Vienna Choir Boys appearing

A choir founded by Emperor Maximilian I in 1498 will be at Wayne State College in celebration of the school's 75th anniversary.

The Vienna Choir Boys will be in concert at 8 p.m. Nov. 11 in Ramsey Theatre. As one of the Special Program Series presentations at the college, the world-famous choir is a group of 24 boys ranging in age from 10 to about 14.

For nearly five centuries, the choir has entertained listeners all over the world, including numerous heads of state and Popes Pius XI, Pius XII and Paul V.

The choir will be at WSC as part of the college's 75th anniversary. "Wayne State is very honored and lucky to have such an illustrious and internationally-known group," said Donald W. Whisenand, interim president of WSC. "I'm sure everyone will enjoy the concert."

The Vienna Choir Boys, from

Vienna, Austria, gave their first tour in the United States in 1932 and have returned some 40 times since then. The boys have completed nine Asian tours — traveling as far as Japan — and have performed an equal number of times in Australia. They also have appeared numerous times in both South American and South Africa.

Many famous composers have written for this choir. Among them are Franz Schubert, who was a Vienna Choir Boy himself; Christoph Willibald Gluck; Joseph Haydn and Mozart.

Before becoming Vienna Choir Boys, the candidates of the choir first attend a special preparatory school where they receive a thorough education with special attention paid to the theory and practice of singing.

The boys must then pass an examination, which the candidates take at the age of nine, where musical ability is the deciding factor.

Tickets to the Vienna Choir Boys must be obtained before the concert. WSC officials anticipate that all seats will be sold long before the performance.

The tickets may be obtained Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to noon and 1-5 p.m., in the Division of Fine Arts Office in the Peterson Fine Arts Center.

The prices are $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for students high school age and under.

WSC faculty, staff, students and holders of WSC activity tickets may obtain their free tickets at the Fine Arts Office.

The next Special Program Series presentation is the Chinese Magic Revue of Taiwan. The troupe of acrobats, dancers and magicians will be WSC Nov. 26. Dick Cavett appeared at WSC last month in the first Special Program of the Diamond Anniversary.

House on wheels

KAY HOUSE Movers confronted the insurmountable task on Thursday and Friday of moving the Garlick house out of the city of Wayne and onto the property of Ron Sobade of rural Wayne. The 80 or more ton load was routed six miles north, three miles west and 1 1/2 miles south of Wayne. Tree branches were trimmed and light poles bent back as the house squirmed its way on Wayne's Main Street.

Christmas memories to be shared

Wanted: Your Christmas memories. That is what The Wayne Herald is seeking to place in our "Home for Christmas" special section which will be mailed to all Wayne Herald subscribers on Nov. 7.

"We would love to see more Christmas memories sent to us — be it the memories of long ago or a special happening that took place just last year," said managing editor Chuck Hackenmiller.

"The Christmas memories can be long or they can be short. On days that are rainy and it is cozy and warm inside the house — that's the time to get out a pen or your typewriter and start writing about that special Christmas that sticks out in your mind," he added.

"I think everyone, from children on up to senior citizens, has that special Christmas which sticks in their mind. And we would like you to share it with our subscribers."

"So please don't be afraid to write."

The "Home for Christmas" special section, complete with retail advertising, will also create an affluence that this area provides Christmas shoppers with the best gifts around. Individuals who bake goods, make special crafts or homemade products and would like to sell these items for extra cash this Christmas can advertise inside the special section's "specialty pages."

Troop 174 scouts to gain coveted Eagle Scout award

Four scout members of Wayne Troop 174 will receive their Eagle Scout Awards on Oct. 20, 3 p.m. at the Wayne High School Lecture Hall. Recipients of the award will be Jason-Liska, Brian Schmidt, Kevin Griess and Timothy Gries.

The Eagle Award is one of the highest awards a Boy Scout can attain. It requires many hours of public service and numerous merit badges and skill awards.

Following are summaries of the four scouts' achievements.

Jason, 16, is the son of Ken and Jan Liska of Wayne. He joined Pack 221 at age 9 and when he was 12, had joined Boy Scout Troop 174. He has held the troop offices of Quartermaster, Assistant Patrol Leader and presently is Senior Patrol Leader. He is also a member of the Leadership Corps.

During his scouting years he attended Boy Scout Camp Cedars in Fremont and Camp Ben Delafour at Red Feather Lake, Colorado. Scout trips he participated in include: canoe trips down the Niobrara River and the Canadian Boundary Waters, backpacking the Big Horn Mountains in Wyoming; and Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico.

Jason is a member of the United Presbyterian Church and is a sophomore at Wayne-Carroll High School. His other activities have included: band, football, baseball, swim team, track, wrestling, basketball, 4-H and PYF. He has served as president of his freshman and presently is sophomore class.

Kevin is a member of the Wayne Presbyterian Church and is a junior at Wayne-Carroll High School. His other activities have included PYF, band, football, basketball and golf.

For his Eagle Scout project, Kevin worked in two areas at the Wayne County Historical Museum in preparation for the city of Wayne's Centennial in 1984. Outside, the Scouts cleaned the grounds several times. Inside the museum the Scouts removed rust from a number of antique iron tools and implements for display in the basement.

Timothy C. Gries
Timothy, 17, is the son of Philip and Jean Griess. He joined Pack 221 at age 8 and completed Webelos at age 11, joining Boy Scout Troop 174 in 1979.

LENRD funds $50,000 for program

Sign up for habitat funding

Anyone interested in signing land up for The Wildlife Habitat Program should do so immediately.

The Lower Eikhorn Natural Resource District headquartered in Norfolk has allocated $50,000 for next year's Habitat Program. This $50,000 will be used in all or part of the surrounding 15 counties.

