State law provides for remedy

Last Monday, the Wayne Carroll board of education virtually came to a standstill on the question of whether or not to proceed with the expansion construction of the vocational education area at the high school.

The standstill was the result of a 33 deadlock vote on a motion made by board member Jim Hummel to accept the low base bid for the expansion submitted by Risor and Barney, Inc. of Wisner.

By default, due to the deadlock, the motion failed. Controversy surrounding the vote and the construction situation, which now appears to be in limbo, continues with the future expansion of the vocational educational area uncertain.

Part of the controversy involves having an even number of members serving on the board of education, rather than an odd number which would eliminate deadlock or tie votes when all members were present.

According to Nebraska State law, Wayne Carroll is a class III school due to the fact that it embraces a territory having a population of more than 1,000 and less than 100,000 inhabitants and maintains both elementary and high school grades under the direction of a single board of education.

The law goes on to add that for Class II district "the school board or board of education shall consist of six members."

State law also provides however that "A Class III school district whose board of education consists of six members may by resolution provide for an increase in the number of members from six to nine." The county clerk or commissioner of elections, along with the board secretary will determine the length of terms for the candidates and "the board of education shall appoint members to fill the three vacancies thus created" until the next regular election when candidates names may be placed on the ballot to fill the newly created positions.

According to Wayne Carroll's superintendent, Dr. Francis Haun, there have been several instances in the past where the board has deadlocked by vote with the result that the motions have failed by default.

With this being an election year for the board, it is not known if, when the new board convenes or before terms expire for the current board, whether they will choose to consider expanding the number of board members from six to nine.

The board would not have the alternative, it would appear, to increase by one position, from six to seven, or to decrease to five in order to get around deadlock situations. According to the board's attorney, Kenneth Olds, "if (the law) would seem to be very specific and not leave room for an increase except to nine positions."

Controversy also continues over the vocational education expansion.

The district has spent about $8,500 on architectural fees in designing the proposed expansion for the high school and have gone half way through the bidding procedure.

There are three board members who voted not to proceed with the expansion, whether because they have never been in favor of the expansion or for financial reasons.

The district this year faces lower than expected revenues from three sources: state funding, free high school tuition and the property tax levy.

Currently, parties are involved in all three areas, trying to seek a more equitable solution to the reduced funding.

Several state legislators are working on plans to change the state funding mechanism, either through the court system or during the Unlcameral session.

The free high school tuition problem is currently being litigated with an out of court settlement possible and the district has filed a claim with the Wayne County Insurance carrier to seek relief from the error discovered this summer in the county assessors office.

There are problems with the resolution of each funding area and it is doubtful that even if all areas are resolved, that funding will reach the previously expected levels.

Part of the problem Monday night, following the deadlock vote, was that usually, when a deadlock occurs, the matter is placed on the next month's agenda. Monday night, no one spoke in favor of having the subject of expansion placed on the October agenda. Thus, it is not known if a board member will bring the matter back up for discussion in October or whether the issue will be dropped until the funding situations are resolved.

Homecoming time for WSC

WAYNE STATE COLLEGE'S Homecoming celebration was held this past weekend with activities including a parade down Wayne's Main Street featuring the Wayne State College marching band, this year's Homecoming king and queen, Dale Hensley and Julie Janeczek, who were crowned on Wednesday, college officials and several parade floats and clowns. Saturday's activities included the Homecoming game against Doane College and the Hall of Fame induction during half time of the game; a chili feed following the game at the Wayne county club and the evening Homecoming dance in Rice auditorium on campus featuring the band Teez.

Wayne State Foundation serves needs of college

"We exist only because the college does," said Lyle Seymour, newly appointed executive secretary of the Wayne State College Foundation.

"We can do things that can not be done with state funds or fund areas that are low on the state's priority list but high on the list at WSC," he explained.

With the current 1983 operational fund drive underway in the Wayne area, Seymour said he would like to dispel some of the misconceptions about the foundation and its work with Wayne State.

"We have two types of fund raising activities," Seymour explained, "the year to year operational budget fund drive and the deferred giving program which involves bequests, wills, etc., which we use to build a sound financial endowment base for the foundation." With the two types of funding structures, Seymour said the foundation looks toward the short term, year to year activities and also can plan for the long run.

Since the Wayne State Foundation is a non-profit organization, contributions made to the foundation are tax deductible. But in what way are the funds used?

"They are used only for Wayne State," Seymour said, putting to rest the notion that the funds are somehow put into the same fund as state money.

The foundation funds a variety of programs at the college which includes tuition scholarships, endowments to specific areas, challenge grants for the faculty, campus projects, alumni work and aids in the public relations for the college.

"This is the first year we have actively pursued operational funds for the year through a fund drive," Seymour said.

In previous years, the foundation simply mailed out letters to area businesses and residents, alumni and friends of the college, asking for donations to support the Foundation's yearly activities.

This year, the foundation has become more active in seeking funds through the naming of five team captains with five members on each team. The fund drive will run the month of September in the Wayne area.

