Petitions filed on two nurse contracts

By LaVon Anderson

Members of the board of directors of Educational Service Unit One once again find themselves in the midst of a legal controversy following notice that ESU 1 nurses Bonnie Storm and Pauline Kirsch of South Sioux City have filed petitions in Dixon County District Court.

The petitions challenge the board's jurisdiction over their contracts for 1985-86.

Named as defendants in both of the petitions are Educational Service Unit One, board members Deryl Lawrence, Marvin Borg, Claire Hansen, Robert Jacobs, Ervin DeBoer, John Post, Kenneth Lahrs, Paul Steffen, Randall Shaw and Leo Kramper, and ESU 1 Assistant Administrator Rodney Garwood.

"ESSENTIALLY THIS is the very same thing as before," said John Gerrard, an attorney with Dominik and Gerrard of Norfolk representing Educational Service Unit One. "We'll be using the same defenses."

Gerrard, who was present at the ESU 1 board of directors' monthly meeting Tuesday night in Wakefield, was referring to the fact that in July 1985 Storm and Kirsch filed similar petitions in district court.

The petitions, which were later dismissed without prejudice at the plaintiffs' costs, stemmed from action taken in April 1985 when board members approved a motion to offer amended contracts to all ESU 1 nurses for the 1985-86 school year with an approximate 10 percent reduction in services from 1984-85. In the petitions filed this month, both Storm and Kirsch charge that the ESU lacked legal authority or jurisdiction to modify, amend, or reduce the total number of service days by reason of reduction in force or otherwise because they (the nurses) were not given sufficient and proper notice.

BOARD MEMBERS met at length in executive session Tuesday night to discuss the action taken by Storm and Kirsch and legal implications of the nursing program.

While meeting in open session, board members voted unanimously to authorize the ESU 1 administration to conduct a study to ascertain the feasibility of continuing the nursing program.

Assistant Administrator Rodney Garwood did report to board members Tuesday night results of a survey asking schools in the six-county area served by ESU 1 to rank in importance services funded by the general mill levy.

Garwood said the 15 schools who responded to the survey as of Jan. 8 ranked media and nursing services as the top two programs.

IN OTHER ACTION Tuesday night, board members cast a unanimous ballot for Jim Martindale of Creighton to replace Bob Jacobs as a member of the ESU 1 board of directors.

Proposed alley assessments argued

by Chuck Hackenmiller

Exactly what several property owners along an alley improvement in Wayne should be assessed was tossed around Tuesday evening by the Wayne City Council and the end result was a tabling of the matter until the next regular meeting.

The alley in question is located between Main and Logan Streets and 7th and 8th Streets in Wayne. After a public hearing, the city council voted on two motions concerning how much should be assessed to property owners for the paving of the alley.

Neither of the motions passed by majority.

Total cost of the alley paving project was $5,260. Nine property owners along the alley were being assessed for the paving work (to be paid during a 15-year period) — the amounts varying because of the footage involved and the fact that a section of the alley had already been paved.

The assessed amounts on the proposed schedule varied from $988.88 total for one property owner to $394.50 for another.

Dale Brockman of Wayne contested his assessment and also said that Northwestern Bell owns property along the alley and should also have been assessed for the project.

However, City Attorney Kem Swarts said, that after a title search, the records show that Northwestern Bell does not own any property along the alley.

"There is no deed of it registered," Swarts said.

Another resident, Frank Mrsny, said the council should consider that the city will have less maintenance with the alley and the city council should consider this when establishing the assessment schedule.

Dean Schram also spoke at the public hearing, saying he had thought, when signing the petition, that the city would be paying half of the cost for the cement.

City Administrator Phil Kloster told the city council that the city of Wayne did pay for some of the materials in the paving project of the alley near Hardee's — about 20 percent of the cost there.

COUNCILMAN Randy Pedersen said, however, that the petition for the paving of the alley in question (between Main and Logan, 7th and 8th Streets) was signed by people "who agreed to pay for the cost of the paving originally."

Pedersen said the city should not be setting a precedent in contributing "20 percent to every alley we get involved in."

"The petition has been signed," he said.

However, Councilman Darrel Heier mentioned that the city's participating in paying 20 percent might be an incentive toward obtaining other petitions to pave other

Building permits, construction value rise in 1985

by Chuck Hackenmiller

Building permits and the value of the construction projects during 1985 had increased over 1984 in the city of Wayne.

According to statistics from the city planning and zoning commission office, there were 40 building permits that were issued in 1985. In 1984, there were 30 building permits filed. The number of building permits which were filed in 1983 equaled 47.

The total value of construction in 1985, as tabulated from the building permits, equaled $4,654,401. In 1984, the value of construction reached $1,202,417.

In 1985, six of the total building permits authorized were designated for single family homes plus a 12-plex apartment unit. Single family home building permits were greater in 1984 with 10 issued, plus a duplex.

OTHER ITEMS which account for the remaining building permits include commercial or home additions, remodeling projects and a large number of garages.

Timple, Inc. recorded the largest dollar value of all 1985 building permits, with the value of construction tabulated at $3.7 million. The value of construction for the apartment complex was set at $325,000 while Hardee's construction value was set at $170,000.

The highest value of a single house construction project requiring a building permit was $79,500.

Most recent highs experienced in the number of building permits authorized and for single family homes came for both in 1980. There were 81 permits issued and 32 of those were designated to single family homes.

Drivers ed school funding is popular issue

by Chuck Hackenmiller

An inevitable situation concerning the lack of state funding for drivers education has the Wayne-Carroll school board members searching for ways to finance the high school program.

Don Zeiss, principal at Wayne Carroll High School, presented to the board on Tuesday afternoon several figures pertaining to how 10 area schools are coping with the loss of state funding for drivers education.

Fees paid by the student for participating in the drivers education program, as stated in the survey of schools, range from none at Tekamah-Herman to up to $140 in South Sioux City.

Several of these schools have mentioned possibly increasing fees to counter the state funding shortfall.

Approximately $1.2 million of state funding for drivers education has been eliminated, leaving the school districts with the options of collecting local tax money or charging parents for the program. Another alternative would be to drop the program altogether.

Wayne-Carroll conducts driver education classes during the school year — reserved specifically for rural students — and in the summer months. An average of 60 students take the program in the summer while in the school year, Zeiss said the student numbers "seldom reach more than 24."

Currently, 11 are enrolled this school year.

THERE IS NO fee for those taking the course during the school year. Students participating in drivers education during the summer months had been required to pay $25.

