Laurel youth dies in Omaha

A Laurel kindergartener has died of an acute illness only 15 days after her 6th birthday.

Carol Jean DeLancy, daughter of Edward "Jack" and Cathy DeLancy of Laurel, died at 6 p.m. Thursday in the pediatrics intensive care unit of Omaha's University Medical Center Hospital.

The youngster, who turned 6 on Dec. 29, was rushed to the Omaha hospital from Providence Medical Center in Wayne by SkyMed air ambulance late Wednesday.

HER BROTHER, Jack, a second-grader at the Laurel-Concord Schools, was flown to Omaha Thursday for tests at the Omaha hospital.

He remains hospitalized there, according to his parents, who returned to Laurel Friday night for rest.

The DeLancys told The Wayne Herald that they would return to Omaha Saturday morning to be with their son.

Funeral services for their daughter were scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday at United Lutheran Church in Laurel.

Visitation was scheduled to begin at noon Saturday.

THE YOUNGSTER'S parents, who operate the Big Red Motel in Laurel, told The Wayne Herald that Omaha doctors were unsure as to the cause of Carol's death. Dr. James Lindau of the Wayne Family Practice Group, who handled the young girl's initial treatment when she was rushed to the PACC emergency room Wednesday, said the illness was acute.

A SkyMed spokesman told The Wayne

Western Nebraska native begins Wayne residency

Wayne's newest resident physician arrived in town two weeks ago.

Dr. Laurie Aten, who will be practicing medicine in Wayne for two months, is the second doctor to come here as part of a residency rotation program offered by the University of Nebraska, both in Omaha and Lincoln, and Creighton University.

Aten, 28, follows Dr. Todd French, who completed his two-month residency last month.

French has agreed to return to Wayne in July or August after completing his family practice certification. He will join the Wayne Family Practice Group clinic operated by Dr. Willis Wiseman and Dr. James Lindau.

A 1973 GRADUATE of North Platte High School, Aten arrived in Wayne Jan. 3 and has been working with Wiseman and Lindau at the Family Practice Group clinic and at their satellite clinic in Laurel, and with Drs. Walter and Robert Benthack at the Benthack Clinic.

Aten works mornings with Wiseman and Lindau and afternoons with the Benthacks.

She also participates in an on-call rotation with the doctors and treats patients at both clinics and at Providence Medical Center.

ATEN'S RESIDENCY in Wayne is under the direction of the Family Practice Program at the University of Nebraska Medical Center in Omaha.

She is a December 1980 graduate of the Medical Center and is in her second year of residency training.

A native of western Nebraska, Aten attended Mid-Plains Community College in North Platte for one year following her graduation from high school.

"I STUDIED computer operations so I could work my way through college. That was the only purpose of that," smiles Aten. "She enrolled at the University of Nebraska Medical Center after completing three years of pre-med studies at the University of Nebraska Lincoln campus."

"Wayne is part of my required training," said Aten, who will finish her residency training with the Omaha Family Practice Program after leaving here.

Aten expects to complete her family practice certification following her third year of residency in 1984.

ATEN SAID the advantage of practicing medicine in Wayne has been in the approach of the doctors at the two clinics and their gathered experience.

"Medicine is not just a science, but it is a science and an art," said Aten.

"The science you learn from books, but the art you learn from experience and examples."

Aten said experience and examples are what Wayne's doctors have provided, in addition to the experience of practicing medicine in an area different from Omaha. "The people here aren't really much different than those I see in Omaha," said Aten. "Although they are probably a little less likely to abuse the doctors and the system."

"WAYNE IS AN excellent medical community," said Aten, adding that the

Fundraiser takes the cake

The newly organized Wayne County Heart Association is pumping up for a February business-district fundraiser that takes the cake.

And, if you really want to see what makes the association tick, you'll have to get in on some of the upcoming baking and bouncing.

To get to the heart of the matter, the association has scheduled a bake-and-bounce fundraiser for Feb. 10.

WITH FEBRUARY designated National Heart Month, the association has already formed a committee that's come up with a new twist for the traditional business district fund drive.

"Bake and Bounce for Stronger Hearts" is the theme of the fundraiser. It combines cake baking and basketball bouncing for fun and fundraising.

The Bake-and-Bounce committee has pitted the Wayne businessmen against the male faculty members of Wayne State College and Wayne High School.

The first round drafts already are underway for the baking teams and the bouncing teams, according to Bud Froehlich, association president-elect.

COMMITTEE members Ron Jones, WSC athletic director, and Lonnie Ehrhardt, WHS football coach, are putting together the faculty Bake-and-Bounce team.

And, committee members Paul Peterson of Kuhn's Department Store, and Phil Kloster, city administrator, are selecting the business district team.

Each team is expected to field 16 cake bakers and a basketball squad, according to Froehlich.

The cake bakers will — without the help of their wives or friends — bake and decorate cakes throughout the day Thursday, Feb. 10.

THOSE CAKES will be judged by a panel of women and auctioned off during the halftime of the Feb. 10 basketball game, which begins at 7 p.m. in the City Auditorium.

Cakes will be baked and decorated at Peoples Natural Gas Co. and delivered to the auditorium, where they will be on public display, according to Bev Etter, Wayne County Heart Association campaign chairman for 1983.

Bake-and-Bounce team members will be seeking sponsors willing to buy their kitchen creations during the halftime auction, which will be conducted by professional auctioneers.

IN ADDITION, the association will sponsor free blood pressure screening at Peoples Natural Gas throughout the baking day, according to Gary West, publicity director.

The public is invited to watch the cake baking, decorating and judging, as well as the basketball game, including the halftime auction, according to West.

Bake-and-Bounce is the Wayne County Heart Association's first project. Organized in December, the association has formed a board of directors and elected officers.

The officers include: Dr. James Lindau, president; Bud Froehlich, president-elect; Lu Ellingson, secretary; and Dennis Lipp, treasurer.

Olds steps down from board

Wayne attorney devotes 17 years to ESU

The father of Educational Service Unit One has stepped down after 17 years of service to the unit.

Kenneth Olds, 66, has been associated with ESU since its origin in 1966. He was elected first president of the board that year and served that position until 1980 when he decided it was time for a change. This past year he decided not to re-run for his board seat.

In addition to serving as president of the board, Olds also worked without pay as attorney for ESU One.

"It was a very interesting, worthwhile experience. I feel the unit has been of service to schools and I don't regret the time and effort I devoted to it," Ken said. "I enjoyed working with dedicated board members."

OLDS SAID he is leaving ESU because he feels he has done his part. "I felt I had done my duty by serving that long."

Ken spent many hours working for the unit during his tenure. In addition to monthly meetings, there were special meetings and committee meetings. Serving on the salary-negotiations committee last year took more time than being president, he said.

Olds said ESU was formed by a statute which was passed by the legislature in 1965. The law didn't go into effect until 1966. The unit was formed to provide supplementary services that local and rural schools couldn't provide, Ken said.

It's not practical for a small school to have a speech therapist or full-time nurse, he explained. By employing personnel who can serve a number of schools, ESU can provide those services, he added.

EDUCATIONAL SERVICE Unit One includes the counties of Wayne, Cedar, Dixon, Dakota, Knox and Thurston. Olds said he feels the unit has provided services in area schools that either would not otherwise have been possible or would have been a burden to the taxpayer.

