New channels offered to Wayne cable subscribers

A third major upgrading of Wayne's cable television system will allow for an expanded channel capacity. Five new channels will be offered in Wayne next fall. One channel, Big Eight Television, will be added at no charge. The others, which will be added at a charge, are the USA Network, the Nashville Network, MTV (Music Television) and C-Span.

C-Span will provide live coverage of the House of Representatives when in session as well as live or taped events in Washington.

COST TO a Wayne Cablevision subscriber of adding the additional tier of 4 channels will be $3.95 per month. That amount will be added on to the monthly cable service charge of $7.95.

Jack McEvoy, general manager of Apollo Communications Inc., of which Wayne Cablevision is a subsidiary, said the channel capacity will be expanded so it can handle up to 35 channels. The company is presently offering 13 channels on the basic system.

The addition of Big Eight Television (KBGT) will necessitate a few changes, McEvoy said. KETV of Omaha will be moved from Channel 8 to 7. Big Eight will be placed on Channel 8.

Only subscribers with cable ready televisions or channel converters will be able to view that station. KXNE of Norfolk (Public Broadcasting Service) will move from Channel 8 to 7. Big Eight will be placed on Channel 8.

IN ADDITION to the 4 new channels, a Disney channel will be added. It will serve as a second pay service, intended for family viewing. The Wayne office currently offers the Home Box Office movie station.

Anyone who adds the new four channel tier, can get the Disney Channel for an additional monthly fee of $7.95, McEvoy said.

McEvoy said the project should be completed so the new services can be marketed in October. Twenty channels will be in use at that time.

Anyone who subscribes to cable, as well as the new tier of channels, and HBO and the Disney Channel, will pay monthly charges of $29.80.

McEvoy said he believes very few subscribers will want all the channels but added that many may want to add the new tier of channels and possibly the Disney Channel.

"This system will allow subscribers to pick what plan they want and pay for what they want to get," McEvoy said.

A ray of hope

THE SUN begins to set on the Nebraska horizon, forming a ray of hope that spring is not too far away. The sun peeked out at times this week, bringing higher temperatures and lower snow drifts.

Local group meets

Nebraskans for Peace chapter is planned

The Wayne community is on the edge of forming its own chapter of the Nebraskans for Peace.

At a meeting about nuclear issues Wednesday afternoon on the Wayne State campus, an informal vote by a show of hands demonstrated enough support for the formation of a chapter in Wayne.

Betty Olson, coordinator of the state-wide organization, spoke at the meeting and explained what the state group is planning.

"IF WE ARE going to make our concerns known, we need to ban together," Olson said. The Nebraskans for Peace is a chapter of Clergy & Laity, an organization that deals with issues of peace and social justice.

Olson said Wayne could affiliate with another chapter or form its own chapter of Nebraskans for Peace.

She explained that the organization started in the late 60s and grew out of a concern about the Viet Nam War. She said that foreign policy which got the U.S. involved in Viet Nam really has not changed.

Approximately 20 persons were in attendance and a straw vote taken by WSC instructors Sayre Anderson and Rita Kissner showed that the majority were in favor of starting a local chapter.

Another meeting is scheduled in 2 weeks to determine which issues, the local chapter would incorporate into its goals.

THE NEBRASKANS for Peace support a nuclear freeze, believe that the U.S. is spending too much on its defense system and feel that problems should be settled peacefully, Olson said.

She estimated the total membership of the group to be between 650 and 700 people. Dangers are increasing and we need to do something for the protection of our own lives," Olson said.

She said each group decides on what area it wants to focus when it becomes a chapter. Disarmament and human rights are examples of glands taken by chapters.

Nebraska chapters are presently in existence at Norfolk, Columbus, Beatrice, Fairbury, Grand Island, Kearney, Lincoln, Omaha, Scottsbluff and Nebraska Wesleyan.

OLSON SAID the central organization keeps in touch with all state chapters by providing information for people through newsletters and audio video resources.

Last year the Nebraskans for Peace closely followed such issues as nuclear freeze and AMX missiles.

Olson said Congress voted to fund the first 21 MX missiles but pointed out that there is still a good chance of defeating any further plans for MX missiles.

She said that petitions are needed in order to place the issue of a freeze on the ballot and let the people of Nebraska make the decision.

Wednesday's meeting was the second in Wayne concerning Nebraskans for Peace. The first was held in December.

Centennial beard contest kicks off

Male residents of Wayne have less than one week to decide if they will pack away their razors for the next 7 months.

Thursday (Feb. 2) is the kick off date for the Wayne Centennial Beard Growing Contest, a project of the Wayne Lions Club.

The Rev. Daniel Monson, chairman of the event, said the contest will be kicked off during Thursday night's Ground Hog Day pork feed sponsored by Wayne County Pork Producers.

Centennial birthday cake will be served during the pork feed, which also includes pork sandwiches, relishes, applesauce, beans, sauerkraut, potato chips, and coffee, milk or an orange drink.

Serving will be from 4 to 8 p.m. in the city auditorium, and cost is $1.75 for one sandwich or $2.25 for two sandwiches.

The public is encouraged to purchase tickets for the pork feed in advance from both Wayne banks or at the Chamber of Commerce office.

MONSON SAID Lions Club members will be available from 4 to 8 p.m. in the Woman's Club room of the city auditorium to assist male residents who wish to sign up that night for the beard contest.

"Any male resident over 18 years of age by May 1, 1984 should equip himself with a badge and a beard (or a shaving permit) by May 1 or be prepared to suffer dire and unusual consequences," said Monson.

Men living in the Wayne area will have 3 basic options if they wish to avoid the consequences of the Centennial Kangaroo Court.

TO PURCHASE a "Brothers of the Brush" badge, men must be clean shaven at the time they enter. Cost of the badge is $3.

There will be a separate "Brothers of the Brush" competition for men with pre-existing beards. Cost of that badge also is $3.

Monson said men who are not interested or not capable of growing a beard can purchase a "Shaving Permit" for $5.

There also will be souvenir or memento badges for women and children. The "Colonial Dames" badge will cost $3, and the "Little Shavers" badge is $2.

ENTRIES TO the centennial beard growing contest will be judged during Wayne's grand celebration, scheduled to take place Aug. 29 through Sept. 2.

According to Monson, awards are planned in 19 different categories, including the longest beard and mustache, most handsome, the finest goatee, the lushest sideburns, the most unusual, the neatest, etc.

Those entering the contest will be expected to show results visible in ordinary light at 30 feet by May 1, or be subject to the Kangaroo Court summons and to purchasing a shaving permit.

He added that persons unable to enter at the Ground Hog Day feed may complete an application at the Centennial Store, located at 10 Main St., or contact any member of the Wayne Lions Club.

PERSONS ATTENDING Thursday night's pork feed also are invited to purchase centennial commemorative which will be displayed in the Woman's Club room.

Centennial vests and dresses also will be on display during the evening and may be ordered.

In addition, businesses will have an opportunity Thursday night to purchase centennial bunnings to display in their stores throughout the city's centennial.