Zeiss pointed out that Blair, Nebraska's driver education program is sponsored by an Education Service Unit. Instructors, he said, are hired from within the school district. The fee per student is $75 and includes 15 hours of classroom instruction, 12 hours of drivers education "simulation" and three hours of actual behind the wheel experience.

Previous requirements were 30 class hours and six hours behind the wheel. But those hours are no longer the standard; since the state no longer provides funding for the drivers education program.

Board member Becky Keidel said there is a lot to be gained in the attitude of the student driver also, not only behind the wheel. She made reference to information which should be passed along to drivers education students on hazards of driving drunk and other areas of motor vehicle safety.

THE NEBRASKA Department of Education, ESU No. 3 and the Nebraska Safety Center have been developing a "competency based" drivers education program which has the potential of cutting drivers education costs up to 50 percent while also maintaining a high standard of education.

How the insurance companies will react to this type of program is still uncertain. Students who have taken drivers education will normally find a 10 percent up to 25 percent discount in premium costs for insuring their

Frustration outlet

The following is a news release from the Nebraska Farmers Union.

Farmers and other troubled members of the rural community must resist the temptation to either turn inward or to express their feelings through violence, and instead utilize existing support groups. Farm organizations, civic groups, and church organizations are active in every community to provide a healthy outlet for feelings of frustration and despair and to provide positive activity for improving the future.

"There is a great need for farmers to alleviate some of the great strain that is placed on them because of the crisis and economic situation. We feel the best way to work out that stress is by working together with others in the community," Nebraska Farmers Union President Larry Hall said.

"Whether it's becoming more active in your church, with a farm organization, or with community activities, there is a real need and a real benefit from working together in a spirit of cooperation and neighborliness, which in turn benefits everybody."

The recent suicides and violence that rocked the Midwest recently can not be expected to abate as long as the rural crisis continues. We must be alerted to recognize the symptoms, including those of the more quiet forms of family violence.

"I strongly urge farmers to join and be active in the organization of their choice, particularly the farm organization of their choice, because it will be dealing with their particular areas of concern, their problems as well as positive direction for the future," the family farm leader said.

In addition, he said NeFU will work with other organizations and groups to more actively seek farmer participation and involvement as an outlet for frustration and other feelings.

On legislative proposals

A small business worry

Nebraska's small-business owners, struggling to remain profitable in a depressed state economy, are viewing the coming legislative session warily, according to a spokesman for the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB).

"We're approaching the '86 session with low expectations and high anxiety," said NFIB/Nebraska Director of Governmental Relations Robert Hallstrom. "We won't be looking for help so much as mercy, in the form of not hiking taxes or pushing through other legislation that will raise the cost of doing business."

Hallstrom said his group's nearly 6,500 members worry most about proposals that would increase unemployment and worker's compensation costs by tying the benefits paid under both programs to the state's average weekly wage. Currently, the legislature sets maximum and minimum benefit amounts by direct vote.

Allowing program benefit levels to "float" according to an automatic formula that has been suggested as a way of raising payment levels without having to go through the legislature. But Hallstrom labeled the proposal as "noble in purpose, ruinous in practice," saying that lawmakers should remain directly responsible — and accountable — for approving any rate increase.

"Most small businesses are labor-intensive. Raising these or other payroll taxes increases the cost of keeping workers on the payroll. Many small-business owners would have to put current hiring plans on the back burner, and others might have to start laying off. Either way, it would aggravate our unemployment problem rather than alleviate it," Hallstrom said.

HE CITED a recent NFIB/Nebraska survey that found 75 percent of the group's membership firmly opposed to tying unemployment benefits to the state's average weekly wage. Nearly as many (72 percent) opposed putting the workers' compensation program on the same basis.

The survey, conducted in November, also indicated that leaving the two programs "as is" may be the most cost-effective way to encourage employment growth.

When asked to identify which of six proposals would provide the greatest hiring incentive for 1986, more small-business owners cited "no increase in unemployment compensation costs" (19 percent) and "no increase in workers' compensation costs" (17 percent) than selected two tax credit proposals: one for hiring new workers (14 percent) and the other for training new workers (9 percent).

"Small-business has fueled a phenomenal growth in employment elsewhere in the country. It can do the same for Nebraska if the legislature can refrain from hiking payroll costs and killing business owners' incentive to hire," Hallstrom said.

requirement does not mean that you must necessarily resolve the problem within that time period. Rather, it simply requires that you contact your local FmHA office.

If you fail to respond within 30 days, FmHA will proceed to collect the account. Failure to respond within 30 days will also forfeit any appeal rights you may have.

Included in the mailing will be complete description of the seven servicing alternatives and a reply form in which you can indicate the servicing action that you want to be considered. The current FmHA regulations spell out various servicing alternatives — short of foreclosure — which may be considered to bring the loans current.

They include: 1) deferral of payments for five years; 2) low interest limited resource loans; 3) consolidations; 4) rescheduling existing loans; 5) reamortization; 6) substitution of an FmHA loan to another lender; and 7) restructuring by selling a portion of assets. Only after it is shown that none of the alternatives will succeed will the FmHA consider foreclosure proceedings.

When your response is received, an appointment will be set up to review your financial condition. If one of the servicing options is approved, the notice to take adverse action is terminated. If you have responded and met with your county supervisor, and a favorable decision cannot be reached, then you may appeal the adverse decision. During the appeals process, FmHA will honor agreements concerning the release of funds from the sale of securities.

The Agricultural Financial Crisis Affects Each of Us

Anyone involved in agriculture is acutely aware of the high level of stress and human suffering that is occurring today, and all of us know friends, neighbors and family who are personally experiencing severe financial stress during these extremely difficult times.

When I was informed of the FmHA notices, my first concern was that these letters not contribute to the level of stress or anxiety, or prompt hostility against someone. If you receive one of the notices, I want you to keep several thoughts in mind.

• One, you are not alone. Thousands of other farmers in Nebraska and around the country are experiencing the same frustration and financial problems as you. Don't be down on yourself, and don't think that you're the only one who feels the way you do. If things seem hopeless, remember that you have family and friends whom you can turn to for strength, support or encouragement.

• Two, don't react hostilely or irrationally. Nothing is ever accomplished in anger or through violence. If your goal is to keep your home and stay in farming then, now more than ever, you must call upon your knowledge of farming, your management skills and your inner strength to persevere.

• Three, maintain your contacts and working relationships with your lender. Regardless of whether you borrow from the FmHA, the Farm Credit System or a commercial bank, keep in mind that both you and your lender are in this together. Both of you share the same problems, worries and difficult decisions. Only by working together can difficult decisions be made regarding the financing of your farming operation.

