City decides to purchase computer system

A new computer system, to be utilized by several Wayne city departments, was approved for purchase Tuesday evening by seven of the eight Wayne City Council members.

After an hour of discussion on the recommendations of city personnel and from Dr. David DiMartino, a consultant obtained by the city from the Center of Urban Research at the University of Nebraska-Omaha, the city council accepted the computer bid from Computoservice, Inc. of Mankato, Minnesota (contingent upon negotiation of accepted contract).

According to DiMartino, the five year cost in obtaining the computer system will be $141,150, which takes into consideration the hardware, operating system, hardware and software maintenance and other one time costs.

The annualized cost to the city during the five years is $28,230.

The system proposed by Computoservice is a Texas Instruments 372 business system, according to DiMartino. Among the hardware are six work stations (terminals) which are expandable to seven, plus four printers.

"Planned location of the hardware is one work station and printer in the police department, one terminal in the city manager's office, and four work stations, three printers and a memory in the city clerk's office," DiMartino said.

DiMartino said the six terminals are more than adequate for city functions for at least five years. The seventh terminal, if expansion needs occur, could be installed in the police department, he recommended.

IF MORE THAN seven terminals are needed, DiMartino recommended that the two terminals in the police station be transferred to the city clerk's office. The city could then acquire a more compatible separate system for the police department. The Wayne City Council signed a contract to obtain DiMartino as a consultant in October of last year. There were 13 computer system proposals brought to the council, and DiMartino said he "saw no problem with six of the 13 bids."

Out of six, the proposals were narrowed to NCR Corporation of Lincoln; Precision Computer Systems, Inc. of Sioux Falls; and Computoservice, Inc. of Mankato.

Vendors from the three companies came to Wayne and council members and city personnel were able to see the machine in operation. City personnel from Wayne also visited sites where the computers were already in operation.

COUNCILMAN FREEMAN Decker restrained from voting on the computer system purchase. "The reason I passed was because I don't know enough about it," he said.

Earlier in the discussion, Decker asked DiMartino about the merits of a computer system. "Does the city of Wayne really need this or is it just nice to have?" he asked, suggesting that perhaps extra personnel would need to be hired to operate the computer system.

"I find it hard to justify spending $28,000 a year on one. Is it going to save lots of money in the long run?" he questioned. "Do we have the money to go into this?"

DiMartino assured Decker there would be no need to hire someone in addition to the present staff in operating the machine.

Phil Kloster, city administrator, said the city began planning three years ago for the computer system. Funds for the computer system purchase, he said, were budgeted last fiscal year, but the purchase never materialized.

The costs for the system were approved in the current fiscal year budget, he said.

"Quite frankly, as far behind as we are on record keeping and accountability in comparison to other communities or businesses our size, it is almost pathetic as to what we had done or what we should be doing," Kloster said.

He said the city is running every year into more problems with the auditors because information is not readily available.

KLOSTER SAID the date pinpointed when basic implementation of the computer system begins is Aug. 1, 1985. "But we'll probably be hard pushed to hit that. We look to January, 1986 when we'll be up and running as far as this is concerned," he said.

All city clerk office employees will be trained on use of the computer system, as will dispatchers and recordkeepers at the police department, according to DiMartino. DiMartino said Wayne city personnel found the ease of operation, responsiveness, relatively less required keying and less steps to learn as appealing.

Other software features they found appealing were: the four tiered security; the 36 month file structure available for budgeting; the availability of factual, strategic and management functions in the police package, and screen formats.

In his recommendation, DiMartino said the city's new computer system, once implemented, will improve the efficiency of office operations, eliminate duplication of record keeping, result in a speedier response to office needs and requests to the public, and foster better management and planning through improved information flow.

ALSO TUESDAY, the Wayne City Council:

- Established a park fee of $2,264 per acre (same price as the Western Heights Subdivision) for the Corryell Subdivision. The preliminary plat for the subdivision was approved at the previous regular meeting.

- Approved a resolution updating the one and one half year street improvement plan of the City of Wayne which was passed on Jan. 31 of 1984.

- Since the passage of the plan, several projects had been approved by the city council for completion this year, including Emerald Drive, East 4th St. from Dearborn St., 150 feet east; South Douglas St. from West 1st St. south to abandoned railroad right of way; and West 3rd St. from Oak Drive west to Wayne County Fairgrounds, 615 feet.

- Appointed Steve Jones of Wayne as the College Community Board representative.

- Conducted an executive session to discuss the subject of Crafts, Inc.

- Crafts, Inc. was recently assessed a penalty by the city of Wayne in the amount of $3,000 for failure to complete a city maintenance building. The actual penalty amount was $4,200, according to city of Wayne.

Seeing double

THIS YEAR at the Wayne Middle School, the number of twins are plentiful. In the fifth grade alone there are four sets: Front, left to right, are Eric and Ellen Cole, sixth grade; and Lana and Lisa Casey, fifth grade. Next row up are Margo and Marta Sandahl, eighth grade; and Shanna and Shawn Schroeder (survivors of triplets), fifth grade. Then it is Jim and John Murphy, fifth grade; and Brent and Brian (Spanky) Gamble, fifth grade. At the top are Jean and Joel Hansen, eighth grade; and Jason and Adam Mrsny, eighth grade.

United Way sets goal

Wayne Community Chest officials hope to raise $16,725 this year in its 30th annual United Way Fund Drive.

This year's United Way goal is lessened from the previous year's accomplished goal of $17,900. Reasons behind the decrease, according to Linda Carr of Wayne who is campaign chairman, is the sluggish economic times plus the fact individuals and businesses have already contributed funds toward the Wayne Centennial celebration.

The United Way fund drive will begin on Oct. 1 and will continue till Oct. 28, Carr said.

Agencies which will share in the United Way contributions will be the Wayne Recreation Donation Fund, $5,800; Mid America Council of Boy Scouts, $3,500; Prairie Hills Council of Girl Scouts, $2,625; Salvation Army, $1,300; Arthritis Foundation, $1,000; Wayne Senior Citizens Center, $900; American Red Cross, $400; and contingency and administration, $1,200.

Percentage wise, Wayne Recreation receives 35 percent of the funding, Boy Scouts, 21 percent, Girl Scouts, 16 percent, Salvation Army, 8 percent, Administration, 7 percent; Arthritis Foundation, 6 percent; Senior Citizens, 5 percent; and Red Cross, 2 percent.

Each Thursday edition of The Wayne Herald will publicize the amount of dollars raised during the course of the Oct. 1 to Oct. 28 fund raising campaign. With each graphic will be a brief explanation of how United Way funding contributes to the activities of the various agencies that receive the contributions.

Board members for the 1984 United Way include Joyce Reeg, president; Ginny Olte, vice president; Jerry Schaefer, Gerard Conway, Marilyn Pierson, Jack Hausmartin, Dave Olson, Larry Magnuson, Dave Luff and Max Kathol.

The United Way Staff consists of Linda Carr, campaign chairman; Gene Lodes, assistant chairman; and Linda Baddorf, secretary-treasurer.

This Friday the Wayne Chamber of Commerce "Chamber Coffee" will take place at the Middle Center above the Wayne Fire Hall, where the United Way fund drive will be discussed.

Winter relief? Try the fitness center

If it's zero degrees outside and snow is falling, but the avid and dedicated individual who jogs to relieve stress knows a break in his daily five-mile run routine could result in even more tension.

An older married couple would like to have an exercise room and free weights in their new home, but it can't be done without expanding the basement area.

There is a solution to these problems that is unknown to some people in Wayne and the surrounding area. And it is located in a lower level room as one walks through a door located on the east side of Providence Medical Center.

It's called the Providence Fitness Center. And during this week, members of the fitness center board of directors have hosted an open house to allow non-members to view the facilities and participate if desired in demonstrations.

The open house began on Sunday afternoon and will continue during weekday evenings till today (Thursday) from 7 to 9 p.m.

On the fitness center board are Gene Lodes, Paula Pfeuger, Todd French, Dale Preston, Michelle Flowers, Sister Kevin, Tim Thomas and Breck Giese.

Lodes, president of the fitness center board, said the open house was scheduled "to promote the facility and make the area aware of this type of center."

"We're promoting it and letting people know that Wayne has a place to utilize this type of [exercise] equipment — to let them come in and try the equipment out," Lodes said.

