In city offices

Computers: a new adventure

This is the last segment of a two-part article concerning the city of Wayne's recent decision to purchase a computer system — which contains six terminals (with the capacity to expand to seven units). This final report reports on benefits of a computer in the city's police department, the city manager's office and utilities department.

by Chuck Hackenmiller

Digging out parking tickets is a tedious and sometimes lengthy task.

But if the city of Wayne wants to crack down on those people who procrastinate paying parking fines, the search for the copies of parking tickets is important.

Just last month (September), the city police department issued 231 total parking tickets — 34 more than the same month last year.

The police department is required by ordinance to enforce the parking violations by sending a notice and doubling the fine if it is not paid five days after the ticket was issued. If the fine is still not paid 15 days after the violation, then another letter is sent to the violator saying the fine will be collected through court proceedings.

Searching for these tickets is a daily routine. That is why a computer, at the police station will be helpful in providing information as accurately and quickly as possible, said Wayne Police Chief Vern Fairchild.

"If a guy has received several parking tickets and he wants to pay one, we have to hand search the files, and that's a heck of a job," he said.

THE CITY POLICE department will receive one of six computer terminals which the city council has agreed to purchase from Computoservice Inc. of Mankato, Minnesota.

"I suspect one of the first things we get involved with in using the computer is the parking tickets," he said.

Other functions expected to be performed by the computer, he said, would include department inventory, budget cost analysis and the "computerization of all accident and crime records."

"This will allow us to get some sort of forecasting ability, giving us more control of it [accidents and crimes]," Fairchild said.

Fairchild said the police department plans to divide the city into grids. All accidents and crimes within the grids — date and times — will be entered into the computers.

This procedure will permit the police officers, Fairchild said, to "concentrate efforts in those areas."

Reports from the computer will indicate city intersections which have frequent accidents or areas of the city where a large percentage of crime prevails — areas that need more patrolling.

THE POLICE department also supplies the Wayne city council members and the Nebraska State Crime Commission with monthly reports and often are asked to supply answers to surveys concerning crime and arrest rates.

At times, these reports and surveys take several weeks to compile, Fairchild mentioned.

Two of the dispatchers at the police station will be trained on the computer terminal usage, who in turn will train the additional dispatchers.

"The rest of the police staff will get the information from the dispatchers," Fairchild mentioned.

Using the computer will not mean less police staff members. If anything, the computer will make the department more effective, he said.

"If [the computer] will make the manpower a lot more efficient," he added.

The city of Wayne police department currently staffs one detective, according to Fairchild. Use of the computer, he said, will simplify things for the detective who would presently spend several hours going through past records on particular cases.

"With the computer, it would only take a few minutes," he said.

Fairchild said it could take up to two years, once the computer hardware arrives, before the police department can get the information it needs from the system. It could take that length of time, he said, just to put the past information into the computer system.

But he welcomes the computer system openly. "I've been trying to get one in here for several years," he said. "I'm looking forward to it."

WAYNE CITY Administrator Phil Kloster said the probable first area for expansion, if needed, from six computer terminals to seven would be with the police department. The primary unit would be at the dispatcher's station. The second unit, it added, would be for high level reports of investigations or other information which is to remain confidential, Kloster said.

The computer system will also be a technical tool in the operation of the city's electrical and water departments, according to Kloster.

On Von Minden charges

Disclosure commission seeks more information

by Chuck Hackenmiller

The Nebraska Accountability and Disclosure Commission has requested additional information from Wayne's Gerald Conway concerning charges that incumbent Merle Von Minden of Allen had distributed campaign material that was inaccurate and misleading.

Conway is opposing incumbent Von Minden in the race for the 17th District state legislative seat.

The complaint stems from a May, 1984 letter which was mailed to 17th District constituents. Conway said the letter contained false statements of material fact relating to the candidate [Von Minden].

In the letter, it mentioned that Von Minden was the sponsor of Nebraska's first anti litter bill and that Von Minden played an active role in passage of the Family Farm Preservation Act.

Conway contradicted these items in the letter, saying the Family Farm Preserva-

Organizations obtain estate money

by Chuck Hackenmiller

August Thun, a longtime resident of the Wayne area, died March 20, 1981. Approximately three years and eight months after his death, Thun's estate has been settled and completed, according to Wayne attorney Charles McDermott.

After a special bequest from the estate was provided to various relatives and friends, the bulk of his estate went to religious and church organizations, McDermott said Tuesday.

From the time when the probate was filed (in April, 1981) till Oct. 18, 1984, over $576,000 has been provided from Thun's estate to four specific organizations. The money was provided to the organizations at separate intervals.

Approximately $85,500, or the balance of the estate went to the relatives and friends, according to McDermott.

Redeemer Lutheran Church of Wayne had received $30,522.73 (on June 14, 1982) from the Thun estate. Gaining the greatest sum from the estate were the Wayne Hospital Foundation of Wayne, the Nebraska Heart Association and the Nebraska Division of the American Cancer Society — each organization receiving $181,992.

The hospital foundation board, heart association and cancer society began receiving the money from Thun's estate in Feb. 1982 ($10,000 each). Since that time, the estate interval payments to each of the organizations have ranged from $5,000 to $52,000.

The final payment from the estate was paid on Oct. 18 for $65.56 each, closing out the estate of Thun.

BOB CARHART of Wayne, president of the Wayne Hospital Foundation, said Wednesday morning the foundation's $181,992 (or principal) of the Thun bequest has "been held in reserve to draw interest."

Interest has been used to finance projects which Providence Medical Center cannot afford through the hospital's fiscal operation, he said.

The most recent donation by the hospital foundation has been a new $37,500 closed circuit television to be used in the hospital's radiology department, Carhart mentioned.

This recent purchase improves the operation of the hospital's x-ray equipment and is an important safety device because it does not allow subjects to be accidentally exposed to x-rays. If there is a major project that comes up for the hospital, such as the need for expansion if the hospital becomes a central headquarters for the northeast Nebraska area, the principal funds from the bequests will be applied directly to the project, Carhart said.

Providence Medical Center had been designed for future expansion of 20 additional beds. But until this type of financing is needed, the hospital foundation will continue drawing off the interest of the bequest to fund various other hospital projects.

Candidates are surveyed

Beginning in next Thursday's edition of The Wayne Herald will be a survey of area candidates who have listed their priorities concerning issues which the nation, state, cities and schools are facing today.

Those who have been asked to submit to the survey include U.S. Senator Incumbent James Exon and his challenger, Nancy Hoch; U.S. Congressman Incumbent Doug Bereuter and his challenger, Monica Bauer; 17th State Legislative District Representative Incumbent Merle Von Minden and challenger Gerald Conway; 19th State Legislative District Incumbent Elroy Heifner and challenger Bert Evans; Wayne City Council candidates Stanley Hanson, Kent Hall, Gordon Nelson and incumbents Darrell D. Fugelberth, Keith Moseley and Freeman Decker; Board of Education School District 17 candidates Neil Sandahl, Becky Keidel and Sidney Hillier; and Board of Education School District 9SR candidates Gene Jorgensen, Bill Burris, Dean Mann, Robert Wacker, Dale Topp and Richard Jenkins.

The national and state office candidates will be featured in the Thursday, Nov. 1 edition while the local area candidates will be featured in the Nov. 4 issue.

THE FINAL DEADLINE for voter registration is Friday, Oct. 26 at 6 p.m., according to the Wayne County Clerk's office.

Orgratta Morris, county clerk, said Tuesday there will be something new in the ballots which will be available at the general election polls on Nov. 6.

It will be a ballot to elect a member to the Nebraska Beef Industry Development Board. The name currently listed on the ballot for District 5 (the Wayne County area) is Lois Hartman.

To qualify in receiving this ballot, the individual must be a registered voter and a beef producer. A beef producer means any person who owns cattle, receives a portion of the gross receipts as payment for the sale of cattle, shares in the profit or risk of loss from such sale, and has sold cattle during the current or preceding year.

"The [beef industry development board] ballots won't be given out unless they are asked for," Morris said.

Those that qualify for the beef industry development board ballot are are willing to sign an affidavit affirming they are beef producers can request the ballot from the Receiving Board, Morris said.

The ballots will be available at each of the polling places.

Wayne man

dies in shooting

A 23-year-old Wayne man was found dead at a gunshot wound at his residence on Sunday morning.

Dale E. Kellogg, who resided at 321 Pearl Street in Wayne, appears to have died from a self-inflicted rifle gunshot wound, according to Wayne County Attorney Robert Ens. An autopsy is being carried out in South Sioux City and as of Wednesday morning, the results have not returned.

"I would term it, pending the report from the autopsy, a death as a result of a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head," Ens said.

Kellogg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kellogg of Allen, was found dead sometime after 9:15 a.m. by a roommate at Kellogg's residence.

Services for Kellogg were conducted Wednesday in the First Lutheran Church in Allen and burial was in the Wakarusa Cemetery.

He was born July, 1961 in Wakefield and graduated from Allen Consolidated High School in 1979. He was also a 1983 graduate of Wayne State College.

WSC May graduation schedule changed

by Chuck Hackenmiller

Wayne State College President Ed Elliott announced late Tuesday afternoon he has given approval to changes in the 1984-85 college calendar year to ensure that commencement exercises will follow "final week."

During September and October, students of Wayne State College and the College Faculty Senate have been meeting to iron out differences in the college commencement policies.

The past policy, which will be followed for the fall commencement in December, stated that graduating college seniors would return to the classrooms and take the required "finals."

Students protested this policy, saying the graduation policy would allow little time for relatives to visit upon the graduation date since the student must return to study for finals. The students also will not know at the time of commencement whether or not he or she would be receiving honors at the commencement ceremonies.

Legislative Resolution 424 directs the Committee to examine the current procedural system in Nebraska to search for ways to improve the current system or suggest alternatives which will ensure equal enforcement of the criminal code by trained prosecutors in all counties while relieving county budgets of some or all of the cost of the criminal prosecution system.

Legislative Resolution 448 directed the Committee to examine the feasibility of establishing a state-wide public defender system as an alternative to the ad hoc county-wide system used today.

Intentions of the faculty senate in recommending the "commencement, then finals" policy was to ensure that the senior students had met all the necessary academic requirements before leaving school.

A petition was drawn up by several students against the graduation policy, which drew well over 300 signatures and

There had been previous bills, he said, which have asked people "not to litter." But

There have been no bills which would not allow the manufacturing of removable tabs from beverage cans.

The Nebraska Accountability and Disclosure Commission asked Conway to prove Von Minden's intent to falsifying the letter.

"They felt it was my responsibility to prove the [Von Minden] knew the letter was false when he sent the campaign letter out," Conway said Tuesday afternoon.

However, Conway said he feels it is the responsibility of the disclosure commission — not the political candidate — to decide if there was intent by Von Minden to falsify the May campaign letter.

Looking for beautiful eyes

A search for the Most Beautiful Eyes in Nebraska is being conducted by the Nebraska Affiliate of the National Society to Prevent Blindness. The search includes categories for both adults and children.

The "Most Beautiful Eyes" Contest celebrates passage of Nebraska's School Eye Safety Law and honors the Wise Owl

Clubs, those industry and school groups who prevent blindness by promoting protective eyewear and proper eye care.

Entry forms can be obtained from locally owned IGA stores, Runza Drive Inns, and the Society. A tax deductible entry fee of $5.00 is requested. The adult Grand Prize winner will see the sights of Omaha as guests of the Red Lion Inn. The winning child will be awarded a mini-computer.

In addition to individual entries, businesses and organizations are urged to sponsor contestants. All entries must be received by November 10. Judging by a panel of celebrity judges will take place during the Nebraska Affiliate's Celebrate Sight" dinner and annual meeting at the Villager Motor Inn in Lincoln November 29. Adult finalists will be guests of the Society that evening, with prizes for the runner-up.

For further information, contact Prevent Blindness, Nebraska Affiliate, 4600 Valley Road, Lincoln, Nebraska 68510; phone (402) 489-6609.

Automobile damages Brockman residence

The Dale Brockman residence at 702 Logan St. in Wayne received damage to the house and garage following an early morning accident on Saturday.

According to a report issued by the Wayne Police Department, the accident occurred at 1:18 a.m.

Police said 22-year-old Glenn Morrisette of Norton, Mass., a student at Wayne State College, was driving a 1976 Chevrolet Monte Carlo owned by Pete Miller, also of Wayne State, when he lost control of the vehicle and struck the Brockman residence.

The report said Morrisette left the 7-Eleven Store at a high rate of speed, lost control of the vehicle and struck the Brockman vehicle pushing it into the house and garage.

Voters will judge issue of public reprimands

Nebraska voters are to decide on Nov. 6 whether to eliminate the secrecy which now surrounds judicial reprimands in the state court system.

If they do, says Chief Justice Norman Krivosha, it would deprive the court system of an effective tool in policing itself.

"It would make administration a little more difficult," Krivosha said of Proposed Amendment No. 2. "We'll live with it, but the (change) is simply not worth it."

Several state senators disagree with Krivosha, contending that secret reprimands deprive the public of information about its judiciary that it should have.

Placed on the ballot by a 32-15 vote of the 1984 Legislature, the proposed amendment would require that public notice be given when the 10-member Commission on Judicial Qualifications recommends that one of the state's 122 judges be reprimanded for his or her activities, official or otherwise. Chaired by the chief justice, the commission includes three judges, three lawyers and three laymen.

Currently, reprimands are issued in secret under terms of a section which voters added to the state Constitution in 1980.

State Sens. Merle Von Minden of Allen, Elroy Hefner of Coleridge, Jerome Warner of Waverly and Tom Vickers of Farham co-sponsored the resolution last session which placed the proposed amendment on the ballot.

LEGISLATIVE PROPONENTS of the amendment argue that the change would increase openness and accountability in the judiciary. Citizens who file complaints against judges would know their disposition, they say.

In addition, proponents of the amendment say, it would allow Nebraskans to cast better-informed votes when a judge is listed on the ballot for retention.

"The public can begin to make rational decisions," Warner said during floor debate last session. "They will not have to rely on rumors or what they have heard, but they will have something factual."

