PAUL ROBERTS kneels beside his handmade rocking chair. At right, he examines a piece of walnut lumber that was cut from a neighbor's tree.

Handmade rocker

Tie a purple ribbon around the old walnut tree

By Randy Hascall

Part of what was once a tall, statuesque Black Walnut tree on a neighbor's farm is now an attractive, shiny rocking chair.

Paul Roberts, 21, of rural Carroll, recently put the finishing touches on a rocking chair he built out of Black Walnut lumber. Most of the wood used in the project was cut from a tree which grew on neighbor Mel Jenkins' farm.

Roberts said the tree had been cut down for a couple of years and was just laying in the feed yard. Jenkins told the Roberts family they could have the tree if they wanted it.

Paul, who graduated from Wayne State College Sunday with a B.A. in education and industrial education, had the lumber cut at a saw mill east of West Point.

He started the project last fall in a directed study class at the college and completed it four weeks into the second semester. Estimated cost of the rocker is $125.

Roberts said the seat and head rest were cut from a log that was nine feet long and two feet in diameter. The log was sawn into 207 board feet of lumber and had dried all summer.

The seat is all one piece and Paul said he ran into trouble trying to keep it from warping. He also was concerned that the edge of the piece might check or crack. To remedy that problem, he put paraffine wax on the edges of the wood. The seat had to be dished out with a router.

Construction of the rocker was complicated. According to Wayne State Industrial Education Associate Professor Tony Netherda, the project involved technical planning, including considerable math, physics and fabrication.

In order to design his own rocker, Paul first looked at many other rockers. Then he drew up his plans. Some of the other problems he encountered were how to band the runners and head rest and how to drill the holes for the back slats and legs at the right compound angles.

The bending of the runners and head rest was handled by lamination. The runners consist of eight layers of 3/16 inch walnut glued together in a jig cut from a two-by-eight. The head rest consists of four layers which were glued and bent in the same manner.

The drilling of holes at compound angles was accomplished by using jigs made of two-by-fours. Holes were drilled through the two-by-fours and then angles were cut on the bottom of the jigs. They were then used as drill guides.

The 1979 Winside High School graduate used a lathe to make the legs, braces and corners. A band saw was used to cut shapes on the back of the rocker.

Paul, who has worked with wood since junior high, says the rocker is the most difficult project he has undertaken. He added that he likes working with walnut because it is easy to finish. He didn't have to stain it and added a coat of high gloss polyurethane to finish it.

Woodworking is nothing new to Paul or his brother Brad. The two have built end tables, water beds, shelves, coffee tables and other furniture.

Roberts said Netherda helped him work out problems and come up with ideas. Paul, who plans to be married on June 10, is now looking for a teaching job.

MRS. KATHLEEN FRANK OF Wausa, blind since the age of 20, plays guitar and sings for members and guests of the Carroll Women's Club.

Blind inspiration

Wausa woman leads 'pretty normal life'

By LaVon Anderson

"Most of you know after you've changed a thousand diapers you can do it with your eyes closed."

"I just started out that way."

She has and still is raising a family, cooks, cleans and does the washing, knits, tends a garden, plays cards, performs on stage, and just two years ago learned to play guitar.

She also is totally blind as a result of a hunting accident 18 years ago.

"I'M ONLY LIMITED when it comes to driving, but I have many friends, my husband and my mother," said Mrs. Kathleen Frank of Wausa.

Kathleen, speaking Thursday afternoon in Carroll, said she was a bride of just two months when on Oct. 24, 1965 she was hit by a stray bullet while hunting near Verdigre with her husband and another couple.

A graduate of Wausa High School, she attended Wayne State College from 1963 to 1965 and was teaching elementary school at Verdigre until the accident which blinded her.

"I NEVER thought I was being punished when I lost my sight. It just happened."

Kathleen told a group of women at their annual Mother's Tea in Carroll Thursday, sponsored by the Carroll Women's Club.

"I've gotten to do and tried to do a lot of things since I've been blind. I think I'm also smart enough to know what I can't do before I try."

"Of course, I always thought learning to play guitar would be impossible, but I learned to do that a couple of years ago."

Kathleen demonstrated her musical abilities Thursday when she played guitar and sang for the group.

KATHLEEN, WHO has served since 1975 on the Governor's Advisory Committee for Services for the Visually Impaired, said she did receive specialized training after losing her sight.

Six weeks after the accident she entered a training center in Minnesota for four months.

Although there were no training centers for the blind at that time in Nebraska, a center has since been established in Lincoln.

While in Minnesota, she and her husband rented an apartment, where she remembers having to sign a release form which stated the landlord would not be liable if she fell and hurt herself because of being blind.

"Can you believe that," she smiles, adding, "I never did fall."

KATHLEEN AND her husband, who have resided the past 13 years on the farm where she was born, six and a half miles northeast of Wausa, are the parents of one son, 15-year-old Jeff.

"Jeff may be taller than I am, but I'm still his mother. I keep reminding him of that," she laughs.

Kathleen recalls her mother coming to help the first night after Jeff was born. "She decided there wasn't anything to do and so she went back home."

Kathleen said she always gave Jeff his bath when he was an infant, and she recalls putting bells on his shoes when he began walking around.

"Then," she laughs, "I decided he wanted to take his shoes off."

Later, when Jeff was old enough to be out doors, Kathleen put him in a harness with about 20 feet of rope.

"Then," she laughs again, "he discovered he was hooked to the end of a rope."

"I REALLY DIDN'T get out of a thing by losing my sight," she laughs, who was blinded at the age of 20.

Kathleen brought along many of the instruments she uses to help her in the kitchen, including a Braille cookbook with plastic pages that can be taken out and washed.

