are Michelle Rischmueller, Marie Turner and Debi Meyer.

Wakefield is scheduled to open its season tomorrow (Friday) at the Laurel Concord Relays on the Wayne State College track.

Season schedule: April 2, Laurel Relays; April 6, Wayne State Invitational; April 16, Wakefield Invitational; April 27, Winside Invitational; April 29, home dual; May 4, Lewis & Clark Conference Meet; May 13, Districts; May 21, 22, State Track Meet.

State qualifiers back in the sprints

With two state qualifiers returning, the Wakefield boys track team should be tough in the sprints.

Dirk Carlson qualified last year in the 100 meter dash and Jerry Roberts qualified in the 400. Another possible state contender this season is Rod Nixon who will run the intermediate hurdles.

Those three runners return to form the nucleus of the mile relay team which had considerable success last year. One replacement must be found by coach Dennis Wilbur.

In the distance events, Brian Obermeyer should be a contender in the 1,600 and 3,200 meter races.

Wakefield's squad is composed of five seniors, four juniors, a sophomore and four freshmen.

Wilbur said his team is not strong in field events.

"We'll have to depend on freshmen to fill in," Wilbur said.

Team members are Joey Borg, Scott Greve, Kenny Lundin, Rod Nixon, Brent VanderVeen, Fred Barge, Gary Tullberg, Jerry Roberts, Todd Willers, Dirk Carlson, Mark Borg, Ken Meyer.

Steve Warren and Brian Obermeyer.

Season schedule: April 2, Laurel Relays; April 7, Wayne State Invitational; April 16, Wakefield Invitational; April 27, Winside Invitational; April 29, Dual, home; May 6, Lewis & Clark Conference Meet; May 13, Districts; May 21, 22, State Track Meet.

Both teams used balanced scoring in the final stanza but Team

Hansen named to All-State team

Wayne State basketball standout Grady Hansen continues to compile the awards over a month after basketball season has ended, adding a repeat berth on the "Omaha World Herald" All State College squad as announced Sunday by World Herald sportswriter Terry Anderson.

Hansen was joined on the honor squad by Mark Hritt, Hastings; Pete Koehnke, Concordia; Steve Bartek, Doane; and Doug Holtmeier, Kearney State. Hansen's Wildcat teammates Al Jones (senior center, Sioux City) and Brad Edwards (junior guard, Carroll, Iowa) were named honorable mention.

Hansen, a 6-6 junior from Omaha and a Central High graduate, averaged 19.2 points and 6.7 rebounds per game for the 1981-82 Wildcats. He has previously been named to the first teams of the Central States Intercollegiate Conference and the NAIA District 11.

The slender forward, who doubles as an outstanding pitcher for the Wildcat baseball team, has twice finished as the top scorer in the highly respected CSIC, which this year sent no less than three teams to the NAIA national championship tourney.

Grady, who broke his own season scoring record this past winter with 673 points, needs just 117 more points to become Wayne State's all time scoring leader.

Season opens tomorrow

Allen boys team should excel in distance races

Distance races should be the strongest area for the Allen boys track team. The season opens tomorrow (Friday) at the Laurel-Concord Relays on the Wayne State College track.

At the top of the list of returning lettermen is senior Marty Mahler, a state qualifier last year in the 3,200-meter run. Mahler, Leonard Wood and Brad Stewart are the three members of the 1,200-meter relay team which qualified for state last season.

Coach Dan Looft has 14 lettermen on his list of 27 prospects. In addition to the long distance races, Looft is hoping for some points in the sprints and some other areas. Last year, the Eagles scored in the running events but had trouble in the field events.

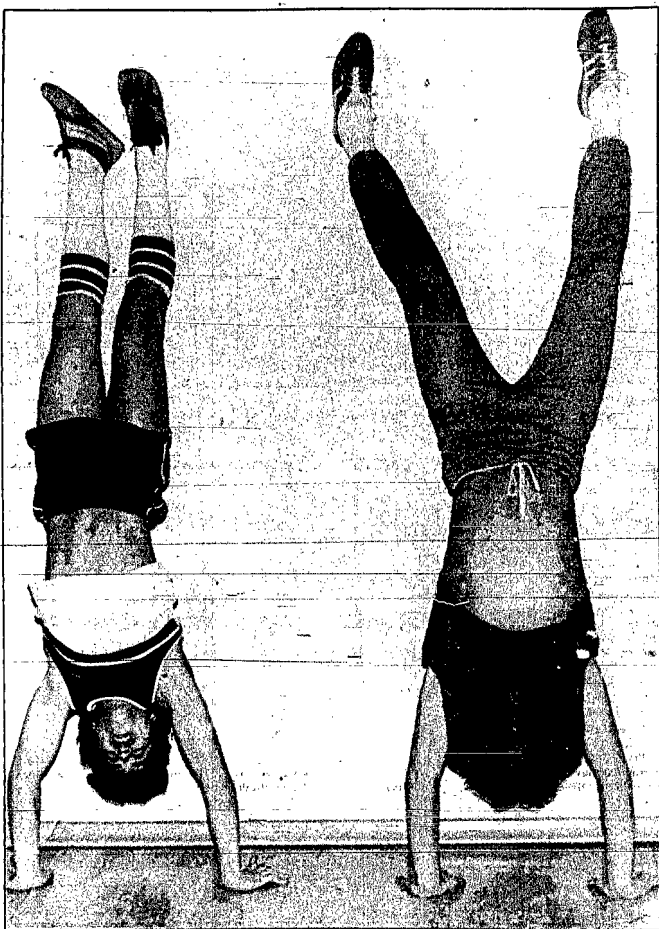

A jump up to Class C may make things more challenging for Allen but Looft expects several individuals to come through. Senior Robb Linafelter had a knee operation last year but still ran the 100 in 12.7 seconds. Jeff Chase could score in the pole vault. His best last season was 10.6.

