THE WAYNE HERALD

Champions selected

Committee picks the 'tree tops'

After receiving many nominations and many hours of "eyeballing, pacing and measuring" the historical plants committee has decided upon a list proposed as Tree Champions in Wayne.

The historical plants committee had attempted to determine Wayne's oldest and biggest trees this centennial year. A previous article in The Wayne Herald listed about 20 species to be cited and also had solicited nominations from persons who owned or would nominate a tree as the largest, oldest in the city.

IN THE Category A of broadleaf, deciduous trees, the winners were as follows:

- Ash, green — 3rd & Wilcliffe, owned by Cliff Johnson; height 68'; crown spread, 105'; circumference, 128"; total points, 222.
- Cottonwood — South Nebraska Street, owned by Vernon Russell; height, 80'; crown spread, 130'; circumference, 198"; total points, 311.
- Elm, American — 414 W. 2nd St., owned by Thomas Schmitz; height 86'; crown spread, 108'; circumference, 184"; total points, 297.
- Elm, Siberian — 5th and Windom, owned by Lottie Schroeder; height 75'; crown spread, 56'; circumference, 101"; total points, 190.
- LaFaye Erxleben; height 76'; crown spread, 60'; circumference, 99"; total points, 190.
- Hackberry — 7th & Windom, owned by Rod Huttman; height, 72'; crown spread, 54'; circumference, 113"; total points, 198.
- Honeylocust — 711 Logan St., owned by Robert Woehler; height, 74'; crown spread, 77'; circumference, 117"; total points, 208.
- Linden, American — 6th and Logan St., owned by Ida Moses; height, 76'; crown

- spread, 45'; circumference, 127"; total points, 214.
- Locust, Black — 12th & Main St., owned by Kappa Delta Gamma; height, 52'; crown spread, 28'; circumference, 98"; total points, 157.
- Maple, Silver — 212 E. 3rd St., owned by Lynn Russell; height, 78'; crown spread, 83'; circumference, 117"; total points, 202.
- Also listed as a runner-up, owned by City Hall; height, 128'; crown spread, 318'; circumference, 171"; total points, 270.
- Maple, Sugar — 6th & Lincoln, owned by Stan Burst; height, 68'; crown spread, 81'; circumference, 89"; total points, 173.
- Oak, Bur — 1202 Lincoln, owned by David Gullik; height, 48'; crown spread, 35'; circumference, 63"; total points, 121.
- Oak, Nor. Red — 520 Nebraska, owned by Harriette Harsh; height, 79'; crown spread, 72'; circumference, 117"; total points, 216.
- Poplar, Silver — 4th and Main St., owned by City Library; height, 82'; crown spread, 62'; circumference, 155"; total points, 258.
- Sycamore, American — 4th & Main St., owned by City Library; height, 76'; crown spread, 78"; circumference, 124"; total points, 210.
- Walnut, Black — owned by National Guard Armory; height, 100'; crown spread, 110'; circumference, 182"; total points, 312.

- Wayne Tietgen; height, 76'; crown spread, 32'; circumference, 58"; total points, 142.
  - Pine, East, white — 106 Douglas, owned by Glenn Summer; height 72'; crown spread, 34'; circumference, 71"; total points, 152.
  - Pine, Scotch — Wayne Greenwood Cemetery; height, 71'; crown spread, 48'; circumference, 89"; total points, 172.
  - Redcedar, East — Wayne Greenwood Cemetery; height, 50'; crown spread, 28'; circumference, 64"; total points, 121.
  - Spruce, Colorado Blue — 7th & Pearl, owned by Keith Reed; height, 71'; crown spread, 30'; circumference, 73"; total points, 148.
  - Spruce, Norway — Wayne Greenwood Cemetery; height, 68'; crown spread, 32'; circumference, 82"; total points, 158.
- CHAMPION TREE size is based on three key points, which include circumference, height and crown spread. To the total inches of stem circumference measured 4 1/2 feet above the ground, add the height in feet, plus 3/4 of the average crown diameter in feet — this gave single figure (total points) denoting aggregate size. The height was estimated by free angulation.
- There were plans to include two other species — Douglas-fir and White Spruce — but the historical plants committee could find no specimens in Wayne on which to bestow the term "champion."
- If there are those who know of any tree larger than those listed above, or other deemed to be of championship caliber, contact the committee: C.R. Maler, 375-3549; Ralph Beckenhauer, 375-1829; and Brent Pedersen, 375-4329 or 375-4548.
- On the basis of these findings plus any amendments brought to the committee's attention, there will be a brochure prepared which will be available by the time of the Wayne Centennial Celebration.

WAYNE, HOME of the National Cluck-off Contest, in the "Cluck-off" contest. More photos of Chicken hosted thousands of spectators attending last Show events are on page 8a.

'84 Wayne Chicken Show flies by

Another Wayne Chicken Show has "flown the coop" as thousands of people cackled, painted, crowed and competed in many fowl-related events Friday and Saturday in honor of the chicken.

This year's big crowd pleasers, besides the annual parade and omelet feed, were new events such as the egg drop contest and the chicken flying contest along with familiar events including the National Cluck-Off Championships.

Winners of each event are as follows:

KTCB Talent Contest — (Under 15), first place-Audrey Feldler of Norfolk; second place-Bridget Brinkman of Norfolk; third place-Jennifer Ormsby of Wayne. (15 and over), The Chickie's (Bill and Deb Dickey); second, Lyle George and Dave Blendeman; third, Herman Gremer.

Fun Run (About 11 miles) — Jeff Greve, Wisner, 1:09:53; Sid Hittler, Wayne, 1:12:50; Don Pearson, Grand Island, 1:13:22.

Rooster Crowing Contest — first place, Rex, RI Red owned by Elizabeth Luff, rural Wakfield (35 crows); second place, Foghorn, black and white Brahma owned by Elizabeth Luff (29 crows); third, unnamed white leghorn, reared by Don Boling of Belden (27 crows).

Parade — Trophies awarded to Emerson Senior Citizens (best organization float); 1st National Bank of Wayne (best commercial float); Charles Maler of Wayne (best individual float); Bruns children of Wayne

Contemplating together

CONSERVATION tillage tours have taken place within Wayne County in recent weeks providing information of erosion control methods, how to reduce costs with conservation tillage methods and type of equipment needed to put conservation tillage into practice. The most recent tour was at the Stan-Baier-farm located 4 1/2 miles southeast of Wayne. At right, two attending the Baier tour look over his no-till planted soybeans.

Dixon County Fair July 22-25

A free barbecue and square dance, 4-H exhibits and livestock parade, a tractor pull, demolition derby and grandstand entertainment will be some of the highlights of this year's Dixon County Fair scheduled July 22-25.

The annual event opens with a vesper service Sunday evening at the fairgrounds in Concord and will conclude Wednesday night with a demolition derby.

Midway rides and games will be provided by the Harvey Moore Carnival.

SUNDAY EVENING'S vesper service will begin at 8 o'clock in the grandstand and will include the awarding of Ak-Sen-Ben 100-year farm plaques to owners of Dixon County farms that have remained in the same family for the past 100 years.

The vesper service is arranged by Dixon County ministers and includes all religious faiths. There will be community singing, various musical groups, solos and duets.

The service is free and open to the public.

4-H HORSE entries are due at the fairgrounds between 8 and 9 a.m. Monday, and all 4-H and open class livestock entries other than horses are to be brought to the fairgrounds between 8 a.m. and noon.

All 4-H entries other than livestock should be brought between 8 and 10 a.m., and open class exhibits in farm products, including foods, clothing, garden and fine arts, are due between 8 and 11 a.m.

A 4-H horse show is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. Monday and will be followed with judging of 4-H foods, home environment, garden, small animals, engineering, crops, and miscellaneous exhibits at 10:30.

A micro-mini tractor pull is on tap at 3 p.m., along with 4-H dairy showmanship and dairy judging and open class dairy judging.

Highlighting Monday's schedule of activities is a free barbecue at 5 p.m., followed with an open class horse playday at 7, a performance by The Memories in the grandstand at 8, and a free square dance at 8:30.

A 4-H fashion revue, music revue and presentation of home economics trophies is scheduled at 2:30 p.m., followed with a kiddie pedal tractor pull for youngsters age eight and under at 3:30.

KICKING OFF activities Tuesday will be 4-H beef showmanship, 4-H beef judging and open class beef judging at 8 a.m.

A tractor pull is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. and at 6 p.m. there will be a horse and dairy parade and presentation of trophies.

Tina Carol and the Nashville Satin are scheduled to perform at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the grandstand.

THE FAIR WILL close Wednesday evening with a demolition derby at 8 o'clock.

Prior to that on Wednesday there will be 4-H swine showmanship and 4-H swine judging at 8 a.m., and 4-H sheep showmanship and sheep judging, and open class sheep judging at 10:30 a.m.

More farmers eligible for FmHA loans

Farmers in 53 additional Nebraska counties — including Wayne, Dixon and Cedar Counties — are now eligible to apply for Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) emergency physical loss loans, according to a news release which arrived Wednesday morning from Governor Bob Kerrey's office.

Kerrey said he was notified of the determination Friday by FmHA Administrator Charles W. Shuman from Shuman's Washington, D.C. office.

