Board of trustees recommend WSC budget to state

Wayne State College received Nebraska State College Board of Trustees recommendation of approval last weekend on its 1985-86 fiscal impact worksheet which bears a 15.6 percent general fund increase over the current operating year.

A total 12.4 percent increase in general funds over present 1984-85 budget figures was the combined total figure approved by the state board of trustees for the state colleges which include Wayne State, Chadron, Kearney and Peru.

The request of approval regarding the fiscal impact worksheet for the four state colleges has been sent on by the state board of trustees to the state's legislators and state budget director.

Anticipated expenditures for Wayne State College during the 1985-86 fiscal period will be $9,394,314, a 11.4 percent increase over the present 1984-85 operating year. The cash fund (which is tuition) will offset about $2,316,304 of that general fund expense, bringing Wayne State's total general fund askings to $7,078,010.

equivalency new employees to the payroll, at a cost of $95,321, plus salary improvements of $30,164 and the percentage salary increase would be 10.4 percent.

Salaries of over 10 temporary full-time equivalency employees would increase approximately 8 percent. Other increases would be tied in with retirement, social security, life insurance and health insurance.

In the non-personal services of the general fund, "other equipment" jumped from $7,760 budgeted for this operating year to $86,148 for the upcoming fiscal year, according to the fiscal impact worksheet.

Most of this increase is attributed to a request to purchase a used bus for $78,000.

There is also a 125.7 percent total increase that will be requested by the board of trustees toward expenses in financing additional Wayne State College instructional equipment.

Travel reflected a total 27.1 percent increase.

from salaries to equipment," Cramer said. "Ideally, we would like to ask for more funding in some areas, like faculty improvement. But given the economy of the state, this is a bare-boned type of budget," he added.

Cramer added that the fiscal impact worksheet approved by the board of trustees is an operating budget "and has nothing to do with construction budget."

Priorities for construction were established in August by the board of trustees, and number one on the list is the remodeling of an education building at Peru State College. Second on the list is the addition to the Fine Arts Building at Wayne State College. Funding can be scarce on these priorities, Cramer said, but the state is at least aware of the projects which are needed at the colleges.

WAYNE STATE College President Ed Elliott said the budget as presented to the state legislature is "an excellent one for our school system."

Most significantly reflected in the fiscal impact worksheet, he said, is the carrying out of the board's commitment to continue working towards salary improvements.

"This is a major step towards upgrading salaries, something that the board and I have strong commitments in that regard," Elliott said.

He said $34,416 has been budgeted in salary improvements for the 1985-86 fiscal period, a figure which includes, besides salary, retirement and social security increases.

Elliott also explained that the 21.9 percent increase placed in the budget for library reference materials (from $91,757 to $111,939) was to "bring us up to standard for a new Masters in Business Administration program we have proposed."

Currently, students at Wayne State College can earn a masters degree in business education. But Elliott said the college has nothing in the way of a masters program for business administration.

The cash fund will also show a slight increase. Most of the cash fund is accumulated through tuition costs. However, Elliott said the increase does not signify there will be a tuition increase at Wayne State College.

The increase will basically be directed toward establishment of the masters in business administration program.

CAPTURING the bulk of the increases in the Wayne State College 1985-1986 general fund expenditures are salaries and benefits, utilities and instructional equipment.

The total request for permanent salaries of over 235 full-time equivalency employees at WSC would reflect an 8 percent increase. Couple that figure with the new and expanded budget item of adding over four full-time

Straight watches escape

Helping report a prison escape is probably not the type of notoriety which Pat Straight of Wayne had someday pictured herself achieving.

Straight, an elementary school teacher in the Wayne-Carroll Public School District, and a friend who wishes to remain anonymous both watched in amazement the escape Sept. 9 of inmate Noel Heathman and another inmate, Roger Weikle, from the state penitentiary in Lincoln.

The Wayne Herald knew last week about Straight's witnessing of the escape, but decided against publishing the article until the escapee was apprehended — basically for the sole purpose of protecting Straight. Heathman is still on the loose.

However, Straight's version of the escape has been published in other area daily newspapers and across the Associated Press wires, so she gave permission to publish the article in this edition.

Here is the account of what happened that Sunday when Heathman and Weikle jumped the walls of the state penitentiary.

Straight and a friend were traveling to Dewitt, Nebraska that day to attend a bridal shower of her future daughter-in-law. They were driving south on U.S. Highway 77 past the penitentiary when they looked over at the east wall of the prison.

There are three towers on the east side and the one on the south end of the east wall and another in the middle of the east wall appeared unmanned by guards, she said.

"When we went by, we saw this man coming from the south end of the east wall, humped over and his cap on backwards, moving from the south tower to the middle tower on the east wall," Straight said.

At the time, both Straight and her friend were confused at what they had seen. The travelers turned around and came back, parking in a drive near a tree which was across from the penitentiary.

from the middle tower back to the south tower.

"He [Heathman] dropped to the ground and ran south into the trees. When the other escapee [Weikle] began jumping, we started to honk our horn," Straight said.

But the guards were clear across the interstate and traffic was passing through, she said, so it probably was difficult for the guards to hear the honking of the vehicle.

So Straight and her friend backed into a filling station. A man was working on a car, she said. She told the man they had just seen a man jump from the ledge of the penitentiary and run and hide into the trees. The man laughed at first, she said.

BUT WHEN HE saw the seriousness of the situation, he took Straight's advice and called the police.

As Straight and her friend left the service station, they noticed one of the escaped inmates (Weikle) sitting near the bushes. He had injured his leg from the jump and "was in pain," she said.

They went to the bridal shower in Dewitt. When passing through Lincoln, security appeared heightened around the prison facility, she said.

What was Straight's answer as to why she stopped and called the escape into the police, who in turn informed the guards of the escape attempt?

"I had to do it. We couldn't let things like that go. Someone had to do something. I'm surprised nobody else saw anything," Straight said.

Some people drive past the penitentiary every day and do not notice it, she said. But to strangers, it is something new to look at which is probably why it caught her eye.

Straight said she is following the escape publicity with keen interest, since she had a front row view of the event as it actually happened.

THEY OBSERVED the same man seen earlier, this time crawling "really fast"

Coe Day slated for Sunday at Wakefield

By LaVon Anderson

With a history of medicine spanning nearly five decades, Wakefield physician Dr. C. M. (Max) Coe will be in the spotlight this Sunday during "Dr. C. M. Coe Day" in Wakefield.

The Wakefield Community Club has designated Sunday, Sept. 23 as a day for all residents in the community and surrounding area to honor Dr. Coe for his many years of medical service.

A reception in his honor will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Wakefield Community School mini gym.

sophomore year as a medical student, the middle child in a family of two older boys and two girls. Coe moved with his family to Wakefield in about 1915 when his father opened a practice in the community.

Dr. Coe's sisters, Mrs. Harry Larson and Mrs. Ruth Parkert, still reside in Wakefield. His brothers, Lloyd and Weldon, are deceased.

AT AGE 75, Coe has been doctoring residents of the Wakefield area since 1937 when he joined the practice of his father, Dr. Charles B. Coe.

Forty-seven years and an estimated 3,000 births later, he says he's ready to "sort of back away."

In July of this year, Coe was joined in his practice by Dr. Darrell Lee, 28, a native of Hawaii who received his Doctor of Medicine degree in 1981 from Creighton Medical School in Omaha.

Dr. Lee came to Wakefield after completing his three-year residency in internal medicine at St. Joseph Hospital in Omaha.

"I'M BACKING AWAY gradually," said Dr. Coe, adding that he wants to see that the community hospital is in good hands before he officially retires.

Born in Atlantic, Iowa during his father's

A 1928 GRADUATE of Wakefield High School and a 1932 graduate of Midland Lutheran College in Fremont, Coe received his Doctor of Medicine degree in 1936 from the Omaha Medical Center and interned there at the University Hospital.

In 1937 he joined his father's practice in Wakefield, taking three years out from 1942 to 1945 to serve in the Army.

It was while he was serving in the Army that Dr. Coe was interviewed at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. and offered a position as a resident in surgery. He chose to return to Wakefield.

"I could have left Wakefield," Coe smiles, "but my roots are pretty deep here."

Dr. C.M. Coe

ALTHOUGH THE doctor is unassuming when it comes to talking about accomplishments throughout his medical career, he is especially proud of the community hospital and care center built in 1949.

He remembers the first hospital located in his father's home (now the Jim Clark residence). "Many babies were born there," he smiles.

Later, the hospital was located where the Herbert Lundahls live today, until 1949 when the new, modern facility was built at the west edge of the city.

