THE WAYNE HERALD

Search is on for Wayne's oldest trees

The search is on. A sub-committee of the Historical-Cultural Committee for the Wayne Centennial is looking searching for some trees. Not just any trees will do. The committee hopes to identify the oldest and largest specimens of 18 tree species in the city of Wayne.

Charles R. Maier of the sub-committee said the "champions" will be identified and tagged and their occurrence will be recorded in a brochure in observance of the importance of trees.

THE SPECIES that will be included in the search will include: green ash, soft (silver) maple, American elm, hackberry, American linden or basswood, Siberian elm, honeylocust, white (silver) poplar, sugar maple, Norway maple, black walnut, Colorado blue spruce, Concolor (white) fir, Scotch pine, Eastern redcedar, Douglas fir, Austrian pine.

Maier said other specimens of trees also could be included. The committee has requested that anyone who knows of a tree that might be a "champion" contact the committee.

Double trouble for Daves

which kicked off Wayne's Centennial celebration. The event drew approximately 1,100 people to the Wayne city auditorium.

Bake-and-Bounce benefit is Feb. 16

Wayne businessmen and teachers are beginning to practice their baking skills and warm up their shooting touches in preparation for the second Bake-and-Bounce fundraiser. The event is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 16 with proceeds going to the American Heart Association.

A cake bake-off between businessmen and educators will tip things off. Participants will mix and bake cakes at Peoples Natural Gas Company from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. that day.

THE BAKING committee of Bill Dickey, Phil Kloster and Paul Peterson is looking for volunteer bakers.

Each baker will have 1 hour to bake a cake and additional time to decorate it. Cakes will be displayed the rest of the day at the gas company office and later will be judged and auctioned off at the city auditorium during half-time of the basketball game between the businessmen and educators. Auctioneer Stan Baier encourages the public to bid on the cakes in order to raise money for the heart fund.

WSC contract approved

The Nebraska State Colleges Board of Trustees approved a three year faculty contract at Wayne State, Kearney State and Peru State Colleges Friday.

The contract will include a 25 percent discount on tuition for spouses and children of faculty members at WSC, KSC and PSC. The contract was approved by a 6-1 vote. Board member J. Alan Cramer of Wayne opposed the contract, saying it discriminates against unmarried faculty members.

Annual photo show will have added feature

The Wayne Regional Arts Council's annual photography show will take a new twist this year. In addition to the usual, judged photo show, the council hopes to display old photos of the show in honor of Wayne's centennial celebration. The old photos will not be judged. There is no size restriction on those.

divisions in the show with color and black and white photos welcome. Judging will be made in 5 categories: still life, people, animals, action, and panorama. Judges have not yet been determined.

Filing deadlines are set; Nissen decides to rerun

Robert Nissen of rural Wayne is the latest office holder to file for office. The Wayne County commissioner filed as a Republican candidate Wednesday, according to County Clerk Orgetta Morris.

Nissen, 42, was appointed to fill the District II commissioner post following the resignation of Kenneth Eddie in June. Eight individuals had applied for the position and Nissen was appointed by a board composed of the county treasurer, clerk and attorney.

NEBRASKA'S PRIMARY Election is scheduled May 15. Incumbents for all offices must file by March 1.

IN WINSIDE. the positions held by C.O. Witt and Nancy Warnemunde on the village board will be open to election.

Stage left: Laurel man backpacks across Europe

By Randy Hascall

Talk about good timing! Roger Stage of Laurel was at Harrods Department Store in London 3 days before it was bombed by a car bomb.

STAGE, WHO graduated from Laurel Concord High School in 1978, said the anti-Americanism at the time in Europe is stronger than he expected.

He said many Europeans seemed to be "terrified of Reagan" and "resent the fact that the U.S. steps on their toes sometimes."

BY TRAVELING through Europe, Stage said he was reminded of some American rights and privileges that often are taken for granted.

THE SON OF Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stage said he saw many different lifestyles on his trip. In the socialist countries there was more police supervision, he said.

materialistic. You were always a friend in both countries.

Stage said he thought less of Switzerland than most people do and referred to it as a tourist attraction. He said there were no rich or poor people in Sweden or Norway. West Germany was similar to the U.S. in several ways, he said.

STAGE MADE the European trip by himself but said he was seldom alone. He said he found people who spoke English in nearly every country.

The UNL graduate purchased for $350 a two month youth rail pass which provided unlimited train travel throughout most of Europe. He later bought another one month pass. Stage termed the rail system efficient and inexpensive and said he used it 90 percent of the time.

He carried a 15 pound back pack with him during the trip and spent most of his nights in youth hostels. Stage said he hitchhiked in Eastern Europe.

BECAUSE HE eventually ran out of time on his train pass and low on money, Stage didn't get a chance to visit Egypt. He also didn't get to the Soviet Union because of a delay in getting a visa.

He said he was surprised how inexpensive the trip was. He claims it cost less than one third as much per day as going to college did.

AND HOW DID Roger's mother feel about the European trip?

Mrs. Stage said she told Roger she wanted him to send a post card home once a week—even if it just included his name and where he sent it from. That way she would know he was safe and where he was.

ROGER STAGE is back from Europe.

Wayne native earns scholarship

Leuts Roemhildt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Roemhildt of Wayne, was honored with a $500 scholarship at a freshman honors program held at Methodist School of Nursing in Omaha, Monday.

The program recognizes the achievements of freshman students who have earned grade point averages of 3.0 or above for the first semester.

Roemhildt was 1 of 12 freshman students at the school to receive the award which was made possible by donations to The Nebraska Methodist Hospital Foundation.

Nebraska pioneer family award

The Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben and the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers announced today that nominations for the twenty-ninth annual Nebraska Pioneer Farm Family awards are being accepted. The program honors farm families in Nebraska whose land has been owned by the same family for 100 years or more.

Leon Meyer, Milligan, president of the Association, pointed out that 2,826 farm families in 70 counties have been honored at various county fairs during the first twenty-eight years of the project.

President Meyer and Orville Koch, Syracuse, Nebraska, secretary-treasurer, said that again this year the honored families will receive an engraved walnut plaque and an aluminum gatepost marker for each farm from the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, plus a special framed citation from the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers.

In addition, Ak-Sar-Ben will host the honored families at an annual banquet during the organization's 57th Livestock Exposition and Rodeo, Sept. 19 through 30.

All nominations must be submitted by May 15 to the Secretary of the local County Fair Board, President Meyer said.

Art show in Nordstrand Gallery

Priscilla Fenton's art show, "Attempts at Preservation. Microthographic Evidence," is currently on display in the Nordstrand Gallery, located on the upper level of the Val-Peter-son Fine Arts Center on the Wayne State College campus.

Fenton, a doctoral student at the University of Iowa, combines her interests in archaeology, preservation, and documentation for her art show.

Her work has been shown in galleries in Bowling Green and Toledo, Ohio, and will be moved to Murry State University in Kentucky after its showing at Wayne State.

The show, which will run until Feb. 10, is free and open to the public. Nordstrand Gallery is open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Open house at Wayne High School

Feb. 12-18 has been designated as National Vocational Education Week. Wayne High School will hold an open house Monday, Feb. 13, from 7:30 to 9 p. m.

Parents, students and community members are encouraged to visit the vocational shop and business programs as well as view student projects. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Paige's Vocational Office Practice students.

Local students on honor roll

More than 1,700 students at Wichita State University have been named to the dean's honor roll for the fall semester of 1983.

These students earned at least a 3.25 grade point average on a 4.0 system for their semester's work and were enrolled in at least 12 credit hours of classes.

Mark Alan Brandt of Wayne is 1 of the honor roll students.

Great Plains film scheduled

"The Land," one of six programs being presented as part of "The Great Plains Experience series," will be shown today (Monday) on the Wayne State College campus.

