Pool opening delayed

The Wayne Municipal swimming pool will open Tuesday, June 1, weather permitting, according to manager Rick Weaver. The traditional Memorial weekend opening has been postponed due to maintenance delays caused by bad weather.
Hours for the season will be 1 to 9 p.m. daily and family hour 5 to 7 p.m.

The price for a family season ticket, as announced earlier, is $45 across the board, for both residents and non-residents. Single season tickets are priced at $23. A daily pass is $1.50 and 75 cents for those five and under. Private pool parties are $15 per hour and reservations can be made through the pool office.

Assistant manager for the pool is Val Eschenbacher. Lifeguards on the staff are Greg Walsh, Sherry Dobbe, Michelle Greff, Jill Zeiss, Tom Guinan and Lisa Rastete.
Swimming lessons will begin mid June. Registration dates and a lesson schedule will be announced later.

Convention will be held

The county convention of the Wayne County Democratic Party will be held in the Wayne County Courthouse in Wayne on June 1 at 7 p.m.
All persons who filed as delegates to the county convention should be present at that time.
Democratic Chairman, Bob Ensz, said the major purpose for the convention will be to elect county officers, delegates and alternates to the state convention in North Platte.
Ensz added that visitors are welcome at the county convention.

Civil defense sirens tested

The City of Wayne will conduct the monthly testing of Civil Defense sirens at 1 p.m., May 28.
Sirens will be allowed to run only one minute with a three minute pause between each siren test. Sirens will be tested in the following sequence:
—Alert, for tornado or other natural disaster warning both high and low siren on for one minute
—Pause— three minutes
—Attack— both high and low siren on for ten seconds, off for ten seconds, continuing for one minute
Normal time sequence for each of the sirens would be a full three minutes. Since this is for testing purposes only, we will shut them off after one minute each, so that the public can quickly determine the difference between test and actual warning.
If any resident living near a siren should fail to hear the test, please contact the police department promptly, so that the siren can be checked for malfunction.

Correction
The front page photograph of the May 24 issue of The Wayne Herald was incorrectly labeled as hogs owned by Richard Sorenson, which were to be flown to China. The proper identification is that of Bob and Don Knapp of rural Madison, Neb.
Also the first and second columns of the story were inadvertently switched.
The correct photograph and a story of Sorenson's livestock shipped to China appears in B section of today's paper. We regret the errors.
In a photograph of the May 24 Wayne Herald, public works employee Gerald Otte was incorrectly identified as Dennis Otte. We regret the error.

Nationwide Swedish America arts tour coming to Wakefield

Teater, Visafon och Bal, a nationwide tour of traditional performing arts of Swedish America, will appear in Wakefield on Sunday, June 6, at 7 p.m.

The performance will be in the Wakefield Community Schools auditorium. Advance tickets are $3 for adults ($2.50 at the door) and $1.50 for children 12 years of age and under.

Lunch following the performance will be served by Wakefield Senior Citizens. THE NATIONAL Council for the Traditional Arts, a non-profit organization in its 44th year of public programming of the regional and ethnic arts of the United States, has assembled the representative group of the best performers of Swedish folk traditions, immigrant songs and Swedish American dialect humor.

The group of 15 persons (13 performers, a director and a sound technician) is visiting communities from Chicago to Seattle between May 22 and June 13.

The performance is about two and a half hours in length.

ONE OF the stars of the performance is Anne Charlotte Harvey, a native of Stockholm who grew up in Sweden but came to the United States in 1960 as a student. During her years in Minnesota, Anne Charlotte started to perform Scandinavian and Scandinavian American songs on radio and television.

Prominent in all Snose Boulevard Festivals in the mid-seventies, she has documented that heritage in three records. HALF OF Sunday's performance in Wakefield will be Swedish Folk Traditions in America, under the supervision of Gordon Ekwall Tracie. Since 1948, his Skandia Folkdance Society in the Seattle area has encouraged the community to learn and practice the traditional dances of Sweden and the rest of Scandinavia.

This community of dancers has, in turn, made Seattle a stronghold of the instrumental music (most notably team fiddling) with which Swedish folk dancing originated.

Seattle musicians will join Paul Dahlin, third-generation member and lead fiddler of Minnesota's famous "Spelman" trio during this part of the evening's entertainment.

THE OTHER half of the performance will emphasize the arts that have arisen within the American Swedish community.

The general framework is that of a memory album based on the popular road shows of Olle Skraftthult and his company. A comedy in dialect, "The Man from Minnesota" will feature Steve Benson of Minneapolis as Charlie Lutfisk. Anne Charlotte Hanes Harvey, now of San Diego, will be the reading lady.

This part of the program will also feature Mrs. Harvey's spirited and sensitive performance of immigrant ballads in Swedish and English.

THE NATIONWIDE tour of traditional performing arts of Swedish America is sponsored by the National Endowment for the Arts and the Nebraska Arts Council and presented by the National Council for the Traditional Arts.

Further inquiries or information should be directed to Teater, Visafon och Bal, Box 69 Wakefield, Neb. 68784.

Stoltenberg and Mosley lead successful charge in Blue Devils' sixth place finish at state meet FOUR SMILING faces: from left, Missy Stoltenberg, Fran Gross, Jill Mosley and Jill Zeiss beam with excitement. The 400-meter relay team placed fourth at state and Stoltenberg and Mosley placed individually.

Missy Stoltenberg won three medals and Jill Mosley claimed two as the Wayne High girls track team placed sixth in the muddy Nebraska State Track and Field Championships held Friday and Saturday in Omaha.

