THE WAYNE HERALD

Sentences given out in court

Sentences were handed down to two area men in district court Wednesday at the Wayne County Courthouse. The two cases were unrelated.

Michael Munson of Wakefield was sentenced to serve not less than 12 months nor more than 18 months at the Nebraska Department of Correctional Services. He also was ordered to pay the cost of prosecution.

Munson, 19, was charged with burglary in late December of 1982. He pleaded guilty to a felony charge of theft in the third degree in August.

The charge stemmed from burglary at Wakefield Community School which resulted in the theft of video equipment and cash. Last week, Duane Veik of Humphrey was sentenced to a one year term for his part in the burglary.

IN AN UNRELATED case, Loren Erlandson of Wayne was sentenced to serve two one year terms in the Wayne County prison.

Erlandson was charged with procuring alcoholic liquor for a minor - a violation of his probation.

He was sentenced on his original charge of two counts of theft by unlawful taking, for which he originally had been placed on probation.

Under the sentence handed down by the judge, Erlandson's two prison terms can be served concurrently (at the same time). He also has been given credit for serving 90 days in the State Penal Complex and 85 days in the Wayne County Jail - cutting his actual jail term to just more than six months.

Two injured in accident

A two vehicle accident which occurred near Emerson early Thursday morning resulted in two injuries.

The Nebraska State Patrol responded to the accident which was reported 2 miles north and slightly less than 1 1/2 miles west of Emerson at approximately 12:45 a.m. Thursday.

Driver of one vehicle, Kelly Snodgrass, 24, of Wayne was listed in stable condition at the Pender Community Hospital Friday evening.

Barbara Nelson, 21, of Sioux City, driver of the other vehicle, was listed in critical condition at Sioux City's Marian Health Center Friday evening.

According to the State Patrol's report, one vehicle was westbound and the other east bound when they hit near head on.

New warning signals are installed

By the end of this week the city of Wayne should have what is expected to be one of the best warning signal systems in the state. Sirens are being installed at six locations within the city limits and city officials said the system should be a handy one.

"This may be one of the best covered areas I've seen," said Dave Fesler, regional manager for Whelen Manufacturing Company of Deep River, Conn. Whelen, one of the nation's largest manufacturers of sirens, submitted low bid on the city project several months ago.

FESLER STRESSED that the system is designed to be heard outdoors. "There is a good chance you can hear it in your home but there is no guarantee," he added. "In bed at night you should be able to hear it."

A popular feature of Wayne's warning system is a public address unit. According to Fesler, warnings or recorded messages can be broadcast over the loudspeakers and voices can be understood from nearly 2,000 feet away.

The regional manager suggested that the community could use that feature in any emergency purpose such as a tornado warning or chemical spill.

WAYNE'S WARNING system can be operated from the radio dispatch center, a siren site or from mobile units.

A tape machine located at the Wayne Police Station is incorporated into the system so tape recorded messages can be played across town. The system also includes a battery backup so sirens will work even when electricity is out.

The system was originally built for small towns. Because of the public address system and battery backup power, a lot of these systems have been set up near nuclear power plants sites," Fesler said.

The all-electronic sirens are made of aluminum, stainless steel and fiberglass and are easy to maintain, Fesler said.

INSTALLATION of the sirens is not yet completed but sirens will be located at these six carefully selected locations: Ashley Park at 3rd Street and Oak Drive; 14th Street and Providence Road near the hospital; 4th and South Drive in the east part of Wayne; 9th and Main Streets, near the west water tower, north of Greenwood Cemetery; and in the alley behind the Wayne Fire Hall.

Fesler said the sirens are placed higher in residential areas so sound pressure near the sirens is reduced.

FIVE DISTINCT signals can be given over the system. They include an alert signal, which will consist of a steady tone for three minutes; an attack signal, which will consist of a fast wavy tone or short blasts for three minutes; a fire signal, which will be a slow wavy tone; an air horn signal; and a high low signal. The last two signals can be used for specific purposes.

Scandinavian friends pay a visit to Wayne and WSC

For years, the Erik Riska family has hosted numerous Wayne State College students at its home in Helsinki, Finland.

This past week, that role was reversed as Wayne State College and the family of WSC President Ed Elliott played host to Erik's wife Ritva and their daughter Susanna.

The main purpose of the trip to Wayne was for Susanna to visit the Wayne State campus. In the last several months, Ed has talked to her about the possibility of attending WSC a semester, a year or even to get a degree.

THE RISKAS arrived in Wayne last Sunday and had a full schedule all week until leaving Saturday.

After spending most of the day Monday recovering from jet lag, Susanna and her mother walked around campus, met faculty members, toured a dormitory room and shopped.

Ed and Sandy Elliott had plenty of activities planned throughout the week, including a faculty picnic and a trip to an area farm.

Grant, the youngest member of the Elliott family, even made plans. On Friday, he took Susanna and Ritva to kindergarten class as his contribution to "show and tell."

AT AGE 19, Susanna recently graduated from high school in Helsinki and is hoping to study music and languages in college. She can speak Finnish, Swedish, German, English and some French.

Once back in Finland, Susanna said she plans to "mull things over" before making a decision on her college plans.

"It's been a nice visit and we've met many nice people," said Susanna.

"The people here are so friendly; they're like friends all. And this home (Elliott's) is a special one," Ritva said.

The Riskas said they came to Wayne prepared for cooler weather. The days have been extremely warm, they said.

WAYNE STATE'S first acquaintance with Erik Riska and his family was established through Val Peterson when he was an ambassador to Finland.

Peterson broke his leg once while jumping from a boat to shore. Riska, an orthopedic surgeon, set his leg and the doctor became friends.

In 1974, Erik and his oldest daughter,

Kristina, came to Wayne and stayed with the Petersons. Ed first met Erik during his visit to Wayne.

At that time Elliott and Riska first discussed the possibility of adding a visit to Finland to Wayne State's Scandinavia trip program.

The next year, Elliott, Norman Nordstrand and Val Peterson represented the college on a trip to Finland.

They met the entire Riska family of that time and made arrangements for Wayne State students to stay in Finland during trips through the Scandinavia program.

