THE WAYNE HERALD

Attorneys rate judges on judicial characteristics

Attorneys have recently evaluated the performances of Wayne County and Dixon County judges and have provided most of the district or county court judges with high or satisfactory markings.

Nearly 600 members of the Nebraska State Bar Association completed evaluations on one or more judges throughout the state. The attorneys were instructed that they were to evaluate only those judges before whom they had practiced, or with whose opinions they were familiar, or on the basis of other professional experience with the judge.

Included in the report are average ratings for every question for every judge. No attempt has been made to determine an overall rating for each judge, nor have any comparisons been drawn between judges. This is not the purpose of this evaluation, according to contents from the Nebraska State Bar Association news release.

District Judge Merritt Warren of Creighton, who has judicial territory in Wayne, had received "above average" points from the 67 attorneys who returned the Nebraska State Bar Association's evaluation forms.

Each form requested evaluation on 24 characteristics of each judge's judicial performance.

These evaluations were ranked on a scale of one through five, with five considered excellent, four as good, three as satisfactory, two as deficient and one as very poor. Of the 67 attorneys evaluating Warren, approximately 95.5 percent said he should be retained in office, with no ratings below four.

He achieved his highest rating in his knowledge and application of rules of evidence and procedure.

Another area district judge, Richard Garden of Norfolk, also rated high in performance evaluation. Nearly 80 percent of the 53 attorneys said they would like to see Garden remain in the office of district judge.

He received his highest "above average" evaluations by the surveyed attorneys in two areas — patience and courtesy to litigants, witnesses and jurors and also punctuality in attending court proceedings. His weakest evaluations, which were still in the high satisfactory range, were in his ability to perceive factual and legal issues and also his awareness of recent legal developments.

District Judge Francis Kneiff, whose performance was evaluated by 89 attorneys, appeared to have the lowest evaluations of all other district or county judges. His top evaluation of 3.12 (satisfactory) dealt with promptness in making rulings and giving decisions while his low evaluation performance of 1.67 was given in the area of judicial temperament and demeanor.

Seventy-four percent of the 89 evaluating attorneys said it was their opinion Kneiff should not be retained in office. He has been suspended from judicial practice during the months of July, August and September.

IN HIS PLACE during July will be Mark Fuhmann of Fremont, who according to 80 percent of the 53 attorneys who evaluated him, should be retained in office. Fuhmann's evaluations were averaged as either above average or satisfactory by the attorneys.

Approximately 90.5 percent of Wayne County Judge Steven Finn's 53 evaluating attorneys would like to see Finn remain in office. His top evaluation (4.08) came in being an efficient and conscientious worker. Other area county judges (Phil Riley of Creighton and James Duggan of Norfolk) also received significant "yes" answers from area attorneys pertaining to the question of whether they should be retained in office.

Dixon and Cedar Counties Judge David Curtiss also was evaluated, with nearly 74 percent of the attorney evaluators issuing an opinion that he be retained in office.

According to Nebraska State Bar Association President William P. Mueller of Ogallala, the evaluation will be repeated every two years. All 130 Nebraska judges, including Supreme Court, district, county, municipal, juvenile and workmen's compensation courts, and federal judges were evaluated.

AREA DISTRICT judges who will stand for retention in the 1984 election are Warren and Kneiff.

Nebraska court judges are selected through the "merit selection" plan. When a judicial vacancy occurs, individuals who are interested in being appointed to the bench submit their names for consideration.

A judicial nominating commission, made up of lawyers and citizens representatives from both political parties, conducts a public hearing where the candidates speak on their own behalf or others may speak for or against the candidate. The commission then forwards to the Governor the names of all candidates deemed to be qualified and the Governor makes a selection from that list.

The new judge runs for retention of office at the first general election occurring more than three years after the appointment and every six years thereafter. If more than 50 percent of the voters choose not to retain the judge, he or she is removed from office and the vacancy is filled through the merit plan, according to the Nebraska State Bar Association.

B-2 allowed for restaurants

by Chuck Hackenmiller
The Wayne City Council has accepted a recommendation from City Administrator Phil Kloster to allow a restaurant to operate in a B-2 zone.

This means that the The Lumber Company, which has been found several weeks ago in violation of city zoning regulations because it was operating a restaurant in its current B-2 zoning status rather than the required B-3, is now complying with the city's zoning standards.

Presently, B-2 zoning permitted operations of bars, cocktail lounges, nightclubs and liquor stores. As of Thursday, the interpretation will also include restaurants.

With this change in zoning, The Lumber Company also received approval Thursday morning by the Wayne City Council for a liquor license application. The liquor license, issued by The Lumber Company to legally store liquor within a 10'x12' area. In the memo, Kloster said he, the city planning department and the legal department did a lengthy review of the zoning problems with The Lumber Company and came up with several findings.

In those findings, it was indicated that there are numerous restaurant type operations presently operating within the B-2 zoning district.

The findings also revealed that rezoning the property would be nearly impossible, at best, because of the buildings dual use as a warehouse type facility and spot zoning is poor practice.

To rewrite or formally redefine the zoning descriptions for B-2 zoning would involve a republication on the zoning regulations, which would be costly and an impractical solution, according to additional findings submitted by the city department officials.

Mayoral Grove dedicated

Twenty-eight past, present and future Wayne mayors will be honored this Sunday (July 22) as the city of Wayne Centennial Committee and city officials take part in a Mayoral Grove Dedication at 4:30 p.m. in Sunnyview Park.

Phil Kloster will be master of ceremonies and current mayor Wayne Marsh will give the introduction.

