Contract signing dispute heats up

by Chuck Hackenmiller
The July temporary pull out of several senior citizens organizations supported by Goldenrod Hills Community Action Council and partially funded by the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging will not affect the Wayne Senior Citizen Center services.

A proposed meal contract is presently being disputed by several senior citizen organizations in northeast Nebraska in which Goldenrod Hills Community Action Council is the supporting agency. The senior citizen centers disputing the contract, which was not a requirement in previous years, are Crofton, Decatur, Hartington, Homer, Lyons, South Sioux City and Walthill.

Wayne's Senior Citizen Center has no affiliation with Goldenrod Hills. The funding for Wayne's meals program, prepared at Providence Medical Center, is received directly from the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging.

The difference of what is donated by the participants in the meal program and what the senior center's cost is for providing the meal is reimbursed by NENAAA, according to Gerald Janssen, director of the Wayne Senior Citizen Center. Janssen said the Wayne Senior Center has already signed the NENAAA contract. "It [the contract] states all we are required to do in order to receive funding," she said.

THE ONLY DIFFERENCE of past years is that it is now being done in black and white on all the requirements, she added. Dale Kindred, executive director of the NENAAA said in a recent news release that the written contract outlines the terms and conditions for receiving funds for the senior meals program.

Reasons for distributing the contracts, he said, were to better serve the elderly who receive meals; reduce excessive meal costs and promote uniformity and fairness in the distribution of funds; provide quality meals to the senior citizens; give incentive for good management; and clearly state for both parties their responsibilities and obligations to each other, state and federal governmental agencies and to the senior citizens they serve.

—THE AVERAGE RATE of reimbursement by NENAAA of reimbursement to the various centers was $1.60 per meal and the contract proposes a maximum reimbursement ceiling of $1.75 per meal, Kindred noted.

Kindred said 1984 reports submitted in fiscal 1984 by Goldenrod Hills indicated that the per meal reimbursement rate exceeded the average by 30 percent.

Lauren Albus, Goldenrod Hills board of directors chairman, said that Goldenrod Hills does exceed the average rate—but in only one of four categories.

"The use of Green Thumb and Title V (government-paid elderly) workers, donations of services and building space at no charge and money received from meal participants is all counted in the meal cost totals," Albus said.

"In the categories of total meal cost per meal and raw food cost per meal, Goldenrod Hills is at or below the averages established by NENAAA," he added.

Albus said Goldenrod Hills centers will continue, as in the past, following all federal and state rules and regulations pertaining to USDA requirements for vitamins and minerals, as well as encouraging more seniors to attend the centers.

"These regulations are already clearly defined and Goldenrod Hills has never received a complaint or reprimand concerning the quality of the well-balanced meals served," Albus said.

KINDRED SAID although the contract was received by the various centers on June 29, there was no requirement that the contract had to be signed by July 1.

"As a matter of fact, the contracts executed by senior citizen centers other than Goldenrod Hills, were being sent back to the NENAAA as late as July 23, 1984," Kindred said.

Albus, however, said the cover letter accompanying the nutrition contracts contained a paragraph stating "please fill out the date on page 1 of the document and return a signed original to me 'immediately' as we cannot release money to the nutrition programs without a signed contract."

He said the contract mentions that the agreement terms would commence from July 1, 1984 to June 30, 1985.

This gave Goldenrod Hills less than two days to look over the two 13-page documents and make sure all is in order, he said.

"Area senior citizens had no input whatsoever into the formation and writing of the meal contract. No suggestions were requested for this year, only those ideas that could be used in preparing the 1986 contracts. These types of agreements should not be easily and hastily entered into by any responsible party," Albus said.

A conversation break

WHILE PREPARING the fairgrounds for the Wayne County Fair, which starts today (Thursday) and goes until Sunday, two workers seek relief from the heat inside a fairground building.

Special election in Hoskins

Wayne County Clerk Orgritella Morris said absentee ballots are available at the courthouse for the Aug. 15 special election in Hoskins School District 9.

Morris said residents of the district who need to vote by absentee ballot can do so until 4 p.m. on Aug. 14.

The election will decide whether or not District 9 will exceed the 7 percent lid imposed by the political subdivision budget limit act.

It is proposed that receipts from local and state sources (combined receipts budget base) be increased by $31,411.71 or 44 percent above the allowable 7 percent increase.

This action could result in a potential property tax increase of $56,445.62 or 123.72 percent above the current 1983-84 property tax portion of the budget.

Polls on Aug. 15 will be open from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. at Hoskins Public School.

WSC graduates awarded degrees

Volunteers needed for Wayne social service program

Have you ever felt you wanted to work in an office, but just did not have time to work eight hours five days a week?

Have you ever applied for a job, but were turned down for lack of experience? Or are you an individual who would like to help simply to be of service to someone else?

A new program in Wayne County, the Volunteer Services Program out of the Wayne Office of the Nebraska Department of Social Services, can play a part in answering these needs. The aim of the program is to extend, supplement and enhance the delivery of services to people who are contacted by the Social Service Office.

"Presently, we need volunteers for clerical work, to transport people who don't have a vehicle, assist in the special food distribution, and Homemakers Services," said Thelma Moeller, who is the supervisor and volunteer coordinator for the local Social Service Office.

THE VOLUNTEER Services Program, which was initiated by the Social Services Central Office in Lincoln, can help respond to these unmet needs, she said.

"Presently, we are looking for someone to do clerical work in the Wayne office and someone to provide transportation for those who do not have vehicles or who cannot transport themselves," she added.

"For the upcoming special food distribution, volunteers are needed to arrange the places for distribution, publicize the dates and times of the distribution, help with loading and unloading and transporting commodities and do the actual distribution.

The current Wayne Social Service Office is staffed by a supervisor and case worker, so volunteer work to lessen the workload and provide greater services is definitely needed, according to Moeller.

VOLUNTEERS SHOULD be at least 18 years of age. All positions have specific job functions outlined. By participating in the Volunteer Services program, volunteers will be treated the same as a paid employee of the social services department.

"Their specific job responsibilities will be outlined and they will be able to have daily breaks like us," mentioned Moeller.

Direct supervision will be provided from the Wayne Social Service Office.

"You are invited to come to the Wayne Social Service Office and read the Volunteer Services Plan which explains more in full what the program is all about. We need you," said Moeller.

For more information contact Thelma Moeller, the Volunteer Coordinator, at 375-2715.

Area schools get grants

Wayne-Carroll's school system and the Allen K-12 school have been awarded energy grants totaling over $32,000 from the Nebraska Energy Office.

These grants are provided through the Nebraska School Weatherization Program which makes grant money available for the purpose of improving the energy efficiency of public school buildings across the state.

The state will provide $3,009 of energy grant funding to the Wayne-Carroll School District, according to school district superintendent Francis Haun.

He said the grant funding will be used to finance the insulating above two classrooms and the lunchroom at the Carroll elementary school.

The total cost of the project is $3,625. However, the grant program provides 80 percent of the total estimated cost of any energy efficiency projects, with the school district contributing 20 percent.

GAINING A LARGE chunk of the energy grant will be the Allen school district. The school district will pay $4,277 and the Nebraska state grant will finance $24,961 toward several energy projects planned at the K-12 building.

Approximately $10,000 will be used toward insulating the building's attic.