"I always did make a mess in the kitchen," she laughs.

She also displayed a knife with a set screw and gauge which she uses to measure the width of a slice.

"I couldn't even cut a straight slice before I lost my sight," she laughs again.

Her kitchen also includes a timer which is marked with a series of dots.

Although Kathleen uses Braille to mark canned goods and spices; she says some items in the cupboard, including cocoa, are easily recognized by their shape and need not be marked.

"IN ADDITION TO Braille books and catalogs, Kathleen says talking book records and tapes also are available for the visually handicapped of all ages, and she wishes more persons would take advantage of them."

KATHLEEN SAYS she does most of her corresponding with a typewriter, or on the telephone, and tells time with a special watch in which the crystal lifts up and she touches the hands.

She also can count out change by stacking it between her fingers and shaking out the pennies, dimes, nickles and quarters according to size.

And, she folds each paper bill a different way because, she laughs, "it's difficult to tell Washington's hair from Lincoln's beard."

KATHLEEN SAID there are many myths regarding the blind, including that they hear better than sighted persons.

"That's not true," she pointed out. "I can probably hear more than you, but that's only because I've trained myself."

"My hearing would test just the same if I were sighted."

ALTHOUGH THERE are many disadvantages to being blind, Kathleen said there also are many advantages, including her opportunity to speak to groups about the blind.

"Another advantage is that I can't run for parts for my husband," she laughs.

"All in all we lead a pretty normal life," adds Kathleen.

Kathleen often recalls the words of a minister at a youngster's funeral she attended. "God doesn't cause bad things to happen, but when they do he uses them."

"I'M LUCKY," says Kathleen. "All I lost was my ability to see."

"And, I have a certain advantage because I was able to see for 20 years."

Dr. Stephen Carveth, Lincoln cardiovascular surgeon and chairman of Nebraska's nationally recognized statewide CPR campaign, said that the 1982-83 school CPR survey just completed by the Nebraska Department of Health shows that Nebraska continues to lead the nation in percentage of high schools teaching CPR (cardio-pulmonary resuscitation). He said that the survey was sent to each of Nebraska's 445 junior and senior high schools during April of 1983. Of those responding, 97 percent already teach CPR in their schools or are planning to start next term. The survey shows that in this area, Wayne, Winside, Atten-Laurel and Wakefield are teaching CPR.

Small business weathers recession

America's small businesses weathered the recession better than large businesses. A new study by the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) concludes that while 1982 was "a difficult year for small businesses," overall declines in sales, profits and employment were not as damaging to the small business sector as they were to large businesses.

The Nation's 13 million small businesses will come in for special attention during National Small Business Week, May 8-14.

The SBA study noted that small firms are more heavily represented in wholesales, trade, retail trade and services — sectors of the economy which usually decline less severely during a recession.

But the study also found that a major reason "for the relatively good performance by small business was the careful control over costs. Actions by small business managers prevented an accumulation of unwanted inventories while the managers took steps to reduce their debt burden as much as possible."

Small firms traditionally tend to retain employees longer than do large firms during recession, the study also noted.

"During the recession, small business retained employment to a greater extent than large industries in all industries but retail trade," the SBA said. "In the area of services and in finance, insurance and real estate, small business appears to have increased employment. While total employment in the private sector of the economy was down, the small business share of that employment was up."

STUDIES also show that the total of new small business starts remains at near-record levels, with the sharpest growth coming among self-employed individuals or families — persons in business for themselves but without other workers.

"The number of self-employed workers between 1978 and 1980 grew faster than the number of new businesses with employees," SBA reports. "The number of self-employed individuals increased in mining, manufacturing, service and retail trade sectors. During 1970-80, there was a shift in the economy toward self-employment."

The study, "The status of Small Business," is a report done annually for transmission to the President and Congress.

THESE AND other small business contributions to the economy will be highlighted during National Small Business Week, May 8-14.

During that annual event, which is sponsored by SBA, outstanding small business entrepreneurs from each state will be honored at ceremonies in their home towns and in Washington, D.C.

The week will be climaxed by selection of the Small Business Person of the Year at the White House.

Give and take

If a spouse is demanding a change in the marriage relationship, he or she is going to have to give something in return.

If a couple doesn't effectively communicate, the change, and their inability to recognize the dramatic results, could destroy a marriage. It's important not, for example, to demand a change like say a wife deciding to have a career and going to the university for training, without giving something to her husband in return.

If a person demands change without giving anything in return, there is going to be a lot of resentment. She can't just say she's paid her dues raising kids and now it's her turn. He's paid his dues too. He may have some desires for change that she could help him achieve.

You want both partners to work things out so it's a win/win situation for both; not a win/lose or a lose/lose situation. . . like in divorce.

A spouse's sense of low self-esteem is often basic to a need for change. The only trouble is the change desired may in turn threaten the other spouse's self-esteem. That's where good old communication comes in.

That change is probably going to affect the couple's next three and four years; not just the year the change is initiated.

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE NEBRASKA STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

Q. Our son subscribed to cable TV while he was in school. When he left school, he called the company to cancel the service, and paid his bill in full. Six months later, he received a bill from the company for $144, which was for six months' service.

It turns out that he called the wrong company to cancel the service because he was given the wrong phone number by the operator. We called the right company, and they agreed to reduce the bill in half, but we do not feel he should have to pay anything because it wasn't his fault that he notified the wrong company.

A. The question seems to be, who should bear the loss because of the mix-up. It is clear that there was no mistake made by the cable company because they were never contacted to disconnect the service. They continued the service under the premise that service was still desired.

However, assuming that the company sent out monthly bills, it could be argued that they should have realized that your son was no longer at that address and was not making any monthly payments.