Centennial proclaimed

Mayor Wayne Marsh signed Wayne's official centennial proclamation. Here is the proclamation:

Whereas our forefathers sought a place where they could build a new nation, a new life, a new settlement; and

Whereas the generations that followed worked hard to make this a healthy and prosperous place to live in;

Whereas the community has become a vital part of the state's agriculture, business, education and industry;

Whereas one hundred years have elapsed since the first settlers came to this area;

Be it resolved that I, Wayne D. Marsh, Mayor of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, do hereby proclaim the official centennial of Wayne, Nebraska, to be celebrated on Thursday, February 2, 1984, as the official anniversary of the date that on that day we will celebrate the official anniversary of our town.

Dated this 27th day of January, 1984.

'Adopted daughter' defected

'Jim Jones promised freedom, but became fascist'

By Randy Hascall

Jim Jones promised freedom from fascism and then became the ultimate fascist. He promised freedom from concentration camps and then built one.

Those were the comments of Bonnie Thielmann, who spoke to an audience of almost 400 in Wayne State's Ramsey Theatre, Wednesday night.

Thielmann, known as the "adopted daughter" of Jones, was an active member of The Peoples Temple in California for 1 1/2 years before she defected.

"SUDDENLY I SAW Jim Jones and The Peoples Temple like a trash can full of maggots," Thielmann said, explaining why she left the cult.

When she left the Peoples Temple, Thielmann said Jones called her and told her she was making a terrible mistake by leaving the aura of his protection. He had told others that same thing before having them killed, she said.

"Well, at least I'll be free for 3 days before I die," she replied.

Thielmann defected, but unlike the few other defectors, she didn't leave the state of California. Instead she stayed in the immediate area of the temple.

YEARS LATER, Congressman Leo Ryan asked Thielmann to accompany him on a trip to Jonestown, Guyana, where Jones had moved his Peoples Temple.

Ryan had hopes of persuading some temple members to defect and thought Thielmann could help.

Thielmann said she knew she could be facing death but told Ryan she would go on the trip if she would receive free air fare and could obtain a passport in 1 day. Her requests were arranged.

She said she informed Ryan during the flight that everyone at the Peoples Temple would appear happy and satisfied, but added, "Please notice that no one ever prays."

AFTER THE FLIGHT, Thielmann remained in Georgetown while Ryan went ahead to Jonestown. While there, she received 2 messages. One, from Jones, said, "Send my daughter Bonnie to Jonestown." The other, from Ryan, said, "Tell Bonnie she can't come any place."

After much thought, Thielmann elected to stay put. Today, she still believes she would have been killed had she gone to the temple.

More than 900 people died in a "mass suicide" at the temple, Thielmann said she refers to the deaths as suicides, not suicide.

To back up her statement, she said that 300 babies died and added that babies don't commit suicide. And many of the adults who died were told either to drink the poisoned flavor aid or be shot, she said.

THIELMANN WAS 15 years old and living in Brazil with her missionary parents, when she first met Jim and Marceline Jones in 1972.

Her father, who worked in a Brazilian post office, befriended Jones and invited him home. Bonnie soon became impressed with the stories Jones told.

Because she spoke fluent Portuguese and Jones didn't, Bonnie moved in with the Jones family at his request and with her parents' permission. She handled translation for him.

"If God is a loving god and really cares, then why is 1/3 of the world going hungry?" Jones asked Thielmann after she moved into their home. At that time, she didn't know it would be a question he would ask her many more times.

Thielmann said she was attracted to the goodness of the couple's everyday lifestyle and impressed with the way they shared meals with 10 or 15 poor neighborhood children.

"At that point in time, unconsciously, the Joneses became ideals to me," she said. "She was the most unselfish woman I ever met."

WHEN THIELMANN was 17, she returned to the United States to attend college. She later got married and returned to Brazil.

Jim and Marceline Jones had become her role models and she named her children after the Jones children.

In Brazil, Thielmann said she saw poverty and dirty living conditions that most people never see. Thielmann's daughter died of a virus and Bonnie was given only 6 months to live after she contracted a blood disease.

She and her husband moved back to the U.S. when another daughter returned. She had 6 months to live.

"I felt I wanted to be with the Joneses 1 more time before I died and they were delighted to have me," Thielmann said. So she moved to Redwood Valley, Calif., where the Jones family now lived.

JIM JONES showed her some "incredible things" that his church had done, such as job placement, a drug rehabilitation program, convalescent homes, free legal aid, vocational agricultural training and a home for retarded people.

On a stained glass window of his church was printed, "Father we thank thee." She thought the referral was to God. Only later would she learn that "Father" referred to Jones.

The first time she attended his church she saw a woman stand up and give a diamond ring to the church.

Jones began to speak. He was convincing and dynamic, she said. He was intelligent, altruistic, tender, caring, articulate, physically attractive and convincing, she said. He had magnetism and charisma, she added.

Then, Jones began to attack the scriptures of the Bible.

"God is alive, strike me dead," he shouted. He then spit on a Bible and shook his fist first at an American flag and then at the sky, Thielmann said.

"I BURST OUT of the church, weeping hysterically. Here was a man the epitome of what Jesus Christ had taught us; yet he denounced God," Thielmann said.

She said Jones' questions and actions made her wonder. She had to have some answers so she called a minister of a church she had attended when she was young. The minister couldn't give her any answers and proceeded to proposition her sexually, she said.

"I suddenly had grave doubts about the existence of God," she said.

A few days later, she attended another church with her husband. A Black man sat all alone while Caucasians stood in the back of the church because they refused to sit by him and there were no other seats available.

That incident brought on flashbacks to the Peoples Temple. Jones had said that 11 o'clock Sunday is the most segregated time. "I thought about all the things and

Program for non-traditional students

A speaker and workshop program for non-traditional students is scheduled Tuesday, Jan. 31 at Wayne State College.

The session will run from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Nebraska room, located in the lower level of the Student Center.

The program is designed especially for new students starting their first semester at Wayne State, and for non-traditional students. Speakers will be Mike Gonnaway, assistant dean of student services, and Dr. Max Lundstrom, dean of student services.

Non-traditional students are defined as students over the age of 23, particularly married students, commuters, veterans, single parents, elderly students/senior citizens, adults exploring career changes, extended campus students, and women beginning college after raising families.

Livestock feeders to meet

The Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association will hold its annual business meeting at the Paddock Steak House in South Sioux City on Monday, Feb. 6. Dick Mercer, president of NLEFA, will speak after dinner. Social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. with dinner at 7:30 p.m. All feeders, spouses and guests are invited.

All members are reminded of the membership drive scheduled for Feb. 9 and 10. A kick-off breakfast is scheduled in Pender at 8:30 a.m. on the 9th. Rex Messersmith, NFLA communication director, is planning to be there. For more information on the meetings contact Art Greve of Wakefield at 287-2870.

Crop insurance meeting set Friday

An informational meeting on Federal Crop Insurance has been scheduled at 1:30 p.m. Friday (Feb. 3) in the Wayne city auditorium. The meeting is open to the public.

