Petunias surviving spraying incident

by Chuck Hackenmiller
There's a reason why those petunias which were planted last May along Main Street as a centennial gesture are not blossoming as expected for this time of year.
And it's not salt that's causing the problems, according to Kent Hall of the Plant Market-Wayne Greenhouse.
"Some people say it's salt off the street. That certainly is not the problem," Hall said.
It's the liquid herbicide 2-4-D.
It was Hall who brought the idea of planting the petunias along Main Street to the Wayne Centennial Committee.
"They carried it from there. I had seen it being done back in Dixon, Illinois and I thought it would be a good thing to have it done here," Hall mentioned.
VOLUNTEERS planted the petunias on Saturday, May 19 — 12,000 petunias in a period of one hour and 15 minutes. Hall said he supplied the petunias at his cost value to the centennial committee for $1,200.
Approximately two weeks ago, Hall asked that some liquid fertilizer be sprayed on the petunias. That is when the problems with the petunias started.
Apparently, Hall said the fertilizer applicator operator did not thoroughly wash out the tank carrying the liquid fertilizer which was used in spraying the petunias. Inside were elements of 2-4-D, a commonly used weed-killer in grass.

He would not name the firm or operator which applied the liquid fertilizer.
"I'm not pointing any fingers at anybody. I just want people to know what really happened," Hall said.
"It really zapped them. The tips were curled and it damaged the buds for now," he added.
But Hall is confident, after inspection, the petunias will be blossoming when August rolls around.
"It didn't kill them, but it sure set them back," he said.
RAINS DURING the past weeks might have been bothersome to most people in the area, but to the petunias — the pouring rain was a lifesaver that washed away the 2-4-D before the chemical could take hold of the plant.
"In my opinion, they'll be coming back. If any good comes of this, it might even make the petunias branch out and make them very pretty in August," he added.
Hall also made a plea to residents or businesses along the petunia rows along Main Street to "go out and pull the weeds."
"A lot of people have done this already. But there are areas which will look better without the weeds," he said.
If nothing is done to correct the weed problem, then volunteers will again be called upon to pull the weeds. This would be more time consuming, he said.

Conservation tour set

Conservation Tillage — Will it help stop erosion? Will it reduce or increase cost? Can I save time and labor? What equipment do I need?
These are just a few of the questions that will be answered on the Conservation Tillage tours to be held in Wayne County Thursday, July 5 and Wednesday, July 11.
The first tour will be Thursday, July 5 starting at 1:30 p.m. at the Verlyn Stollenberg farm, 1 mile north and 1/8 mile west of Carroll. A field of no-till corn planted in soybean residue will be viewed. Other no-till planted fields that will be inspected include corn sowed into heavy irrigated corn-stalk residue and dry land corn on corn.
The second tour will be Thursday, July 5 starting at Larry Bowers field, 3 miles west and 1 mile south and 1/4 mile west of Winside starting at 6:30 p.m. This will be a field of no-till corn planted into soybean residue.

ON THE MIKE Melerhenry farm 5 miles west of Winside and 1/2 mile north a field of corn planted in 2-year-old sweet clover stubble will be looked at as well as a field of no-till corn planted into silage corn stubble.
Extension agronomists will be present to explain the latest information on crop and insect problems and some equipment will be available for viewing. Refreshments will be served on all tours.
One additional tour will be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, July 11, starting at the Stan Baler farm, 4 miles south and 3/4 miles east of Wayne. Fields of no-till planted soybean and corn will be looked at. The last stop of this tour will be the Ervin Hageman Jr. field 5 miles south and 1 1/4 miles east of Wayne. A field of no-till corn planted in soybean residue will be shown.

Things are looking up

OVER 200 COLORFUL balloons filled the sky over Wayne Thursday evening as part of the Chicken Show Balloon Release contest, a feature of this year's 1984 Wayne "Centennial" Chicken Show scheduled for July 13 and 14. The finder of the balloon which has traveled the greatest distance will receive a free Chicken Show T-shirt. The person's name inside the balloon will receive $100 from the Wayne Chamber of Commerce. Chicken shirts and chicken buttons and be purchased a downtown stores or at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Luncheon draws over 500

To quote Shirley Lueth, "laughter is the sunshine of the soul."
That being the case, then Lueth spread more than her share of sunshine as guest speaker at the Chamber of Commerce Farm Women's Appreciation Luncheon on Friday at the Wayne State Student Center. A crowd of over 500 attended the annual event, which also recognized the Wayne Centennial.
From the very outset, Lueth kept the crowd laughing with her jokes and reminiscences of raising her family of seven children, which met with approval from the many mothers in the audience.
She addressed a wide variety of topics during her presentation, including an outlook on life at age 50 that can only be described as "unique."
"I can't watch more than 15 seconds of a Michael Jackson video...and George Burns is looking sexier all the time," she said. "I wouldn't know what to do with a younger man if you gave me one!"
She proceeded to list things she had never done in her life, one of which was "hugged a live barbershop quartet." The situation was quickly remedied as she brought up the four members of the Wayne barbershop quartet which had performed earlier for a hug and commented "not only do they sing good, they hug good too!"
Lueth then told of life with her family of seven children, explaining that she and her husband didn't plan for the five girls and two boys, "they just happened."
Retirement is somewhere in the future, according to Lueth, and she has already made plans for spending regular amounts of time with each child. She launched into a detailed account of what she plans to take with her, including "14 bottles of shampoo...without lids, 1000 empty beer call or letter from a child which begins "What are you doing this weekend?"

SPEAKER SHIRLEY LUETH presents a copy of her book to Linda Dorcey of Wayne.

She also gave tips on adding spice to a marriage and how to go about cleaning up a child's room.
Lueth's program ended with her presenting a copy of one of her books to Linda Dorcey of Wayne, who was the mother with the most children present at the luncheon. Lueth also presented a gag gift of plastic wrap to Mrs. Robert Treacle of Wayne, who recently celebrated her wedding anniversary.
Concerning her family's reaction to her using them as the basis of her speeches, Lueth replied "who cares", but went on to say that as with most families, "we forget the bad times and always remember the good."
Sam Schroeder, chairman of the Agriculture council for the Chamber, welcomed the large crowd assembled, and recognized the various communities which were represented.
Extending greeting on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce was Anne Svoboda, executive vice-president of the office.
Mae Greve of Wakefield, representing the area farm women gathered, thanked the Chamber and its member businesses who took part in sponsoring the luncheon.
Entertainment prior to Lueth's speech was provided by the barbershop quartet of Dean Bilstein, Dick Manley, Dan Monson and Bob Newman, accompanied by Barb Meyer.
The invocation was given by Rev. Dan Monson of Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne.
The salad luncheon was served by the staff members of the Professional Food Management food service at Wayne State College.

More people needed at show try-outs

The cast for Wayne's Centennial performance needs more people — singers, dancers and actors.
Director Helen Russell plans another audition tonight (Monday) at 7 p.m. in Ley Theatre. Although she encourages all who try out to arrive at that hour, anyone who can come later will be welcome.
Dr. Russell's script for "Wayne, America — A Musical Celebration" calls for a chorus of 20 and a dance troupe of 14 or more. Some of the singers may have a line or two of speaking, but mainly they will sing.