"Our goal is to contact everyone in Wayne through the business community," Seymour said. By using volunteers with the fund drive, Seymour said, it makes it more personal, a one to one type of active fund drive with the volunteers able to answer questions about the role of the foundation and Wayne State College.

But the fund drive currently underway is not for raising long term funds for the most part. Seymour said these funds must come from other areas and programs.

"We're looking to develop a stronger base," Seymour said, "through outright gifts and contributions, wills and bequests, in order that the foundation's work maintains continuity from year to year."

The Wayne State Foundation currently supports about $30,000 in academic tuition scholarships which translates into about 40 current scholarships for students.

Academic challenge scholarships to faculty members represent a lump sum award to the college.

"These funds are used by the college to fund faculty grant requests for equipment, books, and a wide variety of educational materials," Seymour said. "These items may not have been possible without the foundation's support."

In addition to funding projects which beautify the college grounds, the foundation also maintains a program to beautify the interior of the building through an art print collection.

The foundation's collection now amounts to about 85 prints and wall hangings, Seymour said. "These are not just for the president's office use, but rather are spread around the campus in offices and halls for everyone to enjoy. They also are used as a teaching tool for students by the art department."

The foundation was organized in 1961 and this is the first year an executive secretary has been employed for the top administrative position.

One reason for the new position is to lend more direction to the Foundation's programs and plans for the future, Seymour, as past president of the college, will be using his personal and professional contacts across the country to seek support for the foundation's work.

Seymour indicated it would be an experimental year for the foundation, exploring different programs and alternatives, building a strong base with alumni associations across the country and securing the financial base of the foundation for the development and continuation of programs.

The Trustees of the Wayne State Foundation scheduled their annual meeting for Sept. 17-18. The traditional WSC Homecoming week meeting began with a noon luncheon on Sept. 17 in the Walnut room.

At 2 p.m., the trustees met for a business session in the Nebraska room at the student center. A 6:30 p.m. social hour and dinner at the Black Knight ended the first day's activities.

The agenda for the business meeting included the election of trustees, officers, and members of the executive committee. President Elliott spoke on the relationship between the college and the foundation and Seymour reported on his plans for the coming year.

Investment, budget and publicity chairman reported and the 1982 budget was to be presented for discussion and approval.

A buffet luncheon at president Elliott's home was served following the Homecoming parade on Saturday morning. Following the Homecoming game, the trustees, alumni and friends of the college gathered for refreshments at the Wayne Country Club.

LYLE SEYMOUR, THE newly appointed executive secretary of the Wayne State Foundation, recently talked about the work of the foundation in its support of the academic activities and programs at Wayne State College. The foundation was organized in 1961 as a vehicle to aid the college in areas the state is unable to fund in some years due to priority funding lists and seeks continued public support of WSC through not only local, but regional and national programs as well.

Harrison, a Norfolk native and a 1979 Norfolk High School graduate, is majoring in chemistry with a biology minor. He is the son of Joann Canfield.

As WSC's NSSA campus coordinator, Harrison will head the college's chapter of the organization.

Nebraska colleges affiliated with the NSSA are Wayne State, Peru State, the University of Nebraska Omaha and the University of Nebraska Lincoln.

The NSSA is devoted to lobbying various government organizations on matters affecting students and education.

Stater earns top rating

The Wayne Stater, the student newspaper of Wayne State College, has earned a five star All American rating from the Associated Collegiate Press (ACP) for the spring, 1982 semester, according to Stater advisor Richard Manley, WSC assistant professor of journalism.

The award makes the fifth consecutive All American rating for the publication, he said.

To earn the rating, the Stater had to score at least 3,100 points and get four out of five marks of distinction. Associated Collegiate Press Judge Carol Cookley gave the paper 3,835 points and all five marks of distinction in coverage and content writing and editing, opinion content, design and photography, art and graphics. In her summary statement, the judge said, "The Wayne Stater was a fun newspaper to read. I felt that I learned a lot about the college and personalities of the faculty newspaper staff and student government."

Co editors Jackie Osten of Leigh and Theresa Wulf of Fremont, were happy with the rating. "Everybody worked hard and it was something we put many long nights of work into," Osten said. Derald Johnson of Osceola was sports editor and Mark Wilderman of Grand Island was photography editor. Ken Hladky of Tekamah was graphics artist.

Officers investigated a one car accident involving a parked vehicle owned by Vernon Winter, an Oklahoma resident. The Winter car reportedly was parked in the Wetman's lot and rolled down into a power pole.

A third two car accident on Wednesday at Lincoln and West First street was also investigated. According to the report, a vehicle driven by Maubert O. Sorenson of Wayne was Sump-

Officers also investigated the report of a theft of a chair and answered two calls involving disturbances.

On Thursday, officers responded to four cases which involved unlocking vehicles and one case of locating a lost dog. Aid was also given in locating an individual who was later found in Norfolk.

An argument outside a local bar was resolved by the police department on Friday and aid was given, in a separate case, to an elderly man who fell and sustained minor injuries.