Stoltenberg, who has run the fastest Class B time (1:23.1) in the 100 meter dash this year, finished fourth at state with a time of 1:25.2 seconds.

She also has run the third fastest Class B time in the 200 and produced a .26.2 per formance to place second in the state 200 finals. Those two performances accounted for 12 of Wayne's 25 points.

Another eight points was picked up when Jill Mosley claimed second place in the long jump. Mosley, whose career best is 17.5, broke 17 feet for the first time this year.

Her mark of 17.1 held up for first place until Chris Becker of Grand Island Northwest made her final jump of the day and hit 17.4. Mosley also entered state competition with Class B's fourth best time (1:26.3) in the 200 but didn't qualify for Saturday's final.

Wayne's 400 meter relay team added four more points with a fourth place finish. The team of Mosley, Stoltenberg, Jill Zeiss and Fran Gross had a time of 51.70 while placing third in their tough heat. Zeiss, also competing in the 100 meter hurdles, reached the finals but didn't win a medal.

Kelly Bartholomaus was a pleasant surprise for the Blue Devils as she earned a fourth place medal with a toss of 36.3 in the shot put. Jo Carlson also made the finals.

THREE OTHER AREA entries participated in the state meet but none won medals. Winside's 1,600 meter relay team set a new school record of 4:26.5 but failed to place. Team members are: Patti Laugenberg, Tammy Brudigan, Susie Peterson and Missy Jensen.

For Allen, Joanne Warner competed in the rain delayed discus but didn't make the final. Michelle Harder also failed to reach the finals in the 400 meter dash.

Team champions were Lincoln High in Class A, Lincoln Plus in Class B, David City Aquinas in Class C and Wheeler Central in Class D.

Class B girls top 10: 1. Lincoln Plus 45, 2. Raymond Central 34, 3. Gretna 30, 4. Lexington 29, 5. Gering 26, 6. Wayne 25, 7. Wahoo 24, Holdrege 24, 9. Gothenburg 22, 10. Minden 20.

KELLY BARTHOLOMAUS placed sixth in the shot put at the state track meet held this past weekend.

Randy's Recap

By Randy Hascall

FOR SALE: one 35mm camera with faulty shutter, short in electrical system and hot shoe that doesn't work. Real cheap!

All of the pictures I took Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday never existed. I found out the hard way that one of the Wayne Herald's cameras is faulty. And I mean the hard way.

It gave me a sick feeling in my gut when all of the film I developed was completely blank. It depleted my faith when I learned that every single photo I took was nothing more than a waste of time and energy.

The camera sounds fine and looks fine. But, looks and sounds are often deceiving. After I discovered that an apparent short caused the light meter to run continuously and wear out batteries I thought I had the matter solved. I merely pulled the battery after each picture I took and then replaced it when I was ready to shoot again.

Discovering that the hot shoe doesn't work didn't bother me too much since I don't usually use a strobe light.

But, the shutter not working? Now, that bothers me.

I should have realized it was an omen when I left my car lights on at Friday's state track meet. When I lost two press passes in 30 minutes I should have really worried. Getting soaked by rain and covered with mud at the track meet didn't particularly bother me since everyone else suffered the same consequences.

But, why did the camera have to malfunction? After discovering the camera wasn't working, my first reaction was to throw the thing into a puddle of water in front of a semi truck barreling down the highway. My second reaction was to throw myself into the puddle along with the camera.

But it's over and nothing can be done to replace the pictures I took.

The shot of Jill Mosley straining as she broke 17 feet in the long jump for the first time this year—gone.

The shot of Missy Stoltenberg burning across the finish line to place second in the 200 meter dash and fourth in the 100—gone.

The look of satisfaction on Jon Meierhenry's face as he cleared the high bar enroute to winning a medal and conquering his six foot barrier—gone.

The pain on Mark Koch's face as he strided over a hurdle while placing fourth in the 300 meter intermediate hurdles—gone.

The determination of John Hawkins as he placed in the 100 meter dash—gone.

The look of hope for a strong finish following a handoff in the Wayne girls 400 meter relay race—gone.

The grueling follow through of shot putter Kelly Bartholomaus as she heaved the heavy steel ball far enough to win a sixth place medal—gone.

The look of fulfillment and excitement on contestants' faces after winning medals at Saturday's State Special Olympics—gone.

All gone. Not to mention photos taken at Wayne High's graduation Sunday and athletic banquet Thursday.

THE STATE TRACK meet wasn't one of the most enjoyable in history. There was plenty of talent and good competition in many events. But, Friday's rain made things miserable for participants and fans.

On Friday, the shot put, high jump and pole vault were all moved to an indoor facility at Boys Town. On Saturday, the events were moved back outdoors at Omaha Burke.

Can you imagine pole vaulting outdoors all four years of your career and then trying to vault indoors at state? Somehow, seeing four walls and a ceiling as you truck down the runway has to affect your first vault.

High jumpers were required to discard their spikes when competing on the floor's artificial surface. The shot put probably was least affected by the move indoors.

Friday's competitors in the high jump and pole vault didn't have to battle wind while Saturday's competitors faced a stiff breeze.

I don't know who actually had an advantage but I can't help but think that comparing Friday's indoor marks with Saturday's outdoor marks wasn't fair in the selection of All Class gold medal winners.

I ALSO WAS fortunate enough to take in an hour or more of the State Special Olympics Saturday. Conflicting schedules with State Track events prevented me from staying any longer. Because of a lack of space, I'll touch more on the Special Olympics in my next column.

Articles and photos of area participants also will be included in the next edition of The Herald.

