ESU nursing services issue finally resolved

By LaVon Anderson

Following months of study, recommendations, and hours of arduous discussion, Educational Service Unit 1 board of directors reached a decision regarding the funding of nursing services for the upcoming school year.

The final vote did not come easily Tuesday night as the board voted on and defeated six recommendations before reaching an agreement.

When all was said and done, board members voted seven to one to accept a motion by Paul Steffen of Hartington to fund the ESU 1 nursing services program at a level of $205,000 for the 1985-86 year.

That figure represents an approximate 10 percent reduction in services from 1984-85.

Voting in favor of the proposal were Steffen, John Post of Bloomfield, Claire Hansen of Coleridge, Bob Jacobs of Verdigris, Deryl Lawrence of Wayne, Ken Lahrs of Ponca and Marvin Borg of Concord.

The lone dissenting vote was cast by Ervin DeBoer of Walthill. Board members Randy Shaw of Wayne and Leo Krämper of Dakota City were absent from the meeting conducted at ESU 1 headquarters in Wakefield.

Board chairman Deryl Lawrence said the ESU 1 administration will be responsible for implementing the program with the 10 percent reduction.

AMONG NURSING service proposals defeated by board members Tuesday night was an original recommendation made by a special board committee appointed to study all ESU 1 programs supported by the levy.

The original recommendation, submitted by committee members DeBoer, Steffen and Shaw, asked that nursing services be provided through the continued deployment of the present nursing staff. The program would be subsidized by a dollar figure annually approved by the ESU board.

The services for nursing would be provided by schools contracting for nursing service, with the contract by the public school to be available at the school's cost of $20 per half day of weekly service for a period of 36 weeks. The service could be purchased in continuous half-day blocks.

The recommendation further stated that ESU would reserve the right to set the schedule so as to provide reasonable control of transportation costs, and uniform schedules of service.

"WHAT THIS recommendation means," questioned board member Post, "is that schools contracting for nursing services will pay for approximately one-third of the program's estimated cost?"

"I think 33 percent is too much at a wages time," said board member Steffen.

"I don't think my board would go along with this proposal at this time," added board member Jacobs, who also serves as superintendent of Verdigris Public Schools.

"In the short time I've been on this board I've had several people contact me to say they have nurses in their own communities and can provide the service cheaper than we can," said board member Lahrs.

"We've reached our limit so now we're going to get tax money from some other source. I don't know how we can do that," said board member Hansen.

"We haven't asked the schools if they like this program (nursing services) and are willing to put more into it, we're telling them that this is a good program and they will put more into it," added Hansen.

BEFORE VOTING on the committee's original recommendation, the board accepted a motion by Steffen to amend the proposal to read that schools contracting for nursing services would pay $7 (instead of $20) per half day of weekly service for a period of 36 weeks.

"I'd have a lot easier time selling this to my board," said Jacobs.

"We haven't contacted the schools or ESU 1 advisory committee to see what they have to say about this," questioned Hansen. "I've had input from five schools who say they don't want any part of this, and that's how I've got to vote. I haven't got any choice."

Board member Post said the reaction he has received from schools is that $20 per half day is way too much to pay. "The schools I've contacted would probably favor a reduction in services rather than pay," added Post.

"We'll never get total agreement on how this service should be delivered," said board chairman Lawrence. "We have received input until we're outfitted."

"Technically," added Lawrence, "we do not need to seek input. It's our job to decide how we can best provide this program to the people served by ESU 1."

A vote on Steffen's motion to amend the original recommendation to read that schools would be charged $7 per half day, instead of $20, carried by five to three.

FOLLOWING THE vote, however, board member Jacobs questioned whether "the $7 figure" was "immaterial" since the committee's original recommendation also stated that nursing services would be subsidized by a dollar figure annually approved by the ESU board.

"That's right," said chairman Lawrence, throwing up his hands.

"We've just got to get this thing settled," stated Steffen, making a motion to further amend the original motion, with the first amendment, to read that nursing services would remain at the present level.

"Does this mean that if the school chooses not to participate in this program at this time, amount then they will get no service," questioned Hansen.

"The way it reads now that would be true," answered chairman Lawrence.

A vote on the additional amendment to add "at the present level of nursing services" died for a lack of majority.

A vote on the committee's original recommendation followed and was defeated by seven to one, with Lawrence voting in favor of the original recommendation.

"I MAKE A motion that ESU 1 fund nursing services at a level of $180,000 for 1985-86 using the same formula as in the past," said Hansen.

Board member Steffen questioned Hansen on how he arrived at that

Council accepts bid on new fire truck

by Chuck Hackenmiller

Bids were received Tuesday evening by the Wayne City Council on a fire truck and the contract for work on Roosevelt Park.

Two companies submitted bids on a new 1,000 gallon per minute pumper fire truck. Members of the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department had requested that the city seek bids on a new pumper to replace a 750 gallon per minute, 25 year old pumper. The department is currently using.

Projected lifetime of the pumper apparatus is 20 years; fire department officials told the city council in January.

FMC of Rapid City, South Dakota turned in a bid of $63,925 for the pumper apparatus and $27,750 for the truck chassis (through Ellington Motors of Wayne) for a total bid of $91,675.

The other bid was submitted by Smeal Fire Equipment of Synder, Nebraska. Smeal had total bids on three alternatives — the apparatus on a 1H chassis $106,199 (through a West Point dealer); Ford chassis, $108,715 (Omaha dealer); and GMC chassis $102,343 (a Norfolk dealer).

City Administrator Phil Kloster recommended that the bids be turned over to the fire department truck specifications committee for evaluation. The evaluation will be presented at the council's next regular meeting on March 26.

It was also recommended by Kloster to seek individual bids on the chassis from area dealers. Kloster said in January he anticipated that the bids for the new fire truck would come in at around $115,000.

There is $35,000 currently earmarked this fiscal year to the Wayne fire department. Another $20,000 is expected to be provided to the department next fiscal year and the balance of the fire truck's cost in later fiscal years.

THE CITY council accepted bids later during the regular meeting from three firms for contract work on street, water and sewer improvements to the Roosevelt Park area of Wayne, located in the southeastern part of the city.

The Roosevelt Park area includes the following streets south of Fairground Avenue: two blocks of Nebraska Street; two blocks of Windom Street; and two blocks of Folk Street, which is an east-west road way.

Gill Construction Company, Inc. of Jackson, Nebraska, submitted the lowest bid on the entire project of $147,387.15, which is almost $16,613 less than the projected cost.

Improvements slated include paving the existing streets, replacing a portion of the sanitary sewer system and replacing all of the area's water systems.

For street improvements, not taking into consideration the alternatives, Gill Construction had bid $96,725.62; water improvements, $39,721.21; and sewer improvements, $10,940.32.

The other two bids were from Castle Construction of Columbus and Western Plains Construction Company of Lincoln.

Castle Construction bid a total of $106,231.74 for street improvement, $42,212.70 for water improvements and $13,200.67 for sewer improvements for a total of $161,645.11. Western Plains came in with a bid of $130,793.67 for street improvements, $45,553.03 for water improvements and $14,402.76 for sewer improvements for a total bid of $190,749.46.

Bids let on school roofing project

by Jackie Osten

Bid letting for a roofing project at the West Elementary school topped the list of items covered by the Wayne-Carroll Board of Education at their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, March 12.

Dr. Francis Haun, superintendent of the Wayne school system, notified board members that notices have been sent to a list of construction companies for bids on the portion of the West Elementary School roof which was not included in earlier repairs made last summer. Work on the project is scheduled to begin after school is dismissed and to be completed by early August.

Haun stated that all previous bidders on the roofing project have been contacted, along with a number of other contractors. Bids will be presented and opened at a special board meeting scheduled for 3 p.m. on Tuesday, April 9, and action may or may not be taken at that time, depending on the decision of the school board, Haun noted. The board will have the opportunity to discuss the bids further at their regular monthly meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m. that same evening.

AFTER DISCUSSION in executive session, the board moved back into their regular meeting and passed a motion to re-elect the school staff members as recommended by Dr. Haun by a unanimous vote.

In other reports, the board was also informed that a spring session of parent-teacher conferences will be held for the first time on Thursday and Friday, March 28 and 29.

A teacher inservice dealing with positive attitude and stress management featuring a speaker from the Nebraska Methodist Hospital in Omaha will also be held in conjunction with the conferences on Wednesday, March 27. School will be dismissed at 1:30 p.m. all three days.

Statistical information received from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln dealing with rankings of Class II, III, IV and V school districts based on selected financial data was presented to the board. Dr. Haun called attention to the fact that out of the 284 schools included in the ratings, Wayne ranked 135 in the district tax levies based on grades K-12. The information was issued by the Bureau of Educational Research and Field Services of the Department of Educational Administration at UNL.

Board member Neil Sandahl reported that the board representatives met with the teacher's representatives on the subject of negotiations, but no action was taken.

UNDER THE heading of old business, the board continued their review of board policy at the meeting, covering the subject area of school administrators. Discussion was led by Dr. Haun dealing with the policies, guidelines and duties of the school superintendent and principal and their relationship to the school system.

It was moved and seconded by the board to donate various items from the school's former baseball program to the Wayne City recreation league. Those items included helmets, aluminum bats and a catcher's set. The pitching machine will be retained by the school for use in physical education instruction.

Board member Cap Peterson relayed information to those present dealing with concerns expressed by parents and students due to possible conflicts between the school's track and golf programs and the city's summer baseball program.

Peterson presented a letter from City Recreation Director Hank Overin which stated practice for Midget and Junior Legion players will not begin until mid-April for catcher and pitchers, and the end of April for remaining players. Overin added that practice schedules would be set up to avoid interference with track and golfing events. Peterson also stated that Overin felt participating in the track program offered was good preparation for the baseball season. The spring sports season at Wayne High runs from March 21 until early May.

reported to the board that he received notification from two coaches indicating that they wish to resign their coaching positions only for the upcoming school year.

