At fairgrounds in Concord Fair begins this weekend

Activities of the Dixon County Fair at Concord will begin on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 3 and 4 with a stamped and special vesper service. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 5, 7, the Carrousel Amusements will be on the grounds and the 4-H and open judging will be held along with many other special activities.

Headlining the entertainment at the Dixon County Fair this year will be Patches II in front of the grandstand at 8 p.m. Monday evening and on Tuesday evening, also at 8 p.m., the Blackwood Singers will appear.

The Blackwood singers possess a name that stands for excellence in Gospel Music. The group has won more Grammy Awards than any other recording artists in any other field of music. The Blackwoods have been nominated each of the 26 years in the history of the Grammy Awards. They are repeatedly one of the most requested Christian artists on the PTL Club TV show and on radio stations nationwide.

Patches II is an all-girl band from the Wausa and Bloomfield area. The group plays basically country music and incorporates musical styles from the 1940's to rock and roll. In 1984 the Patches II group won the state championship in the Wangler-Country Showdown and made a trip to the national competition in Nashville, Tenn.

For the first time the Dixon County Fair will have a 10 kilometer and one mile races. Starting time for the races is 8 a.m. Saturday at the fairgrounds and trophies will be awarded in several divisions for both male and female runners. For more information contact Allen George at Dixon.

THE VESPER SERVICE on Sunday evening will begin at 8 p.m. followed by the presentation of the 100 year pioneer farm family awards.

On Monday, Aug. 5 the judging will get underway with the 4-H horse show, the 4-H food, garden, home economic and small animal judging. In the afternoon there will be the 4-H and open class dairy show and judging plus a micro mini tractor pull.

A free barbecue will be served on Monday beginning at 5 p.m. followed by the open class horse play days and the Patches II musical group. Jerry Junck will call a free square dance starting at 9:30 p.m.

Tuesday's activities will include the beef judging in the 4-H and open class during the morning and at 2 p.m. there will be the tractor pulling contest which will include antique tractors. In the evening there will be a dance featuring the music of Donna Bourn.

On the final day (Wednesday) the judging of the swine and sheep will be held during the morning hours. In the afternoon there will be a 4-H style revue and presentation of trophies and a kiddie tractor pull.

A parade featuring horses, antiques and machinery will pass in front of the grandstand at 5 p.m. followed by the 4-H livestock parade. A demolition derby will be held at 8 p.m. on Wednesday night.

Timpte opens Wayne office

Temporary office headquarters in Wayne for Timpte, Inc. has been established at 112 W. 3rd Street.

The only Timpte official currently on staff at the office, located just west of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, is Personnel Manager Gloria Lessmann.

Lessmann said there has been a lot of interest generating on available employment opportunities at Timpte. "There have been employment inquiries from the area for all sorts of jobs, and we are appreciative of that. It shows us that there are people out there who do want to work with us," Lessmann said.

"And we hope these people will continue to be as patient with us as they have been," she added.

She said the main priority within the Timpte personnel office is to begin groundwork for getting the pre-employment training program started for production workers in the plant itself.

The pre-employment training, conducted at area technical or state colleges, will be provided at no cost to the applicant who is screened and approved for participation in the program. The job program, under the State Department of Economic Development, is funded by the state and Timpte.

Lessmann said the training period will last approximately four weeks, during evenings and weekends so that individuals can still work at their present jobs and be able to continue with the job training.

"But we're not locked into that four week figure," she said.

DURING the pre-employment training, the participating applicant will not be an employee of Timpte.

Lessmann said once the employee completes the training, they will be screened and interviewed by Timpte, Inc. and Job Services. "At that time, the employees will go on the payroll," she said, and will be placed for work on the second shift at the David City, Nebraska Timpte manufacturing plant.

In what she said was a "very, very tentative schedule", it will be the end of August when Timpte will have the pre-employment set up and announce the time and place to pick up application forms for the programs.

"Applicants will have a few days to fill out the applications and sent on to Job Service, where they will be screened by Timpte and Job Service," Lessmann said.

The training will likely be in September and the applicants will be interviewed and hired by October. "By October, we hope to have a crew of about 25 working at David City on the second shift."

"Later this fall, another group will be going," she said.

"Our goal is to have trained people on the production line when the plant opens," she said. This alternative of job training is better than spending six months or more to train the hired employees after the plant has opened and is ready for operation.

Lessmann said the company is currently looking at hiring 150 people at plant opening in both office and production personnel.

The company is still in the process, she said, of setting up the framework for the wage structure, benefit packages and other forms of labor compensation.

City authorizes bond issuance

by Chuck Hackenmiller

Wayne's City Council unanimously voted approval Tuesday evening to authorize the issuance of bond anticipation notes totaling $440,000.

The bond financing will provide interim financing for a portion of the costs of constructing improvements on several Wayne city street improvement districts.

These street improvement districts include 84-1 (South Douglas); 84-2 and 84-3 (Coan's Western Heights); 84-4 (alley between 7th and 8th Street and Main and Logan); 84-5 (East Dearborn); 85-1 (7th and North Main); 85-2 (Providence Road).

Total estimated construction and engineering-miscellaneous costs to the city for the street improvement projects was $412,374.40. Add to that figure costs of issuance of the bond (legal/printing and underwriting) and the estimated total the city would need for issuance would be $440,000.

Some of the city's costs for issuance of the bond will be recovered by what will be assessed to property owners residing along some of the street improvement districts.

Interest rates on the bonds will be at 7 1/2 percent and will mature on Aug. 15, 1988.

The city will be expecting to issue additional bond anticipation notes at such times and in such amounts as will cover the balance of the unfunded costs of other street, sewer, water and storm sewer projects estimated to reach costs of $700,000. Major balance of funds needed, Lorenzen said, will be for the city's 14th Street improvements.

THE CITY HAD temporarily advanced other funds of the city or had issued warrants on a temporary basis in order to meet the contractor's expenses on the street improvement projects.

Bond anticipation notes (short-term bonding) is a more market-oriented financial means when compared to issuing warrants (something that serves as a guarantee, pledge or security), according to Lorenzen.

"The markets for warrants are difficult to obtain," he said.

In other action Tuesday evening, the Wayne City Council:

Received two bids with large variation in total costs for two asphaltic street overlay projects in Wayne.

Budget gets council nod

Wayne's City Council unanimously approved a 1985-86 budget calling for just over a 5 percent increase in tax asking.

The approval came during the public hearing Tuesday evening, July 30 at the city council chambers. There were no objections voiced to the proposed city budget.

At a meeting held the previous evening (Monday), it was decided to grant a 2 percent wage increase, across the board, to city employees. The 5.23 percent increase in tax askings is the lowest in years, according to figures by Wayne City Administrator Phil Kloster.

