Valuations up, taxes don't drop

Real estate valuations in Wayne County are up for 1983 and so are property taxes in many parts of the county.

County valuation is up $16,492,980 from 1982. Wayne city value is up $9,905,975 and District 17 value is up $12,141,130 according to Wayne County Assessor Doris Slipp.

Slipp said valuation was raised because of updating a two-year appraisal which is the result of Nebraska's biennial assessment law and the value of new improvements built last year.

AN AVERAGE house in Wayne, valued at $40,725 in 1982, had taxes totaling $1,069.48. That same house is now valued at $50,345 and taxes are $1,223.38.

The same house in Winside would have had $973.86 in taxes in 1982 and $1,223.38 in 1983. The biggest jump is in Hoskins where that house would have had taxes of $697.24 in 1982 and $1,258.37 in 1983.

In Carroll, the 1982 total would have been $1,013.56 and the 1983 total would be $1,088.06—the smallest increase in Wayne County.

In Wakefield, taxes on that house would have been $1,145.88 in 1982 and up to $1,370.78 in 1983—the highest total in the county.

ANOTHER COST that has gone up in 1983 is non-resident tuition. The non-resident tuition cost per pupil in 1982 and 1983 are compared here by schools:

Wayne—from $4,929 to $6,398; Winside—from $5,896 to $6,294; Pender—from

FTC tests fire alarm

Editor's note: The following information appeared in The Nebraska Smoke-Eater and Iowa Smoke-Eater and was submitted to The Wayne Herald by a Wayne fireman.

eddie's brother

by randy hascall

It's easy to tell an election year is approaching. Politicians' names and faces are back in the news regularly again.

Political news releases filter through newspaper offices like flour through a sifter. Good public relations is the key to success for many politicians. Knowledge and opinions are secondary.

The common man could live pretty comfortably on a politician's PR budget.

News releases are suddenly coming in from most politicians everywhere. The Democrats are constantly criticizing the Reagan administration—mainly for its military policy.

And the Republicans are criticizing the Democrats for their social programs and other things.

Both sides are criticizing the president for putting up with James Watt.

One familiar name is back in the political scene. Good old George McGovern is back at it, running for president again.

If that's the case then where is George Wallace? And what ever happened to Pat Paulson, the comedian who ran for president every four years?

I think it's about time an independent won the presidential election. In fact if Pat Paulson decides to run on the Independent ticket in 1984 he might actually be a legitimate candidate.

I would consider voting for him. However, I voted for John Anderson in 1980. I cast my ballot for Anderson mainly because I didn't want either of the other two candidates to be elected.

Because too many people vote for a party and not an individual, independents don't usually have much of a chance. Maybe some day.

Autumn must be here. The weather has been changing more often than the stop lights in downtown Wayne. And I've got my first major cold (or flu or something) of the season. I'll conveniently blame the weather for part of it.

I swear I was run over by a herd of elephants. In downtown Wayne. My head feels like a bunch of doctors are practicing acupuncture on it.

My throat feels like a tiny "Rocky" gremlin was using my tonsils for punching bags.

There's not much worse than trying to crank out a column for the newspaper at 7 a.m. Saturday morning when you feel like a hood ornament on a demolition derby car.

It doesn't help matters any to fight off the swarm of flies which must have migrated from Lebanon.

You swat a couple dozen of them and another 10 or 12 show up just to bug you by landing on your arm or nose. Then they land on the video terminal screen on which you're typing.

Flies aren't stupid. They know you won't dare swat them on the $1,500 glass screen.

What makes matters worse is to know that nobody is going to read this column anyway after they skim the first two boring paragraphs.

So I'm going back to bed. See you around next week.

ask a lawyer

a public service of the nebraska state bar association

Q: Our son is the father of a child born out of wedlock. The child's mother refuses to marry him, though she did give the baby his last name and he has contributed to the child's support.

A: Now the child's mother says she doesn't want anything to do with our son, she wants to "travel" and "have fun." We are very concerned over the baby's welfare. Is there anything we can do to make sure that he is taken care of?

Q: If your son is the father of the baby, he has certain legal rights and obligations that can be enforced in court.

A: If your son wants to obtain legal custody of the child, he should consult an attorney who can help him determine the best course of action. Your son would have to prove to the court that it would be in the best interests of the child to have custody awarded to him.

A: It is possible that the court would award him custody, or would award the mother custody but would give your son visitation rights which would enable him to maintain contact with and help raise the child.