Fifth and sixth place points add up and Looft is hoping for some of those.

Returning lettermen and their events: Robb Linafelter, 100, 400, 100 intermediate hurdles, Leonard Wood, 800, 3,200 meter relay, triple jump, Marty Mahler, 800, 1,600, 3,200 meter relay, Devin Nice, sprints, Brad Stewart, 800, 3,200 meter relay, Jack Mahler, sprints, Robbie Ridgeway, sprints, Joe Ellis, sprints, Chip Young, hurdles and sprints, Jeff Chase, pole vault, Todd Jewell, sprints, Ed Sturgess, 400, Doug Moore, shot put, Derwin Roberts, shot put.

Other participants and their expected events: Vinif Kwankin, 3,200, sprints, triple jump, Alok Kwankin, sprints, Bruce Matkovic, shot put, Keith Karberg, shot put and discus, Dan Nice, long jump and sprints, Shawn Mahler, 800, Jay Jones, sprints, Kirk Hansen, sprints, Gary Uehling, sprints and 400, Terry Kellough, weights, Mike Hoffman, long distances, Karyn Rahn, long distances, Shane Fahrenholz, pole vault and sprints.

LEG WEIGHTS help build up muscles for running

State qualifiers will lead Eagles

The 3,200 meter relay is expected to be one of the strong events for the Allen girls track squad. Three members of last year's state qualifying team return.

Tami Jewell, Michelle Harder and Shelly Williams were on last year's state qualifying relay team. Six of the 14 girls out for track are returning lettermen.

Coach Gary Troth said sophomore Shelly Williams should consistently score in the long jump and sophomore Harder should be a consistent scorer in the 400 meter dash. Another sophomore, Jeanne Warner is expected to do well in the discus. Two other girls who hope to help the team scoring are seniors Janet Peterson (200 meters) and Des Williams (hurdles). Freshman Pam Heckathorn is probably the fastest girl on the team and should score in the sprints.

The Eagles had limited workouts on a track so Troth said he didn't really know how his squad compares with last year's. Allen will open its season Friday in the Laurel-Concord Relays at Wayne State College. Team members and their pro-ble events: seniors Janet Peterson, sprints; Des Williams, hurdles, relays; juniors Michelle Pettit, hurdles, sprints; Alicia Stirling, middle distances; Linda Wood, middle distances; sophomores Michelle Harder, middle distances and sprints; Shelly Williams, long distances; Tami Jewell, sprints and middle distances; Karna Rahn, sprints; Kathy Nice, middle distances;

Lisa McDonald, long jump, shot put; Jeane Warner, discus, shot put; Kris Uehling, middle and long distances; freshman Pam Heckathorn, sprints.

Season schedule: April 2-Lauriel Relays, April 6-Wayne State Invitational, April 13-Homer Invitational, April 20-Beemer Invitational, April 27-Winside Invitational, May 6-Lewis & Clark Conference Meet, May 13-Districts at Wayne State, May 21 & 22-State Tournament.

Softball meeting and sanctioning set

An organizational meeting of the Wayne men's slow pitch softball league is scheduled at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 20 at the Wayne Jaycee Hall. At 8 p.m., Roger Frank of the Nebraska Softball Association will be on hand to sanction any men's or women's teams.

Captains of men's teams are invited to the 7 p.m. meeting to discuss plans for the 1982 season. Representatives of both men's and women's teams are asked to be on hand for the 8 p.m. meeting so Frank can sanction teams for tournament play and answer any questions.

On Saturday, April 24, a softball umpires clinic is planned at 1:30 p.m. in Wayne. A clinic is required in order for an umpire to become registered or sanctioned. Anyone interested in becoming a registered umpire or just learning more about the rules of softball is invited to attend.

Tri-County accepts Town Team

The Wayne baseball town team was accepted into the Tri-County League at a league meeting Sunday afternoon.

Team representative Doug Carroll and Wayne Baseball Association representatives Don Goeden and Randy Hassall attended the meeting as Wayne asked admittance to the league. Representatives of all teams in the league voted to admit Wayne, Hartington and Creighton into the league.

League dues of $75 are due at the next Tri-County meeting at 2 p.m. Sunday, April 18. Wayne must submit its team roster at that time. Tentative starting date for the league is May 16. Teams will be divided into two divisions and rosters will be approved at the next meeting. Laurel is also a member of the Tri-County Baseball Association.

Short in numbers

Only 1 letterman is back

With only eight girls on the team, Winside's track squad has virtually no depth.