The two coaches include Wayne High wrestling coach Don Koeng and girls basketball coach Dale Hochstein. Both will retain teaching duties within the school system. Koeng will assume the coaching position for the junior high wrestling program, while present junior high coach John Muirbaugh will head up the varsity program in the 1985-86 school year.

A policy was passed by the board which would clarify the area surrounding the copying and clerical work of school district financial information and other prepared documents for individuals outside the school district. Presented by Dr. Haun, the policy passed states that copies of the school district documents may be obtained after a reasonable length of time at the following prices: computer pages, $1; directories of personnel, $2; salary schedules, $1; State Department reports, 20 cents each; budgets, free. It went on to add that original documents are not to be removed from the building and that persons other than administrators or members of the board of education have no authority to command the services of school District 17 employees.

IN OTHER ACTION:

It was called to the board's attention that Wayne-Carroll Athletic Director Harold Maciejewski was named Nebraska Athletic Director of the year at a banquet held Wednesday night, March 6 in Lincoln.

A letter was presented which indicated that three Wayne High students, Rebecca Schmidt, Jasjit Johar and Dean Fuehlbrich, had each received scholarships awarded by the chemistry department at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. The trio was nominated earlier in the year and their selections were based on those nominations along with test scores on a qualification exam. They are now invited to participate in a day-long outing to the UNL campus on Tuesday, April 9 to visit the chemistry department and meet faculty members and students.

Board President Becky Keidel reported that a speech contest which was held at Wayne State College earlier in the day. Of the 12 Wayne-Carroll students participating in the competition, five will advance to the Nebraska State Speech contest the weekend of March 22-23.

Dr. Haun informed the board that the school is looking into the possibility of switching to a computer accounting system.

New look

Take a good look at the Wayne Herald this week and you will see a change in the newspaper's size.

We have conformed to what many other newspapers are doing nationwide — adapting to what is known as a Standard Advertising Unit (SAU) format. The result will be of greater advertising value to the newspaper and a tidier, neater appearance for the subscriber.

The newspaper will be smaller, both column-wise and page-wise. However, we will continue carrying our regular articles, columns and features — there will be no major changes editorially, except use of smaller pictures when necessary and more concise rather than lengthy news articles.

Some changes have been made in the layout, particularly the front page. Nothing monumental, though, because we would like this transition made as smoothly as possible.

The whole concept of SAU is to standardize the newspaper industry to make it easier for advertisers to buy in newspapers. In July of 1984, the American Newspaper Publishers Association and the Newspaper Advertising Bureau recommended all newspapers accept ads under the Expanded Advertising Unit System.

Advertising agencies and national and regional advertisers have been creating their ads to fit into SAU-designated sizes. Those that have not gone to SAU formats have found these ads can be either too large or small for their particular column sizes.

We are joining a large number of newspapers in taking steps to standardize our industry. The step is definitely not the first of this area — we did have some reservations.

Businesses can have their advertising size according to SAU dimensions and not have to worry about having their ads altered.

We would like to hear from our subscribers about our new size of publication. We will measure the subscriber reaction and do what we feasibly can in continuing to supply our subscribers with a quality product.

No harm meant

Often, photographers of The Wayne Herald editorial staff are encouraged to be creative with their photo-taking techniques. This includes being creative with pictures of a group of officers or girl scout award winners, although because of circumstances this is not always easy to do.

Recently, an "unsigned" letter to the editor arrived which appears to be criticizing Wayne Herald photographers for its pictures of old farm buildings.

The writer goes on to say we should photograph the empty store front on Main Street or the empty bank building at Altona, old houses in Wayne or the place where a community once thrived between Emerson and Hubbard.

"If farmers are expendable, so are the people who rely on them for a living," the letter writer said.

Photographers, painters and other artists have had love affairs with old, rural farm buildings for many years. We do not photograph the old buildings to express the ugliness or make light of the farmer's troubled times.

In an effort to be creative, we try to bring out the beauty of old buildings or farm equipment. We will continue the challenge of taking what some people would consider useless and blighted and make that same building a piece of art.

It's in our nature. And if this is offensive to some, then in retrospect it creates a picture to those who currently are unaware of the difficult times farmers of the land now face.

They saying "A picture is worth a thousand words" certainly has truth to it.

Curbing liquidations
Almost exactly 24 hours after President Reagan vetoed the emergency farm credit legislation last week, I introduced a resolution that would make clear to the Federal bank regulatory agencies that Congress intends for banks to exercise forbearance with regard to agricultural loans and to work with farmers and small business borrowers who are experiencing financial difficulty.

My resolution directs that the Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Comptroller of the Currency, and the Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System report to the House and Senate Banking Committees within 90 days after the resolution is passed on actions they have taken to implement the request. It specifies that they implement the policies of forbearance within 30 days.

I introduced the measure in resolution form, which bypasses the Senate/Congress, rather than as a bill, because a resolution can move through the legislative process much more rapidly. This resolution will go first to the House Banking Committee, on which I serve. I hope to see quick action in that committee.

When I introduced the resolution, I explained to my colleagues in the House that high agricultural production costs, low prices for commodities, and declining farmland values have combined to greatly reduce the income of many agricultural producers. Many of these producers, through no fault of their own, have been subjected to severe economic hardship. In many cases, their ability to meet loan repayment schedules in a timely fashion has been temporarily impaired.

The policy of Federal bank examiners of designating these loans as problem loans under these circumstances could trigger a wave of farm foreclosures and similar actions that would depress land values and the value of agricultural facilities and equipment. This would have a devastating effect on farmers, on the banking industry, and on the rural United States in general.

My resolution provides that Federal bank examiners give consideration not only to the current cashflow of agricultural borrowers under financial stress, but also to factors such as loan collateral, and ultimate repayment ability. It provides that they continue this policy as long as the condition of the agricultural economy and the effects of natural disasters are impairing the ability of agricultural borrowers to meet their scheduled loan repayments.

It is not the intention of my resolution to put these financial institutions at risk. The resolution provides that examiners should remain objective and consistent in evaluating credit standards applied to farm loans, and that the Federal bank regulatory agencies encourage banks, consistently with safety and soundness considerations, to exercise forbearance. But it does urge caution and restraint in the designation of problem loans when agricultural borrowers are involved.

Crisis group in Washington
Members of the Farm Crisis Group were in Washington last week, and many of the Nebraska members of that group spent time in my office. I was very impressed by their education, their organization and their effectiveness. A large number of my colleagues have made similar comments. While the group may not have had the level of success that they hoped for, especially in regard to the emergency farm credit bill, they did have a positive impact. I have heard a number of positive comments about their ideas.

My staff and I visited with an unusually large number of Nebraska groups last week, including members of the Nebraska Farm Crisis Group, representatives of the Nebraska Corn Growers, the Farm Credit Bank from Nebraska and Iowa, the Nebraska Broadcasters, the Nebraska Soybean Association, the Nebraska State Home Builders Association, the Lincoln American Legion, the Professional Insurance Agents of Nebraska, state vocational education leaders, and the Director of the Blue River Area Agency on Aging.

In addition, I spent time with Leadership Education/Action Development students and with member of the U.S. Feed Grains Council. Ordinarily we don't see such a large variety of visitors until April or May.

Selling dreams

The Rambling Apology
O.A. Farmer, Madame. I married your daughter, or cousin, or niece, or sister. I will never be sorry that I married her. I am sorry only that I brought her to this world of mine — this turmoil.

It was a good world when we came here. We had grand dreams of "owning" (committing ourselves to the sole care of) a piece of God's green earth. We had visions: our son studying a bluejay in the same tree where I studied birds as a child; our daughter running to care for her horse as I once ran to care for mine; painting the old board fence upon which Grandpa and I sat and ate tomatoes from Mom's garden years ago. This land meant a lot to me; not just memories, not just dollars, but dreams.

They say we bought too much new, expensive machinery. In six years of farming, I've bought one piece of new machinery — a cultivator. In 34 years of life I've owned many cars, pickups, tractors, etc., but only one piece of "new" equipment — that cultivator.

Did I pay too much for land? I'm a tenant farmer! I've cashed rented 16 percent of my ground at a reasonable rate. The rest of the ground was shared with landlords, at their risk with me.

I'm offered $2.55/bushel for corn. The consumer buys cornflakes at $73/bushel on the grocery store shelf. We produce an over-abundance of grain — a surplus. Ethiopian people starve to death!

Why? What values do we teach our children? "ss"? I'm afraid so. And that "ss" we sell our dreams.

I'm sorry.

Judge's salary

The issue of judges' salaries was recently brought up in a letter from Mary K. Harder of Dakota City to this paper. At least one person seems to have a misconception about this issue. I feel compelled to present a few facts to balance the incorrect information and implications that the letter contained.

I listened closely to the arguments presented to the Judiciary Committee favoring and opposing higher judges' salaries. After making a critical evaluation of this issue, I decided that an increase was something we could do without, particularly in light of our current economic pressures.

Many of the committee members agreed with me and the bill failed to advance. Once the formal vote had been taken, several new ideas were suggested. None could be considered, however, until the committee technically brought the bill back to reconsider it.

Unfair smothering of ideas is not a part of democracy. The Legislature is here to help find better solutions to all sorts of problems, so I supported hearing the new ideas. That is all. I did not and will not support LB 159, a method of increasing the judges' salaries over a year period. The vote that was cast was to merely allow discussion of alternatives.

No money was spent; no salaries were increased. I'll be happy to discuss my position with any of my constituents who have questions. That is much more productive than writing a public letter that contains incorrect information.

I read and respond to every letter sent to me. Your input is very valuable. I am always ready to help concerned constituents who have questions. Please contact me whenever I can be helpful.

Revenue sharing

I noted with considerable interest the editorial "Keep the Revenue Sharing" that appeared in the March 4 edition of The Wayne Herald.

I have long been a strong supporter of the revenue sharing program. Many of the small communities in the First Congressional district have put their revenue sharing funds to very good use — providing such services as programs for senior citizens, police and fire protection and a host of other services that community leaders determine to be important.