The emergency physical loss loans are available to assist farmers in a total of 64 Nebraska counties to recover from damages caused by hailstorms, tornadoes, flash flooding and heavy rainfall which occurred from June 1 to June 20.

Farmers may obtain detailed information on the EM-loan program by contacting the FmHA County Office serving the area where their farm headquarters is located.

State EMS Conference

Between July 20-22, approximately 350 people involved in Emergency Medical Services in Nebraska will come together in Kearney for the Fifth Annual Statewide EMS Conference.

Most will be members of volunteer ambulance services but many physicians and nurses will also be involved.

The agenda includes topics for first responders, ambulance attendants and paramedics. Persons interested in attending should contact their nearest EMS Regional office for information.

Rogers Memorial Scholarship

Donald J. Thraikill of Emerson, a mechanized agriculture major at the College of Agriculture, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, was the recipient of the $500 Rogers Memorial Scholarship. He is the son of Mrs. Philomena Thraikill.

On Chancellor's Advisory Council

Tom Gustafson of Wakefield is one of 26 Nebraskans who was appointed to a newly established Chancellor's Advisory Council by Marlin A. Messengale, chancellor of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

The council was formed for the purpose of obtaining advice and sharing insights on how UNL can most effectively serve educational needs within the state and beyond.

Stuart Memorial Scholarship

Seven University of Nebraska-Lincoln College of Agriculture students have been named recipients of the Charles T. Stuart Memorial Scholarship for 1984-85. The scholarships are valued at $350 each.

Among the recipients were Gregory Lackas of Carroll and Steven Rethwisch of Wayne.

Lackas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kearney Lackas, is a Randolph High School graduate and a sophomore with a dual major in agriculture education and mechanized agriculture.

Rethwisch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwaine Rethwisch. He is a sophomore agronomy major who is a member of Agronomy Club and was an interdistrict 4-H Youth Exchange Ambassador to Trinidad.

Learning more on reorganization

Northeast Nebraska area small business persons and farmers may learn about Chapter 11 and 13 Reorganizations under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code and have questions answered concerning other debt repayment financing alternative available to them on Tuesday, July 31 at 8 p.m. in the Senior Citizens Center, 403 Johnson, Wakefield, Nebraska.

The question and answer seminar is sponsored by the Wakefield Community Club. Creditor and debtor participation is encouraged and welcome. For more information, call Marcia Kratke, Community and Cultural Affairs Committee, Committee Chairperson at 287-2614 or William Horneber at 287-9027.

Bereuter's July visits

First District Congressman Doug Bereuter has announced a schedule of office hours in four Northeast Nebraska communities this July — including Wayne.

Dan Vodvarka, a member of the Congressman's district staff, will be in Fremont, Norfolk, Wayne and South Sioux City on July 26 and 27.

He will be in Room 201 on the second floor of the Wayne City Hall from 3:00 to 4:30 p.m. on Thursday, July 26.

Ribbon winners

Eight 4-H'ers from Wayne County participated in the District Livestock Judging Contest held at Concord July 6.

Jack Beeson, Wayne, received a purple ribbon and Jennifer and Cory Thomsen of Wakefield received blue ribbons in the junior divisions.

Kaye Hansen and Bobby Greve, Wakefield, received a purple ribbon and Linda Greve and Mollie Greve of Wakefield and Loren Isom of Randolph received blue ribbons in the senior division of the District Livestock Show.

Displays needed

Business places are encouraged to have a centennial window-related display or, if desired, share window space with an organization wishing to put up a display with a centennial theme.

KTCH Radio is giving a certificate for 24 60-second ads to be used by the winning business by Sept. 30, 1984. This package is in addition to any regular advertising and will not be accepted as payment of past advertising.

Rules are to have the window displays completed by 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 28 and judging will be Wednesday, Aug. 29. The judges decision will be final. The 3M's Extension Club will be contacting the businesses, asking if they wish to participate in a centennial window display or display with a centennial theme.

Organizations are asked to contact Mrs. Hilbert Johns, 375-3369 or Mrs. Sam Schroeder, 375-1194 (after 5 p.m.) for reservations and a waiver sheet to be filled out.

Organizations should display a sign with club name and their displays should be removed after Labor Day.

service station

Philip Monson

Philip Monson has intentions of becoming a professional musician.

And his route he chose toward achieving this goal has been by way of the United States Army.

Most recently he has been promoted to Army Specialist Four upon his completion of the Band Instrumentalist Course at the U.S. Army Element School of Music in Norfolk, Virginia.

The appointing orders for this promotion state "The Secretary of the Army has placed special trust and confidence in this soldier's patriotism, valor and abilities," according to the news release.

The promotion was based upon those qualities and the demonstrated potential for increased responsibility.

During his course at Norfolk, major emphasis was placed upon the development of intermediate techniques of instrumental performance in marching, concert and dance/stage band. Training was provided in the fundamentals of music theory and basic harmony.

Monson is a graduate of Wahoo High School of Wahoo and Bethany Lutheran College in Lindsay, Kan.

HE MAJORED in instrumental and vocal music, sang with the Lindsay Oratorical Society and has been in the presentation of the 100th performance of Messiah performed on Easter, 1981.

He's toured Sweden with the Bethany College Choir and has given recitals in trombone and euphonium in addition to vocal participation in student drama and opera productions.

Prior to entering the Army in instrumental program, Monson completed six months of basic Army training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

He is currently stationed at Ft. Campbell, Kentucky in the 101st Airborne Air Assault Division.

The instrumental program, he said, has been a good experience. "It gave me a chance to follow up my degree in music. No matter how good you are, you have to improve before you go out [to the program]," Monson mentioned.

His parents are Dan and Mary Monson of Wayne.

Alan Mann

Alan Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Mann of Columbus, formerly of Wayne, has been commissioned a Second Lieutenant through the Marine Corps ROTC program, and earned a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Mann is assigned to active duty at the Marine Corps Development and Education Command, Quantico, Vir.

He is the grandson of Mrs. Ida Mann of Wayne and Mrs. Leora Nickols of Sioux City.

business notes

Glorvann Koester

Glorvann Koester of Allen, an independent sales director with Mary Kay Cosmetics, Inc., won national recognition this month when she was chosen as "Miss Go-Give" for July.

The monthly award is given to one of 5,000 independent sales directors who best exhibits the company's philosophy of unselfish devotion to helping others achieve success.

Fellow sales directors nominated Koester for the award, citing occasions when she went beyond the call of duty to share her time, sales and product knowledge with other Mary Kay independent beauty consultants.

KOESTER BECAME a Mary Kay beauty consultant in February 1974 and earned the title of sales director in December 1976.

She was among the charter group of Mary Kay sales directors to earn the use of a pink Buick Regal in 1977 and has since been awarded three Mary Kay pink Cadillacs.

In 1981, Koester climbed to the top of her state in sales production as the number one director in Nebraska. The following year her unit sales exceeded the half million dollar point.

SHE AND her husband Larry have four children, D'Vee, Todd, Stacey and Bobby.

As Mary Kay's "Miss Go-Give" for July, she will be spotlighted in the company's national magazine, Applause.

She also is eligible for the annual "Miss Go-Give" award presented each year at the Mary Kay national seminar in Dallas.

Landscaping could make highways safer

Many times we drive down a familiar stretch of Nebraska highway, vaguely notice the pleasant plantings, and think no more of it, turning our thoughts to whatever will make the road time go by faster.

But there's more happening along the roadway than we always realize. Those pretty trees, shrubs, grasses and wildflowers are there for a reason: to make our highways safer. They serve other purposes as well, but foremost is getting us where we're going safely.

According to Art Thompson, Jr., a landscape architect with the Nebraska Department of Roads, sensitive placement of landscape plantings within the right-of-way can frame, emphasize and focus our attention on panoramic views and pastoral scenes, such as contour farming or wheat harvest. This helps to fight "highway hypnosis" by forcing us to vary our focal length.

Landscape plantings along roadways also indicate changes in direction, according to Thompson. The long, easy movement of mass plantings repeats the curves of the highway and can program us for a change in direction, preparing us to make this change before we can actually see the curve of the pavement.

Likewise, landscaping makes Interstate interchanges safer. "The highway landscape serves as a directional element as it guides traffic by creating a feeling of motion and turning at ramps, loops and intersections," Thompson notes.

Plantings also highlight informational signs, by providing a backdrop for them and screening competing material. At the same time, they help the man-made signs to be more harmonious with the natural environment.

And anyone who's stopped at Interstate rest areas in other states know that Nebraska's are like little jewels in comparison. These oases encourage travelers to take a needed rest break.

Beyond safety, there are other reasons for the beautification seen along Nebraska's 10,000 miles of highways. Economy and low maintenance, for example. Trees, shrubs and other plants greatly reduce upkeep costs. Trees, especially, reduce or eliminate the need for mowing on steep, difficult slopes. And in winter, they serve as living snow fences to reduce accumulations on highways.

The deep roots of native grasses stabilize the soil and enable the plants to survive our periodic dry weather and the stressful conditions next to the roadway. Once they're established, these grasses generally aren't mowed beyond the shoulder.

But Nebraska farmers and ranchers will remember when these grasses served as an emergency hay bank for them when moisture and forage were short. The grasses were cut, baled and sold to get livestock through tough times.

These "unmowed" areas also provide wildlife habitat, Thompson notes, and in row crop areas they may be the only cover and nesting area available. By careful design of these plantings, animals can be directed to cross highways at safe points, or prevented from crossing entirely, again making highways safer for us.