Other funding will be used toward installing a temperature setback system for the gym addition and work on the school's steam radiators (such as insulating the pipes or installing thermostats on the radiators).

Other schools which will be receiving grants in the Nebraska's 17th legislative district include Ponca and Martinsburg.

Since 1981, 1 percent of the 3 percent severance tax on oil and gas has been set aside for this program.

Monument business has new owners

Keith and Imogene Brasch, who raised quarter-horses near Wausa for 18 years, purchased the Wayne Monument Works in May and have been making their home at 509 Nebraska in Wayne since June 1.

An open house is scheduled at the Wayne Monument Works, 221 West 1st Street in Wayne from Aug. 17 to 19. Free coffee and rolls will be served from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and from 1-4 p.m. on Sunday.

A discount will be offered on stones in stock and door prizes will be awarded. Wayne Monument Works was established in 1917. Mr. and Mrs. Brasch purchased the business from Harvey and Mardell Brasch, proprietors since 1963. In addition to designing and engraving monuments, the company does custom sandblasting and carries granite gift items.

Keith is the son of Harry and Margaret Brasch of Wausa and Imogene is the daughter of Woody and Betty Freeman of Bloomfield. The Braschs have three children — Leon, 10; Brian, 9; and Andy, 5.

Nuernberger of Lincoln; Dennis and Ramona Puls of Hoskins and Wayne Sandahl of Wakefield.

Receives scholarship

Valerie Bush, daughter of Jim and Anita Bush of Carroll, has been selected to receive a Lutheran Brotherhood Member Scholarship.

Valerie is one of 144 Lutheran Brotherhood contract members to receive such an award for the 1984-85 academic year. These students qualified for scholarships on the basis of their academic records, leadership skills and extracurricular involvement.

Lutheran Brotherhood, a fraternal benefit society, has allocated more than $1.6 million this year for scholarship and fellowship programs.

Measurement service

Federal Crop Insurance is offering measurement service for producers to qualify for Individual Yield Coverage on Barley, Oats, Rye and Wheat according to Donal Harmer, acting district director for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

All producers that want Individual Yield Coverage should get their records to their ASCS office as soon as possible. If producers have any questions, they should contact their local authorized Crop Insurance agent or ASCS office for information. Any producers with losses should contact their agent as soon as possible so the claims can be processed.

Sales award

Baber's Vis-Vita Sales Company of Sioux City announced that Melvin Kraemer of Wakefield, a sales representative in the Sioux City tri-state territory, won the mid-year sales contest.

He amassed a total of 8910 contest points and his total was the third highest total ever in the company's sales contest history.

New Winside weather signal

A new severe weather warning signal is in effect in Winside as the result of a new system being used by the Winside Fire Department.

The signal will consist of several consecutive blows of the siren in the event of severe weather. Residents are advised to listen to their radios or televisions for further tracking of the storms.

A spokesman for the fire department said there will not be an all-clear signal at this time. There also will not be a signal for all fire and rescue calls as in the past.

In addition, all emergency calls will be handled through the Wayne Police Department which will in turn notify the Winside Fire Department.

The emergency number is the same as in the past, 286-4436. If there is no answer, residents are asked to dial 1-375-2626.

Classes start Aug. 27 in Allen

Officials at Allen Consolidated School have announced that classes for the 1984-85 school year will begin on Monday, Aug. 27.

Freshmen and seniors are asked to register between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 20. Sophomores and juniors will register on Tuesday, Aug. 21 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

An in-service workshop for teachers is scheduled Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 22-23.

Carroll AAL donates for park

The Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL) Branch 3019 of Carroll recently sponsored a gift of $2,500 to the Belden Community Improvement Fund for use at the Arnold Hansen Memorial Park.

The Carroll branch matched funds raised by the Belden Community Club for the park. Hansen, who is deceased, was a member of the Carroll AAL.

Officers of the Carroll branch are Murray Leicy, president; Mrs. Arthur Cook, vice president; Mark Tietz, secretary; and Edward Fork, treasurer.

Consensus required

Land valuations need special session

CAPITOL NEWS
By Melvin Paul

The legislative consensus which Gov. Bob Kerrey says he needs before convening a special session to deal with property taxes appears to be slow in building.

Kerrey said recently that he is feeling "a growing urgency" to deal with agricultural land valuation in a special session. But he'll convene such a session only if he believes a consensus exists among senators on what ought to be done, Kerrey said.

Farm and city senators seem to be in little agreement, first, about whether a special session is needed at all, and, second, what the agenda for such a session would include. Rural senators say farm land valuations must be addressed in a special session because of a Nebraska Supreme Court ruling earlier this year that declared unconstitutional the practice of valuing farm land at about half of market value while other property is valued closer to market value.

In general, urban senators are cool to the prospect of returning to Lincoln only to provide what they consider a tax break for farmers and ranchers. Whether or not the Legislature acts this summer, the effect on urban property owners will be nil, city lawmakers say.

Most city senators say they would favor a special session only if the agenda were expanded to consideration of general property tax relief, a subject which has the potential to provide benefits to city dwellers as well as farmers and ranchers.

Several state legislators met last week to discuss a possible agenda for a special session, but reached no conclusions, two participants reported.

Sens. Chris Beutler and Don Wesely of Lincoln said they expected discussions among small groups to continue. The two met with Sens. John DeCamp of Neligh, James Pappas of North Platte and Howard Lamb of Anselmo at DeCamp's office.

ALTHOUGH A PROPERTY tax session of the Legislature continues to be a possibility, sales and income tax rates aren't a problem for lawmakers at the moment.

The financial condition of state government doesn't immediately warrant a budget-cutting session or an increase in state sales and income tax rates, a five member panel of state officials decided at a July 25 meeting.

After a brief review of tax collections, the panel adjourned without a motion to recall the Legislature in special session. In 1981 and 1982, poorly performing sales and income taxes caused special budget-cutting sessions of the Legislature.

The officials reviewing state finances were Tax Commissioner Donna Karnes; Speaker of the Legislature William Nichol of Scottsbluff; Sen. Vard Johnson of Omaha, chairman of the Legislative Council Executive Board; Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, chairman of the Appropriations Committee and Sen. Cal Carsten of Avoca, chairman of the Revenue Committee.

A 1983 law requires the officials to meet in July and October to determine whether tax rates are sufficient to support state spending. Had tax collections been deficient, the panel could have adopted a motion petitioning Gov. Kerrey to convene a special legislative session.

ED JAKSHA'S Taxpayers Survival Committee could legally circulate state and local lid petitions again for the 1986 general election, Secretary of State Allen Beermann says.

Earlier, Jaksha had expressed doubt about the committee's ability to recirculate the petitions so soon under terms of the state constitution. The constitution states: "The same measure... shall not be submitted to the people be initiative petition... often than once in three years."

Jaksha earlier had interpreted the provision to mean that the committee's unsuccessful initiatives this year prevent it from attempting to place the lids on the ballot until 1988 at the earliest.

"Beermann said he interprets the phrase 'submitted to the people' to mean placing the propositions on the ballot rather than simply circulating the petitions. 'There is a question, I would concede that,'" Beermann said.

In a recent speech to the Nebraska Municipal Accounting and Auditing Conference, Jaksha said he believes there is "a very real possibility" that the Taxpayers Survival Committee will attempt again to place their lid proposals on the ballot in 1986.

