Compiling Nebraska 4-H history

Where is the oldest continuous 4-H club in Nebraska? Who is the oldest living alumni? Who is the 4-H volunteer with the longest length of service? What family in Nebraska has five or more generations of 4-H membership?

Persons who have information on any historical aspect of Nebraska 4-H are asked to contact the Wayne County Extension Office for inclusion in a Nebraska 4-H history presently being compiled by John D. Orr, 4-H extension specialist. All information must be received by March 1.

Researchers also are interested in any persons whose ancestors were involved with boys and girls club work prior to 1915.

Four-H members carrying the "Know Your Heritage" 4-H project are encouraged to assist in the search for information for county and state 4-H history.

Heavy Hoopers coming to Wakefield

The KCAU Heavy Hoopers basketball team of Sioux City will compete against a variety of Wakefield cage talent in a game on Saturday, March 2 on the Wakefield High School basketball court.

Proceeds from the event will go to the school's W.C. Club and to the Wakefield Farm Crisis Committee.

Pancake, omelet feed in Carroll

The Carroll Business Club is planning to sponsor a pancake and omelet feed in the Carroll auditorium on Sunday, March 30, with serving from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The public is invited.

Proceeds from the event will be used for the Carroll centennial celebration scheduled July 18-20, 1986. Cost for the feed is $2 for adults, $1 for ages five through 11, and free for youngsters under five years of age.

Winners of a recent art contest will be announced during the feed.

Siren testing

The City of Wayne will conduct the monthly testing of the Civil Defense Outdoor Warning System at 1 p.m. Feb. 22, 1985.

All sirens will be tested in the silent mode, with the exception of the following:

PUBLIC ADDRESS: A short verbal message will actually be given to test the effectiveness of the system.

If any resident living near a siren location should fail to hear the public address message, please contact the Police Department promptly, so that the siren can be checked for malfunction.

Graduate Record Exam set

The deadline for application for the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) given at Wayne State College April 13 is Friday, March 8.

The test, beginning at 8 a.m. and continuing until 12:35 p.m., will be given in the Nebraska Room of the WSC Student Center. Susan Schroeder, assistant dean of students, will administer the exam. The fee is $29.

GREs are taken by graduate students during their first nine hours of study. The exams are used for admission purposes and by the graduate office to assist in advising the students as to their potential for graduate study.

The GRE tests are given nationally at many locations during each year.

The GRE measures certain developed verbal, quantitative and analytical abilities that are important for academic achievement. In doing so, the test necessarily reflects the opportunities and efforts that have contributed to the development of those abilities.

A general information bulletin containing registration forms and sample tests may be obtained from the Student Services Office located in WSC's Hahn building or the Graduate Office in the Brandenburg Education Building.

Anniversary dinner

The Wayne Kiwanis Anniversary Dinner is Sunday, Feb. 24, at the Wayne State College Student Center, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Featured entertainment for the evening will be Reinhold Marxhausen, noted art professor at Concordia College, Seward, who will present a commentary on art; and the Wayne High Swing Choir directed by Rob Stuber.

Poet Lietz in residence

Poet Robert Lietz, the second of four guests in the 1985 Plains Writers Series at Wayne State College, will be in residence here Feb. 25 - March 1.

Lietz will be giving a reading of his poetry at 7 p.m. Monday, Feb. 25 in the Lounge of the Humanities Building on the Wayne State College campus. The reading is free and open to the public.

The Plains Writers Series is a yearly program of the Wayne State English department and is funded in part by grants from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Wayne State Foundation.

Lietz teaches English and Creative Writing at the University of Wyoming. He received his BA from LeMoyne College and his MA from Syracuse University. His poems have appeared in more than 50 journals, including "Kansas Quarterly," "Agni Review," "Prairie," "The Sequoyia," "Missouri Review," "Ironwood," and "Massachusetts Review."

Lietz's books include "Talking Stock" (1977), "Running in Place" (1979), and "At Park and East Division" (1981), all of which were published by L'Epervier, which will also publish his latest book, "Lindberg Half Century" later this year.

The next guest in the Plains Writers Series is William Matthews, who will be in residence April 15-19.

Music scholarship is endowed

A music scholarship has been endowed at Wayne State College by a former Wayne resident now living in California.

"Music has made such a tremendous difference in my life," said Dorothy Glover McClellan, who endowed the scholarship with $3,000.

A 1933 graduate of Wayne State College, Dorothy Glover McClellan of Laguna Hills, Calif., said she donated the scholarship to the Wayne State Foundation because of the favorable impact music and WSC made on her life.

The scholarship was recently established for students attending WSC pursuing a music education degree, with preference given to students who are keyboard performers.

Graduating in 1927 in the two-year program, then returning in 1933 for her BA, McClellan taught for three years each in Arlington and Stanton. She moved to California and taught in Los Angeles for 27 years, retiring in 1973.

Dr. Jay O'Leary, head of WSC's Fine Arts division, thanked McClellan for her "valuable gift."

"It will help continue the high standards in music education. The college sincerely appreciates efforts to aid students with their education, especially the efforts of graduates as Mrs. McClellan," he said. "It is gratifying that graduates are still concerned with the programs here and can assist in tangible means."

O'Leary noted the Dorothy Glover McClellan Music Scholarship will be awarded in the spring, after competitive auditioning, for use in the fall semester.

McClellan, a Wayne State Foundation Trustee, and her husband, Merritt, have two daughters, Diane Schneider of Escondido, Calif., and Mary Graves of Alexandria, Inc. McClellan also has two grandchildren, George Graves, who attends college at Purdue, and Laura Graves, who attends college at Ball State in Muncie, Ind.

Governor doesn't commit

Fate of death penalty repeal bill still uncertain

Gov. Bob Kerrey said last week he is uncertain whether he would sign or veto the death penalty repeal bill if it reaches his desk.

"I've not made a final decision," Kerrey said.

The Judiciary Committee voted to advance to the full Legislature LB 70, Sen. Ernest Chambers' proposal to repeal the death penalty and replace it with a 30-year mandatory minimum sentence.

Expanding on his view of the issue, Kerrey said the death penalty has been unevenly applied, arbitrary and capricious.

"But there are certain cases where it is justified," he said.

"If I didn't have a death penalty, it wouldn't strike fear into my heart as a citizen," he said. At the same time, Kerrey said, he was concerned about the safety of prison guards if the possibility of death for murderers in prison doesn't exist.

Attorney General Gene Crump, Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice director Bob Tagg and state parole board members Ron Barteo and Carlos Alvarez.

Former Republican Gov. Charles Thone made an issue of Democrat Kerrey's death penalty position in the 1982 election. Thone accused Kerrey of "flip-flopping" on the issue. Ultimately, Kerrey said he would not sign a death penalty repeal if he perceived such an action to be contrary to general public sentiment.

Political games are nothing new at the state Capitol, but until now they've never been of the video game variety.

Last week, state Budget Director Larry Bare set up a computer terminal in the Capitol rotunda and allowed senators, lobbyists and the public to play a video game called "Build Your Own Budget."

With Gov. Bob Kerrey's proposed $864.6 million general fund budget as a starting point, players were asked to make a series of yes or no decisions on specific spending proposals that face Kerrey and the 1985 Legislature.

The computer asks, for example, whether the general homestead exemption program should be repealed. A "yes" response, the computer informs, would have no effect on the spending total because Kerrey's budget already assumes repeal. A "no" response would add $18.3 million to the general fund spending total.

The computer gives the player a running total of the general fund budget as each decision is made, and requires a time of reckoning when the spending decisions are finished. At that point, the computer asks for decision on raising taxes to fund the spending decisions.

Bare said he developed the game to demonstrate the importance of seemingly minor spending decisions to the larger issues of the state budget.

The Miscellaneous Subjects Committee last week heard testimony on the state's authority to police the truth and falsity of statements made during political campaigns.

The issues arose this session after Sen. John DeCamp's court victory last year over a government agency that attempted to fine him $2,000 for alleged lying in his 1982 re-election race.

The subject of the committee hearing was LB 230, DeCamp's bill to strip from the Nebraska Accountability and Disclosure Commission (NADC) its power to impose sanctions against candidates for false statements.

DeCamp, a frequent critic of NADC who has tried unsuccessfully in the Legislature to abolish it, calls the commission's power to police campaign statements "outrageous and unconstitutional."

"I think you could go out and file a complaint against anybody on the basis of your happening to disagree with them on a particular issue," DeCamp said of the NADC authority.

While acknowledging the difficulty of effectively policing the statements of political candidates, Sen. Chris Beutler of Lincoln said he opposes DeCamp's effort to repeal the NADC authority to do so.

"The alternative is to say there is no such thing as truth, and I reject that outright," he said. "Some campaign tactics are reprehensible. There is such a thing as lying, and politicians ought to be held to account for it."

"If the voters had only known!"

Senator Conway of Wayne has really gotten off to a good start! That is, if you are a big gambler or better yet if you own video slots or are a bookie.

Sponsoring legislation that brings back slots is bad enough but now he votes for legalizing bookies. My, Mr. Conway, you forgot to tell us that you favor gambling when you wanted our votes last fall.

It should be noted that Conway's vote was the fifth vote to advance the repeal of the death penalty to the floor where it stands a good chance of passing. (Had he voted against repeal, we would be assured of keeping the death penalty in Nebraska.)