"The Land," which focuses on the varied and changing perceptions of the Great Plains over time, will be presented by Robert Foote, associate professor of geography at Wayne State University, and Pulitzer Prize winner Wallace Stegner is the host and narrator for the film.

All residents of the area are invited to attend the free 90-minute session at 1:30 p. m. in Ley Theatre. The program will be repeated at 7:30 p. m. in Ramsey Theatre. Both are located on the Wayne State College campus.

Dates and locations for other "Great Plains Experience" films will be announced. All of the films focus on the people who were responsible for the events that shaped the history of the Great Plains.

Concordia choir performing in Wayne

The internationally acclaimed Concordia Choir from Moorhead, Minn., under the direction of Dr. Paul Christianson will appear in concert at Wayne Carroll High School on Sunday, Feb. 12 at 7:30 p. m.

Tickets are $3 for the general public and $2 for students. They can be purchased from Rob Stuber at Wayne High School or from the Fine Arts Division at Wayne State College.

Dixon County Fair dates changed

For the first time in many years, the Dixon County Fair will be held during July.

Ross Armstrong of Ponca, president of the Dixon County Fair Board, said dates for the 1984 fair are July 23-24 and 25.

Armstrong said the fair was changed to July because a carnival could not be secured in August.

Cub Scout Pack 175 meets

Cub Scout Pack 175 met Jan. 31. A film on the Heimlich maneuver was viewed, and a report on travel safety in winter was given.

Troy Kaup and Nathan Tompkins received their citizenship and Webelos badges.

Next pack meeting will be the Blue and Gold Banquet on Feb. 28 in the First United Methodist Church fellowship hall.

Catalog of books released

The U.S. Government Printing Office has released a free catalog of almost 1,000 of the government's bestsellers. Official sales agent for U.S. Government publications is the GPO, stocks more than 16,000 titles, including 550 subscriptions.

The catalog is being made available to the public through a nationwide Public Service Announcement campaign. Utilizing broadcast and print media, the PSAs present the scope and utility of government books and invite interested persons to write for a free catalog.

The U.S. government books catalog is part of an extensive program being undertaken by the Government Printing Office to make Americans aware of the information resources available to them through government publications. The catalog may be obtained by writing New Catalog, P.O. Box 37000, Washington, DC 20013.

Other

by randy hessell

A clean desk is a sign of a sick mind. That's what I keep telling myself every time I even think about cleaning off my desk at the office.

And if that's the case, then the only person I know who is more sane than I is The Wayne Herald Sports Editor Kevin O'Hanlon.

However, I find it difficult to believe that anyone who hangs an overstuffed billy goal head on his wall could possibly be sane.

My desk is so amazing that they are considering making it the eighth wonder of the world. (It truly is a wonder that I can find anything on it.) Trying to find a specific item on my desk is much like trying to locate a swimming pool in the Antarctic.

I take care of my desk about as well as Congress takes care of the national deficit. Things just keep piling up and the mess gets deeper.

Unfortunately, every item on and in my desk happens to be vital to a newspaper person.

There are the usual hardcore newspaper things. Like a telephone, legal pads, pens, a polarizing filter, 3 photos of my son and an alarm clock to wake me from my daily afternoon naps.

Then, there are the important things that set newspaper editors apart from many people.

Things like a key to the back door of the newspaper building—a key that I had made 2 months ago and then learned that it didn't work to unlock the door.

And, of course, it's important that every editor have a giant Las Vegas die which doubles as a pen holder.

Behind my stacks of 37 notes, are the cold sore medicine and throat discs that seem to find their way to my desk each winter. What desk would be complete without those?

Next to my phone are a box of round toothpicks and a small bottle of cinnamon flavoring. I keep them there to chew on when people decide to chew at me via the telephone.

Between my dictionary and thesaurus is a dusty stack of books on news writing, feature writing, composition, mass media and grammar.

Included in my editing collection, of course, are a science fiction quiz book, an energy saving manual and a book called, "2,000 More Insults." Now those books really come in handy.

Rounding out the meat of my collection are a playing card autographed by the famous card thrower Ricky Jay, a broken clock radio and 7 consecutive years of Wayne State student directories.

Those things are musts to successful newspapering. They are typically found on the desks of newspapers nationwide.

There also are some items in my top-center desk drawer that every editor should have.

Those items include:
• A steak knife used to threaten members of the staff who don't meet deadlines.
• A set of finger nail clippers used by the entire staff.

• Some five-minute epoxy to patch up the newspaper on bad days.

• 2 cotton swabs used to clean your ears after listening to an angry customer.

• A tube of muscle analgesic for sore muscles during softball season.

• A reporter's handbook on media law (I don't know how that got in there).

• A bottle of aspirin for all the headaches that go along with putting out a newspaper.

• A dead camera battery to remind you to order another before the one in the camera goes dead.

• A magnet used to check for metal parts of time bombs that may be planted in the editor's chair.

• A small, plastic box of wire nails used to torture advertising salesmen who don't bring in their ads early enough.

Laws offer benefits

By Congressman Bereuter

For the rapidly growing older segment of the nation's population, the tax laws offer a number of special tax benefits, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

For instance, anyone 65 or older is entitled to an extra exemption of $1,000. This means an automatic additional reduction to income of $1,000 for single persons, and $2,000 for a married couple, both 65 and older, who file a joint return.

DO SENIOR citizens have to file at all? In some cases, yes, since filing a tax return has nothing to do with age, it's income that decides that question.

Single persons 65 or over do not have to file a federal income tax return if their income was less than $4,300. The limit for a married couple, filing a joint return, with only one spouse 65 or older, is $6,400. $7,400 if both spouses are 65 or over.

For tax purposes, persons are considered to be 65 on the day before their 65th birthday. An important benefit to keep in mind is that Social Security payments are not taxable for 1983. The same holds true for Railroad Retirement benefits. Beginning in 1984, however, part of your Social Security payments may be taxable depending on your income.

Another special benefit is the Credit for the Elderly. The credit can in some cases, but not all, reduce taxes owed by as much as $375 for single persons and $562.50 for married couples who file a joint return.

Although the credit generally applies to persons 65 or older, for 1983 it is available to those under 65, if they have a taxable pension from a public retirement system.

Starting in 1984, individuals under 65 will be eligible for this credit only if they retire with total and permanent disability and have income from a public or private employer because of that disability.

SENIOR CITIZENS who are thinking about selling their personal residence should consider the once-in-a-lifetime $125,000 exclusion of the gain on the sale of their home. An awareness of the tax consequence is essential before selling a personal residence at any age, but doubly so for those age 55 or older to who this benefit applies.

Taxpayers needing assistance with their returns can turn to Tax Counseling for the Elderly, an IRS program through which organizational volunteers provide free tax information and assistance to individuals age 60 and over.

You may obtain free publications by using the mail order form in your tax package. Publications of special interest to older taxpayers include: 502 Medical and Dental Expenses; 505 Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax; 523 Tax Information on Selling Your Home; 524 Credit for the Elderly; 554 Tax Benefits for Older Americans; 575 Pension and Annuity Income; 910 Taxpayer's Guide to IRS Information and Assistance.

ask a lawyer

a public service of the nebraska state bar association

Q: My will has been signed by 2 parties. One of them has married and has left the state. Is the will still good? Also, my son is the personal representative. He lives out of state. Is this legal?

A: The validity of your will is not affected by the fact that the witnesses and/or personal representative live in another state. As long as the son you have named as personal representative is otherwise qualified by age and suitability, he does not need to reside in Nebraska.

However, he should be available to perform the duties of personal representative upon your death, and if this presents a problem you may want to consider naming a co-personal representative or a successor personal representative.

During a formal probate proceeding, the testimony of at least one of the attesting witnesses is sometimes required. Again, if the individuals who witnessed your will are not available at the time of your death, it could lead to some delay and difficulty in the probate of your estate.