In recent years, we've seen more wildflowers along our highways. They're a visual treat for the traveler, but they, too, contribute to safety and low maintenance.

So next time you travel Nebraska's highways, before you turn your mind to other things, take a few moments to appreciate what those trees and shrubs and grasses and flowers are doing for you.

When life-savers die

Too often we take for granted the importance of area ambulance attendants and rescuers.

Normally, the personal column "The Farmer's Wife" appears each Thursday in the rural section of The Wayne Herald. This week it is being shared with our readers on the editorial pages, specifically for one purpose.

It is a fitting tribute to an ambulance attendant killed in a vehicle accident while traveling to the scene of another accident.

This personal article, written by Pat Meierhenry, also characterizes the humanistic aspect of those involved with the life or death situations of the EMT programs, either through the hospitals or other types of rescue units.

It goes as follows:

"For four years, I was a school nurse for ESU No. 1. During that time, I came to know a special group of nurses who believed in health education.

They 'set up shop' in a different school every day, carrying their equipment with them — dealing with head lice, body odor, abuse, pregnancy and everything in between.

They ask Lion's Clubs to buy glasses for needy children and request administrators to find time in the schedule for CPR classes. They counsel everyone from the school secretary to the band director.

Some of these energetic people take EMT classes and help with the rescue units in their communities.

One, Pat Beran of Crofton, was killed in an emergency vehicle on July 8. I attended her funeral and I'm proud to have known her as a friend.

Pat was just past 50. She and Rollie had seven children, six beautiful daughters and one fine son. The youngest will be a senior in high school.

She had been a school nurse for 11 years. She was also a devoted wife and mother; and for her, nursing was a vocation.

As her daughters said, 'For her, a job was not just work.'

But as I was enjoying her sense of humor and her caring attitude, I had no idea how many lives she had touched. St. Rose of Lima is a very large church and it was full with standing room only.

There was a large banner that said 'There's no greater love than to give one's life for a friend', and there was a nurse's cap among the flowers. A choir sang 'Be not Afraid.'

In the homily, the officiant spoke of her involvement, her caring and her love. And he asked us to continue those things "because Pat would want us to."

Each child presented a symbol of her life: the wedding picture (30 years), a ceramic nurse, a camera, a book because she was an avid reader, a child's toy because she loved to buy them for her grandchildren.

And a daughter presented a eulogy. She said they remembered their mother for her gifts; love, for her husband and them and her community. There were always lots of hugs and kisses. The gift of optimism, especially after they were away from home.

They called home with their problems, and their mother had them laughing before they hung up.

We chuckled as she spoke of Pat's propensity for reminiscing, at length, and in detail. On their birthdays, she would call and tell them what the weather was like on the day they were born and what their father was doing. Each baby was welcomed — a true gift from Heaven.

The third gift was the gift of faith. Somehow, between loads of diapers, cooking, cleaning and selling balloons at Homecoming, Pat taught prayers, got them to CCD and helped them to know God. Now they are depending on God to help them deal with this tragic loss.

I'm sure they will deal with it. And we all will heal with time our sense of loss, of rage, of frustration. I was reminded again of the validity of the verse that says 'Teach us to number our days —.'

And I came away with renewed determination to priorities in life — not material benefits, accumulations of property or immaculate homes; but love, optimism, faith.

I wish you could have known her. I'm grateful I did."

drug awareness

Marijuana and health — the reproductive system

Marijuana use by young people during or prior to puberty can affect sexual development according to studies reported by the American Council for Drug Education.

Active ingredients in marijuana, called cannabinoids, interfere with the nerve cells and hormone glands that control sexual development. In particular, marijuana affects the hypothalamus, which during puberty controls the release of hormones from the pituitary gland. THC, the psychoactive ingredient in marijuana, also is known to have an effect on developing ovaries and testes.

Studies of young women found that the incidence of disrupted menstrual cycles was approximately three times higher in women who used marijuana. Males who used marijuana daily also were studied and found to have up to 44 percent less of the hormone testosterone.

This hormone is secreted daily by the body and controls development of male characteristics and the production of sperm. In male fetuses, testosterone controls the initial development of the sex organs and is involved with programming the brain for hormone secretion.

The effect of marijuana on future generations is unknown but the Council reports that studies have associated symptoms of abnormalities of the nervous system and low birth weight of offspring with marijuana use by the mother during pregnancy.

The above information is part of an educational series of articles provided by the Drug Awareness Council of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

letters

Letters from readers are welcome. They should be timely, brief and must contain no libelous statements. We reserve the right to edit or reject any letter.

Responsibility begins at home

To the editor:

This letter is really addressed to the parents of Wayne. This is a community, not a big park recreation center. I am a young adult in this city, and I think that it is about time for the parents of teenagers in this town to stop passing the buck and resume some of the responsibility of watching the activities of their own children.

Recently, there has been a great deal of talk by some parents about how terrible the young adults of Wayne are for having parties that their teenage children attend. We are all quite aware of the most recent of these parties. If the parents of this community can't keep their own kids away from these parties, why do they expect us as young adults to assume the responsibility to do so?

Parents — instead of trying to punish the young adults for having their parties (which they can legally attend), why not punish yourselves for not being able to keep your kids from doing what you tell them not to do. Saying no and meaning it and doing something about it is what raising children and being a parent is all about. After all, your children are really your responsibility, not mine.

A Concerned Young Adult

Chicken show is enjoyed by all

To the editor:

Well another chicken show has come and gone. Such a hot day. Hot enough to fry an egg in the sun on the pavement. The ones in the parade should have a good suntan. I am glad that they made it up to the Care Centre and I am sure that all the residents seeing it enjoyed it.

As I was busy with work that had to be done I listened to KTCH as they announced the progress of the parade.

There were 4 lady clowns from Norfolk who were dressed in comical dresses with fancy decorations. They walked down the halls and admired the residents' rooms. They stopped in my room and talked with me a few minutes. They thought the residents' rooms were so nice.

I asked them their names and they gave me their first name but said they wouldn't give their last names. They said that they visit all the Norfolk rest homes each week. Come again ladies, you are always welcome.

I didn't attend any of the day's activities but on Friday night I was anxious to see the square dancers and I did after quite a doubtful way of getting there. Of course I had the idea that I could wheel myself down on the sidewalk (six blocks) with the help of 2 aids that were kind enough to accompany me.

My! I soon discovered that it was impossible and as rough as the "Rocky Road to Dublin." So it all ended up getting me out of my wheel chair into the back of their car and we finally reached the auditorium where we saw the dancers outside cooling off.

My! I thought they were all through but they had 2 more dances left so we saw them which we all enjoyed in the auditorium which does not have air-conditioning.

Well we got back in the car and headed for home. After dark, Wayne like most towns is not such a pleasant place to be on the street, looking out for cars, coming and going with brakes screeching and fires silding to a stop. Well it was the end of a very sultry day.

Thank goodness it is cooling off and I know the chickens must be happy that it is night after such a hot day.

Recognition deserved by participants

To the editor:

A mere letter cannot possibly acknowledge all of the people who helped with the Chicken Show, but we do want to give public recognition to the Milton G. Watlbaum Company and to Bill's G-W, without whom the Omelet-Feed would have been impossible.

We are also grateful to Mylet Bargholtz and the Wayne Eagles Auxiliary for the fine parade, to the Wayne Kiwanis for coordinating the Omelet Feed, to the Jaycees for the Chicken Chariot Races, and to Leather Lace for coordinating the Square Dance.

Thank you as well to Ken Berglund of Northwestern Bell Telephone for the coordination of Bell Telephone contributions and for the Chicken "Hot Line," to the Wayne Herald and to KTCH for generous promotional coverage.

Wayne businesses were supportive in decorating windows and in selling T-shirts and Chicken buttons, and for that support we are also very grateful.

We must also thank those individuals who willingly accepted all the responsibility of the various events: Clyde Flowers, Jean Luft and the Sunshine Kids 4-H Club, Keith Braasch, Roger Luft, Dale Gutshall, Bob McCoe, Les Hausmann, Rick Robbins, Marilyn Stroman, and Chris Lueders.

Several people agreed without hesitation to help with last-minute requests. Notice was so short that at the current time we do not have a list of names. We hope these people will accept this as a thank you until personal contacts can be made.

Finally, thank you to all participants, and to all who bought Chicken Shirts. We could not hold a Chicken Show without participation, and the sale of Chicken Shirts is the principal source of funding for the event. Thank you, everyone, for a wonderful 1984 Chicken Show!

Tax treatment of religious organizations discussed

Tax treatment of charitable religious organizations

Legislation recently approved by the Congress makes several changes in the Internal Revenue Code and the Internal Revenue Service procedures affecting charitable and religious organizations.

As a result of one change, an individual may now claim a 12 cent per mile deduction (up from 9 cents per mile) for the use of a passenger automobile in performing charitable services, if the actual expense method is not used. This increase applied to tax years beginning after Jan. 1, 1984.

Another change gives churches or qualifying church-controlled organizations a one-time only opportunity to exclude themselves from mandatory Social Security coverage for their employees. This irrevocable election would enable these organizations to exclude from FICA (i.e., Social Security) taxes compensation paid for services performed for the church or the organization, unless the service involved an unrelated trade or business.

