Boosalis waits on candidacy decision

by Chuck Hackenmiller

Helen Boosalis announced Thursday afternoon that she does not intend to make a decision until mid-January on whether she will become a candidate for Nebraska governor.

Boosalis, former mayor of Lincoln who at one time served as president of the U.S. Conference of Mayors and is currently the Director of the Nebraska Department of Aging, visited the Wayne State College campus Thursday afternoon to meet those interested in hearing her comments on her possible candidacy for governor.

"She had served 24 years with the Lincoln city council — four 4-year terms as councilwoman and two 4-year terms as mayor. She decided not to seek a third mayor term for two basic reasons.

"One, to spend more time with her family and relatives and secondly she said "24 years is long enough to carry out the plans and goals you have."

"The danger of going beyond what she believes is an adequate amount of two terms is that "city hall could become more bureaucratic" and operate more like a machine.

"She said she has the proven record and track record of accomplishments which will make her a good candidate for governor, an idea she has been considering very seriously for the past three weeks.

"I believe government was created to serve the people. People need to be part of the government, part of the decision-making process, made to feel they are a part of government," she said.

"HER HALLMARK while mayor, she mentioned, was putting people in to government and making them feel a part of it. "You need to be a good listener, too," she said.

"She would bring in her own style to the governor's office and would likely take a different approach to dealing with the problems and issues. "You have to remember I'm still a member of Kerrey's administration," she said, adding that she has the highest respect for Governor Kerrey.

Boosalis said she goes beyond the motto: If it ain't broke, don't fix it.

"Even if it ain't broke, you can make it better," she said.

"I've never shied away from controversy in doing what needs to be done," she added.

"She said she is not ready to quit on rural Nebraska. "That is about the biggest mistake that one can do."

Boosalis added that it is important to diversify in agriculture and other related industries.

"We cannot rely on just one segment of the economy," she said.

Once your letter to Santa is delivered to us, the Wayne Herald will transport these letters directly to the North Pole. But first, he asks that the letters be published in our newspaper. And who are we to turn down a request from Santa Claus?

So write soon. Santa's got his pencil sharpened and ready to write you down on his list. Christmas is not that far away.

Change orders made on rural road project

Several change orders have increased the cost of the contract sum to Castle Construction of Columbus for the work on the Wayne County rural road improvement project to the Timpte, Inc. building site east of Wayne.

The original contract sum for the road improvement project was $294,775.50. Change orders, accumulating to $55,892.64 have boosted the contract for the work to $350,668.14.

Listed as the most costly change order was a building of a bridge at an industrial tract by National Fiberglass east of the new county road. This addition, built to alleviate flooding problems, was built at a cost of $40,865.40.

Other change orders included

$7,491.80 for 240 feet of storm sewer; $4,650 to move the water main; and $2,885.44 for clean-up along the rural road improvement site.

The city of Wayne will be paying for the storm sewer, moving of the water main, bridge construction and part of the clean-up costs, according to a spokesman from Bruce Gilmore & Associates.

New site for Niobrara park

The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission has completed acquisition of land adjacent to the existing Niobrara State Park and work to relocate Niobrara State Park to the new site will begin as soon as weather permits next spring.

That announcement came to The Wayne Herald as a press release from Chuck Duncan, chief of the State Parks Division of the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

Dale Bree, an assistant director of the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, said Thursday there is approximately 1,061 total acres at Niobrara to develop for the new state park site.

The first priority this spring is to let bids for the building of 5.7 miles of hard-surfaced access road interior road. This road system will be serving the cabin sites.

Also next year the Game and Parks Commission will be bidding out construction of 15 new cabins at the new Niobrara site. The new cabins will be for guest rental — 12 two-bedroom and 3 three-bedroom units. The cabins will have electricity and running water as well as other modern conveniences.

Bree said that the cost for the entire Niobrara State Park new site has been projected at $4 million. That amount is only an estimate, he stressed.

FUNDING FOR development of the new state park site would be derived from a combination of possible sources. The sources Bree listed include money that is acquired from federal land and water funds and from some additional department revenue.

"Hopefully there will be state general fund money, too," he said. "We will also look to private contributions for help," he added.

Plans for future development at the park are also in the works and will be constructed as funds become available. These plans include picnic shelters, trails, playground equipment, picnic tables, swimming pool, park lodge, dining hall, multi-purpose lodge and stable and corral for trailrides throughout the park.

"If you have ever moved even across town, you can well appreciate the planning and effort that goes into moving a whole state park," said Duncan.

Bree said the new state park site at Niobrara will compare favorably with other state parks in the state. The old park was about 408 acres, he said. Ponca State Park is about 800 acres plus, he added.

The Game and Parks Commission was forced to relocate Niobrara State Park on higher ground because a rising water table caused deterioration of the existing park, according to Duncan.

Just when the new Niobrara State Park site will be completed will depend on the degree of funding and where it will come from.

"It could be perhaps nine or 10 years before the total project is completed," said Bree.

Crop insurance year end

Dec. 10 ends the 1985 crop year insurance period for corn, grain sorghum, popcorn and soybeans grown in Nebraska and insured by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC), or by a private company reinsured by FCIC, according to Leo B. Holthaus, Director of the Field Operations Office in Lincoln.

"Any notice of loss must be given no later than 30 days after total destruction of the unit, completion of harvest, or Dec. 10, whichever occurs earlier," according to Holthaus.

The producer who anticipates a claim should notify his or her crop insurance agent immediately.

"Under the terms of the policy, any acreage on which harvest will not be completed must be left intact until an inspection is made. Any claim for indemnity may be rejected if these loss reporting requirements are not met," Leo Holthaus stated.

To low income people

Heating bill aid available

Director Gina Dunning today announced that the Department of Social Services has more than $12 million in Federal funds available to help eligible low income Nebraska households pay their heating bills this winter. This assistance is available through the Nebraska Low Income Energy Assistance Program which is administered by the Department through its Local Social Services Offices.

"More than 37,000 Nebraska Low Income Households were assisted by this Federal program in 1985 and more than 40 percent were elderly or handicapped households. I encourage those in need to apply," Director Dunning said.

To be eligible, the household's income and resources must fall within the guidelines established by the Nebraska Low Income Energy Assistance Program. Eligible households must also be responsible for paying their heating bill.

Director Dunning noted that in an effort to inform as many low income households as possible about the program, applications have been mailed to all households who received assistance in meeting their heating needs last winter.

Anyone interested in applying for this program may do so by contacting their Local Social Services Office. Applications will be accepted as long as Federal funds are available or through March 31, 1986.

'hacken' away

by chuck hackenmiller

viewpoint

Time of need

Oh Christmas tree, oh Christmas tree, how lovely are your branches... la, la, la.

That's the mood the Hackenmiller clan is contemplating as we step closer to the Christmas holiday. Last Thursday night's ceremonial lighting of the Christmas trees in Wayne's city auditorium has put me in the mood to decorate, to get out the tinsel and ornaments, to set up the Nativity scene in our living room or devour some Christmas cookies.

Most of the years, my family Christmases have been celebrated with a real tree in the room, the smell of evergreen sending a holiday aroma throughout the household.

But the first Christmas tree I ever owned wasn't real. It was sort of wild to me by an auctioneer.

The auction was winding down to some small items that remained on a hayrack and I just happened to be in the way of a pointed auctioneer's finger as he sold me the Christmas tree for a single dollar.

Some auctioneers will do that to you if they know you and understand that you can take a joke.

The tree was losing its green plastic (representing the pine needles) off of the coat hanger branches. Not all of the pieces were there either.