The committee's effort this year fell short of necessary 54,790 signatures to place the propositions on the November ballot.

Comprising a fair

There is so much more to blue ribbons, grand champion awards, midway rides and games, horse shows and grandstand shows at the county fair.

What we see as spectators are usually the prize beef entries, winning dairy exhibits, the top vegetable display and the entertainment. What is behind the scenes supplies the "pedal power" to the county fair.

Compare the structure of a successful county fair equal to that of a bicycle.

First, there is the solid framework of the bicycle. Equal to this part are the members of the Wayne, Dixon or Cedar Counties' county fair board of directors. These individuals have accumulated hour upon hour of meetings, contract discussions and signings, plus many planning sessions to bring forward and carry out the best county fair affordable.

Some of these directors also volunteer their time as superintendents of various judging events.

Secondly, there is the involvement of the county's adult residents and community leaders — those who set up booths, operate entertainment events and work as 4-H leaders (including the county extension service) — which compose the two wheels of the bicycle.

An enthusiastic attitude is pumped into the county fair by various clubs and organizations who sell meals or soft drinks, put on barbecues, conduct events such as the demolition derby or prepare the fairgrounds for the four-day event.

Connected to the wheels of the bicycle is the sprocket and chain. This fits the part of the volunteer 4-H or Open Class judges — those who go out on a limb to rate an exhibit to the best of their ability.

Judges are not merely picking winners. They are to give 4-H members, leaders, parents and others a better understanding of what are good standings; to encourage them to keep trying; to help them do a better job next time; and give them recognition for accomplishments.

And finally, the exhibitors — be it 4-H members or open class entries — are those pushing the pedal, allowing the county fair to function.

It takes a sincere and dedicated effort to provide the exhibits. That includes entries ranging from livestock and showmanship to garden displays and demonstrations.

The exhibitors must also learn how to succeed or how to handle failure with a sense of dignity and also develop a determination to "do a better job next year."

While those not associated with 4-H or open class exhibits are going to evening movie shows, going to dances, playing a ton of sports or developing other fine hobbies, these 4-H individuals and open class exhibitors are watching over their livestock entries in the cold of a sub-zero winter's evening.

They are feeding the livestock and watching the rate of gain, weeding the gardens to produce the finest products, staying up late at night to sew a hem on a fashion revue dress and memorizing speeches and actions for a demonstration on how to cook effectively.

If all four bicycle parts work together (the fair board of directors, clubs and organizations, judges and also the 4-H and open class participants) the county fair will run its course without complication.

The past successful area county fairs are evidence that this bicycle is kept well-oiled and doesn't skip a speed, no matter how narrow or rough the road may be.

Let her run?

During the televised Olympics, Americans witnessed a courageous but extremely dangerous situation as a marathon runner jeopardized perhaps her life in her effort to cross the finish line.

Cameras showed runner Gabriella Andersen-Schiess of Switzerland walking and weaving all over the track in the final meters, appearing very much in pain and nearly unconscious from dehydration.

She turned down assistance, but the Olympic officials should have assisted Andersen-Schiess off the track before the finish line.

In boxing, referees stop the fight in early rounds when it appears an athlete is injured badly. The fighter would like to continue, but it's up to the discretion of the referee.

Why did the same policy not become a part of this marathon? The Swiss runner, although rushed away in an ambulance upon the race completion, was in normal condition later during the day.

There is the "pride" reasoning which is mentioned by the Swiss runner as an incentive for crossing the finish line. It certainly was a classic showing of courage and stamina. But when the consequences result in injury, does finishing take precedent over preserving health so she can run more marathons?

She survived the incident apparently unscathed. But the next time this situation occurs, will the end result be the same.

What would you, as area track coaches, do in this sort of situation?

Farm products promoted

New uses for Farm Products

The product of a cotton farmer's work ends up as a space suit worn by an astronaut. A Navy jet touches gently down on a runway with tires made from a plant harvested in the Southwest. A St. Louis merchant stops to fill his car's tank with gasoline that contains an additive made from corn picked in Nebraska.

Every day, people around the world come in direct contact with the products of American agriculture. The list of products from America's farms, ranches and forests is growing. Products unheard of a decade ago are now commonplace.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is working to get the public and private sectors together to encourage and promote development of new products, new product uses and new markets. As part of that effort, a forum will be held at the USDA in mid-October involving Federal, state, university and private sector representatives. The two-day session, called the "Challenge Forum on New Uses for Farm Products," will focus on food, forest, fiber and industrial/strategic agricultural products. The forum will also seek to develop new public-private partnerships, draw attention to USDA's innovative research accomplishments and spotlight the high-value added farm products.

This is the second challenge forum sponsored by the USDA. The first, in January, was designed to increase public awareness about the needs and opportunities for agricultural scientists.

One Year to Claim Postal Savings

Depositors or their heirs who want to claim old postal savings now have one year to do so under the "Postal Savings Statute of Limitations Act" which was signed into law on July 13, 1984. Claims must be submitted to Government Financial Operations, the Department of the Treasury's financial management bureau, by July 13, 1985.

The Postal Savings System was established in 1911 in post offices to provide safe, convenient depositories for individuals who could save and earn interest by purchasing certificates. The system gradually declined with changing economic and social conditions, and over half a million accounts worth $65.1 million were transferred to GFO for liquidation on July 1, 1967. By September 30, 1983, over 90 percent of the total funds invested had been paid to claimants.

The reason many accounts have never been claimed is their minimal value. Most accounts are for small sums, with half estimated to be worth $1.00 or even less.

Depositors or heirs who wish to file claims should send, to the address below, the Postal Savings certificate or the depositor's name, account number; and name, city and state of the post office where the account was held. Claims should be directed to: Department of the Treasury Government Financial Operations Claims Review and Settlement Branch Treasury Annex 1, Rm. 340 Washington, D.C. 20226

Baby born every 20 minutes

A new Nebraskan was born every 20 minutes in 1983 according to a report released by the Nebraska Department of Health on 1983 vital statistics.

The statistics contained in the report were compiled from birth and death certificates filed with the Department of Health in 1983. The most popular name for girls was Jennifer for the fourth consecutive year and John replaced Michael as the most popular name for boys.

Nebraska resident live births declined for the third consecutive year, continuing a trend which will probably extend to the end of the century. The number of live births declined by 2.6% from 26,954 in 1982 to 26,254 in 1983. The crude birth rate dropped from 17.0 per 1,000 population in 1982 to 16.4 in 1983, a 3.5% decrease in rate.

For the first time, there were no maternal deaths reported in the state, although it has been as low as one reported in 1973, 1980 and 1982. The average age of a woman having her first child in the state of Nebraska was 23.3 years.

Marriages in Nebraska showed a fairly substantial decrease in number and rate between 1982 and 1983, dropping to a total of 13,703 in 1983 from 14,350 in 1982. The most frequent age at marriage in 1983 was 21 for brides and 22 for grooms.

Although 22 has been the most frequently reported groom's age since 1978, the age for brides has increased from 19 since 1980. Divorces in Nebraska decreased by 2.9% in number to 6,172 in 1983. More marriages ended after only one year of marriage than any other length of time, and 39% of the 1983 Nebraska divorces occurred less than five years after marriage.