Ministers or members of religious orders are not affected by this option because the mandatory coverage, a requirement which took effect on Jan. 1 of this year, does not apply to them.

In addition, special procedures have been established to govern the Internal Revenue Service's conduct of church audits. New requirements will be imposed on the IRS relating to increased justification for investigations or inquiries.

These include written notification to the involved church, limitations on the scope of the inquiry, deadlines for review of church records, and limitations on the assessment or collection of back taxes.

Bad info about medicare

I am afraid that there has been some inflammatory literature circulated about the Medicare provisions in the tax bill. The organization responsible for this material is the National Committee to Preserve Social Security, chaired by James Roosevelt.

I regret that those who are circulating this information are playing on the legitimate fears that many elderly have regarding their financial security. In fact, they seem to be using scare tactics for the financial benefit of the organization.

I certainly am sensitive to the situation of those who live on fixed incomes and believe that we in Congress must keep their needs firmly in mind. On the other hand, to circulate letters or air television programs that claim that Congressional actions on Medicare will come "out of the hides of the elderly" is just plain irresponsible, especially when this same organization is asking for the elderly to send in a $10 membership fee!

That $10 could pay the difference in monthly premiums for five months in 1985!

Class of 1954 returns home

The Wayne High School graduation class of 1954 held its 30-year reunion Saturday evening at the Black Knight Steakhouse.

Margaret (Claus) Lentz of Coleridge served as mistress of ceremonies.

Marian (Kugler) Perry of Wayne read letters from classmates unable to attend, and Larry Johnson of Wayne related personal comments from Gayle Grubb of Seal Beach, Calif., who had recently visited in Wayne.

Evelyn (Roberts) Ruback of Carroll baked cakes for the event.

Hammen of Omaha; Doris (Wentzel) Burns of Richmond Heights, Mo.; Sally (Liveringhouse) Schroeder of Winslow, Ariz.; Henry Thomsen of Columbus; Arlen Harris of Oakland, Iowa; Paul Johnson of Sioux City; Donna (Carlson) Tietz of Cozad.

SEVERAL members of other classes dropped in to visit following the meal.

The class voted to have another reunion in July of 1989 with the same committee, including Margaret Lentz, Marian Perry, Larry Johnson and Evelyn Ruback.

RETURNING FOR the reunion were Margaret (Claus) Lentz of Coleridge, Evelyn (Roberts) Ruback of Carroll, Gerald Baker of Chadron, Marilyn (Henegar)

Legion Auxiliary drapes charter

The American Legion Auxiliary of Wayne met July 2 in the Vet's Club room with the draping of the charter and memorial service for Julia Haas, a past president of the unit.

Draping the charter were President Mary Kruger, Chaplain Ethel Johnson and Fannell Hoffman.

President Kruger opened the meeting with the advancing of the colors by Sergeants at Arms Emma Soules and Frances Doring.

Chaplain Johnson read the opening prayer, followed with the flag salute and singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

HOSPITAL chairman Linda Grubb announced she had visited Helen Hupp at the Wakefield Health Care Center and sent a card to Winnie Thompson. She also visited several members at Wayne Care Center.

Safety chairman Mabel Sommerfeld warned members to beware of summer storms.

A thank-you card was read from the family of John T. Bressler Jr.

EVELINE Thompson reported on a bingo party which was held last month at the Norfolk

Veterans Home.

Attending from Wayne were Louise Kahler, Mary Kruger, Alma Splittgerber, Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Brugger, Emma Soules, Shirley Wagner, Eveline Thompson, Harold Thompson, Commander Roy and Mabel Sommerfeld, Chris and Verona Bargholz, and Helen Siefken.

Mrs. Thompson also read the annual report and announced that the treasurer's books were audited by Marie Brugger, Mary Kruger and Helen Siefken.

President Kruger read committee officers for the coming year, and Vice President Virginia Koll read the serving committee for next month.

A REPORT on the Department Convention held June 29 through July 1 in Kearney was given by President Kruger.

It was announced membership dues are to be paid.

The meeting closed with the prayer for peace by Chaplain Johnson, followed with singing of "America," accompanied by Alma Splittgerber.

Next meeting is scheduled at 8 p.m. Aug. 6 in the Vet's Club room. Serving will be Mary Kruger, Thelma Bradford and Jewell Cavner.

4-H music groups selected for state

About 60 Dixon County 4-H Club members participated in the annual 4-H music contest held July 9 at St. Peter's Parish Hall in Newcastle.

Three groups performed in the junior division (under age 12), and three groups in the senior division (age 12 and over).

Two senior groups were selected to represent Dixon County at the State Fair on Sept. 1 — Wranglers 4-H Club and Lucky Lads and Lassies 4-H Club, both from the Allen area.

The Wranglers, accompanied by Lisa Chase, sang "He's Everything to Me" and "Gonna Build a Mountain." They were awarded a purple ribbon.

Lucky Lads and Lassies sang "Truly" and "Celebration," accompanied by Shelly Hingst. They received a blue ribbon.

OTHER GROUPS competing in the county contest were Country Partners, a combination of Country Style and Pop's Partners 4-H Clubs, junior group received purple; senior group received blue. Lucky Lads and Lassies 4-H Club, junior group, and Wranglers, junior group, both received blue.

Assisting with the program were Sheila Koch, Concord, a junior leader in Wranglers 4-H Club; Gretchen Manz, a member of Country Chaps 4-H Club; and Mrs. Kay Harder of Ponca, 4-H leader in the Martinsburg Merry-makers 4-H Club.

Mrs. Judy Sundt of Ponca judged the contest.

Other arrangements for the event were made by Country Chaps 4-H Club and their leader, Mrs. Marge Wilbur of Dixon, and by Anna Marie White, Dixon County Extension Agent-Home Economics.

'Hey, look me over'

"AW SHUCKS, you mean I don't qualify because I'm a mule." Actually, the mule pictured at right wasn't entered in the hat show held in conjunction with this year's fourth annual Chicken Show in Wayne. The mule, however, was a participant in the Chicken Day parade held Saturday morning through downtown Wayne. Some of the residents who did model headwear for the chicken hat show were (top photo from left) Emma Soules and Neva Lorenzen of Wayne; and (bottom photo) David Biede of Hastings, grandson of Wayne's Centennial Senior Belle Myrtle Splittgerber.

Afternoon ceremony unites Peiffer-Stoltenberg in Iowa

The Rev. John Brennan of Fonda, Iowa officiated at the double ring ceremony July 7 uniting in marriage Ann Peiffer of Lincoln and Jay Stoltenberg of Wayne.

Guests attending the 2 o'clock ceremony at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in Fonda were registered by Missy Stoltenberg of Wayne and Laurie Patrick of Lake City, Iowa.

Ushers were Greg Ronney of Ames, Iowa, Mike Patrick of Red Oak, Iowa and Steve Sorensen of Wayne.

Decorations included violet and yellow gladiolus at the altar.

THE BRIDE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleus Peiffer of Fonda, is a 1980 graduate of Fonda Community School. She attended Nebraska Wesleyan University and Wayne State College, and plans to graduate from Wayne State next month.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Del Stoltenberg of Wayne. He graduated from Wayne-Carroll High School in 1979 and from Northeast Technical Community College, Norfolk, in 1981. He will graduate from Wayne State College in December 1984 and has been a member of the Army National Guard since 1979.

The newlyweds traveled to Twin Lakes, Iowa following their wedding and are now at home at 1004 B St., Lincoln, Neb., 68502.

MUSIC AT the couple's ceremony included "Sometimes," "This is the Day," "In Remembrance," "Lord's Prayer" and "Wedding Song."

Singers were Beth Schumacher of Hartington and Jack Patrick of Lake City, Iowa, and organist was Kahl Buckingham of Storm Lake, Iowa.

Honor attendants were Jean Weber of Hooper and Doug Carroll of Wayne.

Bridesmaids were Marilyn Ronney of Ames, Iowa and Elaine Peiffer of Fonda, Iowa, both sisters of the bride, and Tracy Stoltenberg of Wayne, sister of the bridegroom.

Groomsmen were Jon Stoltenberg of Wayne, brother of the bridegroom, Gregg Cruickshank of Columbus and Jeff Zeiss of Wayne.

THE BRIDE was given in marriage by her parents and appeared in a floor-length gown of white silk tulle.

The bodice featured a scoop neckline and modified puff sleeves which were trimmed with Chantilly lace ruffles and silk tulle bows. Her skirt and semi-cathedral train were scalloped into lace and ruffles.

Her fingertip veil was attached to a small pearl-beaded caplet and she carried a cascade of yellow roses and baby's breath.

THE BRIDE'S attendants wore floor-length tulle frocks in French violet designed with A-line skirts. A petite ruffle encircled the scalloped necklines and elbow-length sleeves.

Each carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses, small violet flowers and baby's breath.

The bridegroom was attired in a white tuxedo and wore a yellow rose and baby's breath boutonniere. His attendants wore silver gray tuxedos with yellow rose boutonnieres.

The bride's mother chose a periwinkle blue chiffon dress in street length with a yellow rose corsage, and the bridegroom's mother selected a silver gray street-length dress of crepe with navy accessories.

A RECEPTION and dance for 300 guests was held at the Knights of Columbus' Hall in Fonda following the ceremony.