Six top members of last year's team were lost to graduation last spring. Gone are Sue Meierhenry, Tammy Thomas, Laurie Gallop, Lori Langenberg, Becky Westerhaus and Robyn Winch.

Only one letterman returns for the Wildcats: Junior Patti

Langenberg will run the sprints and the long jump. The other junior is Mary Wantoch. There are no seniors.

Sophomores are Cindy Falk, Sherry Westerhaus and Susie Petersen. Westerhaus will compete in the sprints and relays and Petersen will run the middle distances. Coach Jim Winch said he wasn't yet sure in which events Falk would participate.

Three freshmen fill the squad. Tammy Brudigan is a sprinter. Missy Jensen will compete in the high jump and 400 meter run and Becky Janssen will run the 800 and hurdles.

Winch said it will be hard to tell early in the season how his team will do. Freshmen Jensen and Brudigan have been looking good in practice and Winch said the freshmen can come through for the team.

Winside doesn't have the depth to win any meets this year, but Winch is hoping several individuals can score some points for the Wildcats.

First test for Winside is scheduled tomorrow (Friday) in the Laurel Concord Relays at Wayne State College.

Season schedule: April 5—Laurel Relays; April 6—Wayne State Invitational; April 16—Wakfield Invitational; April 20—Beemer Invitational; April 27—Winside Invitational; April 29—dual at Wakfield; May 4—Conference Meet; May 11—Clats D districts; May 21-22—State Meet.

Two state qualifiers

Individuals hope to counter Winside's lack of depth

Individual performances will play a big role for the Winside boys track team this season. Two state qualifiers return to lead the list of Wildcats' prospects.

John Hawkins, a sophomore, qualified for the state finals in the 100 and 200 meter dashes last year. He also was a member of the state qualifying Winside relay team. Hawkins will run the 400 and compete in the shot-put this year.

Dan Broekemeier, a junior, also was a member of the state qualifying 3,200 meter relay team. In addition to the relay, he will run the 400 and 800.

Senior lettermen are Mark Koch and Barry Bowers. Koch, who will run the hurdles and other events, placed third in the 100 intermediates and fourth in the high at districts last year. Bowers will compete in both hurdles events as well as the shot put and discus. He placed third in the discus and the high hurdles at districts last season.

The only other senior on the squad is Jim Krajicek who didn't go out for track last year. He will compete in the long and triple jumps and the discus.

Jumpers are Jon Meierhenry and Brian Bowers. Meierhenry will run the middle distances and participate in the high jump. Coach Dennis Gonnerman is hoping he will hit six feet in the event this season. Bowers will run the middle distance races and the mile.

Two sophomores and two freshmen fill out the team. Sophomores are Danny Mundt and Scott Janke and freshmen are Kevin Falk and Rick Winch. Mundt will run the two mile and middle distances. Janke will throw the shot and discus and Winch will run the middle distances.

Gonnerman said his team lacks depth but has some line individuals. We're shooting for districts, he said. "Lack of numbers will probably hurt us in the invitationals." The coach said he feels at least three athletes have the potential to qualify for state. Other than the shot put and discus, there are few participants in the field events and the Wildcats will probably be weak in that area.

"It will be fun. We have 11 guys who want to be out. They are taking it seriously and working hard. They want to put out an effort," said Gonnerman.

The season will open tomorrow (Friday) in the Laurel Concord Relays at Wayne State. The schedule: April 2—Laurel Relays; April 7—Wayne State Invitational; April 16—Wakfield

Hog futures meeting Tuesday

Anyone interested in information on hog futures is invited to a meeting at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday (April 6) in the Columbus Federal building, Wayne.

Speakers will be Al Wellman and Steve Wilke. Wellman will represent the Nebraska Extension Service and Wilke is a char- list. The program is sponsored by the Wayne County Pork Pro- ducers, State National Bank and First National Bank of Wayne.

Vo Ag judging contests in Lincoln

More than 2,000 Nebraska high school students are expected on the University of Nebraska Lincoln East Campus April 1-2 for the annual vocational agriculture judging contests sponsored by the NU Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Lloyd Bell, NU ag education staff member and contests co- dinator, said five contests will be held on Thursday and eight on Friday. In some cases, students participated in district contests for the right to compete in the state contest. Most contests in- volve both team and individual competition, he said, and some winners go on to compete in national contests held in conjunc- tion with the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo. this fall.

The state level vo ag contests are held in conjunction with the Nebraska FFA Convention.

Contest winners will receive awards in a ceremony to be held Saturday morning, April 3, in the NU East Campus Union, with Dr. T. E. Hartung, dean of the College of Agriculture, presiding. The top three teams and individuals, as applicable, in each con- test will receive awards provided by a host of donors, Bell said. In addition, a sweepstakes award will go to the outstanding high school vo ag contestant group, he said.

Acres report may be adjusted

Don Harmer, district director for Federal Crop Insurance Corporation announced that farmers who have already reported their acreage of All Risk crop insured wheat for 1982 crop year can adjust that report if they participate in the ASCS acreage reduction program.

"Producers who have questions concerning that program should contact their ASCS Office," continued Harmer. "Insured producers who choose to participate in the acreage reduction program through ASCS can reduce their crop insurance premium liability by reporting the acreage reduction to their All Risk Crop Insurance Agent no later than April 16, 1982. Pro- ducers who do not have their acreage reports revised will be obligated for the premium established by their original acreage report."