The court may also require your son to pay child support, depending upon his resources and the needs of the child.

If your son does not want custody or is not awarded custody, and you believe the child is being abused or neglected while in the mother's care, you should report any such evidence to the child protective services or welfare offices.

A statewide hotline for child protective services has been established to handle calls regarding the abuse or neglect of children. Their number is 800/652-1999.

Q: I plan to represent myself in court. If I have documents I plan to introduce into evidence at the trial, is it necessary that I send copies of such documents to adverse parties before I ask the court that they be introduced into evidence?

A: It is customary at the pre-trial conference to have a list of exhibits prepared which show what you plan to introduce at trial.

Copies of the written exhibits themselves should be provided to the opposing counsel. If no pre-trial conference is held, opposing counsel should be provided a copy of each document prior to its introduction so that they have an opportunity to examine it.

If this is not done, unnecessary delays in the trial occur while opposing parties examine each exhibit.

Q: What is a "P.O.D." account?

A: A P.O.D. (payable on death) account is a bank or savings account which is the property of one person and is payable to that one person during his or her lifetime, but becomes the property of one or more "payees" upon that person's death.

Or, it may be payable to more than one person during their lifetimes, and then payable to one or more payees upon the death of all the owners.

For example, if a man wanted to provide cash support for his niece upon his death, but didn't want the niece to have access to the money during his lifetime, he could establish a P.O.D. account with the niece as payee.

He would have complete access to the account during his lifetime, and it would then be paid to her upon his death.

United Way hits home

To the editor:
The Wayne Community Chest starts its annual United Way Drive this week. While the United Way has enjoyed the continued support of Wayne citizens through the years, recent drive history shows a small decrease in the level of support. I would hate to see a pattern develop in that direction and if you stop to consider it I think you would too.

Over 75 percent of the monies contributed to the drive are channeled to organizations directly involved on a day to day basis at the local level (Wayne Recreation Program, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Wayne Senior Citizens Center).

Three remaining agencies are present when help is needed (Red Cross, Salvation Army, Florence Crifenton Home). The remaining agency, the Arthritis Foundation continues to educate and conduct research regarding an affliction that strikes many of our citizens old and young alike.

As you fill out your United Way card this year stop to consider the above organizations and the role they play in Wayne. I'm sure many of you will realize either your involvement, your children's involvement, or your friends' involvement with one or more of these organizations, especially the Wayne Recreation Program that has been a source of pride for all Wayne residents.

If this drive has 100 percent participation from all people touched by these organizations this year's drive can be an overwhelming success for the people of Wayne.

The United States just has too many laws

By Richard Leshar
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

First some numbers

There are more than 612,000 lawyers in the United States—two thirds of all the lawyers in the world.

Each year, more than 40,000 students graduate from law school.

The number of legal cases filed in district courts has jumped 35 percent in the last five years.

In 1981, Americans shelled out more than $30 billion in legal fees. This is more than the entire gross national product of Portugal. A greater sum than the entire GNP of oil-rich Kuwait.

NOW, ONE last number. (The last, I promise.)

Japan has 10,000 lawyers.

That's right. The entire nation of Japan, with a population of more than 100 million, has only 10,000 lawyers or one lawyer for every 10,000 Japanese. (You could go whole weeks and never meet one.) Yet the Japanese seem perfectly capable of running a trillion dollar economy, maintaining contract law, putting criminals in prison, writing wills and processing divorces and insurance claims. At the same time, they are running circles around us in productivity growth. (Hmmm.)

No one would argue that America could get by without the legal profession. Lawyers play a key role in defending our constitutional freedoms and preserving the rule of law. But even leaders in the legal profession are beginning to wonder whether we have gone too far. Are we too quick to sue? Are there too many lawyers, too many laws?

Derek Bok, the president of Harvard University and the former dean of Harvard Law School, suggests that the rapid growth of lawsuits creates a "massive diversion of exception talent into pursuits that often add little to the growth of the economy."

I WOULD SUGGEST three reasons for the increasing cost of litigation.

First, I don't believe the problem stems from too many lawyers, but rather, from too many laws. Over the past 20 years, Congress and the regulatory agencies have passed countless laws and regulations that create new "rights" or "entitlements"—all of which present golden opportunities for lawsuits.

In addition, many of these laws are so purposely vague that their intent is hammered out in courtrooms, not in Congress. In sum, our nation is not plagued by bad or misdirected lawyers, but by countless thousands of laws and regulations that fit rather easily into one of those categories.