Most wills now are made "self proved" by the addition of an "attestation clause" which is a notarized statement indicating that the witnesses knew what they were signing and are willing to swear to the authenticity of the signature on the will itself.

A "self proved" will may be admitted to probate without the testimony of witnesses. In situations where the witnesses have moved, died or forgotten their role in witnessing a will, this can be especially valuable.

A will which has already been signed can be made self proved at a later date by the addition of an attestation clause signed by the testator (person making the will) and witnesses before a notary or other official of the state.

Check with your attorney to determine whether your will contains a properly executed attestation clause.

If you have a legal question write "Ask a Lawyer" P O Box 2529 Lincoln 68502. This column is intended to provide general legal information, not specific legal advice. "Ask a Lawyer" is a public service of the Nebraska State Bar Association.

Centennial kick off goes well

To the editor:

On behalf of the Wayne Centennial Steering Committee, I'd like to thank all the people responsible for the successful Centennial Kick Off held Thursday night at the auditorium.

This includes all the volunteers and organizations who gave us their time in the Woman's Club Room as well as during the pork feed.

Special appreciation is extended to the Wayne County Pork Producers for their planning and meal preparation.

Most of all, we are grateful to the 1,100 people who came to our celebration. We appreciate your support! Keep up the enthusiastic response, there's a lot more to come!

Bud Froehlich
Centennial Steering Committee chairman
P. S. Wayne media are to be commended for fine coverage of this special part of the centennial celebration.

street talk

The drinking age has been drawing attention in the Nebraska Legislature as well as with the governments of many other states. This week, The Wayne Herald asked 5 people, "Do you think there should be a uniform drinking age throughout the country or do you think each state should set its own drinking age?"

"A uniform age. Then you could go to any state and not worry about what the drinking age is. It used to be that people who weren't old enough to drink in Nebraska went to Iowa drinking. They they drove back drunk. If the age was the same, they couldn't have gone at all." — Paul Lindner, Wayne.

"I think they should be the same. Now, it's too easy to cross the state line and drink. That leads to hazardous driving." — Chris Marr, Dodge.

"I think there should be a uniform one because it would be a little harder for kids to go across the state line and get liquor." — Carol Gustafson, Wayne.

"I suppose a uniform age. Lots of kids are going out of state just to get alcohol." — Sandy Utech, Wayne.

"I think each state should choose its own drinking age. Each state has its own privilege to do what it wants to." — Scott Bart, Dodge.

Artists-in-the-schools program featuring Wayne dance instructor

A three-week program of dance, which began Jan. 30 in the Wayne Community School system, is designed to introduce students, teachers, parents and other community residents to the arts and to enhance existing arts programs.

Mary Halverstadt, a dance instructor from Wayne, is the artist-in-residence for the program, which is made possible by the Wayne Regional Arts Council and a grant from the Nebraska Arts Council.

The program, which runs through the week of Feb. 13, involves elementary through high school students.

HALVERSTADT HAS been an approved artist in the dance division of the Artists-in-the-Schools program since Sept. 1, 1983. The program is sponsored by the Nebraska Arts Council.

Following her three-week residency in Wayne, Halverstadt will travel to western Nebraska for residencies in two communities there.

A NATIVE of Kansas, Halverstadt was educated at Kansas State Teachers College in Emporia, where she pursued her BS degree with a triple major in mathematics, physics and chemistry.

She received her degree in 1972 following her marriage to her husband Don. The couple moved to Wichita, Kan., where Don was manager of User Services for the computer center at Wichita State University.

While at Wichita State, Mary took classes in jazz, ballet and modern dance, and later became involved in the university's student performing company.

DURING THE next 7 years she took a variety of classes and began teaching at the university.

During summers, she studied intensively with Bella Lowitzky Dance Co. and received graduate credit for that work from the University of Southern California.

She also has studied with Jean Erdman, Georgiana Holmes, Daniel Maloney and Toni Intraiva, with master classes taken with James Cunningham, Anne Hebard, Nancy Hauser Co. and the Joffrey Ballet.

Mary received her master of arts degree in dance from the University of Colorado in 1982, where she studied with Charlotte Irely.

MARY AND Don, director of management information services at Wayne State College, moved to Wayne in 1982.

Since moving to Wayne, she has served as choreographer for "Godspell," produced last May by Wayne State College, and for "South Pacific," a production of Wayne Community Theatre last August.

She is the choreographer/sponsor of the Wayne State College Aristocats drill team, and has taught classes in modern and theatre dance at Wayne State.

In addition, she has taught classes in ballet, tap and jazz dance for the community.

MARY SERVES as an evaluator for groups touring throughout the state for the Nebraska Arts Council, and is assisting the Wayne Community Theatre in writing and producing the community's centennial pageant to be presented in September. All interested residents of the community are invited to observe her classes at Wayne Community School.

Homemakers wed 35 years

Mr. and Mrs. Don Harmer of Norfolk, formerly of Carroll, observed their 35th wedding anniversary Jan. 28 when their children, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Longnecker of Winside and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harmer of Norfolk, hosted a surprise social evening in the Don Harmer home.

A grandson, Jason Longnecker, also resides in Winside. Guests attended from Kansas City, Mo.; South Sioux City, Lincoln, Norfolk, Coleridge, Wayne, Winside and Carroll. Seven tables of cards were played.

Mrs. Jim Harmer baked the anniversary cake, which was cut and served by Mrs. Herb Willis of Winside and Mrs. John Bowers of Carroll.

Don Harmer and Doris Bowers, both of Carroll, were married Jan. 26, 1949. Their attendants were Dwain French of Buhl, Idaho and Mrs. Dean Owens of Carroll.

The couple farmed in the Carroll area until 2 years ago when they moved to Norfolk.

Club exchanges baked goods

A Valentine exchange of baked goods was held at the Feb. 2 meeting of the Logan Homemakers Home Extension Club, held in the home of Mrs. Reuben Meyer.

Members sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and answered roll call with a poem or story about the flag. Hearts was played during the afternoon.

Next meeting is scheduled March 1 with Mrs. Wilbur Noft at 2 p.m.

Town Twirlers dance in Laurel

The Town Twirlers Square Dance Club held a free dance Jan. 29 in the Laurel city auditorium. There were 5 squares of dancing, and caller was Bob Johnson of Norfolk. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Kraemer of Allen.

Graduation of the new square dancing class is scheduled Feb. 19. Hosts are Mr. and Mrs. Don Cunningham of Dixon and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Junck of Carroll, and caller will be Dean Dedermann of Norfolk.

Tops 782 groups

Tops 782 met recently and made plans for a soup and pie supper to be held in March.

Four new members joined in January. Tops best loser for December was Darci Frahm, and Kops best loser was Darleen Dunklau.

The group met for a Christmas party in January. Kops Mary Gamble received a gold charm for being on or below her goal for 12 consecutive weeks.

Next meeting of the group will be Feb. 7 at 6:30 p.m. in the Wayne National Guard Armory.

Duo Club meets at Grace

Vice President Harold Ekberg conducted the Jan. 30 meeting of Grace Lutheran Duo Club, with 24 attending. Guests were Leon and Melvyn Meyer.

The Rev. Jonathan Vogel showed slides, and the group listened to a cassette of Luther's large catechism.

Donations were made to Camp Luther at Schuyler and for Project Lebanon for broadcast of The Lutheran Hour.

The group discussed Wayne's centennial parade, upcoming LLL drive, LLL zone realignment, and the Feb. 26 Lutheran Hour broadcast.

Lunch was served by Fritz and Leona Janke and Fritz and Faye Mann.

Next meeting is scheduled Feb. 27.

Second annual graduation dance

The Leather and Lace Square Dance Club will hold its second annual graduation dance Monday, Feb. 13 at 8 p.m. in the north dining hall of the Student Center on the Wayne State College campus.

