Early morning accident

THE MIDWEST LAND CO. at 206 Main St. in Wayne received considerable damage early Saturday morning when the driver of a pickup lost control of his vehicle and landed in the lobby of the business. Trooper David Headley of the Nebraska State Patrol, who investigated the accident, said Raymond Jacobsen of Winside was the driver of the 1978 Chevy pickup which struck the building at approximately 1:20 a.m. According to Headley, Jacobsen said he was northbound on Main St. when lights flashed in his eyes and he swerved to avoid an accident. There were no personal injuries, however Headley said Jacobsen was charged with driving while intoxicated. Although no damage estimates on the building were available Saturday morning, Marion Arneson, a broker at Midwest Land Co., said the pickup broke out the front windows, taking out the entire front section of the building, and ended up in the lobby. Owner of Midwest Land is David Ewing of Wayne. Trooper Headley estimated damage to Jacobsen's pickup to be between $500 and $600.

Wayne school board, teachers settle on salaries for 1984-85

It appears that an impasse on teacher salary negotiations between the Wayne-Carroll board of education and the teachers association will not be declared after all. Superintendent Francis Haun said last week that a 1984-85 salary package for teachers, offered by the board's negotiation team, has been accepted by the Wayne Education Association.

Haun said the board of education is expected to ratify the agreement during its regular monthly meeting on Nov. 13. The threat of an impasse loomed following a meeting of the board of education earlier this month.

At the meeting on Oct. 9, board members voted unanimously on a motion presented by Arnold Emry to allow an impasse to be declared if no decision was reached.

THE NEW salary and fringe benefit package calls for the beginning salary of teachers in the Wayne-Carroll School system to be increased by 4.8 percent for the 1984-85 school year.

The 1983-84 salary for a beginning teacher was $12,500 per school year. The beginning salary for the 1984-85 school year will be $13,100.

Haun said there is no change in the index schedule on which teachers salaries are based. The schedule allows for a 4 percent increase in the base for a limited number of years of professional experience, and a 5 percent increase in the base for each nine hours of approved professional training.

Haun said the new salary package also calls for no changes in the steps (years of credit for experience) or in the extra-duty schedule, which includes head football, head basketball, head volleyball, head wrestling, athletic director and varsity band.

IN ADDITION, Haun said the 1984-85 salary package contains no changes in life insurance, disability insurance or coverage of health insurance, and no stipend for teachers with single coverage.

The district will continue its payment of $15,000 life insurance, and will pay a maximum of $165 per month for families and $60 per month for single coverage health insurance.

Maternity leave, although normally considered to be a short term illness, will be treated as a long term illness upon the verification of the patient's health status by a physician.

HAUN SAID the salary package increase, including movement of teachers on the salary schedule, is estimated to be $75,000 — a 7 percent increase over 1983-84 salary costs.

Haun added that health insurance costs are up 10 percent, while life insurance costs were stable and disability insurance premiums decreased by 14 percent.

Haun said the new agreement is retroactive and that salaries for the beginning two months of the 1984-85 school year will be paid in November.

Board members serving on the negotiation team were Dr. Arnold Emry, chairman, Becky Keidel and Cap Peterson.

The Wayne Education Association was represented by Dale Hochstein, chairman, Pat Straight, Jackie Day, Twila Wiltse, Bill Wilson and Sally McNeill.

Winside declares impasse

Members of the Winside Public School board of education have declared an impasse in teacher salary negotiations for the 1984-85 school year.

Board members voted unanimously to declare the impasse during a special meeting held last Tuesday afternoon.

The board also voted unanimously to hire Dean Curtis, superintendent at Ashland Greenwood Public School, as the fact finding representative for the board of education.

Serving on the board's contract negotiating team for 1984-85 were President Dale Topp, Harlin Brugger and Lynn Lessmann.

Representing the teachers were Jim Hatferly, Dattis Puls and Paul Sok.

Gifted education instructor presenting program at WHS

Dr. Bruce Milne, professor of education at the University of South Dakota-Vermillion, will present a workshop on gifted education at Wayne-Carroll High School on Tuesday, Oct. 23.

Superintendent Francis Haun said the workshop is the result of a recommendation made last year following a visit by an external school evaluation team.

Haun said a report issued by the team recommended that an outside resource person be made available to the board's task force on gifted education.

MILNE is scheduled to meet at noon Tuesday with school administrators and members of the board of education.

At 3 p.m., he will be at Wayne Middle School to speak with members of the task force on gifted education.

The public, as well as school faculty members, are invited to visit with Milne during a program that evening at 7:30 in the high school lecture hall.

MILNE, WHO teaches courses at the graduate level in Educational Foundations and in the Education of the Gifted, has received national, regional and state recognition as a leader in the field of career and vocational education for the gifted.

In his 16 years at USD, he served for eight years as the Director of the Educational Research and Service Center and has taken a leadership role in undergraduate and graduate programs for teacher preparation.

For the last 12 years he has specialized much of his teaching, research activity, service and publication work in the area of gifted education.

MILNE SAID much of his work with the gifted has been in direct contact with teachers and classroom students, particularly in small schools away from urban settings.

He has assisted a number of schools in setting up programs for the gifted and serving as a general consultant once the programs are underway.

He serves as a consultant to schools of all sizes and travels throughout the country presenting workshops, in-service training and addresses on the gifted.

A PRACTICING artist, writer and public speaker, Milne began seriously working with the gifted as a member of the National Leadership Training Institute for the Gifted in 1983.

This past summer, he developed and directed the first South Dakota Governor's Camp for the Gifted at USD.

Sixty-three seventh- and eighth grade gifted students from across the state spent a week in a total "college for kids" experience on the USD campus. The students were taught in mini-course classes by the regular teaching staff of the university.

This coming summer he plans to enlarge the camp concept and add a lab school for K-6 students as part of the practicum training program for educators of the gifted participating in the certification and/or master's degree program at USD.

ORIGINALLY FROM Montana, where he served as a public school teacher, principal and district superintendent, Milne received his doctorate from the University of Montana in 1969 and went to USD that same year.

Friday, Oct. 26 at 6 p.m. is the deadline for residents of Nebraska to register to vote in the Nov. 6 general election.

Wayne County Clerk Oregretta Morris said residents of the county can register at the courthouse in Wayne, at the city clerk's offices in Winside and Wakefield, at Commercial State Bank in Hoskins, or at the Farmer's State Bank in Carroll.

Morris said although businesses in the other towns will close at regular hours on Oct. 26, the courthouse will remain open until 6 p.m. to accept last minute voter registrations.

