

Hiring older workers

Businesses can benefit by hiring older workers and the Senior Community Service Employment Program of the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging can help both employers and older workers to gain the benefits of the program.

Harry Mead, Job Services Coordinator of the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging, wants to link people aged 55 and older with prospective employers. Mead said he has sent information explaining the advantages of hiring older workers to many area employers. Should an employer make an inquiry, Mead said he checks his files of those enrolled to find people whose background and training are suitable for the position. He then contacts the person and refers the person to the employer.

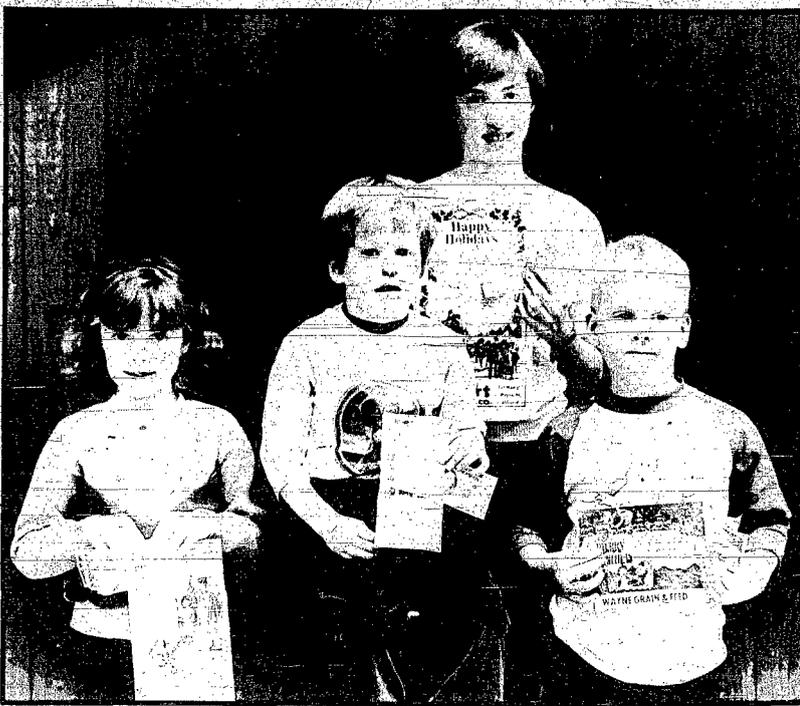

Mead said that since the program's beginning, six jobs have been filled with very favorable results.

Businesses can benefit by hiring older workers because they have fewer accidents, require less supervision, receive higher performance ratings, take fewer days off and report less stress at work.

An additional incentive for employers, Mead said, is a tax benefit: an employer can receive by hiring and training an older worker. He said that if an older worker requires training for a new position the government will pay half of the worker's salary for up to six weeks.

Employers with work openings can call Harry Mead at the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging at Norfolk, 371-7454. Those employers outside of the Norfolk area can call toll free 1-800-472-8488.

Job services at Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging are provided without regard to race, color, sex, national origin, or handicap.

Improves service and productivity

Peoples install new info, billing system

Peoples Natural Gas Co. is installing a new, automated customer information and billing system this month. Tim Connealy, District Manager, said that the system will help local employees improve customer service and productivity.

With the new system, field offices will have on line access to customer records maintained by computer in the company's central office. "We will be able to respond to customers more readily when they call or visit our offices," Connealy said.

In addition, customer records will now be updated daily, reducing any mailing time lag.

Peoples anticipates a reduction in billing errors with improved timeliness and the checks and balances built into it, according to Connealy.

Additionally, the company will improve its productivity with less paperwork and immediate accessibility to customer files. The system will also log requests for service calls.

Connealy said that Peoples employees will be "breaking the system in" this month and asks for customers' patience. Once this time period passes, our customers will benefit from improved service and more efficient operations.

The new system is an adaptation of one used by other utilities. Peoples employees have attended special training programs to learn how it operates.

Honors Colloquium Projects

Two Wayne State College students, Gayla Koerting of Pierce and Darla Sorensen of Stapleton, gave their senior honors presentations at the Honors Colloquium in late December.

Koerting, a history major, and Sorensen, an English Literature and Speech major, worked with their faculty advisors on appropriate research projects. Koerting's project was entitled "The Social Reaction to the Movies of the 1920's." Sorensen's project was "John Updike's Use of Religion as Symbol."

The Honors Program provides Wayne State College's talented students the opportunity to become involved in research activities that enrich their major fields.

The program has two phases. Students desiring to be involved need to be identified and enrolled for the first phase, Independent Study, during their junior year so that they can enroll in the Honors Colloquium during their senior year. The Honors Colloquium is available to seniors who have completed an Independent Study project and have at least a 3.5 grade point average.

Dr. Kent Blaser, associate professor of history and division head of the Division of Social Science, was Koerting's advisor. Sayre Andersen, associate professor of English, was Sorensen's advisor.

4-H Computer Camp

The Cooperative Extension Service will be conducting a 4-H Computer Camp on Feb. 22 and 23 at the Northeast Research and Extension Center at Concord.

The camp program will include an introduction to computers and a beginning course in the use of the Basic programming language.

The camp will be open to any youth ages 12-19. The camp will start at 6 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 22 and end at 5 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 23.

Registration information and additional information can be obtained at the local County Extension Office or by contacting Roy Stohler, Northeast Research and Extension Center, Concord, Neb. 68728, phone 584-2262.

