4th Ward councilman submits resignation

Gary Vopalensky, fourth ward city councilman since 1980, submitted his resignation to the city of Wayne at Tuesday evening's regular council meeting.

Vopalensky's resignation took effect immediately. He will be moving to Tahlequah, Okla. early next month where he will be on the faculty at Northeastern State University, teaching in the special education division.

"We're going to miss him," Mayor Wayne Marsh said when he read Vopalensky's letter of resignation at the meeting.

Gary Vopalensky

THE 32 YEAR-OLD councilman said he wishes to thank the many people from throughout the city who showed their support for him during his council tenure.

His position, which will be up for grabs in the 1984 election, will temporarily be filled by a mayoral appointment with approval of the council.

Mayor Marsh said he expects to make the appointment prior to the next council meeting. Anyone interested in the position should contact the mayor's office at city hall.

Looking back on his three year stint on the council, Vopalensky said, "Overall, the city seems to be progressing on par with cities of similar size, especially considering the difficult economic times we have been in.

"Wayne is financially solvent and with optimistic leadership can continue to strengthen its role as the educational and agri-business center of northeast Nebraska," he said.

VOPALENSKY SAID the most disappointing aspect of being involved in city government is the apathetic attitude that so many people possess.

"I conducted numerous surveys when important issues came up and it was very disappointing when talking to my constituents," he said. "Not only did many people have no opinion on the various topics but others did not even realize they (the issues) were about to come to a vote. It was always refreshing to visit with one of the residents of the fourth ward who showed an interest in how the city was run."

Natural gas rate increase passes

Six weeks after requesting a Peoples Natural Gas rate increase, Keith Mosley, manager of the Peoples office in Wayne, saw his request granted by the Wayne City Council.

Mosley first issued his request at a May 10 council meeting. The council discussed the request at several meetings and also tabled the issue for awhile.

A decision was made at Tuesday's regular council meeting. With Councilman Darrel Fuelbert absent and Gary Vopalensky voting no, the council voted 6-1 to grant Mosley's request.

AFTER THE DECISION, Mosley told the council he realized the group was under considerable pressure and thanked the members for their consideration.

He added that Peoples has served Wayne for 53 years honestly and safely and said rapport with the public has been good. He added that the company plans to continue its effort.

One of the major factors leading to the council's decision was the probability that it would cost the city more to turn down the request than to approve.

Council attorney Ken Swarts said a council denial likely would prompt Peoples to take court action. "A court battle could cost the city $30,000 to $40,000 in expert fees and attorney fees he said.

IN ORDER to present a strong case, Swarts said the city would have to locate experts at an estimated cost of $20,000 to $30,000. Attorney fees probably would be in the $10,000 range, he added.

In Nebraska, Swarts explained, expert fees and attorneys fees are not recoverable. In addition, the city also could lose the court battle.

Several councilmen directed questions at Swarts and Mosley. Discussion was held on the council's options and other structuring of rate increases before a decision was made.

Joining a coalition or working with the League of Municipalities were possible options considered in examiing and possibly opposing any future rate increase requests which may be brought before the council.

THE RATE increase will raise the minimum natural gas charge from $3.71 to $7.71 per month—an increase of $4 a month or $48 a year for each customer. According to Mosley's figures, it amounts to a 7.36 percent average increase.

He said the rate change is designed to bring the company's return from a current negative 1.80 percent to 4.4 percent. Mosley said this is the first general rate increase in Wayne in three years.

Peoples Natural Gas Company, with headquarters in Council Bluffs, Iowa, is the retail natural gas distribution division of InterNorth, Incorporated. Peoples serves 258,000 residential customers and 38,000 commercial, industrial and irrigation customers in 316 communities in a seven state area. In Nebraska, the company serves 43 communities and 29,265 customers.

Sirloins are sizzling at steak house

The grills are hot, the steaks are tender and Les' Steak House is now open for business.

Owners Les and Donna Lutt opened their steak house Thursday night. The business, located at 120 West Second Street in Wayne, will be managed by Terry and Kim Wagner, who recently moved to Wayne from West Point where they managed the Eagles Club.

Terry grew up in Hartington and Kim is originally from Yankton. Kim, a veteran cook, will work in the kitchen and Terry will bartend. The Wagners have three children, Darby, Deana and Erick.

OPERATING A steak house is nothing new for the Lutts. They ran Les' Steak House at the same location for 10 years before leasing the building to Jerry Brandstetter who operated the Stratton House there the past five years.

The steak house will serve only food until a liquor license is approved by the State Liquor Commission.

The Lutts remodeled and recarpeted the business. They have created a game room in the west room and are planning a small customers convenience sellout liquor area in a corner of the lounge.

Customers may choose from a full menu which includes steaks and seafood. Specialties will include prime rib on Saturdays and fish and tips on Fridays.

BUSINESS HOURS are from 5:30 to 10:30 p.m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Sundays and from 5:30 to 11:30 on Fridays and Saturdays. Les' Steak House will close on Mondays.

The telephone number of the steak house is a new listing and can't be found in this year's Wayne Telephone book. It is 375-4774. Donna Lutt said the business is off to a good start and pointed out that many applications for employment have been received. They have stopped accepting applications and are now filling positions.

The Lutts said they are making plans for a grand opening later this summer. "We have all ready had a lot of old friends stop in to eat," Donna said. "It's kind of exciting to get back in the business."

Two Pioneer Farm Awards will be presented at fair

Two Wayne County farm families will receive Nebraska Pioneer Farm Awards during the Wayne County Fair.

Engraved plaques and framed certificates will be presented to Ernest Vernon Behmer of rural Hoskins and Rudolph Kai of rural Pender. They are descendants of families that started a century of farm ownership when Wayne County was first being settled.

The award, co-sponsored by Ak-Sar-Ben and the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers, is made annually to owners of farms which have remained in the same family for 100 years or more.

The 192-acre Behmer farm was originally acquired by Ernest Otto Behmer on Sept. 15, 1887. The farm is now owned by Ernest Vernon Behmer and farmed by Jon Behmer.

The 160-acre Kai farm was originally purchased by Rudy's father, Detlef Kai, on Oct. 26, 1882. The Rudy Kai family acquired the land in 1945 and still lives there. They are farming in partnership with their son Roy and his family who live on an adjoining farm.

Presentation of the awards is planned at 8 p.m. Friday, Aug. 5 at the fairgrounds.

Council approves its 83-84 budget, deals with several other issues

Last week's work sessions paid off as the Wayne City Council routinely adopted its proposed 1983-84 city budget at Tuesday's regular council meeting.

The council unanimously adopted a budget of slightly more than $2 million, up nearly $2 million from last year's budget of $5,058,316. The council met with City Administrator Phil Kloster and Mayor Wayne Marsh last Tuesday and Wednesday to work out the budget, department by department.

Councilman Keith Mosley commended the staff and administrator on a fine job of working out a budget. The mayor replied that it was a big task.

KLOSTER SAID although the total budget is up from last year, the city's operating budget for 1983-84 is actually down about 2.4 percent or $11,900 from the previous fiscal year which runs from Aug. 1 to July 31.

Primary reasons for this year's increased budget are three major projects in which the city will be involved during the upcoming year. Included is construction of a wastewater treatment plant at a cost of approximately $1,400,000.

Paving projects on West Third Street and Fairgrounds—Avenue also are planned. Another project involves hangar work and runway improvements at Wayne Municipal Airport at an estimated cost of $250,000.

"If we took out those three items plus the lottery effect, the actual budget would be decreased from a year ago," Kloster said. "A year from now the budget will go back down again."

Kloster said most departments in the city are taking a negotiable cut from funds they had requested. The Wayne Police Department was cut the most, down nearly 10 percent from its original request. A reduction of approximately $20,000 from the budget request of the Wayne Fire Department also is included in the budget.

IN OTHER ACTION, the council heard a complaint from Lewis Assker of 510 Hillcrest Road. Assker issued a complaint that a city meter reader violated his Fourth and Fourteenth Amendment rights by entering his home without permission.

He told the council he was asleep in his home and his company was ready to sleep when someone knocked on his door, hollered "Meter man" and walked in.

"I found a man at the bottom of my stairs in my basement and I asked him what was going on. He said he was there to read the meter. I said you don't just walk into a personal home. He said he had orders from his boss to do so," Assker said. "I'm here to register a complaint to the effect that I believe that is a violation of the Fourth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States and also a violation of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States."

The council took no action on his complaint but agreed to research the matter.

FIREWORKS DEALERS will be allowed to sell their goods closer to permanent structures but will be charged more for occupation tax.

The council passed an ordinance which reduces from 30 feet to 10 feet the allowable distance for fireworks sales from permanent structures. The ordinance is more in compliance with state statutes.

The annual occupation tax on fireworks was raised from $25 to $100. Kloster said County Clerk Norm Melton researched fees in other communities and found they ranged from $25 to $200.

Kloster said Melton recommended to him and he concurred that the tax should be raised to $100. He told the council he feels the city should collect a reasonable tax from people who want to sell potentially dangerous items to youngsters.