The Riskas have hosted many WSC students over the years.

BEFORE PREPARING for the 24 hour flight back to Helsinki, Susanna talked about her visit to Wayne.

"I was impressed with Wayne State. There aren't such colleges in Finland," she said.

Before leaving Wayne, the Riskas purchased four large jars of peanut butter, an item that is rare in Finland.

"We're trying to Americanize them. Sandy kidded."

Livestock feeders meeting set

The Cedar County Livestock Feeders Association will hold its fall outlook meeting tonight (Monday) in the Coleridge Community Building, beginning with social hour at 6:30 and dinner following.

The program will include a special outlook panel to discuss the future of the livestock industry. Members of the panel will be Don Shaid, a Stewart area rancher; Tom Gustafson, a Wakefield area feeder and president of the Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association; Jim Verschoor, representing Allied Order Buyers of Sioux City; and Don Keetering, area vice-president of the Yankton Production Credit Association.

Association members, their spouses, and other interested persons are invited to attend.

Scholarship money available

Students in need of financial aid for next fall should begin now to apply for the thousands of scholarships being offered by private foundations, trade and civic groups and other sources.

There are more than 25,000 different scholarships available, according to the director of The Scholarship Bank. Scholarships are available from tax exempt foundations that are required by law to make a certain amount of financial aid available each year in order to maintain their tax-exempt status.

The Scholarship Bank matches students with available aid and sends the student a print-out of the private financial aid sources that appear to be most promising for that student. Each student may receive up to 50 sources of aid. Most scholarships have a value of approximately $1,000 and many are renewable annually.

Students wishing to receive a print-out should send a stamped, business-size self-addressed envelope to: The Scholarship Bank, 10100 Santa Monica Blvd., No. 2600, Dept. A, Los Angeles, Calif. 90067.

Arts council meeting planned

The annual meeting of the Wayne Regional Arts Council will be held Monday, Sept. 19 at 8 p.m. at the Black Knight in Wayne. Membership will elect a board of directors.

Register farm trucks by weight

LB 72 became a new law on Aug. 26. This bill requires that farm-plated trucks be registered according to gross vehicle weight.

Holly Jensen, director of the Department of Motor Vehicles, said, "Anyone operating a vehicle which is registered for over 24,000 pounds gross vehicle weight must have a Class C driver's license to operate a straight truck and Class CC driver's license to operate a tractor-trailer combination unit."

According to Mrs. Jensen, "To obtain a Class C and Class CC driver's license, it will be necessary to pass a special written test and also demonstrate to the driver's license examiner the ability to safely operate the vehicle. In addition to this to obtain a Class CC driver's license the person must be 18 years of age and have a physical application form completed satisfactorily by a physician."

These C and CC classifications may be added to the present operator license at no fee.

Public hearings are scheduled

The State Legislature's Judiciary Committee, chaired by Senator Chris Beutler, will hold public hearings in Norfolk and South Sioux City on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 16 and 17.

The Judiciary Committee will hold the Norfolk hearing at 7 p.m. on Friday at the Norfolk Art Center located at 803 Norfolk Avenue. The legislative resolutions to be considered are LR 86, introduced by the Judiciary Committee, which examines the feasibility of creating a Youth Service Commission to replace all other separate organizations dealing with youth services; and LR 108, introduced by Senator James Goll, concerning cult activity in the State of Nebraska.

Senators Merle Von Minden, Elroy Hefner and Chris Beutler introduced LR 58 which will be heard in South Sioux City on Saturday at 10 a.m. on the main floor of the Equitable Federal Savings and Loan Association at 2101 Dakota Avenue. LR 58 is a study of judicial qualifications and disciplinary methods. The public is invited to participate.

Property tax hearing planned

The Legislature's Revenue Committee will be holding a public hearing on the subject of property tax relief in Norfolk on Wednesday (Sept. 14) in the Commercial Federal Community Room, 602 Norfolk Avenue, beginning at 10 a.m.

According to Committee Chairman Senator Cal Carsten, the purpose of the public meeting is to listen to the opinions of average citizens on the present level of property taxes and what can be done to reduce property taxes.

"Too often meetings of this type are well attended by lobbyists and special interest groups, but not by average citizens. We would like to have more input from average citizens, because those are the people who pay the taxes," Carsten said.

He emphasized that the public hearing will be informal and that average persons who do not represent special interest groups will be given preference to say what they think about property taxes, which are generally high in Nebraska.

German culture class offered

"Tricentennial," a four-week noncredit course celebrating 300 years of German culture in America, begins Thursday (Sept. 15) at Northeast Technical Community College.

Instructor of the course, which will meet from 7-9:30 p.m. in Macley 131, is Edith Zahniser, who was born in Königsberg, East Prussia (now part of the Soviet Union) and grew up in West Germany. Mrs. Zahniser teaches German language at Wayne-Carroll High School and has also taught at NTCC and Wayne State College.

Using slides and materials of her own and from the Goethe Institute in Chicago, Mrs. Zahniser will include a general overview of German immigration patterns, views of America by early German artists, famous German-Americans, Pennsylvania Dutch culture and art, a session on German immigration to Nebraska, and the contributions of Germans to American life and history.

To register for the course, call the NTCC Community Services Office at 371-2020, ext. 213.

eddie's brother

by randy hascall

One of my favorite hobbies is wood working but I'm not sure why. It requires three things I don't have—proper tools, skill and patience. In the past few years I have built shelves, a chair, a dresser, a couch out of 4x4's and a China cabinet. Just remember, I didn't say I did a good job of building them. In fact we store them in the bedroom closet of the Hascall house.

I'd be the first person to be called if someone planned to start a "How not-to-do-it-yourself" television show.

When I was in high school, my freshman shop teacher told my mom at a parent-teacher conference that he was going to turn our class loose in the shop to let us hit our thumbs with hammers a few times.

It worked for me. I wore band-aids on my left thumb for several weeks—I was a natural born woodworker. I was a natural born woodworker flunkie.

After spending the three freshman years of my high school career trying to pass Shop I, I gave up and turned my interest toward home economics. I wasn't much good at that either.