Named to Honor Roll

Southeast Community College, Millard Campus is pleased to announce the Academic Honor Roll for the Fall Quarter ending December 19, 1984. A Grade Point Average of 3.5 (B+) must be achieved on a 4.0 (A) scale to be so honored. The students from your area, listing your newspaper as their hometown paper, having achieved this honor are:

Darin L. Spilgerber, Building Construction, Wisner; and John A. Stapleton, Electronic Engineering, Allen.

Johnson has chance for car

The Sioux City Journal is conducting a contest in which a paper carrier can win a New Car or $5500.00 cash is first prize. There are also other valuable prizes.

Larry Johnson from Wakfield is one of seven carriers who is still in the contest out of some 800 Journal carriers in the Siouxland area.

Finding out

In Monday's edition, you will see highlighted the top 12 stories of 1984. In this column you will see the highlights of my own personal working career at The Wayne Herald during the eight months that I've been here.

from ceiling to ceiling, down a highway against 60 mile per hour headwinds.

Being a nerd
When we had snow several weeks ago, I got the snowblower out and blew off my sidewalk and driveway. My eyeglasses were covered with moisture so I wiped the glass off with a cloth.

It was cold and the middle of my glasses snapped while I was wiping.
For the next week or so I had to face the task of going to work every day and being called a nerd, simply because tape was holding my glasses together in the center of the frame.

Getting stuck
There was no ample snow on the ground this winter for scenery pictures, so instead of waiting around for the white stuff, I decided to take a country road and get a picture of foggy scenery.
Unfortunately I turned on a dirt road and my car wheels, which have been Rated X by the movie industry because they are so bare, were no longer able to move. Luckily there was a farm family nearby that assisted in pulling me out of my predicament.

I should have waited for it to snow.

We bought a house.

Yes, now we can join the ranks of others who simply enjoy dishing out money annually for property taxes and who often get these calls from someone who sells aluminum siding from over the telephone.

I met Lyle George.

This guy was the judge at the Moonlight Madness contest, calling himself Lyle Style. He dressed up in a chicken suit during the annual Wayne Chicken Days (which was another highlight) and Friday evening at about 10 p.m. he asked if I would like to join him and a group of individuals to see the bean ooze at DeSoto.

Encouragement from the boss
Just fresh on the job, Publisher J. Alan Cramer gives me this poster of William Tell leaning against a tree with an apple on his head. Poor William Tell is surrounded by people who have arrows sticking in their bodies and apples laying near where they hit the ground.
The caption on the poster says "Do it right the first time."
If that's not an incentive, then I don't know what is.

Trip to California

We traveled to California last February. But the biggest thrill was that we were able to escape with our lives out of Los Angeles during the 4.30 to 6 p.m. rush hour.

That's all I have room for in this column. Let's hope 1985 will fare better than the previous year.

Over 150 people now realize that the publication of a newspaper is more than just a telephone call from someone who says "all you have to do is write this down and put it in the paper for me."

These people attended our "Wayne Herald Open House" this past Thursday and Friday and were treated to a tour which featured all aspects of our twice-a-week production -- from bookkeeping, circulation and news writing to watching the newspapers roll off our Goss Press. All those who attended were given an indication of what type of machines are used by the editorial and composition department, by the typesetting and by our commercial job printer.

Tossed around during the tours were some trivia facts about our business. For instance, this business has over 55 people on its payroll, including 17 full-time workers which qualifies it as major contributor to Wayne's industrial base.

A regular roll of newsprint used on the Goss Press weighs approximately 1,000 pounds. Unroll the newsprint and it will stretch 6.1 miles from one end to another.

Over 2600 gallons of black ink is pumped into our Goss Press annually. Film for our cameras is bought in bulk. We go through about a mile of film each year. That amounts to over 60,000 possible pictures to choose from on the negatives.

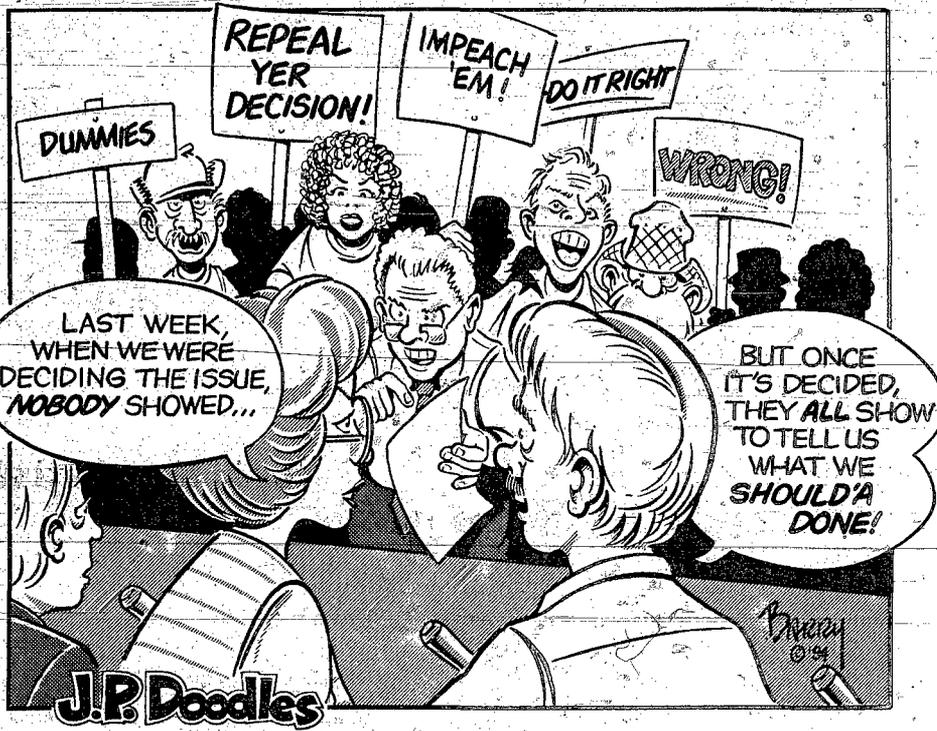

Many people who passed through the newspaper office have no idea of what a sensitized plate-burner is or how much change offset has brought to the once letterpress dominated newspaper industry.