In Dixon County, residents may register at the courthouse in Ponca, or at the city clerk's offices in Allen, Emerson and Wakefield.

A spokesman for the county clerk's office in Ponca said the courthouse there also will remain open an extra hour on Oct. 26 for persons who have not yet registered to vote.

MORRIS SAID requirements to become an eligible voter in Nebraska are simple.

Although there are no residency requirements, she said those registering to vote must be 18 years of age and must be properly registered.

As of Oct. 15, there were 5,598 registered voters in Wayne County.

Morris said she was especially pleased with the number of Wayne State College students who registered to vote when she visited the campus last Wednesday afternoon.

She said approximately 145 students were registered between the hours of 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Morris pointed out that it is necessary for a person to re-register any time he or she moves, changes his or her legal name, or desires to change party affiliation.

SAMPLE BALLOTS will be published in the Monday, Oct. 29 edition of The Wayne Herald.

According to Morris, the deadline for absent, disabled or confined voters to appeal for ballots to be delivered outside the county by the U. S. Postal Service is on Friday, Nov. 2 at 4 p.m.

The deadline for persons to vote absentee ballots in the office of the county clerk before leaving the county is Monday, Nov. 5 at 4 p.m.

YOUNG JAMIE Mitchell joins other second graders of Allen Consolidated School during a visit to the city clerk's office in Allen Friday afternoon where the youngsters were shown how to register to vote.

Downward trend in farmland values creating atmosphere for investment

The four-year downward trend in farmland values may have run its course, creating a better atmosphere for investment, according to a University of Nebraska-Lincoln agricultural finance specialist.

Nebraska farmland values showed the greatest decrease last year in a recent national outlook report.
Because of that and negative economic factors in the state, there likely will be continued decreases or at least no improvement for Nebraska farmland values for the remainder of 1984, according to Ron Hanson, UN-L professor of agricultural economics.

"Yet, these declining land prices in many areas are now approaching the point where a land investment will cash flow itself," Hanson said.
"This most certainly will attract buyer interest in the farm real estate market which will begin to bid land prices up."

HANSON SAID that for many young or beginning farmers this may be the opportunity to buy farmland.

He cited the annual Farm Real Estate Market Development's outlook report released in August by the U.S. Department of Agriculture Economic Research Service, which indicated, farmland values across the country declined an average of one percent for the year ending April 1, 1984.

"This small decline is a major improvement in the farm real estate market when compared to the six percent drop in land values for 1983," said Hanson.
Hanson noted that of the 48 contiguous states, only 17 reported further declines in the remaining 31 states, values were unchanged or higher.

Hanson said this is an improvement from the 34 states which reported declines last year.
In this year's report, Iowa and Nebraska showed the greatest declines in farmland values, down 11 percent and 12 percent respectively, and Texas and Pennsylvania reported the largest increases, up 9 percent and 8 percent respectively.

THE REAL VALUE of farmland, adjusted for inflation, dropped more than five percent for the past year. "Although this drop in real value was less than last year's decline, it was the largest decrease since the 1930's," said Hanson.

Hanson said the bright spot appears to be that this downward trend may have run its course and that farmland values in many areas have stabilized or begun to increase slightly.

He noted that continued U.S. economic recovery and prospects for higher 1984 farm income levels have contributed to a more optimistic attitude about farmland values.

SOME NEGATIVE factors in the farm real estate market still remain, particularly in Nebraska, Hanson said.
More farmland will continue to enter the market as many farm operations are still experiencing severe financial problems, but higher interest rates will discourage investment in farmland when other opportunities are more attractive.

"If interest rates still upward for the year ahead, even more farm operators will have a difficult time making their operation cash flow and meeting debt repayments as scheduled," Hanson said.

"Also, higher interest rates can only result in further downward pressure on land values when the farm real estate market is trying desperately to recover."

"EVEN THOUGH farmland values have dropped to near bargain price levels in many areas, a large number of available tracts for sale still remain on the market," said Hanson.
"Too many potential land buyers have adopted a 'wait and see' attitude which has resulted in a rather strong resistance to buying land now. Everyone wants to buy in at the bottom of the market, not before."

This reversal of the market psychology of the mid-1970's, when buyers sought to beat further increases, has kept buyers from being aggressive in the market, said Hanson, adding that these expectations that land value will decline even further before recovering have limited the chance that farmland values will improve in the year ahead.

Pledges coming in

The 1984 CROP Walk for Hunger in Wayne is not over yet.
One hundred and twelve individuals braved damp, cool weather Sunday October 14 to walk to raise funds for the hungry people of the world. Volunteers from local churches and organizations were involved in the arrangements for the 10-mile walk.
Now those who walked are collecting money from those who pledged support. October 28 is the deadline for pledge envelopes to be returned to church or organizational representatives. After that date precise figures will be available on the amount of money raised to aid the hungry.
"We thank the Wayne community for the fine support of this year's CROP Walk," Ministerial President, Gordon Granberg said.
"As sponsors now honor their pledges the exact dollar figure raised will be known and funds will be transmitted to CROP and other participating agencies. Only then can we consider this walk over."

Wacken' away

by chuck hackenmiller

"A first experience took place this past week which was enlightening, frightening and confusing — all at the same time. Never before have I been asked to speak before a large group on any aspects of the newspaper business. My opportunity arrived on Wednesday afternoon in front of about 50 or more school superintendents from the area. The topic was "Relationship between the School District and the Media." Preparation for the half-hour presentation was simple. Just think of some things which really bug the heck out of reporters concerning school board meetings and place it on the notecards. That took about two minutes of scribbling. Making the presentation proved to be the most difficult. My wife warned me about practicing the speech — either before a mirror or to her. I never did. (But I did practice a few lines on my 19-month-old son.) On the afternoon of the big day, my stomach started to churn. Luckily it was a press day here and plenty of busy things to do, keeping my mind off the presentation. An hour before the speech, my appearance outside was cool and collective. On the inside, a thousand monarchs must have been fluttering around. A MINUTE before curtain, I sat at the speaking table waiting to be introduced.

Suppose I forgot my opening line? Is my hair in place? Do I have ketchup on my face? Did I leave my notecards in the car in the parking lot? It's time. Normally, good speakers try to liven up the audience with a bit of humor. I started out with "Hi. My name is Chuck 'Don't Quote Me On That' Hackenmiller." Nobody laughs. "This is my first time in public speaking. If I were a piece of steel, I would only be the raw material." Still all I was getting was straight stares and faces that were not breaking. My delivery was awful and I began to sink lower and lower behind the podium. It was time to break into something meaningful, an attention grabber that would hold their interest before the heads had a chance to nod off into a cozy sleep. "Picture yourself at the completion of a school board meeting. The meeting is adjourned." (Then for the next 60 seconds, I say not a word and the room is deathly silent.) I think I have their interest. Either that or they think the fellow behind the microphone is a looney who lost all his marbles in Iowa. The 60 seconds ends — and remarkably all the superintendents and other school officials have remained seated.