INSIDE THE FITNESS center facility are various exercise areas which incorporate the following equipment: free weights, a Universal weight machine, a running machine, exercise bikes, sauna and a hot tub, an aerobic area, a racquetball court (which is regulation width and length, but the height is lower), showers, men and women locker rooms, stereo and a pop machine.

The racquetball court and the running machine appear to gain the most usage by the 85 members of the fitness center, according to Lodes.

During the open house dates of Sept. 23 to 27, individuals can obtain membership to the fitness center at reduced rates. A family membership fee, normally $175 annually (the fiscal year is from Oct. 1 to Sept. 30) will be provided at $150, while the single un-married membership rate has the "open house rate" of $100. The regular rate is $125.

Lodes, a two year member of the board, said the fitness equipment and remodeling of the facility took place approximately three years ago with the financial assistance of the Providence Medical Center Foundation and lending institutions.

Since the center is non-profit, the money gained from membership is used to repay the loans on the fitness equipment and the remodeling project, Lodes said.

MEMBERSHIP HAD been down last year from the previous years, he added. But now that the problems of breakdowns with the running machine and the hot tub are remedied, he anticipates the membership to pick up again.

Lodes specified that the fitness center does have an age limit for usage of equipment. Current policy states that the fitness center board is not liable for injuries sustain at the facility.

"We're not liable for injuries and we are not a babysitting service, so no one younger than seven should be admitted. Ages seven to 16 are okay as long as the sponsor is with them," Lodes said.

What the board of directors hope to start this membership year is to have members who are interested in a particular development program place their signature on a sign-up sheet.

Volunteers would be obtained to start developing programs for the individuals.

"If we were a profit organization, we could have a staff member designing exercise programs. But then our membership fees would be higher," Lodes said.

MOST PEOPLE WHO like to exercise at all seasons are limited by the weather and can't do much outside.

"Here people can get a good workout without freezing their tails off. They can run 10 miles without leaving the warmth of the center," Lodes said.

Usage at the fitness facility is normally increased during the months between September and May. From June to August is when the center is least used, according to Lodes.

Members presently use the facility equipment at different hours. Some of the women use the fitness center facility in the morning hours when the husband is working and the children are in school. Some men have a fitness center workout during the noon hour or after work, Lodes mentioned. Each individual with a membership has a key to the facility.

Tim Thomas' taekwondo students use the facility as a workout area on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

"Coming from Lincoln, it seems the fitness craze has really taken hold. I think that everyone will benefit from this facility," Lodes, a racquetball enthusiast, said.

He isn't one who likes to watch television and be inactive on a winter's evening. "It's nice to have someplace to go where I can exercise," he added.

"People can benefit as best they can from a facility like this."

ANGELA AND Mary Thorp work out on the exercise bikes.

BRECK GIESE demonstrates the Universal weight machine.

Ping pong balls to drop

Things will be bouncing in Wayne Thursday evening as the Wayne Chamber of Commerce has come up with another entertaining yet dollar-saving sponsored event.

The promotion is entitled "Bouncing Back to Better Bargains" or "The Great Ping Pong Ball Drop."

Various colored ping pong balls will be dropped from several business and college locations in Wayne on Thursday at 7 p.m., approximately an hour before the bonus promotion begins.

At 7 p.m., 3,000 ping pong balls dyed in red, white and blue colors will be dropped from five designated spots in Wayne.

IN MOST STORES, the white ping pong ball will represent 10 percent discounts on various items. The red ball qualifies for 20 percent off while the blue ping pong ball will entitle the finder to a 30 percent discount.

Some businesses are offering even higher savings.

Each ball is good for one purchase and the ping pong specials are to be in effect on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 27, 28 and 29.

These locations will have balls thrown from the rooftops to the shoppers gathered below: the north side of Kaup's TV building; the south side of Kuhn's Department Store building; Pamida; the south side of Bill's CW; and Bowen Hall at the Wayne State College campus.

Wayne woman appointed new Tri-COG director

Ms. Pal Straight has been appointed to the position of Director of the Tri-County Council of Governments (Tri-COG) headquartered in Hartington.

"Straight brings a wealth of administrative experience to the Knox, Cedar and Dixon county region served by Tri-COG. She served as Executive Director for the Region 24 Council of Governments (located in northcentral Nebraska) for the past two years and as City Clerk-Treasurer-Finance Director for the City of Norfolk from 1979 to 1982.

With that background in administration, Straight hopes to offer area communities technical assistance in a more "down to earth" approach. Tri-COG plans to institute a circuit riding city administrator program through which local governments can contract for services, such as training and problem-solving.

"I hope to provide local towns with more practical information that can be used on a day-to-day basis," said Straight. "This program should enable towns to maximize their assets."

STRAIGHT PRESENTLY serves as Vice President of the Northeast Economic Development Association—a subsection of the Nebraska League of Municipalities. She is also past president of the Nebraska Clerks Association and was named Outstanding Nebraska Municipal Clerk for First Class Cities (over 5,000 pop.) in 1982.

Straight lives in Wayne where her son attends high school and her daughter is a student at Wayne State College.

"I am very happy to be in this area and associated with Tri-COG and I am looking forward to meeting and working with the local area townspeople," Straight noted.

Crime Prevention Stamp issued

The United States Postal Service has issued a new stamp in conjunction with Crime Prevention Month, which begins Oct. 1. According to Wayne Postmaster LeRoy Jones, the 20 cent Crime Prevention Stamp features a portrait of McGruff, the Crime Dog, dressed in his familiar trench coat.

October is also National Stamp Collecting Month, and the stamp is expected to be of interest to the estimated 22 million stamp collectors in the United States.

The Crime Prevention Stamp was dedicated Sept. 26 by Chief Postal Inspector Kenneth H. Fielder at the National Museum of American History in Washington, D.C. The stamp suggests that Americans "Take a Bite Out of Crime" by practicing crime prevention.

The McGruff image was developed by the Crime Prevention Coalition to provide safety information and encourage people to take precautions to prevent crime. McGruff's "Take a Bite

Out of Crime" theme encourages participation in citizen crime prevention activities and programs throughout the United States. Permission to use the copyrighted image of McGruff on the stamp was granted to the Postal Service by his creators, the Advertising Council.

Postmaster Jones says the new stamps and information about activities surrounding the Crime Prevention and National Stamp Collecting Months are available at the Wayne Post Office.

Drug, alcohol manual offered

A manual giving complete details on conducting a "Drug and Alcohol Awareness Day" is now available through the Nebraska Alcohol and Drug Information Clearinghouse (NADIC).

"A Drug" and "Alcohol Awareness Day" has been described as a revolutionary one-day program suitable for all ages. The seven-hour program provides information related to peer pressure, self-image, decision making, medical aspects, legal ramifications and more.

Endorsed by Governor Robert Kerrey and Mary Jacobson, Chairman of the Board, National Federation of Parents for Drug-Free Youth, the new manual, just published, serves as a "cookbook" that outlines "how to" resource for:

Student, community & professional involvement involving videos, puppets, films, panels, life experiences promoting leisure activities as alternatives, including prizes "A Community Come Alive."

The "Drug and Alcohol Awareness Day" was pilot tested in Plainview, Neb. and is authored by the coordinators of the workshop, Sonia Koumovsky, associate professional counselor, Ord, Neb. and Deborah Tague, PTA vice president, Plainview. The 160-page manual is contained in a gold-embossed three-ring notebook with room for additions and will be available after Sept. 26, 1984.

The NADIC offices are located at 3 Coliseum, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb. 68588-0136.

Effectiveness not yet fully evaluated

Mandatory beef check-off program is good one

One of the major sources for obtaining the information necessary to formulate legislation is the interim study resolution. This is a committee study of a particular problem or issue conducted during the summer and fall months when the Legislature is not in session.

Normally, ideas for interim studies are drafted in the spring and subsequently assigned to the proper committees for their consideration. However, a recent petition concerning the Beef Check-off program convinced the Agricultural and Environment Committee to schedule hearings for the purpose of assessing attitudes toward the program and whether changes are needed. One meeting has already been held this week (Monday) in Ogallala. Another is scheduled at 7:00 p.m. on November 15 in Lincoln.