Revenue Sharing must not be terminated. You will be pleased to learn that I am a co-sponsor of a bill that has been introduced in Congress (H.R. 796) that will extend Revenue Sharing for another three years. I intend to make a major effort to keep this program intact.

If an across-the-board freeze of all spending programs is implemented to reduce the projected deficit, I fear that revenue sharing will gradually phase out. The revenue sharing program over a three-five year period. This should be a reasonable period for our Nebraska municipalities and counties to adjust to this new fiscal reality.

Member of Congress

Open mind

The reason I am writing this letter is because of something I overheard in a local store. Since we are farmers it hit me very hard:

I heard a store owner tell a customer that these farmers wouldn't be in trouble if they hadn't bought expensive machinery and land. This is not the first time I have heard this comment. I would like to take these people to our local banks and let our bankers educate them.

Living in a farm community all of my life I never cease to amaze me at the ignorance there is in this town. Why is it, when you are down everyone knows exactly what you put your money on.

I really feel some educating needs to be done. We are all hurting from this crisis, so businessmen, women and local people don't stereotype us. We aren't all driving 4-wheel drive tractors and paying $1,200 an acre for land. Please, don't kick us when we are down. Let's work together with open minds.

Sincerely,
Wife of a Farmer

New school bill is debated

Legislative issues usually affect our pocketbook in one way or another. We need to be extremely careful to be sure the cost/benefit of any proposal is well established. Sometimes bills are very emotional issues, and there is a great need to be even-handed and sensitive to the divergent views people hold.

One issue that incorporates both the pocketbook and emotion is LB 662, a bill that is purported to be a first step toward equity in our property tax structure. Under LB 662, all Class I School Districts (K-8) must be incorporated into Class III School Districts (K-12) or into existing Class VI Districts (9-12 only) by 1989.

This past week LB 662 advanced to Select File (second round debate) with several amendments attached. The amendments were offered in an attempt to prove to the opponents that the bill is not designed to negatively impact the quality of education of our children in rural schools, but to bring about tax equity. The most important of these amendments sets in law that the rural schools (Class I) could remain open as long as they are a part of a district with a high school and the voters of the original district choose to keep the school open.

Many senators feel that if agricultural land is to be taxed differently than commercial and residential property, as allowed by the passage of Amendment 4, then we must attempt to equalize the burden of educational support.

I'll support the bill only if the strong protections now included are maintained and the education of our children is held as the highest priority. I'm working to improve the bill further and will try to keep you posted through this column.

ANOTHER BILL, LB 326, was also considered by the Legislature on General File this week. This is a bill which I introduced and was advanced this week to the next stage of debate. I'm sponsoring this bill because it would help improve the management of government funds. Current law does not allow county courts to deposit money from fines, court costs, bonds, and other sources in interest-bearing accounts. This is a very definite waste since a great deal of potential income is lost.

Another form of accountability to the public is LB 404, a bill that has received a lot of attention in the press. I introduced this bill in an attempt to put some backbone into our current law that requires a driver to be financially responsible for any damage he or she might cause. The law has been on the books for quite some time but is not enforced until after an accident, at which time it has little value for the injured party if the other party is not insured.

I'm happy to report that the Public Works Committee has agreed with my concern and has forwarded the bill to the full Legislature. It should be debated on the floor of the Legislature in the near future. I don't expect this to be an easy debate, but I'm convinced that it would be an important measure that would make our roads safer by helping to keep drivers off our roads unless they can prove financial responsibility. Through LB 404, I seek to minimize the emotional and financial stress that uninsured drivers have caused.

Ditmans wed 50 years

THE FAMILY OF DR. and Mrs. N. L. Ditman of Winside are planning an open house reception celebrating the couple's 50th wedding anniversary. All friends and relatives are invited to attend the event on Sunday, March 24 from 1:30 to 4 p.m. at the Wayne Country Club. The couple requests no gifts.

FIRST PLACE WINNERS in a centennial poster contest sponsored by the Carroll-Business Club are, from left, Mrs. Etta Fisher in the division for 18-year-olds and above; Jason Williams, kindergarten through fourth grade; Wendy Davis, fifth through eighth grades; and Lynell Billheimer, ninth through 12th grades.

Celebration slated in 1986 Carroll centennial poster winners announced Sunday

Activities are underway in Carroll to raise funds for the community's grand centennial celebration slated to take place during the summer of 1986. A large crowd attended a pancake and omelet feed Sunday, March 10 in the Carroll auditorium. The event was sponsored by the Carroll Business Club with all proceeds earmarked for the centennial. Furnishing accordion music throughout the feed was Lester Bethune of Carroll.

WINNERS OF a centennial poster contest sponsored by the Business Club also were announced Sunday. Receiving first place for their drawings were Mrs. Etta Fisher in the division for 18-year-olds and above; Lynell Billheimer, ninth through 12th grades; Wendy Davis, fifth through eighth grades; and Jason Williams, kindergarten through fourth grade. Lynell's drawing, depicting several landmarks in the community, was selected the overall winner and will be used on the front cover of a centennial book containing the history and pictures of Carroll. The other three winning pictures will be used inside the book. Each winner received a $25 prize. Earning honorable mentions for their drawings were Lisa Erdmann, kindergarten; Ryan Junck, first grade; Tammi Fork; second grade; and Brad Erdmann, third grade.

A SPOKESMAN for the Carroll Centennial Committee said the centennial books will be available in time for Christmas 1985, if not sooner, and may be picked up at any Carroll business place. Books ordered and paid for by Dec. 31, 1985 will sell for $10 each. Books ordered after that time will cost $12.50. Orders should be sent to Carroll Centennial, in care of Sandra Hall.

DATES FOR Carroll's centennial celebration are July 18, 19 and 20, 1986. Plans are for the Carroll-High School alumni reunion also to be held at that time. Serving on the planning committee for the centennial are Sue Gilmore, Bill Claybaugh, Jerry Junck, Barvetta McLean, Arnold Junck, Sandra Hall and Leona Fork.

Community Theatre schedules auditions

The Wayne Community Theatre has announced auditions for its upcoming spring production, "Lunch Hour."

The play, which will be directed by Corinne Morris of Carroll, calls for two women parts and three men parts.

Tryouts are scheduled Sunday, March 17 from 2 to 4 p.m., and Monday, March 18 from 6 to 8 p.m. in Ley Theatre, located in the Brandenburg Education Building on the Wayne State College campus.

"LUNCH HOUR," written by Jean Kerr, is a comedy about the vagaries of marital bliss — once the honeymoon is over.

Characters include, Oliver DeVreck, an all-too-human psychiatrist and marriage counselor who wakes up on the last day in June only to discover that he needs more help than any of his patients.

The audience also will meet Carrie Sachs, who shows up as Oliver's doorman at an all-too-ideal patient. Her husband is having an affair — with Oliver's wife.

The play takes place at a beach house in the Hamptons where merriment ensues when the not-so-newlyweds start playing emotional hide-and-seek.

JEAN KERR, the play's author, is the wife of drama critic Walter Kerr and the mother of five sons and one daughter.

Her other plays include "Mary, Mary" and "Finishing Touches."

She also has written several best-selling books, including "Penny Candy," "The Snake Has All the Lines" and "How I Got to Be Perfect."

Children invited to Art Works program

A second "Art Works" program for children will be held this Saturday from 10:30 a.m. to noon in the Wayne city auditorium.

The event is being sponsored by the Wayne Regional Arts Council.

Dance, supervised by Wayne State College elementary physical education students, will be one of the three free activities scheduled.

According to WSC instructor Linda Teach, her students will provide the opportunity for children to learn basic rhythm through activities.

Mrs. Teach's students will present some special St. Patrick's Day games, an introduction to aerobic dancing, disco, song plays and folk dancing, including an Indian War dance.

Children will be divided into age groups for this event to allow them experiences to match their abilities.

NEGATIVE WEAVING and collage construction also will be available to youngsters attending Saturday's program.

Children will develop a pattern by removing threads from cloth during the negative weaving session, supervised by Cathy Blaser.

Marla McCue, coordinator of the Art Works events, will assist the youngsters in making collage from felt, vinyl, paper and other materials.

Persons who wish further information about the Art Works programs are asked to contact Veronica Trezona, 375-3422, or Marla McCue, 375-1986.

Jim Newton

Jim Newton in concert at Wayne State

Jim Newton of Celebration Shop, Inc. will be in concert on Thursday, March 21 in the north dining room of the Student Union on the Wayne State College campus.

The public is invited to attend the program free of charge at 8 p.m.

Newton, a singer, musician, songwriter, storyteller and entertainer, received his master's of theology degree from Perkins School of Theology in 1975.

Since that time he has made his ministry to people in music and storytelling, writing and producing seven record albums along the way.

He was featured this year at the United Methodist General Conference in Baltimore, Md., and at the Jurisdictional Conference in Lubbock, Texas.

Seminar

JULIE BROCKMAN, a junior at Winside High School, will represent Wayne County at a Citizenship Seminar on March 17-19 at Aurora. Julie, daughter of Jack and Marilyn Brockman, is being sponsored by the Wayne County Farm Bureau.

policy on weddings

The Wayne Herald welcomes news accounts and photographs of weddings involving families living in the Wayne area.

We feel there is widespread interest in local and area weddings, and are happy to make space available for their publication.

Because our readers are interested in current news, we ask that all weddings and photographs offered for publication be in our office within 48 hours of the date of the ceremony. Information submitted with a picture after that deadline will not be carried as a story but will be used in a column underneath the picture. Wedding pictures submitted after the story deadline will not be in our office within three weeks after the ceremony.

Auxiliary observes birthday of Legion

The birthday of the American Legion was observed during a meeting of the auxiliary on March 4 in the Wayne Vet's Club room.

Attending were 19 members, one junior member, and three guests, including Chris Bargholz, American Legion Commander; Roy Sommerfeld, and Sons of American Legion member Harold Thompson.