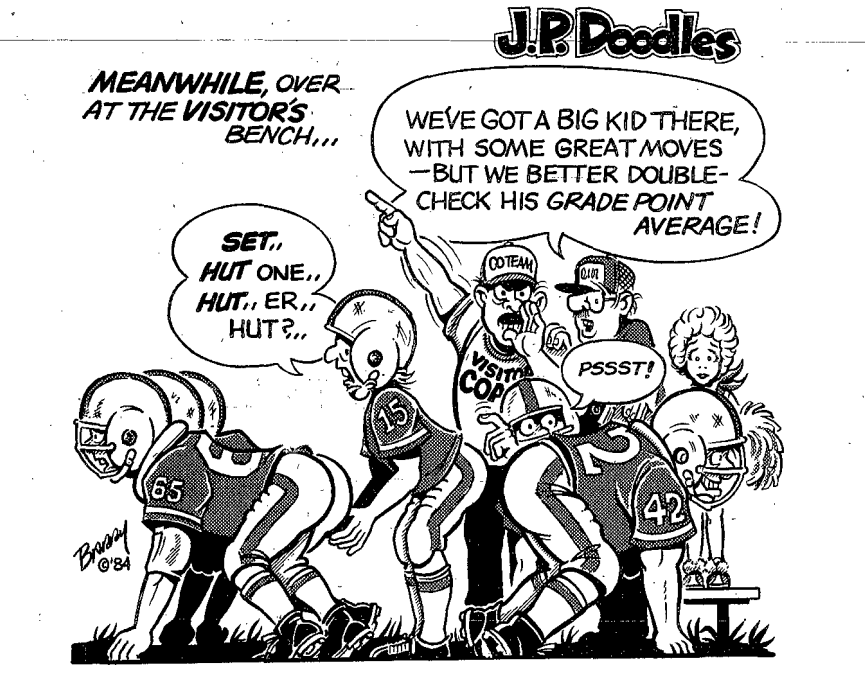

"During those 60 seconds of silence, there were no conversations, no talk about the meeting. What is missing?" THE GROUP IS still listening to me. I don't know if the topic is that interesting or they just want to wait and see what this fellow is trying to prove. "The public is not being informed. There is an absence of the newspaper, television and radio. Just silence. The communication from the reporter who puts the copy together and slaps on the headlines for the public to read. That is what it is missing." "Compare the reporter (or media) to that of parents who have young children at home. The children could be playing noisily inside another room and the parents know the children are safe. But the minute it gets quiet, parents assume something is wrong and they quickly jump to conclusions." "It is the media (newspapers) which provides the voice during that silence and present the public the accurate information as provided to them from the school board." DID THIS ANALOGY captivate full interest. Perhaps it was too original. But my confidence slowly gained momentum after that opening. In detail I went into situations which occur often between the school district and the media during regular meetings.

"Don't confront us continually with the often said words of 'off the record.' That's like waving a big piece of steak in front of a hungry dog." That even got a laugh from the 50 or so listeners. WHEN I GOT to the final sentence and my half-hour was complete, my thoughts were of leaving and returning to work at The Wayne Herald office. But it wasn't that easy to get away. Apparently, several of the listeners were interested in my viewpoint on several areas of newspaper reporting. And I was happy to answer whatever I could — although half of them were issues new to me and could be suggestions for our own newswoman. All in all, it was a memorable experience. Not like I had anticipated it would go — but I pulled it off. However, next time someone asks me to give a presentation — practice, practice and more practice is in order. Maybe next time I won't have to use notes — at least not the notes I used on Wednesday that had breakfast food all over the scribbling. While rehearsing my speech with my son during breakfast, he grabbed one of the index cards and threw it into the cereal. My 19-month-old son — always a critic.

Fair is fair

Registered voters in Wayne and surrounding counties will confront an issue on the Nov. 6 election ballot which is critical to the survival of the farming community of this area. Amendment No. 4 on the ballot will propose that the legislature enact legislation placing agricultural and horticultural land used solely for agricultural or horticultural purposes in a separate and distinct class of property for purposes of taxation. Voting against this proposal will retain the present provisions which do not allow the legislature to place agricultural and horticultural land used solely for these purposes in a separate and distinct class of property for purposes of taxation. In other words, voting against Amendment 4 will allow ag and horticulture land to be valued at 100 percent of market value and will not allow the legislature to recognize the land's different use and characteristics. Both urban and rural residents of this area can ill-afford to vote against Amendment 4. Deciding to value ag land at 100 percent would be the dagger's final blow to the heart of the surviving farm families in this area. Times are not good for the farming community right now. Recent statistics reveal that 51 percent of reasons for selling land during 1983 were related to financial problems. Financial stress two years ago resulted in much less land sales — about 14 percent. Even though farm values have declined close to 30 percent in the past 3½ years, farm and ranch real estate taxes have increased. Currently, agricultural land in this area and across the state is valued roughly at about 45 percent of actual value. Non-agriculture property is valued at about 85 percent. Under the current rates, the highest value per acre in Nebraska was $1,200. Under the new manual, it will be $1,980. If it was listed what the estimated impact of 100 percent valuation on farm property (based on 1983 figures) would be for various counties, all area counties would suffer a sizeable percent of increase in land ag valuations. Wayne County would record an overall increase of about 27.29 percent. Residential valuations would be decreased by 26.26 percent while the percent change for residential would be 36.26 in Wayne County. The percentage change in commercial and industrial valuation would decrease 22.31 percent. In Dixon County, the overall ag percentage change would be an 18.45 percent increase in agriculture, a 34.02 decrease in residential and 58.81 in commercial and industrial valuations. And why is passage of Amendment 4 so important to the urban as well as rural areas. Because Nebraska is very dependent upon agriculture for its economic health. If Amendment 4 fails, many farmers and ranchers will be forced out of business. Those who are able to pay the additional taxes will have less to spend in the local community on household goods, farm equipment, cars and trucks. Therefore, the money that would have been used to revitalize the local economy will exist as a loss of revenue for large and small communities across the state. Farmers and ranchers cannot afford a 60 percent increase in their property taxes if this amendment is not installed in the constitution. Currently, the price which farmers and ranchers receive for their products barely pays for their expenses and property taxes, not including the 60 percent more they may be required to pay if the amendment fails. Nebraska, Georgia and Oregon are the only states in the nation that assess agricultural property on an inflated, speculative and non-representative market value rather than on its agricultural and horticulture use. It's about time the Nebraska voters and state legislators consider the importance of their agricultural economy and classify agricultural land separately. After all, agriculture is Nebraska's basic industry. All Nebraskans should be concerned about increasing ag land valuations. With the rainy spell this area has been experiencing in recent weeks, putting a damper on the harvest process, area farmers could use all the help they can get. You can offer it to them by voting "Yes" to Amendment 4.