Review needed

The Wayne-Carroll Board of Education has a choice: whether to remain a six member board and continue with the possibility of tie votes with the motion thus falling; or to increase the number of positions on the board to nine, by resolution, as outlined under Nebraska State law.

Although the law, as written, is poor, it does allow for an increase in board positions from an even number to an odd number. We feel active decisions, not only by the Wayne-Carroll Board of Education, but all governing boards, are better decisions than passive decisions. To allow motions to fail by default, is a passive way to handle situations and should be avoided.

The Wayne-Carroll board, during future meetings, should seriously consider increasing the number of board positions. Very careful consideration of the proposal would have to be given in view of the fact that the board, not the voters, have the power to increase the number of positions and fill the newly created vacancies by appointment. Public opinion would be crucial to the decision as well as for additional appointments, if the positions were increased.

Although Nebraska State law would allow the increase from a six member board to a nine member board, which would eliminate the problem of tie votes when all were present at meetings, it is poorly written in two respects: 1) it does not allow boards to simply increase from six members to seven members, a move that also would eliminate tie votes without creating extra positions that may not be necessary for voter representation; 2) it allows boards to pass, by resolution, the decision to increase their numbers, a decision that should rest with the voters of the district not with the board alone.

We urge the Wayne-Carroll Board of Education members to seriously consider scheduling a discussion with the public as to whether or not the number of members should be increased. We also urge area state senators to review the laws governing the increase in board positions for Class III schools and introduce a measure that provides for greater voter input and the choice to increase not only from six to nine, but from six to seven board positions.

Put on notice

The Nebraska Wildlife Protectors and the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission are putting poachers on notice: Nebraska sportsmen and conservation officers are taking steps to reduce the amount of wild game taken illegally in the state.

To accomplish that goal comes "Operation Game Thief," a program designed to identify and prosecute the poacher. A system has been established that will give monetary awards to people who furnish confidential information leading to the arrest and conviction of those who violate certain fish and wildlife laws or regulations. Emphasis will be placed on violations relating to the taking of game or protected wildlife out of season, over bag limits of game, taking of game by illegal methods, taking game without a permit or with an improper permit, or killing game and leaving it lay in the field.

The Nebraska Wildlife Protectors will pay a minimum of $100 for information relative to the illegal taking of small game and a minimum of $250 for information relative to the taking of big game.

Nebraska Wildlife Protectors has a board of 16 directors located throughout the state to administer the program. Funding for the program comes entirely from private donations. Contributions from interested individuals, sportsmens groups, private business or social organizations will be eagerly welcome, as donation money is required to make the program work. All donations are tax deductible! Those wishing to donate money to Operation Game Thief may send their check to: Operation Game Thief, c/o Gary Washburn, Program Chairman, Box 336, Broken Bow, Neb. 68822.

To report a game violation, call Operation Game Thief's toll free hotline number, 800-742-7627. This line is open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

ASK A LAWYER
A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE NEBRASKA STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

Q. Shortly before a man filed for divorce from his wife, his mother wrote him several checks which he cashed. In the divorce hearing, he claimed that these were "loans" and that he had to repay these "debts" to his mother. The checks did not state that they were loans. Can he legally claim these as debts?
A. He can claim them as debts, but if the man's wife contested the claim... and attempted to prove that they were actually gifts made prior to the divorce, it would be up to the court to decide the matter.

For many, many moons I've been out on my own. I've learned to cook, keep at least one chair and one table setting clean, a path through the house unobstructed. I even can, as I grow older, keep the house up.

Dirty BVD's, sheets, shirts, slacks and all the other materials used, to wash them is a small matter, granted, to dry them in an electric or gas dryer, a small matter. But the frustration of doing the task is powerful and boring.

I'd be more willing to keep my apartment not only tidy but spotless if I could get out of going to the laundromat each week.

They tried to come out with paper clothes a few years ago. Soft, cotton like clothes you could wear till soiled, then away they went to the trash. I love the idea. They're not too practical during Midwestern winters, well, maybe 79-80's, but generally not. The idea's of disposing of hassles like that is good though.

It's like one of my favorite scenes from the show "Gunsmoke". Marshall Matt travels up to visit an old rug rat prospector friend, delivering supplies, and stays for dinner.

The old goat serves up the grub on china plates with cups and saucers on a table cloth to boot. Matt is definitely impressed. Supper is over, Matt offers to help with the dishes and the old dude says "don't worry, I'll take care of it" and folds up the table cloth with the dishes and all and throws the lot out the window into the trash. Matt naturally is aghast at the breakage but the prospector tells him, "It's the only luxury I allow. I buy 'em so I can eat off of china but I hate to do dishes so I throw 'em out."

That's me with laundry. Give me a lady with a washer and dryer or give me Speed Queens for Christmas. I hate laundry!

Princess Grace, the lady that filled so many young girls dreams in the 1950's is dead. So few movies yet such a cord she struck in the hearts of the world. I wonder though...maybe I'm to pessimistic about life but something stinks about the whole thing and it is not in Denmark.