The same is true of the dancers, mostly dancing and little or no speaking parts.
The musical will have nine main speaking roles for five men and four women. Dr. Russell invites more aspiring actors to audition for some of the roles.
Most of the people who have come for auditions are new to the Wayne Community Theatre. Some have been on stage at one time or another, but many others are taking a first plunge into acting, Dr. Russell said.

"Give it a try," she added. "It will be fun to share in this centennial experience."
Singers and dancers will rehearse separately from the acting cast. While regular attendance at practices is desirable, some vacation absences are possible.
The centennial performance is slated for the weekend of Labor Day.

Herald names new sports editor

Jackie Osten, a graduate of Wayne State College and a former resident of Lehigh, Nebraska, will take over the duties of The Wayne Herald sports editor starting July 1.
Jackie graduated from Wayne State College in May, 1982 with a bachelor of science degree in broadcast communications and journalism. She then went on to receive a master's degree in physical education during May, 1984.
Her journalism experience includes working one year as co-editor of the Wayne Stater, a student newspaper. She also was sports editor of the Wayne Stater for one term.
Upon graduation from Wayne State College in 1982, Jackie has worked as assistant sports information director of the college. She has worked one full school year as sports information intern at Wayne State.
Since May 1, 1984, Jackie has served The Wayne Herald as interim assistant editor, taking on the responsibilities of writing the society news and assisting with the sports coverage.

Society editor LaVon Anderson will return July 5 to The Wayne Herald staff after a two-month leave of absence.
No Wayne July 4th fireworks
There will be no fireworks in Wayne this Fourth of July.
Fireworks have been scheduled by the Wayne Jaycees for one of the centennial celebration evenings, tentatively on August 28 at the Hank Overin Field.
However, there will be a fireworks display this year at Wakefield on Independence Day, preceded by two baseball games being played by the Wakefield and Wayne Midget and Legion teams.
The Midget game will begin at 5 p.m., followed immediately by the Legion game at approximately 7:30 p.m.
The fireworks will follow the games. All events of the day are sponsored by the Wakefield Community Club.
Earlier in the evening, the Fred Harrison Memorial Award, based on sportsmanship, teamwork and character, will be awarded to a present member of the Wakefield American Legion baseball team.

news briefs

Saddle Club Horse Show

The Wayne Saddle Club Horse Show is scheduled for this Sunday (July 1) at the Wayne County Fairgrounds. Performance classes will be in the afternoon. Events will begin at 10 a.m. and will continue until approximately 5 p.m.

Sandahl is extension agent

Anita Sandahl has recently accepted a position with the NE Cooperative Extension Service. She will be the Extension Agent-Home Economics for Thayer County which is in south central Nebraska. The office is in Hebron, south of York.

Starting July 2, Anita will partake in a three-month training program. This will be in Kearney under the Buffalo County Home Extension Agent.

Anita is a 1979 graduate of Wayne High, a 1983 graduate of University of Nebraska-Lincoln and a former IPYE to West Germany. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Sandahl of rural Wayne.

Passing inspection

Ed Craren of the State Health Department's Division of Emergency Services recently inspected both the Hoskins Rescue Squad and Winside Rescue Squad, stating that both met or exceeded the requirements for state licensure.

However, an exception to Winside's inspection deals with disposable catheters for the suction apparatus. The Winside Fire Department has agreed to obtain them in the future.

Other items inspected at Hoskins and Winside included ambulance equipment, recordkeeping, maintenance, sanitary procedures and personnel training.

Hoskins service records for 1983 show that the 11 certified emergency medical technicians attended to 31 emergency calls and one transfer call in the Hoskins area.

Winside's service records show four certified emergency medical technicians attended to 16 emergency calls.

Outstanding volunteer

James Lindau, M.D. of Wayne has been named Outstanding Volunteer of the Year by the American Heart Association, Nebraska Affiliate.

Lindau received his award at the Affiliate's 20th annual meeting in Lincoln on June 9. He has served as president of the Wayne County Unit for 1983-84.

Attend national convention

Ken and Ruth Berglund, the president elect of the Wayne Kiwanis Club, attended the 69th annual convention of Kiwanis International in Phoenix, Arizona from June 24 to 27.

More than 15,000 Kiwanis leaders and guests participated in the meeting; representing 8,100 clubs in 78 nations around the world.

A featured speaker was United States First Lady Nancy Reagan, who thanked the Kiwanians for outstanding support of "The Chemical People" program to prevent school-age drug and alcohol abuse.

Office closing

Wayne County Courthouse offices will not be open on Independence Day.

Business education

The Division of Business at Wayne State College, in cooperation with Northeast Technical Community College, will be offering a graduate level course, "BUS 630 Workshop in Business Education/Data Processing" at Northeast Technical College in Norfolk.

The target market is business education teachers in northeast Nebraska. Content of the workshop will include review of data processing principles, microcomputer instruction, including use of various software programs and methods of instruction for data processing at the secondary level.

For further information, contact Vaughn Benson at Wayne State College, 375-2200, extension 245.

Compassionate Friends to meet

A family picnic is scheduled for July 12 for the members of the Northeast Nebraska Chapter of The Compassionate Friends. All old and new members and their families are invited to gather at Ta-Ha-Zouka Park in Norfolk at 7 p.m. for a potluck meal and recreation.

NEARLY HALF of the state highway mileage in Pierce county is slated for improvement in the upcoming years, according to the annual six-year program released by the state highway department.

A total of 42.1 miles of the state system in Pierce county is scheduled to see work in this time period and the estimated cost of the projects is $8,744,000 over six years.

Only two projects are to fall within fiscal 1984-85, with work to begin early in 1985. They include resurfacing work on the 1.3 mile McLean spur for a cost of $96,000 and reconstruction of Highway 81 from Hadar to Wee Town.

This seven-mile project includes grading, culverts, resurfacing and surfacing shoulders. This project, which will necessitate detouring traffic through Pierce Main Street for most of the summer of 1985 will cost $3,601,000.

A FREE Small Business Tax Workshop for new owners and managers of small business is being held by the Internal Revenue Service at the Norfolk Public Library on July 10 from 9 a.m. to noon.

The Norfolk Chamber of Commerce, Nebraska Department of Revenue, Nebraska Business Development Center-University of Nebraska at Omaha and the Small Business Administration will co-sponsor the session.

During the workshop, an IRS tax specialist and a representative from the Nebraska Department of Revenue will cover such topics as business expenses, employer tax responsibilities, business income tax returns and other tax issues essential to small business operations.

Those interested should contact the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce at 371-4862 for more information.

A VERDIGRE man was sentenced last week in Antelope County District Court to eight to 12 years in the state penitentiary after pleading guilty to charges of delivering a controlled substance.

Demis Stradley, a Verdigre farmer, was also sentenced to a eight to 12 year sentence in Holt County and a 10-15 year sentence in Madison County on similar charges.

In addition, two of Stradley's vehicles used in transporting the cocaine sold to State Patrol undercover investigator's were condemned and sold at public auction in Knox and Madison counties following a hearing in District Court.

