THE WAYNE HERALD

Wayne Centennial celebration brings first 100 years to a close

Monday afternoon's centennial grand parade paralleled individual thoughts expressed by observers concerning many other events which occurred during the five-day celebration.

"People got more than they bargained for" appeared to be the sentiment expressed by city administrative and governing officials and members of the Wayne Centennial Steering Committee.

Wayne's centennial celebration began last Wednesday with opening ceremonies at Overlin Field (followed by a spectacular display of fireworks) and ended Monday evening, with the final event being the Centennial Ball at the National Guard Armory.

Sandwiched between these events were more than a dozen other highlights and activities.

The Charley Pride Show took place Thursday evening at Memorial Stadium on the Wayne State College campus, with a combined attendance at both 1½-hour shows estimated in the neighborhood of about 5,000 people.

Despite a nagging hip injury, Pride signed autographs as hundreds of people lined up near him following the second performance.

ONE OF THE centennial's four parades highlighted Friday's activities — the Ag and Antique Parade. There were well over 100 units entered in this event.

Placing in the "horses and horse drawn division" of the parade were Arlowyne Wingett of Wayne, riding a Tennessee walking horse with the summer set saddle over 150 years old, handed down from her grandmother; Ralph Felber of Coleridge with his entry of the Pearl Creek Community Covered Wagon; and Gerald Schroeder of Wakefield two-seat, horse drawn carriage belonging to the Barfel family of Wakefield that is 127 years old.

In the "later model cars and machinery" category, the placers were: Logan Valley Implement which featured a variety of old model John Deere Tractors, spreader, combines and lawn tractors and several antique vehicles; Gerald Haglund of Wakefield with a 1955 Pontiac Safari Wagon; and Myron Fuetlberth of Hartington who drove a 1951

Studebaker. Placers in the "antique cars and machinery" division were: Ray Patent Electric with a 1926 International Truck; M. T. Lederer of Hoskins with a 1932 one lung gas engine, which was powering a hand corn sheller during the parade; and Gerry E. Miller of Hartington with his 1922 Dodge Touring vehicle.

DURING THE centennial celebration, there was a three-day run of the theatrical production, "Wayne, America — A Musical Celebration" which played before near-capacity audiences in the two evening and one afternoon performances.

Another parade took place the following day (Saturday) involving hundreds of youngsters who were age 16 or under.

Winners in 10 individual categories were as follows: best organizational float — Wayne Public Library; horses and riders — John and Tom Etter entry; bicycles, decorated — Michael Fluent; wagons, decorated — Sara and Amy Hall, Michelle Wittke, Jeff Smalley; authentic or pioneer costume — Cara, Kathy and Bobby McCue; tricycle, big wheels, pedal tractors — Tina Lutt; marching units — Cub Scouts, Pack 221; pet and owner — Laura and Crystal Bauermeister; clowns — Carrie Fink; and the most original — the Kloster children.

The Shriner's Parade also took place on Saturday at 2 p.m. Members of the 25 Shriner unit members and wives were hosted in Wayne by The Cornhuskers Shrine Club of Northeast Nebraska.

Besides the many "various shaped" two-wheel, three-wheel or four-wheel vehicles driven by the many units were many clowns and others with costume who walked along the parade route during the Shriner's Parade. A special feature of the parade was an appearance by "The White Horse Patrol."

ALSO SATURDAY, a pitch tournament took place at the 4th Jug. First place, with 75 points, went to Al Nelson and Al Hansen. Second place with 74 points were Denny Lutt and Bill Lubberstedt; third place with 70 points, Mike and Pat Miller; fourth place (68 points), Arlene Zoffka and Rosie Koch; fifth place (66 points) Ron Wert and Rick Lund. Albert Nelson was in charge of arrangements with Tyler Frevert assisting.

On Sunday afternoon, a centennial horseshoe pitching contest took place at Roosevelt Park. First place winner was Duke Cortivo of Bloomfield, with Ervin Longe of Wayne finishing second and Dick Bair of Wayne in third place. Albert Nelson and Walt Hamm were in charge of the horseshoe event.

Monday's Wayne Centennial Grand Parade, with Walter Benhack as grand marshal, lasted nearly 2½ hours with over 260 units participating. Parade Chairman Gary Pick said the long parade "ran smooth" when surrounded by the good help he had in organizing the event.

Placers in the parade were as follows: in the organization float division — the Lutt family, Wayne Jaycees, and Kitchen Klatter; bands — Wayne High School, Winsner Pilger High School, and the Omaha Drum and Bugle Corps Lasdaiblo; saddle clubs — Arlowyne Wingett, Obert Saddle Club, Wayne 4-H Club Wranglers; commercial floats — Wayne Greenhouse, Logan Valley, Country Nursery; antique — Norfolk Auto Club, Carl Johnson of Wayne (Minneapolis Moline, steamer) and Roland Wittke (horse-drawn hearse).

The "beard contest" winners were announced on Monday evening during the Centennial Ball. The Mort Wells Band, a musical group which has been a popular band in Omaha for years, provided an evening of Dixieland and the Big Band Sound dancing throughout the evening.

Judges for the beard contest were Pearl Hansen and Anne Svoboda of Wayne and Lloyd Bohlen, president of the Laurel Lions Club.

RESULTS WERE as follows: moustaches and sideburns — most handsome, Lee Swinney; longest, Ralph Barclay; lushest sideburns, Wayne Wessel.

Beard Contest (growing before Feb. 2, 1984) — whitest, Melvin Korn; longest, Bob Porter; bushiest, Charles Maier; best groomed, David Lutt; most handsome, Ken Lisika; ugliest, Randy Pedersen.

Beard Contest (grown since Feb. 2, 1984) — most pathetic, Brent Pedersen; longest,

Chuck Rutenbeck; bushiest, Vern Schulz; neatest, Bernie Baker; most displaced, Bill Dickey; best goatee, Herb Hansen; most handsome, Red Carr; best ½ beard, Gary Pick. There were several other contests held throughout the centennial celebration. Results turned into the Wayne Herald in-

In next Monday's edition, a special tabular section will appear with a variety of pictures from the Wayne Herald photographers depicting some of the centennial happenings.

Area youths fare well at Nebraska State Fair

Several 4-H youths in The Wayne Herald coverage area received high placings in the 1984 Nebraska State Fair over the past weekend.

Stuart Rethwisch, 14, of Wayne took top honors in the 4-H insect identification contest.

Stuart, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Rethwisch, identified insects by order and common name.

Second place winner in the identification contest for the third straight year was Jassi Johar, 17-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. J.S. Johar of Wayne. Third spot went to Marc Rahm, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rahn of Wayne.

Jim Sievers of Wayne finished in sixth place. Jody Jones of Allen returned to the 1984

Nebraska State Fair to compete in the 4-H small engines contest for the sixth time on Saturday and he won first place.

Jody, age 18 and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones, had moved towards first place honors two other years, placing third in 1982 and second in 1983. He is now eligible to represent Nebraska at the Western Regional 4-H Small Engines Contest at Aksar-Ben Sept. 19 in Omaha.

A 4-YEAR-OLD Holstein, Tina, produced the most butterfat during a designated trial period with 773 actual pounds. Tina is owned by Julie Wageman, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wageman of Emerson.

Tina was presented the University of Nebraska Block and Bridle Club award for dairy production.

Reserve championship honors in the Ayrshire Dairy classification went to Jeanne Warner, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Warner of Allen. Jeanne and her 4-year-old cow, Dandy, repeated their reserve championship performance of a year ago.

Wayne County finished third in the "Weeds and Grass Identification" contest at the Nebraska State Fair. The team members included Stuart Rethwisch and Tim Sievers, both of Wayne, and Cynthia Walde of Winside.

Rethwisch and Sievers ended the contest in eighth and ninth place.

Dixon County 4-H exhibitors took first place honors in small group 4-H Dairy Herdsmanship competition (five or fewer exhibitors). There were 24 counties competing in the small group competition and five in the large group competition. The herdsman competition stresses cleanliness and fitness of the 4-H livestock and pens, including provision for adequate feed, water and bedding for the animals.

Amy Adkins, age 12, of Laurel captured reserve grand championship honors with her 120-pound Suffolk crossbred wether named John during the 4-H market lamb show on Sunday.

As of Wednesday morning, results of swine competition had not been received from the Cooperative Extension Service who have supplied the above Nebraska State Fair information.

Complete listings of place winners and those who have received purple and blue will appear in upcoming issues of The Wayne Herald.

NPPD pays for first half area municipal leases

Area cities will soon be receiving over $19,000 in lease agreement payments from the Nebraska Public Power District.

Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) will be distributing $4,190,902 to 217 Nebraska cities and towns as a result of agreements leasing municipal electrical distribution systems to NPPD, according to Wayne E. Boyd of South Sioux City.

Boyd is a member of the NPPD board of directors.

Wayne, although its source of power is from NPPD, will receive no lease payment since the city is a wholesale customer, said Ron Bogus, who is NPPD public information manager.

"We deliver the electricity to Wayne. But we have nothing more to do with it," Bogus said Tuesday.

Wayne, he said, operates its own municipal plant and therefore makes its own line repairs and is responsible for its own breakdowns.

"Where we lease the distribution systems, we are responsible for all that," he said. Those area cities which lease distribution systems to NPPD include Hoskins, Allen, Concord and Dixon.

Hoskins will receive $6,027 in lease payment while Allen will get $8,711.84; Concord, $2,781.45 and Dixon, $2,051.61.

THE MONEY represents one-half of the annual payments made by NPPD under terms of the lease agreements. The 1984 first half payments, Boyd said, can be used by the community any way it determines.

NPPD operates the electrical system and makes all additions and improvements to the property to maintain efficient service. They also pay the community 10 percent of the adjusted gross revenues realized within the corporate limits.

The lease payment reflects a slight increase to the communities, Bogus said.

First phase paperwork continues

Wayne County's Board of Commissioners are in the process of doing the paperwork for the first phase of the courthouse renovation project.

"Our first phase plans will be to satisfy the state fire marshal," said Bob Nissen, chairman of the board of commissioners.

On Tuesday, the commissioners reviewed preliminary construction documents provided by Jackson-Jackson & Associates, architects and engineers from Omaha. The documents displayed the plans for remodeling the current courthouse boiler room and installing the fire alarm system in the existing structure.

basically because of the increase in use of electricity over all.

"The total is higher because of greater usage and higher rates," he said.

Of all the northern region cities, Norfolk receives the largest share of lease payments with $993,728.06 followed by O'Neill with $103,146.09.

Receiving the smallest of lease payment in the northern region is Anoka, with $121.97.

Courthouse renovation in early stage

These plans must be reviewed and approved by the state fire marshal before the first phase project can proceed, according to Nissen.

"We'll do it (renovate the courthouse) in steps, do a little at a time," Nissen said. "And the first thing we have to do is make the boiler room safe and install the fire alarm system."

Engineer estimates had predicted the cost to renovate the courthouse as high as $918,995 if total renovation is done. Plans released earlier this year by Jackson-Jackson & Associates prioritized certain areas of renovation and indicated renovation could be stretched over a period of years.

Renovation work mentioned then, in addition to fire safety and boiler room remodeling, included an elevator for the handicapped, replacement of roofing and gutters and replacement of electrical, heating and plumbing systems and air conditioning.

Wayne County residents soundly defeated a proposal during primary elections in May which called for constructing a new courthouse instead of renovating the present courthouse.

Enrollment down in district

Wayne-Carroll Middle School gained in numbers this 1984-85 school year while grade school and high school enrollment dipped downward.

Enrollment dropped 11 students within the entire Wayne-Carroll School District, which includes Carroll Elementary and Wayne Elementary, Wayne Middle School and Wayne High School according to statistics released on Monday by Superintendent Francis Hawn.

Kindergarten student totals dropped by seven from 1983 school year figures. Other decreases of as high as 12 students per grade were recorded in the elementary enrollment.

The middle school had student increases in the fifth grade, sixth grade and eighth grade (of 40 students). However, grade seven slipped to 35 students less than the previous school year.

Increases in enrollment at the high school level occurred at the 10th grade and 11th grade levels. The ninth grade class fell 30

Fire safety plaque given

DALE MILLER OF BLAIR, at right, a representative of the National Fire Safety Council, recently presented a plaque to Wayne Fire Chief Dale Preston in recognition of the local department's efforts in working with school children on fire safety prevention. Chief Preston said the program is made possible through local businesses who make donations to defray the cost of materials. Miller said he will once again be contacting the Wayne business community for donations on behalf of the fire department's third annual fire safety education program.