Charles Maier, chairman of the historical plants committee, will announce the mayoral roll of honor and will then list the contributors to the Mayoral Grove project. Mayor Marsh, Kent Hall and Freeman Decker will then conduct the ceremonial planting of the highbush cranberry. Closing remarks and recognition of the committee will be given by Sandra Elliott, chairman of the historical and cultural committee of the Wayne Centennial.

Budget session talks begin for city council

by Chuck Hackenmiller

In an early morning work session on Thursday, members of the Wayne City Council hashed out several items on the city's projected fiscal year 1984-85 budget.

City Administrator Phil Kloster told councilmembers the original projected budget carried over $135,000 of increases requested from various city departments.

"That was more than we thought was needed," Kloster said.

He said approximately 50 percent of the $135,000 in additional funding was requested by the city's public works department — mainly for equipment expenditures.

Other city departments include the library board, building and grounds, park's division, street division, the fire department, police department, administrative and city hall, and mayor and council.

The $135,000 or more was collectively eliminated from the current projected budget, he said, "what we felt was the parameter we should work with."

"Our proposed operating budget is up over 2.1 percent. That does not include capital improvements," he told the council.

Capital improvements for the forthcoming fiscal year, he said, will total nearly $965,208. Among the major capital improvement projects which Kloster listed included work at Roosevelt Park on the southeast edge of Wayne for $88,166 (which he said could involve some funding, if approved, from the Department of Economic Development); the Fairgrounds and Windom Street projects, estimated at $250,000; and the Seventh and Main Street projects, expected to total $500,000.

MOST OF the money for these capital improvements, he said, will be received in grants or come from either special assessments or bond proceeds. He said if there is any property tax dollars included in the funding of the capital improvements, the amount would be "minimal."

As of Aug. 1, 1984, Kloster said there will be approximately $150,000 general revenue funds. Over $90,000 of that amount is general revenue sharing funds which were not spent this fiscal year.

The projected property tax askings for fiscal 1984-85 is $369,239. The amount budgeted last year as tax asking was $335,000. However, Kloster said he estimates the property tax the city actually receives for this fiscal year will be $286,300.

So what is projected in the projected budget for tax asking could end up less, he said.

THE TOTAL PROJECTED budget with all the capital improvements added in, he said, would total $8,128 million.

Councilman Larry Johnson then discussed the city's Park and Recreation Department budget proposal. Johnson emphasized that he had no mistrust of the way the park and recreation department is handling the program.

But he would prefer that the city council members be provided with the accounting of funds which the park and recreation department receives from both the city council and other community chest organizations.

"Until they comply with what we request, I will not approve the total budget," Johnson said.

According to Kloster, city administrator, any money that is handled by the city's park and recreation department "needs to be reflected on the budget."

Wayne Mayor Wayne Marsh said he will speak to the park and recreation board concerning the responsibilities of the park and recreation board to provide this accounting information to the city.

Kloster also proposed in the projected budget to delete $1,000 of the annual amount paid to KTCR Radio of Wayne. Norman Melton, city clerk, said the radio station is often used to announce meeting dates and to release immediate public service announcements, such as when the city's water or electricity is turned off during emergency or repair situations.

Money was added into the projected budget, Kloster said, to fill a full-time staff position at city hall.

"We've been very understaffed. A lot of things are not getting done. We really need a receptionist/secretary type of person," Kloster said.

HE SAID the city office staff was reduced approximately four years ago and the personnel hasn't been replaced. The person to be hired, he said, would have to be good in secretarial typing and telephone skills and would work eight hours daily.

"Ninety-five percent of the correspondence that comes out of my office I do myself. We're wasting a lot of time this way," he said.

Special session support

Senator Merle Van Minden of Allen voiced his support last Tuesday to convene a special session of the Legislature. The purpose of the special session would be to consider a constitutional amendment with respect to the valuation and classification of agricultural land, he said.

The Legislature must act to avert the devastating impact on farmers of the recent Nebraska Supreme Court decision concerning agricultural land valuation. Lowering interest rates alone, as the Governor proposes, will not alleviate the farmers' difficulties," said Van Minden.

Although some taxpayers oppose allowing taxation of agricultural land at less than actual value, the Legislature really has no choice if it is to avoid an increase in property taxes for farmers who are already experiencing serious financial difficulties.

"A Constitutional amendment allowing the counties to continue utilizing an income and productivity approach in the valuation of agricultural land is the most viable solution," Van Minden stated.

Councilwoman Carolyn Filter also suggested the city should look into obtaining a dictaphone to aid in the office and clerical work.

Participation from city residents in cutting the peak load at the city's municipal power plant could save the city up to $100,000. Council mentioned during the budget work session. He suggested the city's outdoor warning system be utilized when the city's peak load reaches approximately nine megawatts.

The maximum megawatts which the city's municipal plant can handle is 15, Klostler said, but by asking the residents to voluntarily cut power at the megawatt level will result in the most savings to the city.

Work sessions by the city council members will continue, leading up to the public hearing of the proposed budget where residents can speak in support, opposition, criticism and offer suggestions or observations on the budget proposal.

The public hearing is scheduled to take place on Tuesday, July 31 at 8 p.m. in the Wayne city hall.

by chuck hackenmiller

Dear Dad and Mom in Iowa:
Greetings from Wayne, Nebraska, where the summer temperatures are now soaring into the 90's and the only time it cools off in our non-air conditioned home is during the evening when the windows have to be closed because it's raining.