President Mary Kruger opened the meeting, with the advancing of the colors by Sergeants at Arms Frances Doring and Faunell Hoffman, program.

Chaplain Ethel Johnson read the opening prayer, followed with the flag salute and singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

EVELINE Thompson reported that County Government Day will be held March 21 at the Wayne County Courthouse. Lunch will be served by the Carroll American Legion Auxiliary, assisted by the Wayne and Winside auxiliaries.

Mrs. Thompson also announced that 60 tap robes, made by Marie Brugger, 32 white squares and six decks of large print playing cards were taken to the Norfolk Veterans Home.

A thank you was received from the Veterans Home for the Valentine's centerpieces, lap robes and cards.

Ethel Johnson gave a reading on the Chapel of Four Chaplains, and Linda Grubb, hospital chairman, reported visiting Lottie Longnecker, Emma Soules and Anna Mau at Wayne Care Centre, and Helen Hupp at Wakefield Health Care Center.

IT WAS reported by Eveline Thompson that all books, corsages and centerpieces have been sent for judging at the District III American Legion and Auxiliary Convention.

The convention will be held at Beemer on March 23, beginning with registration from 8 to 9 a.m.

Flag raising will be at 8:30 a.m., followed with a memorial service at 11 a.m. conducted by the West Point American Legion and Auxiliary.

There will be a noon luncheon, with the auxiliaries meeting at 1:30 p.m. at Beemer High School. Cost of the luncheon is $6.

FOLLOWING THE business meeting, the charter was draped and memorial services held for Arlene Olson.

Conducting the service were Mary Kruger, Ethel Johnson and Faunell Hoffman. Frances Doring sang "Aside With Me," accompanied by Alma Spillinger.

Marie Brugger read the program and serving committees for April, and Chaplain Johnson closed the meeting with a prayer for peace. The group sang "America."

Eveline Thompson presented a birthday cake and card to Commander Roy Sommerfeld, and all joined in singing the happy birthday song.

SERVING WERE Linda Grubb, Dorothea Schwake, Mabel Haberer and Theresa Samuelson.

Next meeting of the auxiliary will be April 8 at 8 p.m.

Laurel woman observes 90th birthday Sunday

A family potluck dinner, followed with an open house reception for 150 guests, was held March 10 in honor of the 90th birthday of Mrs. Mary Lipp of Laurel.

Dennis Lipp of Wayne served as master of ceremonies for the afternoon program which was held in the Laurel Senior Citizens Center.

Earl Lipp and Darlene Stine sang several family favorites, and the honoree's great grandchildren presented a skit, "Happiness is Having a Great Grandmother."

The program also included a vocal solo by Kenny Lipp, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and several violin selections by the honoree's son, Carroll Lipp.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hanson sang and reminisced about Mrs. Lipp's life, and Colleen Lipp closed with a favorite poem and prayer.

GUESTS ATTENDING the event from out-of-town included Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hanson and Brent of Willmar, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Dunn of Arcadia, Calif.; Wallace Chapalar and his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Osbahr, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Boeshart and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boeshart, all of Sioux City; and Mrs. Annie Kingston of Wakefield.

Others present from out-of-town were Mrs. Ivy Robinson of Council Bluffs, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Antone Lipp of Chillicothe, Mo.; Carroll Lipp of Billings, Mont.; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kuebic and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Boeshart, all of Emerson; Mrs. Frank Lipp of Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Rabbass and family and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Boeshart, all of Norfolk; and Steve Arduser of Anchorage, Alaska.

Other towns represented were Wayne, Coleridge, Allen, Belden, Dixon and Laurel.

bridal showers

Karla Burback

Karla Burback of Carroll was honored with a bridal shower Saturday, March 2 at the Carroll Methodist Church. Connie Burback, sister of the bride-elect, registered the 35 guests who attended from Ferris, Calif.; Wayne, Winside, Randolph and Carroll.

Hostesses, who presented the honoree with a corsage, were Mrs. Gene Reiffhusen, Mrs. Richard Janssen, Mrs. Allen Frähm, Mrs. Dennis Olsberhelman, Mrs. Arlyn Hurlbert, Mrs. Gerry Hurlbert, Mrs. Dennis Rohde and Mrs. Delmar Eddie. Decorations were in yellow and garnet.

Mrs. Dennis Rohde was in charge of introductions and read an original poem. She also read "Brides and Grooms" and "Eve of the Wedding."

Mrs. Loren Ellis of Wayne was winner of a contest and forwarded her prize to the honoree.

Connie Burback registered gifts and Sandy Burback, also a sister-of-the-bride, carried gifts. Mrs. Cliff Burback poured at the salad luncheon.

Miss Burback, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Burback of Carroll, and Mark Korh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Korh of Randolph, will be married April 13 at St. Frances Catholic Church in Randolph.

Pamela Beutler

Pamela Beutler of Bancroft, bride-elect of DeMont Haglund of Wakefield, was recently presented two bridal showers.

Thirty guests from Sioux City, Bancroft, Pender, Wakefield, Wayne and Rosalie attended a miscellaneous lute March 2 in the home of Mrs. Larry Bargmann of Bancroft. Decorations, which included a bell at the gift table, were in pink and white.

Hostesses were Mrs. Larry Neuhaus of Lyons, and Mrs. Larry Bargmann, Mrs. Ken Luffen, Mrs. Rich Freiberg, Mrs. Gene Nottlemann, Mrs. Dick Hermeibracht and Mrs. Diane Beutler, all of Bancroft.

ANOTHER miscellaneous shower was held Feb. 23 in the home of Mrs. Clarence Beutler of Bancroft, with 16 guests attending from Pender, Wakefield and Bancroft. Co-hostess was Patty Wegner of Bancroft.

Games furnished entertainment, and lunch was served from a decorated table with a floral centerpiece.

MISS BEUTLER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mylon Beutler of Bancroft, and DeMont Haglund, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cole Haglund of Wakefield, will be married March 23 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Bancroft.

Nuclear weapons focus of AAUW meeting

"Know Your Weapons" was the topic at the March meeting of the Wayne-branch of American Association of University Women (AAUW).

The group met last Monday evening at the Wayne Presbyterian Church.

"Know Your Weapons" is a one-hour slide and tape presentation put together for AAUW by Sheila Tobias, educator and co-author of "The People's Guide to National Defense."

The presentation defines, pictures and explains such weapon systems as Triad, ICBM, Cruise Missiles, MIRV and MX in terms that are easily understood.

Also featured in the show is the controversial MX missile, proposed for construction in western Nebraska, and an explanation of the increasing emphasis on the research of missiles with highly accurate targeting potential (first-strike weapons).

A SPOKESMAN for AAUW said the presentation is aimed at helping American taxpayers understand exactly how and where their money is being spent so they can make better informed decisions as voters in a democracy.

Discussion following the presentation touched on the significance of the increasing development of first strike weapons.

Members opposed to the release of further funds for the MX were urged to write to Senator Zorinsky.

"KNOW YOUR Weapons" is available to all interested groups and organizations.

Persons who would like additional information are asked to contact Rita Kissen, 375-2200.

The sights and sounds of

BASKETBALL

The road which eventually led the Wayne Blue Devil team to the State Boys basketball tournament in Lincoln started out a bit rocky in December, but the outcome down the stretch was one that had people throughout the community chanting "Go Big Blue" before the season was over.

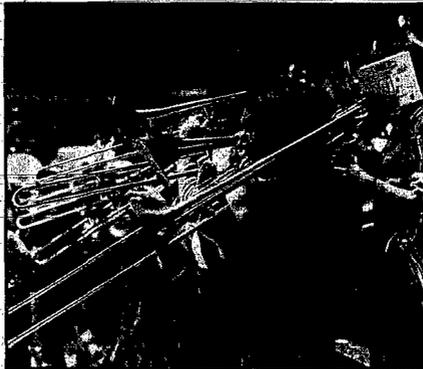

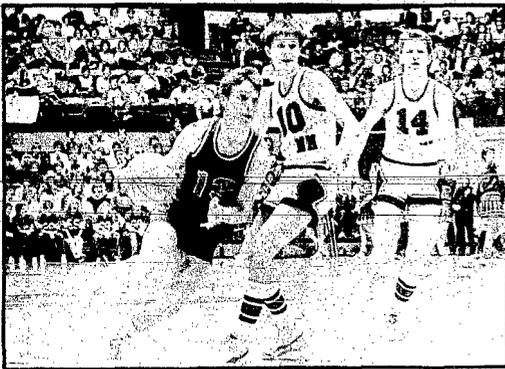

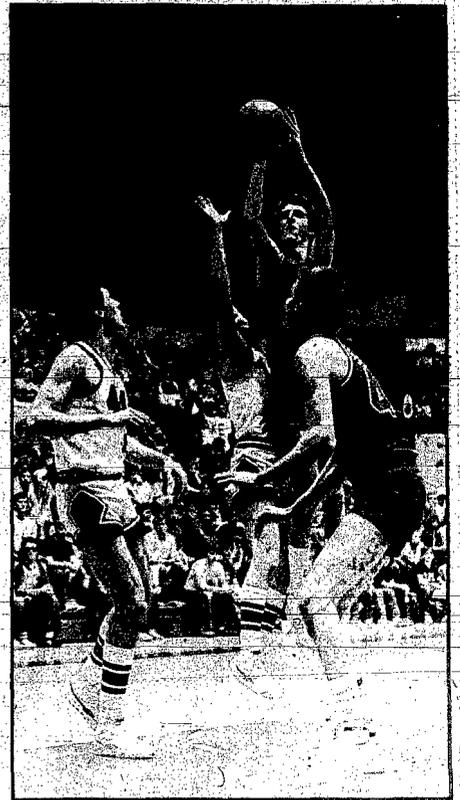

After hitting a stumbling block in a loss to Blair in the season opener, the Blue Devils recorded 10 straight wins over rivals such as Harlington Cedar Catholic and Columbus-Lakeview. West Point High dealt Wayne their second blow of the season in a 55-53 loss, but the Blue Devils gained their revenge at an opportune moment later in the year during the finals of the B-4 District tournament in Norfolk, earning their trip to state with a 60-38 win over the Cadets. Other wins at the district tournament included a 54-41 win over Columbus Scopus in the first round game and a 50-46 edge over Columbus-Lakeview in the semi-finals.