Judicial amendment to be voting issue on November 6

When you step into the voting booth on November 6th, you will be asked to approve or reject four amendments to the Nebraska Constitution. As you look over the proposed amendments, I would like you to pay particular attention to Amendment No. 2. Amendment No. 2 was my priority bill during the last session, known at that time as LR 235. Although the wording of the amendment appears complex, the proposal is really quite simple. The question simply stated is: "Are you in favor of disclosing to the public the results of disciplinary action taken against judges?" Under present law, complaints against members of the Judiciary are filed with the Commission on Judicial Qualifications. The Commission has ten members consisting of the Chief Justice; three judges, appointed by the Chief Justice; three attorneys, appointed by the State Bar Association; and three lay citizens, appointed by the Governor. All proceedings of the Commission prior to ordering a formal open hearing on a complaint are required by the Nebraska Constitution to be confidential. The problem is that the Commission is allowed to discipline a judge without ordering a formal open hearing thus keeping any news of the complaint and investigation from the public. UPON RECEIPT of a complaint, the Commission conducts an investigation and can take one of the following actions: dismiss the complaint for lack of merit, issue a private reprimand to the judge, or recommend to the Supreme Court that the Judge be publicly reprimanded, disciplined, censured, suspended without pay, removed, or retired. In practice, however, the Commission has, with one exception utilized only two of the options available to it; it has either dismissed the complaint or issued a private reprimand. What does this mean? As I mentioned previously, both are confidential proceedings. Of all the complaints against judges filed since the Commission was created in 1967, only one, which took place this year, has resulted in any public disclosure of a complaint's resolution. Amendment No. 2 will eliminate the constitutional provision requiring confidentiality of the Commission's proceedings. If a complaint is frivolous, the amendment will allow dismissal without disclosure of the judge involved. However, any disciplinary action against a member of the judiciary which is imposed in response to a complaint will be required to be disclosed to the public. Private reprimands will no longer be allowed. I think the public has a right to this information and should be kept informed of judicial misconduct. We are, after all, asked to vote to retain these judges every six years. That vote is meaningless if incidents of judicial indiscretion and incompetence are withheld from us. Such evidence has an important bearing on a lawyer's competence to hold judicial office and should be disclosed. Only by doing so can the public make an informed, educated decision about a judge's qualifications for retention in office. There can be no secrecy surrounding judicial disciplinary procedures if we are going to maintain respect for our judicial system. I sincerely hope that you agree that judges should be held to the same standards as you or I. You can insure that they are by voting "Yes" on Amendment No. 2 on November 6th.

Under present law, complaints against members of the Judiciary are filed with the Commission on Judicial Qualifications. The Commission has ten members consisting of the Chief Justice; three judges, appointed by the Chief Justice; three attorneys, appointed by the State Bar Association; and three lay citizens, appointed by the Governor.

Tax changes questionable

While major changes in the federal income tax system have a great deal of appeal, some of the alternatives proposed to improve it could have serious problems of their own. That's the conclusion of a Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City economist, writing in the current issue of the Reserve Bank's Economic Review. Dr. Glenn H. Miller Jr., vice president and economic adviser with the Kansas City Fed, notes that several of the proposals for reform — such as the flat-rate tax, or the value-added tax (VAT) — could, in theory, be structured much more simply than the current income tax system. Yet practical realities may prevent simplified versions of these taxes from being enacted. VAT HAS BEEN touted as one means of switching from an income tax to an expenditure or consumption tax, thus eliminating taxation of savings and investment. The flat-rate tax generally includes broaderening the tax base by eliminating most if not all deductions, thereby lowering the tax rate. "One appeal of the flat-rate tax is that proponents believe that it would distribute the income tax burden more equitably than a progressive income tax," Dr. Miller writes. "But rare said to be based on the notion of ability to pay. The difference is that the progressive tax presumes that the ability of pay criterion is met when those with higher incomes pay a larger share of their income in taxes. "With a flat-rate tax, the criterion is presumably met when higher income tax payers pay a higher dollar amount in taxes, even though the share of income paid is the same for all taxpayers." UNDER ONE PROPOSAL reviewed in the Kansas City Fed article, a flat rate of 11.8 percent on a broadened income base would raise as much revenue as the 1984 tax laws. With no changes in the current base — that is, with all the exemptions and deductions still in place — it would take a flat tax of 18.5 percent to raise the same amount. Yet, as Dr. Miller points out, "Significant shifting of the tax burden toward lower income groups would result from use of a simple flat-rate tax on income." "Use of an expenditure tax (such as VAT) raises questions of equity, and of difficulties in compliance and administration, that have to be weighed against potential benefits in reducing tax disincentives for saving. "It appears, therefore, that the substantial changes in the tax system represented by these alternatives bring difficulties of their own," he concludes. "The best solution may not be the jettisoning of the current income tax, but serious efforts to improve its fairness and simplicity, along with some complementary and perhaps temporary revenue-enhancement actions." From the federal reserve bank of Kansas City in Kansas City, Missouri.

United Way Goal $16,725

Collected to date: $6,000

To better inform the public on the agencies which United Way sponsors, The Wayne Herald will publish a brief explanation each week of the organizations and their members.

The American Red Cross

The Red Cross provides first aid instruction, swimming classes, disaster relief and is a liaison with service men and women whenever needed. Funding from the United Way goes for nursing scholarships; National Assessment and National Disaster Fund; and money provided to the low income for grocery, rent and food. This summer, the Red Cross joined with Wayne city officials and Wayne Kiwanians in making available 50 passes to the Wayne Municipal Swimming Pool for those who couldn't otherwise afford to swim. The Red Cross has requested $400 from funds raised in the 1984 United Way drive.

War & peace discussed

To the editor: At St. Mary's School last Tuesday night, Oct. 16th, the people of Wayne had an opportunity to listen to (and discuss) the Auxiliary Bishop of Omaha discuss the contents and the drafting of the Catholic Bishops' Pastoral Letter on War and Peace. Perhaps, considering the population of Wayne, Neb., a turnout of about forty people is a good one. However, I can't help thinking that until more people in Wayne, in the United States, and in the entire world make more sacrifices in time and effort to grapple with the moral and technical problem of what it means to live in a nuclear age we are very likely to have no world to leave to our children and grandchildren.