• As a Member of Congress, I personally share each of your feelings and understand your financial problems. The problems experienced by my own family and friends are in many ways similar to your own. In Congress, we made progress during the past year, but there is always more that can be done. I can assure you that in Washington your concerns are being heard and that we will be working with you to help put agriculture back on a sound economic and financial footing.

Ag Authority board sought

by Melvin Paul
 Governor Bob Kerrey hopes to stabilize Nebraska's farm and ranch land prices through a Nebraska Agriculture Authority.

It's not a give-away program; it's not a subsidy, according to Kerrey. And it will use no state tax money.

The Authority has three primary goals: to increase the number of Nebraska farm units by buying land now held by the Farmers Home Administration and financial institutions because of foreclosure and selling it to Nebraska farmers; to stabilize land prices and to help farmers become self sufficient without a government bail out.

The quasi-government body, proposed by Kerrey at the beginning of the 1986 Legislative session, would raise money through bonds — no more than $100 million. It would use the money to buy land from the FmHA and commercial banks or to purchase mortgages from banks and savings and loan associations.

The authority, governed by a nine-member board appointed by the Governor, would then either sell or rent the land to family farm units in the state. All transactions would have to be sound investments that would repay the debts of the Authority, Kerrey explained.

Though not geared to help individual displaced farmers, the program should provide economic benefits for the agriculture in general, according to Kerrey.

THE AUTHORITY'S role in putting land back into production would hopefully increase the number of family farm units. And its purchase of land should help stabilize land prices. Putting displaced farm land in this holding company is 90 percent psychological, said Donald Nelson, Kerrey's chief aide. "We're not waiting for a fire sale."

The Agriculture Authority is the end result of Kerrey's flirtation with a state bank and his attempt to find some way to buy the almost 30,000 acres of Nebraska farm land held by the FmHA. "It's a very timid first step," Kerrey said.

The governor said he backed away from a full blown state bank because he feared potential abuse. "I believe this Authority can be a great benefit, but as a citizen and as a governor I'm concerned about the potential for abuse. I want to make sure that when the door is cracked it is cracked very slightly."

The Authority money would be targeted for production and processing ventures only, so it could not be used for other businesses like retail sales, Kerrey explained. "Hopefully we are narrowing it so the opportunities for abuse are minimal," he said.

While the Authority's goal is to help agriculture in general, Kerrey is also supporting a measure aimed at providing some relief to individual farmers. The measure, called the Farmsstead Act and sponsored by Senator Rod Johnson of Sutton, would allow farmers to keep their farm home and some surrounding land during a foreclosure procedure.

The Authority and the Farmsstead Act are part of Kerrey's 1986 package of proposals which include an $841 million budget. This last proposal, a 3.7 percent increase over current year appropriations, gives state workers a 3 percent raise. And it would require no tax rate hikes. The money would come through the current 2.5 percent sales tax rate and a 19 percent income tax rate.

HOT-LINE in operation

If you have questions concerning legislative issues, the Legislature will continue its operation of the "HOT-LINE" which gives citizens of Nebraska the opportunity to call a toll-free number, 800-742-7456, Monday through Friday, for an update on any piece of legislation until the end of the session.

The Nebraska State-Ombudsman's office also has a toll-free number, 800-742-7690, which may be used for voicing complaints concerning state government. Office hours for both toll-free numbers, five days a week, are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

A 30 minute recap of legislative issues and events will be televised twice weekly over NETV, Channel 12, from 10:30 to 11 p.m. on Wednesday and from 8:30 to 9 p.m. on Friday.

Gavel to gavel floor coverage will be viewable over Educable, Channel 20 from Omaha and Channel 32 from Lincoln.

In the 89th Legislature

Opening days bring lot of bills

The regular session of the Legislature started this past week in Lincoln. Since the Legislature met during all, or at least part of, nine different months last year, it is hard to believe if it is time to reconvene once again. Senators have hardly been able to get away from Lincoln long enough to get our "real" lives in order and prepare for another regular session.

Again this year, through this weekly column, I hope to be able to better serve the people of this district by informing you of the activities in the Legislature as they effect the State and more specifically northeast Nebraska. I also view this as an opportunity to share with you the process as well as the outcomes. Hopefully it will make it easier to interact with your government.

We are currently in the 89th Legislature, Second Session. Each Legislature lasts two years with the first session consisting of 90 official days and the second session limited to 60 working days. Last year during the long session there were 728 bills introduced, of those 332 bills are still pending, waiting for action this year.

Since the numbering system continues over the two-year period, bills introduced this year begin with the number 729. Senators must introduce bills during the first ten days of the session, so it will be another week before we know the extent of the bill introductions. Since next year starts a new Legislature, all bills introduced either last year or this year will have been passed into law or will automatically die at the end of the session this spring.

AFTER THE first three days, 206 new bills have been introduced. Senators introduced 158 bills with the balance offered by the Governor or the Executive Board presenting what is known as Revisor's bills (minor changes to existing statutes). At this rate, one might expect in the area of 500 bills being introduced.

Besides bill introduction, the first week included the adoption of the rules and the Governors State of the

On alert

I have just finished reading the article on Beef Nebraska, Inc., in the Jan. 4, 1986 edition of the "Nebraska Farmer". I am disturbed by the fact that Omaha National Bank would be involved in a scheme to delay payment to livestock producers, when they claim to be the "farmers' friend" in their efforts to remove "Initiative 300" from the constitution.

People should be alert to the "wolf in sheep's clothing." (Omaha National Bank), that would have us lose control of our land. Remember also the Omaha World-Herald, which also advocates the repeal of "300" has some of the same people on the board of directors as the Omaha National Bank and the Peter Kiewit Foundation. The editorials in the World Herald that have been and will be printed during past and upcoming legislative sessions concerning "300" should be considered accordingly.

State budget message. The Governor's message was quite upbeat. He proposed a budget that is ambitious in its initiatives without being fiscally outlandish. The gubernatorial budget included no tax increase, putting the state income tax rate back to 19 percent of federal and the sales tax rate at 3.5 percent.

He proposed a spending level of 3.7 percent greater than the reduced budget approved in the most recent special session. The Governor's budget is based on predictions of an improved economy as forecasted by Nebraska's Economic Forecasting Board.

One way to keep track of hearings and other business in the Legislature is through a publication called the "Unicameral Update". This is a brief publication that comes out every week during the session. It reviews the top developments of the past week and contains valuable information. Subscriptions are free, and if you will contact my office in Lincoln, I'll see that you are receiving it. Most of those who took advantage of this publication last year felt it was quite valuable.