Second, Congress has presented a powerful incentive for lawyers to enter the courtroom, even with weak or nonexistent cases, by passing more than 14 major environmental laws which allow the losers of the case to be awarded legal fees.

These cases often delay economic growth and the cost of litigation is passed onto the taxpayers. It seems incredible, but these laws force the taxpayer to subsidize well paid lawyers who can make a handsome living, suing to stop or slow down economic growth.

Even when the case is found to be wrong, these self appointed guardians of the "public interest" are not required to compensate the men and women their delaying tactics threw out of work but are actually paid to inflict such damage.

THIRD, THE FEDERAL government is actually in the business of paying lawyers, through direct grants, to run around the nation starting lawsuits. The most flagrant example is the Legal Services Corporation which receives several hundred million dollars each year and admits that its lawsuits are aimed at forcing the federal, state, and local governments to keep taxes and spending high.

The bottom line is that when you subsidize something you get more of it. Our government has been subsidizing lawsuits against itself and the business community, and predictably, we have seen the resulting explosion of legal costs and frivolous, time-consuming cases.

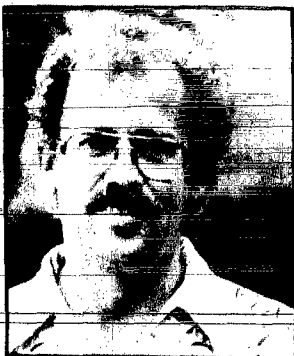

The hamburger may not be up to snuff on the other side of the Pacific Ocean, but on this issue, I envy the Japanese.

street talk

This week The Wayne Herald asked five Wayne residents, "Have you watched any of the new network television programs this fall and if so, what did you think of them?"

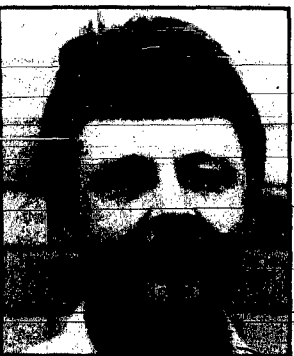

"I watched 'Hotel' — I thought it was pretty good. I like the in-depth character development. Its biggest downfall is that it's like 'The Love Boat' in that the guests are all big-name stars."
Denny Robinson, Wayne

"I liked 'Emerald Point' with Dennis Weaver, but I like everything Weaver does. I've watched him since 'Gunsmoke'."
Rudy Froeschle, Wayne

"I don't watch much network programming. I do like 'Dynasty' though."
Lisa Cahoy, Omaha

"I watched 'Trauma Center' — it was okay, but not that good."
Jack Hausmann, Wayne

"I mostly like the older shows like 'M*A*S*H' and 'Barney Miller'. The new shows are more liberal and there's not as many programs for children. I don't know if that's good or not."
Jeff Richardson, Bellevue

The babysitter blues

You called half a dozen potential babysitters before you found one for tonight.

Now, as you're leaving, your children are crying or clinging to your leg. That's no way to start a relaxing evening out with your friends.

What's a parent to do? The answer isn't simple and it does take some effort on your part. Begin by looking at the situation from your child's point of view.

The best way to handle the problem is to prevent it from happening by preparing your children.

CHILDREN WILL feel more comfortable in the familiar surroundings of their home. Having the sitter come to your home can be a big first step in smoothing out your child's resistance to a sitter.

Many children are used to having different sitters and feel comfortable with a variety of people.

If your child tends to cling or is shy around new people, you can redirect their attention from being left alone with a stranger. Help your child plan activities that can be done with the sitter. You might have your child pick a favorite story the sitter can read, or the child can plan to teach a special game to the sitter.

WHEN YOU LEAVE, tell your children you will be home later when they are asleep. Small children may be more assured if you promise to make sure they are tucked in when you return home.

Giving your sitter certain instructions when the child is present can also be important.

Telling both your children and the sitter about house rules, bedtime, what snacks are allowed, and other items will prevent problems for the sitter later.

Your children may be less likely to ask if they can watch a TV program if they heard you tell the sitter it wasn't allowed.

SOME TIMES OLDER children may resent being left with a babysitter. They feel they are old enough to take care of themselves and certainly don't need a "baby" sitter.

You can watch for behaviors that might signal to you that your children are trying to control a sitter. These might include trying to play parent by telling the sitter what to do and what not to do.

Or, your child may try to be pals with the sitter, especially if the sitter is a peer. A child may try being extremely helpful and cooperative to get his way.