The monies from the sales of the vehicles went to each county's general fund.

police report

Theft reports were numerous for the Wayne Police Department during the past week.

On Monday, a golf cart was reported missing, but recovered the very next day.

A burglary was also discovered at the Coryell Derby tire warehouse located at 606 Pearl. About 40 tires had been stolen during the past three weeks.

Bicycles, which had been reported stolen from an alley behind the Gay Theatre, were recovered the same day.

A blue pickup was also reported stolen from the alley behind the Timberline agency some time on June 22 or 23.

Subcaps were reported missing from a car parked near the Wayne Care Center on Wednesday.

Accidents were investigated near Wayne State College and in the city hall parking lot.

A three-year-old child was found wandering near St. Mary's School and the parents were notified.

Several "dog at large" complaints were received and those found were impounded and held until a citation was signed for the release.

Officers were asked to investigate a suspected underage driver and also to check a vehicle, supposedly suspended.

An emergency call was made to the department but ended up getting cut off. The dispatcher managed to trace the call and everything was normal when police arrived at the scene.

A complaint was also made to the department when a neighbor was reported mowing his lawn at 4 p.m. Police talked to the subject, who said he was having problems sleeping.

back bay

by chuck hackenmiller

Celebrating Independence Day, to some people, is watching and listening to the fireworks. Or it is sitting on the curb watching the town parade pass by. Or it is picnics with a watermelon feed, softball games.

But in my childhood years, the Fourth of July usually wasn't near as exciting as it is today. While my sisters (all seven of them) traveled to a nearby town to participate in July 4th festivities, my two brothers and I often had the inevitable opportunity to bale hay on days reaching close to 100 degrees.

Maybe it was because it never seemed to rain on July 4th. But I always figured it was dad's way of keeping us from the mischief of scaring little children with fire crackers or mooching popcorn and caramel apples from the kids in town.

In the earlier of my childhood years, my task was normally driving the tractor with the baler. But with more experience, my responsibilities shifted to stacking the bales six or seven high on the hayrack.

One is put on the spot when assigned the task of stacking hay on the hayrack. One misplaced bale could result in the entire load tumbling down. And it never hurt to have a mechanic's mind (that's where I was hurting bad) because one had to repair the constant malfunctioning knoter. Having knowledge on how to tie a "baler's knot" was also a plus.

LUCKILY, since I was the older brother and could have my pick of what baling task to perform, my little brothers usually were up in the old barn piling the hay as it came off the old grain elevator.

When it was 90 degrees on the hayground, be assured that the temperature in the hayloft had to be over the roasting stage of 120 degrees. At the end of the day, dad (who never turned down the hayloft job, probably because of the importance of the hayloft stacking) and my brothers were drenched in sweat.

While many of the "city kids" were mingling in the town's streets following the parade, the hay crew was taking an afternoon break in whatever shade could be found in the hayfield — either behind a load of hay bales or near one of the tractor wheels.

After two refreshing glasses of Wylar's and a handful of cookies, it was back to the wagon and the beating sun as we headed down the home stretch.

OFTEN, WE'D go into the early evening hours or until the bales became just too heavy to lift. In the meantime, dad and the brothers would head into the barn and complete the evening milking.

By that time, we'd pull in with the last load and the hay bales were loaded until darkness set in or we backed them in the hay shed till the next morning.

When the day ended, all of us were just too darn tired to take the ride into town and watch the fireworks. Usually we'd light a few sparklers, watch the television news and then "hit the hay" and rest for the baling task the following day — either at dad's place or my neighbor's farm.

But in remembering those days — despite all the hot weather, scratches on the arm, the weariness that sets in and the cursing over the broken bales — it sure left a satisfied feeling at the end of the day.

A good feeling of accomplishment after a long hard day of work, to me, beats watching fireworks anyway.

A Farmers Creed

While on the subject of farming, here is a feature which was reproduced by permission of Sperry New Holland, copyright Sperry New Holland, New Holland, PA.

• I believe a man's greatest possession is his dignity and that no calling bestows this more abundantly than farming.

• I believe hard work and honest sweat are the building blocks of a person's character.

• I believe that farming, despite its hardships and disappointments, is the most honest and honorable way a man can spend his days on this earth.

• I believe farming nurtures the close family ties that make life rich in ways money can't buy.

• I believe my children are learning values that will last a lifetime and can be learned in no other way.

• I believe farming provides education for life and that no other occupation teaches so much about birth, growth and maturity in such a variety of ways.

• I believe many of the best things in life are indeed free: the splendor of a sunrise, the rapture of wide open spaces, the exhilarating sight of your land greening each spring.

• I believe true happiness comes from watching your crops ripen in the field, your children grow tall in the sun, your whole family feel the pride that springs from their shared experience.

• I believe that by my toil I am giving more to the world than I am taking from it, an honor that does not come to all men.

• I believe my life will be measured ultimately by what I have done for my fellowman, and by this standard I fear no judgment.

• I believe when a man grows old and sums up his days, he should be able to stand tall and feel pride in the life he's lived.

• I believe in farming because it makes all this possible.

viewpoint

Weeding out apathy

A scary thing happened to members of the centennial committee and others who directed efforts toward planting petunias along areas of Wayne's Main Street.

The plants almost died because of improper fertilizer application, according to a plant retailer. Somehow, 2-4-D got mixed in with the liquid fertilizer and was sprayed over the petunias.

But in this instance, mother nature seems to have sprinkled ample rain showers as a cure to the poison intake and it appears, according to the plant retailer, that the petunias will survive and hopefully be in full blossom for the Wayne Centennial festivities in late August.

Still, the petunias are facing another threat — and that is the growth of weeds along the Main Street petunia rows. One solution would be to recall the volunteers who planted the 1,200 petunias and ask them to weed the rows.

However, a simpler approach would be to have the neighboring property owner of the petunia rows, if physically possible, pull out the weeds in the 75 to 100 foot area.

This would save time consumed in locating the volunteers who were original helpers in planting the petunias.

Nature appears to have remedied one of the problems facing the petunias. Now it is time for the human side to rise to the occasion and assist in beautifying the petunia rows.

Holiday danger

Not all Fourth of July bombs burst in the air. That's what approximately 8,277 Americans found out last year when they were treated in hospital emergency rooms for injuries caused by fireworks.

Of this total, about 1,232 of those people suffered some type of eye injury. Materials most often causing them were firecrackers, cherry bombs, M-80's, salutes, roman candles and fountains.

The most serious eye injury known to the National Society to Prevent Blindness (Nebraska Affiliate) occurred to an Omaha girl who was eight years of age. And she wasn't the one tinkering with the fireworks.

Her eye was hit squarely by a bottle rocket shot by another child in the neighborhood. An attempt to save her eye was unsuccessful and she had to be fitted with a glass eye.

The bottle rocket should have never been blasted in space because the firework was prohibited several years ago.

Small firecrackers (7/8-inch or less in length and not more than 1/8 in diameter), roman candles, fountains, color fire cones and sparklers are legal fireworks in Nebraska. Anything that leaves the ground, can fly off in any direction with an uncontrolled trajectory is strictly prohibited.