Caller will be Dean Dedermann.

Nebraska - Arizona picnic slated

Winter visitors and former Nebraskans now residing in Arizona are invited to attend the annual Nebraska-Arizona picnic on Sunday, March 4 at Centennial Hall, 2nd St. and Center Mesa, Ariz.

There will be special entertainment and door prizes. Registration begins at 11 a.m. followed with dinner at noon.

Persons attending are asked to bring a basket lunch and non alcoholic beverage.

baptisms

Dawn Marie Koepke

Dawn Marie Koepke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Koepke of Hoskins, was baptized during worship services Jan. 29 at Zion Lutheran Church, Hoskins.

The Rev. Michael Klatt officiated, and sponsors were Kevin Fiesner and Margaret Pentico.

Dinner guests afterward in the Koepke home included Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Fiesner and Mrs. Esther Koehler of Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Koehler and Brandon of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Eldreth Pentico of Randolph, Lonnie Svitak and Margaret Pentico of Norfolk, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Koepke and Pastor Klatt. # SHOP LOCALLY!

Cut down on unnecessary mileage and save on gasoline

With the cost of gasoline increasing by a few cents per gallon nearly everyday, you can't afford to waste it. Who can. So why shop in another town when local merchants can supply you with everything you need — all conveniently close to where you live. From clothes, to groceries, to vacation supplies, smart shoppers know that shopping locally is the very best way to go.

When you shop locally, everyone benefits. It's more convenient so you save gas and time. You get friendly, knowledgeable service because local merchants "know" you and appreciate your business. They depend on you to keep their stores going strong. And some of what you spend goes back into the community in the form of taxes and charitable contributions paid by the merchants.

Help for accidental poisoning available through Sioux City

For every 1,000 persons who live in the Wayne area, there will be 15 accidental poison exposures in 1984.
Whether it's a curious child who inadvertently poisons himself with a household cleaner, a farmer who accidentally inhales an insecticide or someone who takes too many pills, there is help available only a phone call away.
Poison treatment experts are on duty 24 hours a day at the Poison Center in Sioux City's St. Luke's Regional Medical Center. The Poison Center nurses can tell you how to deal with the poison exposure — whether it can be treated at home or referred to the nearest community hospital.
"WE FIND that about 85 percent of poison cases can be treated at home," said Linda Kalin, nurse and coordinator of the Poison Center. "But in some cases, the poison victim should be taken to the nearest hospital." In such cases, nurses at St.

Luke's Poison Center will call the emergency department at the closest community hospital to let them know of the incident and advise the staff how to treat the victim.
Even if you only suspect that someone may have been exposed to poison, Kalin said, call the Poison Center's toll free number to make sure the substance isn't harmful.
While St. Luke's Poison Center provides treatment information for poison cases, its real goal is to prevent poisonings before they happen.
The nurses travel around a 32-county area to present poison education programs for children, or adults. During 1983, nearly 7,000 persons attended these poison prevention programs.
CHILDREN'S GROUPS learn about Mr. Yuk, the scowling green and black face which means don't taste, touch or smell. Parents can place Mr. Yuk stickers on any hazardous household substance — even young children away from danger.

Educational programs for adults cover how to poison proof your home for children. They also learn that adults can suffer accidental poisonings from substances such as household cleaners, lawn chemicals, pesticides or carbon monoxide.
Other programs are available for rescue squads and emergency room personnel.
Programs can be arranged by calling St. Luke's education department at 712-279-3213, or writing to that department at 2720 Stone Park Blvd., Sioux City, Iowa 51104.
Mr. Yuk stickers may be obtained from the St. Luke's Poison Center by writing to the center at the above address.
And in case of accidental poisoning, call the Poison Center's toll free number in Iowa, it is 800-352-2222. Individuals call 800-352-2222.

Laurel 26 Wynot 20

The Laurel girls basketball team advanced to the championship game of the Lewis and Clark Conference basketball tournament at Wayne State College last Saturday night by virtue of a 26-22 victory over Wynot at Wausa on Friday.

The Bears won the tournament last year with a win over Emerson-Hubbard.

Laurel coach Gale Hamilton, while happy to be playing for the championship, was not overly pleased with having to play two games in as many nights.

"It's tough to get up twice in a row, but I guess they (Ponca) are in the same boat we are," Hamilton said.

THE BEARS found themselves in a slow boat to China on Friday in the form of a low-scoring and often sloppily-played game. Both teams were plagued by poor shooting and turnovers.

Laurel drew first blood and went out in front 10-4 on a Jean Lute bucket at the 1:22 mark in the first period. A Wendy Robson free throw made it 11-4 in the Bears' favor before Wynot tallied a bucket off of a Shelly Driver steal as time ran out to put the tally at 11-8 at the end of the period.

The Blue Devils battled back, tied things at 11-11, and took the lead at 12-11 before Lute hit with 20 seconds left to give the Bears a 13-12 advantage.

The Devils didn't quit though, and got a bucket at the buzzer to take a 13-12 lead into the locker room at the half.

NEITHER TEAM set the hoop on fire in the third period. Laurel managed just four points — all by Lute, while the Devils were shut out. The tally stood at 17-14 after three periods.

Wynot tied things again at 20-20 with 3:18 left in the game, but the Bears played like a veteran team, keeping their collective cool and drawing several fouls to go up 23-20 at the 54 second mark. Lute and Robson each added free throws after that to put the icing on the cake and send the Bears to the championship.

Hamilton said the Bears kept letting the Blue Devils back in the game by turning the ball over — several times via steals.

"We couldn't handle their pressure," Hamilton said. "It seemed like we were getting fouled quite a bit, but it's incidental contact when you've got your hands on the ball and they slap it like that."

HAMILTON SAID part of the Bears' problems were because of youth. Laurel started 2 freshmen, a sophomore and a junior against the Devils.

He also credited Wynot's team quickness, which dealt the Bears fits in the early going. "I guess we knew they were quicker than us, so we were just trying to be real deliberate with our passes," Hamilton said. "Once we played a while and saw we could stay with them, we were all right."

ROBSON AND Lute led the Bears in the scoring department with 9 points each, while Wynot was paced by Bette Hochstein's 8 points.

Laurel hit just 27 percent (8 of 29) of its shots from the floor while the Blue Devils were 10-of-25 (40 percent).

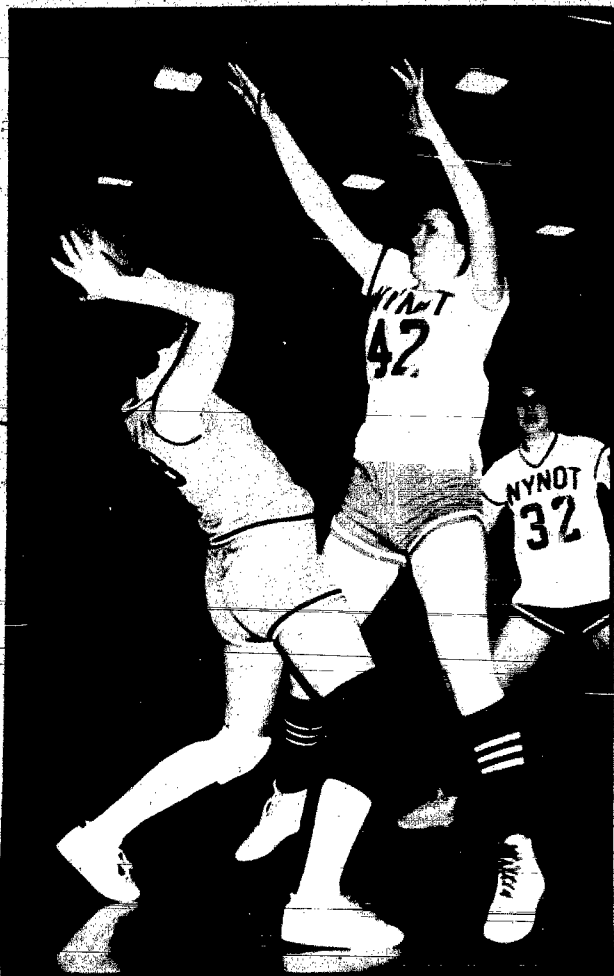

The difference was at the free throw line, where Laurel was 10 of 21 while Wynot was sent to the line just 6 times and came away with 2 points.