IT WAS SORT of ugly, that artificial tree. But with a few decorations and perhaps a few bends of the artificial branches, the tree would at least represent something that would be appropriate to put up for Christmas.

After becoming married, my family went back to the traditional style I was used to — a real Christmas tree with all the trimming.

My confidence in selecting real trees is not the greatest. When I was in high school my parents entrusted me with the chore of going to a neighboring community to select a "Tannenbaum."

I came back with a tree that was tall enough, but was bare on nearly a quarter of the tree. It seems, though I was trying to impress my parents with how much money I could save, that my taste in tree selection didn't match the previous year's standards.

Matter of fact, it didn't even come close.

But they let me do the tree picking the next year, too. This time I picked a full tree, got a bargain on the price and it was tall enough to almost reach the ceiling.

What I didn't observe in my quest for the perfect tree was the Christmas tree's condition — the needles fell to the carpet much sooner than ever before. One has to be wary of how to pick a tree.

Since my high school days, I've learned what makes a good Christmas tree — a nice spread of branches, straight trunk on the tree so that it doesn't lean forward all the time, pulling of the needles so lightly and then pounding the butt of the trunk on the floor to see how many needles fall to the ground; and once you begin trimming the tree branches, don't cut off more than you should otherwise one side will be more fuller than the other.

THE WAYNE HERALD Christmas tree at this year's Fantasy Forest was one of the few exhibited that was real and we're happy about that. But I'll let you in on a secret about our entry...

Before we took it over to the city auditorium, we checked the lights to see if they were working. All three strings lit up.

So after the tree was placed in its position and all the ornaments were hung delicately from the tree by staff members here, we plugged in the lights and:

what to our wondering eyes didn't appear one string of lights which before was bright and clear.

Whoever invented the Christmas tree lights that, if one bulb goes out the whole string of lights do not function, should receive the "most frustrating patent" award.

My least favorite to do when decorating a tree is sprinkling icicles on each branch. I also find it difficult to find a place for each ornament.

When it comes to this part of the tree decorating, I would like to take the whole box of ornaments and tinsel, stand above the tree and dump the entire box on the tree — let things fall where they may.

What I do like to do is plug in the lights when it is dark and watch the blinking color.

It's a kind of warm, peaceful feeling as one sits in the living room and views the color and takes in the aroma of the tree.

One gets the same feeling when the smell of turkey and dressing infiltrates the entire household on Thanksgiving Day. It makes me awful hungry.

On that train of thought, putting up a real Christmas tree, complete with color and aroma, is what makes me hungry for the holiday to arrive.

Needy families are on the rise in this area, as indicated by the growing number of people who have requested toys this year from the Toys for Tots program that is initiated by Goldenrod Hills.

That is why it is so important to take some of our time and help out those that have fallen on hard times.

Wisner has a toy collection point for the Toys-for-Tots program. So does West Point. Wayne does not.

Would anyone in Wayne like to offer their facility or business as a collection point for toys in this area?

While there is need to spread a little Christmas cheer to a little boy and girl who could not afford a toy otherwise, there are also people in this area who are in need of food. That is why the Food Pantry concept, or the undertaking recently of the area's Lutheran Brotherhood branch to provide canned goods and other wholesome food to those in need, is ever so crucial in providing at least a few good meals to a family that is looking at barren cupboard space.

Have you any food items that you would like to donate to these people in need?

These are just some of the questions being asked during the holiday season — primarily because it seems to be the time of year for generosity and good will toward men.

Any assistance to these, and other requests by service organizations that will go toward helping those who are needy at Christmas, should be thought about in a non-selfish fashion, as one experiencing the willingness to give of oneself to aid others.

The unfortunate and lonely need us at Christmas. But in reality, for us to understand the true meaning of the holiday season and its festive decor, we have to realize something too — that we need to help them just as much as they need our help.

Then perhaps the true meaning of the Christmas spirit — giving of oneself for another — is continually upheld and regarded in the highest esteem.

Nebraskans say government too large

Nebraskans throughout the state believe state government is too large and should be reduced... That's the conclusion of a recent statewide poll by the Nebraska Association of Commerce and Industry (NACI).

In a poll of 739 participants at 24 legislative forums held across the state during November, 82 percent of those polled felt that Nebraska's state government budget is still too large and should be cut further. Eighteen percent of those polled believed that the state budget had been reduced as much as can be reasonably expected without harming necessary services.

Participants were also asked their views of a possible "Right-To-Own" amendment to the Nebraska constitution that would modify or repeal the current prohibition against the purchase, ownership or operation of farm and ranch lands by non-family corporations. Ninety-one percent of those polled favored a change in the current state law that limits the purchase and sale of farm lands.

The poll also asked participants what type of revenue raising mechanisms they would support if it becomes necessary for the state to increase revenues to meet essential budget demands. Of the six alternatives offered, the overwhelming choice was an increase in the current sales tax rate, followed in second place by a state lottery. Far behind in the polling were: an increase in the state individual income tax rate (third); an increase in the state corporate income tax rate (fourth); a sales tax on services (fifth); and elimination of all state sales tax exemptions (sixth).

"We talked to hundreds of Nebraskans from Scottsbluff to Nebraska City over three weeks and it is very evident that most believe state government is still too large and must be cut," NACI President Jack Swartz said.

"While we do not claim that our poll is scientific, our forums did draw a broad cross-section of Nebraska and I think our Legislature should be aware that Nebraskans, by a wide margin, favor additional budget cuts," Swartz pointed out.

Swartz noted that if some type of temporary tax increase is needed, Nebraskans would favor an increase in the sales tax rate as the fairest and easiest to administer.

NACI's legislative forums were co-sponsored by local chambers of commerce and were held in 24 Nebraska communities with representatives from nearly 50 Nebraska towns and cities attending.

Those communities hosting forums were: Scottsbluff, Alliance, Sidney, Ogallala, North Platte, Cozad, Holdrege, Grand Island, Broken Bow, Kearney, Hastings, Aurora, York, Crete, Nebraska City, Beatrice, Fremont, Columbus, Norfolk, Wayne, South Sioux City, Seward, Omaha and Lincoln.

Peace March plans gain momentum

What do you do when your seven year old niece tells you she's going to die in a nuclear war? If you're David Mixer, founder and Executive Director of PRO-Peace, you plan an event so captivating, so inspiring, that it just might lead to an end of the arms race.

From March to November of next year, PRO-Peace will hold "The Great Peace March." Five thousand people will leave homes, jobs, and schools to walk across the entire nation, from Los Angeles to Washington, D.C. Their one goal: worldwide nuclear disarmament.

The March will continue on through Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, New York City, Philadelphia and Baltimore. Upon reaching the final destination, Washington, D.C., the March will be joined by one million supporters for a candlelight vigil and a demonstration urging all governments to "Take 'em down."

Mixer cites two reasons for the choice of such a complex and monumental means to get the message across. First, "People have hope and the belief they can make any difference." Second, Members of Congress have made it very clear that nothing will happen — to dramatically affect the arms race until there is, literally, a citizen uprising." The March, Mixer reasons, will both restore people's faith in their own power and impel world leaders to respond.

While the mission behind it is certainly serious, the March itself will be exciting and fun. Steve Perkins, in charge of logistics, is seeing to virtually every detail of life on the road.

Although self-contained, The Great Peace March will in no way be isolated from the cities and towns it passes through. "Victims of radiation from atomic testing will lead the marchers through St. George, Utah," explains Tim Carpenter, PRO-Peace Field Director. "An elderly woman in Springdale, Utah has pledged to enlist all three hundred people in her town for a big party when we arrive. In Denver, there will be a ticker tape parade. Church bells will ring. Wherever we go, both children and adults will line the streets and demonstrate their support."