We had had Monday night. Got caught driving through Wayne at the time with a bicycle in my open trunk. It took a whole hour to shovel the hailstones out of my trunk.
Our garden sure took a beating — all three tomato plants. Do you suppose they carry hail insurance on a plot of ground which is only six square feet.

It was so hot last weekend a person could fry an egg on the sidewalk. Matter of fact, I think a bunch of people tried it.

You wouldn't believe what happened during that weekend. Wayne has this celebration called a "Chicken Show" and they honor the chicken for an evening and a full day. Some singers appeared in a talent contest Friday night and the banjo player wore funny-looking sunglasses and had a rubber chicken tied to the neck of his musical instrument. Then two people dressed as "Chickies" did a song and dance routine and in the middle of the number, the microphone died and one of the costumed players nearly broke her back tripping over a wire.

TWO WAYNE-MEN by last names of George and Blendenman placed eggs on chairs and asked "Will the real egg please stand up?"

You should have seen what happened on Saturday. They had this "rooster crowing contest" early in the morning and the rooster owners were making more noise than the roosters — just trying to get the darn birds to make a sound. One bird made a bonified cluck but the owner protested because it certainly sounded like a crow to him.

They cackled about this for hours.
Later in the morning, there was an "egg drop contest" and lots of contestants were plastered with broken eggs as they tried fielding the objects from a height of up to 45 feet. One guy, the eventual winner of the contest, tried three times to break a world's record in the "egg dropping" at 45 feet, but failed each effort.

I guess the "yoke" was on him.
And get this mom. They were serving omelets in the middle of the afternoon instead of breakfast. And they were free. Isn't that odd?

Oh, and there was a big parade, with little children dressed up as chickens and plenty of floats. Instead of throwing out candy, I thought the entries would throw out eggs. But they never did.

In the afternoon, the hard-boiled egg eating contest took place.
These people stuff egg after egg in their mouths. Kind of like those contests when we were kids and stuffed pretzel after pretzel in our mouth and the first to pop a whistle would win. Somehow, I can't picture seeing someone whistling with a mouthful of hard-boiled eggs.

THE BIG event of the day was the National Cluck off Contest. These people get on stage and do things chickens do — like produce an egg or drop some "do-do" and scratch the surface, all while crowing or clucking.

The three-time champion is awful good. If you ask me, I think they should have checked him for feathers. He'd get on a box and would echo the loudest crow.

Later in the evening, they had this chicken chariot racing event. That didn't seem to work to well because chickens have a mind of their own and, well, just weren't meant to pull chariots.

I guess those are some of the highlights I can remember about the Chicken Show. You have to see it to believe it. But it must be pretty popular because it was on national television and was publicized by major magazines and newspapers.

Bel you never thought chickens were so popular. Next thing you know the feathery fowl will become the Nebraska state bird. Guess they're just waiting for someone to hatch the idea.

And you just thought chickens were only good for laying eggs, trying and stewing. Shame on you mom!

Yessiree — it was really an experience, my first Chicken Show.

Other than that, there's nothing too much more to say except that we've got a big centennial celebration coming up over Labor Day weekend.

Got to go now. I'm spending the night in the chicken house to learn more about the cackles and crows and perhaps pick up a few pointers on the chicken's routines.

Today a managing editor. Tomorrow, perhaps the next national cluck-off champion. Who knows?

Rating the judges

Recently, a news release from the Nebraska State Bar Association revealed what can be described as an enlightening subject concerning how lawyers rate the judges on performance of duties and other responsibilities of judges while on the judicial bench.

Those who are attorneys (or those who have employment with the field of the judicial process) normally see judges on a continual basis. The average law-abiding citizen, of which we hope number many, cannot gather a true picture on the scope of a judge's performance during court action.

If a survey of this type were given to non-attorneys, the information would likely be guesswork and largely inaccurate since these experiences with judges are minimal.

Attorneys, however, should know the judicial system, its personalities and how it works. Because of this knowledge, the ratings established in this survey stand on solid ground.

The purpose of this survey, according to the Nebraska bar association, is to provide each judge (within the attorney's area) with a continuing assessment of his or her strengths and weaknesses. This could improve the overall judiciary quality, they said.

Another reason is to provide information to the public regarding those judges who are standing for retention in the November, 1984 election.

That is why this survey, which will be conducted by the attorneys every two years, is important to our readers. When the voter sees the judge retention question on the election ballot — insight on the candidate will already have been provided.

Ninth District Judge Merritt Warren of Creighton, whose territory includes Wayne County, scored the highest ratings of any district judge in the state in the survey. The 67 attorneys who practiced before Warren averaged ratings of good performance (above average) in each of the 22 judge characteristics composed in the survey. Almost 96 percent of the attorneys said Warren should be retained in office.

Warren is one district judge who will stand for retention in November. Judge Francis Kneiff (a district judge whose territory includes Dixon County), is another.

His rating from the 22 characteristics ranged from deficient (performance is below average) to very poor.

The Nebraska Press Association, who was contacted by The Wayne Herald for an opinion on the survey, said this survey should not be interpreted as a public opinion poll. It is a survey made up by responses from 600 lawyers to a Bar Association questionnaire.

Conducting this type of survey is a positive approach toward keeping in touch with the actions of judges and how the judicial process is being fulfilled.

Some might reflect on the survey as strong criticism. Hopefully others will review the points mentioned by the attorneys with an open mind and strive to eliminate the weaknesses.

Perhaps another idea would be to have attorneys send out surveys to the public and have these attorneys rated by those with whom they serve. The attorneys could be rated on several similar characteristics as judges — such as knowledge and application of substantive law, quality and clarity of written opinions and patience and courtesy to lawyers to clients.