But the goal of the open house was not necessarily to acquaint each individual with the machines used in the business.

It was to provide them with an understanding of the process and the effort which the staff puts forth in publishing a newspaper twice a week, week after week.

We feel we have accomplished this goal during the two days of our open house and we thank those from Dixon, Laurel, Wayne, Wakefield, Wisner, Carroll, Pilger and Allen who visited us during the two-day event.

Not short of funds

Letter to the editor:
Contrary to a news story which appeared in the Wayne Herald on Monday, December 24, 1984, the Goldenrod Hills Community Action Council will NOT be forced to cut the budgets of its senior program or the seven senior citizen centers it sponsors.

In the news release from the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging in Norfolk, it was stated that a decision by the United States Department of Agriculture "will result in Goldenrod Hills Community Action Council losing between $10,000 and $12,000 in USDA funds."

I am concerned that the centers sponsored by this agency could be unnecessarily alarmed by erroneous reports from NNAOA.

While it is true that Goldenrod Hills did not receive USDA funds during its dispute with the Area Agency, support and commodities were obtained from other sources during that time. In light of this fact, Goldenrod Hills did not expect to receive retroactive funding from USDA since that would constitute a duplication of funding already received aside from USDA.

The news story went on to say:
"It appears that Goldenrod Hills Community Action Council will have to make up the lost funds through other funds they receive or cut the budgets of the senior citizen programs they manage."
This is pure conjecture and it is untrue. Goldenrod Hills will lose nothing because we have already served the meals and have other commodities. Since this agency has already provided its services, it makes no sense to say that the funds were lost -- they were obtained from other sources.

This agency would welcome the opportunity to respond to issues and assumptions directed toward any of the programs offered. In this way we might clear up any confusion and forego any misinformation.

And understanding the situation

Concerns about the agricultural economy

It is quite obvious that Nebraska agriculture and agri-business and, therefore, the state of Nebraska as a whole, has not had one of its best years during 1984. We will have to work together effectively to make 1985 a better year or certain negative trends will continue.

During 1984, I spent some or part of 106 days in the First Congressional District. During that time, I visited with many Nebraskans in every party of the District, and I probably read about as many Nebraska newspapers as anybody else in the state to keep up with local events and views.

I am indeed very aware of the difficulties that Nebraska farmers and small business families are having today, particularly those who have substantial indebtedness. Key members of my congressional staff also devote a large share of their time responding to constituent concerns and requests for assistance that directly relate to agricultural programs or the personal and family problems that spring from a troubled agricultural economy and banks in agricultural communities.

Today we have the representatives from many farm and business organizations suggesting that you write your elected officials, and especially your Senators and Congressmen, with your concerns. Occasionally they also suggest that you send us your specific views on the elements to be contained in the 1985 farm bill. Representatives from state agencies also make that suggestion.

While I always welcome views from constituents, I can assure you that I am well-aware of the severity of problems facing many of my constituents. My own family is directly affected by the current situation as are the farming operations of the families of several of my staff. Not only is this condition causing me to write these words, but two other recent occurrences also are influencing me to share my views on this matter.

The FIRST is the recent formation of Farm Crisis meetings in the northeast and north central parts of Nebraska. This development can be quite helpful, and I am sure that the initiators of this effort certainly intend that these meetings be aimed at finding solutions to our problems. Second, accounts of recent meetings among the leadership of general-purpose farm organizations and commodity groups as they discuss the 1985 farm bill, point out the lack of agreement within these groups about the desired objectives of American agriculture in the long-term. For example, at a recent meeting the Wheat Growers and Sorghum Producers listed their primary objectives and desires, as reported collectively, 180 degrees away from the primary objectives voiced by the Soybean and Corn Producers.

A key recommendation of the Farm-Crisis group is the suggestion that higher prices are needed for agricultural commodities. This is a common cry and, of course, it is self-evidently important. Everyone wants higher prices for what they produce or for the services they provide. The question, however, that needs to be addressed is the method for achieving those higher prices. If the agricultural leadership and the individual farmers of our state are not only more successful during the current difficult agricultural conditions in developing a consensus on at least some of the priority items in a farm program and long-term goals for American agriculture, and if the farm crisis groups cannot eventually be more specific about what the key elements are for building a more profitable agricultural economy, then the small number of representatives in Congress from agricultural states are going to have that much more of a difficult time in adopting a farm bill that is advantageous to American farmers and the country.

CERTAINLY, we expect differing views among various segments of the agricultural community and certainly an individual farmer's view in Nebraska is affected by the amount of debt and circumstances that affect his family. But, I really believe that the severe conditions now facing many of our agricultural producers demand a greater effort among farm organizations and their members to develop a consensus. Those recommendations should be developed in light of what is, to the best of our knowledge, politically achievable. That is, to say that they should be practical, and given our deficit conditions, financially achievable.

While we are particularly outnumbered in the House of Representatives, each state has equal representation in the United States Senate and that must be kept in mind. We will have to work together on a bipartisan basis in both Houses to implement the very best ideas of our own and the recommendations from Nebraska farmers. It will be easier if the advice to us is specific, practical, politically achievable, and representative of a consensus.

