Timpte general contractor announced

Timpte, Inc. has given the general contract work for the Timpte building site to Chief Construction Company, said Wayne's Mayor Wayne Marsh during the Tuesday regular meeting of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Chief Construction Company is a division of Chief Industries, Inc. out of Grand Island, Nebraska.

Chief built the Timpte building down in David City and they were satisfied and wanted one general contractor to be the head to oversee all work on the Wayne site, Marsh said.

Work is expected to begin on the construction site soon.

"Chief hired their own grading contractor," said Elroy Flowers, representing Bruce Gilmore and Associates. He said Bruce Gilmore and Associates will still be working with the city for extending the sewer and water out to the plant site, and working with the county in the construction of a road to Timpte.

"The grading contractor contacted Milo Meyer to use two of his scrapers and they are going to bring two of their own in and start moving dirt Monday (June 10)," Flowers said.

"Chief will also be doing all of their own staking and have hired their own testing lab. The reason they did this is because Chief will be totally responsible for the building if something goes wrong," he said.

A QUESTION was raised by the county commissioners on the division of the $500,000 block grant, now that Chief is involved in the construction project and will be doing the site preparation. Originally, the city and county were to divide the grant according to site preparation work on the Timpte building site.

Chief Construction will get the first portion of the $300,000 grant for dirt removal and site preparation," said Kem Swartz, Wayne city attorney.

The remainder of the funds will be prorated between the county and city, according to the amount of work done on infrastructure improvements," Swartz added.

City Administrator Phil Kloster said Wednesday that Chief Construction will be reimbursed for the amount of earthwork. "That total reimbursement to them, at this point, will be near the amount of $230,000," Kloster said.

Also on Tuesday morning, Sidney Saunders, county highway superintendent, reported to the commissioners that Dixon County had requested the State Department of Roads to change the classification of the county road east of the Northeast Nebraska and Extension Center near Concord.

The change would be from "other arterial" to major arterial" so it could be added to the State Highway System.

Governmental body employees are now covered under the Fair Labor Standards Act. Governmental employees are now required by law to pay overtime over a 40 hour week for a regular employee. Overtime pay is time and a half over 40 hours.

If law enforcement departments have over five employees the Act applies and comes into effect," Janssen said.

The total number of law enforcement officials totals four, but several people are employed in the corrections department.

Originally, employees that worked overtime took "time off" if they had worked more than a 40 hour work week.

"The way the work schedule will be set up now is we will go with a total of three hours overtime a month which wouldn't significantly change our budget," he added.

"Of course that could change if a major disaster would occur," he added.

In OTHER action, the Wayne County commissioners:

Approved the transfer of funds from the buildings and grounds budget to the county surveyor's budget. The surveyor's budget ran short.

Reported that a site inspection was conducted on May 3, 1985 of the new fire escape on the west side of the courthouse. A letter from LaVerie MacDonald, deputy state fire marshal, reported that the fire escape is an approved type fire escape according to Nebraska State Fire Marshal codes and regulations and has been approved.

Were informed by Saunders that the county will be receiving the second half of the Federal Disaster Relief Funds for last year's flooding.

Learned that the office of county superintendent has been approved by the State of Nebraska, Department of Education for a grant of $839.44. The money will be used to purchase a Apple IIc computer, case and mini diskettes.

And adopted a resolution approving additional securities. The Win-State Bank was given permission to add securities totaling $100,000 to those now held in escrow by Omaha National Bank of Omaha.

School board considers track repairs; new conference

By LaVon Anderson

During a review of school district goals—Tuesday night—the Wayne-Carroll Board of Education formed a committee to inspect the school's track for possible repairs.

The committee, comprised of Cap Peterson, Sidney Hillier and Arnold Emry, will inspect the track this month and report back to the board at its July meeting.

It approved next month the repairs are expected to cost the district an estimated $12,000.

"This is not a beautification project," Superintendent Francis Haun told board members Tuesday night. "This is to repair cracks."

Haun added that repairs would probably include re-lining and re-marking the track, and sealing the surface with another light coat of asphalt mixed with a soft agent.

Haun pointed out that no repairs have been made to the track since it was installed in 1976.

presented a Distinguished Service to Education Award to Guidance Counselor Curt Frye, who has resigned to accept a position as Associate Dean of Students at Wayne State College.

Frye has served as guidance counselor for the Wayne-Carroll School District for the past nine years.

In presenting him with the award Tuesday night, Board President Becky Keidel read a statement prepared by board members which cited Frye for placing the welfare of students first.

"You were capable and willing to work with all types of students, accepting them for what potential they might have and treating them all with equal concern."

HAUN TOLD board members that he is in the process of interviewing candidates for Frye's position.

He said the interviewing process should be completed this week, with a decision expected by early next week.

Haun also reported Tuesday night on the progress of forming a proposed athletics and activities conference.

The school district has been without a conference since the breakup of the West-Husker Conference three years ago.

Haun said Wayne hosted a meeting last Tuesday night for schools which have expressed interest in forming a conference — including Columbus Lakeview, Schuyler, West Point and North Bend.

"I think we've made real progress in this area," Haun told board members, adding that another meeting is planned for early this fall.

If formed, the conference would take effect during the 1986-87 school year.

BOARD MEMBERS Tuesday night voted unanimously to increase the school district's insurance coverage to include catastrophic losses.

The new policy covers all students in the school district while they are participating in school activities of any kind, including road trips.

Cost for the catastrophic coverage is 35 cents per pupil, with an additional $1.25 for middle school athletes.

Haun pointed out that high school athletics are already covered for catastrophic accidents.

The board also voted to contract with the Laurel-Concord School District for the education of one fifth grade behaviorally impaired student for the 1985-86 school year at a cost of $2,500 per semester.

Haun said 90 percent of that cost will be reimbursed by the state.

IN OTHER BUSINESS this month, the board of education agreed to retain the letters Garywood says the additional cost to Wayne Public Schools to duplicate the level of last year's nursing service will be less than $1,500 for 1985-86.

Garwood added that while the exact cost can't be determined until ESU I negotiations are completed, the Wayne School District can be assured that its additional cost for nursing services will not exceed $1,500.

BEFORE ADJOURNING Tuesday night, the board of education heard a report from Haun regarding legislation that will affect the school district.

Haun also presented a preliminary budget draft based on a three percent increase. The budget hearing is scheduled Aug. 13.

Guidance Counselor Frye presented board members with a follow-up of the Class of 1985.

Congressional aide Rich Kavanaugh is from the eastern part of the United States where land prices are going through the roof and fresh produce dealers simply find it hard to pay the taxes on the land.

50 he doesn't need to be reminded that this nation is undergoing a crisis in rural America.

CH KAVANAUGH of Massachusetts was given a tour of person and other communities by the Farm Crisis Committee members.

Congress aide says area farm crisis real

by Chuck Hackenmiller

The district which Congressman Atkins serves is filled with high technology industry and farming, although there is a lot less of the latter than there used to be.

And what did the Farm Crisis Committee show him, besides good food, hospitality and a hog confinement system which he has never seen before?

"Vacant farm places, vacant fields, empty big lots," Wrage pointed out.

WRAGE SAID invitations were extended to about 40 Congressmen from the urban-concentrated areas of the nation. At the beginning of the week, they were expecting 15 or 20 to respond to the invitation.

"With all that action going on the hill, we didn't get near as many," Wrage said. Three congressmen sent their aides to get the feel of the farm situation — one was sent to Iowa, another in South Dakota and Kavanaugh in Nebraska.

By inviting Kavanaugh and other urban district congressmen or representatives, Wrage hopes for one thing — a yes vote from an urban congressman on the farm plan proposed by the Farm Crisis Committee.

What the Farm Crisis Committee has strongly suggested is a mandatory bill that is production-oriented and would tie in prices received on commodities to the cost of production.

"That would be about 70 percent of parity," Wrage said.

That amount would increase by two points each year till it reaches 90 percent of parity, Wrage said. If this family farm existence plan is approved, it would go into effect next year and lasts until 1979.

"This is an experience that he [Kavanaugh] is not going to go home and forget about," Wrage said.

SOME OF Kavanaugh's activities on Friday, in addition to a look at the empty homes and fields, consisted of a visit at the Roy Fischer farm at Emerson, a tour of the Kent Fertilizer Plant in Emerson, First National Bank in Emerson and a no-till operation. Plans were to continue traveling into Coleridge and Newcastle.

Another stop was at the Farm Crisis Hotline office in Walthill.

"The number of calls have fallen off there. But the calls are more severe, to that of panic now that the crops are in," Wrage mentioned.

Of the number of first time callers

During last month's meeting, the board of education learned that ESU I will cut Wayne-Carroll's school nursing service by 20 minutes per day.

Board members last month voted unanimously to "buy back" the 20 minutes from ESU I at a cost of approximately $115 a week.

BEFORE ADJOURNING Tuesday night, the board of education heard a report from Haun regarding legislation that will affect the school district.

Haun also presented a preliminary budget draft based on a three percent increase. The budget hearing is scheduled Aug. 13.

Guidance Counselor Frye presented board members with a follow-up of the Class of 1985.

In the nation's east, the problems such as depression to the point of suicides, were considered as sensationalism. "After my stay here, I'm afraid that it actually does happen," Kavanaugh said.

The three aides that have traveled to Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska will then travel to farm exposition in Movielle, Iowa.

Kavanaugh's trip to Nebraska has provided him an awareness of what the people in this area are going through.

"Farmers are not getting the price they need for their crop. That is the root of the problem," he said.

"This concerns the country as a whole. It is not just a regional problem. Everyone should work to solve this problem," he added.

"I do not have the answers. I came here to see how the federal programs work or don't work and see how the programs are affecting the people. The problem is so complex. There is no easy solution," he mentioned.

Legislature passes Appropriation cuts

By Melvin Paul
 Returning from a six-day recess last week, state lawmakers voted to accept the bulk of a new $16-million state budget cutting package that would eliminate state agencies, reduce aid to local governments and cut further state support for the University of Nebraska.

The Appropriations Committee, which was charged by colleagues with development of the budget-cutting package during Memorial Day recess, voted 7-2 to approve the package of spending cuts and fund source shifts.

The same afternoon, the full Legislature voted 22-15 to adopt most of the cuts.

The committee's budget reduction package was the second to be considered by the full Legislature in its flurry of late-session budget cutting. Most of an earlier committee package of $10 million in reductions to the proposed budget for the fiscal year beginning on July 1 was adopted by lawmakers.

Among the elements in the new committee package was the elimination of three advocacy agencies of state government: the Nebraska Commission on the Status of Women, the Mexican-American Commission and the Commission of Indian Affairs.