Vickers argued during floor debate that judges should be held to the same standards of accountability as legislators. "Our constituents should know what we stand for," he said. "Other people that serve the public, and I consider judges as being in that category, should be the same way."

The amendment addresses only the handling of judicial reprimands, the least serious of five sanctions that the Constitution outlines for errant judges. More serious sanctions against judges outlined in the Constitution are a discipline, a censure, a suspension without pay and a removal from office.

WHEN THE MORE SERIOUS sanctions are issues, such as in the recent suspension of District Judge Francis Kneiff of South Sioux City, public notice is required.

Defenders of the private reprimand, including Krivosha and the Nebraska State Bar Association, say the device has been effective in the three years it has been used. During that period, six have been issued, including two for intemperate language, two for violation of a rule requiring judges to dispose of pending cases within 90 days, one for failure of a judge to disqualify himself for a conflict of interest and one for a district judge who failed to write an opinion or return files after sitting temporarily as a Supreme Court Judge.

Sen. Vard Johnson of Omaha, an attorney who opposed the amendment in the Legislature, argued that a different standard should apply to judges.

To the extent that we permit the judge to be torn down for his or her own weaknesses publicly, we erode the kind of respect that we need to have for a judge," Johnson said.

Krivosha predicted that passage of the amendment would effectively end the use of reprimands. If a recommendation for a reprimand is made public, as the amendment would require, the judge in question must be afforded rights of due process, including a hearing and an appeal, Krivosha said.

viewpoint

Signs are missing

Several weeks ago, this reporter had asked the Wayne County Commissioners about possibly installing signs along several of the rural intersections. At some of the intersections, motorists are blinded at the crossings by tall weeds, crops such as corn or by trees and bushes.

To place intersection signs, such as stop or warning signs, along these blind intersections would certainly enhance the safety of motorists who rely on the gravel road for its transportation means.

But apparently, there are some people who have different ideas for uses of the signs and have no idea of the primary purpose.

Some use the traffic signs as a shooting gallery. Others find it amusing to test the power of motor vehicles against the sign, bending the wooden posts to the ground in the process.

Then there are others who feel the signs conform to make colorful wall decorations in certain residences within the city limits or beyond Wayne County. This task is accomplished despite knowledge that a crime is being committed — first of all, stealing county property and secondly, possession of the stolen goods.

Commissioner Merlin Beiermann related one area northwest of town where, at a certain intersection, the stop sign has been removed from the post approximately eight times within a short period.

That depicts what the county's success ratio is in keeping a traffic sign permanently in place. The odds certainly do not look promising.

Accidents will continue to happen where there are no traffic control signs, as long as people continue misusing the benefit that the county provides to this area. The county cannot put the signs up any faster than they are torn down, shot at or stolen.

Before anyone begins thinking of taking potshots at these signs, think of what would happen if father, mother, brother or sister were seriously injured or killed at these intersections which had an absent traffic sign.

Consider yourself a property owner who must pay for the damages caused to signs (by replacement) or by pending lawsuits which could hit the county as a result of improper traffic warning postings at the various blind intersections.

All of this could result in paying more tax dollars to the county government to compensate for the sign losses and liability claims.

So it really seems illogical to steal or damage the signs, knowing that the action could result in a loss of life from an automobile accident at the intersections.

Unless the people stealing or damaging the signs enjoy tragedies, then safety of lives should be the only incentive necessary to assure traffic sign retention.

Also, farmers along intersections should also do their part in trimming the blind spots (of corn or tall grass or weeds) at rural county intersections to assure full view is available for the motorist.

And the county commissioners must continue providing the rural areas with roads which are safe to travel on. If weeds are high at the intersection on their right-of-way property, then it is the county's responsibility to mow the high grass.

A combination such as this might not curb the rural automobile accident ratio, but the odds are favorable that the improvements will create a safer feeling among the motorists who travel the rural county roads during daylight and evening hours.

Toll-free hotline to be established

New programs will help locate missing children

Legislation Affecting Children

Several important new programs just approved by the Congress will help parents locate missing children. A national toll-free telephone hotline will be established so that individuals can report information regarding the location of any child under the age of 18. The hotline will provide information about procedures necessary to reunite a child with its legal custodian.

In addition, a national resource center and clearinghouse will be created. The center will provide technical assistance to local and state governments, and to private agencies and individuals attempting to locate missing children. It will also provide technical assistance to law enforcement agencies and the criminal justice system on investigation, prosecution, and treatment in missing and exploited child cases.

Grant funds will be made available to public agencies and nonprofit private organizations for research and demonstration projects and service programs.

Farm Credit Program

In 27 Nebraska Counties

I was very pleased to learn that 27 Nebraska Counties will be among the 109 counties throughout the country to participate in the initial phase of a program in which the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) will contract for outside assistance in servicing FmHA farm loans.

FmHA will contract with commercial and farm credit system lenders, which will in turn provide direct assistance to FmHA county offices in loan servicing. The participating county offices, many of which serve more than one county, were selected on the basis of geographic distribution, variety of farm production, and interest by the lenders.

The county office locations and counties served are:

- Harrison-Cedar County, David City-Buller, Polk and Seward Counties, Pender-Burt, Cuming, and Thurston Counties, Wayne-Stanton and Wayne Counties, Omaha-Douglas and Sarpy Counties, Kearney-Buffalo and Kearney Counties, Valentine-Brown, Cherry, Keya Paha, and Rock Counties, Alliance-Box, Butler, and Morrill Counties, Sidney-Cheyenne, Deuel, Garden, and Kimbal Counties; and Ord-Garfield, Greeley, and Valley Counties.

Farmers in the counties served by the designated offices who wanted to participate should contact their FmHA office.

ELECTION PREVIEW

EDITOR'S NOTE

Nebraskans will be voting on four issues when they go to the General Election polls on Nov. 6. So that voters can better understand these important proposed changes to the state Constitution, the Nebraska Press Association in cooperation with this newspaper has prepared a series of reports on each of the proposed issues. Each report deals with a single issue, briefly defining it, explaining its purpose and finally stating the arguments for and against it.

This is the third report in the series.

3. BONDED INDEBTEDNESS FOR REHABILITATION.

A constitutional amendment to allow municipalities to incur indebtedness to rehabilitate, acquire, or redevelop substandard and blighted property.

PURPOSE: The amendment, if passed, would allow the Legislature to expand the use of tax increment financing in areas which are declared blighted and substandard. Tax increment financing, which the state Constitution already permits in certain instances, is a financing tool by which a municipality pledges future property tax revenue on improved property to the extent of the revenue bonds which were issued to finance the improvements. In other words, as a municipality begins to receive increased property tax payments from a developer for a project financed with revenue bonds issued by the municipality, the additional revenue — that is, the tax increment — is used to retire the bonds. The constitution currently allows the use of tax increment financing for the acquisition or redevelopment of a blighted property. This amendment would extend the use of the financing tool to rehabilitation.

The term "redevelopment" means the clearing of a piece of property for new construction. The term "rehabilitation" means the renovation of an existing building for residential or commercial use.

SUPPORT: Advocates of the amendment say it is a logical expansion of existing revenue bond authority of local government. The amendment is particularly important to urban areas in need of preserving their housing and commercial building stock, supporters say. In the long term, the financing tool will be of great benefit in maintaining a strong property tax base in older areas, proponents argue. State officials say such a tax concession to developers help them in their search for outside investment in Nebraska.

OPPOSITION: The proposal was placed on the ballot with the opposition of only six of the 49 state senators. Opposition traditionally has been aimed at the general principle of tax increment financing rather than this particular expansion of the practice. The opposition to tax increment financing has generally been based on the contention that it applies public financing to essentially private purposes. Opponents say it often discriminates against private businesses which aren't located in the blighted area where it is eligible for the special financing tool. Opponents say taxpayers are penalized by the practice because such revenue bonds flood the market and thereby raise the interest rates which local governments must pay when they issue general obligation bonds for essential capital expenditures such as streets and sewers. Taxpayers are also penalized because the tax-exempt revenue bonds deprive the federal treasury of revenue it would otherwise receive.

letters

Opponent deserves equal space

Letter to the editor:

As election day looms even closer, it is important to remind our readers of what we consider should go into our news and editorial columns concerning political candidates: news releases and letters to the editor.

This statement is taken verbatim from the Sept. 20, 1984, issue of the Wayne Herald and can be found in the Viewpoint column on Page 3a. The column continues and points out that incumbent candidates are not being given "preferential treatment" by having their columns appear on the editorial page. According to this column, the reason for the incumbent's columns being in the paper is the result of the paper having too few staff members to cover the happenings of the Legislature Sessions.

It was also stated that columns dealing with political candidates' campaign views would normally be held back from publication.

It was with great interest and concern that I noticed a column was printed dealing with Senator Von Minden's views on Amendment 2 on the Oct. 22, 1984, edition of the Wayne Herald's editorial page. Since this matter has been previously covered by the staff of The Wayne Herald, it obviously cannot be considered news. In addition, the Legislature is not in session and, therefore, there is no need to report on the happenings of the Legislature.

This column is in direct contradiction of the stated policy of The Wayne Herald as written by Mr. Chuck Hackenmiller, Editor.

If the paper wishes to have an informed voting public, equal space and placement should be provided for opposing candidates' views on political issues. It appears from the article that the paper is the guise of "news."

Should not equal coverage be provided for Mr. Conway to express his views so that the public can make an informed decision?

briefly speaking

Family night at Altona church

A family night will be held Sunday, Oct. 28 at 8 p.m. at First Trinity Lutheran Church, Altona. The program will include a presentation on "The Cross" by the Rev. Roy Radloff of Minnesota. Mrs. Radloff is the former Dorothy Reinhardt of the Altona area. Pastor Radloff will show his father's collection of crosses from around the world, correlating the crosses with verses of scripture. Lunch will be served following the program, and the public is invited to attend.

Reception honors newlyweds

Vinit and Stacey Kwankin, who were married Oct. 12 at the Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Omaha, were honored during an open house reception held last Saturday afternoon at the United Methodist Church in Allen. The event was hosted by the bridegroom's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Anderson Kwankin of Allen, and by the Allen and Dixon United Methodist Churches. Guests attending the reception were registered by Carol Jean Stapleton. Special guests were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller of Omaha.

Men's fellowship meeting

The Northeast Nebraska Men's Christian Fellowship will meet Friday, Oct. 26 at 8 p.m. at the Springbank Friends Church near Allen. There will be election of officers, and the evening's speaker will be the Rev. LeRoy Ward.

Chicken supper, bazaar in Allen

The United Methodist Church in Allen will hold its annual chicken and biscuit supper and bazaar on Saturday, Oct. 27. A quilt and matching shams will be given away during the day. The bazaar, craft and food sale will begin at 1 p.m., with the supper to be served beginning at 5 p.m. The menu includes chicken and biscuits, a salad bar and pie. Pie and coffee also will be served throughout the afternoon. Tickets for the supper are $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children ages five to 12. Youngsters under five will be admitted free.

Laurel veterans serving pancakes

The Laurel Veterans Club will sponsor its annual pancake and sausage feed on Sunday, Oct. 28. Serving will be from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Laurel-city auditorium.

Three M's officers re-elected

Members of the Three M's Home Extension Club re-elected officers for 1985 during a meeting Oct. 16 in the home of Lanora Sorensen. The officers are Joceli Bull, president; Delores Utecht, vice president; Lee Larsen, secretary; and Roberta Carman, treasurer.

Six members attended the meeting which opened with a recitation of "We Prepare for Tomorrow." Roll call was answered with a favorite type of light. The lesson, "On the Light Side - Incandescent, Fluorescent," was given by Roberta Carman.

Lanora Sorensen, family life leader, reported on "Parents Are Important Models for Children" by Charles Thiessen. Members are asked to bring 15 tray favors each for Providence Medical Center for use in December. Suggested lesson topics for 1986 were voted on by members.

Lee Larsen will be the Nov. 19 hostess and Verdina Johs will give the lesson on flower arranging.

Minerva Club meets

Minerva Club met Monday afternoon in the home of Beth Morris with 16 members attending. Mildred Jones had the program on Craters of the Moon National Monument in Idaho. The monument includes part of a vast lava field that covers hundreds of square miles. Next meeting will be Nov. 12 at 2 p.m. with Beryl Harvey.

Tasty pastries

BROTHERS MIKE AND MARK Stapleton of Wayne took first and second place respectively in a pie eating contest held Saturday evening in the Wayne city auditorium. Mike, at left, ate his cream pie in the fastest time, without the use of his hands, to be named champion. Coming in a close second was brother Mark, at right. Third place honors went to Heather Varilek, center. The pie eating contest, for youngsters age 14 and under, was held in conjunction with a Harvest Festival sponsored by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce. On Saturday evening, residents were invited to dine on polish sausage sandwiches, chips and pop from 5 to 7 p.m. in the city auditorium. Music during those hours was furnished by the Plainview Klown Band. In addition to the pie eating contest, persons attending the polish sausage feed also were able to purchase cream pies to throw in the faces of their "favorite" businessmen.

Guest night planned

Jaycee Women marking 30th

Wayne County Jaycee Women will celebrate their 30th anniversary on Saturday, Oct. 27 at 7 p.m. with a guest night at the Jaycee Hall.

State President Verdelia Velrovsky and other state officers will be in attendance along with chapter members from surrounding communities, former Wayne members, and local guests.

All interested persons are welcome to attend the anniversary celebration which will include skits, games, a brief history and refreshments.

THE WAYNE MRS. Jaycees was formed in October 1954 with a purpose of uniting members in a social setting while helping with community programs and projects.

The name was changed to Wayne County Jayceettes in 1980 to admit single women and women whose husbands were not in Jaycees.

Recently, the name was changed to Wayne County Jaycee Women to reflect the state name.

THE ORGANIZATION is involved in various community projects, including the recent Wayne centennial, a fall craft fair, donations to the local hospital and auxiliary, making hospital favors, sponsoring a Region IV Christmas party, assisting with Christmas-tree sales, and sponsoring CPR classes for babysitters.

In addition, there are many family oriented activities such as camp outs, Family Week, and a kids Christmas party.