Making their first appearance in a state tournament since 1964, the Blue Devils were seeded fifth in the Class B bracket and matched up with a 19-2 Elkhorn Mount Michael squad in the opening round game on Thursday, March 7.

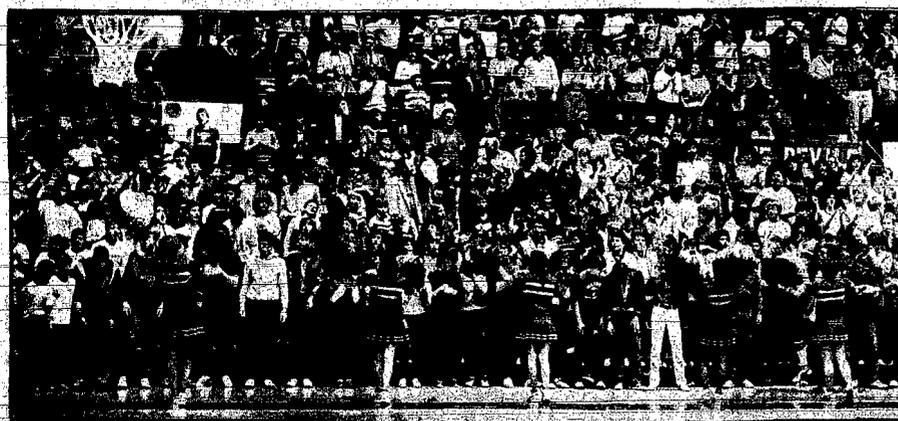

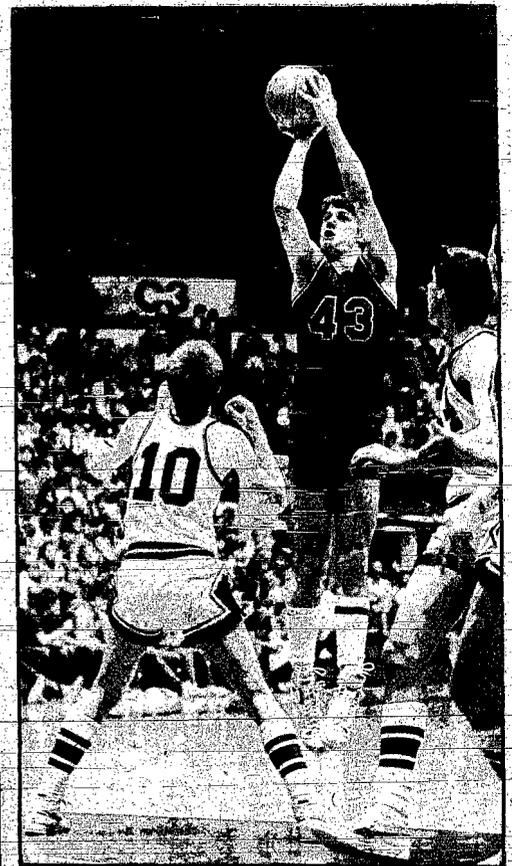

The contest between the two teams kept a vocal crowd on the edge of their seats before Mount Michael claimed a 58-53 win in triple overtime to advance to the second round. The Knights later won the state title in a battle with Valentine.

The state tournament game featured all the essential elements in making it memorable, including fine crowd support, bands, cheerleaders and mascots, and most of all, plenty of exciting basketball action.

Wayne posted an 18-3 season to finish second in the final ratings released by the Omaha World Herald.

'Mac' Maciejewski honored as Athletic Director of the Year

Wayne-Carroll High School Athletic Director Harold "Mac" Maciejewski was honored as the Nebraska Athletic Director of the Year at a banquet held Wednesday evening, March 6.

The award was presented on behalf of the Nebraska High School Athletic Directors Association at a gathering held in conjunction with their annual spring meeting at the Lincoln American Legion Post. Maciejewski received the award from last year's recipient, Ken Allen, former athletic director at Ralston High School.

Maciejewski was chosen from a field of athletic directors from across the state, and was only the fourth athletic director from a Class B school to receive the honor in the 12 years the award has been presented. The other eight recipients have been from Class A schools.

Present to share in the festivities were Maciejewski's wife Leah; daughters Karen of Lincoln and Carol of Los Vegas, Calif.; Dr. and Mrs. Francis Haun and Dr. and Mrs. Don Zeiss of Wayne and a large group of family members and friends.

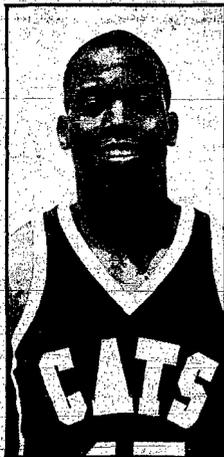

Also present were two members of Maciejewski's 1956 state championship basketball team, Glenn Houdtscheldt of Los Vegas, Calif., and Ken Dahl of Wayne, along with former student Don Bodenahl of Fremont.

In addition to the plaque, Maciejewski received a caricature drawn by Wayne High instructor Ted Blönderman which was signed by faculty members and over 100 cards and letters from family, friends, former students and athletes.

Maciejewski will retire at the end of the 1984-85 school year after serving as athletic director and in various coaching positions at Wayne-Carroll High School for the past 31 years.

Wayne State College trio earns cage honors on NAIA District 11 first team

Wayne State basketball players Tracy Penn, Calvin Sprew and Barb Wragge were named to the 1984-85 edition of the NAIA District 11 first team basketball squad, according to information released by district chairman John Gibbs of Peru State and Dan Wurtz of Kearney State.

A total of nine cage players were repeat selections to the men's and women's teams, which were selected through votes taken from the district coaches.

IN THE MEN'S division, four players were repeat selections for the first team, including Dave Fletcher of Hastings, Brian Anderson of Kearney, Mike Paulson of Bellevue, and Todd Shanks of Bellevue.

Joining Penn and Sprew were eight other representatives from Kearney, Midland, Doane, Hastings, Bellevue, and Dana. An additional eight players received honorable mention.

Penn, a repeat selection to the team, ended his final season with the Wildcats as the leading scorer, logging 567 points for an average of 17.7 points per game. The 5-11 senior guard also led in assists with 130 for an average of 4.1 per game and in steals with 78 for an average of 2.4. From the line, Penn hit 95 of 124 shots for 77 percent.

Sprew, a 6-3 junior forward in the Wildcat program, was second on the season scoring charts with 46 points for an average of 15.2 points per game. He hauled in a total of 218 rebounds throughout the season for an average of 7.3 to lead the Cats, and was also a strong free throw shooter, nailing 100 of 135 attempts for 76 percent.

NAMED NAIA District 11 Most Valuable Player was Jon Bergmeier of Kearney, who led the Antelopes in scoring with an average of over 20 points per game.

First team members included Bergmeier, Kearney; Todd Shanks, Midland Lutheran; Dave Fletcher, Hastings; Brian Hoffman, Doane; Tracy Penn, Wayne; Mike Paulson, Bellevue; Craig Krammer, Midland Lutheran; Calvin Sprew, Wayne; Brian Anderson, Kearney; and Todd Hinkle, Dana.

Receiving honorable mention were Randy Edwards, Hastings; Roger Sunderman, Doane; Bill Gabers, Dana; Kirk Shuck, Kearney; Rich King, Chadron; Matt Peterson, Dana; Clay Ervin, Bellevue; Todd Hollingsworth, Peru.

Rich McGill of Midland Lutheran College received NAIA District 11 Coach of the Year honors.

LADY WILDCAT Barb Wragge, a 5-8 senior guard, was one of four seniors named to the NAIA District 11 women's first team.

Repeat selections included

Wragge, Linda Shepard, Peru; Vicki Harlan, Midland; Betty Nienkamp, Doane; and LaNell Cox, Kearney.

Wragge ended her career at WSC as the team's leading scorer, netting 458 points for an average of 15.3 points per game. She was also second on the rebounding charts with 239 boards for an average of eight rebounds per game.

She was also the team leader in assists with 86 for an average of 2.8 per game and in steals with 59 for an average of just under two per game.

At the free throw line, Wragge led the team, hitting 136 of 177 shots for 77 percent, a figure which also placed her atop the free throw shooters in the district as well.

Members of the NAIA District 11 women's first team included Linda Shepard, Peru; Vicki Harlan, Midland Lutheran; Sarita Miller, Midland Lutheran; Betty Nienkamp, Doane; Tanja Wesson, St. Mary's; Barb Wragge, Wayne; Beth Carlson, Kearney; Sherri Jeff, St. Mary's; LaNell Cox, Kearney; and Kim Cook, Hastings.

Linda Shepard was recognized for setting a NAIA scoring record of 49 points in a game against Tarkio College earlier in the year. She averaged 23.8 points per game throughout the season.

Kathy Foley of Dana College was chosen as District Coach of the Year by her colleagues.

Wildcats end road trip with wins over Austin College

Wayne State's 1985 baseball team ended their southern trip with style over the past weekend, scoring a pair of wins against Austin College of Texas on Saturday in a doubleheader.

In action on Friday, the Wildcats dropped a twin bill to Southeast Oklahoma State in Durant, Okla., to round out the week's competition.

The Cats returned home with a 3-8 record.

"I was very well pleased with the trip. We were competitive in all the ball games and we played the good teams close," said Coach Lenny Klaver. Klaver is entering his second year at the helm of the Wildcat diamond program.

WSC was scheduled to travel to Lincoln for a pair of games at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln yesterday (Wednesday).