As a mobile village, The Great Peace March will actually be larger than many of the communities along the route. During the course of the March, close to four million meals will be served, more than one million showers will be taken, over 40,000 shoes will be worn out, and 2,500 tents will be set up and taken down daily.

Thorough planning in all areas has yielded Pro-Peace an impressive list of supports.

Because at least one third of the marchers are expected to come from the college population, PRO-Peace is pleased to have the support of the U.S. Student Association, 200 student leaders and five state student coalitions. Altogether, these campus endorsements represent more than two million students.

In addition, the entertainment community has demonstrated strong commitment through numerous benefits and fundraisers. Celebrities for the March include Paul Newman, Richard Dreyfuss, Jack Lemmon, Ed Asner, Leonard Nimoy, Jodi Foster and Judd Nelson.

Beyond endorsements, individuals and organizations are getting involved by contributing money for March supplies. On a grand scale, universities such as Harvard and USC have pledged to pay for the large medical and community service tents.

On a person to person level, those who can't come along are participating in the Adopt-A-Marcher program. In exchange for a contribution of a dollar per mile — the total of one marcher's costs — sponsors will receive letters and photos from their adoptees, as well as an invitation to join the March for an in-person visit.

Donations to pay for tents and sleeping bags are also being sought.

To find the five thousand willing, able and committed people who will make up a widespread recruitment campaign this fall, Teams with banners and tents will appear on college campuses, ads will be placed in newspapers and magazines, radio and television features will air.

Surely David Mixer's niece, when issuing her prophetic statement, had no idea what a monumental undertaking would result from it. Says Mixer though, "Never before in my 25 years of organizing has anything come together this easily. Optimism, idealism, energy — there's more than enough to carry this thing through."

For more information, contact Rita Kissen of Wayne at 375-2200, extension 396, at Wayne State College.

As part of the route of The Great Peace March, which begins in Los Angeles and ends 255 days later in Washington, DC, participants will be journeying an accumulative 103 days by the time they travel from Denver to North Platte, arriving in the Nebraska city by March 21, 1986.

From there, walkers will leave North Platte for a 24 day walk (or 316 miles) and arrive in Omaha on July 4.

From Omaha, the group will walk from Omaha to Des Moines, Iowa and arrive there on July 17.

News and notes

Avoid holiday depression
Many people eagerly await the holiday season, but for some a bad case of the "blues" comes right on the heels of a post-holiday letdown.

One triggering factor of the blues is our expectations. They are often unrealistic and consequently there is a backlash. Also, we are continually bombarded with messages of "Be happy! Be happy! Be pleasant! Be nice!" Too much emphasis on happiness can lead to insincerity and a kind of fake happiness.

HOLIDAYS CAN be particularly exhausting for families with young children. There is an emphasis to "be on your best behavior so Santa will come." Not wanting to spoil the holidays with bickering puts a strain on everyone.

If traditional family get-togethers are not possible, the blues can result from that separation. If you miss someone, you will miss them more intensely at this time of the year. This is especially true for the elderly and for the recently widowed or divorced.

Financial drains can be tremendous. People get caught up in the gaiety of the season and often purchase gifts on credit. After the gaiety ends, the bills begin.

AFTER A FEW days of the family being crowded together, cabin fever can become a problem during winter months. The stress on the parent homemaker increases during the winter. The stress is also great for the pre-schooler and even more intense if there are several pre-schoolers in the family.

Young children have a great need for movement and boisterous activity, so when it is too cold for outdoor play, all the noise in the house can leave the parents feeling like climbing the walls.

Parents can do many things when their children can't play outside. Taking them to the library to check out new books or to participate in programs there, taking them out at a day care center or with a neighbor occasionally to help with their family. You can return the favor when your neighbor needs help. Create a special place in the house where it is fun for children to ROGER NELSON'S newest iris seedling is named after Neil Diamond because of its deep moody blue color, typical of Diamond's ballads.

Local iris grower names new seedling after Neil Diamond

For the second time in less than two years, local businessman and iris hybridizer Roger Nelson has chosen a world-famous singer to name his new iris variety after.

Nelson, owner of Iris Country gardens in Wayne, received written permission last week to name his newest iris seedling after top recording artist Neil Diamond.

The registered seedling is a cross between Nelson's own light blue variety, Azure Lights (introduced in 1979), and Navy Strut.

NELSON SAID he selected Neil Diamond as the name for his newest iris variety because the iris is a deep moody blue color typical of Diamond's ballads.

The Neil Diamond seedling, as described by Nelson, has a "very large, heavily ruffled deep blue violet self and is all one color, including the beard."

Nelson added that the seedling, which first bloomed in 1981 and is scheduled for introduction in 1987, has been tested in various parts of the United States and has proven to be very vigorous and winter hardy. "It seems to perform well everywhere."

The local iris grower said he plans to send a plant to Mr. Diamond's California home in 1987 when it is introduced.

DURING THE spring of 1984, Nelson received permission from David Bowie to name a seedling after his famous hit single and album, "Let's Dance."

The iris also received national attention that year when it was mentioned on cable's Music Television (MTV) and "Entertainment Tonight."

Let's Dance, which will be introduced in 1986, has bright yellow top petals, while the bottom one is bright rosy-red violet. The flower is rimmed in rum brown with an antique gold beard.

Blue Devils overcome slow start

Wayne shoots down Blair

For a while Friday night, it looked like Wayne-Carroll might be in store for a long night as it took the Blue Devils over five minutes to hit their first field goal of the 1985-86 season. However, once Wayne broke the ice, the Blue Devils blew past Blair 54-42.

club would get its act together. "I wasn't worried when we were down in the first quarter because we're a veteran club and I knew we would eventually come around."

And come around is exactly what the Blue Devils did.

After Blair opened an 8-0 lead on its strong inside play, Don Larsen finally put the Blue Devils on the scoreboard with a 15-footer at the 2:35 mark.

Prior to Larsen's bucket, Uhing called timeout and told his squad play more aggressively. "We weren't aggressive enough and I told them to penetrate more on offense and play more aggressively," he said.

The advice paid off because after Blair's Jeff Nielsen countered with a nifty baseline move and loop, Wayne used two free throws by Larsen and buckets by Jeff Hausmann and Brent Pick to pull within two, 10-8, at the end of the first period.

Larsen was forced to the bench at the 7:34 mark of the second quarter when he was whistled for his second personal foul. But Pick picked up the slack and led the Blue Devils to their first lead of the game early in the second frame.

Pick, an aggressive 6-4 senior, canned two jumpers and added three free throws to supply Wayne with a 15-13 edge at the 5:05 mark.

Corey Dahl and Dan Gross followed with a field goal and two free throws, respectively, before a Larsen gifter made the score 20-17 Wayne with 2:20 remaining in the first quarter.

The Blue Devils then gained all the game's momentum in the first half's final 22 seconds. Gross nailed an 18-foot baseline jumper at the 22 second mark and Ted Lueders came up with a brilliant steal and layup just before the buzzer sounded to give Wayne a 24-17 halftime advantage.

Lueders' bucket was Wayne's 10th point of the second period. Blair, on the other hand, was limited to just seven points.

Blair played better early in the second half, however, and cut Wayne's lead to four early in the third stanza. But the Blue Devils proved to be too much and outscored the Bears 13-10 in the third quarter and 17-15 over the final eight minutes for the 12-point triumph.

The victory was called a total team effort by Uhing and the Wayne skipper even credited several reserves as having a vital influence in the triumph.