Kloster said the only changes from the original proposal were that a computer request by the public works department was dropped from the budget request, and instead of granting two equipment purchase requests for road maintenance equipment the city set aside money in a sinking fund to pay for the equipment if needed.

Approximately $17,400 is anticipated this year in new federal revenue sharing money.

The Wayne Fire Department's new pumper vehicle, bid out at $101,000, will be financed through the balance of 1984-85 general revenue sharing funds of up to $67,000 and the balance picked up out of the city's electrical fund, transferred to the general fund on a loan basis.

Also included in the budget is the repair of the Wayne Municipal Swimming Pool deck, roof repairs to the city auditorium and possibly city hall; an increase in the water department fund for a new well field and land acquisition; and increases for the upgrading of the city's distribution system for the Carhart and possibly the Corvett Subdivision.

After the public hearing, the city council approved a resolution adopting the 1985-86 budget as presented at the hearing and followed the procedure by approving an ordinance of the annual appropriation bill.

Gerhold starts Wayne plant

by Chuck Hackenmiller

Gerhold Concrete Products Company, headquartered in Columbus, Nebraska, has established a plant in Wayne.

Tim Brock, manager to the Gerhold facility in Wayne, said construction on the new plant began on July 2 and the concrete company has been in full operation since July 16 at the Wayne site.

The Wayne plant joins other Gerhold plants in Nebraska, including Norfolk, Fremont, York, Seward, McCook, Columbus and Wayne.

For the time being, the Wayne facility (nearly 85 percent completed) will "basically be a ready-mix plant," Brock said Tuesday morning. There are future plans to furnish-accommodating materials for various other concrete needs.

THESE ITEMS, SUCH as concrete blocks, are accessible from other Gerhold plants and the Wayne branch can "work through them in getting the materials," Brock said. "We can help people with all their masonry needs," he added.

Brock said he has presently four employees at the operation site, which will have the capability of batching 100 yards of cement per hour. Eventually, that number could be in the neighborhood of 10 employees when construction of the plant is completed and business is in full swing.

Brock said four ready-mix trucks are being used at the plant site. But if the day's demand requires more cement trucks, extra equipment can be obtained from other Gerhold plants.

"We'll always have enough equipment for what we need," Brock said.

Currently, sand and gravel for the Wayne plant is coming from Central Sand and Gravel from the Norfolk pit.

BROCK SAID the decision to locate a Gerhold Concrete plant here, an idea which had been discussed for several years by Gerhold officials, was based on the company's desire to become a part of the Wayne community.

The same company has been contracted to supply the cement for the Timpte, Inc. refrigerated semi-trailer manufacturing plant. Brock said getting the concrete bid for Timpte spurred on the decision to locate in Wayne.

But Timpte is not the only reason why Gerhold decided to settle in Wayne, he said. The community and area is progressive, he said. By observing what concessions that governing entities were made in attracting Timpte to Wayne, Gerhold officials have realized that the general attitude of the people is to have a prosperous community.

When the Timpte project is completed, Brock said, the company "definitely wants to serve the community the best way we can."

Brock said Gerhold's plant in Wayne will be monitored regularly through a quality control system operated by Columbus — to make sure all the product ingredients are in correct proportion.

concern primarily Sherman Street from 7th Street to 11th Street and on Windom Street near Overin Field.

Lowest of the two bids came from Brower Construction Company of Sioux City, giving a unit price of $55.31 per ton, for 560 total tons, at a total cost of $30,973.60.

The contractor's starting date would be September 16 and would take seven calendar days to complete.

Biba Engineering supplied a bid of $83.88 per ton of asphaltic concrete overlay at a total cost of $46,972.80. Biba could start on the project on Aug. 13 and have the project completed in 15 days.

The city council opted to make a decision on the bids at the upcoming Aug. 13 regular meeting.

"REVIEWED the city's bad debt load and found it had been the lowest in three years. This year's bad debt load reached $1,492. During the previous year the amount was $2,374 and two years ago, the amount was $3,500 greater than this year."

City Administrator Phil Kloster cites the city's collection agency as a factor in reducing the debt load.

"Considering the time we're in, we're fortunate to have it [the bad debt load] as low as it is," he mentioned.

•Decided to table a complaint concerning a hedge that is abutting an alley in Wayne, located at 112 East 8th Street. City Police Chief Vern Fairchild said he could see no problem with the hedge in regard to street traffic. Children traffic, he said, could be a problem.

The police department could do nothing about the hedges unless the council would declare the hedges as a nuisance.

Several councilmen who viewed the hedges said they found no great safety problem on the property. However, Mayor Wayne Marsh commented that it is difficult for vehicle operators driving down the alley to see little children who are walking across the alley from the sidewalks.

"Received an update on the Timpco, Inc. manufacturing plant construction, from the city's perspective."

KLOSTER SAID the city public work crew has done a commendable job in placing water and sewer lines at the Timpco construction site.

All personnel from the public works department, plus five part-time help have averaged 10 hour days and partial help on Saturday in an effort to install the lines, nearly completing the city's major contribution to the Timpco, Inc. company.

Completed and in the ground are 1,150 feet of 8" sanitary sewer line; 1,450 feet of 30" storm sewer; 1,500 feet of 8" water line; and 700 more feet of water line.

Yet to be completed is the installation of 2,000 feet of 36" storm sewer, roof drains and parking lot storm drains.

"And were informed by Councilman Freeman Decker that there were cracks already on the newly-paved West Third Street. The cracks will continue to be monitored by engineers of the street project and the city council."

Special session would focus on school finance

by Melvin Paul
Governor Bob Kerrey said he expects to decide before the end of this week whether to convene a special legislative session on education issues.

For three months, Kerrey has been discussing the possibility of a special session in late August or early September, but he has yet to commit himself to such a plan.

Last week, he set the informal deadline for himself, and eliminated at least one item from the potential agenda. At a press conference, Kerrey said a special session call would not include consideration of amendments to the merger and affiliations provisions of LB 642, the 1985 school finance and consolidation law.

"I see nothing I would bring forward to amend that in this (special) session," Kerrey said. The complex legal issues that arise from the district mergers can be dealt with later, Kerrey said.

By ruling out consideration of affiliation and merger issues, Kerrey, has increased the possibility that the session would be devoted exclusively to school finance issues.

Kerrey reiterated his belief that the session should refine and advance in time the school finance portions of the bill that are now scheduled to take effect in 1987. The bill calls for a 1 percentage point increase in the state sales tax to allow an increase in state aid to schools.

If that policy is good in 1987, its advancement to 1985 is the "fair, honest and reasonable thing to do," Kerrey said.