This $50,000 will be used to create new Grassland Habitat, Stripcropping with Permanent Cover, or to improve Existing Wildlife Cover.

The "Grassland Habitat" program is a 3 year program that allows each cooperator to enroll a minimum of five acres with a minimum of five acres per plot. A maximum of four plots with a total of 90 acres. Payment on all Habitat Programs is $30 per acre with an additional $5 for allowing public access.

The "Stripcropping with Permanent Cover" is also a three year program that allows each cooperator to enroll a minimum of three acres and a maximum of 40 acres in strips 50 to 250 feet wide, to be planted on the contour. The contract area should be 20 percent to 50 percent of the field, with the remainder being in row crops. Field borders will now qualify under this program.

Priority will be given to mixtures of sweet clover, red clover, alfalfa, native grasses or cool season grasses. Cool season grasses must contain at least 25 percent legumes.

"IMPROVEMENT OF Existing Wildlife Cover" is a five year program which allows the cooperator to enroll a minimum of three acres and three acres per plot with a maximum of 40 acres in four plots.

In an area that has existing cover, a plan will be developed to improve that habitat to its highest potential by what ever means that are necessary, (Grass Seeding, Tree Planting, Tree Stand Improvement, Food Plots etc.)

On any program that requires grass seeding or tree planting, the cooperator is eligible to receive a payment to cover the cost of the seed and trees.

The maximum payment on this is $50 per acre.

With only $50,000 being made available for all or part of 15 counties, the sooner you sign up the better your chances are being accepted in the program.

For more information on The Wildlife Habitat Program, contact the Wayne County S.C.S. at 120 Logan in Wayne or phone 375-2733.

hacken' away

by chuck hackenmiller

There's a book on the market called "Sniglets" — a compilation of words which do not appear in a dictionary, but should.

It's written by Rich Hall & Friends. It is humorously illustrated and is enjoyable reading.

After putting the book down, I've come up with some "sniglets" of my own.

Here they are:

Heelbenders (heel-bend-ers) — men who do not untie their shoes before slipping them on, which eventually ruins the heel.

Sighdrops (sigh-drops) — a condition photographers experience when drizzle drops fall on their eyeglasses as they focus with their camera.

Hypnowiping (hip-mo-wiping) — the act of being hypnotized by the windshield wipers on your car.

Z-bank (Z-bank) — the noise a "Z" encyclopedia makes when it falls off the edge of an overly crowded desktop.

Snipsnoir (snip-snoir) — the anticipation a tired person feels when a profound snorer stops snoring for two seconds.

Unooops (uh-no-oops) — what drivers say when they turned the wrong way on a one-way street.

Hollesogs (hole-ee-sogs) — a medical term of losing an appetite over soggy cereal.

Kolorshief (Ka-lor-sheef) — what a person gets when washing a new pair of blue jeans with a white bed sheet.

Dietry (di-et-ri) — an emotion felt by dieters as they get ready to consume a gallon of ice cream.

Sfigtosckbe (swig-tosk-be) — what you see on your typing paper after all the keys are hit at once on the typewriter.

Dologament (do-lone-e-ment) — a stupid predicament one gets into when biting into a Bologna luncheon meat sandwich, and realizing the casing is still wrapped on the outside.

Kerncrac (kern-crack) — action of chipping a tooth which occurs after trying to eat what is believed to be an "old maid" popcorn kernel.

Awoil (a-we-il) — Iowa almost spelled backward, commonly referred to as Iowans who are considered traitors because they pledge their allegiance to the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Sinkyrynes (slink-kee-rines) — the string that is loose on unraveling carpet that gets curled up in the beaters of the vacuum cleaner.

Bilbonehead (bil-bone-head) — a name of a man who pulls out his billfold to pay for his steak and mushroom dinner at an expensive restaurant and is embarrassed to find out he his billfold has no money in it.

Esksaramble (es-ka-scramble) — the unintentional but common error of breaking the yoke of an egg when the person is hungry for eggs over easy.

Stuiber (stool-er) — that type of smell one senses that tells an individual when it is time to take out the garbage.

Snuglously (snug-lu-izee) — how an individual feels after trying to fit into clothes that fit just fine a year ago.

Eieih (e-i-e-i-o) — an expressive and imperative remark made by Old McDonald as is about to file bankruptcy on his "here a farm" and "gone a farm" and "everywhere a farm gone."

Anxlelees (an-zih-et-tees) — a frustration on the part of the soap opera fans who have to go a whole weekend without knowing what happened to the stars of the show.

These are just some of the sniglets that I could come up.

In my last column, I ran some poems about farming as interpreted by an Iowa poet. I came across another poem — read by Congressman Kika de la Garza, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee when he introduced a 5-year omnibus farm bill on April 4.

It is called "Farmer Feeds 'Em All" and it goes as follows:

The politician talks and talks,
The actor plays his part
The soldier glitters on parade
The goldsmith plays his art
The scientist pursues the germ
Over the terrestrial ball
The sailor navigates his ship,
But the farmer feeds them all!

The preacher pounds his pulpit desk,
Brokers read their lengthy tapes,
The tailor cuts and sews his cloth
To fit the human shape.
The dame of fashion dressed in silk
Goes forth to dine or call
Or drive, or dance, or promenade,
But the farmer feeds them all!

The workman wields his shiny tools
The merchant shows his wares,
The astronaut above the clouds
A dizzy journey dares,
But art and science soon would fade
And commerce dead would fall
If the farmer ceased to reap and sow,
For the farmer feeds them all.

viewpoint

Doesn't fit the bill

"The old saying that 'farm bills tend to be evolutionary, not revolutionary' seems appropriate following the passage of its version of the 1985 Farm Bill by the U.S. House of Representatives."