The topics concerning War and Peace are complex and frightening. However, in this country we have considerable freedom to join together to discuss these matters. We have libraries that contain books and articles that we can use to educate ourselves on these important topics. Let's utilize these resources. If anyone is interested in reading the Pastoral Letter, one may enclose $1.50 and write to the Clergy Book Service, 12855 W. Silver Spring Drive, Butler, Wisconsin 53007, for a copy of the Catholic Bishops' Pastoral Letter on War and Peace. Robert H. Pancoast Assistant Professor of Economics, WSC

CROP Walk successful

To the editor: Again this year many individuals worked together in an effort to raise funds to provide relief for the world's hungry. I wish to thank all of the organizations and churches who participated in the 1984 CROP Walk for Hunger and their representatives. The volunteers who made all of the plans and arrangements for the walk did an outstanding job. We thank those who contributed help, money, and materials for this event including the Wayne City Schools, Wayne State College, and local law enforcement agencies. One hundred and twelve walkers walked over a total of one thousand miles for world hunger. We thank them and each of their sponsors who pledged support! Laurel Bears roar in second half to down Hartington 32-8

Led by the performance of sophomore running back Brent Haisch, the Laurel-Concord Bears logged their second straight win of the season Friday night with a 32-8 ride over the Hartington High Wildcats.

Haisch rushed for 158 yards and four touchdowns plus bringing down one pass for another score to head up the Bear's scoring attack which overcame an 8-6 halftime deficit for the win.

"OUR DEFENSE REALLY shut Hartington down in the second half, and offensively we were able to just take the ball and move it down the field," said Kurt Buckwalter, Laurel's head football coach.

Buckwalter said that his team was able to overcome the mistakes which plagued them in the form of penalties throughout the night, and defensively came up with the big plays when they were needed. "The player decided that they were going to have to play tough for the win and started coming off the ball in the second half," he added.

The first half was a low-scoring affair with each team logging a single touchdown in the first period.

Laurel scored first on their opening possession of the game, taking the ball down the field to set up a three-yard scoring run by Brent Haisch. Quarterback senior Kyle Daberkow was held short of the endzone on the extra point attempt.

Minutes later, Hartington got on the scoreboard with a running play for the initial six points and was successful on the passing attempt for the two-point conversion to take a 8-6 lead.

IT WAS LATE in the second quarter before either team came close to scoring, with Laurel stalling out within the five yard line when a pass attempt was batted down on fourth and goal.

Hartington took the ball over and was unable to generate an offensive movement and the Bears again came close to scoring territory before time ran out on the clock.

Things broke open for Laurel in the third period following a 67-yard punt by junior Scott Liewer. The ball glanced off the foot of a Hartington player back to return the punt and Laurel recovered it at the Wildcat three-yard line.

On the first play from scrimmage, Haisch carried for his second score of the game, again on a three-yard run. Laurel was called for a 15-yard penalty on the extra point attempt and it took a 18-yard completion from Daberkow to senior Mike Forsberg to secure the two points on the second try and give the Bears a 16-6 margin.

Later in the same period, Laurel gave up the ball on a fumble deep in Hartington territory, only to have the Wildcats cough up the ball on their first play from their own one-yard line. Laurel's senior Mike Granquist was credited with the fumble recovery which set up the quarter's second touchdown.

AGAIN IN POSSESSION of the football, Brent Haisch broke across the line for the score. The pass attempt for the extra points fell incomplete and the quarter ended with the Bears in control 20-8.

A pair of touchdowns in the fourth quarter iced the win for Laurel. With just under five minutes remaining, the Bears took the ball over on downs at their own five yard line and put together a 75 yard drive downfield which featured the rushing efforts of Haisch and senior back Jeff Curry. The touchdown came on a 24-yard pass from Daberkow to Haisch, but the run for the extra point was no good.

Hartington fumbled the ball on their own 33 yard line with two minutes left in the game and Laurel scored several plays later on a 23-yard run by Haisch. The unsuccessful rushing attempt for the two-point conversion left the final score at 32-8.

A possible Hartington scoring threat in the second half was cut short when junior defensive back Randy Prescott stopped a rush by the Hartington running back at the Laurel 17 yard line after a 43 yard run. Hartington was called for a number of penalties in the following plays and was unable to draw close enough to score.

Haisch LED LAUREL'S rushing and passing statistics with his five touchdown performance, but he was aided in the ground game by senior Jeff Curry with 12 carries for 49 yards.

Senior end Scott Rath and Forseberg each had a pair of catches in the contest for 23 yards each. Signal caller Kyle Daberkow connected on 6 of 9 passes for 68 yards and one touchdown.

The Laurel defensive effort was headed by Scott Liewer with 15 tackles and Brent Haisch and Mike Granquist with 11 stops each. Senior lineman Marty Jonas recorded nine tackles to compliment the defensive performance. Scott Rath punched through the Hartington offensive line to come up with two quarterback sacks on the night.

Granquist and freshman Joey Cunningham were each responsible for a fumble recovery.

The Bears will close out the 1984 season on Wednesday night at Wakefield in their second eight man contest. Buckwalter expects the game to be a tough one, and while the Trojans are slightly smaller than Hartington, he says his team will be very concerned with stopping their offense. Last year Laurel upset the Trojans 34-24 in Laurel.

Winside ends season with loss

Winside's Wildcat football team closed out their 1984 season on a low note Friday night when they lost to Bancroft-Rosalie 48-14 in a game played on the road.

The loss ended their second season of eight-man football with a 2-6 mark and saw their Clark division record remain at 2-2.

Winside scored first in the game in the opening period on their second possession of the game when senior quarterback Joel Carstens hit receiver Chris Jorgensen for a 44-yard pass completion and the score.

The passing attempt for the extra two points fell incomplete and held the Wildcat lead to 6-0. Bancroft took the following kickoff down the field to score, and that took away the momentum that we had after our scoring drive," said Wildcat Coach Mark Ferburg.

The Panthers continued to chip away at the Winside momentum and added a second touchdown in the first quarter and another in the second to take a 20-0 halftime margin.

They opened the third quarter with a long scoring run on their first possession and again with another long scoring play later in the same period.

Winside's reserve squad put the Wildcat's second touchdown on the board in the fourth quarter when they drove down field 40 yards to score on an option play by sophomore back Mace Kant. The extra point attempt was run into the endzone by freshman back Doug Pautsen.