After graduating (somehow I managed to make it) I decided to try wood working on my own. I enjoy beating four penny nails on the head with a 16 ounce hammer to take out my frustrations.

My latest project is a set of shelves for our basement. I ran across what appeared to be a simple plan in a handy-man booklet and liked it.

All ready to build a nice looking set of shelves, I purchased eight eight-foot two-by-twelves which were included in the plans.

To make matters more complicated, the eight boards were weathered and cracked on the ends, cutting my usable wood to seven feet instead of eight.

Had my dad not given me his old table saw several years ago, I probably would have had a big wienie roast and used the wood for burning material.

Cutting the wood to the proper lengths wasn't too difficult on the table saw. But the plan called for the factory rounded edges to be planed. That took a little more effort.

My project became more difficult because my garage is my personal shop. When it's 90 degrees outside, my garage is 120.

Hoping to attract a little breeze over the Labor Day weekend, I opened my garage door. All that did was let the flies in.

Every time I was halfway done cutting a board, a fly would land on my nose or my neck or my arm. Naturally, I swatted at the flies, cutting chunks out of my wood at the same time.

With sawdust flying up under my glasses, sticking to the sweat on my chest and falling down my shoes, I was almost ready to hang it up.

Finally I finished sawing and was ready to begin my least-favorite project—sanding.

I have an electric, vibrating sander but, like I said, I don't have any patience. Sanding 32 pieces of cut lumber doesn't appeal to my creativity.

The bad thing with a vibrating sander is that it sometimes takes longer to load a piece of sandpaper than it does to smooth a board.

The person who invented the design of my sander should have been sent to Siberia. It takes either three hands or two hands and a steady chin to load a strip of sandpaper properly.

Unfortunately, sanding is one of those necessary evils.

Taking a break from sanding, I decided to put one set of shelves together just for the heck of it.

That required drilling three holes three inches deep and putting in three, three-inch dowells on each set of shelves.

After the single set of shelves was put together, I had to use a rasp to round the edges. That was another handy Christmas gift but by the time I was partially finished rasping, the sweat was dripping off my glasses.

I'm one of those guys who always wants everything done yesterday. What I had hoped would be a simple weekend project is turning into a long drawn-out job.

Someday maybe I'll learn my lesson. Until then, our two cars will have to be parked in our driveway. Right now, my shop comes first.

Concern for farmers

Early September's meeting in Chicago called by Agriculture Secretary John Block to assess the plight of drought-stricken farmers throughout the Midwest and Southeast was an admirable attempt by the Administration to get input from local elected officials.

Dialogue between people who represent specific areas and regions of the nation and key officials of the federal government's agencies is a critical aspect of making Uncle Sam attentive to citizen needs rather than succumbing to the age-old "Big Brother" approach.

Because I thought the Chicago meeting would be too large with representatives of 28 states invited for me to effectively impress upon Agriculture Department officials how serious conditions are in southeast Nebraska, I called them in to my Washington office this past week.

By taking advantage of the short distance up Independence Avenue between our offices, I was able to meet with the persons who will be advising Secretary Block and developing a program to overcome this nation's severe drought conditions.

THE LENGTHY AUGUST recess on Capitol Hill afforded me an opportunity to see firsthand the extent of damage to crops throughout eastern Nebraska: Four southeastern counties — Richardson, Nemaha, Pawnee, and Johnson — clearly fall within the USDA definition for a disaster designated county and portions of three other adjacent counties also need that assistance. The primary requirement for designation as a disaster county is that 30 percent of all crops in the county be lost.

It is essential that we make every effort to provide assistance to those producers who are now faced with the loss of most or all of their 1983 crops. These losses are coming on the heels of several years of low yields in our area and consistently depressed commodity prices. Many producers will be unable to continue operations beyond this year if substantial assistance is not forthcoming in the next few weeks.

It is clear that many farmers have had to cut their corn for silage and in other areas yield will be as low as six bushels per acre of dryland corn. Weather experts have determined that the current drought is the worst in 30 years in some areas of the Midwest.

In 30 years in some areas of the Midwest, I requested that USDA take immediate action on any requests from the state for disaster declaration for counties which have been affected. I specifically requested a waiver of the 30 percent loss requirement in counties adjacent to counties that do meet the disaster requirement. I also asked that the 30 percent figure be applied to major crops instead of all cash crops.

IT WAS MY recommendation that disaster assistance include the following: 1) Direct disaster payments and special emergency disaster payments to affected farmers.

2) Immediate implementation of the emergency feed program, the livestock producer in obtaining feed for livestock.