The beef check-off program is currently administered by the Nebraska Beef Industry Development Board. Under Nebraska law, every time cattle are sold, 25 cents per head is to be paid by the seller to the auction market, beef packer, order buyer, livestock dealer, etc. involved in the transaction. The fee is then forwarded by the collector to the Board. Payment of the check-off fee had been voluntary since its introduction in 1976—however, payment became mandatory after the passage of LB 19 in 1983.

senator merle von minden

The purpose of the check-off fee is to provide funding to enable the beef industry to develop, carry out, and participate in programs of research, education, market development and promotion of beef products. Similar check-off programs, some mandatory, others voluntary, exist in Nebraska for wheat, corn, pork and lamb promotion.

Since the beef check-off became mandatory in April of 1983, 1.9 million dollars has been collected. Not everyone has paid without objection, however. Approximately 290 signatures were affixed to the petition mentioned previously, criticizing the mandatory aspect of the check-off and asking for its repeal. Critics of the check-off come from primarily two sources: large feedlot operators who are hit hardest by the fee because of the number of cattle they handle and those who object to the mandatory nature of the check off as a matter of principle.

I BELIEVE the majority of cattle feeders support the program because they realize that they are engaged in the business of selling a product in a highly competitive market and need an entity like the Beef Industry Development Board to insure that beef can successfully compete with other food products. Having only been in effect for 16 months, I don't feel that we have had a chance to fully evaluate the effectiveness of the mandatory program. I supported the passage of LB 19 which created the program because if it is administered as effectively as the other check off programs, it can't help but benefit the beef industry.

Resistance to the program is actually quite minimal if measured by the actual dollar assessments which have not been paid. As I mentioned earlier, 1.9 million dollars has been collected. Only around $4,600.00 in assessed check off fees had not been paid as of the end of June.

Consumers should be aware that this is a producer supported program. It does not add to the cost of beef products. Four other states besides Nebraska have mandatory beef check off programs similar to ours and many others have voluntary programs. All are members of the National Live Stock and Meat Board in Chicago which conducts the inter national promotion and much of the national advertising efforts.

The mandatory beef check off program is a good one. It should not be discarded before it has the opportunity to fulfill its potential

It does compute

Tuesday evening the Wayne City Council took giant steps toward updating its present recordkeeping system by purchasing a six terminal computer system. The cost of the system is over $28,000 annually for each of the next five years.

During discussion on the computer, Councilman Freeman Decker made a point — does the city of Wayne really need a computer system or is it just an item that would be nice to have.

Computers or word processors have become nearly a common fixture in today's fast-paced business society. Often it is difficult to accept computers over other means of communication or gathering informational data when the current system works just as well.

Going from a manual typewriter to an electric typewriter, then to a word processing unit within the past four years has not been without flaws for me. But the move was essential to keep up with the trade and progress of the newspaper industry.

Likewise, the city of Wayne is being faced with the constant task of "catching up" on the recordkeeping, wasting time researching files for information on particular projects or researching personnel payroll records.

We are not only in an electronic era, but from the city's point of view, we're also in a "red-tape age."

More statistics and other information are demanded on these forms such as for grant applications, than ever before. Currently, Wayne city personnel must do all the research for this information without the aid of computer, and that takes time, possibly additional personnel staffing. It also affects the public as a whole.

If the information were all available at the city personnel's fingertips, then more research could be designated toward the other areas of the city for improvements or additions.

In the long run, the computer system will pay for itself in time saved and services offered and we hope it will also result in savings to residents of the city.

We hope the city council has done its job in researching all other available resources which would improve the efficiency of the city department offices without taking the major step of securing a computer system.

If they have and if the city's present situation is as "pathetic" as the city administrator says it is, then it appears the computer purchase option seems to be the alternative that is feasible if the city wants to stop lagging behind other communities or businesses its size in accountability.

Senseless destruction

I wasn't going to mention anything about the destruction, sometime last Friday evening, of a young tree which was planted in front of our office this spring. The person who did the vandalism is probably the person who gets a kick out of seeing this type of thing in headlines. That's how the individual gets his jollies.

Perhaps the one or more individuals didn't know that what was destroyed was not only a lovely tree, but a plan by the city of Wayne to beautify the business district sidewalks and to beautify the downtown area.

What that single defenseless small tree (and another tree by Trio Travel) cost to plant was over $400, according to city officials. In actual value, it will probably cost more than that to replace it.

If you would have thought, during the same amount of seconds that it took you to destroy the item, of what you had cost the Wayne city taxpayers and business merchants in pride, maybe you could have reconsidered.

But you didn't. So, here is the picture. Go ahead and laugh. That is, if you still feel like laughing about it.

Change sought in Medicare reimbursements

Representative Doug Bereuter has written to Health and Human Services Secretary Margaret Heckler to call for immediate action to correct inequities in the methods used in calculating Medicare reimbursements to hospitals.

According to Bereuter, under the prospective payment system now used by Medicare, the standardized amounts used to calculate the labor and non labor portions for each Diagnostic Related Group (DRG) reimbursement are smaller for rural hospitals than for urban hospitals, on the assumption that costs are lower in rural areas than in urban areas.

"With some exceptions, labor costs are generally lower in rural areas," Bereuter said. "But they are not 25 percent lower.

congressman doug bereuter

Yet, in the West North Central Region, which includes Nebraska, urban hospitals receive a standardized labor component that is 25 percent larger than what is received by rural hospitals. This difference is particularly devastating to hospitals classified as rural and located near urban areas. They are competing for staff in urban labor markets.

"While the 25 percent labor differential is not equitable, the 34 percent differential for non labor costs in the West North Central Region is incomprehensible," Bereuter added. "It stands to reason that for many rural labor items, rural hospitals' costs are actually greater than urban hospitals' costs, because of the smaller volume ordered and transportation costs."

Bereuter pointed out that the percentage of the labor and non labor differential is greater in the West North Central Region than in any other region. It is greater than the national differential. Something is clearly and terribly wrong here," Bereuter said. "And it imperils our rural health care system. Our rural hospitals cannot wait for studies and possible relief in the future. It will come too late, if it comes at all, to ensure that we maintain and enhance the improvements we have made in rural health care over the past decades.

"If our rural hospitals begin to close their doors, it will become increasingly difficult to attract and hold physicians in rural areas, leaving our rural citizens without the high quality, community based health care services that have taken so long to build," Bereuter concluded.

Phenomenon is serious threat to political system

Letter to the editor:

Having been a student of the political process for quite some time, I believe an interesting phenomenon has developed that is a serious threat to our political system. I am talking about voting for a person only because he is registered with a certain party.

Many people have the idea that a person is conservative because he is a registered Republican or liberal because of a Democratic registration. A person's political registration comes about through various means: family tradition, peer pressure, attraction to a particular candidate, or maybe what is in vogue. For a political candidate, his or her party registration might include the above plus a few more, such as better organization, personal affiliations, or opportunities. Yes I said opportunities.

As examples: Senator Zorinsky or State Senator Vickers changed parties to run for office. Were they born again into a new philosophy of government, were they awakened in their sleep by a liberal conscience and as a result ran to their county clerks to change parties? Of course not. They were men who felt they had much to offer the process and saw their best opportunity with a different party.

Philosophy of government is not a function of which box you check when you register, but how you feel, how you set priorities, how you address problems, how you think. A person or politician, just because they are registered Republican are not automatically conservative by any stretch of the imagination.

Cast in point, soon we will be voting on a State Senator to represent us in the Nebraska Legislature. Even though the Nebraska Unicameral is a non partisan body, currently, all members are registered either Republican or Democrat. Of the two candidates running to represent us, it so happens that one is a Republican and one is a Democrat. One is conservative and the other is a Republican.

For the good of Nebraska, show a little wisdom. Vote for the man, the philosophy, and the capability of the candidate, not just the party.

Fundraising efforts for Carol are appreciated

Letter to the editor: Dear Friends of Wayne and surrounding area:

This letter is long overdue but no less from the bottom of our hearts. We are so grateful to many people of the Wayne Area who have turned out to help in so many ways with the efforts to raise funds for a pancreas transplant for Carol.

So many have put out so much time and effort for successful fund raisers for her. And so many have contributed to her fund and supported the fund raisers. We appreciate you all so much.