Parents need to decide if any of these behaviors are occurring and whether or not it is a problem. Then they can talk with the child and explain what behaviors are allowed or not allowed.

CARING FOR children is a responsibility that requires special attention from both parents and sitters.

You can make your sitter's job easier by helping your child to accept a sitter without tears and trials.

Hawkins gains 221 yards

Winside upsets fifth-ranked Trojans

WINSIDE'S JOHN Hawkins (8) struggles for a few of his 221 yards.

THE CATS' Chris Jorgensen (25) runs a sweep as Trojan John Halverson (44) lowers the boom.

Wakefield was supposed to play the Winside Wildcats Friday for its homecoming game, but the Trojans found themselves also baffling a Hawk, too — that Hawk was Winside's senior halfback John Hawkins.

Hawkins ripped the Trojan defense for 221 yards on 31 carries and three touchdowns to lead Wakefield in a crazed 57-48 victory over the state's fifth-ranked (Omaha World Herald) Class D-1 football team. Hawkins also added a pair of scores on passes.

Winside coach Mark Freburg said that Hawkins' success was largely due to the play of Winside's offensive line.

"Our offensive line did a tremendous job tonight," Freburg said. "Our size helped us a lot, but some of our big guys were getting tired towards the end."

WINSIDE SHOWED its intentions early in the contest. After kicking off to the Trojans, Winside held on three downs. A poor punt on fourth-and-four gave the Cats the ball on Wakefield's 40-yard line. Three plays later, Winside quarterback Dan Mundil found Hawkins and completed a pass to the 31-yard line.

A sack by Trojan Jeff Coble brought up second down. A Mundil sneak and a Hawkins blast gave the Wildcats a first-and-ten at the 18.

Hawkins then bowled his way down to the three and took it over left tackle for the touchdown on the next play. Hawkins also ran in the two-point conversion and gave Winside a 8-0 lead with 5:37 left in the first quarter.

Not to be outdone, Wakefield took the ball after the kickoff and scored in one play as quarterback Brian Soderberg masterfully took a pitch to speedster Jeff Coble and streaked 65 yards down the right sideline for the score. Coble hit tight end Jason Erb for the two-point conversion to tie the score.

AFTER THE kickoff, Winside appeared to be in trouble after a fired-up Trojan defense threw Mundil for a loss to bring up third and 14.

Mundil was undaunted and set up a screen pass to fullback Chris Jorgensen that carried all the way to the 27 yard-line. Hawkins added a bullish run to the twelve before Mike Jaeger added four tough yards up the middle.

Two plays later, Jorgensen bowled over Wakefield's John Halverson, Soderberg and Coble for a touchdown. It was becoming obvious that Winside was not going to be pushed around.

Hawkins added his second extra-point run and Winside took a 16-8 lead with 2:24 left in the first quarter.

Wakefield was unable to get anything going on its next possession as a swarming defense forced the Trojans into a fourth-and-eight situation with just 24 seconds left.

The Trojans elected to punt but probably wished they hadn't, after a poor kick went out of bounds and gave Winside a first-and-ten at the Trojan 21-yard line.

THE WILDCATS wasted no time in taking advantage of the field position, as carried by Hawkins and Jaeger and an offside penalty on Wakefield put the ball to the three.

Mundil then pitched to Hawkins, who scooted untouched around the left side for a touchdown. Another conversion by Hawkins put the tally at 22-8 and the Wakefield side of the field was silent. This wasn't supposed to be the way things were to happen, but you could tell that to Winside.

The teams exchanged punts and Wakefield again tried to get a drive going, this time from its own 24.

Tragedy struck on second-and-two as Soderberg mishandled the snap and Winside recovered at the Trojans' 34-yard line.

A reverse by Hawkins on second-and-fifteen put the ball to the fifteen before Jorgensen smashed down to the 11. Mundil kept to the nine and Wakefield's defense forced an errant pitch on the next play. Winside recovered the ball, but now faced fourth-and-four.

MUNDIL THEN threw a dump-pass to senior Scott Janke for another score. The Wildcats elected to kick the PAT this time, and the score now stood at 29-8 with just 6:38 left in the half.

Halverson returned the ensuing kickoff to the 24-yard line and Wakefield decided enough was enough.

On the first play from scrimmage, Soderberg stood coolly as several Winside defenders converged and threaded a pass over the middle to Mark Kubik who went in to score. Soderberg's kick was no good, but the score was now 29-14 in favor of Winside and it was becoming apparent that there were going to be plenty more points scored.