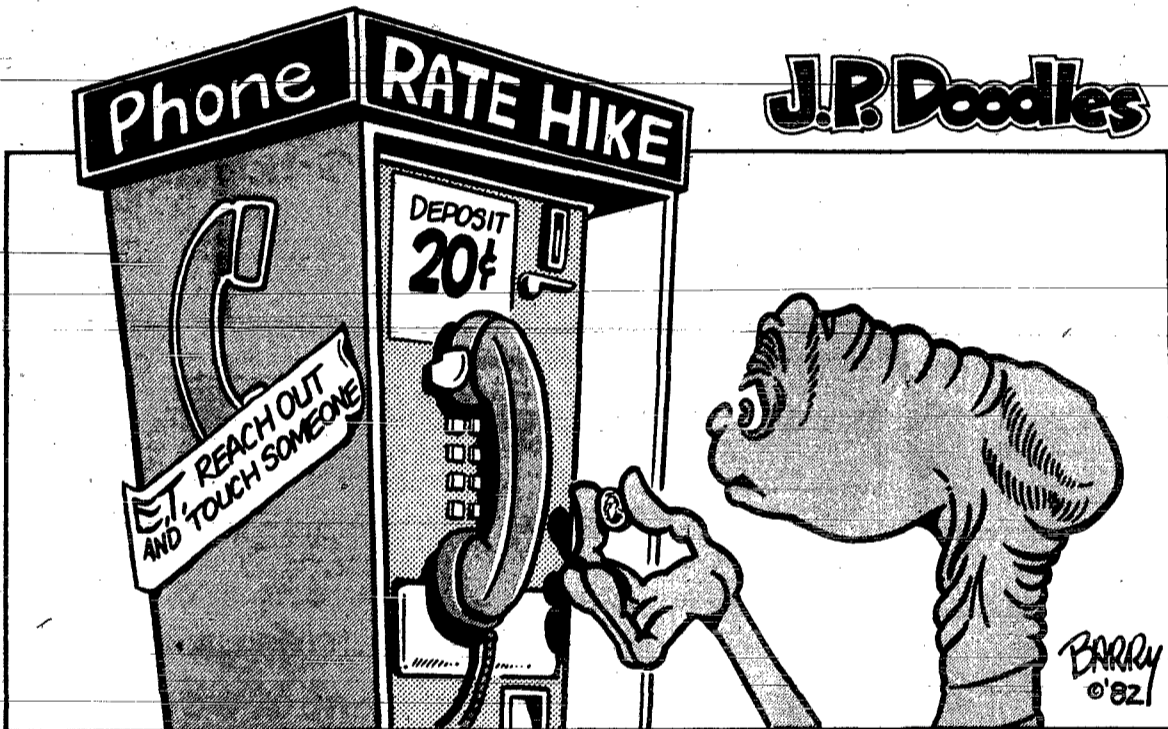

3) One-year extension of Farmers Home Administration operating loans upon payment of only the interest due, with deferral of any payment on the outstanding principal.

4) Rescheduling of Farmers Home Administration long-term or ownership loans, putting interest and principal at the end of the loan. For example, payments due in 1983 on a loan that comes due in 1990 would be put at the end of that loan and be made in 1991.

THESE RECOMMENDATIONS need immediate action because of the extremely tight cash-flow problems which producers will be facing in the next few months.

Attending the meeting in my office were the head of Disaster Operations and Livestock Programs for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, the chairman of the World Agricultural Outlook Board, the head of the Farmers Home Emergency Loan Division, and other USDA personnel.

I believe that Department officials now recognize the extremely serious situation facing Nebraska's farmers, and I am optimistic that substantial assistance will be forthcoming in the next few days and weeks. It cannot come too soon.

A critique of the Japanese industrial policy

By Richard Leshner
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

The decade of the 70s was not kind to the American economy. Inflation, recessions, a decline in the standard of living. It is not surprising that economists began to take a long and hard look at the Japanese economy whose productivity was growing almost three times as rapidly as our own.

What were they doing right? What were we doing wrong? American liberals rejected the idea that the American economy was being taxed and regulated to death. They believe they have found the answer in Japan's "industrial policy"—a policy, in theory, where government experts direct the economy through allocating resources into high-growth industries.

This explanation for Japan's growth has become popular in many circles, and today, there are more than 30 bills before Congress which would establish an "industrial policy" for the United States.

A RECENT STUDY by the Heritage Foundation, however, had raised serious questions about Japan's so-called industrial policies.

"First, the study questions whether this idealized view of Japan's industrial policy, that of independent, non-politicized experts sitting around a table making sound judgments about the future—is an accurate portrayal of what is happening in Japan. Second, the study asks whether this industrial policy, or series of policies, is truly the cause of Japan's post-war growth.

The Heritage study exposes the idea that Japan is successfully targeting growth industries as a myth.

Agriculture is a case in point. The Japanese taxpayers have been subsidizing farming to the tune of $10 billion in 1979 alone, and Japanese consumers have been paying higher food costs due to stringent Jarrills and quotas that keep out lower cost American food products.

Why? Because Japanese farming is an efficient, growing industry? No. Japanese farmers are one third as efficient as American farmers. The subsidies continue to flow because farmers are a strong political lobby in the Japanese Parliament.

Despite the image American liberals have tried to create, industrial policy in Japan is powered by political rather than economic motives. It would be so in the United States or any other nation.

If industrial policy has simply led to a political misallocation of capital, what then is the key to Japan's continued growth?

I WOULD ARGUE that Japan's policy of low marginal tax rates is the cause of its prosperity and should serve as our model for economic growth at home. Industrial policies are not a unique attribute of the Japanese economy. Low tax rates are.

Japan has the lowest ratio of taxes to the national income of any industrialized nation. In 1981, national and local taxes consumed only 29 percent of the Japanese economy. This contrasts with 34 percent in the United States, 46 percent in France and 45 percent in West Germany.

In addition, Japan exempts virtually all capital gains income from stock market transactions and the first $12,000 of interest income in certain savings institutions.

Low taxes on capital formation create the resources needed to finance industrial growth and new jobs for all industries—not just those with political clout. Japan's low tax rates on individuals and business "target" the entire Japanese economy for growth. And it is working.

By all means let us learn from the success of the vibrant Japanese economy. But let us learn the correct lessons.

This week the Wayne Herald asked residents of Wakefield and Allen how they feel the United States government should have responded to the Russian downing of the Korean jetliner.

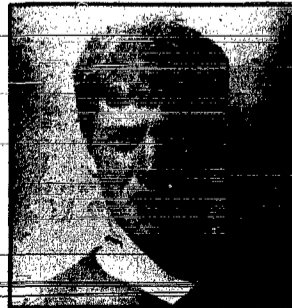

"I think that it was handled about as well as it could have been. I, too, would like to see the Russians more severely punished, but with the political and diplomatic situation between the U.S. and Russia, I don't see how much more we could have done." —B. C. Thompson, Wakefield

"It's hard to say what we should do, because we're talking about the top two military powers in the world. It's like hitting a bear with a switch. I think about the only thing we can do is to unite with the other powers of the world and enforce some type of air travel sanction against Russia. I don't think any type of trade embargo would do any good. No matter what action we take I don't think they'll feel guilt for the crime. Honestly, I don't think we can do anything." —Gary Troth, Allen

"It's difficult to say what we should do. We should do something, but what? Maybe that's why it's taken the U.S. government so long to decide what they are going to do." —Sandy Chase, Allen

"I think Russia should have been a little more careful. After all, it was an unarmed passenger plane. I also think the pilot should have been more careful. If it put the U.S. in a really hard spot, I don't think anybody will ever know if it was intentional. A show of military force would be foolish, and economic sanctions would not work. It's tragic, but I don't know what else the government could do. Perhaps a warning to Russia that the next time it happens, action will be taken." —David Heckathorn, Allen

"I just wonder what we don't know about it. And, if we know the whole story, then I think we should have been firmer than to just tell Russia not to do it again. I wouldn't want to be in Reagan's shoes if we do know the entire story. Other than blowing them off the map, what other punishment would be fit? What are those people's lives worth?" —Jayne Rasmussen, Wakefield

Recalls should be heeded

It seems that we hear of another product that's been recalled every day. Eventually, we become conditioned to these frequent recalls and ignore the warnings from the Consumer Product Safety Commission. Recently, several deaths and injuries have resulted from products that were involved in safety recalls.