Liska president-elect of vet association

Dr. Ken Liska of Wayne was elected president elect of the Nebraska Veterinary Medical Association at its annual convention in Kearney Jan. 22-24.

Other area veterinarians who attended the 87th annual convention were Dr. D.A. Swerczek of Wayne and Dr. J.A. Rademacher of Winslow.

Dr. Darlan Rezac of Ogallala was elected president. Included in the convention were educational speeches and election of board members. The sessions are accredited toward mandatory continuing education requirements for license renewal annually.

Librarians hold annual workshop

More than 80 school and public librarians along with other interested library persons attended the fourth annual Nebraska Educational Media Association/Nebraska Northeast Library System Workshop at Northeast Technical Community College in Norfolk on Jan. 25.

One of the coordinators for the workshop was Penny Ujewicz of Wayne.

Bob Trautwein, Nebraska Library Association president, urged attendance at the planned NELS Library Training Institute at Wayne State College in May.

Jack Middendorf, director of the U.S. Conn Library at Wayne State, spoke about the recently awarded National Endowment for the Humanities grant for the Great Plains Experience.

Among the public libraries represented at the workshop were Wakefield and Wayne. Among the schools represented were Allen, Wakefield, Wayne and Winslow.

Faculty recital at Wayne State

Wayne State College's music department will present a faculty recital on Tuesday, Jan. 31 at 8 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre, located in the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center on the college campus.

The recital will feature Dr. Jay O'Leary, head of the division of fine arts, on the oboe and clarinet; and Dr. Christopher Bonds, director of orchestral activities, on the violin.

They will be accompanied by Arne Sorensen and Jane O'Leary on piano.

The program, which is free and open to the public, will include pieces from Handel, J.S. Bach, Mozart, Debussy and Rossini.

Toastmasters group to form

Toastmaster International will be establishing a club in Wayne this spring and is seeking individuals to become charter members of the new group.

A non-profit organization, Toastmasters, offers programs designed to help people gain confidence in themselves and refine their ability to organize and present ideas when speaking formally and informally. Leadership and interpersonal communication are other skills integrated into the club format.

Anyone interested in becoming a charter member of the Wayne Toastmasters should plan to attend an informational meeting Tuesday, Feb. 7 at 7 p.m. at Daylight Donuts in downtown Wayne.

Von Minden press conferences set

Senator Merle Von Minden of Allen will hold 2 press conferences today (Monday). The first press conference will be at Daylight Donuts in Wayne at 10 a.m. The second press conference will be at the Paddock Steakhouse in South Sioux City at 1 p.m.

Wesleyan academic list announced

Academic honors for the first semester of the 1983-84 school year at Nebraska Wesleyan University were announced recently by Dr. Paul Laursen, provost.

Nearly 170 students earned places on the dean's list for academic achievement by compiling grade point averages of 3.75 or better for 12 hours of academic work.

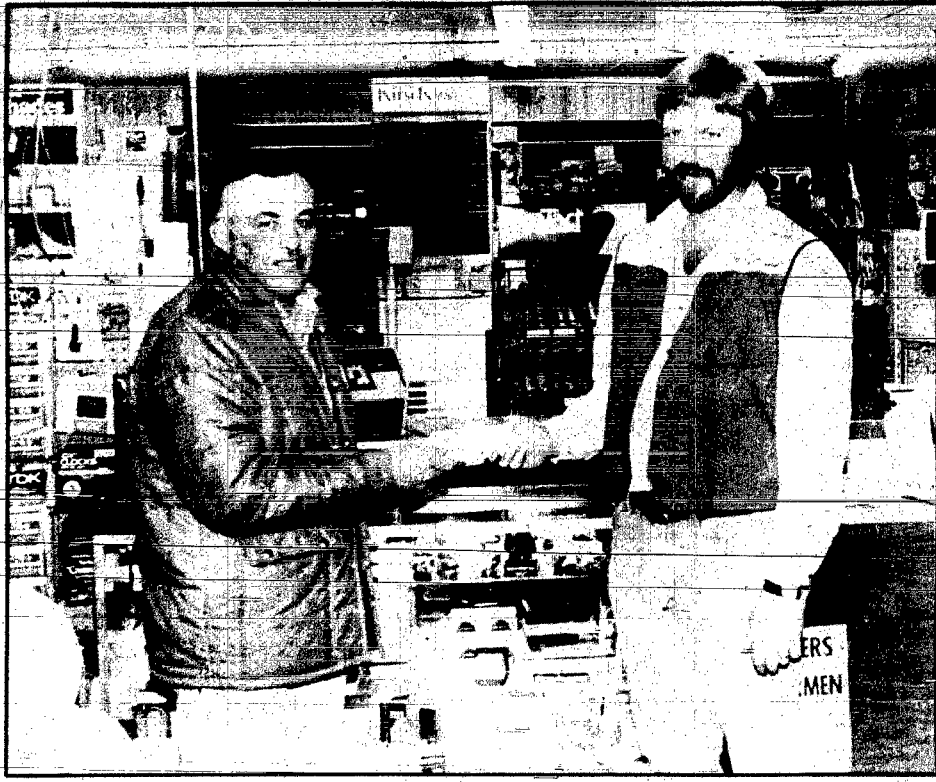

Included on the list are freshman Timothy Limberry of Laurel and freshman Beth Schaler of Wayne.

USDA program meeting set

An informational meeting for farmers in Wayne County will be held Friday, Feb. 3 at 1:30 p.m. at the auditorium in Wayne. Farmers attending the meeting will receive updated information on important USDA programs, with emphasis on the Federal Crop Insurance protection that's available for the 1984 crop year.

Representatives of several local USDA Agencies have been invited to attend, including the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, ASCS, Farmers Home Administration, County Extension and Soil Conservation Service.

With the disastrous effect of last summer's drought fresh in mind, farmers will find the information of this meeting of great help to them in planning for the 1984 crop year.

Our federal budget gets out of control

By Richard Leshner

U.S. Chamber of Commerce
Herbert Talmadge, the former Democratic senator from Georgia, once observed that "virtually everything is under federal control nowadays except the federal budget."

Sen. Talmadge is no longer in the U.S. Senate, but the problem he highlighted remains with us today.
For despite the repeated claims of many Washington politicians—claims echoed in the media—that social spending has been slashed to the bone, a review of federal spending during the last year shows a federal budget that continues to grow out of control.

Overall, the federal budget increased by 9.3 percent in fiscal year 1983. To the Reagan administration's credit, this was the smallest increase in a decade, but it came when inflation was running below four percent.

LOOKING AT some of the key social welfare spending programs, we find that they increased even faster than the total budget between fiscal year 1982 and fiscal year 1983.

The Food Stamp Program and other nutritional programs jumped 14 percent, from $15 billion to more than $17.3 billion. The Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children—specifically targeted to aid poor families—rose by nearly 74 percent.

Unemployment benefits rose an astonishing 64 percent, from $27 billion to more than $44.6 billion, while health care programs jumped 15 percent to more than $9.4 billion.