So many people are interested in what is happening with Carol, so I will try to bring you up to date. Carol had her first surgery at University Hospital in Minneapolis to prepare for the pancreas transplant on Sept. 4.

Recovery was a little slower than we expected but everything is going real well and the doctors are pleased. She returned home on Sunday, Sept. 16. Her transplant surgery is scheduled for Nov. 14.

We have every confidence that it's going to be successful and with the toughness and prayers of so many people it's bound to be okay.

A couple of months ago we didn't think we would ever see these things happening. I guess we never know how many people really care until a need arises.

Carol will have a chance for a normal life and so many of you are making it possible. We feel blessed in so many ways.

The Kumm's Lavita, Hailand and Carol

Pat on back

Letter to the editor:

In light of Wayne States' three straight football victories, I can't help but wonder about the goal who sent me an unsigned letter last year lambasting my column in support of Wildcat head coach Pete Chapman.

Chapman, assistant coach Mike Breske, Dennis Danielson, Athletic Director Ror Jones and company deserve a well earned pat on the back.

As for my anonymous friend I hate to say "I told you so." But — I, I told you so."

Club-of-the-month

Merry Homemakers organized in 1935

The following is the first of several articles being prepared by home extension clubs in Dixon County as part of a club-of-the-month series. Each month, extension clubs in Dixon County will report a brief history of their club, their membership and some of their major activities. Extension clubs are a part of the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service. The extension homemakers program in Dixon County is directed by Anna Marie White.

The Merry Homemakers Home Extension Club of Dixon County held its first meeting in September 1935. Some members remember taking a "hot dish" and attending day long training meetings for the club lessons, under the direction of Dixon County's first extension agent, Greth Dunn.

Club activities have changed during the past 50 years. Lesson leaders now attend two hour training meetings, then teach the lesson to club members at a regular club meeting.

Lessons related to food and nutrition, home decorating and sewing are of special interest to club members.

COMMUNITY projects often receive assistance from extension clubs.

The Merry Homemakers Club took charge of the food service at the annual Northeast Nebraska Field Day held on Aug. 21.

They plant flowers in the flower boxes and bake cookies for the Hillcrest Care Center in Laurel.

During the Dixon County Fair, club members are busy volunteering a variety of services. Profits from farm sale lunches are used for charitable donations at Christmastime.

Club members also enjoy tours to museums, radio and television stations, hobby shops and greenhouses.

SUZIE JOHNSON, a Merry Homemakers Club member, presently serves as chairman of the Dixon County Home Extension Council.

Other members include Verlyn Anderson, Paula Haisch, Ella Anderson, Naomi Peterson, Ave Olson, Fern Erickson, Donna Forsberg, Ruth Erwin, Mae Pearson, Deanna Erwin, Debbie Bose, Lyla Swanson, Luella Bose, Avis Pearson, Doris Nelson, Evonne Magnuson, Ardyece Johnson and Alyce Erwin.

Membership in extension clubs is open to all homemakers. Persons interested in joining are asked to call Aetha Nelson of Newcastle, 355-2519, Alyce Erwin of Concord, 584-2457, or Anna Marie White, Extension Agent-Home Economics, 584-2234.

Cats add chapter to record book with Midland win

The Wayne State Wildcats racked up their third win of the season enroute to writing another chapter in the WSC football record books as they rolled over the Midland Lutheran College Warriors Saturday evening in Fremont, 44-28.

The Cats set a total of seven school records, including three team and four individual marks.

"This was a game our kids wanted very bad," said head Coach Pete Chapman.

It's the best start for a WSC team since 1977 when the Wildcats were 3-1 under Coach Del Stollenberg. The Cats finished that season at 7-3 and in second place in the Central States Conference.

THE WILDCATS again used their strong defensive game to hold Midland scoreless in the opening period when putting 16 points of their own on the board.

Quarterback Ed Jochum hit sophomore wide receiver Sonny Jones for the touchdown with 7:46 remaining on a six-yard pass play. Kicker Herve Roussel added the extra point and a 40-yard field goal just two minutes later to extend the WSC lead to 10-0.

It was the second quarter that put the Wildcats in control for the remainder of the game as they added 20 points to their lead on three touchdown passes from quarterback Ed Jochum.

The first came with 13:28 when Jochum spotted junior wide receiver Ray Hooker open in the endzone for a nine-yard touchdown play. The PAT by Roussel was good for the WSC 17-0 lead.

Junior Matt Hoffman was Jochum's next target, as he hauled in a 34-yard pass at 10:18 in the quarter to score. Ropssel's PAT was good.

The long pass of the day gave WSC their third touchdown of the quarter when Ray Hooker nabbed a 45 yard aerial from Jochum to score. The extra point attempt by Roussel failed.

Midland showed a brief flash of their running power moments later when premiere running back Ray Koonce broke loose on a 72 yard TD run, followed up with the PAT by kicker Paul Rohovde.

THE WILDCATS outscored the Warriors 14-7 in the third period to maintain their lead. Senior I back Mike Schmidt came up with Wayne's only touchdown on the rush when he ran four yards into the endzone with just under 10 minutes in the period.

With 8:32 left, the Warrior's Koonce let loose with his second touchdown run, this time for six yards to boost Midland's score to 14.

Ed Jochum again found Hoffman the open receiver with six minutes left in the third quarter and connected on a 30 yard pass for the touchdown.

WSC's reserves finished out the game for the Wildcats and were held scoreless. Midland's starting line-up was able to tally 14 points against the Wayne junior varsity including runs of 15 and 22 yards to leave the score at 44-28.

"WE DID A really good job of establishing our dominance early, and were able to make some points off of turnovers," said Chapman.

"When you play a team that lives by the run, ball control is very important, and I feel our defense was able to do that except for the one run they broke loose in the second quarter."

He was also pleased with his squad's ability to stop top running back Ray Koonce. "At the time Koonce started getting his yards in the second half, it really didn't matter anymore," Chapman said. The Wildcats also made Midland put the ball in the air more than usual and took in two interceptions off the Warrior's wishbone offense.

Chapman added that he felt the key to the game and the win was the inability of Midland to score in the opening quarter and the fact that WSC could take turnovers and turn them into scores and rack up 20 points in the second period.

THE CATS out-yarded Midland 450 yards to 266 yards in the game. Wayne gained 397 of those yards in the air, while Midland rushed for the bulk of their yardage with 52 carries for 185 yards.

Jochum finished his record-setting day with 365 yards on 45 attempts with 21 completions and no interceptions for five touchdowns. Back up signal caller Tom Letschuck was 4 of 13 in the air with one interception for 32 yards.

Matt Hoffman continued to be the Cats top receiver with six catches for 95 yards and two touchdowns. Ray Hooker closed out the day with four receptions for 91 yards and two touchdowns and Sonny Jones had three catches for 39 yards and the fifth aerial touchdown. Mike Schmidt also had big yards in the reception department with five catches for 73 yards.

Schmidt was also the leading ground-gainer for WSC with 29 yards coming on six attempts and scoring one touchdown.

Midland was led by running back Ray Koonce with 131 yards and three touchdowns on 12 carries.

PACING THE WSC blackshirts were sophomore linemen Randy Hupp and freshman defensive end Bob Moretti, each with 12 stops. Hupp also tallied two solo quarterback sacks and assisted on one more, and had a bad pass caused. Moretti had a solo-quarterback sack and two bad passes caused.

Junior linebacker Tony Shaw had nine tackles and a solo quarterback sack, while senior linebacker Steve Besch added eight stops and a solo QB sack. Sophomore defensive back Lamont Lewis also had a quarter back sack along with four tackles.

Elvis Harrell, a sophomore defensive back, had two interceptions for returns of 21 yards.

"We feel good about what we have done so far, but the type of team that we are in the CSIC we're not sure of yet," said Chapman. "Step number one has brought us this far in the season...but step number two begins this Saturday."

Griffons tough CSIC opener

Revenue will undoubtedly be on the minds of the Missouri Western football team when Wayne State comes to town this Saturday for the opening of the 1984 Central States Intercollegiate Conference season.

It was against the Griffons that Wayne State logged their only victory of the 1983 season, downing Western at Memorial Stadium 13-9 in a game that coincided with the birthday of first-year Coach Pete Chapman.