AGAINST AUSTIN College on Saturday, Wayne State had little trouble with the Kangaroos, logging a 10-0 shutout on the 10-run rule in the opening game and holding out for a 7-4 victory in the nightcap.

A three run triple by senior outfielder Kurt Brosamle gave WSC their tenth run in the top of the fifth inning to aid the Cats in the win. Senior Pete Saccone launched a three run triple for his only hit of the game in four at-bats in the fourth inning.

Other top performances at the plate came from freshman shortstop Dale Clayton, hitting 3 for 3 with a double, and Pat Salerno who carded two RBI's with a double and single at the bag.

Junior pitcher Mark Prignitz evened his record at 1-1 with the win, shutting down Austin College in the bottom of the fifth inning to preserve the victory.

Wayne played errorless ball in the game, committing no errors and blasting a dozen hits, compared to three for the hosts.

IN THE SECOND game of the doubleheader, the Wildcats had to come from behind after Austin College broke their hitting game open and scored four runs in the bottom of the second inning to take a 4-2 lead.

Wayne came back to take the lead with a pair of runs in the top of the fifth inning and added two more in the top of the seventh to clinch the outcome.

Senior catcher Jeff Scharn blasted a two run homer and was 2 for 4 with three RBI's. Sophomore infielder Mike Hoffart had a double for Wayne's only other extra base hit and was 2 for 4 in the game.

Freshman pitcher Kevin Hoffart evened his collegiate pitching record at 1-1 with the win on the mound.

THE WILDCATS were stuck for a pair of losses in their doubleheader with Southeast Oklahoma State on Friday, March 8. WSC lost the first game by a narrow 5-4 margin and next two innings. The Wildcats committed a pair of errors in the game and allowed Southeast Oklahoma three unearned runs.

Pitcher Jeff Rothrock took the loss for the Cats, allowing five runs on six hits.

Leading hitters for Wayne were Pete Saccone, who went 3 for 4 with two RBI's and senior first baseman Gregg Cruickshank and outfielder Pete Miller, each 1 for 3 with one RBI each.

THE CATS were handed defeat in the second game of the day, losing in a 5-1 decision to Southeast.

The Savages broke a 1-1 tie in the bottom of the fourth inning with a single run and added another run in the sixth and two runs in the last to seal the win.

Mike Hoffart knocked out two hits in three trips to the plate, while Gregg Cruickshank was 2 for 4 at the bag. Dave Lang suffered the loss pitching for Wayne State.

Overall for the trip, the Wildcats performed well at the plate, recording a .334 team batting average for the 11 games. Team leaders include Dale Clayton, who went 14 of 34 at the plate for a .412 average with one home run and eight RBI's. Jeff Scharn ended the swing with a .306 average, including four home runs and 13 RBI's.

Additional games

Wayne State baseball Coach Lenny Klaver has announced additions to the Wildcat spring schedule.

Weather permitting, the Cats are scheduled to host Augustana College, of Sioux Falls, S.D. Thursday (today) for a doubleheader, beginning at 1 p.m.

Also added to the schedule is a home duel with the University of South Dakota next Thursday, March 18.

Runner-up at Central States

Lady Cats successful softball trip nets trophy, 6-4 record

Sporting the runner-up trophy from the Central States tournament and a 6-4 record, the Wayne State Lady Wildcat softball team returned home from a successful southern swing this past weekend.

"I'm really happy with the way our trip went for us," said WSC Coach Marilyn Strate. "We had games against some rugged competition and all of our scores were close. If we had been hitting better, there is a good chance we could have won some of the close ones."

WSC started off their week of action with a pair of wins over Central State of Oklahoma to top their record to 4-0 before entering the Central States tournament in Oklahoma City on Friday and Saturday, March 8-9.

In the tournament, Wayne was 1-2 in the first day of pool play, downing Forrest Park of St. Louis before falling to CSC foe Emporia State 2-0 and Central State 4-0. During the single elimination tourney on Saturday, the Lady Cats slipped past Pittsburg State 2-1 and Oklahoma Baptist 1-0 to advance to the finals against NCAA Division I Central Michigan. WSC lost in the championship game, 5-1.

The international tie breaker rule placed on second base for WSC and she in turn scored the winning run off a ground ball hit to the shortstop by outfielder Shelle Tomaszewicz.

"In the bottom of the eighth, PSU filed 'to the centerfielder' before Wayne pitcher Lauri Owens struck out the final two batters to preserve the win.

Blomberg, Lingelbach and freshman infielder Paula Dolsch all carded singles in the batting order.

Wayne State	000	001	01	—	2	4	5

Con. Michigan	002	030	00	—	5	5	3
Wayne State	001	000	00	—	1	1	3

A SINGLE RUN in the bottom of the first inning was all that was needed as the Lady Cats clinched a 1-0 victory over Oklahoma Baptist in the semi-finals.

Senior Carmen Doeschot scored the run after reaching first base on a single. She advanced to second on a passed ball and took third on a sacrifice bunt by Michelle Blomberg.

A hit by Shelle Tomaszewicz brought Doeschot across the plate with no outs.

Doeschot led hitting with two singles, followed by Blomberg, Teresa Durbal and Guenther, all with one single.

Lauri Owens moved her season pitching record to 3-2 with one save after taking the win over Oklahoma Baptist.

The tournament began with pool play on Friday, with Wayne winning their opening game 4-1 over Forrest Park.

Blomberg and senior first baseman Suzy Todd scored WSC's first runs in the fourth inning and Mary Lingelbach and Tomaszewicz crossed the plate an inning later to give the Lady Cats the win.

Lingelbach started on the mound and was relieved by Owens in the fifth inning.

Shelle Tomaszewicz belted out a triple in the sixth inning for the only extra base hit of the game for WSC.

ALTHOUGH THEY hit evenly with their opponent in the Emporia State game, WSC was unable to bring any base runners across in the loss to the Lady Hornets, with two costly errors making the difference.

The two hits came off the bats of Blomberg and Tomaszewicz. Owens was credited with the pitching loss.

Wayne's second loss of the day came at the hands of Central States, who gained revenge against two earlier WSC wins with a 4-0 victory. Central States let loose for nine hits, while the WSC was only able to manage a trio of singles from Mary Guenther, Carmen Doeschot and Durbal.

Mary Lingelbach took the loss for WSC on the mound.

The Lady Cats initial wins of the week came on Tuesday against Central States. Wayne won the opener 2-0 on runs by Lingelbach and Tomaszewicz.

WSC ended CSU's hopes of scoring in the third inning when Shelle Tomaszewicz threw to Teresa Durbal from the outfield to home plate to knock a runner out at the plate.

In the second game, Wayne State scored three runs in the first inning and held on to take a 3-1 win.

"Right now, our defense and pitching are helping to keep us in our ball games," said Strate. "We need to work on our hitting and start hitting more off of the pitchers in actual games."

Concerning the team's second place finish at the Central States tournament, Strate commented that the competition was strong, and it gave her team the chance to face some teams which they will play against later on during the season, especially in the Central States conference.

Learning to defend

AS PART OF physical education classes at Wayne-Carroll High School, students were given some insight into some self-defense practices by Tim Thomas, a Wayne taekwondo instructor. He emphasized the use of hands or body over conventional weapons and related experiences where he has put self-defense tactics to use. Students also were given the opportunity to "break boards" as part of the skills sharpening. Above left, Tim Thomas (right) demonstrates the proper technique of board breaking. Upper right, a Wayne-Carroll student breaks a single board. Below, the students in Ron Carnes' physical education class do some stretching exercises before going into some self-defense tactics.

received notification that it would receive over $131,000 in block grant funding to complete the Roosevelt Park project. That total is approximately 80 percent of the anticipated cost.

The bids will be reviewed and analyzed by Bruce Gilmore & Associates, Inc. of Columbus, Nebraska, consulting engineers of the project.

Representative of the consulting engineer firm, Dennis Hirschbrunner, said Tuesday evening that Fairground Avenue and Windom Street are also construction projects planned this year — both to be done by Western Plains Construction Company.

Also planned will be to finish the paving projects started last year on West Third Street, South Douglas, the alley near First National Bank Drive-in, and a cul-de-sac in the Coan Addition.

"This spring and summer it will be hectic and busy around here," Hirschbrunner said.

Another street project scheduled for this summer is reconstruction of Seventh Street and Seventh Street North Main.

In other action, the city council voted to annex the Sunnyview Addition into the city limits. The council first conducted the second reading of the ordinance and waded the third reading, then acted to pass the ordinance.

At the last city council meeting, several of the Sunnyview Addition residents asked if the annexation procedure had been given thorough consideration and if the city was willing to inherit a mud problem along with the annexation.

City officials did not address the mud problem at the Tuesday evening meeting.

A letter was received by the city council from an area resident requesting that a "handicap parking only" location be placed near the State National Bank.

The request will be placed for consideration at the March 26 regular meeting.

"I think that is what we can afford," answered Hansen.

"I calculate that would be about a 25 percent reduction in services," stated chairman Lawrence.

Hansen's motion was defeated by a five to three vote and was followed by a motion by DeBoer to "totally cut the nursing program from services provided by ESU 1."

That motion was defeated six to two, with DeBoer and Lahrs voting in favor.

"I MOVE THAT ESU 1 fund the nursing program at a level of $205,000, or an approximate 10 percent reduction in services," said Steffen, adding "I think that gives the program a chance to live."

Before voting seven to one in favor of Steffen's motion, board members rejected six to two an amendment to that motion by DeBoer to assess schools a $5 fee per half day of services.

submitted to board members Tuesday night by the special committee appointed to study programs supported by the levy focused on media services and co-op purchases.

The board rejected the committee's motion to implement financial participation at the schools in the media services program.

The motions submitted by the committee asked that each school be charged $1 for each piece of equipment or media delivered or utilized by schools.

"The service unit for years has said we will furnish this service," said board member Hansen. "Now we come along and say we're changing the whole philosophy."

