THE WAYNE HERALD

Locals will bake cakes, shoot baskets Thursday for heart fund

Not much time remains for Wayne businessmen and teachers to practice up on their baking skills and shooting touches in preparation for the second Bake and Bounce fundraiser. The event is scheduled for Thursday (Feb. 16) with proceeds going to the American Heart Association. A cake bake-off between businessmen and educators will start things off. Participants will mix and bake cakes at Peoples Natural Gas Company from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. that day. People are invited to stop by and cheer their favorite cake bakers. A free blood pressure screening also will be held at the gas company throughout the day.

PARTICIPANTS ARE required to bring cake mixes or ingredients, decorating materials and necessary utensils (pans, mixer, spoons, decorating applicators, spatula, bowls...) to Peoples during assigned times. Each baker will have 1 hour to bake a cake and additional time to decorate it. Cakes will be displayed the rest of the day at the gas company office. They will be judged and auctioned off at the city auditorium during half time of the basketball game between the businessmen and educators. Auctioneer Stan Bauer encourages the public to bid on the cakes in order to raise money for the heart fund. The basketball game is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Cakes will be on display and winners will be announced in various categories. Joyce Niemann and Donna Shultelt will judge the cakes.

Elementary students will serve as cheerleaders for the game and Grant Ellington and Ed Elliott will serve as referees. The basketball committee consists of Don Koerber, Duane Blumenkamp and Ron Jones.

Video lottery issue warms up Unicameral

By Randy Hascall
The future of video lotteries, like those used in Wayne, is drawing lots of attention throughout the state of Nebraska these days. The legality of the video machines could be decided by the Nebraska Unicameral. Omaha Sen. Peter Hoagland is principal sponsor of Legislative Bill 744, which would ban video slot machines in the state.

HOAGLAND HAS said that some forms of gambling are allowed in Nebraska because of votes by the people. He pointed out a 1934 vote in favor of pari-mutuel horserace betting, a 1958 vote authorizing bingo and a 1968 vote allowing lotteries. The senator has contended that voters in 1968 had no idea their vote would allow for the use of video lottery machines. He said that voters in Nebraska towns which approved lotteries did so before the video slots became available.

Hoagland also has argued that the video machines make gambling more attractive and accessible to people of all ages. He added that the machines will increase the number of compulsive gamblers. Many are blue collar workers and others who can't afford to lose, he added.

ONE OF THE opponents of Hoagland's bill is Sen. James Pappas of North Platte who has argued that those who want to eliminate video machines should be consistent and favor eliminating all forms of gambling. Pappas pointed out that horseracing is big in Nebraska and added that the stock market is a form of gambling. He said he thinks the local people in the communities should decide whether they want a lottery. Other opponents of the bill have said that video lotteries are favorable to underground gambling such as bets placed with bookies.

BELLEVUE CITY Administrator Jeff Renner told The Wayne Herald Friday evening that he feels the decisions concerning video lotteries should be made in the communities not the Legislature. Residents of his city voted by a 3 to 1 ratio to establish a lottery in Bellevue, he said. Bellevue currently has more lottery machines than any other Nebraska community. "People can speculate about a lot of bad things happening but in our 6 months of experience we haven't had any problems," he said. "Most of the people who play the machines are mature and responsible." Renner said the irony of the situation is that the Bellevue government decided, before getting involved in a lottery, that video machines were the only legal way of operating a lottery with less than 10 percent expense. HE SAID that city officials also felt a video lottery would be the easiest type to control and regulate. The machines also have a "much higher payout than tickets and still raise more money," he added. "I see no reason to discriminate against 1 particular type of lottery. They're saying we can't use modern technology," Renner said. "I can't see singling out 1 type of lottery. The machines raise a massive amount of revenue for our city and they are entirely voluntary. The Bellevue administrator said gamblers can "blow their life savings" at horse races but pointed out that they aren't likely to lose much on video lotteries. The revenue we're receiving is not brand new money. It was going into illegal pools, off track betting, bookies. Renner said the activity was there now it has been brought out into the open and the proceeds are going to the government."

Keidel files for board

Another District 17 Board of Education member has filed for the board, according to Wayne County Clerk Orgetta Morris. Becky Keidel, president of the Wayne Carroll School board, has decided to run for another term.

Another incumbent, Neil Sandahl filed for the board earlier this week. One of the positions on the school board, currently held by Jim Hummel, is up for election this year. Nebraska's Primary Election is scheduled May 15 and all incumbents for offices must file by March 1 if they plan to run for reelection. Other candidates must file by March 16, Mrs. Morris said.

Positions in Wayne County for which elections will be held include: 1 Wayne County Commissioner's seat, 3 seats on the Wayne County Noxious Weed Board, 4 Wayne City Council seats, 3 Wayne Airport Board seats, 3 District 17 Board of Education (Wayne Carroll seats), 2 Winslow Village Board seats, 3 Carroll Village Board seats, 2 Hoskins Village Board seats, 3 Sholes Village Board seats, 3 District 15 Board of Education seats, 2 District 60 R. Wakefield Board of Education seats.

Centennial garden is planned

A centennial garden recognizing garden efforts of 100 years ago is being planned at the corner of 4th and Main in the area north of The Headquarters. The garden will contain types of flowers grown 100 years ago. Chairman of the committee, Gail Korn, said the location was selected because it is highly visible and it surrounds one of Wayne's oldest homes. Mrs. Korn said the committee would like the centennial garden to be a shared project. She said members of the committee are hoping that people who have some of the perennials on the list might divide their plants and donate some of the divisions.

Any individuals who would like their divisions back after the centennial celebration could have it arranged, Mrs. Korn said. She also said the committee is looking for some people to share seed or seedlings of the annuals on the list. The list includes the following plants: black-eyed Susans, bills of Ireland, balsam, baby's breath, lavender, catnip, ribbon grass, cockscomb, snapdragons, morning glories, hollyhocks, bachelor's buttons, yarrow, heliotrope, old fashioned yellow, orange daylilies, butterflyweed, hairy native columbine, michaelmas daisies, cosmos, coral bells, coreopsis, phlox, bee balm, nasturtiums, cleome, and pink. Part of the space will be used for a herb garden to include parsley, sage, rosemary, chives, dill, thyme, oregano, mint, catnip and basil. Planting dates will be announced later. Anyone who is willing to donate plants should contact a member of the committee now so that the garden layout can be designed. Committee members are: Lucille Larson at 375 1861, Nancy Jo Powers at 375 2181, Carole Schmidt at 375 2097 and Gail Korn at 375 3615.

West Point decides that Wayne video machines not welcome in that town

The West Point City Council Tuesday night, decided to request that the Wayne video lottery machine located at Annie's Roundup be removed. That machine was the only one located in West Point according to Wayne City Administrator Phil Kloster.

Kloster said he was informed of the action taken by the West Point council and said he expects to receive a letter asking that the machine be removed. West Point is the only community that has indicated it does not want any of Wayne's lottery machines, Kloster said. He added that the City of Wayne will respect the wishes of all communities. Kloster said that many businesses in northeast Nebraska communities have requested that Wayne machines be installed but added that the city currently has only 17 video machines and can't meet the demand. "It is a real economic benefit to businesses that have the machines," he said. The city administrator said it is hoped that revenue generated by the video lottery can someday be put to good use. He said some of the revenue probably can be used to make improvements on the Wayne Jaycee Softball Complex. Kloster also said Wayne would like to receive a grant for a senior citizens center. He suggested that lottery revenue could be used to help the city pay for its portion of the project. Federal and state funds would cover most of the cost.

ask a lawyer

The always-lovely, chameleon-like Nebraska weather has blessed us with a fertile crop of potholes already this year.