In any event, it would appear that the offer to settle for half the bill is fair to both parties. If you should decide to pay the $72 to the cable company, you would be entitled to bring a lawsuit seeking reimbursement against the party whom you feel was responsible for this error, i.e., the operator who gave you the wrong number.

However, you would have to prove to the court that your son asked for the proper company, and that the operator gave the wrong number. Additionally, since most businesses identify themselves when customers call, it could be argued that your son should have realized that he was not speaking to the proper company.

Finally, given the small amount of money involved, you must decide whether you are willing to commit the necessary resources to prove that your son was not responsible for the bill.

To the editor:
Congratulations! I would like to commend you on your "1983 prize winning newspaper." It is a tribute to the city of Wayne to have you win again and to us who read it.

I am enclosing with this letter an article, "The Joy of the Hometown Newspaper" written by Nathanael Olson from his book, THE JOYS OF HOMETOWN LIVING. I share the same sentiments he does.

Quoting:
Each Tuesday night, I like to settle back in the recliner and read a newspaper where good people make page one. There's no murder story or scandal report to greet me. Ruffier, the positive things of life—community development, education, church activities, who's been visiting who. The happy events of human existence. The world, the smaller world, in which we live.

Yes, I like our hometown paper. Here I learn what our local politicians are saying. Here I find readers' reactions to the news and the editorial views. I discover those who share my philosophy of life and those who don't. It's interesting reading.

Naturally, I don't always agree with our editor's viewpoints, but I do respect his opinions. I know behind his pointed pen beats a heart filled with concern for our town.

He has a way of summing things up in a memorable sentence or two. When the God-is-Dead controversy was in the news, he wrote, "People who say that God is dead because the world's in such a mess are like a bunch of lazy, sloppily tenants who look at their run-down apartment building and declare that the landlord is dead."

Commenting about those who criticize conservative Americans, claiming that they are not "open-minded" enough: "Some of these so-called open minds should be closed for repairs!"

Quite a thinker and writer this Mike Mayhew, our editor!

And what a sense of humor! When a bull got loose and tried to kill a farmer near here who managed to get hold of a gun and kill the raging animal, Mike summed up the story with this three-line headline: "Bull Tries to Gore - Farmer Gets Sore - Bull No More. I chuckled over that summary line and time again.

Like other newspapers, our paper has its share of typographical errors and ambiguous sentences. The ones I best remember were:

The classified ad which read: "For sale. Four bedroom home. Running water. Full basement."
The report on the County Fair: "Mrs. Bill Smith won the rolling pin contest. Bill Smith won the hundred-yard dash."
All in all, though, the editor and his three-person staff do a pretty efficient job of telling it like it is. They have yet to put a living person in the death notices as some larger papers have!

Twice a year, Mike adds a second color to the front page to make it something special—once at Christmas, and again just before Independence Day.

He then states a well written essay on the American flag and closes with this line: "This essay alone is worth a year's subscription to our hometown newspaper! Unquote

Anyone who's isn't receiving The Wayne Herald or his local paper is missing this same value, plus the convenience and savings of it to do business in town.

It is great to see ones family and friends in pictures and print, except maybe for those that appear in the court news. Personally, I enjoy the many pictures. With these and news clippings I put them into one of my many scrap books. No value could be placed on these pictures and articles to be reviewed and shared in the coming years.

Your newly added article, "The Farmers Wife," is a "delight" to read, especially for us farmers whose lives it touches. It's my yearly scrapbook. So with all the cut-outs you know that our poor newspaper becomes impossible to pass on for others to read.

Yes, it is a joy to receive a "Hometown" newspaper and anticipate its coming every week. No matter where one starts to read it they will find a communicable friend. It is a "welcome" in our home because it keeps us in "touch."

Keep up the good work. It's appreciated! Please withhold my name. Names hold too much significance. Imagine the Presidents to mine. Thank you again.

Enclosed is my check for another year's subscription.

To the editor:
We want to express our appreciation to Mr. Dalton and Mr. Stuberger and others behind the scenes for an outstanding musical performance at the high school Tuesday evening. Programs of this calibre are probably rare across the Midlands.

As we relate to similar programs in the "good old days" when we were in high school, we're made aware of the privilege that's ours as parents and students to be a part of the superb Wayne High music department.

These comments could probably be shared by all of the hundreds of people in attendance Tuesday night. Again, our heart felt thanks for another super evening of entertainment!

To the editor:
Last Saturday night (7th) some speeding maniac hit and killed our dog near Theophilus Church. People like this should never have a license. It could be a child next time or some other car-full of innocent people.

This dog was my grandson's buddy and his heart is broken. But people like this don't care who they hurt. Country roads are not race tracks.

Motorist may see higher minimum

Motorists in Nebraska may have to increase the minimum amount of insurance they carry under a bill that gained first-round approval this week. LB 253 would require a minimum insurance increase from $15,000 to $25,000 for bodily injury to one person, and from $30,000 to $50,000 for total bodily damages. Property damage insurance would be increased from $10,000 to $25,000.

Several Senators tried unsuccessfully to require mandatory insurance for Nebraska car owners. Motorists are not required to be insured in Nebraska, but they need to prove that they are financially able to pay for damages if they are liable in an automobile accident. If they are not able to pay, their driver's license will be revoked until the bill is paid.

Between 1975 and 1981 there were 301,000 reportable accidents in the State, and 101,000 of them involved uninsured motorists.

THE BILL will mean higher rates for drivers between the ages of 16 and 24. Their rates would probably increase from $30 to senator elroy hefner

$50 a year. Second-round debate is expected in the near future.

Final approval was given to LB 142 this week. The bill will expand the practice of chiropractic. Under the bill, the practice of chiropractic is defined as being the diagnosis and analysis of the human body to detect ailments, disorders and disease by the use of diagnostic skeletal X-rays.