Please contact me with your concerns and ideas by writing or calling: Senator Gerald Conway, State Capitol, Lincoln, Ne., 68509, (402) 471-2216.

"Super Bowl Shuffle" a sure hit

There are different reasons why people subscribe to MTV, the music station: Some simply like to watch their favorite singers perform their songs, while others get a kick out of watching freaks try to tell America's adolescents to do drugs and kill their parents. Hopefully, nobody takes them serious.

Yet another reason why people enjoy watching MTV is you get to see and hear songs before they become popular. For example, the first time I heard Eddie Murphy's "Party All The Time" was clear back in late November. And just like everybody else, I knew it would be a big hit.

Well, Saturday night just before I went to sleep, I flipped on MTV. And low-and-behold, right there on the screen before my very eyes were the Chicago Bears moving and grooving to a tune called the "Super Bowl Shuffle."

Many of Chicago's players are known for their free-spirited attitudes. Jim McMahon, William "The Refrigerator" Perry and Richard Dent are just a few players on the Bear squad that are known to be a little off the wall. And this song reinforces that belief.

In case you haven't seen or heard it yet, the song is a "rap tune" that features solo performances throughout its course. In addition to the three nuts listed above, Steve Fuller, Walter Payton and several others offer little phrases while their teammates harmonize and live in the background.

And you know, it really is a pretty good song. It's cleverly written, and as they say on American Bandstand, "It has a nice beat and it's easy to dance to." But the most important quality the song has, I think, is its timeliness.

Chicagoans are going crazy over the Bears, but more impressively, football fans all across America have been rooting for the Soldier Field natives the past few weeks.

Two years ago, everybody was a Chicago Cub fan. And that same kind of following surrounds the Bears in 1986.

Everybody I talk to is pulling for the Bears in the Super Bowl. Everybody wants the crazies to win it all. And perhaps more importantly than that, the Bears are winners, and everybody likes a winner.

There have been songs associated with sports and sports personalities in the past, and even today the All-Star Wrestlers have a song out called "Land of a Thousand Dances."

None of those songs ever became a hit, however. But because of its beat, cleverness and timeliness, the "Super Bowl Shuffle" can't miss.

The Bears are currently a 10 point favorite in the Super Bowl, as they should be. A team that enters the final game of the season with only one loss and has shut out its two playoff opponents has to be favored by at least double figures.

But I wouldn't be surprised to see New England give the Bears a better game than that. Remember, this is a team that has won 12 of its last 14 games and won all three playoff games on the road, including impressive victories at Los Angeles and Miami.

The 1985-86 season will be remembered as the "Year of the Bears," and I think Chicago will win it all. But whether they capture the Super Bowl with ease is another question.

Winside's Kant and Paulsen guide Wildcats to fourth place finish

WINSIDE — Winside's Mace Kant and Doug Paulsen both claimed individual championships and Chris Olson placed third as the Wildcats tallied 85 points and placed fourth at their own invitational here Saturday.

Hooper Logan View won the meet with 157 points, while Randolph and Oakland-Craig placed second and third, respectively.

Kant breezed through the first two rounds by pinning both opponents, and the 105-pounder built a 9-0 advantage in the championship against Stanton's Gene Daniels.

Daniels pinned Kant last year at the Winside Invitational and beat him 14-2 in a dual later in the 1984-85 season, and the Mustang grappler came storming back Saturday and pulled within one, 9-8.

Kant was in serious trouble in the third period as Daniels had the Wildcat grappler on his back. But Kant hung on for the victory and the championship.

Kant's ability to avoid a pin drew praise from his head coach Paul Sok.

"Mace built the big lead, but then he got caught and I thought it was curtains," Sok said. "It took a lot of drive and guts on Mace's part to avoid being pinned."

Paulsen totally dominated the 112-pound weight class for Winside by pinning all three of his opponents. Paulsen stuck Jeff Pack of Hooper Logan-View in 41 seconds in the title match and just missed the award for totaling the quickest victories of the tourney. Chris Stamp of Clearwater won the award for most falls in the least amount of time.

Olson was seeded No. 1 at the tourney, but the 132-pounder was upset in the first round, 4-3.

After the tournament was over, Olson said he wasn't feeling well when he wrestled his opening round opponent.

"I was a little under the weather," he said. "I just wasn't feeling that good and he got me."

1. Logan Hooper View	157

7. Batlle Creek	72
8. Diamond	62

Sok said Olson should have taken care of his opening round opponent in the first or second period, but added that he was pleased with Olson's efforts after the opening round loss.

"Chris let things get a little out of hand in his first match," he said. "It shouldn't have even gone three periods, but it did and that's the way it goes. But Chris is a good wrestler and is 14-2 on the year, and after losing, he wrestled the way he's capable of wrestling the rest of the tourney."

Although he did not place, Randy Leapey finished 3-2 at the meet. Sok said the 155-pounder was very tired at the conclusion of the invite.

"Randy had several tough matches, and I don't care what kind of shape you're in, if you wrestle five matches in one day you're going to get tired," he said.

Sok said most of his wrestlers have the same problem, a lack of strength, and added that they'll have to correct that problem on their own time.

"Right now, most of the kids' main problem is they are lacking strength," he said. "The kids have to get stronger and you do that by lifting weights, but we can't take an hour out of practice time to lift weights because we have to work on technique, too.

"Most of the kids have weights at home and they're going to have to lift on their own time. You have to want to be good in order to make those kind of sacrifices, and kids in the past have made those sacrifices and these kids are looking at a lot of tradition and I think they'll make that sacrifice, too."

Sok added that he was happy to finish in the top four.

"Going into the meet, I was hoping that we'd at least place fourth, and that's where we finished, he said. "Winside competes again Thursday at Stanton in a double dual against the Mustangs and Howells."

Blue Devils begin rugged road swing on sour note

SCHUYLER — Wayne's boys dropped the first game of a tough three game road trip by losing a heart-breaking 40-38 decision to Schuyler here Tuesday night.

The difference in the game was shooting. While the Blue Devils were making just a third of their shots (12-for-34), the Warriors were hitting half of theirs (17-for-34).

Bob Uhing, Wayne's head coach, said his club showed good patience on offense and took good shots, but they simply wouldn't fall.

"It was just one of those nights when nothing would drop," he said. "We had 14 offensive rebounds and took a lot of inside shots, but we couldn't hit."