From elected officials at both the state and federal level, including U.S. Senators and Members of the House of Representatives, Nebraskans have a right to expect that we will put forth our best effort and use every legitimate means within the legislative process to achieve what is best for our constituents and consistent with the national interest. There are fiscal restraints, but it only means that we will have to be more careful and effective in using a resource that we can devote to agriculture. It is not acceptable to be "Senator No." or "Congressman Negative." It is not acceptable to resort to tired, old criticisms and, when those solutions or processes are not accepted, to simply wash one's hands and vote "No."

The legislative process is a difficult one, but you have a right to expect that your Senators and your House members set forth reasonable positions, work aggressively for them and then, if not entirely successful, strike the best legislative compromise possible. The desperate circumstances that plague some of our constituents demand this year, more than ever, that this be done on a bipartisan basis, without cheap shots, and without playing to the gallery and alienating one's colleagues.

IN SHORT, we here at the congressional level have a responsibility. I am also suggesting to you that you have to be a bit more confident that we do understand the gravity of this situation. We need the time to take your best suggestions and try to implement them for short-term solutions and in the 1985 farm bill.

Senator Edward Zorinsky is and has been a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee for eight years; Senator J. James Exon is a member of the Senate Budget Committee; Congresswoman Virginia Smith is the ranking Republican member of the House Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee; Congressman Hal Daub is newly appointed to the major tax writing committee -- the House Ways and Means Committee; and I am a member of the key House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on Trade and the House Banking Committee. Among us, we serve on the key committees to help agriculture. Nebraska farm leaders are now going to have to do the best possible job in presenting us with a consensus and their best, realistic ideas on improving the agricultural programs of the federal government and the agricultural agencies of the executive branch.

This is frank talk, and easily subject to misinterpretation. But, we face a difficult situation that demands straight talk and a sorting out of responsibilities and discussion of challenges.

Finally, in the next few weeks you should receive a newsletter from me which will include a major agricultural questionnaire. If you are interested or involved in agriculture or small business, I hope that you will certainly take the time to complete this questionnaire. It is one message for you to be helpful to me as I try to represent your interests in Congress.

Reagan gets blame

Letter to the editor:

It had to happen. No way could Medicare continue to pay the exorbitant, spiraling costs of hospitalization and doctoring. Ask anyone who has been in the hospital, anywhere, and you hear the same complaints of over-charging, fictitious charges, as much as $100 per day for medication.

Now President Reagan is getting the blame for cutting payment by Medicare, when it is the only possible way to keep from depleting funds completely.

Care Centre holidays

To the editor:

Our Christmas party was held on Wed. the 19th. We were served fancy cookies and fruit juice. After this there was a loud ringing of a bell and in the doorway came Santa Clause and Mrs. Clause. They visited with the residents and then started to hand out the gift packages. The first packages were brightly colored bags of small articles such as a can of Casimere Bouquet Talc, one large box of Irish Spring Soap, a tube of tooth paste, a tooth brush, one comb and one small packet of Kleenex. All these are useful for everyday living.

Next the gifts from the families were handed out. A week or two before the party each resident was asked what they would like for Christmas, and then their names were given to some club or organization to select the gift that they wanted. There was much confusion then as each one was curious to know what there was in their package.

When asked what I wanted I told them I needed nothing but I could use some more postage stamps. However I was handed a large box and inside was to my surprise a lovely Humming Bird Feeder to be enjoyed next summer when the beautiful little birds come to my red Salvia plants. They are attracted to anything red. Some people say they will take a drink from red Kool-Aid as it is sweet. We had trumpets vining on the southwest corner of our home and in August we enjoyed these beautiful birds fluttering among the trumpets.

On Christmas Eve we had a delicious supper of oyster stew or potato soup, sandwich and Hors D'Oeuvres which is a side dish and French and consists of small pieces of cheese and meat. Also all the residents can have hot coffee as there is an insulated pot of hot coffee at each table so there should be no more complaining of cold coffee. Milk and tea are also served for those who prefer them. Also we had Black Cherry Ice Cream for dessert.

At our Christmas dinner, tables were set with white table cloths and pretty napkins and adorable favors which we could take to our rooms.

Our menu for our Christmas dinner was ham, sweet potatoes, creamed peas, cranberry sauce, sandwich, apple raisin pie, and hot coffee or tea and milk.

Sister Gertrude came for a visit with the residents and played several hymns for our enjoyment.

Also we enjoyed the Christmas Hymns sung by the group from St. Paul's Church in Winstone and from the Faith Baptist Church and the State Bank of Wayne. The high school singers and the trumpet players and smaller school students all were greatly enjoyed and appreciated.

I think that everyone would agree that we have good nourishing food up here with hot coffee at the tables. We have wonderful cooks who do their best to satisfy everyone. Who could ask for more?

and notes

NEW METHODS AND MATERIALS TO PROCESS AND PACKAGE FOOD ARE BEING DEVELOPED TO MEET NEW FAMILY PATTERNS AND LIFESTYLES. WHAT WILL THE FUTURE BRING TO YOUR SUPERMARKET SHELVES?

More single-serving food items will be available. The growing number of one or two person households has dictated this change. This will be good news for older consumers who have had to plan carefully to use leftovers and avoid waste.

Some sources estimate that within the next few years, 50 percent of U. S. homes will have microwave ovens. This trend is changing cooking habits and bringing familiar foods to the supermarket in new packages.

Frozen entrees, desserts and snacks can now be quickly heated in the microwave and go directly to the table.

PLASTIC HAS continued to gain ground as a packaging material. The biggest change reportedly came when soft drinks began to appear in plastic bottles.

Consumer demand and packaging technology made plastic a popular container that now provides consumers with squeezable bottles for ketchup and syrup.

These plastic bottles are easier and safer for many consumers to handle.

