Laurel Ag Days activities slated for next weekend

Ag Days has replaced the Dairy Days celebration in Laurel. The Ag Days will take place in Laurel on Friday and Saturday, June 15 and 16. The event is being sponsored by the Laurel Chamber of Commerce. Schnetter Amusement of Alta, Iowa will provide the midway which will open on Friday afternoon and evening and continue through Saturday. Advance tickets may be purchased from Chamber businesses at a price of four rides for $1. The theme of the parade is "Agriculture Through the Ages" and will feature antique tractors and farm equipment. Anyone wishing to place an entry in the Ag Days parade are asked to contact Lee Dahl of Laurel. A kiddie parade is also being planned, with prizes to be distributed to the top entries. Special guest in the parade will include the Abu Bekr Shrine, Keystone Kops from Omaha and Grand Marshal Neal Falber - Laurel Citizen of the Year. The parade will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the city park, advance to Main Street and travel west and then south to Hillcrest Care Center. Entries are to line up at 6:30 p.m. at the ball park. Rain date for the parade is scheduled for Saturday, June 16 at 2 p.m.

AG DAY RIBBONS will be on sale for 50 cents each, starting Monday, June 11. Purchase of the ribbons will permit the buyer to shop for many special bargains being offered during Ag Days.

A bicycle rodeo will take place at the Laurel city park on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. with three age groups involved in the activity. The age groups are from ages 4, 6, 7, 10 and 11 and up. There will also be other kid's games including water balloon throw, egg race and an obstacle course.

A Pet Show is scheduled for Friday at 1:00 at the Hillcrest Care Center. The Laurel VFW Auxiliary and Aid Association for Lutherans are planning a Pie and Ice Cream Social for Friday, beginning at 2 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Center. Also included in the celebration plans are: a Laurel Senior Citizens Raffle Friday at 8 p.m., with several handmade items being raffled off; a square dance being planned by the Town Twirlers Square Dance Club from Laurel, Saturday evening at 8 p.m. in the city auditorium; and the Laurel-Concord Alumni Banquet scheduled for 6 p.m. on Friday in the Laurel-Concord school gym.

Funds raised from the Ag Days celebration will go to the purchase of a lighted flag pole at the city office in memory of Laurel's deceased veterans.

Chicken Show plans cooking as celebration dates near

Plans are already in the frying pan for this year's Wayne Chicken Show, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, July 13 and 14. Chicken show committee members met Thursday evening to finalize plans for the two day celebration. A limericks contest (with chickens the lone subject in the contest) will be sponsored by The Wayne Herald, with publication of the limericks and a $10 prize going to the first place winner. The first event of the celebration Friday evening will be the Fowl Players Talent Contest, sponsored by the KTCH radio station. Following the talent contest will be a square dance. Early on Saturday morning, a "Crowing Contest" has been tentatively scheduled. A rooster which has voiced the most crows in a certain number of minutes would be declared the winner. Approximately 7 a.m. Saturday will be the Chicken Show "Fun Run." Prior to the 10 a.m. Chicken Show Parade the same day, chicken races will take place. The chicken parade on Saturday will feature costumed entries, floats, possible bands and other chicken related entries. An arts and craft show will take place from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and the annual Omelet Feed is slated to begin at 11:30 a.m. and conclude at 1:30 p.m. The tentative plans of establishing a Chicken Show-Box Social following the talent show and scheduling of the chicken fry at Bressler Park were also discussed by the committee members.

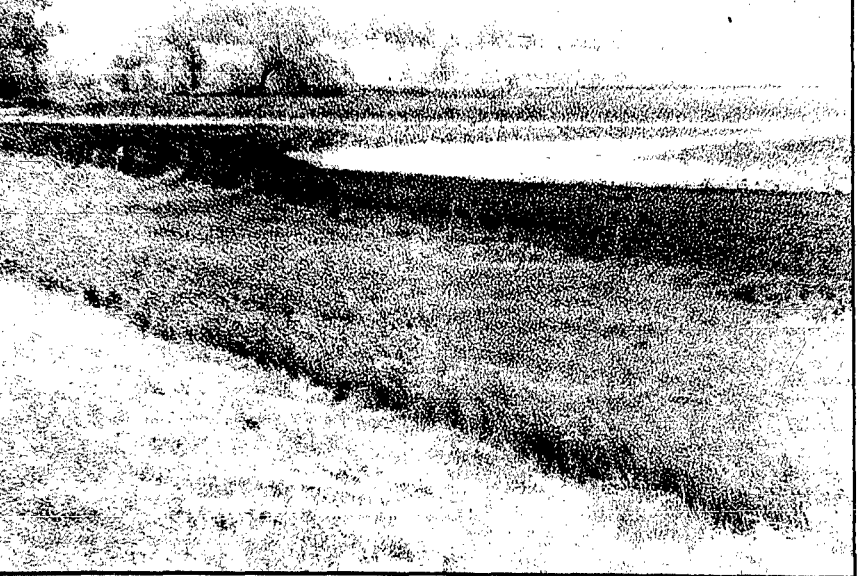

OTHER ACTIVITIES scheduled during the celebration include the national "Cluck off Tournament" where participants show the ability to cluck like a chicken; cluck-cluck golf; the hard boiled egg eating contest; egg loss; and the egg drop. The Wayne Regional Arts Council is seeking chicken pictures to hang in the Daylight Donut shop from June 16 until after the Chicken Show on July 11. Past exhibits have featured works by the artists themselves, but for this special exhibit any chicken or egg picture will be accepted. Persons having chicken or egg paintings, photographs, weavings or needlework pictures to display should make arrangements by calling Gail Korn at 375 3615 or Marla McCue (375-1986) by June 15. "We would like to cover the walls of Daylight Donut with chicken pictures. We know of two local artists who have been doing chicken pictures, especially for this month," said Korn. "We will need the widest participation to reach our goal," she added. The fourth annual chicken show is conducted to honor the chicken for its contributions to society.