Tennis lessons, baseball, softball, golf included in summer rec program

Free tennis lessons will again be offered to Wayne area youths age 10 through 18 through a program sponsored by the Wayne City Park and Recreation Department.

Those interested are encouraged to pre-register at 11 a.m. Wednesday, June 2 at the Wayne State College tennis courts. Rain date is Thursday, June 3.

Pre-registration is necessary to split participants into groups according to age and ability, coordinator Tom Roberts said.

Morning classes are tentatively scheduled to begin at 8, 9, 10 and 11 a.m. on Monday, June 7. They will continue on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays for a four-week period through July 1.

Tennis balls will be furnished to all participants. Youths should bring their own racquets and tennis shoes. Some racquets will be available to those who do not have their own.

At completion of the summer session, U.S.T.A. certificates and badges will be awarded to those who successfully complete different levels of the program.

Each badge award also will be accompanied by a can of used tennis balls. The program, sponsored by the City Park and Recreation Department, is entering its eighth year in existence. Roberts is instructor of the program.

Three Winside boys, Mahler earn medals

For some area participants, the Nebraska Track and Field State Championships were as dismal as the weather. But for others, things couldn't have been more pleasant.

Marty Mahler of Allen was the area's only double medal winner in the boys division. He placed fifth in the 1,600-meter run with a time of 4:29.90 and sixth in the 3,200-meter run with a time of 9:52.83.

Winside's Jon Meierhenry achieved a mark of personal satisfaction when he cleared six feet for the first time in high jump competition. His personal best tied him for sixth place. Because of rain and wet grounds, the high jump was held at the Boys Town indoor facility Friday.

The 110-meter high hurdles was a disappointing event for two Winside athletes. Mark Koch false-started the race for an automatic disqualification and Barry Bowers, an expected contender, failed to reach the finals. Koch came back to place fourth in Saturday's finals of the 300-meter intermediate hurdles with a time of 1:41.5. His performance gave Winside four points.

John Hawkins finished fifth in the 100-meter dash with a time of 11:29 seconds. He reached the finals of the 200 but didn't place. He also competed in the shot put.

Barry Bowers, a four-event qualifier, had a disappointing state meet. He had hoped to win a medal in the 110-meter high hurdles but got off to a bad start. His attempts to place in the 300-meter intermediates, shot put and discus also came up empty handed.

WAKEFIELD'S JERRY Roberts came close to winning a medal in the 100-meter dash. He qualified for the finals but didn't win a medal. Roberts also came up dry in the 400-meter dash as did teammate Rod Nixon in the 200.

Wayne didn't qualify any boys for the state meet.

District baseball game postponed

The high school district semi-final baseball game between Wakefield and Laurel was postponed Monday afternoon due to rain and a wet, slippery playing field.

Laurel led 4-3 in the third inning when the game was called by the umpires. Jeff Coble, Brian Soderberg and Mark Starzl scored for the Trojans in the first inning and Brian Marquardt scored for Laurel in the bottom of the inning.

The Bears added five more runs before the rain picked up and the game was postponed indefinitely. Three runs scored on a fly ball that was dropped by a Wakefield outfielder as he slid in the mud trying to make the catch. Wayne and Omaha South also must play in semifinal round action.

Temper between the coaches and fans flared up during the game and immediately following the postponement.

Town team games changed

Because rain has prevented play by the Wayne baseball Town Team, games have been tentatively rescheduled throughout the next week.

Wayne will play tonight (Thursday) at Wausa, host Hartington Friday, play at Wisner Saturday and play a regularly scheduled game Sunday at Bloomfield. Coleridge will visit Wayne next Thursday (June 3) and Laurel will play at Wayne on Friday, June 4.

Underclassmen lead WSC to 13th place

A young bunch of Lady Wildcats turned in exceptional performances to highlight the Wayne State College efforts in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics outdoor track and field championships last week in Charleston, W.V.

The Lady Wildcats, all underclassmen, scored 12 points to tie for a 13th place team finish nationally. Prairie View A & M (Texas) won the women's division with 117 points, while Abilene Christian (Texas) took the men's division with 80 points.

The Wayne State men's team, represented only by Ed Blackburn, did not score. Coach LeRoy Simpson's thinclads returned with a pair of All-Americans on the Lady Cat roster, but men's performer Ed Blackburn (senior, Malvern, IA) failed in his effort to earn his third consecutive All-American accolade.

Blackburn, twice a top performer in the 110-meter high hurdles, was slowed by a hamstring pull suffered earlier this month at the NAIA District 11 championships, and by the fact that his practice time was limited due to his attendance at a Denver Bronco's mini football camp in mid-month. Blackburn failed to make the finals in the hurdles.

Another WSC hurdler, Lady Cat Kelley Peterson (sophomore, Nehawka), placed third in the 100-meter hurdles in a career-best time of 14.54 seconds. Thus, Peterson has earned NAIA All America honors in both indoor and outdoor track this season. Sophomores Janet Lee (Albion), who returned to competitive track this spring after an absence of several years, herself earned All America praise with a fourth place finish in the 1,500 meter run. Janet ran the event in 4:43.26, four seconds better than her lowest previous time.

Also placing nationally was the Lady Cat medley relay team of Peterson, Marlan Borgman (junior, Osmond), Vicki Qualtes (junior, Omaha), and Lisa Pyle (freshman, Sioux City, IA.) Their time of 1:48.25 earned them a fifth placing.

The women's 4 x 100 meter relay squad turned in a strong performance, "the best they've ever run," according to Coach Simpson, but their eighth-place finish failed to score points. Team members were Peterson, Borgmann, Qualtes and Lori Schultenberger (freshman, Hooper).