"This win was a total team effort and I was happy to see that because that's exactly what we needed to win," he said. "A lot of the credit should go to Tom Perry, Jon Stollenberg and several of the others who pushed our varsity players in practice the past week and made them work hard."

Larsen wasn't called for any more fouls and due to his increased playing time he was Wayne's offensive

Blue Devils fall to Madison, 43-33

Sluggish third quarter sinks Wayne

Sometimes it is difficult to pinpoint exactly when a team loses a game. However, it doesn't take much thought to figure out when Wayne-

Carroll's girls lost its game against Madison. The Blue Devils were outscored 15-2 in the third period and dropped a 43-33 decision to the Lady Dragons Thursday night.

Wayne-Carroll head coach Marlene Uhing said her club's inability to execute its offense led to the disastrous third quarter.

"We stood around way too much on offense. We didn't have too much trouble with their pressure, but we didn't get the ball inside enough and didn't run our offense," she said.

After trailing 9-6 in the first period, Wayne's Shelly Pick and Dana Nelson canned a pair of 15-footers from the right corner within 25 seconds to allow the Blue Devils to open a 15-13 halftime advantage.

Wayne's lead at intermission was its first of the game, and unfortunately, it was also its last.

Madison head coach Marty Gilson installed a fastbreak offense into the Lady Dragons' offense and with guards Kelly Pluggs and Barb Weiss leading the way, Madison pulled ahead 20-17 with 4:09 remaining in the third before opening a 28-17 lead heading into the final eight minutes.

Wayne battled back, however. Laura Keating converted an offensive rebound before Kecia Corbit canned a short jumper and a free throw to cut Madison's lead to six, 22-28, with 5:03 remaining in the game.

However, six points was all the closer the Blue Devils could get. Madison's running game, reached high gear in the final four minutes and the Lady Dragons held a comfortable 38-26 advantage with 1:50 to go before hanging on for the 10 point triumph.

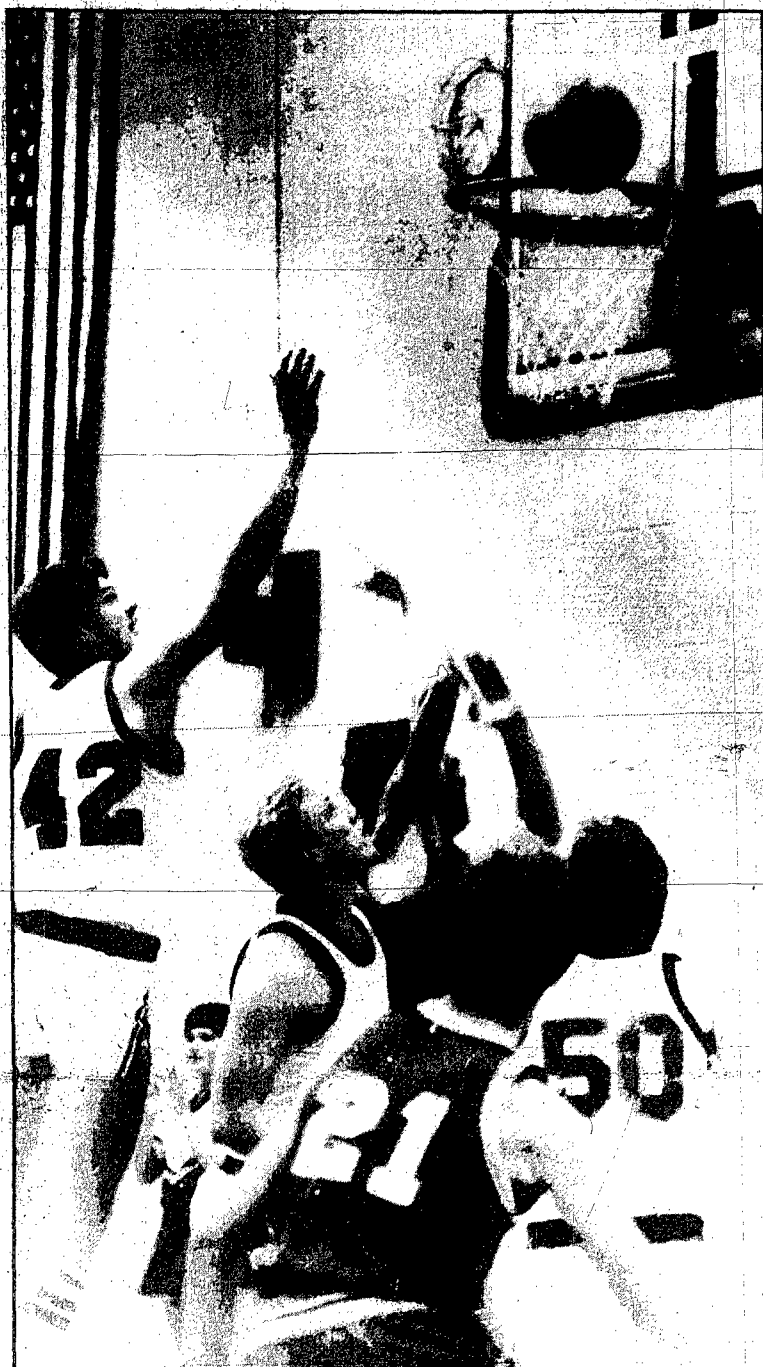

Wayne started slow and had trouble scoring against Madison's zone defense. The Lady Dragons did a fine job of sagging in on the Blue Devils' inside players and as a result, held Wayne scoreless until Keating hit a jumper at the 4:14 mark.

The Blue Devils outplayed Madison the final four minutes of the first quarter and only trailed 8-6 heading into the second frame.

Nelson, a 5-3 freshman, led Wayne in scoring with eight points. Sonja Skokan and Corbit added seven markers apiece.

In addition to the poor third quarter, the Blue Devils were also hindered by poor shooting. Wayne made just 15-of-47 field goals and 3-of-13 free throws for 22 and 13 per-

Fouls cost Wakefield 56-42 loss

BANCROFT — Wakefield was whistled for 34 fouls and Bancroft-Rosalie took advantage of the Trojans' aggressiveness by hitting 26 free throws and claiming a 56-42 triumph here Friday night.

Four Trojans fouled out of the game and another, Brad Lund, was called for four fouls. Bancroft-Rosalie, on the other hand, was whistled for only 19 fouls. But despite the lopsided number, Wakefield head coach Paul Eaton said most of the fouls were called correctly.

"Bancroft just has a bunch of good athletes and they're quick," he said. "I think their quickness and our aggressiveness resulted in the numerous fouls. The refs called a good game."

Wakefield played evenly with the Panthers in the first quarter as both teams battled to an 11-11 tie.

But Bancroft-Rosalie blew past Wakefield in the second frame to open a 28-17 advantage. After Wakefield pulled to within 10, 39-29, at the end of the third stanza, the Panthers poured it on in the final period and outscored the Trojans 17-13 over the final eight minutes, for the 14 point victory.

Eaton said the key to the game was Wakefield's foul trouble.

"We really didn't play too poorly in the first quarter, but after that we had our troubles," he said. "We lost a lot of players to foul trouble and that killed us because we really aren't too deep."

Jason Erb led Wakefield in scoring with 16 points. Wade Nicholson followed with nine markers.

Jason Slaughter, a 6-4 sophomore, led the Panthers with 24 points. Teammate Larry Johnson chipped in 10 points for Bancroft-Rosalie. Friday's contest will probably be Johnson's final game of the season because he has to have his wrist rebroken later this week.