Those cardboard boxes that beverages come in may change the way Americans drink. Aseptic packaging using multilayered boxes is highly convenient.

No refrigeration is needed for perishables until the aseptic box is opened. The boxes also take up less shelf space than cans or bottles.

Aseptic packaging has economic benefits also. Processors and retailers save on materials, transportation, storage and marketing when using aseptic packaging rather than metal or glass.

A USDA survey concluded that the retail price of some beverages could be lowered as much as 35 percent if aseptic containers were used.

THE USDA estimates that eight percent of a consumer's food dollar is spent on packaging. This percentage has remained nearly the same for several years and has increased less than the rate of inflation in some years.

Some foods cost more to package than others. For example, soft drinks, breakfast cereals, baby food, frozen dinners and canned fruits and vegetables actually cost more to package than the cost of ingredients.

New packaging may or may not change that fact, but it is something to look for on your next trip to the supermarket.

Rated Laurel girls sluggish in win at Ponca Invitational

The Laurel girls basketball team found themselves in the unusual position of coming from behind for the win as they upped their record to 6-0 and moved on to the finals of the Ponca Invitational tournament with a 38-35 win over Bancroft-Rosalie Thursday night.

In the girls' championship game, Laurel was slated to meet with Ponca, a team they haven't faced yet this season, on Saturday night. Bancroft-Rosalie and Allen were scheduled to face off in the consolation round game set for Friday evening, Jan. 4.

along with a hoop by Robson helped the Bears narrow the gap to 21-18 at the half.

Laurel was able to capture the lead in the opening moments of the third quarter when they logged six straight points to take a 24-21 advantage.

THE BEARS AGAIN came out smoking in the first minutes of the final period, this time scoring eight points before Bancroft-Rosalie came up on the board. The Panthers took advantage of free throw opportunities in the closing minutes to hang on and keep the game close down to the buzzer.

Wendy Robson led the Bears scoring with 16 points and Michelle Joslin added 10 points.

As a team, Laurel bounced back on a sluggish first half to earn a healthy lead on the boards, outrebounding their opponent 36 to 21.

"I'm hoping that the layoff had something to do with the way we played against Bancroft," said Bears Coach Gale Hamilton, referring to the rag-tag style of play which plagued them in the first half.

"It helps to exhale about the second wind, but it was good to see that we could come from behind and win."

He added that the team really didn't do anything different in coming back for their win. "We tried to pick up the pace of the game and maintain the press, and that enabled us to get some steals and work the fast break."

"We're happy we got the win, but we might have wanted to have more control. We did a good job of shutting Bancroft-Rosalie off in the second half."

Laurel also maintained its sixth place rating among the top teams in the girls' Class C-1 poll released by the Omaha World-Herald early last week.

THE BEARS WERE slow in starting out offensively and saw Bancroft build an 8-0 lead before they put their first points on the board with a shot by Michelle Joslin from the key with 2:15 remaining in the quarter.

Laurel then brought their offensive game out of storage and pulled to within four points, 12-8, on a lay-up by Wendy Robson at the end of the period.

A second Robson basket, the result of a stolen ball, aided Laurel in closing the gap to 12-10 before the Panthers shot the door and scored five straight points to go up 15-10 midway through the quarter. Free throws by starters Donna Sherry and Sara Adkins,

fitness tips

EXERCISE DON'TS

Don't Bounce When Stretching

When doing flexibility exercises, don't bounce. Stretch gently and slowly for a count of ten, without feeling pain. Muscles that have been warmed up stretch easier and are less likely to be injured.

Don't Hold Your Breath

Many people tend to hold their breath while exercising, especially when lifting weights. This causes blood pressure to rise and makes exercise more difficult. It helps to exhale against the weight, and inhale as the weight is lowered back to starting position.

Don't Exercise After Eating

Avoid strenuous exercise for two hours after eating. Both digestion and exercise place heavy demands on the circulatory system, and the double-load can tax your system.

Larsen, Dahl combination aids Wayne in 70-54 win at Madison

Winning on the road against Madison has been a rare occurrence for Wayne basketball teams in years past, but if Friday night's game against the Dragons was any indication, the welcome mat won't be rolled out for the Blue Devils cagers in the future.

Wayne's Don Larsen and Rod Dahl combined for 41 points to lead Wayne to a 70-54 victory over the defending Class C state champions and pad their record to a healthy 7-1 mark.

"OUR KIDS WORKED hard in practice and they prepared well for the Madison game," said Blue Devils Coach Bob Uhing. "They returned a couple of players from their state championship team and we were able to shut those players down in the game."

Wayne was in control of the game from the opening jump, taking advantage of a first half cold spell by Madison and showing their own scoring talents to take a 34-20 halftime lead.

In the first two quarters, the Dragons hit just 5 of 30 attempts from the field for an icy 15 percent.

The third and fourth quarters saw Wayne increase their lead to as many as 30 points with six minutes remaining before Madison dumped in 22 points to narrow the gap to 14 points at the buzzer.

"Defensively, we gave up 22 points in the fourth quarter, but overall we were pleased with the way the defense performed," said Uhing. Wayne was able to limit Madison's leading scorer, Tom Warth to seven points in the game, well short of his 20-point average.

Juror Don Larsen paced Wayne's effective scoring attack with 23 points, hitting nine shots from the field. Senior Rod Dahl netted seven field goals and added four points from the free throw line for 18 points. Other double-figure scorers included Carl Urwiler, who came off the bench to add 11 points. "We're starting to move well without the ball in our offense, and we're doing a good job in hitting the open person with the pass," Uhing said. "Those are two key elements for us offensively."

"OUR GUARDS ARE doing a good job for us in handling the pressure of getting the ball to the person who had the hot shooting hand at the time. They also are being very effective in handling the tempo of the game and letting us play at our pace."