Everyone is putting everyone else... so where's all the cash? Where's the cash from the late 1960's and early 1970's? No, not the credit, rather the greenbacks? I don't have it, do you? Some do. Recessions and depressions are good for some. The rich mainly, who can get their gold dust out and into fast growing areas, in and out of the country at our expense.

Economy benefits

When you hear the phrase "except in Nebraska" you should realize that our state's economy is benefiting from the phenomenon. The phrase is often used in national advertising about toll-free telephone calls to buy merchandise or to make reservations because Omaha is the nation's number one location for such telephone centers.

Perhaps as many as 3,000 jobs in Omaha have been created by this new industry. Omaha has many advantages as a location for such services. Because Nebraska is in the center of the nation, there's some savings in serving both the east and west coasts from a central location. Nebraska is also in the middle of the four time zones that span the 48 contiguous states. Our people's speech can be understood by all Americans and we don't have a strong regional accent.

Legislation moves forward

The Senate Judiciary Committee inquiry into insanity pleas has resulted in the introduction of legislation incorporating several key elements of Senator Edward Zorinsky's own insanity defense reform bill drafted 18 months ago. In addition, legislation sent to Congress by the Reagan Administration includes provisions of the original Zorinsky bill, introduced in the aftermath of the 1981 attempt on the life of the President.

The Judiciary Committee inquiry was launched after accused presidential assailant John Hinckley Jr. was found not guilty by reason of insanity in a Washington trial. The committee heard testimony on the Zorinsky bill, among others. The Nebraska senator testified before the panel and also sat in on some of the hearings as a guest of the committee.

The end result of the inquiry was legislation introduced by Judiciary Committee Chairman Strom Thurmond Tuesday, Sept. 14. The bill stiffens the requirement for finding a defendant "insane" and makes other changes in the insanity laws. Zorinsky is among more than a dozen cospensors of the Thurmond/Judiciary bill, which is given a good chance of passage before the Senate adjourns for the year in mid-October.

The Thurmond legislation incorporates language in the Zorinsky bill providing that those found "insane" remain under the trial judge's jurisdiction for treatment and can be released only with the judge's approval.

Current federal law leaves it up to the state to begin confinement proceedings against defendants found innocent by reason of insanity. Otherwise, they automatically go free, except in the District of Columbia.

The stiffer requirement in the Thurmond bill for finding a defendant "insane" is slightly different than that included in the Zorinsky bill.

However, the Zorinsky bill standard is included in the Administration's legislation, sent to Congress Sept. 13. That standard says, to be found insane, a defendant must show he lacked, as a result of mental disease, the state of mind to commit the offense. Currently, to be found insane, a defendant need only show he lacked the ability to know what he was doing was wrong or the ability to control his behavior.

Under the Thurmond bill, the standard is the so-called "McNaughten Rule," which requires a finding that the defendant lacked the ability to distinguish right from wrong or the ability to understand the nature and quality of his acts.

Zorinsky's 1981 bill also substituted a "guilty but insane" plea for the insanity defense in federal criminal trials. The senator said he feels the Thurmond bill will eliminate many of the abuses of the insanity defense seen in recent years.

"The Judiciary Committee's bill should prevent premature release of individuals who still pose a threat to society," Zorinsky said. "That is the single biggest problem with the current system. And any stiffening of the standard for proving 'insanity' should lead to fewer acquittals on grounds of temporary insanity or irresistible impulse."

"As a result," he said, "it'll be working hard to see the Judiciary bill passed in the closing days of the 97th Congress."

Fine defensive showing leads Wayne to revenge

Defense led to revenge as the Wayne Blue Devils shutout Randolph 14-0 Friday night in Randolph.

Ironically, Friday's final score was identical to last year's score between the two teams with one minute remaining. Randolph pulled out a miracle finish to win that game 20-14 in overtime.

That loss may have in the back of the minds of Wayne's players and coaches as the Blue Devils picked up their first win of the season in three outtings.

The Blue Devil defense wasn't about to let this year's game be a replay of last year's. Wayne held Randolph to only 32 yards on 28 carries. The Cardinals had their best luck through the air with 80 yards in passing.

"We played a good sound ball game. It was an excellent ball game for us," said Wayne coach Lonnie Ehrhardt. "We kept them in the hole and we moved the ball real well."

Wayne's offense produced one touchdown and the defense produced the other. Kevin Koenig scored on a one-yard dive in the second quarter to give Wayne a 6-0 lead. The extra point attempt failed.

The game's other touchdown came in the final seconds of the first half as Randolph decided not to keep the ball on the ground and run out the clock.

Dan Frevert intercepted a screen pass with eight seconds remaining and rolled 53 yards for the TD. Kurt Janke scored the two-point conversion for a 14-0 count.

For the game, the Blue Devils rushed for 138 yards, most coming in the first half. Wayne, which last week failed to complete a pass, concentrated on shorter passes this week and was successful on 7 of 12 for 33 yards. Starting quarterback SHAUN NIEMANN completed 6 of 11 for 37 yards and Brad Moore completed his only pass for a loss of four yards.