The Bears tore down 30 rebounds compared to 24 for the Devils. Robson, Lute and Gail Twiford each tallied 7.

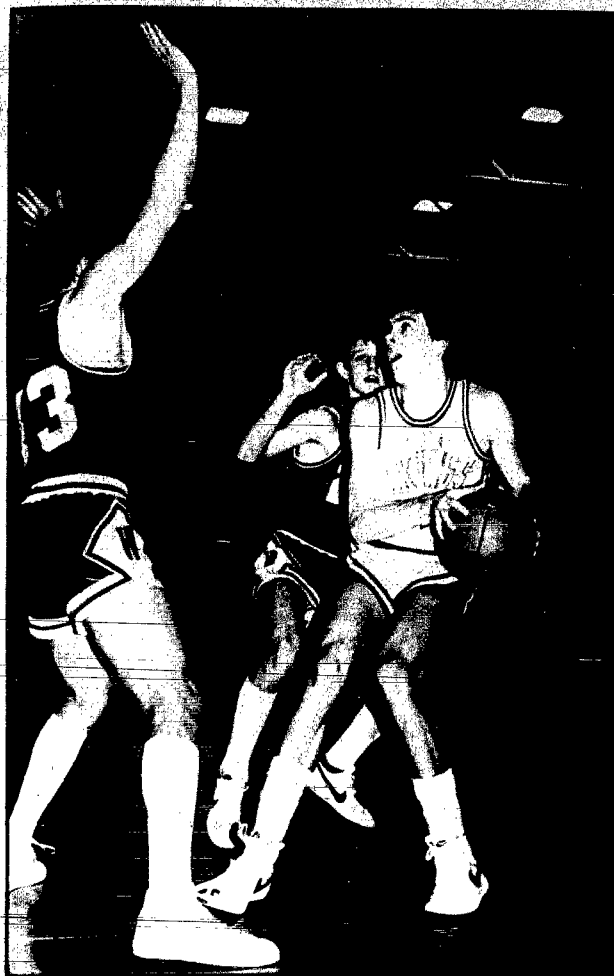

Results from Laurel's championship game against Ponca will appear in Thursday's Wayne Herald.

Wausa 62 Wakefield 50

The Wausa Vikings boys basketball team parlayed a 19-point third period into a 62-50 victory over Wakefield and earned a trip to the championship game of the Lewis and Clark Conference Tournament scheduled last Saturday night at Wayne State College.

The Vikings, who led just 26-24 at the half, exploded in the third period and went up 45-30 at the buzzer on a flip-in by Bryan Tucker. The basket ignited the Vikings as well as the partisan home-town crowd. Wausa poured it on and led by as many as 20 points before a scrappy Trojan defense forced several turnovers to pull Wakefield within 55-46 off of a Brian Soderberg layup after a steal.

BY THAT time though, it was all over but the shouting, as Wausa went into a stall with 4 minutes left in the game and all the Trojans could do was keep sending the Vikes to the line.

Wakefield coach Ernie Kovar was proud of his team after the loss.

"Evertime you go out and play, you want to score more points than the other team," he said. "The kids are kind of down, I guess because we beat this team earlier (45-37 on Dec. 16), but we're happy — we've been playing some good basketball."

Kovar said the difference between the loss to Wausa and Thursday night's 56-55 win over Osmond was shooting.

THE TROJANS hit 16 of 40 (40 percent) on Thursday night, and hit 38 percent (21 of 55) against the Vikes, but Wausa hit 57 percent of its shots compared to just 39 percent for Osmond.

"They (Wausa) just knocked our lights out," Kovar said. "For the type of shots they were getting (off the deep corner), I thought that that was some pretty fine shooting — that stuff hurt us."

Wakefield went into a man to man defense after falling behind, a move Kovar said he had no choice in making.

"It was either that or get beat by 20 or 30 points," he said.

Kovar also said free throws loomed large in the loss.

"They hit several free throws going down to the wire that pretty well did us in," he said.

WAUSA HAD 4 players score in double figures.

Dave Fink led the way with 19 points while Rob Bengston added 15. Terry Nelson and Kirk Olfeman tallied 12 and 11 points respectively.

Wakefield was paced by Brian Soderberg's 19 points while teammate Jeff Coble added 11.

On the boards, the Vikings held a slim 30-28 edge.

"They got a lot of key rebounds and often gave boards that hurt us," Kovar said.

Wade Nicholson led the Trojans with 9 caroms.

Wakefield is idle until Friday night, when the Trojans are slated to travel to Coleridge.

Wausa was slated to meet Newcastle in Saturday's championship contest at Rice Auditorium.

Vikes out Laurel

Laurel's boys basketball team was eliminated from further competition in the Lewis and Clark Conference Tournament by virtue of a 58-51 loss to Wausa on Thursday night.

The Bears came out in a 1-3-1 zone defense and managed to shut down the Viking attack in the early going. The Bears held a 12-8 advantage after the first period.

The Vikes finally got straightened out and adjusted to the Bears' attack, outscoring Laurel 17-12 in the second stanza to take a slim 25-24 lead into the locker room at intermission.

The second half saw the Vikings pour it on as they tallied 15 points in the third period and 18 in the fourth en route to the win.

Wausa burned the Bear defense with great outside shooting, especially from 6-0 senior Dave Fink, who finished the night with 16 points. Fink tallied 6 field goals from the 15 to 20 foot range in the fourth period.

"He just didn't miss," said Laurel head coach John Heid. "That's the best outside shooting I've seen."

The Bears put on a shooting exhibition of their own in the first half, hitting 12 of 24 shots from the field, but cooled off in the second half to bring their average to 39 percent (24 of 61) in the night.

"We were getting the shots in the second half but they just wouldn't fall," Heid said. "Wausa finished shooting 45 percent (23 of 57) in the night."

The Bears were paced by juniors Troy Heitman and Mike Forsberg, who each scored 10 points.

Vikings Rob Bengston and Kirk Olfeman tied for scoring honors with 18 points each. On the boards, Laurel held a 43-39 advantage as Mark Penlerick tore down 11 caroms.

Laurel will take on Coleridge tonight

Monday on the road before meeting the Vikings again on Friday at Wausa.

"We're looking forward to playing them again," Heid said.

Firearms workshop planned

The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission's Outdoor Education Division has scheduled an outdoor education workshop on Home Firearms Safety for Women which will be held at the Commercial Federal Savings and Loan, 13737 G Street, in Millard, at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 8.

The program will cover the basics of becoming acquainted with firearm safety at home, how to answer kid's questions about firearms, and techniques for the safe handling, loading and unloading of various types of firearms.

Vacation planning is topic

The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission's Outdoor Education Division has scheduled a workshop on "Vacation Planning" at Auld Recreation Center in Antelope Park, 31st and Summer, in Lincoln at 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 9.

The workshop will include a rundown on Nebraska's vacation spots, high spots, and other public areas and the activities they offer. Experienced Nebraska guides will chat with you about planning your vacation, listing attractions along the route and where to find cabins, RV camping areas, and developed and primitive tent camping areas.

Game and Parks Commission: Ice shanties must be off ice by Feb. 10.

The Game and Parks Commission reminds ice fishermen their permanent fishing shanties must be removed from state owned areas by Feb. 10.