Kerrey at WSC

Barring any unforeseen circumstances, Nebraska Governor Bob Kerrey will speak at Wayne State College Nov. 13 according to Allen O'Donnell, director of the Wayne State College Public Affairs Institute.

O'Donnell said the program, sponsored by the Institute, will probably begin at 1:15 p.m., and will be held in the Ramsey Theatre on the Wayne State campus.

The governor has been asked to speak on "state issues, issues of concern to Nebraskans at that time," O'Donnell said. Such issues as education, land valuation and banking, are some issues that the governor might want to address, he added.

The program will be open to the public free of charge and all are invited. The Ramsey Theatre can hold up to 800 people, O'Donnell pointed out, and "we don't expect any problem in hosting the community for this event."

Governor breaks with Neligh lawmaker

Kerrey-DeCamp tangle during special session

Gov. Kerrey and state lawmakers hoped to adjourn this week their special session which was called to consider changes in rural property taxes and state banking law.

The tone of the session has been ugly from the beginning. Among the things that the session will be remembered for will be the dramatic break between two of the state's most influential politicians, Kerrey and Sen. John DeCamp, chairman of the Nebraska Commerce and Insurance Committee.

On the second day of the special session, Kerrey served notice that he's had it with DeCamp. "Angered by what he called DeCamp's use of rumor and innuendo against him and his associates, Kerrey said he will no longer deal with the Neligh lawmaker."

"He not only has slandered me, he has slandered (state Banking Director Roger) Beverage and he has slandered friends of mine," Kerrey said in an interview.

"I will not walk away from that kind of insult saying that it didn't happen. I have no intention of dealing with John DeCamp."

DURING THE FIRST two days of the special session, DeCamp informed to colleagues and to the press that Kerrey is seeking passage of LB 3, the interstate banking bill, to cover up wrongdoing at State Security Savings Co., the Lincoln industrial loan and investment company which filed last month for Chapter 11 bankruptcy.

Bill Wright of Lincoln, a director and co-owner of State Security, is a personal friend and business associate of Kerrey.

"If John DeCamp wants to know the nature of my relationship with Bill Wright, all he has to do is ask," Kerrey said. "If he did, it would reveal the unfortunate truth that I've stated two arms-lengths away from it (State Security)."

DeCamp told a reporter that the State Security "is comparable to what you had at Commonwealth," referring to the insolvent Lincoln financial institution. Criminal charges have been filed against principals of Commonwealth.

DeCamp has declined to say specifically what improprieties he believes exist at State Security.

Most Capitol observers say that the DeCamp-Kerrey feud will not stop being a factor in Legislative politics when the special session adjourns. It's likely to color through the 1985 regular session and into 1986, which is an election year for both Kerrey and DeCamp.

While the interstate banking legislation has maintained a higher public profile during the session, lawmakers are also grappling with the issue of valuing agricultural land.

KERREY HAS BEEN advocating a constitutional amendment which would permit continuation of the practice of valuing agricultural land for taxes at less than its full market price. State officials are under pressure for Nebraska Supreme Court decisions to increase agricultural land values.

Kerrey has argued that Nebraskans need to understand "the special and unique nature of the piece of land that's used to produce food."

Kerrey told a legislative committee on the opening day of the session that most Nebraskans don't understand what it's like to farm in 1984 and don't understand the unpredictability of farm income.

Although an owner of commercial property is able to predict the income it will produce, he said, it's not possible to predict a constant stream of income on agricultural land. Therefore, he said, it's reasonable to classify that type of property differently for tax purposes.

Currently, the constitution requires all property to be valued for tax purposes uniformly and proportionately. LB2, introduced for Kerrey, would submit a proposal to voters in the Nov. 6 general election that would allow agricultural land to be classified separately. If it were approved, the Legislature then could decide whether to implement an earnings approach for taxing farm land or some other method.

True centennial spirit

A celebration worthy of transpiring just once every hundred years has to be a tremendous undertaking.

Wayne's centennial celebration was certainly a classic example of hard work, dedication and true centennial spirit. And at the heart of the celebration was the thankless job of the centennial steering committee, which was chaired by Melvin "Bud" Froehlich and included the following members: Bill Dickey, Dean Bilstein, Phil Kloster, Lyle Seymour, Mary Monson, Rozan Pedersen, Kathy Manske, Lorraine Johnson and LaVon Anderson.

And how does one measure the success of the five-day celebration? Just by gauging the attendance and enthusiasm at the various centennial events.

Charley Pride's Show, brought to Wayne by efforts spearheaded by Al Cramer, drew a sizeable audience the first evening of the centennial. Despite a hip injury, Pride performed masterfully and general comments after the show were extremely favorable.

And the theatrical production "Wayne, America — A Musical Celebration" drew nearly 500 people for each performance during its three day run. This event, directed by Helen Russell with choral direction by Connie Smith and choreography by Mindee Zimmerman, also received many compliments.

Not many people had expected four parades would bring in so many entries. The ag and antique parade, which boasted of over 100 entries, and the youth parade were entertaining and interesting. And Wayne will probably never see the likes of the Shriner Parade which took place on Saturday afternoon.

Monday's 2½ hour grand parade had just the right mixture of everything from antique vehicles and clowns to floats and bands as thousands of spectators lined the lengthy route and cheered on the parade units.

A variety of beard-faced gentlemen, and "dressed for the occasion" women blitzed across the dance floor during the finale of the centennial celebration on Monday evening, dancing to the music of the popular Mort Wells band.

By far, the accomplishments set out by the centennial steering committee and all those who served on an event committee has greatly offset the minor disappointments.

Perhaps the amusement rides could have been operating as was listed on the schedule. Maybe it was disappointing to see so little entries in the "car rodeo" event on Saturday afternoon. If only the sun had stayed out for the entire grand parade, with no rain in sight.

But when an event of unbelievable proportion has been pulled off with only minor hitches, then we should all be proud of Wayne and its area residents.

In the words of Wayne Marsh, present mayor during Wednesday evening's opening ceremonies: "We hope that the next few days will be of fun and enjoyment for each and everyone of you. I ask that each of you reflect back on our forefathers and remember their struggle and efforts to make Wayne what it is today."

From the bounteous fireworks display on Wednesday night to the selection of beard contest winners at the centennial ball on Monday evening, the true centennial spirit of celebration was never lost.

Let's hope that this centennial spirit and enthusiasm can now be carried forward as the Wayne community and surrounding areas embark on its next 100 years.

When the old records and newspaper clippings of Wayne's 100th birthday in time capsules are dug up by Wayne residents during the bicentennial in 2084, they will know that Wayne has always been a community enhanced by the determination, volunteerism and dedication of its residents.

Lessons from the agriculture recession

The years of 1981 to 1983 were a period of recession for agriculture, with economic activity in the farming sector dropping alarmingly. From that experience, USDA economist George Hoffman has gleaned at least six important lessons, all of which have implications as Congress works toward a 1985 Farm Bill.

The first lesson is becoming well-known — the realization that the export market is our only real long-term growth market for products. Our domestic market is largely saturated, and may grow only slightly faster than our population. At best, Hoffman says, look for only 2 percent domestic growth per year.

The second lesson also is becoming generally accepted, namely that U.S. agriculture is closely linked to the general economy. As a consequence, monetary and fiscal policies can have significantly greater impacts on farmers and ranchers than specific provisions in farm legislation, the '85 bill included. Thus government programs that try to separate agriculture from the general economy are going to cost more and achieve less.

THIRD, THE STRUCTURE of agriculture has changed dramatically over the past 50 years, but basic farm programs are about the same as the mid-1930s. The goals of farm programs need to be reviewed.

Fourth, the federal budget places constraints on farm programs, and they will be weighed and traded-off against other spending programs in the budget. Within the federal ag budget, commodities will compete with each other for available funds.

Fifth, some farm programs conflict with other farm programs. The basic point of divergence is whether farm programs should be designed to take resources out of production or to keep them in production.

For example, acreage reduction programs take land resources from production while federal lending programs move more capital resources into production. And high crop support prices encourage farmers to bring erodible land into production, while soil and water conservation programs try to reduce erosion.

In another variation, farmers have known for years that conditions in agriculture can change quickly and dramatically. Yesterday's perfect corn crop can be today's hail disaster. In a larger economic sense, high variability is caused by two factors — increasing dependence on world markets and that close integration of agriculture into the general U.S. economy.

The U.S. can't control world markets and agriculture can't be isolated and protected from the economic winds prevailing outside of it. Policies made on the faith that current conditions will continue for the foreseeable future will be wrong.

Hoffman's six lessons are at least as important as estimates of acres and production to the development of the 1985 Farm Bill.

From Cheryl Stubbendieck, director of information of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation.

Freedom of ideas essential democratic tradition

Letter to the editor:

Most Americans regard individual freedom as our most cherished political value. It was the guiding principle of our founding fathers as they drafted the Constitution. The refrain of individual freedom has been sung repeatedly at the recent Republican convention, but it is enlightening to examine how effective the present administration has actually been at promoting the cause of individual freedom.

Americans condemn the travel restrictions some governments place on their citizens because we believe that people should have the right to learn firsthand about other ways of life. We are proud of the free exchange of ideas in our country, even when these ideas are critical of the government.

How do we explain the fact that the Reagan administration has banned tourist travel to Cuba? If the rationale is that Americans ought not to spend money in a nation with whom we are on unfriendly terms, then a dangerous precedent is being set.

There are, after all, many nations who are not on the best of terms with the U.S. Short of outright military hostilities, which would necessarily limit travel, the average citizen in a free society should have the right to visit other countries.

Few of us would want to live in a country where the government "Protects" us from dangerous ideas or tries to control the image of our culture presented in art and the media. Yet the current administration has been engaged in a vigorous effort to limit the distribution of foreign films here, labelling them "political propaganda." It has restricted distribution of certain American movies abroad on the grounds that they cast America in an unfavorable light.

The present administration has furthermore become the first administration ever to resurrect the McCarran-Walter Act, passed at the height of the McCarthy period, to deny visas to foreigners whose views might be "prejudicial to the national interest."

And to further limit the free flow of ideas, the scope of the Export Administration Act, which was created to restrict the flow of technology to foreign adversaries, has been broadened to include unclassified scientific research and scholarly communication.

How is Reagan's record in safeguarding the citizen's right to know what is going on in the government? He falls down there, too. His administration has implemented a program requiring over 100,000 government officials to sign lifetime censorship agreements. Does the American public want a paternalistic federal government to screen what is said about it from within, or by former government officials?

It is sadly disappointing that an administration claiming to be against government regulation and for individual freedom so readily invokes policies that restrict the flow of ideas. Freedom in the marketplace of ideas is as essential to our democratic tradition as freedom in the economic marketplace.

ask a lawyer
a public service of the nebraska state bar association

Q. May a will made in Nebraska be probated in another state?
A. A will that is properly prepared and meets the requirements of law in the place in which it was made will generally be honored for probate in any other state. If you move to a different state after preparing a will, have the old will examined by a lawyer in the new state to make certain that the will conforms to practices and procedures in the new state.

The will should also be examined to make sure that its provisions do not violate some law in the new state of residence, as that could make portions of the will unenforceable. You could have a situation where the will itself is valid but certain provisions of the will are not enforceable in the new state of residence. If you have any questions in this regard, talk to a lawyer in the new state of residence.

briefly speaking

New minister at Wakefield

The Rev. Richard Kargard is the new minister at the Presbyterian Churches in Wakefield and Emerson. Pastor Kargard arrived in Wakefield on Aug. 26 from LaMoore, N. D., where he had served congregations in LaMoore and Edgeley for the past seven years.

He and his wife Linda are the parents of one daughter, 17-year-old Barbara, a seventh grader at Wakefield Community Schools.

Pastor Kargard is a graduate of the University of Colorado. He attended seminary school at Fullerton in Pasadena, Calif., receiving his degree in 1977. Prior to moving to LaMoore he served congregations in Wilton and Wing, N. D.

A joint installation service for Pastor Kargard is scheduled Sunday, Sept. 16 by the Wakefield and Emerson Presbyterian Churches.

Dance marking 10th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Rick Bussey of Hoskins will observe their 10th wedding anniversary with a free dance on Saturday, Sept. 8 at the Riverside Ballroom in Norfolk.

The dance begins at 9 p.m. and all friends and relatives are invited.

Maas Families plan reunion

The 38th reunion of the descendants of the late Carl and Alberta Maas will be held Sunday, Sept. 9 at the Willard Maas home in Hoskins, beginning with a picnic dinner at noon.

Officers in charge of arrangements include Charles Maas, president; Lucille Poske, vice president; Betty Shipley, secretary; and Ann Scheurich, statistician.