Sophomore back Mike Thies led Winside with 14 carries for 37 yards. The game's leading pass receiver was Chris Jorgensen with two catches for 47 yards, one being a 41-yard scoring pass in the first quarter. Senior end Kevin Falk had three receptions in the game for 28 total yards.

Senior tackle Mike Woerdemann was the team's leading tackler with 13 stops, followed by senior Jeff Thies with 12 tackles and Jorgensen with 10 tackles.

Blue Devils break streak with Hartington CC 48-18

The quest for an undefeated season continues for the Wayne-Carroll football team as they notched a long-awaited 48-18 win over the Hartington Cedar Catholic Trojans Friday night in Hartington.

The victory over Hartington CC was the first since 1977 for the Blue Devils, who saw the Trojans spoil their hopes for an unbeaten season in 1983 with a 24-18 win on Wayne's home field.

The rivalry between the two schools always makes for a good game," said Blue Devil Coach Lonnie Ehrhardt. It was the first win against Hartington CC for Ehrhardt in his years as head coach at Wayne, and he said he was glad to see this game break the string of wins that the Trojans had held over Wayne.

THE BLUE DEVILS again used their grinding ground game to put the initial points on the board. Senior running back Steve Overin ended the game with 21 carries for a season-high 172 yards and four touchdowns. Junior running back Tom Perry, who filled in for the other half of Wayne's backfield duo, Kevin Koenig, rushed the ball 15 times for 121 yards and one touchdown.

Koenig turned his ankle early in the game after carrying the ball just one time for three yards, and finished out the game playing defense. Ehrhardt said the injury was a sprain to the top of the ankle, and Koenig is expected to see full duty in Wednesday night's game against O'Neill.

Highlights of the night included a second half pass interception by junior Dan Gross which he returned 56 yards for a touchdown and a blocked punt by junior Jon McCright which he ran in for six points.

The Blue Devil's scoring was spread evenly throughout the game, and opened with a four-yard run by Overin with 5:53 in the first period. After controlling the ball, Wayne turned it over on their only fumble of the game, only to have Hartington return the favor on their first play from scrimmage when Tom Perry recovered the loose ball.

The point after attempt by senior Chris Wieseler was good for the 7-0 lead.

The first run was set up by a seven-yard punt return by Dan Gross and ended a drive which began on the Wayne 37 yard line.

The second touchdown for Overin came in the second period when Kevin Maly returned a punt 10 yards and Overin broke loose on the first play from scrimmage for the score. Wieseler's PAT attempt was good for the first touchdown but went wide on the second try.

The Blue Devils increased their halftime lead to 27-0 with a touchdown off a six yard run by Tom Perry. A highlight of the series was a 46-yard punt return by senior Kevin Maly which combined with a Hartington penalty to give Wayne the ball on the Trojan 13 yard line. A seven-yard burst by Overin took the ball down to the six-yard line where Perry went across for the score with 8:24 in the half.

Wayne was also close enough for a field goal attempt late in the period, but the 36-yard attempt by Wieseler was no good.

HARTINGTON PUT together an aerial show in their first scoring series of the evening, taking the ball downfield via the pass to come up with the touchdown off a six yard throw. A passing attempt for the extra point was also good to lessen the margin to 20-8 with 4:18 in the third period.

Overin returned the following kickoff 30 yards to initiate the next scoring drive which ended with him breaking free for an 18 yard ramble and the score. With 1:13 in the quarter, Wieseler's extra point widened the Wayne lead to 27-8.

Four plays later, Dan Gross ran in front of Hartington intended receiver to pick off the pass and returned the ball 36 yards for the score.

In the fourth period, Jon McCright blocked a Trojan punt and latched onto the ball to carry it 50 yards for the touchdown with 9:03 on the clock.

On a fourth down situation for Wayne with about five and a half minutes left, the snap went over the head of Tom Perry on the punt and was downed in the endzone for a Hartington safety, making the score 48-10.

Minutes later the Trojans broke for their big scoring play against the Blue Devils reserves on a 44-yard pass play for the touchdown. Their point after pass was also good and moved the final score to 48-18.

EHRHARDT WAS PLEASED with both the offensive and defensive performance of his team. "The defense handled them well, especially when they went into the shotgun formation...our coverage was there."

Leading defenders were Chris Wieseler with seven solos and seven assists for 14 stops in the game. Senior Darrin Barner had 13 tackles on two solos and 11 assists and Kevin Koenig finished the night with nine hits on two solos and seven assists. Dan Gross also had nine tackles on two solos and seven assists and a pass interception for a touchdown.

Tom Perry had eight stops with two solos and six assists and a fumble recovery and Rod Luft came up with Wayne's other pass interception.

The win over Hartington CC moved the team one step closer to an undefeated season and the possibility of a home field advantage in the playoffs. Coach Ehrhardt said that there are still a large number of crucial games to be played this coming week before the entire playoff picture for Wayne will be clear.

The last game of the regular season for the Blue Devils will be this Wednesday night at Memorial Stadium in Wayne against O'Neill. The game will also mark the team's annual Parents Night.

Trojans dropped by Leigh

For the second week in a row, the Wakefield Trojans had their troubles on the football field with Panthers.

After falling to the Bancroft-Rosalie Panthers in a homecoming game last weekend, Wakefield traveled to the home of the number one team in Class D-1, and was handed a 47-16 defeat at the hands of the Leigh Panthers Friday night.

AFTER A SCORELESS opening period, Leigh put their first points on the board with a 36-yard run following a short Wakefield punt.

The Trojans took their only lead of the game moments later when they took the ball over on their 15-yard line and marched downfield in 11 plays to end with a one-yard burst by sophomore halfback Brad Lund. Senior quarterback Brian Soderberg carried the ball in on the keeper for the extra two points to put Wakefield ahead 8-7.

The Panthers then strung together three scoring drives to regain and build their lead. Their first touchdown to retake the lead came as the result of a 66-yard drive which was capped with a 19-yard scoring run.

A Wakefield pass interception near midfield set up the second touchdown of the game and the final points of the first half came following a short Trojan punt which combined with a penalty to give Leigh excellent field position to score.

The third quarter also belonged to the Panthers as they added 20 points to pad their score, including another touchdown off a pass interception.

IN THE FOURTH period, Lund again crossed the goal line for Wakefield to capitalize on a Panther fumble which was recovered on their 25-yard line. Reserve quarterback Todd Kralke spotted senior receiver Kraig Dolph in the endzone for the extra point conversion to bring the final score to 47-16.

The contest saw the Trojans put the ball in the air more than they have in any game in the past, coming up with 226 yards in the air along with 158 yards earned by their running game.