Harmer also advised of a change in submitting applications for 1982 and succeeding years as follows: Oats and Barley March 31st, corn, soybeans and grain sorghum April 25th. This is a change on soybeans and grain sorghum.

Tractor test booklet available

The new Nebraska Tractor Test Data summary booklet, in- cluding nearly 700 tractor makes and models, has been published and can be purchased at Cooperative Extension Service of- fices around the state.

The cost for single copies of the booklet is $1.50 plus mailing charges, with sliding fee for larger quantities.

Tests conducted at the University of Nebraska Tractor Testing Laboratory measure power, take off and drawbar per- formance, sound levels of various models and fuel efficiency.

This year's testing includes the biggest tractor tested to date at the NU lab, the Big Bud tractor. Big Bud has a maximum short term drawbar performance of 421 horsepower.

Single copies of individual test reports, or a yearly subscrip- tion to tractor test reports as they are printed and the summary booklet at the end of each testing season, are available for a fee from the UNL Tractor Test Laboratory, East Campus, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb. 68583-0832.

CLAY POTS VS. PLASTIC POTS
Clay pots have been the standard for years. They are commonly available in many sizes and relatively inexpensive. The main advan- tage of clay is that it "breathes". Pores allow oxygen exchange in the root zone. There is less danger of overwatering a plant, because the excess water evaporates through the pot's side.

Clay pots may have several disadvantages. White, salty deposits tend to form on the pot as water evaporates through the pores. When plants are repotted, scrub all salty residues from the pot to reopen clogged pores. Plants may tend to dry out more quickly in clay pots. This really isn't a disadvantage because most plants appreciate periodic drying. Remember to soak newly purchased clay pots in water overnight before using.

Plastic pots have the advantage of retaining moisture, meaning less frequent watering is needed. However, this is also a disadvantage because plants may tend to be overwatered in plastic pots. Glazed decorative ceramic pots tend to perform like plastic pots.

Remember that pots should have a bottom drainage hole. If you have got a favorite ceramic container without a hole, place a layer of coarse gravel or pebbles in the bottom before you add potting soil. It is easy to overwater these containers. The reservoir is usually saturated after a month or two of watering. You may use the attractive con- tainer as a basket into which a standard pot is placed.

BUYING ROSES
Notice where the bushes are displayed. Are they in the full sunshine outside? Think twice before buying those! The roots may be dangerously dry. A shaded area is safer.

But those rose bushes aren't necessarily healthy if they're displayed inside either. The plants there may be too warm unless the nursery or garden center has a special cool room for them.

Ask the sales people how long the roses have been in. And check to see if packing around the roots is still moist. The longer a rose bush has been in, the greater chance you take. You're safest in paying just a little more and buying from the garden center or nursery.

Don't worry if the bush has some sprouts unless the sprouts are more than four or five inches long. That can mean the plant has been on the shelf too long.

Sheep prices should rise

Commercial sheep and lamb slaughter for 1982 is expected to be up seven to nine percent during the first quarter of the new year and then rise three to five percent higher during the second quarter, says Dr. Lynn H. Lutgen, University of Nebraska extension marketing economist.

Since 1960, sheep numbers in the United States have suffered a rapid decline, he said. "In 1980 we witnessed what appeared to be a turnaround in sheep numbers and in 1981 saw the second consecutive year of increased lamb and mutton production, with production upped about six percent from 1980.

"1981 lamb prices have suffered from poor U.S. economic conditions and competition from a large supply of all red meats and poultry," Lutgen said.

Recent research has concluded that lamb and beef prices are directly correlated, and for prices to recover, producers will need to see some relief in the beef sector, he said.

Buttermilk awards presented

The Nebraska State Dairyman's Association presented plaques to dairy producers for buttermilk averages. A silver bar is awarded for each subsequent five year period that the herd maintains this level of production.

Among the state's award winners Anderson Holsteins, Wayne 15 years, second silver bar, 305 pounds buttermilk, 68 cow herd, Wayne Lund, Wayne, 471 pounds, 47 cows, Donald Nau, Wayne, 467 pounds, 38 cows, Everett Janssen, 462 pounds, 56 cows.

Stored grain should be monitored carefully

Much of the grain from the large 1981 crop that went into storage last year will remain there for an extended period before it is sold or used. Careful monitoring is important to maintain grain quality, especially as the weather begins to warm up according to Duane Foote, University of Nebraska extension grain specialist.

Storability of grain depends primarily on its moisture content and temperature, and the amount of foreign material and mechanically damaged kernels present. These determine how long grain can be stored without appreciable loss of quality, Foote said.

Stored grain should be monitored carefully year round, even at suggested moisture levels, to make sure the quality is being maintained, Foote said. "Check for insects, mold and heat damage. Because temperature is a good indicator of the grain's condition, a bin thermometer or thermocouple columns within the bin are important."

IT'S DESIRABLE to have temperature readings from different locations and it's particularly important in the center of the bin at a depth of at least five feet, said Foote, who is also executive secretary of the Nebraska Grain Improvement Association.