"When we started, we didn't know where we were going. We polled the schools on services needed and not affordable," said Olds. "I feel ESU compares favorably overall in the high type of services provided and also has done it in an efficient manner. A self-evaluation and study completed last summer and fall supports that conclusion."

Olds said similar organizations exist in other states. "In Nebraska, with its scattered population, the only way to provide the services is through an organization like this," he said.

ESU One also provides a film library which is available to all area schools. Equipment located in the Wakefield offices makes it possible to test for hearing difficulties.

OLDS SAID the struggling economy and budget cuts have affected individual schools more than ESU. ESU services are contracted through schools, giving schools the opportunity to choose which services they want.

Ken said he and his wife Inez were fortunate that their three children received a "real, good education" at Wayne High. Their son, Dr. Kenneth M. Olds Jr. of Greeley, Colo., is a doctor. Daughter Sandra Lorenzen of Lincoln is a medical technologist and daughter Dianne McCarty of Hiawatha, Kan., has a college degree in musical education.

Because the Olds' children were well educated, Ken said he feels obligated to improve the education of all students through ESU.

"We generally get a high type of student to work with. We're set up to provide an education," he stated.

EDUCATIONAL SERVICE Unit One has one voting representative from each county and four other board members elected at-large from all six counties. Ken was elected as an at-large member. Under those stipulations, each county's interests are represented as well as at-large interests, he said.

New airport manager

ORIN ZACH (left) has taken over duties as Wayne Municipal Airport manager. At Friday's weekly Chamber of Commerce coffee, he was presented a progress award by new Chamber President Randy Pedersen (center). At right is Cindy Wagner, an employee at the airport. Zach told chamber members that he gives charter flights anywhere in the United States.

weekly gleanings

THE FARM home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wulf and their two children was demolished by fire late Friday night, Jan. 7. Pierce fire officials place the loss at about $60,000. The Wulfs were visiting relatives in Pierce at the time the fire broke out some time before midnight. The deputy state fire marshal believes the fire was started by an electrical wiring problem possibly accelerated by a propane leak.

THE WAITING is over. Doctor James M. Davy has officially opened the Medical Clinic in Ponca and began his Nebraska practice Jan. 10. The doctor intends to do hospitalization and daily rounds, working jointly with specialists when needed, and will provide covering physicians when he is not available.

CENTURIAN Otto Fechner was guest of honor at a birthday party held at the Wisner Manor on Jan. 2, just two days shy of his 102nd birthday. Hosts for the party were his daughter and son-in-law, Muriel and Delmar Pestel of Wisner.

A STEERING committee has been set up to begin formulating plans for Bancroft's 100th anniversary observance in 1984. Steve Sill, who was appointed Bancroft Centennial chairman a year ago, said his wife, Lynn, along with Rich and Sandy Brehmer and Doug and Mary Mohl will be assisting with plans for the observance.

11-year-old Chad Van Cleave, Chad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Van Cleave, became a published author last week when a fable he wrote for his fifth-grade class was published in "Capper's Weekly," a news and feature oriented magazine with a nationwide circulation. Chad's fable is the story of an honest bear who loses his teeth.

NEGOTIATIONS are underway by Rex Earl of Omaha and Adventist Health System for the purchase of a group of nursing homes owned by Earl and other stockholders, including Pierce Manor. A considerable amount of legal work must be completed, however the two parties expect to transfer ownership of the health care facility sometime this coming summer.

Worldwide recognition

Former Carroll man selected to receive company award

An employee at Campbell Soup Company's Omaha plant is among 14 employees selected from the company's worldwide operations to receive special awards.

Randall Milnes, a former resident of Carroll, was among the employees recognized for their contributions to Campbell's successful 1981-82 fiscal year.

THE AWARD, presented Dec. 22 by Omaha plant manager A. R. Natrass, recognizes "accomplishments by Randall Milnes, manager of computer operations, which contributed significantly to the attainment of company objectives, and which represented employee actions over and beyond what would normally be expected in performance of the employee's regular job duties.

Milnes created data processing systems that have increased the effectiveness of Omaha's data processing operations and have been adopted at other Campbell plants in Modesto, Calif., Fayetteville, Ark., and Salisbury, Ohio.

He also developed the only interactive inventory control system in Campbell.

FORTY-EIGHT nominations involving 70 employees were received from Campbell's domestic and international locations.

Each of the 14 award recipients received a silver bowl and a token cash award of $2,500.

Everyone who was nominated received a personal letter of commendation from Gordon McGovern, company president.

Randall Milnes

His wife, Lucille, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Samuelson of rural Wakefield.

Country boy...

Howdy. No doubt you've heard of chicken thieves. Usually, they slip into the coop under cover of darkness and pluck themselves a meal or two from the farmer's finest feathered friends. Sometimes they are the two-legged variety, but most of the time they are of the furry, four-legged variety.

AND, NEARLY every chicken farmer keeps a rusty old shotgun handy — often just inside the farmhouse door where he can grab it to defend his flock by night.

Your basic furry, four-legged chicken thief rarely tries anything during the day.

But once the countryside goes dark, they are on the prowl, looking for any opportunity to gain a free meal from the farmer.

Among the most common chicken thieves are foxes, skunks, weasels, badgers, wild dogs, tame dogs, and wild tom cats. And, a good chicken farmer usually knows their habits.

IN FACT, if you spend much time with an old chicken farmer, he's apt to entertain you with story after story about commotions at the chicken coop.

That's when they grab rusty Ol' Betsy, pop a shotgun shell in to her and head for the coop hoping to catch the beady-eyed thief with a handful of feathers.

When Ol' Betsy barks in the dark, the fur usually flies.

It usually flies from a direct hit, often at point blank range, or it flies out the door on the winged feet of a frightened chicken thief who lives to steal again.

NEARLY EVERY serious chicken farmer has story after story about shooting skunks as big as bear cubs, and blasting away at weasels that run as fast as a lightning bolt.

Certainly, the darkness increases the size of the skunk, and accelerates the speed of the weasel. And, it most certainly amplifies Ol' Betsy's bark.

Often the first danger signal is the frenzied barking of the family farm dog.

And, many a chicken farmer has spared the life of a chicken thief to avoid putting a barrel of buckshot in the family dog.

Although, I've known family farm dogs so full of skunk that it was hard to smell which was which.

OFTEN, JUST the presence of a good farm dog will keep all but the bravest chicken thieves away from the family farmyard, including the chicken coop.

This past summer, when I was on my agricultural sabbatical, the family farm dog was only a timid pup.

So, I was pretty much on my own when it came to fighting off chicken thieves.

Apparently the word got out that the Howell farmstead was easy pickins, because we had buckshot battles with chicken thieves nearly every night.

Of course, the Howell farm offered the thieves a temptingly easy chance for any one of the more than 650 feathered fryers growing in two rundown sheds that were reasonably varmint proof.

AND IT DIDN'T help matters that the shed were beyond the farmyard proper and well beyond any glare from the yardlight.

So, with no barking dog (the pup slept all night no matter what happened) and the chicken's themselves out of earshot, this country boy soon discovered nearly every night was chicken dinner delight.

But, try as I might, I couldn't figure out who the drumstick bandits were.