Despite heavy publicity on these recalls, the products were not modified and the tragedies occurred.

BASSETT FURNITURE Industries, Inc. began a recall for two crib styles in 1977. To date, the recall has cost an estimated $1 million.

The company sent direct mailings to new parents, posted warnings in doctors' waiting rooms, paid for magazine advertising, and even offered a finder's fee for locating unmodified cribs.

Despite this extensive campaign, an infant died this year when he became trapped in the crib headboard. Approximately 3,000 cribs have not been modified yet.

THE CONSUMER Products Safety Commission urges all consumers to respond to product recalls and warnings. When a warning or recall is announced it means the product is a potentially serious hazard to you and your family. These warnings should not be ignored.

Other incidents involving toys have been reported. An extensive recall campaign for an indoor-gym-house did not prevent one child from being entrapped. Luckily, the child was not seriously injured.

The accident occurred just two months after the company had voluntarily implemented corrective measures.

THE COMMISSION is concerned that children's products which are under recall may not be immediately corrected or returned to the manufacturer.

Cribs and other durable products may not be in use at the time the recall is issued. Consumers should take action when they first hear or read about a possible hazard.

A durable baby item may be passed on to other family members or sold to others. Help assure the new users that the product they are using is safe. Make any recommended modifications right away.

New parents shopping for baby goods at garage sales or second hand shops would be wise to check for any possible recalls on the product.

The Commission operates a toll free hot line where consumers may get about product recalls or warnings. The hot line also may be used to report unsafe products.

BE DOUBLY SURE and call 1-800-638-2772, or write to the U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, D. C. 20207 to ask about unsafe products.

Blue Devils off to best start since '75

2 and 0. That might not be the most impressive record in the world, but for the Wayne High School football team, it represents the school's best gridiron start since 1975. The Blue Devils roughed-up Schuyler 25-7 Friday night and equalled the 2-0 start of the 1975 Wayne High team that ended the season with an 8-1 record. The 1974 Blue Devils were the last team before that to win its first game. That squad went on to post a perfect 10-0 record.

WAYNE FELL behind in the second quarter of Friday's contest. After a scoreless first period the teams continued to trade punts. A Wayne fumble on first down gave Schuyler excellent field position at mid field. From there, the Warriors unleashed a 49-yard pass play to put the score at 6-0. Wayne head coach Lonnie Ehrhardt said the Blue Devils had the play defended "pretty well."

"We had a defender there and Jim Poehlman almost deflected the ball," Ehrhardt said. "It was a good pass and the receiver just ran under it."

The PAT was good and Schuyler took a 7-0 lead -- but not for long.

After the Blue Devils recovered a Warrior fumble on Schuyler's 31 yard line, it took only five plays before Kevin Koenig scored on a two-yard run.

The PAT missed and Schuyler held a 7-6 halftime advantage.

Wayne kicked off to start the second half but Schuyler's players made the mistake of forgetting to field the ball and Wayne's Jon McCright recovered on the 27 yard line.

Brad Moore scored for the Blue Devils five plays later, the PAT run was short and Wayne took a 12-7 lead it would never relinquish.

Schuyler later failed on a fourth and 19 bid, and Wayne took over on downs on its own 28 yard-line.

TEN PLAYS elapsed before Steve Overin crashed over to pad Wayne's lead. Another Overin score later allowed Wayne to coast to the win.

The Blue Devils were led by Koenig (20 carries for 83 yards) and Steve Overin (16 for 53 yards).

Moore added 29 yards on seven carries, while Kevin Maly accounted for 23 on six totes.

Andy Hillier had 27 yards on two carries. Koenig also led of defense, with 12 tackles (six solo). Tim Book and Chris Wieseler had eight each (four solos each).

Ehrhardt said that Schuyler was a large team, but that Wayne simply outplayed them in the second half.

"OUR RUNNING game was going pretty well but we were concerned at halftime because we had been fumbling so much," he said. "That was just due to some good, hard hitting though."

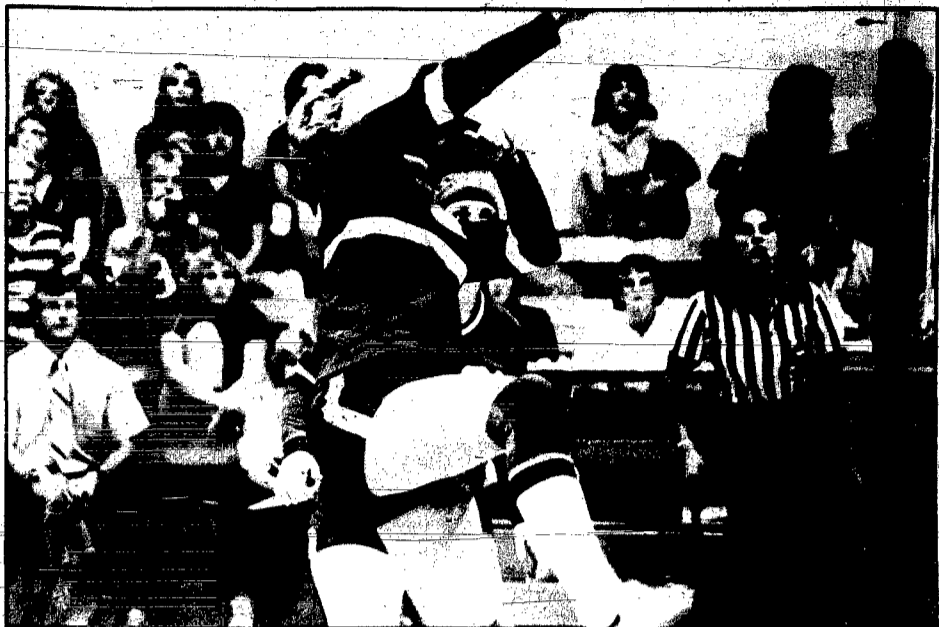

He added that penalties seemed to hurt Schuyler at crucial points.