Hosts were the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Teresa and Andy Knoblauch of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Stephanie and John Wisecarver of Minnesota.

The wedding cake was cut and served by Eileen Horner, LuAnn Boettcher and Kathy McLaughlin, all of Fonda, Iowa.

Mary Smith of Denver, Colorado, and Helen Stoull of Pocahontas, Iowa and Marian Borgmann of Lincoln served punch.

Waitresses were Cindy Imming, Mary Koster, Kathryn Koster, Patty Mullen and Brenda Peiffer, all of Fonda.

UMW program focuses on women in history

"A Lost History," a video tape presentation focusing on women who were prominent in the 200 years of Methodist history, was presented at the July 11 meeting of Wayne's United Methodist Women.

The meeting, which was attended by approximately 47 members and three guests, began with a 9 a.m. breakfast. Chairmen were Marjorie Summers and Roberta Welte.

Becky Wilson was in charge of the program and had devotions.

THE BUSINESS meeting was called to order by President Mary Pate.

She announced that the School of Christian Mission will be held in Lincoln July 21-26, with the short session on July 20-22. Kay Marsh, Jan Kohl and Helen Rose will attend.

The Bible study on the book of Luke, entitled "The Great Physician," led by the Rev. Keith Johnson, will continue throughout July on Tuesday mornings.

Jan Kohl reported on the Ruth Ellis scholarship fund. The $100 award was given to Julie Anderson on graduation Sunday.

Helen Rose announced the Northeast District meeting will be held in Albion on Sept. 22. She is asking members to save Campbell labels and trading stamps for a mission project. They will be taken to the district meeting.

THERE WILL be no August meeting of United Methodist Women.

Next meeting will be Sept. 12 at 7:30 p.m. with election and installation of officers.

Becky Keldel will present the program. Serving chairman will be Mary Nichols and Iona Lindsay.

19-3 record going in

Wayne 18-under girls win district, advance to State

The Wayne 18-under Girls softball team is on its way to the Nebraska Class A State Softball Tournament after winning the championship at the District Softball Tournament on Sunday in Emerson.

The team is now scheduled to take their 19-2 season record into first round action at the State Class A Tournament in Grand Island at 9 a.m. tomorrow morning (Friday) against an undetermined opponent. It will be the second straight appearance at the state tourney for the Wayne team.

Due to a rain delay on Saturday, the girls played five softball games throughout the day to work their way through the loser's bracket and claim the district title.

Wayne fought their way back into the championship game, taking wins over Homer, Bancroft and Pender before beating Wakefield in two straight games in the double elimination tourney.

Homer was the opening opponent of the day and Wayne had little trouble as they won in three innings 20-0.

Following a break, the local girls then began a series of four straight games starting with a five inning 15-2 win over Bancroft to avenge an earlier tournament loss.

It took the full seven innings for Wayne to get past Pender in an 8-5 decision. Pender had handed the Wayne team their first loss of the season just over a week earlier in a 5-4 contest in Pender.

Wayne faced off against Wakefield, which was undefeated in the tourney, in their fourth game of the day and came away with a hard-fought 9-5 victory which went seven innings.

In the second game between the two teams, Wakefield broke to an early 3-0 lead before Wayne bounced back in the second to score six runs of their own, including a three-run homer by Lisa Jacobsen.

Wakefield scored a pair of runs in the fifth inning to close the gap to 6-5.

Both teams went scoreless through the sixth inning before Wakefield notched two runs, one coming off an intended walk of Brenda Jones on which a wild pitch allowed a runner to score from third base.

Going into the bottom of the seventh trailing 7-6, Wayne's Jody Allen reached base on a single with one out, followed by Kathy Mohfeld who advanced to first on a Wakefield error.

Sarah Lebsock, who had proven to one of Wayne's most effective hitters throughout the season, came to the plate and worked her way to a 3-2 count before blasting a triple to right-center field to bring the two winning runs across and give Wayne the district crown.

On the day, Wayne played a total of 29 innings of softball and fanned 52 hits.

The strongest hitting performances of the day came from Lisa Jacobsen, who knocked out four home runs and brought in nine runs, and Sarah Lebsock, who came up with a home run earlier in the day in addition to her game-winning triple against Wakefield.

Pitcher Roni Johnson took part in a marathon of her own on the pitching mound, as she threw a total of 29 innings and faced 134 batters during the day, striking out 30. Johnson pitched a no-hitter against Homer.

a pair of two-hitters against Bancroft and Pender and allowed ten hits total in the two games against Wakefield.

Runner-up Wakefield and Pender will also participate in the Class A Tournament in Grand Island this weekend, with their first round games also scheduled for Friday morning.

LISA JACOBSEN crosses the bag on her first of four home runs.

Midgets split; Juniors 2-3 at O'Neill tourney

Juniors

The O'Neill baseball tournament proved to be lucky for the Wayne Junior Legion baseball team as they won two of three games during the weekend of competition and moved their record to 12-8 overall.

Wayne downed teams from Norfolk and Lexington and lost to host team O'Neill for the 2-1 tourney record.

Norfolk fell to Wayne by a 4-2 score in seven innings.

Wayne led by a slim 1-0 margin going into the sixth inning after Jeff Jorgensen scored on a passed ball after being walked to first.

In the top of the sixth, Norfolk scored two runs on passed balls to take a short-lived 2-1 lead before Wayne answered back with three runs to hang on for the win.

Kevin Maly singled at the top of the order, followed by Todd Dorcey who advanced on an error and Steve Overin with a fielder's choice. Maly later scored on a Norfolk error, while Dorcey reached home on a passed ball and Overin added the last run on a sacrifice by Randy Gamble.

Maly's single was the only hit for Wayne in the win, as they were walked five times and struck out eight times at the plate.

Steve Overin pitched the win, striking out seven Norfolk batters and allowing just two walks.

HOST TEAM O'Neill handed the Juniors their only loss of the weekend, downing them 9-5 on Sunday.

Scoring was scattered throughout the game for both teams with Wayne making the first mark in the top of the first when Kevin Maly singled and later scored.

The third inning belonged to O'Neill as they notched three runs on two walks, a pair of sacrifice flys and a RBI double.

Chris Wieseler singled in top of the fourth inning and moved around the bases on a stolen base and passed ball before crossing the bag on a single by Dave Longe.

O'Neill came up with four runs in the bottom of the fourth inning to take a 7-2 lead before Wayne scored their final three runs to close the margin to 7-5. The hosts then added two insurance runs and struck out two of three Wayne batters in the top of the seventh and moved their record to 12-8 overall.

Kevin Maly and Todd Dorcey each had two hits in the loss. Dorcey went two-for-two with a double and single while Maly was two-for-three with a pair of singles.

Jeff Sherer was on the mound and took the loss, tossing two strike outs and four walks.

WIN NUMBER 12 of the season came against Lexington on Sunday, as Wayne's Juniors took a 5-3 victory.

Wayne scored all of their runs early in the game and relied on their fielding in the closing innings to snag the win.

It was lead-off batter Kevin Maly scoring Wayne's first run of the game, hitting a single to reach base. Steve Overin came up with a single of his own with one out to score Maly and later came home on a similar single by Chris Wieseler.

In the second inning, Wayne produced three runs, two coming off a home run by Steve Overin with one out and Kevin Maly on base. Jeff Jorgensen scored the opening run of the inning moments earlier after reaching base on a single.

Lexington appeared on the scoreboard in the third inning with a single run and again in the top of the seventh with a pair of runs to close out the scoring.

Pitcher Todd Dorcey downed five Lexington batters at the plate and allowed two walks on the night.

Midgets

Wayne's Midget baseball team experienced their first taste of defeat during the past weekend as they split in a pair of games played at the O'Neill Tournament on Saturday and Sunday.

The games moved the Midget's overall record to 15-2 as they move in the final two weeks of regular season baseball action.

Wayne's initial loss of the season came at the hands of host team O'Neill as they won by an 8-3 score in the first game for both teams.

The Midgets were able to tally seven hits in the game, a double by Scott Baker in the sixth inning a pair of singles by Scott Nichols and Jeff Hausmann and solo singles by Ted Lueders and Dan Gross.

O'Neill took a 4-0 lead going into the fourth inning before Ted Lueders scored Wayne's opening run after reaching base on a walk.

Wayne added a single run in the sixth inning to close the gap to 4-2 when Scott Baker rapped out a double and crossed home plate on a O'Neill error later in the inning.

A three-run spree in the top of the seventh inning by O'Neill put the game out of reach for Wayne. O'Neill used a series of passed balls and a Wayne error combined with three singles to fill the bases and collect the runs.

Wayne's pitching performance also had it's ups and downs as Don Larsen set 16 O'Neill batters down swinging during seven innings, but allowed an even dozen walks.

O'Neill was able to total their eight runs on just three hits, all singles.

COACH HANK Overin's Midgets were able to bounce back in the second game of the weekend, downing a stubborn Norfolk Midget team 5-3 in seven innings.

Again Wayne came from behind after Norfolk scored two runs in the first inning. After collecting two outs, the Norfolk pitcher walked Don Larsen, Tim Fleming and Brent Pick to load the bases before Larsen scored on a passed ball.

Wayne added three more runs in the third inning, taking advantage of several passed balls to advance runners around the bases. Dan Gross and Casey Nichols each reached base on an error while Scott Baker tapped out a single, all scoring later in the inning.