A late Blue Devil rally resulted in an exciting finish. Wayne trailed by seven midway through the fourth quarter but gradually whittled away at the Warrior lead and cut it to two, 40-38, with 10 seconds remaining.

The Blue Devils had an opportunity to tie the game and force an overtime, but as was the case most of the night, Wayne couldn't find the range as the Blue Devils missed their three final shots of the contest and lost.

Uhing said his club played hard and intelligently and added that he was pleased with their overall effort.

"We lost, but I wasn't disappointed with our effort," he said. "The kids played hard and they played smart. We probably should have been more aggressive against their half court trap, but other than that we did a pretty good job."

Uhing did say, however, that the Blue Devils will have to establish their outside shooting to loosen things up in the middle.

"Schuyler usually plays a man-to-man defense, but they played a real tight zone egg-in-us-and-gave-us the outside shot," he said. "And I think we'll probably see a lot of that so we'll have to get some outside shooting so teams can't drop back on the inside so much."

Wayne outbounded the Warriors 28-21. Don Larsen led the Blue Devils with 13 boards.

Larsen was also the game's scoring leader totaling 19 markers. Ted Lueders followed with seven points, while Brent Pick and Bill Liska both added five.

Pick, a rugged 6-4 senior and one of Wayne's leading rebounders and scorers this year, has been ill and was not 100 percent during the game.

Both teams had a rough night at the line as Wayne finished 14-for-23 and Schuyler went 4-for-13. The Blue Devils were whistled for 14 fouls, while Schuyler committed 15.

Schuyler's junior varsity claimed a 41-38 victory. Corey Dahm and Jon Stoltenberg led Wayne's JV's with nine and eight points, respectively.

The loss dropped Wayne's varsity to 6-3 on the year, while Schuyler improved to 7-2.

The Blue Devils play again Friday at Stanton and Saturday at Seward. Stanton is ranked No. 9 in Northeast Nebraska, and Seward is ranked No. 2 in the state. Wayne is the third ranked team in Northeast Nebraska.

Allen wins another close one, 32-29

BANCROFT — It's getting to the point where Eagle fans can almost expect a close game when the Allen girls play. And fortunately for the Eagles, they usually come out on top.

And Tuesday night was no exception, as Allen staged a late rally and pulled out a thrilling 32-29 victory over Bancroft-Rosalie.

The Eagles trailed by four with approximately four minutes remaining in the game. But with Kristi Chase leading the way, Allen outscored the Panthers 7-0 down the stretch for the victory.

Bancroft owned a 29-25 lead late in the contest, but two fielders by Chase and a Lana Erwin hoop supplied the Eagles with a 31-29 advantage. Allen added an insurance free throw during the late surge to ice the victory. The Eagles held a 6-5 lead at the end of the first quarter and a 15-14 advantage at intermission. But Bancroft led 23-21 heading into the final frame.

The Eagles canned 12-for-43 field goals and 8-of-21 free throws. Bancroft also had a tough time shooting finishing 12-for-37 from the floor and 5-of-15 from the line.

Chase led Allen in scoring with 12 points on 6-of-10 shooting from the floor. Erwin finished with seven points.

Wayne reaches .500 mark Blue Devils best West, 42-32

SIoux CITY — The cliché "team effort" is often overused in sports, but it's the only way to describe Wayne's 42-32 victory over Sioux City West here Saturday night, according to Blue Devil skipper Marlene Uhing.

"The win really was a team effort. We had players do well in the first half, and others do well in the second half, and several kids came off the bench and played very well," she said.

A total team effort is exactly what the Blue Devils needed for the victory, as West overcame a big Wayne lead to turn the game into a tight contest.

Wayne opened a 16-4 lead in the second quarter and held a 21-10 advantage at intermission. But the Wolverines capitalized on the second half's physical play and outscored the Blue Devils 11-3 in the third stanza to make the score 24-21, Wayne.

Despite the physical play, West was only whistled for 12 fouls after the first three quarters and Uhing drew two technical fouls for complaining about the limited number of calls against the hosts. The Wayne mentor discussed her two technicals.

"I was upset that the game was getting out of control, but I wanted the first technical because I thought it might get our kids going," she said.

"After he gave me the first 'T', I returned to the bench and said something like 'they had better start taking control of the game or somebody's going to get hurt.' And they (the referees) gave me another technical. I didn't think I deserved the second one."

Whether or not the technical fouls turned the game around or not is arguable, but West was called for 10 fouls in the fourth quarter and the Blue Devils played one of its best periods of the season by outscoring the hosts 18-11 in the final frame for the 10 point triumph.

Kecia Corbit was the Blue Devils' mainstay in the first half and a significant factor in Wayne opening the large lead in the second quarter.

Corbit hit all four of her field goal attempts in the first half and was 4-for-4 from the line. But the 5-11 junior was hampered with foul trouble in the last half and failed to score again.

But several other Blue Devils picked up the slack. Shelly Pick finished with 12 points for Wayne, and most of her production came in the second half, according to Uhing.

"Kecia really played well in the first half and then she got into foul trouble," Uhing said. "But Shelly played well in the second half and so did several other players."

"Laura Keating came in and did a good job, she's a leader for us out there and she forced West into a lot of mistakes. Several younger kids like Leslie Keating, Holly Paige and Lisa Engelson came off the bench and contributed, too. The win was just a team effort."

Pick added four assists and a team high 10 rebounds to her 10 points, and Corbit finished with seven boards.

Wayne outbounded the Wolverines 27-18.

Dana Nelson also played well for the Blue Devils scoring eight points and coming up with a team high seven steals.

Debbie Pederson led West in scoring with eight points.

Jodi Dittman, one of Wayne's better defensive players, was hindered with foul trouble most of the game, but Uhing said she is confident the 5-6 junior will bounce back.

"Jodi had a tough game. She only got to play about four minutes because of foul trouble," she said.

"But she's a smart basketball player and she'll be back."

Wayne's junior varsity dropped a 40-31 loss. Andrea Marsh led the Blue Devils in scoring with 9 points and Robin Luff finished with 12 rebounds.

Wayne's varsity is now 4-4 on the year. The Blue Devils will attempt to top the .500 mark Thursday at Howells.

Allen places third at Ponca Basketball Tourney

PONCA — The 1986 Ponca Invitational Basketball Tournament will be a memorable one for Allen's boys as the Eagles just missed qualifying for the championship game, and almost blew the consolation contest.

Friday night in the opening round, host Ponca trimmed Allen 53-51, and Saturday night against Laurel-Concord, the Eagles owned an eleven point lead in the fourth quarter but only won 42-40.