GOVERNOR KERREY'S RECENT filtration with a statewide ticket lottery has caught the attention of the gambling industry.

Webcraft Games Inc. of North Brunswick, N.J., a ticket lottery firm has registered four lobbyists with the Clerk of the Legislature recently in the hope that the proposal might catch on with legislators here.

The firm registered Ray Lineweber, a Lincoln labor lobbyist, and three of its employees, Steve Palmer, Carl Alcott and William Downing. Lobby registration forms list Lineweber's fee at $15,000. Palmer is a former Nebraskan who worked on the staff of state senator Jim Pappas of North Platte.

Kerrey has said he may be agreeable to a statewide ticket lottery if proceeds are used for the support of public education. The statewide lottery could be an issue in the special session.

STATE TAX COMMISSIONER Donna Karnes has ordered seventeen additional counties to justify the real estate values they have set for 1985 property taxes.

With the three counties called by the state Board of Equalization at its July 15 meeting, a total of 20 Nebraska counties now face the possibility of state-mandated increases in their property values this year.

The Board of Equalization is scheduled to meet again on Aug. 9 to consider Karnes' recommendations for property value increases in the counties that have been called upon to justify their values. In most cases, the county boards have ordered roll-backs in certain classes of property from the values presented them by the county assessors.

The counties that Karnes has added to the list of those required to defend their values at public hearings in Lincoln are Blaine, Buffalo, Cheyenne, Dakota, Deuel, Dixon, Gage, Garden, Jefferson, Nuckolls, Otoe, Red Willow, Richardson, Saline, Sarpy, Sheridan and Washington.

The counties have been called to appear at hearings before Karnes and state Revenue Department staff members this week.

Holt, Valley and Scotts Bluff counties have been called to show-cause hearings earlier by the Board of Equalization. In its motion to call those counties, the Board of Equalization granted Karnes the authority to call any other counties she considered appropriate.

Name that road

That paved rural road district which will lead to Timpte, Inc. needs a name — for address purposes — in the near future, according to information passed Tuesday evening on to the attention of the Wayne City Council.

The city council has until its next regular meeting to think about it.

We at the Wayne Herald would like to do our part in providing the city council (and the Wayne County commissioners, since they are the ones who are responsible for a major portion of the financing of the paved road) with some ideas on what the paved road should be called.

Those interested in submitting a name can send their choice to the Wayne Herald, and we will be happy to forward the names to the city council. Send the response to The Wayne Herald, c/o Name That Road, Box 70, Wayne, NE 68787.

Deadline for final name submittance is Aug. 10. Some of the names submitted will be published prior to the meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Ideas tossed around by members of the city council Tuesday evening included Timpte Road and Industrial Road. What do you think the county road should be called? Let us hear from you.

Last Saturday, the day of the Wayne County Old Settler's celebration, we received a phone call from an individual who said she was "a resident of Winside" and demanded to know why there was nobody from the Wayne Herald staff available to take pictures of the 10 a.m. Kiddie Parade that day.

Saturday morning is a difficult time to break away from the office at the Wayne Herald because the Monday edition must be prepared for mailing during that time slot. Realizing this, we had decided on Friday to send a Wayne Herald employee — on her day off — to fill in on Saturday morning for the regular editorial staff who were busy.

Our designated photographer's duties were to photograph the Kiddie Parade. She did and pictures can be seen in this edition.

We do miss some photograph assignments now and then and deserve criticism. There are many summer events to cover and at times we must be selective of our photo coverage because of newspaper space limitations.

So don't fly off the handle so fast when a photographer isn't there.

He or she may have a valid explanation as to why the event was not covered.

Tax reform proposal deserves study

When the Administration presented its most recent tax reform proposal at the end of May, I devoted a news column to my comments on that proposal. At the end of that June 2 news column I said that I would continue to look carefully and cautiously at the tax changes proposed by the Administration, particularly at the possible impact of business-related provisions as they affect the agricultural and small business community. It is especially important to do so in a Grain Belt state like Nebraska with serious economic problems — a state that is also both capital-short and a capital exporting state.

all important issues, and if necessary, conduct my own independent research on matters of special interest to my constituents and state. Then I will use those opportunities that exist to modify add, or eliminate provisions as appropriate. That is, I believe, what a thoughtful, informed legislator should do.

Early conclusions and views. Here are some early conclusions and views. First, I favor the idea that there should be at least a minimum tax that every corporation would pay. Second, there is a projected shift from individual income taxes to corporate tax with individuals paying 5.2% less and corporations 22.5% more. I think that is at least a shift in the right direction. Third, I believe that nearly all Nebraskans with an annual family income of less than $40,000 would pay less taxes, particularly if most of that income comes from salaries. A great many Nebraskans with even higher income will pay less too.

How is that possible? Well, it is due to higher corporate taxes and the fact that a variety of deductions that are really not likely for lower and middle income people would no longer be available to the wealthy. Also, many non-taxed benefits would gradually be taxed. That will hurt some people who have managed to move what would ordinarily be taxable salary or self-employment income to non-taxed benefits or assets.

Fourth, I also am convinced that the $38 billion in additional taxes generated annually by ending the deductibility of local and state taxes is absolutely essential if the individual tax rates are to be lowered enough to make a difference deduction of about $830 per Nebraska family, if they claim such a deduction, but only one-third do.

Most importantly, Nebraskans will almost all pay less taxes on balance with this change unless they have an unusually large amount of assets tied up in real property and thus pay very high amounts of real estate taxes. Why? Relative to New York, California, New Jersey, etc., we are a low tax state. Hard to believe at times, but true! Thus Nebraska taxpayers are now subsidizing residents of high tax states. Don't think only about low deductions; look at the gain under the new lower tax rates.

Fifth, what about the common proposal for an across-the-board individual tax rate of a flat 10 percent? It's true that some wealthy persons escape all or nearly all taxes by deductions, credits, or shelters. Yet figures I've seen indicate that currently one-third of the wealthiest Americans do pay two-thirds of the individual income taxes, and one-third of all Americans in low income categories pay no taxes at all. A great many middle and upper income persons would relish paying only 10 percent of their income in taxes. Where do you stand?

These are hard facts and views that I can share with you now. As the hearings are concluded in September and as a bill is then drafted by the House Ways and Means Committee, I will share more with you and seek the views of Nebraskans on the provisions of the bill that emerges. I expect substantial changes from the President's proposal in that bill. Speaker O'Neill has promised the Chairman to keep us in session until at least Thanksgiving if there is a realistic chance of passing a major tax reform bill. Christmas sounds more realistic to me, but I do think the odds are that the House will pass what is at least a major tax reform bill; prospects are not quite as high in the Senate at the moment.