Woman's Club plans potluck

The Wayne Federated Woman's Club is planning at 12:30 p.m. potluck dinner and guest day meeting on Friday, Sept. 14 in the Woman's Club room.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Niemann of Carroll will show slides on their trip to the Far East.

AAUW meeting Monday night

The Wayne branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) will hold its first fiscal year meeting on Monday, Sept. 10 at 6:30 p.m. at the Lumber Company. Women with college degrees are invited to attend all AAUW meetings.

Dinner reservations should be made right away by calling Betsy Whisenand, 375-4077. Dinner will be followed by a program at 7:30 during which Dr. Jean Karlen of Pender will speak on the women's vote project.

Wayne AAUW meetings are held the second Monday of September, November, January, March and May. Membership is open to women with college and university degrees, and does not have to be personal invitation.

AAUW is active in service and educational projects that advocate the formal and informal education of women.

Bridal style show set in Laurel

Hillcrest Care Center in Laurel is sponsoring a bridal style show on Sunday, Sept. 9 in honor of Grandparents Day. The public is invited to attend the program at 2:30 p.m.

Narrator will be Mrs. Lanita Recob of Laurel.

Former pastor accepts call

The Rev. Verl Gunter has accepted a call to Trinity Lutheran Church in Akron, Colo. and will be installed there on Sunday, Sept. 9 at 4 p.m.

A potluck supper will follow and the public is invited. Pastor Gunter served as vicar at Immanuel Lutheran Church, rural Wayne, during 1979-80.

Compassionate Friends meeting

Because of scheduling difficulties, there has been a change in the program for the Sept. 13 meeting of The Compassionate Friends, a self-help group for persons who have had a child die.

The program will be based on the theme of "Tackling Tough Hurdles." Among those "tough hurdles" are disposing of the child's possessions and deciding what should be done with any insurance money. Other problems of this nature also will be discussed.

The 7:30 p.m. meeting will take place in Norfolk at the Lutheran Community Hospital in room A in the cafeteria. All interested persons are welcome. The group is non-denominational and no one is required to speak.

Organizing Alzheimer's support group

An Alzheimer's Disease Family Support Group will be organized on Sept. 12 at 7:30 p.m. at Lutheran Community Hospital in Norfolk.

The group will be a self-help/mutual aid association comprised of lay persons, family members of victims of Alzheimer's disease, and concerned professionals. The main focus of the group will be to provide family support, assistance, and information of the disorder.

The Sept. 12 meeting will include a videotape "Living in Darkness" which defines the disease process and shows how families are coping.

Persons who would like additional information are asked to call Ann Steckelberg, 371-4880.

Alzheimer's Disease is a progressive disorder of the brain affecting memory, thought and language.

Status of women commission meeting

The Northeast Nebraska Commission on the Status of Women will hold its regular monthly meeting Sept. 11 at 7 p.m. in the activities center at Northeast Technical Community College, Norfolk.

Presenting the program will be Sharon Matthies, A.A., vice president of the State of Nebraska Region IV of Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault; Sharon Nore, director of the Norfolk Task Force on Domestic Violence; and Michelle Meyer, B.A., director of Haven House in Wayne.

The film "Killing Us Softly" will be shown, followed by presentations on domestic violence and sexual assault.

The meeting is open to the public, both men and women.

Kolls travel to Estes Park following rites at Wayne

Judy Ann Walker, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Lily Walker of Bellevue, and Timothy Donald Koll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Koll of Wayne, exchanged marriage vows Aug. 25 in a 7 p.m. ceremony at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Daniel Monson of Wayne. Decorations included altar bouquets of peach gladiolas, and peach pew bows.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Stollenberg of Millard sang "The Has Chosen You for Me," "Gift of Love," "Wedding Prayer" and "Flesh of My Flesh." Organist was Mrs. Norman Meyer of Wayne.

FOR HER WEDDING day, the bride selected a white gown of tissue paper taffeta in a scalloped semi-cathedral length.

The gown was fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline and fitted sleeves and bodice accented with pearls.

Lace and pearls enhanced her scalloped waltz-length veil, and she carried peach roses and miniature carnations.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents.

MATRON OF HONOR was Mrs. Whitney Holaday of Papillion, and bridesmaids were Lori Horst of Wisner, Kathy Tonies of Lincoln and Jean Bierbaum of Wayne.

Their long lusterlargo gowns were in apricot, fashioned with chiffon diagonal ruffle at the bodices, cap sleeves and round necklines.

They carried bouquets similar to the bride's.

Flower girl and ring bearer were Emily Walker and Jonathan Walker, both of Hixson, Colo.

JOHN KEATING of Phoenix,

Ariz. served as best man. Groomsmen were Stanley Gavner, Dean Carroll and Steve Koll, all of Wayne.

Guests were ushered into the church by Jeff Backstrom of Wayne, Jonathan Ley of Lincoln and Terry Pleas of Omaha.

The men in the wedding party were attired in dark gray pin striped tuxedos with stroller-length coats.

The bride's mother chose a long blue lusterlargo gown, and the bridegroom's mother selected a mint green lusterlargo gown also in floor length.

AN ESTIMATED 200 guests attended a reception at the Wayne Country Club following the ceremony. Gifts were arranged by Jon Walker of Bellevue.

Greeting the guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Walker of Littleton, Colo.

Karen Wittler of Denver cut and served the cake. Wanda Backstrom of Wayne presided, and Shelly Dart of Wayne served punch.

Patli Beiermann of Wayne assisted with the food.

THE NEWLYWEDS traveled to Estes Park, Colo. and are making their home at Wayne.

The bride is employed at the State National Bank and Trust Co. She is a 1980 graduate of Bellevue West High School and a May 1984 graduate of Wayne State College where she received her bachelor of science degree in business administration.

The bridegroom graduated from Wayne-Carroll High School in 1977 and received his bachelor of science degree in industrial management from Wayne State College in 1981.

He is employed at Carhart Lumber Co.

engagements

Albers-Mast

Peggy Jo Albers of Sioux City and Kenneth John Mast of South Sioux City announce their engagement. The couple plans a summer 1985 wedding.

Their parents are Mrs. Bonnie Frerichs of Kingsley, Iowa and the late Alvin Albers, and Harlan and Joanne Mast of South Sioux City.

Miss Albers is a 1978 graduate of Kingsley-Pierson High School and a 1979 graduate of Cedar Rapids School of Hairstyling. Her fiancé graduated from South Sioux City High School in 1980 and will be a December 1984 graduate of Wayne State College. Both are employed by the Chesterman Company.

Finn-Sutherland

Planning a Sept. 14 wedding at the First United Methodist Church in Wayne are Annette Finn and Paul Sutherland, both of Omaha.

Their engagement and approaching marriage have been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Finn of Carroll. Parents of the bridegroom are Dr. and Mrs. Robert Sutherland of Wayne.

Miss Finn is a 1982 graduate of Laurel-Concord High School and a February 1984 graduate of Norfolk Beauty College. She is employed at Hair-Crafters in Omaha.

Her fiancé graduated from Wayne-Carroll High School in 1980 and from Northeast Technical Community College, Norfolk, in 1984. He is working as an electrician for Brace Electrical Contracting Corp. of Omaha.

August ceremony unites Malchow and Bofenkamp

Father Jim Buschelman officiated at the wedding of Jill Malchow and Mark Bofenkamp held Aug. 24 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne.

The bride, daughter of Merlin and Helen Malchow of Carroll, graduated from Winside High School in 1983 and attended Midland Lutheran College and Wayne State College. She presently is a student at the University of Nebraska-Omaha.

The bridegroom, a 1982 graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School, is the son of Gerald and Loann Bofenkamp of Omaha. He attended the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and Wayne State College, and is presently a student at the University of Nebraska-Omaha. He also is employed in Omaha.

The newlyweds traveled to Lake Okoboji following their wedding and are making their first home at 1115 S. 32nd St. in Omaha.

DECORATIONS AT the couple's double ring ceremony included two seven branch candelabras and altar bouquets of peach and blue carnations.

Guests were registered by Stacey Carlsten of Pender and Sheila McPherson of North Bend, and were ushered into the church by Craig Minds, Lee Weande and Jeff Anderson, all of Wayne, and Jeff Loberg of Carroll.

Jon Meierhenry of Hoskins and Sherry Westerhaus of Winside sang "God, a Woman and a Man," "Sunrise, Sunset" and "Wedding Song," accompanied by Vona Sharer of Wayne.

Lighting candles were Sean Neil and Brian Larson, both of Wakefield.

Honor attendants for the couple were Becky Janssen of Carroll and Al Lindsay of Wayne.

Bridesmaids were Lisa Bolenkamp of Omaha, sister of the bridegroom, and Pamela Minds of Wayne, sister of the bride. Groomsmen were Mike Larson of Wakefield and Rich Poehlman of Wayne.

THE BRIDE AND bridegroom were given in marriage by their parents.

For her wedding day, the bride chose a long white gown of chiffon and lace with a semi-cathedral train. The gown was designed with a scooped neckline, a fitted lace bodice trimmed with seed pearls, and short puffed sleeves.

Three tiers of lace ruffles and crystal pleating hemmed the front of the gown, with cascades of ruffles and pleating creating the train.

Her scalloped edged veil was attached to a Juliet cap.

THE BRIDE'S attendants wore floor-length gowns of blue taffeta featuring scooped necklines, fitted bodices and draped skirts edged in Chantilly lace. Hooped underskirts were designed with two-lace flounces accented with satin ribbon.

They carried white and peach roses.

The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo and his attendants wore dinner tuxedos with white jackets and black pants.

Both mothers of the couple chose floor-length chiffon dresses in peach.

WILLARD AND JOAnn Malchow of Laurel and Merlin and Nancy Schultz of Wakefield greeted the 250 guests who attended a reception at the Wakefield Legion Hall following the ceremony.

Gifts were arranged by Beth

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bofenkamp

Schmidt and Kathy Wieseler of Wayne.

Cutting and serving the cake were Ardyce Carlsten of Pender, Carole McPherson of North Bend, Carma Peck of Peterson, Iowa, and Mary Bofenkamp of Cherokee, Iowa.

Jean Allan of Oskaloosa, Iowa and Arvaleen Jade of Pender, Iowa, were married in Dixon, Mo. on Aug. 26, 1944 at the home of her parents, where the couple now resides.

Their attendants were their sister and brother, Mrs. Herb Holtz of Seward and Melvin Jenkins of Carroll.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Carl (Lana) Kalthorn of Omaha, and a grandson Ricky.

Everett Van Cleaves celebrate 40th anniversary at Wakefield

Friends and relatives gathered at Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield on Aug. 19 to help Everett and Mary Jane Van Cleave of Wakefield celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary.

The 280 guests attending the open house reception were registered by granddaughters Andrea Van Cleave of Marshalltown, Iowa and Angie Anderson of Slater, Iowa.

The guests attended from Westside, Marshalltown and Ames, Iowa; Belle Vista, Ark.; Atlanta, Ga.; Solana Beach, Calif.; Luverne, Cold Spring and Cottonwood, Minn.; Torrington, Wyo.; Dixon, Wakefield, Wayne, Lyons, Omaha, Lincoln, Fremont and Ericson.

Hosts for the afternoon were Sharon and Gary Salmon of Wakefield.

DISTRIBUTING programs were grandsons Kirt Anderson of Cottonwood, Minn. and Justin, Anderson of Slater, Iowa.

Daughter Judy Anderson was mistress of ceremonies for the program. Grandchildren sang and helped present a skit, entitled "The House That Everett Built." Daughter Sandi Anderson sang "Always," which was sung at her parents' wedding, and all of the daughters sang "Bless This House."

The program also included an original poem by Florence Pierson. The Rev. Robert Johnson spoke and had prayer, followed with remarks from the honored couple.

THE ANNIVERSARY cake was served by Ann Van Cleave of Marshalltown, Iowa, Jidy Anderson of Cottonwood, Minn., and Sandi Anderson of Slater, Iowa.

Carol Sharpnack of Sheldon, Iowa and Gwen Mann of Belle Vista, Ark. poured. Serving punch were Paige Anderson of Cottonwood, Minn., Desirée Salmon of Wakefield, Jocelyn Van Cleave of Marshalltown, Iowa and Jessica Sharpnack of Sheldon, Iowa.

The reception committee of Salem Lutheran Church assisted in the kitchen.

VAN CLEAVES were married on Aug. 20, 1944 at Salem Lutheran Church, Wakefield, by the Rev. C. W. Wiberg.

They resided at Big Springs, Neb. and Torrington, Wyo. before moving to Wakefield where they operated a business from 1949-53. They resided a total of 30 years in Webster City, Story City and Ames, Iowa, and retired back to their hometown of Wakefield in 1982.