THE COUNCIL approved a request by Godfather's Pizza to extend the boundaries of its liquor license to include a recently built outdoor patio area on the south and east area of the location.

Councilmen questioned the enforcement of the area and the image that would be created before giving its approval. With Larry Johnson voting no, the council voted 6-1 to approve the change.

In other action, a hearing was scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Friday concerning a protest that has been filed on Wayne's proposed wastewater treatment plant.

The council had specified that Walker brand equipment be used in place of Envirex equipment. Envirex has filed a protest and a hearing will be held to let the company present its case.

IN ORDER to bring the city's official records in compliance with the county clerk and assessor's records, the council annexed the front nine holes of the golf course into the city limits. City records showed they already were within city limits while county records showed they were not.

MORE THAN $4,000 in electrical bills were declared uncollectable debts by the council Tuesday night. Five bills were ruled uncollectable because of bankruptcy and five because of unknown addresses.

Rich's Jack & Jill, which declared bankruptcy, owed bills in the amounts of $1,273.51 and $2,083.56. Rich Anderson also had bills totaling $27.49 and $57.06. The other bankruptcy case was Chuck Barnes, who owed $210.68.

Other uncollectable debts because addresses are unknown include: Barry Barge, $10.45; Karl Birrell, $202.59; Karen Loberg, $10.83; Psi Sigma Epillon, $85.75 and Linda Jacobsen, $14.40.

New project for weatherization

Goldenrod Hills Weatherization Program is launching a new project this month funded by the United States Department of Energy. The project is called Home Energy Management (HEMP), and is designed to assist the low income elderly in energy management.

Weatherization Program Director Vida Archer said that a representative of the HEMP Project will contact the senior citizens in homes that have already benefited from weatherization construction, and further aide them by giving instruction and information regarding energy management in the home.

Areas of instruction include thermostat settings for day and night use, air conditioner filter replacement, water heater thermostat control, effective use of shades to maximize or minimize the rays of the sun, cooking instruction concerning effective use of temperature, and the use of articles of clothing to reduce heat in summer and maintain body heat in the winter.

The goal of the HEMP project is to reach 277 elderly homes in the 12 county Goldenrod Hills Community. The project is scheduled for completion in February 1984. For further information concerning the HEMP Project, or the Weatherization Program at Goldenrod Hills, contact Weatherization Director Vida Archer at 402-846-5493.

The City of Wayne will conduct the monthly testing of Civil Defense sirens at 1 p.m. Friday.

Sirens will be allowed to run only one minute with a three minute pause between each siren test. ### State fair ticket sales going well

"We felt confident that we'd put together a terrific lineup of entertainment this year, but we didn't realize how terrific," State Fair Manager Henry Brandt said. Ticket sales are running far above average, according to Brandt.

"We are so fortunate to have the wonderful facility that we do. With nearly 14,000 seats available in air-conditioned comfort for each performance, the Nebraska State Fair has gained an excellent reputation among entertainment circles, and I know our Fair patrons appreciate it as well."

Several of the shows now have only $9 and $7 tickets available. These include: Wayne Newton (7:30 p.m. show), Kenny Rogers & Dottie West (2:30 & 7:30 p.m. shows), Oak Ridge Boys & Lee Greenwood, John Denver (7:30 p.m. show), Alabama.

Brandt suggested that fans order their tickets as early as possible and noted that ticket sales were a bit lighter for after noon performances.

"That might be something people will want to consider when they order their tickets," he said. "I've said it before," he continued, "and I'll say it again. With our concerts all set up in the round, there's not a bad seat in the house."

Registration time is extended

Young men now have 120 days prior to their 18th birthday in which to register with the Selective Service, instead of the 30-day period previously prescribed by law, rules and regulations. The law applies to all men born on or after Jan. 1, 1940.

According to COL Malcolm D. Hardin, director of Selective Service for Nebraska, the recent change will give young men approaching their 18th birthday more flexibility in complying with the registration law. "All males may register up to 120 days before their 18th birthday, and until 30 days after," said Hardin. "Even though the law has been in effect for some time, we are finding a few people who are still not aware of the law, or believe that it does not apply to them."

In order to register, a man needs to stop by his nearest post office and fill out a simple registration card. The cards are collected by the postmaster and forwarded to the Selective Service Computer Center in St. Louis, Missouri. The maximum penalty for failure to register is a $10,000 fine, and/or five years in prison.

Statistically, Nebraska ranks eighth in the nation with a registration compliance rate of 99.95 percent for those males born between Jan. 1, 1940, and April 30, 1965.

NRA explains its position on armor-piercing ammo

It's time to set the record straight as to exactly why the National Rifle Association opposes congressionally pending legislation designed to ban KTW and other brands of so-called armor-piercing ammunition. The NRA's position on the "KTW issue"—and the issue itself—have been the focus of a great deal of misinformation in recent months.

The NRA is against the legislation sponsored by Rep. Mario Biaggi (D-N.Y.) and Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan (D-N.Y.) for a single, solid reason: Because the bill would ban virtually all types of sporting ammunition, and there appears to be no feasible or acceptable way to amend the measure to include only armor-piercing ammunition. That is not simply the opinion of the NRA. It is the belief, arrived at after much study and deliberation, of the nation's top ballistics and legal experts.

As drafted, the bill would require the U.S.

Treasury Department to determine which handgun bullets, when fired from a handgun with a barrel length of five inches or less, are capable of penetrating the equivalent of 18 layers of Kevlar—a synthetic fiber which is the standard composition of most police bullet-resistant vests.

THE TREASURY Department then would publish its findings in the Federal Register, and 60 days after publication those bullets defined as "prohibited" would be banned from further manufacture, import, sale or use—except for law enforcement or military purposes.

What does such a definition mean, in real terms, to the average gun owner, hunter or competitive shooter? It is not exaggerating to state that the definition effectively could outlaw nearly all conventional and sporting ammunition. Again, the NRA is not alone in taking such a stand.

In testimony before the House Subcommittee on Crime last year, the Treasury Department's assistant secretary for enforcement stated that "any attempt to define projectile-type ammunition as (Biaggi-Moynihan) would seek to do, invariably includes a wide range of ammunition commonly used for hunting, target shooting or other legitimate and long established sporting purposes."

A spokesman for the Justice Department told the same committee that "...our continuing study of this issue revealed that there are serious flaws in the broad ban on armor-piercing ammunition proposed in (Biaggi-Moynihan). Moreover, in certain handgun caliber, the effect of a ban on armor-piercing bullets would effectively deprive firearms owners of the use of their weapons by rendering illegal all presently available commercially manufactured ammunition."

TO THIS DAY, the Treasury and Justice Departments remain opposed to the bill. Their ballistics and legal professionals have been unable to come up with a practical, enforceable definition of armor-piercing ammunition—a definition that would not penalize millions of law-abiding gun owners.

There is another key question that must be answered, a question all too often overlooked: Why is such legislation necessary in the first place? This question is prompted by a brief look at the facts.

Fact: Not a single armor-clad police officer ever has been shot with armor-piercing ammunition, contrary to the claims of some gun control organizations, who have labeled the ammunition as "cop-killer bullets."

Fact: KTW-type ammunition never has been openly distributed to the general public; the ammunition historically has been available only to the police and the military for highly specialized purposes. In fact, such agencies can obtain the ammunition only under tight restrictions, which include placing orders for the ammo on official department letterhead and including an official department purchase order.

Fact: Armor-piercing ammunition has been in existence since at least World War I, yet never has presented any problem for law enforcement agencies anywhere in the world.

Clearly, AMMUNITION designed to cut through armor is not used by hunter or competitive shooters. The ammunition is for specialized law-enforcement and military uses only. The NRA understands this.