Allen vs. Laurel-Concord

Allen fell behind 14-11 in the first quarter of the consolation contest, but with Steve Jones leading the way, the Eagles outscored the Bears 10-6 in the second quarter to open a 21-20 halftime advantage.

The third period was all Allen as the Eagles outscored Laurel 13-3 to open a seemingly comfortable 34-23 lead. However, the Bears never gave up and came storming back.

With Brent Haisch leading the way, Laurel tightened the game before tying the score at 40 with 1:15 remaining on a Haisch jumper from the corner.

Allen ran the clock down to 10 seconds before shooting and Brian Malcom tipped in the missed shot at the :03 mark for the game winner.

"It's kind of funny because Brian doesn't take a lot of shots, but he hit the most important one of the game," Allen head coach Dave Uldrich said.

Laurel fired a desperation shot from the midcourt area, but the shot missed and Allen claimed the hard-fought victory.

Craig Noe, one of the area's better all-around players, scored just nine points. Uldrich said his prized pupil was suffering from back spasms, and the Eagle mentor added that Jones did a nice job of picking up the slack,

"Noe could hardly walk. He played the entire game, but he was really hurting from back spasms," Uldrich said. "But Jones played the best he has in three years. They didn't have an all-tournament team, but if they did he would've been one of the first picks."

Jones led Allen with 19 points and 14 rebounds. In the Eagles' loss to Ponca Friday night, the 6-4 jumping jack scored a team high 22 points and totaled six rebounds.

For the tournament, Jones scored 41 points, grabbed 20 rebounds and shot an impressive 73 percent from the floor hitting 19-of-26 shots.

Haisch led Laurel in scoring with 19 points on eight field goals and 3-of-4 shooting from the line. Erick

Christensen added nine markers to the Bear cause.

Laurel head coach Mark Hrabik has had his players concentrating more on free throw shooting during practices, and the extra hard work was a significant factor in the game as the Bears finished 8-for-12 from the stripe.

Hrabik added that the difference in the game was the third quarter, and he said he thought his Bears deserved an overtime.

"The biggest difference in the game was the third quarter. I don't know exactly what happened in the third period, I guess they just got hot and we didn't," he said. "But I'm proud of the way the kids came back and I thought they deserved an overtime for the way they played in the last quarter, but it wasn't meant to be."

Allen vs. Ponca

Allen's opening round game was a hard-fought contest from the very beginning, but the Eagles fell behind in the late going and dropped a 53-51 decision to Ponca Friday night.

After the two teams were tied at 10 at the end of the first quarter, Ponca opened a three-point lead, 32-29, at intermission.

Allen came back by playing its best defensive stanza of the tourney and held the Indians to just eight points and pulled ahead 41-40.

But Ponca built a four point lead, 53-49, before Noe canned a jumper with :08 to go to make it a two point game.

Ponca then missed its free throw opportunity and Noe fired a shot from halfcourt. However, his shot banked off the board and Ponca claimed the victory.

Jones led Allen with 22 points, while Noe tallied 16 and Max Oswald added 10. Ponca's Brian Wellenstein claimed the game's scoring honors with 24 markers.

Allen outrebanded the Indians 22-21. Oswald, Jones and Noe all grabbed six boards to lead the Eagles.

Allen is now 2-7 on the year. The Eagles play again Friday when Bancroft-Rosalie travels to town.

Allen's boys are 2-4 and play again Friday at Wynot.

Homer wins Pender Tourney

Poor offensive showing costs Wakefield, 47-29

PENDER — When a team plays good defense, the offense usually takes care of itself. But that wasn't the case Saturday night in the championship game of the Pender Basketball Tournament.

Wakefield held a solid Homer club, to just 47 points, but failed to generate its offense and dropped a 47-29 decision to the Knights.

Wakefield head coach Paul Eaton said he isn't sure whether it was Homer's defensive effort or Wakefield's own inability to generate some offense.

"We played pretty good on defense," he said. "But we didn't do much on offense. I'm not sure whether that's due to Homer's defense or it's our own fault, but we didn't get the job done offensively."

Homer built a 12-3 lead after the first quarter, but Wakefield rallied back and cut the lead to six, 19-13, at the half.

The Knights then held Wakefield to six markers in the third quarter and built a comfortable 33-19 lead.

Homer outscored the Trojans 14-10 down the stretch for the eighth point triumph.

Mike Nelson and Kevin Greve led Wakefield in scoring with eight points apiece. Greve scored his eight markers in three quarters before fouling out. Wade Nicholson added seven points to the Trojan cause. Homer's Roger Benz claimed the game's scoring honors with 14 points.

Both teams grabbed 26 rebounds on the night. Greve led Wakefield with six boards.

Wakefield canned nine field goals and finished 11-for-17 from the line. Homer nailed 17 fielders and finished 13-for-21 from the line.

The game was Wakefield's third straight contest on the road. The Trojans play three more outings away from home before returning to Wakefield Friday, Jan. 24, for a battle with Wynot.

"This is our most difficult period of the season because we're on the road for such a long time," Eaton said.

Wakefield is currently 3-5 on the year and plays again Friday at Winside.

LaDonna Blecha led Osmond in scoring with 10 points. Blecha hit three fielders and went 4-for-4 from the stripe.

Allen falls to Ponca

PONCA — Ponca's full court press in the fourth quarter lifted the Indians to a 42-29 victory over Allen in the championship game of the Ponca Invitational Basketball Tournament here Saturday night.

The game was evenly played over the first three periods as Ponca held a slim 26-22 advantage early in the fourth stanza. However, the Indians full court man-to-man pressure allowed them to outscore the Eagles 16-7 over the final eight minutes and vaulted them to the championship.

They (Ponca) came out in a full court man-to-man defense in the fourth quarter," Allen head coach Gary Troth said. "And we just didn't handle it well. We made some turnovers that led to some easy baskets for Ponca and they pulled away."

Ponca opened a 10-9 lead after the first quarter before increasing its lead to five, 30-25, at intermission. Both teams struggled offensively in the third frame as the Indians outscored the Eagles 6-4. But Ponca's press allowed the Indians to break out of their scoring slump in the fourth quarter and claim the 13 point victory.

Lana Erwin led Allen in scoring with 10 points. Denise Magnuson followed Erwin with nine markers. Ponca's Amy Armstrong claimed the game's scoring honors with 14 points.

Allen outrebounded the Indians 30-20. Diane Magnuson led the Eagles with nine boards, while Kris Blohm and Tiffany Harder both added seven boards.

The Eagles experienced a difficult night shooting as they finished 13-for-52 from the floor and 3-of-12 from the line.