Their children are Terry and Ann Van Cleave; Andrea and Jocelyn of Marshalltown, Iowa; Judy and Atvin Anderson, Paige and Kirt of Cottonwood, Minn.; Sandi Anderson, Angie and Justin of Slater, Iowa; and Carol and Randy Sharpnack, Jessica and Benjamin of Sheldon, Iowa.

Couple marks 40th

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jenkins of Carroll were honored for their 40th wedding anniversary Aug. 26 following the open house at the couple's "retirement home" project in Wakefield.

Guests came from Wayne, Hoskins, Norfolk and Carroll. Cards were played and prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pritchard and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hoeman.

Eastern Star honoring past matrons, patrons

Deanna Brader

Mrs. Larry Brader, the former Deanna Wolfe, was presented a bridal shower Aug. 25 in the Wayne Woman's Club room.

Larry and Deanna were married in Norfolk and are making their home in Garden City, Kan.

Mrs. Neva Lorenzen was in charge of decorating for the bridal fete and made corsages for the honoree, the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Paul Brader, and grandmother Mrs. Louise Brader.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ernest Junck, Mrs. Roy Sommerfeld, Mrs. Billie Kramer, Mrs. Albert Hammer, Mrs. Don Hogan, Mrs. Marvin Brader, Mrs. Herbert Brader and Mrs. Kenneth Brader.

Approximately 40 guests attended from Storm Lake and Morningside, Iowa; Sheldon, Mo.; Norfolk, Oakland and Wayne.

Mrs. Dean Junck of Carroll cut the cake which she also baked and decorated. Mrs. Ernest Junck poured. Pamela Junck registered the guests, and Mrs. Ray Jacobsen of Winside assisted with gifts.

The bride's chosen colors of peach and silver were carried out in the decorations.

Kandace Pile

A miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Kandace Rahn Pile of Norfolk was held Aug. 18 in the Martinsburg Parish Hall with 40 guests attending.

The honoree was presented a corsage in her chosen colors of rose and burgundy. Arlene Schultz, Mary Kay Mahler and Tiffany Harder presented a brief program.

Hostesses were Phyllis Swanson, Jeann Roberts, Clarice Blohm, Arlene Schultz, Mary Kay Mahler, Sally Lubberstedt, Shirley Lanser, Kay Harder, Shirley Book, Arlene Blohm and Marlene Swanson.

Kandace, daughter of Vandel and Jacque Rahn of Allen, was married to John Pile on Aug. 24 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Norfolk.

Laundering pesticide contaminated clothes

"There are now about 35,000 different commercial products to control insects, weeds and fungi. Some of these pesticides can endanger human health."

Those opening remarks were made by Theima Thompson, University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension clothing specialist, during the Northeast Nebraska Field Day program held Aug. 21 at the Northeast Station near Concord.

Thompson's message pertained to precautions to use when laundering pesticide contaminated clothing.

Reading labels and wearing protective clothing such as rubber boots, rubber gloves, goggles and disposable cover-garments are often recommended practices which might not be followed by the farm operator or pesticide applicator.

CLOTHING WHICH does become contaminated requires special handling.

Thompson recommends a separate laundry hamper for pesticide soiled garments and washing them separately from other family wash.

For laundering, use a heavy duty liquid detergent and hot water. Heavily contaminated garments should be pre-treated then run through two or three complete laundering cycles.

Such products as bleaches and ammonia have little effect on removing pesticide residues. Line drying in the open air and sunlight is preferred.

"After laundering contaminated clothes, pesticide residues can remain on the walls of the automatic washer. If this happens, the residues can possibly contaminate the next wash load," says Thompson.

To prevent contamination of future loads of laundry, Thompson recommends cleaning the empty washer by running the complete wash-rinse cycle with the usual amount of detergent.

FURTHER information is found in HEG 81-152, "Laundrying Pesticide Contaminated Clothing," which can be requested from local County Extension Offices.

A study lesson packet, "Pesticide Safety in Clothing Care," is designed for group discussion and also is available at the Extension Office. There is no charge for the educational materials.

A variety of other topics, based on University of Nebraska-Lincoln research, were presented by UN-L extension specialists during Field Day at Concord. Nearly 200 persons from northeast Nebraska attended.

Home in Arizona

BECKY CHRISTENSEN of Elkhorn and Jeff Allen of Wayne were married Aug. 18 at Bethany Lutheran Church in Elkhorn. Parents of the couple are Don and Karen Christensen of Elkhorn, and Larry and Betty Mitchell of Wayne. The bride was employed at Montclair Nursing Home in Omaha.

Church youth sponsoring car wash to compete in Bible Bowl at Denver

Youth of the Wayne Wesleyan Church will sponsor a car wash on Saturday, Sept. 8 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Clarkson Service Station at the corner of 7th and Main.

Proceeds from the car wash will go to the Wesleyan Bible Bowl team to compete in Denver during the Christmas vacation.

Five teenagers, Melvin, Bonnie and Jimmy Main, and Crystal and Jeffrey Green, will represent the 29 churches of the Nebraska District of the Wesleyan Church.

They will be competing against youth from the Western Area of the denomination which encompasses the states from the Mississippi River to the West Coast.

THE WESLEYAN Bible Bowl teams will compete over their knowledge of the Book of Acts.

The first one to buzz on the machine is given an opportunity to answer the question. They compete in 12-minute halves and are allowed 20 seconds for each answer.

The winning team at the area competition will receive scholarships to Bartlesville Wesleyan College in Bartlesville, Okla.

"At least every four years the competition goes one more level. The winning area teams then compete nationally."

Turnovers hurt in 20-10 WSC loss to Morningside

Turnovers proved to be a costly factor for the Wayne State Wildcats as the Morningside College Chiefs turned three WSC miscues into scores on their way to taking a 20-10 victory in the season opener for both teams Saturday night at Roberts Stadium in Sioux City, Iowa.

Wayne coughed up the ball five times throughout the night on three interceptions and a pair of fumbles, leading to a touchdown and two field goals.

MORNINGSIDE THREATENED on the opening kickoff when they took the ball at their own 33 yard-line and marched down to the Wayne 27-yard line before attempting a field goal attempt which went wide with 8:50 remaining in the first half.

Wayne's first possession saw the Cats go to the air, as head Coach Pete Chapman had promised, and complete three passes before losing yardage on a fumble and punting the ball from their own 39-yard line.

The opening score of the game came with 1:28 left in the first quarter when Chiefs quarterback Jim Gibson connected with receiver Kirk Walker on a seven-yard touchdown pass on first and goal. The point-after attempt by Dave Chop was good, making the score 7-0.

Following the kickoff, Wayne's Ed Jochum again went to the air, but was intercepted by Tim McCabe in Wildcat territory at the 33-yard line.

THE CHIEFS scored moments later on second and goal from the WSC 1-yard line with a pass from Gibson to Cole. Chop's second PAT of the night was good, giving Morningside a 14-0.

The Wildcats struck paydirt late in the second quarter, stretching out a scoring drive which began at the Morningside 20-yard line. With second and six from the 7-yard line, Jochum tossed a pass to sophomore tight end Darin Blackburn in the end zone to score with 47 seconds in the half. The extra point attempt by junior Herve Roussel was good, and WSC closed the gap to 14-7 going in at the half.

WAYNE'S NEXT turnover occurred on their first possession of the second half, when the Cats let go of the ball on their own 43-yard line.

Morningside moved the ball to within 15 yards before being stopped by the Wildcat defense on a third and five yard situation, setting up the 30-yard field goal attempt by Chop which was good.

The Cats closed the gap to seven points later in the third quarter when they moved the ball from their own 37-yard line to the Morningside 11-yard line. Wayne's passing efforts were stopped short, and the Wildcat's Roussel booted in a 27-yard field goal to make the score 17-10.

The final scoring of the game came with 2:57 remaining in the third quarter when a pass interception by Morningside led to a 20-yard field goal by Chop.

Wayne neared the end zone during the fourth quarter but were stopped short on an incomplete pass by quarterback Tom Letschuck on fourth and goal at the 6-yard line with less than eight minutes remaining.

STATISTICALLY, it was an even ball game in many ways for both teams. WSC totaled 19 first downs compared to 20 for Morningside.

In the yardage department, the Chiefs came up with 263 total yards, while the Wildcats tallied 224 yards overall.

Chapman's squad set a new school record for passing attempts in a game, going to the air 50 times and completing 20 for 164 yards and three interceptions.

Morningside also relied on the airways, as they tossed 32 passes with 19 completions for 180 yards and one interception.

Wayne's rushing game netted 60 yards on 18 carries, while the Chiefs rushed the ball 47 times for 83 yards.

Penalties also proved to be costly for the Wildcats, as they cut short two WSC scoring drives. Overall, the Cats gave up 82 yards on seven errors while the Chiefs were penalized a total of 149 yards.

Junior wide receiver Matt Hoffmann led the kick returns category for WSC, returning the ball three times for a total of 49 yards. Last year's top kick returner, Sonny Jones, took one kickoff back for 21 yards.

DEFENSIVELY, junior linebacker Tony Shaw turned in a strong performance for the Wildcats, totaling 15 tackles, seven solo and eight assists. Steve Besch, senior linebacker, was close behind with seven solos and seven assists for 14 total tackles and one pass interception.

Chadron State next opponent for Wildcats

The WSC Wildcats will continue the longest football series in the history of the school when they host the Eagles of Chadron State on Saturday, Sept. 8 at Memorial Stadium on the Wayne State campus, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

The 58-game series with Chadron State began in 1912, the same year football became a sport at WSC. CSC has won seven of the last 10 meetings, including last year's coaching debut for Pete Chapman, 10-0.

The Eagles will come into the game off a 17-6 loss to South Dakota Tech on the road in their season opener. Chadron State is under the guidance of a new head coach, Don Turner.

Last year's game saw a defensive battle between the two teams, with the Eagles holding the Wildcats to just 119 yards offensively.

Players in the Chadron line-up to look out for include quarterback Phil Warrick, who completed 20 of 41 passes for 270 yards in the loss to South Dakota Tech. His leading receiver was Duane Smith with eight catches for 110 yards. Top ballcarrier for the Eagles was Shawn Osborn with 74 yards on 21 carries.

Both teams appear to be looking to the air this season, with the Cats tossing the ball 50 times in their opening game, while Chadron put the ball up 41 times.

Coco, Strate named to fill positions at area schools

A pair of familiar faces have been appointed to fill coaching positions at Wakefield Community School and Wayne State College left vacant by the recent resignations of Ernest and Sue Kovar.

Clark Coco, formerly a coach at Wayne State College, was hired to fill the head basketball coaching position at Wakefield, while Marilyn Strate was named as the head women's softball coach at Wayne State College.

The announcements were made by officials at both schools last week.

COCO GRADUATED from Concordia High School in Concordia, Kan. in 1972 and received his bachelor of science degree in health and physical recreation from Kansas State University in Manhattan. He earned his master's degree in health and physical education from Wayne State College.

His coaching and teaching experience include a three-year stint at Glasco High School in Glasco, Kan. where he was a health and physical education instructor and head boys basketball coach. While at the school he compiled a 25-9 overall record from 1977 to 1979.

From 1979 to 1982 he served in the capacity of assistant varsity and head junior varsity coach basketball coach at Wayne State College. His reserve teams earned a record of 29-6 under his guidance.

He was also an instructor in the physical education department at WSC.

Coco went on to become athletic director, head men's basketball coach and instructor at Mount Marty College in Yankton, S.D. from 1982-84.

During the past summer he was affiliated with Bell and Howell of Fort Wayne, Ind. He and his wife Patricia have two children, Megan and Christopher.

"We feel we were very fortunate to have hired someone with Clark's qualifications, experience and successful coaching record, particularly at this late date," said Wakefield Principal Joe Coble. Coco's duties will include both the teaching and head basketball coaching position and an assistant football coaching position in the 1985 season.

STRATE, BEGINNING her second year as head volleyball coach at the college, will head the 1985 edition of the Lady Wildcat softball program.

A 1981 graduate of WSC, she will assume the coaching duties of Sue Kovar, who resigned to accept a teaching position at Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa.

The WSC softball team was 29-16 last spring and finished among the top six teams in the national NAIA tournament in May.

"Marilyn's extensive background in softball and her organizational skills will be a real asset to the program," said WSC Athletic Director Ron Jones. "We have had a high level of success recently in softball and I look for continued success."

A native of Hoskins, Strate lettered four seasons for the Lady Wildcat volleyball and softball teams.