And while we have heard a great deal in the press about the suffering of farmers, the total amount of taxpayer dollars flowing to farm price supports jumped more than 62 percent to a total of more than $18 billion, and the Farmery Home Administration budget swelled 20 percent to more than $4.3 billion.

Why then are we subjected to what, Frank ly, are demagogic appeals from some of those men who have put themselves forward as potential candidates for the highest office in our nation? Why are some in the media allowing such flights of fancy to pass unchallenged?

Surely a profession capable of unraveling the Watergate mystery is fully capable of reading budget numbers. These are not state secrets hidden in the bowels of the Central Intelligence Agency. They are matters of public record, compiled and printed at great expense to the American taxpayer.

THE POLITICIANS who promulgate the myth that federal spending on food programs, farmers and health care has been deeply cut know better. These would-be statesmen—though they may say frivolous things—are not, at base, frivolous individuals.

The answer lies in an observation made by Samuel Johnson that "a man who is angry on one ground will attack upon another." The politicians and special-interest groups in Washington know that social welfare spending has increased in the past year.

Their real target is the 1981 tax-cut that slowed the growth of federal tax revenues into the coffers of the federal treasury. This cut off the lifeblood of the tax and spend politician who builds his political career and coalition on promising new programs and more expensive give aways to, in effect, buy political loyalty.

And while the so-called Reagan Revolution in government spending has not cut existing programs, it has quietly and effectively prevented these politicians from passing any new programs.

Thus we can expect to hear a continued chorus from the advocates of big and bigger government that Ronald Reagan and the 1981 tax cut are impoverishing the poor. It is not true, but as another demagogue from another generation once promised, if you repeat a big enough lie, often enough and forcefully enough, it will be believed.

If you're wondering what AT&T is planning to do with the extra income it will receive from rate restructuring, look no further.

On Friday, The Wayne Herald received its 10 telephone credit cards for 1984. How many envelopes do you suppose AT&T used to send the cards? Think about it?

Try 10. Each card had to be mailed in its own private envelope with its own letter to the customer and a card containing special information.

We received 10 envelopes, 10 letters, 10 cards and 10 of whatever else might have been stashed in the envelopes. AT&T appears to work an awful lot like our government and our politicians.

If there were just more groups like AT&T around the country, the U.S. Postal Service wouldn't have to raise the cost of a postage stamp from 20 to 23 cents.

How many of you readers happened to see a story about a North Platte fire which appeared in Friday's Omaha World Herald?

According to the story, a man and wife in North Platte had 94 dogs, 3 ducks and several parakeets living with them in a small, two-bedroom house in North Platte.

Can you imagine the dog food bill for 1 month?

The story said the dogs always stayed indoors, preventing the city from taking action. Always indoors? I wonder if they formed a line to get into the bathroom.

That house would have been a great setting for an Alpo commercial. Lorne Greene could have opened a can of dog food and been trampled by 94 hungry dogs.

A house fire killed 41 of the dogs and the 3 ducks. The other 53 dogs were shot to death when they were found to be infected with mange.

Music groups have, over the years, selected some of the most unusual names ever created.

The 50s, 60s and 70s had their share of strange names but can't top the 80s.

With New Wave, Punk, Rockabilly, Heavy Metal, Funk, Soul and various other combinations and types of music in existence, the names of the 80s are out of this world.

Some of the groups mentioned here have been around for quite a few years. As far as I know all are now in existence.

Some groups are named after foods. One of the big hits of 1983 was sung by Taco. It seems to me like Taco should be putting out Mexican music.

Two other groups which are putting out the tunes are the Jelly Beans and The Jam. Sounds pretty sweet, doesn't it?

When food is mentioned, we can't forget Meat Loaf or Bread. Bread got started decades ago but still isn't stale. Meat Loaf has been around for more than a decade but still has some flavor.

A considerable number of bands have been named after animals or something relating to animals.

The Stray Cats seemed to prowl through an alley on their way to stardom. Whoever named the group Def Leppard needs to take enroll in a spelling course.

Making a smooth landing in the world of popular music was the Flock of Seagulls. Trying to crawl up the charts with their music are the Boomtown Rats.

And then there are the Psychedelic Furs, Bow Wow Wow, Iron Butterfly and the Bozoo Dog Band.

Some groups have simple one-word names that are easy to remember. Such as OXO, Fixx, the Tubes, the Kinks, Journey, Loverboy, Zebra, Eurythmics, Heart, Wham, Styx, Freeze, Brains, Supertramp, Motels, Scandal, Napoleon, Spoons, Yes, Kajagoogoo, Madness, Clash and the B-52's.

Here are some other crazy names that don't seem to fit into any particular categories:

Men Without Hats, Men at Work, Naked Eyes, Quiet Riot, Quarterflash, Tom Tom Club, Spyro Gyra, Human League, Tears for Fears, Rough Trade, Fun Boy Three, Shocking Pinks, Talking Heads, Club House, Baxter & Baxter, Dry Branch Fire Squad, And Wall of Voodoo, "Weird" Al Yankovic, Golden Earring, Tommy Tutone, Spooky Tooth, Split Enz, Mott the Hoople, Ironing Board Sam, Iron Maiden, Canned Heat, Aztec Two Step, Azuma Kabuki Musicians, Bryanhan Philippine Dance Co., Boots's Rubber Band and Jo Bokers.

What, no group by the name "Can of Worms"?

ask a lawyer

a public service of the nebraska state bar association

Q If a person dies without a will, what happens to children for whom no guardian has been named? Also, what happens to jewelry and other personal property?
A If one of the parents survives there is no need for the appointment of a guardian. If neither parent is living, and no guardian has been named in the will, the county court in the county of the child's residence may appoint as guardian any person whose appointment would be in the best interests of the children.
There is no preference given to one relative over another (for example, the children's aunt would not have legal precedence over the children's grandparents).
Children over the age of 14 may nominate a guardian, and the court will generally appoint this person unless the court finds that the appointment would not be in the best interest of the child or children.
Conversely, a minor child age 14 or older could prevent the appointment of a guardian named in a will from becoming effective, or could cause a previously accepted appointment to terminate by filing an objection with the court within 30 days of the guardian's acceptance of the appointment.
In situations where a substantial estate is involved, the court may also appoint a conservator to look after financial matters for the minor children.
In answer to your second question, jewelry and other personal property which is not passed on under the terms of a will goes to the "issue" (lineal descendants) of the deceased, if there is no surviving spouse.
If there are several children, the property would be divided equally among them as part of the responsibility of the personal representative of the estate.
If you have a legal question, write "Ask a Lawyer," P.O. Box 2529, Lincoln 68502. This column is intended to provide general legal information, not specific legal advice. "Ask a Lawyer" is a public service of the Nebraska State Bar Association.

street talk

This week is National Catholic Schools Week, and The Wayne Herald asked five students of St. Mary's Catholic School in Wayne why they like to attend St. Mary's.