Roy Frederick, a specialist in farm policy and a University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension economist, said that while action such as the reconciliation of differences in Senate and House versions by a conference committee and approval or veto by President Reagan still loom ahead, "it looks like many provisions of the 1985 Farm Bill will not be unlike those of the 1930's."

Accounts of the House action Oct. 8 indicate that no one is particularly happy with that legislative body's final bill, Frederick said.

And that's not surprising, he said, considering the bill does not move strongly in the direction of either free markets or tight production controls — which is the respective central themes of two widely divergent philosophies in the farm sector.

Frederick said he is struck by how few changes the House made in basic price and income supports for covered crops. While nonrecourse loan levels would be reduced, potential income streams to producers would change little because target prices would remain unchanged from 1985 levels.

He said the bill "does little to target benefits to those farmers who need them most." Frederick said it leaves potential recipients with the same guidelines as before.

Under bill provisions beefing up conservation requirements, a new conservation reserve of 25 million acres could be important in Nebraska because the state has a considerable amount of land that is subject to wind or water erosion.

And the dairy title in the bill, providing for a diversion program similar to the one which ran for a 9-month period ending on March 31, is likely to draw a presidential veto if the Senate approves a similar provision, Frederick predicted.

Conservation of soil is a priority. That we can agree with. But continuing with a plan that is similar to the last plan — which brought the ag economy into its present state — simply doesn't make the grade.

It boils down to farmers getting the opportunity to earn a fairer income.

And for those who still do not believe the farm crisis is that terrible, a suggested article to read is from the Nov. 1985 Reader's Digest entitled "Trouble in the Heartland."

It is a well-written piece about what farmers are going through in northwest Iowa, with the same to be said for Nebraska, South Dakota and other farm belt states.

Consider a home sprinkler

Early detection prevents fire deaths

Every week in the United States, an average of 700 people die in fires. According to fire safety experts, many of these deaths could be prevented with the proper use of early detection and quick suppression systems, that is, smoke detectors and automatic fire sprinklers.

"Fire prevention is, of course, very important," says Chief Roger McGary, president of the International Society of Fire Service Instructors. "But to cut the loss of life, people can do three things: first, install smoke alarms to detect fires when they first start; second, practice a plan of escape from their homes; and third, install residential sprinklers to keep the fire in check, and give them time to escape from the fire scene."

CHIEF MCGARY stated that automatic fire sprinkler systems are the "most effective tool available today to save lives threatened by fire. The reason, he said, is that most home fires occur while the occupants are asleep. "Smoke detectors are valuable in waking the people," he said, "but sprinklers can put the fire out in a matter of minutes while keeping smoke to safe levels while not flames, is the leading cause of death in fires."

According to Tom Miller, manager of loss control for the Alliance of American Insurers (AAI), smoke detectors alone can reduce home fire deaths by about 50 percent. "One federal study shows that smoke detectors used in combination with automatic sprinklers can cut the death rate up to 90 percent," he said. While sprinklers now are found primarily in commercial buildings, quick-acting systems have been developed for use in private homes. "You could walk into a room of a house with installed sprinklers and not even know they were there," said Miller. "The residential sprinklers are made to fit right in the decor of the home; the sprinkler heads are small and unobtrusive and the pipes are completely concealed behind the ceiling construction."

In addition to their pleasing aesthetics, said Miller, home sprinklers are surprisingly inexpensive. "An automatic sprinkler system can be installed in a new home for approximately $1,200 to 2,000, depending on the size of the house — that's about the cost of having the exterior of the home painted."

Both Chief McGary and AAI's Miller stressed the importance of proper maintenance in assuring the effectiveness of home fire safety equipment. Smoke detector batteries, they said, must be checked at least once a month, and the units should be vacuumed and cleaned at least twice a year.

"In addition," said Chief McGary, "people need to practice fire prevention throughout the year. They must be careful in the use of cigarettes, never leave kitchen appliances unattended, and teach their children the safe use of matches and other ignition sources."

ask a lawyer

a public service of the nebraska state bar association

Q. Are lawyers in Nebraska, after passing the initial bar examination, required to complete additional continuing legal education in order to maintain their license to practice law in Nebraska? If so, how much and how often?

A. No, there is currently no requirement for Nebraska lawyers to take a certain number of hours of continuing legal education each year after they have been admitted to the practice of law. In the future, most lawyers do attend some of the courses on various areas of law which are offered throughout the year by the bar association's educational arm, and by other groups such as the law schools and other professional organizations.

Nebraska lawyers have indicated, more than once, their support for a program which would make continuing legal education mandatory. However, a program has not as yet been approved.

If you have a legal question, write "Ask a Lawyer," P.O. Box 2329, Lincoln 68502. This column is intended to provide general legal information, not specific legal advice. "Ask a Lawyer" is a public service of the Nebraska State Bar Association.

Life expectancy in Nebraska grows another two years

The life expectancy of an average Nebraskan increased more than two years over a 10-year period, paralleling national trends, according to a Nebraska Department of Health report. By 1980, the life expectancy at birth had risen to 71.85 years for males and 79.62 years for females, according to the report. In 1970, men were expected to live an average of 69.89 years and women, 76.75 years, in the state.

National statistics reveal a similar trend, although life expectancies are slightly lower nationwide. Men are expected to live on the average 70.7 years, an increase from 67.94 years in 1970. The rate for women over the same ten-year period rose from 75.49 to 78.10 nationwide.