Wakefield hit just 16 of 51 field goals and made 10 of 18 free throws. Bancroft-Rosalie finished 15-for-50 from the floor and shot 44 free throws.

The Panthers claimed a slim 34-30 rebounding advantage. Nicholson and Erb led Wakefield with nine and eight boards, respectively.

The Trojans captured a 34-17 triumph in the junior varsity game. Mike Nelson led Wakefield with 11 points. In addition to Nelson, Eaton also mentioned Scott Lund and Doug Roberts as playing well for the Trojan JV's.

The loss dropped Wakefield to 1-1 on the season. The Trojans' next game is Friday when Wausa travels to town for a boy/girl double-header. The Wakefield girls play at Homer Monday.

Schuyler grapplers pin Wayne

SCHUYLER — Wayne-Carroll's wrestlers dropped a 39-23 decision to Schuyler here Thursday night.

The Blue Devils captured five of the 12 weights, but one decision, two forfeits and four pins cost Wayne the match.

Despite the loss, Blue Devil head coach John Murtaugh said he was pleased with his squad's effort.

"You can never be pleased with a loss, but I was happy with the effort our kids gave," he said. "I think we have the potential to be a very good team and we'll try to improve every meet."

Adam Msrny (105), Corey Frye (119), Mark Janke (132), Jamie Fredrickson (145) and heavyweight Steve Cowgill were winners for Wayne.

Janke, Fredrickson's and Cowgill's efforts drew praise from Murtaugh.

The Blue Devils were forced to forfeit the 185-pound slot. Stuart Rethwick, Wayne's 185-pounder, was on a 4-H trap and missed the dual.

Robbie Gamble and Jason Cole were Blue Devil winners in the junior varsity competition.

Defense, Nicholson lifts Wakefield past Pender

WAKEFIELD — A strong defensive effort and Wade Nicholson's torrid shooting in the first half led Wakefield to a 48-34 victory over Pender here Thursday night.

The Trojans opened a 13-2 lead in the first quarter and owned a commanding 31-10 halftime advantage. Wakefield head coach Paul Eaton said his club's defense was a key to the 21 point first half cushion.

"We really had a good first half and it was our defense that allowed us to take control," he said.

"Another key in the first half, according to Eaton, was Nicholson's impressive shooting.

"Wade hit his first seven shots from the floor and had 14 points at halftime. The team played very well defensively, and he took care of most of the offense for us in the first half," the Trojan mentor said.

Pender improved offensively in the second half and outscored Wakefield 24-17 during the last two periods. But the Trojans' huge halftime lead was too much for the Pender dragons to overcome.

Eaton said the Pender turnaround in the second half was not due to a letdown in Wakefield's defense.

"Pender improved in the second half because they improved offensively. We didn't play any worse on defense, they just got better on offense," he said.

Wakefield finished 20-for-48 from the field for 42 percent and made

8-of-17 free throws. Pender canned 15-of-34 field goals for 44 percent and hit 4-of-10 free throws.

Nicholson finished with a game high 19 points adding a 5-for-10 performance from the line with his seven field goals. Brad Lund followed with eight markers, while Jason Erb and Kevin Greve both tallied seven points.

Jeff Rose did an excellent job of defending Pender's main scoring threat Larry Ballinger, according to Eaton.

"Jeff played a strong defensive game on Ballinger. He (Ballinger) is 6-4 but Jeff held him to nine points," Eaton said. Rose is 6-1.

Pender outrebounded the hosts 44-38. Nicholson and Rose led Wakefield with 13 and 10 boards, respectively.

Pender's junior varsity claimed a slim 30-29 victory over the Trojan JVs. Mike Nelson led Wakefield's JVs in scoring with 12 points.

Twiford's record setting performance keys Laurel

LAUREL — Laurel-Concord used a scoring and rebounding explosion by Gail Twiford and downed Coleridge 40-27 here Thursday night.

Twiford canned 9-of-12 field goals and added a 2-for-6 performance from the free throw line for a game high 20 points. But despite the 20 marker, the 5-11 junior's most impressive performance Thursday was rebounding.

Twiford speared 25 boards on the night to set a new school record. She owned the school's old rebounding record of 19 boards.

"She just had a great game, and I went back over the film and counted her rebounds so it's accurate," Laurel head coach Gale Hamilton said.

Hamilton was also pleased with the Bears' quick start. Laurel opened a 12-6 lead after the first quarter and pulled ahead 20-13 at halftime.

The Bears never let up and went on to outscore Coleridge 20-14 over the final 16 minutes for the 13 point triumph.

"Although he was happy with the triumph, Hamilton said his club looked sloppy at times and added there is plenty of room for improvement.

"We didn't look real sharp. I guess a lot of teams look sloppy this early in the year, but we have a long way to go and we're just going to try and improve every game," he said.

Laurel hit 16-of-47 field goals and made 10-of-27 free throws. Four of the Bears' missed free throws were the result of lane violations.

In addition to Twiford's 25 boards, Laurel grabbed another 21 rebounds for 46 total boards.

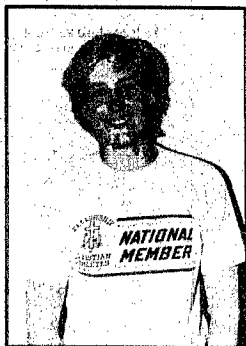

Cinda Avenell led the Chargers with 13 points. Laurel's Penny Dempster followed Twiford with six markers, and Sara Adkins chipped in five points to the Bear triumph.

Hamilton said he was impressed with Coleridge's effort.

"The final score is kind of misleading, they gave us a good game," he said. "I was pleased we kept our composure as well as we did, and I think Coleridge will surprise a lot of teams this year."

Laurel's next game is Tuesday when Winside travels to town. The Bears also play Thursday when they host Allen.

WINSIDE'S DOUG MUNDIL (No. 15) and Kevin Jaeger (No. 35) "hit the brakes" and pivot for a loose ball during the Winside/Allen basketball game Thursday night.

Eagles down Winside 46-38

Strong second quarter boosts Allen

ALLEN — A strong second quarter lifted Allen to a 46-38 victory over Winside here Thursday night.

Winside opened a 10-8 lead in the first stanza, but Allen came storming back and outscored the Wildcats 13-6 in the second frame for a 21-16 advantage at the half.

Allen head coach Dave Uldrich said his squad's improved play in the second quarter was the key to the Eagles' triumph.

"The second quarter was the key to the game. We did a real good job of getting the ball inside for high percentage shots and that quarter was pretty much the difference in the game," he said.

Eleven of Allen's 13 points in the second quarter came from the inside.

Winside head coach Mark Freburg said the difference in the game was home court advantage.

"I thought both teams played evenly and really, the difference in the game was that it was played there," he said.

The last half both teams played fairly even. Both teams totaled 11 markers in the third period and Allen maintained its five point lead, 32-27, heading into the last quarter.

The Eagles outscored the visitors 13-10 over the final eight minutes to claim the 46-38 victory.

Three Eagles combined for 40 of Allen's 46 points. Craig Noe claimed the game's scoring honors with 17 points, while teammates Steve Jones and Max Oswald added 14 and nine points, respectively.

Kevin Jaeger led Winside with 13 markers and Ryan Prince added 12.

Allen's numerous inside shots allowed the Eagles to shoot slightly better than Winside. Allen finished 21-for-54 from the field, while the Wildcats canned 16-of-58 attempts.

Free throw shooting was similar as Allen made 6-of-14 and Winside hit 6-of-11 gifters.

The taller Eagles grabbed 33 rebounds on the night. Jones led Allen with eight boards, while Noe, Oswald and Clarke McGrath each speared six for the Eagles. Winside totaled 26 rebounds. Kevin Jaeger led the Wildcats with 10 caroms.