Now, my granddaddy once told me that potholes are a lot like salesmen and bill collectors—they spring up all over the place when you least expect it. You don't have to look for them, they'll find you.

Potholes are about as popular as left-handed monkey wrenches.

The worst thing about potholes is that you can't do much with them. They're not good for anything. Right? Wrong.

I've come up with my own list of uses for potholes.

They can be used as goldfish bowls. Or flower pots. Can you imagine the looks on people's faces when they see petunias growing in the streets of Wayne?

We could cut them out of the streets and use them as army helmets. As large as some of them are, they could be transplanted on the golf course, filled with sand and used as bunkers.

Wayne could establish its own "Street of the Stars." The potholes could be filled with wet concrete and the town's celebrities could leave their footprints and names. Just like in Hollywood.

The potholes in this town (although semi-repaired at this time) are so big that, if they contain frozen water, they make adequate ice skating ponds.

Some could be used by the Navy for submarine maneuvers. Or in the summer, farmers could use them as silage pits.

If you ever want to save money at vacation time, just blindfold the members of your family, drive them to the potholes, remove the blindfolds and tell them they're at the Grand Canyon. It's a foolproof plan.

But, the best plan for potholes is to sell them. Think how much money Wayne could raise for its centennial celebration by selling them for $10 each.

For $20, a person would have his name engraved in his own pothole and receive an 8 by 10 glossy photo of it.

In homes all around town, framed photos of potholes would be hung on living room walls everywhere. They could become our trademark.

What a money making project that would be! I bet that would go over even better than selling records of the city council singing "Take This Job and Shove It."

You're talking millions, maybe even hundreds of dollars!

The only catch I can see to buying your own pothole is that you may receive a phone call some night from an angry motorist whose car has fallen in to your pothole.

The question is: Would you, legally, be responsible for having the car towed from the pothole?

Enough chitchat on potholes! It's time to pick on the people who refuse to eat deer meat because they are members of the Save The Deer and All Other Fuzzy Brown Eyed Creatures Coalition (has Herald staff member Kevin O'Hanlon put it last fall)

Before I get pelted with stones, let me say that I have never shot a deer (with anything more violent than a camera).

I've just never had any desire to climb 50 feet up into a tree when the wind chill factor is minus 20 degrees, and then sit there for hours waiting for a buck to wander by.

But, that doesn't stop me from eating deer meat. I like it. In fact, Larry Johnson recently made us some deer sticks and jerky from a deer my brother in law shot. It sure is tasty.

I have offered samples of the deer meat to many friends and most have gladly accepted.

However, there are a few. This week, an individual refused to eat a slice of jerky, knowing that it was deer meat.

The person asked me how I could eat meat from a poor, sweet, pretty, innocent deer with big brown eyes. I replied, "Like this" and took a big bite.

Then I asked if the person had ever eaten veal. The answer was yes.

You mean poor, sweet, pretty, little calves with big innocent eyes? I replied

Case closed

Q: My sister and her husband are quite well to do, my husband and I are not. They have 3 small children and have asked us to be guardians of these children if anything should happen to the 2 of them.

I assume that if they should die, their entire estate will be left to these children. Is there any provision made for guardians to receive any of the assets of the estate to provide for the care of the children?

It would be a tremendous financial burden on my husband and me to try to care for our children and these other 3 children on our current income.

A: A guardian is not legally obligated to provide for a ward (child) from his or her own funds and is not liable to third persons for acts of the ward.

Guardians receive money necessary for the care and maintenance of the ward from any person or entity owing money to the ward (such as an insurance company) or from the ward's estate.

If the minor only has a small estate (money and property) the law makes it possible for the guardians to handle the less complicated financial affairs of the ward.

However, if the ward has a substantial estate, the court will appoint a "conservator" as special guardian for the ward's property and financial well being. For this reason, a guardianship is not likely to be attractive to persons who are more interested in handling the ward's estate than in the ward's personal well being.

If the ward's estate has a conservator, the guardian will receive funds necessary for the welfare of the ward directly from the conservator. These funds may include reimbursement for out of pocket expenses paid by the guardian for goods and services necessary for the ward's support.

Sums received by the guardian must be used exclusively for the support of the ward and are not to be used as compensation for the guardian's services unless authorized by the court.

There is misconception concerning LB56

The Legislature reconvened Tuesday, Jan. 31, after a brief four day recess. While at home over the weekend and since returning to Lincoln, I have received several inquiries about LB56 which will raise the legal drinking age in Nebraska from 20 to 21.

It quickly became evident that there is a misconception about the content of the bill. Most of those who contacted me were concerned about an amendment which was proposed a couple of weeks ago, the so called "Dram Shop" amendment.

Under this proposal, the holder of a liquor license would be liable for damages caused by his patrons. If a customer was served enough alcohol to put him past the legal intoxication level and the customer subsequently left the bar in an intoxicated condition, the bar owner would be liable for any personal or property damages caused by the "drunk" customer.

THIS PUTS a tremendous, indeed almost impossible, burden on the bar owner. No matter how attentive one is, determining when a person is legally intoxicated is no more than a guess in all but the most extreme cases. This amendment has not been adopted.

It is my opinion that its introduction was primarily for the purpose of scaring everyone and eroding support for LB56

On Tuesday, the Legislature advanced LB14 to final reading. This legislation will create a state tax credit for expenses relating to child and dependent care similar to the federal tax credit already in existence.

Eligible persons would receive a tax credit equal to 20 percent of the current state income tax rate of the federal child and dependent care credit which could be used to reduce their state income taxes.

The amount of the federal credit decreases as a family's income increases until an adjusted gross income of $28,000 is reached.

At that point, the credit remains constant. In other words, if you make $28,000 or a million dollars, you are eligible for the minimum federal credit.

I WAS ABLE to attach an amendment to the bill which limits eligibility for the state credit to those who have an adjusted gross income of $20,000 or less.

This preserves the credit for the low income families who can really use it while eliminating it for those with higher incomes who aren't as hard hit by child care expenses.

The bill in its original form would have cost the state more than $2 million in lost revenue. After my amendment, the lost revenue is reduced to approximately $800,000, leaving the state almost 1 1/2 million dollars.

A bill of particular interest to farmers was passed with the emergency clause attached Thursday morning. LB733 eliminates the Class C operator's license for all farm trucks except semis, reduces the registration fees for farm trucks in the 15 to 17 ton range, and allows exchange of services on all farm trucks except semis.

EVER SINCE I was elected to the Legislature, I have been approached by persons seeking a change in the method we use to discipline the Judiciary.

This session I have introduced 2 bills which will open the proceedings of the Judicial Qualifications Commission to the public.

This will enable the public to know if a judge has been disciplined, who the judge is, and what the discipline consisted of.

The actions of this commission are required by the Constitution to be kept confidential until a formal hearing on a complaint is filed. If no formal hearing is ordered, the commission may privately recommend, judge or dismiss the complaint without disclosing these actions to anyone, including the person filing the original complaint.

A HEARING on LR235, which I introduced to eliminate these confidential provisions, was held Thursday afternoon.

The bill requires the commission to disclose any disciplinary action which it takes in response to a judicial complaint. I think it is only right that we know of a judge's disciplinary record if we are asked to retain him every 6 years.