Pebble-textured farm field

RAINS CONTINUE to fall, making it difficult for area farmers to work in the fields.

Farmers catch up with planting

Despite the cool, damp weather during the early part of the planting season, sufficient drying has allowed farmers to finally get in the fields. "The county's corn crop is probably all planted," said Wayne County Extension Agent Don Spitzke, "and most of the soybean farmers are finishing up." Spitzke said the farmers, on the average, were not that far behind. "The corn crop is about 10 days delayed and the soybeans are less than a week behind schedule," he said.

THE NEBRASKA CROP and Livestock Reporting Service indicated corn planting in the state was 92 percent completed by June 3, with 60 percent emergence. University of Nebraska extension weeds specialist John Furrer informed the Agricultural Climate Situation Committee of the Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service that "in many areas, particularly in the eastern part of the state, emergence (plants coming through the ground) is a problem because of soil compaction." Spitzke said soil compaction occurs when the farmer works with extremely moist land, and it becomes packed. The small plants are not able to emerge through the compacted soil. Other parts of the state, including the Panhandle and north central parts of the state, are near normal in growing degree days, according to the committee.

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA extension climate resource specialist, Ken Hubbard, told the committee that south-central and southeast Nebraska is behind for warm season crops and up to 14 days behind for cool season crops. Spitzke said Wayne County should have no problems with the cool season crops, such as oats and small grains. Russell Moomaw, crops and weeds specialist at the University of Nebraska experimental station in Concord, said the acreage of oats could be lower, due to the late planting conditions. "In some cases, it got so late that farmers didn't bother to plant the small grain crops at all," he said.

MOOMAW SAID the late corn planting could mean a reduction in overall yields. "The late planting is not a serious situation," he said, "but a lot will depend on the later summer months."

Hearings set for phone rate hikes

Public hearing dates have been announced concerning the proposal of Northwestern Bell to apply with the Nebraska Public Service Commission for authority to adjust the rates and charges for telephone service furnished by it in the state of Nebraska. Proposed rates for those in the AA rate group (which includes Allen, Laurel, Wakefield, and Winside) will see the business access lines 1 party flat monthly rate increased to $40.31. The 1 party measured (value) price will be increased to $31.31 and the 1 party measured (budget) is proposed to be $27.31. For residence access lines, the 1 party flat rate is proposed at $19 and the 1 party measured (value) would be $12 while the 1 party measured (budget) proposed cost would be $9. All other exchanges fall into the BB rate group, which includes all other exchanges serviced by Northwestern Bell Telephone Company. The 1 party flat rate for business access lines in the BB rate group is proposed at $31.32 while the 1 party flat rate for residence access lines would be $13.

OTHER RATE changes proposed by Northwestern Bell Telephone Company include: coin telephones, from 10 to 25 cents, increased to 25 cents; directory assistance call allowance, from eight calls presently to three calls for residence access lines and no calls for business access lines; charge per call after allowance, from 20 cents to 25 cents. Costs for additional listings (residence from 35 cents to 70 cents, Omaha businesses from $1 to $1.25, outside businesses from 50 cents to 75 cents, non-published service from $1 to $1.25 and non-listed service from 50 cents to 95 cents), and Touch Tone lines, from $1 to $1.25 for residence and from $1.30 to $1.90 for business.

THE PUBLIC HEARINGS on the rate proposals will begin on June 26 in the Board of Equalization Room at the Omaha Douglas Civic Center in Omaha. Hearings will continue at the same location from June 27 to 29 if necessary. The date of June 28 has been reserved to hear testimony from public witnesses. Subsequent public hearings will take place at dates and times in the following area locations: July 16 at 9:30 a.m. in the county extension meeting room at the Cuming County Courthouse in West Point. July 18 at 9:30 a.m. in the city council chambers, 125 South 4th, in the McMill Building in Norfolk.

Two Wayne adults are sentenced in district court

Two area adults were sentenced June 7 to the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex, now called the Department of Correctional Services, at a District Court hearing which took place at the Wayne County courthouse. David Phelps, 20, of Wayne and Loren J. Erlandson, 22, Wayne, were convicted on burglary charges in connection with the March 7 break in at the Wayne Music Store, 300 Main Street. An earlier police report estimated a $200 loss, including equipment and cash. Both men had also been previously charged with taking three payroll checks from the Spencer Construction Company on March 20. THE SECOND CHARGES were dropped, following plea agreements made by both men. Phelps pled guilty to the first count (Wayne Music Store), at a preliminary hearing in Wayne County Court on April 26. The charge on the second count (Spencer Construction Company) was dropped and he was bound over to District Court for arraignment on May 2. During the arraignment, Phelps' guilty plea on Count 1 was accepted by the district court and sentencing was set for June 6. Phelps, represented by court-appointed attorney Duane Schroeder, was sentenced to the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex (now the Department of Correctional Services) by Judge Merritt C. Warren. His terms were for an indeterminate term of not less than two years, nor more than four years at hard labor.

HE WAS GIVEN 51 days credit for serving time in the county jail. Erlandson, represented by court-appointed attorney Todd Bornhorst, had been charged on two counts of burglary before he was bound over to district court. At his appearance on May 6, he entered a guilty plea to Count 1 and the charges were dropped on Count 2, after entering a plea agreement. At the time of the burglary, Erlandson was an employee of Spencer Construction Company. The state's prosecution was represented by Wayne County attorney, Robert B. Enz.

Food distribution scheduled

Food commodities will be distributed by the Social Service Office on June 13, 14 and 15. Only those households who meet the income guidelines are eligible to obtain the items. A social security card is required for identification. Food items cannot be picked up for another family unless the Social Service Office has income verification and written permission from the household. Hours and places of distribution are: Carroll Fire Hall, Wednesday, June 13 from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. Winside City Auditorium, Thursday, June 14 from 9:30 to 11 a.m. Hoskins Fire Hall, Thursday, June 14 from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. And the Wayne Social Service Office, Friday, June 15 beginning at 9:30 a.m. Income guidelines for obtaining commodities are: (Household size listed first, then current yearly income) one, $7,970; two, $10,530; three, $13,080; four, $15,630; five, $18,190; six, $20,740; seven, $23,290; eight, $25,840.