Blue Devils rush to 13-3 victory over South Sioux

The Wayne-Carroll Blue Devils successfully defended their number one pre-season rating in Nebraska Class B football on Friday evening as they won the Cardinals of South Sioux City 13-3 in a game played on the road.

"It was a hard-fought game," said Wayne head-coach Lonnie Ehrhardt. He also noted the fact that the only scoring allowed by Wayne was a field goal in the second quarter.

WAYNE LOOKED powerful during the opening series, which began with a kickoff return to the South Sioux 48-yardline and ended with a 7-yard run by senior running back Kevin Koenig with just under seven minutes remaining in the opening quarter.

The second quarter gave fits to the Wayne team and coaching staff as the Blue Devils turned over the ball two times on fumbles and had a punt blocked. They had a total of five offensive plays in that period.

South Sioux's field goal came on a 29-yard attempt by Jeff Mogensen with 7:02 remaining in the second period.

"The second quarter wasn't the type of football that we are used to playing," said Ehrhardt. He added that while the team

"won" the third and fourth quarters of the ball game, they "lost" in the second period. A Wayne offensive drive early in the third period fell short on fourth and three from the 4-yard line when a sweep by senior quarterback Brad Moore around the far side failed to break through the line.

KOENIG ALSO rambled in for the second touchdown of the evening with 9:38 remaining in the fourth quarter.

A pair of Wayne kick returns proved to be a key factor in the win, as senior running back Steve Overin brought back the game's opening kick 22 yards. Kevin Maty, also a senior running back, returned a punt later in the game to put Wayne in good scoring position.

Wayne totaled 141 yards offensively, all coming on the ground, while South Sioux went to the air for 47 of their 58 total yards. Quarterback Moore tossed the ball a total of two times, both falling incomplete.

Both teams gave up the ball twice on turnovers. Wayne on a pair of fumbles and South Sioux City on two pass interceptions. Individually for Wayne, Kevin Koenig led the rushing attack with 91 yards on 20 carries, while Steve Overin added 57 yards on 14 attempts.

South Sioux's leading ground gainer was Darwin Johnson, who had 49 yards on 14 carries before leaving the game with a knee injury in the fourth quarter.

A trio of strong upperclassmen were instrumental to Wayne's defensive performance. They included Kevin Koenig with 13 tackles, senior guard Chris Wieseler and junior guard Jon McCright with 12 tackles each and senior center Tim Book with 10 tackles.

Schwarz, Willoughby inductees into WSC Hall of Fame

The two newest additions to the Wayne State College Athletic Hall of Fame span varied programs and eras in the school's history.

The two new Hall of Famers, Clarence Schwarz of South Sioux City, a member of the Class of 1930, and G.I. Willoughby, of Dallas, Texas, from the Class of 1964, graduated from WSC 34 years apart and each left their athletic mark upon Wayne State in a different manner.

The pair of athletic achievers will be inducted at a Wayne State banquet Friday evening, Sept. 7.

Schwarz competed in sports at WSC during the 1920's nine times and earned nine letters besides garnering all-conference honors. He graduated after only three school years as he also attended summer school.

Willoughby, on the other hand, had no athletics to take part in during the early 1960's. So she started them for women several years later and became a successful coach.

Schwarz

CLARENCE SCHWARZ first attended WSC for two years in 1925-26 and 1926-27. After two years of teaching and coaching basketball and track at Tripp, S.D. for an annual salary of $1,200, he returned to Wayne State and graduated in 1930.

Willoughby

As an athlete, he participated in football, basketball and track all three years and lettered each time. In the 1929-30 school year, he was an all-conference fullback after moving to the position from end, and basketball center. In track he was a shot putter who apparently was undefeated during his final season.

"I just can't remember ever getting beat in the shot put," he recalled.

After graduation, Clarence coached, taught and administered for the next 40 years. He coached and taught at Pender, Laurel and South Sioux City and was also superintendent of schools at Pender, Dakota City and South Sioux City. In his second season at Pender he led the football team to an undefeated season.

"Back then you coached all three sports," he said. "And you didn't have any assistant coaches, either."

Clarence and his wife, Clara, married in 1932, the year he went to the first Los Angeles Olympic Games, at which he can recall getting a season ticket to the games for only $22. The Schwarzes have one son, Steve, who lives in Homer.

After 42 years in the education field, Schwarz is now retired.

G.I. WILLOUGHBY was a pioneer in northeast Nebraska women's sports in the late 1960's and early 1970's.

"When I came to Wayne State College in 1968, there really wasn't such a thing as women's intercollegiate athletics as we know them today," she said. "However, within a week of being on campus, I was approached by several women students who wanted to play basketball, and not intramurals."

Willoughby, who'll be only the second woman in the WSC Hall of Fame, said many of the women who wanted to play came from highly-organized high school programs in Iowa. Since competitive sports were not available to her, she had a strong desire to try to provide these women with the opportunities they were missing.

Hard work and some fund raising in Wayne helped the team get its start. Gradually over the years the college provided some financial help and other support. The basketball team, however, still had a great deal of success. The first year, 1968-69, WSC was second in the Midwest AAU Tournament. The next two seasons, WSC won the tourney.

In 1972, the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (IAIWA) was formed. In the following six seasons, the Willoughby-led WSC teams were first or second in the Nebraska IAIWA tournament each year. In her last season at Wayne State, the women's cage team went 25-7 and won the only Central States Intercollegiate Conference title ever in the sport.

In all, her basketball teams at Wayne State were 156-60. In softball, her squads were 91-44 including the 1974 team that was 24-4 and was third in the national IAIWA Women's College World Series. That gives her an astounding 247-104 record at WSC for a winning percentage of .704.

She coached at Missouri Southern following her years at Wayne State, again racking up winning records in both basketball and softball.

G.I. Willoughby took a career change in January of 1982 when she went to work for Southland Life Insurance in Dallas, Texas. She is now Supervisor for the Group Claims Department.

"What seems ironic to me," she said, "is that the management qualifications needed for this position were many of the same skills I developed while I was coaching."

The addition of Schwarz and Willoughby to the Wayne State Hall of Fame brings the total to 33 members.

W-C carriers host opener with Cardinals in dual meet

The Wayne-Carroll cross country team started its 1984 season on Tuesday hosting a dual versus South Sioux City at the Wayne Country Club.

The winning time was clocked by Scott Krel of South Sioux City with 17:24 on the 5,000 meter course. The top five places in the dual were won by South Sioux.

The top runner for Wayne was lone senior Chris Hillier, who came in with a time of 18:12.

Other Wayne racers finishing in order were Kurt Runestad, 18:42; Matt Hillier, 18:48; Tim Griess, 19:37; and Ted Lohrborg, 19:58.

Two other Wayne runners, Jeff Simpson with a time of 20:40 and David Ellis with a time of 21:57, completed the course but were not part of the varsity scoring.

Coach Harold Maciejewski was pleased with his team's performance so early in the year, stating "It was a good start for our team, considering the number of young members we have." He added that he hopes the early season start will give his team an idea of where they stand and how much work has to be done as the season progresses. The team's next meet will be this Saturday, Sept. 8 when they participate in the Wisner Invitational at the Beemer Indian Trails Golf Course.

Strong opening by Beemer, fumbles tame Wildcats 43-14

Going up against a top-rated team like Beemer isn't the way most football coaches would like to begin their season.

For the Winside Wildcats and Coach Mark Freberg, Beemer proved to be a little too much to handle, as the Bobcats took a 43-14 decision over Winside in the season premiere for both teams on Friday night.

"Beemer is a tough game," said Freberg. "It's the kind you hate to lose, but I know our team will come back."

Scoring came fast and furious for Beemer in the first quarter, as they rattled off 23 points in the opening moments to move to an early lead which they never gave up.

"All but one of Beemer's touchdowns came off fumbles which we gave up," Freberg explained, adding that Winside lost the ball deep in their own territory on their first two possessions due to fumbles and a third time on an interception to start the game.

BALL HANDLING mistakes were costly for the Wildcats, as they coughed up the ball seven times on five fumbles and two interceptions, several of which led to successful Beemer scoring drives.

Down by a score of 29-0 at the half, Winside made some scoring noise of their own, capitalizing on a pair of Beemer fumbles to score two quick touchdowns in the third quarter to close the gap to 29-14.

Quarterback Doug Mundil scampered into the endzone on a short run for Winside's first score of the game after taking possession of the ball around the 20-yard line on the first of two Beemer fumbles. Mundil replaced Jeff Carstens as the signal caller in the second half.

Moments later Mundil connected with Chris Jorgensen on a 45-yard pass play for the night's second touchdown.

Beemer added eight points to close out the third quarter and six more in the final period to finish out the scoring.

LINEMAN JEFF Thies led the Wildcat defensive unit with 18 tackles, backed up by Doug Mundil with 14 and Mike Jaeger with 11 tackles.

Freberg said that Beemer's defensive line "is tremendously tough, and caused us grief the whole night." They also had a quarterback who was able to run their option offense very well, Freberg said, and was able to take control of the team on the field.

"It was a game of breaks, breaks that we gave them and they were able to use to their advantage," commented Freberg. "We had some assignments that were missed, and a few players in new positions. The team was still making adjustments to them in practice." He added that his team "just got down early, and wasn't able to come back."

Winside will be on the road this coming Friday, Sept. 7, when they travel to Walthill to take on the Bluejays in a Lewis and Clark Conference game.

Centennial field turns out for Wayne races

An appropriate field of 100 runners was on hand for the Wayne Centennial 10 kilometer road race and 1.5 mile fun run on Saturday, Sept. 1.

Norfolk runner Gregg Uecker turned in the top performance in the 10 kilometer run with a time of 33:23, winning both the men's overall and 19-24 age group title. Tonya Angell, also of Norfolk, claimed the women's overall title and first place in the 18 and under age group with a time of 43:25.

In the 1.5 mile fun run, Delbert Christensen of Sioux City placed first with a time of 8:27 in the men's division. Trudy Samuelson of Creighton was the first woman to cross the finish line clocking a time of 9:31.

Among the top local finishers was Wayne's Sid Hillier who turned in a time of 38:42 in the men's 40 to 44 division of the 10 kilometer road race, a personal best; Greg DeNaeyer, also of Wayne, clocked a time of 10:18 in his 14 and under age group of the 1.5 mile fun run.

"We had a good field for both races," said

Pat Gross, one of the organizers of the event. The winning time (33:23) in the 10 kilometer road race by very good-by-road race standards, according to Gross, and he added that the runners expressed their appreciation for the scenic but difficult, hilly course.

He also extended thanks to the many volunteers that gave help throughout the organization of the runs and the race day itself.

Allen Eagles use ground game to win debut over Wynot

The Allen Eagles, under the direction of first year head Coach Dave Uldrich, came out on top in their season debut last Friday night by taking a 20-0 victory over Wynot at home.

Combining a team performance of 144 yards through the air and 60 yards on the ground, Allen scored a trio of touchdowns to score the win, while holding Wynot to just two points in the opening quarter of play.

"It was a good game offensively for our team," said Uldrich. While the Eagles caught only four of 16 pass attempts, Uldrich feels that once his receivers start catching the ball better, the team's passing game will become much more effective.

WYNOT DREW first blood in the game, taking advantage of a poor snap on the punt during Allen's first possession and downing it in the endzone for a safety.

That was the only scoring noise heard from the Wynot team for the remainder of the game as Allen took control with a touchdown later in the quarter and rolled on to the 20-2 win.

Starting quarterback Brian Hansen punched through the line on a short one-yard run for the first score after the Eagles recovered a Wynot fumble on the 20-yard line.

During the third quarter, Allen sustained their longest drive of the night, a 60-yard march which was capped by a 8-yard run by running back Shawn Mahler.

Mahler scored the final touchdown of the game as well in the fourth quarter on a 3-yard run set up of a pass interception by Joey Kwankin. Rainer Wichern, the Eagle's extra point kicker, was two-for-three on the night.

Uldrich was pleased with both the defensive play of his team. "Brian Hansen, Shawn Mahler and Shane Farenholtz all had good games offensively," Uldrich commented.

ON DEFENSE, Jay Jones led the attack with 17 total tackles, backed up by Steve Jones with 13 tackles a broken-up pass and an interception. Shawn Mahler totaled 11 tackles on the defensive side of the board, and David Heckathorn added 12 tackles and a fumble recovery which led to an Eagle score.

"Our defensive unit was really tough and played a superb game," Uldrich said. They were able to keep Wynot out of scoring range for most of the evening, as they never got closer than the 20-yard line following their safety.

"Jay Jones proved to be the mainstay of the defense for us in this game," Uldrich said. He was also pleased with the defensive performance of Heckathorn, who "played better than we had expected and turned in an exceptional performance."