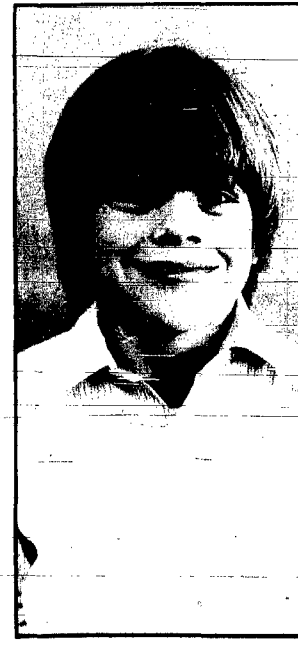

"Because we get to go to church any day we wish and we get to take religion classes." — Kim Imdieke, 9

"Cause we have PE." — Michael Imdieke, 6

"Cause I like the things we do and I like the school." — Scott Greger, 7

"Well, the teachers are nice and we get religion, and the school is very, very nice." — LeeRoy Winkle, 8

"It's different from my real school and its not far away from home. The teachers are just different here, and I like that." — Troy Greger, 10

200 attend reception for Vahlkamp golden wedding

Friends and relatives gathered at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Winside Jan. 22 to observe the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vahlkamp of Wayne.

A noon dinner was served to about 50 persons.

Mrs. Vahlkamp's brothers, Fredrick Janke of Wayne and Leonard Janke of Pender, hosted an open house reception at the church in the afternoon.

The 200 guests came from Greeley, Colo.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Sunnyvale, Calif.; Pilger, Pender, Lincoln, Norfolk, Wakefield, Hoskins, Omaha, Carroll, Madison, Wayne and Winside.

Guests were registered by Kristen Janke of Lincoln, and gifts were arranged by Mrs. Janice Schorlinghuis of Indianapolis and Mrs. Vernice Wacker of Greeley, Colo.

LESLIE Allemann of Wayne was master of ceremonies for the afternoon program, which included an address by the Rev. John Haltermann of Winside.

Several songs were presented by David Schorlinghuis of Indianapolis, followed with readings by Diana Chace of Pilger, Vernice Wacker of Greeley, Colo., and Lynelle Ben-shook of Wayne.

The program also included music by a quintet comprised of Dennis, Linda and Shannon Janke of Wayne, and Alan and Eunice Johnson of Wakefield. Songs also were sung by a duet comprised of Lynelle Ben-shook and Vernice Wacker.

Piano accompanists were Shelly Janke of Wayne and Janice Schorlinghuis of Indianapolis.

THE ANNIVERSARY cake, baked by Mrs. Dean Janke of Winside, was cut and served by Mrs. Leona Janke of Wayne, Mrs. Bonnie Janke of Pender, and Mrs. Linda Frazier of Sunnyvale, Calif.

Mrs. Marguerite Janke and Mrs. Elaine Vahlkamp of Wayne poured, and Mrs. Lynelle Ben-shook of Wayne and Mrs. Eunice Johnson of Wakefield served punch Assisting in the kitchen were ladies of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Winside.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Niemann of Wayne prepared and served the noon meal.

VAHLKAMPS were married Feb. 11, 1934 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Winside.

They resided northwest of Wayne 45 years, and have made their home southwest of Wayne the past 5 years.

Among those attending the couple's anniversary observance were Herman Vahlkamp, Arnold Janke and Mrs. Clara Frevert, all of Wayne, and Wilma Janke of Sunnyvale, Calif., attendees at their wedding 50 years ago.

Steinmeyer-Donahy

Robert and Cathrine Steinmeyer of Wisner announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sherry Lynn Steinmeyer of Wisner, to Daniel Thomas Donahy of Wisner, son of John and Patricia Donahy Sr of Des Moines, Iowa.

The bride elect graduated from Wisner Pilger High School and is a student at Wayne State College. She also is employed at Mack's Lanes in Wisner.

Her fiancé graduated from Hoover High School in Des Moines and also is a student at Wayne State. In addition, he is employed at Plum Creek Farming, Wisner, and is a member of the Army Reserves.

Plans are underway for a March 3 wedding at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Wisner.

Carroll woman marks 86th

Mrs. Regina Junck of Carroll was honored recently for her 86th birthday.

Evening guests Jan. 20 were her children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Junck Jr. of Sholes, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brader of Randolph, and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Junck, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Junck, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Claussen and Mrs. Mildred Sundahl, all of Carroll.

Niemanns show slides of Jordan

Herbert and Joyce Niemann showed slides of their recent trip to Jordan and the Holy Land during the Jan. 17 meeting of Wayne PEO Chapter 4Z.

Niemanns visited Jordan as guests of Abdallah Khawaldeh, a foreign exchange student who made his home with them during the 1970-71 school year.

Eighteen PEO members attended the January meeting in the home of Marilyn Carhart. Co-hostesses were Kay Cattle and Kathryn Ley.

Joan Bursi reported on the scholastic excellence of Cotley College, and on recent renovations made there.

Kathleen Tooker invited PEO members to attend Great Plains Experience programs scheduled next month in Ley Theatre at Wayne State College. The program, which is funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities, aims to increase the understanding of the land and the people who have lived in the Great Plains.

In observance of PEO Founders Day Jan. 21, President Kirk Swanson reviewed the organization's beginnings. PEO is entering its 116th year.

Next PEO meeting is scheduled Feb. 7 at 1 p.m. in the home of Nana Peterson.

Irene Reibold hosts JE

Louise Langemeier and Frances Koch were guests at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of JE Club, held in the home of Irene Reibold. Winners in cards were Frances Koch and Ida Myers. Peg Gormley will be the Feb. 14 hostess at 2 p.m.

Lutheran Churchwomen meet

Seniors presenting recitals at WSC

Wayne State College students Kathleen Baldwin, Joan Smith and Connie Lindor will present their senior music recitals this week at Wayne State College.

Baldwin, a vocalist from Norfolk, and Smith, a pianist from Fremont, will perform Wednesday, Feb. 1 at 8 p.m. in Ley Theatre, located in the Brandenburg Education Building.

Their program will be devoted to vocal and piano selections by Chopin, Haydn, Liszt, Mendelssohn, Mozart, and Verdi.

MRS. BALDWIN is a 1980 graduate of the Great Lakes School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brandt of Norfolk.

Miss Smith is a 1980 graduate of Fremont-Berigan High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Smith of Fremont.

Both performers plan to graduate in May.

Their recital is free and open to the public. A reception will follow in the lobby of the Brandenburg Education Building.

LINDER will present her recital on Thursday, Feb. 2 at 8 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre, located in the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center.

She will be performing on the alto saxophone, the soprano saxophone, and the clarinet. Debra Nicholson of Emerson will accompany on the piano, and Dave Jenkins of Norfolk will perform a trumpet solo.

Linder, daughter of Gary and Donna Linder of Ottawa, Iowa, also will perform "Sound Poom" with Ron Smith of Norfolk on percussion.

Other musical highlights include a 2 1/2 Bach and an hour-long recital, which is free to the public, will be followed with a reception in the lobby of the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center.