The group meets the second Tuesday of each month.

engagements

Proett-Bowers

Mrs. Joann Proett of Lincoln and Maurice Proett of Lincoln announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Marie, to Barry Bowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Bowers of Winside.

Miss Proett graduated from Wayne-Carroll High School in 1979 and Wayne State College in 1984 with a bachelor of arts degree. She is employed as a sales clerk in Lincoln.

Her fiancé, a 1982 graduate of Winside High School, is attending Kansas State College in Manhattan.

The couple plans a Nov. 23 wedding at the United Presbyterian Church in Wayne.

Churchwomen observing World Community Day at Presbyterian Church

Wayne Church Women United will join in a national observance of World Community Day on Friday, Nov. 2.

All area women are invited to take part in the ecumenical observance at 2 p.m. at the Wayne Presbyterian Church. Babysitting services will be provided.

The program will include a skit, entitled "The Homeless Among Us." Dues and donations for the blanket fund will be received during the business meeting.

THIS YEAR'S service, entitled "A Place Called Home," looks at persons in the world who are homeless, including refugees driven from their homes by war and political upheaval; victims of poverty and unemployment who live in tent cities, in bus stations and in their automobiles; and abandoned and forgotten children who wander the streets.

World Community Day, first observed in November 1943, grew out of a concern of Church Women United that a just, peaceful and caring society become a reality for people everywhere.

CHURCH WOMEN United brings Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women together and represents a broad spectrum of religious tradition, race, age, economic status and ethnic background.

The group works through a national unit which includes 51 states and 1,800 local organizations.

Committees organized, upcoming concert dates announced at Boosters

Wayne-Carroll Music Boosters held their first general meeting of the year last week and heard reports from various music departments.

There are 107 members in this year's varsity band and 18 in cadet band. Just over 60 students are singing in high school choir, with approximately 45 students in the middle school choir.

It was reported that eight students auditioned at Creighton on Oct. 13 for the Nebraska Music Educators Clinic Band. Three students completed for the orchestra, and nine students auditioned for the choir.

THE VARSITY band will compete at the Pershing Contest in Lincoln on Nov. 2.

The fall high school choir concert will be held Nov. 13 at 7:30 p.m., with a Christmas concert slated Dec. 20 at 7:30 p.m.

The choir also is planning to compete in Kansas City on May 11 and 12.

The middle school band concert will be held Jan. 14.

A SPOKESMAN for the Music Boosters said several new committees have been organized this year and parents interested in serving on a committee are asked to contact Carol Rethwisch, 375-3486.

There will be two or three student representatives on each booster committee this year. There also will be student and parent participation on the awards and scholarship committees.

Music Boosters are planning to sponsor a soup supper this year rather than a bake sale, with the date to be announced. Entertainment during the supper will be provided by all of the music departments.

Concord girl crowned

Former Allen residents observing golden year

The daughters of Joe and Beulah Isom of Michigan, formerly of Allen, invite area friends and relatives to remember their parents on their golden wedding anniversary to be observed Saturday, Nov. 3.

The couple's address is 6405 Wicker Rd., Hale, Mich., 48739. Their daughters are Bernita Williams Bogert of Allford, Mich., and Dorothy Williams-Von Minden, also of Michigan.

briefly speaking

Square dancers meet in Laurel

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dellefson and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lund of Laurel were hosts to the Town Twirlers Square Dance Club when it met Oct. 21 in the Laurel city auditorium. Caller was Dean Dedermann of Norfolk.

The next dance will be held Nov. 4 in the Laurel auditorium. Caller will be Duane Nelson of Norfolk, and hosts will be Mrs. Luetta Rosacker of Laurel, and Mrs. Arlene Graham and Alvin Krel of Belden.

Newly elected officers of the group, who will assume their duties in November, are Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Stanley, Dixon, presidents; and Mrs. Arlene Graham, Belden, secretary-treasurer.

Costume dance slated in Allen

The Allen Volunteer Fire Department and Allen Community Development Club will sponsor a dance on Saturday, Oct. 27 at the Silver Dolphin in Allen.

Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. with music furnished by Equal Time. Admission is $1 for persons wearing costumes and $2 for persons not in costume.

Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes.

Fourteen attend Pleasant Valley

Alta Baier was hostess for the Oct. 17 meeting of Pleasant Valley Club. Fourteen members responded to roll call with "What Our Community Needs the Most."

President Louise Larsen opened the meeting with a poem, "Autumn," and a thought for the day. The club voted to accept a name from Wayne Care Centre to remember at Christmas time. A letter was read from Mrs. Minnie Heikes of Blair.

Hollis Frese will be the Nov. 21 hostess at 2 p.m.

Jehovah's Witnesses meeting

Approximately 65 local residents will take part in a two-day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses on Nov. 3 and 4 in Norfolk.

Arthur Degryse, spokesman for the Wayne congregation, said 1,200 delegates are expected to attend from 20 congregations in northeast Nebraska and the bordering areas of South Dakota and Iowa. Theme of the nationwide series is "Repealate Ungodliness and Worldly Desires."

The convention begins early Saturday morning and concludes late Sunday afternoon. A public Bible talk, entitled "War at Armageddon — Is it Near? What Will it Mean?" will be a feature of the Sunday program and will be delivered by William Brandt, circuit supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses in this region.

Degryse said all sessions are free and open to the public.

Duplicate bridge scheduled

All interested persons are invited to play duplicate bridge on Sunday evening, Oct. 28 at 7 o'clock in the Woman's Club room of the Wayne city auditorium.

Those attending are asked to bring their own partner. Duplicate bridge is played every other Sunday evening in the Woman's Club room.

Wayne Eagles Auxiliary plans Halloween potluck

The Wayne Eagles Auxiliary is sponsoring a Halloween potluck supper for members and guests on Saturday, Oct. 27 at 7 p.m. at the Aerie home.

Following the meal, the Golden Eagles Auxiliary Committee will show a film of the Wayne centennial parade.

A free will donation will be taken for a fund to provide large print books and magazines at Wayne Public Library.

THE AUXILIARY met Oct. 15 at the Aerie home with President Dorothy Nelson. Attending were 18 members and one guest. State Vice President-Elect Wanda Hintz of South Sioux City.

Humanitarian committee plans were announced, and members were reminded of a merchandise party scheduled tonight (Thursday) at the Aerie home at 8:15 p.m., sponsored by the Art Ehrman Cancer Fund Committee.

Set-up for the party is at 7:30 p.m.

The Diabetes Committee is planning a color coordination demonstration with the date to be announced.

Membership patches were given out by Doris Gilliland and Sheryl Doring.

Serving on the bingo committee for November will be Sheryl Henschke, Jacque Grimm and Nora Woehler.

Serving lunch at the close of the meeting were Doris Gilliland and Sheryl Doring.

BETTY RIHANEK of Pender was initiated into the Wayne Eagles Auxiliary during a meeting on Oct. 1.

Twenty members attended a hayrack ride and wiener roast at the Elmer Barholz home.

Next meeting of the auxiliary will be Nov. 5 at 8 p.m. at the Aerie home. Serving will be Sally Hammer and Henrietta Jensen.

policy on weddings

The Wayne Herald welcomes news accounts and photographs of weddings involving families living in the Wayne area.

We feel there is widespread interest in local and area weddings and are happy to make space available for their publication.

Because our readers are interested in current news, we ask that all weddings and photographs offered for publication be in our office within 10 days after the date of the ceremony. Information submitted with a picture after that deadline will not be carried as a story but will be used in a column underneath the picture. Wedding pictures submitted after the story appears in the paper must be in our office within three weeks after the ceremony.

bridal showers

Deb Chase

Deb Chase, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Domsch of Wakefield, was presented a bridal shower Saturday, Oct. 6 at St. John's Lutheran Church in Wakefield. Twenty-three guests attended the 10 a.m. brunch.

Hosting the shower were the honoree's aunts, Mrs. Lois Hollman, Mrs. DiAnn Files, Mrs. Alice Brown and Mrs. Doris Schenck.

Deb and Rick Chase were married Aug. 4 at St. John's Lutheran Church.

Michelle Jacobsen

Mrs. Tom Jacobsen of Wayne, nee Michelle Harder, was honored with a bridal shower last Sunday afternoon in the Vandal Rahn home, Martinsburg.

Gifts were opened following a brief program. Hostesses were Karma Rahn, Jeanne Warner, Kris Blohm, Sheila Koch and Linda Wood.

WCS's RAY HOOKER (background) made the catch of the day when he reeled in a deflected pass intended for Sonny Jones (1) and raced into the endzone.

Airforce hot on stats trail

The name of Wayne State College is remaining a regular feature on the national passing and scoring statistics in the NAIA Division I following another high-flying week by the Wildcat Airforce.

The team combined for 373 yards and four touchdowns through the air on the arm of quarterback Ed Jochum and a crew of able-handed receivers, including Mike Schmidt, Ray Hooker, Sonny Jones and Darin Blackburn. On the day, Wayne's passing stats showed 19 completions on 42 attempts with one interception.

THAT EFFORT AIDED the Cats in holding onto their number one spot in the passing offense charts with an average of 337.6 yards in the air per outing.

WCS is also tied for seventh in team scoring offense with an average of 29.7 points per game.

Individually, newcomer Herve Roussel continues his hold on the top spot in the kick scoring category with an average of 8.3 points per game. In the win over Pittsburg, Roussel added four extra points in five attempts to increase his point total to 66 points in eight games.

Quarterback Ed Jochum maintains his second place standing in the total individual offense category with an average of 291.3 yards per game, and his third place ranking in the passing department with 294.1 yards in the air each game.

ON THE LOCAL level, the Wildcats lead the NAIA District 11 schools in the areas of team passing with their average of 337.6 yards and team rushing defense with an average of 96.8 yards on the ground each game for their opponents.

The Cats also have individual players listed at the top of a number of other statistical categories.

Jochum leads the district in individual passing with 294.1 yards per game, and his top receiver, Matt Hoffmann stands at the top of the receiving charts with 34 catches for 674 yards and an average of 96.3 yards per game.

Also listed among the top receivers is Ray Hooker with 26 catches for 532 yards and a 66 yard average and Sonny Jones with 24 receptions for 456 yards and an average of 68.3 yards.

In punting, Darrin Blackburn has put the ball up 16 times for 669 yards or an average of 41.8 yards per boot.

Herve Roussel stands in second place in the scoring statistics with 66 points in eight games, and specialty team member Pat Jennings is among the leaders in punt returns with 13 carries for an average of 7.9 yards per return.

Both Steve Besch and Lamont Lewis lead the district in interceptions, each with six in interceptions in eight games.

Shaw, Jochum receive post-game honors

A pair of Wayne State football players were selected for district and conference honors following their performances in the Wildcats 34-16 win over Pittsburg State in Memorial Stadium on Saturday.

Quarterback Ed Jochum was tabbed for Offensive Player of the Week honors in both the NAIA District 11 and the Central States Intercollegiate Conference, and linebacker Tony Shaw was named Defensive Player of the Week in the NAIA District 11.

Shaw, a 6-2, 215 lb. player out of O'Neill, logged five solo tackles and 12 assists against the Pittsburg offense and also brought down an interception and returned it for nine yards. He turned in a strong defensive pass coverage game as well, breaking up three Gorilla aerials and causing one fumble.

Shaw is among the leading defensive players on the Wildcats team with a total of 92 tackles so far this season, 38 solo stops and 54 assists. Jochum, a native of Norfolk, put the ball up 42 times in Saturday's game with 19 completions and one interception, and hit on scoring strikes of 53, 25, 79 and 51 yards.

On the year, Jochum has thrown the ball 323 times with 135 receptions for a percentage of .418 with 20 interceptions and 19 touchdowns. His total passing yardage now stands at 2,353 yards, a school record and he is averaging just under 295 yards per game.

Wildcats win over Gorillas has season-making effect

The 34-16 win which the Wayne State Wildcats earned on Saturday against Pittsburg State did more than give the 2,000-plus crowd at Memorial Stadium something to cheer about.

With that victory, the Wildcats are assured of their first winning season since going 3 in 1977. They also broke a three-way deadlock for the second place spot in the Central States Intercollegiate race with their opponent Pittsburg State and Missouri Southern.

"It was a good win for us in the sense that we were able to beat someone who was tied with us in the conference," said Wildcat head coach Pete Chapman. "Yet to play on the WCS schedule are both Missouri Southern, the team tied with Wayne for runner up, and Kearney State, currently sitting at first place in the CSIC race."

The Cats put the ball up a total of 42 times, which was somewhat under their average of over 51 passes per contest, and came up with the long touchdown bomb four times on throws of 25, 51, 53 and 79 yards. Said Chapman, "When we were able to score touchdowns on one pass of 79 yards, there really wasn't a need to throw three or four passes for the same result."

PITTSBURG WAS THE first team to put points on the board with a 23 yard field goal by kicker Dave Hammons on their second drive of the game with 6:07 remaining in the first quarter. Wayne State's defense held the Gorillas on a third and six passing attempt to bring up the field goal try.

The Cats were quick with the big scoring play throughout the day, beginning their first touchdown. After a 24 yard kickoff return by Sonny Jones to the WCS 30 yard line, quarterback Ed Jochum connected with junior wide receiver Ray Hooker for a 17 yard gain.

On first and 10 from their own 47 yard line, Jochum's pass intended for Sonny Jones was tipped by Jones and the defensive man covering him and was picked out of the air by Hooker, who came across field to make the catch and score the touchdown with 5:26 in the same quarter. Herve Roussel came on to score the PAT and Wayne took a 3 lead.

"On that play it was simply a matter of Ray hustling across the field to make that catch," said Chapman.

Both teams traded possessions in the closing minutes of the period and Wayne began their second scoring drive as the result of a Gorilla fumble which was recovered on the Pittsburg 40 yard line. Jochum's pass to Irish wide receiver Darrin Fullord was complete for a gain of 15 yards to close out the first quarter.

AFTER THE CATS came up with two in complete passes, senior Mike Schmidt, who was moved to the receiver position to fill in for an injured Matt Hoffmann, nabbed a Jochum aerial and ran it into the endzone for the second touchdown of the day. Roussel's PAT increased the Cats lead to 14-3 with 14:44 to play in the half.