This would be one more step in restoring the confidence of doubters in this nation's legal system.

Advantages discussed

New agriculture bill will affect future

There's always something to be said for looking to the past when planning for the future. But a look is one thing and spending $10.5 million is another.

The Agriculture Productivity Act, a bill passed by the U.S. House of Representatives, would require USDA to initiate research on organic farming. It provides $10.5 million over the next five years to establish 12 on-farm projects, which would provide researchers with information on the advantages of organic farming.

Certainly there are some advantages to organic farming, including lower input costs and often, higher selling prices for the commodities produced. There are also disadvantages, such as the difficulty of farming organically on a large scale.

The goal of the bill is a worthy one: to increase farm productivity, encourage sound conservation practices and develop a "sustainable agriculture" less dependent on expensive inputs.

BUT THE BILL IS unlikely to achieve its worthy objective by evaluating the current state of the art. Much good research on organic farming practices already exists, quite a bit of it done in our state by University of Nebraska scientists.

A better approach to improved productivity, conservation and a long-term agriculture would be to invest that money in more Land Grant University research into genetic manipulation techniques for agricultural crops, in order to reduce reliance on chemicals.

Promising research has been started in this area also, but additional funding is needed. For example, scientists in many locations are working on different approaches to developing a nitrogen-fixing bacteria or other method that would allow corn and wheat to fix nitrogen from the soil, as legumes are capable of doing.

ACCORDING TO Bruce Hawley of the American Farm Bureau, more fertilizer is applied to commercial corn in the U.S. than to any other single commodity. If nitrogen fixation could be genetically incorporated into corn plants, tremendous savings in production costs are possible — along with tremendous reductions in potential for surface and groundwater contamination.

Gene splicing holds other possibilities, such as transmitting insect-resistance characteristics of some South American vegetation to corn plants, Hawley said.

Currently, ag chemicals are the most rapidly increasing expense on the input side of agricultural production, with farmers now spending between $9 billion and $10 billion annually for fertilizer and lime and about $3.5 billion for pesticides.

Alternative technologies that would reduce the dependence on these chemicals — or even replace the need for them entirely in some cases — would have great benefits to the farmer, the consumer and the environment. Certainly the benefits to the farmer would greatly outweigh more research on current day organic methods.

The idea behind the Agriculture Productivity Act is a good one, but it needs to look to the future in a big way, with only a nod to the past.

Populist party expresses goals for November election

To the editor:
As concerned citizens of this great nation, we would like to share our feelings with you. We were never involved in politics until recently when we became aware of the problems our country is facing today. They are very, very serious. Let's not sit back and do nothing about it.

We operate a business in a small town. People come in and say "things can't go on the way they are. Something has to be done." We agree with them wholeheartedly. With American agriculture in its sad state, the high taxes and interest rates, our people are in dire need of help.

There still is hope, people, and there is something you can do. The Populist Party could be the answer if you give it the chance.

We need a change in government from our two-party system. In our opinion, your vote for the Populist Party in this November election could save America from disaster. Things are happening so fast and we need to wake up now! If we don't fight this battle now our great nation is going to fall and we will lose the precious freedom we have today. It is risk all of you who are disillusioned by the two major parties to join us in our efforts.

The Populist Party is not new. Our founding fathers like Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson were Populist. Their ideas carried forward thru the years until 1896 when the Populist Party held their last national convention.

Now, in 1984, the Populist Party is commencing with new ideas for the future. Our national conference and rally will be held Aug. 17-19, in Nashville, Tennessee, the home of Andrew Jackson. We have two candidates for President. They are Bob Richards of Texas and Gerald Willis of Alabama.

The purpose of the Populist Party is to give the power to the people, where it belongs. We seek to maintain freedom and restore the constitution.

The goals of the Populist Party are: Repeal the income tax; reassert sovereignty; repudiate the national debt; respect racial and cultural diversity; repulse immigration; reconsider the welfare program; renew constitutional government by restricting judicial review; reaffirm the right to bear arms; reserve the rights of individuals to seek medical help free of government interference; reassert American creativity; rejuvenate democracy by allowing more participation in government by the people; re-establish the American first tradition of armed neutrality; redistrict foreign pressure groups; reduce foreign aid; revitalize America's national defense; and reward friends.

drug awareness

Marijuana Use and Driving

Use of marijuana is having an effect on traffic safety, creating a potential for serious consequences on the highway. For example, a California study indicated that 25 percent of those arrested for unsafe driving were found to be under the influence of marijuana.

Studies reported by the American Council for Drug Education have found that marijuana users experience a decreased awareness of themselves and of the environment around them for three to five hours after using the drug.

Other side effects of marijuana can include a distorted peripheral vision, impaired immediate memory, lack of coordination and sleepiness — all of which can create driving hazards.

Marijuana use among the nation's young, coupled with the relative lack of driving experience of these drivers, indicates a potential for increased accidents and fatalities on U.S. highways and city streets.

The above information is part of an educational series of articles provided by the Drug Awareness Council of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

Vacation tips for parents

Summer is the time for traveling. Some families with small children often avoid vacations because of the hassles traveling with children can create.

A little pre-planning can help make traveling more fun. Try some of the following tips the next time you family travels.

When there's time on their hands, young children often think of their stomachs. Soon after leaving home you may be bombarded with cries of "I'm thirsty" or "I'm hungry."