I've seen a skunk kill a chicken. And, I've seen a weasel kill a chicken.

TOM CATS, even big wild ones, rarely take on a half-grown fryer. They like the baby chicks much better.

But, I was arriving at the coop soon after sunrise each morning and finding a dead fryer on the chicken house floor with one drumstick missing.

That was it. Not a ruffled feather. Not a mark on the neck or head.

Nothing but a peaceful, died-in-my-sleep look on the victim's face.

No broken bones. No broken wings. No missing intestines. No ripped skin. No blood.

Nothing, save a missing leg, clipped neatly where the thigh joins the breast.

I CHECKED with friends, told the story to neighbors, talked with brothers and my father...and it stumped them all.

Afraid that it was an inside job, I checked every nook and cranny of the shed for places a chicken thief could hide. Still no clue.

The drumstick bandit hit again. It was a rerun of the first...dead chicken laying less than three feet from the front door, leg missing, no blood, no marks, no sign of a struggle.

I knew it was no inside job, so I checked every crack and loose board on that shed to see if I like a tomb.

A few days went by, then the drumstick bandit hit again. Same dabbed thing as before right down to the look on that dead chicken's face.

I'D HEARD about these ritual killings of farm livestock for years...so, I began to wonder if I had a chicken killing cult on my hands.

I saved that fat fryer. I dumped him into a plastic bag and threw it in the freezer...just in case I needed some evidence.

The neighbors were starting to shake their heads at my story about the repeated bloodless killings. And, I was fuming.

I staked out the building for a few nights with Ol' Betsy loaded and ready in my hands and a flashlight in my pocket.

Nothing...not even a barn rat snooped around the building as I sat through the night ready to shoot at the sound of my own shadow.

THE RITUAL chicken slaughter stopped for a few days. And, life got back to normal...well, as near normal as it ever got.

Then one morning several days later, my nephew came racing into the house huffing and panting like he'd been to see the elephant.

I managed to find out that he'd been to the slough, where we had more than 200 Pekin ducks swimming and fattening on cracked corn.

"There's a big dog and a pup out there killing the ducks," he shrieked, finally.

Well, I grabbed Ol' Betsy and loaded her on the run. The slough was quite a piece from the farmhouse, so we both were out of breath when we came crashing through the shelterbelt, which bordered the duck pond.

THAT DOG, a big, golden retriever bitch with a half-grown pup at her side, was in the middle of the slough in a flat-out killing frenzy.

Ducks and dogs and blood and mud were everywhere.

She'd killed a half-dozen already and wounded as many more. The ducks were exhausted and black from the blood and muck.

Still the dog and her pup pushed on, oblivious to us standing in the open on the bank not 100 feet away.

We shouted and shouted and she killed and killed.

I PULLED UP Ol' Betsy and the shotgun barked...once, twice, three times.

The dog continued to struggle after the ducks, blood flowing from its head, neck and back.

The pup stayed right with her as I reloaded.

Soon, Ol' Betsy barked again. This time, the bitch yelped and slipped beneath the mucky water.

The half-grown pup, turning to charge the ducks again, saw his mother go down and stopped. Then, charged the flock again.

Ol' Betsy barked again, and the pup yelped, wheeled and headed for the shelterbelt. Ol' Betsy barked one more time...and the pup collapsed on the slough bank.

AS MY NEPHEW walked back to the house for breakfast, I checked the chicken coop.

As I approached the front door, I noticed that the lower left hand corner was wet and muddy.

Not only that, but it had been pried away from the frame at the bottom

It looked like something had been trying to get inside. I'd seen it once before, but thought it was the family pup nuzzling the door while I was doing the chicken chores.

Inside was another dead fryer within three feet of the door without a feather ruffled, but the body was still warm.

No blood, no guts, no gore...it just died with a smile on its face and fear in its heart.

IT DAWNED on me that morning that something must have been smart enough — and strong enough — to pull or pry the bottom of the door open just enough to stick a paw through and grab a fryer.

I knew as the fryers had gotten bigger, some slept on the floor in the corners because there wasn't enough room on the roosts.

The door was in a corner of the building... Whatever reached through that door grabbed a drumstick and tried to pull the chicken back through the crack, I figured.

But, the fryers were nice and plump and would not come on through.

I figured only a badger or a dog would have the strength it would take to pry the door.

I ALSO figured that whatever pried open the door that far, would also have the strength to pop a drumstick off a fat fryer.

The door and the door frame must have acted as braces against the fryer's body and the chicken thief must have kept on pulling until the leg popped off from the pressure.

I figured a chicken sleeping in the dark right next to the door would be missing a leg before it knew what happened.

Then, I figured without a leg, the fryer couldn't run too far in to the coop, so it died — probably of shock — within three feet of the door.

I CALLED a friend about the dogs. He identified them as two belonging to a neighbor of his across the road.

He said the dogs had been running all summer.

Then, I told him my theory about the bitch reaching through the chickenhouse door to pop off drumsticks for breakfast.

He told me that, the year before, that same golden retriever bitch and her two pups raided his livestock barn after prying open the door.

They killed more than 60 chickens and 40 rabbits, including baby bunnies. In a frenzy that left blood and guts, fur and feathers pasted all over the inside of the shed.

"It wiped me out," he said.

"They won't do it again," I said.

And, the drumstick bandit was never again seen at the Howell chicken farm.

Within days we dropped our marketing plan for one-legged fryers.

Catch you next week...

Riding herd

Sacred cows. They often overeat and underproduce. They are as stubborn as the bureaucratic herdsmen who tend them. And, they are difficult to cull...almost impossible to kill. They wander where they want to...when they want to, generally jumping over fences and slipping through gates.

But, the minute taxpaying cowboys make the slightest suggestion that those sacred cows need to be fenced, like the others, the bureaucratic herdsmen bawl like just-weaned calves. And, no taxpaying cowboy can rope a runaway sacred cow without being accused of starting an anti-cow campaign.

It doesn't make much sense, but that's the way it happens. Take the sacred special education cow, for instance. The minute a taxpaying cowboy suggests that someone ride herd on it, the bureaucratic herdsmen haul out an anti-education label and slap it on him.

Take the sacred government giveaway cow, for another instance. The minute a taxpaying cowboy suggests that someone ride herd on it, the bureaucratic herdsmen hem and haw around about him being against poor people.

It doesn't take much figurin' or head scratchin' to realize why taxpaying cowboys want to ride herd, particularly on sacred cows. Just look at the costly pocketbook stampedes they can, and have, caused.

But, that doesn't mean a taxpaying cowpuncher would shoot the whole herd just to rope a troublesome sacred cow...no matter what the bawling bureaucratic herdsmen would have you think.

And, there's nothing about it that's too difficult for the taxpaying cowpuncher to understand...no matter what the bawling bureaucratic herdsmen would have you think.

Any good cowboy-cowpony combination can sort out the troublesome sacred cows...one at a time.

It gets tougher when that taxpayin' cowpunchin' combination has to handle a herd of nothing but runaway sacred cows.

New appointment

Increased trade top priority

During the 98th Congress, I will take a seat on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

I am very pleased about my appointment because it will enable me to do more for Nebraska agriculture and for the state's overall economy than any other committee assignment I could hope to have at this time.