Koch on fair staff

Marlyn Koch of Wayne, who stepped down last August from the position as manager of the Wayne County Fair, will be the superintendent in the administration and judging of horses at the 1984 Nebraska State Fair.

The 1984 slate of superintendents was approved by the state fair executive board at its recent monthly meeting.

Koch is superintendent of horses and superintendent over all in the horses division, which includes Quarter horses, Ponies of America, Pintos, Paints, Morgans, Draft hogs and ponies, Arabians, "Appaloosas and antique vehicles. If anyone needs additional [state] fair information, they can write the State Fair Office, P.O. Box 81223, Lincoln, Nebraska 68501 1223 or call 402/474-5371," Koch said.

The Nebraska State Fair will be held from Aug. 31 through Sept. 9 and promises to be one of the very best, Koch said.

Koch had been manager of 13 Wayne County fairs. The county fair board said the fair more than doubled in size while cutting its tax support in half while Koch had been manager.

A 1983 graduate of the University of Nebraska Omaha Law School; Moore will replace Beth Heier Lurz, whose resignation became effective June 8.

Moore received a bachelors degree in civil engineering from Princeton University.

The Dakota County Board of Commissioners approved Moore's bond at a meeting held on June 4.

AT A HEARING held May 24 in Lincoln, the Certificate of Need

Review Committee of the Nebraska Department of Health denied an application of Geriatrics, Inc. of Greeley, Colo. to purchase the Pierce Manor.

This is the second proposed sale of the health care unit to be denied by the Review Committee.

In a report of its findings, conclusions, and decision, the committee said that the applicant had failed to demonstrate that the proposal meets review criteria.

The basic reasoning of the committee in making the denial was that the price of $1,290,000 being asked by the present owners is too high and would result in capital cost increases, which in turn would result in higher costs to the residents and patients at the manor.

AN ELDERLY Wisner man sustained second degree burns in a blaze that caused considerable damage to his one story home in Wisner on June 4.

Henry Tonjes, 86, remained hospitalized in Pender on Tuesday with burns on his face, shoulders and hand. He was taken to Pender by the Wisner rescue squad after the fire broke out Monday afternoon.

An investigation revealed that some type of electric heating unit being used to defrost an upright freezer ignited the blaze that caused an estimated $20,000 to $30,000 damage to the home.

Jobs for older workers

"Wanted: Someone to hire a 70 year old man who is tired of sitting at home working in the garden, playing golf every day and drinking tea on the back porch. Will work hard and efficient and I have years of working experience and leadership. Put me on your employment list, please. I could use the work."

It is a myth that each and every one of those 55 years of age or older look forward to retiring. Perhaps the first few months of breaking away from the work routine is relaxing and inviting. But there are some who miss the mingling with businessmen, the sweat of the brows or the satisfaction of collecting wages after a long hard day of work.

Just because a person reaches a designated age of retirement doesn't mean the individual has lost their sense of working abilities and talents. Luckily, there is the Senior Community Service Employment Program which went into effect on March 1 of this year. The program is a branch of the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging.

According to an article written by Kevin Warneke of The Norfolk Daily News, the employment program (funded $12,000 through the Job Training Partnership Act from March 1 to June 30) lines up people 55 years of age and older with prospective employers.

Wayne County is in the 21-county area which the program covers. Between March and the present, a 77-year-old man was hired as a janitor and another senior citizen was employed as kitchen help. There are 10 others who have names on file at the Northeast Nebraska Agency on Aging in Norfolk which Job Coordinator Harry Mead said are looking for clerical work or to gain some on-the-job training experience.

Mead said he has sent information explaining the advantages of hiring older workers to 47 area businesses — including several Wayne business establishments. As of Friday evening, he has received no response from the businesses of Wayne.

Businesses can receive a tax benefit for hiring and training an older worker. Also, if the worker requires training for a new position, the government will pay half of the worker's salary up to six weeks.

Mead said there are certain guidelines which must be adhered to for those 55 of age or older interested in finding jobs. One of these is that the individual must meet the low annual income established by the federal government's Job Training Partnership Act.

According to a pamphlet from the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging, businesses can benefit from hiring the older workers have fewer accidents, require less supervision, receive higher performance ratings, take fewer days off and report less stress at work than young people.

Not all industry or businesses would be suitable for the elderly workers. Strenuous back-breaking work is probably out of the question for the senior citizens.

But there is a wealth of knowledge stored in the minds of these older individuals which should not be placed aside and then forgotten. Also, take into consideration what compensation for labor will do for those who receive meager social security benefits and limited income on a month to month basis.

Remember, Golda Meir was 71 before becoming the prime minister of Israel. George Bernard Shaw was 94 before his first play was produced. And Benjamin Franklin was 81 when he became the framer of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Businesses with work openings can call the Norfolk agency on aging office at 371-7454.

Have you ever been to a dinner party and everyone else is cautiously picking away chicken meat with a fork while you are the only person picking up the drumstick and waving it around before taking a bite?

Or, has it ever happened that you are at a wedding and you're the only individual knowing the groom while over 300 others are relatives or best friends of the bride?

Has anyone ever been to a family reunion where nobody's ever heard of your last name, ask you if you came to the right place, then accuse you of mooching off their pollock? Or have you ever believed you are traveling on the "interstate highway of life" at 55 and all the traffic is passing you going 60?

The word for all this is "alienation", described in Webster's as the state of being withdrawn or isolated from the objective world, as through indifference or dissatisfaction. The definition goes even further to state psychiatric illness.