CHAPMAN EXPECTS the upcoming game to be both very emotional and very tough for both teams. "It will be a hard fought contest, the best one we have faced yet this season."

"The game with Western will give us an opportunity to see exactly how we stack up against teams that have good physical size and speed."

Missouri Western will enter the contest without after falling to Northwest Missouri State 30-27 this past weekend. NWMS was the same team that handed pre season conference favorite Washburn University a 47-0 rout in the opening weeks of the season.

The two teams have been meeting since the formation of the CSIC in 1977. Missouri Western leads the series between the two schools four games to three.

Rob Hicklin enters his 11th year of coaching at MWSC with a 58-4-5 record at the school. Chapman is in his second season with the Wildcats and is currently 4-10-0 at WSC.

Western will present the Wildcat defense with an offensive look different than they have seen so far this season. "The Griffons run a half and half offense with the pass and rush and have good speed in their backfield," Chapman said.

KEY PLAYERS to watch for in the Western line up include junior running back Jeff Holland, who led the nation in kickoff returns in 1983 with an average of 30.8 yards per return. In last year's loss to WSC, Holland returned a kickoff 99 yards for MWSC's only score. Junior Kevin Stephens is expected to handle the quarterbacking chores against the Wildcats.

Defensively, the Griffons have a "very big, physical defense", especially their linemen and linebackers, according to Chapman, and "they will definitely put pressure on our quarterback."

They return a total of three starters of offense and six on defense from a team that went 5-6 in 1983. Missouri Western was tabbed to finish fifth in the pre season CSIC conference poll.

Jochum throws his way into WSC history

For the third time in as many weeks, a Wayne State college football player had been named as the NAIA District 11 Player of the Week.

This time the player is junior quarterback Ed Jochum, who earned Offensive Player of the Week honors in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference as well.

Ed Jochum
Neustrom against Emporia State
—Most passing attempts in a game.

Jochum LED Wayne State to a 44-28 win over Midland Lutheran College on Saturday night with a record setting performance, which included establishing four individual records and helping the Wildcats set three team records.

Jochum, a 1982 graduate of Norfolk Catholic High School, threw the ball 45 times with 21 completions and no interceptions for 365 yards and five touchdowns, the longest one sailing 45 yards.

He also rushed the ball four times, tallying 23 yards on the ground to bring his game total to 388 yards.

THE INDIVIDUAL records set include:

—Most passing yards in a game, 365 by Jochum against Midland breaking the 1981 record of 325 yards set by Kelly 45 by Jochum which broke the record of 44 set by Tom Letschuck against Midland in the game played last year.

—Most passing touchdowns in a game, five by Jochum which surpassed the mark of four thrown by Don Kane against Colorado College in 1948.

—Total offense in a game, 388 yards by Jochum, passing the 369 yard total set by Rick Lade against Missouri Western in 1978.

TEAM RECORDS set by the Wildcats in the Midland win include:

—Most pass attempts in a game, 58, which breaks the old mark of 47 set against Midland in 1983.

—Most passing yards in a game, 397, bypassing the 348 yard total again established against the Warriors last season.

—Most pass completions in a game, 25, breaking the record of 23 set against Missouri Western in 1978 and against Midland in 1983.

"ED WAS ABLE to hit the open receivers in the game," said Coach Pete Chapman. "He just continues to improve every week, but he still has some improvement to make, especially as we move into the conference season."

WSC among NAIA leaders

The Wildcats continue to maintain their place in the NAIA national statistics, this week adding another category to their list.

—Herve Roussel remains in the number one spot in individual kick scoring with an average of 10.0 points in four games. He has been successful on 13 of 15 extra point attempts and missed only once in 10 field goal tries.

—Quarterback Ed Jochum moved into the national passing statistics following his performance on Saturday against Midland. He holds fifth place in the individual passing yards category, averaging 237.3 yards per game. He has thrown the ball 137 times with 59 completions and five interceptions for a total of 949 yards, 12 touchdowns and a completion percentage of 431.

The Wildcats are again listed in three team categories, including holding the number three spot in team rushing defense. The Cats have allowed 171 carries for 310 yards of rushing in their four games for an average of 77.5 yards per game.

—Pete Chapman's Wildcats are also listed in the number four spot in passing offense with an average of 308.8 yards per game. The Cats airborne offense has put the ball up 201 times for 86 completions and nine interceptions for a total of 1235 yards.

—Another new category for the Cats this week, they are ranked sixth in scoring offense, averaging 32.5 points per game.

WAYNE STATE continues to look impressive among their own NAIA District 11 opponents in the latest statistics released.

They continue to dominate the district's passing game with their 308.8 yards per game average, ahead of number two Nebraska Wesleyan with 223.7 yards in the team passing category.

Quarterback Jochum leads the individual passing department with 237.3 yards per game, and his top receiver, Matt Hoffman has reeled in 20 passes for 423 yards and five touchdowns for an average of 105.8 yards per game and the top spot in the individual receiving standings.

Kicker Herve Roussel is in second place in individual scoring with 40 points, just behind Midland's Ray Koonce with 42 points.

The Cats are also sitting at second in the team rushing defense rankings, allowing an average of 77.5 yards on the ground per contest.

Big plays hurt in JV's 19-6 loss to Midland

The Wildcats junior varsity football team fell prey to the big play in their latest game, as they were downed 19-6 by the Midland Lutheran College Warrior junior varsity on Monday night in Wayne.

Midland scored both their first quarter touchdowns off big plays. The first came off a 55-yard run, while the second came after a Midland defensive man intercepted a Wayne State pass and returned it to the endzone 52 yards for the score. The PAT attempt on the first touchdown was good, but the WSC defense got a hand on the second attempt for the block.

WAYNE'S LONE SCORE came in the second quarter when reserve quarterback Terry Quarver kept the ball for a one yard run into the endzone.

The Wildcats reserves totaled 91 yards in offense in the game, compared to Midland's 225 yards, all coming on the ground.

Quarver passed the ball 29 times for eight completions and 86 yards, but gave up six interceptions on the day. Midland went to the air three times, but was unable to hit any of their receivers.

Both teams had trouble handling the ball, with WSC fumbling four times and losing it twice, while the Warriors dropped the ball six times, losing three fumbles.

PUNTING FOUND both teams fairly even, as the Cats kicked the ball three times for a 34.0 yard average and Midland punted five times for an average of 37.0 yards per kick.

Wayne State was penalized five times for a total of 50 yards and Midland 10 times for 86 yards.

LADY WILDCAT'S Mitch Esters (front), Andra Jones and Diana Asay combine for a successful spike while setter Jill Zeiss backs them up during the opening set in their win over Washburn.

WS settles after rocky CSIC start

The start of the Central States Intercollegiate Conference volleyball season was a little rocky for the Wayne State netters, as they went 1-2 in their opening weekend of play in Rice Auditorium on Sept. 22-23.

They were able to bounce back on the road though, as they came out with two wins in a triangular against Morningside and Dordt colleges in Sioux City on Monday, Sept. 24.

OVER THE WEEKEND, the Lady Wildcats were winners in their Friday night opener, going to five sets with Washburn University before winning by scores of 15-12, 16-18, 8-15, 15-8 and 15-5.

"We looked good against Washburn," said head Coach Marilyn Strate. "We were hoping that Washburn would help to prepare us for the remainder of the weekend."

The rest of the weekend didn't go according to anyone's plans, as the Lady Wildcats ran into problems serving the ball and were felled by rival Kearney State College on Saturday by scores of 15-2, 15-3 and 15-4.

WSC appeared to have bounced back in the day's final match against Missouri Southern State College, winning the first two sets 15-8 and 15-7 before the Lady Lions roared back in three straight sets, 15-1, 15-8 and 15-1 to take the win.

"WE STARTED OUT good against Kearney, but then had problems serving the ball early, which really hurt us because Kearney used the opportunities we gave them," said Strate. Against Southern, Strate said that in the opening two sets, the Lady Lions really didn't use their offense very much, but after falling down early they came back and began to move in the following wins.

In serving, senior Mary Kay Becker led the weekend's matches with 48-53 good serves, followed by junior Jill Zeiss with 46-50 good serves.

Zeiss also had a total of 57 assists in the three matches. Back-up setter Linda Bode followed with 26 sets.