How else can we make an intelligent, knowledgeable decision as to a judge's qualifications to hold office?

If you have any questions or would to comment on this or other legislation, please contact me at the State Capitol, Lincoln 68509 or call 471-2166.

Nuclear costs

Clone of the Roaring 20's

To the editor: This decade might be recorded in the annals of criminal history as the Roaring 80s, a sort of clone of the Roaring 20s, a cycle which perhaps was the wildest period of the century.

The re emergence of the mobster as a public figure in society is again evident. This time, instead of the cause celebre being basically booze and racketeering accompanied by machine gun massacres, the game is gambling.

The Capones and Lucianos are today's Cortinas, Accardos, Spilotros, Solanos and others of similar good old fashioned American descent.

Now that Bellevue has become known as the midwest's Little Vegas, one wonders how long will it be until the mob moves in on the lake? Remember the good old days when "X" marked the spot? But of course it couldn't happen here.

Picking up the tab

Another nuclear powered utility system has cracked up. NPPD's Brownville Cooper installation will close for a seven month face lift to get rid of cracks in some of its pipes, the cost estimated at about $35 million.

A plant spokesman says that there is no potential radiation hazard. No mention was made as to who picks up the tab however.

The ratepayers didn't have to be told. Since the plant came on stream 9 years ago they've known who foots the bills. The whole utility industry is beset with costly experiences peculiar to nuclear energy production.

Ill advised starts and finishes include WHOOPS, 3 Mile Island, Marble Hill and Zimmer, to list but a few. In every case involving cancellations, breakdowns, poor design and malfunctions, whatever, the cost is charged to stockholders and ratepayers, the latter being the ones who are the hardest hit.

Could it be that management is at fault? Has there been a shortage at the top? Playing around with billions of borrowed money poured in, to one bad deal after another tells the ratepayer that he isn't in very good hands.

Herald reader responds to unorganized author's words

To Eddie's brother (Randy Hascall),

In your Monday's article, your opening statement of, "A clean desk is a sign of a sick mind," sure didn't make my day, along with the flu bug that resided in my alimentary canal.

Since I have an organized desk, it made me wonder about my being. Showing this devastating line to my husband, unknown to him, I jested that I was concerned with this quote because I was an organized person and feared for my sanity. His consoling words were, "That's only one man's opinion." I continued my make believe distress over this quote and again he laughed and said, "You're lucky if that's all you got to worry about." What a true statement from a farmer!

Recovering from the flu, I then returned to the sofa to continue reading last year's "Readers Digest" to digest anything I might have missed since my other digestive track wasn't up to par.

Then to my delight at the bottom of one of the pages came these words, "An organized person is one who is too lazy to look for things." This made my day and I had to reveal it to you. Bet you unorganized people didn't realize how much ambition you possess looking for things.

Befuddling minds with such a statement can really disarrange an arranger's mind. It seems the one thing that is missing on your desk now could be an antidote for your ardent readers of your anecdote.

Jestingly yours,
J.D. Morris

Budget slights agricultural trade

By Congressman Bereuter

The administration's commitment to the United States Department of Agriculture's export financing program leaves much to be desired. In the 1985 budget request sent to Congress this week, proposed funding for the agricultural export credit program is at $3 billion, down from $4 billion for 1984.

I feel strongly that the 1985 figure should be at least $4 billion. Agricultural exports play a vital role in our nation's overall economic health. We need to give every degree of support possible to that effort.

The world economy is still reeling from recession and many foreign nations still have fiscal problems. They are eager to buy our agricultural products, but they need help to do so. Unless our government meets the competition of other marketing nations by reducing the financing gap, these sales will continue to go to other willing nations anxious to build their agricultural export markets. Once we lose those sales, the markets are hard to reclaim.

Unless we abandon our cautious, penny wise and pound foolish approach to the financing of our agricultural exports, we will find ourselves on the international sidelines, benched by nations that recognize the need for export financing programs.

I HAVE WRITTEN to Secretary of Agriculture John Block urging that the 1985 Farm Bill include a formal agricultural trade policy. Exports of wheat and coarse grains have increased from about 117 percent of United States production in 1969-1970 to over 42 percent in 1980-1981 and will likely be greater this year. American agriculture is being integrated into a world economy. Furthermore, during the next few years, domestic demand for farm products is likely to be fairly stable. Any increase in farm production must be matched by increased exports or prices will fall and reserves will accumulate. The directions that we take regarding budgetary action on agricultural trade will affect whatever else is contained in the 1985 Farm Bill.

I have signed a discharge petition that calls for a package of bankruptcy legislation to be brought to the floor of the House. It is vital that Congress confront certain bankruptcy issues as soon as possible.

Because of a Supreme Court decision holding the present system of bankruptcy adjudication unconstitutional, the bankruptcy courts will not be able to function after March 31, 1984. If this system is allowed to come to a halt, half a million consumer bankruptcies involving billions of dollars of creditors' claims, will be thrust into judicial limbo.

The legislation that we are attempting to bring to the floor also addresses the special problems of farmers caught up in grain elevator bankruptcies. These provisions of this badly needed legislation are similar in many respects to the consumer and grain elevator bankruptcy provisions contained in a Senate bill, S. 445, which was passed by unanimous consent by the Senate last April. There is a measure that would impose a 120 day limit on the bankruptcy judge to determine grain ownership.

In the last Congress, we had nine hearings on the issues and amendments involved in this legislative package. We are hardly unfamiliar with the subject. The House leadership has held up the progress of these bills long enough. It is time that we demand action.

street talk

This week The Wayne Herald asked five people in Wayne "If it is decided to build a new county court house in Wayne, what do you think they should do with the present building?"

"I really think they should save it. I like to see old buildings restored. It's fun to go to cities and see the old buildings." — Cyndee Larson, Wakefield

"I think it would really be neat to save it. If there's a way, I think we should try." — Judy Garwood, Wayne

"Either the Kappas could use it for their new sorority house or Walt Disney Productions could buy it and make it into an amusement park." — John Hughes, Wayne

"It would be a shame to tear it down, but that seems to be the easy way out. It would take away some of the charm of Wayne." — Sanford MacMillen, Wayne

"I think it should be restored or kept for people to see and not destroyed." — Leslie Hausmann, Wayne

Part-time jobs

What gives so many students at Laurel-Concord High School satisfaction and independence? Their part time jobs!

A large majority of students report to part time jobs after school each day. Students enjoy what they're doing, even though most have a relatively small income. The average hourly wage of employed high school students ranges from $2.75 to $4.

One student said, "I only work about 10 hours a week, which is about $30. I need more than that, but at least it's something." Another student enjoyed her job as a church janitor because, "It's not a hard job, and it doesn't require much skill, but it has a quiet atmosphere and I am hardly ever interrupted," she said.

Having a part time job gives students a great feeling of pride. One student said, "When I spend my own money, I think 'wow' I worked really hard for this!" Another student said, "After a day's work I feel good knowing that I've earned my own money." Also, students felt that having to earn their own money made them more responsible in the way they spend money.

When asked what influenced them to get jobs, most students said that parents played a major role. One student said "My parents told me that if I wanted extra spending money, I'd have to earn it myself."

Adult living

Judging by a Laurel-Concord High School course, only a set of encyclopedias could cover adult living.