The papers have quoted Conway as saying, "I see no use for the death penalty other than revenge." Maybe he should tell that to the family of the woman that was just killed in Lincoln by a convicted murderer that had escaped. The death penalty at least assures us that the killer will not be able to kill another innocent citizen.

Maybe Senator Conway needs to be reminded that public support for the death penalty is now the highest that it has ever been, probably around 80 percent in District 17. I am one voter that will remember this vote in November 1988 when Conway is up for re-election.

The people of the 17th District have been had. Our state senator does not believe in the death penalty, supports legalized gambling and sponsors video lotteries. If we had all known this before last November, Conway would still be in Wayne teaching.

Farmers must make a profit

Letter to the editor:

"This is a first for me. The main topic in this part of the country is the farming situation."

Maybe the government proposal to make more credit available will help a few but I think we all know that it will solve little.

The bottom line is still that we must make a profit. Our government and others keep telling us our only alternative is to increase our exports. Now, if we are selling this commodity below or at the cost of our production why bother?

We must have a "profit" in order to survive. How do we get this profit? Well, you raise your price. Isn't that what General Motors, Chrysler and most other big companies do.

Now you say that's easier said than done. True, but it can be done.

There are two ways of doing it. First, you can go to Russia and tell them you've got to have more for your corn. I believe you all know how much good that will do. Second, you can do what should be done a long time ago. You can cut production and supply thus forcing them to pay more.

I don't mean a little here or a little there by something called Target prices, deficiency payments, PIK or some of their do nothing programs. I mean mandatory controls on every commodity we produce.

I know what some of you are going to say, maybe many of you. "We don't want the government running our business. But aren't they doing that already? Everything that goes on today has the government's hand in it one way or the other."

There are a lot of details in a deal like this, but one way or the other, could be worked out.

"This is something that has to be administered by the Federal government because of its size and scope. Whether it could be sold to congress is something I don't know."

One thing that should appeal to the taxpayers and the administration is it wouldn't be nearly as costly as many of the other farm programs have been.

School reorganization discussed

This past week, the Legislature considered several measures that will, if passed, have noticeable impact on life in rural communities and the tax structure.

Several concerned residents of the 17th District traveled to Lincoln last Thursday evening for a hearing on two bills that would make substantial changes in school district organization. The combined Education and Executive Board Committees heard LB 662 & LB 679 which would change provisions covering school district boundaries and associated land valuations. LB 662 would require Class I school districts (K-8 only) to join with a Class II, III, or VI district. LB 679, a bill that would have provided one school district per county, was withdrawn due to lack of support.

Quality education and the fairest, most equitable system of taxation to provide it, is the issue considered in the bill. Under LB 662, county schools, which we all appreciate for their basic quality and tradition, can and will continue to exist. These county schools will continue to operate as long as the voters in the original district indicate their desire to have the children at tend. It will be stated explicitly in the bill that the voters in the original Class I district will make that choice, not the voters within the entire K-12 district they will be required to join.

Creating a system in which both our city and rural citizens pay fair and equitable taxes for educational support is a major goal. In some areas of Nebraska, students of one school district are paying twelve times the rate for educational support as residents of other districts. In our own legislative district, the differential is not nearly so great. However, some residents are paying nearly three times more than other residents on the same valuation. Tax equity is a concern for us all.

Also this week the Revenue Committee killed LB 210 which would have eliminated the homestead exemption. This property tax relief for qualifying "homeowners" has always received considerable support from Nebraskans. Although the current homestead exemption is a minor percentage of most tax burdens, the maintenance of this exemption displays the legislature's seriousness regarding property tax relief.

Decisions related to taxation, as all issues in a democratic form of government, will not always go our way, but we must continue to strive for a fair distribution of the tax burden. Proposals are studied, public input solicited, compromises drafted, and debate held. If our representatives are sincere, concerned and hardworking, the final product will be one that is not perfect by anyone's interpretation, but is fair to all. If possible, it is important.

political notes

Nation

The announcement of the Soviet Union's purchase of another 193,000 metric tons of grain, primarily corn, is good news for American farmers.

Currently, the Soviets may purchase at least 22 million metric tons of grain from the United States without further consultation under a current long-term grain agreement with the U.S.S.R., said Congressman Doug Bereuter.

"The current purchases indicate a major expansion of the livestock industry in the Soviet Union and the potential for a continued long-term growth in the sale of grain to the Soviet Union. At last American farmers are beginning to regain markets lost to the U.S.S.R. during the Carter grain embargo."

"Increased sale of grain to the Soviet Union helps our farmer by creating a greater demand and higher prices for their products. History indicates that the Soviets cannot rely on their agricultural systems for reliable grain production, and it is to our advantage that they must depend on American grain," Bereuter said.

CAREYER HAS JOINED with other House members from grain producing states to make a request to the United States Department of Agriculture that soybean oil be approved as an additive to suppress dust in grain.

I strongly favor this approach to dust reduction. Research has shown that spraying small amounts of either soybean oil or mineral oil cut, reduce fine dust during handling. Several tragic grain elevator explosions in recent years make it imperative that we move ahead with proven means of reducing the dust that is often a contributing factor to these explosions.

In November, the Federal Grain Inspection Service published a proposed rule in the Federal Register which would provide for the application of certain additives to grain, speaking only of mineral oil and water based additives.

Research has shown that soybean oil is quite effective for the same purpose.

"Therefore I have urged the Department of Agriculture to amend the rule to include food grade soybean oil, food grade lecithin or a combination of the two."

The Food and Drug Administration already approves of this use of soybean oil as long as good manufacturing practices are used. Test results show that soybean oil treatment has not altered grain grades or grain rancidity with storage.

State

A bill that would allow last year's property tax manual to be used in making this year's assessment on agricultural land was given overwhelming final approval by the Legislature, said Senator Erny Hefner, the bill which Hefner co-sponsored goes to Gov. Kerrey for his signature.

Without passage of this bill, county assessors would have to use an updated manual that increases values on farmland by an average of 60 percent.

"A Revenue Committee task force has been set up to find a permanent approach to valuing agricultural land to be used in 1986. I feel that our committee will have a bill ready for debate on the floor by April 1. This will carry out the provisions to Constitutional Amendment Four that the voters approved last fall," Hefner said.

HEFNER SAID THAT a bill which would have modified Initiative 300 was killed by the Agriculture Committee last week. The bill would have allowed non-agricultural corporations to buy farmland for the sole purpose of feeding livestock.

And a bill that would have increased judges' salaries by 7 percent over for four years beginning in 1987 was killed by the Judiciary Committee.

viewpoint

Merging issue

At a legislative public hearing in Lincoln, there were hundreds of individuals present who voiced concerns about a proposed bill (LB 662) to merge Nebraska Class I public school districts with Class II through V school districts.

A Class I school district is one that maintains only elementary grades under the direction of a single school board.

In 1949, the number of public school districts numbered 6,734. At the start of the school year in 1984, there were 977 of these districts. Yet Nebraska ranks the fourth highest in the nation among public school districts.

In Wayne County, there are 14 public school districts — 11 of those are Class I schools while three others (Wayne, Wakefield and Winside) are Class III school districts.

Since none of these 11 school districts are in a county that has a Class VI school district (high school only) it would require these schools to merge with either Winside, Wakefield or Wayne public school districts.

During the 1984-85 school year, Class I (kindergarten through eighth grade) school districts comprise 68 percent of the state's total public school districts. Class III school districts in the state number 220, which is nearly 23 percent of the total.

Yet, when looking at enrollment figures, Class III school districts have 63.2 percent of the students. Class I school districts rank fourth out of six classes, capturing only 6.6 percent of the total students registered in public schools.

Of the total 666 Class I school districts statewide, 15 of these have up to two students; 40 have up to four students; 63 have up to six students; 67 have up to eight students; and 30 have up to nine students.

There are more Class I school districts operating with up to 19 students (195 districts) than any other enrollment range in the same class.

Senator Conway said the objective of the proposed law requiring Class I school district mergers is to even out the tax levy range — saying all should pay equally a share of the cost in providing quality education.

Across the state, the majority of Class I school districts have an average tax levy per $100 valuation of .7000 to 1.0499. The majority of Class III school districts have a tax levy range per $100 valuation of between 1.0500 and 1.7499.

It is not fair, Conway said, to have senior citizens or those with no children in school, who reside in a Class III school district, to pay a higher tax levy than those who have children attending a Class I school paying a lower tax levy. The cost of public education should be equally distributed.

With this in mind, the merger concept seems to be a workable solution in evening out the levy ranges. The quality of education in both school classes of districts, when elementary education is compared, appears to be parallel.

Still, fears among those concerned about the merger indicate losing local control of the Class I school district — with the Class I school district board of education shadowed by its merging partner, the Class III school district board.

The proposed bill, with an added amendment, says once reorganization happens, the Class I school districts cannot close unless the electorate favors the closing.

If the bill passes, there ought to be a requirement to expand the number of school board representatives once the merger is accomplished — to accommodate the increased enrollment figures of the Class III school district.

Additional board members should be a representative of one or more individuals from the Class I districts.

Other questions which can arise from a merger is school nurse provisions, transportation and extra-curricular activities.