On the Foreign Affairs Committee, I will emphasize work on U.S. trade policy and reorientation of our foreign aid programs. We need to focus on sending more agricultural commodities as foreign aid, and less cash.

THESE ARE difficult changes to make and they probably won't be made quickly, but a House member from an agricultural state needs to pursue them.

I have consistently expressed my belief that increased trade is one key way to improve our farm economy as a whole. The increase of American exports has been a priority during my first two terms in Congress.

My participation in the GATT conference in Geneva, Switzerland, and in the U.S.-U.S.S.R. Trade and Economic meeting, my cosponsorship for sanctity of contract legislation, of the Agriculture Export Credit Revolving fund, and of legislation to force a tougher approach to our trade policies with Japan all reflect my continuing commitment to the development of U.S. agricultural trade.

congressman doug bereuter

MY RECENT experience with Soviet trade and agricultural officials and at the GATT conference reinforced my conviction that expansion of our export market and forceful insistence on fair trade practices or reciprocity can be a major factor in the future economic well-being of Nebraska farmers.

Forty per cent of U.S. exports are sold to developing countries. Developing countries represent our largest and fastest-growing export market — they are growing faster than the Canadian, Japanese, and European markets. They too are a vitally important part of the future of Nebraska's agriculture. What is commonly called "foreign aid" is actually one way to foster this market growth. For every dollar the United States contributes to the multilateral development banks, between two and three dollars come back to the United States in the form of export sales. And we should all remember that every $1 million in export sales represents 40 full-time jobs for Americans.

I DO REGRET that acceptance of this new committee assignment will require me to give up my seat on the House Interior Committee.

I fully intend to pursue my commitment to water development and water resource legislation, however, and have been assured by Interior Committee chairman Morris Udall and by ranking minority member Manuel Lujan of their cooperation.

While the reclamation areas of the committee's jurisdiction are all west of the First District, I will continue my interest and efforts in this subject area. I have already reintroduced my legislation providing for groundwater recharge demonstration projects.

Wayne State hosting one-act play contests

Wayne State College will host two one-act play production contests today (Monday) and Jan. 20, according to Dr. Robert Johnson, contest director and interim division head of humanities.

Six schools and approximately 60 students from District III, class B-3, will compete today.

They include Wisner-Piager High School, Wayne-Carroll High School, West Point Public High School, Logan View Junior-Senior High School of Hooper, Blair High School, and Hartington Cedar Catholic High School.

Judges will be Dr. Johnson and Juli Burney, interim instructor in humanities at Wayne State.

APPROXIMATELY 50 students from District III, class C-5, will compete on Jan. 20.

Participating high schools include Allen, Emerson-Hubbard, Homer, Laurel, Ponca and Wakefield.

Kathy Johnson of Leigh and Ron White, interim instructor in humanities at Wayne State, will judge.

BOTH competitions are scheduled to begin at 9 a.m., and awards will be given at 3 p.m. on competition days.

Johnson said that students have been preparing for the contests for several weeks.

Johnson added that those who win at these competitions will go on to the state contest, which will be held Jan. 28 in Kearney.

Take a clue from the successful businesses in our community and take inventory in your home. Smart business managers know the importance of a complete record of stock on hand. Household managers can utilize an inventory to record items in the home also.

A HOUSEHOLD inventory is an itemized list of household furnishings, equipment and other personal possessions. In the event of a fire or theft the household inventory can be used to identify losses. Police and insurance companies can help the homeowner more quickly when accurate information is given. A household inventory can help determine the amount of insurance needed to provide adequate coverage. In the event that losses are not covered by insurance, your inventory can help prove your loss for income tax purposes.

MAKING AN inventory is a good idea and a nice indoor project for a wintery day. There are household inventory books available from various sources to help with this task. A notebook or photograph album also can be used.

Your household inventory can be a list of items, a set of photos, or a combination. Whatever method you use be sure to include the date each item was purchased and its original cost. Other information might include brand names, serial numbers and any identifying marks.

Taking a complete inventory of each room in your home helps make the record more useful. Concentrating on one room at a time also makes the job seem easier to handle.

If you use photos in your inventory, be sure they are clear and show the items in detail. Photographs are especially helpful in identifying china, glassware or jewelry.

Small pieces of special value can be grouped together on a plain rug and photographed.

The more complete and detailed your household inventory photo album is the more valuable it will be to you.

AFTER YOU'VE completed a household inventory store it in your safety deposit box. Don't forget to update the inventory with new photos and information each time you add items to your home.

To help you get started with your household inventory there is an extension publication available. Contact the extension office if you are interested in a copy of the publication for your inventory.

Lopers break loose, dim WSC playoff bid

A capacity crowd that jammed into Rice Auditorium saw a peaking Kearney State team turn on the steam and roll to a 94-80 triumph over the Wayne State Wildcats Friday night.

With the stands and balcony filled and WSC fans crowded into both ends of the court behind the baskets, the Wildcats made several attempts to catch the Antelopes.

The hosts got within four points on several occasions in the second half but Kearney kept its fastbreak offense running smoothly to again pull away.

WAYNE LED early in the first half before Kearney warmed up its shooting and gained the edge. The Cats had a chance to get back within one point by the end of the first half but four shots missed their target in the final seconds and KSC led 33-30 at the break.

The Antelopes jumped in front by 10 points at 47-37 in the second half and kept the pressure on the Cats. John Reed's basket cut the score to 49-53 but Wayne couldn't get any closer than four points.

With the score 55-51, Kearney scored a quick field goal and then a three-point play for a 60-51 lead. The rest of the game belonged to the Antelopes as the Wildcats tried to run and gun with the Lopers but couldn't gain ground.

With a victory out of reach, Wayne's Brad Edwards and Russ Uhing put on a shooting exhibition for the fans, hitting numerous outside shots.

EDWARDS FINISHED with 14 points and Uhing had 13. Grady Hansen and Ron Taylor scored 12 points apiece and Lonell Greene had 10. The Lopers were led by Les Adelung with 23 points, Jeff Hoppes with 21 and Crale Bauer with 17.

The Wildcats shot 42 percent from the field including 38 percent in the first half. Wayne made only 2 of 10 free throws in that half but finished with 18 of 29.

WSC is scheduled to hit the road Friday and Saturday with games at Missouri Southern and Pittsburg, Kan.

WS women top rated conference opponent

Playing before the largest home crowd they have seen this season, the Wayne State Lady Wildcats collected their biggest win of the year Friday night. The hosts used a strong second half to upset 19th rated Kearney State 54-49.

Billed as the warmup game to the men's shootout, the women's game actually was a main event, Janet Lee had a brilliant night for the Lady Cats. She hit 7 of 14 shots from the field, scored 16 points, made nine steals and grabbed six rebounds.

Wayne trailed 23-26 at the half but outscored Kearney 31-23 in the second half. The victory was a conference victory for the Cats and put a feather in their cap after losing to two other nationally ranked teams last week. Number two Midland and number 12 Missouri Western were winners in those games.

LEE WAS joined in the attack by Maggie Alberts with 11 points, Deb Nygren with 10, Jackie Schimonitz with 8 and Robbie Lehr with 7. For Kearney, Cathy Weir scored 18 points and Mary Hershiser scored 12.