In Adult Living, students read about relationships with other people, marriage, divorce, reproduction, parenthood, adoption, child abuse, communication stress, and death. That's part of Adult Living.

In their lives, nearly everyone has to go through the adult stage. For junior and senior students, Adult Living is a class taught by Janet Johnson at the Laurel-Concord High School. "Most of the things that we discuss in the class are things that will happen to adults, or at least relate to them in their lives," said Ms. Johnson.

Class members study Family Matters by Authors Rebecca M. Smith and Mary Lin Apicelli. The textbook illuminates concepts in marriage and personal relationships.

The adults of the eighties in the class learn to be good parents. According to Ms. Johnson, students will take care of something like an egg. This way they learn to be caring, careful parents.

As future husbands and wives, students will prepare a wedding scrapbook describing the process of getting ready for and going through with a wedding.

Family situations will be role played by planning a frequent family conflict and finding a good way to solve it like a real family would.

Films on parenthood and marriage and possibly a field trip to a hospital to see a delivery room or other projects according to Ms. Johnson.

By Suzy Hintz

Home sewn for fun and economy Colleen Milliken, a sophomore at Laurel-Concord Public School, enjoys clothing class in which she has just completed her first project.

Colleen made a one piece dress out of polyester cotton blend with a linen finish. The pink dress has small gray squares with short pleated puffed sleeves. It has a high rounded neckline and an elastic waist. Colleen felt the easiest part of making her dress was cutting it out and sewing the straight seams.

She said the hardest part of making her dress was the sleeves. When asked how much she thought her dress cost she said "Around $10 dollars which makes a difference when in the shopping center it would cost around $20 to $25 dollars."

Colleen took Clothing because she always liked to sew little things. Colleen also said she would save money to sew her own clothes. Colleen said, "The clothes that I've made, that I like I will enjoy wearing."

Colleen also made a blouse and a robe in clothing. Colleen has had very little sewing experience and said she has gotten most of her sewing know-how from Miss Johnson, her teacher at Laurel-Concord High School.

Media Magazine

The media class at LCHS, under the instruction of Mr. Lemke, recently created a magazine, filled with student interest articles and humorous advertisements.

Mr. Lemke wanted the students to learn how to make a magazine. First, the students needed a plan for an article. They needed to research the topic and write it up into an article. Brian Rasmussen wrote an article on "How the Three Wheeler Helps the Modern Day Farmer."

Brian let the reader understand what a convenience it is to have around the farm by giving examples of how the farmer benefits. Benjie Galvin used descriptive words and created a picture in the reader's mind in his article about "The Modern Mechanic Keeping up with the Modern Age."

The magazine, titled Burnout, contained appealing, commercials that dealt with the modern world. The cover was created by Loren Urwiler. Mr. Lemke said, "Loren is good at lay outs. His use of colors, angles, and curves created a good picture for the cover."

Mr. Lemke commented, "The magazine isn't professional, but with the school's supplies, the students did rather good." He also said, "The students may not think they did every well, but I consider it amazingly well done." He thought the students could have done a better job of editing their articles. Also, if the library would've contained more information, the articles would have had more appeal to the reader.

The students said they learned a lot through a trial and error basis. One student said, "A person has to think fast, but also be smart when writing articles."

One-act play

"No Jeff, you must forget the accident, it wasn't your fault," said Mary, wife of Jeff Mulkey, in the One-Act Play "The Storm."

"The Storm", written by Donald Payton, portrays Jeff Mulkey standing at his cabin window, peering at a blizzard and deepening snow. Five years before he was involved in an auto accident that took the lives of a mother and her daughter.

Snowstorms bring back the accident to Jeff's cruel memory. Jeff moved with his wife Mary, to a cabin in the mountains, far away from people.

According to the "World Encyclopedia", a well written play has dramatic action and a sequence of incidents organized to accomplish a purpose, and nothing in it should be unrelated to that purpose. In The Storm, the purpose was to arouse emotion about a tragedy.

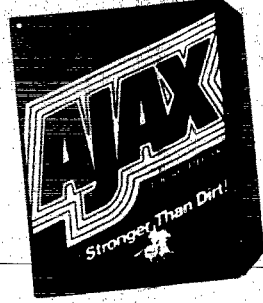

"The Storm" showed tragedy. According to the World Encyclopedia, tragedy raises the important questions about the meaning of human existence and pity, dread, and terror. "The Storm" portrayed pity when Mr. Mulkey played by Derek Lineberry, remembers having killed a young mother and her child in a car accident.

Derek's sunken shoulders and "long" sad face showed the audience how sorrowful he felt every time a new snowstorm approached. Derek showed terror when he threw a chair to the air and his eyes popped, as if to fall out.

Wakfield held Conference drama competition and Wayne held Districts. Laurel finished second in Wakfield and fourth at Wayne.

Renee Vanderheiden performed on a sprained ankle at District, and Allen George showed his determination by winning best supporting actor. Brenda Jusel received honorable mention for "best actress." Other members of the cast were Carol Osborne and Derek Lineberry. Mrs. Joan Brogie directs at Laurel High.

The Wakefield school news is compiled by Jane Gustafson, reporter for Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) as a special service project. Many people contribute ideas and information.

Business class visits bank
On the afternoon of Friday, Jan. 20, the Business Math class from Wakefield High visited the Wakefield National Bank. The class was given a short tour of the bookkeeping department and a demonstration of how accounts are now computerized.

Lois Burns then took the group to the basement meeting room where she discussed the advantages and disadvantages of EE and IRAs, certificates of deposits, and IRAs. She also pointed out that a small amount saved now is not so small by retirement.

Family living field trip
On Jan. 25, the Family Living class took a field trip to Norfolk. The class is in the process of completing an assignment on budgeting and planning a wedding, and thus the field trip concerned the many aspects of it.

The first stop of the day was Vicki's Bridal and Formal Wear, where the class learned about choosing gowns, tuxedos, bridesmaid dresses, invitations, and mothers' gowns. Along with this came many helpful hints as to planning a wedding.

Next, the class visited the Wetzel and Trux Jewelers, Inc. Here they were shown how to select tableware, flatware, and beverage ware. They were also shown the wide range of prices and learned about the conditions of purchase contracts. In addition to this, the jewelers informed the group about making wise selections in diamonds, with color being the most important factor in the "Three C's" of diamond selection.

After lunch the class visited the Flower Boutique where they learned good color combinations and looked at ample arrangements, and learned about budgeting for flowers.

Last on the list of stops was Michael's Photography. Here the class learned that it was important to have a well established and experienced photographer to capture the kind of photographs desired.

The class was accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Kathy Mitchell who stated that the class was very enthused and came back with many new ideas which they are now putting to work in completing their assignment.

Juniors participate in career workshop
On Thursday, Feb. 2, and Friday, Feb. 3, the junior class at Wakefield participated in a Career Awareness Workshop sponsored by Northeast Technical Community College. The class was divided into two parts, assigned partners, and worked in two half day sessions.

The sessions involved exercises in a group, with a partner, and individually. The main purpose of the exercises was to increase the students' self knowledge in order to help them in choosing a career.

In addition to the exercises, self-evaluation sheets were received. The Juniors had taken tests in varied areas some weeks before, and the results were given back to aid in the self awareness workshops. The workshops were given by the guidance counselor, Mrs. Sondra Remer.