For the remainder of the period, both teams were unable to mount any real scoring drive and it became a punt and return battle between the two squads. The Wildcat blackshirts were able to hold Pittsburg to little yardage, and junior linebacker Tony Shaw came up with an interception for a return of nine yards to cut short a Gorilla series.

After the intermission, the Gorillas took the opening kickoff but were held on a third down and three yards attempts at midfield.

Wayne took control of the ball off of the punt at their own 21 yard line and on the first play from scrimmage, Jochum hefted a 79 yard TD bomb to receiver Mike Schmidt with 10:54 on the clock. Roussel's extra point made the score 21-3 in favor of the Wildcats.

Pittsburg was limited to little or nothing on their next two possessions in the period and were held to their own 10 yard line before punting the ball to give the Cats good field position and a start on their next scoring drive.

On first and ten from their 37 yard line, sophomore tight end Darin Blackburn reeled in a 12 yard pass to move the Cats to the midfield line where Jochum threw up a 51 yard loss to Sonny Jones for the touchdown. The extra point kick attempt failed with 5:38 remaining in the third period.

THE GORILLAS had little luck on their next two series when they moved the ball in to Wildcat territory, only to have it stolen in midair by sophomore defensive back Lamont Lewis twice. The two interceptions gave Lewis a total of six steals in eight games this season.

The Pittsburg defensive secondary picked off a Wildcat pass to set up their first touchdown drive of the day. After taking the ball on the WCS 49 yard line, they moved downfield on a combination of running and passing plays to score from the 16 yard line on a pass play from quarterback Steve Sieburth to receiver Jack Leake. The PAT by Hammons was good to close the gap to 27-10 Wildcats.

Pittsburg scored again on their next possession when Sieburth held onto the ball for a quarterback keeper and the touchdown. Hammons extra point kick was not good just over seven minutes remaining in the game.

Wayne scored their closing points minutes later after Sonny Jones returned the kickoff for 29 yards to bring up first and 10 from the WCS 31 yard line.

This time the touchdown came as the result of rushing plays as senior fullback David Murphy carried the ball five times to gain the necessary yardage and reach the endzone for the score. Roussel's PAT kick put the final touch on the scoring in the 34-16 win.

"AS A TEAM, this was the most balanced performance that we have given so far this year," said Chapman. "Defensively we were able to do exactly what we wanted to do, and the offense hit the big scoring plays to put the game away."

Chapman also commented that while Matt Hoffmann was not among the Wildcats receiving corps, the players he has groomed for that position are interchangeable and they all can fill in well at the receiver position. Hoffmann is expected back in the lineup for Saturday's road game with Emporia.

Offensively, the Cats went to the air 42 times for 19 completions and 373 yards along with four touchdowns and just one interception.

The rushing game accounted for 43 of the Wildcats 416 total offensive yards and came off 21 carries.

Junior linebacker Tony Shaw turned in a top performance as a member of the Wayne State defensive unit, including five solo and 12 assisted tackles along with an interception for a return of nine yards, two passes broken up and a fumble caused.

Senior Steve Besch was also a key to the defensive effort with two solo tackles and 13 assists to stop Gorilla runners. He also had a pass broken up.

Sophomore defensive lineman Randy Hupp netted 14 total tackles including three solos and 11 assists for losses of 11, 15 and eight yards. He also assisted on three quarterback sacks.

Keith Turner, a junior defensive end, recorded four solo stops and seven assists for losses of seven, 11, 15 and 10 yards and also assisted on a pair of QB sacks.

Lamont Lewis and junior linebacker Rusty Ruhl each had 10 tackles on the day and Lewis also pulled in a pair of pass interceptions for returns of eight yards.

Cats wary of Hornets' sting

WCS football Coach Pete Chapman won't be having the Emporia State Hornets lightly as the Wildcats venture down to Kansas for this Saturday's Central States Intercollegiate contest.

Emporia could be a very tough team, they will be up for the game emotionally since it is their homecoming, and it is just a matter of waiting to see how we handle that emotional high.

THE HORNETS WILL be coming off a 14-3 thrashing at the hands of Kearney State last weekend and hold a 2-5 overall record and a 1-1 mark in the CSIC.

Wayne State enters the game with the assurance of a winning season, the first since 1977, and is looking to bolster it's output and log the first winning record since that same year.

The Cats are currently in a two way tie for second place in the CSIC with Missouri Southern, who came away with a 31-27 squeaker against rival Missouri Western over the weekend. Leading the conference in Kearney State, which rebounded after an 0-3 start to post four straight wins and a unblemished 10 mark in the CSIC.

Emporia is coached by Larry Kramer, who in his second year at the helm of the Hornet program has a 4-13 record. Overall, Kramer has a coaching career record of 75-82-8. So far this season, Emporia won their opener against Southwestern 27-23 before being blanked twice by Northwest Oklahoma 40-0 and Baker College 34-0. The Hornets were able to bounce back with an upset win over Washburn University before being set back 24-6 by Missouri Southern and 28-6 by Missouri Western.

INJURIES HAVE BEEN a crucial factor in the season thus far for Emporia. In their loss to Missouri Southern three weeks ago, they lost one quarterback to a fractured collar bone, while a second left the same game with a dislocated ankle and broken leg.

Their starting quarterback for that game, freshman Preston Pearson, had suffered a twisted knee during practice that week and was not suited up for the game. He is expected to be ready for action in the Wayne State game this weekend according to the coaching staff. During his absence, the Hornets were forced to play a wide receiver with very little quarterbacking experience at the position.

According to Chapman, running back Dave Tyrone also could be a threat to the Wildcat defense and stands at the heart of the Emporia offense.

Also on their roster is transfer Kelly Goodburn from Iowa State, who is among the na-lion's punt return leaders with an average of 42.3 yards per return on 37 punts.

In the 1983 meeting between the two teams, a missed extra point proved to be the deciding factor in the game, as the Wildcats fell 14-13 in Memorial Stadium. The air attack of the Cats was only six of 27 on the day with four interceptions.

Wayne leads the series between the two schools, which dates back to 1959, seven games to four, including wins in four of the last five years.

Jim Pehrson

Laurel's Jim Pehrson captures first state cross country medal

For the first time in the three year history of the Laurel Concord cross country team, one of its member has placed in the Class C State cross country meet.

Senior runner Jim Pehrson, son of Roger and Judy Pehrson of rural Laurel, was the fourth place medalist at the state meet which was held on Friday, Oct. 19 at Kearney.

Pehrson's time of 18:22 at Kearney was good enough for the fourth place finish, despite the fact that his time of 17:48 at the district meet a week earlier had just qualified him as the sixth place runner to advance to state.

"I had hoped to finish in the top ten down at state," said Pehrson, "and I was surprised at my finish." The Class C event was won by Steve Heffernon of Kearney Catholic with a time of 17:58. In second place was Bruce Zavadi of Crofton with a time of 18:11 and finishing third was Stacy Priebke of Gibbon with a run of 18:16.

"It had snowed the night before, but it was about 45 degrees at 11 a.m. on Friday when we were scheduled to run," Pehrson explained. "The running conditions were perfect weather wise, but the course was muddy and caused much slower times than in the past due to the snowfall, it was really a challenge."

Pehrson ran his personal best time earlier in the year, when he clocked a 17:40 at the Atkinson-West Hill Invitational.

Also a member of the Laurel Concord track team, Pehrson competes in the distance events for the Bears, including the one- and two-mile runs and the two-mile relay. During the 1984 spring season, he was just shy of qualifying in both the one- and two-mile running events.

Pehrson, along with Troy Heitman, are the only three-year veterans of the cross country program, which is coached by John Jonas. Other members of this year team included Theresa Anderson, Allen George, Derek Lineberry, Terry Anderson, Rick Lage, Brent Heydon and Shawn Westadt.

Soccer Club breaks in field with 5-4 kicker over Westmar College

The Wayne Soccer Club broke in their home field to the feel of a win over the weekend when they came from behind to defeat the Westmar College Soccer Club 5-4 on Sunday afternoon.

The Club, with a league record of 2-3-1, was scheduled to end their regular season play last night (Wednesday) against the Sioux City Rowdies at Headid Park in Sioux City, Iowa. Competition in the Siouxperland Soccer League tournament is scheduled to begin this Sunday at Headid Park at 11 a.m.

THE WAYNE STATE Club had to come from a two point deficit in the match to win on Sunday. They scored the opening goal of the afternoon 10 minutes into the first half on a kick by Doug Lebbert from an assist by Chris Hayden and took an early 1-0 lead.

Westmar College tied the game at 1-1 four minutes later and took their first lead midway through the period on a penalty kick which was assessed against Wayne for an illegal use of the hands in the penalty box by a defensive player.

Westmar scored again with eight minutes remaining on the clock, but Wayne was able to close the gap to 3-2 with just over a minute left to play on a penalty kick by Herve Rousset. The kick was awarded to the Wayne club after Westmar was tagged with an obstruction call.

IN THE SECOND half of the match, Westmar scored what proved to be their last goal of the game to increase their lead to 4-2 in the opening minute.

Wayne was able to get their scoring of fense in action in the remainder of the match, beginning with a second penalty kick by Rousset with six minutes gone. The tying goal was also scored by Rousset off of an assist by Jerry Krebsbach with approximately 20 minutes remaining in the game.

Rousset, who scored four of the five Wayne goals, also notched the winning goal for the Wayne club with 14 minutes left on a kick that came from an assist by Hayden.

Wayne football winning ways

Reserves end at 5-0

The Blue Devil reserve football team put the finishing touches on an undefeated season Monday afternoon when they rolled by West Point 44-0 on the road. The win gave the team a flawless 5-0 season record.

Wayne scored a touchdown in each of the first three periods and then exploded for 20 points in the final quarter for their wide final margin. The strong rushing game, a trademark of Blue Devils teams, garnered 249 yards and combined with 24 passing yards to give the team an offensive output of 273 total yards.

SOPHOMORE QUARTERBACK Jon Stoltenberg earned Wayne's first points of the game on a burst through the middle from the one yard line. Russ Longe, a sophomore running back, carried the ball the necessary yards for the two point conversion and the 8-0 lead. The scoring drive was set up after junior linebacker Jim Thomas recovered a West Point fumble in their own territory.

As a defensive player, sophomore Tim Fleming picked off a Cadet pass in the second quarter and returned it for a touchdown, only to have a penalty called to leave Wayne in good scoring possession in West Point territory.

Fleming then converted to the running back position on offense and carried the ball on a six yard attempt for the touchdown and again for the extra two point try, and Wayne led at the half 14-0.

The team's third quarter touchdown came as the result of a four-yard scramble by receiver Marc Rahn for the extra two point conversion, giving Wayne a 24-0 lead going into the final period.

WAYNE'S OFFENSE shifted into high gear in the closing quarter, sparked by a pair of touchdown runs by sophomore running back Alan Foote. He rushed the ball, twice in the game for scores from 20 yards out and a 65-yard end sweep.

The game's final points came from another sophomore running back, Ted McCright, as he sailed into the endzone from five yards out for six points. Stoltenberg handled the ball on a quarterback keeper for the extra points to give Wayne the 44-0 margin of victory.

It was also another strong showing by the defensive unit, led by Russ Longe, and guards Tom Miller and Rod Gilliland, with seven tackles each. Bill Liska, playing at tackle, added six stops in the game.

Ron Carnes, one of the squad's two coaches, said that the game was "another good opportunity for a large number of team members to play and get the chance to carry the ball, score points, and make tackles."

Eighth grade win

The Wayne Carroll eighth grade football protected their perfect season and handed Crofton their first loss of the year with a 34-6 victory on Tuesday afternoon in Wayne.

The Blue Devils broke to a 22-0 halftime lead and padded their margin in the second half by outscoring the Warriors 12-6 to end their season with a 5-0 record.

Scoring for Wayne included a pair of four yard scoring runs by back Eric Liska to open the game up and a 20 yard dash by Corey Frye before halftime.

In the final two periods, the Blue Devils added their big scoring play of the day when quarterback Jess Zeiss hit receiver Sean Baker on a 40 yard pass for a touchdown. Chad Davis capped the day's scoring with a 10 yard run for the final points.

On the extra point conversions, Jason Cole caught a pass from Zeiss for two points and Zeiss and Corey Frye each carried the ball once for on the successful extra point attempts.

A number of players carried the ball to back Wayne's potent rushing effort, including Sean Baker who finished the day with a game-high 76 yards. Following close behind was Eric Liska with 74 yards and Corey Frye with 54 yards and Chad Davis with 43 yards.

The Blue Devil defense, which limited Crofton to just a single trip to the endzone, was led by Eric Liska with nine tackles and Doug Larson with seven stops. Corey Frye and Kevin Hausmann each logged six tackles in the game and Chad Davis and Chris Lutz recorded five tackles each. Rounding out the defensive effort was Sean Baker and Elliott Salmon with four tackles each.

Wayne's pass secondary team also had a good day, with Corey Frye picking off one Warrior pass for a return of 40 yards. Elliott Salmon also had an interception and brought it back 30 yards, while Tom Etter also came up with an interception.

sports briefs

Alumni basketball Nov. 10

The annual Wayne State College alumni-varsity basketball game is scheduled to be held on Saturday, Nov. 10 in Rice Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

As in years past, the game will feature a match-up of skills between the current Wildcats varsity basketball team and a group of former players returning to their collegiate home court.

A roster of varsity and alumni players will appear in an upcoming edition of The Wayne Herald.

Football contest winners

Marilyn Strate of Wayne was the winner in the fourth week of the Wayne Herald football contest with a total of three missed picks.

Receiving the second place gift certificate was Cynthia Frevert of Winside with four misses and a tiebreaker answer of 585 yards. Third place went to Jerry Echenkamp of Wakefield, also with four misses and a tiebreaker guess of 614 yards. Actual yardage in the Nebraska-Colorado game was 589 yards.

Other entries with four incorrect answers and their tiebreaker yardage included Helen Barner, Wayne, 666 yards; Hilda Hammer, Winside, 760 yards; and Dean McCormick, Wayne, 875 yards.