The home team hit 23 of 64 shots from the field for 36 percent and the visitors made 23 of 76 for 30 percent. The outcome of the game was decided at the free-throw line where the Lady Cats got 13 opportunities and made 8. Kearney had eight free shots and made only three.

Trojans hold off Winside's late comeback

A couple of missed free throws in the final seconds killed a Winside rally and insured a Wakefield victory as the Trojans nipped the Wildcats 38-36 Friday night in Wakefield.

Winside, which trailed by five points entering the final period, pulled back within one point late in the game and had two free throw opportunities with six seconds left to play. Both free throw attempts were missed and Wakefield held on.

The Trojans played well in the first quarter while building up a 14-6 lead. The Cats got back within three points by the end of the second half but the hosts increased that lead to five in the third quarter.

TWO PLAYERS tied for scoring honors. Brian Soderberg scored 16 points to lead the Trojans and Jon Meierhenry had 16 to pace the Wildcats. Jeff Behmer scored 10 for Winside and Mike Clay had eight for Wakefield.

According to the Trojan statistics sheet, Wakefield had 19 rebounds and 15 turnovers. Winside had 23 rebounds and made 12 turnovers. From the field, the hosts hit 15 shots in 32 attempts for 47 percent. Winside made 15 of 44 for 34 percent. Individual rebounding leaders were Soderberg with eight and Clay with five for Wakefield and Meierhenry with nine and Ronnie Prince with six for Winside. Wakefield coach Scott Miller said he didn't think either team played its best and added that it was a sloppy game.

THE TROJANS did play well in the first quarter and then held the ball later to protect the lead. Miller said Soderberg played well both on offense and defense.

The win improved Wakefield's record to 6-4 and dropped Winside's to 3-5. The Trojans are scheduled to host Emerson Hubbard Tuesday and play at Wynot Friday. The Wildcats will travel to Wausa Friday.

Friday's junior varsity game was won 38-16 by Wakefield. Wade Nicholson scored 10 points and Jason Erb scored 7 for the winners. For Winside, Jim Roberts scored 6.

An overtime thriller Mustangs escape upset lasso

The Wayne Blue Devils had their chances to knock off unbeaten Stanton Friday night in the Wayne-Carroll gym. But, the Mustangs sent the game into overtime and nipped Wayne 57-55 to keep their perfect record intact.

The Blue Devils held a two-point lead with approximately 1:20 to play in the game. The hosts threw the ball away and Stanton scored to tie the game.

Stanton got the ball back again but Steve Overin stole a pass with three seconds to play. He couldn't get a shot off in time and the game was sent into overtime.

"IT WAS a good ball game. The kids played well and hung in there. They played hard and came back," Wayne coach Bill Sharpe said. "Stanton has a good ball club. We had our shot but couldn't quite close the door on them. Most everyone on the team made a positive contribution."

The Blue Devils wasted no time in setting the tempo of the game. Wayne posted a 14-12 lead after one quarter and a 25-22 edge at the half.

The third quarter, traditionally a cold one for Wayne, changed the outlook of the game. Stanton blitzed the Blue Devils 23-10 in that period.

Trailing by 10 points, the game appeared to be all but over. Wayne used a fourth quarter spree to claim a 53-51 lead as time ran low. Stanton's final bucket tied the score at 53 all.

THREE WAYNE players scored in double figures. Shaun Niemann led the attack with 16 points. Jeff Jorgensen scored 12 and Don Larsen scored 11. Behind them were Todd Schwartz with 8 and Steve Overin with 6.

Stanton's big man, 6-7 Scott Persighal, was the game's leading scorer with 18 points. Derric Maas scored 15 and Dan Dubsky scored 13.

The Devils made 23 of 58 shots for 40 percent and Stanton hit a whopping 25 of 48 for 52 percent. Neither team shot well from the free-throw line.

WAYNE'S Don Larsen and Stanton's Scott Persighal - for Wayne is Shaun Niemann; battle for the tip in this jump ball situation: Number 34 committed 15 turnovers and Stanton made 18.

WAYNE WON the junior varsity game 59-53. Trailing by 10 points at the end of the third quarter, the hosts initiated a rally to improve their record to 7-1.

Stanton ruled the overtime period 4-2.

Wayne out-rebounded Stanton 35-27 with Larsen leading the way with 11 and Niemann pulling down 8. The Blue Devils out the win. Leif Olson hit a career high 24 points for the winners. Carl Urwiler scored 19, Brad Moore had eight, Jeff Sherer scored four, Layne Marsh scored two and Dan Gross added two.

The Blue Devils (4-6) are scheduled to host Hartington CC on Friday.

Early hot streak leads Trojans past Wildcats

A blistering first quarter performance led the Wakefield girls to a 40-22 win over Winside Thursday night in Wakefield.

Winning coach Mary Schroeder said the first quarter was the best basketball her team has ever played. Losing coach Don Leighton said he was proud of the way his team refused to give up and then improved in the final three quarters.

The first quarter decided the outcome of the game. Working the ball well offensively and using an effective full-court man-to-man press, the Trojans rocketed to a 16-3 lead by the end of the period.

BRENDA JONES, Wakefield's leading scorer throughout the season, had 10 points by the time the first quarter was over. Michele Meyer, Renee Wenstrand and Kelly Greve added one basket each. Winside's three points came on a bucket by Karlene Benshoof and a free throw by Shelli Topp.

After giving up the first basket of the second quarter, Winside got its offense generating. Shelli Topp, Pam Peter and Leah Jensen accounted for seven consecutive points as the Wildcats pulled within eight points at 18-10 with more than three minutes left in the half.

The Trojans scored the next five points for a 23-10 midway through the game.

"The first quarter was the best we've played ever. That's the way we're capable of playing but we have a lot of lapses yet," Schroeder said. "If we become more consistent for two, three or four quarters, we'll be tough."

WINSIDE FACED a 13-point deficit after the first quarter and ended up losing by 18 points. Leighton felt that was an accomplishment. "The girls starting driving the ball. I see some of them doing some things better every game. They did a lot of things on their own," Leighton said.

One of the things that pleased Leighton the most was his team's rebounding. The Wildcats finished with 50 rebounds. "That really makes me smile. I'm really happy with that. The girls were scrappy under the boards. I'm proud of them," Leighton said his team had 24 offensive rebounds and 26 defensive boards.

"These girls could have folded after the first quarter but they came back for all they were worth. I've coached teams before that would have given up," Leighton continued. "It was a very physical game."

WAKEFIELD SHOWED its potential at times and Schroeder was pleased with her team's effort.

"The girls are working the ball real well on our zone offense. They're doing a nice job and I was impressed with their passing," Schroeder said. "We started real tough with our full court press. We let up some after the first quarter but that's to be expected with a good lead. Some of our younger players had a chance to play and got some good experience."

The Trojans were paced by Jones with 18 points and Wenstrand with eight. Jones hit 7 of 14 shots from the field and Wakefield hit 18 of 47 for 38.3 percent. Five other girls scored.

Wakefield had 39 rebounds and was led by Jones with 16. Michele Meyer had five, Wenstrand had four and Melodie Witt had four. Jones and Meyer made six and four steals respectively.

For Winside, Shelli Topp and Pam Peter led the scoring with six points each. Trisha and Shelli Topp topped the rebounding chart with 11 apiece. Leah Jensen grabbed nine, Karlene Benshoof had six, Tammy Brudigan had five and Missy Jensen had five.