The ten leading causes of death are the same in 1983 as they were in 1982. Heart disease, the leading cause of death, decreased by 1.9% after having increased the previous three years. The second most frequent cause of death, cancer, also showed a slight decrease. Pneumonia and diabetes mellitus, though they did not change position, showed quite large increases.

Pneumonia increased 20.5% and diabetes increased 22.9%. It is not unusual for pneumonia to have substantial changes from year to year. The change in diabetes is more unusual and may be more an indication of change in reporting accuracy than a real change in the incidence of the disease.

In the category of death due to accident, the vital statistics report showed accidents had a fairly large decrease of 8.6% over 1982, though they are still the fourth leading cause of death. Motor vehicle accidents remained about the same during the reporting period.

Deaths due to falls and accidents were down, major contributors to the overall reduction in deaths due to accidents in 1983.

The Nebraska Department of Health serves as the state depository for all vital records and publishes an annual report showing trends in these vital events.

Barbecuing is livelihood

SPUBBURGERS, COLESLAW, tossed salad and corn on the cob comprised the bill of fare during a reunion of first cousins Saturday evening at the Merle Ring home east of Wayne. Preparing the outdoor barbecue was Wakefield native Dale Bard of Dallas, Texas, who lists barbecuing as his soul source of livelihood for approximately 18 years. Bard, who has appeared on such nationally televised programs as The Dinah Shore Show and Stop the Music, has traveled throughout the country as National Field Sales Manager for Sears. His outdoor barbecue demonstrations and speaking engagements in the promotion of gas barbecues has taken him all across the United States in addition to Canada, Puerto Rico and Mexico. Bard, pictured above with Merle and Donna Ring, is the son of Mabel-Bard of Wakefield. He is a graduate of Wakefield High School and Wayne State College. Nineteen of the family's 27 first cousins and their families attended Saturday night's reunion. Approximately 55 relatives came from Canada, Texas, Arizona, California, Illinois, Ohio, Iowa, Virginia and Nebraska.

Wayne's state tourney hopes ended by Blair

Juniors

Wayne's Junior Legion baseball team brought their 1984 season down to the wire and were denied a return trip to the State Class B Junior Legion baseball tournament on Monday evening when they fell 14-7 in the final championship game of the Area 3 finals at Overin Field.

Coming through the loser's bracket of the tourney following a 12-9 loss to West Point last Thursday, Wayne had come back with a win against Schuyler to set up a rematch with West Point on Saturday night which they won 5-3 and put them into the finals against Blair on Sunday. The local Juniors won that game by a narrow 6-5 margin and sent the tourney into an extra game, which Blair won.

The Juniors saw their 1984 season end with a 18-13 record.

IN THE REMATCH with West Point, Wayne needed extra innings to break a 4-4 tie and take the victory with two runs in the ninth inning.

Steve Overin opened the scoring for Wayne in the first when he got on base with a single and scored on a double by teammate Randy Gamble.

In the third Wayne added two runs to take a 3-0 advantage when Todd Dorcay rapped out a single to reach first and Overin was walked to first to put two men on. With two out, Chris Wieseler hit a fielder's choice to score one run and Overin later came in for the second.

Two runs for West Point in the third narrowed the gap and they were able to tie the game at 3-3 in the sixth inning when Kelly Hoffman notched a single to get on base and scored on a similar hit by Tom Halstead with two outs.

Neither team scored in the seventh inning to send the game into extra innings. Again, both teams were silent until Wayne came up with their game-winning runs in the top of the ninth.

In the inning, David Longe went to first after being hit by a pitch and Jeff Sherer walked to put two men on with two out before Jeff Jorgensen knocked out a double which scored both runners and gave Wayne the 5-3 lead.

Both Jorgensen and Gamble had a double and single on the night, while Overin had three singles in four at-bats. Wayne's other hit was the single by Dorcay in the third.

Pitcher Randy Gamble went the full nine innings for Wayne in one of his first appearances of the season, throwing eight strike out and giving up four walks and six hits.

IN WHAT TURNED out to be the first of two championship games, Wayne came from a 5-4 deficit in the bottom of the sixth inning to score two runs and take a 6-5 win.

Blair started the scoring in this game in the top of the first inning when Phil Soovers walked to first and was brought home by a Tom Foley single.

Wayne's first runs came in the bottom of the third inning when Blair's starting pitcher Scott Hook allowed two walks, two hits and three Wayne runs before being relieved by Tom Foley.

Jon McCright got on with a walk to start the inning and was followed with a walk for Kevin Maly and a two RBI double for Todd Dorcay. Dorcay was able to score later with two outs on a Blair error which put catcher Chris Wieseler on base.

Another run in the fifth inning for Wayne gave them a 4-1 lead when David Longe belted out a triple and scored on a Blair error.

Blair tied the game in the top of the sixth inning with a three-run performance. With two out, Scott Hook and Dan Petersen each hit singles to get on base and scored on a triple by Clint Brewer. Steve Overin came in to relieve starting hurler Todd Dorcay and saw Brewer score the third run before getting the third out on a fly to right field.

Wayne broke the tie in the same inning when Kevin Maly knocked out a single to get on base and Overin walked to put two men on with two outs. Randy Gamble latched on to his second hit of the game with a single which scored what turned out to be the winning runs.

Blair threatened in the seventh inning when Ryan Richardson walked to first and scored on a single by Scott Pavel with one out. The following batters for Blair were thrown out at first and flied out to left field to close out the game.

Top hitters included Gamble, with two hits in four at-bats and Kevin Maly who was two-for-two with a pair of singles.

The Wayne pitching staff of Overin and Dorcay gave up eight hits and three walks which striking out two batters.

PITCHING PROVED to be the downfall for Wayne in the final game of the tournament as they went through five different pitchers in the seven inning game before falling 14-7 in a game that was closer than the score would indicate.

Wayne scored first in the game with four runs in the bottom of the third inning. With two outs, Kevin Maly walked followed by a single for Todd Dorcay and a two RBI single by Steve Overin. Chris Wieseler also advanced to first on a walk before David Longe smacked out a single which scored the final two runs of the inning.

Blair's first run came in the fourth inning when Scott Pavel was walked to first base and scored on a sacrifice by Dan Petersen.

They tied the score at 4-4 in the fifth inning, the point at which Wayne's pitching showed its first signs of weakness. With one out, Brad Stender and Ryan Richardson each went to first on the walk and scored on a two RBI double by Tom Foley. At that point, Todd Dorcay came into relieve starting pitcher Steve Overin but gave up an RBI single to Jeff Schroeder before retiring the side.

The seventh inning was a scoring heyday for the visiting Blair team as they brought in nine runs to surge to a 14-4 lead. Wayne brought a succession of pitchers to the mound, including Jeff Sherer, Randy Gamble and Jeff Jorgensen before shutting Blair down with a fly out to second base for their final out. Both Overin and Dorcay were unable to return to the game as pitchers due to Legion baseball rules on number of appearances.

In the inning, Blair came up with six walks, three singles and a double to build their game-winning margin.

Wayne answered back with three runs in the final half-inning of play when Dorcay and Overin walked and were brought in on a single by Gamble and a sacrifice by Wieseler.

Wayne's six hits came from Gamble and Overin, with a pair of singles and a double and single respectively. Other hitters were Dorcay and Longe, each with singles.