Dr. Coe also is proud of Alumni Award he received in 1977 from Midland Lutheran College.

IN AUGUST OF 1971, Dr. Coe gained national and world recognition when he delivered a healthy 6 lb. 13 1/2 oz. baby girl in what was termed a rare abdominal pregnancy.

Coe, along with the late Dr. Roy Matson of Wayne, co-authored an article the following year which appeared in the Nebraska Medical Journal in which they outlined details of the birth.

Coe said the abdominal pregnancy occurred.

Commissioners increase budget item

Wayne County's Board of Commissioners approved a resolution Tuesday morning to increase the amount of $124,210 into the county's road and bridge budget for fiscal year 1984-1985.

The road and bridge budget will be increased $124,210 which will be used to complete the repair and replacement of county bridges and to replace the funds spent from the 1984-1985 fiscal budget that had originally been specified for general road maintenance.

The spring floods of 1984 had caused a vast amount of damage to roadways and bridges in Wayne county and the bridge repair for the 1984-85 fiscal year was not sufficient enough to meet the expenses required to repair and replace the bridges, according to the terms of the resolution.

Therefore, the county had spent money on the bridge repair projects which had otherwise been allocated for road maintenance.

The county commissioners are anticipating the receipt of outside funds from the state and federal government in raising the $124,210. These funds would be from Federal Disaster Funds.

The federal share would be 75 percent ($103,508) and the state's share 15 percent ($20,702).

Wayne County's share would be 10 percent or $13,001 for filling in the total cost of $138,011 needed to repair the bridges and return what was allocated originally to the general road maintenance fund.

County Clerk Orgetta Morris said Tuesday the county's share of $13,801 will be taken out of the budget which was adopted last month.

Wakefield bridge project on schedule, Von Minden says

A bridge construction project near Wakefield that has resulted in a detour which has been considered dangerous traveling by some residents, will be completed on the contract date.

Nebraska State Senator Merle Von Minden, in a statement released Friday, said he is keeping close contact with the state highway department concerning the road and bridge north of Wakefield.

"I am talking on a regular basis, at least once or twice weekly, with Wakefield people and the district engineer in Norfolk," Von Minden said.

"He assures me the project will still be completed by the contract date.

Von Minden said he talked with Lincoln Steel Company Friday and was assured that the steel would soon be ready.

TEN PIECES are in Lincoln now, in the process of being fabricated — holes drilled, reinforcing done and other things.

The other five pieces that were replaced were due to arrive in Lincoln on Monday, Sept. 17, and had immediately undergone the fabrication process.

"I just want the people of Wakefield and the surrounding area to know that all that can be done is being done," Von Minden said.

"I will continue to keep in close contact with them on this matter until the bridge is completed and the road opened. All of us will be glad when that day arrives," Von Minden concluded.

Residents along the much-traveled detour, have complained of dust while motorists say there is heavy traffic on the detour road and dangerous slippery traveling conditions following a rain.

'Displaced Americans'

Humanities programs slated at Bancroft

The John G. Neihardt Foundation, in cooperation with Wayne State College, has been awarded a grant from the Nebraska Committee for the Humanities in support of a series of public humanities programs entitled "Displaced Americans: Alienation in America."

The programs, scheduled during October at the Neihardt Center in Bancroft, are grouped around the theme of people who are in need of home and identity. A series of four half-hour films will feature dramatizations of short stories by Stephen Crane, Henry James, Flannery O'Connor and Ernest Hemingway.

The films present different perspectives on the dilemma of displaced Americans, ranging in time from the turn of the century to post World War II, from the deep south to Kansas, and the frontier to New York City.

THE PROGRAMS will be held on Oct. 9, 16, 23 and 30 at 7:30 p.m. at the Neihardt Center, a branch museum of the Nebraska Historical Society.

The programs are free of charge and open to the public. Wayne State College scholars participating in the seminars include Dr. Jo Taylor on Oct. 9; Sayre Andersen on Oct. 16; J.V. Brummels on Oct. 23; and Dr. Robert Ridings on Oct. 30. All are from the division of humanities.

VonMinden rated top conservative

As an education service provided Nebraska voters, NEBRASKA CONSERVATIVES FOR FREEDOM since 1978 has monitored the voting records of state legislators in the Nebraska Unicameral. NCF rates state senators in the areas of fiscal responsibility, government intervention in private life and law and order.

Our rating categories are as follows: 70-100% conservative; 60-70% moderate; 40-60% centrist; 20-40% liberal; and 0-20% socialist.

This year, NCF tracked 70 bills and resolutions. Starting at a base of zero, senators received 1.43% credit for each conservative vote.

Placing first was State Senator Merle Von Minden (17th District), with a 65.8% conservative voting score. NCF will award Senator Von Minden a token of our appreciation. This senator scored highest in our 1983 tally, also.

Rating lowest on the scale, for the second year in a row, was State Senator Vard Johnson of Omaha (8th District), who received 15.7%.

Farm management program begins

Farmers and ranchers have long turned to the Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service for answers to problems. Got a question about a ration? Call the extension agent. Can't figure out what's wrong with the corn crop? Call the agent. If the agent didn't know, he or she would get in touch with the state extension staff and get back to you with the answer.

The Cooperative Extension Service still offers this kind of help, but this fall it's adding a new program, which could be even more important, with regard to long-term profitability.

Called "Managing for Tomorrow," the new program will help farm and ranch families take an in-depth and objective look at their family business. University of Nebraska Extension Farm Management Specialists Larry Binney and Doug Jose are leading the program, which will go into much more detail and be much more individualized than other management workshops or programs offered in the past. All farm and ranch families who want to do a better job of managing their business are invited to participate.

"Managing for Tomorrow" starts out this November with a series of workshops to be held in several locations. According to Binney, all affected members of the farm or ranch family should participate — couples, the father and sons in a partnership, everyone who has a stake in the management of the business.

FOUR SESSIONS LASTING five hours each will be held one week apart. The first session will get family members thinking about their long-term goals. Even though they may be doing battle day to day just to survive, Binney said, farm families need to take a larger view and ask themselves, "Am I really getting what I want from life?" Or in other words, is the battle worthwhile?

The family members define their goals separately, then get together in order to arrive at some shared goals. Among families participating in a trial run of the program, Binney found that individual members' goals can be quite different.

With goals established, the family can do some priority setting and can begin to consider whether their current way of doing business will allow them to meet those goals. In one case during the trial run, a family learned that they were expecting to accomplish more than was possible through their small operation. Fortunately for them, they were able to expand their business to achieve their goals.

During the workshop sessions, the families also learn how to prepare the data needed for financial analyses — no small task. Then things get up close and personal as the family and one of the farm management team members begin an individualized analysis of that family's operation.

Using their data — which is held in confidence — the farm management specialist provides computer-generated analysis, including a financial analysis of the operation and a cash flow projection. If the family desires, a committee of other ag professionals will also evaluate their analyses and projections, in order to generate additional ideas which may not have been considered.

THE FAMILY MEETS again with their specialist to review these suggestions and finalize cash flow projections for the 1985 operating year. Binney notes that participants must agree to keep a set of records for 1985.

Later, the family meets with the specialists to compare actual income and expenses with projections and to begin work on plans for the following year.

It's an intensive program and each workshop series is limited to 20 participating families. Binney hopes that the farm management specialists will work with 800 to 1,000 families during the first year of the program.

Unlike many extension services, Managing for Tomorrow isn't free — but it is inexpensive — $200 per family enterprise. Program costs may actually be $600 plus, but funds from the Nebraska Legislature, the Nebraska Department of Agriculture and the Extension Service/USDA make it possible to offer the lower fee.

Interested farmers and ranchers can get more information about Managing for Tomorrow from their extension agent's, district extension office, lenders, or by calling a toll-free number, (800) 535-3156.

Watch your step

As election day looms even closer, it is important to remind our readers of what we consider should go into our news and editorial columns concerning political candidate news releases and letters to the editor.

First of all, news releases submitted that criticize actions of political candidates (some call it mudslinging) will not appear in the news columns of this issue unless the candidate which is criticized has the opportunity to answer to the criticism.

If there are news releases that basically state campaign issues, or appears that the political candidate is choosing to use the news columns as a way of advertising his or her campaign, they will be placed aside.

The Wayne Herald has current plans to compose a questionnaire to be mailed to political candidates concerning issues which are relevant to this area. When the answers to these questions are returned by the candidate by a designated deadline, then the answers will be published prior to the election date.