"I have not been contacted by any schools who say they are in favor of this. They believe we need to give this more thought."

"I think the $1 per item is a little excessive," said board member Steffen, adding that he would favor a minimal charge of $1 per delivery instead of $1 per item.

"With all due respect to the committee," said ESU 1 Administrator Harry Mills, "under the present circumstances I would oppose any changes in levy programs. I may be sticking my neck out, but that's how I feel."

Board members voted five to three to reject the committee's recommendation for changes in media services.

BOARD MEMBERS voted unanimously, however, to accept a recommendation by the committee regarding co-op purchases.

The recommendation, as passed by the board, states that in order to cover the unit's cost of the program, schools will be charged six percent of their total order for participation in the program.

Delivery of purchases will be available, at the school's option, for a charge of four percent of the value of the merchandise delivered.

The rate of charge for both participation and delivery will be annually adjusted to recover the unit's estimated costs.

Administrator Mills pointed out that the six percent fee for participation in the co-op purchase program represents a one percent increase over last year's participation charge.

City Auditorium chairs, tables not for rent

People will no longer be able to rent tables and chairs from the Wayne City Auditorium after March 15.

The Wayne City Council unanimously passed a resolution to cease auditorium table-chair renting. New chairs and tables recently acquired by the city for the auditorium, financed through general revenue sharing money, have arrived and will replace approximately 325 chairs and 15 tables. The current plans are to transfer the older chairs and tables to the National Guard Armory in Wayne.

Final confirmation by National Guard Armory officials on acceptance or renting out of the older tables and chairs to the public, has not been secured as of Wednesday morning, the Wayne Herald was told.

Cost of the new chairs and tables for the auditorium was $4,135, said Wayne City Clerk Carol Brummond.

"It's a good move. That's all I have to say about it," said Councilman Keith Mosley concerning the option to not lease the new city auditorium tables and chairs.

The city had been charging $1.50 per table and 15 cents per chair for rental of the auditorium's equipment.

WSC group to New York

Ten Wayne State College students will be carrying their education to New York City March 31-April 7 to represent Spain at the Model United Nations program.

The students will play the roles of delegates from Spain at the UN headquarters. The group will also be given a special briefing on Spain and the United Nations by diplomats of the Spanish Mission in New York.

This is the 11th straight year Wayne State has sent a team of students to the Model UN. Students from about 100 other colleges and universities will also take part. Allen O'Donnell, professor of political science, is sponsoring the WSC team. While in New York, the students will stay in the Grand Hyatt Hotel in Manhattan, near Broadway, Macy's department store and Madison Square Garden, O'Donnell said.

Joe Hurd of Schuyler will serve as the head delegate (ambassador). This is his second trip to the Model UN. He represented Ghana in 1984.

Groundwater quality bill not a good solution

by Cheryl Stubbendieck
The Nebraska Legislature's Agriculture and Environment Committee heard testimony Feb. 28 on a bill that would establish 14 parts per million of nitrate in groundwater as an acceptable level. The bill, LB 463, remains in that committee and should stay there.

Increasing nitrate concentrations have been linked to the use of nitrogen fertilizer for agricultural production. Sen. Chris Beutler of Lincoln introduced LB 463, as he said, a means of getting started in tackling a growing problem.

Whether nitrate concentrations in groundwater is a growing problem isn't clear. It is true that nitrate levels have increased in some areas of Nebraska. Motorists who stop at 1-80 rest areas in Hall County have no doubt seen signs warning that infants should not drink the water available there. Research studies dating back to 1948 suggest that high levels of nitrates in water can cause blue baby syndrome, which can cause deaths in infants. The reliability of those early studies is being questioned today, however.

The federal standard for parts per million of nitrate is 10 ppm, whereas LB 463 proposes 14. Still, not enough is known about the problem to say whether either standard is appropriate. And further, it's questionable whether either level could be achieved statewide. Beutler has said he is flexible about the exact ppm standard to be set.

FARMERS DO recognize that nitrate leaching is a concern. No other profession or industry is more aware of the need to preserve groundwater quality than is agriculture, and no other profession or industry is more dependent on groundwater quality.

In recent years, agricultural producers have been adopting management practices that are preventing the increases and spread of nitrate groundwater pollution. Coupled with concern for water quality is the economic reality that nitrogen fertilizer is expensive. If higher applications are not needed and are not going to be used by the crop, there's no good reason to throw good money away. Increasingly accurate tests to determine carry-over N levels allow farmers to apply less nitrogen. New irrigation practices, such as center pivot systems, have also greatly reduced the problem, especially in sandy soils which more easily leach nitrates.

Although recognition of nitrate pollution is a recent concern, agriculture has been using nitrogen fertilizers for 30 to 50 years and the current situation is assumed to be the result of those decades of use. The problem didn't develop overnight and won't be fixed that quickly.

In addition, University of Nebraska studies have found that an average of 2,000 pounds of N per acre occurs naturally. The potential leaching of this natural nitrogen is unpredictable. Topography, soil type and climate impact the actual amount of leaching that occurs. If the naturally occurring amount is combined with the 30 to 50 pounds per acre that leaches in developed fine-textured soils, or the 50 to 70 pounds that leaches in developed sandy soils, the end result is concentration above 10 to 14 ppm.

EVEN IF ALL land and irrigation development in most areas of the state were limited in order to reach 10 to 14 ppm level, there would still be the potential for naturally occurring leaching at 20 ppm. LB 463 would require that any level in excess of the legislated standard be cleaned up, but it's unclear how that could be done in areas with naturally high levels of nitrate.

Farmers support realistic means to preserve water quality. But the 14 ppm specified in LB 463 is unrealistic and arbitrary and doesn't provide a realistic solution to the problem. More research on water quality and water quality standards is needed. Coupled with adoption of better management practices, Nebraska will be able to preserve its water quality without restricting land and irrigation development.

This is one concern farmers are on top of. LB 463 shouldn't go anywhere, but if it does spark more research, then it can have a most desirable impact.

Stubbendieck is director of information for the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation.

Farm Bureau meeting
Members of the membership committee and their wives were honored at the regular meeting of the Dixon County Farm Bureau. Membership co-chairmen Marilyn Malcom and Mary Lou Koester prepared the meal. President Duane Koester called the meeting to order. Items of business were the Youth Citizenship Seminar to be held in Aurora on March 17, 18 and 19. Dixon County will send one youth, Teresa Schweers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Schweers of Ponca. An open house will be held at the Farm Bureau office in Allen tomorrow (Friday) from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. There will be discounts up to 25 percent on tires, 20 percent on tubes and batteries. Come and have coffee.

The Charles Marshal Loan Fund is being made available to students attending accredited institutions for the advancement of personal skills in nursing or other educational areas. Applicants must be from a rural community and show financial need. Applications can be made by contacting the Farm Bureau office in Allen by the end of May.

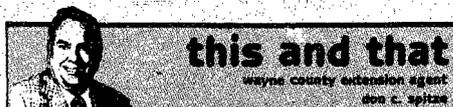

Plans were finalized for the annual banquet. A pancake supper will be held March 23. This is open to the public. Serving will start at 6:30. Musical numbers will be presented by the Allen swing choir prior to the program at 8 p.m. Bryce Neidig, Nebraska Farm Bureau president, will be the featured speaker. It will be held at the school gym in Allen.

CCC Loan Interest Rate
Commodity loans disbursed in March by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation will carry a 9-1/8 percent interest rate, the same as the rate in effect for February. CCC Executive Vice President Everett Rank said today.

The 9-1/8 percent rate reflects the interest rate charged CCC by the U.S. Treasury in March, Rank said.

Sign-up deadline
Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block today said the sign-up deadline for the 1985 acreage reduction programs has been extended from March 1 to April 1.

Block said it is his hope that this extension will provide producers with additional time to plan their farm credit needs for the 1985 planting season.

"Shoestring management" of beef breeding programs
Stringent economic times for cow-calf producers require "shoestring management" of beef breeding programs to approach profitability, according to Jim Gosey, extension beef specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

He lists these six cost-effective practices in commercial herds:

1. Cull open cows each year — especially yearling heifers and wet 2-year-olds. Sort off each open female and pick an optimum sale time based on price changes, gain potential, age and available feed. Consider culling cows which fail to have a live calf at the end of the calving season.
2. Cull functional problem cows. These are time and money consumers — such as those with bad eyes, teeth, teats, feet and dispositions, plus one that are hard-keepers, non-claimers and hard calvers.
3. Examine bulls for breeding soundness, especially in the case of single-sire herds, young bulls and following winter stress. Breeding soundness exams are based on an evaluation of semen sample, examination of the reproductive tract (including rectal palpation), and measurement of scrotal circumference.
4. Buy bulls based on specification or need. It will pay to require estimated breeding values for calving ease, growth and maternal traits on all purchased bulls.
5. Match cow size, milk production and breeding season to economically available forages. Cow fertility and wintering ability would serve as indicators of mismatches.
6. Plan a crossbreeding program carefully. Consideration given to ease of management, source of replacement heifers, avoiding calving problems, use of terminal sires and maintenance of hybrid vigor all should pay dividends.

Worried about groundwater?

Pursuant to LB 1106, passed by the Nebraska Unicameral, the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District will have a "Groundwater Management Plan" by January 1986.

In order to gain input from all areas of the District and special interest groups, the NRD will form a "Citizens Advisory Subcommittee." This subcommittee will assist the NRD in assessing the groundwater concerns, potential problems and possible management plans for the District.

The 14 member subcommittee will be represented by the following: two cities & villages; one rural water district; three irrigators; one center pivot non-chemigator; one center pivot chemigator; one gravity irrigator; one industrial user; one irrigation dealer; one livestock industry; one well driller; one individual domestic user (dryland farmer); one environmental organization representative; one farm organization representative; and one citizen from conflict area (draw down during pumping season).