Fireworks accidents have reached the point where Washington State Governor John Spellman has signed a bill outlawing all firecrackers, noisy and explosive ground devices.

Businesses in Wayne which sell fireworks are aware of the dangers of the products they sell. That is why they say it is so important to read the labels and packages of each firework. None should be taken lightly.

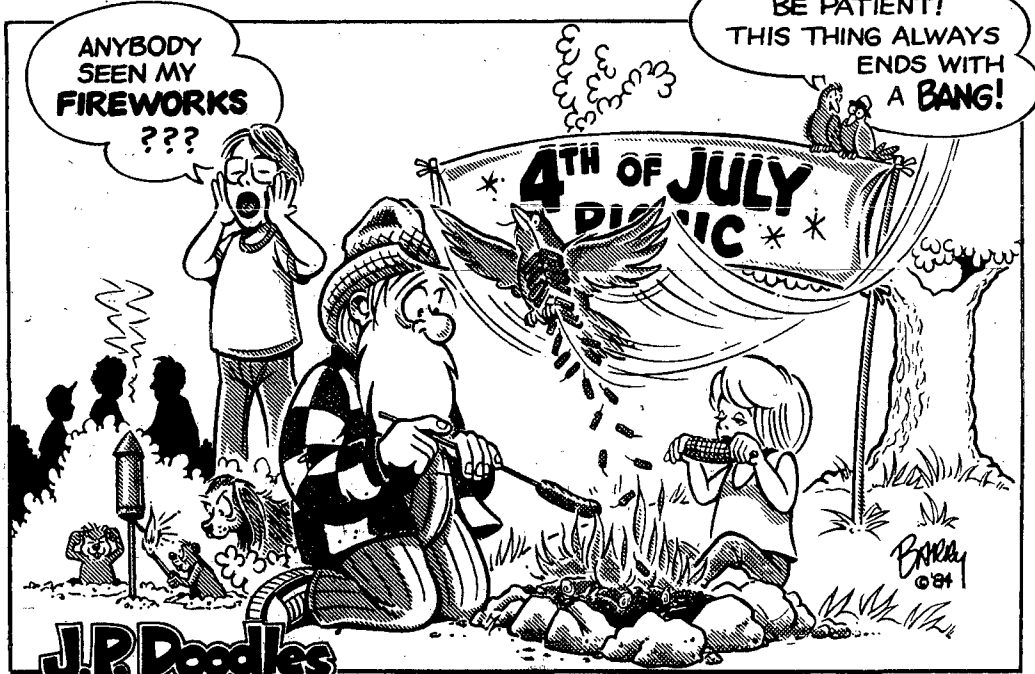

A great share of the buyers of fireworks are those who are greatly injured — those who are between the ages of five and 24 years old.

Parents of young children should keep a wary eye on their child and know the limits of how much "fun" should be allowed.

For the adults — alcohol and fireworks are potentially dangerous combinations and should be avoided completely.

Have a good time on the Fourth of July, but don't spoil the day by causing harm to yourself or to someone else that "just happened to be in the way."

Garbage tells consumption habits

Nebraska Farm Bureau
By Cheryl Stubbendieck
Director of Information

I want to be up front about this column: there's a lot of garbage in it. I know what you're thinking — that's not what I mean. I came across some recent information about what our garbage tells us about our meat consumption, and it's pretty interesting stuff.

The National Live Stock and Meat Board — an organization that gets a fair amount of Nebraska beef check-off dollars — has recently helped to fund a study to be done by the director of The Garbage Project.

Bill Rathje directs that project. He is a University of Arizona anthropologist and what he calls a "garbologist." There's no conflict between anthropology and garbology, he says, since 99 percent of what archaeologists excavate from past societies is their garbage — food remains, pottery, containers, broken items of all kinds. The treasures of King Tut's Tomb and other ancient finds are really just frosting on the, uh, cake.

"The whole approach of The Garbage Project is to see if we can't learn something about our own society today by looking at fresh garbage," Rathje says. "If we can learn about old societies from old garbage, we might be able to learn something new about ourselves by looking at what we throw away."

With that premise, the project was begun at the University of Arizona in 1973. It is the oldest scientific garbology project, as well as the only one to take a systematic and scientific approach to analyzing activities, behaviors and diets.

RATHJE'S DATA gathering approach employs scientific method. The project first chooses a city to study and then selects neighborhoods in those cities on the basis of income, ethnic makeup and family size. City sanitation personnel go out and randomly select bags of garbage, bring them to the analysis site and turn them over to student sorters, who record the items in great detail on computer.

Rathje notes that "People are trained, in the way they look at the world, that garbage is 'yucky.' It's a blob. It's a mess. It isn't anything specific. It takes a while for people to begin to think about all of the data and information, item by item, that is thrown away every day." I'm sure that's true.

INITIALLY, RATHJE'S garbage research didn't record separable meat fat. He became interested in it when he was converting USDA interview reports into nutrient data in 1983.

"I saw that a particular cut of meat was listed as 38 percent of calories from fat. 'Holy Cow,' I said! 'That's ridiculous!' And they said, 'Well, that's because of all the stuff you cut off. In the lean there's only about 9 percent, but there's all this other fat on it.' 'But I don't eat that,' I said."

Thus Rathje began to understand what meat industry scientists have been saying recently — that USDA carcass and retail production figures do not accurately portray the amount of red meat Americans actually consume.

Consumer interviews of their eating habits are suspect, too, Rathje believes. "There is no way of knowing for sure when you interview somebody if what they said is what they actually do, or what they think they do, or what they want an interviewer to think they do.

Rathje believes, based on research to date, that people tend to overreport red meat consumption, because they view meat consumption as a mark of status, consciously or unconsciously.

With this background, we can get to the meat of the issue. If consumers do not eat all the separable fat on meat, and if they over-report how much red meat they consume, then dietary recommendations to reduce consumption of red meat may be misguided.

In that case, we're actually dealing with a very low level of calories from fat, compared with what people have been assumed to be eating.

Reader pleased

To the editor:

I recently subscribed to The Wayne Herald and I want to thank you for your prompt, courteous service. I received my first issue within a week of my phone order and as a former resident of Wayne back in 1948, I am thoroughly enjoying the news.

Names and places are still quite familiar to me in spite of years gone by. Last September my wife, Marianne and I came through Wayne en route to Yankton, S.D. on vacation. I enjoyed visiting old school friends — Larry Johnson, Gary Jeffries, Loren Ellis and Jim Atkins.

My very first issue of your newspaper was the edition dated June 7, 1984. The "Page out of the Past" and the historical map are truly enjoyable. The map shows places and streets I roamed as a boy. I will certainly treasure this edition as a souvenir.

David E. Fiedler

Motorist safety urged

Colonel Kohmscher, Superintendent of the Nebraska State Patrol, today expressed his concern for holiday traffic problems with the July Fourth holiday nearing.

State Patrol troopers are encouraging the use of headlights over the holiday period with two objectives in mind. Headlights make vehicles more visible to other motorists even in daylight. They also serve as a reminder to all motorists that traffic safety is vital to all concerned.