Secondly, there is the question often posed by non-incumbent candidates about why incumbents get "preferential treatment" and have a column each week on the editorial page.

The incumbents or those who are not up for reelection this year certainly do not have a space reserved each week on the editorial page.

However since our staff numbers are few, we must rely on our present legislators to provide insight into the happenings of legislative sessions. They are the ones who vote on issues and must report as to why they supported or refused such an issue.

If the non-incumbent candidate were to switch places with the incumbent, he or she would receive the same treatment.

When any campaign "talk" enters the columns of the political incumbent, the column is normally held back from publication.

Letters to the editor are always welcome on our editorial pages. They offer a chance for our readers to supply input for or against situations or ideas which occur often.

But writers should be aware of libel and slandering a political opponent.

One man may call another an outrageous liar, but sometimes there is a reason not brought out which offers sound reasoning. That is what the writer, and the newspaper, must look out for.

News columns at least give the political opponent an opportunity to answer to the allegations against him.

A letter to the editor offers only one viewpoint — that of the writer.

Our ethics will not allow us to contact an individual if there is a "letter to the editor" submitted that scrutinizes that same individual.

All we can do is check to make sure the source of the letter is absolutely correct and then determine if the letter is libelous as a protection to the writer.

Fairness desired for PIK disasters

Regulation for PIK-related business While the 1983 Payment-In-Kind (PIK) program was a short-term measure necessary to reduce excessive commodity surpluses and bolster farm prices, it unfortunately compounded the financial problems for the agricultural suppliers in Nebraska. When Congress addressed the issue of PIK and its impact on agribusinesses earlier this year, it designated PIK a nonphysical disaster.

This means that qualifying businesses will be eligible for Small Business Administration (SBA) disaster relief assistance. It is vitally important to small agribusinesses in Nebraska that the regulations that implement this program be fair.

I have written to SBA Administrator James Sanders to point out that one of the proposed regulations unfairly discriminates against the agribusinesses in counties with small populations. The regulation requires that at least 25 small businesses in a county suffer PIK-related damage before any business in that county can receive SBA disaster assistance for its PIK related loss. The inequity of this requirement is that many of the counties in Nebraska are served at most by only one or two communities. The core business in these communities are the agricultural suppliers such as the seed, feed, fertilizer, and equipment dealers, and the grain elevators which purchase the agricultural commodities produced by the local farmers.

While these businesses may be few in number, the impact of the 1983 PIK program has been no less severe for them. In fact, because of the high rate of participation by the farmers in Nebraska, the agribusinesses in the communities in these counties have been even more severely affected than those businesses in more heavily populated areas.

Teachers Interested in Space Program My office has received several inquiries from Nebraska teachers expressing an interest in the Administration's announcement that a teacher would be included on a future space shuttle flight.

The application process for teachers has not been made final and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) is not compiling a waiting list of those who are interested in applying.

Application procedures will be published in the Federal Register sometime in October. NASA representatives have told me that they expect the news media to publicize the application announcement also because of the high level of interest being shown in the program nationally.

Teachers who want to apply may contact NASA by writing to: NASA Headquarters, Mail Code ME, Washington D.C. 20546. It would be advisable to wait until late September or early October to give NASA an opportunity to have applications materials ready.

Grateful for issue

I am at a loss for words to express my gratitude in receiving the "Centennial Edition." It's wonderful and at 88 years, it brings to me memories of early days.

Going toward School, stand pipe in center of Main Street, no paving. The college seemed way out in the country, watching trains come into old depot, Savage Show and carnivals, serving ice cream and sodas at Fieber's after the chateaus, MacStewart clearing "crossings" before streets were paved.

I always heard Wayne State campus was most beautiful of all state colleges and looking at the pictures, know it is true.

Wayne folks can be real proud of the cooperation in putting together the celebration. Could imagine how happy the crowds were to enjoy your efforts.

The thoughtfulness in sending me the souvenir is appreciated. Words can't begin to tell you my feelings for my "old home" and you thinking of sending the Edition 1884-1984.

Likes Conway for legislature

As a person who has spent a great deal of time over the past twelve years working on behalf of candidates and organizations that support conservative ideals, I believe people of northeast Nebraska have, but one choice for the 17th Legislative seat. My involvement in the political process has included being an active member and President of the College Republicans.

This last spring I ran as a Reagan Delegate to the Republican National Convention in Nebraska's First Congressional District.

For the last three years, I have worked directly with legislative candidate Conway in a number of professional roles. Through these relationships, I have received firsthand knowledge of his understanding of the problems facing Nebraska. It appears to me that he possesses the talents and desire to represent this district well in the Unicameral.

Without question, the greatest challenges of this decade center on financial problems. In my opinion a candidate with Conway's background in finance, agriculture, and industry deserves our support.

Conway goes beyond identifying problems and is capable of working with people towards solutions. I feel that the voters of this district have a unique opportunity in electing Gerald Conway to the Legislature.

Reimbursing questioned

After reading an article in the Omaha World Herald (9-7-84) regarding the reimbursement of expenses for our State Senators, I came across a very curious fact.

It seems Senator Von Minden from Allen claimed almost $4,000 more of our tax dollars for his personal expenses while serving in the Legislature than did our neighbor, Senator Hefner.

Senator Hefner is known to be a lot more active in the legislature, lives further away from Lincoln and yet claims reimbursement for expenses that are substantially less than Von Minden's.

I think Senator Von Minden has some explaining to do to us taxpayers. Maybe Von Minden's big Lincoln Continental needs a tune-up so it will get better gas mileage.

Sincerely,
Ervin Jerman

ask a lawyer

a public service of the nebraska state bar association

Q. My husband and I have all CD's, bank accounts, our home and cars in joint tenancy. The only individually owned property is some stock worth about $100 and a $1,000 insurance policy. Can this situation be handled by the survivor when one of us dies? Can we use informal probate proceedings? Where can one obtain the necessary forms? Must an attorney be contacted? The total value of all property is less than $300,000.

A. Property which is held in joint tenancy or joint ownership and stipulates that the survivor is to become the sole owner upon the other's death will generally avoid probate proceedings. This is because the surviving co-owner of jointly owned property automatically acquires full legal title on the death of the other co-owner. Probate is merely a proceeding designed to dispose of the decedent's estate according to his or her intentions and is not necessary when property is jointly owned with a specific provision stipulating that the surviving co-owner is to take all. Probate would only be necessary if the deceased owned any real property in his or her name only, or any personal property in excess of $10,000 in his or her name only.

However, even if you avoid probate proceedings the estate will be subject to the usual inheritance tax proceedings. Currently, there is an unlimited marital deduction for surviving spouses for both federal and state inheritance taxes. It is therefore likely that there would be little if any inheritance taxes due.

Therefore, based on the facts provided, it seems likely that the surviving spouses would acquire the jointly owned property without going through probate and with very little or no tax liability. However, on the death of the second co-owner, the estate will be subject to both probate and inheritance tax proceedings. It is advisable to consult with an attorney to be sure that the property involved is properly held in joint ownership and so that provisions may be made for its disposal upon the death of the second co-owner or in case the co-owners should die simultaneously.

Ceremony in Ley Theatre

Wayne Campus Ministry installing pastor Sunday

The Wayne Ecumenical Campus Ministry (WECAM) will install its new pastor, the Rev. Jim Thompson, this Sunday evening in a ceremony with persons from many denominations participating.

The ceremony is scheduled at 7 p.m. in Ley Theatre, located on the second floor of the Brandenburg Education Building on the college campus.

Because Pastor Thompson is Presbyterian, his installation will follow Presbyterian custom with leadership from Homestead Presbyterian ministers and laymen.

ALSO PARTICIPATING will be representatives from the two organizations that equally sponsor and finance the Wayne college ministry - the Nebraska United Ministries in Higher Education (NUMHE) and the Nebraska Lutheran Campus Ministry.

Taking a major role in the ceremony will be Suzanne Goodrich of Lincoln, executive presbyter of Homestead Presbyterian, who will deliver the sermon, "Not to Grow Weary."

PASTOR THOMPSON, a native of Des Moines, earned his bachelor's degree from Macalester College, St. Paul, Minn., and his master of theology from San Francisco Theological Seminary.

He has been in the Presbyterian ministry for about 15 years and comes to Wayne from the Presbyterian Church in western Colorado at Delta.

He comes into the Wayne campus ministry with the unusual circumstance that his predecessor is still here - not only in Wayne, but in the campus ministry, and still serving as a campus pastor.