To soothe dry throats take a thermos of ice cold water. If spilled, it isn't sticky and it won't stain the upholstery or clothes. Since it's less appealing than sweetened drinks, it will probably be requested less often. That means fewer restroom stops too.

INSTEAD OF a thermos, fill a plastic juice type container half full of water and freeze. Fill with water and it will stay cold most of the day as the ice slowly melts.

Try reusing the plastic lemon or lime juice containers for drinks. Children can squirt liquid into their mouths with a minimum of dripping and the caps will prevent leaking.

Try faming growing stomachs with some of the following snacks. Apples or pears can be cored to save on waste and mess. You can serve a few wedges at a time. Try making fruit leather to take along.

Finger gelatin is very popular and can be unrefrigerated for up to four hours. These treats may make fingers a little sticky so be sure to have disposable towelettes or a damp washcloth handy.

SOME SNACKS may be a little messier but if you don't mind a few crumbs you can pack small boxes of dry cereal. Package popcorn in small individual bags to nibble. A box of crackers and a tube or bottle of squirt cheese could be a special treat.

You won't want the children eating or drinking during the whole trip so pack some fun things to do. Fill a metal cake pan that has a sliding cover with pencils, paper, crayons, puzzles and dot to dot games.

The cake-pan-with-cover-in-place-can-double-as-a-lap-desk. Card games and small toys can help pass the time. Bring out one item at a time to help keep your child's attention.

PACK A BALL and jump rope for rest stops. Get out and play for a few minutes with your children. Everyone will benefit from stretching cramped muscles and a little fresh air. Children will be less restless if they get a chance to run and play during long car trips.

For the parents, a travelers survival kit should be packed. Plastic bags for garbage disposal, motion sickness, dirty laundry, wet items or stinking snacks are very handy.

Sugar free gum or a small package of hard candies can soothe a child's lymyachic and quiet a child when food service at a restaurant is slow.

Try some of these travel tips and enjoy your vacation this summer.

Pressure canner testing date set

The canning season is just beginning to get underway and home canners will soon be busy preserving garden produce.

"Canning foods is hard work and homemakers want to be sure they have done their job correctly," says Mary Temme, Wayne County extension agent-home economics.

Temme said the Cooperative Extension Service is once again helping home canners by testing the gauges on their pressure canners.

An inaccurate gauge, said Temme, can result in food spoilage and a waste of time and money.

TESTING A pressure canner gauge is a fairly simple procedure reports Temme, adding that the accuracy of the gauge is compared to a calibrated test gauge.

Pressure canners with dial type or pop up gauges can be tested, while rocking gauges and weighted gauges cannot be tested.

HOME CANNERS can bring their pressure canner lids to a gauge testing clinic on Thursday, July 26 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Wayne Centennial Store, 110 Main St.

Gauges will be tested while homemakers wait.

Information on preserving foods also will be available at the testing clinic. Homemakers can learn more about canning, freezing and drying foods from a variety of extension publications.

Madison, Laurel are latest Midget victims

The Wayne Midget baseball team picked up back to back wins during their last two games played last Thursday and Friday in Wayne. Victories over Madison and Laurel moved the Midget record to 18-1 going into a scheduled game with Fremont on Sunday, July 22.

Relief pitcher Jeff Hausmann hurled 12 strike outs on the way to a leading the Wayne Midgets to a 12-2 win over Madison in a make-up game played Thursday night, July 19 in Wayne.

Hausmann, who came in to relieve starting pitcher Don Larsen in the first inning after he gave up two runs and five walks, fanned 12 of the 18 batters he faced in the remainder of the six inning contest. He gave up one hit in the top of the fifth inning and walked just one Madison batter.

Both Madison runs came as the results of walks in the top of the first inning. They were able to do little else throughout the game, as their batters were set down one-two-three in both the fourth and six innings. Wayne's Midgets again used strong scoring in the second inning, opening up a 7-2 lead. Don Larsen started things off with a single, followed by a walk for Jeff Hausmann and a base hit by Tim Fleming to bring Larsen home.

Brent Pick was next at the plate, advancing on a walk, as did Todd Dorcay. Ted Lueders went to first on a fielder's choice and Dan Gross also received a walk. Don Larsen finished out the inning with a two RBI triple to drive in Lueders and Gross.

Wayne added two more runs in the third inning when Pick and Dorcay each walked. Pick rounded the bases on passed balls and scored along with Dorcay on a single by Ted Lueders.

A run in the fifth inning by Jeff Hausmann moved the score to 10-2. Don Larsen and Casey Nichols each singled in the bottom of the sixth inning to get on base and scored runs on passed balls to end the game.

A total of 17 Midgets saw action in the game in which Wayne score 12 runs on eight hits. Don Larsen led the action with a triple and single in three at bats.

THE MIDGETS had a tougher time with Laurel on Friday night at Overin Field, as they needed the full six inning to take a 4-2 win.

Wayne opened the scoring in the third inning with three runs. Tim Fleming capitalized on a Laurel error to go to first base and later scored on a RBI single by Ted Lueders with two out. Dan Gross then knocked out a single to put two men on base, and Scott

Baker's double scored both runners for the 3-0 lead.

Laurel closed the gap in the top of the fifth inning with two runs, strling together two walks and two singles for the scores.

The final run for Wayne came in the bottom of the inning when Tim Fleming smacked out a triple to get into scoring position. Wayne totaled six hits on the evening, coming from Ted Lueders, who was two-for-three with a pair of singles and Fleming with a triple. Scott Baker added a double while Dan Gross and Casey Nichols each had single base hits.

Pitcher Ted Lueders threw five strike outs on the night and gave up three hits.