Wayne's reserves scored a touchdown in the fourth quarter but penalties nullified it. All of Wayne's six penalties were 15-yarders. The Devils, relying on a wishbone attack, continued to mix up their offense with a split back and occasionally by running the I-formation.

Wayne's kicking game also reached a season high. Frevert punted three times for an average of 42 yards per kick and Koenig kicked off three times for an average of 48 yards.

Kurt Janke was Wayne's leading rusher with 16 carries for 45 yards. Frevert carried 12 times for 34 yards. Koenig rushed six times for 19 yards and McCright followed with 16 yards. Terry Gilliland caught three passes for 22 yards. Jim Poehlman, Carl Urwiler, Janke and Frevert each made one reception.

Randolph coughed up the ball twice and Koenig and Darin Biffheimer recovered for the Blue Devils. Frevert had the only pass interception.

Defensively, Koenig had six unassisted tackles and five assists, Tim Heier had four solos and four assists, Mark Kubik made five solos and three assists, McCright had two tackles and five assists and Frevert tallied two solos and four assists.

Gerald Monk added four tackles. Coghtman had three, Janke had three, Tim Corbit had three, Tim Book made three, Biffheimer made two and Chris Wiegeler, Bob Lisika and Steve Rethwisch added one apiece.

Wayne will take its 1-2 record to Wisner Friday for its first West Husker Conference game against the Wisner-Pfizer Gators. Dennis Lebsock, who missed the first three games with an injured knee, is expected back for that game.

Quarterback Steve Overin is not expected to see action for at least another week. He has seen a specialist concerning his injured vertebrates and is currently working on an exercise program.

Top rated Pirates roll past Laurel

With a tough Lewis & Clark Conference schedule, the last thing the Laurel Bears needed was having Plainview on the schedule.

The Bears showed defensive excellence at times Friday while holding Class C 1's number one ranked Plainview scoreless in the first and fourth quarters. Unfortunately for Laurel, the Pirates scored all the touchdowns they needed in the second and third periods and coasted to a 36-0 shutout.

We played them tough and then we kind of relaxed. We went out there to find out if we could play with them and we shut them down for awhile," said Laurel coach Kurt Buckwalter.

After a scoreless first quarter, Plainview struck for 22 points in the second period. Another 14 points was added in the third stanza giving the Pirates their 36 points.

Plainview took advantage of big plays to put many of its points on the board and then used its powerful defense to shoot down Laurel's drives.

Their defense just stopped us. Our defense was on the field too much and wore down," Buckwalter said. "We're looking forward to the rest of the season. Attitudes are still real good. We need to keep our attitudes going and be mentally ready."

Buckwalter said he felt Plainview has one of the best teams in the state. The Pirates played consistently and made some big plays.

According to Buckwalter, defensive end Shane Heydon played an "outstanding game, one of the best of his career." Mike Granquist, Dennis Martinson and Scott Curry also played well he added.

"Plainview has a good football team. They're big and strong and we were just worn down," he stated.

The Bears are scheduled to play at Emerson Friday in an East Division matchup. Laurel has already played Randolph, Homer and Plainview and still faces tough foes Wakefield, Ponca, Wausa and Osmond. Hartington also is on the schedule.

Ninth ranked Trojans win 14th straight

By earning its 14th consecutive regular season victory over a three season span, ninth ranked Wakefield should move up one notch in the Associated Press Class C 2 ratings.

The Trojans rapped Ponca 27-6 Friday for their third win of the season and first in the East Division of the Lewis & Clark Conference. Meanwhile, Beemer knocked off number five Ewing making room for an upward movement of teams.

The final 21 point victory margin was more than Wakefield coach Dennis Wilbur expected. Two fourth quarter touchdowns made the score appear more lopsided than the game actually was.

Wakefield took the lead on a 15-yard run by Mike Clay in the second quarter. The point-after kick was good by Rod Nixon giving the hosts a 7-0 edge.

A goal-line stand late in the first half may have been the turning point in the game. Ponca threatened to score but was stopped by the Trojan defense merely six inches from the goal.

"It was a hard fought game and we played good team ball," Wilbur said. "I think we wore them down. It was an awful good win."

Wakefield's 7-0 lead lasted until Clay added his second TD on a four yard run. The PAT failed putting the Trojans on top 13-0. The hosts padded their lead early in the fourth period when Nixon romped 65 yards for a TD and then added the point after.

Trailing 20-0, Ponca finally scored in the final period on a 19-yard touchdown pass from Pat Calvert to Jim Rahn. The PAT was blocked.

A 38-yard interception return by Brian Soderberg for a TD made the final score a deceptive 27-6.

Nixon rushed the ball 20 times for 144 yards and Mike Clay carried 18 times for 69 yards. Soderberg completed 5 of 9 passes and Wilbur said the four incompletions were dropped and should have been caught. Ponca's Blake Bostwick carried the ball 18 times for 109 yards.

Leading receivers for the winners were Nixon with three catches for 47 yards and Gary Tullberg with two receptions and 24 yards. Wakefield had 202 yards on the ground and 71 in the air for a total of 273. Ponca passed for 146 yards and rushed for 111.