SISTER ROSANN Ocken, who has been the Roman Catholic chaplain to the campus Newman Club for three years, worked as chaplain to all students from September 1983 to May 1984 as a part time interim minister for Wayne Ecumenical Campus Ministry.

The previous full time minister, the Rev. John Jorde, left in December 1982.

Now Sister Rosann has merely moved from one office to another in the WECAM home at 13th St. and Landahl Dr., and continues her blend of Catholic and interfaith ministry.

She will perform special music for Sunday's installation.

THE PUBLIC is welcome to attend the ceremony.

Other participants include the Rev. Tom Robson, pastor of Laurel and Belden Presbyterian Churches, and five members of the WECAM board of directors, including Mary Alice Haas, chair man, Dick Manley, the Rev. Keith Johnson, Leslie Hausmann, and student member Dan Kraemer.

Jane O'Leary will provide music and accompaniment.

STEVE BESCH (44), Lamont Lewis (28) and Pat Jennings (25) stand clear as Hastings' Rob Parrish goes up.

WSC'S TOM Leitschuck holds onto the ball for a rush attempt with Mike Schmiedt (33) providing protection.

Defense, offense work together as Wildcats drop Hastings 40-6

The Wayne State Wildcats capitalized on a pair of scoring opportunities provided to them by their defensive unit early in the game to take a 40-6 win over Hastings College on Saturday in Memorial Stadium.

"Our defense gave us breaks early in the game," said head Coach Pete Chapman. "That gave us a cushion in a hurry early in the game, because we had those early scoring opportunities."

THOSE BREAKS included a pass interception by junior defensive back Mark Will on Hastings' first possession of the game. Will ran the ball back to the Hastings 28-yard line, where quarterback Ed Jochum connected with sophomore receiver Sonny Jones on a 15-yard aerial and senior fullback David Murphy ran the ball in 13 yards for the score. Herve Roussel added the PAT to give the Cats the 7-0 lead.

The Wildcat defense thwarted the Broncos second attempt to score, knocking the ball loose on their first play from scrimmage at their own 46-yard line. Junior defensive end Keith Turner was the Wildcat responsible for recovering the fumble.

Jochum hit junior wide receiver Ray

Hooker with an 18-yard pass on first and 10 before throwing two incomplete passes to bring up third and 10. The Wildcats were called for illegal use of the hands on their next play, an incomplete pass by Jochum. Herve Roussel came in to attempt the 48-yard field goal, but his kick fell short for his first miss of the year, and the Broncos took possession.

The Broncos were unable to generate any movement on their third drive of the game, and on fourth and five from their own 36-yard line attempted to punt the ball. The snap from center was bad and WSC downed the ball on the 6 yard line, setting up a 6-yard scoring run by Murphy. The PAT by Roussel was good, putting the Cats up early, 14-0.

Hastings cut the margin moments later when they came down the field following a WSC punt and crossed the goal line on a 1-yard run by senior fullback Todd Anania. The PAT by Dave Consruback was no good, leaving the score at 14-6.

FROM THERE the scoreboard belonged entirely to the Wildcats, as they racked up 26 more points to go on for the win.

Wayne closed out the first quarter with a big scoring play, when Jochum hit junior wide receiver Matt Hoffman for a 55-yard touchdown bomb on first and 10 from the WSC 45-yard line. Roussel missed his only extra point attempt of the day, and Wayne led 20-6.

On their opening possession of the second period, WSC scored on a 16-yard pass from Jochum to Ray Hooker which was deflected into Hooker's hands by another waiting receiver, sophomore Darin Blackburn. Roussel's PAT was good, and the Cats went up 27-6.

Wayne's next score came off a drive that began on their own 43-yard line and ended with a 29 yard field goal by Herve Roussel, giving the a 30-6 halftime lead.

THE THIRD QUARTER saw the Wildcats score their fifth and final touchdown of the day, when Jochum hit Sonny Jones on a 6-yard TD pass on fourth and goal from the 6-yard line.

The ball changed hands several times before Wayne got their last scoring of the game. Following a series of plays which began at the Hastings 44 yard line, Roussel made good on a 22 yard field goal to make the final score 40-6, as neither team scored in the closing period.

A WSC school record was broken when the Cats intercepted their opponent at total of six passes, breaking the record of five interceptions in a game set in 1966. Sophomore defensive back Lamont Lewis tied another school record as he pulled in three interceptions to match that set in 1970 and tied again in 1976.

The Cats put together another strong offensive display, totaling 426 yards in the game on 64 plays from scrimmage.

Passing accounted for 323 of the Wildcats yards, as the quarterback's hit on 21 of 39 attempts with three interceptions. In rushing, WSC ball carriers handled the ball 25 times for 103 yards.

Hastings ended the game with 285 yards on offense, with all but 25 yards coming in the air.

Ed Jochum was 11 for 24 with one interception and three touchdowns passes for 250 yards. Backup quarterback, junior Tom Leitschuck, was 10 of 15 with two intercepts and 73 yards.

Their favorite target in the game was Matt Hoffman, who hauled in four passes for 170 yards and one touchdown. Also catching scoring passes were Sonny Jones, with two catches for 21 yards and Ray Hooker with two receptions for 34 yards.

Leading rusher for the Cats was David Murphy with six carries for 59 yards and two touchdowns.

Hastings receiver Andy Armenta led the Broncos with eight catches for 135 yards and Todd Anania was the top rusher with 31 yards on 10 carries.

"We're playing more relaxed and in control of the game," said Chapman. He added that his quarterbacks are beginning to throw the ball with more confidence, and getting used to the game situations.

He was again pleased with the defensive performance, saying that "they played well from the standpoint of what they did, and they showed a lot of aggressiveness on the field."

Top showings came from senior Steve Besch, who earned NAIA District 11 Defensive Player of the Week honors for his performance of 13 tackles, an intercepted pass, a fumble caused and broken up pass.

Other leaders were Mark Will with 12 stops, one interception, two passes broken up and a bad pass caused, and Bob Moretti, a freshman defensive end with 10 tackles and one fumble recovery.

Chapman was again able to let all of his players see playing time in the game, a situation he sees as having both positive and negative effects.

"It's great in that it gives all of the players a chance to play varsity and feel they are a part of the program," he said, but added that his older varsity players are only playing half a game, and they are still in a situation where they need playing time as well. "They're not used to just playing half of a game at a time."

Wayne passing to battle rush at Midland

It will be the pass versus the rush when Wayne State and Midland Lutheran College meet on the gridiron Saturday night in Fremont, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The Wildcats currently lead the NAIA District 11 team passing statistics behind the passing of quarterback Ed Jochum and receivers like Matt Hoffman and Sonny Jones, while the Midland Warriors are the number one rushing team with ball carrier Ray Koonce leading the way.

Midland, 1-1, will come into the game off a 41-7 win over Westmar College of LeMars, Iowa. They fell in their season opener to Yankton College by a 187 margin.

In last year's contest, Midland got off to a fast start, scoring the game's first 20 points before rolling to a 53-30 win in Wayne. The Cats led the 63 year old series between the two schools 24-17-4, with Midland winning four of the last five games.

Midland is coached by Don Watchorn, who in his 14 years at Midland has established a 75-44 record.

THE WILDCAT defense will have to shut down the Warrior's wishbone attack and running back Ray Koonce, who has been totaling just over 100 yards per game on the ground this season with 4.2 yards per carry. In 1983, Koonce rushed for 160 yards and three touchdowns in the win over WSC.

Midland returns a total of seven offensive and five defensive starters.

"It will be an emotional game for both teams," said WSC Coach Pete Chapman. "It's a big traditional game for both schools."

In looking at the upcoming game, Chapman feels that defensive play will determine a lot in the game, and "the team whose defense doesn't play well will have a long night ahead of them." During practice sessions this week, Chapman says his team will prepare basically the way they have in weeks past, "doing things the way they should be done" in preparation for Saturday's game.

Besch receives honors

Wayne State College senior defensive linebacker Steve Besch out of Humeston, Iowa, was named NAIA District 11 Defensive Player of the Week for his performance in the Wildcat's 40-6 win over the Hastings Broncos on Saturday.

The 6.2, 215 lb. Besch came up with four unassisted tackles and 11 assists for a total of 15 stops on the day, along with one interception. He also broke up a Bronco pass and knocked the ball loose for a Hastings fumble.

A three year letterman for the Wildcats, Besch is one of the team's tri-captains and leads the Wayne State defensive statistics with 35 tackles and three interceptions.

Head Coach Pete Chapman was pleased with Besch and the overall showing of his defensive unit in the game, saying that "Steve's performance was a reflection of the rest of the defense's play throughout the game."