Assistant Commission Director Dale Bree says a recent period of warm weather has caused deterioration of ice conditions on most areas across the state. He said he would prefer ice fishermen remove their shanties prior to the Feb. 10 deadline because if they wait, they may not be able to get to their shelters to take them off the ice.

"We've had people out checking the ice on several areas, and they are beginning to feel uncomfortable being there," Bree said.

Most areas of the state are reporting unsafe ice conditions and anglers should use extreme caution when venturing out to fish. Though the ice may be quite thick in one area, it can be much thinner only a few feet away. Thawing and refreezing makes ice unsafe, unsafe and causes inconsistencies in ice thickness.

Student Voice

New Teacher

"I've learned from my experience and mistakes," said Mrs. Carol Manganaro, math 8, pre-algebra, senior math, and geometry teacher at Laurel High. Student motivation and pride in their work make Mrs. Manganaro's teaching enjoyable for her. The respect students have for her helps too, she admitted. According to Monica Nelson, a sophomore, "Her fairness and understanding enables us to enjoy her class."

ed the Reach Out Singers, which is affiliated with "Outreach for Christ International," and also by discussing it with the group's talent coordinator, who Dawn describes as a "good Christian man who was very helpful."

Other people to whom Dawn feels grateful include her parents and Mrs. Dvorak, the vocal music teacher at Laurel-Concord Public School for "Her super guidance."

Dawn will begin her adventure on June 5 when she departs from Sioux Falls. After several days of orientation, she will begin her tour of first the New England states, then on to Finland, Sweden, and Russia. She will return Aug. 19, which will be a total of 2 1/2 months away from home.

Although Dawn will be gone for some time, she doesn't feel she will be homesick, except maybe when she turns 18 overseas, but even then she knows that she has the support and love of her parents. She also thinks this trip will make it easier to leave home to attend Doane college this fall.

Dawn's mother thinks it will be "a very good experience for Dawn. She is finding it to be an exciting challenge." She continued by saying, "If anyone can do it, Dawn can." Dawn also believes she can do it with God's help as she stated, "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me (Philippians 4:13)."

When Dawn is overseas, she thinks that she will like Finland especially well. "Just because she's always pictured Finland as a beautiful country." She also thinks she will enjoy the friends she will make in the group and is looking forward to the 17 hour flight to Europe.

Mrs. Manganaro, cooperation, respect for others, pride and responsibility play a large part in competition. Agreeing with Jean Lute, "Laurel's volleyball team has more pride than a lot of teams will ever have." Mrs. Manganaro said.

Mrs. Manganaro taught 3 years at Hartington Public School before coming to Laurel. She received her Associate of Arts from Norfolk Tech and her BA from Wayne State College.

European Summer Dawn Westadt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Westadt, will be leaving home on June 5, but not for college like most of her senior classmates at Laurel-Concord Public School. Instead she will be leaving to begin a singing tour in three European countries.

Miss Westadt became interested in the trip to Finland, Sweden, and Russia after hearing the Christian singing group call-the residents of Laurel to help her make it to Europe. Dawn says that "Laurel was a great place to grow up. Most everyone supported me in the past and I'm confident they will support me in the future."

Gossip: talk that hurts How did you feel the last time you had a hot story, inside tip, or fantazizing bit of news about someone or something? You probably couldn't wait to share it, and you probably had no trouble finding an audience either.

Gossip is small talk about someone, often about things heard from others, but not know to be fact.

Gossip goes on in cafeterias, at work, at home, on the phone, and between friends and neighbors. According to Laurel High School students, gossip takes place in and outside of the school such as hallways, classrooms, locker rooms, the parking lot and at school activities. The main gossip takes place during lunch.

People often gossip because of what they get out of it — time and attention. It can also be a way of passing the time, exchanging information, relieving boredom, and keeping the conversation going. It is also a way of sorting out our values and feelings about things that are going on around us.

Laurel guys and girls honestly feel girls gossip more than guys because they are more competitive and want more attention. As one guy stated, "Girls are more emotional and gossip is a good way to show that emotion. They're also more interested in what people think of them."

As a junior girl remarked, "Everyone thinks girls gossip more, but if you ever talk to guys they gossip just as much even if they don't want to admit it. I have never known a person that hasn't gossiped."

Many people are either involved in a gossiping group of 2-4 people or they are the victim of gossip. Students feel the victims of gossip are teens in trouble with the law, pregnant teens, romances, teachers. A student's snobby people famous people or people they're envious of.

Nine out of 20 students felt that if they were the victims of gossip they would ignore the situation, but the remaining eleven felt they would confront the person spreading the rumor and have them back up their information.

A good rule to follow: Don't say anything you wouldn't want to see in print, with your name on it!

By Shelly Fredrickson ACT Tests

A way to give an accurate comparison with other students in the United States is to take the ACT or SAT tests before they are attending college classes. ACT students, grades during 1982-83 learned considerably above the national average in English, math, social studies, natural science and also in the composite score. According to data reported by the ACT program, LCHS students scored 20.2 in English, 20.6 in math, 22.1 in social studies, 25.6 in natural science and 22.3 on the composite, as opposed to 17.8, 16.9, 17.1, 20.9 and 18.3 respectively for the nation.

Secondary principal Ralph Glocks attributes these high scores to the students and teachers, but also gives credit to the community and parents and said, "What kids do at home and at school is directly related to the parents." He also added that these are big steps to follow in the future and hopes students will continue this type of excellent performance.

The ACT tests students on a standard basis so they can be compared fairly with students from other schools. Mr. Heigren said, "One high school may have a harder grading system than another, so this form of testing really shows each student's potential fairly." He adds that these tests help more students than they hurt.

Teen-age fathers High school guys at Laurel-Concord high school explain what they'd do if they found themselves in a situation where they were becoming teen-age fathers.

"I'd make sure my girlfriend got the best treatment," said one 18 year old senior.

"I'd marry my girlfriend," a junior simply stated. A sophomore with a different attitude said, "I would ask her to get an abortion because it would be hard for her to make a professional life for herself with a baby. I wouldn't marry her."

Most of the guys interviewed agreed that dropping the girl would be irresponsible, and one said, "A person would be a super big jerk if they did. A guy should help her out anyway he can."

Many guys are against abortion because according to one guy, "Everyone should have a chance to live and it's the same thing as murder." One junior commented, "She shouldn't have an abortion, instead, she should give the baby up for adoption, because there are many people who want but cannot have children."

A sophomore didn't agree. A lady's life can be ruined if he she is raised in a bad environment."

Many felt giving the baby up for adoption is a good idea because they "wouldn't have the responsibility to take care of a baby."

Some thought marriage was the solution because "it's the most respectable thing to do." Some disagreed though. A sophomore boldly stated, "I would raise my life."

The question is, "Would the marriage last?" Many thought it would if the couple loved each other. Others thought it wouldn't especially if they are forced into it.

Semester tests Do you ever wonder why Laurel-Concord High students have to take semester tests at the end of 18 weeks? Is it the principal who feels it's necessary or is it a school policy?

Student's ideas split when asked if they felt semester tests were necessary. Half the students answered yes. The other half would find no real reason for them.

Students accept the test and the dates they are scheduled. Everyone said having tests before Christmas vacation would be easier instead of two weeks after they return from vacation. Athletic and other events often get planned for the same week as semester tests. Studying becomes difficult if students attend these activities. One student said "Study time isn't consistent. I come home, study for a short time, eat, study a little more, and then go to the game. My schedule gets chopped up."

How do you study for semester tests? Mr. Glocks' idea's for preparing for tests is to do each assignment on time. A student should do them completely and work on the objective of each class weekly. He commented, "No new information is given. If learning is being done, then no cramming is needed."

One student felt that if a person knew they would be tested over the material again, then they would learn it instead of just memorizing it. But are they necessary? Another student wondered why a test score like this should affect your semester grade.