IN JUNIOR varsity play, Wakefield edged Winside 12-11. Wakefield scoring: Roni Starzl 3, Heidi Schopke 3, Darla Hartman 2, Kris Coble 2, Melodie Witt 2. Winside scoring: Missy Jensen 6, Julie Brockman 2, Rhonda Severson 2, Tammy Brudigan 1.

The Trojans (4-5) are scheduled to Monday at Ponca and Friday at Wynot. The Wildcats will be at Allen Monday and host Wausa Friday.

BRENDA JONES (42) of Wakefield tries to work the ball past Winside's defenders. Tammy Brudigan (11) eyes the ball for Winside as Wakefield's Michele Meyer (20) prepares to help her teammate out. The Trojans rolled up the points in the first quarter and then held on to defeat Winside Thursday night. The game was originally scheduled last Monday but postponed because of the storm. The victory gives Wakefield four wins—just two short of the school record for girls basketball.

Laurel runs to divisional win

Laurel's defense got a tune-up and the Bears got a divisional win in a 54-38 decision over Wynot Friday night on Laurel's home court.

Wynot stayed right in the ball game through the first quarter but the Bears opened up a 10-point lead in the second quarter. That lead was increased in the third period as Laurel outscored Wynot 16-10.

Laurel coach Mark Hrabik gave much of the credit to his team's defense. "Our defense kept the tempo in our favor. We tried to fastbreak and defense was an advantage for us," he said.

ALL OF LAUREL'S players saw action in the game. Kelly Robson was the game's leading scorer with 17 points and Jerry Kastrop hit 14. Paul Lofquist scored nine and Mike Jonas scored seven.

Robson had an all-around good game, pulling down 15 rebounds, making five steals and adding two assists. Kastrop grabbed seven rebounds, Mark Penlerick had seven and Ron Hirschman had six in a substitute's role. Laurel made 18 turnovers compared to 21 for Wynot.

"We tried to get down the floor and get shots up. We scored points off of the press. It was a conference game and we wanted to win," Hrabik said. "Wynot played fairly well in the first half."

The win brought the Bears closer to a 500 record at 5-6. On Friday, Laurel will try to even its record at Hartington High.

In Friday's junior varsity game, Laurel defeated Wynot 36-13. Mike Granquist and Dave Kardell each scored eight points.

Bears back together again

With the team back at full strength, the Laurel girls trimmed Wynot 46-40 Thursday night in an important Clark Division game at Laurel.

Wendy Robson, recovering from mononucleosis and making her first appearance in a couple of weeks, had one of her best outings of the season. She dumped in 15 points, made six steals and grabbed four rebounds.

The Bears got off to a slow start but came alive in the second quarter to get things under control. After trailing 4-12 in the first period, Laurel outscored Wynot 20-10 in the second.

ROBSON SCORED eight of her 15 points in the second quarter. She was 6-for-10 from the field for the night.

The Bears are now 4-0 in divisional play and 8-3 overall. The winners hit 18 out of 55 shots for 32 percent. Laurel trailed by three points with about four minutes left to play but Kelli Johnson, Robson and Patsy Thompson each hit one basket in the next stretch. Kim Sherry made three free throws and Thompson added two in the final minute.

"It could have gone either way. It went down to the wire and it took a total team effort for us to win," Laurel coach Dwight Iverson said. "Wynot pressed in the first half but Patsy and Kim got through the press. We didn't have many turnovers."

Robson's 15-point total was tops in the game. Thompson scored nine and Johnson scored eight for the Bears. Leading rebounders were Sherry, Renee Gadeken and Johnson with seven apiece. For Wynot, Donna Becker scored 12 points. All 12 came in the first half.

WYNOT'S UNDEFEATED junior varsity team beat Laurel 28-24 in the preliminary contest. For the Bears, Cara Dahquist scored nine points, Michelle Joslin scored eight and Lori Lindsay scored five.

Laurel is scheduled to play at Hartington High Friday night. A game against Hartington CC which was postponed last Monday because of the snow storm, has now been cancelled and will not be made up.

Cats can't match Stanton depth

Two pins and a forfeit accounted for all of Winside's points as powerful Stanton rolled to a 47-18 wrestling win over the Wildcats Thursday in Winside.

Jeff Thies pinned Brian Woodman of Stanton in 1:30 of the 167-pound match and Brian Bowers pinned Dan Doggett in 1:53 at 155 pounds. Winside's Chris Olson won by forfeit at 126.

Both teams were open at 98 pounds and Winside had to forfeit at 105, 112, 185 and heavyweight to give Stanton an automatic 24 points.

WINSIDE COACH Paul Sok said his team's inexperience hurt against Stanton's quality wrestlers. Sok moved Thies from 105 to 112 in hopes of catching Stanton's talented Marty Cheyne off guard. A win would have given Thies a better shot of being seeded first in districts. Cheyne won the match 13-0.

"Brian showed a lot of control. He dominated Doggett (Dan) in the finals of our tournament last week and pinned him this time. He took it to him," Sok said.

"Jeff Thies really did a super job. He totally dominated Brian Woodman. Everything worked to a tee. He took him down, controlled him and pinned him," said Sok.

The Wildcats have a dual scheduled at Plainview tomorrow (Tuesday) and will compete in the Oakland-Craig Tournament Saturday.

Stanton 47, Winside 18
98—Both teams open.
105—Winside forfeited to Rob Johnson of Stanton.
112—Winside forfeited to Troy Kremlecek of Stanton.
118—Winside forfeited to Troy Kremlecek of Stanton.

119—Winside's Jeff Thies was decisoned 13-0 by Marty Cheyne.

126—Winside's Chris Olson won by forfeit.

132—Winside's Kyle Miller was pinned by Kevin Woodman of Stanton in 1:06.

138—Winside's Mike Waerdemann was pinned by Jeff Hansen of Stanton in 3:00.

145—Winside's Mike Jaeger was pinned by Joe Hansen of Stanton in 1:00.

155—Winside's Brian Bowers pinned Dan Doggett of Stanton in 1:53.

167—Winside's Jeff Thies pinned Brian Woodman of Stanton in 1:30.

185—Winside forfeited to Troy Schutt of Stanton.

HW—Winside forfeited to Gordon Mandi of Stanton.

Despite their best effort, Blue Devils edged 44-42

Thursday's game with Howells was quite a turnaround for the Wayne girls from last week's loss to Stanton.

According to coach Dale Hochstein, the Blue Devils played their best game of the season in a 44-42 loss to Howells. Hochstein had termed the Stanton game his team's worst effort.

"Everyone contributed in some way," Hochstein said. "The girls really played well. It was fun and encouraging."

THE BLUE Devils could have won the game with a better free throw shooting performance. Wayne made 6 of 16 free throws while Howells made 16 of 27. The hosts were whistled for 17 fouls and Howells was called for 15. The visitors shot six one-and-ones and nine two-shot violations.

Howells outscored Wayne 10 to 2 at the free throw line in the second half.

Tamie Murray had her best offensive performance of the season. She ripped the nets with nine field goals and added a free throw for 19 points. Murray scored seven points in the first quarter and eight in the third.