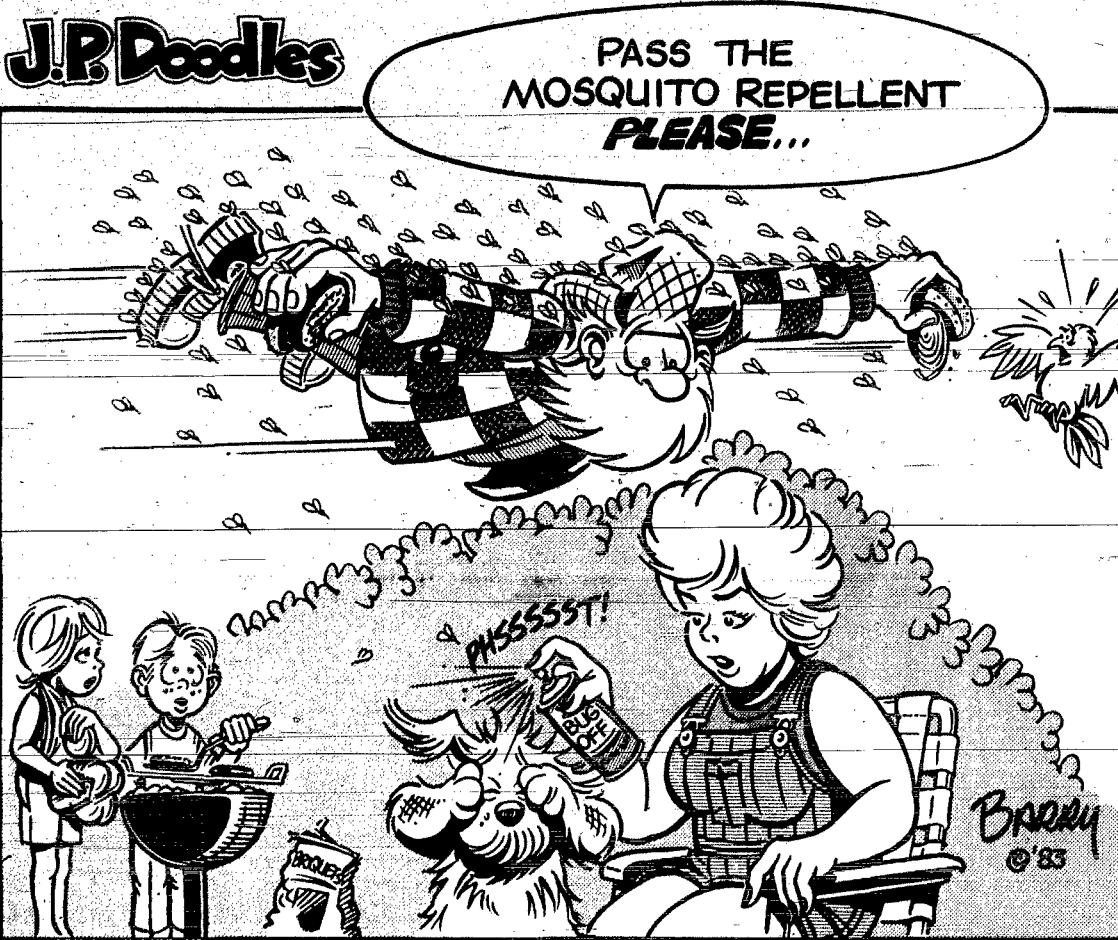

What the NRA does not understand, and will not tolerate, is the implication that the association's opposition to the bill somehow is tantamount to signing the death certificates of America's police officers.

The NRA's record of cooperation with law enforcement agencies—in marksmanship training, safety and general police support—is impeccable. The NRA is vitally concerned about the safety of the nation's police; tens of thousands of rank-and-file officers, in fact, are NRA members. The Biaggi-Moynihan bill, no matter what its intentions, will not serve to protect our law enforcement community; and the NRA is deeply distressed that the confusion and misinformation surrounding the KTW issue may have jeopardized the safety of thousands of dedicated police officers.

It's time to clear up the confusion about Biaggi-Moynihan. It's time to cut through the smoke screens that have clouded this issue. It's time once and for all, to set the record straight on this woefully flawed legislation.

Fuel taxes

Complaints centered on the price of gasoline are often directed at owners and managers of gas stations. Perhaps, those complaints should be directed to the Nebraska legislature instead.

Nebraska's motor fuel tax is higher than any state which surrounds the Cornhusker state. The tax jumped to 15.3 cents per gallon on July 1. Missouri's rate is 7 cents and Wyoming's is 8 cents. Kansas has a tax of 10 cents for gasoline and 12 cents for diesel.

Colorado's is 12 cents for gas and 13 cents for diesel. South Dakota has a tax of 13 cents and Iowa has a rate of 13 cents for gas and 15.5 for diesel—actually slightly higher than Nebraska's diesel tax.

Nebraska's motor fuel tax is the fourth highest in the nation. Much of the money raised from this tax goes for a good cause—helping improve highways and roads. But, some of the highways and streets in surrounding states seem to be in better condition than Nebraska's.

Hypertension

High blood pressure — hypertension — is one of the most serious diseases in the United States. It contributes directly or indirectly to about one million deaths a year. It affects approximately one out of every four or five American adults. High blood pressure is treatable.

High blood pressure doesn't usually produce any symptoms. People may not know they have high blood pressure until it begins to cause trouble with the heart, brain, or kidney.

It's important for people to get their blood pressure checked regularly, and, if it is high, to follow the treatment their doctors prescribe. Along with drugs, weight loss for the overweight, exercise, and salt restrictions are among the most important ways to treat high blood pressure.

The following may also help in controlling your high blood pressure:

1. Get plenty of relaxation. Don't wait until you are exhausted to start to rest.
2. Lose weight (if your doctor believes you should), then maintain it at the level suggested.
3. Avoid alcohol and tobacco. Follow your doctor's advice on how to quit and how to desist.
4. Settle your problems so they don't worry you and interfere with your rest and peace of mind.
5. Have adequate sleep. To do this you may have to insist on a nap during the day.

Immigration reform

Bill places unfair burden on farmers

By Cheryl Stubbendieck
Nebraska Farm Bureau

In comparison with California, Nebraska is a relatively minor user of migrant labor. Yet Nebraska farmers, and beet growers particularly, have a major interest in immigration reforms and migrant labor laws now being considered by Congress.

Both houses of Congress have been working on proposals, but the Senate's recently passed bill has the dubious honor of being the lesser of two evils, at least in the view of farmers who rely on migrant labor for seasonal jobs which often are unattractive to the domestic workforce.

Obviously something must be done about illegal immigration into the United States. The Senate bill includes a provision to change all aliens who entered this country prior to Jan. 1, 1980, from illegal to legal, temporary residents. And those illegal aliens who entered prior to Jan. 1, 1977, would be declared permanent residents and, after five years, would become eligible for citizenship.

THOUGH THIS proposal to forgive long-time illegal aliens will raise eyebrows, it is not the most objectionable part of the Senate bill. That distinction falls to the bill's provision that employers who knowingly employ illegal aliens can be fined $1,000 for each infraction on the first offense, and as much as $2,000 for each individual involved on the second offense.

Employers for whom prosecutors can establish a pattern of illegal alien hiring could also face criminal penalties of a 1,000 fine and a six-month jail term.

Farmers and other employers who rely on the migrant, seasonal workforce raise many objections to the proposal, the first being, "Why should it be the responsibility of the employer to police illegal aliens—rather than the government?"

Gene Malone of the American Farm Bureau Federation asks, "If the federal government, with all of its computers and an entire department of immigration and naturalization, cannot keep people from sneaking across our borders, gaining bogus identification papers and Social Security numbers and even sometimes obtaining welfare benefits, unemployment compensation and retirement benefits to which they are not entitled, it hardly seems fair to expect an individual employer to be able to distinguish between documented foreign workers, U.S. nationals of foreign extraction and illegal aliens, who are not to be hired under penalty of fine and imprisonment."

GIVEN THE DIFFICULTY of documentation, Malone says, it's possible that employers will shun any employees having similar physical characteristics to many of the undocumented workers. Because the greatest number of illegal aliens are of Hispanic origin, national groups representing the needs of Mexican Americans in this country oppose the legislation as detrimental to their employment opportunities.

Another objection, Malone points out, is a new national identification system mandated by the Senate bill that would, at some future date, involve everyone seeking employment, including persons born in this country.

Employers naturally fear the extreme sanctions against them provided in the bill Malone explains, "Even though the penalties are for 'knowingly hiring illegal aliens,' many employers feel that the law can turn out to be an instrument of harassment used subjectively against them."

Placing the burden of verification on such employers by making them singly responsible for verifying the eligibility of workers would be counterproductive, Malone adds, and can only lead to reduced opportunity for documented foreign workers and lower national productivity.

"AS LONG as there are jobs that attract foreigners into the country and not enough U.S. citizens who are willing and able to do those jobs, some means of allowing foreigners to fill the needs must be provided, without undue hardship on either the workers or the employers," Malone asserts.

Despite the employer sanctions contained in the Senate bill, Malone says it is infinitely preferable to a House version not yet passed. The Senate bill does contain an amendment that would require immigration and Naturalization Service agents to obtain a search warrant before entering open fields to search for illegal aliens. Another provision would provide for a three-year transition period, allowing agricultural employers to phase down gradually to a workforce containing no undocumented workers.

Farmers who depend on the seasonal workforce are no doubt following these immigration reform developments with keen interests. Certain provisions, such as the proposed national identification system, ought to be sufficient to get the attention of the rest of us.

letters

To the editor:

I was concerned and upset to learn in Monday's edition of the Herald that the headline entertainment of the Wayne County Fair will be women's mud wrestling. As a woman and a feminist I object to any woman being portrayed in such a degrading manner.

On the other hand, I acknowledge that adult persons have the right to avail themselves of this form of "entertainment" if they desire. But I do not believe it is appropriate fare for a public event like the County Fair where the patrons are predominantly families and young people. I am genuinely concerned about the way in which younger minds might interpret women being shown in such a low light in what may appear to be an atmosphere of complete public approval.

I would hope that others who feel the way I do will make their objections heard so that we will not see something like this at a public event again.

Hopeful gets advice

By Michelle Kubik

The greatest wisdom is obtained through experience. If this is true then Kris Lowenberg, the new Miss Nebraska from Kearney, ought to be getting plenty of good advice.

This past week, Kris was the guest of Paula Mitchell Pflueger of Wayne, a former Miss Nebraska during 1980-81.