Midgets

Wayne's Midgets saw their hopes of a trip to the Class B State tournament slip away with a six run lead as Blair came from behind to take the championship game of the Area 3 Midget baseball tournament on Monday evening at Overin Field in Wayne.

The Midgets gained their way into the final game with a win over Schuyler last Wednesday night, while Blair took a 8-7 victory over West Point on Saturday night to set-up the final game.

Wayne ended their season with a 21-3 record.

WAYNE JUMPED to an early 3-0 lead in the top of the first inning when Shannon Dorcay reached base on a walk, followed up with a base hit by Ted Lueders. Dorcay scored the game's first run on an error by the Blair pitcher and Lueders crossed the plate on a double by catcher Dan Gross with no outs. With two outs Don Larsen rapped out a single to bring in Gross and close out the inning's scoring.

Blair narrowed the gap when they scored a run in the bottom of the second inning on a walk to Dean Epperson, who scored with one out on a single by Mark Clements.

In the top of the third Wayne increased their lead to 6-1. Gross got on board with a walk and following two outs, Larsen also advanced to first on balls. Gross scored from third on a wild pitch before Jeff Hausmann smacked a single to score Larsen. Hausmann came across the plate moments later on a double by Tim Fleming.

WAYNE ADDED another run by Dorcay in the fourth inning to take a 7-1 advantage before Blair began their come-from-behind attack with four runs in the bottom of the inning.

For Blair it was Jeff Nielson getting to first on a walk followed with a sacrifice-hit to advance the runner and another walk for Dean Epperson. Dave Kroeger knocked out a single to score one run with one out before Mark Clements brought in two runs with a single. Clements made the final run, scoring on a passed ball. Wayne starting pitcher Jeff Hausmann was relieved by Don Larsen, who closed out the inning on a sacrifice and strike out.

The lead changed hands in the bottom of the fifth inning with a trio of Blair scores, beginning with a walk to Jeff Nielson. Batter Brian Hansen got on base due to a Wayne error and Dean Epperson took first after being hit by a pitch. Nielson scored the innings first run, followed by Hansen and Epperson, each scoring on passed balls. Wayne pitcher Jeff Hausmann reentered the game with two outs before a fly out to right field ended the inning.

In the sixth inning the Wayne batters went down on strike outs and a fly out to first base while putting two men on base on an error and being hit by a pitch.

The game's final run came for Blair in the bottom of the sixth when Kevin Rasmussen came up with a base hit and scored on another single by Dean Epperson.

Larsen opened the seventh inning for Wayne with a walk followed with a strike out for Hausmann. Fleming also made it to first on a walk but was left stranded when the next two Wayne batters struck out at the plate to end the game.

WAYNE'S SEVEN hits included doubles by Gross and Fleming as the only extra-base raps. Singles came off the bats of Lueders, Gross, Larsen, Hausmann and Brent Pick.

Starting pitcher Jeff Hausmann struck out six Blair batters at the plate throughout the game. Relief pitcher Don Larsen struck out one batter in his appearance on the mound.

Home runs reign in Wayne Town Team 9-6 victory over Laurel

Wayne shortstop Mike Breske ripped the Laurel pitching staff for three home runs as Wayne moved to a 9-6 win over Laurel on the road Sunday night. The win gave the Wayne Town Team a 1-0 lead in the second round of the Tri-County Amateur baseball league play-offs.

Game number two of the best-of-three series between the two teams was scheduled for last night (Wednesday) in Wayne at Overin Field. Wayne took a 17-5 record into the contest.

Breske led off with a home run in the top of the first inning to give Wayne the 1-0 lead. The margin was short-lived though, as Laurel rebounded with two runs in the bottom of the same inning when Joe Olson reached base on a fielder's choice and a home-run by John Manganaro.

WAYNE RESPONDED with four runs in the third inning, starting out when Doug Carroll reached first base and Neil Blohm advanced on a Laurel error. Both were brought home on a double by Neil Blohm. Blohm and Bill Schwartz, who got on board on a walk, scored later in the inning with two outs on a Jerry Goeden double.

Breske's second home run came in the fourth inning with Carroll on base and one man out. To score two runs and extend Wayne's lead to 7-2.

Goeden also blasted a home run for Wayne in the game's seventh inning with one out and no one on.

The ninth and final run of the game came for Wayne in the eighth inning when Breske rapped out his third home run with one out.

LAUREL THREATENED with a pair of runs in the bottom of both the eighth and ninth innings. Clete Stope and Brian Marquardt slammed out back-to-back home runs for Laurel's first two runs late in the game and Dave Marquardt and Rocky Thompson each crossed home on a double by Brian Marquardt in the ninth.

Breske topped hitting with his trio of homers in four appearances at the plate. Goeden was two-for-five with a home run and double and Neil Blohm was two-for-two with a double and single.

Goeden pitched into the ninth inning for Wayne before being relieved by Joel Ankeny, giving up six runs and 11 hits and striking out five batters. Ankeny finished out the game with a pair of strike outs.

Laurel's pitcher Joe Olson allowed seven runs and eight hits in seven innings before Brad Erwin came in to finish out the game.

European trip is a first for Wildcat basketball program

The Wayne State College men's basketball squad will make the biggest road trip in its history when the team travels to Europe for two weeks at the end of December.

"It will be good for our program as a whole and a great experience for the team," said Wildcat head basketball coach Rick Weaver.

The itinerary includes leaving Chicago on Dec. 30 and touring the countries of Belgium, Holland, West Germany and France before returning to Chicago on Jan. 11, 1985.

Along with the games, the group will tour cities such as Paris and Amsterdam during the two-week period.

persons and those wanting more information should contact Weaver at Wayne State College, 375-2200, ext. 311. The traveling party will include the 12 players, two coaches and a trainer.

"Each player will be responsible for a share of their fare, and a group of backers will also be helping to make up some of the difference," said Weaver.

"Financing for the trip is going well so far, and we are currently planning a couple of fund-raising activities for this fall," he added. "It isn't very common for a team from a school our size to travel outside the country, especially during the season, said Weaver.

"It will be a lot of fun for the players, since many of them have never been on a plane or outside of the country." He also cited it as a physical test for the squad, since the team will come back and face three Central States Conference opponents on the road the following week.

The individual cost for the trip is $1,100 and includes all transportation, lodging, two meals a day, and various tours. The trip is open to any interested persons and those wanting more information should contact Weaver at Wayne State College, 375-2200, ext. 311.

WS gridders tabbed for seventh in 1984 CSIC conference race

The Washburn University football team will repeat as champions of the Central States Intercollegiate Conference (CSIC), according to a preseason poll of the eight conference football coaches.

The poll was announced on Monday, Aug. 6 during the annual football media luncheon held at the newly completed Washburn sports complex in Topeka, Kan.

Washburn gained three of the eight first place votes and held a narrow 56-54 edge over runner up Missouri Southern in the voting. Southern received one first place vote.

Kearney State was tabbed for third with 50 points and two first place votes, followed by Fort Hays State with 39 points and one vote for the top spot.

The second division included Missouri Western with 30 points, Pittsburg State will 29, Wayne State with 20 points and one first place vote and Emporia State with 10 points.

Washburn won last year's conference crown with a 6-1 CSIC mark and an 8-2 overall record.