Another proposed bill, also scheduled for hearing last week, of establishing one school district per county failed to advance. We are thankful for that.

As enrollments decrease in the Class I school districts, perhaps a merger could be the answer the Class I school district are reluctantly searching for in combating the high cost of education.

Jill Perry will present the program, entitled "Physical Aspects of Stress: Exercise and Feel Better."

Sunny Homemakers meet

Sunny Homemakers Club met Feb. 14 in the home of Mildred Gamble. For roll call, each member wore something pertaining to Valentine's Day.

Pitch was played following the meeting, and the hostess served lunch carrying out the Valentine's Day theme.

Sophie Reeg will be the March 14 hostess at 2 p.m.

Order of Eastern Star meets

Wayne Chapter 194, Order of Eastern Star, met Feb. 11 at the Masonic Temple. It was announced that the district supervisor will visit on March 9.

A review of landmarks was given, followed with a Valentine's program on First Corinthians. Chapter 13 was presented by the star points and conductresses.

Refreshments were served by Virginia Preston and her committee.

A special meeting is scheduled March 9 at 7:30 p.m. during the district supervisor's visit. Next regular meeting will be March 11 at 8 p.m. The station of Martha will be honored.

Psi Chapter meets for brunch

Psi Chapter Delta Kappa Gamma met for brunch Feb. 9 in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church in Wayne. Thirty-five members answered roll call. Also attending was State President Mary Ellen Sundell of Wakefield.

President Vera Diederik of Laurel conducted the business meeting. It was announced that the state convention will be held April 19-20 at the Villa Inn in Norfolk.

Bev Eiler of the State National Bank and Trust Co. in Wayne spoke to the group on financial planning for women.

Program chairman was Mary Arlene Schultz of Wayne. Mildred Jones was chairman of the hostess committee.

Next meeting is scheduled March 16 at 9 a.m. at the Senior Citizens Center in Laurel.

Klick and Klatter meets

President Joyce Niemann conducted the Feb. 12 Klick and Klatter Home Extension Club meeting, held in the home of Ruth Fier. The president opened the meeting with the flag salute and read an article entitled "Love."

Fourteen members answered roll call with their favorite sandwich spread. Mrs. Merle Ring was a guest and was welcomed as a new member.

Irene Viclor led the group in singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and "God Bless America."

Reports were given on important days in February; on the Midland Youth Tree Planting Program, on ways to stamp out stress; on paintings in local cafes and at the college, and on similarities between Lincoln and Kennedy.

Readings included "Love is What You Make It" and "The Crosby Show, A Most Welcome One."

President Niemann reported on the recent council meeting, and it was announced that the book "Hutterian Brethren" has been placed in the Wayne Public Library by the club.

Lorene Giddens will be the club's representative on a review committee on judging. Stella Liska was a representative to the Wayne city council meeting on petunia planting for 1985.

The lesson, entitled "Earl to the 80's," was presented by Vida Sutherland.

Next meeting is scheduled March 12 at 2 p.m. with Eunice Corbit. Irene Viclor will give the lesson, "Dressing Up Your Table."

Best of show winners in the annual event, sponsored by the Wayne Federated Women's Club, included (bottom left photo) Ryan Korih, son of Roy and Elaine Korih of Wayne, in the division for kindergarten through fourth grades; and Lillian Granquist (bottom right), representing the Woman's Club. Other best of show winners not available for pictures were Eric Rasmussen of Wayne in the division for fifth through eighth grades; and David Zahnsier of Wayne in the division for ninth through 12th grades.

Woman's Club sponsors show

Arts and crafts winners headed to district festival

Area youngsters and adults displayed a variety of talents Saturday during a Fine Arts Festival held in the Wayne city auditorium.

The annual event, sponsored by the Wayne Federated Women's Club, also featured musical entertainment by Wayne Gilliland, Clifford Frederickson and Ralph Olson.

Also performing musical selections were students of School District 51 west of Wayne, who sang under the direction of Carol Reithwisch.

All blue ribbon and best of show winners in the art contest will compete at the District III Fine Arts Festival scheduled March 23 at Howells.

Janice Predoghl, a member of the planning committee for the show, said winning entries also will be displayed at Wayne Music Co. until the time of the district festival.

BEST OF SHOW winners in the school art division were Ryan Korih, a first grader at West Elementary School in Wayne; Eric Rasmussen of Wayne Middle School; and David Zahnsier of Wayne Carroll High School.

Other students receiving blue ribbons for their artwork included:

Kindergarten — Kathy Wilson and Kelly Gunderson, both of St. Mary's Catholic Church; and Annie Wiseman of West Elementary.

First Grade — Krista Magnuson, Carroll Elementary School.

Second Grade — Marcia Brudigan, District 47; and Sarah Blazer and Ryan Brown, both of West Elementary.

Third Grade — Amy Jenkins and Kerry McCue, both of West Elementary.

Fourth Grade — Scott Otte (2) and Scott Day, both of West Elementary.

Fifth Grade — Teresa Prokop, St. Mary's Catholic School.

Seventh Grade — Eric Rasmussen (3), Sarah Glinzman and Jeanne Brown, all of Wayne Middle School.

Tenth Grade — Eunice Wacker, Kristy Bahns, Corini Burbach and Cindy Brown (2), all of Wayne High School.

Eleventh Grade — David Zahnsier, Wayne High.

Twelfth Grade — Pete Warner, Carl Urwiler and Jeff Keidel, all of Wayne High.

Red or white ribbons were awarded to other entries.

THE BEST OF show winner in the Woman's Club handicraft division of the contest was Lillian Granquist with her set of four seasons translucent ceramic plaques.

Receiving blue ribbons for their handiwork were: Eleanore Manning with an alghan, holiday ornament, pillow cases, embroidered miniature picture, counted cross-stitch pictures and jewelry box;

Florence Reithwisch with a crocheted tam, crocheted slippers and luncheon set;

Mathilde Reeg with a baby quilt, home accessory and two quilts;

Bernice Damme with two pieces of hand-painted china and a dried flower arrangement;

Allene Stevers with a ceramic nativity set; hand-painted plate china and a crocheted tablecloth;

Norma Magdanz with a ceramic Christmas item and a ceramic Valentines plate;

Marian Jordan with a stamped embroidered picture;

Leona Kluge with an oil picture;

Elda Jones with a candlewick-ed pillow and a quilted wall hanging.

A silver tea concluded the festival.

Area youngsters invited to create artwork Saturday

Area youngsters will have an opportunity for a special kind of fun this Saturday morning, under the direction of the Wayne Regional Arts Council (WRAC).

The Arts Council is providing materials and direction free of charge for two art projects from 10:30 a.m. to noon in the Woman's Club room of the Wayne city auditorium.

Sticks, egg shells, lumber scraps and other materials commonly found at home or in nature will be assembled into a variety of forms by the children.

Since the children will be working with wood glue, McCue suggests that they wear durable play clothes.

McCue SAID parents with youngsters planning to attend are encouraged to contact her in advance at 375-1986 so materials and supervisors can be arranged.

McCue added that registration is not required, however, and persons who decide to come at the last minute are welcome.

The next "Art Works" program planned by the WRAC is scheduled March 23 at the auditorium. Children will be doing a weaving technique called "negative weaving" and participating in some unique dances.

Bible trivia conducted at Grace Ladies Aid

'Fashion Silhouettes'

Hospital Auxiliary plans style show on March 17

Plans are well underway for a style show being sponsored next month by the Wayne Community Hospital Auxiliary. Theme is "Fashion Silhouette No. 2". A spokesman for the auxiliary said the style show will be held Sunday, March 17 at 2 p.m. in the Wayne city auditorium. Bars, coffee and punch will be served along with nuts and mints. Chairmen of the event include Sheryl Lindau, food; Lois Hall, decorations; Jackie Dirlman, posters; Sheryl Sommerfeld and Patty Zrust, mints; and Ailene Sievers, nuts. Musical selections will be provided by the Wayne High School swing band, Cadet Girl Scouts, and the Wayne State College musical department. PLANS FOR the show were discussed during the auxiliary's regular monthly meeting last Friday at Providence Medical Center. Attending were 22 members and two guests, Marsha Frevert and Mrs. Arnold Roeber.

President Wilma Moore called the meeting to order, followed with the thought for the day, "Success," read by Ailene Sievers. Re-elected were Wilma Moore, president; Ailene Sievers, vice president; Mary Martinson, secretary; and Luella Marra, treasurer. The auxiliary is planning to participate in a health fair next month sponsored by the Wayne County unit of the American Cancer Society. Evelyn German and Luella Marra will represent the auxiliary at the event, scheduled March 28 in the city auditorium.

BEFORE ADJOURNING, Hazel Lentz installed new auxiliary officers for the coming year. Hostesses for the February meeting were Alma Luschen and Marian Jordan. Hostesses for the next meeting, scheduled March 15, will be Lillian Berres and Jessie Hamer.