Kohmscher noted six people died and over two hundred were injured in traffic accidents over the July Fourth weekend last year.

"Although many are caused by alcohol and speed, many more are caused by fatigue and inattention. By using headlights, motorists communicate to each other the special need for driver attention," Kohmscher said.

Although the Patrol will have as many troopers as possible assigned for traffic enforcement, Kohmscher reminded motorists the ultimate in traffic safety is their responsibility.

VACATION CLOTHES THAT TRAVEL

Have you ever gone on vacation looking like you've been packed in a suitcase for days? Vacations are often casual and carefree times, but you do want to look your best too. How is it all possible? A little thought and planning can go a long way when packing for your trip. Begin by asking yourself four basic questions.

- Where are you going?
- How long will you be gone?
- How will you travel?
- What types of activities do you have planned?

ANSWER THESE questions first and then coordinate your clothes by color. It's often helpful to lay your clothes out on the bed so you can see what you're working with.

Try to choose several items that would work in a variety of situations. A dress that could double as a jumper or light sweater for day or evening wear are good ideas.

Be sure to double check the weather conditions at your vacation spot. Mark Twain once commented that "the coldest winter I ever spent was one summer in San Francisco." Weather extremes call for careful planning and coordinating. You can dress for warm or cool weather by using the layered look. That will also help you make the best use of suitcase space.

For car or long distance travel, be sure clothes are loose and comfortable. Split or wrap around skirts in cotton/polyester blends might be a good choice. Blouses should allow ease of movement.

YOUR VACATION may require frequent changes of clothes. Cotton/polyester blends will be among the most comfortable and washable fabrics. Knits, seersuckers and plisses along with permanent press garments would not require ironing.

Many motels now have a small laundry center or you could find a laundromat. Doing the laundry on your vacation might not be your idea of fun. But on a long trip a couple of hours spent refreshing your wardrobe can make packing much easier.

If you can't travel with a garment bag, keep your clothes on hangers in cleaning bags and then fold in your suitcase. This will help prevent any wrinkling. Be sure to use shoe bags for your footwear to protect your clothes.

Keep your wardrobe looking fresh with a travel iron, laundry detergent and mending kit. Pack some colorful scarves or other accessories to give your vacation wardrobe a new look.

One final tip from experienced travelers says to take twice as much money and half as many clothes as you think you'll need. Then you're sure to have a fun vacation.

Jones note silver year

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones of Wakefield were honored with an open house in observance of their silver wedding anniversary on Sunday, June 24 at the Wakefield Christian Church.

The event was hosted by their children and families.

Guests were greeted at the door by Brad and Kim Jones and daughter Brandy of Wayne, and Barry Jones of Omaha. Registering the guests was Brenda Jones of Wakefield.

Ron Jones was master of ceremonies for the program, which included an introduction of the family members and those who had been in attendance at the couple's wedding ceremony.

Barry Jones read a poem entitled "The Silver Anniversary is Here" which had been composed by a former minister of the couple, while Brad Jones read an anniversary greeting from the couple's "kids."

Bob Jones, who sang "Wedding Prayer" at his wedding 25 years earlier, sang the "Anniversary Song" during the program. Deb Nicholson sang the vocal selection "Through The Years."

An anniversary gift of a trip to Hawaii given by family and friends was presented to the couple by Barry Jones and their niece, Brystal Jones of Wayne.

The anniversary cake baked by and decorated by Kim Jones and served by Rita Hawthorne of Lohrville, Iowa and Janet Erwin of New Virginia, Iowa.

Coffee and punch were poured by Maxine Jensen Thies of Mapleton, Iowa and Wanda Jensen of Castana, Iowa. Waitresses were Brielle, Brittney and Brystal Jones of Wayne and Laurie Jensen of Castana, Iowa.

Assisting in the kitchen were Anita Nicholson of Emerson, Jeannette Giese of Wayne and Marian Peters and Ethel Packer of Wakefield.

The couple was married on June 28, 1959 at Castana, Iowa and lived in the Rinard, Iowa area until 1975 when they moved to Wakefield.

Anniversary celebration

MR. AND MRS. Chris Jorgensen of 1701 Riverside Boulevard in Norfolk will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, July 8 with an open house from 2-4 p.m. It will be held at the recreation room of the Boulevard apartments, where the couple resides. Hosting the event are their children, Mrs. Dennis (Alice) Rohde of Carroll; Dr. Richard Jorgensen of Omaha; Gene Jorgensen of Winside; Mrs. Cliff (Darlene) Dempsey of Lancaster, Calif.; Jim Jorgensen of Norfolk; Mrs. Cheryl Stark of Chino, Calif.; and Skip Jorgensen of Indian Head, M.D.

Reunions bring people together

Many families and friends around the area have gathered during the past week for reunions, and family picnics.

The annual Morey Hall reunion was held on Sunday, June 24 at Viken Park in Wayne.

Following a picnic dinner, the group enjoyed playing a softball game in which the "old-timers" defeated those still living in the dormitory.

Among those attending were Rob Dal Bianco of Lansing, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Randy Hascall and Jason of McCook; Mr. and Mrs. Nick Freeland and Paul of Kenesaw; Terry, Dale and Dean Jacobs of Fremont; Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilmes and Brooke and Tim Uber of Sioux City, Iowa; Gary McInnis, Mark Bohmann, Debi Micsinski, Dan Darling, Joe Falcone and Margaret Sroesser of Omaha; James Hlatt of Scotia; Brian Watt of Kester, Minn.; Nancy Hypp of Spencer, Iowa; Barb Gemberling of Lohrville, Iowa; Amy Oberle, Paul Smeikal and Dr. and Mrs. Kevin Davis and Jenna of Norfolk; Eugene and Steve Soukup of O'Neill; Pam Mashek of Central City; Karen Sandahl of Wakefield; Dick Buntgen of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Widner and Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Otto, Paul Jenkins, Kristy Bull, Diane Lindsay and Roberta Weite, all of Wayne.

Hank

Members of the Hank family gathered on Sunday, June 24 at Ta-Ha-Zouka Park in Norfolk with 60 persons attending.

Henry H. Hank travelled the furthest distance to attend, coming from Knoxville, Iowa.

The oldest family members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Papstein of Norfolk. The youngest were Amy Leonard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Leonard of Wakefield and Justin Lambrecht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Lambrecht of Plainview.

There were four births, three weddings and one death reported in the family during the last year.

Relatives came from Knoxville, Iowa; Hooper, Columbus, Fremont, Winside, Plainview, Wayne, Carroll, Wakefield and Norfolk.

The 1985 reunion will also be held at the park on the last Sunday in June.

80th birthday

ELLA MILLER of Winside will celebrate her 80th birthday with an open house from 2-4 p.m. on Sunday, July 8 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Winside. The event will be hosted by her children and grandchildren. All relatives and friends are invited to attend.

Ariz.; Sioux City and LeMars, Iowa; Laurel, Wakefield, Wayne, Norfolk, Winside and Hoskins.

The Howard Fuhrman families will be in charge of the arrangements for the 1985 reunion. The location will be announced at a later time.