THE WILDCATS are also making their presence known in the NAIA's national categories as well, with first-year kicker Herve Roussel holding onto his spot as the leading kick scorer among the Division I teams for the second straight week.

Roussel, following a flawless performance against Chadron in Wayne State's opening win of the season, added 10 more points in the Hastings' game to bring his season total to 32 points, for an average of 10.7 per game.

The Wildcats rushing defense is currently ranked third in the nation, allowing just 41.7 yards per game, while their potent passing offense is rated fourth, gaining 279.3 yards per contest.

Wayne State JV's dual to tie

Wayne State's junior varsity football team battled to a 6-6 tie in their first game of the season with Westmar College in LeMars, Iowa on Monday, Sept. 17.

The Cats reserve squad came from behind to tie the score in the third quarter after Westmar scored on a long pass play in the opening period. Both teams had penalties called on their first extra point attempts, and were unable to convert on the second try from scrimmage.

WESTMAR OPENED the game's scoring on a 72-yard pass play which took advantage of an error in the WSC backfield. The Cats were penalized on the Westmar's first PAT attempt. On Westmar's second try, this time for two points, freshman defensive back Steve Owens came up with an interception to leave the score at 6-0.

Neither team showed much offensively for the remainder of the half, although Wayne came up with a 32-yard scoring run which was brought back on a holding call.

The Wildcats scored their only touchdown of the game in the third period on a drive which began in Westmar's territory.

from junior quarterback Terry Graver to freshman wide receiver Darrin Fulford to put the ball within the Westmar's 5 yard line. A dive by sophomore I-back Rodney McClain took the ball to the 1-yard line, where freshman running back Mike Bullard punched across the line for the score.

The PAT kick attempt was good, but the Wildcats were penalized for not having enough men on the line of scrimmage, and their second kick attempt was blocked.

TURNOVERS WERE costly for both teams, as WSC gave up the ball three times on interceptions and twice on fumbles, while Westmar lost the ball a total of six times, five times in the air and once on the ground.

Wayne State's offense stayed true to its passing form, as they put the ball in the air 52 times, completing 17 passes for 205 yards. The Cats gained 63 yards rushing, but gave up 74 yards in quarterback sacks to end the game with 11 yards on the ground.

Westmar ended the game with a net total of 85 yards on offense, gaining 102 yards passing on four receptions in 25 attempts, and losing 17 yards rushing overall. In penalty yardage, WSC had 11 penalties for 100 yards, while Westmar was called for 8 penalties for 80 yards.

Freshman Scott Wightman punted the ball eight times for an average of 37.5 yards in the game, while Westmar's punter averaged 33.0 yards on 11 kicks.

Darrin Fulford led the Cats pass receiving with seven catches for over 100 yards. Freshman wide receiver Rob Fangman caught five fly aerials for 50 yards and team mate Bob Backman had three catches in the game from quarterback Terry Graver.

THE WILDCAT defensive unit gave a strong showing, led by Greg Cavill, a freshman line-backer, who had four interceptions for total return yardage of 35 yards and 12 tackles.

Sophomore linebacker Judd Meenley added 11 tackles and freshman defensive end Scott Wightman had 10 stops. Sophomore line-backer Perry Leif nabbed the fifth interception for Wayne State.

The next JV game will be this coming Monday, Sept. 24, when they host Midland Lutheran College's junior varsity team in a game scheduled to start at 4 p.m. at WSC's Memorial Stadium.

Norfolk slips by Wayne at home

The Blue Devil volleyball team lost in their home opener on Tuesday night, as the Norfolk Panthers downed them in three sets. Norfolk came out on top in the first game by a 15-12 score before the Blue Devils came back and moved to an easy 15-5 win to even the match. In the third set, Wayne was unable to maintain the momentum they had built during the previous set, and fell by a score of 15-5.

"OUR THIRD set started out even, but it seemed that we just weren't able to keep up our momentum as the game went on," said Coach Mavis Dalton.

Senior Lisa Jacobsen led both scoring and setting, tallying 8 points while going 14-15 from the serving line and making 43-44 sets. Karen Longe and Paula Koplin, also seniors on the team, were the top hitters, with Longe downing 20-24 spikes for three aces and Koplin knocking in 14-20 for one ace. Shelly Pick came off the bench to play a solid game on the net with four blocks.

"Overall, I was really pleased with the performance of our substitutes coming off the bench, especially Shelly Pick and Sonja Skokan," Dalton added.

The Wayne team now stands at 2-4 heading into a long road stretch which will begin with Homer on Thursday evening, Sept. 20. The Blue Devils won't be on their home court again until Thursday, Oct. 11 when they host Pierce.

IN B TEAM action, Wayne needed three sets to down a stubborn Norfolk squad, 15-13, 5-15 and 15-3 and move their record to 2-1.

Scoring was led by Virginia Hoffman with 12 points. She also was the leading setter with 14 good assists. Sonja Skokan was the strong spiker, downing 10 of 11 spikes for three aces.

Sarah Peterson and Suzy Luft helped their freshman team to a two set win over Norfolk, scoring nine points each, as Wayne downed Norfolk in two close sets, 19-17 and 15-13.

Marnie Bruggeman was 9-9 to lead all setters.

The freshman are now 2-1 overall and will participate an eight-team tournament sponsored by Norfolk High this Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m. against Norfolk High.

Wildcats victorious over Wausa

The Winside Wildcat volleyball team picked up their first win of the season on Tuesday night at home, defeating the Wausa Vikings in two sets, 16-14 and 15-9.

Both games were close, according to Coach Jill Stenwall, and she was pleased with the team effort she received from the girls which played in the win. "They played their best game of the season last night," she added.

Senior Missy Jensen made good on 10 of 12 serve attempts for five aces. She also led spiking with 21-23 spikes for 11 kills. Teammate sophomore Tracy Topp was 8-8 in the hitting department with seven ace spikes.

Kerri Leighton went 30-32 on setting to finish atop that category, while Missy Jensen also played a good game on the net with four good blocks.

With a record of 1-3, the Wildcats will host the Stanton Mustangs tonight (Thursday).

The Winside B team upped their record to 3-0 with a 15-13, 17-15 win over Wausa, while the C team fell to 0-3 with a 7-11, 9-11 loss to the Vikings.

Trojans play well in Hartington

The Wakefield Trojans moved their volleyball record to 5-3 for the season and 3-0 in the conference with a 15-6, 15-9 win over Hartington on Tuesday evening on the road.

"We played very well in the first game, jumping to an early lead which we were able to hold on to," said Coach Mary Schroeder.

In the second set, her team went down 9-4 before coming back behind the strong serving of sophomore Stephanie Torczon to take the 15-9 win.

Torczon ended the night as her team's leading scorer, making 12-12 serves for eight aces. Julie Oswald was 8-8 with four ace serves and Stacey Kuhl added 6-6 with two aces.

Kristal Clay helped out as the top spiker with seven downed spikes on nine attempts for six aces. Oswald added three downed spikes, all aces, and junior Marci Greve added 3-3 for two aces.

Oswald and Torczon combined as leading setters in the win, with Torczon going 8 of 8 and Oswald making 6 of 6 sets.

"We were ready to play in this match, and we ended up playing very well," Schroeder said. "Our intensity on the court was good, and that is what we need to win."

The Trojans head back to their home court tonight (Thursday) for a game against West Point.

The Wakefield B team lost their match by scores of 15-6 and 15-8, and the C team fell in three sets, 11-5, 10-12 and 0-11.

Serving hurts in Allen loss

The Bobcats of Beemer handed the Allen volleyball team their second loss of the season and their first in the Lewis and Clark Conference on Tuesday night, as they took a three set match from the Eagles at home.

Allen dropped the opening set 15-10, but came back strong in the second to the things up with a 15-4 win. In the deciding game of the match, the Eagles got down early as Beemer took a 9-0 lead which they held onto for the 15-5 win.

"OUR SERVING percentage really hurt us in the opening game," said Coach Gary Troth. "It was a close set, and we had a 10-9 lead, but some passing and mental mistakes hurt our game." He added that in the second set the team passed much better and was able to keep the ball in play, which helped them to the win.

Mary Oswald and Denise Magnuson were leading spikers, Oswald hitting 16 of 19 spikes for five kills while Magnuson was 14 of 17 for seven aces. Setting leader was Pam Heckathorn with 11 good sets in 13 attempts.

Diane Magnuson and Oswald played up on the net for Allen, each recording two ace blocks in the match.