The Legislature this week approved a compromise amendment to LB 59. The bill calls for a temporary increase in sales tax, and the creation of a cash reserve fund apart from the State's general fund.

The compromise directs the Governor and the Board of Equalization to order the tax increase, rather than having the Legislature ask for more taxes.

The bill calls for a temporary 1/2 percent increase in the state sales tax, which is now at 3.4 percent.

NEBRASKA MAY have new license plates if LB 118 can pass one more round of debate. The bill gained second-round approval on Tuesday.

LB 118 calls for new reflectorized plates every three years, beginning in 1984, with an added $2 fee.

The plates would not use the current county numbers, but would be a combination of three letters and three numbers. A sticker will be added to the bottom of the plate to identify each county by name.

The new system would allow the State Patrol easier identification of vehicles through the use of a computerized system.

Mr. Jones thanks taxpayers

Mr. Jones makes more money each year than you do—35 percent more. While you must wait until age 65 to retire with full pension benefits, Mr. Jones can retire with full benefits under his system 10 years earlier, at 55. And another thing, Mr. Jones' pension will be 56 percent of his pretax salary—yours, most likely, will be only 30 percent. His office is larger than yours. It is almost impossible to fire Mr. Jones and he isn't the least bit afraid of losing his job because of the recession or foreign competition.

Oh, and one last thing, Mr. Jones would like to thank you for paying his salary and his handsome pension plan.

THAT'S RIGHT. Mr. Jones works for the federal government. He's a bureaucrat. And before you can begin to pay the rent, put food on the table, or make these payments, Uncle Sam withholds enough of your money to pay Mr. Jones. Actually you and your neighbors finance the high salaries and unbeatable pensions of 2,853,863 Mr. Jones. That is how many federal bureaucrats the taxpayer must support these days. (And that number excludes military personnel.)

You may be a little annoyed, with things so tight, that your family budget is paying the salaries of bureaucrats who make more money than you do. Well, there's more. The pensions paid out to retired federal employees are indexed to rise with inflation. Only half of the workers in the private sector have any pension at all, and for those who do, only three percent are indexed to inflation.

The federal government's pension plan is so generous that more than 100,000 retired bureaucrats are now getting more money in their retirement checks than they ever made while working. It helps, of course, that the federal government's contribution to the bureaucrats' retirement system represents 33 percent of payroll, compared to an average of 12 percent contribution by employers in the private sector.

Now, let's make one thing clear. Private employees are not pinching pennies when they fail to match the generous pay and pensions granted federal employees. They have to earn every nickel of employee pay and pension benefits by selling products or services. The federal government simply reaches out into the taxpayers' pockets and takes what it needs.

WITH ALL those nice salaries and pensions it should be no surprise that the Washington, D.C. area has a higher proportion of households earning more than $50,000 per year than any other city in the country.

And while the rest of the country is shedding out over $61 billion to pay for civilian federal employees—excluding postal workers who average more than $22,000 a year—and an additional $21 billion for pension and disability payments, there is even more to look forward to: a half-trillion dollar unfunded liability for the Civil Service Retirement System.

As you prepare your federal income tax this year and consider the extraordinary federal salaries and pensions that your taxes pay for, you may wonder about these civilian servants. Do they work for us, or do we work for them?

Remember when the widest fabrics home sewers could purchase were 36 inches wide?
Fabric widths have increased to 45 inches or even wider with the popularity of knits.
A change is beginning to take place in the fabric industry. Woven fabrics have traditionally been available only in 45-inch widths or less. Occasionally, a wool or gabardine fabric was sold in 54-inch widths.

THE FUTURE is pointing towards wider fabrics. As older looms are beginning to wear out mills are replacing them with new, high speed looms.

These new looms produce 60-inch fabric widths.
This change is affecting everyone in the homesewing industry from pattern companies to fabric stores to you the consumer.
There should be no major problems in the conversion, according to Extension Clothing Specialist Linda Biles. She does recommend that shoppers double-check fabric widths to prevent mistakes.

ONE OF THE biggest adjustments will be buying enough fabric for a garment. As the change is made, pattern companies will be updating their pattern guidesheets and yardage charts. Until all patterns include yardage for 60-inch fabrics, the consumer should check fabric yardages.

Many stores will have conversion charts to help the home sewer buy the right amount of fabric. There may be instances where the chart would be inaccurate.
Conversions are made in terms of total square inches needed. Where a certain fabric length is needed, for example a shawl, the conversions charts may recommend a yardage amount that is too small.

WHILE YOU AND the industry are getting used to the wider fabrics, it may take more time selecting your fabric.

The pattern envelope may not show yardage requirements for your fabric. In that case take the major pattern pieces out of the envelope and lay them on the fabric to determine the yardage needed.

You may have an older pattern at home that you use often. To save time, lay the pattern pieces out on a 60-inch fabric at home, and find the correct yardage amount.
Write this information on the envelope and you'll be ready next time you go shopping.

DON'T LET THE changes in fabric widths confuse you.
We've made the transition from 36-inch to 45-inch fabrics and will probably survive the switch to wider fabrics too.

Mayor proclaims May 19 as Poppy Day in Wayne

Mayor Wayne Marsh last week proclaimed Thursday, May 19 as American Legion Auxiliary Poppy Day.

On that day, members of the auxiliary will be selling poppies in downtown Wayne.
All residents are encouraged to purchase a poppy to help support programs for veterans and their families.

POPPY CHAIRMAN Mrs. Ernest Siefken said Poppy Day is held each year as a reminder of America's war dead.

Poppy Day is a tradition which began in the years following World War I.