ALL THESE questions are related to my wife's 10-year class reunion last week at West Point Guardian Angels.

At the large gathering of classmates, this Iowan knew he was in trouble when the biographical sketches of each class member revealed only three of many went on to "bigger and better things" in Iowa.

Four people out of the hundreds that attended, besides the newspaper photographer, actually knew me — and that includes my wife.

After going through the ordeal, I wrote down some multiple choice questions and possible answers that crossed my mind which can be used as reference by others who face similar situations.

Question: How should the class member introduce his or her spouse at a reunion?

Answer: a. Slap a name tag on the spouse and shove him into the crowd. b. Whip out family pictures and allow the spouse to stay home for the evening. c. Stand the spouse near a microphone with you and formally introduce the spouse to everyone, then say "will somebody please talk to my spouse because he/she doesn't know a single person and is getting bored stiff." d. If the spouse starts talking about you and "embarrassing moments," say you never saw the person before and dump the punch bowl over his head.

Question: How can the spouse acquaint himself/herself with my classmates?

Answer: The spouse can a. pass out a biographical sheet to everyone. b. stand all night by the liquid refreshments. c. compare middle-age stomach bulges. d. lie and tell someone they haven't changed a bit since high school. That puts the guy in a better mood for the whole evening. QUESTION: What can the spouse talk about with my classmates that he/she has never seen before?

Answer: a. the weather. b. sports. c. the weather again. d. more sports.

Question: What is the proper seating arrangement for my spouse and I at the reunion banquet?

Answer: a. the table closest to the food. b. a good place to lay your head during the program. c. sit by someone who eats chicken with their fingers and doesn't mind putting elbows on the table. d. away from the dieters who stare at you while you devour your food.

Question: When is the best time to leave the reunion?

Answer: a. when your spouse begins talking about "old times" at the school (you may never get away then). b. the moment when the first baby picture is taken from a billfold or purse. c. when people finally associate you with the matching spouse. d. when the class comedienne is no longer funny.

Question: What plans should be made for the future class reunions?

Answer: a. disregard the plans and wing it. b. make the reunions stretch every 35 years instead of 10. c. have a reunion for those spouses which suffered from the first class reunion because they all have something in common of not knowing anyone. d. ban all photos of family members.

NEWS FLASH

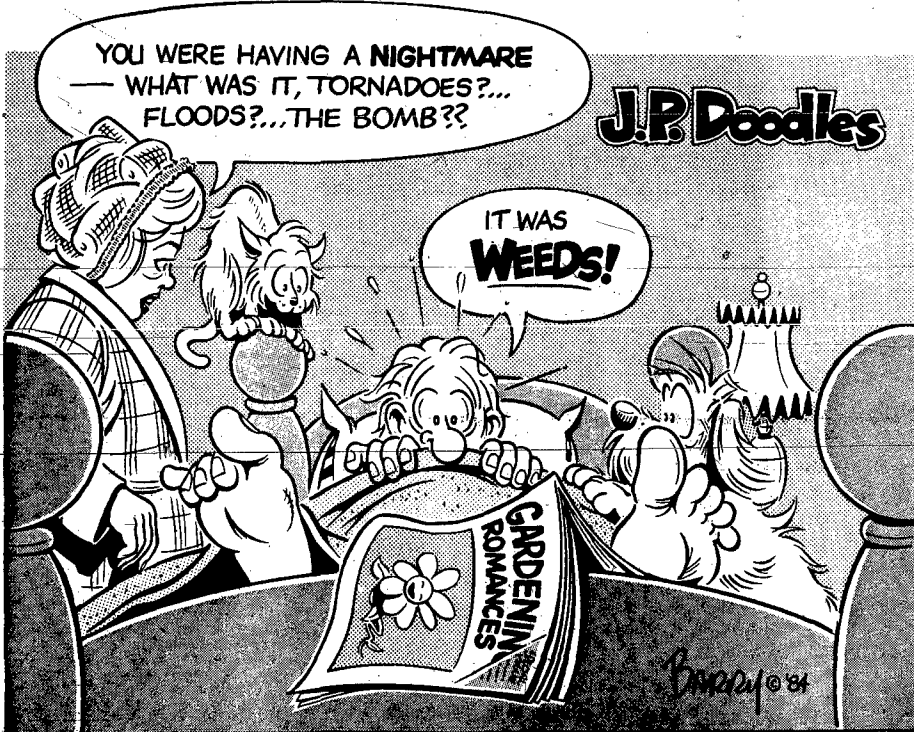

Twenty-five pigs, born on a farm near Galva, Illinois, will wear the silks of the world-famous Hindol Pig Racing team during 24 days of pig racing at three state fairs and two major "farm shows" across the Midwest.

The porky speedsters will compete in 22 races a day over an 85 foot oval track, in hopes of gobbling up the cookie awaiting the winner at the finish line, and tasting the heady brew of immortality, by breaking a four-year-old record.

The fastest time ever recorded in pig racing was 3.51 seconds in 1980 by "Belly Bust" on a 75-foot track. "Oinkie Sam" had the fastest time recorded on a 85 foot track.

A racing pig's road to fame isn't easy. Thirty pigs will enter training the end of June, where they eat a special ration to control weight but provide a high energy level, drink medicated water and are watched over by a veterinarian for any suspicious sniffles.

The 25 pigs making the race team will travel the highways in their own rolling pig palace — a 40-foot aluminum trailer complete with fans and running water for their comfort.

Proposed resolutions discussed

The Wayne County Republican Convention took place last weekend. Among the flurry of activities at the convention were a guest speech by Merle Von Minden, seating of delegates, business matters and establishing a list of proposed resolutions.

Below are some of the resolutions which were proposed at the convention. We deplore the size of the national debt of over one trillion dollars. The national government spending must be decreased and we recommend the full implementation of the J. Peter Grace Report to cut the national debt over the next three years.

All government budgets must be balanced and the government debt reduced by cutting spending, not by increased taxes.