Individual lawmakers began a series of amendments to restore those and several other cuts in the committee package. Final decision on restoring the cuts came after the deadline for this column.

The committee package would also eliminate the Crime Victims Reparations Board, the displaced homemakers program and aid to dependent children benefits for pregnant women.

The package also included more than $6 million in reductions that would place additional financial pressure on local government budgets.

AMONG THE ITEMS in the package is a 1 percent across-the-board cut in aid to local government programs totaling $2 million, the elimination of mass transit aid to Lincoln and Omaha totaling $1.8 million, elimination of county government and educational service unit audits by the state auditor's office and the elimination of state aid to councils of government.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln was cut an additional $683,000 by the committee package. Cuts at UNL would be made in state support for Sheldon Art Museum, the Bob Devaney Sports Center and intercollegiate athletics.

Another element of the committee package would transfer the comprehensive care unit at the Lincoln Regional Center to the Beatrice State Developmental Center at an anticipated general fund savings of $441,000.

Operating hours at State Historical Society museums, could be reduced by a $65,000 cut in the agency budget.

Also cut by the committee is $41,600 in the Department of Correctional Services representing the cost of accreditation of programs at the Nebraska State Penitentiary.

SPARED FROM committee cuts were the Foster Care Review Board, the State Museum (Morrill Hall) and the College of Architecture at UNL.

The School of Technical Agriculture at Curtis, all of which identified on a preliminary list of potential cuts developed earlier by the committee.

To help fund the fiscal year 1985-86 budget, the committee proposed a transfer of $5 million from the state's $35 million cash flow fund to the state general fund. The cash fund was established by a surtax on sales during a nine-month period during 1983 and 1984.

Speaking at a press conference, Gov. Bob Kerrey, who originally proposed the cash flow fund, offered his qualified support using the fund to meet state general fund obligations.

The committee recommended repayment of the $5 million transfer on June 30, 1986, and last day of fiscal year 1985-86. Kerrey said the transfer from the cash flow fund is "technically" in keeping with the original purpose of the fund.

Is Reagan's proposal the answer?

Tax reform needed

The administration's tax proposal, presented last week, constitutes the biggest change yet that has been proposed for the Internal Revenue Code. I believe that a vast majority of Americans are looking for tax reform — for a system that is less complicated and more fair and equitable. They perceive that the current system is neither simple nor fair. It is a source of confusion and resentment.

If this proposal is adopted, individuals, collectively, will pay 5.2 per cent less in federal taxes and corporations will pay 22.5 per cent more than they are paying under present law. This is primarily because the proposal would institute a minimum corporate tax for the first time.

Most Nebraskans would pay less. All couples whose annual income is $60,000 or less — certainly not an average income — would pay less, particularly if that income comes from salaries.

How can that be? In the first place, a larger proportion of funds will come from the corporate share, particularly because of the implementation of minimum corporate taxes. Also, a variety of deductions that are not now available to lower and middle income people would no longer be available to the wealthy.

How many Nebraskans are now taking advantage of $150 lunches at Club 21 in New York, or of $50,000 boxes in the Astrodome in Houston, paid for as deductible business expenses? How many are attending conferences on cruise ships or at plush vacation resorts?

Last year, $122 million spent on major league baseball tickets was attributed to the expense of doing business. When Congress eliminated the deductible status for business conferences aboard foreign cruise ships, one Norwegian cruise line lost $152 million per year in business.

People have become adept at setting up their personal and business affairs to escape taxation. The average Nebraskan and average American have been picking up the cost.

One proposed change has caused some consternation, and that is the elimination of the deduction for state and local taxes. It is important to remember that this deduction is available only to those who file itemized income tax returns, and only one-third of those people who file do itemize. Thus, two-thirds of the taxpayers don't realize this deduction right now.

Furthermore, this deduction provides the tax advantage to those who live in states with especially high taxes. By having this provision in our tax code, we create a situation in which the residents of other states are subsidizing the residents of such states as New Jersey, New York, and California.

By removing this deduction, we eliminate $38 billion in deductions every year. This sort of change makes it possible to bring down the over-all tax rate. Nebraskans should favor this change unless they have an extraordinary amount of assets tied up in real property and are therefore paying an unusually high amount in real estate taxes.

Nebraskans must be careful not to be susceptible to manipulation by the opponents of change. Some special interests will be opposed to the proposal. Some parts of the real estate, banking, timber, and insurance industries are likely to object, but not in every case.

Recently, I visited with representatives of Nebraska's real estate industry. We discussed the fact that in this proposal the mortgage interest deduction is limited to a first home. While that makes the purchase of a second or third home less attractive, few Nebraskans have second homes. This change probably won't be fought by Nebraska realtors, and it makes the tax code less likely to subsidize the wealthy.

While some of the proposed changes are likely to upset the nation's largest bankers, they are not likely to upset Nebraska's small bankers.

We are likely to see large newspaper advertisements and television spots that emphasize the beneficial provisions someone has lost and not the overall reduction. They will talk about the deduction 'in hand' or visible, and not about the reduction 'in the bush', or promised.

Some of the changes will be beneficial for small businesses, but I want to take a good, cautious look at corporate and capital gains changes. It is important not to complicate things in a state like Nebraska where we have a capital shortage and are capital exporters — a grainbelt state that is suffering severe economic problems.

The proposal does, however, offer significantly lower corporate taxes for the small business on Main Street and for family corporate farms.

Of course, in the next few months Congress will be taking a close look at the President's package. Hopefully, in a bipartisan spirit of compromise, a tax reform package will emerge that will be a great improvement over our current system.

This will be a hard fought and interesting battle, but I do believe that this new tax proposal is in the interest of most Americans and most Nebraskans. Once we have made the necessary adjustments, I believe that we will see greater economic growth.

Congressman Doug Bereuter

Budget cuts: choices are rarely easy ones

Last week in this column I reported that the Legislature had sent the Appropriations Committee back for

On Wednesday of this past week, the committee came back and brought with it a combination of cuts totaling nearly $11 million. To round out the funding requirements the Appropriations Committee suggested taking $5 million of excess reserve funds. This excess came about as a result of the temporary 1/2 cent sales tax that was added last year (for six months) to rebuild our reserves.

As of adjournment Friday, May 31, most of the projected cuts have been adopted. The first step was the acceptance of the committee's recommendations. Then, many attempts by senators were made to remove their favorite programs from the list of those scheduled for a cut.

With only one change in the committee cuts, the recommendations were adopted and the bill was sent on to the next stage of debate. It was the only avenue available to get enough votes to eliminate any funding and to avoid a tax increase. This laudable goal was not accomplished without considerable pain, however.

QUITE A NUMBER of agencies and services suffered cuts. Some groups in the effort to significantly cut back the scope of state government were disappointed totally. I was one of a number of senators with serious doubts about the correctness of eliminating these advocacy agencies. Such groups don't have equal representation in government affairs and need temporary assistance until the day when the commissions are not necessary. It is unfortunate that cutting these offices had to happen now; the choices are rarely easy ones.

A final decision was made on another difficult issue today. The Legislature voted to approve the bill mandating the wearing of seat belts.

Most constituents who contacted me opposed this legislation and most often cited their concern as being one of "unnecessary governmental intervention." I find that I had to agree with their assertions and did not vote for the bill. I support the wearing of seat belts, but think it should be voluntary.

If the Governor signs the bill, the driver and all front seat passengers will have to buckle up or face a $25 fine. A law enforcement officer will not be able to stop a motorist only for this violation, but if a motorist is stopped for other reasons and the front seat occupants are not wearing seat belts, the officer may issue a citation. It seems to be a strange way to make a law, but the process of compromise and negotiations produced this odd, difficult to enforce legal animal, so this is the form we will have to learn to live with when it begins this fall.

three days of deliberations to come up with further cuts in the state budget. This was necessary in order to keep from raising tax rates to meet the proposed expenditures. Based on current revenue projections

ask a lawyer

A public service of the Nebraska State Bar Association

Q. Are private adoptions legal in Nebraska? What is the legal procedure? How long does it take?

A. Private adoptions are legal in Nebraska. However, any third party who is involved in placing or assisting in the placement of children for adoption in Nebraska must be licensed by the Department of Social Services. This does not preclude a lawyer from representing either an adoptive parent or a parent relinquishing a child for adoption, and assisting in the adoption process.

The legal procedure for adoption involves three basic steps. First, documents must be signed by the child's natural parents relinquishing their parental and custodial rights to the child. If the child's natural parents are dead, or otherwise "legally unavailable" (for example, if the parent's legal rights were terminated in an earlier legal action or the child to be adopted is an orphan), the certificates must be assembled to prove that the child is available for adoption. Once the proper releases and certificates are assembled, they are filed with the court along with a "petition" (a formal written application to the court) requesting that the court grant the requested adoption.

Second, after the court has received the necessary paperwork, the court will ask the Department of Social Services to conduct an investigation to determine whether the adoption would be in the best interest of the child. This investigation is required unless the adoptive parent is the child's step-parent.

Third, after the investigation is completed, the court sets a hearing date to determine whether the adoption should be allowed. If the report of the Department is favorable and if the court determines that the adoption would be in the best interest of the child, then the court enters a decree granting the adoption.

As to how long the whole process of adoption takes, an unlicensed adoption typically takes only six weeks from the filing of the petition to the granting of the adoption. However, the child must have lived with the adoptive parents for six months before the adoption can take place.

It should also be noted that no monetary consideration for the adoption can pass from the adoptive parents or anyone else to the person relinquishing the child. The law limits the reimbursement to the mother for actual medical and hospital expenses incurred.

Hoskins minister accepts call

The Rev. Michael Klatt, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church, rural Hoskins, has accepted a call to Trinity Lutheran Church at Bloomington.

Pastor Klatt has served the dual parish of Zion Lutheran Church, rural Hoskins, and St. John's Lutheran Church, rural Pierce, for the past three years. He will deliver his farewell sermon on Sunday, June 9.

Several events have been planned in his honor. The Ladies Aid-LWML is planning a potluck dinner at noon today (Thursday), and the GAP is sponsoring a cookout on Friday at the LeRoy Koepke home. There will be a dual parish potluck supper on Sunday at St. John's Lutheran Church, rural Pierce.

Missionary speaking in Wayne

The First Church of Christ in Wayne will be hosting two services with missionary Charles Selby on Friday and Saturday, June 7-8, at 7 o'clock each evening.