Veterans of the war remembered the wild poppies which lined the devastated battlefields of France and Flanders.

Soldiers of all nations have come to look upon the poppy as a living symbol of their dead comrades.

AMERICAN LEGION Auxiliary poppy chairman Mrs. Ernest Siefken presents Mayor Wayne Marsh with a poppy poster signifying his support of Poppy Day. Mayor Marsh last week proclaimed May 19 as Poppy Day in Wayne.

Red hot Wildcats are headed for Tulsa

District champions

Riding the biggest hot streak north of the Kansas border, the Wayne State Wildcats made Dana College their ninth consecutive victim to win the District 11 tournament Friday in Wayne.

The victory means that Wayne has qualified for the NAIA Area III tournament which is scheduled Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Tulsa, Okla. The area tournament involved district titleholders from Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas and Montana.

The Cats will take a 23-13 record and a rested pitching staff into area play. In the last nine ball games, WSC has given up 18 runs while erupting for 104. The local team is 22-8 against NAIA opponents, 1-3 at home and 14-3 against District 11 foes.

WAYNE STATE, which thrashed Dana 23-0 on Wednesday, had to work a little harder to win the rematch.

Pitcher Rick Guy of Wakefield got off to a rocky start, giving up three runs in the first inning. The key blow was a two-run triple.

In the top of the third inning, WSC cut the margin with two runs. Rich Murcek walked, Mike Hutcheon singled and Randy Heying walked to load the bases. Tom Todd's single scored Murcek and a single by Gregg Cruickshank scored Hutcheon.

Dana made the score 4-2 in the bottom of the inning on three straight singles with two outs.

In the top of the fifth, Murcek again started the rally with a base hit. Hutcheon, Heying and Todd drew walks to bring Murcek in. Then, Cruickshank drilled a double to score all three runners.

DANA TOOK advantage of two Wayne errors in the bottom of the sixth to pull back within one run. A two-out rally by WSC in the eighth put the game out of reach. For the third time in the game, Murcek, batting number eight in the lineup, got on base to start the threat.

Hutcheon and Heying followed Murcek's hit with singles of their own to load the bases. Todd drove in the first run with a single and Hutcheon scored when the catcher committed an overthrow while trying to pick him off of third base.

Cruickshank, who went 3-for-5 at the plate, batted in his fifth run with a key base hit.

Guy pitched the first five innings to collect the victory. Jerry Goeden of Wayne, WSC's ace reliever, picked up the save by going the final four innings. The Cats went through three Dana pitchers, including ace Tim Johnson.

WAYNE STATE'S softball team will compete in the Friday in bi-district action. national tournament after sweeping Valley City State Reaching their peak at the ideal time, the Lady Wildcats of Wayne State edged Valley City State (N.D.) twice to qualify for next week's National Softball Tournament at Kearney.

Wayne State, hosting the bi-district competition in Yankton because its softball fields aren't adequate, shortened the best of three series with two quick wins.

The triumph sends WSC into the national tournament which is scheduled May 24-26 at Kearney State. Wayne will take a 17-16 record into the tourney. Valley City finished its year at 20-6.

THE LADY CATS had to beat a 20 game winner twice to qualify for nationals. Charlene Griffin threw every pitch for Valley this season and entered Friday's games with a 20-4 record.

A two out, inside the park home run in the bottom of the seventh inning by freshman Teresa Durbala gave Wayne the first win

Trailing 3-2, Carmen Doeschot walked and stole second base. WSC was one out away from a loss when Durbala blasted a pitch to the fence and scrambled around the bases for a 4-3 win in the opener.

The Lady Wildcats scored their first two runs in the fourth and fifth innings to build a 2-0 edge. Durbala singled and stole second in the fourth. DeeDee Reic smacked a base hit to bring her in. In the fifth, Doeschot doubled home Maggie Alberts.

Sherry Telschaw pitched a four-hitter to earn the victory on the mound. In her last 14 innings she has given up only 10 hits. Valley City scored all three of its runs in the sixth and seventh innings by taking advantage of Wayne State errors.

Laurie Owens fired a three hitter in the second ball game to send the Valley girls home early.

The Lady Cats hopped out in front with a second inning run. Owens helped her cause by driving in Alberts in the second inning for a 1-0 lead.

In the top of the sixth, Reic drove home Deb Janssen in the top of the sixth for the winning run. Valley City scored its only run in the top of the seventh but Owens put an end to the threat. For the game, Janssen was 2-for-3 and Durbala was 2-for-4.

Wayne State becomes at least the third Central States Intercollegiate Conference team to qualify for next week's nationals. Defending champion Missouri Western and host Kearney State also have qualified. Emporia State, national runnerup two years ago, is in the finals of its tournament.

Lady Cats split a double-header

The Wayne State College Lady Wildcat softball team took advantage of a break in the unseasonable spring weather to schedule a double-header with Augustana College, and came away with a split in games played in Sioux Falls, S.D. on Wednesday.

The split gave the Lady Cats a 15-16 record going into NAIA bi-district competition against Valley City State (N.D.) in Yankton, S.D. Friday and Saturday.

The winner of the bi-district series will advance to the NAIA national softball tournament at Kearney State College in Kearney on May 24-26.

THE LADY WILDCATS fell in the opening game to Augustana 3-0 before rallying in the second game to take a 2-0 decision. A three-run scoring drive in the bottom of the first inning was all that was necessary for Augustana as it took the first game of the double-header 3-0 on Wednesday.

Augustana's runs came off three hits in the bottom of the first inning, as the Dakotans were only able to come up with three more during the game. Wayne State's bats were nearly silenced, the only hit coming as a single from Cindy Gessman.

Sherry Telschaw pitched the game for the Lady Cats and her record went to 9-9 with the loss.