Walthill pounds Wakefield, 52-28

WALTHILL — Walthill's aggressive second-half press allowed the Bluejays a 52-28 victory over Wakefield here Tuesday night.

The game was fairly close in the first half as Walthill claimed a seven point advantage, 23-16, at intermission.

But the Bluejays forced numerous Trojan mistakes in the last half and outscored the visitors 29-12 in the final 16 minutes for the lopsided victory.

Arnie Cerny, Wakefield's head coach, said the key to Walthill's victory was its press in the second half.

"They came out in a press in the first half and we broke it pretty easily," he said. "But they were much more aggressive with their press in the second half and that's what allowed them to pull away."

Cerny added that his club lacks confidence and that, too, was a factor in the loss.

"The girls aren't very confident and it's because they haven't won yet. And once one thing goes wrong, everything does and that's what happened in the second half against Walthill," he said.

Kristal Clay led Wakefield in scoring with nine points, while teammate Marci Greve added seven markers. Walthill outrebounded the Trojans 44-31. Greve led Wakefield with seven boards.

Poor second half costs Winside, 55-47

SNYDER — A sluggish second half by Winside allowed Snyder to claim a 55-47 victory over the Wildcats here Tuesday night.

Winside played one of its better halves of the season during the first 16 minutes. The Wildcats opened a 16-9 lead after the first quarter and held a 26-22 advantage at intermission.

But the Wildcats turned the ball over too many times in the second half and Snyder capitalized on the Winside errors by opening a 39-34 lead in the third stanza.

The hosts then outscored Winside 16-13 over the final eight minutes for the victory.

Wildcat head coach Jill Stenwall said her club committed too many turnovers in the second half.

"We finished with 31 turnovers and that's probably what cost us the game. Most of the turnovers were bobbled balls, traveling violations and other things that we spend a lot of time practicing trying to correct," the discouraged mentor said.

Kay Meierhenry and her sister Ann both played well for the Wildcats. Kay led the club in scoring with 15 points on seven field goals and 1-of-2 free throw shooting. Ann finished with 12 markers on four field goals and 4-of-6 free throw shooting.

Julie Brockman added seven points to the Wildcat cause.

Winside outrebounded the Warriors 52-48. Ann Meierhenry led the Wildcats with 11 boards.

Tracy Topp, a Winside starter in all seven Wildcat games prior to Tuesday's clash, did not play because of an injured ankle. Stenwall said she thought Topp would be ready for games this weekend.

The loss dropped the Wildcats to 2-6 on the year. Winside plays again Friday when Wakefield travels to town, and Saturday at Stanton. Both games are boy-girl doubleheaders.

Wildcats fall to Missouri Western, 69-55

A late second half surge by Missouri Western lifted the Griffons to a 69-55 victory over Wayne State at Rice Auditorium Tuesday night.

Wayne State's Linda Schmitzler cannaed a jumper from the left baseline to cut Western's lead to two, 45-43, with 6:02 remaining in the game. But the Griffons outscored the hosts 24-12 in the final six minutes for the victory.

The Wildcats trailed 28-26 at intermission and by as many as 10 points early in the second half. But they kept battling back and pulled within two before Western's scoring eruption. In the contest's final minutes allowed the Griffons the misplaying victory.

Schmitzler finished with 14 points and five assists for the Wildcats. Michelle Blomberg added 13 points, six assists and three steals to the Wayne State cause.

Missouri Western had three players in double figures. Judy Amos led all scorers with 23 points, while teammates Terry Halst and Anne Holland closed with 16 and 11 markers, respectively.

The Wildcats outrebounded Western 35-29. Shari Krohn led the hosts with 11 boards.

Wayne State netted 23-of-56 field goals for 41 percent and finished 9-for-16 from the line for 56 percent. Western canned 23-of-51 fielders for 45 percent and made an impressive 70 percent of its free throws finishing 20-for-33.

The loss dropped the Wildcats to 2-9 on the year. Wayne State's next game is Friday at Kearney State.

Allen

Gary Troth, Allen's head coach, said his club played good defense and passed the ball well on offense.

"We had a good defensive and that was good because you don't score only 32 points and win very often," he said. "And we moved the ball well on offense and got good shots, they just wouldn't drop."

Allen's junior varsity claimed a 29-17 victory. Amy Noe led the Eagle JVs with nine points.

Allen, now 6-3 on the year, doesn't play again until Friday, Jan. 24, at Walthill.

themselves as area chairman to the following: Merlin Baiermann to the Board; IV Mental Retardation Board; Robert Nissen to the Area Office on Aging; and Pospisil to the Mental Health Board.

Nissen was appointed as chairman of the Wayne County Board of Equalization. Kem Swartz of Wayne will remain as the Deputy County Attorney and Robert Benhach is retained as the Coroner's Physician.

The commissioners reaffirmed that each member of the Wayne County Board be appointed as a committee one (for each District) to investigate claims for maintenance or temporary relief and were given the authorization to pass upon any claims filed against all county funds.

During the meeting, it was determined that the wage scale for Highway Department employees would be decided by the entire board of Wayne County Commissioners.

The Wayne County treasurer was authorized to invest and reinvest county funds in saving certificates in the best interest of the county.

Athletic trainer position a goal of Task Force

by Chuck Hackenmiller

One goal which the Wayne-Carroll Athletic Task Force would like accomplished is to have an athletic trainer on the school staff.

That is the recommendations which were presented Tuesday afternoon by the Athletic Task Force to the Wayne-Carroll School Board. The report was presented by committee members Paul Otte and Mike Perry.

The first recommendation presented was to develop short and long term plans for providing qualified care for all student athletes in relation to injuries, conditioning, rehabilitation and emergency care.

Short term plans for this would be to include the use of some present staff members "who can diagnose the injury right on the spot," said Perry. "Usually, that person is the coach."

Long term would be to attempt hiring a teacher in the future who has background in athletic training and could also teach within the system.

"Our ultimate goal is to see that there is a 100 percent athletic trainer, that being their only athletic function," Perry said.

ANOTHER RECOMMENDATION they mentioned was to continue supporting junior high athletics for boys and girls with emphasis on "total participation" when possible and "development of fundamental skills."

The task force also recommended that Paul Otte, Ron Carnes, Ron Jones, Randy Pedersen and Cap Peterson be a part of a committee to study the adequacy of the facilities used by the student athletes, making sure all available facilities are properly utilized.

Availability of the city of Wayne and Wayne State's facilities will also be looked at, according to both Otte and Perry.