We recommend at least 85 percent of the delegates selected to the Republican National Convention from Nebraska be returned to the vote of Republican people in the primary.

We endorse President Reagan's philosophy to lower inflation and improve the economy.

In light of personal misconduct of judges and other law enforcement related officials in Nebraska, we make the following recommendations.

We recommend that judges be elected by the people, not by just approving or disapproving them come election time.

We urge that Attorney General Paul Douglas resign from office. We urge that a time limit of 30 days be imposed on county and district judges to be able to incarcerate any individual for civil contempt after which the individual must be formally charged with a specific crime mandated by a specific law or be set free.

And we endorse the removal from office of all judges whose public conduct is deplorable (such as drunk driving, threatening arresting officers and trying to influence county attorneys to drop charges for friends).

The Federal Department of Education should be abolished and not made into a foundation.

We recognize that no special rights for homosexuals should be legislated.

We do not believe the taxpayers of Nebraska should have to pick up the tab for losses incurred by Commonwealth Savings. We recommend that Congress give the nation's banks notice that after 90 days of said resolution the federal treasury will not bail them out for bad loans.

We support the President's foreign policy.

We support President Reagan's support for a constitutional amendment for voluntary prayer in public and private schools.

We endorse President Reagan and Senator Jesse Helms efforts for a Human Life Amendment to the United States Constitution.

And we believe that there are sufficient laws in place and if enforced by the courts, women would be protected from discrimination without a need for an Equal Rights Amendment.

REA pleads case

Bailout is taxpayer sellout

Federal spending continues to climb, and taxpayers ask, quite naturally, why Congress doesn't vote to eliminate unnecessary spending programs. Sad experience teaches us that there are no unnecessary government spending programs — at least not to the beneficiaries of those programs. Yes, those at the receiving end of federal largess admit, there are wasteful spending programs, but "my" subsidy is in the public interest.

One such special interest group, the Rural Electrification Administration (REA), is pleading its case before Congress right now, and its lobbyists are asking not only that the subsidy continue, but also that Congress add additional billions to the federal deficit.

Let's look at the history of the REA. The REA was established by Congress in 1935. The REA's mission was to provide subsidized, low-interest loans to bring electricity to rural farmers.

The program, for the most part, worked. It brought rural voters into FDR's tax-and-spend coalition, and it brought power lines into the most remote sections of the country. Between 1935 and 1946, the scheduled life of the REA, the percentage of farms receiving electricity rose from 11.6 percent to 34 percent. During the 1950s the percentage rose to more than 90 percent, and in 1964 fully 98 percent of rural farmers were wired for electricity.

ALTHOUGH ITS mission was accomplished, the program continues to hand out hundreds of millions of dollars in subsidized loans each year to rural (and some non-rural) electricity consumers. Today, the REA borrows at about 12 percent and lends it out at 5 percent and, in some cases, at 2 percent. Now it is not surprising that a bank that borrows at 12 percent and lends at 5 percent would eventually run out of money. This is exactly what has happened to the REA.

So what is their response? To reduce or end the subsidies now that rural America is hooked into electric power?

No. They want the taxpayers to bail them out by forgiving $7.9 billion in past loans. And cost estimates of the total bailout run to a minimum of $10.4 billion.

The House of Representatives, which has been shedding crocodile tears about the federal deficit, recently voted to bail out the REA: cumulatively adding $10.4 billion to future deficits. The vote was a lopsided 283 to 111, demonstrating anew that a well-organized interest group has more friends in Congress than the taxpayer.

The bailout legislation now moves to the Senate, and we will find out whether senatorial concern over deficit spending is more than skin deep.

The lobbyists for the bailout paint an alarming picture if the massive subsidies are not continued and the bailout is not passed. They suggest that "the lights would go out on rural America" — that poor rural farmers would have to quit feeding the kids to keep the lights on. Let's examine this charge.

The United States Department of Agriculture reports that if the REA loaned its money at 6 percent rather than at 5 percent, the average cost to consumers would rise by one-half a cent a day or 15 cents a month. If the subsidy were completely eliminated and rural electrical cooperatives borrowed at 12 percent, the cost would be $1.05 a month or $12.60 a year. The interest payments on loans are simply a small cost of generating electrical power.

It was disappointing to see the House of Representatives cave in to the lobbyists for the REA bailout. We must now look to the Senate to put the national interest in curbing runaway federal spending ahead of campaign contributions and special interest strong-arming.

As the Senate prepares to vote on the REA bailout scheme, taxpayers would be well advised to remember that when it comes to politicians caterwalling about deficit spending, we ought to watch what they do, not what they say.

The above editorial was written by Richard Lasher, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Flag burning

To the editor: The American Legion Auxiliary is planning a flag burning ceremony on June 14th at 2:30 p.m. at the Wayne Vets Club room. Any one wishing to bring any tattered, faded or any unsuitable flag can bring them to the Wayne Vets Club by 2 p.m.

A program for awards will follow flag burning.

Great success

To the editor: The Father Kearn's Council of Knights of Columbus would like to thank The Wayne Herald and Radio Station KTCH for helping to make our Tootsie Roll Drive a great success!

We would also like to thank everyone who helped with the campaign and a special thanks to everyone who donated to the Drive. Fifty percent of the funds go to the State to be used for retarded citizens throughout Nebraska, the other fifty percent stays in Wayne to help the needy.

Reader agrees

To the editor: After reading Mr. Hackenmiller's editorial, I am certainly inclined to agree, there must be some cheaper and more constructive way for the prisoners to get there one hour of sunshine five days a week.

Maybe they could weed and care for the petunias or help take care of the ball and clay parks.

Then maybe they would reconsider their actions before being sentenced to jail.

Help needed

To the editor: I was asked to write this letter and it seems rather difficult. It concerns the asking of funds to keep up the cemetery grounds. A notice was in The Wayne Herald a few days before Memorial Day asking for money to maintain and upkeep of the Wayne cemetery.