WAYNE STATE turned the tables around completely in the second game of the double-header, using a rally in the top of the seventh inning to break a scoreless deadlock and take a 2-0 victory over Augustana.

A single by Gessman and Suzy Todd followed by a sacrifice by Lori Johnson and a walk by Carmen Doeschot set the stage for a two RBI single by Laurie Owens with two outs and bases loaded in the top of the seventh inning.

Owens was also on the mound for Wayne and allowed only one hit in the win. Her record moves to 6-7 on the year.

Wildcats reach final with 23-0 thrashing

The Wayne State College baseball squad advanced to the finals of the NAIA District 11 baseball tournament with wins over Peru State and Dana in tourney action in Wayne this week.

Wayne State advanced to the finals by downing Peru State 8-1 on Tuesday and Dana 23-0 on Wednesday. In other action, Dana downed Kearney State 5-3, Peru State eliminated Kearney State 8-7, and Dana eliminated Peru State 14-12.

In the first two games for the Wildcats, they outscored their opponents by a combined total of 32-1. In the past eight contests, WSC has dominated its foes to the tune of 93 runs to 12.

WAYNE STATE met the Dana Vikings, traditionally a district power, in the winner's bracket game of the district tourney. But the Cats got off to a nine-run first inning and never looked back in a 23-0 romp.

The game went the entire nine innings, as the 10-run rule is waived after first round district games. Though the offensive output by Wayne State seems impressive, it was the defensive effort that was most impressive. Wildcat ace Dan Hilgenkamp pitched the complete nine innings and surrendered just seven hits against the potent Viking bats. He was backed up by a near-flawless defense, with the Cats committing a single error over the nine innings.

Hilgenkamp struck out six while walking only one to improve his mark to 5-3. Meanwhile, Wildcats Craig Ladwig and Rich Murcek were having a heyday at the plate.

Ladwig, a senior outfielder who never before had homered on the WSC diamond, put three balls over the fence in a 3-for-5 day. Ladwig drove in six runs including a grand-slam homer in the first inning to open the floodgates. Ladwig also scored four runs.

MURCEK, BATTING in the number eight spot, ripped three long doubles and was 4-for-6 on the day with a pair of RBIs and three runs scored. Shortstop Mike Hutcheon, the Cats' number nine hitter, was 2-for-6 with four RBIs.

Eight Trojans qualify

Wakefield has good day in districts

Two of the most popular names in Thursday's Class-C-3 District Track Meet at Lyons were Suzanne Stelling and Ignacio Cuadrado.

Both names are the talk of the town in Wakefield this spring and both will be heard over the loud speaker at the State Track Meet Thursday.

Stelling hit the high point of her freshman season by qualifying for state in four events. She won the 200-meter dash in 27.5, the 400-meter dash in 1:03.1 and the high jump while setting a school record of 5-1.

SHE ALSO is a member of Wakefield's first place 1,600-meter relay team which ran a 4:21.6. Other team members are Kristi Miller, Kristal Clay and Leigh Johnson. Wakefield's 400-meter relay team, which is composed of Susan Rouse, Michele Mayer, Clay and Miller, also qualified for state with a first place time of 3:31.

Foreign exchange student Ignacio Cuadrado qualified for three events for the Trojans. He won the 400-meter dash with a time of 52.5 and the 800-meter run in 2:02.2. Gary Tullberg, Brian Obermeyer, Mike Clay and Cuadrado won the 3,200-meter relay in 8:24.2.

The 1,600-meter team of Brian Soderberg, Obermeyer, Tullberg and Cuadrado finished second with a time of 3:34.1 and has a chance to qualify for state. The top two individuals and the first place relay team in each event qualify. In addition, the three fastest second place relays also qualify. The Trojans may have one of the three fastest times

OTHER MEDAL winners for the Wakefield boys were Rod Nixon with a fifth place finish in the 200-meter dash at 24.2 and Clay with a sixth place finish in the 800-meter run in 2:13.0.

For the Trojan girls, Rouse took fourth in the 100-meter dash with a time of 14.0. Clay was fifth in the 200 in 29.6. Beth Engstedt was sixth in the 1,600-meter run with a time of 6:22.1. Johnson finished fifth in the 400 in 58.7 and Miller finished fifth in the long jump with a mark of 14-4 1/4.

The 3,200-meter relay team of Engstedt, Terri Nuernberger, Trish Willers and Bobbi Peterson was second with a time of 11:23.3. Wakefield coaches Dennis Wilbur and Merlin Lahm said some of the times were not too good because a rainstorm hampered the first part of the meet.

Randy's Recap

By Randy Hascall

Sports hits its peak
I feel like I've spent the last week in the spin cycle of a washing machine. The busiest time of the sports season arrived this week with district track, baseball and golf at high school and collegiate levels.

The Wayne Herald's 10 high school track teams were split into four different districts. The Wayne High golf team played at Omaha on Thursday.

In addition, Wayne High's baseball and track teams and Wayne State's baseball team all had their athletic contests postponed from Thursday to Friday. Track was in Columbus and baseball was in Wayne. To top it off, Wayne State's softball team played at Yankton.

It was one of those weeks I wish I had a couple of clones to send out on assignments.

Some good performances

Some of the area teams had successful district performances. Winside's track squads did well in their district meet on Tuesday and will send individuals to state in five meets.

Wakefield also did well on Thursday and qualified for state in at least eight boys and girls events. Also on Thursday, Wayne High's golfers qualified for state with a second place district finish.

On Friday, Wayne High and Wayne State baseball teams hit the high points of their seasons in district play. So did WSC's softball team. Wayne's Blue Devils also did well in the B-4 District Track Meet at Columbus. Congratulations to the successful individuals and teams and best of luck to the state, regional and national qualifiers in all sports.

