Heritage to manufacture new products

by Chuck Hackenmiller

A subsidiary corporation has branched off of Heritage Homes of Nebraska, Inc. which will bring up to 30 additional jobs into the Wayne area.

Rod Tompkins of Wayne, president of Heritage Homes and the new subsidiary corporation — Heritage Industries, Inc. — said the new subsidiary will design and build modular commercial buildings which will diversify the current modular housing product line with new and innovative products for the commercial building field.

Recently appointed to positions with Heritage Industries, Inc. were Steve Guill, Vice President of Engineering and Design and Duane Henneman, Vice President of National Marketing.

Both vice presidents had been active in the management of Heritage Homes. At this time, their offices will remain in Wayne.

Tompkins said the company's expertise in modular manufacturing, along with some innovative approaches to commercial building, should help establish Heritage Industries as a new leader in this rapidly expanding field.

Some of the new products will include:

- Modular ATM (Automated Teller Machine) Bank Buildings.
- Modular Photo Lab Kiosks (Driveup/Walk-in stores). Kiosks are defined as a kind of open pavilion or summerhouse.
- Modular Sales Offices (real estate, car lot).
- Modular Retail Sales Stores (ice cream parlors).
- Modular Store Buildings for "specific use" customers.

- Modular Shopping Center Concourse Kiosks (Interiors).

Henneman said the main thrust of Heritage Industries will be the manufacturing of modular bank buildings and photo labs.

ALL OF THESE subsidiary products will be manufactured at the Wayne Heritage Homes plant site at the present time.

Henneman said the company will continue to build modular homes for dealerships in a 10-state marketing area at the present Heritage Home manufacturing site east of Wayne on Highway 35.

"We have strong credentials as a modular manufacturing business, being in the business for seven years," Henneman said. Heritage Homes, he said, has been a leader in industry innovative and creating types of new concepts.

The subsidiary company will supply the area with up to 30 new jobs by next year.

"We (Heritage Industries) will be in a position to be forced into a new facility for an office," said Guill.

The incorporation of the new subsidiary was completed in mid-July and the announcement was made last Tuesday.

HENNEMAN SAID Heritage Industries will be gaining its first national exposure when it presents its products at the Iowa Bankers Convention in Des Moines on Sept. 22 and 23.

"We will have a modular bank ATM (Automated Teller Machine) on display. We will start construction next week," he said.

Henneman said the new subsidiary will produce about eight modular units a month once the company has been operating for 60 to 90 days.

"Research shows we have the capacity of building 200 plus units a year," he said.

Henneman said that when going into new endeavors such as creating

LU HILTON'S last official day of associate county judge is Sept. 13.

Lu Hilton to retire as associate county judge

by Chuck Hackenmiller

Lu Hilton will be stepping down from the position of associate county judge, ending a career spanning 41 years working within the Wayne County governmental system.

"I have really enjoyed my work and I have enjoyed the people. Maybe somewhere along the line I may have helped a few," Lu said.

"People call and want to know what can be done (within the functions of the associate county judge office). It feels good knowing that I've been able to help them," she added.

Last Friday morning, Wayne Chamber of Commerce members and Wayne County elected officials and county staff honored Lu with a special coffee gathering at the Wayne County Courthouse as a tribute to her service with the county's judicial system.

She began her association with the county's judicial branch in 1943, first working as a clerk for County Judge J. McCherry. Ironically, Sept. 13, 1985 will be her last day of work as the associate county judge.

"When I asked for the clerk job 40 years ago, I had no idea of what I involved or what I'd be getting into. But now I can say that for 40 years, I've loved it," Lu said.

Judge Cherry was defeated in 1946, she said, and William Crossland (a former state senator) took over in the office of county judge.

"There was no micromanaging then. We had to type everything when I was a clerk, then," Lu said.

"I worked for him (Crossland) until March of 1950, when we (Lu and Mary) adopted our daughter, Vicki," she said.

LU REDUCED her workload to part-time at the county level so she could spend more time with her family. During a stretch of six years, she worked for the Wayne County Treasurer's office (1951 to 1956) in the auto license registration department.

"That was only for two months out of each of those six years in the license department," Lu said.

An opportunity opened up for Lu to go back full-time with the Wayne County judicial system, when she was hired in March of 1964 by County Judge David Hamer.

It was after Hamer decided to retire in 1983 that Lu gained a position

At Nebraska State Fair

Johar captures gold medal

Persistence paid off for an 18-year-old 4-H'er from Wayne County.

After three straight years of finishing second in the 4-H insect identification contest at the Nebraska State Fair, Jassi Johar took home the championship trophy on Aug. 31.

Contestants had to identify 25 insects by order and common name and had to answer random questions about the insects and their environments, according to Lloyd Andersen, entomology superintendent.

Johar, the son of Dr. and Mrs. J.S. Johar of Wayne, has been identifying insects for six years. He is in his last year of 4-H competition, and is a chemistry student at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

The second place finisher was also from Wayne — Marc Rahn, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Rahn. The top three finishers received trophies and medallions from the Nebraska State Pest Control Association. Other top 10 finishers in the insect identification contest included Wayne youths Tim Sievers and Mike Backstrom.

A team from Wayne County also placed second, with a score of 179, in the Weed and Grass Identification Judging Contest at the Nebraska State Fair. The event was won by Dodge County with 201 points.

Team members of the Wayne County team, all from Wayne, are Tim Sievers, Stuart Retwisch and Mike Backstrom. Tim was fifth individually with 62 points, Stuart was sixth with 61 and Mike was ninth with 56.

Last year, the Wayne County team placed third in this event.

Numerous other Wayne County, Cedar County and Dixon County 4-H members received purple and blue ribbons in various categories at the state fair. Those winners are as follows:

PMC celebrates 10th anniversary

A decade of service to the Wayne area by Providence Medical Center will be observed with an open house on Sunday, Sept. 8 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Guided tours of the hospital, free health stations and refreshments are planned. The public is invited and encouraged to attend.

As a joint effort of the Missionary Benedictine Sisters and the Wayne area, Providence Medical Center was dedicated on Aug. 24, 1975 and opened its doors to patients on Sept. 5, 1975. The original 26-bed facility, which has since been expanded to include 31 beds, was built at a cost of $1.5 million.