Home gardening clinic scheduled

All gardeners, men and women, 4-H leaders and parents are invited to attend a home gardening clinic at the Northeast Center near Concord on Thursday, March 7 from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Annie Marie White, Dixon County extension agent-home economics, said the clinic is for everyone who enjoys gardening, whether they do it as a hobby or as a serious attempt to supplement the family's food supply and reduce grocery expenditures. Betty Besal, home gardening coordinator in the Horticulture Department at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, will present three topics — "Vegetable Varieties and Gardening Techniques for Northeast Nebraska," "Gardening Tips to Increase Yields" and "Herb Gardening." DIXON COUNTY Extension Agent Stan Starling will discuss preparing vegetables for exhibit at the county fair. He also will explain the 4-H horticulture contest. Registration fee is $2 per person payable to Dixon County Extension Non-Tax Fund. Persons who would like to attend are asked to send their name, address and registration fee to Anna Marie White, Dixon County Extension Office, Concord, Neb., 68728, or telephone 384-2234. Registration deadline is Feb. 28.

Concordia Lutheran receives AAL grant

Concordia Lutheran Church, Concord, has been awarded a $400 grant from Aid-Association for Lutherans (AAL) to help the congregation celebrate its 100th anniversary. The grant is provided through an AAL fraternal program called Milestone, which is designed to help Lutheran congregations recognize and celebrate their centennial and other important anniversaries.

CONCORDIA'S celebration is scheduled Saturday and Sunday, May 25 and 26, and will include a vesper service Saturday evening at 7:30 and a festive worship service Sunday morning at 10:45. Delivering the Sunday morning message will be the Rev. Dennis Anderson, Bishop of the Nebraska Synod of the Lutheran Church in America. There will be a catered dinner on Sunday afternoon at the Concord gym, followed with a special program at the church. Centennial souvenirs will be available, soon and include a plate, bell, mug and cookbook. Persons who would like information regarding the souvenirs are asked to contact Mrs. Ernie Swanson.

AAL has identified 267 Lutheran churches in the United States eligible for the special anniversary grants this year. These churches will share approximately $135,000 based on the number of members in each congregation.

LWML Evening Circle meets at Grace church

The LWML Evening Circle of Grace Lutheran Church met at the church during February with President Mary Lou Erleben opening the meeting. Devotions were given by Lorraine Johnson, and roll call was answered by 18 members.

Money projects were discussed with several ideas to be studied by a committee comprised of Susan Vogel, Gloria Koplin and Marilyn Reithwick.

The president reported on a workshop scheduled April 16 at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Laurel. Members were reminded of "Prized Hope" in which adult female clothing and musical instruments will be boxed and taken to the April workshop. Carol Reithwick reported that projects three, four and five have been paid. She also reported that a workshop for officers, entitled "Linked by Joy," is scheduled during April in either O'Neill or West Point.

Carol Reithwick told about her future houseguest from Nigeria who will be visiting to learn about the roles of women in the American church. It was reported by the social committee that cards were sent to several residents of Wayne Care Center in honor of their birthdays. Mites were collected and the LWML pledge was read.

The circle will continue to collect Campbells soup labels for the Rev. Larson mission in New Mexico. SUSAN VOGEL read a poem by Ted Richter, entitled "Molded by the Lord." Money projects were discussed with several ideas to be studied by a committee comprised of Susan Vogel, Gloria Koplin and Marilyn Reithwick. The program closed with the hymn "Blest be the Tie that Binds." Hostesses were Lenora Sorenson and Vi Hartman.

Club-of-the-month

Artemis Club has beginning in 1958

The following is the fifth article prepared by home extension clubs in Dixon County as part of a club-of-the-month series. Each month, a different extension club in Dixon County reports a brief history of the club, its membership and some of its major activities. Extension clubs are a part of the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service. The extension homemakers program in Dixon County is directed by Anna Marie White.

Fourteen homemakers in the rural Concord-Alten area meet one evening each month to learn more about homemaking, family life and human relationships. This group is the Artemis Home Extension Club, the name meaning Goddess of the Night. The club originated in 1958 with six members.

LEADERSHIP development is a major part of the club program as members take turns presenting educational lessons to fellow club members. Lessons have included such topics as flower arranging, home safety, casseroles, house plants, patio cooking, crafts, and winter bouquets. Artemis Extension Club members also are devoted to their families and to community endeavors. The annual Christmas dinner with husbands as guests is a highlight of the year's activities. Two clubwomen, Sally Lubberstedt and Delores Koch, have served on the board of the Nebraska Council of Home Extension Clubs. Others have received recognition at Omaha Homemakers Day and Siouxland Homemakers Day.

CURRENT OFFICERS of the club are Donna Stalling, president; Trudy Peters, vice-president; Marilyn Cramer, secretary; and Mary Ankeny, treasurer. Other members are Marge Rastede, Nadine Borg, June Erwin, Delores Koch, Mary Lou Koester, Frances Kraemer, Joleen Kraemer, Sally Lubberstedt, Nola Potter and Donna Preston. Membership in extension clubs is open to all homemakers. Anyone interested in becoming a member is asked to contact Alyce Erwin of Concord, 584-2457; Maureen Hangman of Obert, 692-3641; or Anna Marie White, Dixon County extension agent-home economics, 584-2234.

One's never too old for fitness

Each Monday, Wednesday and Friday, between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m., a group of individuals meet at the Wayne State College recreational facilities for approximately an hour.

This group, the majority of them age 60 and older, aren't meeting to promote club activity or plan certain events. They are there strictly for themselves — to achieve a state of fitness and health.

Approximately 40 individuals are participating in Wayne State College's Lifestyle Improvement Program, which is administered by Marilyn Strate and Lenny Klaver, WSC physical education instructors. Ralph Barclay, WSC professor in health, physical education and recreation, is the supervisor of the new program.

Areas covered in the program, which began on Feb. 1 and will continue until the end of April include flexibility and calisthenics, walking/jogging, aquatics, musical activities which features square dancing, social dancing, social games, lifting weights and aerobic dancing.

Barclay said those 60-and-older can still sign-up for the program "anytime." "The sooner the better," he said.

Some of the participants are in their 80s, said Klaver. Klaver said the program staff meets for 1 1/2 hours each week to plan for the activities. Several graduate assistants also are involved in the operation of the program.

Activities are such that the participating individuals can "migrate to an activity they are comfortable with," he said. They are allowed to go their own way to their own individual interests.

"It allows the group to have a place to go and be active. The social interaction is a big part of it too. They all seem to be having a good time," he said.

And in the process, they are doing something good for their body."

Photos, center right, a program participant mikes a bean bag to another during a social game; lower right, an assistant supervises a participant who works out on the weights; lower left, two program participants grasp hands as the square dancing segment begins (center left); and top left, Orville Brandstetter of Wayne exercises in the WSC indoor pool.

JEFF THIES faces off with Wayne Lienemann in the championships.

WAYNE'S KEVIN Koenig works for points in his consolation match.

Koenig, Thies end high school careers

Area wrestlers garner medals at state mat tourney

When the final whistle sounded at the Nebraska State Wrestling tournament on Saturday afternoon, a total of four area matmen had secured medals during their competition at the three-day event.

Winside senior Jeff Thies came away with a second place medal in the 185-pound weight class in Class D, while freshmen teammates Mace Kant at 98 pounds and Doug Paulsen at 105 pounds each earned fourth place honors in their first state tournament outing.

Wayne's Kevin Koenig fought back from illness to log a fifth place finish in the 185-pound weight class in Class B action.

Seven wrestlers from the Wayne and Winside programs qualified for the state tournament which was held at the Bob Devaney Sports Center in Lincoln on Feb. 14-16.

THIES WORKED HIS way into the championship match via a pin at 16 seconds into overtime of his semifinal round match with Don Bruha of Dorchester. The Winside senior trailed 6-2 at the end of the second period of regulation and came back to score a reversal and two back points to knot the score at 6-6 and send the match into overtime. In the opening seconds of the first overtime period, Thies capitalized on a good move and posted one of the quickest pins in the tournament just 16 seconds in. The win set up a rematch between Thies and Wayne Lienemann of Wilcox, the reigning state champion. At last year's tournament, Lienemann defeated Thies with a last second pin in the semifinal round to advance to the championship match.

In the final round match, Thies and Lienemann were at a stand-off with just over a minute gone in the first period when Lienemann got a throw on Thies and held him down for the pin with 1:26 gone to earn the gold medal.

Lienemann is a very strong opponent and after he got the throw on Jeff he had enough strength to hold him down and get the pin," said Winside Coach Paul Sok. "Lienemann looked like he had lifted weights and his size had changed from their meeting last year. Had the match gone further, the outcome very well could have been different."

It was the second state medal for Thies, who finished in the third place spot last year. "It was the second medal for Jeff and a fine ending to an outstanding wrestling career." Thies posted a 29-2 season record.

WAYNE HIGH SENIOR Kevin Koenig also closed out a stellar high school wrestling career at the state tournament, bouncing back to win a 5-0 decision over Jim Crum of Omaha St. Joe's for the fifth place medal.

Koenig suffered his first loss in over 60 matches in the semi-final round on Friday evening when he was pinned by Kevin Hopwood of Norfolk 5-37.

According to Wayne High Coach Don Koenig, Kevin led by as many as 2-0 points in the match before being overcome by exhaustion in the second period. "It was just like someone had taken a switch and shut him off... and that is very unusual for Kevin."