Storage problems must be detected early and corrected promptly to minimize losses, he said. If moisture is above that required for safe storage, it must be reduced or equalized by drying or aeration. If evidence of insect activity is found, the grain will need fumigation for continued safe storage.

Maby grain storage problems are interrelated, Foote added. "Increased moisture in a portion of the bin may increase the temperature and create an environment favorable for mold development and increased insect activity."

With outdoor temperatures warming up, farmers need to begin to warm stored grain, Foote said. "Agricultural BALANCED LIVESTOCK forage and feed is important and can be improved with a balanced use of cool and warm season grasses.

Farm feed program needs some balance

It is important for ranchers and livestock farmers to plan a balanced livestock forage and feed program for the entire year. A balanced program provides an adequate supply of forage and feed to support the maximum number of animals and still maintain good land use, said Soil Conservation Service Range Conservation Specialist Page Jensen.

Forage and feed programs can be improved with a balanced use of cool and warm season grasses, legume residues and feed crops, he said.

"In addition, a balanced forage system should be developed by grazing livestock on two or three pastures during late spring to early fall months. The combination of grazing two or more pastures of cool and warm season grasses makes a positive forage program for the system."

CHANGING TO a fresh pasture lets the grazed pasture rest. During the rest period the grass has a chance to grow back, regaining vigor and productivity.

Jensen suggested starting a program of two or three pastures in mid to late April when the growing season starts. Cool season grasses like bromes, fescues and timothy grasses can be grazed from mid April to June. Growth stops when the cool season grasses become dormant during hot summer months.

Legumes, including alfalfa and timothy, can be used from late June to September.

Warm season grasses can be grazed from May to October, Jensen said. Excellent temporary summer pastures include sudangrasses and hybrid sudangrasses and Sudanese grasses. These annual and perennial grasses will endure summer heat while the cool season grasses are dormant.

THE WARM SEASON grasses complete the growing cycle in late summer or early fall. When warm season grasses are dormant, cool season grasses may supply additional forage from late summer to early winter.

Jensen indicated residues from corn or milo could be used from the fall until January or February. He added hay and silage would provide feed through the winter season.

This type of balanced forage and feed program would begin again in the spring with cool season grasses.

Three things on farmers' agenda this early-spring

Come spring, farmers are eager to get to the field and plant, but while they're waiting for the weather to cooperate, a University of Nebraska ag engineer urges them to do three things.

Dr. Elbert Dickey, extension agricultural engineer-conservation, said farmers can use their waiting time profitably in considering their tillage practices and in adjusting equipment.

First, Dickey urged farmers to "look at the number of tillage operations you have been performing and think about how you can hold the number to the minimum." He'd also like to see a 20 to 30 percent residue cover left on the soil surface after planting.

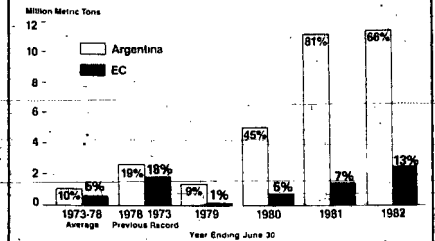

Reducing the number of operations means more time to do a better job or to farm a larger number of acres, or to use the labor savings for something else, he added.

Second, Dickey said farmers should make sure planting equipment is in good working order and is properly adjusted for the desired population and planting depth.

Finally, it's extremely important to make sure pesticide application equipment is working properly and is properly calibrated to apply the correct amount of herbicide per acre. A survey three years ago showed that two thirds of Nebraska farmers were applying more or less herbicide than they needed, Dickey said, either spending more for herbicide than necessary or producing yields because of less effective weed control.

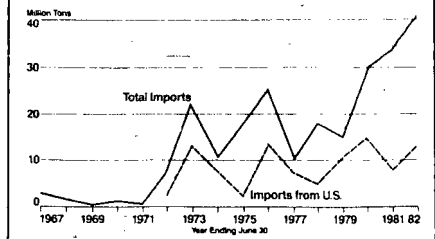

Farmers should check nozzles especially, Dickey said, and replace any that are working erratically or that are applying more than 5 percent above or below the average for all the nozzles on the applicator.

BEEF & HOG PRODUCERS NEED MORE CASH?

Did you know that even at today's prices and interest rates hogs and cattle produce enough fertilizer to more than pay their own interest costs? All you have to do is save it and apply it evenly at the time of year when it can do you the most good. Sound like a tall order?

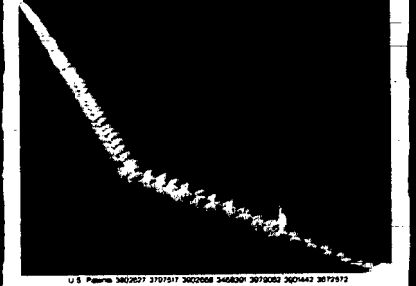

- The SLURRYSTORE System of Manure Management can fill that order with...
- ...reduced labor requirements
  - ...increased crop yields
  - ...hedge against future increases in fertilizer costs
  - ...improved fly control
  - ...reduction of objectionable odors
  - ...drastic reduction of the risk of dangerous gas production in confinement facilities.

To learn more about the benefits of the SLURRYSTORE System, plan to attend our upcoming Dinner Meeting at the Black Knight in Wayne on Wednesday, April 7th, 1982, at 7:00 p.m. Reservations requested. ## More Valley Corner Systems every year, because it's the least costly investment per acre.