Selby has 36 years of experience in the Philippines. He and his wife, Roberta, have been leaders in founding the Apostolic Bible Seminary, two Christian high schools, and a Christian printing press.

The Rev. Kenny Cleveland, pastor at First Church of Christ, said a potluck salad supper will be served prior to Friday evening's service, and a sandwich and dessert supper will be served prior to Saturday evening's service. Both fellowship dinners will begin at 6 p.m.

The public is invited to attend.

Brummels families gather

The 47th reunion of the descendants of the late Peter and Augusta Brummels was held June 2 at the Randolph Park with 28 relatives attending.

Towns represented were Pomona, Calif.; Sioux City, Iowa; Elk Horn, O'Neill, Irving, Pierce, Hartington, Randolph and Hoskins.

The oldest attending was Fred Brummels, 86, of Hoskins, and the youngest was Mickey Owens of O'Neill. Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Ulrich of Pomona, Calif., attended from the furthest distance.

In charge of this year's reunion were Mr. and Mrs. David Owens and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Brummels.

The 1986 reunion will be held at Johnson's Park in Norfolk on the first Sunday in June. In charge of arrangements are the Norris Langenberg and Laura Ulrich families.

Gospel concert in Norfolk

Dave and Barb Anderson, Christian ministers, will present the gospel in song and word during concerts on Saturday night Sunday, June 15-16 at Mount Olive Lutheran Church, 2nd and Omaha Ave., in Norfolk.

The public is invited to hear them at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday, or at 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. on Sunday.

The Andersons have recorded eight record albums, the latest including "Lift High the Cross" and "Dave & Barb Sing Favorites." During 1984, they sang at the Billy Graham Crusade in Anchorage, Alaska, and performed at the Great Commission Convocation in St. Louis, Mo.

Their concerts in Norfolk will include spirituals, hymns and contemporary Christian music.

Allen, Ponca students honored

The Society of Distinguished American High School Students has announced that three students from Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in Martinsburg have been selected as members in its honor society for 1985.

To be accepted, students must have excelled in academics, extracurricular, or civic activities.

Students from Trinity Lutheran awarded the honor for 1985 include Mitch Pettit of Allen, and Jackie Harder and Steve Balke, both of Ponca. As members, the students will have an opportunity to compete for college scholarships through the society's national awards program.

The students' sponsor, Mrs. Darrold Harder, was presented with the society's National Appreciation Award for "assiduous devotion to the development and encouragement of student leaders."

Parents Without Partners calendar

Parents Without Partners, a Norfolk based support group for single parents, has announced its June calendar of events.

A Father's Day potluck picnic will be held Sunday, June 9 at Johnson's Park in Norfolk, beginning at 5:30 p.m. Women attending are asked to bring a meat dish and a side dish.

A mini CRC convention is scheduled June 15 in Grand Island. Persons wishing additional information about the meeting are asked to call 371-9238.

A campout at "Janet's pasture" is planned June 21-23. Those attending are asked to bring camping equipment and food for their own family. Persons may call 371-9238 for directions.

There will be a TGIS party at 8:30 p.m. on June 29 at King's Ballroom. Coffee and confection meetings are scheduled June 16, 23 and 30 at 8:30 p.m. at the Truck Haven.

Membership in Parents Without Partners is open to any parent who is single, separated, divorced or widowed. Custody of the children is not a requirement for membership.

Winter Texan picnic slated

A winter Texan picnic is planned Sunday, June 9 in the Blue Room at Picketown, S. D. The potluck dinner will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Persons who have wintered in Texas, regardless of where their home is now, are welcome.

Honored at convocation

Beth Schafter, daughter of Gerald and Judith Schafter of Wayne, was presented a special award during the annual Honors Convocation held last month at Nebraska Wesleyan University in Lincoln.

Miss Schafter, a sophomore English major, was announced as May Poet. She read her winning poem, "Summer Warns the Earth," which appears in the 1984-85 issue of Flintlock, the Nebraska Wesleyan University literary magazine.

Dixon County Museum open Sundays

The Dixon County Historical Museum, located in Allen, is open for tours each Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m.

Vic Carpenters will host the tours on June 9, and the Don Nees will be hosts on June 16.

The Dixon County Historical Society reports that several improvements have been made at the museum.

Looking for Cinderellas

The Nebraska Cinderella Pageant Program is searching for young women between the ages of three and 17 to represent this area and compete at this year's state finals.

There are four age divisions - Cinderella Tot (3-6); Cinderella Miniature Miss (7-9); Cinderella Miss (10-12); and Cinderella Teen (13-17). Winners will receive their complete entry fees to attend the international finals this August in Miami, Fla.

Persons who would like additional information about the pageant are asked to contact Mary Jo Brinkman, 1204 Greenlawn Dr., Norfolk, Neb., 68701, or telephone (402) 371-6800.

policy on weddings

The Wayne Herald welcomes news accounts and photographs of weddings involving families living in the Wayne area.

We feel there is widespread interest in local and area weddings and are happy to make space available for their publication.

Because our readers are interested in current news, we ask that wedding announcements offered for publication be in our office within 10 days after the date of the ceremony. Information submitted with a picture after that deadline will not be carried as a story but will be used in a outline underneath the picture. Wedding pictures submitted after the story appears in the paper must be in our office within three weeks after the ceremony.

Hoskins minister accepts call

The Rev. Michael Klatt, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church, rural Hoskins, has accepted a call to Trinity Lutheran Church at Bloomington, Ill.

Pastor Klatt has served the dual parish of Zion Lutheran Church, rural Hoskins, and St. John's Lutheran Church, rural Pierce, for the past three years. He will deliver his farewell sermon on Sunday, June 9.

Several events have been planned in his honor. The Ladies Aid-LWML is planning a potluck dinner at noon today (Thursday), and the GAP is sponsoring a cookout on Friday at the LeRoy Koepeke home. There will be a dual parish potluck supper on Sunday at St. John's Lutheran Church, rural Pierce.

Missionary speaking in Wayne

The First Church of Christ in Wayne will be hosting two services with missionary Charles Selby on Friday and Saturday, June 7-8, at 7 o'clock each evening.

Selby has 38 years of experience in the Philippines. He and his wife, Roberta, have been leaders in founding the Apostolic Bible Seminary, two Christian high schools, and a Christian printing press.

The Rev. Kenny Cleveland, pastor at First Church of Christ, said a potluck salad supper will be served prior to Friday evening's service, and a sandwich and dessert supper will be served prior to Saturday evening's service. Both fellowship dinners will begin at 6 p.m.

The public is invited to attend.

Brummels families gather

The 47th reunion of the descendants of the late Peter and Augusta Brummels was held June 2 at the Randolph Park with 28 relatives attending.

Towns represented were Pomona, Calif.; Sioux City, Iowa; Elkhorn, O'Neill, Ewing, Pierce, Ratholm, Ratholm and Hoskins.

The oldest attending was Fred Brummels, 87, of Hoskins, and the youngest was Mickey Owens of O'Neill. Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Ulrich of Pomona, Calif., attended from the furthest distance.

In charge of this year's reunion were Mr. and Mrs. David Owens and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Brummels.

The 1986 reunion will be held at Johnson's Park in Norfolk on the first Sunday in June. In charge of arrangements are the Norris Langenberg and Laura Ulrich families.

Gospel concert in Norfolk

Dave and Barb Anderson, Christian ministers, will present the gospel in song and sword during concerts on Saturday and Sunday, June 15-16 at Mount Olive Lutheran Church, 2nd and Omaha Ave., in Norfolk.

The public is invited to hear them at 8:30 p.m. on Saturday, or at 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. on Sunday.

The Andersons have recorded eight record albums, the latest including "Lift High the Cross" and "Dave & Barb Sing Favorites." During 1984, they sang at the Billy Graham Crusade in Anchorage, Alaska, and performed at the Great Commission Convocation in St. Louis, Mo.

Their concerts in Norfolk will include spirituals, hymns and contemporary Christian music.

Allen, Ponca students honored

The Society of Distinguished American High School Students has announced that three students from Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in Martinsburg have been selected as members in its honor society for 1985.

To be accepted, students must have excelled in academics, extracurricular, or civic activities.

Students from Trinity Lutheran awarded the honor for 1985 include Mitch Peil of Allen, and Jackie Harder and Steve Bahke, both of Ponca.

As members, the students will have an opportunity to compete for college scholarships through the society's national awards program.

The students' sponsor, Mrs. Darrold Harder, was presented with the society's National Appreciation Award for "assiduous devotion to the development and encouragement of student leaders."

Parents Without Partners calendar

Parents Without Partners, a Norfolk based support group for single parents, has announced its June calendar of events.

A Father's Day potluck picnic will be held Sunday, June 9 at Johnson's Park in Norfolk, beginning at 5:30 p.m. Women attending are asked to bring a meat dish and a side dish.

A mini-CRE convention is scheduled June 15 in Grand Island. Persons wishing additional information about the meeting are asked to call 371-9238.

A campout at "Janet's pasture" is planned June 21-23. Those attending are asked to bring camping equipment and food for their own family. Persons may call 371-9238 for directions.

There will be a TG15 party at 8:30 p.m. on June 29 at King's Ballroom. Coffee and conversation meetings are scheduled June 16, 23 and 30 at 8:30 p.m. at the Truck Haven.

Membership in Parents Without Partners is open to any parent who is single, separated, divorced or widowed. Custody of the children is not a requirement for membership.

Winter Texan picnic slated

A winter Texan picnic is planned Sunday, June 9 in the Blue Room at Pickettown, S. D. The potluck dinner will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Persons who have wintered in Texas, regardless of where their home is now, are welcome.

Honored at convocation

Beth Schafer, daughter of Gerald and Judith Schafer of Wayne, was presented a special award during the annual Honors Convocation held last month at Nebraska Wesleyan University in Lincoln.

Miss Schafer, a sophomore English major, was announced as May Poet. She read her winning poem, "Summer Warms the Earth," which appears in the 1984-85 issue of Flintlock, the Nebraska Wesleyan University literary magazine.

Dixon County Museum open Sundays

The Dixon County Historical Museum, located in Allen, is open for tours each Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m.

Vic Carpenters will host the tours on June 9, and the Don Noes will be hosts on June 16.

The Dixon County Historical Society reports that several improvements have been made at the museum.

Looking for Cinderellas

The Nebraska Cinderella Pageant Program is searching for young women between the ages of 17 and 17 to represent this area and compete at this year's state finals.

There are four age divisions — Cinderella-Tot (3-6), Cinderella-Miniature Miss (7-9), Cinderella-Miss (10-12), and Cinderella-Teen (13-17). Winners will receive their complete entry fees to attend the international finals this August in Miami, Fla.