Providence Medical Center employs approximately 100 persons each year and has an annual payroll of $1.3 million, according to Marcie Thomas, administrator.

Three physicians served Providence Medical Center when it first opened — and has since expanded to include five family practitioners plus a physician's assistant on the regular staff.

In addition, four dentists and a family practitioner are on the courtesy staff and the consulting staff consists of seven radiologists, four pathologists, two cardiologists, a gynecologist and two orthopedic specialists.

The active medical staff at Providence Medical Center includes family practitioners Walter Benhack, MD, Robert Benhack, MD, Willis Wiseman MD, James Lindau MD, Todd French MD and Gary West PA.

COURTESY STAFF members are dentists Stephen Becker, George Gatzirsch, Wayne Wessel and Dennis Timperly, and family practitioner Darrell Lee.

Radiologists serving the hospital on a consulting basis are Robert Walker, Farooq Jaffer, Zadneq Tusek, William Coger, Howard McIntosh, Willis Mundt and James Call.

Other consulting staff members include pathologists J.S. Penneacker, John Scott, Gene Herbek and Michael Kafka; cardiologists Thomas O'Keefe and Michael Manning; orthopedic specialists David Meyer and Edward Simodnyes; urologist Alan Domina, Cecil Bromfield and Craig Urbauer; gynecologist Patrick Hebron; and general surgeon Harld Dahlheim.

Providence Medical Center is owned, operated and maintained by the Missionary Benedictine Sisters. Three of the sisters currently live and work at Wayne's Providence Medical Center, including Sister Monica, Sister Kevin and Sister Gertrude Marie.

Members of the Providence Medical Center Governing Board consists of representatives from the Benedictine Sisters and persons from the greater Wayne area. Felix Dorcy is president of the hospital board.

Hardee's proposed in Wayne

A Hardee's franchise is planning to construct a restaurant along Wayne's Main Street.

Jack Bailey of Spirit Lake, Iowa — an owner in the Hardee's franchise — said the final okay for the opening of a Hardee's restaurant in Wayne must be given by the Hardee's head office.

"I don't anticipate any problems," Bailey said, although he said there has been some location requests declined in the past.

If approved by the head office, the Hardee's restaurant will be located just south of the Clarkson Service Station. There are three houses currently on the proposed Hardee's site.

The proposed location, he said, was selected because it is centralized and follows his practice of locating

"pretty close to the busiest intersection of town."

His decision to build a Hardee's restaurant in Wayne weighed on the fact that a large industry, Timpte, Inc., was coming to the community. "That helped in our decision to come to Wayne."

"We look for Wayne to be a good progressive town," he added.

Preliminary plans, Bailey said, are to open the Hardee's restaurant possibly by the end of this year and that up to 50 part-time and full-time people are expected to be employed at the Wayne Hardee's restaurant.

Bailey said, however, that all plans are still tentative, pending the approval of the head office on whether the restaurant can be built in Wayne.

Benedictine mission observes 100 years

by Chuck Hackenmiller

The Missionary Benedictine Sisters have contributed greatly to the existence of Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

This is their 100th year jubilee and the special occasion is being celebrated by the 1,250-member world-wide congregation. A commemoration of the jubilee took place earlier this year in the form of an open house at Norfolk. The Norfolk priory is the headquarters of the American branch of Missionary Benedictine Sisters.

St. Mary's Church of Wayne will conduct a special Mass for the Wayne Benedictine Sisters at 10 a.m. this Sunday (Sept. 8) and will also be welcoming back those Sisters that have served the Wayne area as instructors at St. Mary's School and have since left the Wayne mission.

The Benedictine Sisters are active in both the education field and health industry, although not those exclusively in those areas, said Sister Kevin — one of five Sisters that reside in a mission at Wayne.

One of their present missions in the United States is Providence Medical Center in Wayne. Others include Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital in Norfolk; Holy Trinity Hospital in Gracerville, Minnesota; St. Isidore School in Columbus; St. Joseph Nursing Home in Norfolk; and Holy Cross/Mission in Jackson, Kentucky.

Three of the Sisters residing in Wayne are involved with the operations of Providence Medical Center: Sister Gertrude Marie, pastoral care, since 1975; Sister Kevin, X-ray technician since 1980; and Sister Monica, registered nurse since 1982.

The two remaining Sisters in Wayne include Sister Rosann, director of the Newman Ministry at Wayne State College since 1981; and Sister Catherine, third and fourth grade teacher at St. Mary's School, who arrived this year in Wayne.

SISTER KEVIN said the Benedictine Sisters are assigned to missions such as Wayne's Providence Medical Center "on the basis of need of the community."

She said that prior to 1975, the Benedictine Sisters were approached by the Wayne community to see if the Order was interested in matching funds to build a hospital in Wayne. That created the need, she said.

Excellent. That is how Sister Kevin described the current administration and staff at the hospital.

"All in all, the hospital is a really good facility for this size of community," she said. "What is planned for the future of some places (hospitals) we already have," she noted.

If a person was to be dismissed from the hospital, the patient still has some way of staying in touch with the hospital facilities — through new programs such as swinging beds, lifeline, cardiac rehabilitation, physical fitness therapy and satellite home health care.

business notes

A Wayne businessman, George Phelps, was honored recently by an award from his company, IDS Financial Services, a financial planning company based in Minneapolis, Minn. IDS representatives earn one credit award for each $2.9 million weighted production of sales per year. After 13 credits are earned the representative is awarded the Master Millionaire Club Ring — the most prestigious award achievable in IDS.

Phelps earned 13 Master Millionaire Credits in the 16 years he has been with IDS in Wayne. He was presented the ring by the President of IDS Financial Services, Harvey Golub, at a divisional meeting in Yankton, S.D.

Farm bill debate continues viewpoint

Facing reality

The Farm Bill
With agriculture beset by problems from all sides, 1985 continues to be a hectic year. In Congress as the Agriculture Committee in both the House and Senate work to complete a new farm bill. The House Agriculture Committee met to complete its markup of the 1985 Farm Bill. Unfortunately, both the House and Senate failed to meet their self-imposed deadlines of reporting a farm bill prior to the annual summer recess.

doug bereuter

Listed below are the major provisions included in the House Agriculture Committee's version of the bill. Keep in mind, however, that many of these provisions — especially the price support programs for wheat, feed grains and dairy — will continue to be debated and are subject to change by both the House Agriculture Committee and the full House. According to the House Agriculture Committee chairman, committee action should be completed by September 10.