Kris spent three days with Paula, viewing videotapes of the 1980 Miss America pageant and preparing for the interview questions.

"Paula has advised me on how to carry myself," said Kris, "and has given me pointers on putting my best self forward."

KRIS, THE 20-YEAR-OLD daughter of Tony and Gail Lowenberg of Kearney, will be getting her chance at the Miss America pageant, to be held Sept. 10-17 in Atlantic City, N.J. Miss Lowenberg is very concerned about the misconceptions most people have about the pageant.

"The Miss America pageant is not the same as the Miss USA pageant," said Kris, "they are totally separate contests."

Miss America is a talent-based contest, where the girls must perform and take part in personal interviews. Although there is an evening gown and swimsuit competition similar to that of the Miss USA pageant, beauty is not the highest criteria for judging.

"THE CONTEST IS a chance for self-evaluation," said Kris, "and you learn how to better yourself."

She feels that it is worthwhile for young women as a means of nurturing talent, also.

"To be Miss Nebraska is a once in a lifetime experience," Kris said, "and it's a great honor to represent my state."

Since her crowning on June 4, Kris has been engaged in many public appearances and activities.

AS MISS NEBRASKA, she is obliged to attend Centennial celebrations, parades and other similar functions as the state's official hostess.

Kris became interested in the pageant through a local director in Kearney. It was suggested that she try to earn part of the two million dollar scholarship money, which is given by the organization. She was named Miss Kearney at her local pageant and went on to become Miss Nebraska, and the recipient of scholarships and a wardrobe, totaling $5,000.

Miss Lowenberg, who performed a contemporary dance from the movie "Flashdance" as her talent at the pageant, would like to attend the School of Performing Arts in Chicago and further her dance education. SHE IS CURRENTLY a junior at the University of Nebraska Lincoln, working on her degree in broadcasting from the School of Journalism.

"I would really like to see the pageant continue," remarked Kris, "and I hope the public eye will be opened to its worth."

Mrs. Pflueger, a Norfolk native now living in Wayne, would like to see a local pageant begin in the Wayne area.

"The scholarships are of great value to young girls," Paula said, "and the experience of competing in the pageant is also important."

There are currently 20 local pageants in the state of Nebraska and entrance requirements are minimum. All contestants must be between the ages of 17 and 26, and unmarried. Most of all, the biggest requirement is having a talent and wanting to show it.

60th anniversary held at St. Paul's

The 60th anniversary of the 1923 confirmation class of St. Paul Lutheran Church of rural Carroll was recognized during the morning worship service Sunday. Rev. Duane Lueck was in charge.

All living confirmands except Herman Bose were present. Carnations were presented to the members by Clifford Stalling, president of the congregation. White carnations were given in memory of deceased members and accepted by close relatives.

Frederick Kraemer accepted the one for Sadie Linnerman Kraemer, Helen Bose Mattes accepted for Elsie Bose Linnerman, Erwin Kraemer accepted for Lester Bewinkle and Marian Stolle accepted for Harry Stolle.

Pink carnations for those who are no longer members at St. Paul Lutheran Church were given to Irene Blohm Beuse, South Sioux City, Meta Blohm Bartling, Wakefield, Rosine Swanson Thies, Winside and Herman Bose.

FOLLOWING THE service, dinner was served to the confirmands. Special guests were Rev. Duane Lueck, Paul Thomas and the Allen Rastedes.

In the hour of memories that followed, facts taken from the lives of those present were given.

Some are: Irene Bose has lived on the same farm her entire life. Lydia Weiersheuser has lived on the family farm 66 years. Frederick Rieth was in business in Concord for 58 years and his father was a founding member of St. Paul. Meta Blohm Bartling was employed by the Waldbaum egg plant for 30 years; the Jay Mattes who have been married more than 50 years took their house with them to Allen when they retired and Jay was an elder at St. Paul for more than 40 years; William Weiersheuser was the first member of the congregation to receive a bachelor's degree, master's degree and PH.D.

The flowers were given to the Hillcrest Care Center of Laurel in honor of William Kraemer, a resident there. He is 91 and is the only living person who was a member of the group which founded St. Paul Lutheran Church in 1892.

1800's theme of ceremony

An 1800's look was the theme of the decorations and attire which adorned the First Presbyterian Church in Schuyler for the July 16 ceremony uniting in marriage Lori Nadrchal of Schuyler and Steven Wallick of Terrill, Iowa. The bride, a 1980 graduate of Schuyler Central High School, has attended Wayne State College. The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Marilyn R. Wallick of Albion, graduated from Albion High School in 1977 and was an honor graduate from Wayne State College in 1982. He is currently the head wrestling and assistant football coach at Terrill High School and also teaches physical education and history.

OFFICIATING AT the afternoon ceremony was the Rev. Earl Reed from Albion Methodist Church.

Two candelabra decorated the church, where the guests were ushered to their seats by Bill Leitschuck of Monroe, Don Zulkoski and Tom Meays, both of Columbus; and Jay Langemeier and Rick Thompson, both of Wayne.

Music for the ceremony was provided by vocalists, Mike and Kim Ward.

The bride appeared in a gown of chantilly and sheer ganza, with a high collar bodice and ruffled edged bib front, all accented in pearling. The elegant bishop sleeves were created with lace.

HER SHEER, BOUFFANT skirt was caught up in a garter effect and featured lace motifs to expose a double row of lace ruffles, all ending in a chapel-length train.

She wore a petite, brimmed bridal hat, overlaid with Venice lace and accented with pearls. It was caught up in back with a bustle bow that released a fingertip length veil.

The bride carried an arm bouquet of white flowers, accented with rainbow-colored star flowers and ribbons. The colored ribbons draped below the wide-bowed white ribbon in the center of the bouquet, where a fern was tied to the draped ribbon, giving it the 1800's look.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Linda (Nadrchal) Jelinek of Schuyler and maid of honor was Mary Wallick of Albion. Bridesmaids were Barb Zulkoski, Betty Meays and Cindy Krause, all of Columbus; and Marie Nadrchal of Dodge.

THE BRIDESMAIDS WORE dotted swiss gowns in blue, apricot, lilac, yellow, sweet pea and rose. The rainbow-colored gowns featured deep ruffling, which circled the shoulders on the off-the-shoulder bodice. Ruffling also edged the hemline and created a back bustle, while a satin ribbon ringed the waistline, tying in a front bow.

Accenting the designed dresses of the 1800's style, the bridesmaids carried parasols, coordinating with the rainbow-colored dresses and laced with ruffles around the brim.

Serving as best man was Coary Jelinek of Schuyler. Groomsmen were Bruce Wallick of Albion, Dave Heinsen of Wayne, Keith Nadrchal of Dodge, Ken Nadrchal of Ralston and Bruce Kroeger of Wayne.

Condigners were Mike Jelinek and Dennis Leitschuck. Freshly-picked rose petals were dropped down the aisle by flowergirls, Kelly Zulkoski and Shanna Nadrchal and ringbearer was Jon Jelinek.

A RECEPTION FOR 450 guests was held at the Oak Ballroom in Schuyler, immediately following the ceremony. The afternoon master of ceremonies was Johnny Wachal and his band, followed by Duffy Belorad in the evening.

The reception was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. David Krause and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Sunterg.

The newlyweds traveled to Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic, the Bahamas and the Virgin Islands on a Caribbean cruise. They also went to Walt Disney World, Magic Kingdom, Sea World and other attractions in the Orlando, Flor., area.

bridal showers

Peggy Rethwisch

Peggy Rethwisch was honored with a bridal shower July 18 in the Carroll Methodist Church fellowship hall. The 60 guests attended from Carroll, Winside, Wayne, Randolph, Laurel and Belden.

Wayne took quick advantage of what turned out to be a shaky pitching performance by Ord. Kevin Maly took a base on balls and Chris Wieseler got a trip to first on an error before Steve Overin added a base hit. A stolen base by Overin and a passed ball started the scoring binge as three walks and a double by Pete Warne gave Wayne a 5-0 lead.

Ord went down in order in the second and Wayne's Overin was left on after he singled and stole second and third.

The third stanza saw the situation reverse as Wayne retired one, two, three, and Ord stranded three men on as Overin recorded three strike outs.

Wayne began its seven run fourth-inning as Jeff Sherer and Shannon Dorcay walked, Kevin Maly singled and Weiseler added an RBI base hit.

Jeff Hausmann slugged a two-RBI single and Don Larsen doubled before an error put Rick Nelson aboard.

The Ord Midgets walked one man in the fourth and put two men on in the fifth but failed to score.

Wayne nailed the coffin lid shut in the fifth with four runs highlighted by a Kevin Maly home run and an RBI sacrifice by Scott Baker.

Wayne is scheduled to face O'Neill in the championship game at 6 p.m. Friday.

Wayne Junior Legion baseball team started district play at O'Neill in grand style Tuesday night with an 11-1 win over Hartington.

Catcher Dennis Lebsock went three-for-three at the plate, including a two-run homer in the fifth inning.