Persons who would like additional information about the pageant are asked to contact Mary Jo Brinkman, 1204 Greenlawn Dr., Norfolk, Neb., 68701, or telephone (402) 371-6980.

1938-42 confirmands meet for reunion at Grace Lutheran

A reunion of the 1938 through 1942 confirmation classes at Grace Lutheran Church was held May 19, with the 1940 class celebrating its 45th anniversary.

The group attended morning worship services, where each class member received a corsage for bouquets.

All of the classes sponsored the Lutheran Hour broadcast over Wayne Radio KTCH that morning.

A NOON LUNCHEON was served in the church parlors by the Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid. Tables displayed pictures of the confirmands' families and pamphlets and folders of the church's history.

A program followed with devotions led by the Rev. Jan Vogel, followed with hymn singing. Edmond Heilhold, a member of the 1940 class, served as master of ceremonies.

A booklet of class histories was reviewed, followed with reminiscing. Coffee and cookies were served at the close of the day.

Confirmands returning for the event included Orville Peters of Port Jones, Calif.; Robert Lass and Delores (Peters) Loosack, both of Sioux City, Iowa; Bernita (Otte) Rhoads of Lemon Grove, Calif.; Betty (Holdorf) Koepp of Holstein, Iowa; Irmgard (Otte) Morlok of Toledo, Ore.

Also, Alma Temme of Norfolk; Faunel (Racherbauer) Paulson of Oakland; Vernice (Victor) Schwartz of Howells; Evelyn (Test) Hoeman of Winside; Edmond Heilhold of Wakefield; Delores (Heilhold) Wobig of Newman Grove; and Earl Echtenkamp, Robert B. Meyer, Arlene (Heilhold) Nelson, Esther (Temme) Ekberg, Maria (Test) Ritz, Dwayne Reithwisch and Wallace Victor, all of Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Mern Mordhorst of Wayne also were guests. Mordhorst attended catechism classes at Grace Lutheran, however he was confirmed in Rapid City, S. D.

Contestant

policy on weddings

The Wayne Herald welcomes news accounts and photographs of weddings involving families living in the Wayne area.

We feel there is widespread interest in local and area weddings and are happy to make space available for their publication.

Because our readers are interested in current news, we ask that all weddings and photographs offered for publication be in our office within 10 days after the date of the ceremony. Information submitted with a picture after that deadline will not be carried as a story but will be used in a outline underneath the picture. Wedding pictures submitted after the story appears in the paper must be in our office within three weeks after the ceremony.

Open house for Meiers

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Meier of Belden will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary with an open house reception on Sunday, June 9 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the United Methodist Church in Laurel.

Hosting the event are their children, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Meier and family of Wisner, Mrs. Cindy Hamilton and Misty, and Bruce and Vickie Meier of Belden.

All friends and relatives are invited. No other invitations are being issued.

Observing 35th year

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bruggeman of Hoskins will observe their 35th wedding anniversary on Saturday, June 15 with an open house reception.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend the reception at 4:30 p.m. at the Elk's Club in Norfolk. A dance will follow.

FORTY-TWO class members and spouses attended, along with Pastor and Mrs. Jan Vogel and Benjamin.

BPW installs new officers

New officers for the 1985-86 year were installed during the May 28 meeting of Wayne's Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW).

Sixteen members and four guests, Janet Knieche, Barb DeWald, Marie Hubbard and Lee LaFleur, attended the dinner meeting at the Black Knight.

Outgoing President Lil Surber installed new officers, including Anne Svoboda, president; Paula Pflueger, vice president; Phyllis Spethman, secretary; and Rozan Pedersen, treasurer.

President Svoboda presented the outgoing president with a past president's pin. She also distributed surveys which members were asked to fill out to help the new officers plan for the coming year.

A THANK YOU was read from Wayne State College for the BPW scholarship donation, and from the Eleanor Edwards family for giving the scholarship in her honor.

Members were reminded of the fall board meeting scheduled Aug. 9-11 in Ogallala; the district meeting scheduled Oct. 27 in Norfolk; and the State Convention at McCook on April 18-20, 1986.

Leslie Hausmann entertained with three readings about women, and Leona Bahde was presented a card and cake for her birthday.

TOURNEY CHAMPION Mike Peterson chips on to the ninth and final hole as spectators quietly observe.

CLUB PRO Rudy Froeschle gives a ruling to Doug Curtis of Omaha during the 'Calcutta' round.

MIKE PETERSON, Oakland, won the tournament with a 105 score.

Peterson wins golf tourney

Mike Peterson of Oakland, currently a student at the University of Colorado, completed 27 holes eight strokes ahead of the second place finisher to capture first place in the Amateur Open Golf Tournament played Sunday at the Wayne Country Club.

Peterson shot a 35 the first nine holes and a 34 the second nine, heading into the final "Calcutta" championship round with a -69. He finished the round with a 36 and a total score of 105.

Tim Marchese of Omaha ended the tournament in second place, followed by Jim Roncka of Omaha in third and Doug Curtis of Norfolk in fourth place. Marchese, Roncka and Curtis all finished the tournament with 113 scores. The ties were broken by reviewing each individual's score on the 18 holes previously played, beginning with hole one.

Peterson won $250 worth of gift certificates plus a large trophy for his first place finish. Marchese earned gift certificates worth $125 for placing second.

Rudy Froeschle, club professional at the Wayne Country Club, said the scores were unusually high at the open tournament. "The cold wind chill was a definite factor," he said. The margin of victory between first and second place was also unusual, he said.

THE FIRST FOUR placings in the 12 remaining flights were as follows: First flight — Keith Engelmann, Omaha, 71; Mark Harrison, Blair, 74; Bob Campbell, Council Bluffs, 76; Larry Zabel, Boyceville, Wisconsin, 77.

Fifth flight — Dick Pflanz, Wayne, 79; Rick Thompson, Laurel, 80; Matt Samuelson, Pender, 80; Ken Whorlow, Wayne, 81.

Sixth flight — Doug Raetz, Stanton, 80; Randy Swanson, Laurel, 81; Tim Griss, Wayne, 88; Ole Anderson, Laurel, 88.

Seventh flight — Stephen Friesse, Omaha, 83; David Clausen, Wayne, 85; Steve Bell, West Point, 86; Gary Lubberstedt, Laurel, 86.

Wayne Towners 'walk' over Tilden

Despite being out-hit, 13 to 6, the Wayne Town Team won Sunday night in a league baseball game over Tilden by a 11-6 score.

The difference in the game was the pitching, as Tilden's starting pitcher and relief pitchers walked 11 Wayne batters.

Wayne jumped ahead of Tilden in the first inning when they scored six runs on three hits and two errors. Leadoff batter Mike Breske opened the bottom half of the first inning with a double.

Todd Pfeiffer and Jeff Dion both drew walks from Tilden's Madsen and clean-up hitter Mike Meyer then blasted a double which scored two runs.

Still with nobody out, second baseman Bob Raabe reached base on an error by third baseman Jack Egen. Catcher Dennis Danielson got an RBI on a walk and left fielder John Reed hit another run home on a fielder's choice before first baseman Kim Baker unloaded a double to score the last two runs of the first inning.

Tilden's Madsen retired six straight batters in the second and third inning before Wayne came back in the fourth inning with three more runs.

With one out, consecutive walks were issued to Baker, shortstop Mike Breske and Pfeiffer. Dion grounded out to the third baseman for the second out, followed by two more run producing walks to Meyer and Raabe.

Wayne's other two runs came on a solo home run shot by Danielson in the fifth inning and in the eighth inning, when Jerry Morris drew a walk and a two-base error by the Tilden rightfielder off a hit by designated hitter Todd Schwartz scored Morris.

Doug Carroll started on the mound for Wayne and picked up the win, with relief help from Joel Ankeny. Carroll allowed six hits while giving up one walk and striking out two during six innings of play. Ankeny, in his three innings pitched, allowed seven hits, no walks, and recorded five strikeouts.

Baker led the Wayne hitting attack with two hits, both doubles, and two runs batted in. Danielson and Meyer also had two runs batted in.

Jack Egen and Rick Reihwisch led Tilden's hitters, each with three singles. Bruce Farnigh had two hits, one of them a double.

WAYNE'S KIM BAKER lets a low pitch go by. Below, Bob Raabe throws out a speedy Tilden runner.

The next action for Wayne is Wednesday night (June 5) as they are hosted by Laurel.

Win Chuck Ellis Tournament

Wayne Juniors nip West Point

Kevin Maly scored on a wild pitch in the home half of the seventh inning to break a 4-4 tie, giving the Wayne Junior Legion team the championship title in the Chuck Ellis Memorial Baseball Tournament Saturday evening at Wakefield.

West Point jumped to an early 4-0 lead in the top half of the first inning as Wayne starter Don Larsen walked four of the first five batters he faced. Larsen was relieved by Steve Overin who issued another walk and then gave up a two-run single to Kevin Hagedorn.

Wayne retaliated with four runs in the bottom of the fourth inning after Overin and first baseman Jeff Hausmann drew a walk. Chris Wieseler then hit a run-producing single. After Jeff Sherer successfully completed a sacrifice, Larsen came through with a double and two runs batted in.

Hausmann came on in relief of Overin in the top half of the fourth inning, not allowing West Point hit for the remainder of the game and picking up seven strikeouts along the way.

The winning run for Wayne came in the seventh inning when Maly walked and moved to third on a single by leftfielder Dan Gross; one of four Wayne hits in the game. A pass ball by the West Point pitcher, with Overin at the plate, allowed Maly to score on a close play at the plate.

West Point pitchers combined to allow seven walks while striking out nine Wayne batters. Wayne pitchers gave up 11 total walks and struck out eight.

Wayne over Ponca
The Wayne Junior Legion won its first Ralph Bishop League game of the season by socking it to Ponca by a 12-2 score.

The game was shortened to five innings because of the 10-run rule. Don Larsen started for Wayne and put on a stellar performance, striking out 13 Ponca batters who could not only register one hit that hit coming off Ponca's Mohr in the top half of the fifth inning.

Wayne got on the scoreboard with a run in the bottom half of the first inning when leftfielder Dan Gross reached first base on an error, stole second and third base and then scored when the pitch got away from the Ponca catcher.

Three more runs were scored by Wayne in the third inning after catcher Chris Wieseler was issued a walk, advanced to second and third base on passed balls and then scored on a center field hit by Larsen.

A triple by second baseman Jeff Sherer brought in another run and an error by the Ponca third baseman resulted in Wayne's third run of the inning.