Following the day, Koenig was examined by a tournament doctor and found to be suffering from abnormally low blood pressure and a high heart rate. The doctor said that the fatigue and low blood pressure were the result of prolonged dehydration that had been fueled by stress and he would not allow Kevin to compete in his consolation semifinal round match about an hour later.

The fourth placed Koenig in the fifth and sixth place consolation round which took place Saturday morning. About 20 minutes prior to the match, the younger Koenig was given an OK to participate by the tournament doctor.

"We were both glad that Kevin got the chance to wrestle that final match and win the last match of his high school career," said Koenig.

Overall, Koenig ended his four years with a 105-40 record, which included a state championship his junior year and a third place finish in his sophomore year.

WINSIDE'S FRESHMAN duo of Mace Kant and Doug Paulsen ended their first year of varsity wrestling with fourth place medals in their weight class divisions.

Kant, ending up with a 26-8 record, won a 2-0 decision over Mike Walkowiak of Greeley to advance to the consolation round match.

In that match, Kant lost a close 2-0 decision to Scott Cool of Arnold to finish in fourth place.

"Mace showed that he had the strength and he held up well in the competition. Both he and Doug faced a lot of upperclassmen in their matches at state," said Sok.

Paulsen also carded a fourth place finish after advancing to the consolation round with a 2-1 decision win in overtime against Erick Kluthe of Elgin Pope John.

In the consolation round, Paulsen lost a 9-3 decision to Martin Thoenel of Waterloo.

"Doug's good conditioning was apparent in his matches and that is a good aspect to see in a young wrestler," Sok said. Both Kant and Paulsen responded well in their first state tournament, said Sok, and have given themselves a path to follow in the next three years. "This kind of finish their first year of wrestling should provide an incentive to them, and it will just be a matter of seeing how they react."

Sok recalled that the last wrestler to place at the state tournament as a freshman was Mark Koch, who went on to become a four time medal winner at the state wrestling tournament.

THE WILDCATS finished seventh in the overall team standings in Class D with 60 1/2 points. "We had set a goal of finishing in the top 10 at state, and while we did, we were just a little disappointed that it wasn't higher," Sok said. "Five of the teams in our district finished in the top 12 at state, and took over one third of the top six places. I'd say our district had to be the strongest one in the state."

Sok also added that the Winside fan support was an important part of the team's successful season, which posted an undefeated dual season and a pair of invitational tournament championships. "The fans played an important part, they provide incentive and add to the improvement of our program."

The Wayne mat squad also had a successful season with a 7-3 dual season. "We had a fine group of kids to work with, and because of that, I really enjoyed working this season with them." The Blue Devils ended up in 26th place in the Class B field with 14 1/2 points.

Boys C2-8 subdistrict

Deliberate game earns Trojans 41-38 squeaker over Homer

Deliberate ball handling and control has become a trademark of the Wakefield boys basketball team in the past season and that game plan contributed to the Trojans 41-38 squeaker win over Homer in the opening round of the Class C2-8 subdistrict playoffs in Lyons Tuesday night.

The victory set up a rematch between Wakefield and the Allen Eagles in the subdistrict finals tonight (Thursday). In an earlier meeting between the two schools, Allen won a narrow 31-29 decision at Wakefield.

THE TROJANS WORKED their control game from the opening moments and had success with it in the first quarter, taking a 15-11 lead into the second period after breaking an 11-11 tie with scores from Wade Nicholson and Brian Soderberg.

The Knights came back to outscore Wakefield 8-3 in the second quarter to tie the score twice before hitting a bucket with 3:35 left to take a 19-18 lead which they held onto going into halftime.

Wakefield found the going slow at the start of the third quarter, giving the ball up on critical turnovers and lacking offensive shooting power. Homer took advantage of the Trojans miscues to open up the biggest lead of the game at 24-20 with 3:46 in the period.

Brian Soderberg hit three of four free throws and Kevin Greve two of two attempts to bring Wakefield back to within three points and a shot from the corner by Nicholson with four seconds left close the gap to 28-27 at the end of the quarter.

Homer again opened up a three point lead at the start of the final period, but a free throw by Nicholson and a corner shot by Soderberg tied the score at 29-29 with 5:15 on the clock. Wakefield took the lead for good on a 15 foot jumper by Nicholson with 4:12 left and held on to the win with strong free throw shooting in the final moments of the game.

A technical foul shot by Soderberg put Wakefield up 40-38 with less than 10 seconds left and Jason Erb hit the front of a one and one with two seconds left to cap the win.

ON THE NIGHT, the Trojans hit 13 of 20 shots for 65 percent, including 4 of 5 in the final 17 seconds of the game.

Wade Nicholson led Wakefield's winning effort with 18 points, followed by Brian Soderberg with 12 points. Bob Utemark topped Homer with 16 points.

"In the third quarter, we got off to a slow start offensively which usually seems to happen for us," said Wakefield Coach Clark Cocco. "We weren't aggressive on offense and it made the difference."

Cocco added that his team's control style of ball game is a necessity for them due to their size. "We can't match up offensively with a lot of the teams that we play, so we have to control the pace and play our own style of game in order to be successful."

The Trojans also played a zone defense against the Knights, which was a change for them. "Playing the zone did make a difference. Homer consistently was going to the inside and we made them put up shots from the outside."

Eagles shooting, defense overpowers Winside 54-26

The Allen Eagles took their first step in post season play on Tuesday night with a 54-26 win over the Winside Wildcats in the first round of Class C2-8 subdistrict basketball play in Lyons.

The win boosted Allen, with a 9-7 record, into the subdistrict finals against Wakefield set for this evening (Thursday), while ending the Wildcats cage season with a 0-7 mark. The Eagles and Trojans will face off in a game at Lyons-Decatur Northeast High School beginning at 7:30 p.m.

THE EAGLES MOVED to a quick 8-0 lead before Winside established their first points of the game on a field goal by Ryan Prince with nine seconds remaining in the quarter.

The Wildcats continued to have offensive difficulties in the second period, adding just four more points to their tally, while Allen padded an extra 15 points to their scoring margin. The Eagles held a 23-8 halftime lead.

In the third and fourth quarters, Allen continued their scoring clip and while Winside found a bit more of their offensive firepower, they were unable to get themselves back in the game.

For the Eagles, Steve Jones netted 14 points and Kevin Malcom 10 points to lead the scoring.

Winside was led by senior Kevin Falk with 12 points.

On the boards, Steve Jones brought down seven for Allen and Jay Jones added six to lead the Eagles to 36 total rebounds. Falk also led the Wildcats rebounding attack with 12 of Winside's 29 total boards.

"We played a slow paced game and worked to take the game solid shot," said Allen Coach Dave Ulrich. "Winside shifted into a 3-2 zone defense which is the type we wanted to play against in this game."

Ulrich also said his team controlled the game on the inside both offensively and defensively, which is where he feels a game could be won or lost. "Whether we are able to control the inside in our next game will be a key for us."

WINSIDE'S MARK FREBURG commented that it was a combination of factors that led to his team's loss. "We were hurt in the fact that our shots didn't fall for us when we needed them to, and that Allen shot especially well in the game." The Eagles shot 23 of 33 for 43 percent, while Winside was 9 of 40 for 23 percent.

"Allen was also able to convert some turnovers that we gave up into scoring plays,"

Freburg added. "They played good defense...and a good defense will set up a good offensive effort."

Wayne girls cap season with loss to rated Hartington CC

Putting together their best effort of the season, the Wayne girls basketball team put a scare into rated Hartington Cedar Catholic in a 59-42 loss at Hartington in the opening round of the B-4 district tournament.

The loss ended the Lady Blue Devils season at 2-17, but showed glimpses of improved shooting and defensive play.

"OUR GIRLS CAME in and played a really hard game, they were ready and competed as well as they could have against a quick team like Hartington CC," said Wayne Coach Dale Hochstein.

Wayne came out battling from the start and led several times in the early going before the Trojans came on to score five straight points at them to take a 13-8 lead.

In the game's second quarter, Hartington stepped to the free throw line a dozen times to collect six points and take a 21-12 lead before sophomore Kecia Corbit let go for three consecutive field goals to bring Wayne back into a seven point game at the half, 27-20.

Performance on the boards in the third quarter proved to be the key to the game's outcome, with the Trojans coming down with a number of defensive rebounds which they converted into scores and opened to a 46-26 lead. Wayne was outscored 19-6 in the pivotal period.

The Lady Blue Devils came back with 16 points in the fourth quarter but were unable to cut back the Hartington lead.

Kecia Corbit was the top scorer, hitting double figures with 15 points. She was joined in the double digits by Laura Keating with 10 points. Corbit was also the leading rebouncer with 11 boards.

Wayne ended with 26 rebounds and Hartington brought in a total of 37 rebounds.

"OUR LACK OF offensive rebounds in the third quarter did hurt us, along with the fact that Hartington hit very well from the field in that quarter," said Hochstein. "Percentage-wise, we shot better from the floor than they did." Wayne was 20 of 52 for 38 percent from the court, while Hartington hit 23 of 63 for 36 percent.

The Lady Blue Devils gave up 21 turnovers in the game, but their "diamond and one" defense also caused problems for the Trojan ballhandlers, as they recorded 19 turnovers in the game.

"The defense shut their guards down and kept their offense from running as smoothly as it usually does," said Hochstein. "We didn't have the ability to play that defense early in the year, but as the girls came on, we have been able to use it effectively."