State basketball in Lincoln

This reporter was happy to learn that the Nebraska School Activities Association Board of Control decided to keep the high school basketball state tournaments in Lincoln.

Lincoln has done a good job of hosting the state basketball tournaments over the years and gets my vote to host it in the future. Omaha, which wanted to host at least part of the tournament, will have to be content with the state track meet as its biggest high school event.

To nationals again

Doug Proett, a Wayne High graduate, will be making a return trip to the National Junior College Athletic Association meet. Running for Hutchinson Community College, Doug won the 5,000-meter run in the regional meet.

He's undefeated this year and was voted most inspirational on the Hutchinson track team. The team qualified five men and three women for nationals, which will start Thursday in Texas.

The Hutchinson News recently ran a story on Proett. He told the sports editor that he really didn't like distance running in high school. In the article, Doug says he was enrolled at the University of Nebraska before deciding to attend junior college instead. HCC coach Terry Masterson offered him a scholarship. Proett prefers to run in cold, wet weather but may have to run in hot, dry weather at nationals in San Angelo.

"It was kind of exciting going out of state and getting away, but it was kind of scary, too," Doug said. One big adjustment he had to make was being away from his family. He is the second youngest of nine Proett children and says his family was always very supportive.

The Wayne High grad went to cross country nationals in New York earlier this year and finished 32nd.

The junior college senior hasn't decided where he will go to school next year but says, "I think I'd kinda like to stay in Kansas. I like it here."

Hartington out, Madison in

A change has been made in the Wayne Junior Legion Invitational Tournament which is scheduled May 27 and 28. Because of its Centennial celebration, Hartington has dropped out of the field. Madison, which won last year's Class C State Midget title, will replace Hartington.

Games on the 27th pit Wayne against Madison and Wisner against Norfolk. On the 28th, Madison will play Norfolk, Wayne will play Wisner, Wayne will play Norfolk and Madison will meet Wisner.

Wayne golfers qualify for state

A strong showing in the Class B-2 District Golf Meet at Omaha Miracle Hills has earned the Wayne Blue Devils a spot in Thursday's state tournament at Grand Island Municipal Country Club.

Wayne shot a 335 to finish second, just one stroke behind team champion Blair Schuyler and West Point tied for third at 340 and Schuyler won the final state berth in a playoff.

Two Blue Devil golfers were among the top five finishers with 10 individual medals awarded. Cole Froeschle and Tom Perry tied for third place in the meet and Froeschle won a playoff for the third place medal.

"THE KIDS showed a lot of determination. They wanted to win and they feel like they can still do better," Wayne coach Harold Maciejewski said after the district meet. "I was pleased with Tom Perry's play as a freshman."

Martin Prazak of West Point was medalist with a 39 36-75 and Brad Olsen of Blair was second with a 40 38-78. Behind Froeschle and Perry was Omaha Roncalli's John Hanrahan with a 40 40-80.

Final team standings: 1. Blair 334, 2. Wayne 335, 3. (tie) Schuyler, West Point 340, 5. Roncalli 341, 6. South Sioux 345, 7. Elkhorn 349, 8. Elkhorn Mt. Michael 350, 9. (tie) Logan View, Platteview 351, 11. Hartington CC 363, 12. Gretna 384, 13. Boys Town 422, 14. Omaha Ryan 456.

Wayne's total of 335 was scored with 795 by Froeschle and Perry, an 86 by Brad Moore and a 91 by Perry Benschhof. The top four scores were used so John Carhart's 98 wasn't counted.

WAYNE WILL make its state bid with a young team. Carhart is the only senior. Froeschle and Benschhof are juniors, Moore is a sophomore and Perry is a freshman.

Ordinance 217, which establishes a municipal lottery was approved on a vote of 6 Yeas, No Nays and 1 Abstaining. Councilman Johnson abstained from voting on resolutions for the municipal lottery and a marketing committee to run and govern the municipal lottery, was approved. The Administrator discussed a proposal from Litho-Graphics Marketing to market the lottery through the sale of tickets in Nebraska. Cost to the City would be 10% of the monthly ticket revenue plus $3,000 a month for the first three months of the lottery operation and 10% of the monthly ticket revenue thereafter. Discussion of the proposal was postponed.

Resolution 82 B, which authorizes the City to apply for grant funds to operate the Senior Citizens Center, was approved. The Council awarded a bid for a 2 1/2 ton cab and chassis truck for the Electric Department to Arvin's Food Market in the amount of $14,900. Council delayed making a decision on the digger/derrick to be mounted on the truck cab and chassis truck. The bids ranging from $44,529 to $46,845 were received on the digger/derrick. One bid was from Badger Body & Truck Equipment Co. and two bids were from Teague Equipment Co. The State Department of Roads announced that federal funds were available to surface Fairgrounds, Avenue from South Nebraska to South Windom. Council had requested these funds in February 1981. Estimated cost of the project then was $45,000. Council approved Bruce Gilmore & Associates to draw up the preliminary design for the project. The Electric Department was reorganized with the first year saving salaries of $4,500. Bud Wacker was made the Superintendent of the Electric Department and Al Grashorn was made an Assistant Electric Superintendent.