February deadline for Mrs. Nebraska pageant

Wives throughout the state are being invited to compete in the Mrs. Nebraska America Pageant.

Bernice Johnson, pageant director, said Monday, Feb. 20 is the deadline for entries.

The winner of the contest will represent wives and homemakers across the state in the Mrs. America Pageant to be held next May in Las Vegas.

The Nebraska pageant will take place March 4 in Lincoln at the Hilton Hotel auditorium.

MRS. NEBRASKA candidates are judged primarily in three categories: personality, poise and beauty.

The new Mrs. Nebraska 1984 will receive a variety of prizes, including an all expenses paid trip to the Las Vegas Hilton Hotel to compete in the National Mrs. America Pageant.

The Mrs. America pageant attempts to select the candidate who best represents the highest ideals and qualities of the modern American wife.

NEBRASKA wives are invited to enter the competition by contacting the state coordinator, Jan Wilcoxon, 5900 Norman Rd., Lincoln, or phone 423-7852.

Program exposing students to dance

As part of the schools program, it is planned to get under way today, Monday, in the Wayne County High School system, a program which will feature dance instruction. Mary Halverson of Wayne is being sponsored by the Wayne Regional Board of Education to assist in the instruction.

The program is designed to expose students, teachers, parents and other community members to the art and benefits of dance through programs.

THROUGH the program, Halverson will spend one week in each of Wayne's schools, introducing students to dance.

During the weeks of January 29 and Feb. 6, she will meet with students at West Elementary School in the mornings, and with students at Wayne Community High School in the afternoons.

The week of Feb. 13 will be spent at Wayne Middle School.

Program exposing students to dance

ALTHOUGH MUCH of the contact will include dance movement and at the Halverson also plans to integrate dance with music, geography, history and drama.

Other more lectures, demonstrations, will be given and will include students, teachers, parents and the community.

Approval for the artists in the schools program was given by Wayne Community School Board of education, members and superintendent Francis Hour, during a meeting last September.

The program is being used to fund the program.

policy on weddings

The Wayne Herald welcomes news accounts and photographs of weddings involving families living in the Wayne area.

We feel there is widespread interest in local and area weddings and are happy to make space available for their publication.

Because our readers are interested in current news, we ask that all weddings and photographs offered for publication be in our office within 10 days after the date of the ceremony. Information submitted with a picture after that deadline will not be carried as a story but will be used in a column underneath the picture. Wedding pictures submitted after the story appears in the paper must be in our office within three weeks after the ceremony.

Herald cast-outs

WAYNE HERALD pressmen Al Pippitt (left) and Ray Murray have something in common these days—leg casts. Murray underwent knee surgery in late December and is now recovering. Pippitt slipped on the ice and broke his foot about a week ago. With the two pressmen recuperating, Jeff Sperry was left as the only full-timer in the press room. However, advertising salesman Dave Diediker shifted to the press room to fill in. Pippitt is now back in action, but not yet at full speed.

IRS offers tax assistance

The Internal Revenue Service is offering several types of taxpayer assistance to Nebraska residents filing their 1983 income tax returns.

The following lists the types of services that will be available to Nebraskans from the IRS.

Toll free telephone assistance: You can call in tax questions directly to a taxpayer assistance representative. Generally 90 percent of the questions asked will be answered immediately. Telephone assistance is available week days between 8 a.m. and 4:15 p.m. (CST). Call IRS toll free at 800 424 1040.

Tele tax and tax dial: The IRS has a tele tax and tax dial system that may be called to receive pre-recorded tax messages. Tele tax and tax dial will provide over 140 items of information covering many of the major tax issues. Tele-tax is available only if you have a push button phone, while tax dial is used for rotary dial phones.

Tele tax is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. You will be billed for a long distance call. The tele tax number to call with a push button phone is 402 721 3324. Tax dial is available Monday thru Friday between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:15 p.m. (CST). You will be billed for a long distance call. The tax dial number to call for rotary dial phones is 402 721 3324.

Instructions for using the tele tax and tax dial systems are available in the tax packages IRS sends in the mail.

Return Preparation (Self Help): An IRS assistant will guide groups of individuals line-by-line through the 1042E, 1040A and 1040 non-business tax return. IRS refers to this as "self help" and although you prepare your own tax return, the tax assistant will be available to answer questions concerning your particular tax situation.

The purpose of self help assistance is to provide instructions to you if you would like to

Self-employed must file

Taxpayers who are self employed must file a federal income tax return if they had net earnings from self employment of $400 or more according to the Internal Revenue Service.

Self employed persons should use Schedule SE (Form 1040) to figure their self employment tax. The self employment tax rate for 1983 is 9.35 percent. Self employment applies to taxpayers who carry on a trade or business as a sole proprietor, a member of a partnership, or as an independent contractor.

For more information, taxpayers can obtain free IRS Publication 533 "Self Employment Tax" from local IRS offices, or by writing to the IRS. In addition, many libraries carry a reference set of IRS publications.

learn how to complete your own tax return.

Outreach: The IRS has a special program called Outreach. It provides free income tax help for low to middle income groups interested in preparing their own returns or learning about recent tax law changes.

Outreach sessions and seminars are conducted by IRS employees who will discuss and clarify issues and provisions of the tax law that are of common interest to the group and help prepare their tax returns. Popular Outreach sites include social, cultural and civic action centers, banks, libraries and places of employment.

Individuals, employers or organizations interested in an Outreach program should contact the IRS Outreach program coordinator. The toll free number to call is 800 424 1040.

Tax forms and publications are available from IRS by calling its "Forms Only" number. If you need to order a tax form or publication, you can leave your request on an answering machine and you will receive your order within 10 days.

A pre-recorded message will ask your name, address, telephone number and the forms or publications you need. A listing of the IRS's free publications is located in the tax forms package IRS mails to taxpayers.

The "forms only" toll free telephone number to call is 800-642-8278.

Volunteer tax assistance programs: Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) is a program where private individuals and civic organizations donate their time and facilities to provide free income tax assistance to qualify low taxpayers in Nebraska.

The VITA program is designed to provide free tax return preparation to the elderly, low income, non-English speaking and handicapped taxpayers. Over 100 locations are available throughout the state and are staffed by IRS trained volunteers.

Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE) is a volunteer program that provides free assistance to taxpayers aged 60 and over in Nebraska. The American Association of Retired People and the Eastern Nebraska Office on Aging sponsor this service.

Volunteers will help elderly persons at retirement homes and nutrition sites. Arrangements may also be made to receive help on an appointment basis at locations convenient to the elderly.

Persons qualifying for assistance through either the VITA or TCE volunteer programs should contact the Internal Revenue Service to find out when and where assistance is available. Call toll free 800 424 1040.

3 returns to choose from

When taxpayers file their federal tax returns this year they can choose from 3 different forms, depending upon their financial circumstances, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Single taxpayers, without dependents who do not itemize their deductions and whose taxable income of not more than $50,000 a year is from wages, salaries and tips with interest in come of not over $400 may be able to use the Form 1040E.