Harmeler

A Harmeler family reunion was held on Sunday, June 24 at the Harry Nelsoo home in Carroll.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wolslager and Dave and Mrs. Robbie Harmeler of Winside; Mr. and Mrs. Mel Harmeler of Sioux City, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Harmeler, Ricky Harmeler and Erick and Chels-of Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Leonard and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Lane, Michael and Joey of Omaha and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Nelson, Curt and Cory of Carroll.

Bolings surprised with anniversary party

Mr. and Mrs. Don Boling of Belden were surprised with a celebration in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kearney Lackas of Carroll on June 14.

Over 80 persons attended the evening gathering, including guests from Columbus, Hadar, Pierce, Winside, Wayne, Laurel, Belden, Coleridge, Hartington, Wausa, Magnet, Randolph and Carroll.

Entertainment included a "mock wedding" whose participants were Leonard Karth and Tom Hanna of Randolph.

Mrs. Gene Burns of Wausa, Larry Bowers of Winside, Mrs. Lowell Johnson and Earl Fish of Belden, Mrs. Kearney Lackas of Carroll, Mrs. Gearhart Hefner and Frank Hefner of Coleridge, and Jerry Hochstein of Hartington.

The Bolings have three children, Larry (Wendy) Poppe of Colorado, Todd Boling of Norfolk and Becky. They also have two granddaughters.

The former Charlie Buckendorf of Bassett and Don Boling were married on June 14, 1959.

baptisms

Andrea Marie Simpson

Andrea Marie, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Simpson of Carroll, was baptized during services at the United Methodist Church in Carroll on Sunday, June 24. The Rev. Keith Johnson officiated.

Dinner guests at the Simpson home following the service were Pastor and Mrs. Keith Johnson and Bethany of Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. John Russman and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Russman and family of Bancroft, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Simpson of Green Valley, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Frese and Julie of Pender and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Fitch of Niobrara.

policy on weddings

The Wayne Herald welcomes news accounts and photographs of weddings involving families living in the Wayne area. We feel there is widespread interest in local area weddings and are happy to make space available for their publication. Because our readers are interested in current news, we ask that all weddings and photographs offered for publication be in our office within 10 days after the date of the ceremony. Information submitted with a picture after that deadline will not be carried as a story but will be used in a cutline underneath the picture. Wedding pictures submitted after the story appears in the paper must be in our office within three weeks after the ceremony.

briefly speaking

Retired teachers picnic

The Wayne Area Retired Teachers will hold a potluck picnic supper on Monday, July 9 beginning at 6 p.m. at the Laurel Lions Park. Those planning to attend should bring a white elephant prize for bingo.

Hoskins Bike-a-thon a success

A Bike-a-thon for cystic fibrosis was held on Tuesday, June 12 in Hoskins with over 300s being collected by those participating. Those individuals included Tammy and Jason Bruss, Sharmin Allen, Catherine Bussey, Shelley Henzler, Shane and Brady Fralim, Jeremy Langenberg, Jennifer Hoefler, Jim Sanders and Lee Mader. Shane and Brady Fralim each collected over $75 dollars which made them eligible for further prizes. All participants received an Iron-on "I did it" patch. Kathy Bussey and Candy Allen were in charge of arrangements.

club news

TOPS 200 plans softball game

Members of the TOPS 200 Club met on Wednesday, June 27 at the Elementary School. Martin Schuttler was TOPS best loser. The group made plans for a softball game to be played at the July 3 meeting. Plans were also made to have a family picnic at 6:30 p.m. at the Wayne Park on July 15. Those attending will play softball beginning at 6:30, followed by a meal at 7:30 p.m.

JE Club welcomes new member

Members of the JE Club met at Les' Steakhouse on Tuesday, June 12 for a noon luncheon. Bonnie Jensen of Oxnard, Calif. was recognized as a guest. Following the lunch, the group spent the afternoon at the home of Peg Gormley visiting and playing cards. Low prize went to Rose Schultz and high prize to Mildred West. Mattie Mikkelsen was welcomed as a new member. The club will hold its next meeting in September.

TOPS 782 set July goals

TOPS 782 met on each Tuesday of June at the Wayne Armory for weigh-ins. Darlene Russell was recognized as the best loser for the month of June. At the meeting held on June 19, the constitution was read with a discussion following. No changes were made in the original document. A personal goal for losing in the month of July was set up with a grab bag gift exchange to be held at the end of the month. A booster group will be selected for July to encourage attendance and keep in touch with members.

Club 15 tours Nebraska City

Seven members of Club 15 toured Nebraska City this month. The group arrived first at the Nebraska School for the Visually Handicapped when summer classes were in session. Following lunch at John Brown's Cafe, the club toured Arbor Lodge and park grounds. They then went on to the Wildwood Period House in Steinhart park, and saw a variety of multimedia and hand-thrown pottery displays by area artists at the Wildwood Gallery and Crafts Barn. A scenic drive thru DeSoto Bend National Wildlife Refuge ended the tour.

The next meeting for the group will be July 18 at Bernadine Backstrom's. Janet Anderson will have entertainment. Roll call will be answered with a "time line" was really scarce."

St. Paul's LCW has breakfast meeting

The members of St. Paul's LCW met on Wednesday, June 27 for a breakfast meeting. Lois Utchick of Wakefield showed slides and commented on her experiences on a trip to Kenya and Zimbabwe, Africa, where she was the only Nebraska woman with the group of Lutheran Church women from the United States. While in Africa, the group visited with LCW members there. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, July 25.

LWML executive board meets

The Wayne zone LWML executive board meeting was held on June 25 at St. John's Lutheran Church in Wakefield with 18 members attending. The meeting was conducted by Zone President Mrs. Ardene Nelson of Wayne. Opening devotions were given by Pastor Jon Vogel of Wayne. Reports were given by the Christian Leadership Training Coordinator, Mrs. Donna Ebmeyer of Laurel, Mary Lou Exleben of Wayne and on the Spring Workshop by Mrs. Irene Victor of Wakefield. The total District Love offering for Camp Luther in the amount of $12,384 as of June 18 was announced. Those present were also reminded of upcoming dates, including LWML Sunday on Oct. 7. The fall rally scheduled for St. Paul's Church in Carroll is set for Oct. 12 with the theme of "Bringing In The Sheaves." September 17 and 18 will be the LWML retreat at Camp Luther with the theme of "Don't Just Stand There-Do Something." The ballot for election of officers at the Fall Rally was presented. The meeting was then adjourned and refreshments were served.

Fourth inning boosts Town team to Plainview victory

A seven run fourth inning boosted the Wayne Town Team to a 9-7 win Wednesday night against Plainview.

Wayne was trailing Plainview, 3-0, going into the top of the fourth inning when the local town team scored seven runs on six hits, including back to back home runs by Bill Schwartz and Joel Ankeny.

Plainview tied the score at 7-7 with four runs in the bottom of the fifth inning before Wayne went ahead for good with two more runs in the top of the seventh inning.

Bill Schwartz had three hits in the game, scored two runs and had two RBI's. One of his hits, a two-run homer, came in the fourth inning.

The seven run inning for Wayne began when Jerry Goeden reached base on an error by the Plainview shortstop. Bill Schwartz then blasted a home run to score Goeden.