EXPORT: It includes export bonus program, expands credit guarantee and increased P.L. 480 shipments. Exports export bonus and blended credit shipments from cargo preference requirements.

WHEAT and FEED GRAINS: Basic loan rates set at between 75 and 85% of five-year market average with a five per cent limit on annual adjustments. Rate can be lowered an additional 20% if market price does not exceed loan rate by at least five per cent.

1986 and 1987 target prices frozen at 1985 levels of $4.36 for wheat and $3.03 for feed grains. 1988 and 1989 target prices set at between 110 and 125% of five-year market average, with limited annual adjustments. 30% acreage reduction for wheat and 20% for feed grains required in 1986 with paid diversion on at least 10% of land set aside. If 1986 crop planted before 1986 program is announced.

SOYBEANS: Extends current price support program. Minimum loan of $5.02 per bushel.

PAYMENT LIMITATIONS: Kept at $50,000 for wheat, feed grains, cotton and rice. Deficiency payments resulting from additional discretionary reductions in loan rates (in excess of annual adjustment formula) exempt from limitation.

sets limit of $250,000 for regular nonrecourse loans for soybeans, wheat and feed grains; above that limit, loans are recourse and must be paid back in cash.

DAIRY: Diversion and assessment program with estimated initial price support of $1.74 per hundred weight. Producer assessments to cover costs of $10 per hundred weight diversion payments, whole-hard buyout program and cost of government purchases exceeding five billion pounds. Requires USDA to increase differentials in certain federal marketing orders.

To head off problems which might develop for meat producers if a dairy diversion program increase the number of cows sent to slaughter, the bill directs the USDA to increase by 200 million pounds annually, whenever the diversion program is in effect, its purchases of meat for domestic donation programs.

BEEF and PORK CHECKOFFS: Approved mandatory checkoff with no refund provision and delayed referendum. Assessments: One dollar per head for cattle and three-tenths of one per cent of hogs' sale price.

FARMER-OWNED RESERVE: Place limits on amount that can be stored in reserve.

MARKETING LOANS: Gives USDA secretary authority to choose between a recourse marketing loan or previously-approved loan program for wheat feed grains.

CONSERVATION/SODBUSTER: 10-year, 25 million acre reserve program. Bars federal benefits for all crops if any crop is planted on highly erodible land not cultivated since 1980. Includes "swamp-buster" provision, barring federal benefits for wetlands converted to cropland after enactment of farm bill. Requires approved conservation plan.

CREDITS: Contains clear title provision designed to protect purchasers of farm products from double payment due to outstanding liens.

Restrictions on selling/leasing land taken over by FmHA. Preference given to land's former owner.

Authorizes for fiscal 1986-88 $700 million a year for real estate loans, with $650 million for direct loans, remainder for guaranteed loans. Farm operating loans authorized at $3.15 billion a year; $2.5 billion for direct, $650 million for guaranteed loans. Allows USDA secretary to transfer 25% of totals between direct and guaranteed categories.

BASES and YIELDS: Changes the current method of calculating acreage bases and yields from the two-year average to a five-year rolling average of the total acres planted. A program yield would be established equal to a five-year rolling average of actual yields per harvested acre for each crop produced on the farm with the high and low dropped out of the calculation.

Counteracting referendum on LB 662

NASB investigating initiative drive

The Board of Directors of the Nebraska Association of School Boards (NASB) has voted to investigate the possibility of an initiative drive to counteract the scheduled referendum on LB 662. The newly passed school consolidation and finance law.

NASB executive director Justin King said last week the possibility of an initiative drive seeking mandatory consolidation of elementary school districts with larger districts will be discussed at each of the organization's 12 district meetings. The annual series of statewide meetings began last week in York and will continue until October 2.

The NASB represents 340 school boards in Nebraska. The Nebraska Constitution grants the people of the state two powers regarding the laws that govern them: referendum and initiative. Referendum is the power of the people to repeal or retain a legislative act through the election process. Initiative is the power to propose new legislation by petition, and to enact or defeat it through the election process.

If successful, the NASB initiative drive would place on the November 1986 ballot the question of amending a law to force the consolidation of elementary-only schools with larger districts by 1989.

OPPOSITIONS OF LB 662, which was passed by the Legislature in April, have already succeeded in gathering enough signatures on referendum petitions to place on the same ballot the question of repealing LB 662.

King said the NASB initiative would deal only with the mandatory consolidation, and would not address the issue of school finance. The initiative would resemble LB 662 as introduced in the Legislature, King said. Until floor amendments were added, LB 662 was silent on the issue of school finance.

NASB, which supported passage of LB 662 and has opposed the referendum, would benefit from the initiative during the 1986 election season by being able to ignore the LB 662 referendum, and by being able to concentrate instead on the passage of its initiative, King said.

To propose a new law by initiative, NASB would have to gather signatures of 38,323 registered voters before July 3, 1986.

The failure of the state Department of Economic Development to hold timely informational meetings for local government officials contributed to the troubles of the 1985 Community Development Block Grant Program, an agency official told the Legislature last week.

"Had we followed in 1985 the local consultation process of previous years, we might have discovered much more opposition to, and confusion over the first-come first-served system," DED operations officer Sheppard Perkins said in testimony before the Urban Affairs Committee.

Had the informational meetings been held, the ample confusion among local officials about the intention of DED to award the 1985 grants to the first applicants could have been avoided, he said. Urban Affairs Committee Chairman Ron Wilhelm of Papillion convened the hearing to review the troubled block grant program.

EARLIER THIS month, Gov. Bob Kerrey, responding to protests from local officials, directed DED officials to scrap eight months of work on the 1985 grant program and begin the selection process anew.

Departing from the practice of previous years, when DED selected grant recipients on the basis of a competitive, objective point system, agency officials this year decided to award the grants on the basis of which local governments submitted their applications first.

Kerrey abolished the agency plans just weeks before $6.5 million in federal grant money was to be distributed to local governments for community improvement programs.