Wayne Jr's down Laurel in 10-4 win

Wayne's Junior Legion baseball team added another win to their record with a 10-4 victory over a visiting Laurel team on Friday night at Overin Field.

The Junior's trailed 2-1 after the initial inning before scoring four runs in the third to take a 5-2 lead which they held on to for the remainder of the game.

Kevin Maly led off in the third with a double, followed up by a sacrifice by Todd Dorcay to bring in the run. The Laurel pitcher then walked the next three Wayne batters, Randy Gamble, Chris Wieseler and Jeff Sherer, all who scored later in the inning.

Steve Overin knocked out a two run homer with Todd Dorcay on base to add two Wayne runs in the fourth inning.

A single run in the fifth by Jeff Sherer and two more in the sixth by Sherer and Wieseler finished out the Wayne scoring.

Wayne's five hits came from Overin with a homer in three at bats, a triple by Dorcay, a double by Maly, and singles by Jeff Jorgensen and John McCright.

Overin also pitched in the win, totaling 13 strike outs and giving up three walks and seven hits.

A make-up game scheduled with Madison on Thursday, July 19 was rained out. The next action for the Juniors was a contest with Fremont on Sunday afternoon, July 22.

Tilden win boosts Town Team record

Powerful hitting and an errorless performance on the field were both key factors in the Wayne Town Team's 12-2 win over Tilden on Wednesday night at Overin Field in Wayne.

Wayne's bats rapped out 15 hits on the way to scoring 12 runs, including a pair of doubles and a base hit by Jerry Goeden and two doubles for Jeff Dion to drive in four runs.

Wayne jumped to an early 7-0 lead in the second inning, starting off with a walk by Bill Schwartz, who later scored the first run of the game on an RBI single by Joel Ankeny.

Mark Ganseborn advanced to first on a Tilden error, followed by a double by Jerry Goeden and a single by Tim Pfeiffer, both driving in runs. Jeff Dion then cracked out a double to bring home two more runs and scored himself on a single by Bill Schwartz to close out the inning's scoring.

Tilden earned their two runs in the top of the third inning on a walk, single and double with one out.

Neither team scored again until the sixth inning when Wayne's Neil Blohm and Jeff Dion knocked out base hits to put two men on with two outs. Mike Meyer and Joel Ankeny then came up with RBI singles to score Blohm and Dion to make the score 9-2.

Wayne was able to end the game on the 10-run rule in the seventh inning when they scored three more runs. Jerry Goeden crossed the bag on a single by Tim Pfeiffer after hitting a double. Neil Blohm used a Tilden error to advance to first before Pfeiffer scored on a double by Jeff Dion and Blohm added the final run on a RBI single by Mike Meyer.

Jerry Goeden went the distance for the win, collecting four strike outs and allowing one walk while giving up six hits.

The Wayne Town Team held a record of 13-4 going into a pair of weekend games, including a make-up game with Battle Creek on Saturday night in Wayne and their final game of the regular season with Laurel on the road Sunday evening.

18-under girls fall in State tourney

Wayne's 18-under Girls softball team suffered a pair of first round losses in their bid at the Nebraska Class A State 18-under Softball Tournament held in Grand Island July 20-22.

The local team earned a berth in the state playoffs after winning the District title in a tournament played July 8-15 in Emerson.

Wayne faced off against the Grand Island team of Sorenson Body Shop in their opening game, and fell in a 6-3 seventh inning decision.

Two of Wayne's three runs came in the bottom of the first inning. Lisa Jacobsen reached base on a walk, followed by Jody Allen who went to first on an error. Kathy Mohfeld grounded out and Sarah Lesbock struck out before Roni Johnson singled to bring in Jacobsen and Allen.

The third inning proved to be the key in the loss as Sorenson's tallied five runs on a strong hitting performance and a trio of Wayne errors.

The third Wayne run came in the fourth inning when Roni Johnson walked to first base and came home on a single by Lori Jacobsen.

Wayne catcher Lori Jacobsen was injured during the top of the fifth inning when she collided with first baseman Lisa Jacobsen going after a pop fly down the first base line. She received a cut on her head and left the game, while her sister Lisa Jacobsen, who caught the ball, was unhurt and continued to play.

Grand Island's final run came later in the inning following the injury to Jacobsen.

Wayne came up with three hits in the game, all singles by Johnson, Lori Jacobsen and Amy Jordan.

Pitcher Roni Johnson allowed two walks and struck down eight opposing batters while giving up three hits.

DROPPING INTO the loser's bracket of the 30-team tournament, Wayne played the Lincoln KFRX Blazers in their second game of the day, played Friday evening. Wayne was unable to hold off the strong hitting attack of the Lincoln team, and fell in the seventh inning game 14-3.

Lincoln came up with a single run in each of the first three innings to take a 3-0 lead before Wayne tied the game with three runs in the bottom of the third.

All three runs came in the third inning, starting off with a single by Karen Longe and a walk for Laura Keating. Lisa Jacobsen loaded the bases when she advanced on a Lincoln error. Jody Allen followed with a fly out and Kathy Mohfeld hit into a fielder's choice which resulted in Laura Keating being thrown out at third base.

Again, bases were loaded and Roni Johnson rapped out a single which scored Longe and Jacobsen. Sarah Lesbock then was walked to first base and scored the final run later in the inning.

Lincoln went on to score in every inning, adding three runs in the fourth, two in each of the fifth and sixth and four runs in the seventh inning.

Roni Johnson again went the distance on the mound, notching six strike outs in the game.