Joel Ankeny then hit another home run to put Wayne at a tie with Plainview, 3-3.

Consecutive singles by Mike Meyer, Al Nissen and Mark Ganseboom, a sacrifice fly by Doug Carroll, a walk to Tim Pfeiffer and a double by Goeden gave Wayne four additional runs, making the score 7-3.

Plainview tied the game in the fifth inning as the Wayne pitching gave up three walks and three hits.

The local town team went ahead in the top of the seventh inning, scoring two runs after a single by Bill Schwartz, a walk to Mike Meyer and a solid triple smacked by Todd Pfeiffer.

Todd Pfeiffer started the game against Plainview, going two innings and allowing three runs on three hits and walking three. Tim Pfeiffer came on the mound in relief, throwing 2 2/3 innings and giving up four runs, two hits, four walks and he had two strikeouts.

Joel Ankeny then pitched the remainder of the game, allowing no runs, two hits, one walk and five strikeouts in pitching 4 1/3 innings.

Wayne had a total of nine hits in the game off of Plainview pitchers Raabe and Moeller. T. Masat had two hits, a single and a double, for Plainview.

Plainview left 10 runners on base.

The Wayne 18-under girls softball team pushed their 1984 season record to an unblemished 10-0 with a 15-7 win over Emerson on Thursday, June 28 at Emerson.

It was the second win over Emerson for the Wayne team, as they took a 10-5 decision earlier in the season.

The team used 18 hits throughout the seven inning game, including a fourth inning triple by Kofette Frevert. She was two-for-five on the night, her other hit a single in the third inning.

Leading Wayne's powerful hitting attack was Sarah Lebsack, who went four-for-four at the plate with a double and three singles.

Also turning in a strong performance in the batter's box was Lisa Jacobsen, rapping out three singles and scoring four runs.

Amy Jordan also notched an extra-base hit for Wayne with a double, as well as a single in four trips to the plate.

Emerson pulled out to an early 5-3 lead in the third inning before Wayne began to pull together and scored five runs in the fifth inning to take a 10-6 lead. Wayne managed to bring a single run across in the sixth inning before scoring four runs in the top of the seventh inning to put the game on ice.

Emerson scored their final run of the evening in the sixth inning.

Pitcher Roni Johnson exhibited solid ball control throughout the game, giving up just three walks while striking out three batters and allowing 10 hits.

The Emerson pitching staff put nine Wayne batters on base with walks and allowed 18 hits.

Their next game will be against Thurston tomorrow night (Tuesday) beginning at 7 p.m. at Hank Overin Field.

WAYNE'S STEVE Overin (above) takes a cut at the ball just prior to hitting his grand slam home run in the game's second inning. Below, Bob Utemark of Wakefield receives congratulations from the third base coach as he rounds the bag on his way home after blasting his out-of-the-park home run in the top of the first inning.

Utemark leads North to 17-8 win in Legion All-Star game at Wisner

Led by the strong hitting performance of Wakefield's Bob Utemark, the North team downed the South team 17-8 in the Ralph Bishop League Legion All-Star Game played on Wednesday, June 27 at Wisner River Park.

Utemark, who received the Most Valuable Player award for the game, blasted out a pair of home runs and went three-for-four at the plate. The first, a grand slam, came in the top of the first inning, while the second was a three-run blast in the top of the seventh inning. He totaled eight RBI's in the game and also knocked out a single for his third hit.

The North team also marked up a grand slam homer, coming off the bat of Wayne's Steve Overin in the bottom of the second inning. Overin was two-for-three with a single and four RBI's overall.

THE WINNING pitcher was Wakefield's Wayne Guy, while Les Schroeder of Wisner-Pilger took the loss on the mound for the South team.

The North totaled their 17 runs on 11 hits and two errors. The South squad came up with eight runs on seven hits, also committing two errors.

The North jumped out to an early 6-1 lead behind Utemark's homer before the South answered back in the second to close the margin to 6-5.

Both teams scored in the third and fourth innings, making the score 10-8, but it was the last heard from the South's team for the night. The North came up with two runs in the sixth and five runs in the top of the seventh to finish out for the win.

Members of the South squad included

Todd Beacom, John Mohr, Mike Osada and Larry Anderson of Ponca; Brian Soderberg, Bob Utemark, Jeff Coble, Wayne Guy and Troy Greve of Wakefield; and Brian Halsch, Mike Granquist, Mike Dietrich, John Chace and Brent Halsch of Laurel.

Coaches for the South were Lyle Calvert of Ponca, Paul Eaton of Wakefield and Joe Olsen of Laurel.

Playing for the North team were Les Schroeder, Bruce Erb, Dean Dreyer and Doug Johnson of Wisner-Pilger; Marty Roth, Pat Bruning and Jeff Schoch of Bancroft-Lyons; Tony Bohlin, Dale Anderson and Bruce Wiechman of Pender; and Chris Wieseler, Kevin Maly, Steve Overin and Todd Dorsey of Wayne.

North coaches included Todd Petersen of Wisner-Pilger, Lamont Pagels of Bancroft-Lyons, Ray Welch of Pender and Hank Overin of Wayne.

Paige attends Midland camp

Holly Paige, an eighth grader at Wayne-Carroll Schools, was one of 500 girls who attended one of the four sessions of the Eleventh Annual Midland College Girl's Basketball Camp in Fremont recently. She was a member of the Division IV championship team during the camp. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Paige of Wayne.

PSU names defensive coach

Two-time PSU football All-American Brian Byers has been named defensive coordinator for the 1984 edition of the Pittsburg State University Gorillas, according to Athletic Director David Suenram. Byers starred at the University in 1977 and 1978 before returning to the team as a student coach in 1979 and 1980. He received his bachelor's degree from the school in 1980 and his masters in 1981. He expects to use the same multiple offense as the Gorillas have used in past years.

In 1981, Byers served as defensive coordinator at Baker University before serving as assistant coach and recruiter at Emporia State in 1982 and at Independence Community College in 1983.

The Game and Parks Commission will again allow the use of fireworks in designated spots at seven state recreation areas on July 4, according to Assistant Commissioner Dale Bree.

He said fireworks will be allowed in designated spots at Branched Oak, Memphis, Fremont, Bridgeport, Two Rivers, Kearney County and Wagon Train State Recreation areas.

Bree said signs will be posted at recreation areas to point the way to the fireworks sites and their boundaries will be clearly marked.

Fireworks will be allowed in these special areas from 8 a.m. to midnight on July 4 only. The use of fireworks elsewhere on state areas or at other times is prohibited.

Legal fireworks generally include sparklers, spray fountains, vesuvius fountains, torches, color fire cones, star and comet-type color aerial shells without explosive charge for the purpose of making noise, lady-fingers not to exceed seven-eighths of an inch in length or one-eighth in diameter, total pyrotechnic composition not to exceed one-half grain each in weight, and color wheels.

Whole fireworks which leave the ground are considered illegal.

Foundation reports on first year

The Nebraska Game and Parks Foundation received contributions and pledges valued at approximately $1,100,000 during its first year of existence.