Now for one last subject, to illustrate the complexity, importance, and controversial nature of certain key elements of the tax bill — its impact on agriculture.

Some farmers are quite concerned about the proposed loss of the investment tax credit, accelerated depreciation allowance, and other income sheltering provisions. Yet many family farmers and ranchers who have visited with me on the subject contend that while they also make use of some or all of these provisions, those are the same provisions which have particularly favored those outside investors in agriculture whose primary motivation is the tax benefits available or who are seeking to shelter non-farm income with agricultural losses. They also suggest that such investor-owners of corporate poultry, swine and cattle feeding operations are largely responsible for displacing thousands of family farmers.

Recently at a Nebraska breakfast in Washington a farmer/rancher from Western Nebraska stood up and contradicted one of our Senators who had characterized the Reagan tax reform proposal as generally bad for the state's family farmers. This Western Nebraska operator said that, while he and others have benefited from some of the present tax provisions, for the most part those tax provisions have been detrimental to the family farmers by creating or unduly assisting their corporate and non-farm investor competitors.

Indeed, the Center for Rural Affairs in Walthill, Nebraska, which has rarely approved of anything the present Administration has done, has stated that the President's proposal would "reduce tax burdens on poverty level farms, reduce incentives for corporate-farm investment in agriculture; slow consolidation of farming into bigger and fewer hands; and bring production more in line with demand, thereby improving profitability and strengthening family farms in the affected sectors of agriculture." Other farm organizations agree, some disagree.

What is the correct action? It is too early to make a final decision. These and other crucial provisions deserve complete examination in the hearing process. With farmers themselves so split, we must listen or read the comments of farmers at home and to the testimony presented. I want to carefully consider all of this information as we consider this important issue.

Club-of-the-month

Friendly Neighbors organize in February

The following is the final article prepared by home extension clubs in Dixon County as part of a club-of-the-month series. Each month, a different extension club in Dixon County has reported a brief history of the club, its membership and major activities. Extension clubs are a part of the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service. The extension homemakers program in Dixon County is directed by Anna Marie White.

In February 1985, 15 homemakers decided to organize a home extension club. Although they meet monthly at the Senior Center in Concord, the members reside in surrounding areas of Dixon, Laurel and Wakefield.

Members have chosen two main objectives for the club — to be of service to their community and families, and to become well informed homemakers.

THE FRIENDLY Neighbor Club has already begun plans to set up a seat belt safety awareness booth at the Dixon County Fair on Aug. 5-7.

Members also are planning a pancake supper in September to raise funds for playground equipment for the Concord Park.

Extension lessons which the club has studied this spring include "Natural Remedies" and "Small Claims Courts."

Lessons planned for fall include "Eating Your Vitamins" and "Credit — How to Establish, Use, and Protect It."

Members each take their turn leading a lesson or teaching a handicraft at club meetings.

CLUB OFFICERS are Marilyn Harder, Concord, president; Charlotte Stelling—Wakefield—vice president; and Adel Bohlken, Concord, secretary-treasurer.

Other members are Pat Bathke, Joyce Johnson and Dee Pierce, all of Dixon; Deb Clarkson, Penny Johnson, Maggie Hueltig, Connie Mann, Patricia Olson, Judy Rastede and Judy Martindale, all of Concord; and Patsy Reinohl, Mary Jarvi and Nancy Johnson, all of Laurel.

MEMBERSHIP in extension clubs is open to all homemakers.

Anyone interested in becoming a member or organizing a club may contact Alyce Erwin, Concord, 584-2457; Maureen Hangman, Obert, 692-3441; or Anna Marie White, Dixon County extension agent-home economists, 584-2234.

Picture taking can ruin self image

Ever since I've been covering sports, I've always hated taking pictures.

You see, when I graduated from college I had no training in picture taking. The photography class offered at the university I attended always conflicted with required courses I had to take in order to receive my degree.

So my photography training was learned on the job by a trial and error procedure and believe me, there were plenty of errors.

I must admit though, that although I still have a lot to learn about taking pictures, I think I'm getting better. I guess I only had one way to go. But I still hate taking pictures. And a while back I finally realized that I've always hated taking pictures not because of my lack of experience, but because I don't like being in front of a crowd. I'm always a little bit of a fool of myself. And when you're taking pictures at sporting events, there are at least a hundred different things that could happen to make you look like an idiot.

Over the last two years, nothing like that had ever happened to me. That is until last week at Overin Field.

Last Tuesday, Wakefield and Wayne met for a Midget/Junior Legion double-header. I needed some pictures for the sports pages, so I decided to take a few photos of the game.

Since Wakefield is only a few miles up the road, there were a lot of people in the grandstands. And when I saw the large crowd, I decided to hide in the little out-of-battery sits in when he isn't retrieving foul balls.

All was going well. I took a few pictures for the paper and was ready to go sit down and watch the rest of the game. And then it happened.

Wakefield's Matt Tappe lifted a high pop fly behind home plate. My immediate thought was to try and get a picture of Wayne catcher Jason Jorgensen in pursuit of the ball.

I reached down and just as I raised my camera to shoot the picture, Jason and I collided and I caused him to miss the ball.

My first reaction was to check if Jason or his head coach Hank Overin were upset. After seeing that neither Jason nor Hank were mad, I realized that the nightmare I always had about looking like a jerk in front of hundreds of fans had just occurred.

Needless to say, I was humiliated. Here I was, the new guy in town attending my first sporting event, and I screw it up. I really felt like a moron.

I was really in the dumps and was even starting to build a phobia. I imagined people saying things like "there's that jerk that made Jorgensen drop the ball" or "look out, here comes bad luck Prather."

But after I read a story in Monday's Omaha World Herald, I came back to normal.

I read an article about Phil Blackmar winning the Greater Hartford Open because he hit a ball off a photographer's head.

On the tournament's final hole, Blackmar and Jodie Mudd were tied but Blackmar's second shot was headed out-of-bounds. However, the ball caromed off Associated Press photographer Bob Child's head and dropped on the fringe of the green.

Blackmar made the putt from where it hit Child and forced a playoff. He then went on to win the tournament.

As Child received 12 stitches, Blackmar received a check for $108,000. Needless to say, Blackmar thanked Child for being in the wrong place at the right time.

I'd also like to thank Child. I feel better knowing that professional photographers blow it sometimes too.

Wakefield wins District 3 title

WAKEFIELD-Wakefield's Junior Legion team won a berth to the regional baseball tournament by capturing a 10-4 victory over Ponca in the Class C District 3 championship game here on Sunday.

Brian Soderberg keyed Wakefield in Sunday's triumph. Soderberg finished 2-for-4 at the plate including two triples, three runs scored and one RBI. But he was most impressive on the mound.