The Wildcats wasted no time in lending credence to that assumption.

Mundil passed to Kevin Falk on a third-and-five and Falk carried Kubik into the end zone on his back for the score. Hawkins ran the conversion over to give the Cats a 37-14 advantage with 5:24 left in the half.

WAKEFIELD WAS forced to punt on its next possession, and Winside took over at its own 30.

Hawkins continued on his tear and Jorgensen added some tough yards up the middle as quarterback Mundil used the clock to perfection to squeeze out another touchdown. He passed to Kevin Falk on the next play and then threw to Hawkins for the score. The PAT kick was no good, but Winside had taken a 43-14 lead with just three seconds left in the half.

Winside assistant coach Jim Halverty said he wasn't at all comfortable with a 29-point advantage at half.

"I'm still not sure what a safe lead is in this game," he said. "In eight-man ball, people can score so quickly."

Quickly indeed.

The Trojans forced Winside to punt on its first possession of the second half. Soderberg fielded the kick on his own 20, stopped, cut left, then reversed his field and jettied 60 yards down the right sideline for a touchdown. The two-pointer was good and the score was now 43-22 in favor of Winside.

THE TROJANS defense rallied and held the Wildcats on fourth-and-four.

A face-mask penalty on Wakefield's first play made it first-and-ten on Winside's 36.

Soderberg again worked his deception and kept the ball for a 36-yard TD scamper. Coble was stopped short on the two-point conversion, and the score was 43-28 with 7:17 left in the third quarter.

Winside's offensive lull then ended. The Cats began to eat up small chunks of yardage before Mundil hit Hawkins in the flat with a pass and the big halfback went all the way for the score.

A fumble on the PAT kept the total at 49-28 as time was becoming an ally of the Wildcats.

Coble later burst over left tackle on third-and-one for a 24-yard TD run, and Jason Erb added a fantastic 44-yard scoring reception, but Winside countered with another Hawkins score and the tally ended at 57-48.

Winside coach Dennis Wilbur had high praise for Hawkins.

"He is definitely a college prospect," Wilbur said. "He's really improved and come into his own since last year."

HAWKINS' TOTAL led all Winside rushers. Mundil added 44 yards on 16 carries while Jorgensen finished the night with 34 yards on 10 totes.

Mundil was 7-of-14 for 112 yards and three touchdowns passing.

Receiving for the Cats was led by Hawkins (three-for-53 yards and two touchdowns) and Jorgensen (two catches for 42 yards).

Wakefield was led by Soderberg's 146 yards on just eight carries while Coble had 57 yards on nine. Tight end Jason Erb had a good night's work, catching five aeriels for 102 yards.

Mark Kubik caught a pair of passes for 66 yards.

Both coaches were pleased with their team's performances and full of praise for their opponents.

Freburg said that Wakefield's speed was no surprise to the Wildcats.

"We knew they were quick, but we gave them some cheap TD's in the second half," Freburg said. "They're a rated team and showed a lot of pride."

Wilbur said that the Trojans were hurt by the absences of starters Ken Meyer (knee injury), Craig Doltz (strep throat) and Troy Greve (hip pointer).

"It hurt us not having those guys in there but Mark Undahl and Brad Lund came in and played well for us," Wilbur said.

WILBUR SAID there were several reasons tending to the Trojans defeat.

"We knew they (Winside) were explosive, but our mistakes and their having a super back (Hawkins) sure didn't help us any," Wilbur said. "They are a lot bigger than us we just couldn't stop them and they just plain ran over us."

Even though there were 105 points put on the scoreboard, both teams had some good defensive performances.

Winside's Kyle Miller had nine tackles (three solo) and Jeff Thies added six (two solo).

Wakefield was led by Coble (five solo and 22 assists) and Soderberg (five solos and 18 assists).

"We didn't get any body hurt but we got a lot of bumps and bruises," Wilbur said. "Coble is all beat up."

Both teams now have 41 records. Winside goes against Newcastle on the road this Friday while the Trojans host Beemer.

"The loss is by no means the end of the world," said Wilbur. "We have a lot to be proud of and we're looking forward to next week."

Area players in NSAA stats

Several area high school volleyball players are among the statistical leaders in several categories according to figures released by the Nebraska School Activities Association.