Laurel Bears end season in 70-54 loss to Pender

The Laurel boys basketball team ended their 1984-85 season on Monday night with a 70-54 loss to Pender in the opening round of the C2-8 boys subdistrict playoffs at Wayne State College.

With the loss, the Bears finished the year with a 4-12 record overall.

LAUREL POSTED one of its best offensive rebounding performances of the season according to Coach John Held, but their inability to capitalize on those rebounds made the difference in the game.

"We got more offensive rebounds than we have all year," said Held. "But we didn't score off of them and that made the difference in the game." The Bears held a 44 to 34 advantage on the boards, with 21 rebounds on the offensive end.

Pender took a 19-10 lead in the first quarter and expanded that to a 33-10 halftime margin.

After falling behind by 22 points early in the third period, Laurel began to pick up the pace and fought back to within eight points with six minutes left in the final quarter, but was unable to come back and close the gap further.

"We cut their lead down there in the fourth quarter, but it was just too far to come back. We dug ourselves too deep a hole in the first half," said Held.

SCOTT RATH, who has seen steady offensive improvement in the past games, scored 20 points to lead the Bears effort. Sophomore Brent Halseh also hit double figures with 16 points. Rath also led rebounding with 14 boards, followed by Halseh and Mike Forsberg with 11 rebounds.

"In the first half we were just a bit intimidated and didn't challenge Pender on the inside," said Held. "We didn't do the little things that a team needs to do in order to win."

Softball scholarships

The Nebraska Softball Association will again award several scholarships to high school graduates and current college students, according to O.W. Bill Smith, State NSA Commissioner.

Students who are members of the NSA either as players, coaches, umpires, team managers or state officials may apply for the scholarships, which must be used at a Nebraska postsecondary school.

Information and scholarship applications may be obtained from the NSA, 1840 North C Street, Fremont, Neb. 68025. Funds for the NSA Foundation scholarships are made available from contributions from NSA teams, players and fans.

Wildcats lose NAC battle to Chadron; upset nationally-ranked Washburn

While providing a few CSIC teams with an upsetting weekend of basketball action, the Wayne State Wildcats saw their NAC playoff picture shift following a loss on the road to Chadron State College.

In a match-up with nationally-rated CSIC foe Washburn University on Saturday night, the Wildcats posted a 68-64 overtime upset win over the Ichabods in Rice Auditorium.

Rick Weaver's squad then loaded up the bus and headed west for Chadron State on Tuesday for an important Nebraska Athletic Conference battle with state college rival Chadron State. At the end of the evening, the Eagles came away with an overtime win at their own, 71-69, on a pair of last second free throw shots.

WSC CAME OUT sluggish at the start of the game with Chadron, allowing the Eagles to run up a 25-15 lead before coming back with 10 straight points to tie the game at 25-25 approaching halftime. Chadron was able to top a single basket in the closing moments to take a 27-25 lead into the locker room at the half.

In the game's second half, Chadron again gained the upper hand and led by as many as 11 points several times.

Behind the 27-7 shooting of senior John Thomson, the Cats worked their way back into the game and took a 34-33 lead with 6 minutes left on a three point play by junior Vince Tillo.

Scoring bounced back and forth between the two teams in the following minutes and with 42 seconds left Calvin Sprew netted a bucket to knot the score at 64-64. Chadron took the ball down and attempted to run out the clock, but WSC senior guard Tracy Penn forced a five second call on Chadron with nine seconds left in regulation play. WSC had two shot attempts at the end to win the game but saw neither fall through.

In the overtime period, WSC's scoring came on four free throws by Penn and a shot by senior guard Jimmy Gooch from the top of the key with a minute to go. Trailing 76-69 with three seconds left, Chadron's Rich King connected on both ends of a one and one to give the Eagles the win. A halfcourt shot by Gooch as time ran out hit the rim and bounced away.

John Thomson hit 10 of 13 shots on the night to lead the Wildcats scoring with 22 points. Vince Tillo added 12 points. Chadron was led by Rand Woods with 28 points and Rich King with 22 points.

Calvin Sprew hauled down 10 rebounds to top WSC on the boards.

Both teams hit 28 field goals from the floor, WSC making 28 of 72 for 39 percent and Chadron hitting 28 of 67 at 42 percent.

At the free throw line, the Cats hit 14 of 17 for 82 percent, while Chadron netted 15 of 21 for 71 percent.

Wayne State must now await the outcome of the Peru State-Bellevue College men's game to determine whether they will have to face the Bobcats in a mini-playoff game to determine who will advance to the NAIA District 11 playoffs.

THE NATIONALLY-RANKED Washburn Ichabods men's basketball team came away from Rice Auditorium last Saturday a loss poorer following a 68-64 overtime win by the WSC Wildcats, a victory which gave the Cats a clean sweep of their weekend CSIC games and a 5-7 conference mark.

Washburn had a close game in their win over Missouri Western the night before, and I was concerned that they would be really be up for our game," said Weaver.

Both teams shot strong from the field in the opening half to keep the game close, the Cats hitting 17 of 30 shots for 56 percent while the Ichabods netted 15 of 28 for 54 percent.

Wayne's biggest lead of the half was four points, including a 33-29 margin with 5:41 left on a shot by John Thomson. Washburn came back to tie the score in the closing minutes leading up to the half, 35-35.

At the beginning of the second half, Washburn came out and drew up a 42-37 lead on buckets by Kevin Downing and Gary Carrier before WSC put together a scoring spurt which outdistanced the Ichabods 14-4 to take a 53-47 lead with 8:47 remaining.

The scoring remained tight in the following minutes with Washburn in the lead down the stretch. A turnaround jumper by junior Vince Tillo brought WSC to within one point at 60-59, but WU's Gary Carrier hit the second of two shot foul with 12 seconds left to up their lead back to a bucket.

With five seconds remaining, Wayne State's Ed Heritage scored the last of his game-high 22 points by sinking both ends of a one and one attempt to tie the score at 61-61 and send the game into overtime.

WASHBURN OPENED scoring in the extra period on a basket by Dennis Brady and senior Wildcat Tracy Penn evaded the score at 63-63 on an 18-foot jump shot with 4:01 left.

Neither team scored again until Tillo potted the front end of a one and one to give the Cats a 64-63 lead with 39 seconds.

Washburn's Carrier answered back with single free throw following a foul by Calvin Sprew on the rebound to tie the score one final time at 64-64.

Following a WSC time out, senior John Thomson let go with an off-balanced shot from eight feet that put the Cats on top 66-64 with two seconds on the clock, and a pair of free throws by Jimmy Gooch with one second left after a Dennis Brady foul locked it the win.

"We played well against their zone defense, and people like John Thomson and Ed Heritage were hitting well from the outside," said Weaver.

Heritage ended the game as the Cats leading scorer with 22 points. Tracy Penn and John Thomson joined him in double figures with 14 points each.

On the boards, Penn and Heritage each logged five rebounds.

Shooting at the free throw line also made a difference down the stretch, as WSC hit 14 of 19 attempts, Washburn was 11 of 27 at the end of the night, which included missing the front end of a pair of one and one attempts in the overtime period.

Washburn missed some free throw opportunities at the end of the game, which were able to capitalize on," said Weaver.

"In the overtime, it just came down to whoever had the ball and could get the last shot."

Weaver said his team had gone in hoping to control the tempo of the game, and used a zone defense to establish that. "With about seven minutes left in the game we went into a spread offense to slow the game down."

Lady Wildcats handed losses by Washburn and state college foe Peru Lady Bobcats

The WSC Lady Wildcats came out on the losing end of a pair of scores from their latest action, including a home stand with the Lady Blues of Washburn University and a road game with rival Peru State College.

The contests dropped WSC's overall season record to 11-17 while giving them a 3-5 record in the Nebraska Athletic Conference and a 2-10 CSIC mark.

IN THE NAC battle with Peru State on Tuesday night, Lenny Klaver's Lady Cats were the losers in a 77-59 score on Tuesday night.

A bout of cold shooting seemed to be the hold-up for Wayne State. In the loss, she hit 25 of 71 attempts in the game for 35 percent, along with netting 9 of 19 from the line for 47 percent overall. Peru State shot 45 percent from the field on 34 of 71 attempts and went 9 of 12 from the charity stripe for 75 percent.

WSC trailed at the half, 42-27, and was never able to work their way back into the lead.

Junior Deb Nygren hit double figures with an even dozen points in the loss, and Robin Wells added 10 points.

Nygren and junior teammate Shari Krohn shared rebounding honors with seven boards each. Michelle Blomberg ended the night with five of WSC's 14 assists.

Linda Shepard of Peru State became the second leading scorer in Nebraska college women's basketball with a 22 point performance.

The Lady Cats committed 16 fouls and Peru State logged 17 turnovers. The Lady Bobcats improved to 4-25 overall and 1-7 in the NAC.

PLAY IN THE Central States conference continued for the WSC Lady Wildcats over the past weekend with a 71-61 loss to Washburn University in Rice Auditorium on Saturday evening.

It was a strong first half that put the Lady Blues up for the win, as they scored 46 points on a 56 percent shooting spree from the field to open their 46-33 halftime lead.