Although Allen claimed the victory, most of the praise from Uldrich was directed at Winside.

"Winside has really improved. They did a lot of things right and they're going to win some games this year," he said.

Freburg was also pleased with his club's effort.

"The kids have made a lot of progress. They did many of the small things right like making correct adjustments and playing good defense without fouling out," he said. "I don't like to praise a defeat, but the kids are really coming along." Winside was winless in 18 outings last year.

Homer downs Winside 56-32

HOMER — Homer's impressive shooting and quick start allowed the Knights a 56-32 triumph over Winside here Friday night.

Homer opened a 16-6 lead in the first quarter and pulled ahead 28-12 at halftime. Mark Freburg, Winside's head coach, credited most of Homer's quick start to its torrid shooting.

"I don't have what they finished shooting from the field, but they were really hot. They have several very good shooters, lots of depth and good athletes and they're going to have a very good team, especially if they shoot like they did tonight," he said.

The Wildcats' overall play improved in the second half and Winside tallied 10 markers in both the third and fourth quarters. But Homer stacked eight markers on to its 16 point halftime lead for the 24-point triumph.

Freburg said his club needs to play with more intensity the entire game, but added that despite losing, he saw his squad do several nice things.

"We did some good things tonight even though we lost, but one thing we do need to work on is being more intense during the entire game," he said.

The Wildcats were led in scoring by Mike Thies' 12 points. Doug Mundil dished out a team high four assists for Winside.

The Wildcats grabbed 30 rebounds on the night. Thies was also the team's leading rebounder grabbing nine boards.

Winside totaled just 10 turnovers and shot 20 percent from the field hitting 12-of-60 field goals. The Wildcats added an 8-for-14 free throw performance.

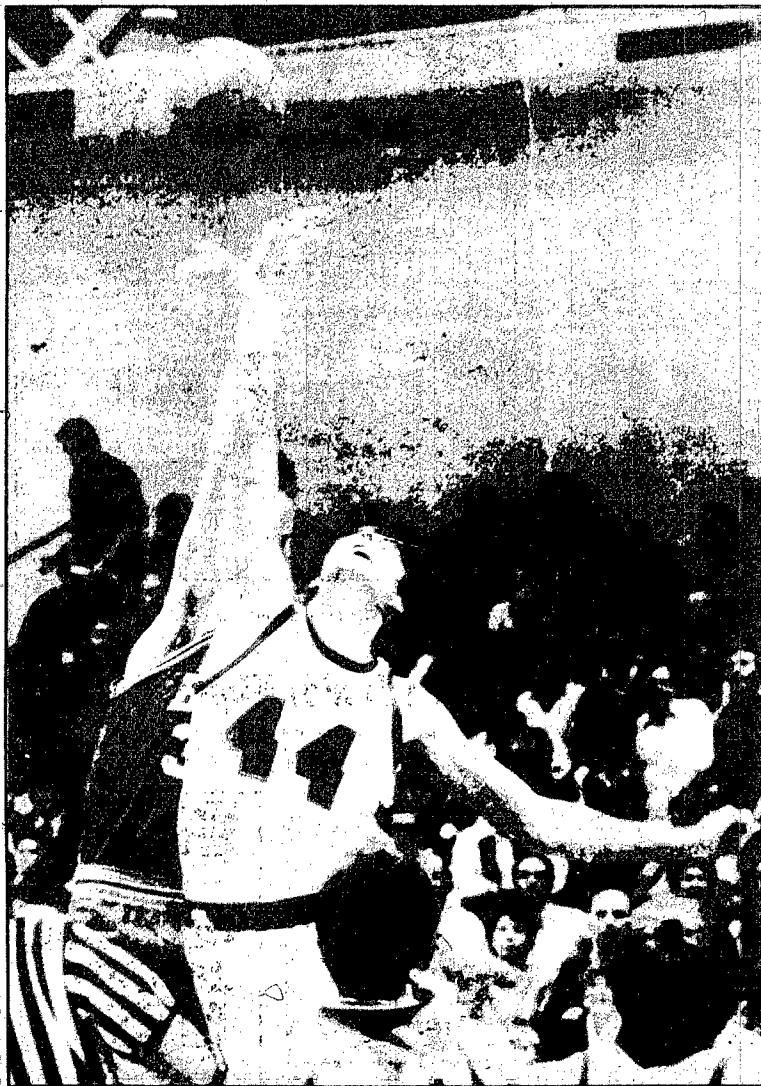

Homer canned 25 shots from the floor and went 6-for-8 from the line.

Freburg concluded that Homer is a fine squad and added that his club is improving with each game it plays.

"We played a good team at their place and Homer played tough defense and you're not going to beat a good team by making 12 of 60 shots," he said. "But we played hard and we're learning more each time we play."

Slow start costs Wildcats

Allen slips past Winside

ALLEN — A clamping defense by Allen's girls and a slow start by Winside allowed the Eagles a 46-36 victory here Thursday night.

Allen's defense limited Winside to just 30 shots on the night and the Wildcats could not rebound from a slow start that saw Allen open a 10-5 first period advantage.

Allen head coach Gary Troth said his club's defense was the main difference in the game.

"We played good defense at times and that was a key to the win," he said. "You can't complain when your team only allows the opposition to take 30 shots."

The Eagles held a slim six point advantage, 19-13, at the half before outscoring Winside 14-9 in the third stanza to open a comfortable 33-22 lead.

"The first and third quarters hurt us. We just didn't do well offensively in those two quarters," Winside head coach Jill Stenwall said.

The Wildcats outscored Allen 14-13 during the final eight minutes for the 10 point triumph.

Both teams struggled from the floor as Allen made 18-of-52 shots for 34 percent and Winside hit 11-of-30 attempts for 37 percent.

"We didn't shoot very well so it's a good thing we played as well as we did on defense," Troth said. "We had a lot of good shots, but it was just one of those nights when nothing drops." Allen finished 10-for-22 from the free throw line for 45 percent, while Winside hit 14-of-25 gitters for 56 percent.

Most of Allen's scoring load fell on the shoulders of Lana Erwin and Tiffany Harder. Erwin led the club 15 with points and Harder chipped in 14.

Lana Prince led Winside with 10 points making 4-of-7 field goals and hitting half of her four free throws. Kay Meierhenry added eight markers for the Wildcats.

Allen totaled 35 rebounds on the night. Harder led the Eagles with eight boards and Denise Magnuson, who scored eight points, added seven rebounds. Winside's leading rebounders were Meierhenry and Tracy Topp who totaled 14 and 12 boards, respectively.

Although he said he was pleased to win, Troth said he thought Winside played well.

"We didn't shoot well and only played well on defense at times and really, I thought Winside played closer to their ability than we did," he said.

Stenwall agreed, to an extent, that her club played well.

"I thought we played fairly well, but we made too many mistakes," Stenwall said. The Wildcats committed 31 turnovers in the game.

The Eagles will put their 1-0 record up against Wynot Saturday night. Winside's next game is Tuesday at Laurel.

Lady Wildcats claim first win

Wayne State splits two games

Wayne State's women's basketball team split a pair of games Wednesday and Thursday nipping Doane 74-72 and losing to Midland Lutheran 70-58.

The victory over Doane, which was played Wednesday night at Rice Auditorium, was the Lady Wildcats' first triumph of the young 1985-86 campaign. And the victory didn't come easily.

Both teams played evenly in the first 10 minutes of the contest before Doane opened a slim 15-13 advantage with 9:12 remaining in the first half.