Students travel to Creighton
On Saturday, Feb. 4, 10 students from Wakefield traveled to Creighton for the annual Creighton Math Day. These students included six Seniors: Kelly Greve, Michelle Rischmuller, Karla Stelling, Michele Meyer, Cari Johnson and Shelley Kreusemark; two Juniors: Darla Hartman, and Melodie Witt; and two Sophomores: Suzanne Stelling, and Sheri Pearson.

Accompanied by their instructors, Miss Ellie Studer, and Mr. Dennis Wilbur, the students left for Creighton at 6:30 a.m. Arriving at 8:45, they then attended an assembly at 9:30. From 10 a.m. to 12:15 the students participated in several tests in the math area. Then at 2 p.m. the group attended an awards ceremony, and left for home. The results from the tests taken are eagerly awaited and should arrive some time in the next few weeks.

Elementary news -
The first graders, who are taught by Mrs. Sharpe, recently acted out some of their favorite stories and poems for their parents and other elementary students.

The stories acted out were: "The Little Red Hen" and "Three Billy Goats Gruff". The poems acted out were "Ten Little Snowmen," "Sick," and "Jump & Jiggle". The sixth graders were also involved in the activities as they helped the first graders with their props and make up.

Each sixth grader was given a "study buddy" in the first grade, and assigned to help them make their props and aid them in putting on their make-up. Both classes enjoyed the joint activity.

Devils hold off SSC

Ah yes, just another day at the office. It's doubtful that's what Wayne High School boys basketball coach Bill Sharpe told his wife when he got home after last Friday's 46-45 Blue Devil victory over 1-12 South Sioux City at Wayne.

It is more likely Sharpe and the Devils were just happy to escape with a win while evening their season mark at 7-7.

Wayne and South Sioux stood toe-to-toe in the first half and slugged it out. The Cardinals held a 15-14 advantage at the end of the first period and took a 29-28 lead into the lockerroom at the half after Steve Adams connected on a 15-foot jumper at the buzzer.

WAYNE PLAYED coolly in the first half, thanks to the heady play of 6-8 Rod Dahl underneath the boards and the silver spoon passing of junior Steve Overin.

It wasn't until the second half, when Overin accumulated his fourth foul and was sent to the bench, that it looked like the Devils might fold under the intense pressure being applied by the scrappy Cardinal defense.

Sharpe agreed that Overin's play was one of the keys to Wayne's success.

"It hurt us a lot when we had to take him out," Sharpe said. "I was scared to death he was going foul out."

"He is by far the best we've got at getting the ball down the floor, but Pete (Warne) played a great game too."

THE BLUE Devils had opened up a 38-33 lead before Overin sat down, but South Sioux pulled to within one at 42-41 after Wayne's Dan Gross was whistled for reaching in on Cardinal Mark Warnock at the 4:51 mark in the third period.

The Cards tied things a few minutes later off of a Jerry Lovell charity toss and South Sioux took the lead on his second shot.

South Sioux then added another free throw to take a one point advantage before the Devils got a steal underneath and Dahl hit to put the tally at 43-44 before the Cardinals' Tim Trysla drew a foul going up for the shot from Wayne's Don Larsen with just nine seconds left.

Trysla missed both shots and Dahl came up with the rebound and was sent to the line by Lovell, where he iced the win with a pair of losses.

TRYSLA ADDED a meaningless layup for South Sioux as time expired and Wayne escaped with the close shave.

Sharpe said he is as confused as anybody with Wayne's inconsistency.

"We come down and can be patient and look pretty good and the next time we just sit ing it," Sharpe said. "There's no rhyme or reason for it."

Dahl finished the night with a game-high 22 points, while Wayne's other big man, 6-5 Larsen added just six. The Devils have had trouble getting both big men firing on the same cylinders all season.

"I think that's going to be hard," Sharpe said. "Both those kids can dominate, but sometimes it seems like there's not room for both of them in there -- they play together pretty well, though."

SHARPE SAID the Blue Devils troubles in the second half were caused mainly by the Cardinals' pressure.

"We didn't penetrate and pretty soon they were pushing us out," Sharpe said.

After Dahl's 22 points, Overin added 10 for Wayne, while Lovell fueled the Cardinal attack with 14 points.

The Devils shot 59 percent (19 of 32) from the field while South Sioux was 16 of 36 (44 percent).

On the boards, Wayne pulled down 24 rebounds as Larsen and Dahl each tore down six apiece.

The devils were slated to travel to Elkorn to take on the Antlers on Saturday night.

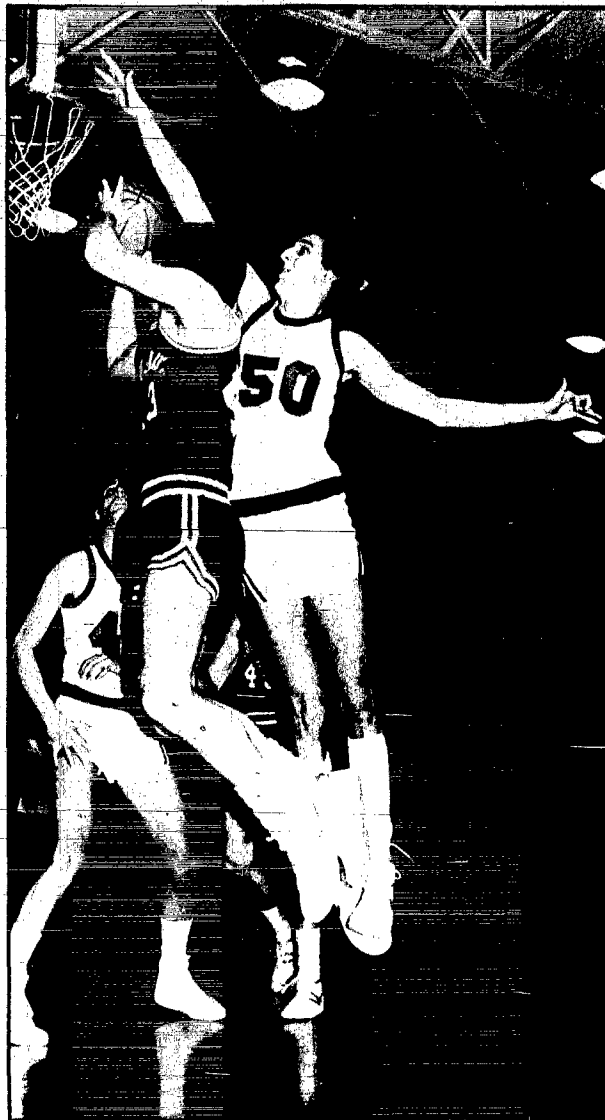

Wayne High School's boys junior varsity basketball team notched a pair of wins in its last two outings, dumping Hartington Cedar Catholic 68-45 on Feb. 4 and spanking South Sioux City 57-43 last Saturday night.

The Blue Devils jumped out in front of HCC 20-6 in the first period and lallied 20 again in the third period en route to the victory.

Wayne had four players in double figures as Brent Pick led the way with 13 points and Tom Perry added 12. Jeff Sherer and Carl Urwiler added 10 and 11 points respectively.

In last Saturday's game against South Sioux, the Devils iced the win with a 19-point fourth quarter. Perry was the scoring king with 14 points while Sherer added 13.

Wakefield girls raise season record to 6-9

The Wakefield Trojans girls basketball team upped its season mark to 6-9 Thursday night with its second win in as many tries - a 34-30 win over Coleridge on the road.