Ponca scored a run in the top of the third inning. Wayne came back with a run as Wieseler, who reached base on a walk and stole second, scored on a Ponca shortstop error.

Another three runs were scored by Wayne in the fourth inning after Casey Nichols walked and Sherer doubled. Maly reached base on an error and Gross hit a sacrifice fly. Overin then singled followed by a sacrifice fly by shortstop Scott Baker. Wieseler reached base on a Ponca error and Jeff Hausmann was hit by a pitch before the inning was ended.

In the fifth inning, Wayne got the four runs needed to end the game when Brent Picked and Tim Fleming, Shannon Dorsey and Gross walked. Overin hit a sacrifice fly to score a run. Scott Baker reached base on an error and Wieseler ended the game with a double.

Wayne got 10 hits in the route, paced by Sherer with his triple and double. Larsen walked six batters in route to his one-hit game.

Durbala gains NAIA honors

Wayne State Lady Wildcat junior softball catcher Teresa Durbala has been named to the All-American NAIA First Team, according to the WSC sports information desk.

This is the second honor recently bestowed to Durbala. On May 31, it was revealed that Durbala had been given honorable mention recognition to the College Sports Information Directors of American Academic All-American Team.

Durbala, from Norwalk, Iowa, led the Lady Wildcats in 1995 with a .322 batting average and a team-high eight doubles. She also added three triples, three homers and knocked in 30 runs.

In leading the 30-20 Lady Wildcats to the most wins by a WSC softball team, Durbala was named All-Central States Intercollegiate Conference First Team and All-District 11.

To be named to the CoSIDA team, an athlete must have at least a 3.2 cumulative GPA and have completed one full year at her current institution. Durbala carries a 3.51 GPA as a Home Economics and Physical Education major.

Named to the NAIA Second Team was outfielder Shelle Tomaszewicz, a sophomore from Omaha Millard South. Tomaszewicz batted .274 during the season and had 41 runs batted in. She also had a fielding average of .72. Tomaszewicz was also named to the District 11 First Team.

JASON ERB takes a turn around third base in the Wakefield game against O'Neill.

Wakefield Juniors take fourth place

The Wakefield Juniors were downed 6-4 in the consolation match-up by O'Neill Saturday evening as the Chuck Ellis Tournament came to a close.

O'Neill scored three runs in the top of the first inning on RBI singles by Kevin Asher and Bill Minarik.

Wakefield, trailing 4-0 going into the bottom of the fifth inning, roared back and tied the game after Darwin Snyder smacked a basis loaded double that drove in three runs.

O'Neill came back in the top of the sixth with the winning run when Gerald Parks singled, stole second and scored on Jim Simoni's RBI single. They scored another run in the top of the seventh inning to make the score 6-4.

Wakefield had runners on second and third base, with two out in the bottom of the final inning, when Snyder again hit the ball hard. But this time the O'Neill first baseman was able to snag the shot and retire the side.

Durbala was the winning pitcher for O'Neill, allowing four Wakefield hits. Brian Soderberg took the loss, pitching the entire game, allowing eight hits, five walks and striking out six O'Neill batters.

In a game played Monday night, Wakefield Junior pitcher Larry Ballinger walked the first batter he faced and then didn't allow another player to reach base as Wakefield blanked Stanton, 5-0.

Ballinger finished the no-hitter game with 10 strikeouts. His pitching performance was backed by the hitting of Brian Soderberg (two hits), a double hit by Wade Nicholson, and singles stroked by Mark Kubik, Jason Erb and Kurt Robertson.

In Midget play Monday, Wakefield nipped O'Neill 10-3. Wakefield, at one time, was trailing by a score of 8-0 before scoring a single run in the fourth inning and seven runs in the fifth inning. The winning run was scored by the Wakefield Midgets in the final inning.

Todd Kratke and Chris Looke each had two hits in the game. Mike Nelson was the winning pitcher.

For WSC football accomplishments

Chapman: Coach of Year

Last year's turn-around in the Wayne State College football program still is drawing high recognition — this time in the nature of having Head Coach Pete Chapman honored recently as The Omaha World-Herald State College Coach of the Year.

Prior to the beginning of the 1984 college football season at Wayne State, Chapman had predicted at a pre-season luncheon that his football team would be in the running for a first place finish in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference (CSIC).

That statement might have befuddled some people who knew that during Chapman's first year at Wayne State (in 1983), the team finished in the cellar of the CSIC with a 1-7 record.

But the 1984 Wildcat team proved their caliber as they won their first four of five games in the regular season. They ended the season at 8-4, losing the last two regular season games to second place Missouri Southern (24-23) and conference champion Kearney on a snowy day by a 24-13 score.

Before becoming the 17th head football coach in the 71 years of football history at Wayne State, Chapman was head coach at Yankton College. He coached Yankton College to an 8-2 record the season before coming to Wayne State. Chapman is a 1967 graduate of Omaha Central High School. He earned his bachelor's degree at UNL in 1971 and achieved his master's degree from South Dakota State University in 1980.

His first full-time teaching opportunity came at Milligan High, where he taught and coached football, basketball and track from 1971-1973. In 1973 he moved to Osceola High School. His 1974 and 1975 graders were rated in the Class C top 10 and his overall high school head coaching record was 39-23.

Pete Chapman

He left Osceola to accept a graduate assistantship at South Dakota State in 1979 and served as a defensive coach there. SDSU went 9-3 that year and earned a spot in the NCAA Division II playoffs. He later was hired as full-time assistant coach at SDSU and then became coach at Yankton College before his arrival at Wayne State.

With the close of the 1984 Wayne State football season, the Wildcats set a total of three national records in kicking and passing and 33 individual and team records. Kicker Herve Roussel set a national NAIA Division I record for most field goals kicked in a season with 22. Roussel also set the national mark for most kicking points in a season with 96 points on 22 field goals and 30 of 33 extra points. The "Wayne Air Force" also set another national record in total number of passing attempts in a season.

Wayne Midgets sweep Gladiators, win over Ponca

Wayne's Midget team swept a doubleheader Sunday afternoon from the Gladiators of Omaha by scores of 5-0 and 16-8.

In the first game of the twinbill, Rob Rabe allowed six hits, striking out five in the 5-0 blanking of the Gladiators.

Wayne didn't score a run until the bottom of the fourth inning when catcher Scott Nichols singled, advanced on a passed ball to first and later scored on a single by Mark Craigton. Ted McCright then followed with a single and Rabe reached on an error.

Three more runs were scored in the fifth inning when Russ Longe opened with a triple and Steve Luft drove him home with a sacrifice fly. One out later, Nichols and Bill Landanger hit back to back singles. Craigton reached on an error and a single by McCright drove in the final two runs for Wayne.

Rabe, Nichols and McCright each finished the game with two hits.

In the second game, Wayne only out-hit the Gladiators 7-5, but still won the game by a 16-8 score.

Gladiator pitching gave up 17 free passes in the contest, three of those walks to Wayne's Bill Landanger.

Wayne scored six runs in the second inning when Steve Luft, Bill Landanger and Scott Nichols walked and second baseman Bill Sperry singled. Landanger and Jason Jorgensen walked and pitcher Ted Luaders smacked a double to bring in more runs.

A single run was added to Wayne's score in the third inning when Landanger got his second walk and Jorgensen scored him on a double. The Gladiators came back to score five runs on three hits in the top of the fourth inning.

Wayne scored three runs in the sixth inning when Nichols, Landanger, Jorgensen, Luaders and Gangle drew consecutive walks and Longe reached base on an error.

They added six more runs in the sixth inning after Ted Lohrbeg singled and Bill Sperry doubled. Kyle Schaler, Luaders, Longe and Scott Pickett delivered a double.

Of Wayne's seven hits, Luaders and Sperry both had two hits. Each getting one hit were Pickett, Bill Melena and Jorgensen.

Wayne beats Ponca

The Wayne Midgets opened Ralph Bishop League play with an arousing victory over Ponca by a 12-2 score.

Jason Jorgensen went the distance for Wayne, allowing just three hits while striking out seven in the shortened five-inning contest.

Wayne jumped on Ponca for five runs in the first inning, two of those runs coming off a single by Scott Nichols. The Midgets got two more runs in the second inning on no hits, but capitalized on three Ponca errors.

Two more runs were scored by Wayne in the third inning on no hits and two Ponca errors.

The final runs for Wayne came in the fifth inning when Ted Lohrbeg walked. Ted McCright singled, leftfielder Russ Longe cracked a double and Steve Luft smacked a single.

Jorgensen walked only two Ponca batters in his outing to pick up the victory.

School physical dates set

Physicals for athletes going out for all sports at Wayne-Carroll schools during the 1985-86 school year, grades 7-12, are scheduled for June 11 and 12 at Wayne medical clinics.

At the Wayne Family Practice Clinics, physicals will be given on Tuesday from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. and on Wednesday from 8 a.m. to 9:30 a.m.

The Benthack Clinic will be offering physicals on Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. and on Wednesday from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

There is a reduced charge for these physicals if they are completed during the above-mentioned hours. The charge is $10 and must be paid before the physical is given.

If the physicals are not completed at these times, the charge will be $16.

according to Wayne-Carroll Athletic Director Ron Carnes.

Carnes said the physicals are usually conducted in August. Three reasons he listed for the earlier physical date is that there would be less vacation conflicts; there would be an opportunity to correct the physical problem during summer; and many summer sports camps require physicals.

Carnes also has set the summer hours for high school students to use the school's weightlifting equipment. Hours would be 3:30 to 5 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Students are asked to turn in their physical forms and parent permission forms to a coach or school office as soon as possible.

Big Red baseball school comes to Eaton Field

The Big Red Baseball School conducted by University of Nebraska baseball coach John Sanders will be held in Wakefield at Eaton Field, Monday, June 10, from 2:00 to 5:30 p.m. Sanders' Coachmen's qualified this spring for the NCAA playoffs.

The baseball school is intended to teach the participants the values, conduct and fundamentals needed in baseball. It is open for people 9-15 years of age.

Each participant must have a parents release and a medical certificate signed by a physician or the physical form required by the youth's private or public school. Athletes should bring their own equipment.

The registration fee is $10.00. Nebraska Baseball caps, helmets and camp t-shirts are optional and may be purchased at the camp.

Coach Sanders played professionally in the Kansas City organization. Twenty-nine of his Big Red Players have signed professional contracts. Assisting will be Scott Hooper, holder of Big Eight base stealing records, and other athletic personnel from the University.

Application blanks and further information may be obtained by contacting camp coordinator Lefty Olson at Wakefield, (402) 287-2000. Application blanks have also been distributed to area coaches.