Missy Stoltenberg scored seven points and Shelley Emry, who came off the bench and hit three-of-five shots, scored six. Stoltenberg and Deb Prenger combined to make nine steals.

WAYNE COMMITTED only 12 turnovers in the ball game. The Blue Devils led 11-9 after the first quarter, fell behind 20-24 at the half and then tied the score at 34-all by the end of the third period.

Howells' six successful free throws in the fourth quarter gave the visitors the edge. The winners were led by Carol Stefensmeier with 12 points.

Wayne (2-6) is scheduled to play at South Sioux City tomorrow (Tuesday).

Thursday's junior varsity game was won 27-25 by Howells. Laura Keating, who played only the fourth quarter, paced the Blue Devils with 10 points. Lori Jacobson scored five and five players scored two each. They are: Amy Gross, Janine Baler, Amy Jordan, Sonja Skokan and Lesa McDermott.

Randy's Recap

By Randy Hascall

Getting physical

I think I've witnessed a trend in girls basketball this year that deserves concern. Several area basketball coaches also have expressed concern to me.

The trend—in many of the games I've covered—is for referees to let the action get pretty rough. Not all refs are doing this and not all girls games are rough. But, too many games are just too darned physical.

The officials may feel they are doing the players and fans a service by speeding up the games and not stopping the action for every little bump or push. But, it is getting out of hand.

I haven't seen any girls sustain any serious injuries yet so maybe my concern is a little extreme. However, I don't wish to ever see a serious injury because a game has gotten too rough.

Refs have told me during games that they just want to get them over with and get home. Some seem to be bored with girls basketball. If that's the case they shouldn't be officiating them.

Girls basketball in Nebraska has a lot of room for growth. If seems that it is becoming a sport of "anything goes." If it is ever going to grow, its future has to be formed now. Refs need to show patience and be willing to blow their whistles when they are needed.

I'm not referring to any particular game, just four or five games I've seen this year. The officials who are doing their job well should be commended. The ones who aren't may not get hired back.

Seven-footer on campus

It's official, Wayne State College has a seven-foot basketball prospect on campus. John Clark is enrolled at WSC now and will be eligible to play for the Wildcats next season. He has two years of eligibility remaining.

Coach Rick Weaver says he hasn't yet measured Clark but believes he is 6-11 or 6-11½. That's close enough for me to call him a seven-footer. Incidentally, Clark wears size 17 basketball shoes.

Another player who is taking classes at Wayne State is 6-5 forward Craig Willis. The Omaha Tech graduate played a couple of years at Morningside before breaking his hand. He also has two years of eligibility.

It's a long time between now and next basketball season so I'll save an in-depth report until next fall when both players are ready to play.

Schedule not easy

Wayne State College basketball opponents again show up in the national top 20 ratings. In the men's division, Missouri Southern is listed 12th in the country. Fort Hays State, which came to Wayne Saturday night, is ranked 15th.

The number one team in the NAIA ratings is Chamaine of Hawaii. This is the second ranking of the season and first since Chamaine upset NCAA power Virginia. Apparently, that victory impressed a few voters. The Hawaii team jumped from fourth to first and collected 31 of the 32 first place votes.

In the women's division, three Wayne State foes are listed on the top 20. Midland College, which beat Wayne last week, holds on to the number two position. Missouri Western, which also defeated Wayne last week, is 12th and Kearney State, which played WSC Friday, is tied for 19th.

Playing three rated teams in a little more than a week is some kind of schedule. Emporia State also received votes but failed to break the top 20.

Resident

residents are fortunate to have such a well equipped hospital.

"There are other areas where physicians do not have a hospital available. Here, the hospital certainly helps increase medical care."

AN "AVID" gardener, Aten said she will probably set up practice in or near Lincoln after completing her certification.

Her husband of three and a half years, Colin Pierson, is a professor of modern language at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

"That has certainly influenced my decision to practice in Lincoln," said Aten, adding that she was brought up in a small town and prefers life in the city. Her husband was born and raised in New York City.

In addition to gardening, Aten said she loves to cook and "hates to clean." She also enjoys theatre, ballet and science fiction "when I have the time."

WHILE PRACTICING in Wayne, Aten is living in the home of a Wayne State College professor who is spending the winter in the south.

The second of six children of Kenneth and Carol Aten of North Platte, she is the only member of her family to choose a career in medicine.

"I just always liked science a lot, and as I got older I didn't feel I wanted to spend all my time in the laboratory.

"I wanted contact with people, and becoming a family practitioner seemed the logical way to fill all of my ambitions and concerns."

ATEN'S FATHER is President of Mid-Plains Community College. Her mother is head of the area Girl Scout Council.

Her only brother, Colin, 27, is self employed in construction in North Platte.

An older sister, Kathryn Stauss, 30, works as a bookkeeper in Dallas, Texas, and younger sister Leslie, 24, is a bookkeeper in North Platte.

Another younger sister, Erin, 20, attends Mid-Plains Community College, and Sean, 17, is a high school senior.

Olds

"There have been differences of opinions among board members but if board members are conscientious they will disagree. That's not necessarily bad," Ken said.

Concerning the recent mileage controversy, Olds said that when services are provided over a six county area, there is bound to be a lot of traveling. "A great majority of personnel are conscientious—hard-working, dedicated people. ESU has provided services in a generally efficient and capable manner," he said.

OLDS, WHO was born in Parkston, S.D. and grew up in Vermillion, received his B.A. degree from the University of South Dakota in 1938 and earned his L.L.B. (law) degree in 1940 from USD.

He moved to Wayne in 1947 and has worked as an attorney since that time.

"Serving on the ESU board was an interesting experience. I learned things and worked with some fine, dedicated persons," Ken said. "To know them and work with them was a worthwhile experience."

Bill Weise of Wausa, past president of the ESU board, says Olds will be missed. "I respected Ken very highly and he was easy to get along with. It was a pleasure to be on the committee and work with him," Weise said.

"He always had good ideas. He is a very confident man and has a good mind. I feel the board is at a loss without him," continued Weise. "The board looked to him for guidance and respected his opinions."

Herald that the air ambulance crew responded to an emergency call involving a six-year-old youngster with respiratory failure.

THE SKYMED helicopter landed just north of PMC about 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Less than an hour later, the kindergarten student was taken from the PMC emergency room to the waiting air ambulance.

Moments later, SkyMed was on its way to Omaha. The girl's parents arrived at the Omaha hospital later that evening.

More Profit-Minded Growers Choose Westeel Storage Bins

Westeel is one of the world's largest manufacturers of grain storage bins... for a lot of good reasons. We provide our Westeel dealers with products, services and pricing that combine to assure more sales, more profits.

Here are just a few benefits of Westeel bins, 4-inch "Wide-Corr" corrugation, 44-inch body sheet, fewer lifts and fasteners for quicker set up, long-lasting PVC zcasing washers throughout. Grade No. 5 steel hardware is packaged in metal pallets for easier storage and handling.

Westeel bolt-on bottom angle permits future extension of bins. Top angle provides continuous gable seal and adds strength — eave spacers available for drying bins.

LOWER ELKHORN NATURAL RESOURCES DISTRICT

Private lands habitat program

The Private Lands Habitat Program offers payments to landowners for establishing or protecting habitat on private lands. The Lower Elkhorn NRD presently has 112 contracts with landowners covering 3,611 acres with payments totalling $66,102. The Lower Elkhorn NRD offers the following practices to landowners.