He added that he is also pleased with the continuing effort of the Blue Devils on the boards. Against Madison, Wayne outrebounded the Dragons 44 to 27 in the game.

A good number of players came off the bench to take part in the Madison win, and Uhing said that the experience that those players get benefits Wayne not only during a game but in the practice sessions as well.

Players like Wayne, Moore, and Hausmann, along with all the others that come off the bench, really push our starters in practice and that helps to improve our team as a whole.

In the game, Wayne shot 26 of 58 for 45 percent, while Madison was 26 percent from the field on 18 of 68 attempts.

The Wayne reserves also picked up a 59-43 win over the Dragons. Leading scorers were Jeff Baker with 12 points and Bill Liska and Jeff Hausmann with 10 points each.

In freshman action, the Blue Devils were downed 52-46.

Wayne will entertain Schuyler in cage action on Tuesday, Jan. 8.

Eagles carry winning momentum along to take tourney win over Bancroft-Rosalie

The Allen boys basketball team was able to maintain the momentum that carried them to a final-second win in their last cage outing and take a 43-36 win over Bancroft-Rosalie in their first round game of the Ponca Invitational Friday night.

The victory pushed Allen's record to 5-3 and enabled the Eagles to advance to the tournament finals against Ponca, while Bancroft-Rosalie was set to meet Laurel in the consolation round game. Both were scheduled for Saturday evening.

In an earlier season matchup with Ponca, the Eagles took a 49-48 decision at Ponca.

THE PANTHERS JUMPED to an early 11-6 lead, aided by a sagging man-to-man defense which limited the Eagles shooting. The Eagles bounced back and began to score against the Panthers' defense in the second period, matching Bancroft's scoring output and keeping their deficit at five points to trail 27-22 at halftime.

Allen used their full-court press effectively in the third quarter, forcing some Bancroft-Rosalie turnovers which the Eagles were able to score on from the inside. In the fourth quarter, Allen held onto the ball to slow the pace down and take time off the clock, while a large number of personal fouls turned the final moments into a free throw contest.

Craig Noe led the Eagles with 11 points, followed by Steve Jones with 10 points and Mitch Perit with eight points.

Steve Jones also topped the boards for Allen with eight rebounds, backed up by Jay Jones with seven, and Noe with six rebounds.

AS A TEAM, the Eagles shot 18 of 51 for 35 percent from the field and 16 of 13 free throws for 54 percent. Bancroft hit 14 of 42 shots from the floor for 33 percent and went 8 of 18 from the line for 44 percent.

Allen held a slight, 30 to 29 edge in rebounds and committed 15 turnovers in the contest, compared to 16 turnovers for Bancroft-Rosalie.

"Coming off the holiday break we were a little slow in executing with the ball in the first quarter," said Allen Coach Dave Ulrich. "The win over Waskield definitely made a difference for us, and turned things around. The kids are starting to realize that they are the ones that have to be beaten, not their opponents."

Ponca Invitational results

Low scoring first quarter slows Laurel in Ponca loss

A low-scoring first quarter hampered a bid by the Laurel girls basketball team to advance to the finals of the Ponca Invitational tournament, as Ponca edged past the Bears 45-41 Friday night.

Laurel was scheduled to play Bancroft-Rosalie in the consolation round of the tourney on Saturday, while Ponca went on to the finals for a contest with the Allen Eagles.

THE BEARS WERE limited to a lone bucket in the games first quarter, while Ponca helped themselves to 15 points to take a strong opening lead.

Laurel's scoring game came out of the deep freeze in the second quarter as they matched points with Ponca, each team scoring 15 points to allow the Indians a 30-17 halftime margin.

The third quarter allowed Laurel to make up some scoring ground as they outscored Ponca 14-5 to narrow the gap to 35-31 heading into the final eight minutes.

With four minutes left in the game, Laurel was able to tie the score at 39-39 but a couple of turnovers later proved to be costly as they gave Ponca the necessary scoring opportunities to seal the win.

Mike Forsberg held the hot hand for the Bears with 18 points, along with Troy Heitman, who broke the double digit mark with 10 points.

Rebounding leaders were Scott Rath with nine boards and Heitman with eight rebounds.

THE BEARS OUTSHOT Ponca from the floor, making 20 of 60 shots for 33 percent, while Ponca netted 49 percent of their attempts, making 18 of 37 shots.

The scoring difference in the game showed up at the free throw line. The Bears hit on one of three shots taken in the game, while the Indians netted 9 of 16 attempts on the night.

Laurel also held the upper hand in the rebounding department, outbounding Ponca 41 to 33.

"We need to come out and play good from the very start of the game," said Laurel Coach John Held. "We have to make up our minds that we are going to put it together and play four good quarters of basketball."

Laurel took a 1-4 record into the game with Bancroft-Rosalie Saturday night. The next regular season action for the Bears will be Thursday, Jan. 8 when they host Homer.

Wakefield gals cage return marred by tournament losses at Homer

The Wakefield girls basketball team's return to action following the holiday break was marred by a pair of losses as they lost their opening round and consolation games of the Homer Invitational tournament on Thursday and Friday night.

The Trojans were handed a 48-20 defeat by Emerson-Hubbard in the first round game Thursday evening and downed by Homer 43-28 in the fight for third and fourth place Friday night. Emerson-Hubbard advanced to the championship game which was scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 5 while Homer came away with the consolation trophy.

AGAINST HOMER, the Trojans stuck close the first quarter and trailed by two points, 10-8, going into the second period.

The Knights widened their margin to 18-11 at the half and outscored Wakefield 12 to 5 in the third quarter to maintain their lead and secure the win.