Ponca had a handful of plays which gained more than 20 yards each.

Defensively, Clay and Gary Tullberg each recovered a fumble. Soderberg led the tackling chart with 11 unassisted tackles and seven assists.

Nixon had four solos and eight assists. Paul Schoepe made two tackles and seven assists. Clay had two unassisted and five assisted tackles. Mark Borg had six tackles. Jeff Coble had two solos and four assists. Troy Greve had one solo and three assists and Gary Tullberg made two solos and two assists.

Wilbur said his team suffered no injuries in a hard hitting game. The Trojans are scheduled to play at Hartington Friday.

Eagles are stopped inches short of spoiling Homer's homecoming

By Randy Hascall
Football is supposed to be a game of inches and that old saying really rang true Friday night as Homer nipped Allen 27-6 in Lewis & Clark Conference inter-division play.

Just a few inches separated Central Division Allen from victory. And naturally those same few inches protected East Division Homer's triumph.

A two-point conversion attempt which would have given the Eagles the lead was thwarted when Kirk Hansen was stopped about six inches short of the goal line.

Jeff Chase broke free on a run and had wide open field ahead but a diving tackle barely knocked Chase down and saved a sure Allen touchdown.

And on the final pass play of the game, Dan Nice stepped just inches over the end line while making a pass reception that would have been the winning touchdown.

"It was very disappointing. It was a hard loss to take but we outplayed them and that feels good. We played well and I'm happy with our poise," coach Rod Bubke said. "We had our chances but couldn't get the ball across. It was a game of inches."

The Eagles accumulated 100 yards more than Homer and had nearly twice as many first downs. Chase carried the ball 25 times for 119 yards, quarterback Shawn Mahler carried 21 times for 83 yards and Hansen had eight carries for 42 yards. Homer was led by Joel Yandell with 81 yards on 21 carries.

The Knights, playing their homecoming game, scored the game's first touchdown in the first quarter. Yandell scored from five yards to cap Homer's drive and Mike Faber added what proved to be the winning point on a place-kick.

The Eagles came back in the second period with a 73-yard drive. Jeff Chase ran the ball to the Eagles' 48 yard line and a face mask penalty lacked on 15 more yards.

The Allen defense handed Homer most of the night and gained possession of the ball plenty of times. The Eagles stopped the Knights on two solid drives.

Homer was marching downhill late in the first half when the Knights fumbled and the ball was recovered by Terry Kellogg at the Allen 17-yard line with 1:32 to play. Rather than run out the clock, the Eagles decided to try for a touchdown and it nearly worked. A pass from Shawn Mahler to Troy Harder covered 32 yards and moved the ball to the Homer 34.

However, an illegal motion penalty was called and moved the ball back to the Allen 27 yard line. The half came to a close with Homer leading 7-6.

Allen received the second half kickoff and started to mount a drive. Facing fourth and inches at their own 31, the Eagles went for it and made three yards on a quarterback sneak by Mahler.

On the next play, the Eagles turned the ball over with a fumble at their own 41. Homer drove the ball downfield and threatened to score. The threat was ended when Jeff Chase stepped in front of an intended receiver and intercepted a pass in the endzone.

A holding penalty on the next series nullified a big gain by Harder on an end around play and the Eagles were forced to punt.

Allen's defense was dominant on the next series and forced Homer to punt. The Eagles took over at their own 20 and moved the ball well. Chase broke through the line of scrimmage and rambled from Allen's 31 to Homer's 39 where a diving tackle tripped him up and saved a touchdown.

The drive stalled when Allen went for it on 4th and 10 at the Homer 39-yard line with 9:38 remaining in the game. The attempted pass was incomplete.

The Knights took possession of the ball but a clipping penalty moved them back to the 20. Allen's defense again tightened up and forced a punt which was nearly blocked.

The Eagles took over at their own 41-yard line with plenty of time on the clock. A 12-yard gain by Mahler and 9-yard gain by Chase were key runs on the drive. Facing a third and 10 play at the Homer 25, Mahler gained seven yards. On fourth and three, Homer stopped the visitors behind the line of scrimmage.

Allen still had time to get one more possession of the ball and Keith Karlberg's tackle behind the line helped out. The hosts punted again and the Eagles had the ball at the Homer 49 with 2:14 left in the game.

The first play made no gain and the second was an incomplete pass. Then, on third down, Mahler dropped back to pass. He couldn't find an open receiver so he had to and picked up the first down at the 33-yard line.

On first down, Mahler threw a pass up the middle. The ball was tipped out of the hands of intended receiver but Kirk Hansen grabbed the ball for a completion at the 18.

Two running plays moved the ball to the 11-yard line. On fourth and four, Mahler passed to Dan Nice in the end zone. The receiver made a nice catch but was one step beyond the end line.

Allen's line defensive performance was led by Joe Ellis with 10 tackles. Jeff Chase with nine tackles, a fumble and an interception and Kirk Hansen with nine tackles. Derwin Roberts, Dan Nice and Mike Kings each had seven tackles. Kellogg also had a fumble recovery. "It was a tough one to take. We outplayed them in every aspect," said Bubke after the game. The Eagles are scheduled to host Ponca Friday night.