Leigh relied on their powerful rushing game to key the victory, with 384 yards on the ground and a meager 46 yards via the pass.

"With the receivers that we have and their man-to-man coverage, we knew we would be passing the ball," said Trojan head Coach Dennis Wilbur. He added that the offense's performance "wasn't as crisp as it needed to be, and there were some catchable passes which were dropped."

Brad Lund led his team offensively with 25 carries for 116 yards and both of the Trojan touchdowns. Quarterback Soderberg accounted for 37 of Wakefield's yards in eight rushes.

THE RECEIVING CORPS included junior split end Jason Erb with six catches for 99 yards and Brad Lund with three receptions for 48 yards. Kraig Dolph reeled in three passes on the night for 44 yards in receptions.

Junior receiver John Halverson was knocked out of the game early in the first half when he took a hit to the rib cage while going up for a pass. Defensively for Wakefield, Brian Soderberg led the tackling with seven solos and nine assists for a total of 16 stops. Junior Kirt Roberts had three solo stops and 12 assists to follow up with 15 tackles. The lone fumble recovery was made by junior tackle Bryon Kubik.

"We did the same thing that has been hurting us all season, we're just not tackling well," said Wilbur, adding that Leigh was probably the largest team that they had faced so far this season.

Wakefield will end their season on Wednesday night at home against Laurel-Concord in an eight-man game which Wilbur expects "to be quite a physical contest." Last year the Bears upset Wakefield 34-24 for their only win of the season.

Wayne State netters reach 20-win mark

The Wayne State Lady Wildcat volleyball record hit the 20-win mark with a pair of victories over Bellevue College and Dordt College last Wednesday night in Rice Auditorium.

The Lady Cats record stood at 20-11 going into their third Central States conference volleyball weekend at Kearney on Oct. 19-20. WSC was 2-4 in the CSIC before the quadrangular with the Lady Antelopes, Pittsburg State and Emporia.

Against Dordt College, the Lady Wildcats had a pair of close sets, winning by scores of 15-13 and 17-15.

Junior Linda Bode had nine points in the match with 13-13 good serves, and senior Mary Kay Becker scored six points on 12-12 serve attempts. Sophomore Diana Asay added five points and junior Jill Zeiss logged four points.

The spiking attack was a balanced affair with the hits evenly distributed. Asay led the group with four ace spikes, followed by Becker and seniors Mitch Esters and Beth Erickson with three kills each. Junior Pam Gogan and senior Andrea Jones each had two ace spikes and Gogan also notched a pair of dinks.

Linda Bode was also the leading setter in the match with an even dozen good sets, and Zeiss added nine assists. Becker, Jones and Gogan each recorded one ace block at the net. The match with Bellevue took three sets before the Lady Cats won by scores of 15-6, 4-15 and 15-8.

Mitch Esters had the top points in the match with 11 points. Jill Zeiss had eight points on 12 good serves and Pam Gogan added seven points in the win.

A trio of Lady Wildcats tied for top honors in spiking with four ace spikes each, including Mary Kay Becker, Diana Asay and Gogan. Andrea Jones notched three ace spikes and sophomore Natalie Fontenella and Esters each had a pair of spikes.

Gogan also had three ace blocks. Esters had two blocks and sophomore Missy Stoltenberg had one block.

The majority of setting was shared by Jill Zeiss with 16 assists and junior Sue Walter with 10 sets.

A PAIR OF Laurel-Concord volleyball players await the serve in their match with Wynot on Thursday night in Laurel. The Bears lost the match by scores of 15-4 and 15-5, moving their season record to 8-7 and their division mark to 5-2. With the win, Wynot claimed the Clark division crown and advanced to the Lewis and Clark conference championship on Monday night, Oct. 22 against the Allen Eagles, winners of the Lewis division and defending conference champs.

Nebraska takes lead with steel shot law

By a unanimous vote of the Nebraska Game and Parks Commissioners, Nebraska has taken the lead in requiring the use of steel shot for all waterfowl hunting across the state, beginning with the 1985 fall duck and goose hunting seasons.

FOLLOWING THE voting, Commissioner Stan Juelitis of Kimball told those attending the meeting, "Nebraska is in a leadership position on this and Nebraska sportsmen and conservationists can be proud and hold their heads high." Other states are looking at total conversion to steel with Iowa expected to take similar action later in the year.

An estimated three million ducks and geese die annually from lead poisoning as a result of ingesting lead shot deposited in marshes and fields where waterfowl concentrate.

IN EARLY 1982 the Commission passed a resolution establishing the 1985-86 waterfowl hunting season as the target date for total conversion to steel shot for waterfowl hunting in Nebraska. The Commission's vote last week completed the four-year move in that direction. The slow conversion gave hunters plenty of opportunity to plan for the time when they will be required to use steel exclusively for duck and goose hunting, as well as giving steel shot manufacturers and retailers time to acquire steel shot shells for them.

Trojans end regular season on high note

The end of the regular season came on a winning note for the Wakefield Trojan volleyball team as they defeated Coteridge in two sets.

The win gave the netters an 8-7 overall record and ended their conference play with a 5-2 mark in the Clark division.

WAKEFIELD WON THE match with set scores of 15-9 and 15-13. Leading scorer was junior Kristi Miller with 10 points on 11-12 good serves. Sophomore Stephanie Torczon added eight points on a perfect 13-13 serves from the line and junior Julie Oswald had five points on 8-9 serves.

The Trojans balanced spiking attack was a key to the win and was headed by junior Kristal Clay with 17-21 spikes for nine aces. Miller was 16-18 at the net with seven ace spikes while sophomore Marci Greve had 12-18 good spikes for six aces and senior Roni Starzl was 13-14 spiking for six aces.

Setting the ball was Oswald with 32-34 good assists and Torczon with 22-23 sets.

"OUR SPIKING WAS very strong in this game, we passed well and our serving for the night was 94 percent." said Mary Schroeder, Wakefield's head volleyball coach. Because they consistently set the ball up well, the Trojans "were able to stay on offense most of the night", which is a position they like to be in. Schroeder added, "We know that we need a balanced spiking attack to win, and I was pleased with the team's performance against Coteridge."

The Wakefield reserve team also logged a win to close out their season, downing the Lady Chargers 15-5 and 15-12. Sophomores Stacey Kuhl and Susie McQuistan were the top hitters with five ace spikes each. Kuhl was 7-7 at the net in the match, while McQuistan was 9-10.

Kuhl was 7-7 from the line in serving for five points and junior Kris Coble was 14-15 to lead in setting.

The freshmen team lost their final game of the season by scores of 11-4 and 11-4.