During his speech at the press conference, WSC head football coach Pete Chapman admitted to casting Wayne's lone first place vote. "He said that it was something that the coaching staff and team had discussed early in the year and the players wanted Chapman to pick them for the top spot. 'I wasn't going to tell those kids that they couldn't do that,'" he added.

The conference begins its ninth season of action with two new coaches among the ranks. Bobby Thompson returns to Fort Hays State to replace Jim Gilstrap and Mike Mayerske takes over for Bruce Polen at Pittsburg State.

Three CSIC teams will open play on Sept. 1 with the conference schedule running from Sept. 29 through Nov. 10.

Roberts wins in Norfolk Open

Tom Roberts of Wayne captured first place in the men's singles and finished as part of the runner-up duo in the doubles competition at the Norfolk Tennis recently.

Picked as the top seed in the men's 35-over singles competition, Roberts defeated first round opponent Norfolk's Daryl Mackender 6-0, 4-3 before coming from behind to down Kent Blaser of Wayne 4-6, 6-2, 7-6 (8-6). Roberts successfully defended his 1983 singles title with scores of 6-1 and 6-3 over Byron Ballantyne of Norfolk.

In the doubles play, Roberts and partner Pete Vogel of Omaha were seeded second and won over their first round opponents, Bill Bazyn and John Briggs of Norfolk, 6-2, 6-1.

During the second round, Robert and Vogel downed Joel Ballantyne of Lincoln and Byron Ballantyne of Norfolk in sets of 6-4, 6-7 (8-10) and 6-2. In the finals, the duo fell to Steve Meyer of Norfolk and Brian Nelson of Omaha 4-6, 6-1 and 6-1.

Allen begins fall sports practices

Football and volleyball practices at Allen Consolidated Schools will begin on Monday, Aug. 13.

Plans currently call for football practice at 6:30 and 8:30 both morning and evening. Volleyball practice will be held from 8 to 10 a.m. each day and evening practice times will be set at a meeting held this week.

Bowling league has openings

The Community League of the Wayne Tuesday late night men's bowling league has several spots available for interested persons.

Those interested in joining can contact Dan Rose at 375-4555 (work) for 375-2340 (home) after 6 p.m., or Melodee Lanes at 375-3390.

The league plans to begin bowling in late August or early September.

Wayne Merchants go 2-2 in state softball tourney weekend appearance at Kearney

The Wayne Merchants women's softball team made it as far as the third round of the Nebraska Class A State ASA Stowitch softball tournament held during the past weekend in Kearney.

The team gained a berth in the 28 team state tournament when it finished as runner-up at the districts held at Norfolk in July.

Wayne advanced past the first round when they received a forfeit from a Sidney team by a 7-0 score.

In the second round, the Merchants fell to the defending champions, Grand Island Coors, in a 4-3 decision that lasted eight innings.

COORS SCORED first in the game with a run in the top of the second inning before Wayne tied things up and took the lead in the bottom of the fifth with two runs.

Kelly Murphy of Wayne hit out a single to get on base and Lynn Surber used an opponent's error to reach first before scoring on a single by Donna Kelly and Shelly Dart.

Coors regained the lead in the sixth with two runs off a single and triple, going on top 3-2.

Wayne tied it again in the bottom of the same inning when Mary Schroeder rapped out a base hit and scored on a single by Jolene Bennett.

The game went into extra innings after neither team scored in the seventh. The deciding run was made by Coors in the top of the eighth inning, making the final score 4-3.

The Merchants had a total of 11 hits in the game, including three singles by Mary Schroeder and two by Donna Kelly.

FALLING INTO THE loser's bracket, Wayne posted a 2-2 win over Diamond Jack's of Chadron to stay alive in the tourney.

Wayne was able to score steadily throughout the game after breaking a 2-2 tie in the fourth with a pair of runs by Mary Schroeder and Jolene Bartels.

Schroeder was the leading hitter for Wayne with a triple, double and single in four at-bats. Bartels added a triple and single in her three trips to the plate while Kelly Murphy came up with a double and single.

In their final game of the weekend, Wayne was eliminated from play after a 4-2 loss to Kearney Coors.

The team ended their season with a 17-11 record. Coaches for the team were Jim Joy, Bob Keating and Jill Stenwald. Both the and coaches would like to extend their thanks to their sponsors for the support they received this season.

Willow Creek to open on Sunday

Bluegill, channel catfish, largemouth bass and walleyes have been stocked with future plans for finger musky (a northern pike-musky hybrid) and crappie to be added at a later date.

According to Jeff Schuckman, fisheries biologist with the Nebraska Game and Parks, the test stockings have shown that the bass this fall will average eight to nine inches in length with some reaching 10 1/2 inches.

The bluegills, which spawned in 1984, will be around five to six inches in length. The walleyes should be in the 10 to 12 inch class and the channel catfishermen should be picking up a few cats in the one to one and one quarter pound class.

Several size limitations will be in effect on Willow Creek Reservoir. The large-mouth bass will have to be 12 inches long and the tiger musky will have to measure 30 inches long, or they will have to be returned to the water.

Much of the trees and shrubs that covered the Willow Creek bottom remained and have been covered by the rising water. These trees and shrubs will provide ideal habitat for the fish.

According to Wendell Newcomb, a board member of the Lower Elkhorn NRD, several tire reefs and brush piles have also been anchored to the floor of the reservoir. This, along with the trees and shrubs will help to make Willow Creek Reservoir a fisherman's paradise.

The planning for Willow Creek was begun by the Lower Elkhorn NRD in 1975 with the funding coming from the State Development Funds, Lower Elkhorn NRD and the Game and Parks Commission.

The operation of this "state recreation area" will be handled by the Nebraska Game and Parks.

A $10 park permit will be required for those who use the area.

WILLOW CREEK RESERVOIR FACTS
— 210 sq. mile watershed control.
— 6,585 acre feet of water storage (permanent).
— 700 surface acre lake plus 900 acres of bordering land.
— 18,783 acre feet of flood storage.

Willow Creek Reservoir is the largest Reservoir constructed in Nebraska without federal funding.

Action abounds in baseball tourney

Typical August weather was on hand for the Class B Area 3 Midget and Junior Legion baseball tournament hosted by Wayne at Overin Field on July 31 to August 6.

The schedule included a total of 18 games at both the Midget and Junior Legion level. A total of eight towns from around the northeast and eastern Nebraska area had representatives at the tourney, including Blair, Hartington, Jackson, Schuyler, South Sioux City, Wahoo, West Point and Wayne.

The final championship games in each division saw Blair and Wayne go head-to-head with Blair taking the titles and advancing to the State Midget tournament in McCook and the State Juniors tournament in Ord. Both are slated to begin August 10.

Among those who put in long hours to make the tournament a success were tournament director John Melena and Wayne baseball Coach Hank Overin, along with members of the American Legion Post of Wayne, the Wayne Baseball Association and the Boy Scouts.

A special thanks goes out to all of those who helped with the tournament, to the parents and fans for their support and encouragement throughout, to radio station KTCH and the Wayne Herald for their continued coverage and to the City of Wayne for the use of their flags at the ball field.

Company A draws praise

by Burns McCulloh
 "Chesty" Fuller would have been proud" said the sign at the entrance to the base camp of Co. A, 1st Battalion, 134th Infantry (Mech.).