Wayne totaled three hits, coming from Longe, Johnson and Jody Allen.

Lori Jacobsen, who had received stitches to a head cut suffered earlier, came to bat in the bottom of the seventh, but did not play at her usual catcher position.

The Wayne team ended their 1984 season with a 19-5 record.

Other area teams which participated included Wakefield, who also lost in their opening round game to a team from Marlette, Kari, 6-4. They faced Central City in the day's second game and were defeated by a 13-11 margin to end their tournament play.

Wisner received a first round bye in the bracketing and lost a 5-4 decision to Pierce in their first action of the day.

Fender also lost their first round contest but scored a win over Atkinson in their second game of the day to stay alive in the tournament, as did Wisner.

Wayne Merchants district runner-up

The Wayne Merchants women's slow pitch softball team fought their way through six back-to-back games on Sunday, July 15 enroute to finishing in the runner-up spot of the District slow pitch softball tournament in Norfolk.

The second place finish assured the Wayne team a berth in the Nebraska Class A State Women's ASA Slow Pitch Softball Tournament August 3-5 in Grand Island.

Wayne fell to Jack Pinney II of South Sioux City in the championship game of the District tourney by a 6-5 score. It was the sixth straight game of the day for the team, who fought their way back through the loser's bracket to finish in second place.

Pinney II led in the game 4-0 going into the bottom of the fifth before Wayne's Joan Miller reached base on a single and scored on a sacrifice by Donna Kelly.

Wayne added three runs to tie the score in the top of the sixth inning when Jolene Bennett smacked a home run with Linda Bode on base to score two runs and Kelly Murphy reached base on a double, crossing the bag on a single by Lynn Surber.

The seventh inning proved to be the deciding factor as Pinney II came to the plate and scored two runs on a single and home run with two out.

Wayne made a come-from-behind attempt in the bottom of the inning when Mary Schroeder blasted a home run with two out and no one on.

The Merchants earned their way into the championship game coming through the loser's bracket, following a forfeit of their opening game to Medallion Construction of Norfolk on Saturday.

Wayne then received a forfeit from Weible's Bar of Winside in second round play before beginning play against Cartunes of Norfolk, a game which they went on to win 17-0 in five innings.

Top hitting for Wayne was Donna Kelly with a home run and two singles in four trips to the plate. Mary Schroeder contributed with a double and single in three at bats.

Play began on Sunday against

Bode Construction, as Wayne downed them 9-2 in seven innings. Wayne notched 11 hits on the way to the win, and scored eight of their nine runs in the bottom of the first inning.

Kings Lanes of Norfolk was the second opponent of the day, and also fell victim to Wayne by a 9-0 margin in a full seven inning game. Wayne scored their runs on eight hits, including a home run by Mary Schroeder and triples by Shelly Dart and Linda Bode.

Hitting continued to be a strong point in a 10-3 victory over Oasis of Norfolk. Linda Bode ripped out two home runs in the game in three trips to the plate, while Mary Schroeder and Kelly Murphy came up with triples in the win.

Wayne's biggest win of the tourney came in the game against Hair Studio of Norfolk, as they tallied 17 hits on their way to a 22-0 margin. Mary Schroeder, along with Kelly Murphy, each rapped home runs in the game that saw Wayne score seven runs in the second and third innings and eight in the top of the fourth.

Corner Retreat of Blair suffered a 11-1 loss to Wayne in their fifth game of the day. It was a field day for the Wayne's hitting department as they notched four home runs among the game's 12 hits. Donna Kelly, Linda Bode, Jolene Bennett and Kelly Murphy each blasted out a home run throughout the game.

In semi-final play, Wayne downed their sixth opponent of the day, Jack Pinney I of South Sioux City, 13-1 in five innings. Mary Schroeder lifted her third home run of the day in the win, while Jolene Bennett hit a double for Wayne's only extra-base hit.

The Wayne Merchant team will take a 15-9 record into the State Class A Tournament.

Coaches for the team are Bob Keating and Jim Joy.

Team sponsors include Howard Boeckenhör Construction, Archway, First National Bank, State National Bank, Pizza Hut, Widner Feed and Seed, Wood Plumbing and Heating, Alice's Country Tavern and Fredrickson Oil Co.

Taking the plunge

SUMMERTIME IS the time for swimming lessons, and students at the Wayne Municipal Swimming Pool get the opportunity to "go off the big board" as a part of those lessons. At right, Kolette Frevert helps one of the young swimmers get the feel of the board by lifting him off into the waiting hands of another assistant below. Then, when they feel they are ready, the time comes for the student to take the plunge on their own, left.

HEALTH TIPS From Your Family Physician

Just who is your doctor. In Wayne, the physicians are board certified family practitioners. This indicates our training has been broad to provide competent medical care and judgement regarding the spectrum of health needs of the whole family. Our training has been accomplished in a series of steps. After high school we attended college, maturing and obtaining a general education to help us understand all types of people. After college, 3-4 years of medical school taught us the background science and psychiatric skills to apply as physicians. During medical school we decided to become family doctors and subsequently received internship and now a full three years of residency training where we refined our knowledge and medical skills to be able to provide complete, up-to-date medical care to the family. Besides learning to care for most problems, our training has also allowed us to know when the care of a specialist might best serve our patients needs. After medical school other physicians might go into other areas of medical practice. These include:

- Surgeons: specialized training in operative procedures and care of the patient until recovered. Dr. Hal Dalheim from Norfolk serves the Wayne physician.
- Obstetricians/Gynecologists: deliveries and specialized care of female problems.
- General Internists: care of the adult patient. Has no training in pediatrics, obstetrics or surgery as the family practitioner has.
- Orthopedics: specialized care of fractures and bone problems. Dr. Ed Simadynes serves the Wayne hospital.
- Urology: urinary system and prostate. Dr. Cecil Bromfield serves the Wayne hospital.
- Other specialties include cardiology (heart), pulmonology (lung), neurology (nerve), dermatology (skin), pediatrics (children), ENT (ear, nose, throat), asthma and allergy, gastroenterology (digestive system), psychiatry (mental health). These and other specialties are available in the surrounding area if needed.