Scott Baker scored the final run of the game for Wayne in the fourth inning on a Casey Nichols RBI after reaching base on a single of his own.

Wayne's hitters came up with just four hits, all singles and struck out at the plate a total of eight times.

Jeff Hausmann tossed the game for Wayne, striking out nine Norfolk batters and walking five.

A tournament game scheduled with Lexington was cancelled on Saturday due to rain.

Town team errors lead to 10-4 Hartington victory

A total of five Wayne errors combined with a strong Hartington finish to spell defeat for the Wayne Town Team as they fell to Hartington 10-4 in a Tri-County League baseball game on Sunday evening, July 15.

It was the second loss of the season to Hartington for the Wayne team, as they were defeated by a 13-4 margin earlier in the year. Wayne's overall record stands at 12-4.

Wayne appeared on the scoreboard first in the bottom of the opening inning when lead off batter Todd Pfeiffer knocked out a double to get on base. Hartington's pitcher then walked five of the next seven batters to load the bases and score three Wayne runs.

Hartington came from behind to gain the lead in the top of the third inning, rapping out a triple, two doubles and a single to score four runs and take a 4-3 advantage.

The visitors scored a single run in the fourth inning on two Wayne fielding errors.

Bill Schwartz scored the final run of the evening for Wayne in the fifth inning, reaching base on a fielder's choice and coming home on a sacrifice by Jerry Goeden.

Neither team scored again until the top of the eighth inning when Hartington's Brian Blatchford unleashed home run with two out and a man on to score two runs.

Hartington struck again for three runs to close out the final inning, including another home run, this time by Scott Miller with no one on in the top of the inning.

Wayne was outdone in the hitting department for the night with four hits compared to 12 for Hartington. Todd Pfeiffer's game opening double was the only extra-base hit of the game for Wayne. Jeff Dion hit out a pair of singles, while Bill Schwartz and Doug Carroll also came up with singles. Joel Ankeny threw eight strike outs against Hartington and gave up one base on balls.

Wayne was slated to play Tilden last night (Wednesday) at Overin Field in Wayne. They will also see action on Sunday, July 22 against Laurel on the road.

Early lead holds for Wayne Midgets in 10-3 win over Pender

Wayne's Midget team jumped to a 7-0 lead on their way to winning a 10-3 baseball game from Pender at Overin Field in Wayne Tuesday night.

The Midgets are now 16-1 overall heading into a rescheduled game with Madison this evening (Thursday) in Wayne. They are also slated to host Laurel in a Midget contest tomorrow night (Friday), beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Wayne scored two runs in the first inning when Shannon Dorcey reached first on a single and Dan Gross walked, before Scott Baker let go with a two RBI single to put Wayne on the board.

The Midgets added five runs in the bottom of the second, starting off with single by Jeff Hausmann and an RBI base hit by Don-Larsen. Tim Fleming reached base on a walk before Ted Luaders came up with a single, followed by a walk for Dan Gross and a triple for Scott Baker which brought in two runs. Casey Nichols then rapped out another triple to clear the bases with two out.

Two more runs were collected in the third inning when Don Larsen went to first on a single and was brought home on a RBI single by Shannon Dorcey. Dorcey scored later in the inning on a sacrifice by Scott Baker.

Pender scored the first two of their three runs in the top of the fourth inning on a pair of singles and Wayne error and added a single run in the fifth for their final score.

Wayne totaled seven hits in 22 at bats, including Scott Baker who was two-for-three with a triple and single and Shannon Dorcey with a pair of singles in three trips to the plate.

Ted Luaders started pitching on the mound for Wayne and struck out five batters before being relieved by Jason Jorgensen in the fourth inning.

Wakefield downs 18-under Wayne girls

A case of post-tournament let-down may have been a factor as the state-bound Wayne 18-under Girls softball team fell in their final game of the regular season Tuesday night, 3-2 to Wakefield.

The two teams had faced each other in a pair of tough district championship games on Sunday, with Wayne eventually winning both for the district title.

The eight-inning contest went scoreless until the top of the fifth inning when Wayne's Jody Allen reached base on a walk followed by a double by Kathy Mohfeld to score the run.

Wakefield scored a run in the bottom of the inning to even the score, capitalizing on two Wayne errors.

Neither team scored again until the top of the eighth when Jody Allen rapped a single to get on base with one out and crossed the bag on a base hit by Sarah Lebsack.

Wakefield made their move in the bottom of the inning when they scored the tying run on a triple that scored on a Wayne error. The next batter up knocked a single and advanced to third on a ground out, scoring on a wild throw for the winning run.

Roberts competes in Fremont Open

Tom Roberts of Wayne participated in the Fremont Tennis Open held last weekend, July 15-15 in Fremont.

In men's 45-over singles action, Roberts defeated first round opponent Bill Gorty of Omaha 6-1, 6-0. He also defeated his second round competitor Jerry Phillips 6-2, 6-1 before falling in quarterfinal play to Lou Ross of Omaha in three sets, 4-0, 5-7 and 6-4.

Roberts and teammate Dean O'Hern of Bellevue were seeded second in the men's 45-over doubles division and received a first-round bye. In the second round they downed John Irvine and Harvey Miller of Omaha 6-2, 6-0 before being defeated by Fremont's Bob Wofkin and Neil Schilke 3-6, 2-6.

Nine run first inning lifts Juniors past Pender 15-5

The first inning proved to be the deciding factor for the Wayne Junior Legion baseball team as they outscored Pender nine runs to one to lead on to a 15-5 final victory at home.

Pender's opening runs scored in the top of the first when the batter reached base on an error and was walked in for the score.

Wayne then roared back with nine runs in the bottom of the inning, beginning with a singles by Kevin Maly, Todd Dorcey and Steve Overin. Randy Gamble then reached base on a walk followed by Chris Wieseler who got on base with a fielder's choice and Jeff Sherer who lifted a double and brought in two runs.

Dave Longe added a single of his own to bring in a run with no outs. Jeff Jorgensen walked followed up with a RBI single by Todd Dorcey in his second trip to the plate in the inning. A Randy Gamble single later scored Dorcey for the last run of the inning.

A single run in the second inning by Dave Longe and three more in the third boosted the margin to 13-1. Steve Overin advanced to first on a single and Randy Gamble was hit by a pitch, setting up a two RBI triple by Chris Wieseler with no outs.

Pender scored their first run in the fourth inning when their runner went to first on a walk and advanced around the bases and came home on a series of passed balls.

Wayne added a single run in the fourth by Kevin Maly, who scored on a Steve Overin double after knocking out a single.

Pender managed to prolong the game in the top of the fifth by scoring three runs on a pair of singles and a walk.

Chris Wieseler crossed home plate on a passed ball in the bottom of the fifth inning to give Wayne its final run and close the game out with the 10-run rule.

Overin also collected the win on the mound as the Wayne pitching staff notched 10 strike outs against Pender on the night.

The Juniors now hold a 13-8 record going into a rescheduled game with Madison at Overin Field tonight (Thursday). They are also scheduled to play Laurel tomorrow night at home.

Wakefield and Carroll Entries Are Winners in Corn Contest

Group of Ears

Tops Record Set in 1952

Gerald Coenen, Carroll, and R. W. Wenstrand, Wakefield, are the winners in the third annual corn contest sponsored by Wayne merchants and The Wayne Herald. Wenstrand collected five of the 24 prizes offered when his group of three ears weighing 5 lbs. 6 oz. topped all other entries. Coenen won the tallest stalk division with a stalk measuring 11 ft. 4 1/2 in. Wenstrand's entry set a new record for the contest. Herbert Hansen, Wayne, 1952 winner, held the previous record of 5 lbs. 5 1/2 oz. Coenen's entry was nearly three feet shorter than the 1952 winner entered by Kenneth Baker, Wakefield. Wenstrand is shown with his entry in the picture at right. His son Ronald, 11, is looking at the prize winner. The winning ears were of a giant hybrid variety. They came from a four-acre plot planted May 13. Wenstrand estimated that the plot will yield about 73 bushels per acre. He picked four rows of ears to represent an acre of the yield and came out with 40 bushels. The Wakefield man started farming in 1934. He moved to his present 540 acres in 1938. He is married and has three children, Ronald, Paula, 9, and Allen, 7, 22-Acre Plot. Coenen, pictured at the left trying to reach the top of his winning stalk, lives on a quarter section southwest of Carroll. He also farms an additional 126 acres. The winning stalk came from a 2 1/2-acre plot. He began farming 19 years ago after working for a novel company. He's been on the present site since 1937. — Page 2

Pink Eye

A major cattle herd problem during the hot summer months is pink eye. There are two common forms of the disease — one caused by bacteria and the other by a virus.

The most prevalent form of the disease, the one caused by a bacterial organism which produces a toxin that irritates and erodes the covering of the eye, occurs mainly in the summer. Bright sunlight, wind and dirt may contribute to the cause of the disease, which affects both sheep and cattle.

In general, use of vaccines against this form of pink eye has not been successful. Control of flies, especially face flies and other insects which feed around the eyes is an important step in control of the spread of the pink eye infection. Direct transmission by means of eye and nasal discharge is also possible.

The causative organism will not live more than 24-48 hours if dried or exposed to direct sunlight. There are indications that poor nutrition may increase an animal's susceptibility of the bacterial form. Vitamin A is of importance, however, the lack of vitamin A does not produce pink eye, but may reduce the animal's ability to resist the infection.