PRACTICE II

PROTECTION OF EXISTING WILDLIFE COVER

- Five year contract between landowner and Natural Resources District.
- Each cooperator can enroll a minimum of three acres and three acres per plot with a maximum of 40 acres in 4 plots.
- Cover types may be grasses, legumes, or woody species that are existing at the time of application.
- Payment is $7.50 per acre annually.

PRACTICE III

SWEET CLOVER PLANTING WITH OATS

- Two year contract between landowner and Natural Resources District.
- Each cooperator can enroll a minimum of 10 acres per plot and a maximum total of 50 acres annually.
- Yellow sweet clover is to be planted as a companion crop with oats. Following the harvest of the oats crop, the clover is to remain undisturbed through the second February following seeding.
- Only the oats heads may be harvested, with the stubble to be left standing.
- Payment is $30 per acre annually.

PRACTICE IVa

GRASSLAND HABITAT

- Three year contract between landowner and Natural Resources District.
- Each cooperator can enroll a minimum of 10 acres and a maximum of 80 acres.
- Priority will be given to mixtures of sweet clover, red clover, alfalfa, native prairie grasses, or cool season grass. Cool season grass mixtures must contain at least 25% legumes. Seeding rates will be established according to SCS standards.
- Payment is $40 per acre annually.

PRACTICE IVb

STRIPCROPPING WITH OATS AND SWEET CLOVER

- Two year contract between landowner and Natural Resources District.
- Each cooperator can enroll a minimum of three acres and a maximum of 40 acres in strips 100-250 feet wide planted on the contour. The contract area should be 20%-50% of the field with the remainder being row crops.
- Yellow sweet clover is to be planted at a rate of 8 lbs. per acre as a companion crop with oats. Following the harvest of the oats crop, the clover is to remain undisturbed through the second February following seeding.
- Only the oats heads may be harvested with the stubble to be left standing.
- Payment is $50 per acre annually.

PRACTICE IVc

STRIPCROPPING WITH PERMANENT COVER

- Three — five year contract between landowner and Natural Resources District, (landowner's option).
- Each cooperator can enroll a minimum of three acres and a maximum of 40 acres in strips 100-250 feet wide, planted on the contour. The contract area should be 20%-50% of the field, with the remainder being row crops.
- Priority will be given to mixtures of sweet clover, red clover, alfalfa, native prairie grasses or cool season grass. Cool season grass mixtures must contain at least 25% legumes. Seeding rates will be established according to SCS standards.
- Payment is $50 per acre annually.

PUBLIC ACCESS OPTION

Cooperators in any Practice except II receive an additional $5.00 per acre annually for agreeing to permit public access on contracted land, by foot traffic only. Under Practice II this payment is $2.50. Access may be for the purpose of hunting, fishing, hiking and trapping. Public access is not required if this option is not used. Contracts including this option will have first priority.

SEED AND TREE PAYMENT

Landowners may be eligible to be reimbursed for the cost of the seed or trees planted on contract areas. Mixtures and seeding rates must conform to SCS recommendations with applications approved before seed is purchased. Tree plantings may be for improving existing stands or to obtain a good balance of woody and grassy habitat.

Payment will be for 100% of cost of grass seed or the current cost of trees under the Clarke-McNary Program.

GROUND PREPARATION PAYMENT

Cooperators who apply for Practices IVa or IVc are also eligible for a one time payment for ground preparation. The payment is $25 per acre of land seeded.

For more information or to sign-up for the program contact your local Soil Conservation Service Office.

160 ac.

Example of Practice IVb & IVc and the benefits to landowner.

Higher payment for habitat

Lower Elkhorn NRD has increased the payment that landowners can receive for converting marginal cropland to cover for wildlife. Landowners will now receive $40 per acre annually for a block planting and $30 for stripcropping.

These and other payments are parts of the Nebraska Wildlife Habitat Program which was established in 1977. The Nebraska Game & Parks Commission along with the Natural Resources Districts administers the program, which is funded by the $7.50 Habitat Stamp sold with each hunting permit. The Wildlife Habitat Program is composed of three parts:

- Land purchases by Nebraska Game & Parks Commission as Wildlife Management Areas, which are open to the public.
- Habitat improvements on existing public lands such as public road right-of-way.
- Private Lands Habitat Program.

Windbreak trees

The Clarke-McNary Tree Program which provides low cost seedlings to landowners is selling out fast. As of the first part of January, less than one million trees remained of the original inventory of 3.4 million available for spring 1983. Sales are now open to surrounding states, so the remaining desirable species will go fast.

Contact your local SCS office for order forms or assistance in planning, ordering, species selection, and arranging for planting.

Tri-State conservation tillage conference

Cooperative Extension Service and Soil Conservation Service personnel are sponsoring the third annual Tri-State Conservation Tillage Conference on February 10-17 at the Marine Inn in South Sioux City.

The conference is very popular, because it not only updates farmers on the latest conservation tillage research data, but also features a panel discussion by farmers who are experienced and successful in conservation tillage. Extension personnel will discuss weed control, fertilizer, residue management, and other pertinent subjects.

Ticket order forms and information are available from local Cooperative Extension Service and Soil Conservation Service offices. Tickets are $5 each, and include the noon meal.

A discussion was held with Superintendent Heckathorn concerning the formal evaluation of his position.

Superintendent Heckathorn assumed the chair, and after thanking the outgoing Board Members, Jackie Williams and Harlan Klattman for their dedication and service to Allen Consolidated School, formally seated and recognized the Board Members Elect: Duane Lund, Carol Chase and Dwight Gotch.

Superintendent Heckathorn called for nominations for Chairman of the Board. Marilyn Creamer was elected to the position and assumed the chair. The following officers were elected: Vice Chairman, Matt Stapleton; Secretary, Carol Chase; Treasurer, Larry Boswell.

Committees appointed by Chairman Creamer: Transportation, Matt Stapleton and Duane Lund; Curriculum, Larry Boswell and Carol Chase; Americanism, the entire Board of Education.

Superintendent Heckathorn stated that a problem exists concerning delivery of children to places where the bus cannot turn around safely, and the driver must either let the child off a distance from home, or back home either to or from the residence. The Board feels that we should not endanger the children on the bus, and the driver should use his best judgment to insure safety.

Superintendent Heckathorn requested approval for the secondary teachers to attend a workshop at Emerson on Friday, January 14th. Moved by Matt Stapleton to approve. Second by Dwight Gotch. Carried.

Moved by Matt Stapleton to extend the contract of Superintendent Heckathorn for one year. Second Duane Lund. Carried.

No further business; meeting adjourned by Marilyn Creamer, Chairman.

NOTICE OF LAND RENTAL

The Wayne Airport Authority of the City of Wayne will accept bids for cash rent of agricultural land owned by the City. The tract is located at the Municipal Airport and contains approximately 90 acres of which approximately one-half will be fall plowed by the center pivot system. The acreage will be in one crop. This tract of land has crop restrictions because of location. Bids will be opened at 7:15 p.m. on the 14th day of February, 1983 at the Airport Office. Sealed bids may be submitted to the City Clerk until that time. The Airport Authority reserves the right to reject any and all bids.