For more information or if you wish to become a member of this subcommittee, please advise the Lower Elkhorn NRD, P.O. Box 1204, Norfolk, NE 68701; 371-7313 by Thursday, March 21.

Teams help when banks fail

The Farmers Home Administration is dispatching special loan teams to Midwest communities to make operating loans to farmers who had credit with closed banks, Frank W. Naylor Jr., Under Secretary for Small Community and Rural Development, said today.

The teams are working with employees of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation — the liquidator of an insured bank when it is closed by the Comptroller of the Currency — to identify "stranded" loans that may be eligible for a Farmers Home loan guarantee. Each team is composed of five experienced loan specialists.

One team has arrived in Cherokee, Iowa, where it is processing eligible loans left by the closing of the Steete Bank and Trust Co. in mid-January. Another team is due today in Fulda, Minn., where the Citizens State Bank was closed Feb. 15.

Team leaders have arrived in Woodbine and Inwood in Iowa, both sites of closed banks. Their team members are expected to arrive shortly, Naylor said.

ADDITIONAL TEAM MEMBERS will be sent to Mt. Ayr, Iowa, and to Cody, Neb. Others will travel to a regional office in Omaha, where loans from nine banks that were closed in Nebraska and Iowa since mid-1984 have been assembled by the FDIC.

"Our goal is to locate every farmer whose credit position was put in jeopardy by bank closings, and to see if the farmers are eligible for a Farmers Home loan guarantee," Naylor said.

"For those who are eligible, we are prepared to guarantee a loan for this year's crop production. In turn, the FDIC has agreed not to liquidate the existing loans this year."

The two agencies have signed a formal agreement calling for the FDIC to notify FmHA when a bank with farm loans in its portfolio has been closed. FmHA can then send a team to the community involved. Naylor said the agency has formed 20 such teams, and will dispatch them as needed.

"Naylor said this loan action is in addition to FmHA's regular farm loan program and the debt restructuring program that began last year. "We recognized that many farmers had no place to turn for credit at a crucial time of year while the bank liquidation was proceeding," he said.

I don't play games! There was a book several years ago called "Games People Play," a description of things people do to avoid expressing their feelings or actions. They use to manipulate others. I seldom confront, but I say what I mean.

I also don't play Monopoly, Pitch, or Scrabble. There are never enough hours to read the things I want to do as it is. I certainly don't want to waste it moving little things around a board.

In analyzing this, I think it has to do with the fact that I'm not competitive, number one plus. I do not like to depend for winning on the roll of a die or the draw of a card, number two.

I especially do not like Bingo. But to each his own. I know some people particularly enjoy that game.

When I was growing up, birthdays and other observances were celebrated with card parties. We would bring cake and sandwiches, card tables and chairs. The adults would play Pitch, and we kids would tear around, particularly upstairs. We didn't stay home with babysit-

ers. Some of my parent's friends had played so many hours of cards, they had possibilities memorized.

MY DAD, FOR instance, was one who remembered the cards in every hand, and when I lead the wrong one, would say, "What did you play that for?" and make me feel really stupid.

Bridge probably would get my vote as the card game to play, if I had the time to get good at it. Problem here is, I talk too much and don't concentrate enough! What's the use of friends getting together if we can't visit?

I once took a series of twelve bridge lessons. We met once a week. The hostess made a big pot of coffee. I drank coffee and concentrated on my cards for about three hours, and then couldn't sleep the rest of the night for going over and over my hands.

The Big Farmer, of course, is good at games, especially Monopoly and Scrabble. He shows no mercy. In the former, he buys Park Place and Boardwalk, puts on hotels, and waits for the rest of us to come around and pay.

In Scrabble, though I am sure I have the larger vocabulary, he has the better ability to picture how they will fit together. I've beaten him once in Scrabble. I got up at 5:00 on a Sunday morning to go to work, got stuck in snow in the driveway; he couldn't pull me out, so we played Scrabble and I think I was wider awake.

He also plays chess. He has the kind of mind that enjoys chess, and he had lots of practice in grad school. I tried to learn this game before we were married, and decided that if I was going to impress him, it wouldn't be at the chess board. Who wants to stare at a board of light and dark squares and try to decide where to move light and dark pieces with funny names for hours? Besides, they all move different ways!

Finally, there is a game in which I at least have a chance. It's called Trivia. There are no dice, no cards, no one calling out number-letter combinations. Just questions, about everything and anything.

MY MIND RETAINS garbage — the Big Farmer's does not. Obviously, I like this game — he does not. So, on Saturday night, I fixed lasagna, and we had some friends over for Chess and Trivia.

We have a game cupboard full of games and puzzles. But there was no Trivial Pursuit. I couldn't find it anywhere, and the girls weren't home.

So we settled for Trivial Adventure, the kids' version. It took us three hours to finish this silly game. I named all the seven dwarfs but Doc. Ginny Hansen did not know that Dec. 21 was the first day of Winter, and Colson Jeffries had no idea who Nancy Drew's boyfriend is! Obviously, this is not my game either, though I did know Spiderman's real identity.

The clincher came when Kay came home and said I should look under the couch for the Trivia game. I found Trivia, Masterpiece, and a puzzle! No more games for awhile for me.

SENIOR CITIZENS
The seniors held a bake sale and serving of pies, rolls and coffee on Saturday earning approximately $250. Vic Carpenter received the large basket of groceries and John Noe, the small basket. The March bake sale will be held on Tuesday, March 18 at the Farmer's Cafe. Reservations are to be in to director Joanne Rahn by tomorrow (Friday). Be sure to wear something green for the special St. Patrick's breakfast. The Allen center is invited to breakfast for dinner on Tuesday, March 19. Those wishing to attend are to let Joanne know by Monday morning.

The Allen Senior Citizens Council met at the center on March 5 for the regular order of business. Bills were paid followed by plans for the bake sale that was held Saturday. It was moved to purchase glow paints for use at the center. May is Governor's Conference month. One delegate may be sent this year. Exercise class is being held on Monday mornings. Government commodities was to be at the center yesterday (Wednesday) at 10:30. Oscar Koester, president, with some other members attended a share and care program at Laurel. A visiting nurse is available and also "Life Line" for those needing it.

Over 45 attended the birthday party held at the center on March 8. The honorees for the month of March are Ella Isom, Oscar Koester, Opal Allen, who with her husband Pete were also celebrating their 53rd wedding anniversary, Joe Novak, Marion Stewart, LeRoyce Understall and Irvin Rasmussen. Serving as hostess were Elsie Brawner, Nola Potter, Dorothy Brownell and Virginia Wheeler. Fern and Herman Hansen were back from Florida and joined the group.

The card party for March will be held tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 at the center with Arghil Linafelter and Joanne Rahn hosting.

PANCAKE BREAKFAST
The Music Boosters and band members earned between $550 and $600 at the pancake breakfast served Sunday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the school. They served approximately 400 persons. Proceeds will be used for the trip planned this May.

How do you know if you're winning if you don't keep TABS?

The agri business industry is a tough race to be in. You need to keep tabs on your entire farm operation. There's no better way than with Farm TABS, the Total Agri Business System from Terra. Farm TABS is computer hardware and software designed especially for today's agri businessman, to help you get ahead and stay ahead.

Keep TABS on your farm machinery. The Farm TABS software contains a complete machinery management program. It's designed to help you analyze management alternatives and make winning financial decisions. With costs rising everywhere, you need to get the most out of your machinery dollar. Now you can take the guesswork out of managing your machinery by accurately calculating operating and loan costs.

Keep TABS on crop management. The Crop/Livestock Profit Projector program gives you an edge by helping analyze the profitability of each of the different enterprises on your farm. It can eliminate some of the guesswork of forecasting profit or loss, and assist you as you consider adding an enterprise or phasing one out. It provides a foundation of cost analysis so that future investment alternatives and marketing decisions can be made to keep you ahead of the game.

Keep TABS on finances and accounting. Farm TABS helps you keep tabs on all your finances. The Financial Management contains Farm Profit Analysis, Depreciation Schedules, Land Purchase Analysis, Loan Cost and Interest Income calculators and much more! The Farm Accounting package ties the entire operation together with vital information on keeping your farm in the competition. There's no better system available today to help keep tabs on your entire agri-business operation than Farm TABS. See your Terra location today for a free agri demonstration.

FOOD AWARENESS
By Ann Crowley
R.D., Ph.D.
AN IRISH FEAST
QUESTION: Why is cabbage used on St. Patrick's Day? It isn't green and I thought Germans ate cabbage instead of the Irish.
ANSWER: There is nothing more Irish than Patty's corned beef and cabbage. The people who live in Ireland have used potatoes and cabbage as the two main stays of their diet. In the past they had little meat and few fresh fruits or vegetables.
Cabbage is a very nutritious food and seldom gets credit for being high in vitamin A, vitamin C, the B vitamins, and many minerals. The greener the leaves the more nutrients in the cabbage.
The best way to cook cabbage is to steam the leaves or to cook them in a small amount of water. When you make corned beef and cabbage, first simmer the corned beef until tender. Remove the meat from the liquid. Next place the wedges of green cabbage in the meat broth. Simmer the pot of cabbage in the meat broth. Simmer the pot of cabbage uncovered for only 15 to 20 minutes. The cabbage will be tender but crisp and full of nutrients.
Happy St. Patrick's Day!

Gun Show in Wayne

THE ANNUAL Logan Valley Gun Show took place Saturday and Sunday at the Wayne City Auditorium. Thirty-six exhibitors, occupying about 85 tables, displayed and bought or sold or traded guns and other hunting related items at the gun show. The exhibitors came primarily from a five-state area including Wisconsin, South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska. Gun show organizers say there were about 600 paying customers reviewing the exhibits during both days of the event. "The number of exhibitors was about the same as last year. But the number of people paying at the door was greater," the spokesperson said. In the photo at left, two gun enthusiasts talk trade. At right, Brian Lewon of Randolph puts together a taxidermy display for the gun show. Below, close inspection of a gun is done by a gun show visitor.