Mitchell Harder of Allen is fourth among the state's Class C-2 players in individual ace blocks, averaging 21 per game. Harder is also seventh in ace spikes with 39 and eighth in spiking percentage with a .919 average.

The Wakefield Trojans have several players listed. Lana Erb is second in Class C-1 with 32 good serves on the season while teammates Brenda Jones (25) and Julie Oswald (20) are fourth and twelfth respectively.

Shelley Krusemark is third in the state in ace spikes with 71 while Kelly Greve has 36 and is ranked tenth. Jones is twelfth with 34 aces.

Laurel's Jean Lule is fifth in Class C-1 in serving with 24 aces so far this season. She is also ranked first in the state in serving percentage, having hit on all 119 of her attempts thus far.

Wayne is represented by Karen Longe in the state's spiking percentage leaders with a .933.

Team wise, Allen is fourth in Class C-2 with a .855 spiking percentage. The Eagles are also third in team ace blocks, having logged 35 on the year.

Wakefield is first in Class C-1 in ace spikes with 198 and first in ace serves with 108.

The Wayne Blue Devils are sixth in Class B with 36 ace blocks.

Blue Devils shut out David City Aquanis, 12-0

The Wayne Blue Devils continued on their defensive tear Friday night with a 12-0 shutout over highly-touted David City Aquanis at Wayne State College's Memorial Field. The win raised their season record to 5-0.

"It was really a battle," said Wayne head coach Lonnie Ehrhardt. "They were bigger than us man to man — they were big AND strong."

The teams battled to a scoreless first half tie.

"They controlled our offense during the first half," Ehrhardt said. "We only had five possessions in the first half and ended up punting on four of them."

David City Aquanis fared little better with just four possessions in the first half.

The Blue Devils came out in the second half and drove all the way to the Monarchs' seven-yard line before a fumble on fourth and five turned the ball over.

David City Aquanis took over and fumbled on its first play from scrimmage but managed to fall on the ball.

They weren't so lucky on the next play as they fumbled again and the ball was recovered at the 11 yard line by the Blue Devils.

This time Wayne was not to be denied, as Kevin Koenig bowled over for the score from four yards out. The extra point was no good and Wayne held a 6-0 lead.

Wayne got another break in the fourth quarter.

With the ball on their own 16, the Blue Devils were forced to punt. A roughing the kicker penalty kept the drive alive but Wayne failed to move the ball and was forced to punt again.

A penalty on Wayne gave the Monarchs the option of taking the play or the penalty and the Monarchs decided to let the Blue Devils kick again. The Monarchs had gone to the west once too often.

The return man mishandled the ball and Wayne recovered on its own 28-yard line.

On the first play from scrimmage, quarterback Brad Moore hit Pete Warne for an 18-yard gain.

Moore kept the ball on a quarterback sneak on the next play and ran in for the touchdown. Wayne failed on the PAT run, but had registered what proved to be the final points of the evening.

Wayne intercepted a Monarch pass on the second play from scrimmage after the kickoff and drove the ball to the Monarchs' off before losing the ball on a fumble. David City Aquanis took over and ran the clock out with a last ditch drive.

Ehrhardt said he was "absolutely pleased" with the win.

"David City Aquanis is a good football team," he said. "We just took advantage of some breaks."

He added that the Blue Devils "are pretty beat up."

Koenig once again led all Wayne rushers with 51 tough yards on 18 carries. Steve Overin had 43 yards on 17 carries while Moore added 26 yards on just eight carries.

Warne led all receivers with 40 yards on four catches while Jim Poehltman snagged one aerial for 29 yards. Overin had one catch for three.

Defensively, the Blue Devils were led by Koenig and Dan Gross, who each logged ten tackles (three solos each). Chris Wieseler added nine stops (two solo) while nose guard Tim Book and Jim Poehltman each had six.

The Blue Devils will return to West Point this Friday, this time to take on West Point Central Catholic in a 7:30 p.m. contest.

Battle of sexes today at Allen

It will be the boys versus the girls in volleyball competition scheduled today (Monday) at Allen.

The fifth-grade boys will go up against the sixth-grade girls as will the sixth-grade boys in later competition.

In other action, the junior high school mothers will take on their daughters.

There will be no admission and the games will begin at 7 p.m.

Olympic run scheduled

Norfolk area residents who run for the health of it will be treated to two races Saturday, Oct. 22.

A 10-kilometer race and a two-mile run will each begin at 10 a.m. at Norfolk Junior High School. Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital in Norfolk and the Dairy Council of Central States will co-sponsor the event, while the Elkhorn Valley Striders will serve as hosts.