"It didn't appear that they were a very well disciplined ball club," Ehrhardt said. Ehrhardt emphasized that the Blue Devils have not abandoned the passing game, despite only attempting six passes.

"We threw the ball," he said. "Our pass blocking was much better tonight."

Wayne is on the road this Friday against Tekamah.

The Wakefield Trojans continued on their early season roll last Thursday as they put their record to 3-0 by downing Osmond in three sets 12-15 15-9 15-11.

Leading the Trojans in serving were Brenda Jones (14 of 15), Julie Oswald (13 of 13), Lana Erb (19 of 19), Shelley Krusemark (10 of 11), Karla Stelling (9 of 9), Michele Meyer (10 of 11) and Kelly Greve (1 for 2).

Wakefield hit 64 out of 82 spikes it attempted. Leading the team was Krusemark with 27 of 30 spikes and 10 aces. Erb did all the teams' setting and hit 75 out of 80.

Wakefield will play in the Winside Tournament beginning today (Monday) and concluding tomorrow.

"If we play like we're capable, we should do all right," said coach Mary Schroeder.

In the B team game, Wakefield beat Lyons 15-3 15-10 Leigh Johnson and Bobbi Peterson each served nine points.

In the C team competition, Wakefield won by scores of 15-3 15-10 Mary Greve and Tammy Nicholson each tallied 11 points.

The Winside Wildcats suffered their second loss of the season last week, losing to Osmond 15-10 15-5.

"Our spiking just wasn't very good," said Winside coach Julie Hirsch. "Missy Jensen was out of the lineup and we missed her a lot."

Tammi Brudigan and Trish Topp each had ace serves in the game's few highlights, according to Hirsch.

"We fell down on our serve reception and were on defense all the time," she said.

"We'll just have to try to regroup this week and get headed in the right direction," Hirsch said.

In the B team game, Osmond defeated Winside 15-4 15-1. Julie Bruggeman had four ace serves while Kerri Leighton, Becky Janssen and Teresa Brudigan all had one.

The C team game saw Osmond win 11-5 11-6. Tracy Topp had five points and Cheri Legate had six.

Mundil, Jorgensen lead defense

Winside stomps Walthill

Winside got a taste of victory Friday night by stomping Walthill 22-8.

The Wildcats utilized an almost 2:1 balance of runs to passes while racking up 298 total yards of offense and holding Walthill to just 153 total yards.

Winside scored touchdowns in the first, second and third quarters, a two-point conversion and a pair of PAT kicks.

"We played poorly at times but had enough character to hang on," said Winside coach Mark Freburg.

Penalties cost the Wildcats all night. A 25 yard touchdown run by quarterback Dan Mundil was called back as was a 50-yard screen pass to John Hawkins.

Despite that setback, Hawkins still led Winside in rushing with 78 yards on 20 carries.

Fullback Chris Jorgensen had 12 yards on five carries while Doug Mundil had 73 yards on 21 carries.

Junior Mike Jaeger tallied 14 yards on just three carries.

The Wildcat receiving corps was led by junior Kevin Falk, who had one reception for 55 yards.

Hawkins snagged two ariels for 29 yards while Scott Janke latched onto a pair for 19 yards.

Jorgensen had two receptions for four yards.

Scoring was led by Hawkins (2 TD's), Mundil (1 TD and two PAT's) and Falk (a two point conversion).

Defensively the Wildcats were led by Jorgensen and Mundil with nine tackles each.

"Mundil played an excellent game," Freburg said.

Mike Jaeger added six stops.

The Wildcats play at home again on Friday as they host the Coleridge Bulldogs.

Coleridge, last weeks number three rated Class D-1 team, was upset by Wakefield 20-12 Friday night.

HARVEST WITH SAFETY

We want to keep you as our most valued customer

If you're planning the construction of any new storage bins, be sure to take the placement of existing power lines into account. For the best use of your farm space, storage bins are often erected along property lines. Again, that's just where the power lines usually are.

If you simply can't find adequate space to construct those bins away from power lines, why not contact your electric power supplier for some advice. Someone will be sent to your farm to survey your potential building sites and work with you in order to come to the best possible results. Your complete safety and comfort are prime concerns to your electric power supplier. We'll be happy to assist you in developing a safer farm. Harvest with safety and you'll continue to enjoy a productive life and a productive farm.

More often than not, power lines follow property lines. You may be lulled into a dangerous complacency when you're right in the middle of your crop field, because you know for sure no power lines are over your head. When you reach the end of your field and turn your equipment, there's a very good chance power lines will be nearby. Always be alert to power lines on your property lines. They may even be hidden by trees or brush, so you must take precautions to ensure your equipment doesn't make contact.

Coble, Soderberg lead Wakefield Trojans knock off third-ranked 'Dogs

Don't tell the Wakefield Trojans that they were supposed to lose to number three-ranked Coleridge Friday night.
Don't tell Coleridge's players, coaches and fans anything of the sort.
Don't even try — you probably won't get many people to agree with you.
The Wakefield Trojans traveled to Coleridge and played coolly enough on a sultry night to snap the Bulldogs' 12-game winning streak and register a 20-12 victory.
To say that the game was a frenzied affair would be an understatement.

WITH ONLY 30 seconds gone in the first quarter, Wakefield's Jeff Coble took a 59-yard touchdown scamper. A Soderberg run for the PAT failed and the Trojans had a 6-0 lead. They also had an upset brewing.
To most of those who watched Friday's game however, the Wakefield win wasn't much of a surprise.
Although the Bulldogs were ranked third in the state Class D-1 ratings, not many in attendance at Friday's game could deny that the Trojans are one of the better eight-man teams in the state.
With Soderberg masterfully running the option offense and Coble scuffling all over the field, and a host of other runners, and a lion-hearted defense, and

WAKEFIELD DID not wait to the win, however.
With 4:56 to go in the first quarter, the Bulldogs took advantage of a Wakefield fumble to set up a touchdown run by quarter-back Calvin Bartling. The PAT pass failed and the score was tied at 6-6 at the half.