Wayne raced to a 4-0 lead in the first as Todd Pfeiffer tripled to begin the inning. Jeff McCright, Lebsock, Jon Meierhenry and Tim Heier all had base hits.

Hartington scored its only run of the contest in the second inning as the first baseman, Schaeffer, went home on an RBI single by Kuchta.

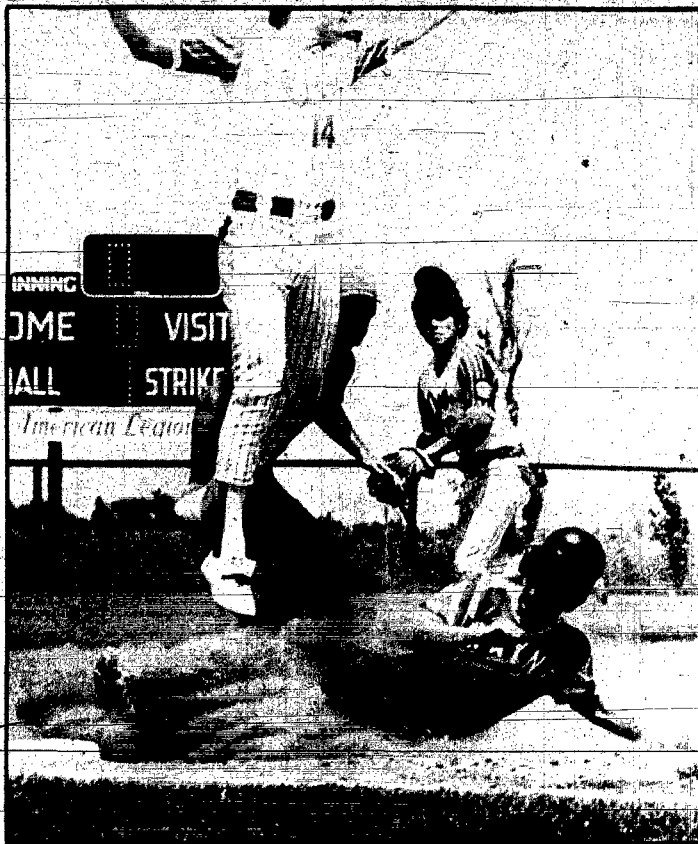

A two-run double by pitcher Todd Schwartz in the second inning gave Wayne a 4-1 lead. Dennis Lebsock slugged a double and Todd Dorcay added a RBI sacrifice.

The third stanza saw Hartington load the bases with two outs but the threat ended as Schaeffer grounded out to the mound.

Wayne's Jeff Jorgensen singled in the inning but was left on as Pfeiffer and McCright lided out.

Lebsock's two-run homer in the fourth put the score at 9-1 and Jeff McCright played ball hog in center field to account for all three Hartington outs in the inning.

Wayne added two runs in the fifth off of a two-run homer by Todd Schwartz to put the score at 11-1 and bring the ten-run rule in to play.

WAYNE'S PETE Warne is safe at third base as Ord's Anthony Quattrocchi leaps for the throw.

Elliot appoints lowan as new SID

Steven L. Jones has been appointed to the position of sports information director, news editor at Wayne State College, according to WSC President Ed Elliott.

Jones will be filling the position vacated by Ken Probst earlier this month and will begin his official duties on Monday, Aug. 8.

"We are looking forward to having Jones join the Wayne State administration," said Elliott. "We are confident that his expertise will add the necessary dimension to the Institutional Advancement Program." He added that "as sports information director and news editor, Jones will be involved in the editing of the quarterly alumni newspaper as well as general editing responsibilities in the Wayne State News Bureau.

Jones, a 1980 graduate of Iowa State University with a bachelor of science degree in journalism and mass communication, will come to Wayne State from Denison, Iowa, where he has been sports editor for the Denison newspaper for the past three years.

A native of Marshalltown, Iowa, Jones began his work experience as a news correspondent with the Ames Daily Tribune, as well as serving on the editorial staff for the Iowa State University daily paper.

He served as the student sports information assistant at ISU from February of 1979 to February of 1980, when he moved to Charleston, S.C., to become the sports information assistant while working as a graduate assistant at The Citadel, a state-operated military college.

He and his wife Diane have a son, Daniel, age nine months.

Director of College Relations, Adrie Nab, was pleased that the search process for the new sports information director went as smoothly and quickly as it did. "The college appreciates the time and effort of the search committee members. It was a pleasant situation to find that there was a consensus and agreement from the very beginning on what type of individual we were looking for, and that was carried through to the final selection."

"All of the committee was very confident in offering the job to Steve, and I am looking forward to having him on the college relations staff," said Nab.

Teams garner 35 hits Towners win hit-a-thon

The Wayne Town Team got itself into another hitting contest last Sunday night at Hank Overin Field.

Plainview came to town and the two teams combined for 35 hits as Wayne came out a 15-12 winner after a controversial call in the sixth inning took a run away from Jeff Dion.

Neither team got untracked offensively until the second inning.

Plainview started the scoring as Doug Haverkamp singled, stole second and went home on a single by Tim Masat.

The Wayne towners countered with two runs in the bottom of the second as Joel Ankeny slugged a two-RBI single to score Dave Schwartz and Mike Meyer.

Plainview took a 5-3 lead in the third inning off of back-to-back doubles, a Wayne error and singles by Haverkamp and Masat.

Neil Blohm doubled for Wayne to begin the bottom half of the third and went home on a RBI single by Mike Meyer.

A two-RBI homer by Plainview's Craig Gentzler pushed the score to 7-4, but Wayne countered with four big runs to take an 8-7 lead led by Neil Blohm's three-run homer.

Plainview came away empty in the fifth and Wayne went down in order as Joel Ankeny hit into a double play.

A solo run by Plainview to begin the sixth tied the score going into the bottom half of the inning.

Then the crazy stuff began.

Jeff Zeiss started things off with a walk and a stolen base before Neil Blohm popped out. Routine.

Tim Pfeiffer pegged an RBI single and Bill Schwartz followed with a one-bagger before Mike Meyer then took a base on balls. Routine.

Two more runs scored as Dion walked and Goeden singled. Routine.

Dave Schwartz then hit a fly ball to deep right center. Not so routine.

As the right fielder caught the ball, Dion tagged up and went home for an apparent run. The right fielder bobbed the ball, however, and the centerfielder caught it before it hit the ground.

The home-plate umpire ruled that Dion had tagged up too soon and called him out. Despite an appeal, the run didn't count.

Plainview went on to score two runs in both of the final two innings and Wayne added three in the seventh to register a wild 15-12 win.

Would I kid you?
Being a sports writer is a pretty good job.

One of the greatest advantages is having an "in" with the many sports organizations in this great country of ours. Heck, one call to the University of Oklahoma and the sports information office there sent me a copy of its football press guide free of charge.

Randy Hascall and I have passes to watch this year's Shrine Bowl from Memorial Stadium's press box. Can't beat that with a stick. The possibilities boggle the mind.

Don't you wish?
Why, if I had the mind to, I could probably call up the American Canoe Association and get on its mailing list. No, I'm not kidding. There actually is an American Canoe Association. According to my records, its headquarters is located in Lorton, Virginia. They would, no doubt, send me EVERYTHING I ever wanted to know about canoes if I desired. All I would have to do is pick up the phone. What power.

I imagine the American Canoe Association (the ACA to us sports writers) keeps in close touch with the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen located in Washington, D.C.

If I had the urge, I could probably get the scoop on the innermost goings-ons of these two outfits just because I'm a sports writer. Getting jealous?

Go ahead, check up on me!
There's just no end to the exciting sports organization in this great country of ours.

If you're ever in Newport, Rhode Island, the National Lawn Tennis Hall of Fame is a MUST stop.

You should probably call ahead though. I imagine tickets are hard to come by. (Of course, I could probably get in free.)

The city fathers in our nation's capitol are, no doubt, busting their buttons over being the home of the National Duck Pin Bowling Congress.

Duck Pins? (I had to look this one up). According to my humongous, real big Webster's Dictionary, duck pins is (are?) "tenpins played with such pins and balls exceeding 5 inches of diameter. O.K."

They must draw thirty or forty thousand fans for one of those contests.

Don't ask
The headquarters for the Elias Sports Bureau can be found at 500 Fifth Ave. in New York City.

I don't know what those guys do, but it must be pretty important if their office is on Fifth Avenue.

Waste, waste, waste!
Big government isn't the only entity that could benefit by streamlining and combining similar operations.

I notice that the United States Men's Curling Association's headquarters is located in Duluth, Minnesota while the U.S. Women's Curling Association is hundreds of miles south in Glenview, Illinois.

With the tremendous volume of mail these two sports behemoths must receive, I'm sure the Postal Service would welcome a merger of some sort.

Will a week be enough?
As Harry Caray would say: "Holy Cow!"

Come next May, I've got a week's vacation coming. You can just imagine my delight when I found out that's when the Bowling Proprietor's Association of America is holding its annual convention.

Man! Sometimes I'm so lucky I can't believe it. Needless to say, that's where I'll be spending my week off. I shudder to think of the shenanigans that will go on. I just hope I have enough time to recover after a week with that bunch!