Sophomore Diana Asay was the top spiker with 23 downed spikes on 38 attempts. Becker added 18 kills on 28 tries and sophomore Deb Prenger had 14 kills on 20 attempts.

Mitch Esters, a senior, led the team in block points with 14, followed by Deb Prenger with nine and senior Andra Jones with six blocks.

After the weekend's conference games, Strate says the loss of veteran spiker Beth Erickson began to show up. "It became apparent in conference games like this that we miss having someone of Beth's experience and consistency up at the net in both spiking and blocking."

Strate expects the conference race to be close, with teams the caliber of Missouri Western and Kearney State in the competition, and sees Wayne State "in the thick of things." "There really are no weak teams in the conference at this point," she added.

MONDAY NIGHT'S trip to Sioux City proved to be very successful for the Lady Cats as they boosted their mark to 14-6 with wins over Morningside and Dordt colleges.

Assistant Coach Jackie Bode filled in for Strate, who was ill, and commented that the team went onto the court determined to prove that they were capable of playing a much better brand of volleyball than they had against Kearney over the weekend. "Our serving was much better, and while it took us a little while to get started, once we got our intensity up it stayed there throughout the games."

The Lady Cats won their opener against Dordt College in two sets, 16-14 and 15-11.

Jill Zeiss was perfect from the serving line, making 17 attempts for 12 points. She also led in setting with 13 assists, followed by Linda Bode with eight sets.

Andra Jones and Diana Asay tied for the top spiking honor with six kills each. Asay, along with Mitch Esters, led the team in good serve receives with 16 each.

Mary Kay Becker and junior Pam Gogan were the leading blockers with three and two blocks respectively.

IT TOOK THREE sets for WSC to get by host school Morningside with scores of 12-16, 15-2 and 17-15.

Becker made good on 18 of 20 serving attempts for 11 points to lead scoring, while Zeiss added nine points on 14-15 serve attempts.

Zeiss and junior Sue Walter saw action as the team's setters, notching 10 and six assists each.

Diana Asay turned in a solid all-around performance, leading in spikes with six kills, blocking with three and serve receives with 14 good receives on 19 attempts.

"Dordt proved to be a very scrappy team throughout their two sets, and Morningside showed us some plays which we hadn't seen so far in any of our games," Wayne State will meet up with both teams again later in the season.

Wayne was scheduled to host Peru State College in varsity and junior varsity matches in their annual Parent's Night contest last night (Wednesday). They continue play this Saturday, Sept. 29 at Nebraska Wesleyan in NAIA District 11 action.

Senior leadership the key in Wayne victory

Led by the strong spiking of seniors Karen Longe and Paula Koplin, the Wayne-Carroll varsity volleyball team evened its season record at 4-4 with a win over West Point High School on Tuesday night.

The Blue Devil netters won in three sets by scores of 15-4, 16-18 and 15-5.

Longe had 19 good spikes in 21 attempts with seven aces, while Koplin added 17 good spikes in 22 tries, also with seven aces.

LONGE ALSO WAS the team's leading scorer with 14 points and four aces coming from 17-18 good serve attempts. Senior Lisa Jacobsen was second with 20 of 25 good serves for 13 points and five aces.

Setting was handled by Jacobsen and senior Kolette Frevert. Jacobsen was a perfect 31-31 in the department, while Frevert made good on 28 of 30 set attempts.

"Again, the girls went out on the court and look charge and played a good game in their first set," said Coach Mavis Dalton. Both teams battled back and forth in the second before West Point won by the necessary two-point margin.

"In the third set we were able to get the momentum back from West Point and again took control and picked up the win."

DALTON WAS PLEASED with the offensive performance of her team, especially the performance of her senior spikers, Longe and Koplin. "They looked much sharper and more aggressive than they have in the past...they really were looking to get on top of the ball at the net."

Wayne's B team was also a winner over West Point, taking two straight sets by margins of 15-3 and 15-9.

Lori Jacobsen was leading scorer with 11-13 good serve attempts for 11 points and one ace. Sonja Skokan was an errorless 12-12 with nine points and one ace from the serving line.

Jacobsen led setting with nine good sets and Shelly Pick was the top spiker in the reserve game with six good spikes.

Freshman wins of 15-8 and 15-2 gave Wayne a clean sweep of the night's matches.

Sarah Peterson was 11-13 in serving with 10 points and five aces and was five of six at the net in spiking to lead the team.

Marnie Bruggeman handled the setting duties with 8-8 good assists.

Wayne's varsity team will be in action this Saturday, Sept. 29 when they participate in the Tilden-Elkhorn Valley tournament. The Blue Devils will face off against Humphrey St. Francis at 11:45 a.m. in their opening match of the eight-team tourney.

Blue Devil frosh place second at Norfolk

With their best finish ever, the Wayne-Carroll ninth grade volleyball team placed second in the annual Norfolk volleyball tournament held on Saturday, Sept. 22 at the Norfolk High School gym.

After winning two straight matches earlier in the day, the Blue Devil team fell in three tough sets to champion Elkhorn Valley, 14-16, 15-13 and 9-15.

ACCORDING TO HEAD volleyball Coach Mavis Dalton and assistant Coach Dale Hochstein, it was the highest finish that either could recall for the frosh team in the Norfolk tourney. "In the past years since I've been here, that is the best showing our freshman team has given at the tourney," said Dalton.

In their opening game, the ninth graders defeated the Norfolk A team by scores of 15-10 and 15-7, which set up a second round game against South Sioux City.

Versus the undefeated Cardinals, Wayne came back after falling in the first set 10-15 to win back-to-back games of 15-14 and 15-6 and moved into the championship with Elkhorn Valley.

OVERALL STATISTICS saw Sarah Peterson lead scoring, making good on 41-47 serve attempts for 33 points in the three matches. Jeanne Haase followed with 24 points on 35-38 serving attempts. Peterson was also the team's leading spiker with 14-17 good spikes.

Marnie Bruggeman topped the setters in the three matches with 39 of 43 good sets, while teammate Susy Lutz went 24-33 in assists.

"We're thrilled to have a freshman team give such a good showing at a tournament of this type," said Dalton. "It's a compliment to the junior high program which is just beginning, to allow the freshmen girls to come into high school volleyball and not be as far behind as they might have been in the past."

THE TEAM JUST kept together out there on the court during each game, and when they got down they would just fight together and come back," she added.

The team was pushed the frosh record to 5-2 overall. They were scheduled for a match with West Point on Tuesday night and will not see action again until Tuesday, Oct. 9 when they face Hartington Cedar Catholic on the road along with the Wayne-Carroll varsity and reserve volleyball teams.

Allen winds up third at Newcastle tourney

The Allen volleyball team came away with a third place finish in the Newcastle volleyball tournament held Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 24-25 in Newcastle.

Gary Troth's team drew a first round bye and was defeated by Wynot in the second round in three sets by scores of 5-15, 15-12 and 1-15.

"AGAINST WYNOT our play was up and down...with really high peaks and really low valleys," said Troth. Serving and serve receives also hurt the Allen effort, said Troth, because the team is usually able to work with the ball fairly well once they have it in play. The Eagles bounced back in the consolation game with Ponca and took two sets with scores of 15-11 and 15-3.

"Our serving improved against Ponca, and so did our service reception," said Troth. "We began slow and got down 5-0 on some poor passing, but then turned things around."

"We hit a high point in our play in the match with Ponca, and we're hoping to carry that level into our game this Thursday (Sept. 27) with Walthill," Troth said. The match will be an important conference contest for both teams as the race for the top spot in the Lewis division remains close.

Pam Heckathorn led scoring against Ponca with 10-10 serves for six points, while Tammy Kavanaugh added five points on 11-12 serves with two aces and Diane Magnuson had five points on 7-8 good serves with two aces.

Mary Oswald keyed the spiking with 13-15 good spikes for four aces. Denise Magnuson was 7-8 in spiking with three aces, while Diane Magnuson had 7-10 good spikes with two aces and Shelly Boyle was 9-11 with four aces.

Setting was led by Kavanaugh with 24-25 good sets and six for kills, along with Pam Heckathorn, who had 16-17 good sets for three kills.

Mary Oswald, as well as Denise and Diane Magnuson, each had one block.