Life expectancy increased much more during the 1970s than during the 1960s: between 1960 and 1970, the life expectancy of Nebraskans rose only .02 years for men and 1.15 years for women. Nationwide during the same period, the life expectancy of men increased .39 years, while women increased 1.3 years.

Statistics compiled for black and white males and females living in Lincoln and Omaha reveal Lincoln white females are expected to live 80.14 years, longest of any group studied. Black males in Omaha are expected to live 63.23 years, the shortest time of these groups.

During the 60's male life expectancy at birth decreased in the panhandle, west central, central and in the northern regions of Nebraska and increased in the southeast and midlands areas so Nebraska life expectancy at birth remained at 68.9 from 1960 to 1970.

Good Sales

We, the Wayne Lions Club, would like to take this method and opportunity to thank various groups who helped make our annual Halloween Candy Sales this past weekend a success.

First, we would like to thank all Wayne area residents who supported our project by buying candy. The profits realized from this activity are directed to various sight and hearing projects of the club.

This year, the club contributed these monies to the Bonnie Smith Pancreas Transplant Fund.

We would also like to thank radio station KTCH and The Wayne Herald for their public service announcements and news articles and releases informing the public of our project.

Also we thank Pamida Inc. for supplying us with the bulk candy at cost and Redeemer Lutheran Church for providing facilities to sack the candy.

And last, but not least, we thank the Lions Club members who helped sack the candy and who went out and sold the candy this past Sunday and Monday evenings.

Blue Devils capture first win

Wayne gridders dominate Albion for 26-0 victory

ALBION—The 1985 Wayne-Carroll football campaign has been disappointing for the Blue Devils. After five games, Wayne owned a 0-5 mark.

But Friday night, the Blue Devils played up to their capabilities and blanked Albion 26-0 for their first triumph of the season.

To say Wayne dominated the game is an understatement. The Blue Devils rushed for 337 yards and passed for 76 more for a 413 total. Albion, on the other hand, totaled 26 total yards and the Panther rushing attack was limited to a minus nine yards.

Lionie Erhardt, Wayne's head coach, said this club was impressive, but added that traditionally tough Albion is experiencing an off year.

"We played good ball, but Albion is really down this year. They're usually a pretty good ball club, but they're having trouble this season," he said about the 1-5 Panthers.

Wayne wasted little time to take the upper hand Friday night as Dan Gross scored the game's first touchdown on a two-yard plunge at the 3:52 mark in the initial frame. Tim Fleming added a PAT boot to make the count 7-0, Blue Devils.

Although Gross received the glory, the big play of Wayne's first scoring drive was a 38 yard run by Tom Perry, which set up the first Blue Devil score.

After Wayne kicked off, Gross came up with a key defensive play which set up Wayne's second TD of the first period.

Gross picked off an Albion aerial at the Panther 41 yard line late in the opening stanza and the Blue Devils took advantage of Albion's passing blunder when Ted Lueders crossed the goal line from one yard out on a quarterback sneak with 1:19 remaining in the first quarter.

Wayne suffered a poor snap on the PAT attempt, but the Blue Devils were still in total command with a 13-0 lead.

Both teams played well defensively in the second quarter, and Wayne went to the locker room with its 13 point advantage.

Although the Blue Devils failed to score in the second stanza, it didn't take them long to reach pay dirt in the third frame.

After returning the second half kickoff 19 yards to their own 45 yard line, Wayne waited just a few more seconds before Gross escaped for a 79 yard scamper to put the Blue Devils ahead 19-0.

Gross' touchdown, the longest of the season for Wayne, came on a pitch on a sweep play around the end. Although the Blue Devils suffered its second straight poor snap on the PAT attempt, the Blue Devils held a commanding 19 point lead with 10:23 remaining in the third quarter.

The Blue Devils added an insurance touchdown in the final period when Ted Lueders hit Ted McCright with a 10 yard TD pass at the 7:10 mark.

The McCright touchdown capped an eight play drive that began at the Blue Devil 49 yard line.

Jason Jorgensen came in and added a PAT boot to allow Wayne the 26 point victory.

In addition to the 337 yards rushing, Wayne ran 57 rushing plays while Albion was limited to a mere 21. The Blue Devils also totaled 18 first downs, and Albion finished with just three, and two of those came on Wayne penalties.

The only poor statistics Wayne had were 13 penalties for 130 yards, and four turnovers.

"We felt that a lot of the penalties were questionable. They called us for holding several times and we didn't feel like we were guilty on all of them," Erhardt said.

Lueders completed 4-of-11 aerials for all of Wayne's 76 passing yards. His favorite receiver was Brent Pick who caught two passes for 32 yards. Jon Stoltenberg caught one pass for 24 yards and McCright hauled in Lueders' 10 yard TD strike.

Gross led the Blue Devils' rushing attack with 118 yards on 16 carries. Perry totaled similar statistics rushing 17 times 110 yards.

Gross and Perry weren't the only ones that had success against the Panther defense, however, as McCright carried six times for 67 yards, Fleming totaled 15 yards on two tries and Jason Lisika picked up 14 yards on three totes.

The impressive Wayne defensive effort was due to a team effort. Jon McCright led the Blue Devils with eight tackles, while Pick and Bill Lisika followed with seven apiece. Gross, Steve Cowgill and Jeff Hausmann each finished with six tackles.

Gross and Fleming both picked off Panther aerials, while Mark Janke and Jay Luff each recovered a fumble for Wayne.

Erhardt said he hopes the Friday night victory turns the season around for the Blue Devils and allows them to be better prepared mentally for Friday's game with Fremont Bergan.

"The win felt really good. We don't have an easy schedule and although we were in most of our games, we always came up short. So it's nice to get a win under our belts," he said. "And I think a win like this will get us up for the next week's game. Bergan has a good team and we'll have to be ready both physically and mentally and a win like this naturally helps in that regard," the Blue Devil skipper added.