It's going to be harder to make farming pay off in the years to come. Harder for many reasons. So if anything makes sense, it's to maximize the potential of the land you now farm. Irrigating with a center pivot is one way. Irrigating with a Corner System is even better. A Corner System can irrigate 19 to 45 more acres than a regular pivot, producing extra income on acres already being farmed. That's why nearly one out of every six pivots sold today is a Corner System.

And when it comes to Corner Systems, nobody knows more than Valmont. They're proven reliable with nearly 3,000 systems in operation. That's at least 20 times more than any other brand. Before you buy any center pivot, see us. We'll tell you how a Valley Corner System can add to your bottom line profits while being the least costly investment per acre.

Valley dominates the field.

Harmony comes to Nebraska's bid-rigging dilemma

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent

The Nebraska Press Association earlier that Gov. Charles Thone and state Roads Director David Coolidge didn't see eye-to-eye on the state's bid-rigging dilemma. It now appears there is some harmony in their approach to the problem.

For awhile, Thone and Coolidge seemed to be taking opposite positions on the situation, particularly as it related to state highway projects. But in the last couple of weeks it seems they have gotten together and basically are singing the same tune.

Thone made it abundantly clear bid rigging had to stop, and he indicated he would do whatever was necessary to end the illegal practice, which amounts to an agreement where one firm will get the bid and other firms will bid higher.

COOLIDGE, HOWEVER, seemed to be trying to find some way to make sure the state's bid lettings proceeded, apparently in an attempt to keep as much on schedule as possible.

But recently Thone, Coolidge and Attorney General Paul Douglas all were saying they had jointly agreed to postpone the state's bid letting on Nebraska highway projects for another two months.

The March 25 letting, which already encompassed the previously delayed February letting was delayed until May 27. The state officials said that would give them sufficient time to determine which firms would be eligible to bid on state highway projects.

But even that announcement came about with some slightly conflicting reports. Coolidge said the agreement to postpone the March bid letting was mutual, but he also told some reporters he wasn't at the meeting where Thone and Douglas came to that definitive conclusion. He found out when they called him.

BUT OTHER NEWS accounts indicated Thone, Douglas and Coolidge had been at the same meeting. That raises some questions about whether Coolidge actually took part in the final decision, or whether he was told how it would be.

Those, however, are questions that in intrigue and hant reporter-types and people close to the situation. As far as the public is concerned, the delay to May 27 probably was a good idea.

State investigators say bid rigging apparently has been going on since World War II. After all that time, a several-month delay in letting state road projects doesn't seem that unreasonable.

What is interesting is why bid rigging took place. One state investigator says contractors — during good times — found bid rigging was a good way to make sure everyone got a piece of the pie and also had a chance to save money by ensuring that they were awarded projects in their territory.

IN BAD TIMES, however, contractors apparently competed for projects just to make sure they got some. That's what bidding is all about — competing for bids on various state highway projects.

In a truly competitive situation, contractors will come forth with the lowest bid they believe possible in an attempt to win the bid, and the profits.

When bid rigging occurs, contractors who are involved pass the projects around, which in effect would be like ensuring an equal "take" for firms that were involved in bidding.

Since taxpayer dollars are involved, and since bid rigging is illegal, state officials want to make sure the practice is stopped. And if that means a delay in state road projects, so be it.

THE WELL-KNOWN phrase "an idle mind is the devil's workshop" seems to strike a responsive chord with Nebraska's new penitentiary warden.

Former federal prison official Charles Black, who recently was appointed warden, doesn't seem to like inmate idleness, and he's planning ways to avoid it.

Black recently told a Lincoln reporter he won't tolerate idleness by penitentiary inmates. Problems can arise from idleness and boredom among confined people, he said.

Although only time will tell what Black can accomplish in terms of reducing inmate idleness, it's obvious he has some plans up his sleeve. Actually, he said, it what reduces problems found in prison settings. And it also helps develop inmates for the day when they will be released.

THE UNIVERSITY of Nebraska's AGNET computer is destined for nationwide, if not worldwide, prominence.

Agriculture Secretary John Block, during a recent visit to Nebraska, announced a plan involving AGNET that he said would follow up on the Reagan administration's foreign trade commitment.

Block announced the computer network would be carrying numerous trade leads, through a hookup with the Agriculture Department's Foreign Agriculture Service.

Block said equal access will be provided for information on foreign contracts. In a single day, he said, American companies will be able to respond to foreign importers' requests for agricultural products.

Plus, Block said, private firms, state agencies and academic institutions will be able to obtain trade leads faster than via the mail.

"Time can be crucial in the highly competitive agricultural export business," Block said.

viewpoint

Two out of three

Now that the candidates for mayor of Wayne have filed for office, it may be in order to discuss some of the needs of the city in the years to come.

Wayne is, as small, rural Nebraska towns go, a vibrant city with a strong economic base. That base gains a great deal of its strength from agriculture — agribusiness, as it has come to be known today.

In addition, both the college and the industrial park offer a welcome shot in the arm to the city's Main Street economy.

Economic progress in Wayne is largely the result of a manageable growth rate, solidly financed and guided by sound decisions.