Allen volleyball tournament

Members of the Allen Consolidated Schools fifth and sixth grade class held a volleyball tournament on Thursday, Oct. 18 with a large crowd in attendance.

In the evening's first game, the fifth grade boys downed the fifth grade girls 18-16 before the girls came back to win two straight sets of 15-3 and 15-4.

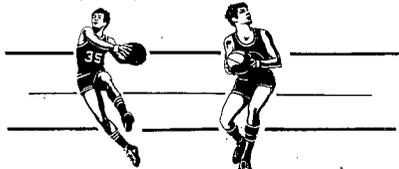

During the second game, the sixth grade boys defeated the sixth grade girls in two sets by scores of 15-8 and 15-4.

The championship game between the fifth grade girls and the sixth grade boys was won by the boys in three close sets. The sixth grade won the first set 15-9 and then lost 16-14 before coming back to take the last game 15-7.

Some statistical leaders in serving included Kevin Crossgrove, Holly Dickens, Brandy Blohm, Cindy Chase, Denise Boyle, Michelle Kraemer and Kristy Taylor for the fifth graders and sixth graders Troy Jewell, Brent Blohm, along with seventh grader Kent Chase, who filled in.

Those leading in bumping for the fifth grade were Cindy Chase and Denise Boyle, and for the sixth grade, Sandy Noe, Paul Brentlinger and Clifford Greenleaf.

Physical education Coach Sandy Chase said that all who participated performed very well. She also said that some rule changes were made including an unlimited number of hits on each side and a limit of five points made before the ball changed sides.

Wayne eases by South Sioux

Members of the Parents Night crowd at the Wayne-Carroll volleyball game were not disappointed on Tuesday night, as they watched their team come from behind to take a two set win over the South Sioux City Cardinals in their final game of the regular season. The win gave the Blue Devils a 10-7 record going into their district volleyball action on Monday night at Wisner-Pilger.

AFTER TRAILING 5-0 and 10-3 in the opening set, the Blue Devil netters pulled themselves together and sparked their offensive game to pull out a 16-14 win and then cruised to a 15-6 victory in the night's second set.

"We got off to a slow start and it looked like we really weren't ready to play when we took the floor," said Wayne head Coach Mavis Dalton. "The momentum in that first set went back and forth and neither team really had control of it."

As the sets progressed, Dalton said that the team moved into their offensive game and began to take away the offensive strength that South Sioux had been showing. "South Sioux had been a dominating offensive game, and we took that away from them," Dalton said. "In the second set, the girls just decided that they wanted the win and they got control."

Amy Jordan had eight points on 11-11 serves for two aces and Sarah Lebsock added six points on 9-11 serve attempts.

Karen Longe had a perfect night at the net with 19-19 good spikes for four aces. She was joined by Lebsock, who logged 17-18 hits at the net, also for four aces. Sonja Skokan led the blocking game with two ace stops.

Koflette Frevert and Lisa Jacobsen shared the setting duties with Frevert recording 33-35 good sets and Jacobsen 21-23.

THE RESERVE team was also a winner in their final game of the season, and ended the year with a 9-2 record. Set scores were 15-4 and 15-11.

Lori Jacobsen was the top scorer with 40 points on 10-11 good serves. Kacia Corbit had eight good spikes at the net for one ace and Shelly Pick was six hits for one kill.

Wayne's freshman team lost their last game and saw their season finish at a strong 9-3 mark.

South Sioux took the match in three sets, 15-13 and 15-3. Sarah Peterson led scoring with five points, while Marnie Bruggeman had nine good sets and Jodi Ditman had two successful spikes.

Eighth grade wins tournament

The eighth grade volleyball team at Wayne-Carroll earned the first trophy for their efforts over the past weekend when they took first place at the Hartington Holy Trinity tournament.

Teams participating in the two-day tournament which was held on Saturday, Oct. 20 and Monday, Oct. 22 in Hartington included Crofton, Crofton St. Rose, Laurel-Concord, Wynot, Randolph, East Catholic, Hartington Holy Trinity and Wayne.

WAYNE DEFEATED Randolph in opening round play on Saturday by scores of 15-2 and 15-7. Their leading scorers were Kristy Hansen with nine points on 10-11 good serves and Robin Luff with six points and 7-8 good serves.

Hansen was also one of the two top setters with 11-13 good assists, and Holly Paige was a perfect 7-7 in her setting.

Karmyn Koenig was the leading spiker at the net with eight good spikes in as many attempts.

Coach Sue Koch felt that the team "played a tremendous and well-balanced game" and that a key to their success was their good passes which set the ball up for play. "They were also very aggressive at the net, the most they have been all year," she added.

Play in the semi-final round continued on Monday night, when the squad came out the winner in a three set match with East Catholic, 9-15, 15-7 and 15-13.

Koch said that there was a very loud and intense crowd and the noise level affected the team in their opening two sets. "East Catholic primarily bumped the ball and our girls began to play that style of game in first two sets," said Koch. "But in the third set we calmed down on the court and played our game, which is setting up the ball."

Scoring honors were shared by Robin Luff with eight points on 11-13 serves, Dana Nelson with seven points on 8-10 serves and Kristy Hansen, also with seven points on 7-7 serves.

Amy Bliven was 4-5 in spiking to lead the team and Holly Paige was the top setter with 11-11 assists.

THE EIGHTH GRADE continued to play their offensive game well in the championship match against host team Hartington Holy Trinity, winning in two close sets, 15-10 and 17-15.

Holly Paige had 11 points on 14-15 serves and Dana Nelson added nine points in the win with 13-14 serving attempts.

The team's spiking attack was evenly distributed, with Karmyn Koenig leading at the net with 6-6 spikes. Dana Nelson and Amy Bliven each were logged a perfect 5-5 on their spiking attempts.

While the team wasn't as aggressive in the net as they had been in their opening two games, Koch said their spiking at the net was "excellent".

The team ended their first season with a strong 7-2 showing.

WSC netters notch CSIC win

In their third weekend of conference action, the Lady Wildcats came away from their quadrangular in Kearney with a 1-2 record, which included a win over Emporia State and losses to Kearney State and Pittsburg.

WSC needed four games to get by the Lady Hornets of Emporia by scores of 15-6, 15-11, 8-15 and 15-12.

Kearney took their match from Wayne State in three sets with scores of 15-4, 15-13 and 15-7, while Pittsburg State also used three sets to down the Lady Cats, 15-10, 15-11 and 15-13.

"We played well against Emporia State over the weekend, but we were up and down against Kearney State. Emotionally we were just not able to rebound against Pittsburg State," said Lady Wildcat head Coach Marilyn Strate.

Scoring on the weekend was led by junior Jill Zeiss with 28 points on 43-47 serving attempts with six aces. Junior Pam Gogan added 18 points on 33-34 service attempts and senior Mary Kay Becker scored 17 points on 26-27 attempts at the serving line.

On the other side of the serve, Gogan was the team's leading serve receiver with 41-44 good receives. Sophomore Diana Asay had 38 good service receives while Becker added 35 successful receives.

Asay was the leading spiker on the weekend with 16 ace spikes. Gogan had 14 kill spikes along with three dinks at the net and Becker had 11 downed spikes and recorded three dinks also.

Setting was shared by Zeiss with 70 good assists in 71 attempts and junior Linda Bode with 32-34 assists.

The blocking game at the net was headed by seniors Andra Jones and Mitch Esters with six total blocks each. Senior Beth Erickson added five stops on the defensive attack and Asay had four blocks.

The weekend games left the Lady Wildcat squad with a 3-6 conference record. Their last conference action will be this coming weekend, Oct. 26 and 27 when they face Emporia State, Missouri Southern and Ft. Hays State in Joplin, Mo.

Winside Wildcats sweep Ponca

The regular season came to an end on a positive note for the Winside Wildcats as they closed out their final three games with two wins and a loss in the past week.

The Wildcats participated in the Hartington volleyball tournament over the weekend and picked up a loss to Beemer and a win over Walthill before taking a three set match from Ponca on Tuesday night on the road.

THE WILDCATS SPLIT in their games at the Hartington tournament on Saturday, Oct. 20, going the full three sets with Beemer before being defeated and bouncing back to take a two set win from Walthill to end the day's play.

Winside took the opening set of the Beemer match 15-8 before falling 15-4 and 15-5.

Leading scorer in the loss was sophomore Tracy Topp with 10 points on 12-13 good serves with five aces.

Sophomore Christi Thies was 4-6 at the net in spiking with two aces and senior Leah Jensen hit 3-4 spikes for two aces as well. Setting was shared by junior Kerri Leighton with 16-21 sets and senior Tammy Brudigan with 10-12 assists.

The Wildcats then rallied in their second match of the day, doubling Walthill in sets of 15-11 and 15-10.

Senior Missy Jensen had nine points in the win to top the team's scoring.

Jensen was also 5-5 in spikes, all for aces and senior teammate Trisha Topp was also a perfect 7-7 with one ace spike.

Kerri Leighton was the main setter in the match with 18-19 good assists.

COACH JILL STENWALL said that the problems that the team had been suffering during the past several matches "seemed to be taking care of themselves, and the squad's overall floor play was much improved."

Against Ponca on Tuesday, the Wildcats won their first set despite a slow start, 15-9 but were downed in the second game 15-8. After trailing 11-1 in the third and deciding set, Winside was able to pull together on the court and come back for a hard-fought 16-14 win.

"We slow getting started again," said Stenwall. "But they all played well in that final set, and it took a real team effort to win that."

Kerri Leighton led scoring with 15 points on 18-21 good serves and five aces. She was also the top setter with 37-39 assists in the three sets.

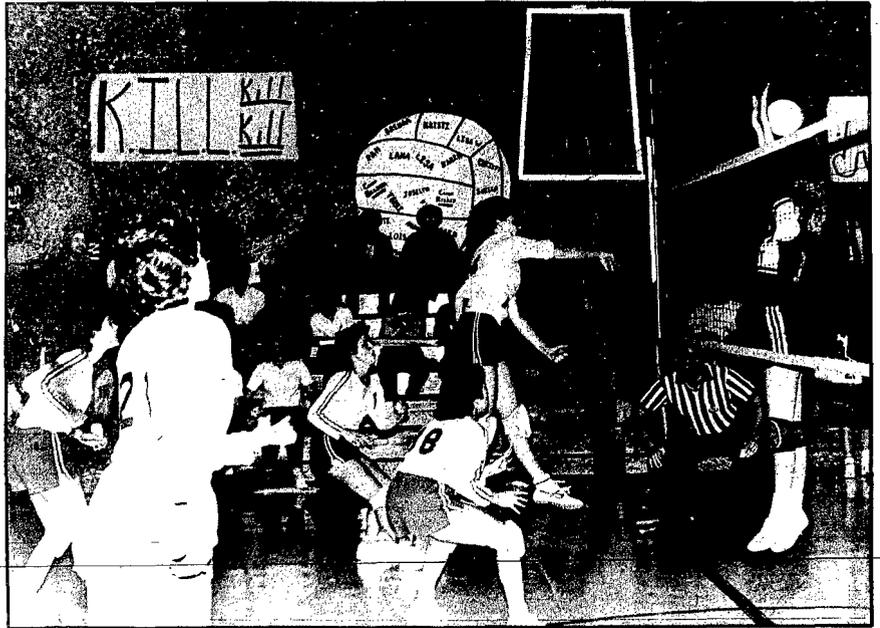

Trisha Topp had 13-15 spikes at the net with four aces to lead in that department, while Leah Jensen was 4-5 with two ace spikes.

THE WINSIDE RESERVE team won their match in two sets, 15-9 and 15-12 behind the serving of junior Julie Bruggeman with 13 points on 15-17 serve attempts. She was also 8-8 at the net with one ace spike.

Junior Julie Warnemunde was 14-17 in setting for the reserves.

The freshman team ended their season with a win as well, taking sets of 2-11, 11-1 and 11-9. Freshman Tricia Harman had six points on 9-11 serves with four aces and frosh Ann Meierhenry was 8-9 for five points and four aces.

Carmen Reeg led the spiking with 4-5 spikes and two aces.

ALLEN'S MARY OSWALD sends the ball past the outstretched hands of her Wynot opponent.

Eagles runner-up in conference

The Allen Eagle volleyball team earned the runner-up spot to the Lewis and Clark conference volleyball crown on Monday night, losing the championship match to Wynot on the road.

The Eagles earned their way to the final playoff by taking first place in the Lewis division of the conference with a 6-1 record.

PASSING TROUBLES which had plagued the team over the weekend in a tournament at Hartington continued to hamper the team in their game with the Blue Devils as Allen lost in two sets, 15-4 and 15-7.

"Offense was a problem for us our first pass off the serve tended to go anywhere," said Eagle Coach Gary Troth. "Our setters had difficulties getting those passes, and that is something that you can't let happen against a good team."

Statistics were led by Mary Oswald with 12-16 spikes, followed by Denise Magnuson with 5-7 hits at the net and Shelly Boyle with 4-6 spikes.

Seniors Mary Oswald and Pam Heckathorn were honored as members of the all-conference first team. "Both are two-year starters and have seen a lot of playing time...both are deserving of the honor," said Troth.

Junior Denise Magnuson was named a member of the all-conference second team and senior Tammy Kavanaugh was tabbed as an honorable mention.

ALLEN ALSO participated in the Hartington volleyball tournament over the weekend and lost a pair of games on Saturday.

In the opening match, the Eagles were defeated by host team Hartington in three close sets, 5-10, 14-16 and 13-15.

Diane Magnuson led scoring with 13 points and Tammy Kavanaugh added eight points.

Spiking was handled by Mary Oswald with 25-30 hits at the net, followed by Denise Magnuson with 13-20 spikes, Diane Magnuson with 15-20 hits and Shelly Boyle with 15-16 spikes.

Kavanaugh and Pam Heckathorn were top setters with 39-40 sets and 24-25 sets respectively.

Allen then fell in their second game to Bancroft-Rosalie in three games, 15-11, 2-15 and 9-15.