Inside ground game leads Cats to first victory over Bancroft

by Kent Probst
Wayne State College

A strong inside rushing attack featuring John Hawkins and the heads-up play of quarterback/defensive back Dan Mundil earned the Winside Wildcats a 12-6 win over Bancroft-Rosalie's Panthers Friday evening in Lewis and Clark Conference play.

However, the first career victory for Wildcat coach Mark Freburg and his squad's first in three tries came at a high cost. John Meierhenry became the second senior starter in Freburg's backfield to suffer a broken collarbone, following Jeff Behermer's injury in the Cats' opener two weeks ago. Bancroft fell to 0-3.

Meierhenry's diving goal line catch of a 13-yard Mundil pass with seconds remaining in the third period set the stage for what proved to be the winning score. But Meierhenry came down hard and suffered the injury. Mundil sneaked over on the next play with 20 time left in the quarter for the 12-6 margin.

The Wildcats have several outstanding performers. Mundil, who drew his first start as Winside quarterback, completed six of nine passes for 73 yards, ran for the go-ahead touchdown, and intercepted two Panther passes including the clincher with just 2:17 to play.

"Dan's a pretty smart ballplayer," Freburg said. "He's got that football savvy."

Meierhenry, moved from quarterback to halfback to take advantage of his size and ability as a receiver, caught four passes for 49 yards and had the other of three Wildcat interceptions to set up the first touchdown.

Hawkins "got the touch yards when we needed them," Freburg said, about the back who lugged the ball a whopping 37 times for 112 yards and a touchdown.

Brian Bowers carried 12 times for 40 yards, caught two passes for 24 yards, and had a team-high seven tackles. Big tackle Scott Janke added six tackles and helped the Wildcat offensive line control their visitors throughout most of the second half.

"We thought we could run off tackle and guard," Freburg said. "They were concentrating on Hawkins going wide. We would like to have thrown more, but it just didn't work out that way. Hawkins and Bowers ran tough and the line did a good job opening holes."

Winside's first score was set up when Meierhenry intercepted Panther Brad Slaughter's pass at the Bancroft 25. The short drive was aided by a pass interference call at the Panther 12. One of the next play, Hawkins burst through for the score with 4:42 in the half. Hawkins was stopped short on the PAT run.

Winside kept the momentum in its favor by pulling off a surprise onside kick, but was unable to advance beyond the Bancroft 21. Bancroft eventually took over at its own 33 in the final minutes of the half.

Led by the passing of Slaughter, Bancroft stormed back. Slaughter threw six straight passes, completing five including a well-executed 31 yard screen pass to Doug Reil for the touchdown with just 56 left in the half. Reil's PAT run failed and the teams were tied 6-6 at the half.

Winside came out and simply controlled the line of scrimmage in the third period, allowing Bancroft just seven offensive plays compared to 22 for Winside.

Mundil engineered a 14-play, 62-yard drive late in the period that resulted in his one-yard sneak for the winning touchdown. Key plays included Mundil's first down run on fourth and one at the Panther 30; his 18-yard pass to Meierhenry for a first down at the 12; and 11-yard toss to Meierhenry at the goal line, and his sneak to paydirt on the next play. Dan Broekemeler's PAT kick was short.

Bancroft-Rosalie had one great opportunity to score in the fourth quarter when Panther Kirk Metzger recovered a Winside fumble at the Wildcat 25. A fourth down pass came up short at the 16, however, and Winside took over.

The Wildcats proceeded to run off 11 plays and over five minutes off the clock. Bancroft finally took over on its own 41 with 3:24, but an interception by Wildcat Mundil with 2:17 sealed the Winside win.

"The first win feels fantastic," Freburg said. "We got a win, and that'll pump us up. We still have to work on our pass protection and our passing game."

Winside travels to Wausau Next Friday.

Allen loses to Emerson

Emerson-Hubbard proved to be a little too tough for the inexperienced Eagles as Allen lost

10-15, 7-15 at home Thursday night. Emerson dominated the early going in the first set, leading 5-0 and 13-2. Tami Jewell's accurate serving reduced the deficit to 5-13. The Pirates scored their 14th point but a nice save by Jeanne Warner delayed Emerson's win.

Deanna Hansen scored the next five service points as Allen threatened with a strong rally. Finally, Emerson scored the winning point for a 15-10 victory.

The Eagles jumped in front 2-0 in the second set but gave up the next five points to trail 3-5. Allen came back to tie the score at 5-5 but fell behind 5-10. Jewell's serving brought the score to 7-10.

The teams exchanged serves several times before the visitors pulled away for a 15-7 win.

Michelle Harder, who did much of the damage to Emerson with solid net play, hit 11 of 12 spikes for two aces. Jewell and Hansen each scored six points in the match. Pam Kavanaugh scored four and Michelle Pettit added one.

Pettit was leading setter with 16 good sets in 16 attempts with two sets for aces. Jewell was 9-for-9. Allen played without the services of Shelly Williams who had sprained an ankle. For Emerson, Tania Broeveck was leading server.