Also barely missing out on points was high jumper Vicki Wamberg (freshman, Wausa) who's 5-4 leap matched her season best but was one place away (seventh) from scoring. Freshman shotputter Tracy Newberger (Omaha) was the other WSC student-athlete competing in the nationals.

Winside slow pitch tourney nears

A double elimination slow pitch softball tournament is scheduled June 19 and 20 at Winside. Tournament director Robbie Jacobsen is hoping to fill a 16 team field in the sanctioned tourney.

Entry fee is $50 and two balls. A couple of openings are still available, Jacobsen said. To enter a team call Jacobsen at 375-2200, extension 394 between 7 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. His home phone number is 286-4451.

Work day again planned on fields

The Wayne Jaycees have again planned work sessions on the softball fields at the Jaycees Complex near the Wayne lagoon. Work sessions are scheduled from 6 to 9 p.m. Friday and from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Two previous work sessions had to be postponed due to the rainy weather. Plans call for outfield fences and backstops to be put up.

Any and all work on the Jaycees Complex must be on an organized work night under Jaycee supervision.

Wakefield driver places second

Mike Benson of Wakefield placed second in the trophy dash and second in the A feature of Sunday's late model races at Interstate Speedway in Jefferson, S.D.

Benson won his heat race and then took the runner up spot in the evening's two biggest races.

Midget, Legion teams to open

Midget and Legion baseball in Wayne will begin as soon as weather permits. Players will be notified by coach Hank Overin and practice will be held from 6 p.m. until dark.

The Wayne Legion team is scheduled to play Norfolk at 5 p.m. Sunday in the annual Chuck Ellis Tournament at Wakefield. Ralph Bishop League play will start Friday, June 4 at Bancroft and Saturday, June 5 when Wayne hosts Elkhorn. The Bancroft game is scheduled at 5 p.m. and the Elkhorn double header will be held at 5:30 and 7:30.

Another player signed at WSC

Rick Weaver, head basketball coach at Wayne State College, has announced the name of another recruit who plans to participate in Wildcat basketball next season.

The newcomer is 6-4, 200 pound forward John Reed. Reed is a transfer from Iowa Central Junior College, where he played under Coach Dennis Pilcher. Iowa Central compiled a 28-4 mark last season as Reed averaged 10.3 points and 8.1 rebounds per game.

"He's a quick, strong inside player who is extremely physical," Weaver said. "We are happy that John has decided to join us at Wayne State College."

Chuck Ellis Tourney near

The annual Chuck Ellis Memorial Baseball Tournament is scheduled to begin Sunday, weather providing. Pairings were announced Wednesday by tournament director Paul Eaton.

The first game is planned at 1 p.m. between Laurel and Sioux City Heelan. At approximately 3 p.m. Sioux Falls will meet Creighton; Wayne and Norfolk will do battle at approximately 5 p.m. At 8 p.m., the winners of the 3 p.m. game will meet the 5 p.m. winner.

Wakefield and Emerson are also in the tourney and are scheduled to meet at 5 p.m. Monday. Wakefield High School is expected to compete in the High School Tournament this weekend.

The Laurel-Heelan winner will meet the winner of the Wakefield-Emerson game at 5:30 next Thursday (June 3). The next game is scheduled to follow at 8 p.m. American Legion teams compete in the Chuck Ellis Tourney.

State baseball moved to Friday

The Nebraska State High School Baseball Tournament has been moved back to a tentative starting date of Friday.

Rain which has forced postponement of several district tourneys, also forced the state meet to be rescheduled again. Conde Sargent of the Nebraska School Activities Association said it is possible that the tourney will be concluded with a triple header on Saturday or continued with the championship game on Monday.

4th Jug takes 2nd in 16-team tourney

The 4th Jug softball team placed second last weekend in the Alley Winery Slow Pitch Softball Tournament at South Sioux City. Sixteen teams competed.

The Jug, a member of Wayne's A League, defeated Sioux Tools, Welsh's, Airport Standard, Emerson and Crow's Hybrid in the tourney. Both losses were assessed by Waldbaum's.

The narrowest margin of victory came in the opening game, a 5-5 win over Sioux Tools. Bill Schultz led the team with two hits and Ron Gilbert scored two runs. Winning pitcher was Kim Baker.

The locals pounded out 22 hits to defeat Welsh's 13-3 in second round action. Schultz had three hits to lead the team and also scored three runs. Steve Ataman and Rod Bowder each had three hits. Designated hitter Baker had two hits and scored twice. Jake Munter and Charlie Crumyn each recorded two hits. Brad Wieland was the winning pitcher.

The Jug collected quite a few hits but gave up too many runs in a 15-5 loss to Waldbaum's. Rod Berner had three hits and Mic Daehnke, Dave Diediker and Charlie Roland had two apiece.

Against Airport Standard, the locals rolled to an 11-4 victory. Daehnke ripped four hits and Schultz, Berner and Gilbert added three each. Baker was winning pitcher.

Emerson fell victim to the Jug 12-2. Berner and Baker had three hits apiece and Schultz blasted a grand slam home run.

The 4th Jug took a 9-2 win against Crow's Hybrid of Wayne. Berner had three hits, Schultz had two, Daehnke had two and Ataman had two for the winners. Crow's was led by Ray Wagner with two hits.

In a rematch with Waldbaum's, the Jug still didn't have much luck. Waldbaum's won the title with a 13-0 shutout. Ron Gilbert had two hits and Dan Veto added a double in the losing cause.