Soderberg baffled Ponca hitters most of the night finishing with 15 strike-outs including three strike-outs in the fourth, fifth and seventh innings.

Ponca never led in the game. Wakefield took a 3-0 lead in the first when Soderberg tripled and scored on an error. Darwin Snyder, who reached on the error, came home on Mark Kubik's triple and Kubik scored when Jason Erb singled.

Wakefield then stacked on four more runs in the second frame. With one out, Ted Krafick singled and scored on Soderberg's second triple. Snyder followed by drilling a home run over the right-centerfield fence to plate Soderberg and himself. Larry Ballinger scored Wakefield's final run in the fourth when he reached on a walk, advanced to second on an error, moved to third on a wild pitch and scored on another Ponca fielding miscue.

Ponca hung tough by scoring once in the first and three more in the third to make the score 7-4. But Wakefield was too strong and added two runs in the fourth and one more in the fifth to pull away.

In the Wakefield fourth, Snyder singled and Ballinger was hit by a pitch. The speedy Snyder then stole third and scored on an error. Ballinger came home after Kipp Utemark singled with two outs, and Soderberg scored Wakefield's run in the fifth when he reached base on an error and scored on Ballinger's single.

After the third inning, Ponca had two basemen in every inning except the sixth when only one player reached base. However, Soderberg consistently got the strike-out when he needed it most to thwart potential rallies.

Ponca's John Mohr scored in the first when he doubled and came home on Kelly Kneiff's single.

In the Ponca third, Mike Osada and Jeff Addison sandwiched singles around a Kneiff walk and all three players scored.

Ponca outlit Wakefield 12-9. Mike Osada and Jeff Addison each finished with three hits for Ponca.

Seven Ponca errors aided Wakefield in the win. Wakefield, on the other hand, played errorless ball. Both teams left 11 runners on base.

Wakefield coach Paul Eaton said he was pleased with the win, but added that his squad still hasn't put it all together.

"Naturally, it was a big win and we played fairly well. But we're giving up more runs than we'd like to and I think when you score a lot of runs early like we did you have a tendency to let up as the game moves along," Eaton said.

Wakefield will take a 24-16 record to the regional tournament at Creighton. Eaton said officials told him that Wakefield will play Arlington at Creighton at approximately 8:30 p.m. on Saturday.

"Creighton people told me we'll play Arlington after the Wisner-Creighton game which begins at 6 p.m.," Eaton said.

"I don't know that much about Arlington except they were in the Midget state tournament last year. But I imagine a lot of those players are on the Junior team now."

Wayne claims 7-3 victory over Battle Creek

Wayne's town team pulled off a two game sweep in the first round of the playoffs by downing Battle Creek 5-1 at Overin Field Sunday night. Wayne claimed a 7-3 victory Friday night in the opening round bout.

Lately, Wayne has been using home runs to fuel its offensive attack. And although Kim Baker did clout a solo shot in the eighth inning on Sunday, Wayne's most potent weapon was Doug Carroll's clutch hitting.

Carroll completed a pair of two-out RBI singles in Sunday's win. He drove in Mike Meyer in the fourth and sixth innings.

Wayne took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Mike Breske singled, stole second and scored on Mark Starz's one-out double.

In the Wayne fourth, Joel Ankeny reached on an error, was sacrificed to second on Todd Dorsey's bunt, moved to third on a wild pitch and scored on a Baker grounder.

Ankeny kept Battle Creek batters off balance most of the night with off-speed breaking balls. He finished with six strike-outs and only allowed two hits. His best inning was the fifth when he struck out the side. He got the side out in order five different innings.

Battle Creek finally reached Ankeny in the seventh when Scott Warner walked and scored an unearned run. However, Baker supplied Wayne with another four run cushion with his homer in the bottom of the eighth and Ankeny got the side out in order in the ninth to preserve the win.

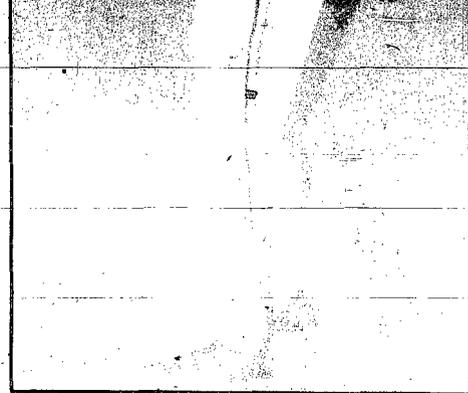

Curt Munson finished with both of Battle Creek's hits. Breske, Todd Schwartz, Starz and Baker each totaled one hit apiece for Wayne, while Carroll went 2-for-3.

In addition to having a fine night at the plate, Carroll also played a steady right field and made a beautiful leaping catch in the fourth inning.

Wayne has now won seven consecutive games and improved its record to 11-7 in league play and 12-7 overall.

Hartington will be Wayne's next opponent. The series starts Friday at Hartington.

Hartington swept Creighton 11-0 and 34-1 in its first round series. During the season, Hartington stopped Wayne 7-6 and 13-8, while Wayne claimed a 5-1 victory.

RBI man

DOUG CARROLL of Wayne's town team leads off first base after stroking his first two-out RBI single against Battle Creek Sunday night.

Over 450 fans cheer and boo All-Star Wrestlers

WINSIDE: Approximately 450 people viewed four matches of flying bodies, screaming and name calling otherwise known as All-Star Wrestling Saturday night here at the ball park during Old Settler's.

Controversy created a buzz through the crowd before the first match, even began as spectators wondered why Buck "Rock N Roll" Zumhoff wasn't at the arena.

Zumhoff, a crowd favorite and known best for his loud portable stereo, failed to attend because of a death in the family. However, Zumhoff's absence didn't hinder the evening as the rest of the grapplers did indeed turn in an all-star performance.

In the first match, Rick Renslow (half of the Alaskans) battled Drew Tessel.

Renslow controlled most of the bout but after making fun of Tessel's bald head, Tessel stormed back with a series of reverse kneeleags and flying drop kicks.

But Renslow regained his form and after tying up with Tessel, he tossed his opponent out of the ring and proceeded to kick and beat him with little mercy. However, his out of the ring antics disqualified him and Tessel was named the winner.

The second match featured Dave Wagner (the other half of the Alaskans) against Brad Rheingans.

Wagner stalled at the beginning of the bout complaining about Rheingans' aggressiveness.

And after their first tie up, Rheingans, who grappled for the 1976 and 1981 United States Olympic Greco Roman wrestling teams, took his aggressiveness out on Wagner and claimed the second match with little difficulty.

The third match saw Baron "The Claw" Von Ratschke battle Billy Robinson.