This is the second year the groups have teamed up to present "Keep Running for the Health of It," according to Joleen TenHulzen, program director for the Dairy Council of Central States. More than 170 runners participated in 1982's inaugural race, and she said she expects at least 200 runners for the 1983 event.

The top three male and female finishers in each of the five divisions of the two races will receive medals. All participants will receive a pair of jogging shorts and will be treated to a nutrition break at the end of the race.

Registration is $6 for runners 13 and over, if postmarked by Oct. 15, and $8 after that date. For runners 12 and under, registration is $5 if postmarked by Oct. 15 and $6 after that date.

For more information, contact Jerry Holmberg, 210 N. 10th St., Norfolk, or call (402) 371-9239.

Zeiss, Gogan lead Cats in CSIC stats

Jill Zeiss and Pam Gogan, both members of Wayne State's volleyball team, appear on the list of CSIC statistical leaders released last week.

Zeiss, a sophomore from Wayne, is seventh in the conference in service points with a 3.9 points per game average. She is also sixth in total points (8.4 per game) and fifth in assists (4.3 per game.)

Gogan, also a sophomore, is seventh in the CSIC in blocked points, with a one block per game average.

Cats scratch record book

Two players on this year's Wayne State football team are making their marks in the Wildcat record book with each passing week.

Senior wide receiver Tom Wingerl is currently seventh on the all-time list of Wildcat receivers. Wingerl had catches totaling 757 yards and one touchdown going into last Saturday's game with Missouri Western University.

Wingerl needs just 193 yards to move into the fourth spot. Dean Ott is currently sixth with 806 yards, while Ed Blackburn is fifth with 928 yards. Greg Walker holds down the fourth spot with 949 career yards.

Scott Hallstrom, who apparently ended his football career because of a severe shoulder separation against Midland Lutheran College on Oct. 22, has a total of 695 yards and is the Wildcats' ninth all-time leading receiver.

Upland game subject of program

The Game and Parks Commission's Outdoor Education Division has scheduled an "Upland Game Hunting" workshop for 7:30 p.m., Oct. 5, in the Kiewit Center Conference Room, State Office Building, 13th and Farnam, in Omaha.

The workshop will cover information about upland game species, their habits and diets; hunting equipment to use, where to look for various species and how to use the animal or bird once it is down.

The public is invited to attend the free workshop.

UN-L hoopsters on TV

Six of Nebraska's 14 Big Eight Conference basketball games will be televised as part of the conference's 1983-84 television package recently finalized with Katz Broadcasting.

Two home games will be televised, the Feb. 8 game vs. Oklahoma and the Feb. 25 contest vs. Colorado. The Oklahoma game will tip off at 8:10 p.m. (CST) and the Colorado game at 3 p.m. in departures from the normal 7:35 p.m. tipoff.

The four road games to be televised as part of the package are Jan. 25 at Kansas (8:10 p.m.), Feb. 4 at Kansas State (1:10 p.m.), Feb. 11 at Missouri (2:10 p.m.) and March 1 at Oklahoma (8:10 p.m.).

There were two date changes involved for Nebraska in the television package. The Big Eight home finale vs. Kansas State was switched from Wednesday, Feb. 29, to Tuesday, Feb. 28, after the regular season finale at Oklahoma was moved from Saturday, March 3, to Thursday, March 1. The latter move was made to allow the Sooners to play Nevada Las Vegas in a nationally televised game, March 3.

Blue Devils third

The Wayne Blue Devils placed third out of four teams at the York Invitational Tennis Tournament last Friday afternoon, winning five matches.

Elkhorn Mount Michael came in first in the tourney, winning ten matches. Host York won eight and was second, while Crete managed just one win.

In the number one singles competition, Wayne's Ted DeTurk finished second to Mount Michael's Jim Crosse. DeTurk's scores were 10-6 10-2 4-10.

Vini Johar took third in the number two singles competition with scores of 10-5 9-11 8-10. Johar was beat by Dave Laughlin of Mount Michael.

In the number one doubles play, Layne Marsh and Jeff Stratton came in third behind Mount Michael's John Cambell and David Peace by fallies of 6-10 8-10 10-6.

The Blue Devils placed third in the number two doubles. The team of R.J. Meller and Jossi Johar lost by scores of 3-10 10-1 5-10 while York's Dave Godd and Scott Steinmetz were first.