"It was a disappointing loss for us, but it is nothing to base the season on," Troth said. "I saw improvement in some areas that I felt were weak, and I'm content with that."

THE ALLEN VARSITY is now 4-2 overall and 2-1 in the Lewis and Clark Conference. They are scheduled to travel to Winnebago tonight (Thursday) for a non-conference contest.

Tiffany Harder had 11 points as the Allen B team lost to Beemer in three sets, 2-15, 15-10 and 5-15.

In C team play, Allen won with scores of 11-3, 4-11 and 11-3. Angie Jones led scoring with 10 points.

Win Briar Cliff tourney

Lady Cats on winning track

The fortunes of the Wayne State Lady Wildcat volleyball team took a upward turn as the Lady Cats won their second straight Briar Cliff Invitational over the weekend and took two straight sets from Nebraska Wesleyan and Briar Cliff on Monday evening in Rice Auditorium.

Marilyn Strate's squad moved their overall record to 9-4 going into last night's triangular with Bellevue College and Platte College in Bellevue. The Lady Cats will open their 1984 Central States Intercollegiate Conference season this weekend when they host Kearney State College, Washburn University and Missouri Southern State College on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 21-22.

WAYNE STATE defended their title of the six-team Briar Cliff Invitational with a 4-1 record, their only loss coming in a three set match with Midland Lutheran College midway through the day.

The Lady Wildcats opened play with a three set win over Upper Iowa College, winning 15-7, 11-15 and 15-8, before going on to take Northeast Technical Community College (Norfolk), also in three games, 15-5, 7-15 and 15-5.

Their only loss of the round robin tourney was to Midland College, as the Warriorettes got by Wayne State in three sets, 15-12, 8-15 and 15-2.

Wayne needed just two sets to defeat

Buena Vista College, 15-8 and 15-5, setting up the final match of the day between host team Briar Cliff and WSC.

The Lady Wildcats came through in their fourth three set match of the day, winning by scores of 15-10, 12-15 and 15-11.

"The team played with a lot of determination and pride," said Coach Marilyn Strate. She was pleased with the overall performance of her team, citing the good all around court play of senior Mitch Esters and the serving percentage of senior Mary Kay Becker. "Our setters, Jill Zeiss, Sue Walter and Linda Bode, also did a good job for us out on the court," she added.

Becker led scoring with a total of 44 points in the five matches with 19 aces on 66 attempts. Mitch Esters was second with 28 points and eight ace serves.

Keying the spiking attack for Wayne was Becker with 17 kills and two dinks. Senior Andra Jones and sophomore Missy Stoltenberg each had 13 kill spikes, while Jones added eight dinks and Stoltenberg tapped down six.

Junior Jill Zeiss led the setting department with 54 assists, and junior teammate Sue Walter backed up with 30 assists.

Esters was the team's leading serve receiver, with 38 good receives, followed by Becker with 35.

Andra Jones headed the Lady Cats defensive game on the net with 17 blocks, while Esters added 15 and sophomore Deb Prenger added 14.

IN MONDAY NIGHT'S triangular with Nebraska Wesleyan and Briar Cliff, WSC came away with a pair of wins, both going the full three sets.

Against Wesleyan, the Lady Wildcats came back after losing the opening set 15-7 to take two straight games by scores of 15-9 and 15-3.

Sue Walter and sophomore Diana Asay were the top scorers in the match with eight points each.

Mary Kay Becker downed four spikes for kills and junior Pam Gogan added two kills and two dinks to lead hitting for Wayne.

Zeiss had 14 good assists in the match, while Mitch Esters led both in serve receives with 12 and blocking with five good blocks.

In the rematch with Briar Cliff, the WSC team won the first set 15-5 before the Lady Chargers fought back to even the match with a 15-11 victory. The Lady Cats were able to come back in the deciding game, pulling out a 15-8 win.

Scoring was led by Pam Gogan with 13 points and Jill Zeiss with eight points. Zeiss also topped in the setting area with 11 good assists, followed by Sue Walter with 10 sets.

Diana Asay had five kill spikes and Deb Prenger added three and Andra Jones two to head up the spiking.

Soccer comes to town; home opener Sunday

Sports competition of a new kind will come to the Wayne area when the Wayne State Soccer Club hosts its first official game against the Siouxland Merchants this Sunday, Sept. 23.

The soccer match will be held on the playing field located just east of the Wayne State College varsity baseball field, beginning at 2 p.m. Admission is free and the general public is invited to attend.

GOING INTO its second year of official recognition, the Wayne State Soccer Club recently competed in its first sanctioned games earlier in September at an invitational tournament held in Sioux City, Iowa.

The club then moved into play in the Siouxperland Soccer League and lost their opening game last Sunday to Leones of Sioux City, 3-2.

Leones scored first in the 90-minute match, and held a 1-0 lead at the intermission. They added another goal early in the second half before Wayne State cut the margin to 2-1 moments later and then tied the score at 2-2. Leones took the lead and the eventual win on a goal scored with just under ten minutes remaining in the final half.

THERE ARE currently 22 members of the Wayne State Soccer Club, a group which has been officially recognized by the college since it organized and drafted a constitution in the fall of 1983. The group is also a member of the Nebraska State Soccer Association and the United States Soccer Federation.

Dr. Robert Johnson and Rick Deutsch, both instructors at WSC, serve as collegiate advisors for the club; providing the members with help on school policies and other concerns.

The team officially has no coach, although student player Sam Essies takes the team through their daily workouts and practice sessions. At games, Deutsch and Mike McMorrow, a player sideline due to an injury, supply coaching assistance as needed.

The club currently has two sponsors, the King of Clubs in Wayne and Omaha Silk Screens and Iron-Ons. Both help support the club by providing equipment, uniforms and payment of league and tournament entry fees.

"WE WANT to make it known to the public that we are not representing just Wayne State College, but the Wayne community as the Wayne State Soccer Club," said Mike McMorrow, spokesman for the club. He also urged the public to take advantage of this chance to see what is believed to be the first official soccer game played in Wayne.

A full soccer schedule will appear in an upcoming edition of The Wayne Herald.

Pierce falls 52-6 as 8th grade rolls

The Blue Devil eighth grade football team rolled to its second victory of the season, downing the visiting Pierce Bluejays 52-6 on Tuesday afternoon.

Five Wayne players got in on the scoring action in the game as the eighth grade team crossed the goal line a variety of ways, including short and long runs, and a 37 yard pass play.

Eric Luska ran for two of Wayne's seven touchdowns, scoring from a 4 and 35 yards out. Teammate Kevin Hausmann also added two touchdowns on the ground, on runs of 1 and 14 yards. Quarterback Jess Zeiss had the final TD on the ground, scoring on a 8 yard run.

In the air, Corey Frye latched on to a 37 yard pass from Jess Zeiss for the longest scoring catch of the day. The Blue Devil defense was also responsible for a score, when Jarrod Wood picked off a Pierce pass and ran it back 30 yards for a touchdown. Wayne was successful on all five of their two-point conversion attempts, three of them coming on runs by Kevin Hausmann and Sean Baker and two on passes from Zeiss to Greg Schmidt.

Rushing leader was Eric Luska with eight carries for 105 yards, while Kevin Hausmann had 12 carries for 96 yards.

Finishing out the rushing was Corey Frye with four carries for 59 yards, Sean Baker with five attempts for 23 yards, Jed Reeg with 24 yards on two carries, Eric Runestad with 13 yards on two tries, and Jess Zeiss with one carry for eight yards.

In the passing department, Zeiss had a total of four completions for 50 yards. His receivers included Corey Frye with a 37 yard touchdown catch, Sean Baker with a catch for seven yards and Greg Schmidt with six yards on two catches.

Jarrod Wood led the Blue Devil defense with eight tackles, backed up by Don Larson with six and Eric Luska with five stops. Corey Frye, Sean Baker and Chris Luff all added four tackles.

Jason Mrsny, Wood and Frye each brought down an intercepted pass, and Greg Schmidt recovered a Pierce fumble.

Additionally, in the eighth grade's opening win over Norfolk Catholic last week, Eric Runestad should have been listed among the defensive leaders with six tackles.

The eighth grade team will take their 2-0 record on the road this coming week as they travel to play Hartington Holy Trinity on Tuesday, Sept. 25 in a 4 p.m. game.

Season's first

Reserves win 12-6 over Pierce Bluejays in learning experience

A third quarter touchdown run by the Wayne Blue Devil reserve football team proved to be the difference as it broke a 6-6 tie to give Wayne a 12-6 win over Pierce in their second game of the season on Monday.