DED officials told the committee that they now intend to make the 1985 block grant awards on Dec. 29 after conducting informational meetings and public hearings on the proposed guidelines for selection.

Gude-Schaer wed

St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Fremont was the setting for the Aug. 3 ceremony uniting in marriage Linda Gude and Tom Schaer, both of Fremont. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanis of Fremont, Pat Schaer of Laurel and Mary Schaer of Doniphan. The bride is a graduate of Fremont Senior High School and is employed at Geo. A. Hormel & Co. The bridegroom graduated from Laurel-Concord High School and Universal Technical Institute of Omaha. He also is employed at Geo. A. Hormel & Co. The newlyweds are making their home at 1015 N. Gardfield in Fremont.

'Truth About Rock' seminar in Laurel

A rock music seminar, entitled "Truth About Rock," will be presented Tuesday, Sept. 17 at Laurel Public High School by the Peters brothers from St. Paul, Minn. During the seminar, which is open to the public free of charge, the lyrics, lifestyles and intentions of rock musicians will be discussed with the aid of a multi-media format. The program in Laurel is sponsored by the Laurel Ministerial Association and will run from 7 to 9 p.m. A free will offering will be taken to cover expenses. THE PETERS brothers have made appearances on ABC Nightline with Ted Koppel, CBS News with Dan Rather, and PM Magazine. Steve, Dan and Jim Peters are graduates of North Central Bible College and are ordained ministers pastoring at Zion Christian Center in St. Paul, Minn., where they have served for the past 10 years. Their seminars began in October 1979 with the brothers got "fed up" with the effects of rock music on young minds and began looking for the root cause. SINCE THEIR first seminar, four million dollars in rock and roll material has been destroyed. Recently, they have begun a national petition drive calling on the rock industry to rate albums.

Allen wedding rites

Bonnie Black of Allen and Maurice Warner of Vienna, Va. were united in marriage on Aug. 3 at the United Methodist Church in Allen. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Russell Forney of Ponca, and attendants were Mildred and Robert McCord of Allen. The newlyweds traveled to Virginia and the Ozarks following their marriage, and are making their home in Allen.

Home in Seward

MAKING THEIR HOME AT 1262 Kolterman St., Apt. 4, Seward, Neb., 68434, are Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wissmann. They were married Aug. 10 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Winside. The bride is the former Susan Petersen, daughter of Kathryn and the late Robert Petersen of West Point, formerly of Carroll. Parents of the bridegroom are Meinert and Evelyn Wissmann of Falls City. The bride, a 1984 graduate of Winside High School, is a sophomore at Concordia College in Seward. She also is employed at the Dairy Queen. The bridegroom graduated from Falls City High School in 1983 and is a junior at Concordia College. In addition, he is employed at Jack and Jill.

Cats plan to 'pass' all tests in '85

"I was glad to see us ranked so high. I voted us first in the nation and that isn't what I consider a cocky move, that's just how good I feel about this year and the kids on the team." — Pete Chapman.

Expert advice isn't always sound

Don't you hate it when experts make their methods sound so easy and then when you use their instructions it never works?

For example, before a lot of the Cub baseball games there's a short segment on fielding tips by one of the Chicago players.

Just a few weeks ago Ron Cey showed me and millions of other viewers how to field grounders "the right way." But wouldn't you know it, the next softball game I played in I still made errors.

Golf pros are another example. "Golf Digest" always has pages and pages of tips by Palmer, Pate and other pros on how to get out of sand traps and how to hit out of the rough. But when I'm in the same circumstance and use their suggestions, it never helps.

After my numerous frustrations on the softball field and golf course, I decided that I had learned my lesson about expert opinions and decided to just go about things my own way. But a while back, I was once again victimized by expert advice.

Two weeks ago I overheard a fisherman talking about how lucky he'd been at a certain location. He went on and on about how he and three other friends nearly limited out on bass and he also discussed how he caught the fish.

I immediately thought about Cey's and Palmer's tips and how they never helped me out. But this, I reasoned, was different. I figured that anybody can catch a fish if they know where they are.

So after returning home, I quickly got on the phone and called several friends to see if they wanted to go and give it a try. And it turned out that they were as vulnerable to expert advice as I was because at first they said no, but when I told them what I had heard and how successful the fisherman had been, they quickly changed their minds and decided to go.

We went to approximately the same location the person talked about. As a matter of fact, we saw him fishing there that same night.

I told the driver of the boat not to get real close to him because, though he might recognize me and I didn't know for sure if he wanted me to spread the word as to where his exact "hot spot" was. But since it was night, we managed to anchor the boat approximately 25 feet away from him and remained inconspicuous.

Just before our initial cast, we noticed the fisherman in the other boat catching a nice sized bass.

Filled with excitement and knowing it was just a matter of minutes before we'd start pulling in the big ones too, we all put our lines in the water and waited. And waited and waited and waited.

Over the next couple of hours, we caught four fish and only two were keepers. And during that same time span, anglers in the other boat consistently hooked nice fish.

We were determined, though. We knew we were using the same bait and since we were at the same location, we kept at it. But after another hour of bad luck, we finally decided to call it quits.

Ironically, the other anglers also decided to head in when we did. However, they probably quit because they reached their limit.

While we loaded our boat onto the trailer, one of the fisherman's partners was standing on shore. I asked them how they did and he said they caught almost two coolers full of white bass, two and a half. He then asked us how we did, but we all walked away and pretended like we didn't hear him. Believe me, two fish compared to two coolers full is humbling.

And while we walked away I realized that expert advice isn't all that bad and that it does work for some people. The only catch is you have to be an expert before you can put it to use.

"We should be an outstanding football team. I know a lot of people think that kind of statement is cocky, but I just think it's honest," Wayne State College head football coach Pete Chapman said about his 1985 Wildcats.

And with 35 lettermen and 17 starters returning from an impressive 8-3 team of a year ago, Chapman has more than enough to base his optimism on.

Ten of those returning starters are from the offensive unit which set an NAIA record for most passing attempts in a season with 538 and also averaged 307 passing yards per outing.

With starting quarterback Ed Jochum, eight solid receivers and passers and we'll throw again this year too," Chapman said.