He said there were about 28 cities in the state ranked in the same area as Wayne. Of the 28 cities, five have license control. Wayne has one store for every 359 people and the median of the 28 cities is one store for 405 people. "It's also interesting to note that of the five cities with regulations taken as a group and the 23 other cities as another group, both sets have the same median one for every 678 people," he said.

IN OTHER ACTION the council denied rezoning requests for Lots 9 and 10, block two, North addition; East half of lot six, seven and eight, block two East addition; West half of lot six, seven and eight, block two, East addition.

The rezoning requests were from the present business three to residential two.

Council followed the recommendations of the Planning and Zoning commission which Monday night had voted to deny the requests.

The council also Tuesday night:

— Received a letter of resignation from Anton Netherda of the Planning and Zoning commission.

— Set several dates for budget working sessions.

— Received a letter from the City Chamber of Commerce requesting that the city ordinance be changed to allow sale of alcoholic beverages on election days.

— Received a letter from the Wayne Ministerial association requesting that no program testing of such cablevision stations as Playboy's Escapade channel be allowed in Wayne.

Speaker will be Girls State representative Susan Baker. Holly Meyer will recite the "Gettysburg Address."

Music will be by the high school Trojan band, under the direction of Diane Trullinger.

Holiday program reviewed

"We'll have as many officers patrolling as possible over the Memorial Day weekend," said Lieutenant Bill Green, Norfolk, of the Nebraska state patrol.

"Of course we're also stressing for people to use the "REDDI" program when they believe a driver may be intoxicated," he said.

The REDDI (Report Every Drunken Driver, immediately) program, according to Green, has been very effective in the year it's been in operation.

"The caller need not identify themselves," Green said, "but we need to have a description of the car and license number when possible, its location and the direction it was heading when seen."

Green indicated the patrol has had good results in reducing the number of drunk drivers on the highways since beginning the program.

"Otherwise," Green said, "we have no other special holiday programs besides keeping as many officers patrolling as we can."

5% CASH BONUS* makes a Ford easier to buy.

FORD CARE COVERAGE makes a Ford easier to own.

If you're in the market for a new car, Ford has a program designed to make it easier to buy and easier to own a new Ford. A program that will stack up against any other offer in the business. For starters, you get a cash bonus worth hundreds of dollars on any new 1982 or 1981 Granada, Granada wagon, Fairmont Futura, Mustang, Escort or EXP. And it's one hundred percent direct from Ford. You can take your bonus in a check from Ford or apply it against your down payment. It's your choice. See your Ford Dealer for details. But, hundreds of dollars in savings on a new Ford car is only the beginning.

Ford is going to stay with you down the road, too, with Ford Care Coverage. It's the closest thing to cost-free driving because Ford pays for all scheduled maintenance. And unlike other offers, Ford Care includes a workmanship warranty that also pays for repairs. That's a big difference. Ford Care is good for two years or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first. Virtually all you pay for is gas. Ford Care is a limited warranty that excludes tires, fluids, accidents or abuse. And, it's available on any new 1981 or 1982 Granada, Granada wagon, Mustang, Fairmont Futura, Escort or EXP.

IT'S ALL FOR YOU AND ONLY FROM FORD.

Loss of car companies are trying to get you into their cars. But Ford is doing it right with cash bonuses and Ford Care Coverage. What's more, you can get them from any Ford Dealer anywhere in the country. So, see your Ford Dealer and take delivery by June 6, 1982. Limit one per customer. 31 graduate at Wakefield Thirty-one students received diplomas during graduation exercises Sunday afternoon at Wakefield High School.

Ceremonies were moved from the Wakefield ball park to the school auditorium as school officials feared another rainy day. The graduation address, entitled "Choose This Day," was delivered by the Rev. Dana White of the United Presbyterian Church, Wakefield.

"THE DAY is here," Pastor White told the students, "when you put your childhood behind you and begin your adult life."

"Many of you would like to have instant adulthood. However, adulthood is something you will look for the rest of your life."

"But," she added, "it begins to day."

PASTOR WHITE told the group that if their lives are to be successful they must look for ways to give to others.

"A few of you will be extremely successful," she said. "A few of you will never grow up. Though your hair may turn gray, you will still be self-centered and irresponsible."

"Most of you will be somewhere in between," she added.

"NOW, YOU alone will be responsible for your mistakes. Although this is one of the greatest days of your life, it is also very frightening."

She told the students although talent years ago was defined as a measure of weight, today it is defined as a specific ability that a person possesses.

"Each person is unique in their own special way. God created us equal, yet we each have an essential gift or talent that is needed by the world."

"If you don't use what is given to you, you will lose it."

PASTOR WHITE told the students they will need to make choices every day of their lives.

"The choices you make now, at the threshold of your life, will determine the rest of your life," she said.

"Never make the mistake of thinking your choices don't matter."

"What you do and how you choose to live your lives under these worldly conditions is your choice. Your life - your talents - your choice."

"YOU CANNOT always control the conditions of your life, but you can always control how you will live your life under those conditions," she concluded.

"Choose this day to decide which way you will go in order to reach that wholeness for which you were created."

THE REV. MARTY Burgess of the Wakefield Christian church delivered the invocation and the benediction.

Special music included "Follow Rain and Rivers" by a girls trio, and "Lonesome Valley" by the varsity choir.

NEARLY 400 BALLOONS SWEEP across Wayne skies early Saturday afternoon after being released downtown by members of the Wayne Regional Arts Council. Twice before rain had prevented the release of the balloons, which are carrying messages promoting Wayne's upcoming Chicken Show sponsored by the Arts Council. Among those on hand Saturday for the release of the balloons was two-year-old Ann Swerczek, photo at right, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. David Swerc-

Wayne farmer's disease-free pigs are now Chinese

It may be stretching things a little too far to say that Dick Sorensen may play a role in the future of China's number one meat.