The crowd was obviously putting for Von Ratschke, and The Claw didn't let his fans down.

Von Ratschke was a Nebraska State wrestling champion when he attended Omaha North, he also won a Big Eight championship, placed third in the World Greco Roman Championships, was a national AAU champion and in 1985, was named to the Nebraska Wrestling Hall of Fame.

But Von Ratschke's impressive credentials didn't bother Robinson, who is the British Empire champion.

Robinson controlled the first half of the match and Von Ratschke only worked Robinson into the claw hold twice.

But Robinson's biggest problem was his carelessness. Instead of concentrating on the match, he argued with heckling fans and his grandstand interest proved to be a costly mistake.

Von Ratschke got Robinson in a hammerlock and slammed Robinson's head into the rail 10 consecutive times.

The Claw also capitalized on Robinson's lack of quickness and worked him over with a series of knee and open palm slaps.

But Robinson came back strong. Actually, he came back a little too strong and was disqualified for several illegal holds.

Von Ratschke and Rheingans teamed together to down Wagner and Robinson in the fourth match.

The evening's only tag team bout had a similar ending as the third match because Robinson was again disqualified. However, instead of being disqualified for an illegal hold, Robinson was named the loser by referee Tassel because he stayed out of the ring for more than 10 seconds.

Although Robinson and Wagner protested, The Claw and Rheingans had their hands raised in victory by Tassel.

Lee Koch, who assisted with the program, said the wrestlers he talked with said they enjoyed grappling at Winside.

Wayne's Juniors end regular season with split

ELKHORN Wayne's Juniors overcame a frustrating 9-8 loss in the opening game to down Elkhorn 5-2 in the nightcap here on Sunday.

In the second game, Wayne erupted for four runs in the first inning and added an insurance marker in the second for the three-run triumph.

Kevin Maly and Dan Gross started the Wayne first by slapping consecutive singles. Steve Overin then slugged a double to plate Maly and move Gross and himself into scoring position.

Gross scored when Scott Baker lifted a fly ball to right field and Don Larsen scored Overin with a single.

Larsen eventually reached third base when Jeff Hausmann and Jeff Sherer drew consecutive walks. Larsen then scored when Shannon Dorcey was hit by a pitch.

Gross scored Wayne's run in the second when he doubled and scored on a Baker single.

Elkhorn's only two runs came in the first and sixth innings. Three consecutive singles accounted for Elkhorn's first marker and in the sixth, the hosts used a double and a single to push across the final run of the game.

Wayne totaled two hits in the game. In addition to Gross, Maly, Larsen and Dorcey, all stroked two hits. Overin and Baker finished with one hit apiece on the night.

Larsen struck out seven batters and only walked two. Elkhorn collected nine hits in the contest.

Wayne left 10 runners on base and committed one error. Elkhorn stranded six base runners and made just two errors.

In the first game, Elkhorn scored all of its nine runs in the first four innings and hung on for the one-run decision.

After getting Wayne out in order in the first inning, Elkhorn pushed across its first two runs in the bottom of the frame. Wayne did score once in the second and third innings, but Elkhorn took a 7-2 advantage with five markers in the bottom of the third.

Wayne didn't let up, however, and came storming back. In the top of the fourth, Chris Wieseler walked and singled, respectively, to start the inning. Then, Dorcey, Tim Fleming, Maly and Casey Nichols all drew walks, which scored Wieseler and Larsen. Dorcey and Fleming also scored in the fourth, to make the score 7-4.

Elkhorn added two more runs to its lead in the bottom of the fourth, but Wayne made it a one-run game again in the sixth by plating two runs.

In the Wayne sixth, Hausmann singled and Maly walked. Both runners then scored on a Gross triple.

However, Wayne's next three batters went down in order and Gross was left stranded at third base. The game was then called so the second contest could begin.

Wieseler scored Wayne's only run in the second inning after he singled, stole second and came home on a Dorcey single.

In the top of the third, Darrin Barner scored for Wayne after he walked, moved into scoring position on a force play and scored on an Overin single.

Larsen was the only Wayne player to finish with more than one hit as he finished 2-for-3. Gross, Overin, Dorcey, Wieseler and Hausmann each collected one hit in the game.

Wayne ends the regular season with a 21-12 record. Wayne plays again in the Area Tournament on Wednesday at West Point against Ashland. The game is scheduled to begin at 8:15 p.m.

Special conservation measures

Zorinsky adds to farm bill

Drawing heavily on proposals offered by Senator Edward Zorinsky (D-Neb.), the Senate Agriculture Committee has written unprecedented conservation measures into its new, comprehensive four-year farm bill.

Working on the bill's natural resources conservation title over the last few weeks, the Committee has tentatively:

- Approved strong "sodbuster" and "swampbuster" provisions designed to discourage cultivation of highly erodible grasslands and wetlands.

- Extended the life of the landmark 1977 Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act (RCA).

- Endorsed a conservation reserve program that would idle at least 25 million acres of erosion prone cropland for 7 to 15 years.

In addition to the above proposals sponsored by Zorinsky, the Committee adopted a "cross compliance" measure offered by Senator Richard Lugar (R-Ind.). That proposal will generally make a farmer ineligible for USDA commodity and other program benefits beginning in 1988 if crops are planted on highly erodible land without implementing sound conservation practices.

The sodbuster, swampbuster, and conservation reserve programs were proposed originally in Zorinsky's own 1985 farm bill and were adopted by the Committee with only minor amendments. The RCA extension was approved as an amendment offered by the Nebraska Democrat.

THE ACTIONS WILL not be final until the entire farm bill is ready for Committee approval. However, the conservation measures won broad Committee support and were approved on voice votes.

Also, in most cases, similar provisions have been adopted by the House Agriculture Committee as part of its version of the farm bill, increasing the likelihood of ultimate enactment by Congress.

In an unusual demonstration of support prior to the Senate Agriculture Committee's consideration of conservation issues—a coalition of twelve environmental, conservation, and farm groups praised and endorsed the conservation section of Zorinsky's farm bill.

In a letter to Zorinsky, the coalition—which included the Sierra Club and Wildlife Society—expressed "strong support and appreciation" for his efforts to enact sodbuster, swampbuster, and conservation reserve programs.

"The sodbuster provision denies federal subsidies and other farm program benefits to those who cultivate highly erodible land without regard to conservation practices. The companion swampbuster program denies farm benefits to those who drain and cultivate wetlands.

Zorinsky, ranking Democrat on the Senate Agriculture Committee, said such measures are needed for economic reasons as well as conservation purposes.

"It's time government stopped subsidizing the cultivation of land not suitable for farming," he said. "It just adds to our surpluses and further depresses commodity prices."