Osmond win puts Bears 3-0 in conference

A two set win over the Osmond Tigers on Tuesday night, Sept. 25 extended the Laurel volleyball team's conference record to 3-0 and evened their season mark at 5-5.

The Bears were able to win in two sets by scores of 15-4 and 15-6.

"IT WAS A game of serving rather than offensive or defensive play for our team," said Laurel Coach Carol Manganaro. "I can't be pleased or displeased with our play because we really didn't have a chance to do anything."

Michelle Joslin led scoring with 11 points on 12-13 good serves. Donna Sherry added five points when she hit 5-5 from the serving line. Sophomore Gail Twiford was 5-5 at the net in spiking, as Laurel made 14-15 spikes as a team with one ace.

"I'm at the point now where I am very comfortable with our starting line-up. They are balanced in the areas of spiking, setting and service receives," Manganaro added.

GOOD PLAY WILL be important as the Bears head into a pair of conference games this coming week. On Tuesday, they will travel to Hartington for a match with the Wildcats and remain on the road Thursday night, Sept. 27 against Wakefield.

Laurel's reserve team was also a winner, in sets of 15-6 and 15-6. Lori Lindsay led scoring with 12 points on 12-13 serves and Donna Sherry contributed eight points. In as many serve attempts.

The C team fell to Osmond at the close of the evening, losing in sets of 8-11 and 1-11. Tama Reitenraih led the effort with six points.

Still undefeated

Schuyler next for Wayne JV's

The Wayne-Carroll Blue Devil junior varsity football team continued to their winning streak as they roared past the Hartington Cedar Catholic reserves on Monday, Sept. 24, 42-0 in Hartington.

"It was a game which gave us the opportunity to give all of the kids lots of playing time," said Ron Carnes, who coaches the reserve team along with Don Koenig. "We were able to experiment and try a variety of plays throughout the game and look at the kids as they played in different positions."

FROSH TOM PERRY turned in a top-notch rushing performance in the win, as he carried the ball for 185 yards and the game's first two touchdowns.

The first was a 12-yard run to give Wayne a 6-0 lead and the second was a 76-yard gallop to put the Blue Devils up 12-0 at the end of the first period.

Wayne built its lead to 20-0 at the half on an eight-yard run by quarterback Ted Leuders. He then passed to junior tight end Andy Hillier for the two-point conversion.

In the third period, running back Tim Fleming scored on a nine-yard scramble, followed by a successful two-point run at tempt by Ted Leuders. Shannon Dorcey came up with a touchdown on the defensive side of the ball, intercepting a Hartington pass and running it back 34 yards for a score to boost the Wayne lead to 34-0.

THE FINAL SCORE of the game came on a two-yard run by Russ Longe. Jon Stollenberg carried the ball into the endzone for the extra two points.

In the statistics, Leuders and Stollenberg shared the quarter-backing duties, combining to throw the ball 15 times, completing seven. Leading tacklers were Tom Perry with 11 stops, Tim Fleming and Tim Hansen with 10 each and Tim Thomas with eight tackles in the game.

"The team is playing up to the potential which we expected from them from the beginning of the season," said Carnes. "We are especially pleased to see our sophomores progressing at a rate faster than we expected."

The reserves will defend their undefeated record this coming Monday, Oct. 1 at home against Schuyler, beginning at 5 p.m., an hour later than the regular 4 p.m. start time at the high school practice field.

Wayne tennis team sixth at Lincoln invite

The Wayne Carroll tennis team finished sixth out of eight teams at the Lincoln Plus X Tennis Invitational held on Saturday in Lincoln.

Junior Vini Johar competed as the team's number one single and won his first match against an opponent from Valley, 7-6, 2-6 and 6-2. He was then defeated in his second match 6-4, 3-6 and 4-6 by a player from Creighton Prep.

Wayne's number two in singles, senior Jassi Johar, drew a first round bye before losing to a member of the Omaha Burke squad 6-0 and 6-1.

JUNIOR JIM HARTMAN also drew a bye in the first round as Wayne's number three player before winning his second round match over a Kearney Catholic opponent by Hartman fell to a Creighton Prep opponent in two sets, 0-6 and 0-6.

In doubles competition, the top doubles team of Pete March and Ben Whisenunt lost in their first round match to a duo from Lincoln Christian 1-6 and 0-6.

Wayne's other doubles team of sophomore Brian Melton and freshman Seth Anderson were downed in their opening match by Millard North in two sets, 1-6 and 0-6.

"I WAS PLEASED with the way the team played in the invitational, especially against the Class A schools that were there," said Coach Miron Jenness. "Vini Johar turned in a outstanding performance on the day, with both of his matches going over two hours, and he really had to work for everything he got." Jenness added.

The team is currently scheduled to participate in the York Invitational to be held this Friday, Sept. 28, a tourney which will feature many of the same opponents which competed at the Plus X tournament.

Laurel cross country fifth at O'Neill

The 1984 edition of the Laurel-Concord cross country team had seen action in two meets so far this season, including invitational runs at O'Neill and Crofton.

On Sept. 14 at the opening O'Neill Invitational, the Bears were led by senior runner Jim Peterson to a fifth place finish in the 11 team field.

Pehrson logged a fifth place individual finish in the run to earn a medal. Other team members participating included Allen George, Troy Heitman, Derek Lineberry, and Brent Heydon. Rick Lage ran as a member of the junior varsity squad and Theresa Anderson was a runner for the girls varsity team.

AT THE CROFTON Invitational on Friday, Sept. 21, Laurel-Concord placed sixth in an eight team field with a total of 115 points. Winning the meet was host school Crofton with 18 points.

Jim Pehrson was again the Bears top finisher in the 1.9 mile run with a time of 12:16. The time was good enough to earn him a medal and seventh place in the 47 member field.

Brent Heydon came in at 29th place with a time of 14:39 while Allen George was 35th with a clocking of 16:25. Derek Lineberry rounded out Laurel's runners in 37th place with a time of 20:11.

Terry Anderson was in 12th place among the junior varsity runners with a time of 17:36.

The Laurel-Concord cross country squad will compete in the Alkinson Invitational, featuring over a dozen teams, on Friday, Sept. 28.

Small-Scale football

At left, players at grades 5-8 practice demonstrate the 'submarine' technique during a defensive drill, while other players (right) learn the offensive half of the game. Recreation league games will begin on Tuesday, Oct. 2 at Overin field with start times of 6:15 and 7:30 p.m.

Hot hay can demolish barns

If farmers rush to bale hay before it is completely dried, they are risking both reduced hay quality and, in extreme cases, fires, according to two University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension specialists.

"Cool and rainy fall weather will entice many producers to bale hay before it is thoroughly dried," Gerald R. Bodman, extension agricultural engineering specialist, said.

"Temperatures in hay mows could increase to the point where fire is possible and should be monitored carefully. Rollin D. Schneider, extension safety specialist, said.

At 150 degrees Fahrenheit, hay mows are entering the danger zone. Up to this point, temperatures are not considered abnormal although anything above 125 degrees Fahrenheit is unusual.

It's time to take notice at 160 degree Fahrenheit. If you have an automatic temperature alarm it will sound at this point, giving you sufficient time to make necessary preparations for removing the hay if you act promptly.

At 170 DEGREES Fahrenheit you must maintain constant vigilance. Check temperatures periodically, looking for possible hot spots.

Hot spots or pockets may be anticipated at 175 degrees Fahrenheit. Above this temperature, keep all doors and other openings closed to prevent drafts.

At 180 degrees Fahrenheit call your fire department. Make immediate provisions for standby service. Also notify your insurance agent who will be glad to cooperate and may make arrangements for additional protective service, the specialist said.

At 190 degrees Fahrenheit remove hay rapidly to a safe distance. While there is evidence that hay may heat to a point several degrees above 200 degrees Fahrenheit without ignition, the common sense rules of caution and safety require its removal under suitable fire department protection, if this is possible, Schneider said.

Remove animals and tools before touching the hay. It's better to take precautions than to suffer loss.

THE SPECIALISTS warned that mows that have heated to a considerable degree are dangerous to walk on. Hot spots may have weakened the surface and could allow workers to drop into a burning pocket.

"No one should ever walk on the surface of a mow suspected of having hot spots unless they are equipped with a safety harness, a safety rope and sufficient personnel standing by with equipment of extracting the individual should an emergency develop," they said. Long planks can be used to span suspected problem areas but if the problem is greater than anticipated, the planks may not be adequate.