However, the Wayne pig producer is one of nine Nebraskans helping China improve the health and genetics of its hogs. On Saturday, 25 of Sorensen's disease-free pigs were among 463 being shipped to the highly populated country.

This is only the third plane-load of hogs ever to be flown from the United States to China. The Chinese plan to crossbreed the American and Chinese hogs to improve on health and rate of gain. Sorensen said it is his understanding that in China many hogs are inbred.

Pork is China's number one meat but Sorensen said the quality "leaves a lot to be desired." The quality can be improved pretty easily by crossbreeding, he said.

ALL 463 HEAD were hauled to the state fairgrounds in Lincoln where they were weighed in dividually and given antibiotic shots for stress. They were fed and watered that afternoon to prepare for the long trip.

The pigs were loaded into trucks and then into the plane, which is specially made for freight. Double-decked wooden and wire pens in the plane were equipped with 30 gallon hog waterers. Ten to 15 pigs were loaded in each crate.

The crates, approximately 15 in all—were lifted into the plane with a fork lift. Rollers on the floor of the plane made moving of the crates relatively easy.

Eight seats were included on the plane. Three were filled by Chinese personnel, one by a representative of the United States Department of Agriculture, one by a member of the Nebraska Specific Pathogen Free Association, another by a state veterinarian and two by agents representing the Nebraska Department of Agriculture.

Those men sat in the rear of the plane, only a few feet from the pig crates. They supervised unloading and care of the pigs for one week after they were delivered to Peking.

After leaving the Lincoln airport Saturday afternoon, the plane took a 5½ hour flight to Anchorage, Alaska. After a 1½ hour customs check, the plane flew 4½ hours to Tokyo. After another two hour layover, the final 2½ hour flight to Peking was completed.

All 463 pigs arrived in Peking alive and well at approximately 10:30 p.m. Monday, according to Sorensen, who received word on the flight Tuesday. The hogs will now undergo a 60 day quarantine and will be isolated from all other hogs.

THE CHINA-NEBRASKA hog deal originated on Governor Charles Thone's trip to mainland China last summer to help promote agriculture. Thone learned that China was interested in buying clean, healthy hogs.

The state of Nebraska made initial contact last fall and the Nebraska Specific Pathogen Free (SPF) Association handled the agreement. In January, a delegation of seven Chinese came to Nebraska to set up details on the deal.

DICK SORENSEN'S pigs were among 463 that were shipped to China this past weekend. The pigs were immunized at Lincoln and then loaded on the plane. All 463 head survived the long flight to Peking.

OF THE 463 PIGS purchased by the Chinese, 200 are Hampshire and 263 are Duroc. A total of 350 are gilts and the other 113 are boars. Sorensen was one of about 20 Duroc breeders contacted about the deal.

Selection of the pigs was complicated. Nine tests and several other requirements had to be passed. The animals were checked for brucellosis, pseudorabies, rhinitis, pneumonia, tuberculosis and several other diseases.

helped with the other tests.

After the initial tests were run and passed, each pig had to be inspected for any physical problems. Because three forms of identification were needed on each hog, both ears were tagged and one was notched.

SORENSEN SAYS the Chinese were really fussy and rejected all pigs that didn't meet all the requirements. "I thought I was lousy," he said.

The three Chinese diplomats who have been in Nebraska since January hand-picked their hogs and eliminated anything that didn't meet their high standards. "They inspected each pig with a fine tooth comb," said Sorensen.

Perhaps one reason that the Chinese were so particular is the fact that they bought a load of hogs several years ago that weren't disease free. They ran into serious health problems that time.

The sale is a joint venture between the Chinese government and its import-export organization. Much red tape is involved and several federal and state forms must be filled out according to Sorensen.

The Chinese government will send payment for the pigs and testing to the Nebraska SPF Association. China also must pay transportation cost which is about half the cost of the hogs.

NEARLY 100 IDEAS TO HELP YOU MANAGE MONEY

Banvel Herbicide is your best choice for velvetleaf control in 8" to 24" corn.

Banvel Herbicide hits the broadleaf weeds 2,4-D gets, plus many more.

If you've been disappointed in your 2,4-D weed control. Now's the time to look at Banvel Herbicide.

Apply Banvel in 8" to 24" corn to control dozens of broadleaf weeds, including: velvetleaf, pigweed, smartweed, sunflower and cocklebur.

Banvel penetrates leaf surfaces. Plus, it moves through the soil to attack weed roots. Then translocates throughout the broadleaf weed, killing leaf-tip to root- tip. Yet Banvel offers excellent crop tolerance. No other herbicide comes close. Not even 2,4-D.

For best results, always use drop nozzles when the crop is 8" or taller. By directing the spray under the corn canopy, you'll hit more weeds for better control.

If you have broadleaf weed problems in 8" to 24" corn, make your best choice for best control. Banvel Herbicide. See your ag-chem supplier today.

New method to check spraying

Aerial application of pesticides is often the most economical way to spray for pests. However, a host of weather conditions and other factors can alter the intended spray pattern, resulting in less efficiency and the possibility of spray contacting non-target areas.

Aerial applicators are highly skilled, but until recently there hasn't been a good method for determining the accuracy of their spray patterns, according to University of Nebraska extension plant pathologist Dr. Dave Wysong. The effective width of the swath sprayed by air might not be apparent until later in the growing season when pockets of weeds or insect activity might indicate a less-than-perfect pattern.