The city of Wayne with its beautiful homes is situated in a prosperous part of the state. I know that all people would like to see the cemetery kept up especially those who have moved from Wayne and have loved ones buried here and come back to visit a grave of a loved one.

There is more land than in years gone by and that makes for more help needed and also more equipment to work with. This equipment wears out in time and has to be replaced. That all costs money and I am writing to ask everyone who is able to donate as much as they are able to the cemetery fund. Will you give? Thank you.

Local heroes

To the editor: I am gravely disappointed in our local news media. We did not recognize our own men and women that fought at Normandy Beach.

A simple telephone call to our local chapter of Veterans of Foreign Wars could have presented us with a list of World War II veterans.

National coverage was superb. Locally, we have failed to commemorate our local men and women. They did us a great service.

We take so much for granted — our freedom and how we have fought to keep it. I'm sure they do not expect recognition. Nevertheless they are heroes and should be commended. The least we can do is say thank you, we do appreciate you.

Work worthwhile

To the editor: We'd like to take this opportunity to thank the Providence Medical Center staff for the wonderful accommodations they supply the CanSurremount organization for their meetings. The coffee, tea, cake and cookies they provide are also much appreciated.

It makes for a relaxed atmosphere where acquaintances can compare treatments, problems and progress, but most of all find hope and dream dreams. Thank you also, to all of you who come to our meetings. Your presence makes our work worthwhile.

News and notes

STOP SIBLING SQUABBLES

"It's mine," whines seven-year-old Sue. "It's not," counters her nine-year-old brother Billy. "It's mine, I had it first! Mom!!"

Does this sound familiar? School has only been out for two weeks and your otherwise normal, healthy children fight all day long. The summer ahead could be long and difficult. Even a routine trip to the store turns into a major fight over who gets which seat in the car. Sometimes it appears that your children will do anything to annoy each other.

This type of bickering is typical in families with more than one child. When they become too frequent, the peace and harmony at home disappears. Some teasing, wrestling and squabbles are normal. It would be unrealistic to expect two or more children to get along without some fighting.

As the children grow older, they usually will argue less. But if your children are between 2 and 12, 10 years is too long to wait for a little peace.

Often the arguments are a result of jealousy between siblings. Parents need to examine what they do that might increase jealousies. Praise children equally. You may be unaware that one child gets more favors or privileges, but the children can see these differences.

In addition to praising your children for their accomplishments, reward good behavior. Reinforce positive behavior with a kind word and a special treat. Give the child a balloon, read an extra story or take a walk to the park.

Sometimes it's necessary to let the children solve their own problems. Don't allow yourself to always be put in the position of being the judge. Try to suggest ways they could resolve their problems, but don't force them to take your advice.

Give the children a "time-out." Separate them from each other for five minutes. This is not a punishment, it simply stops the fighting without your taking sides. Parents have been using this method for years when they tell a child to set in the corner until the child calms down.

Encourage separate interests and activities. If the children have their own hobbies and friends they will not be competing with each other all of the time. Find some location in your home that will be your child's personal space. Make sure everyone knows that this space should not be disturbed by other family members.

Often the most bickering occurs during the evening hours when everyone is tired. Children are more likely to argue and parents are irritated more easily. Use this time for each parent to be alone with one child for a half hour.

Try some of these ideas and enjoy your summer vacation with a minimum of squabbles.

Town team setback at hands of Laurel

Wayne Town Team suffered its first league loss of the season in a big way Wednesday night, falling to neighboring Laurel by a 14-3 score in a game abbreviated by the 10-run rule.

Brad Erwin and Joe Olsen each socked three hits to spearhead Laurel's 13 hit attack against the Wayne hurlers. Jerry Goeden was the losing pitcher for Wayne.

Laurel's Olsen and Erwin both had two doubles in the game.

Rocky Thompson picked up the win for Laurel, which evened its league record at 2-2 as Wayne fell to 4-1. He pitched eight innings, allowed only seven hits while walking six and striking out five Wayne batters.

Laurel scored the first two runs in the game when John Manganaro got on base on a fielder's choice followed by consecutive doubles hit by Joe Brandt and Brad Erwin.

In the top of the third inning, Laurel laced on two more runs when Brandt drew a walk, Erwin whacked a double and Dave Marquardt smashed a base hit.

Wayne broke into the scoring column in the bottom of the third inning after Neil Blohm received a walk, Todd Pfeiffer reached base on a third baseman's error and Mike Meyer laced a single, followed by another single hit by Bill Schwartz.

AFTER BEING held scoreless for two innings, Laurel scored four runs in the top of the sixth inning when Thompson walked, Stolpe got on base after an error by the Wayne second baseman, Olsen singled, Manganaro walked and Brandt and Erwin came through with two more base hits.

Wayne's Mike Breske put a run on the board in the bottom of the sixth inning, blasting a home run to make the score 8-3 in Laurel's favor.

Laurel scored three runs in the top of the seventh inning. Rick Guy got on base after a Wayne shortstop error and advanced on a single by Brian Marquardt. Stolpe reached base on a fielder's choice and Olsen followed with his second double in the game. An error by Wayne's shortstop on a ball hit by Manganaro scored another run.

The final blow for Wayne came on Laurel's three runs in the eighth inning. Dave Marquardt led off the inning with a single, followed by a walk to Thompson. Brian Marquardt reached base on an error by the pitcher and Stolpe then unloaded a triple before Olsen flew out to end the inning.

This Sunday, Wayne travels to Hartington while Laurel plays at Plainview. On Wednesday, Laurel is at home against Orchard while Wayne takes to the road again against O'Neill.

Wayne golfers to compete in state Big I tourney

Four young Wayne golfers have qualified for the state Big I golf tournament following the state-qualifying rounds which took place Friday at Norfolk.