Trojan mentor Mary Schroeder said Wakefield lacked intensity in the first half, a fact evidenced by a two-point second quarter which allowed them to sneak into the lockerroom with a 12-10 advantage.

"Brenda Jones got three fouls early and that hurt us a lot," Schroeder said.

Jones scored 26 points in Wakefield's 49-48 win over Allen last Tuesday. She finished the night against the Chargers with 13 points.

Wakefield exploded for 15 points in the third period to take a 27-18 lead and coasted to the win.

"The third period was the key," Schroeder said. "We started taking the ball to the basket and playing more aggressively."

She added that the Trojans played "alright" in their 1-3 1 zone defense, but were slow in reacting.

Jones' 13 points led all scorers while Coleridge's Sharon Hoffart was second with 12 points.

Both teams pulled down 34 rebounds as the Trojans were paced by Kristal Clay's nine caroms and Jones' seven.

"The Trojans close out their regular season this Thursday at home against 16-3 Pender."

"What a way to close," Schroeder said. "But we're playing better and the kids are doing a nice job adjusting to different things."

Winside girls notch first win of season

If a team is only going to win one basketball game all year, it would be best to wait until the last game of the season to do so to give the squad something to build on for next year.

Well, that's just what the Winside girls did last Friday night as they ended their regular season with a 1-17 mark by virtue of a 33-27 win over the Decatur Bulldogs on the road.

Winside head coach Don Leighton, usually easy going in defeat, was like a kid at Christmas after the win.

"Am I happy?" he said. "I guess I'm ecstatic -- we were down at the half."

Indeed, it looked like the same old story for the Wildcats in the early going play your guts out but come up on the short end of the score.

The Cats salvaged a tie (8-8) after the first period, but found themselves trailing 16-9 after the second stanza.

"Decatur tried a slow down game in the first half and it worked," Leighton said. "But we started playing aggressively in the second half and driving on offense."

That play allowed Winside to pull within 21-20 heading into the final period.

"We started using Pam Peter at the baseline and she was able to drive and draw fouls," Leighton said.

It was by no accident that Peter was picked to take the abuse. She was third in the Lewis and Clark Conference in free throws going into Friday's game.

Decatur took the ball hook, line and sinker and ended up sending the Wildcats to the paint 42 times, where Winside converted 19 times. The Bulldogs went to the line 21 times and came away with just nine points.

Winside outrebounded Decatur 37-10 as Peter pulled down 33 caroms and Leah Jensen added seven.

In the scoring department, Peter reigned again with 16 points.

The Cats will begin district competition tomorrow (Tuesday) versus Verdigré at Hartington.

Allen, Winside kick off districts

Allen and Winside high schools kick off district basketball action this week to determine who will qualify for a trip to the state tournament in Lincoln.

The winners of the Class A and B district tournaments will advance directly to the state tournament, while the remainder of the classes will stage regional playoffs between the district champions to determine the state entrants.

Class C-6 action has Allen's boys roundballers at Laurel today (Monday) at 6:30 versus Hartington while the Eagle girls will take on Wausa tomorrow night at 8 p.m.

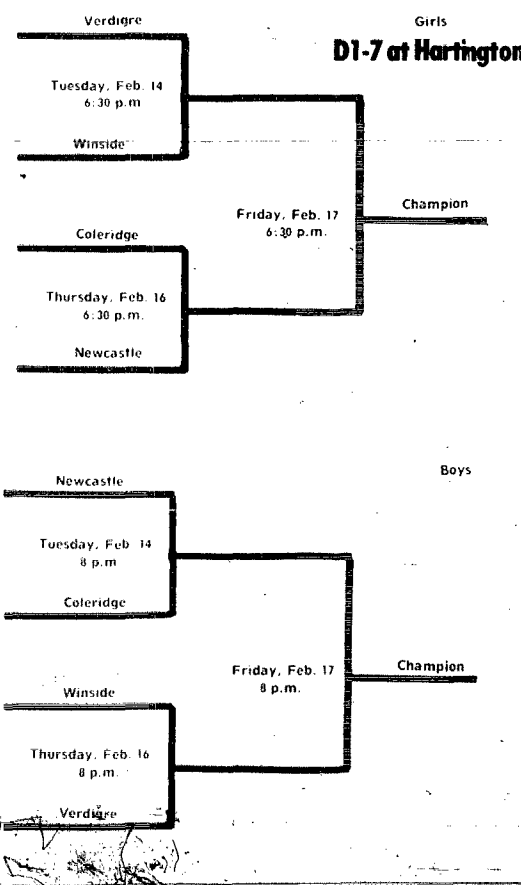

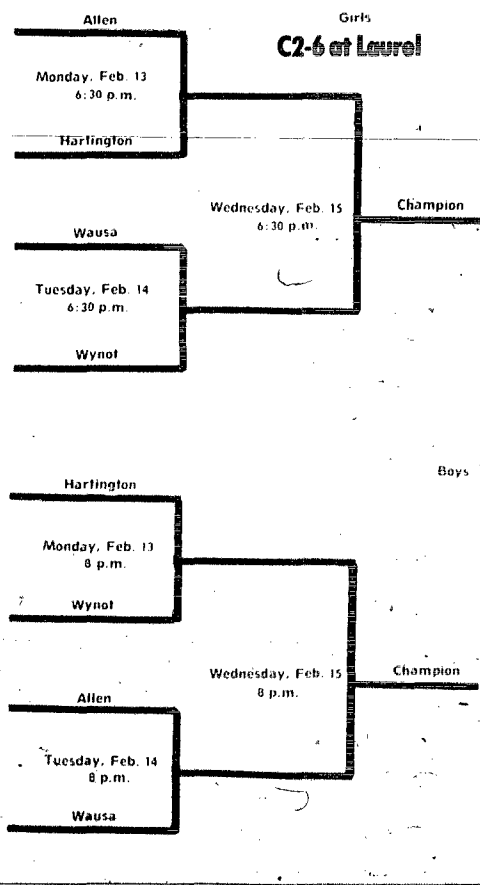

The Winside Wildcats girls are slated to play Verdigré at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in Class D-7 action. The boys will go up against Verdigré on Thursday at 8 p.m.

also at Hartington.

Wakefield and Laurel will begin district competition next week while the Class B-4 districts will have Wayne in action on Feb. 20-25 or Feb. 27-28.

The State Tournament will use a new format this year, with the Class C-2, D-1 and D-2 competition slated for Lincoln on March 1-3. Class C-1, B-4 and A action scheduled for March 8-10 in the capitol city. In the past, the boys and girls tournaments were held separately.

The Class C-6 and D-7 brackets follow. The C-1, C-1B and B-4 brackets will be seeded next week.

Southern triumphs at buzzer

Missouri Southern's Carl Tyler got a tip-in at the buzzer to give the Lions a 59-58 CSIC victory over the Wayne State Wildcats in mens roundball action at WSC's Rice Auditorium Friday night.

The loss dropped the Cats to 11-17 on the season and 2-9 in the CSIC. Southern went to 10-11 and 5-5 in the conference.

If any fingers were to be pointed in trying to analyze the Cats' loss, free throw shooting would loom large. The Wildcats hit just 8 of 20 charity shots on the night, but more blantly, hit just 1 of 7 in the second half.

To make the loss even harder to swallow, the Wildcats will have to live with the knowledge that they blew a 13-point lead in the second half. Wayne State went up 41-28 at the 17:46 mark on a Tracy-Penn-to-John Thomsen fast break basket and it appeared the Cats were off to the races.