Last year Sonny Jones, Matt Hoffmann, Ray Hooker and Darin Blackburn combined for nearly 2,500 receiving yards and 24 touchdowns. But Chapman said that those four don't have starting positions rapped up.

"Chuck McGinnis, Tom Leitschuck, Maurice Cadwell and Darrin Fullford are right in the hunt with last year's starting receivers for starting positions this year. All eight will see action and with our type of offense, it's a nice problem having so many capable receivers," Chapman said.

Much of last year's successful offensive can be credited to the Wildcats' front line. Ruben Mendoza (NAIA All-American second team in 1984), Phil Wickwar, Randy Ogren, Mike Anderson and Ben Lehr should be the mainstays on the line this season.

Although the 1984 Wildcat defense was overshadowed much of the year by the record-setting passing attack, Chapman believes the defense was really the team's main strength. And the NAIA District 11 1984 coach of the year added that he expects his defense to be the main strength again this season.

"We really believed our defense was one of the strongest in the conference last year," Chapman said. "And we have that same kind of optimism again this season."

Last year while the offense was stacking up incredible statistics, the defense quietly went about leading the conference, allowing only 276 yards per game and leading all District 11 teams in rushing defense, allowing only an average of 109 yards per game.

Tony Shaw and Randy Hupp (who Chapman says might be the best athlete on the team) combined for 225 tackles last year and return for the '85 campaign.

Joining Shaw and Hupp on the starting Wildcat defense this year should be Mike Brungard, James Bester, Rusty Ruhl, Keith Turner, Rich Loseke, Lamont Lewis, Greg Cavill, Pat Jennings and Mark Will.

"Those are probable starters," Chapman warns. "We aren't certain about who will start at certain positions," he added.

With a solid offense and defense, the only other main question left to answer is Wayne's kicking game. But with Herve Roussel, the Wildcats' kicking game should be as strong as their defense and offense.

records and two national marks. Against Chadron State, the senior from France booted five field goals of 47, 47, 46, 46 and 37 yards.

He also nailed a 59-yarder against Missouri Southern and was named Little All-American and NAIA All-American second team last season. Blackburn, a junior from Malvern, Iowa, will do the punting this season for the Wildcats.

Morningside will be Wayne's first opponent this year and Chapman is looking for a strong test from the Chiefs.

"Morningside has a good team and last season they finished with their first winning season in 13 years," Chapman says.

The Wayne mentor added that Morningside is an experienced team and although its secondary is young, he isn't taking their youth for granted.

for the Wildcats to win.

"The game is always important but it's especially important to us because it will affect our national status, our recruiting and in several other ways too," Chapman said.

Wayne State was picked to place second in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference this year by the conference's coaches. The Wildcats were also picked 15th in the NAIA preseason national poll.

"I was glad to see us ranked so high. I voted us first in the nation and that isn't what I consider a cocky move, that's just how good I feel about this year and the kids on the team," Chapman said.

Probable Starters Against Morningside OFFENSE

EDITOR'S NOTE: Head coach Pete Chapman did not know for certain which players would start at certain positions. Thus some positions such as did have several possibilities. And again, these are probable starters.

WSC hopes to 'bump' opponents in '85

Marilyn Strate and the rest of the Wayne State Lady Wildcats will count on his senior setters for a good season this year.

"We're a young team and we'll depend on our seniors this year a great deal," Strate said. "Especially the senior setters. They have a good knowledge of the game, do a good job of calling the plays and really, they're probably our strongest strength this early in the season."

Jill Zeiss, Linda Bode and Sue Walter are the main setters on the '85 club. Strate said Zeiss would join Nate Fontenelle, Meg Hurley, Shelle Tomaszkiwicz, Diana Asay and Missy Stoltenberg as the probable starters against the University of Nebraska-Omaha on Wednesday, Sept. 4.

"Those look like the girls I'll start against UNO. But Walter, Deb Prenger, Jeanette Moline and Tanya Gappa will probably see a lot of action too," Strate said.

In addition to inexperience and a lack of upper classmen, Strate said the Lady Wildcats' biggest weakness is teamwork.

"Right now the main area we have to improve in is our teamwork. We need to pass to each other better and since our style calls for a lot of switching, we just need to communicate and work together better," Strate said. But inexperience could be a factor that haunts Wayne State throughout the season.

"When you lose four senior starters you're naturally going to feel it. We only have three girls back that played a lot last year and there are no freshmen on this squad so we are rebuilding and don't have a lot of experience," the Wayne State mentor said.

Last year the Lady Wildcats finished with a 29-20-1 mark and won two tournaments. Briar Cliff and Midland Lutheran, And Strate said she hopes the momentum from '84 carries over into this season.

"We won our share of games last year and although we're young, there are a lot of girls back from last season and since they know how to win I hope it carries over into this season," she said.

Strate said she expects a tough game from UNO and added that she is glad to be opening the season against the Lady Mavericks.

"UNO is always good (230-79-6 over the last seven years) and I expect them to be tough again this season. Last year they were 47-15 and they have every player back," she said. "But they're a good team for us to open against. We know their reputation and the strength of their program but it will give our players the chance to test themselves early."

Strate's record over the last three years is 50-39-1.

Other players on the '85 Lady Wildcat roster are Shelley Krusemark, Kristi Bateman, Tanya Kelley, Lisa Lewis, Nafah Higman, Karen Longe, Kollerite Freyfar, Kati Pribil and Joy Moeller.

Owners of hunting permits may apply again

LINCOLN—Hunters who have already received a 1985 deer hunting permit may apply for a second permit in units still having unsold permits beginning Sept. 4, the Game and Parks Commission announced Friday. At that time there were still 6,728 available for this year's firearm deer hunting season.

Each hunter may have two deer hunting permits per year. They may be two archery permits, one archery and one firearm permit, or two firearm permits, but the second firearm permit must be applied for after Sept. 4.

The units still having available permits and the number of permits still to be filled are: Calamus East, 771; Calamus West, 859; Loup West, 630; Pine Ridge, 939; Plains, 254; Sandhills, 1,179; Upper Platte, 244; Keya Paha (late season), 650; East Republican (late season), 201; West Republican (late season), 327; Platte River (late season), 83; and North Platte River (late season), 83.