Penalties hurt a number of Eagle scoring drives, as the team was penalized a total of 120 yards. A 60-yard touchdown run by Shawn Mahler was called back at the start of the third quarter on a clipping call, while two other scoring drives were stalled on a pair of holding calls in the second quarter.

Allen will go on the road for their next game, when they face Newcastle tomorrow (Friday) night.

LAUREL'S DANEEN Rohde (10) bumps the ball to her teammates during Tuesday's opening set with Wausa.

Laurel evens season mark at 2-2

The Laurel Bears volleyball team completed its opening four game stretch with a 2-2 record following a fourth place finish at the Pender Tournament over the weekend and a win over Wausa on their home court Tuesday night.

Coach Carol Manganaro's team started off with a 15-6, 15-13 win over Walthill in the opening round of the Pender tourney.

Scoring was led by Renee Vanderheiden with 11-11 serves for nine points. Spiking was a weak point for the Bears, as they were only able to knock out a total of 11 team spikes in the two games.

"It was the first time these girls had run the 6-2, and they weren't sure of who they were playing next to," said Manganaro. "We had trouble with bad passes, and our communication on the court was poor."

In second round action, Laurel fell to eventual champion Pender by scores of 15-0, 16-14.

"The girls just weren't mentally prepared in the opening set against Pender," Manganaro said. In the second set, the score was led 14-1 before a pair of out-of-bounds serves by the Bears gave Pender the chance to take the win.

"If we had been able to take that set, the momentum would have been in our favor, and the outcome of the tourney might have been a lot different."

IN THE consolation round, Laurel fell in two close sets to Pender, 15-13 and 15-10.

"I was unhappy with our passing, along with our low serving percentage," Manganaro said. The team was 82 percent from the service line, and Manganaro stated that in order for a team to win, they must serve at least 90 percent from the line.

"When we needed to make the serves, we just weren't able to." The Bears were able to bounce back in regular season action on Tuesday night and take an easy 15-2, 15-6 win over visiting Wausa.

Daneen Rohde was the top server with 11 for 11 for six points, while Michelle Joslin was 8-8 also for six points. Wendy Robson and Daneen Rohde were leading spikers on the night, with Robson going 10-12 with two aces spikes, and Rohde hitting down 7 of 7 with three aces.

The setting job was handled by Donna Sherry who was good on 40 of 45 attempts.

"We were pleased with the play of the team, they began with a good, solid bump set spike which set the tone of the game and gave them momentum," Manganaro said. The team also looked more organized on the court and seemed to feel more comfortable.

The reserve team was unable to outlast Wausa in three sets, falling 15-7, 10-15 and 8-15. The freshman team also lost by scores of 4-11, 11-9 and 10-12.

Wildcats downed by Trojans, Tigers

The Winside Wildcat volleyball team, under the direction of first year coach Jill Stenwall suffered a pair of setbacks in their opening games against Wakefield and Osmond in games played last Thursday and Tuesday evening.

IN THEIR SEASON opener, the Wildcats gave up two hard fought sets to Wakefield by scores of 15-17 and 12-15.

Despite the loss, Stenwall was pleased with her team's performance, commenting that the team "moved well on the floor", and did well with the basics.

The junior varsity team took a win from their hosts with set scores of 15-11, 6-15 and 15-8, while the freshman team fell in three games, 7-11, 11-0 and 12-14.

Against Osmond, the Wildcats were unable to maintain their play and fell in two sets, 15-7 and 15-3.

SCORING was led by Tracy Topp with three points and Leah Jensen and Christie Thies with two points each.

Trisha Topp led the spiking department with 5-7 spikes and Kerri Leighton was the top setter with 15 good sets in 18 attempts.

In reserve play, Winside came up with their second win, taking three sets in scores of 12-15, 15-6 and 16-14.

The frosh fell in three games, 11-5, 5-11 and 1-11.

"We weren't pleased with the team's performance in the game against Osmond," said Stenwall. She added that the team didn't move nearly as well as against Wakefield and was missing their top spiker as well.

WSC Lady Cats home opener tonight

The Wayne State College Lady Wildcat volleyball team will open its 1984 season this evening (Thursday) as it plays host to Concordia College in both varsity and junior varsity action set to start at 6:30 p.m. in Rice Auditorium.

Under the direction of second-year Coach Marilyn Strate, the Lady Cats will be coming off a 21-19 season in 1983 that saw them finish fifth in the Central States intercollegiate conference race.

Strate is uncertain about her starting six on the court, explaining that "there are a lot of good players to choose from," and that her decision won't be made until closer to game time.

Top returners among the 20-member squad include a trio of seniors, Mary Kay Becker, Beth Erickson, and Andrea Jones. All three lettered on last year's team and were among the statistical leaders for the season.

"They are excellent motivators and will provide good leadership," commented Strate.

She added that junior Pam Gogan and sophomore Diana Asay will be strong blockers and hitters for the Lady Cats. Expected to help out in the setting department are juniors Jill Zeiss, Sue Walter and Linda Bode, along with sophomore Janelle Moline.

The Lady Wildcats team roster includes seniors Mary Kay Becker, Norfolk; Beth Erickson, Sioux City, Iowa; Andrea Jones, Omaha; Michella Esters, Omaha.

Juniors Pam Gogan, Arcadia; Linda Bode, Raeville; Jill Zeiss, Wayne; Sue Walter, Norfolk.

Sophomores Nataie Fontenelle, Omaha; Mary Cech, Howells; Laura Irwin, Aurora; Missy Stoltenberg, Wayne; Janelle Moline, Manson, Iowa; Deb Prenger, Wayne; Diana Asay, Columbus.

Freshmen Kris Whittier, Sioux City, Iowa; Michele Chapman, Fremont; Karen Devine, Broken Bow; Kelly Zierke, Pierce; Paula Dalesh, Pierce.

Jackie Bode of Raeville is serving as assistant coach to the Lady Wildcat volleyball program.

The junior varsity match will begin at 6:30 p.m., followed by the varsity match at approximately 7:30 p.m.

Trophies will be presented to the top four finishing teams, and medals to members of the championship team. Serving as tournament chairmen are Daniel Olfen and Jim Kluck.

Admission will be $2 for adults and 75 cents for high school students and younger.

A total of eight teams will participate in the single elimination tourney. Teams currently registered to compete include Schuyler, Howells, Wayne, David City Public and David City, St. Mary's.

Play begins at 10 a.m. on Saturday with the finals scheduled to start at 5 p.m.

— Schuyler 7th grade vs. David City, Public, 10 a.m.

— Howells 7th grade vs. St. Mary's, 11 a.m.

— Howells 8th grade vs. Wayne 7th grade, 12 noon.

— Wayne 8th grade vs. Schuyler 8th grade, 1 p.m.

Blue Devils bounce back for win

The Wayne-Carroll High School volleyball team evened their season at 1-1 following an opening loss to Wisner-Pilger in the Beemer Invitational and a win over Schuyler on the road.

The Blue Devil netters opened their season on a disappointing note, dropping a two game set to Wisner-Pilger in the opening round of the Beemer Invitational on Thursday, Aug. 30.

SCORES OF THE sets were 15-4 and 15-7 in favor of Wisner-Pilger. Lisa Jacobsen was the top scorer in Wayne's effort, making good 4-5 serves from the line.

Karen Longe was 4 of 6 at the net in spiking with two ace hits. Kallette Frevert led the setting category with 11 good sets on 13 attempts.

"We definitely were not as good as we expected to be in the season opener," said head Coach Mavis Dalton. She said that the team had set goals both last year and this year, and the team didn't play up to those set goals in the game against Wisner-Pilger.

Wayne was able to bounce back on Tuesday night when they outlasted the Schuyler varsity in three sets, 4-15, 15-12 and 15-8.

The Blue Devils were down 7-11 in the second set before turning the tables and coming back to take the 15-12 win and eventually the match.

"We started the games against Schuyler much like we did against Wisner-Pilger, but in the second set the team just got some spark in it and they took off," commented head Coach Mavis Dalton.

Sonya Skokan was the top server in the win, going 12-15 from the serving line for 11 points.

UP AT THE NET — Winside's Kay Meierhenry (44) and Wakefield's Kristi Miller (2) face off.

Young Trojans take win, loss at home

The Wakefield Trojans tasted both victory and defeat in their first two contests of the season as they won their opening game over Winside last week, and fell to a tough Emerson-Hubbard squad on Tuesday night, both on their home court.

The Trojans had to get by a scrappy Winside team in order to notch their opening win of the season on Thursday, Aug. 30 in Wakefield.

WAKEFIELD DOWNED the Winside Wildcats in two sets by scores of 17-15 and 15-12. The Trojans came from a 15-14 deficit in the first game and score three straight points by Darla Hartman to take the win.

In the second game, the lead seasaved back and forth several times before Wakefield was able to break a 12-12 tie on three points by Kristi Miller and score the win.

Stephanie Torczon was the leading scorer on the night for the Trojans, scoring 14 points on 17 serve attempts with six ace serves. Julie Oswald added nine points on 10 attempts with four aces, and Darla Hartman was 6-6 with five ace serves.

Hitting was led by Kristal Clay, going 7-9 with four kills and Ronnie Starzl with 3 good spikes on five attempts; one for an ace.

Julie Oswald turned in a sterling setting performance with 11 good sets in as many tries.

SPIKING THE BALL for Wayne were seniors Paula Koplin with 14 of 17 spikes for three aces and Karen Longe going 14-21 with eight ace spikes.

Lisa Jacobsen turned in a "solid all-around performance on the floor", according to Dalton, and was the team's leading setter with 25 good sets on 28 attempts.

"We're really pleased with the way the girls played," Dalton said. "The team went out there and proved that they could come back when they were down."

In reserve action, the Blue Devils were able to take the win with score of 5-15, 15-9 and 15-11.

The freshman squad was unable to come away with a win, falling 16-18, 15-7 and 17-19.

Wayne's next action will be on Saturday, Sept. 8 at the North Bend Invitational. The Blue Devils are set to take on David City Aquinas in their opening round game, beginning at 1 p.m.

Allen RAN into trouble in their second game on Saturday, as they fell in two sets to Homer, 15-7 and 15-3.

"Everything that could possibly go wrong, did," Troth said. He said that his team was "mentally unprepared" and that "Homer is a good team, but we gave them every opportunity."

The Eagles were held to only nine serve attempts in the two sets, and three were bad serves.

The loss to Homer put Allen in the consolation finals against Laurel, which the Eagles won in two sets, 15-13, 15-10.

LeAnn McDonald topped serving with 10-10 and two ace serves, while Tammy Kavanaugh served up 10 for 12 with a pair of aces. Denise Magnuson was 8-8 with one ace serve.

Spiking was led by Mary Oswald who was 14-17 at the net with 7 ace spikes.

Kavanaugh and Heckathorn were again the top setters with Kavanaugh setting up 24-25 with six for kills, and Heckathorn was 14 for 14 with six for kills.

Troth said he was concerned about the emotional state of his team after the loss to Homer, but that the girls "came back and got enthused, which showed a lot about their character."

Homer went on to lose in the finals to Pender, 15-10, 15-8. Allen's next action will be Tuesday, Sept. 11 at Ponca.

"CONSIDERING OUR youth, we played very well," said Coach Mary Schroeder. "All of our players were very tight and pumped up for the opening game."

She added that the team's passing performance was good, and that the other areas will come along throughout the season.

The Trojans record evened at 1-1 when they lost to a visiting Emerson-Hubbard team by scores of 15-5, 4-15 and 12-15 on Tuesday.

Serving was a highlight for the team despite the loss, led by Kristal Clay with 16-18 on serves and eight aces. Stephanie Torczon added 9-11 from the service line for five aces and Julie Oswald was 9-10 with two aces.

Torczon was also a top setter for the team, making good on 19-24 attempts for 11 ace sets.

"We let down a lot in the second game, our passing just fell apart," said Coach Mary Schroeder. "It was a let down of fundamentals, and we weren't able to get the ball to the setters when we needed to. We lost the momentum in the third and final set, and weren't able to get it back."

Wakefield will see action again tonight (Thursday) when they travel to Lyons.

Wakefield convincing in 34-8 win

The Trojans of Wakefield used a strong combination of rushing and passing to score five touchdowns on their way to a 34-8 win over Hartington in the opening game of the 1984 eight-man football season.

Wakefield notched 177 yards in the air and 116 on the ground to total 293 yards offensively. Hartington kept the ball on the ground almost the entire game, grinding out 218 yards and connecting on two passes for an additional six yards.