Tough Norfolk Catholic overpowers Winside

The Winside volleyball team couldn't overcome the power of Class C Norfolk Catholic as they fell in a volleyball match played Thursday night in Norfolk.

Norfolk Catholic downed the Wildcats in two sets, 15-2 and 15-6. The loss brought the Winside season record to 2-9 overall. Their final game of the regular season will be Tuesday night, Oct. 23 at Ponca.

The Wildcat reserves did pick up a win on the night, taking sets of 15-8 and 16-14 from Norfolk Catholic. Junior Julie Bruggeman was the team's leading scorer with 13 points on 15-17 serving attempts with five aces.

The C team also won their game by score of 15-10 and 15-13. Sophomore Cindy Berg helped in the effort with 10 points on 14-15 serves and four aces.

Junior high has rematch with Wakefield

The junior high volleyball teams of Wayne-Carroll split their games in a re-match with Wakefield on the road Thursday afternoon. It was the final game of the first official season for the seventh grade team and they finished out with a win to boost their record to 3-2.

SCORES OF THE match were 15-5 and 15-5 in favor of the Blue Devils. Brenda Test led scoring with ten points in 10-13 serving attempts and Heidi Reeg added nine points on 9-11 serves.

"I really wish that the season could continue on another couple of weeks... the team was at the point where they were playing the best they had all season," said junior high Coach Sue Koch.

"They have come a long way in learning how to set up the ball, and they are a much quicker team than they were at the beginning of the season," she added. "I hope to see continued growth in the team, and that they will retain what they have learned over the summer."

THE EIGHTH GRADE team suffered their second loss of the season to Wakefield by scores of 15-8 and 15-9.

Robin Luft and Karmyn Koenig were the scoring leaders with six and five points respectively. Luft was 10-10 from the line, while Koenig went 5-8 to score her points.

"Wakefield was a team that spiked the ball very well and we worked all week in practice on spiking coverage. In the game I was very pleased with the fact that none of their spikes got by us. What hurt us was the fact that once we got the ball up we weren't able to use it well," said Koch. "We weren't too aggressive at the net and had trouble getting the offense going."

The eighth graders were scheduled to participate in the Hartington Holy Trinity volleyball tournament on Saturday, Oct. 20 and Monday, Oct. 22 to close out their season.

HEALTH TIPS From Your Family Physician. DYSMENORRHEA - MENSTRUAL CRAMPS. Dysmenorrhea has been responsible for more woman-hours lost to employment, school and household tasks than any other disease entity. Dysmenorrhea is characterized by cramping pain in the pelvis that may radiate and is often accompanied by various other symptoms, such as nausea, vomiting or diarrhea. Primary dysmenorrhea usually occurs within the first year of the initiation of menses. It starts with the ovulatory (egg-shedding) cycles. It is severe in 5-10 percent of women, increases in severity until about age 30, then declines. Obesity, increased social status, menstrual irregularities and not having been pregnant increase one's risk of dysmenorrhea. Secondary dysmenorrhea begins later, after a history of relatively pain-free cycles. It is usually caused by an anatomic problem, such as inflammation, infection or adhesions within the pelvis. Evaluation of this illness requires a thorough history to be provided to your physician, followed by a complete physical exam. Normal findings strongly supports the determination of primary dysmenorrhea. Patient education, reassurance, proper diet, simple exercise and the application of heat may be of value in the treatment. Sexually active women may benefit from a combination-oral contraceptive. Others may benefit from newer anti-inflammatory drugs used for arthritis. The treatment of secondary dysmenorrhea involves caring for the underlying disease. With careful application of these therapeutic advances many young women can receive successful treatment. card of thanks

A SINCERE thanks to my family, relatives and many dear friends and neighbors for the flowers, cards, gifts, phone calls and visits while I was in the hospital and for the food brought in since I've been home. Your concern helped me so much. May God richly bless each of you for this. Special thanks to Pastors Vogel and Pennington for their visits and prayers and to doctors Walter, Bob, West and Martin and the entire staff at Providence Medical Center for their excellent care. And to Sister Gertrude for her tender love and prayers. May God bless you all. Lena Fuetlberh. o22

DEAR PEOPLE OF WAYNE: Thanks for the pledges and donations you gave me in July. If it weren't for your generosity, the Heart Association would not have raised $668.90 and I would not have won the 10-speed bike, nor would I have earned the distinction of being top money-raiser in Nebraska in the "Swim for Heart" campaign. NOTICE OF SCHOOL LAND LEASE SALE
Notice is hereby given that the Board of Educational Lands and Funds of the State of Nebraska, or its authorized representative, will offer for lease at public auction on the day and time set forth below, at the office of the County Treasurer of DIXON County, in PONCA, Nebraska the following educational lands within said county:
DATE: OCTOBER 25, 1984 — TIME: 1:30 p.m.
In the event of inclement weather and/or bad roads the sale will be held on November 1, 1984 at 1:30 p.m.

TRACT	DESCRIPTION	SEC. TWP. RGE.	1985 RENTAL	LEASE EXPIRATION
1	NW 1/4 NE 1/4	35-27-04	$3,112.20	December 31, 1992

This tract is located 1 mile north and 3 miles west of Wakefield, Nebraska. There are no previous lessee-owned improvements to be sold.
The purchaser shall, within thirty days of the date of Board approval, pay the amount of the value of the improvements as stated above, to the County Treasurer of the County wherein the land is situated.
Bonus bids will be paid to the Board of Educational Lands and Funds on the date of the lease sale. In order for any person to be eligible to bid on a school land lease, he must be able to contract in accordance with Nebraska Law and have deposited with the County Treasurer of the County in which the land is located or with a representative of the Board a bank draft, cash, cashier's check or a certified check made payable to the Board of Educational Lands and Funds equivalent to the 1985 rental of said tract. Said rental deposit may be submitted at any time until the final fall of the gavel.
In accordance with methods now used by the Board with respect to irrigated cropland which will be explained at the time of this auction, the 1985 rental for all tracts containing irrigated cropland will be adjusted on or before April 1, 1985 to reflect changes in the price of corn at the local market above the County loan price.
All the monies received by the Board's agents will be deposited in the Temporary School Fund subject to approval of the lease by the Board of Educational Lands and Funds; in the event a lease is not approved the appropriate refunds will be issued.
All sales of educational land at public auctions are considered to be non-revocable offers, which upon acceptance and approval by the Board of Educational Lands and Funds meeting in regular session, shall become binding contracts.
For further information contact: John Wurdeman, Route 1, Box 191, Columbus, NE 68601, Phone No. 402/564-3469.