WINSIDE's Doug Paulsen (on ground) carries a Newcastle ball carrier down with him as teammates Kevin Jaeger (No. 71), Doug Mundil (No. 29) and Daryl Mundil look on. Winside lost 46-7.

Poor second half sinks Winside, 46-7

WINSIDE—After 24 minutes Friday night, the Winside Wildcats were gunning for what Associated Press sports writer Herschel Nissenon would've called "the upset special of the week."

However, Newcastle came storming back by scoring 34 second half points to ruin Winside's upset bid and claim a 46-7 victory.

Although Newcastle entered the game with three wins in five outings, the Raiders are considered as one of the state's better 8-man teams. But Friday night against Winside, Newcastle had its hands full.

The Wildcats celebrated their comeback Friday night and also celebrated the game's first touchdown when Doug Mundil scored from 10 yards out midway through the opening stanza. Bill Schmidt added a PAT boot to put the Wildcats on top 7-0.

Newcastle immediately answered Winside's TD with one of its own. After the Wildcats kicked off, the Raiders scored on their first play from scrimmage from 60 yards out to make the score 7-7.

A Winside defender grabbed the Newcastle back, but due to wet conditions the Wildcat slipped off and Newcastle pulled to within one.

The Raiders reached into their bag of tricks to score their second TD. Facing a fourth and 20 situation on the Winside 35, Newcastle pulled off the old Statue of Liberty play for a 21 yard gain. The Raiders followed by crossing the goal line just seconds later to pull ahead 12-6 at the half.

Mark Freburg, Winside's head coach, said everything was falling in to place for his squad in the first half. "Everything just fell into place like it's supposed to in the first half. The coaches had a great game plan, all the plays that were called were called at the right time and the kids just worked their tails off and played a great first half," he said.

Newcastle answered the second half in championship form and blew the game open.

The Raiders' key play was a punt return Newcastle ran back for a touchdown.

"Two plays really hurt us in the game. The Statue of Liberty play in the second quarter when they got the first down, and the punt return in the third quarter. The punt return especially hurt because it broke the kids' back," Freburg said.

In addition to his squad's play in the first half, Freburg added that he was pleased with his team's defensive effort on the night.

"We (Winside's coaches) knew how good Newcastle was, and we told our defense that they'd have to do a good job in order for us to win and they did, especially in the first half. The whole team had a very good job in the first half," he said.

However, Freburg added that the Raiders' depth and the third quarter punt return sunk his squad in the second half.

"They just kept coming at us with clean jerseys all night. Their depth and that punt return really turned things around in the second half. But they're a very good team, they'll probably make the state playoffs," he said.

The loss drops Winside to 1-5 on the year. Newcastle improved to 4-2.

The Wildcats' next game is Friday at Wynot.

Beemer erupts to down Wakefield

BEEMER—After a close first half, Beemer scoring a feisty Wakefield touchdown during a 20-6 advantage in the second quarter, the Trojans refused to roll over and when Nicholson scored from one yard out to make the score 20-12, it was still anybody's game.

still several defensive leaders on the night.

Mike Nelson led the club with 13 tackles, while Kirt Roberts totaled nine and Lund and Kralke each finished with eight.

Wilbur said he was pleased with his club's effort, especially in the first half.

"We held them below their average on offense, and really played even with them in the first half. But we gave them too many opportunities in the second half and they capitalized on them, and that was the difference of the game," he said.

Wilbur is referring to the three interceptions and two fumbles his club

Allen Eagles fall to Bancroft-Rosalie

BANCROFT—Bancroft Rosalie used a quick start and consistent scoring during the entire game to pound Allen 78-0 on Friday night. Bancroft Rosalie opened a 28-0 lead and Panthers added 22, 14 and 14 markers over the final three frames, respectively, for the 48 point triumph.

Allen's most productive period was the second when the Eagles scored 12 points. The visitors added eight markers in each of the last two quarters.

Allen was missing the services of four key players Friday night. The four Eagles missed the game for various reasons.

Allen head coach Dave Ulrich said the contest was played under terrible conditions, and added that statistics would not be available until the Wayne Herald's Thursday edition. Check the Thursday Wayne Herald for complete details of the game.

Competitive Zeiss is regarded as a team leader at Wayne State

When Wayne State's opposition takes the court, they might have a tendency to take Jill Zeiss a little lightly.

At 63 inches, Zeiss is hardly an intimidating sight. But once the game begins, opponents usually have a change of mind about the Wildcat setter. Because when they made Jill Zeiss, they could have just as well thrown the feisty competitor mold away.

"Jill's a leader on our team, but she isn't the cheerleader type, she leads by example. No matter what the circumstances, she never quits or gives up. She's a real fighter," Wayne State head coach Marilyn Strate explained.

Zeiss agrees with Strate about her leadership qualities, but said her experience is the main reason she's looked up to by her teammates. "I'm a senior now and I think the others look to me for leadership. I feel like the younger girls can ask me questions, and I try and give the younger players a lot of encouragement," she said.

This year will be the end of an era for Jill Zeiss. As Zeiss mentioned, she is a senior and she has started for the Wildcats since her freshman year.

Zeiss was born in Crete and moved to Wayne with her family when she was in the fifth grade. It was at a conference and an honorabile mention all-state selection her junior and senior seasons at Wayne-Carroll, and was the state's second leading setter in Class B her senior year.

Bernice Fulton recruited Zeiss to Wayne State and Ernie Kovar was the Wildcats head coach her freshman year. Strate took over the Wayne State coaching chores when Zeiss was a sophomore.