McArdle defensive player of week

Wayne State College linebacker Kevin McArdle was named the NAIA District 11 Defensive Player of the Week last Wednesday for his 18-tackle performance in the Cats' 53-30 loss to Midland Lutheran College on Oct. 22.

McArdle, a junior from Omaha, has logged 53 tackles for the Cats in just three games.

Commission studying paddlefish

Game and Parks Commission fisheries division biologists trying to calculate age and growth rates on paddlefish in the Missouri River are asking the help of paddletish snappers in obtaining that information.

Biologists are interested in collecting small sections of the paddlefish's jaw to make the age and growth calculations.

Snappers interested in assisting with the project can contact fisheries biologists Bud Stewar or Jeff Schuckman at Norfolk's Game and Parks Commission Office, Box 934, Norfolk 68701. Information about the project can also be obtained from any Game and Parks Conservation Officer, or bait shops in the Gavins Point area.

Don't put that fishing rod away until you've tried fall fishing in Nebraska, and for tips on the most productive lakes and some sure fire fishing techniques tune in the Oct. 6 "Outdoor Nebraska" TV show at 7:30 p.m. on ETV.

District V Fisheries Division Supervisor Larry Zadina will be on hand to pass along up-to-the-minute information about fall fishing hotspots and there will be a film on panfishing techniques.

Also scheduled is an historic segment on the Bluewater Battlefield with Fort Hartsuff Superintendent Roye Lindsay.

If you happen to miss the initial showing, the program will be rebroadcast at 3 p.m. Sunday afternoon, Oct. 9, also on ETV.

WINSIDE'S DAN Mundil takes a hit after pitching the ball to John Hawkins. Winside downed Wakefield 57-48.

1983 Parade of Homes
October 8 & 9
1:00 - 5:00 p.m.

As one of its two entries in this year's Parade of Homes sponsored by the North-Central Nebraska Homebuilders Association, Vakoc Construction Co. of Wayne will be presenting a house they are calling the "Ultra-Insulated" house.
According to John Vakoc, president of the company, the current "buzz word" in the homebuilding industry is "super insulation." Vakoc states that "the trouble with such terms is that the public is confronted with so many different concepts of 'super-insulation' that it really has no definitive meaning."
Vakoc's firm is scheduled to open their "Ultra-Insulated" house to the public October 8th and 9th. Vakoc says that "if any 'super-insulated' houses have been built in this area before, then this home deserves to be called the 'Ultra-Insulated' house!"
When asked what sets his firm's version apart from other so-called "super-insulated" houses, Vakoc said that "contrary to the current popular concept that insulation alone is the key to more energy efficient housing, our company recognizes the critical importance of infiltration control, vapor control, proper orientation and treatment of glazed areas and consideration of indoor air quality."
Vakoc says that "the construction of housing such as their 'Ultra-Insulated' house demands extraordinary discipline and meticulous attention to detail." According to Vakoc, "such construction is not the mere incorporation of several exaggerated components such as thicker walls or more expensive windows but rather is a carefully researched and engineered system." One example of this approach is shown in the selection of AAMA-Certified Thermal Windows, manufactured by the Gerkin Company of Sioux City, Iowa.
Vakoc says that their system is the culmination of a decade of dedication to building a more energy efficient home and was highlighted by their participation last spring in the first national Conference on Superinsulation in Housing held at Rochester, Minnesota.

Come see the ULTRA-INSULATED Home at 1003 Popular St. in the new Sunnyview Subdivision — 1/2 mile east on Hwy. 35 — Wayne, Nebraska.

TBZ Wormers Improve Gains and Feed Efficiency

Worming new cattle with TBZ Cattle Wormer as soon as they are acclimated and bunk broke is an important part of Walnut Grove's starting program. Cattle wormed with TBZ used an average of 44 lbs. less feed per 100 lbs. of gain compared to unwormed animals. Ask me about TBZ Wormers and the other management steps important in getting your cattle started off right - I sell results.

The difference between center pivots is how many times they can do this.

Valley builds them tougher.

It isn't just one thing. It's the toughest gearbox in the industry — the one they put on other make center pivots by the thousands when their gearboxes fail. It's a new, no-grease urethane U-joint that easily outlasts conventional U-joints. It's a proven multi-directional flex joint that allows easy operation on slopes up to 30%. It's a structure where you can see the difference when you put a ruler to it. And that's just for starters. Let our dealership show you the rest. Ask us for a free ValCom energy analysis before you buy any system. The difference can be thousands.