DECLINING HABITAT STAMP SALES, FEDERAL AID FUNDS NECESSITATE REDUCTIONS HABITAT PROGRAM

A combination of declining Habitat Stamp sales and matching funds from federal aid programs have necessitated reductions in the Game and Parks Commission's private lands portion of the Habitat Program, which is partly funded by sales of the $7.50 habitat Stamp required of hunters and trappers.

Harold Edwards, Chief of the Commission's Resource Services Division, says funds for wildlife habitat have declined due to the loss of revenue obtained from interest income and federal programs. He said the income derived from Habitat Stamp sales has been fairly stable, though it has declined in recent years.

The result of the reduced revenue is that it has become necessary for the Commission to adopt a freeze policy on all new contract signups and all contract renewals in the Private Lands Habitat Program, effective upon notice to the Natural Resource Districts.

The reduction of revenue is expected to cause a "significant decline" in the acquisition of wildlife lands during the next two to three years, according to Edwards. Yet, in the face of declining revenue, the commissioner's approved expenditures which will allow the Commission to fulfill the agreements it has made with Natural Resource Districts involved in the Habitat Program. The funds appropriated for each participating NRD for fiscal year 1985-86 are (listing is NRD name, headquarters, and the maximum allocation amount): Upper Big Blue, York, $38,000; Lower Big Blue, Beatrice, $5,000; Upper Elkhorn, O'Neill, $39,000; Lower Elkhorn, Norfolk, $87,000; Little Blue, Davenport, $50,000; Upper Loup, Theedford, $3,500; Lower Loup, Ord, $47,000; Lewis and Clark, Hartington, $93,000; Middle Missouri, Walthill, $24,000; Pappo, Omaha, $29,000; Nemaha, Tecumseh, $27,000; Upper Niobrara-White, Chadron, $28,000; Middle Niobrara, Valentine, none; Lower Niobrara, Butte, $29,000; North Platte, Gering, $19,000; South Platte, Sidney, $11,000; Twin Platte, North, $19,500; Central Platte, Grand Island, $45,000; Lower Platte North, David City, $41,000; Lower Platte South, Lincoln, $49,000; Upper Republican, Imperial, $15,000; Middle Republican, Curtis, $34,000; Lower Republican, Alma, $96,000; and Tri-Basin, Holdrege, $19,000.

WAYNE STATE FOOTBALL CAMP

The annual Wayne State College Football Camp, for boys entering the seventh grade through twelfth grade next fall, will be held on the Wayne State campus this summer.

The camp will be directed by Wayne State football Coach Pete Chapman and his staff. Dates for the camp are June 9-12. The three day session will include drills, fundamentals, various activities and Pro-Hi Lite movies shown nightly.

Featured will be National Football League player Beasley Reece of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Drafted out of North Texas State as a wide receiver by the Dallas Cowboys in 1976, Reece went on to spend six years with the New York Giants at the safety position. After joining the Buccaneers in 1983, Reece tied for most interceptions in the NFL that year.

Joining the WSC football staff will be area high school coaches, including Duane Spale of Pierce, Lonnie Ehrhardt and Don Koenig of Wayne; Rick Rethwisch of O'Neill St. Mary; John Hughes of Wisner-Pilger; and Bob Eits of Lincoln Northeast.

The cost of the camp is $90 per week and $55 for the day campers. For further information or registration forms, contact Chapman at Wayne State College, Way, Neb. 68787 or call (402) 375-2200, ext. 313.

WSC LADY CATS BASKETBALL CAMP

Wayne State College head women's basketball coach Lenny Klaver has announced that the Wayne State Lady Wildcat Basketball camp will be offered in two sessions during the month of June.

The camp is offered to those girls entering seventh through twelfth grades, and will be grouped according to junior high and high school age divisions.

Areas of concentration at the camp will include the development of fundamental skills necessary to help develop the complete offensive and defensive player. Features will include video taping and analysis, drills, team competition and a written evaluation with suggestions for continued improvement.

The camp will be directed by Klaver, with assistance from Gene Stejmeyer of Doane College, Chuck Brewer of Mt. Marcy College, John Arnold of Morningside College, Marlene Uhing of Hartington Cedar Catholic, Steve McManigal of Wisner-Pilger, Gale Hamilton of Laurel-Concord, Jill Stenwall of Winside, Dan List of Randolph and the WSC assistant coaching staff. Members of the WSC women's team will also serve as counselors and assistants at the camp.

Sessions include the dates of June 9-13 (Session I) and June 16-20 (Session II). Cost for resident campers will be $120; those commuting with two meals per day, $100; and those commuting with no meals, $85. Registration forms may be obtained by contacting Klaver at Wayne State College, (402) 375-2200. Those attending will check in on Sunday between 6-7 p.m., with the first session to follow from 7:30-9 p.m. Check out will be Thursday afternoon at 4 p.m.

Sudangrasses, sorghums not for grazing horses

The lush, green growth of sudangrass, forage and sorghum-sudangrass crosses will provide a good source of emergency feed. But these grasses are not for horses!

Horses grazing these grasses are often poisoned. This is not prussic acid poisoning. The symptoms only affect horses, while prussic acid will affect all livestock. The problem is appearing with increasing frequency in the southwestern U.S.

The first sign of trouble is in coordination of the rear legs. Affected horses, if forced to move, may sway from side to side. The rear quarters occasionally may drop to the ground. Many will sit or even fall down when forced to back up. Paralysis of the back legs and tail occasionally develops within 24 hours of the initial symptoms.

The urinary bladder is paralyzed, too. Constant dribbling of urine is the apparent symptom as a result of bladder paralysis, horses may develop fatal bladder and kidney infections. Reproductive consequences include abortion and fetal deformities. Fetal deformities occur in early gestating mares that eat the grasses in June when the plants grow rapidly.

The dangers from sorghum and sudangrass poisonings are lessened as the grass matures and dries; but mature and second-growth pastures have been incriminated.

Researchers don't know what toxic agent in the grasses cause the trouble. Initial symptoms show up anywhere from one week to six months after horses have been grazing. The average is eight weeks.

Removing the horse from the pasture will usually stop progression of the symptoms. However, the animal doesn't generally recover from the incordination or bladder paralysis.

Cutting swine production costs. Feed costs are the largest cash expense in swine production. The amount of feed wasted by improperly adjusted or worn out feeders can add significantly to this expense.

If a producer's feed efficiency in the finishing unit is at 4:1 because of worn out or hard-to-adjust feeders, a new easily adjusted feeder can easily improve this 10 percent; to 3.6:1. If pigs in the facility are gaining 1.5 pounds per day, the 4 pound improvement in feed efficiency represents a saving of a pound of feed per pig per day. The feed cost of $100 per ton, this is a potential savings of 3.6 cents per head per day.

At the typical 4 pigs per feeder space, this represents a potential savings of $52.56 per feeder space per year. For a 10-hole feeder, this is a yearly savings of $526. When multiplied by the expected life of a feeder, replacement or repair of feeders becomes a money management tool that can't be neglected, even in times of depressed market prices.

Breed more sows during the summer

Summer management of the breeding herd can influence reproductive performance of litters born during six to seven months of the year, according to Don Lewis, extension swine specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln South Central Research and Extension Center.

"If heat stress of animals occurs during June, July, August, and first half of September, as it often does in Nebraska, the number of pigs born may be reduced from farrowings from the middle of February," he said. "When the temperature surrounding the hogs gets about 85 degrees during mating and early gestation, a decrease in farrowing rate and litter size frequently occurs."

The various types of cooling methods—ultraviolet on many swine operations have not completely eliminated the decreased farrowing rate during the fall and early winter. "Therefore," Lewis said, "more sows should be bred during the summer months. The number of additional sows to breed for reducing the risk of empty farrowing crates should be based on each farm's previous year's farrowing rate from summer matings."

Lewis recommends that each swine operation develop its own monthly breeding factor. "The monthly breeding factor is calculated by dividing 100 by the determined farrowing rate per month. The monthly breeding factor is then multiplied by the desired number of farrowings for that month."

If previous records on farrowing rate have not been kept, the following monthly breeding factors are suggested by Lewis: June - 1.23; July - 1.30; August - 1.32; September - 1.35; October - 1.23."

the farmer's wife

by pat meierhenry

It's nice to know I'm missed, even if it's just by my mother. She called Sunday night to ask where last Thursday's column was. I had to answer truthfully that nobody knows.

Kay swears she mailed it in Wayne on Sunday night. The beleaguered editor called on Tuesday to ask where it was. She said she didn't know. It shows up in the Hear office on Thursday, postmarked Hoskins. Hard to understand.

I think my Mom really wanted me to know that she participated in the Senior Olympics yesterday and came home with a third place medal in the knife work and a second place in the half-mile. Pretty good for a Grandma who had lung surgery one year ago. We made it to York on Memorial Day and spent a quiet afternoon in the park there. I took the semen tank along and picked up some more semen from a black-Chinaman bull named "Boomer" who lives near York.

My cousin's wife is a med tech, and she was fascinated with all our talk about beef breeding technology. Some people spent more advan-turous weekends. One couple fished for Walleye at Bonstet, S.D. One gal at work came with a sunburn achieved while water-skiing.

One couple hauled a bull to Minnesota in a horse trailer behind the car. They had their daughter, a new grandson, and a dog inside the car. Traveling with a boy, a bull, and a dog is definitely the slow way to go.

I did go to the country cemetery at Waco where my dad and grand-parents are buried. It's good that we take a day once a year to remember our ancestors.

MY AUNT was born working on the Ticken family farm, and we received copies of the completed book, Gerhard Ticken came to America from Neustadt, Oldenburg, Germany, in 1874. He was a blacksmith. He wrote letters to a sister left in Germany. These letters were found stashed in an attic and were mailed back after World War II. The letters are reprinted in the book. What a history lesson!

The ocean trip took 19 days, and they were sick most of the time. They were gaped at and laughed at. The land was not as they had been told. It was lonely and forlorn.

He made new plowshares for $4, sharpening one was 25¢. A new horseshoe was 50¢, an old one 25¢. Grasshoppers ate the crops. Fruit trees were planted. Many potatoes were raised. He says in one letter, "There is no whiskey here as in Germany, which caused so much unhappiness in families."

"Girls are rare here; ours were engaged for 3 to 4 years, otherwise we could not have kept them so long."

I hired a girl who was confirmed a year ago, give her a dollar every week; wages are very high here."