The Lady Wildcats tied the game at 15 on a beautiful feed from Mary Beth Ehrhorn to Shari Krohn for an easy jumper.

The lead continued to ebb and flow until Deb Nygren converted a three point play at the 6:27 mark to supply the hosts with a 20-19 edge.

The first half was plagued with numerous turnovers, but the Nygren-led Lady Wildcats settled down over the first half's final six minutes and maintained a comfortable lead.

Nygren canned a short jumper at the 4:30 mark to give Wayne State a 24-19 lead. Then, just 1:06 later, the Lady Wildcats led 28-23 as a Linda Schnitzler assist to Krohn.

Schnitzler followed by hitting three free throws within five seconds and Wayne State opened its biggest lead of the game, 34-23, with 1:23 remaining in the first half.

Despite trailing by nine (34-25) at intermission, Doane never quit and came rallying back in the second half. But several key free throws by Michelle Blomberg down the stretch allowed the Lady Wildcats their first victory in five outings.

Schnitzler led Wayne State in scoring with 23 points, while Krohn and Nygren added 14 and 10 markers, respectively. Doane was led in scoring by Rhonda Becker who totaled 25 markers.

The Lady Wildcats have been hindered by poor shooting from both the field and free throw line during most of the season, but Wednesday night Wayne State finished 26-for-65 from the field for 40 percent and made an impressive 76 percent of its free throws going 22-for-28.

Doane finished 26-for-64 from the field for 41 percent and closed with a 20-for-31 (65 percent) performance from the line.

Doane outrebounded the hosts 53-41. Shelle Tomaszkiwicz and Krohn led the Lady Wildcats with nine boards apiece.

Blomberg dished out a team high four assists for the victors.

Thursday night, Wayne State couldn't overcome a 31-23 halftime deficit and dropped a 70-58 decision to Midland Lutheran in Fremont.

Midland added to its eight point halftime lead and opened a seemingly comfortable 15 point advantage with just three minutes remaining in the contest.

But the Lady Wildcats refused to quit and were able to cut Midland's lead to nine late in the game.

However, nine points was all the closer Wayne State could get and Midland hung on for the 12 point triumph.

The Lady Wildcats had a difficult time shooting from the field and made just 25-of-67 field goals for 35 percent. However, Wayne State turned in another impressive night from the line making 8-of-10 gitters for 80 percent.

The key to the game was Midland's scorching performance from the field. The hosts canned 31-of-56 field goals for 55 percent and added an 8-for-15 effort from the free throw line for 53 percent.

Tomaszkiewicz led the Lady Wildcats in scoring and rebounding with 19 points and eight boards. Schnitzler and Ehrhorn added 10 points apiece.

Both teams grabbed 38 rebounds on the night.

Lori Briscoe and Karen Moore led Midland with 17 points apiece.

The loss dropped Wayne State to 1-5 on the season. The Lady Wildcats' next game is Saturday when Northwestern travels to town for a 2 p.m. contest.

Wayne-Carroll's Junior High girls basketball team dropped a pair of losses to Columbus Scotus earlier in the week.

Wayne's "B" team fell 27-8, while the Blue Devil "A" squad lost 21-18. Amy Wriedl and Kari Lutt led Wayne's "B" team with four points apiece. Teresa Ellis was the Blue Devils' leading scorer in the "A" game with 10 points. Heidi Reeg and Jennifer Hammer added six and two points, respectively, for Wayne's

"A" team. The Blue Devils' next game is Monday when they host Schuyler.

Eagles fall 66-37

Blistering hot Coleridge downs Allen

COLERIDGE — When you're hot, you're hot. And in the second half of the Allen/Coleridge game, the Bulldogs were blistering hot and as a result, claimed a 66-37 victory.

"Those guys were making shots from the drinking fountain," Allen head coach Dave Uldrich said. And although the statement is a little exaggerated, it sums up the second half accurately.

Although the final score might indicate Allen was blown out early in the game, the Eagles only trailed 31-21 at intermission and 31-27 early in the third quarter.

"We didn't play all that great in the first half but only trailed by 10. During halftime I told the kids to go out and open the second half with a couple of good shots and we did and got back into the game," Uldrich said.

But Coleridge's offense reached high gear during the contest's final 14 minutes and the Bulldogs went on to outscore Allen 35-10 down the stretch for the lopsided victory.

"The third quarter killed us. We started the second half out great, but then we had a total breakdown and Coleridge really took off," Uldrich said. "It seemed like everytime they touched the ball they scored."

Coleridge took advantage of a slow start by Allen and opened a 13-6 lead heading into the second quarter. But the Eagles played better in the second stanza and were only outscored 18-15 to trail by 10 at intermission.

The Eagles made 13 field goals and canned 11-of-19 free throws. Coleridge nailed 25 field goals and closed with an impressive 16-for-21 performance from the line.

Craig Noe led the Eagles with 12 points and Max Oswald added 10. Coleridge was led by the backcourt duo of Troy Barling and Don Graham who scored 20 and 15 points, respectively.

Coleridge outrebounded Allen 27-26. Noe and Steve Jones led the Eagles with 10 and nine boards, respectively.

Uldrich said he expected Coleridge to have a solid squad this year, but added that he didn't expect the Bulldogs to play so well this early in the season.

"Coleridge has a lot of good athletes, but I didn't think they'd be that good because they've only been practicing for four days because they played in the state football championship game," he said.

Allen is now 1-1 on the season. The Eagles play again Friday when Portia travels to town and Saturday at Harlington.

mainstay during the second half. The 6-5 senior totaled 11 markers over the final two periods and finished with the game high 16 points. Pick was the only other Blue Devil to crack the double digit barrier and finished with 12 points.

Brian Green and Dan Sellon led Blair with 12 and 10 points, respectively.

Statistically, both teams played evenly. Both squads shot 43 percent from the field and Wayne only outrebounded the Bears 49-45. However, the difference in the game was free throw shooting as the Blue Devils made 22-of-35 gitters and Blair hit just 6-of-9.

The game was, for the most part, well played as Wayne committed 12 mistakes and Blair totaled seven miscues.

Ucing said that although he was pleased with his club's overall play, he added that there is plenty of room for improvement.

"I was really pleased with our overall play because the kids played hard and aggressively and did a good job on the boards," he said. "But there are still lots of areas we need to improve on."

Wayne's next game is Saturday against traditionally tough Sioux City North. The game will be played on the Stars' home court.

cent, respectively. Madison made 43 percent of its field goals and 45 percent of its free throws.

One area the Blue Devils did well in was rebounding. Wayne controlled the boards and out rebounded the Lady Dragons 34-22. Corbit and Pick led the way with 11 and 10 caroms, respectively.

The Blue Devils don't play again until Thursday when they play Norfolk's junior varsity at Norfolk. The Dec. 12 game is one of five contests within seven days for Wayne.

"These next few days will be very important because we have to get ready for five games within a week," Uhing said.

Wayne's junior varsity tallied eight points in the final four minutes of the game to claim a 28-20 victory over Madison's JV's.

Norfolk Catholic downs Bears 44-24

Lacking offense costs Laurel's boys

LAUREL — Laurel-Concord's boys came out on the short end of a defensive battle with Norfolk Catholic and dropped a 44-24 decision to the Knights here Friday night.

Although the final score might indicate a blow out, the game was fairly close. But an offensive surge by Norfolk Catholic early in the third quarter led to the Knights' triumph.

Trailing 22-12 at halftime, Laurel turned the ball over its first five possession of the second half and Norfolk Catholic capitalized by scoring eight unanswered points.