The second half saw both teams take and lose control of drives until Wakefield drove inside the Coleridge ten.
On fourth and three, Coble zipped around the right end for a touchdown, with 5:16 left in the third quarter. The PAT was no good, and the score stood at 12-6.
Coleridge later took over on downs on its own 18 yard-line after a Wakefield drive stalled.

ON THE first play of the drive, Mike Olson took a hand-off from Bartling and blazed 62 yards for the score. The PAT failed and the score was knotted at 12 apiece.
The Trojan's Coble was to have none of that. The Wakefield senior took the ensuing kickoff at his own eight, ran up the middle of the field, broke two tackles, broke to his left, and the race was on. Coble ran untouched into the endzone and the Coleridge fans sat in stunned disbelief.
Wakefield head coach Dennis Wilbur, later asked what his reaction was to Coble's return.
"I hugged him," Wilbur said.

THE TROJANS scored a two point conversion on a pass to Jason Erb and took a 20-12 lead.
Wakefield was showing the Bulldogs' number three ranking all the respect usually accorded to Rodney Dangerfield.
The crowd barely got settled when Coleridge's Mike Olson took the kickoff and set sail before a saving tackle by Byron Kubik stopped him on the 23 yard line.
Wakefield's defense held on a spectacular goal line stand which saw Wade Nicholson and John Halverson drop Coleridge's ballcarrier inches from the goal line on fourth down.

From that point on, Soderberg took over and drove the Trojans all the way down to the 11 yard-line before the clock ran out.

SEVERAL WAKEFIELD players turned in outstanding individual performances on both offense and defense, but Wilbur said he was pleased with the team play of the Trojans.

"We played our hearts out tonight," Wilbur said. "The heat was really something, we're lucky we're a small team so the heat doesn't affect us too bad."

Jeff Coble carried the ball 15 times for 118 yards while Soderberg added an even 100 yards on 21 carries.

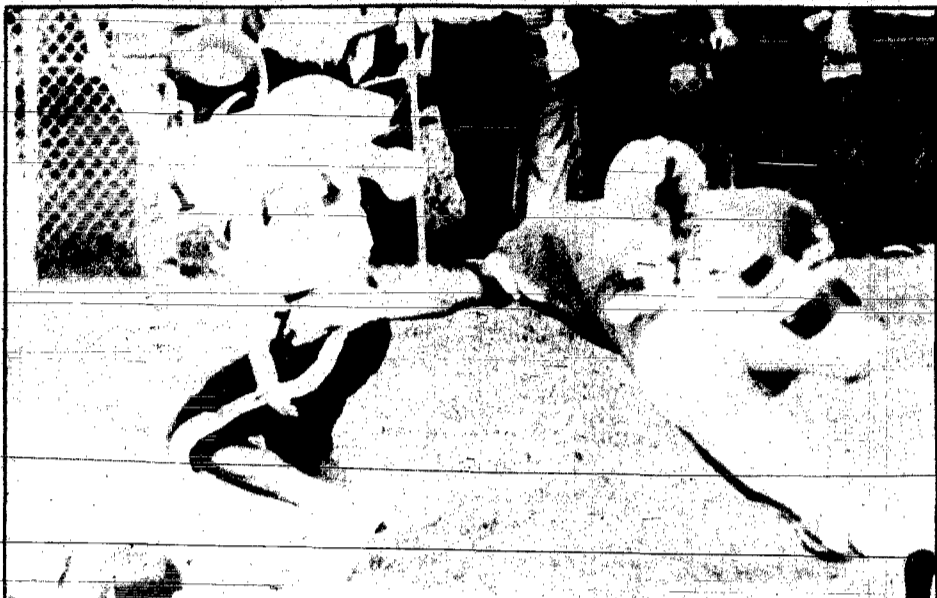

Defensively, Wayne Guy led all Wakefield tacklers with 10 tackles (5 solo, 2 for losses).

Ken Meyer tallied three solo stops, one for a loss, and five assists.

Other defensive standouts were: Troy Greve (1 solo, 2 assists), Byron Kubik (3 solos, 3 assists), Soderberg (4 solos, 4 assists), Mark Lundahl (2 solos, 5 assists), Coble (4 solos, 5 assists) and John Halverson (1 solo, and 2 assists).

Trio to be entered in Hall of Fame

A trio of former Wayne State College athletes will be inducted into the school's Athletic Hall of Fame in ceremonies on Sept. 30.
Former gridder Rex W. Johnson (class of 1949), baseball star Tom Fulcher (class of 1966), and basketball great Dean W. Eitelson will be honored at a banquet on Sept. 30.
The Second Guessers, a Wayne-based athletic booster organization, sponsors the hall of fame.
The Wayne State College Wildcats will host Missouri Western the following afternoon (Saturday, Oct. 1) at 1:30 p.m. at Memorial Field. The public is invited to attend a reception honoring the 1983 inductees at the Wayne Country Club immediately following the football game.

The Hall of Fame, founded in 1978, inducts nominees from the ranks of former WSC athletes, coaches and athletic aid administrators.
Johnson won four football letters at WSC, playing in 1942 and from 1946-48. As captain of the 1948 squad, he earned Little All-America honorable mention. He was also president of the W Club and lettered twice in track.
A Navy veteran, Johnson coached high school football for 23 seasons (17 in Nebraska) and compiled a 436-88-8 record. He retired in 1982 after serving ten years as athletic director at Bellingham (Wash.) High School.

Fulcher graduated from Wayne State with distinction with a degree in English.
During his senior season at Wayne State, the Fond du Lac native led the nation in batting with a .527 average.
The two time all district performer was named as the 1966 graduating senior who best served Wayne State during his college career. Fulcher edited The Wayne Stater campus newspaper and served as a student council representative his junior and senior years.