In addition, when filing a Form 1040E a taxpayer can claim the charitable contribution for non-itemizers up to a maximum deduction of 25. However, taxpayers who claim extra exemptions for being age 65 or older, or for blindness, and those with dividend income cannot use the Form 1040E.

Taxpayers who cannot use the Form 1040E because their income is from dividends, or unemployment, compensation in addition to wages, salaries and tips, and whose interest exceeds $400 may be able to use the Form 1040A. When using the Form 1040A taxpayers can also claim the Credit and Dependent Care credit and take an IRA exclusion.

Of course, some taxpayers may not be able to use a Form 1040E or Form 1040A because of the amount or kind of income received. If no status, the need to file certain additional forms and or schedules, or the need to pay other taxes that can only be shown on a Form 1040.

In addition, taxpayers may choose the Form 1040 because they may want to claim itemized deductions, adjustments to income or credits that cannot be taken when using the Form 1040E or Form 1040A.

Taxpayers generally receive the tax package which meets the needs of the form they filed in the previous year. Additional forms and schedules are available from local IRS offices, and in many local banks and post offices. Many libraries also carry copies of reproducible tax forms.

Manager needed for Town Team

The Wayne Baseball Association announced this week that the Wayne Town Team is still looking for a manager for the 1984 season. The association also announced that if the position is not filled by Feb. 13, the Town Team will be dropped and additional emphasis will be placed on the Wayne Midget and Junior Legion programs. Individuals interested in the manager's position should contact Paul Otte (375-2180 or 375-2609) or Hank Overin (375-2584) before Feb. 13.

Umpire clinics slated

The Wayne Softball Umpire Clinic is scheduled for Sunday, April 8 in the third-floor conference room in the City Building at 306 Pearl Street in downtown Wayne. A time has not yet been set for the clinic. The state softball umpire clinic is slated for Omaha on Feb. 18-19. For further information on the Omaha meeting, contact Cheryl Kluge at 391-6767 or 292-4204.

Town Team players should report

The Wayne Baseball Association has tentatively scheduled an organizational meeting for Feb. 13 at a yet-to-be-named site. Any players interested in playing for the Wayne Town Team should inform team officials before that date so that a tentative roster can be solidified. The team is limited to Wayne natives and those from a 15-mile radius around the city. Interested players should contact Paul Otte (375-2180 or 375-2609) or Hank Overin (375-2584).

"Taekwondoers" taking pledges

Members of the Wayne and Pender Taekwondo Clubs will put on a demonstration during the halftime of the Wayne vs. Pierce boys basketball game on Feb. 17 to benefit victims of multiple sclerosis. The martial arts experts will be taking pledges on the number of boards they can break using taekwondo kicks and punches, with all proceeds going aid multiple sclerosis victims. Individuals may make a pledge at Wayne High School immediately preceding the demonstration or by calling Tim Thomas of the Wayne Taekwondo Club at 375-2599 or 375-3800 (Providence Medical Center).

National Wildlife week March 18-24

The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission and the National Wildlife Federation are again sponsoring National Wildlife Week March 18-24.

This year's theme is "Water - We Can't Live Without It." Water is an essential natural resource necessary for the survival of all living things. This statement takes on new meaning when we realize that only 3 percent of the water on earth is fresh water. There are many competing demands for this very valuable resource and we all must share the responsibility to bring about the efficient use and effective management of our fresh water supply. Some 50,000 students, teachers and youth group members are expected to take part in National Wildlife Week again this year. In the interest of reducing postage costs, we ask that school principals and their teachers determine interest and then order kits. For those who wish to participate, interested teachers should check with their principal before ordering to eliminate duplication. Order kits write: National Wildlife Week - Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, Box 10170, Lincoln, Neb. 68503.

Frosh-soph tourney slated

A basketball tournament for high school-freshman and sophomore boys is scheduled for Feb. 4 and 11 at Wakefield High School. The tournament schedule follows:

Feb. 4
 Wakefield vs. Winside - 10 a.m.
 Allen vs. Pender - 11:30 a.m.
 Feb. 11
 Consolation game - 10 a.m.
 Championship game - 11:30 a.m.

Nebraska Tours ETV feature

The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission's popular "Know Nebraska" Tours will be the main feature on the "Outdoor Nebraska" TV Show Feb. 7 at 7:30 p.m. on ETV. Besides a behind the scenes look at the Commission's well known tour program, a film look at Fishing Merritt Reservoir near Valerine and an area feature on Walgren Lake near Hays Springs will be shown. If you happen to miss the initial Thursday evening showing, be sure to tune in Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. when the program will be re-broadcast on ETV.

Softball meeting scheduled

An organizational meeting for all team captains of the Wayne Softball Association has been scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 5 at 10 a.m. at the Wayne Community Center, 221 S. Main St. in downtown Wayne. League officials said that any interested parties are also invited to attend.

Robson Hits 17

Trojan play best game, bow to Bears

Despite playing what their coach considered their best game of the season, the Wakefield Trojans girls basketball team traveled to Laurel last Thursday night and was handed a 43-37 loss for its efforts. "We really played as well as we have all year," said Trojan mentor Mary Schroeder. "I was really pleased."

LAUREL TOOK a slim 11-8 advantage after the first period of play and snuck to a 21-20 lead at the halftime intermission. Neither team really put on a scoring exhibition, but Laurel's Wendy Robson was up to her old tricks as she burned the Trojan defense for 17 points and pulled down 9 rebounds.

Laurel coach Gale Hamilton said the Trojans were ineffective — for the most part — in trying to stop Robson. "They were boxing her out, so we just put her in an area to get the other girls shots — but she still got hers," Hamilton said.

SCHROEDER AGREED that Robson was the difference in the game.

"We kept them off balance for awhile, but Robson just got hot," Schroeder said. "Plus Lute (Jean) hurt us underneath and she didn't miss from the outside."

Hamilton was also quick to praise the play of freshman Gail Twiford.

"She played real well at times," he said. "It was a real good team effort — our continuity is getting better."

While Robson's 17 point paced the Bears, Brenda Jones' 13 points led Wakefield. On the boards, Laurel held a decided 41 to edge as Twiford nabbed 11 caroms and Michelle Joslin and Robson each added 9. Roni Starzl led the Trojans with 4 rebounds.

The Bears hit 38 percent (18 of 47) of their shots from the field while Wakefield beamed just 35 percent (15 of 42) of its shots.

Both teams were in action Saturday night in Lewis and Clark Tournament action. Wakefield took on Osmond while Laurel faced Coleridge.

Results from Saturday's action will appear in Thursday's Wayne Herald.