Those decisions, both in the public and private sector, have braced the economic backbone of Wayne, allowing for growth while at the same time fostering an adherence to common sense fiscal policy.

The result, for the most part, has been the development of a quality of life in Wayne that sets enviable standards for other small towns in Nebraska.

As the national economy continues to undergo a reorganization, farmers, businessmen and consumers will continue to experience pocketbook pains.

Those pocketbook pains are signs of a maturing America — an America being forced to pay for the excesses of unsound fiscal policy.

If the future of Wayne looks bright — and most would agree that it does — then it is so because some of the fiscal realities were brought home to roost here well in advance of Reaganomics.

And, if Wayne is going to continue offering its residents a first class economic and residential environment, the reigns of local government must be in the hands of mature leaders.

Those leaders must be unafraid to call on their years of business experience with an economic acumen developed in the marketplace.

There is no question that Wayne's future is at stake.

And, there is no question that keeping Wayne on the right track to meet the challenges of the coming decades is going to demand a kind of fiscal resourcefulness rarely found outside the marketplace.

Of the three candidates seeking the mayoralty in the upcoming primary election, only two incumbent Mayor Wayne Marsh and Councilman Keith Mosley could effectively meet the challenge.

Only those two offer the maturity and the common sense resourcefulness to meet the demands of the future.

Any other choice is foolhardy.

To the editor:

I was very disappointed with The Wayne Herald for not being there for the kids who participated in the skateathon for ARC.

Someone should have been there to let the community know how hard these kids were working. It was hard work on their part to get people to pledge their money and to skate the full 8 hours.

Many of these kids went home with many blisters on their feet but their determination was outstanding. They weren't about to quit.

TRKW

I asked some of the kids if they were ready to quit at about 2 o'clock, because they were exhausted and their feet hurt. But, their reply was "No, I'm going to finish, it's for a good cause."

What I would like to know is: Why is the paper always there when kids do something wrong to take their pictures and write their reports?

Where were they when our kids were participating in something where the money went for a good cause.

To the editor:

Just wanted to write a few lines to tell Randy Howell that I will miss all the wonderful pictures he has taken of the county side during his stay in Wayne.

They bring back so many fond memories of my life on our farm over a period of 67 years.

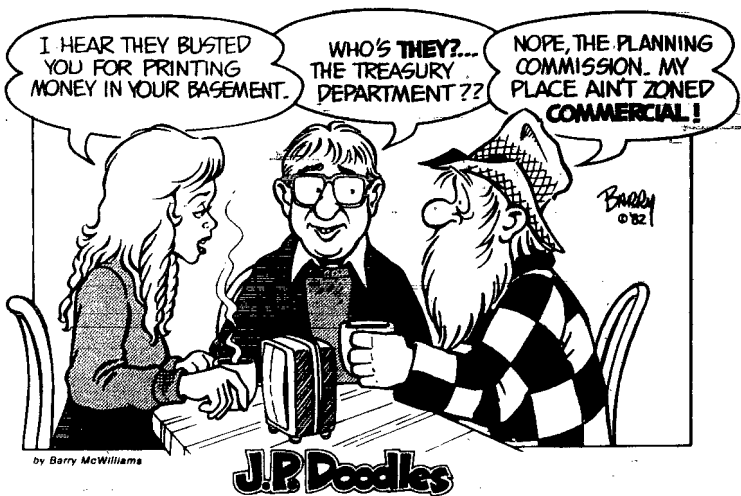

People tell me that the front yard looks so bare. That I don't care to see. But I am thankful that I have still a good memory of the way it was in the past.

I am saving your pictures for a scrap book which will be good to look through on a rainy day. Also I enjoyed your Country Boy write-ups, too.

Randy, it is nice that you can go back to the home farm. There is no better place to live than in the country.

Good luck to you and yours.

Atokad gets emergency tax relief

Time running out on bills

Time is quickly running out on the 1982 Legislative session with many bills still to be considered. A substantial number of them are bound to be automatically killed because the Legislature will not have time to act on them before it adjourns.

I was successful in getting final approval for LB 631 on Monday of last week as the bill passed on Final Reading by a vote of 38-6. This is the Atokad bill which I introduced to provide tax relief for the racetrack which suffered crippling losses last year as a result of a change in their racing dates.

The bill received the necessary 33 votes to pass with the emergency clause. This means that the provisions of the bill take effect immediately instead of 90 days after the close of the session, which is the effective date of the normal bill.

senator merle von minden

IT WAS NECESSARY to include the emergency clause because Atokad is scheduled to begin racing next month. The provisions of the bill are only effective until January 1, 1986, after which Atokad will be taxed in the same manner as the other tracks in the state.

LB 942, a complicated appropriations bill, was advanced last week. One of the provisions of the bill requires the counties to pick up the cost of state audits of county offices and political subdivisions.

The latest figures I have indicate that this would cost each of the counties in my district somewhere between $5,000 and $6,000. I voted in favor of an amendment which would have deleted this section, but it was unsuccessful.

I think this will be a terrific burden for the counties to bear if the bill passes in its present form.

ANOTHER APPROPRIATIONS bill which has been quite controversial this session is LB 816. It embodies a formula for distributing approximately $62 million of state revenue to local governments. The problem is that rural and urban senators have not been able to agree on a common distribution formula.