Despite playing hundreds of sets during her first three years, Zeiss' biggest thrill came this year on Sept. 21.

"Placing states in the CSIC (Central States Intercollegiate Conference) was exciting, but my biggest thrill came this year when we beat Kearney State at the Hastings Tournament. That was the first time since I've been playing we beat them," she said.

Although she is one of the conference's leaders in assists and serving, Strate said Zeiss is just as strong on defense.

"Overall, she plays well on both offense and defense. She's quick, has good hands and has good court sense and that allows her to be a complete player," Strate said.

Zeiss agrees, but thought she was a little stronger on defense.

"Our hitting and setting are our biggest team strengths, but I think I'm best on defense. I think my quickness allows me to get to a lot of spikes," she said.

In addition to being selected second team all-CSIC and second team all-district her sophomore season, she was one of the conference's leading setters and servers last year. But she also excels in the classroom.

Zeiss is currently carrying a 3.3 grade point average and after graduating this May with a biology major and psychology minor, she plans to attend nursing school in Sioux City.

According to Zeiss, a 3.0 grade point average is required at most nursing schools, and she added that maintaining her grade point is sometimes difficult while participating in athletics.

"I try to carry 15 or 16 hours every semester, but last year I had a 20 hour semester. It's tough keeping your grades up when you're on the road a lot, it means going to a lot of labs on your own at night. You have to have a lot of dedication," she said.

Zeiss credits two people for helping her most through her college career. "My parents (Dr. Don and Jan Zeiss) have supported me my entire college career. They've been to most of my games and have always stood behind me 100 percent. It's reassuring knowing you have that kind support."

Wayne's bid to qualify for State falls six strokes short, Jones qualifies

OMAHA—Wayne-Carroll's Missy Jones, a four-time medalist during the 1985 golf season, qualified for the state golf tournament by firing a 94 during district tournament action at Knolls Golf Course here Wednesday.

The Blue Devils just missed qualifying for the state tourney as a team. Wayne finished fifth with a 444. The top three teams of all three districts qualify for state. Blair placed third at the tourney with a 438, just six strokes better than the Blue Devils.

Omaha Duchesne and Ashland Greenwood placed first and second, respectively.

Jones fired a 45 over the first nine and finished with a 49. Her 94 was equaled by Duchesne's Claudia Ames. Ames then defeated Jones in a playoff hole.

The state tournament will be held Thursday, Oct. 17, at Mahoney Park Course in Lincoln. The first tee time is scheduled for 9 a.m.

"There was adverse weather at districts with it being rainy and cold, said, "I think the girls did a good job. They had a good season, too. This is the first time in a long time that Wayne has had a golf team and they came pretty close to qualifying for state. The girls improved all season long and learned how to compete," he added.

LAUREL OFFENSIVE lineman Randy Sherry (No. 63), Paul Roeder (No. 62) and Chad Blatchford (No. 54) explode off the line.

Laurel drops another close contest, 14-6

LAUREL-Laurel-Concord dropped yet another tough loss as the Bears came out on the short end of a 14-6 decision to third-ranked Howells here Friday night.

"What's new," a discouraged, yet well-composed Gale Hamilton said referring to his club's fourth close loss of the year.

In addition to being ranked third in the state in Class C-2, the Bobcats are ranked No. 8 in the area. But Friday night, Howells' had all they wanted.

Both teams played a stifling defense in the first quarter and held the opposing offense in check. Laurel's best scoring opportunity came late in the initial frame, but a double reverse deep in Bobcat territory fell short.

But Howells' isn't ranked third by mistake, and the Bobcats took a 14-0 lead in the second stanza.

Dennis Hegeman scored from 10 yards midway in the second quarter and teammate Matt Kersten added a PAT boot to supply Howells with a 7-0 edge.

Laurel fumbled the ball away on its next possession and the Bobcats cashed in on the Bear error when Hegeman scored his second TD, this one from 12 yards. Kersten made it 14-0 with his second PAT.

Like the first quarter, both squads played well defensively in the third period and the score remained 14-0 with just 12 minutes to go.

Laurel's offense finally came to life when Scott Marquardt crossed the goal line on a quarterback keeper from one yard out with a little over seven minutes remaining in the contest. Marquardt's touchdown capped a drive from midfield.

The Bears' PAT bid failed, but Laurel was back in the game and only trailed by eight.

After holding Howells' offense in check, Laurel took over possession and pushed the ball to the Bobcat 25 yard line with a little over one minute remaining.

However, the Bears' scoring bid came to halt when Howells intercepted a pass and hung on for the win.

It marked the fourth time this year that Laurel came up short in a close game, but Hamilton said his club's morale is holding up well.

"We're not depressed or anything like that. The kids are playing good ball, we're just coming up a little short," he said. "We feel that if they're the eighth best in the area, we're the ninth best because with a couple of breaks we would've beaten them," Hamilton added.

The Bobcat defense keyed on Laurel running back Brent Haisch and held the gifted runner to just 50 yards. Marquardt closed with 30 yards rushing and Jeff Curry added 20 to the Bear cause.

Laurel had many defensive standouts in the game. Randy Sherry led the Bears with 17 tackles, while Brad Prescott totaled 14. Steve Schutte closed with 12 and Erick Christensen added eight.

Randy Prescott, Brad's brother, recovered a fumble for the Bears as did teammate Chad Blatchford.

The loss dropped Laurel to 1-5 on the year. The Bears' next game is Wednesday, Oct. 23, at Homer.

Hamilton said Laurel lost a heart-breaker to Homer last year and would like nothing better than to avenge the loss with a victory this season.