"But warden, I'm only getting a few minnows for my own fishing trips in the future. There's nothing wrong with that is there?"
 While on a routine patrol of the river one day, I came across 2 people seining minnows and placing them in a horse tank in the back of their pickup. A check of the number of minnows taken revealed they were far in excess of the legal minnow limit.
 Many persons are not aware there is a limit on the number of minnows an individual fisherman may possess in Nebraska.
 Regulations of the Game and Parks Commission state that a person may not have more than 100 minnows in his or her possession at any one time for the purpose of using them for their own fish bait. Nebraska residents over the age of 16 must have a valid fishing permit issued to them to possess minnows.
 The law is different for a licensed bait vendor. He or she may possess an unlimited number of minnows and may offer those minnows for sale to the general public. The fishing regulations provide that a licensed bait vendor is allowed to use 2 helpers in seining for bait, provided that the bait vendor permit or a copy of that permit be carried by the helpers when seining and transporting bait.
 Minnows may be seined only from streams, rivers or creeks — it is illegal to seim from ponds, lakes and reservoirs. An individual may use a dip net to collect minnows for his own use below a dam, but all commercial seining is prohibited using dams in streams, rivers, creeks and in trout streams closed by regulation. For a complete listing of trout streams closed to minnow seining see the 1984 Nebraska Fishing Guide.
 Another regulation minnow seiners must observe is the legal size limit allowed for minnow seines. The sein may not be larger than 20 feet long or 4 feet wide and it must be constructed of non-metallic mesh material with one fourth inch square mesh.
 The penalty for violating the sport fishing regulations is a Class A misdemeanor and carries a maximum penalty of $500 or 3 months imprisonment, or both fine and imprisonment.

"Would you believe... two years ago I weighed over 300 pounds?"

"That was before I went to Diet Center."

I got on their weight loss program and in just 14 weeks lost 10 pounds. Then I continued to thin down until I reached my ideal weight.

This was the first time I had been on a diet that I wasn't constantly hungry. In fact, not only was I not hungry, but my energy level increased. That's because their program is based on solid nutrition and lots of it!

You should try it too. It will make you feel great while you slim down and get rid of that excess weight.

Janke-less Cats blasted

It seems like its just one thing after another for Winside's boys basketball team.

After a line-up shakedown during its past several games, the Wildcats finally appeared to be settling back down — until last week.

The Cats had to go on the road against Hartington without their big man, 6-3 Scott Janke, and absorbed a 61-43 slap in the face as a result.

Janke is on suspension for three games because of training rule violations," Freburg said.

Winside found itself trailing just 11-11 after one period, but fell behind 31-21 at the intermission.

The second half saw the hosts methodically pull away despite what Freburg considered heads up play by his squad.

"The kids hustled real well," Freburg said. "But Hartington had a lot of offensive ballplayers — they're real deep."

That fact was evidenced by Hartington's point production — seven players scored for the Wildcats. Wayne Johnson tallied 15 points while teammate Troy Fluen added 16. Two other Hartington players had 9 points each.

"It didn't make a difference who was shooting — it went in," Freburg said.

To compensate for Janke's absence, Freburg played John Hawkins and Chris Jorgensen "down low."

"They filled in pretty well," he said.

Hawkins finished the night with a team-high 17 points. Jim Roberts was next on the scoring chart with 10 points.

On the boards, Winside tore down 29 caroms and was led by Hawkins' 9 and Roberts' 7.

"Roberts really had a good game too — so did Doug Mundil," Freburg said.

Winside finished the evening hitting 50 percent (17 of 34) of its shots while Hartington bagged 55 percent (25 of 45).

Both teams are slated to begin action in the Lewis and Clark Tournament tonight (Monday).

Hartington will meet Laurel at 6:30 p.m. at Wausa while Wakefield is slated to take on Winside at Wakefield, also at 6:30 p.m.

Out of Whack

Yuk Bug hits Cats in mid-stride

The Yuk Bug finally caught up with the Winside Wildcats girls basketball team.

The Wildcats, winless on the season, were showing steady improvement their last few times out of the gate, but succumbed to Hartington and sickness Thursday night. Hartington bombed the Wildcats 52-27 as several Winside players were battling the cold and flu bug and starter Trisha Topp was out with a torn ligament in her right knee.

"I'm not saying that we should have beat Hartington, but I really feel sickness was a key," said Winside head coach Don Leighton. "We played the way we felt."

Leighton said his team was so out of whack that he cancelled practice on Friday to let his players convalesce.

The girls made mistakes like I couldn't believe," Leighton said. "The Wildcats committed 45 turnovers en route to the loss."

Scoring honors for the contest went to Hartington's Karen Waltz, who tallied 17 points. Winside was paced by Leah Jensen's 9 points. Winside ripped down 34 rebounds in its sick state, with Missy Jensen accounting for 7 and Pam Peter 6.

The Wildcat junior varsity dropped its second game of the season 22-19 as Teresa Brudigan and Julie Brockman each scored 6 points. Traci Topp led the Cats with 9 rebounds while Lane Prince and Karen Reeg each tore down 6.

The Wildcats were slated to play Wynot in the opening round of the Lewis and Clark Tournament last Saturday. Their next regular season game is scheduled on Feb. 7, also against Wynot.

FIGS

Eleven members of FIGS met Tuesday evening in the United Methodist Church. Mrs. Larry Carlson opened the meeting with prayer.

Don Longnecker had devotions. The topic was "Renewing our Views on Born Again and the New Birth." Pastor Carpenter closed the program with prayer.

It was decided to hold their meetings the third Tuesday of the month at 7:30 p.m. A mission offering for a needy family in Winside was discussed and acted upon.

The United Methodist Church will work with Trinity Lutheran and St. Paul's Lutheran Church on the "Good Neighbor Project" if a decision is made to go ahead with the project. Committees from the 3 churches will meet to make the final decision.

The Methodist Church would be interested in helping the town to have their own carnival for Old Settlers. Further discussions will be held on this with the members of the New Old Settlers Planning Board.

The Easter sunrise service was discussed.

A Valentine party with Mr. and Mrs. Duane Field and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Carlson in charge, is being planned to be held in February with a carry-in supper to be served in the social room of the church.

The March meeting will be held Tuesday, March 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the social room. They will be observing the birthday of FIGS.

Mrs. Don Longnecker will be in charge of refreshments and Mrs. Duane Field will have devotions. Pastor Carpenter closed with prayer.

FINE ARTS BOOSTERS

The Fine Arts Boosters met Monday in the band room for their monthly meeting.

It was decided the topics for discussion at the February meeting will be choir robes and the salad bar supper for the singing play. The nominating committee will also be appointed at this time.

All members are urged to attend and state views on the topics of discussion.

The next meeting will be held Monday, Feb. 13 at 7 p.m. in the band room.

ENROLLMENT POLICY
Because adult education classes are partially supported by registration fees, we must reserve the right to withdraw a class offering if enrollment is not adequate. This will be done, however, only after those who do register are given the opportunity to continue the course in such cases for a slightly higher fee or for fewer sessions.
Junior and senior high students are invited to attend these adult education courses.
Registration not complete until all charges paid. Fees will be collected the first evening of classes. Please pay all fees by check made payable to -NITCC. Please send no fees, except when preregistering for specific required courses. Fee will be refunded if a class is withdrawn. Persons enrolling may call the office of counselor between 8 a.m.-3 p.m. daily, Monday-Friday. Persons may enroll at the first session.