Heckathorn had six points in the loss and Kavanaugh added five points. Spiking leaders were Denise Magnuson with 18-26 spikes, Boyle with 12-13 hits and Diane Magnuson with 11-15 good spikes.

Kavanaugh had a perfect 27-27 in sets, while Heckathorn was 11-12 and LeAnn McDonald came off the bench to make 11-11 assists.

THE EAGLES were able to set themselves back on the winning track Tuesday night against Coleridge by taking a three set 14-16, 15-2 and 15-4 victory to end their regular season with a 12-6 record.

Shelly Boyle had 10 points, Mary Oswald added nine points and Kristi Chase came in to score seven points in the match.

The spiking game also came back for Allen as Shelly Boyle had 20-20 spikes for 10 kills and Mary Oswald was 14-18 for seven aces spikes.

Tammy Kavanaugh was 35-40 in setting and Pam Heckathorn was 29-32 in the assists category.

"We started out about the same way we played over the weekend and on Monday, but we were able to re-adjust ourselves mentally and play some of the best volleyball we have played all year," said Troth.

The Allen reserve team won their match by scores of 15-6, 15-17 and 15-7, and the C team ended their year with a win as well, 7-17, 12-10 and 3-11.

Aristocats beginning fifth season

The Aristocats, Wayne State College's pom pom squad, are beginning their fifth season entertaining crowds at different college and community events.

The 14-member team was chosen in September and has made two appearances to date. The squad will perform at 12 Wildcat basketball games during the coming season.

Besides performing at athletic events, the Aristocats have conducted drill team clinics for high school drill teams, sponsored campus dances, operated co-ed volleyball tournaments and have modeled and performed at a community fashion show.

Members of the squad choreograph and teach the routines it uses. This allows each girl to be an essential part of the squad and gives the routines variety. The team practices four or five days a week and spends a portion of each practice on conditioning and good physical fitness.

Gary Davis, Wayne State's Director of Bands, is the Aristocats' sponsor, and Chris Rector, a former member and co-captain, is assisting with practices and routines.

The members of the Aristocats are:

Cathy Albracht, a freshman from Humphrey who has not yet declared a major.

Deann Clyde, a senior from O'Neill majoring in English. She is a co-captain and a four-year member.

Lynn Engel, a freshman from Columbus studying journalism.

Robin Fundus, a freshman from Atkinson who has not yet declared a major.

Sandy Frederick, a sophomore from Sioux City, Iowa. She is a business major and is the Aristocats' music coordinator.

Michelle Hansen, a freshman from Omaha majoring in elementary education.

Susan Klingensmith, a sophomore, from Sioux City, Iowa, studying medical technology. She is in her second year and is the team's publicity chairperson.

Sharon Klingensmith, a freshman from Sioux City studying elementary education.

Pam Masters, a freshman from Omaha majoring in business.

Amy Oberle, a sophomore from Norfolk studying accounting. She is in her second year with the squad and is its treasurer.

Julie Peterson, a freshman from Omaha is studying English.

Karen Rular, a sophomore from Omaha studying broad casting. She is in her second year with the team and is one of the co-captains.

Becky Sullivan, a freshman from Plainview is majoring in elementary education.

Wendy Woster, a sophomore from Omaha is majoring in business. This is her second year with the squad and she is its secretary.

Allen grads awarded WSC scholarships

Michelle Jacobsen, Karma Rahn and Michelle Harder, all 1984 graduates of Allen Consolidated School, were recently awarded $500 Presidential Scholarships to attend Wayne State College during the 1984-85 academic year.

Presidential Scholarships are awarded annually to quality students based on academic excellence, talent, leadership qualities or extracurricular activities.

Jacobsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Harder of Allen, is a freshman at Wayne State majoring in interior design. During high school she was active in volleyball, basketball, track, National Honor Society, Future Homemakers of America, chorus and band.

Michelle Jacobsen

Karma Rahn

RAHN, WHO is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vandel Rahn of Allen, also is a freshman at Wayne State, majoring in business.

During her high school years she was active in volleyball, basketball, track, Future Homemakers of America, A-Club and National Honor Society.

Harder, a freshman at Wayne State majoring in business, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Craig Williams of Allen. While in high school she was active in basketball, volleyball, track, band, chorus, jazz band, swing choir, Future Homemakers of America, A-Club and National Honor Society.

College taking part in career information day

Wayne State College and at least 15 other Nebraska post-secondary schools will take part in a career information day that will unite Nebraska graduating college students with representatives from over 40 businesses, corporations and government agencies.

The College Placement Association of Nebraska (CPAN) Career Discovery Day is planned for Thursday, Nov. 8 in the Nebraska Union at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

THROUGH CPAN, business, industry and organization employers have an opportunity to meet Nebraska college students in a campus atmosphere, talk with faculty, and take part in seminars and programs, according to CPAN Steering Committee Chairman Bob Lohrborg, placement officer at Wayne State College.

The day's panel discussions with employers will include topics such as management training programs, what employers look for in an applicant, the assertive job search, and tips on resume writing and interviewing.

Persons who would like additional information, students and employers, can contact Bob Lohrborg at Wayne State College, Wayne, Neb., 68787, or phone (402) 375-2200, ext. 318.

faculty profile

Cliff Ginn, Associate Professor of Political Science at Wayne State College, does not dwell on the title "Political Scientist" given people in his field.

"In a practical sense, political science is an art; it's not a science," said the personable U.S. Air Force veteran of 21 years. But he did say politics is studied as though it were a science.

Cliff Ginn came to WSC in 1968, the year he retired from the Air Force as a Chief Master Sgt. His 21 years in the service was spent as a Strategic Air Command (SAC) gunner on combat crews for Texas, California and four years at Offutt Air Force Base in Bellevue.

He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees while in the Air Force, the latter coming just before he retired and came to WSC.

DURING HIS 17 years at Wayne State, the avid jogger established the WSC Center for Economic Education and, along with WSC Associate Professor Allen O'Donnell, the college's Public Affairs Institute. The Center for Economic Education is one of five centers in Nebraska that is a member of a national organization.

"We're part of a network to promote economic education in America," said Ginn, the WSC Center Administrator. "We're now working with teachers in Northeast Nebraska on a national program for students and teachers about taxes called Tax Whys."

The Public Affairs Institute, of which Cliff is the director, is 10 years old. It is not connected with any other organization. It is totally independent, he said.

THE PURPOSE OF the Institute, Cliff added, is to present programs on the campus to further the understanding of public affairs and issues. The Institute, which puts on two or three programs or seminars a year, is sponsoring Gov. Kerrey's visit of Wayne State in November.

"We created it to add a further dimension to the college. We put on public affairs programs and seminars about major issues for all-student and also the general public."

Cliff, the division head for Social Science from 1980 until returning to full time teaching this fall, is a native of a small farming community in Maryland. Besides running, he also likes to read and is a big baseball follower. ("I'm a Yankee fan," he says.)

Cliff and his wife, Toni, are the parents of five children (Rick, Mike, Mary Ann, Tom and Teresa) and have four grandchildren.

Planetarium schedule announced

The 1984-85 season of public planetarium shows at Wayne State College's Fred G. Dale Planetarium will begin Sunday, Oct. 28 with the presentation "Dawn of Astronomy."

of Stonehenge, both constructed nearly 5,000 years ago, according to WSC Associate Professor of Earth Science Carl Rump.

Rump said the "Dawn of Astronomy" presentation describes how and why these monuments were built.

"The incredible achievements of early man in measuring the length of the year, developing a concept of the zodiac, and predicting exactly how the sun, moon and planets move in the sky are celebrated in the presentation," said Rump.

be offered Dec. 9, 12, 16 and 19, with Sunday presentations at 3:30 p.m. and Wednesday performances at 7 p.m.

The offerings for the next term will include "The Archive Project" on Jan. 27 through March 10, and "Voyage to Infinity" on March 24 through April 28. Both of these shows are scheduled for Sundays at 3:30 p.m.

All of the programs are free and open to the public. Special showings can be arranged for school groups and organizations by appointment.

Persons who would like additional information can contact the planetarium at Box 77, Wayne State College, Wayne, Neb., 68787, or phone (402) 375-2200.

THE INTELLIGENCE and resourcefulness of early man are dramatically illustrated by the pyramids of Egypt and megaliths

Wayne Midwest Federal Savings office sold to Fremont, Nebraska City firms

Two savings and loan firms from Fremont and Nebraska City have announced the intentions of purchasing Midwest Federal Savings office in Wayne.

Douglas E. Peters and Duane W. Hall, presidents of Nebraska Savings and Loan of Fremont and Midwest Federal Savings and Loan of Nebraska City, have announced the intent of Nebraska Savings to buy the local Midwest Federal Savings office.

Both presidents have expressed their optimism about this changeover and the positive effects the sale will have for the savings and loan customers in the Wayne area.

"We have 25 locations in Nebraska — from Blair to Chadron and from Ogallala to Lincoln. North central Nebraska is where we have wanted additional expansion and we welcome the opportunity to assume operations of a very well operated office," said Peters.

"Betty Addison, manager of the Wayne office, has done an outstanding job and we are pleased to have her continued experience in our Association," he said.

"WE HAVE FOUND it difficult to service the Wayne customers in the manner we desire. It's just too many miles in-between Wayne and Nebraska City," added Hall.

"Nebraska Savings is a fine organization and we know our customers will be well served. Since we share the same computer service center, we anticipate a smooth changeover," added Hall.

Following approval of the purchase by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, it is expected the transition will be completed by mid-November.

What is currently Midwest Federal Savings and Loan in Wayne was actually chartered as Wayne Federal Savings and Loan in January of 1935.

The first directors were John T. Bressler, Jr., W.R. Ellis, E.E. Gaitley, J.S. Horney, William Beckenhauer, C.E. Wright, C.E. Carhart and Burr R. Davis.

The first office was located at 220 Main in December of 1961, the office was moved to 305 Main Street. The present building at 321 Main was built by Wayne Federal and moved into in September, 1976.

In Oct. 1980, the savings and loan association, merged with Midwest Federal Savings and Loan Association, which was chartered in May of 1887 in Nebraska City.

Current staff members at the Wayne office are Betty Addison, manager; Cheri Erickson and Evelyn Doeschler.

"Final class meetings will begin on May 1, 1985 and end on May 3, 1985. Commencement will take place on May 5, 1985.

Unchanged are dates for Spring recess (March 4-8, 1985), Good Friday recess (April 5, 1985), Achievement Day (May 4, 1984), and Commencement (May 5, 1985).

Elliott said there will be no changes in the fall schedule. Commencement will take place Dec. 16 at 2 p.m. and final week will be from Dec. 17 through Dec. 19, according to Elliott.

Graduation will be conditional "subject to faculty submitting grades to the Registrar and providing that said grades satisfy all remaining Wayne State College graduation requirements," he said.

Below are the schedule changes:

- On Jan. 14, the first day of the second semester will serve as both the first day of classes and the day of registration.
- April 8 will not be a vacation day as was scheduled.

ELLIOTT BASED his announced scheduled changes of the 1984-85 calendar year on information provided to him and upon the recommendation of the faculty senate.

"For the past several weeks the student and faculty senates have worked long and hard to forge a policy change agreement regarding the juxtaposition of commencement and final week," Elliott said in his release to the faculty, administrators, staff and students at Wayne State College.

Computers

ding to Kloster.

"We buy so many units and then we use so many units. We have no accurate way to check and see if there is a loss factor on the system or if someone is possibly stealing from us," he said.

The computer will provide the feedback on what is sold and what is used. Those figures will relate to future rate reviews of water and electricity.

Breakdowns can be made on the usage of utilities from residences and businesses which could establish a pattern as to what the future rate structure should be.

Taxpayer will not be playing consultants to prepare reports manually; utility rate structure reviews, Kloster mentioned.

CURRENTLY, HE SAID, utilities present a big problem in the city's accounting. "Not in terms of bills and money received over the counter, but in production and sales, inventory and fixed assets," he said.

Kloster said he will have a computer in his city administrator's office and will have the ability to monitor the various entries into the computer system from the police department and the city clerk's office.

City administrator, city clerk and city treasurer records into the computers will be of higher security, he said.

The computer system center, he said, will be located where the present L-9000 system is. There will be some modifications made in the city clerk area of city hall, including possible enclosure of another work office in the main office, he said.

Although the city council has approved the purchase price of the computer system from Compute Service, the final contract is still under negotiation by both parties.

The issues concern extension of time for the interval payments — to "make sure the [computer system] equipment is up and running," Kloster said.

He said the city is also negotiating for a "next larger size" computer center (CPU), which will provide more speed and allow for more growth and expansion. This double capacity CPU will not cost additional dollars, Kloster said, but could be a "sweetener thrown in with the deal."

"As we go down in time, we could see information terminals located at the utility centers (electrical and water) and at the water works plant," he said.

Kloster said he doesn't anticipate any of the hardware of the new computer system to start arriving at city hall before Jan. 1, 1985.

The five year cost of the new computer system will be $141,150.

Board makes compromise

The Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging Board has made two offers of compromise to resolve the dispute over the meals contract with Goldenrod Hills Community Action Council.

At an October 10, 1984, meeting with the two executive committees present, the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging Executive Committee offered to throw out the original meals contract document for the remainder of this fiscal year.

However, the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging would continue to reimburse only for actual-meals delivered.

On October 18, 1984, the Northeast Nebraska Areas Agency on Aging Board voted to increase the maximum reimbursement from $1.75 to $1.87. The budget for congregate meals originally submitted by Goldenrod Hills CAC would have allowed approximately $1.52 per meal.

Danna Clark, at an October 4, 1984, meeting with five senators, stated it cost 35 cents extra for each home delivered meal. The Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging Board proposed to provide reimbursement for home-delivered meals at a maximum of $1.87 ($1.52 + $.35 equals $1.87).

The Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging Board feels that the two proposals should end the deadlock, according to Dale Kindred, the agency's executive director.

Wakefield girl is awarded crown of 1985 Pork Queen

Jane Gustafson of Wakefield was crowned 1985 Wayne County Pork Queen during the fourth annual Wayne County Pork Producers Association awards banquet held Sunday evening in the Wayne State College Student Center.