The Lady Wildcats scored the initial points of the game on a hoop by freshman Ree Gribble before Washburn came on to score six straight points and take the lead.

WSC battled throughout the first half and pulled as close as 22-26 with 7:54 left on a basket by

Heritage earns honor

Wayne State College cager Ed Heritage received Central States Intercollegiate Conference Player of the Week (CSIC) honors for his performances in a trio of Wildcat basketball wins.

A transfer from Fort Dodge Community College who became eligible at semester, Heritage scored 48 points from his starting forward spot to play a major role in an important NAC win over Bellevue College on Tuesday, Feb. 12, and in upset wins over Emporia State and nationally ranked Washburn University over the past weekend.

Against Bellevue, the 6-4 junior netted 14 points and grabbed down five rebounds in the 72-64 win which assured the Wildcats of a spot in post-season district playoff action.

Heritage dropped in a pair of clutch free throws to ice a 78-76 win over the Emporia State Hornets on Friday night, along with collecting three rebounds.

His free throw shooting again proved to be a factor in the Cats victory over second-ranked Washburn on Saturday night, as he hit both ends of a one and one situation to knot the score at 61-61 and send the game into overtime. Heritage ended the night with a team-high 22 points and five rebounds.

Overall in the three games, Heritage scored 48 points and tallied 13 rebounds. From the floor he hit 20 of 37 for 54 percent and was 8 of 8 from the free throw line.

this and that

Winter Tree Problems

Winter drying is caused by the desiccation of foliage and twigs by warm winter days or dry winds. Trees and shrubs transpire (lose) moisture all year around. Because of frozen plant tissue, frozen soil or lack of soil moisture, the trees transpire more moisture than the roots can replace and the drying damage results.

The injury is evident on the more susceptible evergreens in the late winter by a reddening or browning of the foliage. The dead branch tips on deciduous trees and shrubs are not evident until spring.

Little can be done to control the weather, but a couple of precautions can be taken to reduce the potential damage: (1) choose hardy species adapted to the area, (2) mulch the soil around the trees to prevent freezing, and (3) water the trees thoroughly in the fall and during the winter when the ground is not frozen.

Sunscald and winter burn are both caused by rapid drops in temperature after plant tissues have been warmed by the sun. Sunscald occurs on thin-barked trees such as maples, mountain ash and apple. Tissues beneath the bark are killed and the bark separates from the wood underneath. Trees can be wrapped with one of the many commercially available tree wraps, burlap or aluminum foil which eventually extends out through the bark. Frost cracks rarely heal completely because they reopen each winter. Little can be done to remedy a frost crack, but commercial tree wraps may prevent them. Healthy trees also heal wounds faster.

Provides loan guarantees, reduced interest rates

Bereuter introduces emergency farm credit bill

An emergency farm credit bill designed to provide rapid assistance to farmers and small agribusinesses hit by the agricultural credit crisis will be introduced by Representative Doug Bereuter.

The bill provides Federal loan guarantees coupled with reduced interest rates for farmers and expands existing Small Business Administration (SBA) authority to provide long-term debt restructuring assistance to small businesses affected by the 1984 Payment-in-Kind (PIK) program.

Commenting on the need for his bill, Bereuter said, "The applied debt restructuring program for farmers offered by the Administration is inadequate to do the job in the short time remaining before Spring planting. Because it relies on the Farmer's Home Administration (FmHA), which is already inundated and cannot be successfully beelined up to process the large number of loan guarantee applications."

"To move quickly with assistance we must be sure that the Approved Lender Program, which allows banks to process these applications, works and that banks are motivated and prepared to participate. Under my proposal the approval or rejection of loan guarantee applications for farmers and the decision for debt restructuring of both Spring planting and existing loans will be made by approved banks. That is the only way we can meet the massive debt restructuring needs in the short time available."

BEREUTER POINTED out that the Administration already has the ability to adapt its loan restructuring program for farmers to accomplish what he is proposing and could act immediately to make the change.

"My bill, which I will introduce when the House reconvenes next week, is an effort to push the Administration to make the necessary changes and make them quickly," he said.

Bereuter's bill is adapted from a proposal formally approved late last week by the Agricultural Banking Division of the American Bankers Association, which represents more than 95 percent of the country's banking assets. The bill also includes ideas and suggestions that Bereuter has been receiving from Nebraska farmers and agribusinessmen who have been in contact with him in recent weeks.

The Bereuter bill includes the following provisions:

- FmHA would be taken entirely out of the direct process for the review and approval of loan guarantees to individual farmers and ranchers under this emergency debt restructuring program. That function would be performed by banks designated as "approved lenders." Banks would be approved or rejected for that status after an FmHA review process that must be completed within 15 days. (This is an absolutely crucial element as even an augmented and assisted FmHA cannot directly cope with the massive loan guarantee program needed for debt restructuring in the short time available.)
- Lender agrees to reduce the interest rate on agricultural loans (existing indebtedness and current operating expenses) from the market level to a rate no greater than the corresponding rate for similar categories of FmHA direct loans.

- Federal loan guarantees of 90 percent of the principal to be provided for qualifying loans.
- IF THE BORROWER can achieve an acceptable cash flow situation with this interest rate write-down, lender agrees to enter into an agreement with the borrower to provide credit for five years, provided customer remains financially viable.
- Existing obligations and operating credit for this year would be combined under one rate with the terms of amortization tailored by the borrower and lender in each individual situation. (Current restructuring efforts sometimes restrict only existing debt, and if operating credit is not available for Spring planting or livestock purchase, the operation is doomed anyway.)

- Acceptable cash flow required would be 100 percent of the amount necessary to pay current year's operating expenses, schedule debt repayment, and reasonable family living expenses. During the guarantee period, borrower must adhere to a closely monitored, austere operating program that foregoes all but the most necessary capital expenditures. Any regulation finally adopted should make clear that the program is open to borrowers who will have both a positive cash flow and a high prospect for full debt repayment if they are provided with this assistance. (Currently 110 percent cash flow must be shown.)
- Participating loans would be reviewed annually by the lender and FmHA. If borrower can regain a position of unassisted profitability during this five-year period, lender would have the option of discontinuing guarantee and the interest rate write-down. If borrower is determined not to be financially viable under the terms of the loan agreement, FmHA and lender may discontinuing providing credit and take appropriate action.

- The Secretary of Agriculture would direct the FmHA to make available additional field personnel and equipment to assist in the timely processing of existing and additional loan activities.
- Liquidation procedures for the guaranteed loans would be modified to parallel those offered under SBA guarantee loan programs, so as to address the common concern by the lending institutions that guarantees are uncollectible. This change will increase participation in the approved lender program for emergency farm credit.
- Unlike some other proposals, this one is limited to existing borrowers of the approved lender banks and to farm borrowers from failed banks. This will assure that it does not attract borrowers away from Production Credit Associations or Federal Land Banks. Furthermore, the bill requires no outlay of Federal funds until such time as there's an actual default on a loan," Bereuter pointed out.

Beef checkoff hearing
Senator Rex Haberman, who introduced LB 444, a bill which would repeal the Beef Checkoff, announced the Legislature's Agriculture and Environment Committee will hold a public hearing on this bill on Friday, Feb. 22, 1985, beginning at 1:30 p.m. C.S.T.

The hearing will be held in Room 1520, State Capitol Building, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Haberman urges all parties interested in this legislation to attend the hearing, and submit their input to the Committee.

Acreage reduction sign-up
The U.S. Department of Agriculture will not extend the 1985 acreage reduction programs' sign-up deadline past the originally scheduled March 1 date, said Everett Rank, Administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Requests to extend the sign-up period are being received from several areas where some farmers have not been able to arrange financing for 1985 crop plantings.

Rank said that USDA encourages such owners and operators to sign up for the program while they work out their financing. If lack of financing is the reason for not seeding the 1985 crop, USDA will terminate those contracts by mutual agreement and without penalty.

The 1985 acreage reduction programs are for wheat, feed grains, rice upland cotton and extra long staple cotton.

Beef weigh-in
The Wayne County 4-H market beef weigh-in will be held Saturday, March 2 at the Wayne Sale Barn from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., announces Don C. Spitzke, Wayne County Extension Agent.

At that time all market beef, both singles and pens of 3 beef will be weighed and ear tagged. This will be the only weigh day for Wayne County beef 4-H'ers.

4-H'ers selected award nominees
Cindy Berg, Stuart Rethwisch, Tim Sievers and Brian Schmidt, 4-H'ers from Wayne County have been named by the District 4-H Award Committee as district nominees for further consideration and competition for the state and national 4-H awards program.

They were selected for their outstanding 4-H record in the following areas: Cindy Berg, Winside; clothing project; Brian Schmidt, Wayne; electric energy project; Tim Sievers, Wayne; gardening/horticulture project; and Stuart Rethwisch, Wayne; entomology project.

4-H'er to receive scholarship
Cindy Berg, Winside, 4-H'er from Wayne County has been selected by the District 4-H Award Committee to receive a scholarship toward her registration at state 4-H conference to be held in Lincoln on June 17-21. She was selected based on her outstanding 4-H record in the junior leader area.

CCC loan interest rate lowered
Commodity loans disbursed in February by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation will carry a 14.5 percent interest rate, CCC Executive Vice President Everett Rank said today.