For World War II Marines who knew of the crusty Marine who won five Navy Crosses, the Navy's second highest award for valor, a "Show Me" attitude is inevitable.

After watching Company A, however, Chesty's supporters can rest easy. The company is performing up to his standards and, given the change since World War II, perhaps even setting new ones.

The infantry elements of Company A, in a Platoon Test which pitted one platoon against two others in a "good guy-bad guy" operation, drew praise from regular Army observers who said the company's performance was the best of any unit to go through the training up to that time.

The "friendly" company, commanded by Capt. Stanley Burst of Wayne, used "the old hammer and anvil trick," splitting into two groups to assault the entrenched "Op-4" enemy unit with one group taking fire which the other maneuvered around to attack and route the enemy unit.

Company A's "grunts" also performed well the day before in a live fire assault operation.

1st Lt. Randy Amundson of Lincoln typifies the men of Company A's infantry. In his third year as an officer, with two others as an Officer's Candidate School (OCS) participant in annual training, Amundson said the training given to the guard varies every year.

This year, in addition to the Platoon Test, the company trained with tank units in assault and counter-attack tactics. The live fire exercise also involved armor units. Results of the tests will ultimately be reviewed by the National Guard Bureau in Washington, D.C.

Amundson's driver, Sgt. John Slaba of O'Neill, is a leader during the rest of the year, performing as a clerk with the guard except during annual training when he becomes a driver. Amundson is a machinist for Garner Industries in Lincoln.

Slaba, a four year Navy veteran who has been in the guard for four years, said he came into the guard when Co. A was at a low ebb in manpower with 15 members. Better public acceptance and a resurgence of patriotism are credited by Slaba with an increase in unit strength to 90 soldiers.

"The guard is on the upswing now," Slaba said. "The men are getting good training. It's slow at times but you accept that."

Last year Slaba was a member of an Op-4 unit as the National Guard trained with the MILES, a laser beam training aid which uses a laser and discs to record

MORTARMEN RICK Hermanek, Omaha; Jay Stoltenberg, Wayne; and Dan Kenkel, Wayne, apply camouflage paint during field training at Fort Carson.

"kills" during attacks. (MILES stand for Multiple Integrated Laser Engagement System).

"There was a lot of running up and down hills and it was the first time I had ever done that but it was exciting," he said. "The MILES is a good piece of equipment; even though it has drawbacks like batteries running down, but it has a good purpose."

The other element of Co. A, the mortar section, also made a name for itself during the first week of training.

The section, under 2nd Lt. Blake Moritz of Osmond, a senior at Wayne State College, said the section was timed on how fast it could get into an area and set up to fire. Given a five minute time limit, the unit set up in 4 1/2 minutes.

Moritz, who took a recon armored personnel carrier into the area before calling for the mortars which are mounted inside the carriers, is a four year guard veteran who joined because of the tuition waiver.

"I just got into mortars," he said. "Before that I was a 'grunt' and I like mortars a lot better. People think we just ride around and then shoot a few rounds but there is a lot more emphasis on being a 'grunt' now."

Another former Wayne State student, Jally Glassmyer of Hastings, said he also got into the guard because of the tuition waiver and "because it sounded interesting."

After 2 1/2 years in the guard, all of it in mortars, Glassmyer said he "wouldn't do anything else. I like the group in mortars and we get along real well."

"It takes more thinking than crawling on the ground, not to take anything away from the Bravos (riflemen), and we don't crawl around as much."

Crawling around during the encampment was in both dust and mud this year, Colorado. It seems, copied Nebraska's "if you don't like the weather, stick around—a minute and it will change" and added a timetable to it.

Almost daily, at close to 4 p.m., it rains. By the next morning, however, the air is filled with dust on the roads as men and equipment go to war.

Col. Gale Shields, Director Planning for the 67th Separate Infantry Brigade, of which Co. A is a part, set the tone for the operation during a media briefing last Thursday.

This year's training is on a full brigade level, he said, something which happens every 5-8 years and which requires planning at least one year in advance.

The brigade's 43 tank crews, for example, went to an extra annual training in October 1983 so they would be able to do combined arms training with the MILES this year.

The brigade shipped 158 pieces of equipment, including tanks, by rail and over 600 wheeled vehicles went to Colorado in a convoy. With other vehicles Shields estimated the brigade fielded 1,000 pieces of equipment. Having the full brigade in the field at the same time necessitated setting up a "tent city" of 300 tents for the 3,200 men and women soldiers who took part in the training over a 135,000 acre training site.

"We have good people here, working good together," said Shields. "We live in pretty austere conditions here. This is not our ordinary annual training but it is running without a lot of problems."

Editor's note: Burns McCulloh a veteran of the Vietnam War, spent two days last week with the National Guard during the Guard's annual training at Fort Carson, Co. and filed the above report.

FOOD AWARENESS By Ann Crowley R.D., Ph.D.
Cheese

Cheese is one of our most nutritious protein foods. Because it is made from milk it has similar nutrients that are available in milk.

The three major nutrients are found in cheese. It is an excellent source of protein for building body tissues. An ounce of cheese has about the same protein value as an egg. This is also true of the fat level. Most cheeses contain 7 grams of fat in one ounce. An egg has 6 grams of fat. Like all animal fats it does contain cholesterol, only much less than found in an egg. An ounce of cheese contains only 20 to 30 milligrams of cholesterol.

Low fat cheese is available in your supermarket. These are produced from milk with a lower butterfat content. You will read on the label "skim milk" or "part skim milk." These cheeses are also lower in calories.

Cheese is an excellent source for calcium and phosphorus. Calcium and phosphorus are minerals that are needed by the body throughout life. Next to milk, cheese is the best source of these minerals. If one cannot drink milk, then eating cheese for its nutritional value is a very good idea.

Besides all the nutritional advantages, it also tastes great.

VISITS SWEDEN
Marvin and Ruth Felt returned recently for a three week trip to Sweden and Denmark. The flight was arranged through the Swedish Institute of Minneapolis, Minn. Arriving in Stockholm they stayed at the Burger Jarl Hotel, touring the city for a couple of days. Then they boarded a train at Grand Central Station to Vimmerby Smaland where they were met by Ruth's cousin Lennart Aslid and his wife Gunnel, who live at Frodinge, Sweden. The Felts stayed in this area for 13 days, doing a lot of sightseeing in different cities. They also attended the Mid Summer Festival at Sodra Vibrunspark, nine people from the United States were recognized. In Frodinge a tour was taken at a Dair where ostkaka and torties are made, all with machinery. A saw mill was also toured at Frodinge, which was one of the largest in Sweden. Two glass factories at Orsterford and Kosda were toured, seeing how the Swedish glass is manufactured. June 30, a family reunion was held at Moosebo, Gueshhome with a smorgasbord dinner for relatives of Ruth's father and mother. Sixty relatives attended. Ruth met two aunts, one uncle, 12 first cousins and nine second cousins and their families. A lovely bouquet of flowers was presented to the Felts in observance of their 40th wedding anniversary in February. Ruth also visited the place where her mother and father grew up and visited the church at Hjortede where they attended. July 4th the Felts took the train again to Hesselholm, where they were met by Nils Swenson from Sosdala. Here they visited Nils and his family for a couple of days. Here they visited Nils and his family for a couple of days. Here they found some family history of Marvin's grandparents and great-grandparents. The home of Nils Swenson was the house where the Felts lived and Marvin's grandfather, Jons was born. Nils has remodeled his home since then a third cousin of Marvin's was living in this area, but they were unable to contact him.