Jane, daughter of Kenneth and Glee Gustafson of Wakefield, is a senior at Wakefield High School. She was crowned by the 1984 queen, Shelley Krusemark of Wakefield.

Karen Longe was named first runner-up, and Lori Carlson is second runner-up.

Karen is the daughter of Richard and Vera Longe of Wayne and is a senior at Wayne-Carroll High School. Lori, daughter of Dennis and Ellen Carlson of Wakefield, is a junior at Wakefield High School.

OTHER PORK Queen candidates were Joan Biermann, a senior at Wisner-Pilger High School; Jill Boldt and Deanna Wills, both juniors at Winside High School; and Valerie Rahn, a junior at Wayne-Carroll High School.

Judging the contest were Jay Clary of Norfolk, an employee of Elanco for the past six years; Cathy Stigge of Beemer, president-elect of the Nebraska State Porkettes and president of the Cuming County Porkettes; and Cindy Witte of Scribner, president of the Nebraska Porkettes and past-president as well as current board member of the East Central Porkettes.

Judging was based on a point system of 25 each for beauty, neatness and personality; an essay contest; an oral interview with the judges; and presentation and poise.

Serving on the committee for this year's queen contest were Lori Haglund, Gail Jaeger, Kris Loberg and Anne Nolte.

NUMEROUS AWARD winners were announced at Sunday evening's banquet. Winners and their parents included:

4-H Rate of Gain — Chad Sebade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Sebade of Wayne.

4-H Carcass — Russell Longe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Longe of Carroll.

4-H Pen of Two — Kevin Svoboda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Svoboda of Pender.

4-H Achievement — Valerie Krusemark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Krusemark of Wakefield.

Open Class Market Hog — Kevin Svoboda.

Open Class Carcass — Russell Longe.

THE FOLLOWING carcass premiums were awarded:

First place — Russell Longe of Carroll.

Second place — David French of Carroll.

Third place — Moli Greve of Wakefield.

Fourth place — Doug French of Carroll.

Fifth place — Diane French of Carroll.

Sixth place — Loren Isom of Randolph.

Seventh place — Ron Krusemark of Wakefield.

Eighth place — Roger Gustafson of Wakefield.

Ninth place — David French of Carroll.

Tenth place — Dale Hansen of Carroll.

Eleventh place — Matthew Krusemark of Wakefield.

Twelfth place — Mindy Janssen of Winside.

Thirteenth place — Todd Dorsey of Wayne.

Fourteenth place — Kevin Svoboda of Pender.

Fifteenth place — Susie Nichols of Wayne.

OTHER AWARDS given out were:

Pork Booster Award — Wayne Centennial Committee and Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

Commercial Award — Don Johnson of Hoskins.

Feeder Pig Award — Leon Svoboda of Pender.

Purebred Award — Dale Hansen of Wakefield.

Outstanding WCPP member — Gene Luft of Wayne.

OFFICERS OF the Wayne County Pork Producers Association for 1984 are Chuck Rutenbeck, president; David Jaeger, vice president and member chairman; Ken Nolte, secretary; John Mangels, treasurer; Ron Krusemark and Anne Nolte, publicity; and Gene Luft, state director.

Rutenbeck served as master of ceremonies during Sunday evening's banquet and introduced the directors. The invocation was by the Rev. Ray Greenseth.

Keynote speaker was Dr. Ron Hanson of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Also addressing the group was State Pork Producers' President Richard Eisenhauer of Bloomfield.

Women in charge of decorating tables for the banquet were Rhonda Sebade and Virginia Backstrom, both of Wayne.

Managing for tomorrow

The last article in our series about the Managing for Tomorrow program is by Dr. Paul Gessaman, Extension Agricultural Finance Economist. Managing for Tomorrow is a program for farmers offered by the Cooperative Extension Service and being implemented by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Department of Agricultural Economics.

Managing for Tomorrow places emphasis on the identification of goals and priorities as a means of helping those who enroll to think and plan for the future. Through goal identification and priority setting activities, persons enrolled in the program will address fundamental questions like these:

- What do we really want to achieve in life?
- What can we do that will be most productive and worthwhile?
- What are we trying to get done through our use of time, effort, money, and management skills?
- When should it be possible to do these things?
- How are the inevitable conflicts among the dreams and desires of person in farming to be resolved?
- Goals provide the foundation for planning of future work and family activities. Goals give direction to your life and work as they reflect your preferences and decision about what you are trying to do, where you are going, and when you should be able to achieve the thing you want. Your decision about the order and the extent of efforts to achieve your goals are reflected in your priorities and serve as guides for your future personal and business decisions.

In a practical sense, goals are statements about the future conditions that individuals and families want to create. It's clear that most persons who are successful in life know what they are trying to accomplish, how they want to carry out their actions or decisions, and when their efforts are to be completed. Thus, goals are the primary bases of more effective business and financial management.

For more information about the Managing for Tomorrow program please contact Don C. Spitzer, Wayne county Extension Agent at the Courthouse in Wayne. The telephone number is 375-3310. Several of the banks in Wayne County are also helping promote the program and brochures and applications are available from them or the Extension Office.

If you prefer you can call directly to the Farm Financial Line, a toll-free number 800-535-3456. For more information and to enroll.

Field bindweed in garden
This could be the year to control field bindweed in your garden. Spray with 2.4-D or Roundup on a warm quiet day sometime in October before a hard freeze. Light to moderate freezes normally don't harm the top growth of field bindweed.
Mix with 2.4-D (4lb. per gallon material) 1 1/2 to 2 tablespoons or Roundup to 8 tablespoons per gallon of water and apply as a wetting spray to the weeds. Keep the spray off of garden perennials such as rhubarb, strawberries and ornamentals.
Gardens can be filled after the weed growth browns. Only 2.4-D or Roundup should be used in gardens. Other herbicides could cause carryover problems into next season.

Most Evergreen trees shed needles during fall
Don't worry about brown needles inside the tree crown. Pines, spruce and firs naturally shed old needles every fall.
Depending on tree species, the needles that turn brown are two, three or four years old and are located nearest the center of the tree. Rain or wind will knock dead needles to the ground and the tree will again appear healthy. The younger, green, healthy needles are located toward the ends of branches.
A summer of heavy rains or drought may upset this natural process and cause more than the normal number of needles to drop. In such cases, if a tree keeps its current year's needles in a green, healthy condition, it will continue to grow the following year.
If young needles (one or two years old) are discolored or dead, a disease or insect problem may be present.

Mulches
Mulch can be applied too early in the fall. Plants go through a hardening off process during the fall. Excessive soil moisture levels and a corresponding increase in soil temperatures may slow down this hardening off process. Because mulches conserve soil moisture they may also slow down the hardening process.
The main objective of a winter mulch in your garden is to modify soil temperatures. This is accomplished because the mulch aides in the retention of soil water.
Perennial plants should go into the winter with a moist soil. However, the winter mulch and additional soil water should be supplied after the first hard frost in the fall.
Save nature's mulching materials such as leaves, grass clippings, straw, peat moss and well rotted animal manures until later in the fall growing season. Mulch your perennial garden plants the same time nature does — after the leaves turn and drop.

Northeast Nebraska pork banquet upcoming

The Northeast Nebraska Pork Producers Association's 20th Annual Pork Awards Banquet will be held Sunday, Nov. 4, 1984, at 7 p.m. at the Sacred Heart Gym in Emerson.

Speaker for the banquet will be Dr. Ron Hanson, Associate Professor of Farm Management and Ag Finance in the Department of Ag Economics at the University of Nebraska. Dr. Hanson has earned national recognition for his outstanding teaching abilities and his work with students. He is a widely traveled speaker who delivers a powerful and inspirational message in a highly entertaining and motivational manner on the "true to life" human relationships and personal problems which usually develop among all family members when a son returns back home, often with that new daughter in tow, in order to get started learning with Mom and Dad on the family farm. Dr. Hanson has compiled a two part speech on this topic and presented the first part at last year's banquet and will be presenting the second part of his sequence at this year's banquet.

Advance tickets can be purchased from Pork Producers Board Directors at a cost of $6.00 per person. Tickets may be purchased at the door for $7.50 per person. All tickets for children 10 years and under will be $4.

The Pork Queen Contest will be held at 2 p.m. at the Sacred Heart Gym with the 1985 Queen being crowned at the Banquet.

The Pork Producers Board of Directors will be selling 1985 memberships at the banquet and encourage all pork producers to purchase their memberships at that time.

the farmer's wife by pat meierhenry

Finally, the weather has cleared and harvest is proceeding. The yields are gratifying. The Big Farmer has spent two days driving the tractor in the silo, packing the ground ear corn. Cutters and trucks and combines are cruising up and down the roads.

I have the third canner full of pears on. I thought I was about finished "putting up," and Dick informed me the pear tree at his place was loaded. They've been spread out all over the basement floor.

Sometime on Saturday, the men weaned 64 calves. I knew as soon as I got out of the car — the bellowing was loud! And it has gone all weekend, day and night. Weaning is so stressful for the calves, it has to wait for good weather.

I have more flat tires than any other person in Wayne County. One morning in August, I was at my Mom's and found a tire down when I was ready to leave to come home. I got the jack on right, but couldn't get the nuts loose. I ended up calling a filling station, a guy in a pickup came over, changed the tire in five minutes, and charged me $10.

The one on the other side was flat a quarter mile from home that same day. The Big Farmer changed it.

One week later, I was tearing into town for a meeting when I heard a familiar rumble. This time, I was really fortunate. Three local fellows came by in a pickup. They had a fancy jack and a special tire wrench along.

Two weeks ago, I found a flat in life court house parking lot. I called a local station, and a really kind man came over. He changed the tire, and fixed it, for only $5.00. So much for Big City prices!

THIS FELLOW WORKS for a service station, which are getting very hard to find. I had a low tire in Norfolk one week later, at 10 p.m. I drove to four gas pumps before I found one with air. But when I put it in myself, just as I do the gas.

Self service gas is a pet peeve of mine. We have our own gas tanks, and I usually have to put in my own. But when I put in gas in town, I expect an attendant to do it. I don't understand car engines. I went to nursing school, not auto mechanics! I know to watch the gas gauge, and to put in oil when the red light goes on. I've learned through sad experience about radiator hoses, power steering belts, and fuel pumps. But I want service station attendants to diagnose and treat these. And I'm willing to pay a little extra for the gas to get the service; but most of these places have one employee on duty, and he has to guard the cash register.

This is why I appreciate Bob Ritze at the Coop in Winside. He knows my car, and points out things to me when he works on it. And if I don't feel like pumping the gas, they'll do it for me.

My sis is in Rochester, Minn., this week, with her father-in-law. She forgot her telephone credit card, so has had to call collect. The other night, she called home and my niece, Sarah, answered.

The operator said it was a collect call from Mary Beattie, and Sarah said she wasn't there. Mary told the operator it was her daughter, so the operator explained that her mother was calling; and added, "Will you pay for the call?" To which Sarah replied, "But I don't have any money!"

Most of us miss out on life's big prizes. The Nobel, Oscars, Tonys, Emmys. But we're all eligible for life's small pleasures. A pat on the back. A kiss behind the ear. A four pound bass. A full moon. An empty parking space. A crackling fire. A great meal. A glorious sunset. Hot soup. Cold lemonade. Don't fret about copping life's grand awards. Enjoy its tiny delights. There are plenty for all of us. Anon.

Initial USDA credit program

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block today said five states will participate in the initial phase of a program which the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) will contract with commercial and Farm Credit System lenders for assistance in servicing FmHA farm loans.

The program, one of the farm credit initiatives recently announced by President Reagan, will be conducted in Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri and Nebraska. Participating counties are being selected and will be announced soon.

FmHA will contract with the banks, which will in turn provide direct assistance in loan servicing. "This will enable the FmHA county offices to accomplish other loan processing in a more timely manner," Block said. "Overall, the FmHA borrower will be better served."

Block said the contracts would be handled through FmHA state offices in Des Moines, Topeka, St. Paul, Columbia and Lincoln.

Other credit initiatives announced by President Reagan to help farmers undergoing undue financial stress include setting aside part of a borrower's FmHA debt for five years without interest, providing FmHA loan guarantees for qualifying farmers who are not FmHA borrowers, and contracting for assistance in farm financing and management expertise to help farmers in serious financial difficulty.

Nebraska cattle on feed down 2%

Nebraska cattle feeders had 1,370,000 cattle on feed on Oct. 1, down 2% from last year, 13% below 1982, and the lowest Oct. 1 number since 1977, according to the Nebraska Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Fed cattle marketings for the month of September totaled 290,000, a decrease of 26% from both 1983 and 1982. Placements of cattle into feedlots during September totaled 570,000 head, up 12% from last year and 21% above two years ago. Placements during September were the highest since 1978.

During the July-September quarter, Nebraska feeders marketed 920,000 fed cattle, down 22% from the corresponding period last year. Placements during the quarter totaled 1,070,000 head, down 4% from 1983. Nebraska feeders intend to market 1,000,000 head of cattle for slaughter during the October-December 1984 quarter, 1% above the same quarter in 1983.

Corn a crucial Egypt commodity

by Lon Swanson
IFYE in Egypt

This is the time of the year that everyone claims to be a Cornhusker, yet how many of you have actually husked corn? I grew up on a grain and livestock farm and graduated from the University of Nebraska, but I look an international trip to Egypt before I actually became a true "corn husker."

Corn is a very important crop in Egypt just as it is in Nebraska, but instead of harvesting the fields with huge combines, hand labor is the way to bring in the crop. Corn is a summer crop that is planted in April and harvested in September or October. Harvest begins by cutting down the corn with a hoe and plugging the stalks into bunches along the way. Each worker takes two rows and normally one acre is cut per day.

After a few days of drying, the ears of corn are husked and thrown into a pile. Most of this work is done by peasant's daughters but I joined in the work for a few days and my hands really got the "feet" for the work. The pile of corn from the day's husking is loaded into reed baskets and carried by the young girls (on their heads) to a nearby building where the ears are spread out on the roof to dry.