"We were inconsistent again. We had trouble on serve reception," Allen coach Gary Troth said. "We showed some improvement in certain areas. Our setting was pretty good but our serve and serve reception hurt us."

Allen lost the junior varsity match in three sets 2-15, 15-3, 8-15. Pam Heckathorn and Julie Book each scored seven points, Lisa McDonald scored six, Karma Rahn made three and Mary Oswald added two.

The hosts won the C team match 5-11, 11-8, 11-5. Amy Gotch led the Eagles with 10 points. Shellee Smith scored 7, Donna Rahn scored 4 and Tammy Kavanaugh made 3.

Allen is scheduled to play at Beemer Thursday.

ALLEN'S MICHELLE Harder spikes the ball for an ace against Emerson Thursday.

Lady Cats split action in Sioux City

Momentum was a key factor for the Wayne-State Lady Wildcat volleyball team as it went 1-1 against Morningside and the University of South Dakota Wednesday night in Sioux City.

The 4-5 Lady Cats, under the coaching of Ernie Kovar, were scheduled to see action in the Briar Cliff Tournament at Sioux City on Saturday.

After a short break, they will resume their schedule at home in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference (CSIC) opener on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 24-25. The matches against Washburn, Pittsburg State and Ft. Hays State are slated to begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. on Saturday. This will be the last chance to see the Lady Cats at home until late October, as they will be taking to the road for the remainder of their conference schedule.

In the opening match, Wayne State fell to USD in two sets 15-9, 15-9. Senior Annette Reiman (Butte) was the bright spot for the Lady Cats with eight assists. She also scored five points, along with a downed spike and two dinks. Bobbie Glerman (sophomore, South Sioux City) led in downed spikes with four.

If took the Lady Wildcats three sets to down a determined Morningside squad, 15-10, 13-15 and 15-12.

Wayne native Jill Zeiss (freshman) led scoring with 13 points, including three ace serves in the final set of the match. Teammate Becky Frahm (junior, Yutan) tallied four ace serves on her way to

Wayne handles foe

Coming off a second place finish in the North Bend Invitational, the Wayne Blue Devils dumped West Point CC 15-8, 15-13 Tuesday night. Wayne's only loss in last Saturday's North Bend tourney was to Class B's sixth rated Columbus Scotus.

Deb Prenger led Wayne over West Point CC with 10 service points and 10 spikes including four aces. Tami Murray made 44 good sets in the match. "The varsity didn't look as good as it did Saturday. I think they were fatigued from the tournament."

Wayne won the junior varsity match 15-13, 15-10 with Colette Frevert scoring eight points. The Blue Devils won the first set of the freshman match 15-6 but then lost the next two 1-15, 3-15 as West Point CC put sophomores in the game.

Lisa McDermott and Penny Paige scored five points each and Jennifer Moore was credited for a fine floor game.

Wayne 3rd at Scotus

Friday's Columbus Scotus Invitational turned out basically to be a triangular. Only four teams participated in the meet and Osceola didn't have enough runners to score in the team competition.

The invite was won by host Scotus with 13 points. David City Aquinas was second with 32 points and Wayne finished third with 41.

Individually, the champion runner was Darrell Andell of Osceola with a time of 17:24 over the three mile course. With Osceola's runners not counted Wayne's top four finishers placed seventh, ninth, 11th and 14th. Blaine Johs led the Blue Devils with a time of 19:12. Chris Hillier finished in 19:26. Pete March ran a 19:45 and Gregg Elliott was next with a time of 20:43.

Wayne's fifth runner was David Remer with a time of 21:04. Only the top four finishers count. Glenn Elliott ran a 23:26. David Melton ran a 23:43 and Jim Hartman finished the race in 24:03.

Wayne frosh rally to edge Pierce 12-6

It took a miraculous comeback for the Wayne freshman football team to sneak by Pierce 12-6 Thursday at Wayne.

Scott Baker caught a touchdown pass from Brent Pick with five seconds remaining in the game to give Wayne the victory.

"We were really fortunate. We didn't do much until the end. It was a real thriller," said coach Duane Blomenkamp.

The game definitely was a defensive struggle with Pierce scoring six points following an interception and two points on a safety. Wayne scored both of its touchdowns in the fourth quarter. Shannon Dorcey scored the Blue Devils' first TD on a one yard run to cap a 33-yard drive.

Rod Luff had blocked a punt to give Wayne the ball in Pierce territory. The final touchdown was on a 57 yard drive after Todd Dorcey recovered an onside kick following the safety.

On the final drive, Shannon Dorcey caught two 16 yard passes and Luff had a 25-yard reception, all passes from Pick. Pierce was called for pass interference and facemasking penalties on the winning drive.

A key goal line stance by the Blue Devils also helped lead to the come from behind victory. Rod Gilliland made three key tackles during that stand. Luff finished the game as Wayne's leading tackler with 17.

Shannon Dorcey scored the Blue Devils' first TD on a one yard run to cap a 33-yard drive.