The plan adopted last year was recently held to be unconstitutional, which had the effect of sending the Legislature back to the drawing board.

If the figures I have now are correct, the amount to be returned to the 17th District under the formula in LB 816 would be beneficial and I will support it. However, the plan still be changed and my support of the bill may also change as a result.

I mentioned my opposition to LB 522 in this column two weeks ago when the bill was advanced to Select File. Last week the Legislature considered and advanced LB 522A which appropriates the money needed to carry out the provisions of LB 522.

THIS BILL would take the responsibility of administering the welfare program away from the counties and give it to the state at a cost of over $30 million.

The counties would be relieved of their immediate share of the costs of welfare, but I don't believe this will offset the additional costs that will be created if this bill passes.

First, there will be no more county welfare office. That means county employees are going to lose their jobs. People who already have a difficult time traveling to the county welfare office will have to travel even further to the new regional welfare office.

Second, county control over the welfare office will be lost. Your county board will lose its ability to hire the person it feels is most qualified to be the welfare director.

IT WILL NO longer have any voice in the administration of the local welfare office. Fraud is bound to increase.

There is no way that a program run from 15 regional welfare offices is going to be able to detect fraud as effectively as the county welfare office. The result will be a more expensive welfare program which we the taxpayers are going to have to pay for.

Loss of local jobs and county control, poorer services for welfare recipients and increased fraud and expense are the benefits which we will receive if LB 522 is enacted.

Fertilizer and energy costs still increasing

By M.M. Van Kirk
Nebraska Farm Bureau

Energy and fertilizer costs, two major factors in crop production expenses, are predicted by most economists for continued increases in the 1980s and give little encouragement to hopes that overall farm and ranch production costs can be stabilized.

Relatively low prices for electric power, natural gas, diesel fuel and fertilizer in the 1960s and 1970s here in Nebraska pushed the development of pump irrigation and are largely responsible for the huge increases in feed grain production in the state during those years.

These factors have had much to do with why developers tapped the water aquifers and put a great deal of marginal land under intensive irrigated crop production. In creased fuel and fertilizer costs make cropping of such marginal land less attractive.

ACCORDING TO Ronald J. Herr, research economist for American Farm Bureau Federation, nearly 95 percent of the anhydrous ammonia produced in the United States uses natural gas for its manufacture. Since 1954, the federal government has regulated wellhead gas prices at levels below competitive energy prices, a fact which over stimulated demand, under-stimulated supply and led to shortages.

The Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 is decontrolling prices for certain categories of natural gas through a phased-in program of monthly price increases.

Generally, controls on gas discovered after 1977 are to be ended by January 1985, while gas discovered before 1977 will remain under price control indefinitely. This means that about 40 percent of all natural gas will remain price controlled.

Natural gas is a basic energy source and a close substitute for other energy sources. Herr explains that in a free market, close energy substitutes will have close to equivalent prices in terms of units of energy.

IN JANUARY 1982, crude oil prices were about $34 per barrel. If natural gas were priced equal to oil on an equivalent energy basis it would average $6.20 per thousand cubic feet of the wellhead. Federal government price controls have held current average wellhead price at less than $2 per thousand cubic feet.

If the 1978 act stays as it is and the gas price is decontrolled as scheduled, then in 1985 the average price of gas will be free to rise to an energy equivalent price. Herr says barring unforeseen political events or technical developments, $6 per thousand cubic feet of natural gas is a sound forecast for 1985.

Using that gas price, fertilizer experts have projected a 1985 average price for Jergens' for anhydrous ammonia of $430 per ton, compared with an estimated average Spring 1982 price of $225.

The $430-per-ton ammonia price will cover production costs, overhead costs, distribution costs and provide a nominal level of return on the investment of the ammonia producer. Some speculative reports give estimated ammonia prices of $400 to $480 per ton by 1985, based on assumptions of $50 per barrel for crude oil.

ECONOMIST HERR points out that fertilizer prices are responsive to shifts in supply and demand. Anhydrous ammonia prices per ton have risen from $67.40 in 1973 to $265 in 1975, then dropped to $171 in 1976 and then bounced back up to current levels.

Economists say that in only 3 of the past 10 years has the anhydrous ammonia industry seen a significant return on investment.

Economists predict the interaction of supply and demand. If anhydrous ammonia goes to $430 per ton in 1985 and farm commodity prices do not rise enough to cover the cost, then farmers will cut back on its use, crop production will decline and commodity prices in turn will strengthen.

There will be new incentives for efficient utilization of nitrogen and a search for new methods of producing it. So the picture isn't all bad.

Beyond the carrot.

These days many financial institutions are dangling a carrot in front of you to get your checking account dollars...in the form of Now Account checking minimum balances...free checks...all sorts of temptations.

But if that dangling carrot doesn't hold the promise of experienced personnel, accuracy in working with checking accounts, unmatched convenience as well as a total package of financial services, the carrot may not be quite as good as it looks.

So, instead of looking for the differences in Now Accounts, look for the real differences...the experience, service and convenience that only the State National Bank can offer you. You'll see why hundreds of people have already opened a Now Account at State National Bank and Trust Co.