Dennis Hirschbrunner of Bruce Gilmore & Associates, the City's consulting engineer on the Wastewater Treatment Plant announced that seven firm bids on the construction of the plant had been received. He said that the bids were under the engineers estimate. He requested and the Council approved the award of the bid to the Construction Co. of Sioux City, Iowa to withdraw their bid because of a major mathematical error that was made. The bid was awarded to the Construction Co. of Spencer, Iowa in the amount of $1,422,696.44. There was considerable discussion as to the type of equipment offered by Spencer Construction for the mechanical and electrical unit. Councilman Mosley stated he preferred Walker equipment and not the Autrol equipment provided by Spencer Construction. Hirschbrunner offered to set up a meeting with Autrol manufacturing representatives and schedule visits to towns that use Autrol equipment. Resolution 83-10, which accepts the bid of Spencer Construction Co. and authorizes the Mayor to enter into a contract with them, was approved. Council adjourned at 9:17 p.m. CITY OF WAYNE, NEBRASKA Wayne D. Marsh Mayor

LOWER ELKHORN NATURAL RESOURCES DISTRICT

WATER PROJECTS... PAY BIG DIVIDENDS TO THE NATION

The Nation's investment in the Reclamation Program in the 80 years since 1902, the Nation has invested $7.3 billion in completed Federal Reclamation program facilities. Another $3.2 billion has been spent on facilities still under construction. Of this investment, 84 percent has been or will be repaid to the Federal Treasury by users of Reclamation project water and hydroelectric power. The balance is a nonreimbursable Federal investment in facilities for flood control, fish and wildlife habitat, salinity control and recreation which will account for 16 percent of total construction costs.

Already repaid to the Federal Treasury (by 1980) $2.0 billion

To be repaid by repayment contracts, power sales, water service contracts, etc. 6.8 billion

Nonreimbursable investment 1.7 billion

Total investment $10.5 billion

For a Total Investment of $7.3 billion over 80 years, the U.S. Government now receives Federal revenues of over $3.0 billion every year according to a carefully researched Denver Research Institute study.

Except for the nonreimbursable investment and Bureau of Reclamation costs for planning, investigations, research and administration — which amount to about $66 million per year — all of the Nation's investment in Reclamation facilities, including operation and maintenance costs, will be repaid to the Treasury. This repayment will either be in the

FFA SCHOLARSHIP

Larry Weyhrich, son of Mrs. Merle Siebrandt of Stanton and Bill Riecken, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Riecken of Lyons have been named 1983 recipients of the Lower Elkhorn NRD Scholarships.

The $300 Scholarships are awarded to outstanding Future Farmers of America members who will attend an agricultural curriculum at a Nebraska college. Both Larry and Bill will attend Northeast Technical Community College in the fall.

IRRIGATION HOTLINE REPORTS

The Lower Elkhorn NRD in cooperation with local Cooperative Extension Service personnel will again provide crop water use information to irrigators of the District. Weather stations are maintained throughout the District to provide farmers with the best possible information for their local area. This information will again be aired on local radio stations, beginning in early June.

For information or assistance in setting up an irrigation scheduling system contact your County Agent.

form of farmer payments for irrigation water or by sales of hydroelectric power and municipal and industrial water. Users also pay interest on the investment in hydroelectric power, municipal and industrial water. By Congressional directive, however, interest is not charged on irrigation facilities.

In addition to repayment, the Reclamation program stimulates economic activity that brings over $3 billion in revenues to the Federal Treasury each year. This is about $16 in annual revenue for every person living in the U.S.

When State and local tax revenues (about $1.4 billion a year) are considered, the return in Government revenues is more than four dollars for every dollar appropriated for the annual Bureau of Reclamation budget.

These economic benefits are documented by research conducted by the Denver Research Institute, University of Denver, and are based on an economic model that is national in scope and considers only not additions to economic benefits (products and services) as opposed to transfers from other sectors of the economy. From 1941 to 1980, over $36 billion have been generated in Federal tax revenues alone.

In addition, since 1902, the West has been settled, jobs created, and whole sectors of our national economy strengthened because of the Reclamation program. The Reclamation program creates jobs, stimulates economic activity throughout the U.S., generates tax revenues for all levels of government, and remains a permanent economic asset for the Nation's future.

RIVER BANK EROSION

Abnormally high flows are producing extensive river bank erosion on the Elkhorn River this year. It appears that the upper Elkhorn River Basin through March and April was experiencing flows that range from 5 to 15 times greater than average flows. Anxiety over the property loss is prompting many landowners to ask, "What can be done to correct the situation?" Also, landowners inquire if there is any Government Assistance to curtail the river erosion.

First of all, Hydrologists will inform you that it is a natural occurrence for rivers to erode and meander. A stream balances its silt load by meandering. Many streams which have been channelized and straightened revert back to meandering with time. Any obstruction in the channel or floodplain affects the hydrology of the stream above and below the obstruction possibly to the detriment of someone else. For this reason and others, State Law governs what can be done within the river channel and nearby floodplain.

The Department of Water Resources was given the responsibility of enforcing floodplain laws. Under LB 108, the DWR regulates the construction of artificial obstruction within floodways and floodplains for most of Nebraska's live streams. Anyone who intends to construct or dump any material within the floodplain or within the stream channel for bank protection or excavates a new channel, must file an Application for a Floodplain Permit.

All permits are considered on an individual basis. With regard to bank protection, generally speaking concrete rubble, anchored trees and tied tire mats are acceptable as a rip-rap of banks. Also, properly designed concrete rubble jetties are acceptable. Materials which are unacceptable for bank stabilization are car bodies, asphalt, unanchored trees and junky debris. Also, in most instances the project will require a permit from the Corps of Engineers (PH: 402-221-4123), if the project affects the river channel.

With regard to Government Assistance for bank stabilization, generally speaking Government Agencies have not traditionally provided any assistance for individual bank protection. Some Government cost-share has been available through some Natural Resources Districts programs, if the project is a public project which has been thoroughly designed and meets other qualifications. Also, the Corps of Engineers has done some bank stabilization.

If you are considering your construction is within the stream floodplain and you need a permit, call the Norfolk DWR office at (402) 375-2730.