The other form, infectious bovine rhinotracheitis (IBR or rednose virus, is not normally called pink eye. It occurs most frequently in the winter but may also be seen in the summertime and be confused with the bacterial form of pink eye. IBR may be prevented by proper vaccination of animals prior to the onset of the disease.

Symptoms of the bacterial form of pink eye include: redness of the eye, increased secretion of tears, slight fever, reduced feed intake and activity, and cloudy eyes that may become ulcerated. In severe cases, the entire eyeball may become covered with a white to yellow plaque within 6-7 days. The eye bulges into a cone and eventually ruptures.

The viral form of IBR affects only cattle. The disease is highly contagious by direct and indirect contact of infected animals with susceptible animals. When IBR infects the eyes of cattle, there may be other signs of the disease, such as respiratory infection or abortion.

When an outbreak of the summer bacterial form of pink eye starts in a group of cattle, use the following measures to reduce the spread and hasten the recovery of affected animals.

- Closely observe the animals at least once a day and look especially for any animal with excess eye discharge.
- Immediately segregate and treat all animals with an abnormal eye discharge. The injection of cortisone and antibiotic solution into the eyelid seems to be most effective. Eye patches cemented over infected eye will speed recovery.
- Start an effective fly control program.
- And supplement the ration to take care of any possible nutritional deficiency.

August is prime time for soybean irrigation

Early August is the most critical time to irrigate soybeans, according to a University of Nebraska extension irrigation specialist.

Dean Eisenhauer of NU's South Central Station at Clay Center said soybeans require the most water during the reproductive stages of growth. Peak water use is during pod development which should occur during the early weeks of August, he said.

Eisenhauer estimated that 20 percent of Nebraska's soybean acreage is irrigated annually. This season, farmers still may need to irrigate despite heavy spring rain. High amounts of water during the vegetative, or first, stage of growth normally are not as beneficial as later waterings, Eisenhauer said. Heavy spring rains may increase lodging and will not increase yields, he said.

Eisenhauer said soybeans will produce their highest yields in soils with good internal and surface drainage. Excess water standing in the fields can lead to increased lodging.

Coarse-textured soils require light, frequent water applications and have less room for error in timing irrigation than medium textured soils, Eisenhauer said.

General water-management recommendations for coarse soils are to allow no more than 50 percent depletion of soil moisture in the top 2 feet during flowering and top 3 feet during later stages. Soybean growers should check with their local extension agents for the recommended amount of water to apply, Eisenhauer said.

A simpler irrigation scheduling approach can be used with deep medium and fine textured soils. Eisenhauer said irrigation requirements for soybeans in these soil types can be determined by stage of growth if soil moisture is at or near field capacity to 5 feet at planting time. Achieving maximum yields in these soil types requires 3 inches of water during both full flower and pod development, and 4.5 inches during seed fill.

With furrow irrigation systems, it generally is not advisable to wait until pod development before applying the first irrigation, Eisenhauer said. This can cause extremely dry furrow conditions and make further irrigation more difficult.

Eisenhauer said regardless of system, or soil type, adequate soil moisture should be maintained through the seed-fill stage.

With the first days of really hot, summer weather, Nebraska farmers and ranchers are entering a stress period for both crops and livestock, according to members of the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service Agricultural Climate Situation Committee July 9.

Also, NU extension entomologist and Integrated Pest Management specialist Lloyd Anderson said this is the last week for effective treatment of corn borers south of the Platte River. With the adult moth stage over and the pests entering the larval stage, he estimated that 65 percent of Nebraska corn fields are too far along for corn borer treatment. Borer development is delayed in northern Nebraska, he said.

"The larval stage is where we feel we can have some control, but we have to move this week because they are burrowing in now," he said. "If they go in, they are going to stay there."

Ak-Sar-Ben judges announced

Judges for the 1984 Ak-Sar-Ben 4-H Livestock Exposition have been announced by Ak-Sar-Ben's Director of Agricultural Activities Sherman Berg. The 57th edition of the 4-H Livestock Exposition, the world's largest, will be held from September 19 through Sept. 29. Held in conjunction with the Ak-Sar-Ben Rodeo, these two events are the centerpiece of Omaha's River City Roundup, a celebration of the area's agricultural and western heritage.

Judges were selected for market beef; feeder calf and beef heifer; dairy; market sheep; market swine; 4-H light horse; breeding beef; market beef; feeder calf showmanship; dairy showmanship; sheep showmanship and swine showmanship.

This year's event will again feature Livestock Judging, a Hay Hauling Contest, Computer Software Contest, as well as the big Ak-Sar-Ben World Championship Rodeo and numerous River City Roundup activities.

Poison warning

As we experience damp, warm days of summer, there is an increasing number of lawns spotted with clusters of mushrooms. This situation has resulted in a number of calls concerning mushroom ingestions.

Historically, mushroom poisoning has been a greater concern in the central and eastern regions of Europe than in North America. However, recently, there has been an increasing interest in the people hunting for mushrooms in the United States. Unfortunately, many of these individuals are not really experienced in identifying the safe, edible varieties from the poisonous and life-threatening mushrooms.

There are approximately 5,000 species of mushrooms that grow in the United States and 100 of these species are known to be poisonous. There are so many variables in mushroom toxicity that, according to Kathy Hart, R.N., Program Coordinator, Marian Poison Center, consumption of wild mushrooms carries a risk that at many times may prove to be life-threatening.

Many mushrooms contain several toxic chemicals in varying concentrations. These concentrations may vary from season to season, from place to place, and even from one mushroom to another in the same place. Thus mushroom toxicity is extremely variable from individual to individual.

Therefore, if several people all ate the same mushrooms, some could become violently ill and others remain symptom free. Also, the same mushroom may be eaten by an individual on one occasion without ill effects and give severe symptoms the next time. In addition, some mushrooms give symptoms only when consumed with alcohol.

Identifying mushrooms that are safe and edible is very difficult even for an experienced picker. The reliance on old wives' tale is also dangerous. Some of these popular beliefs include: poisonous mushrooms will turn vinegar milky, poisonous mushrooms will darken when soaked in salt water, or that if the skin from the cap of the mushroom can be peeled, it is nonpoisonous. None of these statements are true and should be considered risky and worthless. Also, do not rely on cooking the mushrooms to destroy toxic chemicals.

According to Ms. Hart, some mushrooms produce symptoms within two hours and other produce symptoms after a delay of six or more hours. The mushrooms that possess a delayed period before the beginning of symptoms are often associated with more serious and life-threatening situations. The kinds of symptoms vary from nausea, vomiting, abdominal cramping and diarrhea to hallucinations, flushing of the skin, increased heart rate, shortness of breath, convulsions and coma.

The Marian Poison Center would like everyone to have a safe and pleasant summer. Buy your mushrooms at a grocery store, and if your child accidentally ingests a mushroom, call the Poison Center. In Sioux City, the number is 258-6424 in South Dakota, call 1-800-952-0123, and in Nebraska, Minnesota and Iowa, call 1-800-843-0905.

Tips on coping with farm prices

The high price, scarce supply and sometimes poor quality of corn this summer have prompted many hog producers to search for cost-efficient, top-performing alternative rations in their finishing units, where about 80 percent of all feed in a typical farrow-to-finish operation is consumed.

Dr. Gawain Willis, senior swine nutritionist for Ralston Purina Company, offers producers several tips on how to cope with this summer's grain situation, without sacrificing performance.

Feed Wheat — High corn prices and scarce supplies this summer have made wheat a viable, economical alternative to corn-based rations. In wheat-rich areas, when corn is 90 percent or more than the per bushel price of wheat, take advantage of this edge. Wheat may be used to supply 100 percent of the grain portion of hog rations.

To attain optimal feed efficiency with wheat-based rations, grind or roll the grain to a coarse to medium particle size. Finely ground wheat is powdery, and may cause pigs to reduce feed intake. Wheat should also be mixed with a supplement specifically formulated to take advantage of wheat's higher levels of lysine and available phosphorus.

Feed Completes — If both corn and wheat are unavailable, or of poor quality, a top-performing complete feed may be a viable option. To compare the cost-effectiveness of completes, calculate the actual grind and mix manufacturing cost, (including producing, storing, grinding and mixing) as well as performance from grind and mix corn-based rations, versus the cost and performance of a given complete. Especially in grain-deficit areas, or where corn is of poor quality and high priced, completes may be more efficient and less costly.

A complete ration that outperforms traditional corn-based grind and mix rations like Purina's Super High Octane Complete for grower and finisher hogs, may be more cost-effective overall. In one test, this ration delivered average daily gain of 2.17 lbs. and a 2.12 feed conversion ratio for one group of boars raised in total confinement. The most feed needed to produce a pound of gain on this ration so far was 2.87 lbs. with a set of market hogs raised on dirt lots.

Monitor Feed Waste — It's critical to control direct feed waste. Self feeders waste 10 percent of rations if not regularly adjusted. That loss — almost imperceptible to the eye — can wipe out a performance gain. Regularly lift feeder lids to check for leakage and for clogged feeder holes.

Let feeders run empty periodically to prevent stale or moldy feed. Between groups of hogs, feeders should be emptied, cleaned and refilled with fresh rations.