But it was Tyler, who came into the game carrying a 21-point scoring average, who lit a fire under the Lions and scored 10 straight points in the span of three minutes to tie the score at 49-49 with just 5:52 left in the game.

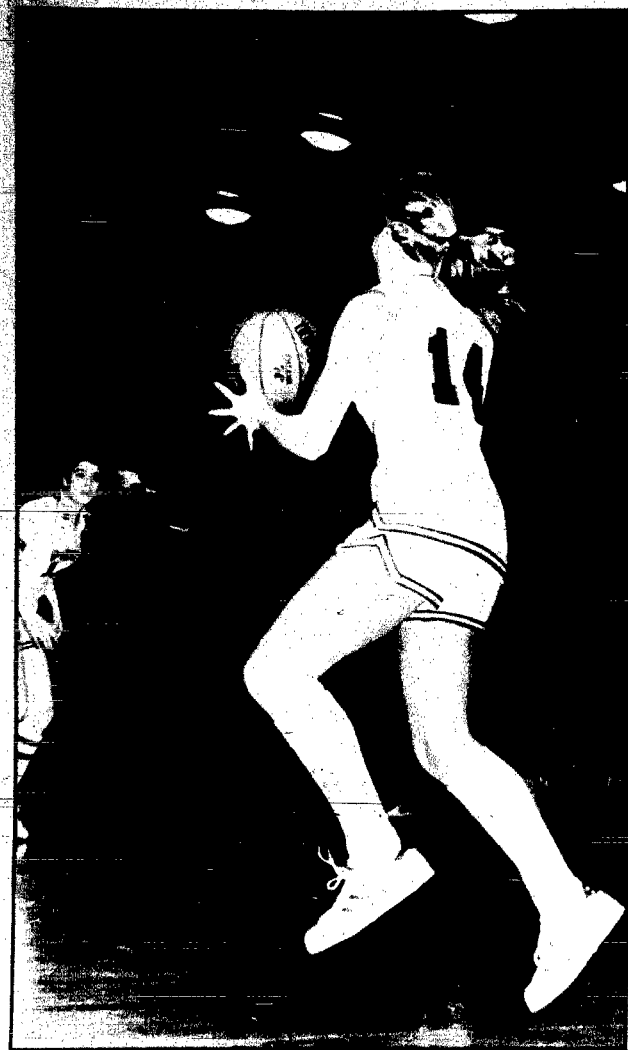

Southern went ahead seconds later on a James Park jumper and the race was on.

The Cats up 58-57 in the waning seconds and appeared headed for a win when Tyler bagged his at-the-buzzer tip-in to give the Lions the last roar and send the Crowd at Rice Auditorium home in stunned silence.

Tyler led all scorers with 25 points while Wayne State was paced by three players in double figures. Center Vince Tillo led the way with 14 points while Russ Uhing and Thomsen added 13 and 12 points respectively.

The Wildcats were slated to play CSIC foe Pittsburg on Saturday night. Game results will appear in Thursday's Wayne Herald.

BLUE DEVIL Lisa Jacobsen takes a pass at mid-court.

Blue Devils are benevolent in loss

The Wayne High School girls basketball team must have felt benevolent Tuesday night.

After all, the Blue Devils spotted the Emerson Hubbard Pirates 17 points before they managed to rally their first points en route to a 41-30 loss at Wayne. The score stood at 17-0 in the second period before Fran Gross hit a bucket at the 4:14 mark for Wayne's first points of the contest.

At times it seemed as if there was a force field around Wayne's basket as the ball continually went into — and right back out of the hoop. The Devils finished shooting just 11 percent (3 of 26) from the field in the first half. Meanwhile, the Pirates were hitting a comparatively sizzling 43 percent (10 of 23) while vaulting to a 21-7 halftime lead.

Wayne coach Dale Hochstein was as perplexed as anybody over the ball's uncanny tendency to bounce out of the basket on Wayne's end of the court.

"It was seemed like there was something in the basket that made the ball come back out," he said.

Wayne regrouped at the half and came out with fire in its eyes, playing scrappy defense and fighting under the boards. The Devils outscored the Pirates 10-8 in the third period.

"I was really pleased with the way we played in the second half — particularly in the third period," Hochstein said. "We decided at halftime whether we wanted to continue to play or just quit. I felt really good about the girls."

The Devils bettered the Pirates 11-12 in the final stanza and pulled within six (36-30) with just 1:01 remaining in the game, but the rally was too little, too late as Emerson Hubbard had enough of a cushion to hang on.

Allen stomps Bobcats 38-18

Allen parlayed a solid team defensive effort into a 38-18 win over Beemer on the road Thursday night in girls high school basketball action.

The win allowed the Eagles finish the regular season with an 11-5 record and gives them momentum going into tonight's (Monday) district playoff game against Harrington at Laurel.

"We played solid man-to-man and pressed a little bit," said Allen head man Gary Troth. "We got good help when we needed it and kept their passes to the outside."

Allen jumped on top quickly, led 10-6 after one period, and half saw the Bobcats rebound to hold their own in the scoring department but the Eagles used the luxury of their 16-point halftime lead to coast to the win.

for the win.

The Blue Devils finished the night shooting 20 percent (11 of 55) and the Pirates were 16 of 39 (41 percent).

Wayne pulled down 34 rebounds at Karen Longe and Fran Gross led the way with nine and eight respectively.

Hochstein was particularly pleased that the Devils committed just nine turnovers on the night.

Leading Wayne's scoring attack was Gross, who tallied nine points. Laura Keating followed with eight.

In junior varsity action earlier in the night, Wayne used a 14-point third period to vault to a 31-23 win over the Pirates. Laura Keating, Amy Jordan and Kolette Frevort all tallied six points to pace Wayne.

The Devils are slated to play on the road tomorrow (Tuesday) night against Pierce.

Free throws proved to be a key opportunity towards the end of the contest. Allen was sent to the line 24 times and came away with 18 points. Eight of Allen's 10 fourth-quarter points came from the charity stripe.

"We didn't have to put up a lot of shots," Troth said. "We seemed to be fouling everytime we got the ball."

The Eagles finished the night shooting 42 percent (10 of 23) from the field, while the Bobcats were a miserable 9 of 39 (23 percent).

Tami Jewell once again led the Eagles at folk, this time with 12 points, while team mate Denise Magnuson added seven.

Beemer won the rebounding war, pulling down 33 Caroms to 30 for Eagles. Allen was paced by Deanna Hansen, Joanne Warner and Mary Oswald with five Caroms each.

Cats end season 4-14

22, 22, 22. The Winside Wildcats are stuck on 22.

The Wildcat boys basketball team has been whiffed for 22 fouls in its last three outings and has come up on the short end of the score two times.

The Cats fell 67-49 to Wynot last Tuesday, dropped a 77-50 decision to Osmond on Thursday night but finished their season on a positive note on Friday night with a 46-43 win over Decatur at home.

On Friday, Winside opened up a ten point lead in the second period via several Bulldog turnovers and took a 24-16 lead into the locker room at the half.

"We pressed them and got the turnovers early," said Winside mentor Mark Freburg. "But we let them close the gap."

Indeed, it took a pair of free throws by senior John Hawkins with just 18 seconds left in the game to ice the victory for Winside.

"That won the game for us," Freburg said. "But we missed quite a few before that."