Recently, however, agricultural engineers at Kansas State and Oklahoma State universities and a private consultant from Kansas have developed a method for charting where droplets land. The Nebraska Aviation Trades Association asked Wysong and NU ag engineer Ernie Hewett to attend a "fly-in" for aerial applicators last month at Cozad, to help Nebraska applicators improve their patterns and to train Wysong and Hewett in the new technology.

The method includes several components. An aluminum track six inches above the ground holds a 100-foot strip of two-inch wide paper tape to catch the spray droplets. A computer in the middle of this 100-foot flight line records wind speed, wind direction and ground speed of the aircraft at the moment it passes over the tape. Photoelectric cells hooked to an instant camera are activated by the computer and a picture is taken to record the plane's altitude and attitude with respect to the tape.

A pilot makes a series of three passes and the data are analyzed. A fluorometer counts the spray droplets, their pattern and wind and aircraft conditions are entered into an Apple computer, which prints out a graph of individual passes and computes the average of two or more passes. Next a trained interpreter visits with the pilot to analyze the graphs and the instant photo which may show that the pilot was under or over compensating for conditions or that a wing was tipped to high or low.

The method's developers already have descriptive names for two of the common patterns they find. The "Pinnocchio" describes the spike that appears near the middle of the swath when drop nozzles are overworking while the "Dolly Parton" refers to a pattern containing two high concentrations resulting from wing tip roll. The interpreter makes suggestions to the pilot, such as changing altitude or adjusting certain nozzles. Then the pilot can fly another set of three passes and try to improve his pattern.

The new method is important to the aerial application industry, Wysong said. Before it was developed, "We didn't have a very good idea of where the spray was going and at what concentration," he said. Variations in droplet size, unnatural turbulence, vortices set up beside the fuselage and a host of other conditions made the actual application the weak link in the process, Wysong said.

Hopefully, Nebraska and Colorado can share in the purchase of the equipment to use the new method, tagged at $18,000 to $20,000, so that more fly-ins can be held in this area, Wysong said. A second "fly-in" is tentatively planned this fall in Nebraska, he said.

the Chinese government, Nebraska Governor Charlie Thone and Burt Garvin from the state department. Thone was the originator of the U.S.-Chinese pig deal.

Cattle prices expected to be fairly steady

The fairly sharp rise in fed cattle prices so far this year may end soon, with prices for the next several months holding near or moderately below early May levels.

That's the prediction of University of Nebraska Extension Economist Dr. Al Wellman, who said cattle feeders can look for fairly steady prices on fed cattle during the late spring and summer. "While some price decline is possible, a major price setback is unlikely," Wellman stated.

THE INSTITUTE of Agriculture and Natural Resources livestock marketing specialist said the strong prices so far in 1982 stem in part from slightly smaller supplies of beef, along with a significant cutback in pork supplies. Choice steers on the Omaha market were at the $73 to $75 per hundredweight level on May 10, about $15 or $16 higher than in early January and $4 to $6 higher than a year ago.

Even though beef supplies should be only slightly larger than last year during the summer while pork supplies remain down about 10 percent from a year ago, significant further price improvement for fed cattle is very unlikely, Wellman said.

Overall weak economic conditions probably will slow retail demand for beef once the higher live cattle prices are reflected more at the retail counter. But chances appear good that prices will be in the upper $60 range during the late spring and summer with a possibility of prices down to the mid $60s and as high as the low $70s at times, Wellman said.

"If prices are in this general range over the next few months, Wellman said, there should be moderate profits on most of the cattle coming out of feedlots," he pointed out.

THIS PROBABLY will mean stronger feeder cattle prices, Wellman observed. But if not favorable returns are to continue, he cautioned, it will be important that feeder cattle prices remain in a realistic relationship to probably fed cattle prices during the last half of this year and into 1983. "While prices that far ahead are highly uncertain, planning on the basis of fed prices in the mid to upper $60 range would seem more appropriate than much higher levels," he reasoned.

Wellman said fed cattle slaughter in the April-June quarter should be up slightly from a year ago, with a modern increase likely for the third quarter. Total cattle slaughter should be up 12 percent, with third quarter slaughter up 23 percent and moderately larger than during the first two quarters of the year.

The likelihood that fed cattle will continue to be marketed at lighter weights may keep beef production in the second quarter below a year ago, Wellman concluded.

Study shows market competition is high

A new U.S. Department of Agriculture study indicates that competitive forces are presently working well in the High Plains and the Iowa-Nebraska regional markets for fed steers and heifers, despite fewer meat packers competing for the available supply.

B.H. Jones, who heads USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration, said the agency began the study in 1979 because of widespread concern that a few large buyers might be able to control the prices or terms of trade for fed cattle in local markets.

Our findings indicate the markets in these two regions were behaving competitively," Jones said. "Average prices during the period were not influenced by local supply and demand conditions but rather by overall market factors."

There was a close relationship in prices, showing no market isolation between the major markets or in the submarkets that were studied. The study shows that buyers and sellers shipped fed cattle between the two regional markets throughout the year, indicating there were numerous occasions when it was profitable to do so.

THE HIGH PLAINS area studied includes Kansas, the Panhandles of Oklahoma and Texas, and fringe areas of eastern New Mexico and eastern Colorado. The Iowa-Nebraska area includes eastern Nebraska, South Dakota and southwestern Minnesota. These two areas account for about 59 percent of all U.S. fed cattle marketings.

Jones said since the study was completed several beef slaughter plants have closed in the two areas and two new plants with over 1 million head annual slaughter capacity have opened.

"USDA will continue to monitor both the market structure and the level of competition in the two markets," Jones said.