Wayne's Rod Dahl took medalist honors in the tournament at Norfolk by shooting a 77. Brad Moore and Tom Perry finished the tournament with scores of 80 and played against each other in sudden death for the third place spot.

Moore chipped in a birdie on the first play-off hole to nail down third and Perry ended the meet in fourth place.

Twelve-year-old Brian Moore also qualified for the state Big I tournament by shooting an 82.

Midgets, Juniors sweep past Ponca

Wayne's Midget and Junior Legion baseball teams swept a doubleheader from the Ponca Legion teams on Friday night in Ponca.

Weather permitting, the Junior team was scheduled for a twinbill with Sioux City RMC on Saturday afternoon. Both teams are slated to take on Pender this evening (Monday) at Hank Overin Field, beginning with the Midget game at 6:30 p.m.

Wayne's Midgets had an easy time with Ponca in their Friday night game, taking a 17-2 win in six innings. The victory gave the team a 3-0 record.

After scoring in the top of the first inning on a run by Shannon Dorcey, the Midgets were held scoreless until the fourth inning when a Russ Longe single brought Dan Gross across the plate.

Wayne scored again in the fifth, when they combined three singles with two walks to score four runs. Dorcey and Brian Fleming each advanced to first base on balls, followed up with singles by Dan Gross, Bill Melena and Russ Longe.

It was the sixth inning that put the game on ice for Wayne, as they scored 10 runs. Ponca committed two errors and gave up three walks and four singles to put Wayne in their scoring position.

Wayne's only extra base hit came on a double by Hausman in the first inning. Top hitters included Dan Gross, who was two-for-three with a pair of singles and Mark Creighton who came in during the fifth inning to drive out two singles in two trips to the plate.

Ponca's two runs came in the fifth inning on a pair of singles and in the sixth inning Wayne posted 10 hits on their way to scoring 17 runs and committed one error.

On the mound for Wayne was Jeff Hausman, picking up the win with nine strikeouts, four walks and three hits.

A HOMER by Dave Longe in the fifth inning brought in three runs as Wayne eased to a 10-0 win over Ponca.

Wayne opened their scoring in the third inning when Jeff Sherer was walked to first base, followed by a Kevin Maly single and walks by Pat Melena and Jon McCright.

Scoring continued into the fourth inning where Wayne's bats came off the rack to pound out four hits, including Longe's home run. Todd Dorcey and Randy Gamble each smacked out doubles while Pat Melena rapped out a single.

Wayne closed out the game in the bottom of the sixth inning with a run by Jeff Sherer.

Steve Overin showed no ill effects after being hit by a pitch in an earlier game, as he pitched 14 strikeouts on his way to a no-hitter against Ponca. The team gave up three errors.

The Juniors moved to 5-2 with the win.

Wayne State football camp June 10-13

Between 35 and 45 junior- and senior high school football players were expected to be on hand when the first annual Wayne State College Football camp opened yesterday (Sunday).

Players from numerous schools were registered to attend the four-day camp, which includes appearances by Tampa Bay Buccaneer free safety Beasley Reece and Winston Hill of the New York Jets. A number of Wayne High and other area football players were expected, as well as several individuals from Harlan and Malvern, Iowa.

"The purpose of this camp is to teach each player individual skills and fundamentals," said WSC Wildcat head football Coach Pete Chapman. He added that it will be as "basic" as it needs to be in order to carry through on that purpose. "Since each of the players will be returning to their own school's football team, we want them to gain the fundamental knowledge and carry that back with them to help their teammates," Chapman said.

Practice sessions will be held on the college's varsity practice field at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Monday through Wednesday.

Sunday's evening session included a talk by Winston Hill of the Jets and pro football highlight films.

On Monday evening, beginning at 7 p.m., Beasley Reece will share his insights on and experiences with college and professional football. Pro football films will again be shown.

Tuesday evening will be spent in the college's weight-training facilities, working on weight lifting procedures, techniques and programs.

HEALTH TIPS

From Your Family Physician

COLIC
Doctors use the term "colic" to describe spells of crying and fussiness that seem to occur "out of the blue" in infants under the age of 3 months.
Doctors don't know for sure what causes babies to become colicky. Often babies who feed too rapidly swallow a lot of air along with their milk or formula; this causes stomach bloating and cramping. Likewise, eating too much may cause the baby's stomach to become bloated and uncomfortable.
Although colic is annoying and upsetting to parents, it is not usually a serious or life-threatening illness. Most colicky babies continue to gain weight and thrive.
If your child does seem to have colic, your family physician can determine if any other problem may be affecting the infant. Colicky babies tend to cry in a regular pattern and can usually be calmed, at least temporarily.
What parents can do to help the colicky infant:
1. Don't overstimulate the baby.
2. Milk should drip slowly from the nipple.
3. Burp the baby frequently.
4. Decrease or increase the feeding as your doctor recommends.
5. Rhythmic movements and monotonous sounds such as humming may soothe the infant.
6. Holding the baby face down across your lap or on a warm water bottle.
If these measures do not work your doctor may prescribe medication for the child. Generally, however, medication is not needed, since colic usually goes away in a few weeks or months. Most infants outgrow their colic by the time they are 3 months old.

Considering Their Short Distance Rates, No Wonder They Call Themselves Long Distance Phone Companies.

Cost of a 6-minute call at Day Rates excluding tax.

Distance of call	NWB	Sprint	MCI	Thrifty Call
10 miles	.94	1.00	.92	.90
20 miles	1.09	1.37	1.26	1.20
30 miles	1.39	1.74	1.62	1.50

Sprint rates are based on FCC Tariff #11. Thrifty call rates in effect as of 4-9-84. MCI rates are based on FCC Tariff #1. NWB rates are based on the intrastate tariff in Nebraska. Bell Zone calls within Iowa are billed at similar rates. Bell Zone calls that cross state lines are billed at a higher interstate rate.