Again the Felts boarded the train at Hesselholm to go to Copenhagen, Denmark. At Hilsingborg the train (two coaches) drive on to a huge ferry boat and cross on the Oresund Lake. At Copenhagen they stayed at the Admiral Hotel along the harbor where they saw seven large ships come and go with tourists, cars and trucks aboard.

They took a tour of the city and visited "Tivoli". July 9th the Felts returned to Minneapolis after a 10 hour flight. Merlin Felt and his family met them at the Hubert Humphrey Airport. NEW RESCUE UNIT
The Wakefield Firefighters and Rescue Unit met July 30. They approved the purchase of a new rescue unit to serve Wakefield and the rural area surrounding the city. Firefighters also voted to use the funds raised at the annual dance, Aug. 26, towards the purchase. An application is being sent to Aid Association of Lutherans to make the project a matching effort up to the maximum of $10,000. If additional funding develops as planned, the dance would be the only fund raiser or drive conducted in the community towards the $23,000 - $25,000 goal.

SCHOOL BOARD
A special meeting of the building and grounds committee of the Wakefield Community Schools Board of Education met July 26 at the school. About ten visitors met with the committee to express their concerns and opinions on selling school-owned property and future use of the land. How many lots to sell on the east side of the school property, what to do with property located west of the school and other options were discussed. The committee will bring their report to the Board of Education when the group meets for their regular meeting Aug. 13. NEW BOOKS

The old Ward School, built in 1891, was located on north main street, near the city's standpipe. It was built when the earlier school, located in the block east of the courthouse, became too small for local needs. The Ward School was torn down a few years following the construction of a new brick building in 1908, in the west part of town. This is a picture of students and teachers about 1895.

SCHOOL BOARD
In a special meeting on July 31, the Hoskins Public School Board of Education discussed the school lunch program for the coming year. The board reviewed the guidelines for granting free or reduced-price meals to low income families.

The income guidelines are approximately the same as last year. Any family with children attending the Hoskins Public School who feel they are eligible for free or reduced price meals should contact the president of the board, Harold Wittler at 565-4595 for further information.

Complete details will be sent to each family the first week of school which begins Aug. 27. No lunch will be served the first day.

Among other things discussed was the upcoming 114th anniversary of the school to be held at the Hoskins Public School on Aug. 15.

The annual school board meeting will be held Aug. 20 at 8 p.m. at the school.

SEVIN INSECT ALERT

Outbreak of corn rootworm beetles reported.

If you're a corn grower, now's the time to check your fields for these destructive pests.

Just three to five beetles per ear at silking time can cause a significant reduction in kernel set, resulting in lower yields and profits. Plus, the thousands of eggs laid by female beetles this summer will hatch into hungry rootworm larvae next spring.

But now you can stop this destructive cycle with SEVIN® 4 Oil or SEVIN® XLR carbaryl insecticide. When you follow label directions, these formulations resist wash-off to deliver the long-lasting residual control you need. Not just to protect this year's crop, but to help reduce the number of eggs that will hatch into larvae next season.

So ask your dealer for SEVIN 4 Oil or SEVIN XLR insecticide from Union Carbide. Before it's too late.

Relatives and friends joined the Hillcrest residents and staff for a birthday party honoring Mrs. Myrtle Macklen's 84th birthday on July 31. It was held at the care center in Laurel. Distant guests were Myrtle's two daughters, Gwen Finn of Omaha and Pat Park of Clamcy, Mont. and a sister-in-law, Doris Hirschert from Chadron. Others were from Norfolk, Wayne, Laurel, Wakefield and Concord.

Brian Johnson, Terri Steffan of Columbia, Mo. and Pam Johnson of Lincoln spent the weekend in the Marlen Johnson home.

On Saturday evening, the Marlen Johnsons entertained dinner at the steak house in Laurel in honor of their wedding anniversary and Brian and Layne's birthdays.

Fifty Johnson family members and friends gathered at the Dwight Johnson cabin by the river north of Laurel Sunday for a picnic dinner at noon Aug. 5 and afternoon entertainment honoring the nine July and August birthdays and anniversaries. Guests were from Columbia, Mo., South Sioux City, Lincoln, Norfolk, Wakefield, Wayne, Laurel, Allen, Dixon and Concord.

Mrs. Loretta Baldeschweller of Hebronville, Texas, Mrs.

Lavern Hopkins of Bay City, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bruggeman of Laurel were July 31 supper guests in the Brent Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Magnuson and Mrs. Lynn Lessman attended the funeral service of Mrs. Veldon Magnuson's father, Melvin Ryman, of Halsey, 66. It was held at the Halsey Auditorium on Saturday afternoon. He died July 31 while vacationing in Canada.

The Glen Magnusons, the Vern Carlsons, Hazel, Minnie and Opa Carlsson attended the 40th wedding anniversary open house for Mr. and Mrs. Milton Johnson of Norfolk Sunday afternoon. It was held at the Norfolk VFW and was hosted by their children and families.

Gerty Swanson and Milton Johnson were married Aug. 2, 1944 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Concord.

July 31 guests in the Norman Anderson home to celebrate Sandra Sieck's and Scott Erickson's birthdays were Mrs. Albert Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Johnson, Lillian Anderson, all of Wayne, Mrs. Jerry Stanley, Peggy and Jeff of Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Erickson, Michael and Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Carlson and Ethel Erickson.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sieck, Ben and Ruth of Spencer were overnight guests. They left to spend a few days in the Albert Sieck Sr. home at Denton and returned to the Anderson home for the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Stanley and family of Dixon joined them on Sunday for the day.

Bobby Haisch's belated birthday was celebrated Friday afternoon at the Ervin Haisch home. Guests were Angela, Eric, Julie Abts, Alyce Erwin, Blake Erwin, Lynette and Jason Penlerick, Naomia Peterson and Edna Haisch of Wayne.

With genuine John Deere service

You never know when the Downtime Demon might strike. Don't let him catch you off guard. Be ready with expert John Deere pre-season service.

Our highly trained service technicians use the most advanced tools and sophisticated diagnostic equipment to keep your equipment running in top shape all season.

Now's the time to start thinking about a little preventive medicine. Call us today. (Tomorrow may be too late.)

DON'T KISS $8,938 GOODBYE

That's how much you could lose just on resale value if you don't buy a John Deere

Looking for a big discount when you buy a tractor? Don't get stuck with an even bigger discount when you want to sell it. Always consider resale value when you price a field tractor. Because the difference among brands may sometimes be bigger than ANY purchase incentive.

Compare John Deere with our two leading competitors. According to the Spring 1984 Official Guide of the National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association, the average 5-year-old John Deere 4440 sells for 106 percent of its 1979 list price. One leading competitor averages 87 percent of its 1979 list price. The other averages 73 percent.

What's that mean in dollars? Add the John Deere gain on original price to the competitor's loss. The John Deere advantage is as much as $6,938! Is this only true of one model? No. Every 40 Series 90 to 180 hp tractor has an average resale price that's higher than its new price five years ago.

Resale your only John Deere advantage? No. Don't forget the remarkable fuel efficiency of every 40 Series.