Wood claims state title

Wood Plumbing women's slow pitch softball team won first place honors in the district tournament played at Norfolk July 23-24 and earned a trip to the class A state tournament scheduled at Sidney August 12-14.

Wood fought its way through the losers bracket to win the 28-team tournament after losing its second game 6-7 to King's.

In the first game, Wood downed Babe's 10-4. Jolene Bennett had a triple and a single while Donna Kelly added a two-bagger to lead the offensive output. Babe's was held to six hits for the game.

Next came the 4-7 heartbreaker against King's which sent the Wayne team to the losers' bracket.

Wood staged a furious five-run rally in the seventh inning but King's countered with a solo run to win the contest.

Wood came back in its first loser's bracket game with a fury as it downed Broadway Bar 8-2. Singles by Lynne Surber, Mary Schroeder, Donna Kelly and Laurie Owens sparked a second-inning offensive explosion that saw the Wayne team take a 4-2 lead. It never relinquished.

Schroeder also had a two-run triple in the third stanza.

The women rolled through their next three contests, beating The Oasis 5-3 and Pepsi by identical 5-3 scores before pummeting the A and D' team 13-4.

A hard-fought 9-8 win over Norfolk Auction came in the seventh inning of the next contest as Lisa Lundergard went home on a Kelly Murphy single after Norfolk Auction had tied the game in the top of the inning.

Chris Penne and Lynn Surberl also had doubles in the game.

The next victory didn't come any easier as Laurie Owens scored in the seventh inning on a Heider's choice single by Mary Schroeder to give Wood a 2-1 win.

Both teams had scored solo runs in the first and the defenses took over until Owens' run in the seventh.

A big 11-1 victory over Jerry's set-up the two-game championship showdown with Coors.

Wood won the first game 4-3. Neither team scored until the third inning when Wood tallied three runs: Surber, Lundergard and Bennett had base hits and Schroeder belted a triple.

Both teams scored two runs in the fourth and Coors scored a solo run in the sixth but fell short.

The championship game saw Coors jump out to a 2-0 lead in the first inning.

Wood countered with a pair of runs in the second and sealed things in the fifth as Schroeder scored on a two-bagger by Lubner. An assurance run scored as Lundergard went home on a base hit by Bennett.

Midgets bow to O'Neill nine

Hoping the game was not an indication of things to come, Wayne's Midget baseball team warmed-up for districts and bowed to O'Neill 8-4 Sunday afternoon at Hank Overin Field despite outfitting the visitors 7-4. Wayne plays in the district tournament at O'Neill this week. After retiring O'Neill in the top of the first, Wayne's Steve Overin scored after taking a base on balls, advancing on two errors, and going home as Rick Nelson walked with the bases loaded. The second inning saw O'Neill explode for six runs off of six walks, an error and an errant pitch. Center fielder Kevin Maly singled for the hosts with two outs in the bottom of the inning, but was left on base as Chris Wieseler went down swinging. Adding to its lead, O'Neill tallied another run in the third inning as Wayne went down in order.

The fourth stanza saw O'Neill strand the second baseman, Erby, on first base. Wayne scored a solo run as Pete Warne had an RBI single to score Shannon Dorcey who had taken a base on balls. Neither team got untracked in the fifth as the visitors went down one, two, three and Wayne put Jeff Hausmann aboard via an O'Neill error but failed to score. O'Neill loaded the bases with two outs in the bottom of the sixth but failed to capitalize. Two runs scored for Wayne as Shannon Dorcey walked and was followed aboard as Pete Warne singled. Maly and Steve Overin added RBI singles as Wayne pulled within three at 7-4. O'Neill added a run in the seventh and held Wayne to three at-bats in the inning as the game ended.

Pfeiffer saves Jr's

Todd Pfeiffer jumped out of the frying pan and into the fire Sunday afternoon. Luckily, he brought a fire extinguisher. After starting against the O'Neill Juniors, Pfeiffer was replaced on the mound by Dennis Lebsack to begin the fifth inning with Wayne holding a 3-1 lead. Coach Hank Overin sent Pfeiffer back to the mound in the seventh inning with the score 7-4, two outs and the bases loaded. Pfeiffer's fire extinguisher came in the form of a strike out as O'Neill's catcher, Thomas, went down swinging. The contest started with Wayne taking a 2-0 lead after one inning. Dennis Lebsack slugged an RBI double to score Jeff McCright, and Jon Meierhenry followed with an RBI single. O'Neill got on the board in the top of the third as Thomas singled and went around the bases on three passed balls. The hosts added another run in the third. Lebsack went home as Todd Heier took a base on balls to give Wayne a 3-1 lead. After the visitors left two men on in the fourth, Wayne sent three runners home as Meierhenry had an RBI single and Jeff McCright and Todd Pfeiffer took advantage of a handful of passed balls to four the bases. Dennis Lebsack relieved Pfeiffer to begin the fifth and O'Neill's first man up popped out to Meierhenry at short. The next batter took a base on balls and was followed by singles from Thomas, Miller and Fernau. A couple of walks and a fielder's choice put the score at 6-4 in favor of Wayne. The hosts scored a solo run in the bottom of the inning as Lebsack slugged a single to score Pfeiffer.

O'Neill added to its tally, scoring one in the sixth on back-to-back doubles. The side retired as Fernau filed out to Jeff McCright in center field. Wayne went down in order in the sixth and O'Neill made its move. After the first two men struck out, Parks singled and was followed aboard by Kruse as Wayne was charged with an error. Both runners advanced on a passed ball and the next two batters walked to pull O'Neill within one with the bases loaded. Pfeiffer returned to the mound, fanned the last batter, and preserved a hard-fought Wayne victory.

Area farmer earns honor

WNAX 570 radio station at Yankton will present the "WNAX Farmer of the Day" award to Steve Gramlich of Carroll on Tuesday, Aug. 2.

The "WNAX Farmer of the Day Salute" is awarded to farmers in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and South Dakota for outstanding agricultural practices, contributions to agriculture and participation in community activities in the Midwest area.

Banks support 4-H magazine

Don C. Spitze, extension agent in Wayne County, has announced that the State National, First National, Winslow State, Farmers State and Commercial State Banks of Wayne County, again will provide subscriptions to the National 4-H News magazine to each volunteer 4-H leader in Wayne County.

National 4-H News is published 10 times a year by National 4-H Council in Washington, D.C., and includes information for both beginning and experienced 4-H leaders.

This marks the 39th consecutive year that banks in Wayne County and across Nebraska have provided this resource for 4-H programming and leader development.

A private opinion survey sent to 2,000 leaders indicates that 75 percent of Nebraska's 4-H leaders read every News issue, and only two percent indicated they never read the magazine. The survey also showed that the 4-H News was an aid in setting and conducting leader training workshops in special areas.

Lean pigs production wanted

The new National Pork Producers Council Lean Guide to Pork Value System offers two to 10 times more economic incentive to produce lean pigs than the current grade and yield system, according to a University of Nebraska professor of animal science.

In a paper presented to the 75th annual meeting of the American Society of Animal Science at Washington State University Bill Ahlswede discussed a study evaluating the economic impacts of changes in fat thickness within the two systems.

Three computer populations of 220 pound hogs, averaging .9, 1.1 and 1.3 inches of backfat, were generated from a normal distribution based on the variation found in a sample of 217 carcasses in a Madison, Neb., packing plant, Ahlswede said.

Swine populations were priced according to the two systems on three base market prices, which were adjusted to average $40, $50 and $60 per hundred pounds when the hog averaged 1.1 inch of backfat, he said.

Ahlswede said the NPPC system paid larger premiums on the higher hog market, whereas the grade and yield system paid the same as the market price increased. "It's clear the grade and yield system failed to respond to the increased value of pork," he added.

"With grade and yield pricing, the premium for reducing fat thickness depended upon the initial fatness. With the Pork Value system, the premium depended upon the market price," Ahlswede said.

Ahlswede said the new system would encourage a more consistent and leaner product, but it's up to industry to adopt the system. Whether it's adopted, depends on buying patterns and perceptions of the value of pigs, he added.

Youth leadership teams to be selected

Several youth leadership teams will be selected for the 1983 Ak Sar-Ben Livestock Exposition, according to Ken Schmidt, University of Nebraska extension youth specialist.

The purpose of the teams is to give 4-H members experience in conducting livestock shows and provide an opportunity to contribute to the show administration," Schmidt said.

The Youth Leadership Teams were initiated in the 1981 Ak Sar-Ben Exposition with the market lamb show and have been expanded to nearly all of the divisions in the show for 1983, he said.

Youth leadership positions will be available at this year's exposition for youth 15 years of age and older who have previously exhibited at an Ak Sar-Ben Livestock show," Schmidt explained.

Since the leadership teams assist with the conduct of the show, team members can not exhibit in the division where they are assigned on a Leadership Team. They may exhibit in other areas that do not conflict with the time required for the leadership position, he said.

4-H Leadership Teams are planned for the market lamb show, feeder calf show, dairy show, swine show, horse show, breeding heifer show and the herdsman's contest.