SCORING BEGAN for the Trojans on the opening kickoff when Wakefield moved the ball down the field on five plays before quarterback Brian Soderberg hit receiver Jason Erb on a 43-yard pass for a touchdown. The run for the two-point conversion was no good, giving Wakefield an early 6-0 lead.

Hartington marched back down the field on the ensuing kickoff, before Wakefield's defensive unit dug in their heels and held the Wildcats on downs at the 2-yard line.

Following a Wakefield punt, Hartington gave up the ball on their only fumble of the game and the Trojans drove down the field in six plays, including a 38-yard pass from Soderberg to Mark Kubik. The drive was capped with a 11-yard run by Brad Lund for the touchdown.

The third score of the half came moments later when Hartington turned the ball over on downs and Wakefield's Soderberg tossed another pass, this time for 33 yards, to Kubik. John Halverson made good on the two point conversion run, moving the score to 20-0 at halftime.

QUARTERBACK Brian Soderberg kept the ball to himself on the next touchdown, rolling into the endzone from 12 yards out to close out a 32-yard series. The rushing attempt for the point after was no good, leaving the score at 26-0.

Hartington made their mark on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter when running back John Bardstad scored from one yard out. The run for the point after by quarterback Mike Flakus was good.

Wakefield added their final points on a one yard run by Brad Lund to close out a 50-yard, eight play drive. Brian Soderberg converted on the two point attempt to give the Trojans their final margin.

Leading the Wakefield rushing attack was Soderberg, who carried the ball 12 times for 88 total yards. Brad Lund also rushed the ball 12 times for a total of 65 yards.

Mark Kubik was the top receiver, catching a pair of passes for 71 yards and one touchdown, while Jason Erb landed a touchdown pass for 43 yards.

Defensively, Soderberg topped the tackle charts with 17 tackles, including three for a loss of six yards. Mark Lundahl and Brad Lund each racked up a dozen tackles, with Hartington for losses of eight and seven yards respectively.

"Our pass coverage was excellent, we were able to knock down the ball and intercept it," said head Coach Dennis Wilbur. The Trojans had some trouble stopping the Wildcats running attack in the first half, but "we stopped it when we had too," Wilbur said.

Wilbur cited the play of quarterback Brian Soderberg, who had over 200 yards combined in the game along with defensive player Mark Lundahl and offensive lineman Craig Dolph. "Our defensive backfield also turned in a good performance for us."

The Trojans will host Coleridge tomorrow night (Friday), a game which Wilbur expects to be a tough one for his team. "Our team may be a little larger than Coleridge, but they always play a very tough game."

Laurel Bears dropped by Randolph 27-0

The Laurel Bears suffered a setback in their season opener when they fell to the Randolph Cardinals 27-0 on their home field in Laurel last Friday night.

Laurel turned the ball over four times on fumbles throughout the night, errors which proved to be costly as the scoreboard later indicated.

"Our mistakes killed us," said head Coach Kurt Buckwalter. "We had our chances to score early in the game and didn't take advantage of them."

BOTH TEAMS went scoreless in the initial quarter before Randolph led loose with a pair of touchdowns in the second period to jump to a 14-0 lead at the half.

Their first scoring drive was set up by an interception of a Laurel pass at the Bear's 33-yard line and capped with an 8-yard run to the endzone.

The big play of the night occurred with just under four minutes to play, when Randolph recovered a Laurel fumble and connected on a 60-yard pass for their second score.

In the second half, Randolph came up with a 2-yard touchdown run to end a drive from the Laurel 46-yard line that lasted four plays. The final score came late in the fourth quarter on a 14-yard run.

The Bears managed to come up with over 100 yards rushing on 36 carries. Rushing was led by Mike Granquist, who tallied 53 yards on the night and David Cardell with 27 yards on the ground.

Laurel will look to even their record this coming Friday, Sept. 7 when they host Osmond in a game involving the Clark Division of the Lewis and Clark Conference.

DeSoto Refuge open to deer hunters

Portions of the DeSoto National Wildlife Refuge will again be open to Iowa and Nebraska archery deer hunters this fall. The refuge is located approximately six miles west of Missouri Valley, Iowa and six miles east of Blair on U.S. Highway 30. The announcement comes from Refuge Manager George Gage.

The area open to Nebraska hunters is comprised primarily of farm lands on the west side of the Missouri River and is the same as that opened in recent years. The area will be open to archery hunters from Sept. 15 through Nov. 9 and opens again from Nov. 19 through Dec. 31, after the state firearms deer season.

The area open to Iowa hunters is located in the southeast portion of the refuge in the vicinity of Nobles Lake and is the same as that opened in previous years. The area will be open to archery hunters from Oct. 6 through Nov. 30.

Ulliyot to speak at Sioux City

Dr. Joan Ulliyot, a world-ranked distance runner and author of several books on running, will visit Sioux City Thursday through Saturday, Sept. 13-15, to present a program and runners clinic and run in the annual Woodbury Medical Society's Medic Road Race and Fun Run.

Ulliyot, an authority on sports medicine and women's athletic and health concerns, will present the program "Exercise and Health" on Thursday, Sept. 13 at 7:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn. The program is open to the public free of charge.

The physician-runner will conduct a runners' clinic free to the public on Friday, Sept. 14 at 3 p.m. at the Hoover Junior High School track. Area runners and joggers are encouraged to attend.

Golf scramble promises surprises

Female escorts, speed records and a variety of surprises will be a part of a golf scramble being held at the Wayne Country Club this Sunday, Sept. 9 as a fund raiser for the Wayne State College's Wildcat basketball trip to Europe.

According to Rick Weaver, head basketball coach of the Wildcat program, there are currently a total of 178 participants and 50 completed teams registered for the scramble, but there is still room for anyone interested. Play begins at 9 a.m.

The entry fee of $25 includes green fees, beverages and lunch. Those interested can contact Weaver at 375-2200, ext. 311 to register or for more information. Along with the registered golfers, approximately 30 members of the Wildcat basketball team, coaching and training staff will be on hand to assist the golfers. Each scramble team will be provided with a WSC female escort-marshall for their round of golf.

The top five teams will receive prizes and there will be at least two pin prizes given away per hole.

At the close of the day, WCC pro Rudy Froeschle will attempt to set a speed record by playing a full nine hole round of golf in 15 minutes. He will be assisted by members of the Wildcat basketball team, who will drive the cart, spot the ball and caddy.

Weaver promises a variety of unique features at the golf scramble to make the event fun for all participating and viewing.

Soccer Club kicks off season at tourney

The Wayne Soccer Club will head into its second year of action when members participate in an invitational tournament hosted by the Siouxland Soccer Association and First Federal Savings Friday through Sunday, Sept. 7-9.

Play in the tourney begins on Friday evening at Headrid Park, with the semi-finals set for noon on Sunday and the championship slated to begin at 3:30 p.m. A total of 15 teams in three divisions are currently registered to compete.

Those teams in the college division include Wayne State, the University of Nebraska-Omaha, Westmar College, Morrisville College and Des Moines.

Those teams making up the second division include IBP, Des Moines, Bascom Rockets, Mitchell, S.D., and El Nacional, while the third division teams are the Rowdies, Siouxland Merchants, Guadalajara, the Des Moines Celtics and Sioux Falls All-Stars.

Exhibition games by high school and women's soccer teams will also be on tap. Admission for the tournament events is free and the public is invited to attend.

1984 fall recreation program

SHOPPERS

Convenient parking makes shopping a pleasure

Shopping is easier and more enjoyable when parking's not a problem. That's why local merchants provide plenty of "no-hassle" parking areas, conveniently located near store entrances. You use less time searching for a parking space and walking to and from your car, so you have more time to shop. It's another of the many ways your local merchants serve you better.

When you shop locally, everyone benefits. It's more convenient so you save gas and time. You get friendly, knowledgeable service because local merchants "know" you and appreciate your business. They depend on you to keep their stores going strong. And some of what you spend goes back into the community in the form of taxes and charitable contributions paid by the merchants.

Remember...

Your money buys more when you shop at a local store. It's good for you, good for us, good for the community.

Treat trees before winter hits

Insects that appear in some trees in the fall should be treated before the insects overwinter or do damage now, according to a University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension entomologist.

"Fall webworms are making their annual appearance on many fruit and shade trees throughout the state," Fred Baxendale said. "While all species of trees except conifers are being attacked, cottonwoods seem to be the hardest hit this year."

Baxendale also noted that lace bugs, which commonly damage the foliage of deciduous trees including sycamore, hackberry, linden, redbud, oak, apple and walnut, will be wintering on host trees. The pests occasionally attack broad-leaf evergreens such as rhododendron and azalea.

Webworms (pale yellow, fuzzy, black-spotted larvae about one inch long when mature), like tent caterpillars, are gregarious and produce webbing, the specialist said. To correctly identify the problem pest, he said, while tent caterpillar "nests" are always built around twig crotches, while those of the fall webworm enclose the tips of branches. Also, the fall webworm is a mid-to-late season pest, the tent caterpillar is active during the spring, disappearing around June 1.

THE INSECT is readily controlled, the specialist said. The simplest form of control is to strip the branches of both worms and webbing. On larger trees it is best to try to hit them with a spray — usually this will take a hose end sprayer and high water pressure.

"Some homeowners go to the extreme of cutting branches covered with the insects and their webbing, but this is unnecessary and destructive, as they are easily controlled with sprays," he said.

Specific insecticides and suggested rates for control with products containing Sevin, malathion, diazinon or methoxychlor are available at Extension offices. On fruit trees, maintaining a regular fruit tree spray schedule will prevent troubles with webworms, Baxendale said. Unlike the webworm, which can cause damage this fall, the lace bug will overwinter on host trees, and both adults and nymphs will feed on new leaves in the spring. But Baxendale said injury by these insects is rarely serious.

Adult lace bugs are 1/8 inch long, flattened and rectangular in shape with thin, intricately patterned, lacy wings. Lace bug nymphs are flat and oval with tiny spines projecting from the body in all directions.

ADULTS overwinter on host trees, hiding in cracks and crevices on the branches and trunk. They emerge in the spring at the time leaves are unfolding and deposit eggs on the undersides of leaves. Nymphs and adults feed by inserting their piercing and sucking mouthparts into leaves and withdrawing plant sap.

"Feeding damage is visible from above as small, round, yellow spots," Baxendale said. "Undersides of leaves may become covered with fecal spots and cast skins, particularly when infestations are severe."

While injury is rarely serious, he said entire leaves may be completely discolored and lose much of their ability to function. When chemical control is necessary, products containing diazinon, Orthene or Sevin are recommended. Repeated applications at 10- to 14-day intervals may be necessary to maintain effective control, Baxendale said.

Irrigation is still critically needed

Farmers were urged not to shut down their irrigation operation too soon at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Cooperative Extension Service Agricultural Climate Situation Committee meeting Aug. 27.

DeLynn Hay, UNL extension specialist — water and irrigation, told the committee that many farmers are shutting down their irrigation operation due to the rainfall received last week. "The importance of that last irrigation cannot be overstressed," he said. "One extra irrigation could mean several bushels per acre difference in crop yield."

are just filling, he said, and water is a critical concern at that point. "The plants need the moisture to develop fully."

Late planted corn and sorghum fields should also be checked for moisture. Any rainfall received last week has already been used by the plants, he said.

Rainfall totals for the week ending Aug. 24 ranged from zero in the extreme southwest corner of the state to an average of one inch or slightly more over the eastern third of the state, with the exception of less than half an inch along the Missouri River, according to Ralph Neild, UNL extension climatologist.

Potential evapotranspiration for the same period was greatest in the southwest, over two inches at five reporting locations, and 1 1/2 inch or more over the rest of the state, he said.

Hay said a NebGuide, "Predicting the Last Irrigation," is available from local extension offices.

PENNYCRESS is bound to "crop up" in newly planted winter wheat and alfalfa if farmers do not take precautions before planting. John Furrer, UNL extension weeds specialist told the committee. Furrer advised farmers to delay planting until near the end of the optimum dates for their area if pennygrass is expected to be a problem.

He also urged the use of certified seed and tilling just prior to planting if pennygrass infestations already exist.

Fred Baxendale, UNL extension entomologist, told the Ag Climate Committee that grasshoppers are posing a problem in many areas of the state.

"We have reports to indicate the hoppers are penetrating three to four rows into corn fields and have created some damage in soybeans," he said. "High hopper infestations can also pose a very real problem for winter wheat."

The spider mite problem seems to be lessening, he said, although he warned that spider mites can come back in later planted fields if air temperatures stay in the upper 90s to 100 degrees.