The new rate, down from 9 1/2 percent, reflects the interest rate charged CCC by the U.S. Treasury in February, Rank said.

Nebraska tops in dust explosion

Usually when Nebraska is No. 1, everybody cheers and has a great feeling of pride. But no one is cheering about one first place ranking. Nebraska is No. 1 in grain dust explosions.

Rollin D. Schneider, extension safety specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, said there were 20 grain dust explosions across the country last year, and six of them were in Nebraska. The 20 explosions were 53 percent more than for 1983, but were equal to the 10-year average of 20 explosions a year.

Nine people lost their lives; three of those in Nebraska, and 29 people were reported injured, some of them, however, only minor.

Illinois, Louisiana and North Dakota tied for second place with two explosions each. Eight other states had one explosion each.

Bob Schoeff, extension safety leader, Grain and Science and Industry Department, Kansas State University, who is responsible for gathering the data, said that corn was being handled in 12 of the 20 explosions, wheat in four, soybeans in two and corn gluten meal in one. One of the explosions occurred in an elevator that was closed for the holiday.

The cause of the explosions is somewhat mysterious this year. In eight of the 20 cases, the cause was unknown, Schoeff said. There were no reports of cutting or welding starting a fire in any of the explosions. The major cause is being presumed to be hot bearings and sparks from foreign material.

Schneider noted that Nebraska now has three inspectors in the state. Fire Marshal's Office. "Hopefully," he said, "the impact of the inspections, plus the safety programs will help to knock Nebraska out of the No. 1 ranking."

For Nebraska Livestock Feeders

Membership drive starts

Especially during these trying times for Agriculture, livestock producer's need the benefits of their commodity organizations, according to Ari Greve, Wakefield, President of the Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association.

"They can look to the team effort of our Association, along with the Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association and the National Cattlemen's Association," he said, "to represent them at the local, state and national level."

Fair valuation of agricultural land for taxation purposes in Nebraska, national and state government regulations, and state and federal legislation are just a few of the many concerns of livestock producers in this area, Greve said.

Northeast Feeders Association officers and directors are planning a membership drive in Dixon, Dakota, Wayne and Thurston counties, starting Wednesday, Feb. 22, with a meeting at the Windmill Restaurant in Wayne at 9 a.m.

"A strong membership base is essential to effective representation in all matters concerning livestock people, as well as those who do not own livestock but produce feed for their consumption," Greve added.

Other directors of the Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association include James Shulteis, Wayne, vice president; Roger Tremayne, Walthill, secretary; Dwain Elberg, Wakefield, treasurer; Neal McGuistin, Pender, state board member; Mark Lander, "Derees" Gralihar, Pender; Everett Moore, Walthill; Keith Owens, Carroll; James Walsh and Milo Birkley, Hubbard; Walt Beermann, Dakota City; Steve Von Minden, Ponca; and Sam Utch, Wakefield.

"Since our Association and NLFRA took a leading role in getting Amendment 4 passed by a two-to-one margin in the last election, we must continue to work with the Nebraska Legislature to assure fair agricultural land evaluation for taxpayers," Greve said. So, it continues to be important that livestock producers join and support their Associations," he concluded.

the farmer's wife

by pat melerharry

I wonder if it is possible to O.D. (overdose) on basketball. We must have come close two weeks ago.

We saw Nebraska Wesleyan's Jayvees play at Grace College of the Bible on Friday night, stayed all night at my sis in Papillion, and saw a third and fourth grade game, followed by a fifth and sixth grade game, in which my nieces participated; then went on to Fremont for two games at Midland on Saturday night. That was five in 24 hours.

This past Saturday we started out at state wrestling, spent two hours at a track meet and saw two more basketball games.

I sound like more of an addict than I really am. We just like to get the most for our mileage, I guess. As always, I came away with admiration for all of the participants. It puts a PE drop-out like me to shame.

At least the wrestlers can eat now. Their disciplined dieting makes my lack of will power look really bad.

The only thing that spoiled the basketball game at Doane was the mouths of some of the fans. A few even had some crude, hand-printed signs.

I WOULD LIKE to propose a new organization, called SOAP, which stands for Soap Out All Profanity! Maybe we could go back to washing out mouths with soap.

One of the highlights of Saturday afternoon's track (Indoor) was seeing Randy DeBurr establish a meet record of 7-1 in high jump. That's a foot higher than he stands! The concentration and poise were an inspiration to watch.

On Sunday morning, we visiting a church with a special ministry to the deaf. This was another inspiration. Even though the noise in the field houses and gyms can be deafening, and the language sometimes offensive, I wouldn't want to lose my hearing. Even though my drippy faucet sometimes drives me buggy, and the dogs barking in the middle of the night keep me awake, I can't imagine living in a soundless world. We get a small taste of it in the movies that suddenly cut off the sound at the end. It's a strange sensation.

Sign language is beautiful and expressive. The lady who was signing the service/pul her whole self in the task; it was much like mime. I use my hands when I talk, but this is much faster. Once you've seen The Lord's Prayer signed, you don't forget it.

In Omaha, before this Grace College game, we saw part of a high school game involving players from Iowa School of the Deaf. This requires intense concentration and discipline. There were also cheerleaders, who did a good job.

Yugoslavia with the deaf Olympics team. His family attended.

There were deaf athletes from all over the world here. Many languages were spoken. But the athletes themselves could communicate instantly. Sign language is international.

Maybe our foreign diplomats, and those from all other countries, could learn sign language. They then would not need interpreters.

The sign for "war" looks divisive. The sign for "peace" looked peaceful.

An added plus would be that they would have to really listen to each other. You must pay attention when reading sign language. And listening is the basis for all communication.

Besides, hopefully, there aren't any signs for profanity! I think we are onto something here.

One more item: I would like to publicly comment on the athletes who did not have a winning season, or who played for a useless team, or who didn't qualify for state. If takes far more character to keep trying when losing. And additional amounts to be gracious about it.

Try to take comfort in the fact that you have learned some very important lessons about life. And hope that next year will be better.

The Allen school band has been participating in a pep band contest, sponsored by the Wayne State College music fraternity Kappa Kappa Psi. Representatives of the fraternity went to the schools to judge the bands as they played at basketball games. They were in Allen for the Allen-Beemer boys game on Feb. 8. The school received notice that the Allen band placed third in the area competition. Columbus placed first; North Bend, second; and Madison, fourth. Allen ranked among Class A schools. The top four bands will receive plaques and an invitation to play at a Wayne State basketball game. Mr. Belt, band instructor, was informed Monday the pep band will play at Wayne State College at a double varsity game on Saturday, Feb. 25 beginning at 6:45 p.m.

PAPERS COLLECTED
The band members, under the direction of the Music Boosters, collected papers and aluminum cans on Saturday morning. The next collection will be Saturday, March 25. They are also planning another project to assist with their trip to Rapid City Band Days in May. They will be serving a pancake breakfast on Sunday, March 10 at the school auditorium.

FFA CONTEST
The Allen FFA chapter attended the District FFA contest held at Stanton on Feb. 12. There were 11 schools present at this contest. Allen competed in junior parliamentary procedure and the creed speaking contest.

Representing Allen in the junior parliamentary procedure were Mark Isom, Dave Isom, Jeff Gotch, Larry Boswell, Robb Skrivens, Curtis Blohm and Eric Sirehlow. They received a red ribbon for their efforts in the competition. In creed speaking, Elizabeth Hansen represented Allen. She received the second blue ribbon and third place overall. Brian Hansen helped in limiting the junior parliamentary procedure contest. Mr. Wilmes and Dennis Smith sponsored these activities.

Allen FFA reporter, Brian Hansen.

SENIOR CITIZENS
A pollack dinner was held Friday at the Allen Senior Citizens Center with over 30 in attendance. A sermonette was given by Pastor Andy Kwankin preceding the dinner. Entertainment followed with viewing of special valentines which were brought by those attending. Boxes of candy were presented to the couples married the longest. They were Ben and Inez Jackson, married 65 years and to Ken and Elizabeth Anderson married the shortest time, 41 years. A sing-along of old songs were sung, accompanied by Mary Lou Koester. Mary Burford, with the Legal Aid department, will be at the Allen Senior Citizens Center this afternoon (Thursday) at 1 p.m. to assist any senior citizens in this department.

The blood pressure clinic will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 27.

SUNSHINE CIRCLE

We've Gone Bananas With Office Supplies

We've brought in a truck load of office supplies. Everything from rubber bands to pencils to special marker pens.

Come in and meet Kent Lindsay, our office products manager, and find out about the services that we have to offer you.

Enter the "Worst Banana Pun" Contest and if you are a daily winner you will receive a free "Bunch of Bananas" from the Computer Farm.

FREE BANANAS. Come in and get a free Lyle George autographed banana* from the Big banana himself. Just walk in the store and say "I'm bananas for the Computer Farm" and you'll get a free banana.

Because We've Gone Bananas with office supplies, we've run out of room in our store and we have to sell a lot of software to make room for all of the office supplies we've brought in.

WHO'D SELL TURKEYS AT A BANANA SALE? The Computer Farm, of course. We've got some turkey software on our shelves that's so old that museums went us to donate it.

AND YOU THOUGHT WE JUST SOLD APPLES!