Youth may obtain applications for the Leadership Teams from any Cooperative Extension Service office. Forms must be submitted at the time livestock entries are due. Applicants will be notified of selections early in September, he said.

Grain show samples needed

Future Farmers of America and 4-H club members are urged to make plans now to enter the 1983 Nebraska Grain Shows, according to Duane Foote, University of Nebraska extension agronomist.

Any active FFA or 4-H member carrying a crop project during the current year is eligible to exhibit at a show, Foote said. Classes will be provided for corn, oats and barley, sorghum, soy beans and wheat, he said.

Wheat entries must contain 4 quarts of grain and are due in the Nebraska Grain Improvement Association office no later than Sept. 23, although those planning to submit samples are urged to get them in after harvest.

Other grain entries must be received no later than Nov. 18, and they must contain 2 quarts of grain, Foote said.

Sample bags and tags for submitting samples are available on request from the association office, Foote said. Printed rules giving details for the show competition are available on request from vocational agricultural instructors and Cooperative Extension agents around the state.

The Grain Shows are sponsored by the Nebraska Grain Improvement Association in cooperation with the Nebraska Association of FFA and the Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service. Dates and locations for the 1983 shows will be announced at a later date, according to Foote.

Computer aids 4-H'ers

WAYNE COUNTY 4-Her Brian Bowers looks over Dean Dowling's shoulder as Dean uses the Wayne County Extension computer to balance rations for his 4-H pens of three beef project under the guidance of Gus Krajcick, chairman of the project. Members of the pens of three beef project learn how to construct the best rations and make cost projections using the Ag-Net program on the computer. About 20 of these pens of three beef projects will be shown at the Wayne County Fair, Sunday, Aug. 7 at 2 p.m. in the livestock arena. A booklet containing complete analysis of each project will be available to the public at the show.

Hog price outlook bleak according to economist

Market hog prices have dropped substantially since February and now appear likely to go even lower this fall, according to a University of Nebraska extension economist.

Allen C. Wellman said this bleak outlook for pork producers comes from analyzing the U.S. Department of Agriculture's June hog and pig report. The report indicated a more rapid expansion in hog production than had been suggested by March and December hog reports, and it indicated June 1 inventories were considerably larger than expected.

"The larger pork supplies are likely to put additional downward pressure on hog prices this fall, with relatively low prices and poor returns continuing in the first half of 1984," Wellman said. "Hog prices should hold near current levels into midsummer, with a possibility of modest strength here in July and into early August," he added.

"BUT MORE DOWNWARD pressure on prices is likely by early fall, with Omaha prices for barrows and gilts likely to drop under the $40 per hundredweight in the October-December quarter," Wellman said. "Relatively low hog prices will probably continue through at least the first half of 1984—possibly ranging from the $30s to low $40s during much of the period."

Since mid-February, hog prices have dropped almost $15 per hundredweight—from slightly above $60 in February to $46 in early July for 210-240 pound market hogs. Prices a year ago were near $60/cwt, he said.

Wellman said the report estimated the number of hogs on U.S. farms June 1 at 57.45 million head, 11 percent more than a year earlier. Breeding stock were estimated to be up 9 percent from last year and market hogs up 11 percent.

Inventories were also larger than indicated by previous USDA reports, Wellman said, due particularly to an unexpectedly large March-May pig crop. Farrowing in the March-May period were estimated at 15 percent above a year earlier, with the pig crop up 17 percent. Farrowing intentions estimates in March for 10 major hog states had indicated only an 8 percent increase in March-May farrowings, he added.

WELLMAN SAID the large increase in March-May farrowing reflected substantial changes in actual farrowings in Iowa, Illinois and Nebraska compared with March intentions estimates.

March-May farrowings were estimated to have increased 16 percent from 1982 in Iowa, 13 percent in Illinois and 18 percent in Nebraska, he added. March farrowing intentions estimates for these states were up 4 percent, down 1 percent and up 5 percent, respectively.

Farrowing intentions for the June-November period nationally were estimated to be 9 percent larger than a year earlier, Wellman said. In the 10 major hog states, farrowing plans were reported to be up 10 percent for June-August and up 8 percent for September-November. Farrowing plans in Nebraska for June-August were up 9 percent and for September-November, up 7 percent, Wellman added.

Wellman noted that hog slaughter since early April has been larger than indicated by hog inventory and pig crop estimates.

"This, along with a larger farm-to-retail margin on pork than last year, has held hog prices well below the level forecast," Wellman said. "Slaughter from the first of April through late June was 2 percent above a year earlier, in contrast to earlier indications that it would be 1 to 2 percent below last year," Wellman said.

Wellman added that the farm-to-retail margin on pork in May was reported by USDA at 18 cents per pound higher than a year earlier—the equivalent of $10.50 per hundred weight change in live hog prices.

THE ECONOMIST said inventory and pig crop estimates suggest July-September hog slaughter will be 7 percent to 9 percent larger than in 1982 and only a little below second quarter volume. He said slaughter in the fourth quarter will increase seasonally and may be 12 percent to 15 percent larger than last year.

"Slaughter in the first half of 1984 will come largely from the June-November pig crop," Wellman added. "June farrowing intentions suggest a potential for slaughter to be around 10 percent larger than in 1983. However, it's possible that poor hog returns will reduce farrowing below June intentions by the October-November period. Actual year-to-year cut backs in farrowings, however, appear unlikely before the December-May period," he added.

Large, plastic bags found to be excellent for storing silage

Large, 100-150 foot plastic bags have been found to be excellent for storing silage, according to Terry Mader, University of Nebraska extension District III beef specialist.

The machine moves forward as the bag fills, Mader said, but the bag stays put. "The unique thing is that the machine has the ability to control pressure which fills the bag," Mader said. "Silage can be packed firmly or loosely, depending on conditions at harvest."

"IF THE BAG is packed too tight, it will ensile well, but it will be too hard to feed or unload from," he said.

Silage stored in the bags "is excellent feed stuff in general," he said. "It is very favorable."

In the last two-four years, there has been some interest in using specially designed feeder panels, which allow cattle to feed from the ends of the bag. But not much research has been conducted in this area, Mader said.

The bags are very durable, but there is concern over how cattle will feed on this system compared to the traditional system of feeding cattle in a bunk, Mader said. However, on growing rations, it appears to work well, he added.

Tomato Problems

Tomatoes are a favorite vegetable for many gardeners. But there are a lot of problems associated with the growing of this vegetable. But not all problems in growing tomatoes are caused by diseases and insects. Some tomato problems are caused by disease and insects, others are disorders that cannot be corrected by application of pesticides.

Blossom end rot of tomatoes is one of the most common physiological disorders. Symptoms are a leathery scar or rot at the blossom end of the fruit. It can occur at any stage of fruit development.

Several factors may trigger blossom end rot. Usually, sudden change in soil moisture is the main cause. When a soil with sufficient moisture is allowed to dry completely before irrigation, blossom end rot may follow.

Lack of calcium is another cause. Calcium is supplied to the plant by adding lime to the soil. Do not add lime unless a soil sample has been taken and it has been determined how much lime and what type is needed.

Over fertilization, especially with nitrogen, also can increase incidence of the disease.

Tomatoes differ in their susceptibility to blossom end rot. Staked and heavily pruned tomatoes seem to be more severely affected than unpruned plants.

To reduce the incidence of blossom end rot, keep the soil as uniformly moist as possible and practical, and avoid extreme dry and wet conditions. Mulch with black plastic or organic matter such as dry grass clippings or straw to hold moisture.

Leaf roll or curl is another problem on tomatoes that is not a disease, but physiologic in nature. No one seems to know that exact cause, but certain factors are associated with it.

With leaf curl, extremely dry or wet soils, and pruned plants with a heavy fruit load seem most susceptible. Some varieties are more inclined to roll than others. The main disadvantage of leaf curl is that the fruit is more exposed to the sun and is more prone to sun scald.

Farm reporter is presented NAYI award

Mary Pat Finn, farm youth editor of The Norfolk Daily News, was presented the Nebraska Department of Agriculture Award of Merit at the Nebraska Agricultural Youth Institute governor's banquet last Thursday.

Finn is a 1970 graduate of Laurel Concord High School and a 1972 graduate of Wayne State College with a bachelor of arts in education degree. She has a double major in broadcasting and journalism. Since March of 1973, she has worked with The Daily News.

The award was presented for outstanding support of agricultural and youth programs in northeast Nebraska by Robert Raun, director of the Nebraska Department of Agriculture.

MARY PAT, the daughter of Patrick C. and Marilyn Finn of rural Carroll was a 4-Her in Wayne County for 10 years. She is a charter member and officer of the Norfolk Future Farmers of America affiliate. She also is a Madison County 4-H leader.

Finn is the first woman to win the NAYI award of merit. Past recipients include UNTL professors, a former state senator, an extension agent, extension specialists and vocational agriculture instructors.

Nomination forms are sent annually to vocational agricultural instructors and county extension agents. The winner is selected by the Nebraska Agricultural Youth Council. Finn was nominated by Oscar Thomas of Center, recently retired Knox County extension agent.