LOSS OF WETLANDS also takes its toll on wildlife and recreation, Zorinsky said.

The Nebraska Democrat added that the sodbuster/swampbuster legislation would not interfere with a farmer's right to use his land as he sees fit.

"This is not an attempt to dictate farming practices," he said. "The legislation simply tells farmers, if you want to plow highly erodible grasslands without regard to sound conservation practices or drain wetlands, you will do so without the benefits of federal agricultural programs."

The conservation reserve, endorsed by the Reagan Administration last month, is designed to reduce overproduction and encourage conservation by paying farmers to idle their most erodible cropland.

Farmers agreeing to plant protective grasses and trees and carry out other long-term conservation measures would receive payments to help offset their costs.

Cost to the taxpayer, Zorinsky said, is expected to be offset by lower spending on crop loans and subsidies, storage payments, and other federal farm programs.

"America's top soil is disappearing at an unacceptable rate," Zorinsky said. "This legislation will save vast acres of fragile land and help preserve one of our most precious natural resources."

The Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977, due to expire this year, has played a significant role in educating the public about natural resources, Zorinsky said.

Under the act, the Agriculture Department developed the Nation's first comprehensive conservation program based on a nationwide appraisal of soil and water resources.

Zorinsky's amendment requires the Department to update its appraisal and conservation plan every 10 years.

The comprehensive plan has served a very essential purpose," Zorinsky said. "It will be extremely beneficial to have the Department prepare periodic updates."

Zorinsky said he was encouraged by committee approval of all four conservation measures, which, he said, are needed to assure that American agriculture remains strong in future years.

"We cannot afford to mortgage the future by depleting the natural resources that future generations will rely on for their agricultural production," he said.

Sometimes, when things begin to pile up, we can benefit from a "break." I had a spiritual break last week, and am finding it hard to come down from the mountain-top back to the real world.

My Mom and I attended an international convention of the women's mission service organization of our church at Ames. There were 8,000 registrants, and I sang in a 700-voice choir. With accompanying organ and brass, the opening worship service produced many goose bumps.

Women, and a few husbands, from all over the U.S. and Canada, plus two from Nigeria and two from Great Britain, gathered in the coliseum in which the Cyclones play. There were giant screens on either side of the stage so we could all see the speakers. And the speakers were something to see and hear.

Music continued to be a big part of each morning. On Tuesday evening, a prof from Concordia College at Seward presented a Bach portrayal, complete with wig and long stockings, and played the organ, harpsichord, flute, and violin. I had not realized that Johann had two wives and twenty children. When did he do all that composing?

WEDNESDAY afternoon, we heard a Gospel concert by Dave and Barb Anderson, which featured a lot of audience sing-along. And on Wednesday evening, Roger Miller played the piano for us. We heard everything from Charlots of Fire and Born Free to Jesus Loves Me and Clair de Lune. One song was a continuous medley of requests from the audience. Turns out Roger Miller is a P.K. (preacher's kid) from Des Moines. He acquired a lot of new fans.

A minister from Florida led a daily Bible study and kept our interest with numerous stories. We learned that the Old Testament prophet Amos counseled to "praise God in Adversity." He commented that he would be married twenty-five years in August, and his wife would like to speak to that.

He admitted that his hair was thinning, and that the cameras emphasized it. Someone sent him a note explaining that if a man was bald in front, it meant he was a thinker; if bald in back, he was sexy; and if he was bald on top, he thought he was sexy!

This pastor also used the exclamation "Ach, Himmel," on occasion. He claims there are few German ethnic jokes because "it's not funny to be German!"

I SAW OLD friends, made new ones, had lots of hugs, and shared some concerns with other farm wives. There were several petitions concerning the Ag crisis and the hurt it is causing.

The Governor of Iowa addressed us on Tuesday morning, and advised us that Ames was in need of rain, which was obvious. So, we prayed, and Ames was blessed with half an inch of gentle, soaking rain.

Our district president, who happens to be Carol Wettsch of Wayne County, carried a banner in the opening service, sat at the delegate's table through all sessions, portrayed a rose in the closing service, and showed up at Old Settler's in Winside on Saturday, looking completely rested and recuperated.

Our church food stand was simply a Coke truck this year. It was parked on Main Street, and got moved to the ball park during the all-star rassing. Cyril Hansen, Walt Vahikam, and your's truly were assigned to ride inside and keep everything from sliding around. The Mexiburger mix almost went over, and that roaster was full.

Reminded me of the story of the owners of Arby's in Lincoln tell. They were delivering chili and vegetable soup to MTV during the annual fundraising. A car in front stopped suddenly, the Luchie's hit the back of it, and the soup went all over. They have a regular customer who cleans carpets, but that must have been a real challenge.

I talked to two people at Old Settler's who have moved back "home" to Winside and find the peaceful rural atmosphere a welcome relief. I pray we all can continue to enjoy it.

Hopper control in gardens
Hoppers are not too choosy in their diet and will feed on most garden vegetables if they're hungry. Gardens adjacent to grass, pastures or similar grasshopper hatching beds are bound to have extensive grasshopper damage during the hoppers' season — from June to September.

Border areas around gardens should be sprayed while hoppers are small and unable to travel long distances. The wider the sprayed border, the longer the protection.

When hopper pressure is high, they will eventually cross borders into gardens. A carefully selected insecticide that is safe on vegetables must be used to protect the gardener's investment.

Cygon is one of the better insecticides for border areas and it is also safe on some vegetables — beans, broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, melons, spinach, Swiss chard, tomatoes and turnips. For most crops, there is a seven or 14 day period between application and harvest. Malathion or Sevin can be used on almost all garden crops, with relatively short periods from application to harvest. Diazinon is registered for many vegetables with a five to 14 day period before harvest.

To be sure your insecticide is approved, read the label directions and avoid using supplies of older chemicals that have since been banned, as well as new products that have not been approved for your vegetables.

Controlling wasps
The most common wasp that threatens the homeowner is the paper wasp that builds the open-faced nest under eaves or in shrubbery. These wasps are aggressive and their stings may be serious to individuals that are allergic to wasp or bee venom.

Wasp nests can be sprayed with special aerosols that emit a solid stream for about six feet, or with a mixture of two tablespoons malathion liquid concentrate to a gallon of water. Spray the nests after dark when the wasps are present, from a distance safe enough to prevent wasps from dropping onto the sprayer. If nests are in shrubbery, use one tablespoon of malathion to a gallon of water to spray directly onto the nest. Malathion will injure jumper, but Diazinon 25 percent can be used in place of malathion for jumpers.