If you're thinking about using one of those new long distance phone companies to place short long distance calls, there's a good chance that you'll pay more than you should. You need to know about something called a Bell™ Zone. It's sometimes referred to as a Local Access and Transport Area (LATA) and it's where Northwestern Bell can provide your long distance service.
In the process, we can often save you money. As you can see from the chart, our rates are competitive. More importantly, you'll get what you pay for—clean, clear connections on every call. Or your money back.*
And, of course, our long distance service offers calling ease that is second to none. Simply dial "1" plus the number. Include the Area Code only if it's different from your own.
So the next time you think about using one of those other long distance phone companies, consider where you're calling. If it's in your Bell Zone, we could save you money.

Mrs. Etha Fisher, Mrs. Esther Batten and Cora and Merlin Jenkins, all of Carroll, went to Fremont June 3 where they met Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bateman and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Bateman and Christopher, all of Sidney, Iowa. They had dinner together to honor the fifth birthday of Christopher.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Echelman of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jahn of Sioux City, Mr. and Mrs. Merv Peterson of Wakefield, Mrs. Bill Bernard of South Sioux City and Mrs. Anna Gatzmeyer of Newcastle, were June 3 evening dinner guests in the Walter Jager home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jager and their guests had attended the 51st high school graduating class reunion in Emerson on Saturday evening. The women were all members of the class.

Mrs. Arthur Cook went to Lincoln May 30 and spent until June 2 with her daughter, Mrs. Barb Underwood and sons. Esther Wagner of Omaha spent Memorial weekend with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mangels.

Mrs. Mildred Granquist of Golden, Colo. spent May 30 and 31 in the Lynn Roberts home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Roberts went to Lincoln on June 1 where they attended the wedding of his daughter, Shauna and Dan Reckmeyer, on Saturday. They returned home Sunday.

Monday and Tuesday visitors in the Lynn Roberts home were Mr. and Mrs. Don Hubbell of Turlock, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy DeArman of Oracle, Ariz. were Wednesday afternoon visitors in the Roberts home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Frans and Heather of Barneget, N.J. came May 26 to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Morris at Carroll and with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Frans in Sioux City, and with other relatives and friends of the area.

Guests in the Morris home to visit Mr. and Mrs. Frans included Eleanor Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. Randy Schluns and daughters, all of Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Deck, Andrea and Michael and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hoeman, all of Hoskins.

John Walker and Mrs. Nancy Gallup Schultz, both of Norfolk, Alfred Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Morris and Mr. and Mrs. Lem Jones, all of Carroll.

Mr. and Mrs. Frans left June 4.

SENIOR CITIZENS
The Wakefield Senior Citizens will hold their annual meeting for the purpose of electing officers on Wednesday, June 13 at 1 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

On May 30, 37 seniors attended the monthly birthday party. After Jewell Killion entertained with jokes, several of the ladies and Roy Wiggins acted out an impromptu skit. A banana eating contest was held between six of the men. Each man was blindfolded and faced each other. They had to feed each other. Pastor Greeneth and Everett VanCleave won the competition. They each received a banana as a prize.

On May 31, a film "The Red

Balloon" was shown to 18 seniors. Pool lessons for senior ladies will be given on Monday morning from 10 a.m. and 12 noon and on Thursday afternoons from 2 to 4 p.m. Instructors are Cliff Busby and Floyd Anderson.

Upcoming Events
Monday, June 11: Womens pool lessons, 10-12.
Tuesday, June 12: Film, 12:45 p.m.

Wednesday, June 13: Annual election of officers, 1 p.m.

Thursday, June 14: Womens pool lessons, 2-4 p.m.

Friday, June 15: Father's day party, noon.
Congregate Meal Menu

Monday, June 11: Salisbury steak, au gratin potatoes, brussel sprouts, roll with butter, pudding.

Tuesday, June 12: Oven fish with tartar sauce, macaroni salad, seasoned peas, tomato juice, bun with butter, fresh grapes.

Wednesday, June 13: Hot beef sandwich with gravy, broccoli, pineapple salad, apricots.

Thursday, June 14: Barbequed chicken, hash browns, green beans, roll with butter, cake.

Friday, June 15: Meatloaf, baked potato with sour cream, California mix, fruit cup, bread with butter, ice cream sundae (butterscotch or chocolate).

PUBLIC NOTICE Wayne County Weed Control Authority has dedicated itself not only to noxious weed control, but also to the prevention of dissemination of noxious weed seed. The Director of Agriculture has determined that noxious weeds seed may be disseminated through the movement of machinery and equipment, grain and seed, hay, straw, nursery stock, fencing materials, sod, manure, and soil as well as articles of similar nature. Methods of treatment have also been prescribed by the Director and may be obtained from the Wayne County Weed Control Authority.

With the harvest season approaching very rapidly, please keep in mind the provisions of the law requiring owners of harvest equipment to clean prior to movement to another field. This machinery and equipment being used in the harvest of crops should be treated or cleaned as follows: 1. Removal of all material from the tops and sides of all parts of the machine by sweeping and the use of forced air and water. 2. Opening the lower end of all elevator returns, and measuring devices and removal of all noxious weed seeds and seedlings from shakers, sieves, and other places of lodgment. 3. Run the machine empty for a minimum of five minutes, alternately increasing and decreasing the speed. 4. Follow the manufacturer's detailed instructions for cleaning the machine. These treatments should be performed while the article or the machine itself is still on the land in which it became infested if at all possible. This will not only prevent spreading noxious weed seed from one field to another, but also from one land owner to another.

Every government official or board member of a public body, should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it showing where and how each dollar is spent. We hold this to be a fundamental principle to democratic government.

MR. HAIL'S CONTING. Guess who's coming to your neighborhood this season. Mr. Hail! He won't stay long, but at 100 m.p.h. he's more devastating than any pest, weed, or drought you'll ever face. Seriously, don't risk it. Call us today for the best-most cost-efficient hail insurance coverage money can buy... before Mr. Hail drops in.