"It was a good game for our team," said Coach Ron Carnes. "They had to go out there and play hard, and it was a good learning experience for them since they had to make a lot of adjustments throughout the game."

WAYNE OPENED scoring in the first quarter on a 60 yard touchdown pass from quarter back Ted Lueders to junior running back Tim Fleming. The Blue Devils missed their PAT kick at tempt, giving them a 6-0 lead. A 34 yard scoring run by Pierce in the second period tied the score, as they were also unsuccessful on their PAT kicking try. The Pierce defense was able to halt a Wayne drive down the field in the third quarter, and after taking possession of the ball, the Bluejays coughed up the ball. The ball was recovered by Wayne guard Rod Gilliland to set up the winning scoring drive, which ended with a 12 yard run by junior running back Tom Perry. The two point conversion attempt failed, holding the score at 12-6 Wayne.

TOM PERRY led rushing for Wayne with 114 yards on 16 carries for one touchdown. Tim Fleming was the top pass receiver with a 60 yard touchdown reception. Leading defenders included junior Andy Hillier with 14 tackles, and Tom Perry, Rod Gilliland, Brent Pick and Tim Hansen, all with 11 stops. The reserve team will be in action again this Monday, Sept. 24 against Hartington Cedar Catholic on the road, beginning at 4 p.m.

cured when the baby developed in the mother's abdominal cavity instead of the uterus.

In the article which appeared in July of 1972, Coe said the incidence of abdominal pregnancy is rare, varying from one in 15,000 to one in 3,000 deliveries, and in many of the reported cases the fetuses are either dead or deformed.

"That was my most unusual case," Coe said.

THE WAKEFIELD physician also is proud of the years he served as a preceptor to nearly 30 students during their junior year at Medical School in Omaha.

The students, as part of their training to become doctors, spent approximately six weeks with Dr. Coe.

It was during those years that Dr. Coe, an avid sports fan, rarely missed attending a Nebraska football game when it was played at home.

"During the time I was a preceptor I was considered a member of the University faculty and I got free tickets," smiles Coe. "When I stopped my precep-torship they stopped sending me the tickets," he laughs.

COE'S LOVE of sports developed during high school and at Midland Lutheran College where he participated in football, basketball and track.

"Those were hard times to go through college," recalls the doctor, "so I got board and room at Midland by playing sports. "I lettered in three subjects," he laughs, "football, basketball and track." He pauses and adds with a smile, "I lettered in biology too."

LOOKING BACK, Coe said the biggest challenge of doctoring in a small, rural community is that you have to know quite a little about quite a lot.

"Coe said although medicine and diseases haven't changed through the years, there has been a change in the way doctors practice in smaller communities. "There are more referrals today than there used to be," said Coe, adding that the older practitioner did most of his own work. "Referrals are good," he added, "but they cost people a lot more money."

"Back in the depression days we were trying to save money because there was none to be spent."

NOW AT THE BRINK of retirement, Dr. Coe says he and his wife will always keep their house in Wakefield, but plan to travel more. "To watch my grandsons play football," he smiles.

Dr. Coe and his wife Miriam, a former nurse who received her degree from the University of Nebraska-Omaha, were married in 1937 and are the parents of two daughters.

Their oldest daughter, Mary Jane Fogarty, resides in Houston, Texas with her husband, Bill, who owns an advertising agency. Mary teaches swimming in the couple's backyard pool.

Their children are Kelly, who is married and resides in England; Jennifer, a junior at the University of Texas-Austin; and Danny, a senior at Westchester High School in Houston.

Danny, who shares his grandfather's love of football, is being sought after to play football at universities in both Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Marla Leigh Johnson, a former speech therapist and Dr. Coe's youngest daughter, resides in Sioux City with her husband Jerry, a builder.

Their children are Jodi, a freshman at Northern Iowa University in Cedar Falls; Jeffrey, a freshman at North High School; and David, a sixth grader.

"I think Jeff's gonna be the doctor," Coe proudly smiles. "David's gonna be a football player."

A MASON AND member of the Abu Bekr Shrine Club of Sioux City, Dr. Coe said he's also a Presbyterian. "Coes have been Presbyterian since the U.S. was discovered."

When asked if he looked forward to his days of retirement, Dr. Coe said he'll keep a going and possibly dust off the fishing pole.

"Remember," he smiles, "every dog has his day, and I've apparently had mine."

Football and band

A tradition of band music and college football was exemplified even more Saturday as Wayne State College, Wayne Second Guessers Club and Wayne Chamber of Commerce hosted at least 19 area bands in the annual Band Day celebration.

People lined Main Street early Saturday morning as the marching bands paraded before judges who later would tabulate competition results for the awarding of first and second place trophies. The bands also competed for $1,000 in Wayne State College scholarships donated by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce and the Second Guessers Club.

Taking first place was Wakefield, followed in second place by Emerson-Hubbard. Third place went to Bancroft-Rosalie and fourth place was grabbed by the high school band from Garretson, S.D.

Clockwise, from below, Allen's marching high school band passes through Wayne. Wakefield's Diane Trullinger accepts the first place marching band trophy from Second Guessers President Don Koeber and Chamber President Randy Pedersen.

Trisha Topp has the special duty of carrying the Winside marching band banner while Winside twirler Deanna Wills puts on a show.

The Wayne Junior High Band also had the opportunity to parade down Main Street. Wakefield marching band member Cam Thies performs one of the winning marching techniques. A Laurel band member's horn blasts away as Wayne State College band director Gary Davis conducts the mass band during halftime of the Wildcat-Hastings College football game.

Workshop aims to reduce dairy calf loss

The loss of nearly 10,000 dairy calves each year during the first six months of life is a serious economic drain on the state's dairy industry, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension dairyman said. A series of workshops across the state this fall is designed to cut these losses by giving dairy operators up-to-date calf-raising information. Foster Owen said.

"With the use of the latest knowledge and developments in calf raising we estimate these losses could be reduced to less than 5,000 per year," Owen said. "The dollar savings would be considerable, in addition to savings on treatments, labor and other costs associated with raising calves." The workshops scheduled from October through December in the eastern half of the state are designed to update dairy operators on management practices and disease prevention measures that have proven effective in minimizing health problems and death losses. Attention also will be given to the economics of raising high quality replacements, he said.

"The main benefit from reducing heifer losses is the larger number of prospective replacement animals which enter the herd. This makes possible the culling of more low producing cows, resulting in a higher average per cow," Owen said. "With more emphasis on breeding heifers for high production, this benefit compounds itself over time to build herds with high genetic capability for milk production."

TOPICS TO BE INCLUDED in the programs include: care of the cow at calving; dairy housing; disease prevention including vaccinations; feeding the baby calf and the heifer; detection and control of common health problems; and minimizing the cost of raising replacements. The workshops also will include demonstrations of important management practices, and participants may join in "how to" exercises on some topics.

The workshops, which will run from 9:45 a.m. to 3 p.m., will be conducted by Owen, Duane Rice, UNL extension veterinarian, and local extension agents. Anyone interested in dairying is invited to attend, Owen said. Areas sites and dates for the workshops include:

—Oct. 30, Stanton County, Stanton, fairgrounds.
—Oct. 31, Cedar County, Hartington City Auditorium.
Culling is Best Way To Qualify for Dairy Program Payments.
LINCOLN—Dairy producers consider several steps to reduce milk production. To qualify for payments under the dairy diversion program, but none is likely to be as profitable as additional culling, says Foster Owen.

University of Nebraska extension dairy specialist.

Some dairy producers found that culling a few poorer cows didn't substantially reduce total milk production, often because feeding and management of the remaining cows usually improved, according to University of Wisconsin dairy scientist, Jim Cramley.

Owen said that since additional culling probably will further improve the genetics and health of herds, culling could be viewed as an opportunity rather than a liability.

It seems that some producers feel it's against the law to leave some stalls empty," Owens continued.

Total milk production decreases much less than the percentage of cows culled when the poor producing cows are culled. For example, a 10 percent culling rate in a herd with an 11,000-pound average will decrease milk production by only 6.6 percent. A similar level of culling decreases milk production by 7.4 percent in a herd with a 14,000-pound average.

This means that dairy producers are further ahead economically when they produce their quota of milk with as few cows as possible, Owen said.