Roni Starzl headed up Wakefield's scoring with 11 points, followed by Darla Hartman with six points.

Team rebound leaders were Darla Hartman with 10 boards and Stacy Kuhl with seven rebounds.

Trojan Coach Arnold Cerny felt that the free throw percentage for his team was a factor in the outcome. On the night, Wakefield hit on 9 of 24 attempts for 33 percent.

"It's not like saying that if we had made all of our free throws, we could have won by a point," said Cerny. "But if we could have made just half that it would have made the score closer and that changes the entire complexion of the game, the fouling and shooting situations, etc."

"Homer only shot the ball three more times than we did, but they hit on nine more of their attempts. They got a lot of easy shots because of our weak side rebounding situation."

Cerny looks for his team to continue to work on their offensive boards and their shooting skills, but is quick to point out that the improvement which the team has been working for are starting to show themselves.

"Before we were pulling up shots, through copies hands and a lot of interference, but now we're getting good, clean shots and we have to work on making them drop...it's like taking a step up on the ladder," Cerny said.

THE TROJANS WERE again held up by a low-scoring first quarter and an inability to break the full court press in their 48-20 loss to Emerson-Hubbard.

The Pirates opened up an early 14-2 lead over Wakefield in the first quarter and had little trouble defending it in the remaining three periods.

Darla Hartman scored seven points to lead the Trojans. Roni Starzl and Marc Greve each brought down five rebounds.

Icy shooting hindered Wakefield throughout the game as they hit 6 of 38 shots for 16 percent from the field and 8 of 21 from the line for 38 percent.

"Our pass selection is hurting us when it comes to breaking the press," said Cerny.

"It's not that the girls are making bad passes, but the type of pass they throw is usually what hurts us."

Team defense is also another area which Cerny feels the team is weak in and hopes to improve during upcoming practice sessions.

First time in Wayne

Knights to host free throw contest

Wayne's Knights of Columbus will be sponsoring a free throw contest for area youth on Sunday, Jan. 13 at the Wayne Carroll High School gym.

The Father William F. Kearns Council of the Knights of Columbus in Wayne will be holding the event, for the first time in the Wayne area, from 2-4 p.m. on Sunday. The contest is free and open to boys and girls, ages 11 through 14 as of Jan. 1, 1985.

Entry forms are scheduled to be handed out at local schools on Tuesday, Jan. 8. A parent or guardian will be required to sign the entry form and each participant is to bring it with them to the gym on the day of competition.

Each participant will compete in their own age division and will shoot 15 free throws. The winner in each category is eligible to move on to district, regional and state championships. All participants will receive certificates of participation from the local Knights of Columbus council.

Last year, 1,597 councils hosted close to 118,000 boys and girls who worked their way through the levels of competition.

For further information, contact Pat Gross at 802 East 14th Street, Wayne or call 375-1132.

Winside Wildcats scoring hurt by missed opportunities in 67-45 loss to Beemer

Missed scoring opportunities in the first quarter turned back an effort by the Winside boys basketball team in a 67-45 loss to state-rated Beemer at home Thursday night.

The Wildcats were able to keep the game close in the opening minutes before a series of missed scoring opportunities set them behind the Bobcats 16-6 at the end of the first quarter.

"FOR US IT seemed like the first half was a game of miss opportunities," said Winside Coach Mark Freburg.

Winside putted together in second quarter of the game and played well, added Freburg, "but Beemer got a couple of quick buckets at the end of the period to build up their lead again at the half."

Beemer ran a full-court press defense against the Wildcats through much of the second half, but Freburg was pleased with the way Winside handled the pressure. "We did fairly well against their press...it was a good team effort by everyone."

Doug Mundil and Mike Thies broke the double figure scoring mark with 13 and 12 points each, and Kevin Falk added eight points. Teammate Darryl Mundil was the Wildcats leading boardman with seven rebounds, along with Kevin Falk who hauled in five rebounds.

As a team, Winside shot 16 of 57 from the field for 28 percent, and added 43-21 performance from the line for 62 percent. The Bobcats logged 26 field goals in their final tally, along with 15 of 22 free throws for 68 percent.

FREBURG WAS PLEASED with the showings several of his players gave, including Doug Mundil, who hit five of eight from the floor and added three free throws in four tries for his 13 points, and Kevin Falk came up with five steals on the night as well.

"The holiday layoff didn't hurt us that much, we played hard and got the shots that we wanted, but we just missed the easy ones," said Freburg. "We also had players that came in off the bench for us and played well throughout the game."

Winside, dropping to 0-7 with the loss, hosts Snyder in a game scheduled for tomorrow (Tuesday), Jan. 8.

Knights use free throw accuracy to trip Trojans in Homer tourney

Outshooting their opponent from the field wasn't enough for the win in the boys opening round of the Homer Invitational for the Wakefield Trojans as the Homer Knights used a blazing percentage from the free throw line to secure a 57-47 win and advance to the tournament finals.

The Trojans, 2-5, were scheduled to matchup with Pender in the consolation round of the tourney on Saturday, Jan. 5, while Homer took on Emerson-Hubbard in the championship game.

THE TWO TEAMS set the tone of the game in the opening quarter when they exchanged the lead several times before drawing to a 10-10 tie on a shot by Homer at the buzzer.

The Knights nudged to a three point lead early in the second quarter, 13-10, and again, 21-18 with around two minutes remaining before a free throw by Jeff Rose and a Brian Soderberg bucket tied the score at 21-21 at 1:15. Homer dumped in a shot in the final ten seconds to give the Knights a 23-21 margin at intermission.

The third quarter was almost a replay of the game's second period with Homer holding a 35-33 advantage at the end of the eight minutes.