In all cases, be safe rather than sorry. The barn (and life!) you save may be your own.

the farmer's wife

The Big Farmer is a patient man. I backed the car into a culvert at 10:30 p.m. not too long ago. I called him at a Farm Bureau meeting and he didn't yell or swear or anything. He came home, got the pickup, and pulled me out.

But his patience as a cattle feeder is wearing thin. Through cross breeding and careful culling, we are raising a quality product. Nutritionally, a pound of beef is a bargain. And nobody ever said we should eat the whole pound at one sitting. Too much of any one thing is never healthy.

We sell quarters and halves to city friends who exclaim about the good taste. Ray Jacobson, our friendly butcher, cuts it to their specifications and is a master of his trade.

I learned last week that we have not produced enough beef for the consumption of this country since 1965! We are importing beef and pork while our producers are going broke.

People who pay $15 a ticket for Nebraska football tickets and spend $25 for gas to drive a $10,000 car to the game have the nerve to tell me they can't afford steak.

Dr. Jean Mayer says beef is high in saturated fat, which tends to raise the level of blood cholesterol, and high blood cholesterol level is a risk factor for coronary vascular disease.

Other nutritionists point out that, ounce for ounce, lean beef has no more cholesterol than chicken. Plus, it has lots of protein, B 12, zinc, and niacin.

The normal human body needs cholesterol 1000 milligrams each day, and the difference between amount required and amount consumed will be produced by the body. Four ounces of beef contains 100 mgs. of cholesterol. The average daily U.S. diet, including eggs, milk, and meat, contains only 300 to 350 mgs. of cholesterol.

Iron has the genes to control cholesterol levels in their blood, regardless of diet.

Margaret Flynn, professor of community medicine, has concluded that dietary saturated fat does not turn into blood cholesterol in the majority of U.S.

In fact, one study at Iowa State showed more cholesterol in blood vessels of animals fed soy beans than those fed beef fat! And I can't believe that it's that information that has caused the bean price to drop.

Meanwhile, the bills keep coming; and we are forced to sell more of a fine product at a loss.

Kira Witter Anderson shared this with her Dad during the cold, muddy calving season. She gave it to me to work the other day.

The gates were closed, St. Peter frowned. The man outside was pleading: "I'm looking for eternity — A home is what I'm needing."

"What have you done?" St. Peter said. "To earn admission here?" "I've been raising cattle, Sir. For many and many a year."

The pearly gates swung open wide. St. Peter touched the bell. "Come in and choose your harp, my friend! You've had your share of hell!"

Have beef for dinner tonight, and tell the grocer it must be "American Made."

Do not take income lightly

When the USDA lowered its estimate of 1983 net farm income last July, from $20.2 billion to $15.7 billion, the announcement created only a ripple in the news media, but a University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension economist notes a number of reasons why the lowered 1983 income estimate should not be skipped over lightly.

In the first place, Roy Frederick said, the new estimate leaves nominal farm income at its lowest level since 1971 and real income at its lowest point since USDA records have been kept.

Besides being at a 13-year low, last year's net income also compares very unfavorably with the previous three years when net farm income averaged about $25 billion annually, he said. "Last anyone needs reminding, 1980-1982 were hardly banner years for agriculture."

Even more important, Frederick said, is that real income "really took a sock to the chin." Using $16 million as the mid-range of nominal income and adjusting for inflation with the Consumer Price Index (1967=100), real 1983 income was near $5.4 billion.

"Incredibly," he said, "going all the way back to 1910-11, USDA's own statistical series shows nothing that bad. In the 1930-34 period, for example, real farm income averaged $6.9 billion annually."

BUT, THE AG economist said, even real farm income doesn't tell the whole story. "It's important to know the components of farm income."

Total gross farm income comes from four broad categories, he said:

- Cash receipts from crops and

- livestock (about 90 percent of the total).
- Other cash income (from custom work and direct government payments).
- Non money income (includes an estimated gross rental value of farm dwellings and the value of home grown foods).
- And the value of any changes in inventory.

"THE MOST POINTED aspect of looking at each aspect of gross farm income separately is that it shows non money income at $13.15 billion for 1983," Frederick said. "In other words, if it had not been for the estimated rental value of farm dwellings and the value of home produced food, both nominal and real net farm income would have been near zero."

The UNL ag economist suggested at least one more bit of information be developed before agriculture's aggregate income statement for 1983 is declared final.

"I suspect that because of a combination of factors last year — high interest rates, the PIK program and the drought variability in income among individual farms was the highest ever."

Crop producers with little debt who either participated heavily in PIK or were not affected by the drought should have done quite well. But, he said, where these factors singly or together worked against producers, it was devastating.

It is difficult to keep this diversity in perspective, Frederick said, but as policy makers strive to address tough problems, the impact on policy changes on both the "haves" and "have nots" in agriculture should not be ignored.

People who wouldn't drive a foreign car are eating Canadian meat. I wouldn't feel quite so bad if the quality was equivalent, but Midwestern beef is the best in the world!

WE SOLD A TRUCK load for 65 cents the first of this month. We have more ready. Top bid is 63 cents. We need 70 cents to BREAK EVEN. Has the price ever this IRON IN BEEF is "heme iron" absorbed three to five times more easily by the body. It also has a booster effect on iron in foods eaten with the meat. Much of the iron in spinach, for instance, is not available unless eaten in combination with another food. Kids will be happy to hear that!

Plus, a 15 year study at the University of Missouri proves that 85% of the U.S. population has the genes to control cholesterol levels in their blood, regardless of diet.

Margaret Flynn, professor of community medicine, has concluded that dietary saturated fat does not turn into blood cholesterol in the majority of U.S.

In fact, one study at Iowa State showed more cholesterol in blood vessels of animals fed soy beans than those fed beef fat! And I can't believe that it's that information that has caused the bean price to drop.

Farm Bureau selects officers

Don Liedman of Carroll was unanimously elected president of Wayne County Farm Bureau at the annual meeting on Sept. 17, following a pot-luck dinner at the Women's Club Room in Wayne. He succeeds Clark Kai of Pender.

Other officers elected include: Ron Magnuson, vice president; Kris Loberg, woman at large; and Dennis Anderson, youth at large.

Delegates to the state convention are: Ron Magnuson, Mitch Baier, Charles Wageman, and Mike Kai.

•Fuel storage tanks, both above and below ground, have been indicted as a major source of ground water pollution. Some sort of inspection and system of permits seems desirable for larger commercial storage tanks. However, we believe farmers should be exempt from such things as permits and daily inventory records on all above ground storage and also below ground tanks under 1000 gallons capacity.

•The Farm Bureau Marketing has worked well for Farm Bureau and the agency providing the service. We deplore the decision of the marketing service to provide the service to non members within counties with active Farm Bureau organizations.

•Be is resolved, that American Farm Bureau Federation support any action to slow the import, live or processed, of beef and pork products, from Canada.

•And be it resolved that Wayne County Farm Bureau be opposed to any city sales tax.

New board members include: Milton Owens, Herb Jaeger, Jon Rethwisch, Merlin Heineman, Ron Krusemark, and Mike Kai.

Members were urged to support LB 2, which provides valuation of agricultural land separately. Nebraska Farm Bureau is asking for a complete study of Nebraska's tax system citing the present property tax as grossly unfair.

On Sept. 26, officers will hear Robert Delano, national president, speak at a meeting at Kearney.

This was the annual policy development meeting, and resolutions adopted for presentation at the state convention are as follows:

- While investment credit may be helpful in some cases for some farmers, we believe in long term investment credit makes the lot of agriculture more difficult by attracting investor money for the sake of tax advantages. This would seem particularly clear in the case of "special purpose" livestock buildings and facilities. Investment credit should be phased out.
- Any government program supporting milk prices should at least include: A. An index incorporating factors influencing milk production levels such as grain and beef prices and fuel costs, each weighted appropriately. B. An adjuster for changes nationally in the level of production per cow. C. And adjuster based on supply and demand for milk.
- We believe the present relationship between FmHA and the Small Business Administration should be changed in the area of disaster relief. We support the new law which would shift most disaster lending to Small Business Administration.