This report was given to foundation directors at the organization's first annual meeting held at the new Rock Creek Station Historical Park Visitor's Center. Administrative expenses for the foundation's first year totaled $5,350 and as is the case with the foundation's activities, were paid for with private funds.

Gifts and pledges and real estate donations in the first year ranged in value from $4.90 from a Valentine grade school student to more than $450,000 for construction of 15 cabins at Platte River State Park. The gifts and pledges also provided a campground at Rock Creek, 20 horses for the state parks trail ride programs, 10 cabooses to be converted into living quarters and placed at Two Rivers State Recreation Area.

Water system improvements at Platte River State Park, 200 acres for a new state recreation area on Bone Creek in Brown County, pheasant-rearing facilities at Sacramento-Wilcox Game Wildlife Management Area, eleven acres of Platte River bluffs land to be added to Platte River State Park.

Sand and gravel for park road improvements, picnic shelters at Louisville State Recreation Area and two tennis courts at Fort Robinson State Park. A visitor's center, and Indian council house at Fort Atkinson State Historical Park will be built with funds raised by the foundation. More than $225,000 has been pledged.

The foundation board of directors re-elected officers for the coming year. They include: Harold W. Andersen, Omaha, chairman; Duane Acklie, Lincoln, president; Allen Strunk, McCook, vice-president; Dr. Charles Blaha, Ord, vice-president; and John D. Woods, Omaha, treasurer.

Re-elected to the board for five-year terms were Paul C. Schorr, Lincoln; Charles E. Wright, Lincoln; J. Alan Cramer, Wayne; and John D. Woods, Mickey Skinner of Hershey Pa., formerly of the State Game Commission, is a new director, also elected for a five-year term.

Andersen said Bruce Cowgill of Silver Creek, a former member of the State Game Commission, has done a "splendid job" as non-salaried executive director of the foundation.

"The officers and directors and executive-directors have worked far beyond the call of duty and have taken the fledgling foundation to maturity in a matter of months," said Eugene T. Mahoney, ex-officio member of the foundation's board and director of the Game and Parks Commission.

"I just can't say enough about each and every person involved with the foundation in thanking them for all Nebraskans for their great contributions to Nebraska's recreation and wildlife resources."

Andersen said Bruce Cowgill of Silver Creek, a former member of the State Game Commission, has done a "splendid job" as non-salaried executive director of the foundation.

SUMMER PROGRAM

Forty-five children and seven helpers met Monday evening in the auditorium for the summer program sponsored by the Winside Library. Kites were made from paper sacks. Each child decorated their kites with drawings made with marking pencils and crayon markers. The helpers aided the youngsters in cutting out their kites and gluing on the sticks and tails. There were many colorful kites and each with a different design.

Many of the children have entered the reading contests. The pre-school and kindergarten children are reading "Porky the Pig" with each book they have read to them by an older person. The first through sixth grade youngsters have a game board and with each book they read, they are allowed to move their marker along the trail. The seventh graders through adults are playing "Piggo." There is time to join the contests and enjoy reading many books.

The next program will be today (Monday) at 7 p.m. in the auditorium. A "swap meet" will be held. Each child attending should bring a book, toy, game or puzzle that is in good repair but longer wanted. Everyone is invited to attend.

ATTENDED ADVENTURELAND

Nine Girl Scouts and Cadettes from Winside left Monday morning to attend Adventureland at Des Moines, Iowa. Their leader, Peggy Eckert and Mrs. Randy Holdert were the drivers. Upon arriving in Des Moines, the group went shopping at the shopping center.

Tuesday was spent at Adventureland. The girls enjoyed swimming in the indoor swimming pool at the motel. They returned home Wednesday evening. The meetings will resume in the fall.

TOPS NE 589

Six members of Tops NE 589 met Tuesday in the fire hall. Nine members weighed in. The next weigh-in will be the end of the current contest. Each member is to bring their calendars to the meeting and the winners will be announced. Recipes, articles and hints were given and discussed by the group. The next meeting will be tomorrow (Tuesday) at 7 p.m. in the fire hall. New members are always welcome to attend.

SENIOR CITIZENS
The Senior Citizens met Tuesday in the auditorium with 10 members present.

Cards were played for entertainment.

Mrs. Otto Herrmann treated the group in honor of her birthday. The birthday song was sung for her. Tomorrow (Tuesday), the Senior Citizens will have a dinner at 12 noon in the Stop Inn. Following the dinner they will meet at the auditorium for their business meeting. Mrs. Randall Bargaardt RN will be present at the auditorium to check blood pressures for anyone wishing to use this service.

CONTRACT
Mrs. Gladys Gaebler entertained Contract Bridge in her home Wednesday. Prizes were won by Mrs. Lloyd Behmer, Mrs. N.L. Dillman, Mrs. C.O. Witt and Mrs. Minnie Graef.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, July 11 with Mrs. Minnie Graef as hostess.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

GARDEN CLUB
The Town and Country Garden Club met with Mrs. Arnold Wittler for a 1:30 dessert luncheon Monday. Guests were Mrs. Reuben Buss of Phoenix, Ariz. and Mrs. Frances Ulrich and Bernice Langenberg of Norfolk.

Mrs. Art Behmer, president, welcomed the guests and opened the meeting with an article, "A Garden of Happiness." Roll call was "Show and Tell."

Mrs. Lyle Marot reported on last month's meeting and gave the treasurer's report. Plans were discussed for a tour later this fall.

The hostess had the comprehensive study on the Loop rivers. The lesson, "The Goodness of Grain" was presented by Mrs. Hilda Thomas.

Mrs. Ezra Jochens will be hostess for the next meeting on July 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fletcher, Tami and Michael of Manteca, Calif. left June 24 after spending several weeks visiting his mother, Mrs. Irene Fletcher.

Mrs. Janet Kreber, Sandra, Susan and Ruth and Mrs. Steve Dykstra, Chris and Jacob of Grandville, Iowa were June 21 weekend guests of the Orville Andersons.

Duane Riggert and Monte of Middleton, Wis. and Mrs. Pearl Sals of Norfolk were June 21 visitors in the Mr. and Mrs. Lester Koepke home.

Dr. Dale Behmer of Minneapolis, Minn. was a June 21 overnight guest in the Mr. and Mrs. Art Behmer home.

Mrs. L.M. Tipping and Kristen of Tucson, Ariz. came June 23 to spend a week visiting the Art Behmers and other area relatives.

Mrs. Tipping is a niece of the Behmers and a daughter of the Reuben Busses, who are presently house guests of the Behmers.

SHOP LOCALLY!

Older folks will appreciate the safety and convenience

There's a certain feeling of security present when you shop close to home. And that's especially important to many senior citizens. Everything needed can be found at a store close by and local shopping areas are kept well-lit during evening hours, with plenty of parking places located near the store entrances. Local merchants know your concerns and they care.

When you shop locally, everyone benefits. It's more convenient so you save gas and time. You get friendly, knowledgeable service because local merchants "know" you and appreciate your business. They depend on you to keep their stores going strong. And some of what you spend goes back into the community in the form of taxes and charitable contributions paid by the merchants.

Remember...

Your money buys more when you shop at a local store. It's good for you, good for us, good for the community.