Deer hunting permits are $20. Application forms are available from any of 1,200 permit vendors across the state or from Game and Parks Commission offices at Omaha, Lincoln, Norfolk, Bassett, Alliance, North Platte and the Ak-Sar-Ben Aquarium.

Rudy Froeschle will resign

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a letter of resignation by Wayne Golf and Country Club professional Rudy Froeschle.

In order to give you plenty of time to find a replacement, I am hereby notifying you that I do not intend to return in 1986. While I have not yet found a position for next year, I intend to continue to look well past the time you ordinarily need to make a decision on the following year's contract.

Rest assured that I will fulfill all my obligations to Wayne Country Club through the remainder of my current agreement, Oct. 31. You may also count on my full cooperation in making the transition as smooth as possible.

I have enjoyed working with and for the club for the past eight years, and can look back with considerable satisfaction on growth and improvement in many aspects of the golf program during that time. I am sure that further improvements are in the cards, and I wish the club the very best in the future.

Sincerely,
Rudy Froeschle

Wayne's Tee to Green Run Oct. 12

The 1st annual Wayne Tee to Green Run will be held Saturday, Oct. 12, at the Wayne Golf and Country Club. There will be two courses offered during the event. The long course will be approximately four miles, while the shorter race will be two miles.

The races will start at 9 a.m. at the Wayne Golf and Country Club, which is located one mile north of Wayne on Highway 15. Trophies will be awarded to the first place male and female finishers in the long course. Medals will be awarded to the first, second and third place finishers in each age group in the long course, while first and second place finishers in the short course will be awarded medals.

Age groups in the long course for the male division are 20-under, 21-29, 30-39, 40-49 and 50 and over. Age groups in the female division are the same except the oldest group is 40 and over.

The age groups for both the male and female divisions of the short course are 20-under, 21-29 and 30 and over.

The course starts at the Wayne Golf and Country Club and will traverse the golf course from tee to green or visa versa. Soft fairway grass should be a nice departure from the hot streets and dusty roads.

Pepsi, Diet Pepsi and Mountain Dew are refreshments that will be offered at the event. The beverages are compliments of Hart Beverage, South Sioux City.

T-shirts will be given to the first 100 entries and free passes to the Wayne State/Ft. Hays University homecoming football game will also be granted. The game starts at 2 p.m.

Entry fee's $6 if purchased before the race and $7 the day of the event. Checks should be made payable to the Tee to Green Run.

DeSoto hunting available

DESOTO, IOWA-DeSoto National Wildlife Refuge is now accepting applications for reservations during the 1985 waterfowl hunting season on portions of the refuge located within the state of Iowa.

Hunting on the controlled Iowa unit will run continuously from Nov. 1 through Dec. 6, and is limited to the taking of ducks, geese and coots only. The hunting area will be the same as that opened last year.

During 1984, a record 479 birds were harvested. Refuge Manager George Gage said, "Reports from the breeding grounds indicate that the snow goose flight will be increased slightly from last year. This is the second consecutive year of a forecast that foresees an increase in goose flight. We anticipate that the fall flight of ducks will be down due to poor production in their breeding grounds. However, the DeSoto Refuge provides primarily a good snow goose hunting area."

Applications for hunting in the Iowa unit will be accepted through Saturday, Sept. 28, and a drawing to determine successful applicants will be held on Monday, Sept. 30. All applications for reservations must include the applicant's name, address and telephone number. Applications should include the specific date the applicant wishes to hunt, plus any alternate dates the applicant will accept and the $3 reservation fee payable to U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service at DeSoto National Wildlife Refuge, R-1, Box 114, Missouri Valley, Iowa 51355.

Chicago trainer will demonstrate

WAUSA-Mark Pfeil, trainer for the Chicago Bulls of the National Basketball Association, will be here at the W.H. Johnson Gymnasium on Saturday, Sept. 14.

In addition to sharing his experiences in the NBA, Pfeil will also relate his training and fitness techniques, his role as a trainer and inside information on players. Also included will be videos on spectacular shots and an NBA promotional film.

Tickets will be available at the door and will cost $2.50 for high school age and up and $1 for under high school age.

Pfeil has been with the Bulls for five years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Pfeil of Wausa.

Plans are also being made to include an afternoon of several health and fitness demonstrations, sporting contests and an area coaches clinic.

The demonstrations will be held from 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the gym. There will be a $1 charge for the afternoon programs.

The sporting contests for K-8 will begin at 4:30 p.m. in the gym. An entry fee for 50 cents will be charged. Prizes will be awarded.

Michael Jordan's basketball shoes and a basketball signed by the 1984-85 Bulls team will be given.

The event is sponsored by the Wausa's Women's Club as a fund raiser for the Auditorium Carpet Fund.

Allen In Pender Invite

ALLEN-The Allen girls will be playing in the Pender Invitational Volleyball Tournament on Thursday and Saturday of next week.

Games scheduled for Thursday are: Allen and Walthill, 5 p.m.; Emerson and Laurel, 6 p.m.; Bancroft and West Point, 7 p.m.; Pender and Homer, 8 p.m.

Losses will play beginning at 1 p.m. on Saturday with the consolation game at 7 p.m. and the championship at 8 p.m.

Second Guessers host strange tourney

The Second Guesser's second annual Wilcat Three Man Scramble will be held Sunday, Sept. 8, at the Wayne Golf and Country Club beginning at 1 p.m.

Entry fee for the tourney is $20. For a $30 charge one can play in the tourney and become a Second Guesser member.

The tourney is anything but an average "run of the mill" event. For example, prizes will be issued to the longest putt and the shortest drive, and the fourth individual will either drive or putt at each hole. Also, there will be prizes at every hole, a putting contest, a pig roast, a driving contest, a grand prize and refreshments. The grand prize will be a weekend trip to Omaha. All prizes are donated by local businesses.

The tournament will also have cheerleaders as score keepers and muligans can be purchased at every hole.

Tournament directors said everyone is welcome to come out and have fun and added that participants can sign up at the Country Club or send their entry fee to Ron Jones, Wayne State College, Wayne, Neb. 68787. For more information, call Jones at (402) 375-2200, ext. 301, or Randy Pedersen at (402) 375-1044.

Krajccek named Peru captain

PERU-Jim Krajccek of Hoskins is one of three Peru State football players named as captains for the 1985 season.