The NAYI is a five day program for high school juniors and seniors that allows them to be exposed to many national and local leaders in agriculture. This year, 46 of the 180 delegates were from northeast Nebraska.

Last week was HOT. The only positive thing you could say about it was that it was typical for July, and that makes July the first typical month we've had this year!

On Thursday night, at Ramsey Theatre at WSC, was the 4-H song contest and style revue. This is an annual free show that features 4-H club members in song, dance, and modeling creations they have sewn. There are lovely clothes and enthusiastic music.

After the show, someone said to me, "How do you get everything done?" And I gave my standard answer, "I live in a dirty house." I have a sign at my kitchen door that expresses my philosophy: "My house is clean enough to be healthy and dirty enough to be happy." I learned long ago that we develop an immunity to our own germs anyway.

Also, I decided that people were more important than houses. Houses wait — people may not.

I READ the articles about how to clean a room a day and always have the place looking good. What happens on the days when you were only home long enough to clear off the kitchen table?

Then there are the other articles that tell you how to organize your cleaning and get it done in one morning. I guarantee that will be the morning that the cattle get out, or the Big Farmer will stick his head in the door and say, "What's for dinner? Got enough for the hay grinder?"

I could write a few articles myself about how to make it look good. For instance, I used to end my cleaning at the back porch. Now, I begin there — that's where people come in. If someone knocks at my front door, I know it's a stranger — no one else uses it.

I go from the porch to the kitchen. Here you must have a dishwasher — the dirty dishes can be hidden there instead of in the oven. One woman told me she put hers under the bed one night when company surprised her, and the cat kept making forays there and came out licking his whiskers.

WHEN WE REMODELED the kitchen, the carpenter said, "Now, I don't ever want to see those counters full!" I hope he doesn't walk in today. Every piece of mail to be saved is stacked there. When I need a crucial item I just search the stack.

I am also a newspaper clipper, and they haven't been clipped for a month. They are piled in the old wood butter churn in the corner. The dining room table has the sewing machine and three different projects on it because Sue sewed last week, too.

I wasn't raised in a dirty house, believe me. And my biggest fear is that I will die in a car crash, rushing to an activity, and my mother will have to clean my basement. She will just have a fit!

I also believe in child labor. Ann has been my duster for some time. The youngest seems to inherit that job. I noticed last night that the door panels and mop boards got skipped again.

Each kid is responsible for his or her own room. This explains the "Danger—Enter at Your Own Risk" sign on Jon's door. On his roommate card for college, he was to check a category for his living style. The choices were: Particular, somewhat particular, and casual. There wasn't any for "slob."

GRADUALLY, THOUGH, our living style is becoming stylish. Instead of a family room and formal living and dining rooms, new homes have "great rooms" where everything happens. That's my living room. Sue brought home an article that said, "If you're not supposed to live there, why call it a living room?"

So, if you're coming to visit, give me a call, so I can get the clothes that need folding off the kitchen table and plug in the coffee pot. We'll visit beneath my little plaque that says, "Bless This Mess." And you must promise not to notice the cobwebs.

Program directed at hog market

Dick Sorensen of Wayne, state director of the Wayne County Pork Producers Association, attended a special meeting of the Nebraska Pork Producers Association on July 27, in Grand Island.

The Nebraska Pork Producers Association has adopted an aggressive program to lift the hog market out of its current unprofitable state.

The "Pork 4 Program" is designed to address critical factors which are having an impact on the current hog market. Those factors include the current supply and demand imbalance.

TO MOVE more pork tonnage, producer teams from the Association will be calling on packers and retailers throughout the state, asking them to aggressively feature pork this summer and fall.

Pork Producers and Porkettes also plan to install pork point-of-purchase material in local retail stores, and encourage an increase in meat case space for pork promotion materials. In addition, they plan to get involved in special in-store promotions in September, October and November.

Hog numbers are projected to increase dramatically the last six months of 1983. Producers are encouraged to cull breeding herds in an orderly manner by 10%, and to reduce the weight of market hogs by 10%, to level off the hog pork supply.

Members of the Pork Producers Association across the state will receive copies of the brochure entitled, "Can I Afford $35 Hogs This Fall?" which outlines producer responsibilities in getting the hog market up.

Area producers claim wins

Producers from O'Neill, Pender, Wakefield and Carroll claimed wins at the Northeast Nebraska Sheep Producers Association's fourth annual carcass contest held in Wayne.

The contest is held to help producers identify the strengths and weaknesses in the carcass merit of their breeding programs. The top carcass was owned by Brian Uhrig, O'Neill. Ranking second through fifth were Bill Reppert, Pender; Barb Halm, Wakefield; Franklin Uhrig, O'Neill; and the Roy Gramlich family of Carroll.

The top four live placings went to entries from Elaine Uhrig, O'Neill; Gramlich family; Shawn Sawyer, Madison; and David Stelling, Wakefield.

The contest attracted 15 entries. An evaluation contest was held during the Sunday show with producers estimating the carcass merits of four lambs on the hoof. The best evaluator was Chris Carlson, Stanton County extension agent in agriculture, who also served as show judge. As judge, he was ineligible for the trophy. Ranking second and earning the trophy was Bill Reppert of Pender. The other top evaluators were Charles Reppert, Pender; Cynthia Walde, Winslow; Steve Gramlich, Carroll; and Robin Sawyer, Madison.

The carcass evaluation data was collected and scored by Dr. Ted Doane, extension sheep specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, who announced the results during the group's regular meeting Tuesday night at Wayne. Carlson was assisted in the judging duties by Jim Murphy, Wisner.

Homeowners Insurance is homeowners insurance, right? Wrong.

Auto-Owners homeowners insurance is different. Not only in the way we handle claims (Auto-Owners built its reputation on fast, fair claims service). Not only in the personal attention we give (another Auto-Owners trademark). Or in the way we could save you money (our low rates are famous). But, in our whole outlook on homeowners insurance, with innovative, imaginative policies that make sure you get just what you need, for just what you want to pay.

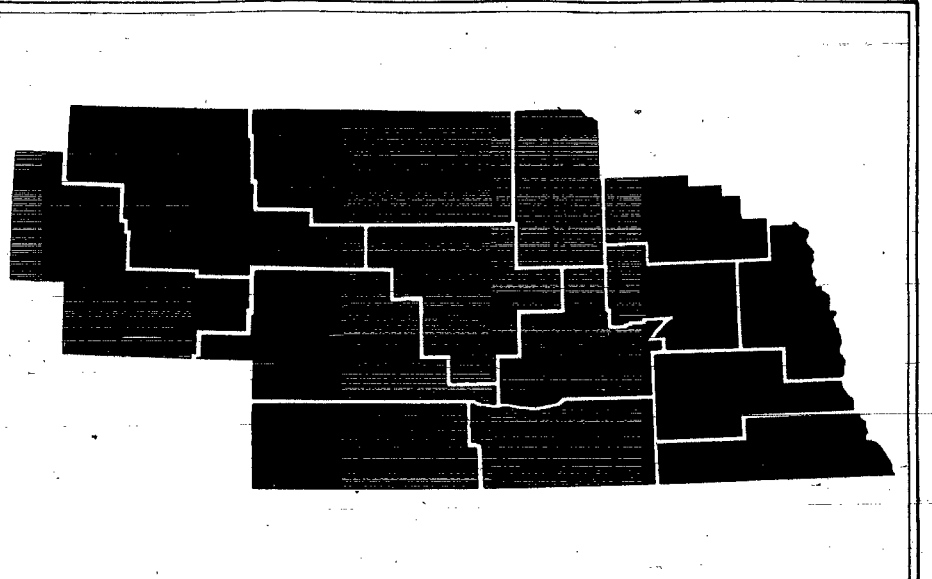

So, if you're thinking you'd be wrong if you didn't call Auto-Owners... you're right.

"Last year Nebraska's independent PCAs paid over $2,100,000 in taxes."

"Ask the person who really knows. Ask a PCA member!"

It's because the 14 independent PCAs in Nebraska are taxpayers like other private enterprises.

Some people incorrectly believe that PCAs are government organizations or agencies. Far from it. PCAs are simply financial services cooperatives. Our Association is wholly-owned and financially supported by local producers. We lend both our own reserves and money raised through the sale of non-government bonds in the nation's money markets. Wall Street. If loans aren't repaid, or we have a loss, local members and up-losing-the-bill.

So, we operate our Association on a sound and business-like basis. Our directors, who are PCA members and borrowers, are elected by local members to set policy for the Association and hire professional management. This gives us the kind of direction which enables PCA to serve our own producers better and more completely through a professionally run organization.

PCAs are not alike. Although all of the 423 PCAs in the United States are operated under the same rules and regulations, like many businesses and industries today, each is independent and has its own management style based on the needs of the local producers.

Our PCA is unique. Yes, we did pay taxes. Nebraska's PCAs also returned $204,046 to Nebraska PCA members in 1982 in addition to providing professional quality financial services.

For many producers in Nebraska, PCA is smart business. That's why we say... PCA is for people who make a business out of agriculture.

Find out for yourself.