Fulcher founded his own business, Fulcher Business Forms, in Omaha in 1975.
He has also served as the public address announcer for Creighton University's home basketball games for the past 12 seasons.
Eitelson, at 6'6" posed an intimidating figure while playing for ward on the Wildcats' basketball team.
The Wayne native helped Wayne State earn a berth in the NAIA Tournament in each of his last three seasons.

He was an all district and all conference selection and was drafted by the San Diego (now Houston) Rockets of the National Basketball Association in 1970.
Eitelson is vice president and general manager of Whiteco Metocom, Inc. and works out of the company's Albany, N.Y. office.

Penalties take toll

Eagles plucked 20-6

Identical score. Different result.
Flying high after last week's 20-6 victory over Wynot, the Allen Eagles came crashing back to earth Friday night as they absorbed a 20-6 thumping at the hands of Newcastle.
"We were just outplayed and outcoached," said Allen head coach Rod Bubke.
The teams went into intermission tied at 0-0, but 12 third quarter points sent Newcastle on the road to victory.
"We were lucky to be tied at half," Bubke said. "They fumbled at the two yard line once, which really helped.
The Eagles were hurt by penalties all night. They had 11 penalties for 55 yards."
"Those penalties all came at bad times," said Bubke.
Bubke said he knew that Newcastle had a big team, but that it didn't worry him at first.
"We had heard that they were big and slow and we figured we could get outside on them," Bubke said. "They were big alright I mean HUGE."

"Their backs went at 185 and 190 pounds while we're at 125 and 130 pounds," he added.
Newcastle scored on runs of 6 and 3 yards and a 12 yard pass.
The Eagles were limited to just 177 total yards for the game.
Shawn Mahler had 81 yards rushing on 20 carries and was four for eight for 30 yards in the passing department.
Defensively, the Eagles were led by a host of tacklers.
Jay Jones, racked up 15 tackles to his credit while Mike Hingst had 12.
Keith Kariborg and Shawn Mahler each had 12 and Kirk Hansen tallied 10 stops.
The only trouble was that a lot of those tackles were made five and six yards down field," Bubke said.
"Both teams fumbled three times and lost two.
Allen tallied the only interception of the game.

Wildcats split pair in opener

The Wayne State College Lady Wildcat volleyball team got its first taste of competition on Wednesday night as it split a pair of matches in a triangular match against the College of St. Mary's and Concordia College in Omaha.
Coach Marilyn Strate's Lady Cats were scheduled to meet the Warriors of Midland Lutheran College in varsity and junior varsity matches in Fremont last Friday night. Their first home action will be this Wednesday, Sept. 14, when the varsity and junior varsity squads from Mt. Marly Collee (Frankton) will invade Rice Auditorium for matches set to begin at 6:30 p.m.
The Lady Cats opened the season by taking the first set in their match with Concordia, 15-13, but dropped the second set 15-12 despite being down at one point 13-1. They also fell in the deciding set of the match to Concordia, 16-14.
In the game against host team St. Mary's, the Lady Wildcat continued to keep things close in the opening set, winning it 15-13.

Wayne went on to take the second set by a more comfortable margin, 15-5.
Junior Andra Jones was the top scorer for the evening, totaling 20 points in the five sets which includes scoring 11 of five and six points in the games against St. Mary's. Last year's leading scorer, Jill Zeiss added 18 points for the Lady Cats.
On defense, sophomore transfer Pam Gagan topped the list with a total of 11 kill strikes, while Andra Jones backed up her performance with seven downed spikes.

Laurel drops second game

Laurel's football team lost its second contest of the young 1983 season Friday night dropping a tough 14-7 decision at home to Osmond.
Laurel led 7-0 at intermission, but Osmond scored a quick touchdown to begin the second half and made the two-point conversion to put the score at 6-7.

"We were hurt a lot by penalties," said Laurel head coach Kurt Buckwaller.
Buckwaller said that the Bears also failed to capitalize on some key scoring opportunities.
"We were inside their ten yard line at least three times but didn't get in," he said.
Osmond is a good team, but we just didn't capitalize," Buckwaller said.
Although Buckwaller did not have game statistics available at press time, he singled out senior fullback Brian Hirsch as having a good night offensively and said that the Bears' defensive play was "outstanding."

A more detailed account of the game and statistics will appear in Thursday's edition of the Wayne Herald.

Commission seeks quail information

Game and Parks Commission biologists are again asking interested quail hunters for information to assist in the state's quail management program.

This year, as in the past, the Commission will rely on the help of cooperating hunters to provide valuable information about quail and the quail hunting season. Reports from individual hunters aid in determining hunting pressure, rate of quail harvest, provide information on reproduction, crippling losses and other important data.

Dedicated quail hunters wishing to cooperate with the Commission in this study are requested to contact Jim Bruner at Commission Headquarters, Box 30370, Lincoln, Neb. 68503, or by calling (402) 464-0641.

"Last year Nebraska's independent PCAs paid over $2,100,000 in taxes."

It's because the 14 independent PCAs in Nebraska are taxpayers like other private enterprises.

Some people incorrectly believe that PCAs are government organizations or agencies. Far from it, PCAs are simply financial services cooperatives. Our Association is wholly-owned and financially supported by local producers. We lend both our own reserves and money raised through the sale of non-government bonds in the nation's money markets. Wall Street, if loans aren't made, or we have a loss, local members end up footing the bill.

So, we operate our Association on a sound and business-like basis. Our directors, who are PCA members and borrowers, are elected by local members to set policy for the Association and hire professional management. This gives us the kind of direction which enables PCA to serve our own producers better and more completely through a professionally run organization.

PCAs are not alike. Although all of the 423 PCAs in the United States are operated under the same rules and regulations, like many businesses and industries today, each is independent and has its own management style based on the needs of the local producers. Our PCA is unique.

Yes, we did pay taxes. Nebraska's PCAs also returned $204,046 to Nebraska PCA members in 1982 in addition to providing professional quality financial services.

For many producers in Nebraska, PCA is smart business. That's why we say PCA is for people who make a business out of agriculture.

Find out for yourself.