The Knights' four buckets allowed them a 30-12 advantage and they never looked back. Norfolk Catholic went on to outscore Laurel 14-5 in the third stanza and 8-7 in the final frame for the 20 point triumph. Mark Hrabik, Laurel's head coach, said he was disappointed in his club's offensive production, but added that he was pleased with the Bears' defensive effort.

"I was disappointed in our output offensively, but we did a good job on defense," he said.

The Laurel mentor said he suspected more offensive production from Norfolk Catholic because of the Knights' experience.

"Norfolk returns four starters and seven lettermen from last year. I started three sophomores, one junior and one senior who didn't play last year," he said. "Norfolk does a good job of running and has a lot of seniors so I thought we played well defensively."

The Bears made only 8-of-24 field goals and finished 8-for-14 from the free throw line. Norfolk Catholic hit 21-of-40 fielders and finished 2-for-6 from the free throw line.

Laurel was outrebounded 18-16. Brent Haisch led the Bears with 12 boards.

Scott Marquardt led Laurel in scoring with 13 points, including a 7-for-7 performance from the free throw line. Steve Denn and Dana Pospisil led Norfolk Catholic with 16 and 10 points, respectively.

Laurel's next game is Friday when Winside travels to town.

Wayne State outscored 41-16

Poor second half costs Wildcats

The Wayne State men's basketball team saw a six point halftime lead evaporate and dropped a 49-50 decision to Missouri Western Thursday night.

Wayne State led 34-28 at intermission but was outscored 41-16 in the game's final 20 minutes.

A major key to the two halves was shooting. In the first half, Wayne State shot 48 percent from the field, while Missouri Western hit just 38 percent of its field goals. However, the Wildcats shot only 29 percent in the second half and Missouri Western canned 48 percent of its field goals in the final 20 minutes.

Missouri Western also outrebounded the visitors 42-37 and the Wildcats were guilty of 20 turnovers compared to Missouri Western's 13 mistakes.

Russ Rosenquist and Mike McNamara tied for Wayne State's scoring honors with 14 points apiece. Missouri Western's Arthur Cooks claimed the game's scoring honors with 22 points.

Arnie Hayes dished out a team high six assists for the Wildcats.

On the night, Wayne State finished 24 for 59 from the field for 40 percent and made 2 of 7 free throws for 28 percent.

Missouri Western canned 28-of-65 field goals for 43 percent and hit 86 percent of its free throws going

13-for-15. The loss drops Wayne State to 2-5 on the season. The Wildcats play again Monday and Wednesday when they host Midland and Northwestern, respectively.

Winside's consecutive dual streak snapped by Osmond

WINSIDE — Winside's consecutive dual win streak of 11 straight matches was snapped here Thursday night when Osmond nipped the Wildcats 33-30.

The 11 game win streak initiated two seasons ago. Winside was 6-0 last year in dual meets.

The Wildcats led with just three weights remaining. Both teams were open at 167 pounds, but Winside was forced to forfeit the 165-pound and heavyweight slots.

After forfeiting the 98-pound weight, Mace Kant started Winside off in the right direction by claiming a forfeit at 105 pounds.

Doug Paulsen followed by pinning Jeff Gerdes in one minute to supply the Wildcats with a 12-6 advantage.

Winside dropped the 119 and 126-pound divisions, but Chris Olson pinned Aaron Arens at 132 pounds.

Darin Schellenberg won the 138-pound weight class by forfeit and Rod Dierichsen pinned Tim Weber in 1:30 at 145 pounds.

Osmond captured the 155-pound class before Winside forfeited the last three weights.

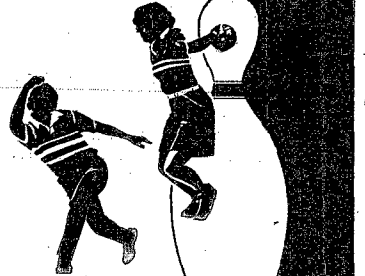

Wildcat head coach Paul Sok said he was pleased with his club's conditioning, but added that several grapplers need to improve their technique.

"I thought we were in pretty good condition, but our technique lacked in a couple of matches," he said. "We need to work on our technique in a few selected instances and hopefully we'll get everything ironed out before Saturday's Randolph Invitational."

Getting dolled up for the holidays

by Chuck Hackenmiller

A little girl with only remote visions of getting a doll this Christmas may have her distant dream become a cheerful reality, thanks in part to the effort of Mrs. Carl (Leona) Allvin and the Goldenrod Hills Toys for Tots program.

Allvin, who has lived in the Wayne area for nearly 30 years, has repaired toy dolls that have no hair or clothes and made them look brand new. She washes them, makes clothes for them and then will take the dolls to Virgene Dunklau of Wayne, who is a Wayne area outreach worker for Goldenrod Hills.

Last Christmas, Allvin repaired and spruced up 28 dolls. Prior to last Christmas, she spent some of her spare time making doll clothes.

Allvin read about Goldenrod Hills and its Toys for Tots program and offered her services to repair the dolls.

"I wanted to do something like this, but I did not do it for the publicity," she emphasized.

"She became so involved in the Goldenrod program that she made resemblances of last year's most popular bear and doll gifts, then gave the gifts to a little girl living in South Sioux City that faced the task of taking care of an elderly gentleman who was dying of cancer.

To this day she has no idea on who the girl was that received her gift. "But I don't care, because I have the satisfaction of giving the gifts to her."

TOY DOLLS BROUGHT to the Toys for Tots collection sites this year are of better quality this year than last year. This Christmas she did not have to make as many new clothes for the dolls. "This year a gal gave a doll and with it a lot of assorted clothing," she said.

But she still has to re-wig the dolls, curl or braid the hair, fit the doll properly with the right clothes, and still become involved in setting and crocheting clothing and other accessories.

"If the hair on the doll is too ratty, the hair is completely removed and re-wigged," she said.

Pieces from other dolls are used to repair broken arms, legs and other areas. "We never throw away anything usable. What we can't use, we take to the Goodwill Store in Sioux City," said Dunklau.

This Christmas, Allvin anticipates contributing somewhere between 20 to 30 dolls this Christmas, despite a schedule that is demanding more and more of her time. She is currently attending NTCC in Norfolk, studying to become a practical nurse.

BUT THE TALENT of Allvin and others who contribute to the Toys for Tots program is valuable and desperately needed, according to Dunklau.

Last year, 800 children were served through the Goldenrod Hills-affiliated holiday program. The amount of requested assistance of Christmas this year has more than doubled in proportion. "There are close to 2,000 requests for toys this year. And right now we don't know how we will be getting the orders filled," Dunklau noted.

Anyone wishing to donate to the Toys for Tots program should contact Dunklau, Kim Chapman of Carroll or other outreach workers. They are accepting either new toys or used toys for children that are for children 12 years and younger.

Those which cannot be repaired for this year will be held over and given away next Christmas.

In conjunction with this toy drive, canned goods are also being collected for the elderly household food basket Christmas delivery.

Major corporations and businesses have provided toys over the past years to community action stations in Nebraska. Gift donations for the toys have also come from the public school sector.

AS FOR now, used or new toy drop-off places closest to this area include Wisner (Murphy Law Offices) and at West Point (Sunshine Senior Citizen Center and Schmidt Monument).

A Wayne toy collection point would be welcomed by Dunklau for future Christmases. Those interested can call Dunklau of Wayne at 375-1808.

Getting involved with the Toys for Tots program is rewarding. Just ask Leona Allvin.

"I like the idea of helping the less fortunate," she said.

"Just because they do not have any money doesn't mean that their children do not deserve a Christmas."