Krajccek was an honorable mention selection NIAA District 11 pick last year at the offensive tackle.

Joining Krajccek as captains are Pat Mertens and Fred Lee. Krajccek, Mertens and Lee are all seniors.

Peru State usher in the '85 campaign this Saturday, hosting Evangel College in the Oak Bowl at 1:30 p.m.

Hoskins has benefit tourney

HOSKINS-A large crowd attended the Benefit Co-ed Softball Tournament at Hoskins on Sunday, Aug. 25. All proceeds raised at the event will be used for lights at the ball park.

Nearly 400 people attended the barbecue that evening. Local teams participated in the tournament and Dad's won the championship over Commercial State Bank. The Deck-Behmer team placed third and the Bruggeman squad came in fourth.

An old-timers game followed the tournament, with men over 40 years of age taking part.

Pat Meierhery was in charge of a musical program that was presented during the barbecue. Harlan Bruggen and David Shipley played organ, selections and sang several vocal numbers.

Area coaches are reminded to call The Wayne Herald following sport events.

Medical Center has continually added services and upgraded equipment in an effort to maintain a high caliber of health care for the area. Services added in recent years include respiratory therapy, cardiac rehabilitation, physical fitness therapy, ultra sound and mammography, satellite home health care, lifeline and swing bed skilled nursing care.

Equipment added includes a birthing chair, a television camera for fluoroscopy, gastroscopy, telemetry, a cervical fraction table and a Dupont chemical analyzer. The Hospital Auxiliary, Wayne Kiwanis Club, Wayne Lions Club and American Red Cross have been instrumental in helping the hospital obtain needed new equipment.

In direct contrast to a statewide trend of declining hospital admissions, Providence Medical Center has shown a steady increase in annual patient admissions. In its first full year of operation — 1976 — there were 713 admissions.

There were 838 admissions in 1980 and by 1984, annual admissions had risen to 1,019 — a six percent increase over the previous year.

While other area hospitals were faced with declining admissions, Providence Medical Center was one of only 13 hospitals in Nebraska showing an increase in admissions from 1983 to 1984.

There have been no increases in charges at Providence Medical Center during the past two years.

Co-hosting this Sunday's open house are Providence Medical Center and the Wayne Hospital Foundation.

Robert Carhart, foundation president, said a unique birthday celebration is being held in conjunction with Providence Medical Center's 10th anniversary.

All children born at the hospital during the past 10 years have been invited to a party there Saturday afternoon.

Applications sought for top teacher

Applications for the 1986 Nebraska Teacher of the Year award are now being accepted. The selected teacher will receive a $1,000 stipend from American Charter Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Nebraska schools and communities are encouraged to recognize outstanding classroom teachers through the state Teacher of the Year program. The program is sponsored statewide by the Nebraska Department of Education and nationally by the Council of Chief State School Officers, Good Housekeeping Magazine and Encyclopedia Britannica.

Any Nebraskan may nominate a teacher for the award. Usually, a local committee selects a teacher of the year for local recognition and helps prepare an application booklet for the state award.

The state winner will be Nebraska's nominee in the National Teacher of the Year competition.

Nominees should be knowledgeable and dedicated elementary or secondary classroom teachers in state approved or accredited public or private schools. The nominee should inspire a love of learning in students. The application should focus on the role of the nominee as a classroom teacher and should incorporate information that shows the nominee's excellence in classroom teaching.

The Teacher of the Year program recognizes Nebraska's teachers for their dedication to the young people of our state," said Joe Lutjeharms, Commissioner of Education. "It allows the education profession an opportunity to honor colleagues who are representative of many excellent teachers, and it gives schools a chance to focus positive attention upon education."

A maximum of five finalists will be selected by Oct. 10. The announcement of the award recipient will be made in early November. Application packets are available from the Nebraska Department of Education. Completed applications should be submitted by Oct. 1, 1985 to the Teacher of the Year Committee, Nebraska Department of Education, 301 Centennial Mall South, P. O. Box 94987, Lincoln, Nebraska 68509. Inquiries about the program should be directed to Susan Petersen (402) 471-2452.

Hilton

which at the time was not commonly obtained by women — she was elected county judge.

"At the time I began my term as county judge, there were only about 10 or so women with the same position in the entire state," she said. Now, at least 65 percent of the appointed associate county judges are women, Lu noted.

"I campaigned for the office and was elected, winning in the primary and the general election over three men," she said.

SHE WAS ENCOURAGED to run for the office by Judge Hamer and her husband, Mert, before deciding herself to pay the $60 filing fee. "I loved campaigning. But I'll never want to do it again. I promised that I'd be fair. I think my experience and years in this office put me in," she noted.

Lu took office in January of 1969 as Wayne County Judge and held that office for four years. And she maintained the office without the credentials of a college law degree.

"I saw what was right and I said it," she said. "I had good county attorneys who were very helpful."

"And I had good help in my office," she added. "But when my term was over, I was glad to give it up. The juveniles coming in [for trials] were people that I knew. It would have been easier for strangers [from outside of Wayne County] to hear [the cases]," she said.

In 1973, the county court became a state office in Nebraska and Lu was appointed as an associate county judge — which is a two-year term. "I have held that office for 12 years," she said.

She explained the associate county judge's duties by saying she doesn't handle the contested matters in the courtroom. "I can't send anyone to jail. The county judge must be the one to do that," she said. "The judge delegates authority to me that he doesn't do as county judge."

THOSE DUTIES include preparation of delayed birth registrations, taking care of all traffic citations if the defendant pleads not guilty, and working with individuals on guardianships, adoptions and probate.

She also does the filing and scheduling of court appearances for civil and small claims cases and criminal court.

In addition to all these duties, she also steps in as one who conducts marriages — 111 of them to be exact. Her first marriage ceremony she performed took place on Feb. 28, 1969.

On that day, 32 County cars surrounded the courthouse and the office of the associate county judge was completely filled with relatives of the bride and groom. It was a wedding which Lu said she'll never forget.

Lu said she has "seen plenty of changes" during her 40 years working at the county level. Court fees have gone from $4 to $21 and marriage licenses rose from $2 to $20 and then plummeted downward to $10.