THERE WERE sad things, like: "I must inform you of the death of Gerhard Wiemers's young wife. Her little son died the evening of her funeral. There was a lot of sickness around this winter. Several people died, among them two young wives and a father of several small children."

"We must commend that to God's will and say: the Lord gave and the Lord took away. The name of the Lord be praised."

A cyclone blew the roof off the smokehouse and wrecked 60 bushels of shocked grain. "But we must not murmur or complain. We still have plenty of everything."

These early Nebraska settlers must have been made of tough stuff. I hope I have enough of these tough genes to survive modern "hard times."

There is always the promise of Spring: new calves, new corn, a new litter of Kittens, peonies, red geraniums in planters, dandelions.

There seems to be an abundance of "cotton" blowing from trees. It's on the screens on the porch, on sidewalks, everywhere.

Softball tournaments fill up the weekends. Girls are "laying out," working on fans. We watch the news about soccer fans being trampled and terraced, wiping out communities, and shudder.

"June is bustin' out all over," and we are preparing for weddings. Which is more fun than planting corn or cutting hay.

Land Bank ups interest rate

The current economic stress in agriculture is the cause of an increase in the Federal Land Bank of Omaha's variable interest rate from 12.75 percent to 13.50 percent effective July 1, it was announced to borrowers Wednesday.

The Land Bank's board of directors increased the interest rate due to an increased level of non-performing loans and losses and acquired properties; both of which are running above forecasts, according to John Harling, president and chief executive officer of the Farm Credit Banks of Omaha.

"Just like most agricultural lenders, the Land Bank is experiencing the effects of the adverse agricultural economy," Harling said. "We are fully aware of the economic stress being experienced by farmers and ranchers. This rate increase is a reflection of the plight of many farmers and ranchers."

HARLING ADDED THAT even with the rate increase, it is projected that the bank will operate at break-even for 1985.

He explained that a sound financial foundation is needed by the Land Bank to maintain investor confidence, which he called "critical" to ensuring reasonable interest rates for borrowers in the future.

"If the rate increase was not implemented and the bank operated at a significant loss, the likely reduced investor confidence would add to our funding costs and could have a greater impact on loan rates than the current increase," he said.

Harling said some relief of the current economic plight of agriculture could come from Congress if they would take action on pending proposals. He urged borrowers to contact their Congressmen to request passage of: 1) a farm bill that will permit agriculture to return to profitability; 2) approval of an Agricultural Conservation Corporation that would help stabilize land values; and 3) a reduction in the federal deficit which would reduce interest rates and help exports.

The Federal Land Bank of Omaha makes long-term loans to farmers and ranchers in Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming. The bank has over 74,000 loans totaling more than $5.8 billion.

How to get rid of 'difficult to kill' pigweed

Pigweed is one of the two most common weed problems in soybean fields throughout Nebraska. And according to an extension weed specialist at the University of Nebraska, growers who ignore the weed could face substantial yield losses.

"Foxtails and pigweed are the most common problems in our soybean crop," says Dr. Alex Martin. "Almost anybody who's growing soybeans needs to plan for pigweed."

Pigweed's widespread infestation is due in large measure to the plant's ability to produce large amounts of seed, Martin points out.

"Research shows that individual plants can produce over 100,000 seeds," he says. "The seed coat is fairly hard, so the seed lives for a long time in the soil. Once a field contains a large quantity of the seed, you'll have pigweed in the field for many years to come, because only a small percentage of the seeds will germinate in any one summer."

Both redroot pigweed and tall waterhemp, strains of pigweed, which can reach six feet in height, are common in Nebraska, Martin says, in addition to competing effectively for water and soil nutrients, pigweed can grow and shade out the soybeans.

"I believe farmers can expect at least a one-third yield reduction from a thick stand of pigweed or even more," he comments. "It depends on the growing conditions and how soon pigweeds get started."

While frost will kill pigweed, he adds, the plant structure can still interfere with soybean harvest. With heavy infestations, a large quantity of pigweed seed or plant parts in harvested soybeans can lead to dockage at the elevator.

SINCE FOXTAILS are as common a weed problem as pigweed, Martin reports that many farmers are relying on a pre-emergence grass herbicide to control both. The pre-emergence grass herbicides generally have good activity against pigweed, he says, though the surface-applied herbicides, usually do better against pigweed than the preplant incorporated materials.

For season-long control, Martin contends, many growers may find it necessary to add a pre-emergence broadleaf herbicide to the tank mix or return to the field later with a post-emergence spray. However, he is cautious in relying completely on a post-emergence strategy for weed control, because most of the post-emergence materials effective against pigweed offer no grass control.

Martin adds that most Nebraska growers still rely on some tillage and cultivation to supplement herbicides. Some also are experimenting with solid-seeding in narrow rows. The advantage of narrow rows is the soybeans will form a leaf canopy early when spaced closely and shade out weeds after the plants have been growing for several weeks.

"The problem holding solid-seeding back is weed control, especially tough weeds like shatter-cane, velvetleaf and sunflowers," he comments.

However, Martin concludes, many growers who can control pigweed and foxtails will go a long way toward solving their weed problems on soybeans in many cases.

Young farmers meeting

The first regular meeting of the newly-formed Northeast Nebraska Young Farmers-Ranchers Education Association will be at 8 p.m., Tuesday, June 11, at the Science-Ag Building room 109 on the Northeast Technical Community College campus in Norfolk.

Guest speaker will be Paul Mueller, 1985 Nebraska Spokesperson for Agriculture, who will speak on having a Positive Attitude in Agriculture. Allen Emanuel of West Point, Neb., area vice president will also be present.

The Nebraska Young Farmers-Ranchers Education Association is a statewide non-profit, non-political organization established for educational purpose with emphasis in agriculture. Membership starts at the local level where a person may enroll in an out-of-school vocational agricultural program.

Purposes of the organization are to develop competent, active, rural agricultural leadership; to strengthen the confidence of young men and women in themselves and in their work; and to provide information for decision making in the farm enterprise.

All interested individuals are urged to attend the meeting, said president Roger Miller of Battle Creek.

4-H Home Environment Encounter

All 4-H members 12 and older, parents and leaders, are invited to participate in the 4-H Home Environment Encounter which will be held at Norfolk on Monday, July 8. The program will start at the First Methodist Church and include a program on bow tying starting at 9 a.m. for the early risers. The official program will begin at 7:30 a.m. and conclude about 4:30 to 5 p.m.

Included in the program will be a presentation on stenciling, table setting and centerpiece, wood finishing, lamps and lighting, refinishing trunks and textiles for home furnishings.

Tours on the program include "A look at a first apartment," a furniture store, a florist, an antique shop, home fixtures supplies and a jewelry store. Each participant will have a hands-on experience with one of the following: needlepoint, strip quilting, folded stars, candlewicking, macramé, wood finishing, making a picture frame, applique and napkin folding.

Additional features will include a panel on "Putting It All Together" which will explore putting home environment ideas to use and an opportunity to display 4-H member's home environment projects. Registration fee will be $8 which includes the noon meal, insurance, and supplies. Registration information is available at local extension offices. Deadline for registration is June 24.

Swine farrowing school

There is still room for a few more applicants for a swine farrowing school to be held in Wayne County June 19-20 according to Don C. Spitzke, Wayne County Extension Agent.

This swine farrowing school is designed with the lady farrowing manager in mind, but open to all and will cover everything the swine farrowing manager needs, from obstetrics and equipment to records and gilt selection as well as some hands on experience during the two day workshop.

The first day of the workshop, June 19 will be held in the city of Wayne and the second session, June 20 at a farm west of Carroll. Registration closes either Friday, June 14 or when the classes are full. Contact the Wayne County Extension Office for registration.

Deadline for identification devices

The deadline for comments on a proposal concerning identification devices for cattle and swine is June 14. This U.S. Department of Agriculture proposal would require that individual identification devices worn by cattle and swine remain on animals moved between states from point of origin to final destination.

Bert Hawkins, administrator of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, said the current regulations require that identification devices, such as ear tags, back tags, brands, or tattoos, remain on the animals only for the actual interstate movement.

The proposal says these devices would remain on the animals until they reach their final destination. Hawkins said this would increase the ability to pinpoint the source of any animal disease.

Interstate movement is considered to begin at the point of origin and includes any temporary stops, such as those at stockyards. The final destination is usually a slaughtering establishment or a farm for breeding.

Comments on the proposal may be sent to: Thomas O. Gessel, APHIS, USDA, Room 728 Federal Bldg., 6505 Belcrest Rd., Hyattsville, MD, 20782.

GINGHAM GALS-

The Gingham Gals 4-H Club met May 7 at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne. The meeting was called to order by President Maria Sandahl.

Eileen Von Seggern and Tanya Prokop led the group in the 4-H pledge and flag salute.

Ideas were discussed for song contestants along Wayne's Main St. on May 18.

Following the business meeting, Christi Heinemann gave a speech and Teresa and Tanya Prokop presented a demonstration on crepes.

Next meeting was scheduled June 4. Jennifer Chapman, news reporter.

GIRL SCOUT AWARDS

Girl Scout award night was held June 1 at the Winside park with 30 scouts and their parents present.

The Brownies and Junior Girl Scouts joined in saying the Girl Scout Pledge. The Junior Scouts gave the Girl Scout Law and what it meant to them.

Peg Eckert presented cookie badges and World Association pins to Brownie members in the absence of Brownie leader Cathy Holtgraw.

Those present receiving recognition were Wendy Morse, Denise Nelson, Katie Schwedhelm, Shawna Holtgraw, Tammy Thies, Bettina Appel, Tawnya Krueger and Jessica Jaeger.

Wendy Rabe received a sleeping bag for selling over 200 boxes of Girl Scout cookies. This was the second year she had sold the most cookies.

Junior Girl Scouts present were Shannon Holdorf, Holly Holdorf, Becky Appel, Jennifer Hancock, Wendy Morse and Jennifer Jacobsen.

They received several patches for their work in Girl Scouts. Patches were Bicycle, Art to Wear, On My Way, Traveler, First Aid, Girl Scouting Everywhere, Sign of the Sun, 1985 Cookie Patch and a patch for planting trees.

Bonnie Tawnya Krueger received her Bridging Patch into the Junior Girl Scout.

Peg Eckert baked the decorated Girl Scout cakes with all the Girl Scouts serving their families and friends.

PRISCILLA CIRCLE

Priscilla Circle met 28th at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Twelve members and one new member, Gloria Evans, were present.

Laura Jaeger led the devotions. Reba Mann presented the Bible study on "A Servant's Faithfulness." The circle will be getting a book and tape for the church library.

At the next meeting, the circle will be working on their "trash for cash" project. Members are asked to bring items they have been saving.