100 percent pork producer investment

Pork Producers Council gives checkoff approval

In a major display of national unity, the policy-making delegate body of the National Pork Producers Council has overwhelmingly approved a 100 percent national pork producer investment (checkoff) program to go into effect Jan. 1, 1986.

The proposed checkoff, which must now get Congressional approval, would have a no refund provision and a standard national rate of 25 cents per pound of value. All U.S. pork producers would participate in the checkoff, along with importers of foreign hogs and pork.

Approximately $25 million would be raised under the proposal approved by NPPC delegates from 38 states, meeting in special session at Des Moines on July 25. About 30 percent of the money generated would be spent in promotion and advertising of pork.

A referendum of all pork producers would be held 24 to 36 months after the program was put in place.

Following the delegate decision, a group of 10 delegates left for Washington, D.C. to hand deliver copies of the proposal to members of the U.S. Senate and House Agriculture Committees. It is expected that the proposed legislation will be attached to the 1985 Farm Bill.

Provisions were also made for reapportioning state representation on the NPPC policy-making group. The number of delegates from each state would be based on the amount of checkoff dollars contributed by that state. The reapportionment of delegates is designed to correct any inequities in representation that may exist.

The present 3 of one percent of value national checkoff rate will remain in effect until an implementation order is issued for the new 100 percent rate following Congressional approval.

Pulling for Bonnie Smith Fund

THE AID ASSOCIATION FOR Lutherans (AAL) branches in Laurel, Wakefield and Wayne are confident they reached their goal following a three-wheel pull and drag contest for the Bonnie Smith Fund last Saturday afternoon at the fairgrounds in Concord. Lyle Van Cleave, AAL president from Laurel, said the $5,000 raised in conjunction with the event, including money from funds which have been established in area banks, will be matched by the AAL through the organization's cooperative benevolence program — bringing the total amount for the fund to $10,000. Included in that total is a $1,000 donation from the Wayne Lions Club which was presented Saturday afternoon at the fairgrounds by Lions Club representative Charles Maier. Pictured during the Lions Club check presentation are, top photo from left, Lyle Van Cleave of Laurel AAL branch 1566; Charles Maier, representing the Lions Club; Marvin Echtenkamp, president of the Wakefield AAL branch; Barb Holdorf from Wisner Off Roads Classics which conducted the three-wheel pull and donated the sled; and Dwaine Rethwisch, president of Wayne AAL branch 1470. Bonnie Smith, granddaughter of Floyd and Clara Sullivan of Wayne and Mrs. Luella Smith of Laurel, is a Lincoln diabetic who is trying to raise $70,000 for a pancreas transplant. She must have $35,000 on deposit at the University of Minnesota before she can even be put on a donor list for a new pancreas. Bonnie's grandmother, Clara Sullivan, said that as of last Saturday, before the three-wheel pull, an estimated $23,000 was on deposit for Bonnie at The Lincoln Foundation. Funds are continuing at several area banks — including both the First National and State National Banks in Wayne. Persons who would like to contribute to the Bonnie Smith Fund may also send their tax deductible donations to The Lincoln Foundation, Room 200, 215 Centennial Mall South, Lincoln, Neb., 68508.

BOY SCOUTS

Wakefield Boy Scout Troop 172 joined over 300 scouts for a week (July 2-12) at Camp Cedars near Fremont. Four veteran scouts, Stuart Clark, Chris Looft, Matt Tappe and Cory Blahert, were joined by seven relatively new scouts, Tony Brown, Marcus Tappe, Steve Clark, Aron Utech, Arlen Chase, Scott Johnson and Joe Kucera. Leaders were Duane Tappe, Jim Clark and Dave Kucera.

The Wakefield troop shared a campsite with six boy scouts from Orchard. They worked well together and received an Honor Campsite Award. Wakefield Troop 1/2 also met the requirements to be an Honor Troop for the third year in a row.

For the first time in three years, the Wakefield troop was selected to present a skit "The Hostages" for Friday night when visitors were present. The tryouts were Wednesday night before half of the scouts at the camp.

While at Camp Cedars, all the Wakefield scouts completed or nearly completed the requirements for four or five skill awards or merit badges. Matt Tappe completed a record five merit badges at camp—orienting, wood carving, sports, cooking and Indian lore. Other badges earned by the boys included swimming, rifle and shotgun, leatherwork, basketry, athletics, physical fitness and first aid.

During the Thursday night Order of the Arrow Ceremony, both Scout Master Duane Tappe and Scout Matt Tappe were tapped out to join this Brotherhood of Scouts. They will both need to complete a weekend initiation at the Little Sioux Reservation in Iowa during August.

Other special accomplishments included the completion of a 10 mile hike over rough terrain by all seven of the new scouts on Friday morning. During the week, Chris Looft was able to earn a special patch by completing the mile swim at Cedars Lake.

All of the Boy Scouts have met or exceeded the requirements for advancement to the next rank. Soon to be presented with Tenderfoot badges will be Tony Brown, Marcus Tappe, Steve Clark, Aron Utech, Arlen Chase, Scott Johnson and Joe Kucera. Cory Blahert will advance to the rank of First Class and Stuart Clark, Matt Tappe and Chris Looft will advance to Star. An evening meeting with parents will be planned in the near future for presentation of the various awards and rank patches.

cards of thanks

THROUGH ALL of you, God's love has been moving like a gentle breeze through this community. We have witnessed it in many ways: generously, hard work, caring smiles, a gentle touch and kind words of understanding. Thank you for making Ashley's benefit dance a Great success, and for the love and concern you have shown us. You have strengthened us and affirmed our hopes. As Ashley grows, her medication will need to be adjusted, the doctors in San Diego would like to see Ashley every six months. The benefit funds will be used for travel expenses from last July. Special thanks to: Ron & Dorothy Wert; Rick & Bonnie Lund; Paul & Ginny Oite; Denny & Jeanie Lutz; (for all the hard work organizing the benefit) Ron's Jack & Jill; (for the beef that was auctioned at the dance) Hazel Farness; (for the geese he made and auctioned at the dance). And the following businesses for their donations: Fough Jug, El Toro, Black Knight, Rain Tree, Merits-Lumber Co., Vets Club, Wayne Distributing. We thank our families for their love and support over the past year and a half. We also appreciate each and everyone who spent many long hours selling raffle tickets throughout the community, everyone who made sandwiches for the dance and everyone that helped out the night of the dance. We can't forget The Wayne Herald for the lovely article they wrote on our little angel. You all have touched our hearts. Please continue to support Ashley with your prayers. May God bless you all! Steve, Cindy & Ashley Marie Meyer. a1

I WOULD like to thank everyone for the cards, flowers, food and visits that I received while in the hospital and since returning home. It was all greatly appreciated. Doris Daniels. a1