Bad scheduling of these tests can be blamed on no one. The school board, superintendent, and the elementary and high school principals set up a calendar each spring for the next school year. Usually they go along with what they had the year before.

Alternatives have been discussed but having tests on Thursday and Friday gives students a chance to study on Wednesday nights. Some suggestions were to have no activities at all, or to have a double header that week with no Thursday night game, but not enough support was shown to do anything other than what was done.

The school board thinks semester tests are necessary. The Board of Education developed the policy saying, "Semester examinations will be given at the close of each 18 week period, and should cover the work of the entire semester." The administration must carry it out.

Horoscopes

There are many different aspects of astrology, one of them being horoscopes. A horoscope, as defined by the Merriam Webster dictionary, is "A diagram of the relative positions of planets and signs of the zodiac at a particular time, for use by astrologers to foretell events of a person's life."

Students of Laurel-Concord High School had widely varied opinions about horoscopes. Some students felt they weren't worth reading. One of these students, who felt strongly about the subject said, "I think it's stupid for people to base their whole lives on what one person sees in the stars. I think it's a big waste of time."

Another student said, "They are fun, but meaningless." Other students were curious and interested in horoscopes. One said, "I think they are neat!! It gives people a chance to live their life by words, to see what might happen."

By Todd Gunnarson

pen to them." Another student said, "It's weird-how sometimes they tell exactly what has happened to you during the day."

The majority of students asked don't believe in horoscopes. A member of the senior class said, "I don't believe in it because there is no way people can really predict the future." Another senior said, "I don't believe them but I usually just read them out of curiosity, to see if mine comes true, but otherwise I don't care if I miss reading them."

Still other students had different ideas. One student said, "I believe in them to a certain extent, but I don't take them really seriously." Another student believed in horoscopes because some of his had come true.

An evening with Warnke

On Jan. 11, at Laurel-Concord Public School, Mike Warnke presented a program to entertain and to inform the citizens of Laurel and surrounding towns.

Mike Warnke, formerly a stanic high priest, but now a famous evangelist, spoke at 2 shows in the new gymnasium at Laurel-Concord Public School. During both shows he spoke about his frightening past life and also his victorious future. Also at the show a Christian recording group, Morning Star, provided the music.

Mr. Craig Rostad and Mr. Gale Hamilton, both teachers and leaders of Fellowship of Christian Athletes at Laurel-Concord Public School, with the help of Jerry Maxon, sponsored the show.

These sponsors helped to arrange the concert because they thought people in this area were eager to hear the good news of the gospel and realized the importance of having Jesus in their lives.

According to Mr. Rostad, "Warnke's most impressive trait is that although he is famous he acts just like a regular person who takes time to talk to anybody." Furthermore, Mr. Rostad stated, "The real reason Warnke came was to tell the people in this area that God loved them so much that he sent his only son to die." Also, he added, "The whole evening went very smoothly, fortunately, without any last minute surprises."

Nearly all the students at Laurel enjoyed the concert. They liked Warnke because he made his stories interesting and entertaining, and could also relate well to high school age students. Other students liked him because he showed the way to have a victorious life like his, and also the way to be a Christian.

Will anything of this nature take place in the future? Our sources say, "Definitely yes, this is only the beginning."

Spotlight on art

Artistic talent looms bright at LCHS Nancy Dempster, a sophomore art student at Laurel-Concord High School, used a blocking and enlarging process to get her picture proportioned the way she wanted it.

The blocking and enlarging process took Nancy three days to finish. Nancy began by blocking off an already drawn picture into a grid of small squares. She worked with each square separately, knowing which part of the total picture went into that square.

She drew larger squares on a larger piece of paper then transferred and enlarged the first part of the picture in the larger square. A square at a time, she drew freehand the picture larger. The young artist says it takes a steady hand to be an artist!

winside public schools

One-act play competes at state Winside High School's one-act play, "Pink Lemonade for Tomorrow," was presented in State Class D Competition.

Winside placed fifth out of ten entries in the competition at Gothenburg on Jan. 27. Congratulations to the cast, crew and director Penny Roberts.

The play will be presented for public viewing tonight (Monday) in the school multi-purpose room at 7:30 p.m.

Scholarships re-awarded Two scholarships awarded last spring during graduation exercises have recently become available to The Winside school again. These scholarships have been re-awarded to members of the 1983 graduating class.

The Troutman Memorial

Scholarship has been assigned to Jon Meierhenry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Meierhenry of rural Hoskins. Jon is attending Wesleyan College in Lincoln.

The Winside State Bank Scholarship has been awarded to Jill Malchow. Jill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Malchow of rural Carroll and is attending Wayne State College.

Students upset at school Winside Elementary School dismissed classes for 2 days last Tuesday and Wednesday. The dismissal was to help prevent the spread of a flu "bug" that kept home as many as 34 of the youngsters at a time.

The days away from school hopefully stopped the spread of the disease and helped the students get well.

Business and Professional DIRECTORY

German Instructor
Edith Zahiser
 This year, Wayne High School has a new German teacher, Mrs. Edith Zahiser.
 Mrs. Zahiser was born and raised in East Prussia, which is now part of Russia. She went to school in Konigsberg, now Kaliningrad. She attended school for 13 years and received an abitur.
 An abitur is like our high school diploma, but the students have to go to school one more year than we have to go. At the University of Hamburg, she majored in English History and Education.
 In 1961, she came to America as a graduate student and attended the University of Arkansas as an exchange student where she studied comparative literature and taught German as a graduate assistant.
 Prior to coming to Wayne, Mrs. Zahiser attended UNL, where she received her master's degree in German and English. She also taught summer school in Lincoln.
 At Wayne State College, Mrs. Zahiser taught German for 6 1/2 years. Presently, she is teaching German at night classes in adult education at Northeast Tech in Norfolk and has taught German, I, II, III, and IV at Wayne High since August.

Mrs. Zahiser is also the sponsor of the high school German Club which has 27 members. The club has a pizza party, eaten at the German restaurant in Norfolk, seen films, heard a lecture from Anita Sandshi, who spent time in Germany on an exchange program, and sponsored a dance. They are planning another dance and plan to attend a convention.

In class, the German students learn the grammar, vocabulary, culture, history, art, and music of Germany. The room is decorated with posters, and the students compare German culture to ours and realize that Germany is a modern country.

Mrs. Zahiser is married, has 2 sons, and lives in Wayne.

German Club dance
 German Club sponsored a dance in January after a boys' basketball game. The theme was "Summer in January", and the people were asked to wear tropical clothes. The dance floor was accented with palm trees, a sunset, and a large volcano.
 Various tropical posters hung on the wall, and crepe paper in summer colors was draped across the ceiling. German club members provided the music, which was a blend of popular American and German Top 40 hits.

German Christmas party
 In December, the Wayne High German Club held a Christmas party for members and their families. President Lori Baker welcomed the guests, and students shared many major German customs with the guests, such as the traditions of advent wreaths and St. Nicklaus.

Christmas carols in German and English were sung by students and parents, and German classes I and II presented special German Songs to the guests.
 A surprise visit from Mrs. Claus and her elf highlighted the festivities as they gave gifts to all of the German students and child guests. The evening ended with cookies and punch, while slides of Christmas in Germany were shown.

Second Semester Classes
 Second semester classes offered at Wayne-Carroll High School this semester are:
 Adult Living, Typing I, Data Processing, Business Law, Sewing I, Housing, Foods, Crafts.
 The biggest problem for students at this time is whether or not to change classes. Most students change classes because they have taken a one-semester class and now need a class to fill their schedule.
 Some students change class second semester because the class they are in does not pertain to the career they wish to pursue. They then take a class which will further and better their education. Students have January 16 thru 20 to change their schedule.
 So many students signed up for Data Processing this semester that another section of it was added to the schedule.
 Mr. Curt Frye, Wayne-Carroll High School counselor, is in charge of the students' class schedules. He helps students come to the decision of what career they wish to enter and guides them as to what kind of education they need for that career. "If there is a doubt in your mind about what class to take, come see me and I will help you make a decision," stated Frye.