Sell Feeder Pigs — Depending on the market, and corn price and supply, producing feeder pigs may be an economical alternative to a farrow-to-finish operation. Pigs weighing up to 40 lbs. consume a fraction of total feed in such operations, and thus require less grain.

Ship Lighter Hogs to Market — Depending on the packer, lighter hogs may be in order. Hogs weighing over 220 lbs. don't experience the same growth rate as those under that weight. However, some packers dock for lighter hogs, so be sure to check their policy before shipping animals under 220 lbs.

Park dedicated at Belden

The Belden Community Club conducted a dedication ceremony for the Arnold Hansen Memorial Park. Hansen died fighting a fire on Christmas Day 1982 at a farm house near Belden. In addition to serving as mayor of the community at the time of his death, he was Fire Chief of the Belden Fire Department, was a member of the American Legion, and served on the village board. In 1957 Hansen purchased the Belden Garage and Auto Service which he continued to operate until his death. He served continuously in village government, Belden Community Club activities and Belden betterment projects. He worked for the promotion of the Belden Library and was active in the community's participation in the Nebraska Community Improvement Program. Belden Mayor Frank Kittle served as master of ceremonies for the 6 o'clock dedication service. Kittle welcomed those attending, followed with prayer by the Rev. Mark Miller, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Churches in Laurel and Carroll. The American Legion Post 149 presented a flag ceremony and the raising of a flag which flew over the United States Capitol and had been given to the Hansen family. FAMILY MEMBERS were induced, including Hansen's mother, Mrs. Anna Hansen, a resident of the Randolph Colonial Manor; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hansen of Lincoln; and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Owens of Carroll. A tribute to Hansen's work as a volunteer fireman was given by State Fire Marshal LaVerte McDonald of Wayne. State Senator Erroy Hefner of Coleridge addressed the group and stressed the importance of good parks and their value to a community. The dedication service closed with the benediction by Pastor Miller. A potluck supper was served in the shelter house on the park grounds.

allen news

mrs. ken linafelter 635-2403

EMERGENCY FIRE ALARM
A change has been made in the location of the emergency fire alarm. The bright red alarm box has been moved to the west side of the brick fire hall. It had been located on the Drug Store building on main street. When an alarm is turned in at the alarm box which is set off by the button on the box it will cause the siren to blow 14 times. Ellis Electric has also rewired the line leading to the siren which is located on the water tower. The emergency number remains the same, 635-2141. The calls will be answered at the sheriff's office as all of Allen's calls are taken by the department on a call forward system. The emergency volunteers are then alerted by plectrons in their home or place of work.

PAINT CLASS
On July 10 24 people were at the Allen Senior Citizens Center for paint class. The center is open to all Senior Citizens and they invite you to come and join them in their air conditioned building. Fern Hanson treated those at the center to cake that day.

POTLUCK
Joanne Rahn, Senior Citizens director, reminds that the potluck for July will be held at noon and is not a breakfast.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL
The United Methodist annual ice cream social will be held at the church on Friday evening, July 27 beginning at 6:30 p.m. They will be serving pie, cake and topping along with the ice cream. All are welcome. They will also be serving to those attending the annual Farmers Coop meeting which will be held that evening.

MUSEUM HOSTS
Victor and Loyola Carpenter were hosts at the Dixon County Museum on Sunday. The museum display was of nostalgic items of home, family and work. At present the museum needs volunteers for the hosting of the museum for the next several Sundays. It is open for tours each Sunday afternoon during the summer from 2 to 4 p.m.

YOUTH WORKERS
The ag students of Allen High School, under the leadership of Tom Wilmes, made pen pals for the Dixon county fair barns and placed them in the barns last week. The Future Homemakers

Chapter, under the direction of Kathy Boswell, have as their service project to scrape and paint the Springbank Township library building on main street. The girls worked on the project last Saturday.

DAIRY SHOW
The first annual Nebraska dairy show was held at West Point on July 13 and 14 with an all breeds show. Jeanne Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Warner of Allen, was selected as Nebraska Expo Dairy Queen. After the announcement was made on Friday morning, Jeanne presented the ribbons at the shows to the winning contestants. On Friday, Angie Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones, received seventh with her Brown Swiss senior yearling and a blue ribbon in showmanship. Jeanne received a blue on her senior Holstein.

On Saturday the girls showed Arysthires. Angie received a red ribbon on her junior Arysthires, a blue in judging—and red in showmanship. Jeanne received a purple in showmanship and red in judging. In Arysthires competition, she received a purple on her senior calf, a two year old and a blue on a four year old.

SCHOOL BOARD
The Wakefield Board of Education met July 9. They set the annual budget hearing date for Monday, Aug. 13 at 7:30 p.m. Ronnie Weststrand, chairman of the budget committee, went over the 1984-85 budget with board members at the meeting.
Superintendent Derwin Hartman reported that the elementary energy grant application was not funded and that the tiling in the elementary restrooms has been completed. The final phase of re-roofing the elementary building is to be done later this month.
Mr. Hartman also reported that he had received several good applications for the special education aide that was advertised. He recommended Harold Fischer for the job. He also reported that the school will need a bus driver for an evening route next year and that federal funds are available to hire a part-time aid in the Chapter I program. An aide is needed due to the number of students the school would like to serve.

The board accepted the low bid from Gillette Dairy on milk for the 1984-85 school year.
Randy Lanning appeared as an audience and visited with the board members about the possibility of purchasing a building lot. The board turned the matter over to the building and grounds committee for further study.
Mr. Hartman was named as the administrator of federal and state programs for the 1984-85 school year. Mrs. Diane Davies of Pilger was named as the auditor of school funds for the school year.
LEGION AUXILIARY
The American Legion Auxiliary will meet July 9 at 8 p.m. at the Legion Hall. Plans were made for the concussion stand at the Legion baseball tournament to be held Aug. 10-14. Mrs. Alice Johnson will be in charge. It was also voted to hold the Auxiliary meeting on Aug. 6 due to the tournament.

Mrs. Lois Schlines, president, reported the membership goal for 1985 is 107 and that the Auxiliary will sponsor a pillow cleaning at the Legion Hall on July 20.
Mrs. Carol Ulrich gave a report on the Department Convention held in Kearney the first weekend in July. She announced the convention will be held in South Sioux City next year.
Mrs. Phyllis Swanson, Mrs. Wilma Gustafson and Claudia Adams served the lunch.
RAFFLE WINNERS
Winners in the Wakefield Lions Club raffle were announced preceding the Fourth of July fireworks. Major prize winners were Mrs. Dennis Wilbur, propane gas grill, and Mrs. Gordon Bressler, bicycle.

Second place prizes were awarded to Erwin Mortenson, 50 Wakefield dollars and Heather Boatman, portable AM/FM radio-cassette player.
Profits from the raffle will help fund the young boys summer baseball program and will be used for local sight and hearing conservation projects.
A second raffle being held for a set of golf clubs or $400 in cash is underway with the drawing to be held Aug. 5 at the annual father-son golf tournament.
PLEASANT DELL
Seven members of the Pleasant Dell Club left at 10 a.m. for a tour in Sioux City. They ate dinner at Bishops. The afternoon was spent shopping in the Southern Hills Mall. The next meeting will be Thursday, Sept. 13 with Mrs. Marvin Draghu at 2 p.m.
LUTHERAN CIRCLE
Five members of the Salem

Lutheran Church Circle 5 met July 10 at 8 p.m. in the fellowship room with Mrs. Lowell Newton as hostess. Mrs. James Gustafson gave the devotions and the lesson.
The Tuesday, Sept. 11 meeting will be no-host at 8 p.m.
Christian Church

Pastor Neil Peterson and his wife, Rose Marie, returned recently from a three week trip to the Scandinavian countries. The flight was arranged through the Swedish Institute of Minneapolis. Arriving in Stockholm, they stayed there and toured the city and then with a rented car traveled to the Varmland area to visit Pastor Peterson's relatives. They were able to see the farm of his great grandparents and to see the steel smelting plant where his great grandfather and grandfather worked. Later they went to Smland and saw the two farms where his maternal great-great grandparents lived. They also visited the glass works at Orrefors and then went to Norway and took a train trip across the southern part of Norway and through the mountains and Fjords. Later they went to Denmark visiting the ancient castle of King Frederick and a Viking museum. After traveling through most of Denmark they took a brief trip to Schleswig, Germany.

The last few days were spent up on the coast of the Baltic Sea first in the City of Koge which was a scene of a marathon bicycle trip around the island and included an open market in the city square and plenty of musical entertainment.
The final place of stay was Drogør on the coast and a short distance from Copenhagen from which they were able to commute into the city of Copenhagen and see the sights but yet enjoy the beautiful seacoast town and atmosphere as well.

The Hungry Five, originating around 1946, began under the organization of Pat Atkins, band instructor for Wayne High at the time. Atkins, along with Henry Ley and John Einung, recruited members. According to Orval Brandstetter, the group got their name from a book of music titled, "Hungry Five." Founded to play polka band music, the seven members called themselves the "Hungry Five-Plus." They played for several parades, the annual Old Settlers Days in Winside and other area events. This picture shows the group in 1949, uniformed for a performance. They are (left to right) Ralph Austin, Henry Ley, Father Hupp, John Einung, Pat Atkins, Orval Brandstetter, Geo Goblirsch.