The next meeting will be June 24 with Carol Jorgensen leading the Bible study.

NEW LIBRARY HOURS

New library hours are starting June 10 at the Winside Public Library. They will be open Mondays

WAYNE COUNTY OLD SETTLERS

The War-Torn Forties and Nifty Fifties

Since the automobile made travel easier and every town had come up with its own annual celebration, it became necessary to advertise. The birth of the Old Settlers Booster Trip on August 10, 1928, was probably in keeping with this trend in small town America. Driving in caravans of 20 to 30 cars, honking horns, coming to a sudden stop and throwing open the doors to accept perfect strangers walking down the street or dashing into local shops placing window cards and flyers on the walls announcing that the annual Wayne County Old Settlers Picnic would be held in Winside on August 17 and 18 became a tradition in itself. (Booster trips were curtailed during the War years due to gas rationing).

Citizens and merchants in local towns such as Pilger, Stanton, Carroll, Hoskins, and Wayne among others welcomed the boosters with open arms. The happiest of the local business men was the saloon keeper who knew a good thing when he saw it. Old Settlers past may soon be forgotten but memories of the booster trips in the late forties and fifties will live for a long time.

Entertainment still included foot races, tug-of-war, three legged races, water fights and the rest of the old standbys. In the early forties patriotic speeches ruled with exhortations to plant more victory gardens, buy more bonds and save the gas for our boys at the front. National driving contests whereby the ladies were given half a dozen long nails to be driven through a two inch plank were going strong as well as shoe kicking contests.

There was something hilarious in watching grandma in line with the other ladies holding onto the hem of her dress while seeing how far she could kick her shoe. Who can ever forget the magnificent blacks of Louie Willers hunkered down, straining against the fogs in an attempt to pull the sled a further distance than Herman Koll's well groomed purebred Belgians.

Baseball was the featured event of Old Settlers not only during this period but throughout the 20's and 30's. The powerhouse Winside baseball teams of these times took on all comers. The most remembered, talked about and in retrospect the finest hour of town team baseball at the celebration was in 1954 when Wayne flew in a little known college pitcher from Creighton University to give the local boys a baseball lesson. Back to back triples by Mike Mallele and Chuck Smeal and a passed ball on the Wayne catcher accounted for the local favorites 2 to 1 victory.

Hall of Famer Bob Gibson won the seventh game of the 1964 World Series from the New York Yankees but lost to Winside on Old Settlers Day.

LUTHERAN CHURCHWOMEN

The Salem Lutheran Churchwomen met May 28. Norman Maglund, president, welcomed everyone. A girls quarter consisting of Mellinda Ritschmuller, Jennifer Gustafson, Ingrid Ruoff and Buffany Blecke sang "Pass It On" accompanied by Vickie Thomsen. The theme was "The Devotions, Friends" and read a poem "The Golden Chain of Friendship" by Helen Stener. Jennifer Gustafson sang a solo, "I Am Not Alone," accompanied by Vickie Thomsen.

Marie Pretzer was the guest speaker. She talked about books. She said the first book everyone should read is the Bible. People that read the Bible will get all their knowledge from it. Mrs. Vernon Egley gave the offering prayer and everyone sang "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." Norman Maglund gave a report on the guest days some of the members attended at the Immanuel Lutheran Church and the Redeemer Lutheran Church.

Cards were signed for Mildred Johnson and Ruth Lempe. Mrs. Ar. Groves, Mrs. Elmer Sundell, Mrs. Kermit Johnson and Mrs. E.W. Lundahl served the lunch. The next meeting will be Thursday, June 27 at 8 p.m.

How do you find boat insurance that protects more than your boat?

No problem.

Boat Insurance from Auto-Owners protects you in case of collision on land or water... it provides fire and theft coverage, and liability and medical protection for you and your family can also be added.

So ask your Auto-Owners agent just how their Boat Insurance can be "no problem" keeping you afloat.

For soybeans, corn, grain sorghum

FDIC deadlines set for crop insurance

June 15 is the final planting date for soybeans in northeast Nebraska, according to Ted C. Nave, District Director, District 05 for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FDIC).

Insured soybeans planted by June 15 must be reported by June 30 in order to receive full crop insurance coverage. The acreage report reflects the actual acreage planted and reported by the farmer.

According to Leo B. Holthaus, director for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCI), June 5 is the final planting date for corn. June 15 is the final planting date for both grain sorghum and potatoes, and June 20 is the final planting date for dry beans.

Insured corn planted by June 5, grain sorghum and potatoes by June 15, and dry beans planted by June 20 must be reported by June 30 in order to receive full crop insurance coverage. The acreage report reflects the actual acreage planted and reported by the farmer.

In order to provide some flexibility on planting dates, a late planting option may be exercised by farmers who find themselves unable to plant their crops on time due to adverse weather. The late planting option provides insurance coverage for the late planted crop, but at a lower guarantee.

For insured farmers, "entering in" to the late planting option is not automatic," Nave said. "Farmers wishing to use the late planting option must sign an agreement prior to the final planting date in order to have coverage under the late planting option."

Increasingly, our insured producers are discovering that with yield guarantees which reflect production capability, crop insurance establishes a farm income floor. Thus, cash flow and the ability to repay a loan can be more accurately projected," explained Mr. Nave.

Farmers wishing to discuss local conditions that may affect planting should contact their local authorized crop insurance agent.

Conference focuses on leadership

"Challenge to Strive in '85" is the theme of the 1985 Nebraska State 4-H Conference to be held June 17-21 at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

C. Dean Johnson, UNL extension 4-H specialist of Clay Center, said the emphasis of this year's conference will be on leadership. The five-day meeting has been designed "to help Nebraska 4-H'ers develop a greater understanding of leadership principles and responsibilities," he said.

"The leadership theme will begin with motivation and commitment," said Johnson. "As the week progresses, we will study and practice different leadership skills for different situations."

He said about 250 Nebraska youths will attend the conference. "This is a wonderful way for 4-H'ers to develop skills, meet new friends and have fun," he added.

Most of the conference planning has been done by six conference coordinators: Jeff Hild, Plattsmouth; Darrin Jones, Grand Island; Sharon Lienemann, Pierce; Barb Meister, West Point; Jerry Roemer, Hooper; and Gail Thurber, Roca.

Seven 4-H'ers have been chosen as 4-H conference assistants: Sara Adkins, Laurel; Holy Eilfeldt, Sutherland; Kim Grant, Meadow Grove; Christine Hannappel, Clark; Andy Jacobitz, Prosser; Alan Scarrott, Fairbury; and Nancy Trumble, Papillion.

Featured speakers for the conference include Kevin Hyde, a 22-year-old graduate of the University of South Florida who is currently director of corporate development for Florida College; The former 4-H'er will speak on "The Challenge of Leadership."

Roger Wetsch, UNL professor of English and anthropology, will speak on "Leadership Skills on the Plains" at 6:30 p.m. June 18.

On Wednesday morning, June 19, Ursula Walsh will speak on "Team Building." Walsh has served as academic counselor to male athletes for the UNL Athletic Department for 13 years.

Registration for the five-day state conference will begin at 9 a.m. June 17. The annual State 4-H public speaking contest will be held the following day.

The State 4-H Conference is open to any Nebraska 4-H'er age 14 and older. Applications are due June 1 and are available from any Cooperative Extension Service office.

Melvin Lamb, Cheryl Henschke named presidents

Officers installed for Wayne Eagles

Joint installation was held May 30 for Wayne Eagles Aerie and Auxiliary 3757.

Installing officers were State President LeRoy Hintz and Vice President Elton Wanda Hintz of South Sioux City.

They were assisted by past State Presidents Floyd and Viola Ruppert of Fremont.

The South Sioux City ritual team escorted members to their new stations.

INSTALLED WERE Art Bargholz and Dorothy Nelson, past presidents; Melvin Lamb and Cheryl Henschke, presidents; Byron Heier and Jerac Grimm, vice presidents; Gerald Grimm and Nelda Hammer, chaplains; Harold Olson, Lynn Gamble, Darrell Gilliland, Ruth Korih, Myrtle Bargholz and Jan Gamble, trustees.

Also, Mike Sievers and Arvilla Middleton, conductors; Larry Test and Deann Behlers, secretaries; Elmer Bargholz and Fern Test, treasurers; Jeff Triggs and Florence Gewese, inside guards; Bob Behlers and Verona Henschke, outside guards; Bryce Lindsay and Doris Gilliland, auditors; Florence Gewese, Mother of the Year; and Elmer Bargholz, Father of the Year.

Past presidents served lunch following the meeting.

MEMBERS OF the auxiliary met June 3 with President Cheryl Henschke.

Receiving perfect attendance pins were Fern Test, Myrtle Bargholz, Dorothy Nelson and Nelda Hammer.

It was announced the annual family Fourth of July picnic will be held June 20 at the Bob Behlers farm. The potluck supper will begin at 7 p.m.

Winners of door prizes were Maria Brugger and Joe Dorcay. Fern Test served lunch.

Youth art exhibit

The Traveling Exhibit of the Youth Division of the Nebraska Habitat Stamp Art Contest will make stops in eight locations across the state now through January, according to the Game and Parks Commission, sponsor of the art contest.

The exhibit, which features the winning entries and other achievers in the competition, is now on display at the Commission's headquarters, 2200 North 33rd Street in Lincoln. It will be there through May 28. From there, it will travel to Norfolk. The exhibit represents the work of 75 young artists age five through 18 and was selected from over 1,500 entries submitted in the annual contest. All paintings feature various wildlife species and their habitat.

Dates and locations for the display include: June 1-30 at the Norfolk Arts Center, 803 Norfolk Ave., Norfolk; July 3-31 at the Buffalo Bill Ranch State Historical Park at North Platte; Aug. 5-25 at the Peter Klewit Conference Center, State Office Building, 1313 Farnam, Omaha; Aug. 28-Sept. 25, State Capitol (5th floor) in Lincoln; Oct. 1-28 at the Sturh Museum of the Prairie Pioneer at Grand Island; Nov. 1-30 at the Lydia Brun Woods Library, 120 East 18th Street, Falls City; and Dec. 6-Jan. 28 at the Ak-Sar-Ben Aquarium, Schramm Park State Recreation Area near Gretna.

Entries for next year's contest will be accepted by the Commission beginning Dec. 1. Closing date for entries is March 1, 1986. Rules for the 1986 competition will be essentially the same as in the past and copies will be available from the Commission Oct. 1. However, entrants will be required to provide postage to have their entry returned when the judging is complete.