County attorneys during her 40 years have been Dan Reed, Budd Bornhoff and Robert Enz.

"I've always enjoyed my work. Never stopped enjoying it," she said. "Her enthusiasm for the job typifies her goals and intentions — helping people help themselves."

St. Mary's to receive federal energy grant

St. Mary's School of Wayne is one of nine Nebraska institutions that will receive a grant under the Department of Energy's Institutional Conservation Program, said First District Representative Doug Renscher.

The Wayne parochial school will receive $700 to cover 50 percent of the cost of a technical assistance audit that will measure specific costs, payback periods and projected energy savings from the use of energy saving procedures, plus the purchase and installation of devices recommended by the earlier technical audits.

Applications for the grants were made through the Nebraska state energy office which ranked them and made recommendations to the Federal Department of Energy field offices. Based on these recommendations, the Department of Energy selected the grantees. The funds will go directly to the institutions.

Heritage Industries and establishing its manufacturing and office locations, companies usually survey and analyze the employment barometer of the communities.

Several options were considered for manufacturing the modular units in other communities, but the selected site was pinned down to Wayne. Henneman cited the current employee record at the present Heritage Homes manufacturing site as an influence in its decision to locate the new subsidiary manufacturing corporation in Wayne.

"The 40 people that work there [at Heritage Homes] have rural backgrounds, can diversify and are good employees," he said.

In addition to being president of the parent company and the subsidiary, Tompkins will assume the management and sales manager at Heritage Homes, positions that were held by Guill and Henneman.

Wayne-Carroll shows decrease in enrollment

School enrollment in the Wayne-Carroll district continues to show a slight decline, with 801 students enrolled for the 1985-86 year.

That figure compares to 816 students during 1984-85, and 827 students during 1983-84.

The Wayne-Carroll district includes Carroll Elementary School, West Elementary in Wayne, Wayne Middle School, and Wayne High School.

The total number of students enrolled in each grade this year at West Elementary includes 48 kindergartners; 51 students in first grade; 48 students in second grade; 43 students in third grade; and 42 students in fourth grade.

THE 1985-86 enrollment figure at Wayne Middle School totals 248 students, including 66 fifth graders; 67 sixth graders; 67 seventh graders; 43 eighth graders; and five TAR students.

Enrollment at Wayne Middle School in 1984-85 totaled 256 students, compared to 238 students in 1983-84 students.

ENROLLMENT AT Wayne-Carroll High School for 1985-86 equals last year's enrollment figure with 293 students, compared to 305 students in 1984-85.

A breakdown of high school students in each grade during 1985-86 includes 92 freshmen; 47 sophomores; 84 juniors, and 70 seniors.

HELP ME HELP YOU SAVE A LIFE! I'm Becky Janssen of Carroll, Nebraska, a Highway Maintenance Worker with the Nebraska Department of Roads. I'm working near Wayne in this photo, but my work takes me throughout Northeast Nebraska. Please slow down when driving through any of our work areas. We're working to make your roads safer, and in the meantime, PLEASE don't make me a fatality. I thank you.

Don't Trim That Limb...

... BE CERTAIN that the limb or tree you're removing won't hit electric lines when it falls. Be equally certain that you or your equipment will not be in danger of touching the lines. Fatalities, costly property damage and power outages have occurred when tree limbs or tree trimming equipment came into contact with electric lines.

CALL BEFORE YOU CUT. When there's the slightest doubt about safe tree or limb removal near power lines, call your local NPPD office, or the power supplier serving your area. They will provide advice or assistance.

DON'T TAKE CHANCES. That "simple" job could result in death, serious injury, or at the least, cause expensive repairs that we all wind up paying for.

COMMUNITY CLUB

In recognition of the accomplishments of area 4-H'ers, their leaders and their clubs, the Wakefield Community Club contributed $50 each to six 4-H clubs in the Wakefield area. The Community Club at a recent meeting decided to make the contributions to the individual clubs rather than be involved in the bonus auctions held after the fairs.

Clubs receiving the $50 were Country Style, Pop's Farmers, Leslie Livewires, Leslie Lads and Lassies, Coon Creek Clovers and Pals-n-Parkers.

LIFE FLIGHT HELICOPTER

The Life Flight helicopter from St. Joseph's Hospital in Omaha visited Wakefield Aug. 26, landing on the street in front of the fire hall. Local people and area fire fighters viewed the emergency helicopter and its medical equipment.

The local firefighters hosted a Mutual Aid meeting that evening with approximately 70-80 firefighters in attendance. Towns represented in the Mutual Aid area beside Wakefield included Allen, Emerson, Wayne, Pender, Ponca, Thurston, South, Sioux, City, Dakota, City, Homer, Bancroft, Wall Hill and Winnebago. As part of the program, a representative from St. Joseph's spoke to the group about the helicopter's capabilities and uses.

BAND BOOSTERS

Members of the Trojan Band Boosters met Aug. 27 to read the organization's by-laws which were drawn up over the summer.

A second reading of the by-laws and motion from approval will be held at the next meeting of the boosters on Wednesday, Sept. 18 at 7 p.m. The meeting will be held in the band room and president Joyce Kuhl encourages all members to be present.

Also at the next meeting, the boosters will complete plans for a carnival to be held at the park on Saturday, Sept. 28.

The executive board, which includes the officers, are Mrs. Kuhl, president; Carol Nixon, president-elect; Angie Blatter, secretary; Dallas Roberts, treasurer; and advisors Mrs. Diane Trullinger, music director, and high school principal Joe Coble. The board set up committees for the upcoming year and discussed other activities of the boosters.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Mrs. Kathy Mitchell, home economics teacher, and Mrs. Becky

Swanson and Susan Tyler, teachers at the Wakefield High School, attended the Nebraska Vocational Education Conference held in Omaha Aug. 13-15. The theme for the annual conference, sponsored by the vocational division of the Nebraska Department of Education, was "A Vital Link in the Chain of Learning - Vocational Education."

NEW CIVIL WAR BOOKS

Mrs. Pat Berry said that two books on the Civil War have arrived at Graves Public Library. They are "Decoying the Yanks" and "Jackson's Valley Campaign."

Other new books are "Hands of a Stranger" by Robert Daley; "Out of the Blackout" and "Help the Poor Struggler."