SOW MILKING PROBLEMS
Pork producers report failure to produce milk is one of the most common problems affecting sows. Six reasons why sows do not produce milk and some recommended solutions are:

1. Mastitis — This condition is not common in the sow and it usually only affects one or two glands. It is caused by Klebsiella from wood shavings or sawdust or E. coli from wet, unsanitary floors, in the farrowing crate.
2. Poor physical condition of the sow — check sow for parasites and increase feed intake.
3. Anemic sows — Run a lab test for hemoglobin level in the blood and treat anemic sows with iron injections and B-Complex vitamins.
4. Genetics — Select replacement gilts from best milking sows are determined by litter weights at 3 weeks of age.
5. Low feed consumption — Feed lactating sows to appetite with fresh feed 2 or 3 times a day. Avoid bulky ingredients, unpalatable feed additives and moldy feed in corners of the feeder.
6. Mange mites — Follow a good mange control program of spraying the sows twice during gestation at 10-day intervals.

Bereuter notified of deficiency pay

The United States Department of Agriculture notified Nebraska First District Representative Doug Bereuter on Friday that farmers who participate in the 1985 feed grain, cotton, and rice programs and the 1985 wheat program that was announced June 14 will be eligible for advance deficiency payments.

At the time they sign up, producers may request 50 percent of their projected 1985 deficiency payment and 50 percent of land diversion payments in those programs where land diversion payments are provided. Signup for all programs will be Oct. 15 through March 1.

Bereuter said USDA estimates the wheat deficiency payment rate at $1.08 per bushel and has established the wheat land diversion payment at $2.70 per bushel. The advance deficiency and diversion payments will be half these rates.

A producer who accepts an advance payment, but who later does not comply with program provisions, must refund the amount of the advance payment with interest plus liquidated damages.

BEREUTER, WHO HAD requested advance deficiency payments from Secretary Block earlier this month, said, "This is an important step by the Administration that will provide vital cash flow assistance to farmers this fall."

USDA also informed Bereuter that there will be a 10 percent acreage reduction requirement for participants in the 1985 feed grain program.

USDA estimates that per bushel deficiency payment rates will be: corn, 47 cents; sorghum, 46 cents; barley, 44 cents; and oats, none. Advance deficiency payments to eligible farmers will be half these rates.

Price support loan and purchase rates and target prices will be the same as in effect for the 1984 crops.

Loan and purchase rates, per bushel, will be: corn, $7.55; sorghum, $2.42; barley, $2.08; oats, $1.31; rye, $2.17.

Target prices, per bushel, will be: corn, $3.03; sorghum, $2.88; barley, $2.60; oats, $1.60.

OTHER 1985 FEED grain provisions include:

To be eligible for program benefits, a producer must agree to limit corn, sorghum, oats and barley acreage planted for harvest to not more than 90 percent of the farm's feed grain base and devote to acreage conservation reserve an acreage of eligible cropland equal to 11.11 percent of the planted acreage. As under the 1984 program, two bases will be established for determining permitted acreages — one for corn and sorghum, and one for barley and oats.

The 1985 acreage base will be the average of the acreage planted and considered planted to feed grains in 1983 and 1984.

Land designated for the acreage conservation reserve must have been devoted to row crops or small grains in two of the last three years except for a summer fallow farm. In the case of summer fallow, the cropping requirement is for one of the last two years. The land must be protected from wind and water erosion throughout the year.

Offsetting and cross compliance will not apply to the 1985 program.

Haying will not be permitted on the acreage conservation reserve land. However, the acreage may be grazed except during the five principal growing months as designated by county ASCS committees. Block also approved a standby measure authorizing, in the event of a natural disaster, implementation of emergency haying and grazing privileges. Approval of the emergency privileges would be made as needed on a county-by-county basis.

There will be no immediate entry in the farmer-owned reserve for the 1985 crops of feed grains. USDA intends to review the size of the reserve before regular price support loans for the 1985 crops reach maturity. At that time it will be determined whether entry into the reserve will be permitted.

Commenting on the announcement, Bereuter said, "The early announcement of the 1985 feed grain program will give farmers more time and opportunity to plan and weigh their options for the 1985 growing season. Those who decide to sign up early for the program will be able to participate in the benefit from the advance deficiency payments."

Polled Hereford winner

BBH RED MAN 122R was named the Nebraska champion Polled Hereford bull at the Nebraska State Fair in Lincoln on Sept. 2. Also named the reserve calf champ in the open show, he is owned by Blueberry Hill Farms, Norfolk; C.E. Frenzen and Sons, Fullerton; and TWJ Farm, Carroll. Jock Beeson of Wayne filled the last slot on the heifer championship roster with reserve calf champ JB Miss G5 Enforcer 922R. Sired by ELF Enforcer 9121, she was among the quartet of 9121 offspring who took first place in the calf get-of-sire class for JB Ranch of Wayne.

the farmer's wife by pat meierhenry

Neither I nor the Big Farmer had the opportunity to be in a high school band. (Hoskins and Waco were very small schools.) Consequently, we've always been band boosters.

Then there are all the practice hassles. Eventually, miraculously, the sounds they make are pleasing to the ear. And they learn to be in tune, and to march in step.

Before you know it, they bring home a bright uniform and you find yourself sporting the band to some parade.

But some things never change, like at the Wayne State College Band Day. We were on time for the bus last Saturday and one horn was home in the living room. One overstay was dropped at the school, and two trumpets were mixed up.

WHEN YOU watched the mass bands perform at half time, remember they were on the field practicing early that morning. Many had either played football, or performed at a game, the night before. Kids from Spenger, Lynch and Verdigré got up early to be in Wayne by 9 a.m.

The day was perfect for watching and listening to bands. There was a ton of pizza devoured at noon. It's great to see WSC winning. I have a raccoon face from sitting in the sun with sunglasses on. Coach Chapman seems like an awfully nice guy.

Almost as nice as Coach Osborne, whose son played for Hastings. It dawned on us that Dr. Tom seldom gets to see his kid play. And we wondered what Mrs. O does. Does she attend in Lincoln, or Hastings? Maybe she just stays home and prays.

Anyway, it was a good day. And our horn boosters were tired when they got home.

I reflected again on the special qualities that make musicians become band directors. Where do they find the patience to last over every year with the new students, to plod through the off key notes and the out of rhythm beats.

How do they get up early on Saturday mornings to ride school buses with kids and radios, and keep on smiling when music, instruments, and shoes are forgotten? (Did you notice the kid in black socks?)

They must read Funky Winkerbean with special appreciation. And maybe, like parents, their reward comes when they walk beside their kids down the parade route, and hear the school song played once again, and view the orderly formations they thought would never happen.

Do their eyes get a little misty with pride, too? I hope so. They don't get the recognition the coach does, but what would football be without them? Let's hear it for the band!

Managing for Tomorrow

Registrations are now being taken for the new Managing for Tomorrow Program sponsored by the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service.

The purpose of the program is to help farm and ranch families gather, organize and analyze information about their operations to enable informed decision-making for the future.

The program will be useful to any farm or ranch operator who is interested in assessing management strategies and will be particularly helpful for families who wish to evaluate their current financial situations and the alternatives they have for the future.

Managing for Tomorrow consists of workshop sessions beginning in November. Individual analysis using computer models will be made with each farm family during January and February. After the individual analyses and goal setting have been accomplished, a second series of workshops will be held, to be concluded before spring planting begins.

Further information is available from Don C. Spitzer, Extension Agent-Chairman at 375-3310, from financial lenders or by calling a toll free information number, (800) 535-3456.

Cattle on Feed Down

Nebraska cattle feeders have 1,110,000 cattle on feed on Sept. 1, according to the Nebraska Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This inventory was down 15 percent from last year and 26 percent from 1982. This was the lowest number of cattle on feed September 1 since 1976.

Feed cattle marketings for the month of August totaled 330,000, a decrease of 17 percent from 1983 and 20 percent below August 1982.

Placements of cattle into feedlots during August totaled 290,000 head. This was down 15 percent from last year and was 31 percent below the record high two years ago. Placements were the lowest for the month since 1979.

Polled Hereford show

Two showing veterans by Gold Trophy Sire Klondike Banner 469L, chalked up the purple banners at the Kansas State Fair. Polled Hereford Show on Sept. 1, Hutchinson, Kan., was the site for the 103-head show judged by Jack Simpson of JBS Polled Herefords, Hillsboro, Texas.

Calf champion BBH Red Man 122R rose to the top of the bull show. This 469L son has collected numerous division honors, this show season, including the champion Nebraska bull at the Nebraska State Fair a week earlier. He is shown by C.E. Frenzen and Sons, Fullerton; TWJ Farms, Carroll; and Blueberry Hill Farm, Norfolk.

1985 acreage reduction requirement announced

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block recently announced a 10 percent acreage reduction requirement for participants in the 1985 feed grain program.