The study also investigated the pricing practices of an integrated packer custom feedlot operator. The evidence showed that the firm did not discriminate against feedlot customers in the sales of their cattle, and that the cattle were not used to the disadvantage of other packers of feeders, Jones said.

Copies of the report are available from the Packers and Stockyards Administration, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250. Phone (202) 382-9528.

Rain will affect herbicide

The rainy spring that has kept farmers out of the field may also keep them from pursuing their usual herbicide programs, according to University of Nebraska extension weeds specialists Alex Martin and John Furrer.

"Some preplant incorporated treatments have been abandoned in favor of preemergence treatments, while planned preemergence treatments may end up post emergence if the application is delayed," the agronomists said in the current Weed Science Newsletter. "These changes may result in less effective weed control, depending on the weeds involved. Some, but not all, preemergence herbicides can be applied postemergence with good results. Most of these treatments are more effective when applied preemergence than postemergence, especially against annual grasses, but a rain or sprinkler irrigation is required after application for best control," they said.

Post and Fusilade provide excellent control of all annual grasses, including shattercane and volunteer corn, while Hoelon is more specific for volunteer corn, they said.

The DNA soybean herbicides Basaline, Prowl, Tolben, and Trellan should be mixed in the soil prior to planting and can not be applied through a sprinkler system, the agronomists noted.

U.S.-China swine deal complete

The first shipment of germ free swine from the United States to the Peoples Republic of China departed from the Lincoln Municipal Airport Saturday night, May 22.

Governor Charles Thone and the three Chinese officials took part in ceremonies transferring ownership of the 470 swine.

"This $337,842 sale is one of the results of my 1981 trade mission to the Far East," the Governor stated.

The Chinese made two previous purchases of U.S. breeding swine, but were not pleased with the results because the American hogs introduced new diseases to China, Thone explained. "When Joe Chu of the Nebraska Department of Agriculture and I were in Beijing (Peking) last June, we suggested purchasing pathogen-free Nebraska swine to the Managing Director of the China National Cereals, Oils, and Foodstuffs Import and Export corporation," Thone said.

The three Chinese who took part in the ceremony have been in Nebraska since February. The 470 SPF (specific pathogen free) swine included 70 boars and 200 gilts of the Duroc breed and 40 boars and 160 gilts of the Hampshire breed.

The swine are three months old, average 100 pounds and have come from eight Nebraska producers.

The names of the producers, their farms and their locations are: Robert Craft, Craft & Sons, Foster; Dick Sorensen, Greenview Farms, Wayne; Eldon Nedderriep, Nedderriep Farm, Johnson; David Pellen, Pellen Farm, Prague; John Penner farm, Plymouth; Duane Peterson farm, Gothenburg; Gerald Royald, Royal Brothers, Palmyra and Willard and Max Waldo, Waldo farm, DeWitt.

This week in Senator Edward Zorinsky's opinion column he talks of proposed legislation he has co-sponsored which will eliminate the "not guilty by reason of insanity" plea in federal criminal trial cases. To the editor: Having read the editorial in the May 24th Wayne Herald, I wish to say a few things that happened here at the Wayne Care Centre. When we heard the siren blow and the Police Department called here and said a tornado was sighted and gave the order that all the residents should be moved to the basement, all the nurses and aids were right on-hand and did a fine job of getting all the residents in the basement by way of the elevator and some who are able went down the stairway. We were all safely down in the basement.

Bringing some sanity to our insanity laws!

By Edward Zorinsky. The scenario has been repeated countless times: In virtually every state in the nation, a defendant accused of a brutal, violent crime pleads not guilty. He concedes he did what he's accused of but argues he was "insane" at the time and, therefore, innocent.

would eliminate the "not guilty by reason of insanity" verdict in federal criminal trials. Introduced last year, my bill would permit only three pleas in federal cases: guilty, not guilty and guilty but insane.

Once committed for treatment, a defendant can also be released from custody on only a doctor's say-so, with no input from the court. Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Strom Thurmond is among the cosponsors of my bill and I'm optimistic about its prospects for enactment.

Our great food system

By M.M. Van Kirk, Nebraska Farm Bureau. The American food production and distribution system is one of the great wonders of the modern world and the envy of a very large percentage of the world's population who live where food scarcity rather than food abundance is the rule rather than the exception.

UNFORTUNATELY MANY AMERICANS do not appreciate the unique advantages which they have in the areas of food and nutrition. It became very popular during the "protest trends" of the 1960's and the 1970's to debunk American products, systems and institutions, including food. Some of this is still going on.

THE RAVAGES OF INFLATION in the past two decades have been measured and publicized to a great extent by any and all advances in food prices even though most economists admitted this was unfair and misleading. The rise in costs of other categories such as transportation, medical and hospital, housing, etc., was frequently ignored.

The opinions expressed here are not necessarily those of The Wayne Herald editorial board.

More Valley Corner Systems every year, because it's the least costly investment per acre.

It's going to be harder to make farming pay off in the years to come. Harder for many reasons.

So if anything makes sense, it's to maximize the potential of the land you now farm. Irrigating with a center pivot is one way. Irrigating with a Corner System is even better.

A Corner System can irrigate 19 to 45 more acres than a regular pivot, producing extra income on acres already being farmed. That's why nearly one out of every six pivots sold today is a Corner System.

And when it comes to Corner Systems, nobody knows more than Valmont. They've proven reliable with nearly 3,000 systems in operation. That's at least 20 times more than any other brand.

Before you buy any center pivot, see us. We'll tell you how a Valley Corner System can add to your bottom line profits while being the least costly investment per acre.