The dried corn is shelled by hand and bagged for either human or in a few cases livestock use. The stalks, leaves and cobs are also dried and used as fuel for homes. The stalks can also be used as cover on the roofs and wind breaks for their small homes.

An average corn yield in Egypt is 70 bu./acre but with hybrid varieties from the U.S. and improved fertilization, herbicide and irrigation management, yields have been well over 120 bu./acre.

MOST OF THE FARMERS do not grow the corn solely in hopes of large grain yields in the fall. For many who have fruit orchards, the corn acts as a cover crop for the young trees during the hot summer months. The corn leaves are also stripped off during the growing season in order to feed the livestock. Much of the corn grown in Egypt is a very tall variety (10 ft. or higher) which lowers the yield but increases the forage value.

This labor intensive crop is one of many grown by the Egyptian small farmer. The warm year around climate and readily available irrigation water creates the perfect situation for continuous cropping. There are two seasons which dictate the crops grown by the farmers. Along with corn, cotton, soybeans and sorghum dominate the Nile valley and delta during the hot summer months.

The cooler season crops of wheat, faba beans and lentils are grown during the mild winter

LON SWANSON standing by Egyptian corn.

Buffer crops grown between these two seasons are tomatoes, onions and sesame. The familiar crops of soybeans and wheat average yields of 30 to 40 bu./acre respectively.

THE SMALL FARMER still dominates the land ownership and rural areas of Egypt, but slow changes are taking place. Ninety-five percent of the farmers in Egypt own less than five acres and this makes up 70% of the total tillable land base. Former farm laborers who found jobs in cities or in the oil rich Arab states are returning to their home areas and buying up the farmland for status reasons. This has pushed prime land prices up from $2,000/acre to $20,000/acre in the past 10 years. The increased land prices have pushed the small farmer out of the market and is placing land in the hands of larger landowners.

Egyptian and American farm life has very little in common on the surface. The size of farms, cropping seasons and mechanizations differences are great and yet hidden similarities can be found. The Egyptian small farmer was a pioneer and now is a dying breed in the country just as American family farms are dwindling in numbers.

As with all people who grow up on the land, pride of ownership and their dedication to agriculture is a common link between Egyptian and American farmers.

Workshops to cut calf loss

The loss of nearly 10,000 dairy calves each year during the first six months of life is a serious economic drain on the state's dairy industry. A series of workshops across the state this fall is designed to cut these losses by giving dairy operators up-to-date calf-raising information.

With the use of the latest knowledge and developments in calf raising, it is estimated that losses could be reduced to less than 5,000 per year. The dollar savings would be considerable, in addition to savings on treatments, labor and other costs associated with raising calves.

The workshops scheduled from October through December in the eastern half of the state are designed to update dairy operators on management practices and disease prevention measures that have proven effective in minimizing health problems and death losses. Attention also will be given to the economics of raising high quality replacements.

The main benefit from reducing heifer losses is the larger number of prospective replacement animals which enter the herd. This makes possible the culling of more low producing cows, resulting in a higher average production per cow. With more emphasis on breeding heifers for high production, this benefit compounds itself over time to build herds with high genetic capability for milk production.

Topics to be included in the programs include: care of the cow at calving; dairy housing; disease prevention including vaccinations; feeding the baby calf and the heifer; detection and control of common health problems; and minimizing the cost of raising replacements. The workshops also will include demonstrations of important management practices, and participants may join in "how to" exercises on some topics.

The workshops, which will run from 9:45 a.m. to 3 p.m., will be conducted by Foster Owen, UNL extension dairyman, and Duane Rice, UNL extension veterinarian. Anyone interested in dairying is invited to attend. Sites and dates for the northeast workshops follow: Oct. 30, Stanton County, Stanton, fairgrounds; Oct. 31, Cedar County, Hartington City Auditorium.

Need for soybean drying

The list of problems associated with this year's soybean harvest seems to be endless, and the need for proper drying procedures is among them, according to Rich Pierce, University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension agricultural engineer.

An early freeze caught many of the beans before they were mature and now October rains are preventing harvest and causing some soybeans to begin molding in the field.

"As these beans are eventually harvested, the higher moisture content and the generally lower quality levels will increase the need for proper drying and storage procedures," he said.

The most important consideration now is to make sure that the beans are dry enough for storage, he said. Under normal circumstances, soybeans can be stored over the winter at 12 to 13 percent.

"But because damaged beans or beans already mold-infested will deteriorate at a faster rate, they should be dried to a moisture content below 11 percent," he said. "These beans should be dried in a high-temperature drier so that drying can be completed as quickly as possible."

DRYING TEMPERATURES of 90 to 100 degrees F are recommended when batch-drying in a bin. With continuous-flow dryers, the temperature should be increased to 130 to 140 degrees F. High temperature drying is also recommended if soybean moisture contents are greater than 18 percent.

Pierce said that natural air drying can be used if soybean moisture contents are below 18 percent.

The drying fan should be run continuously at least until all of the soybeans are dried below 16 percent. Then it may be desirable to operate the fan only when relative humidities are below 75 percent to prevent rewetting the beans at the bottom of the bin.

"Do not skimp on fan operation," Pierce said. "The combination of poor initial bean quality and unfavorable weather conditions makes maintaining quality a greater priority than a small reduction in drying costs."

OKTOBERFEST
An Oktoberfest festival was held at the Wakefield Health Care Center on Oct. 14 with over 200 people attending.
John Viken, administrator, welcomed guests. George and Clara Wobken of Sioux City and Janet Gustafson of Wakefield entertained residents, their families and guests with accordion music of familiar German and oldtime songs.
Featured near the guest book was a lighted and revolving miniature carousel made by Mr. Wobken. Mr. and Mrs. Wobken wore typical German dress. They have visited the Oktoberfest which is celebrated annually at harvest time in Germany.
Chances were sold on a baby quilt, embroidered by the residents of the facility. It was also on display near the guest book.
Strussel, pretzels and cider were served from fall appointed tables. German pictures and phrases accented the dining room and west lobby.

W-CLUB DONATES

Bridge work continues

WORK CONTINUES on the bridge construction just north of Wakefield despite wet weather the past couple of weeks which slowed down the progress of dirt work on approaches leading to the bridge. District Highway Engineer Tom McCarthy of Norfolk said earlier this week that although grading work in preparation for surfacing came to a halt during the rains, work on the bridge itself hasn't been delayed that much. McCarthy said he expects the bridge deck to be poured around the first of November, with the road open to traffic sometime during the last week of November. The above photo was taken last Friday afternoon looking north from Wakefield.

Help Re-Elect STATE SENATOR

MERLE VON MINDEN

During my four years as your state senator I have been open, straight-forward, and honest with you about what I believe in and what I have worked for.

Here are some of my beliefs supported by my public record, which I will continue working for:

- I strongly support local control because my experience in public office tells me the best decisions are made closest to home.
- I have worked to protect the rights of the citizen before the criminal and to preserve law and order.
- I feel we should have quality education directed by the local school board and not mandated by state government or the state education association.
- I am opposed to a sales tax on services, and against "earmarking" sales tax for special interest groups.
- I will continue to work to protect the individual, small businesses and the family farm against bigger and bigger government.

This is the way I believe... what I have worked for. I need your support to continue my efforts for a "common sense" approach to responsible government.

Sincerely,
Merle Von Minden
State Senator

METHODIST WOMEN
The Laurel United Methodist Women met at the church on Oct. 17 with 39 members and one guest, Dawn Westadt, in attendance.

Mrs. LaVonne Madsen opened the meeting by reading the poem "Autumn." The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Judy Meier. Mrs. Carol Heitman, treasurer, gave the treasurer's report and also gave the results of the recent bazaar and bake sale, sponsored by the churchwomen.

The date of the 1985 bazaar was set for Saturday, Nov. 9 at the Laurel city auditorium.

Mrs. Helen Berg of Laurel became a new member of the Laurel Unit.

An officer training workshop for new and old officers will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 13 at the First United Methodist Church in Norfolk. Registration will begin at 10 a.m. Everyone is to bring a brown bag lunch for the noon meal with closing at 3 p.m.

The Laurel Unit voted to sell cards and napkins as a project for 1985. Mrs. Frances Dickey was asked to be the coordinator. A motion was made and seconded to hold the district meeting in Laurel in the fall of 1986. A final decision will be made by the district executive committee of United Methodist Women.

Mrs. Judy Peterson, vice president, reported that a guest day will be held at the Laurel Methodist Church on Thursday, Nov. 8 beginning at 2 p.m. Churches from the Laurel-Concord Ministerial Association will be invited. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Pam Schram of Ponca.

Miss Dawn Westadt gave a report on the experience she had with the Reach Out Singers during the summer of 1984. She was one of the group of 18 who toured sections of the United States, Canada and the overseas countries of the Soviet Union and Finland.

The pledge service, "Bread from Faith to Flour" was given by Mrs. Carol Heitman.

On the serving committee were Mrs. Ruby Smith, chairman, and Mrs. Violet Wickert, Mrs.

Mildred O'Gara and Mrs. Joyce Karnes.

FILM FESTIVAL

LOWER ELKHORN NATURAL RESOURCES DISTRICT

Water Legislation

Nebraska lawmakers in the last legislative session made extensive changes in state water law with the passage of LB 1106. In fact, LB 1106 is perhaps the most important statute dealing with surface water law and policy enacted since the 1895 irrigation code. The major provisions of the bill are:

1. Creates a Water Management Board to expedite consideration of major water projects (over $10 million total cost).
2. Authorizes the Governor to appoint the Director of Natural Resources, head of the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission.
3. Established a Water Management Fund to provide state funding for up to 75% of the cost of board approved projects costing over $10 million.
4. Authorizes appropriations of surface water for instream flow purposes.
5. Requires Natural Resources Districts to prepare ground water management plans.
6. Authorizes the sale of revenue bonds to finance water projects.

The head of the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission, who has up until now been appointed by Commission members will now be appointed by the Governor from a list of candidates provided by the Commission.

This Director of Natural Resources will chair the new Water Management Board which will review all major water projects (over $10 million) and administer the Water Management Fund. Other members of the Board will be the Director of the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, Director of the UNL Conservation and Survey Division, and two members appointed by the Governor.

The Water Management Board will use "State Goals for Water Resource Use," developed by the Natural Resources Commission and the Director, to determine if major projects are in the state's interest and if they should be funded.

The State Resources Development fund administered by the Natural Resources Commission will continue to handle projects under $10 million. One of the most controversial provisions of the bill is the section that gives the state the right, for the first time, to grant water appropriations for maintaining instream flows for fish, recreation, and wildlife. Prior to the passage of this bill state statutes did not provide for the conservation and maintenance of instream flows.

The bill allows the Natural Resources Commission to obtain an instream appropriation for the amount of water necessary for recreation or fish and wildlife. Each NRD and the Game and Parks commission will report to NRC the specific stream segments which they consider to have critical need for instream flows and detail the amount of water necessary to provide adequate instream flows. Although instream flow rights will not supersede existing water rights, ("First in time, first in right" is still the basis for surface water laws in Nebraska) it is an avenue available for protection of current instream flows.

Department of Water Resources will approve or deny applications for instream flow rights, and if approved will administer these rights as other water rights are administered.

LB 1106 requires each Natural Resources District to prepare a Groundwater Management Plan before January 1986. These plans will include existing information about ground water aquifers, management objectives, possible controls, and a ground water reservoir life goal. The plans will be reviewed by the Department of Water Resources.

LB 1106 also provides the administrative structure necessary to implement the Nebraska Water Project Revenue Bonding Act, a constitutional amendment passed by voters allowing the issuance of revenue bonds to finance the construction of water retention and impoundment structures for the purpose of water conservation and management.

LB 1106 will take effect February 15, 1985, although the legislature will have an opportunity to amend the act prior to that time.

Lands for Conservation

Landowners in the Lower Elkhorn NRD this year took advantage of the districts Lands for Conservation Program to control runoff and erosion on their land by constructing terrace systems. Payments of $48,150 were made to 56 landowners for doing this construction in the summer of 1984.

Most construction of conservation practices has traditionally been done in the fall after harvest, or in the spring before planting. With the uncertain climate of northeast Nebraska, this traditional construction season can be very short in some years, and result in very little conservation work being completed.

The purpose of the Lands for Conservation program is to open land up for construction during slack times for contractors. Landowners can qualify for $60 per acre payments if construction is done May 1-July 15 or $40 per acre for construction June 1-September 15.

By spreading the construction season out through the year, more work can be accomplished and landowners are compensated for the loss of production in the construction area. For more information, contact your local Soil Conservation Service office.

Windbreak Trees

The State Forester will begin taking orders for tree seedlings on November 1. The Clark-McNary program offers landowners a choice of 24 species of trees for use in windbreaks, wildlife plantings, firewood, and others. The cost of the trees is $29.00 per 100 trees plus $4.00 shipping, or a total of $33.00 per 100 trees delivered to your home. The Wildlife Packet is also $33.00 delivered. Seedlings available are: Evergreen — Redcedar, Rocky Mt. Juniper, Ponderosa Pine, Austrian Pine, Scotch Pine, Jack Pine; Hardwoods — Siberian Elm, Hackberry, Honeylocust, Cottonwood, Silver Maple, Black Walnut, Green Ash, Red Oak, Bur Oak; Shrubs — Russian Olive, Cotoneaster, Lilac, Honeysuckle, Chokecherry, Nanking Cherry, American Plum, Autumn Olive, Skunkbush Sumac. Wildlife Packet — 10 Cedar, 10 Green Ash, 10 Skunkbush Sumac, 10 Caragana, 10 Midwest Crab. Order forms for trees can be picked up at SCS, Extension, and NRD offices.

Funding Available

Landowners, if you have been considering doing some conservation work on your land, the time is at hand. State, and NRD cost share funds are now available for terraces, terrace outlets, and farm ponds. Federal ACP funds are available through local ASCS offices for the above practices plus tree planting, grass seeding, and others depending on the county. The place to start the process is your local Soil Conservation Service office. SCS personnel can do a complete Conservation Plan on your farm, design necessary practices, and assist you in applying for NRD, state, or federal cost share funds.