Your family practitioner has trained with and had continuing education with the specialties noted above. This broad base has allowed most health care needs to be provided effectively at a reduced cost on a local basis.

More Profit-Minded Growers Choose Westeel Storage Bins

Westeel is one of the world's largest manufacturers of grain storage bins. For a lot of good reasons. We provide our Westeel dealers with products, services and pricing that combine to assure more sales, more profits. Here are just a few benefits of Westeel bins. 4-inch "Wide-Corr" corrugation, 44-inch body sheet, fewer lifts and fasteners for quicker set up, long-lasting PVC sealing washers throughout. Grade No. 3 steel hardware is packaged in metal pails for easier storage and handling. Westeel bolt-on bottom angle permits future extension of bins. Top angle provides continuous eave seal and adds strength - eave spacers available for drying bins.

Multiple benefits of reservoirs

Reservoirs may vary greatly in size and cost. They range from the large projects of the federal government such as the Missouri mainstream dams down to small locally built projects. Regardless of the size, reservoirs are multipurpose, and produce several benefits that are not readily apparent. Benefits include:

1. Control of flood water which could otherwise take lives and cause millions of dollars worth of damage.
2. Provide outdoor, water based recreation facilities for fishing, boating, and swimming.
3. Create excellent wildlife habitat which is often open to hunting and trapping.
4. Storage of irrigation water.
5. Stabilize stream flows below the dam, which benefits fish, wildlife, irrigators, and livestock.
6. Improves water quality of streams below the dam by trapping sediments.
7. Groundwater recharge for domestics and irrigation use.
8. Provide municipal water supplies.

Lower Elkhorn NRD owns three multipurpose reservoirs, two of which the NRD sponsored (Maskenthine Lake and Willow Creek Reservoir) and a third, the Pilger Recreation Area, was constructed prior to the formation of NRD's.

Willow Creek Reservoir and the recreation facilities will be opened to the public at an August 12th dedication ceremony.

WILLOW CREEK RESERVOIR - Construction of this $5.2 million project was completed in 1983. With 700 surface acres of water, this is the largest reservoir constructed in Nebraska without federal funds. The reservoir took less than a year to fill and from April 1 - July 1, it stored a total of 22,900 acre feet of flood water (one acre foot is enough water to cover one acre to a depth of one foot). That is more than three times the amount of water contained in the lake at normal pool elevation. The storage of this flood water came at a time when the North Fork and Elkhorn Rivers downstream were already swollen.

The 1600 acre Willow Creek area was opened to foot traffic in 1983, and offers rustic open area that has been planted to trees and native prairie grasses.

The Willow Creek Reservoir will be opened to the public at a 3 p.m. Aug. 12th dedication ceremony and the public is invited to attend. The area will be operated by Nebraska Game & Parks Commission as a State Recreation Area, and as such will require park entry stickers on vehicles.

Recreation facilities include boat ramps, camper pads, restrooms, picnic shelter, swimming beach, water pumps, road and parking lots. Power boating will be permitted, except in 5 mph areas.

Pilger Recreation Area offers family picnicking and a small lake for boating.

PILGER RECREATION AREA - Constructed in 1968, this dam 2 1/2 miles northeast of Pilger provides flood protection for the town. The 160 acre area features a 50 surface acre lake, which is open to fishing and boating. Picnic and playground facilities are provided as well as a primitive camping area. The area is also open to hunting in season.

MASKENTHINE LAKE - Located 1 1/2 miles north of Stanton, the dam controls floodwaters of Maskenthine Creek which goes through town. This project constructed in 1975-76, was the first funded by the Nebraska Resources Development Fund. The 400 acre area is presently classified as a Wildlife Management Area and is open to hunting. The 100 surface acre lake includes a swimming beach and a boat ramp. Good fishing is available for bluegill, bass, catfish, northern and walleye. Primitive camping is permitted.

The flood control benefits of the dam were readily apparent this spring. The dam has stored surplus water all spring, but after two heavy rains, on June 21 the lake was storing about 310 acre feet of flood water which would have gone through Stanton in a matter of hours causing extensive damage to bridges and low lying structures.

Natural Resources District Elections

Petitions are now available for anyone wishing to run for election as a Director of the Lower Elkhorn NRD or other NRD's. One Director will be elected for each of nine subdistricts. The term of office is four years, beginning Jan. 3, 1985.

Candidates must be registered voters of the subdistrict they are nominated in, and must have their petition signed by 25 registered voters who are also residents of that subdistrict. Director nominating petitions may be obtained from the Norfolk Office of Lower Elkhorn NRD and County Clerks or Election Commissioners.

The completed petitions must be received at the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission, P.O. Box 94876, 4th Floor State Office Building, 301 Centennial Mall South, Lincoln, NE 68509, on or before 5 p.m., Aug. 10, 1984, in order for the name to appear on the ballot.

For more information or to obtain a petition, contact Lower Elkhorn NRD at 371-7313.