"I wasn't the coach last year, but I'm pretty sure we were ahead by two touchdowns in the fourth quarter and Homer came back with 90 seconds left," he said. "We had their attention to next week's game, with Homer and we're just anxious about that game," he said.

Game statistics were not available.

Wayne harriers place seventh at Bloomfield

BLOOMFIELD-Wayne-Carroll's harriers placed seventh out of 11 teams at the Bloomfield Invitational here Friday afternoon.

The Blue Devils totaled 120 markers. Atkinson West Holt won the invite with 17 points.

Matt Hillier was Wayne's leading runner finishing the 5,000 meter (3.1 mile) course 28th. Tim Griess placed 29th, while John Howe came in 32nd and Ted Lohrborn placed 33rd. Jeff Simpson finished 37th for Wayne. The Blue Devils' times were not available.

Doug Donnellson, Wayne's head coach, said a drening rain affected everybody's performance at the meet.

"It rained very hard during the running. If only took about a minute before you were drenched," he naturally hurt the kids' times," he said.

Jeff Green, the Blue Devils' only junior varsity harrier, finished with a 23:29 clocking and drew praise from Donnellson.

"Jeff really put his heart into his race and came in with a great time," Donnellson said.

Wayne's next meet is districts Saturday at Albion. The meet begins at 10:30 a.m.

Davis' first score came in the second quarter and he added his two yard plunge in the final frame.

Davis was also one of five Blue Devils to recover a fumble in the game. Jed Reeg, Sean Baker, Eric Liska and Jess Zeiss also recovered loose balls for the winners.

Kevin Hausmann added a pair of interceptions for Wayne, and Corey Frye led the squad in tackles with 14. Offensively, Liska added 70 yards on 13 carries.

Wayne State/Fort Hays preview

By Todd Hillier
WSC Sports Information

"Homecoming isn't anything if you don't win the football game," Wayne State head football coach Pete Chapman said.

Wayne State will host nationally ranked Fort Hays State in Saturday's 2 p.m. contest at Memorial Stadium, capping off this week's homecoming festivities.

During the game, fans will see two very similar teams on the field. Both teams contribute their success to the run and short offense (a passing attack). But even though the Wildcats know the offense inside and out, it won't make the Wildcats' defensive preparation any easier, Chapman said.

"It's not the passing attack itself (that makes it difficult), but it's the quality of the kid throwing the ball," Chapman said.

Passing for 467 yards against Kearney State last week shows just how much a quality quarterback Robert Long has. Long was 33 of 52 for 467 yards, including two touchdowns passes to Eric Busenbark for 33 and 89 yards. Busenbark was named the CSC's offensive player of the week for his performance.

The Tigers won last week's game against Kearney, 35-28. A blocked punt in the fourth quarter set up the winning score for the Tigers.

Fort Hays, 4-0-1 on the year and ranked fifth in the NAIA, also defeated Lincoln University, 35-3. Adams State, 34-24, and Missouri Western, 17-7 earlier this season. The Tigers also tied Panhandle State 19-19.

In last year's 21-14 loss, Fort Hays led 7-3 at halftime on a 30-yard interception for a touchdown. The Wildcats led 14-7 in the third quarter on two Harvey Roussel field goals and an interception by Steve Besch, who later lateral to Lamont Lewis for the touchdown. The Tigers scored the winning touchdown with just over a minute left in the game on a 79-yard pass. However, Fort Hays was forced to forfeit the game this fall when it was discovered they used an ineligible player in the contest.

On a positive note for the Wildcats, Chapman isn't nursing any appendicitis this week. Less than a week before the Wildcats fell to the Tigers in last year's contest, Chapman underwent surgery.

The Tigers' win over Wayne State was their only one in the CSC last year. This year's surprising 4-0 start is comparable to the Wildcats' 4-1 start last year. Wayne was coming off a 1-9 season in 1983.

Fort Hays coach John Vincent at tributes his team's success to their attitude. "We have a very positive attitude this year and that has allowed us to play with very positive feelings," he said.

Chapman attributes the Tigers' success to Vincent and Long. "They had a coaching change last year and they also lost Long in the third game," Vincent said. "His injury prohibited him from playing throughout the remainder of the season.

"It's going to be a tough, tough game," Vincent said. "We're not taking Wayne lightly at all. They have a lot of good athletes like Sonny Jones and Matt Hoffmann."

"The thing that makes it so tough in the CSC is that every game is so far for grabs, each team is so closely matched," Vincent said.

Wayne State leads the series with Fort Hays 5-2-1 since its beginning in 1971. "The Wildcats won the first meeting 30-7 and three of the next five. The two teams tied in 1978, 17-17.

Last week, the Wildcats defeated Missouri Western 14-0 in the Hall of Fame Game. Freshman quarterback Eros Sanchez started and was 11-29 passing for 160 yards against Western. Wayne State's two scores came in the first half when Sanchez hit Darin Blackburn with a 30-yard touchdown pass and in the second quarter, when Hoffmann returned a Western punt 36 yards.

Wayne State recovered three Griffin fumbles, while Mark Will and Lamont Lewis each intercepted a pass for the Wildcats. Carl Galvert rushed for 146 yards on 26 carries to lead Wayne's offensive attack. Galvert also caught three passes for 28 yards.

Rein over homecoming festivities

Kavanaugh, Huggett WSC royalty

Pam Kavanaugh of Dixon and Bill Huggett of Central City have been crowned homecoming queen and king at Wayne State College (WSC) during coronation ceremonies Wednesday (Oct. 9) evening.

The two were elected from six king candidates and six queen candidates during student voting on Monday and Tuesday. Sixty-two students were originally nominated by campus organizations to become royalty candidates.