Winside finished hitting 12 of 26 shots from the paint. They were 17 of 49 (34 percent) from the field while Decatur hit 9 of 21 charity tosses and 17 of 53 (32 percent) from the field.

"We were never behind, but it got kind of exciting down the stretch," Freburg said.

The Wildcats pulled down 29 rebounds against the Bulldogs as Scott Janke tallied nine and Hawkins added seven.

Hawkins and Janke also fueled the Cats' scoring attack with 17 and 14 points respectively.

On Thursday night against Osmond, Winside was blasted as four of the Tigers five starters scored in double figures.

"They're solid," Freburg said. "You just don't beat that kind of balance."

Winside finished the regular season at 4-14 and is slated to begin district competition this Thursday at Harrington versus Verdigr.

Eagles close with one-point loss

The Allen Eagles boys basketball team closed its regular season with a 45-44 loss at the hands of Beemer on the road Thursday night, but Eagle mentor Dave Uldrich was as pleased as if Allen had registered a victory.

"I'm not at all disappointed," Uldrich said. "We came ready to play — I think we set the tone for districts."

Allen takes a 6-10 record into district play against Wausa tomorrow (Tuesday).

The Eagles found themselves trailing 16-11 after the first period, but battled back to within one at 27-26 at the half.

Both teams went head to head in the scoring department in the second half.

Allen went up by three in the fourth period and held a slim one point advantage with just 12 seconds remaining after Steve Jones' ten foot jumper.

Beemer lobbed an inbounds pass in the waning seconds to Arvid Hass underneath and the 6-1 junior flicked up a Hal Mary off balance hook shot layup to win the game.

"It was a circus shot to say the least," Uldrich said. "We outplayed them."

The Eagles outboarded the Bobcats 31-26 and dominated on the offensive boards.

"We outboarded them something terrible on the offensive boards," Uldrich said. "But they (Beemer) can shoot and they get up and down the court pretty well."

Steve Jones pulled down nine rebounds while teammates Craig Noe and Jay Jones each added 17.

Senior Kevin Chase led the Allen attack with 10 points while Steve Jones tallied nine. The Eagles were outshot 47 percent (19 of 39) to 35 percent (18 of 52).

.08 percent shooting exterminates Bears

Laurel hit just one of 12 field goal attempts in the first period last Friday night and never recovered, dropping a 62-50 decision to Wausa on the road.

"We got pretty good shots, we just couldn't hit," was the assessment of Laurel head man John Held.

That poor shooting percentage saw the Bears take a back seat to the Vikings in the first quarter. They never did get behind the wheel.

Laurel trailed 16-3 after the first period and 27-12 at the half.

The second half saw the Bears finally wake up, but Wausa wasn't exactly losing logs at that point and outscored the Bears 20-12 in the third period to coast to the win.

"We didn't get a lot of second shots," Held said. "It just seemed like we were always trying to catch up."

Held added that the Bears will have to play better in their last two contests to date last Saturday with Plainville and an appointment this Friday with Randolph as they hope to improve on their 2-13 record.

"We've got to get better on going inside with our shots," Held said.

Mark Pennerick tallied 12 points to lead the Bears, while Dave Kordell added 10 points.

Laurel touched the night shooting 47 percent (27 of 57) while the Vikings were 25 of 64 (39 percent).

The Vikes outboarded Laurel 38-34 as Pennerick tore down 11 and Troy Nestman added 10.

Turnovers, 'Dogs trounce Trojans

We just didn't take care of the ball very well.

That was the assessment of Wakefield head boys basketball coach Ernie Kovar of the Trojans' 47-34 loss to Coleridge on the road last Friday night.

"We had too many turnovers, 16, that really hurt us," Kovar said.

The Trojans kept things tight in the early going, trailed just 12-10 after the first period, and tied things at 20-20 going into the locker room at intermission.

Neither team put on a scoring exhibition in the third stanza. Wakefield tallied five points, while Coleridge answered with six, but that proved to be the calm before the storm.

The Trojans began turning the ball over and the Bulldogs parlayed Wakefield's mistakes into a 21-point fourth period that has them pull away for the win.

Wakefield managed to out rebound the Trojans 29-21 as Brian Soderberg led the Trojans with 11 Caroms and Wade Nicholson added nine.

Wakefield's scoring attack was paced by Jeff Coble and Nicholson, who each tallied 10 points as the Trojans hit 32 percent (16 of 50) from the field. Coleridge beamed just 33 percent (14 of 42) of its shots.

"We played with a lot of intensity, but Coleridge is real scrappy," Kovar said.

The Trojans are slated to close out their regular season this week when they host Oakland tomorrow (Tuesday) and Ponca on Friday.

Record, Cats broken at Rice

It was night for breaking records and near misses for the Wayne State College Lady Wildcats basketball team Friday night at Rice Auditorium.

Patty Carney set a new Wayne State record for most assists in one game with 11 (the old mark was 10) and Shari Krohn just missed tying the school best for rebounds in a game with 23 (the Wildcat record is 24), but those feats were overshadowed by a 69-55 loss to Missouri Southern in a CSIC contest that saw the Cats fall to 5-16 on the season and 0-11 in the CSIC. Southern is now 17-2 and 10-0.

The Cats played with more intensity than one would expect from a squad with a goose egg in conference play, and trailed just 40-32 at the half off of 16 points by Wragge and eight by Patty Carney.

But the veteran Lion squad was undaunted and the second half saw Southern methodically pulled away for the win.

Wragge's 19 points led all scorers while teammates Carney and Vina Kelly added 12 and 10 points respectively. Southern was paced by Margaret Womak's 17 points.

On the boards, Wayne State outrebounded Southern 44-38 as Krohn led the way with 23.

The Cats finished the night shooting 43 percent (25 of 58) from the field while the Lions were 30-of-70 (42 percent).

Wayne State was slated to play host to CSIC foe Pittsburg on Saturday night. Results will appear in Thursday's Wayne Herald.

Bears Finked on 24 times

Somebody finked on the Laurel girls basketball team last Thursday night.

That somebody was Wausa's #3 Jodine Fink, who burned the Bear defense for 24 points to lead the Vikings to a 43-32 win over Laurel at Wausa, helped avenge the Vikes' 34-33 loss to the Bears in the second round of the Lewis and Clark Conference Tournament on Jan. 31.

Laurel coach Gale Hamilton said the Bears tried several defenses to stop the lowering senior.

"We were trying to front her, then we tried to box her with three players," Hamilton said. "It helped, but then Creutz (5-10 Megan) got hot."

Creutz tallied nine points on the night.

The Bears found themselves in trouble early and trailed 12-4 after one period of play and 22-14 at the half.

Laurel got things turned around at halftime and managed to stick with the Vikings, but failed to make up the lost ground.

"I think we were intimidated a little bit by their (Wausa) height," Hamilton said.

Laurel finished shooting just 27 percent (14 of 51) from the field for the night as Wendy Robson led the way with 15 points.

On the boards, the Bears outboarded the Vikes 23-21 as Robson and Gail Twilford each tallied six caroms.

Did the loss relieve any pressure from the Bears after winning the Lewis and Clark Tournament?

"I don't really think the girls were feeling the pressure, but I guess it helped a little," Hamilton said.

In junior varsity action, Laurel lost 23-10. Lori Jensen led the Bears with six points and five rebounds.

The Ponca Indians, 38-35 losers to the Bears in overtime in the L&C championship game, will be the next squad with a chance to avenge a recent loss. The Bears will host Ponca Thursday night.