Both short and long range weather forecasts call for above average temperatures across the state, UNL extension climate resources specialist Ken Hubbard said. "Little or no precipitation is expected for the next five days," he said, "but near normal precipitation is predicted for the first week in September."

the farmer's wife

by pat meierhenry

Did you notice? All I had to do was leave clothes on the line — I didn't even get the car washed — and it rained. And just in time. We didn't need the heat wave for the first week of school, right?

Looks as if the weather will be perfect for the Centennial celebration. It certainly was for Charley Pride. He is a great entertainer. I hate to miss this weekend in Wayne, but we will be on vacation. Cousin Paul made an offer that was too good to miss.

When we were married, the Big Farmer had two cousins in the wedding. Don farmed just down the road from us; Paul farmed near Hadar. We got together often, especially in May, when four of us had birthdays.

Don moved to O'Neill first. Paul left several years later. The Big Farmer is the only one of his generation still farming. Wonder if that has happened in other farm families.

NOW, WE seldom see each other. We are all involved in our own families. We are scheduled for one glorious week of togetherness in Branson, Mo., beginning Sept. 1.

We've been to the Ozarks before, on our honeymoon. We have always wanted to go back.

Paul has reserved a condominium with a dishwasher, microwave, pool and hot tub. Don is driving us there in his new van.

I distinctly get the feeling we are doing something wrong. That "something" is probably farming. Good thing they take pity on "us poor rural folk."

So, take lots of pictures of the pageant and the parades. And we'll think of you as we loiter around the pool. Just think — no kids, no cows, no mud, no dust and hopefully, no flies. (We're taking a swifter, in case.)

The crickets are moving into the basement and Mrs. Reagan isn't the only one they are disturbing! I was amused to read that my mom wasn't the only poor soul fooled by a dead battery in a smoke detector.

The spiders are also busy. I spent one afternoon cleaning Jon's room. He apparently has a vision problem regarding dust and cob webs.

Both kids called home the second day of college, one right after the other. That's right, they bought books and needed money!

NEBRASKA'S state flower is decorating the road sides, along with Kansas'. Some silage has already been cut. Tomatoes are abundant. We are stuffed on muskmelon.

We've been to the first volleyball game. Football is right behind. All the joys of fall are taking shape.

Ginny Watson shared a caption this morning. "Someone asked a farmer why he worked seven days a week and he answered, 'because there aren't eight days in a week!'"

I was a little afraid the Big Farmer would think that way when it came to a vacation, so I made all kinds of rash promises. But he decided it was time for some R&R.

I personally plan to do what I call "grief work," too. We have experienced many losses to cancer this year. It's been hard to remember that "all things work together for good to those who love God." That's been my life verse and I keep reminding myself.

Crop residue saves soil loss

Leaving a 20 percent or 30 percent residue cover on cropland after harvest can significantly reduce soil erosion while preserving water quality and soils' productive capacity, according to a University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension dryland soil/crop management specialist.

Maintaining crop residues on the soil surface offers the most cost-effective means to control both water and wind erosion, John Havlin said. Using the residue to protect top soil from rainfall can reduce water erosion by 90 percent, and standing crop residues can eliminate topsoil losses by wind erosion.

Generally, Havlin said, 30 percent residue cover will reduce soil erosion to acceptable levels on slightly to moderately erosive fields. However, on steeply sloping or highly erosive fields, at least 50 percent to 60 percent cover may be required to reduce erosion.

He explained that these amounts of residue need to be present after planting, since both wind and water erosion are usually greatest in the spring months, the quantity of residue cover should be greater than these levels before planting.

DEPENDENT ON crop residue and the type of planter, residue cover is reduced 10 percent to 20 percent during planting, Havlin said, and overwinter residue decomposition can reduce cover another 20 percent to 30 percent.

Therefore, Havlin said, residue cover after fall tillage needs to be between 50 percent and 80 percent, depending on the field slope.

Havlin explained that with corn, sorghum or small grain residues, the percent reduction in cover will be lowest using no-till planting, sweep plow or tandem disc methods.

A mid-range or reduction (20 percent to 35 percent) can be achieved using chisel plow or field cultivator methods.

Offset disc or curl shank chisel plow will give 35 percent to 80 percent reduction, and the moldboard plow method incorporates all residues leaving a bare, highly erodible surface, he said.

In addition to using an appropriate tillage method, the other tillage implements should be operated around the hill on a contour to decrease erosion and runoff potential, Havlin said.

He also pointed out that soybean residues are "very fragile" and the percent reduction in residue cover will be much greater than those for corn or sorghum crops.

Havlin also said that the amount of crop residue left after harvest will depend on previous crop yields, and he recommended consulting extension agents or specialists for information on estimating crop residue levels after harvest.

Fall meeting

The annual fall Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association outlook meeting will be held Monday, Sept. 17 at Ron's Steak House in Carroll. A social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. with dinner served at 7:30 p.m. followed by a program. All members, spouses and guests are invited to attend.

- Program speakers and topics will include the following:
 - Al Wellman, Extension Economist, University of Nebraska, "Anticipated cattle and swine price trends"
 - Lowell Weitzenkamp, cattle feeder, Hooper, "Feeding cattle for profit through 1985"
 - John Phillips, broker, Shearson American Express, Sioux City, Iowa, "Availability of feed supplies and feeder cattle for 1985"

And • Dave Malone, vice president, Correspondent Banking, Norwest Bank Omaha N.A., "Financing cattle and swine for the feeder."

Hay sale

Gov. Bob Kerrey announced that hay growing in highway and interstate right-of-ways will be sold by the state to individuals willing to cut and remove it.

In announcing the state program, Gov. Kerrey commented, "The state has a considerable amount of hay growing alongside our roads — hay that is needed by our farmers and ranchers. Senator Exon originally introduced this program when he was governor and I plan to reintroduce it. It's a solid means of helping our farmers and ranchers."

Through a program administered by the Nebraska Department of Roads, individuals may lease a segment of the right-of-way, and will be limited to one five-mile segment on both highways and interstates. The hay will be sold for $40 per one-mile segment along the interstate, and $5 per one-mile segment along all other highways.

All cutting, baling and removal of hay will be the responsibility of the individual leasing the segment of the right-of-way.

All segments will be leased on a first-come, first-serve basis. The eight statewide district offices of the Department of Roads will coordinate all arrangements. Individuals wishing to participate in the program should contact: District #3, 408 North 13th Street, Norfolk, 371-2170.

The state program begins immediately. All hay must be removed by Oct. 15.

BIKE-A-THON
Bike-a-thon chairman Kaye Hilsinger last week asked Wakefield residents to join the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels for Life" bike-a-thon slated for Saturday, Sept. 22 at the Wakefield Community Schools.

Kaye said this ride honors Jim, a leukemia patient at St. Jude. "With every turn of the wheel, riders become 'spokes-men' for all the kids with cancer, like Jim, who want to know they aren't in this battle alone." Kaye said, "People willing to give time to create more time to children crying for help stimulates a better event and raises more money for the hospital. Riders are really needed. They make or break a bike-a-thon."

Sponsors donating a sum for each mile completed are enlisted by riders. Those riders who raise $25 receive a St. Jude T-shirt. When $75 is raised the rider receives a barrel tote bag and a T-shirt. Sponsors for the ride are available at the Wakefield School elementary office or from Kaye who lives at 518 Main Street.

Kaye says "The riders would like pledges, a nickel or dime a mile, whatever you care to pledge. I do remind you that this is a set course and some bikers can put on several miles, however we do have a time limit this year of 8:11:30 a.m."

The general plan is to have a good time while helping a wonderful group of children counting on your support," Kaye said. Contact Kaye at 287-2127 or stop in at 518 Main for details on riding or sponsoring a rider.

BLOOD BANK
The Siouxland Blood Bank accepted blood from 49 donors Aug. 16 at the Wakefield Health Care Center. Among the donors was Dennis Roddy, who with his contribution has reached the two-gallon donor plateau. Two other Wakefield donors, Carol Ulrich and Deloy Benne, have contributed a gallon of blood to the Siouxland bank.

HOUSEWARMING FOR MARVIN RASTEDE
A housewarming party was held for Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rastede of Allen who moved to their new home in Laurel on Saturday, Sept. 1. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Suttiff of Virginia, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. John Golch and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Rastede and Greg, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rastede, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Rastede, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hale of Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rastede and Lori and Mrs. Jimmie Woodward of Concord, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Arp and daughter of Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rastede and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Johnson of Laurel and Mr. and Mrs. Quinten Erwin of Concord. The evening was spent socially with a cooperative lunch served.

LIBRARY NEWS
On Sept. 1 Graves Public Library will be returning to its regular hours of 3-5 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. Monday through Thursday; 3-5 p.m. Friday afternoons and from 1-5 p.m. on Saturday afternoons. The library has been closed on Thursday evening during the summer.

Librarian Pat Berry suggested readers look for these new books the next time they visit the library: "Silver Wings Sanitago Blue" by Janet Dailey; "The Other Karen" by Valda Johnson; "Heart Song," "Voice of Terror," "Rawhide Legacy" or "All Good Things."

Other new books recently added to the shelves include "On leaving Charleston," "Summer Harvest," "The Walking Drum" by Louis L'Amour and "Full Circle" by Danielle Steel.

ATTENDS DAY CAMP
Area Junior Girl Scouts spent overnight at the Wayne Girl Scout grounds on Aug. 16. Fifty-one scouts from Wakefield, Wayne and Winside participated in the activities.

During the encampment the girls received badges they had earned and a bridging ceremony was held for those girls who are advancing from Brownies to Juniors. As part of the camp experience the scouts put up and took down their tents and built fires to cook supper. One of the delicacies prepared was ants on a log (celery sticks with peanut butter topped with raisins) along with hot-dogs and S'Mores for dessert. Sue Sandahl of Wakefield was camp director assisted by eight staff members.

NEW EQUIPMENT
The Wakefield Hospital and Care Center Auxiliary recently purchased a Sigmoid-o-scope for use at the local hospital. Cost of the equipment was approximately $3,000 according to Mrs. Jim Stout, treasurer of the auxiliary. The auxiliary voted to purchase the Sigmoid-o-scope at the meeting held Aug. 1 at the hospital. The instrument has arrived and has been used on several occasions.

At the meeting, Administrator John Viken introduced Dr. Lee to the ladies of the auxiliary and he explained the functions of the instrument and the need for it. Dr. Lee also expressed his intentions in providing health care to the community.

GIRLS SCOUTS
Junior Girl Scout Troop 73 earned swimming badges and water fun badges at the Wakefield swimming pool. Janet Siebrandt was the instructor.

Janet also gave the girls a tour of the facility explaining how to keep the water clean, how the pool is cleaned, what chemicals are used, etc. She also explained the Personal Flotation Device used in lifesaving. After playing some water games the girls went to the park for a sack lunch and to talk about badge work. The event was a get-acquainted night for the new members of the troop who graduated from Brownies to scouting.

Members of troop 73 are Megan Sandahl, Heidi Muller, Lunn Schultz, Heather Gustafson, Starr Hilsinger, Becky Stout, Kelly Ekberg, Sara Salmon, Lynn Anderson and Krista Wilbur.

COLLECTING EYEGLASSES
The Wakefield Lions Club to date has collected 206 pairs of used glasses. In addition, three pair of eyeglasses with a built-in hearing aids and one separate hearing aid have been collected. The used eyeglasses and hearing aids will be recycled in several areas.

Local collection points are the Senior Citizens Center, Kountry Kafe, E.B. Gustafson Agency and the City Clerk's Office. One of the main objectives of Lions Club International is sight and hearing conservations projects. Over the years, the local club has purchased eyeglasses for needy children of the community.

HEALTH TIPS

From Your Family Physician

OSTEOPOROSIS

Osteoporosis is a major underlying cause of bone fractures in postmenopausal women and older persons in general. It is a condition in which bone mass decreases, causing bones to be more susceptible to fracture. A fall, blow, or lifting action that would not bruise or strain the average person can easily cause one or more bones to break in a person with osteoporosis.

Osteoporosis is a major public health problem. Although all bones are affected, fractures of the spine, wrist and hip are typical and most common. The risk of osteoporosis developing increases with age and is higher in women than in men and in whites than in blacks. There is an increase in the normal loss of bone, which follows the menopause in women and occurs in all persons with advancing age.

There are no laboratory tests for defining persons at risk or those with mild osteoporosis. The diagnosis of osteoporosis is established by documentation of reduced bone density or mass in the patient with a typical fracture syndrome.

Prevention of fracture in susceptible patients is the goal of intervention. Strategies include ensuring estrogen replacement in postmenopausal women, adequate nutrition including an elemental calcium intake of 1,000 to 1,500 mg/day, and a program of modest weight-bearing exercise.