County fair grants announced

During a report to the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers at their annual meeting, Ak-Sar-Ben Assistant General Manager Bob Volk announced that Ak-Sar-Ben would continue the organization's grants to Nebraska county fairs.
 This will be the 31st consecutive year Ak-Sar-Ben has awarded these building grants for new improvements to the fairs. The grants are in the amount of $1,000 on a matching basis, and all counties not conducting pari-mutuel programs are eligible. In 1983, nearly $90,000 was distributed to the fairs.

 "The county fairs in Nebraska have received more than $2 million since we started this program in 1954," Volk said.
 "We are pleased to be able to make this money available to the fairs as a direct result of the Ak-Sar-Ben race meeting. Nebraska county fairs have the reputation as some of the nation's most successful, and we are confident that Ak-Sar-Ben will help over the years has contributed to that success."

Army College Fund is offered

Twenty-two of the 29 Army career management fields open to new recruits now offer the $20,100 Army College Fund, an enlistment bonus of up to $5,000 or both, according to Sergeant First Class Larry Cox, who commands the Army recruiting station at 511 Norfolk Avenue in Norfolk.

Sixteen of these fields offer the cash bonus and 21 the opportunity to participate in the Army College Fund. All Army specialties allow an enlistee to participate in the Veterans Educational Assistance Program, which provides up to $8,100 for college.

The Army training that offers both the Army College Fund and enlistment bonuses covers a wide range of skills. In the combat arms area, an infantryman, cannon crewman, cannon fire direction specialist, fire support specialist, Pershing missile crewmember or armor crewman can receive a $5,000 enlistment bonus.

Bonuses of up to $5,000 are also available in the electronic warfare field. Combat engineering and military intelligence specialties have bonuses of up to $4,000.

Among the support skills that offer both the Army College fund and cash enlistment bonuses are 11 mechanical specialties, construction surveyor and food service specialist, all of which provide $2,500.

In all, 66 Army occupational specialties within the 22 career management fields offer the Army College Fund. 51 provide bonuses and 43 offer both.

To qualify for the Army College Fund, a recruit must be a high school graduate and must score 50 or above on the Army's entrance exam. The bonuses also require these qualifications and an enlistment of four years.

For more information, call Sergeant First Class Larry Cox at 371 9793. Out of town, call collect.

A Petition was received from property owners on West 3d Street, near the Clean Sub division to create various improvement districts. The petitioners were given to the City Attorney for review.
The Administrator told the Council that for the second straight year the City will absorb a wholesale increase in utility rates from the Nebraska Public Power District without raising city rates. He said that a rate increase looks likely in 1985.

At the invitation of the City, property owners of the IGA/Rexall parking lot were asked to attend the Council Meeting to discuss the noise problems coming from that parking lot. A number of residents near the parking lot also expressed their concerns. The City Attorney said the City has no jurisdiction or control over private parking lots. He said the owners must get together and arrange to make the parking lot a properly posted restricted parking lot. Once that is done the City, at the request of the owners, can adopt an ordinance concerning regulation of this parking lot. The Mayor said the City will work with all concerned to help resolve the problem.
Resolution 84.1, a resolution prescribing no parking and restricted parking areas for various streets throughout the City, involved a lengthy discussion among the Council and with several residents in attendance, most of whom were in opposition to the resolution. The Administrator said the main purpose of the resolution was to keep cars off the street so the City could remove snow properly. Bill Payson, a resident on South Maple Street, said the resolution would mean a tremendous expense for property owners who would have to build driveways and would take parking away for 265 days while snow only needs to be cleared 8 days a year. The resolution was tabled for further review by the Council.

Resolution 84.2, which establishes rules and regulations for the reimbursement of expenses and fees for members of the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department, was approved. The two appointees selected by the City for the six member Police Officer's Retirement System Fund Committee were City Administrator Philip Klotzer and Councilwoman Carolyn Filler.
Council approved to create a Storm Sewer district to hire and enclose an open Storm Sewer ditch located adjacent to their property at the end of South Douglas Street.
Council recessed for ten minutes.

Council heard the results of a water study conducted by the Howard R. Green Company. The study stated the present life of the existing well system is 10 years. The study recommended that no additional high capacity wells be drilled into the presently used aquifer and that a program be started immediately to locate another water supply source. The report's recommended schedule of activity included the construction of two wells and a transmission main by 1988 and the construction of two more wells by 1992.
Council adjourned at 10:35 p.m.

ORDINANCE NO. 84.1
AN ORDINANCE PERMITTING CITY REGULATION OF PARKING LOTS, SHOPPING CENTERS AND MALLS
BE IT ORDAINED BY the Mayor and Council of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, Chapter 3, Article 4, Section 3, That Chapter 3, Article 4, Section 5.423 of the Wayne Municipal Code of Wayne, Nebraska, read as follows:
PARKING REGULATION OF PARKING LOTS, SHOPPING CENTERS AND MALLS
The owner or operator of the parking lot, shopping center, or similar semi-public or privately owned area within the City, the City may provide for regulation of traffic, public use, and conduct of invitees upon said specified area. Such written request, and a legal description of the area to be regulated, shall be filed in the office of the City Clerk.
Upon such specified areas, the City may, by ordinance, regulate the flow of traffic, speed limits, offenses against public morals, unlawful assembly, trespass, and similar offenses, to the same effect and with the same authority as public thoroughfares, public parking lots, and other public areas, provided that the owner has complied with Section 40-2401(5), et seq. Nothing in this ordinance shall require the City to furnish labor, material, supervision personnel or services in connection with the establishment, supervision, or enforcement of such ordinances or the maintenance or upkeep of such areas (Re: 15-254).
Section 2: Any ordinance passed and approved prior to the passage, approval and publication of this ordinance and in conflict with its provision is hereby repealed.
Section 3: This ordinance shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage, approval and publication as required by law.
Passed and approved this 31st day of January 1984.

ANNA SEZ:
Hi Everyone!
What a beautiful bright sunny day on this 1st day of February. Well tomorrow is Ground Hog Day so we will know how much more of winter we have.
Welcome to Stella Rogers of Allen, Howard Robinson of Marlinton and Carl Buhler of Pierce and Victor Kinch of Wayne. How nice to see you stay with us. Adolph Kraft has returned to Villa Carroll after spending a month here recuperating from eye surgery in Sioux City.
Our deepest sympathy goes out to the families of Kerbynn Meghan, Clara Schindler and Bette Wasson. We will miss them all.
Among the activities of the home are Shylin Band and Singing on Tuesday afternoons. On Wednesday afternoons there is card playing and dominoes.
On Tuesday afternoons, Feb. 14 we will have our Valentine day party. On Wednesday, Feb. 15 we will have the regular birthday party for the month.
The St. Mary Ladies come with treats on the second Monday of each month. The Altroz Ladies come with treats on the third Wednesday of each month with treats. We have bingo on Friday afternoons with cards and dominoes for the card players.
Some of the residents are busy with sewing and latch hook. We have 3 residents who do beautiful latch hook - Fella Marks, Herbert Bruhn and Clifford Marco.
On the second and fourth Thursdays of each month the Senior Citizens come to entertain us. The Redmanne Ladies come on the second Thursday of the month and the Grace Ladies come on the third Wednesday of the month with treats as do the Presbyterian Ladies on the last Wednesday with treats.
The Taste Tasters dinner was held on Friday, Jan. 27. Quizzes were: Rev. Gordon Granberg, Ben and Patricia Holliman, Bernice Sheehan, Carolyn Van Ert, Allan Cooper, Edna Olson, Nettie Struss, Barbara Carman, Carolyn Buschcamp, Lorne Spitt together and Joyce Welch.