Kavanaugh is the daughter of Vincent and Jeanne Kavanaugh. She is a junior, pre-law major representing Anderson Hall. She is involved in the Newman Club, Pi Gamma Mu honorary, social activities, fraternity and is an intramural representative.

Huggett is the son of Raymond and Marjorie Huggett. He is a senior pre-med major representing Terrace Hall. He is the WSC student member of the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges, a position appointed by Gov. Kearney. Bill is also a member of Cirica K, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Blue Key honor society and is a student Ambassador. He was named the outstanding sophomore chemistry student at WSC two years ago.

The pair will reign over Saturday's homecoming activities including the 10 a.m. parade, which is also the parade of the college's 75th anniversary, the 2 p.m. football game against Fort Hays State and a 9 p.m. dance.

Money collected for hunger

In observance of World Food Day Oct. 16, the student senate at Wayne State College has initiated a project to raise money to fight world hunger, according to Dr. Bobby Lupack, student senate advisor and associate professor of English.

Collection boxes have been placed at various locations on campus to raise money "to attack the problem of world hunger," Lupack said. She said the student senate originated the awareness project, but that it is a project for all Wayne State students to become involved with.

"If every student and faculty member would donate 50 cents, we could raise close to $1,500," Lupack said.

She said if enough money is raised, the student body will likely sponsor a hungry child in the United States and abroad. If there is not enough money to sponsor a child, she said a lump sum donation will be made.

"The money will be earmarked to one of the legitimate hunger organizations," she said. For more information or to make a tax-deductible donation, contact Lupack at 402-375-2200 ext. 496 or a WSC student senate member.

The Principal's Office by Donald Zeiss, National High School Activities Week

October 20-27 has been designated by President Reagan as National High School Activities Week in recognition of the valuable contribution that such programs make in developing the interests and talents of young people at the community level.

As to the values of activity programs, there are several very vivid, documented examples:

"National surveys reveal that students participating in high school activities are more likely to have higher academic averages and far better attendance records.

"Of the students who drop out of high schools, ninety-four percent have not been involved in any school activities such as athletics, music, speech, student government, etc."

"The best predictor, according to ACT and SAT studies, of success in later life is previous participation in high school activity programs not high school or college grade point average, test scores or rank-in-class."

"Generally, participation in activity programs teaches values that make students happier and better citizens, builds strong minds and bodies, emphasizes the good points of competition and that race, color, sex and economic status are not obstacles for participation, and finally instills poise and confidence."

"Nationally, over one-half of the high school students population participates in high school activity programs for approximately one percent of the total school budget, obviously the best value in public education today."

SUPPORT SCHOOL ACTIVITIES — NATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES WEEK

Football News by Junior David Ahlman

Coach Ehrhardt stated that the Wayne High Blue Devils are going to take one game at a time. They stand a good chance of winning this week at Albion. He hopes they will be able to win the rest of the games this season. Dan Gross is the leader in pass receiving and rushing as a running back. Ted Lueders is the leading quarterback.

Coach Ehrhardt stated that he has 46 players on the varsity squad. For the rest of the season, his plans are going to stay about the same. He stated that he wanted to pass the ball a little more and establish the running game.

He said that there were four injuries so far this season: Scott Baker, Jamie Frederickson, David Ahlman, and Scott Hammer.

Some new policies at Wayne High by Mike Hoffhold & Skip Dumble

On Oct. 8 we interviewed Dr. Zeiss. We asked him a few questions about the school policies. We asked him why we no longer than any other schools. The reason is we have built in snow days and they do not. Another question was why do we have to get make up slips before we leave. The reason for that is we are required 1080 hours by law, and if the state wants to know how many hours we have gone, they can look back on that.

We also asked Dr. Zeiss why psychology was added to the schedule. The reason is they took a survey of the students and a number of the students wanted to have it so they put it on the schedule. We also asked why there are no work permits? The reason for that is they are required 1080 hours. They do make exceptions for farm kids who help at home during the busy months.

Finally we asked about vacation days, and we have one more this year. We had eleven last year and twelve this year.

New Math Teacher by Tracy Lamb and Kay VonSeggern

The new algebra teacher at Wayne High is Doug Donelson, who teaches both Algebra I and Algebra II. He also coaches cross country.

Mr. Donelson grew up in Lexington, NE and later went to Doane College in Crete, NE. He intended to become an architect but one of his classes was in the Education Department and he found he could easily convey ideas to others. He studied taught at Dorchester, NE.

After graduating from Doane, he took some graduate courses at UNL and coached seventh grade basketball at Lexington.

When asked what brought him to Wayne, Mr. Donelson replied, "I wanted to work in a school district that was relatively close to the size of the one I went to school in."

He says he enjoys teaching at Wayne High very much because the staff has been warm in welcoming him and the students are good to work with.

He enjoys listening to music, working on his car, snow skiing and other sports.

In closing we asked Mr. Donelson if he would like to say anything and he said, "Nothing, except, THANKS FOR THE WELCOME!"

The winners were chosen by popular vote. Tourist Day was won by Mrs. Donnellson. Toga Day was won by Jeff Hausmann and Tom Perry. Chris Glassmeyer and Mr. Erhardt won G.I. Day and Clash/Punk Day was won by Anna Liedorff and Val Stalling.

The Junior Class, the class of '87, won the best hall decoration award.

Thursday night a fish fry, put on by the Booster Club, was followed by the coronation of Queen Trisha Frevert, and King Dan Gross, which was followed by a bonfire at the Country Club. Friday night was the football game with David City at which the Devils were defeated 26-6.

A dance at the school ended the festivities. Music was provided by "Dr. Doug," a disc jockey.