Homer opened up the final period with six straight points to up their lead to 42-33 before Wakefield countered with a basket by Wade Nicholson with around six minutes to play to make the score 42-35.

Both teams continued a fast-paced running game down to the buzzer, but Wakefield saw its hopes for a win end when the Knights took 11 of 13 free throw attempts in the quarter to boost their team field goal percentage to a sizzling 88 percent on 21 of 24 attempts overall.

Wade Nicholson led the Trojans with 18 points, hitting on nine of 18 tries from the floor. Brian Soderberg added 12 points on six of nine shots from the field and hauled in five rebounds. Teammate Jason Erb came off the bench to pull in five rebounds to share the lead with Soderberg.

WAKEFIELD AND HOMER shot evenly from the floor, the Trojans sinking 21 of 46 shots for 46 percent, while the Knights hit 18 of 39 for a similar percentage. From the line, Wakefield shot 5 of 9 for 56 percent.

Wakefield held a slight 19 to 18 edge on the boards in the game.

Trojan Coach Clark Coco noted that Homer's free throw shooting was a big key in their win, and added that their six-point run at the start of the fourth quarter was also a turning point.

"We lost a little of our composure in the fourth quarter when Homer got ahead of us, we brought the ball down and put it up right away because we were worried about getting back in the game," Coco said.

"Homer is a strong team, they have some good-sized kids and I'm not unhappy with the way we played against them," he added.

During the holiday break, Coco said that the team had been working on their offense, five game, and he commented that he had been able to see the effects of that work in the game, especially in the post players. "Our post people were a lot more active in the offense, and we were able to move our offensive game, from the inside to the outside and then back in again."

Wakefield returns to regular season action on Tuesday, Jan. 8 when they host Walhalla.

Notch pair of victories

Cats and company 'having a ball' in Europe

A week into their European tour, the Wayne State basketball team has picked up a pair of overseas victories and is enjoying the sights and sounds of Europe.

WSC cage Coach Rick Weaver, in a phone conversation with Wayne State's women's Coach Lenny Klaver on Friday morning, reported that the Wildcats and their accompanying party were enjoying the trip and had the opportunity to do a lot of sightseeing while in Holland and Germany.

The Wildcats also picked up wins in their first two European outings. On Jan. 4, Wayne earned a win in Bonn, West Germany with a 88-72 decision over BBC-LINZ. The Cats led most of the game, including a 36-30 halftime lead. Tracy Penn was the Wildcats top scorer with 28 points.

In their initial contest on Thursday, Jan. 3, the Cats fought back from behind to down a local team in Den Bosch, Holland, 94-80. WSC trailed in the opening half of the game, 40-34 before scoring nine unanswered points to take a 45-40 lead at intermission.

Senior Tracy Penn paced the Wildcats scoring with 32 points. The four group was scheduled to be in Paris, France on Saturday, Jan. 5. There are a total of four games remaining on the Cats European schedule.

Wayne grapplers even dual record in loss to Creighton

The Wayne varsity wrestling team saw its season dual record evened at 2-2 Thursday night when they were edged by Creighton 29-24 in the first action of the new year.

Five of the Blue Devil competitors came away with wins, including senior Kevin Koenig, who kept his undefeated string intact with a 7-0 decision over Matt Rorbicek at 185 pounds.

At 167 pounds, Wayne senior Tim Book took a third period pin over John Morstman for the win and teammate Robbie Gamble stuck Creighton's Darren Stacker in the second period of their match.

Junior Mark Janke added a win to his record with a 9-3 decision over Nick Banitt at 119 pounds and Jaret Olson won by forfeit at 98 pounds.

The Blue Devil junior varsity team was also in action and posted to a 21-9 win over the Creighton reserves.

Varsity Coach Don Koenig said that the dual between the two teams was a very close one with the heavyweight match between Wayne's Steve Cowgill and Creighton's Cory Tyler a highlight of the evening. "The competition between the two was very close and I flip-flopped back and forth before Tyler was able to get Steve on his back for the pin near the end of the match."

Koenig also added that the team spent a lot of time working on their techniques during the holiday break, and he had thought there had been improvement in that time.

"There were some disappointments in the dual with Creighton. I thought we had gained more in our work over break," Koenig said.

The Blue Devils added a eight-team tournament at Wisner-Pilger to their schedule, which took place on Saturday, Jan. 5. Varsity action will continue with a dual on the road at Albion this Friday, Jan. 11 and a invitational at Elk Horn on Saturday, Jan. 12.

The junior varsity squad will host West Point Central Catholic in a dual this evening (Monday).

The open-style volleyball program is open to all graduates of Wayne-Carroll High School.

NRA Olympic Shooting Camps

Young people across the country have an opportunity to improve their marksmanship skills in both competitive shooting and hunting through the National Rifle Association's five-year-old Junior Olympic Shooting Camp.

Taught by NRA-certified shooting coaches and instructors, the resident and day camps will be hosted in nearly two dozen states beginning this spring, according to Grace Loy, assistant manager of NRA's marksmanship training department. The camps specialize in high power rifle, pistol, smallbore rifle, skeet and trap, and are open to youngsters up to age 18.

Nominal fees are charged for the camp programs, which range from two day weekend camps to week-long residential camps with provisions for room and board. Camps are structured to accommodate young people from the beginner skill level through advanced. NRA also sponsors national camps at the U.S. Olympic Training Center, Colorado Springs, Colo., for juniors at a more advanced level of competitive marksmanship.

Information on NRA Junior Olympic Shooting Camps is available by contacting the NRA Marksmanship Training Department, 1600 Phoebe Island Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C., 20036 or phone (202) 828-6371.

A pictorial review