A final recommendation was to allow for and follow the guidelines for coaches aides at the discretion of the athletic director and head coaches.

The task force asked the board for continued support in development of intramural programs; providing convocations and emphasis on alcohol and drug abuse programs; encouraging coaches participating in clinics and camps; improving the speaker system in the high school gym; and supporting the summer weight program which emphasizes technique development for the prevention of injury.

ALSO ON Tuesday, the school board reviewed and updated school district goals for the upcoming school years.

Goals reviewed for the 1986-87 school year in curriculum and instruction include adding to the computer curriculum, updating of vocational education curriculum and study of applied technology; accept the final report from the "gifted" task force; accept the final report from the Athletic Task Force; and inclusion of K-8 social studies and Physical Education curriculum study.

Among the buildings and grounds project goals for this school year will be to start rewiring the Middle School building. The rewiring project would be stretched out so that it can be completed by the 1987-88 school year.

Other projects for the 1986-87 school year, listed as goals, include replacement of windows at the Carroll school, Middle School fence repair and high school gym repair; and drapes for the elementary and high school.

On the goals list for 1987-88 are enlarging the high school parking lot and building a facility for the buses; repair floor in the Middle School band room; and brick and cave repair at the Middle School.

IN OTHER ACTION, the school board:

•Accepted bids for three vans from Ellingson Motors, Mike Perry, Chevrolet and Arnie's Ford-Mercury, on a new 12-passenger van. Action was delayed on selecting the bid until clarification could be obtained on a specification concerning the generator of the vehicle.

Later it was motioned to select the bid of Ellingson Motors at $12,985 on the basis that it was the lowest bid which could provide the 60 amp minimum alternator as per specifications.

•Decided to dismiss school, beginning at the start of the second semester (Jan. 20) at 3:45 p.m. since the school district is well ahead of its obligation to provide 1080 hours of instruction for students.

•And after meeting in closed session, decided to extend the contracts of all the Wayne-Carroll School District administrators by one year. No salaries were set in regard to the closed session.

Alley

deteriorating alleys in the community.

Heier made the motion for the city to finance 20 percent of the project cost of construction (which would be about $800) and the assessed amount of that total be the remaining 80 percent.

HE MADE THE motion "based on the fact that we bought the supplies for Hardee's plus the maintenance - we'll be saving on that," Heier said. Leo Hansen seconded Heier's motion.

Voting against Heier's motion were council members Pedersen, Larry Johnson and Carolyn Filter. The remaining council members - Heier, Hansen, Stan Hansen and Darrel Fuelberth - voted for the measure, but the motion had to be approved by a majority of the council.

Councilman Freeman Decker was absent from Tuesday night's meeting.

Filter then introduced a motion that would establish the assessment to the direct construction costs as was proposed in the original schedule. Fuelberth, Leo Hansen and Heier each voted against the motion and once again the majority did not win out.

The city council then unanimously accepted a motion to table the proposed assessment schedule on the alley until the next regular meeting.

In other action, the city council renewed its annual maintenance agreement with the Nebraska Department of Roads.

And following an executive session, the city council voted to take the city clerk-city treasurer positions, now filled by Carol Brummond (clerk) and Nancy Braden (treasurer) off of their probationary period, retroactive Nov. 4.

board as an at-large member since January 1983, resigned last month due to a conflict in meeting dates with the board of education of Santee Public Schools where he serves as principal.

Martindale, 37, will serve out Jacob's term on the board until January 1987.

Martindale has been employed as an accountant with North Central Public Power District in Creighton for the past year. Prior to that time, he was a resident of Wakefield for 10 years.

THE ESU 1 BOARD of directors Tuesday night also elected new officers.

Board president is Marvin Borg of Concord, who replaces Deryl Lawrence of Wayne.

Ken Lahrs, a board member from Ponca, will serve as vice president. Randy Shaw of Wayne will again serve as secretary.

President Borg said he will select various committees during the next few days and send letters to board members informing them of the committees before next month's regular meeting.

Outgoing president Lawrence thanked board members for the cooperation shown him during the past year.

BOARD MEMBERS Tuesday night also voted to extend the contract of ESU 1 Administrator Harry Mills for one year.

Voting in favor of the action were Deryl Lawrence, Paul Steffen, Ken Lahrs, Marvin Borg, John Post, Leo Krampfer, Claire Hansen and Jim Martindale. Ervin DeBoer passed on the vote, and Randy Shaw was absent from the meeting.

President Borg said Mills' salary will be set at next month's board meeting.

Board members next month also will take action on the contracts of Assistant Administrator Garwood and Special Education Director Duane Tappe.

Mills told the board Tuesday night that he had completed an evaluation of Garwood and Tappe and would recommend that their contracts be extended for the coming year.

Garwood presented the board Tuesday night with an outline of his job description and job targets. Board members also asked that Tappe prepare a job outline and job targets, and that Mills prepare job targets.

They are to be mailed to board members for study before next month's meeting.

BOARD MEMBERS Tuesday night also voted unanimously on a motion by Claire Hansen regarding contract negotiations.

The motion, as stated by Hansen, authorizes the board's negotiating team to make a final proposal to the ESU 1-Education Association.

The motion further authorizes the board's legal counsel to proceed appropriately thereafter.

IN OTHER BUSINESS Tuesday night, ESU 1 board members:

- Approved the release of Edmund and Theresa Szyplinski, speech therapists, from their contracts with ESU 1. Replacing them will be Gayle Strand, a USD mid-year graduate who did intern for ESU 1 during the first semester.

- Heard reports of a recent Advisory Council meeting by Administrator Mills and board member Lawrence.

- Heard a report on insurance by board member Lahrs, who said he will prepare specifications following an evaluation of the ESU 1 building by the engineer.

- Received from Administrator Mills an outline of building targets and also a brief history of ESU 1 programs during the past 20 years.

NEXT MEETING of the ESU 1 board of directors will take place Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. at headquarters in Wakefield.

the farmer's wife

by pat meierhenry

At year's end, it's interesting to read the paper's list of top stories from the year just finished. This paper even printed pictures of some of the stories.

One that caught my eye was a Wayne football game when a father came out of the stands in concern for his son and collapsed on the field. In the picture, I can see Coach Koenig doing cardiac compressions. And I know that the man survived, and went home. The player was okay, too.

A couple of other things happened last month to remind me of the value of CPR. CPR, cardio-pulmonary resuscitation, has been aggressively promoted in Nebraska for the last 10 years, with outstanding results.

For one, I received a beautiful Christmas card from a man who experienced a heart attack in the parking lot of the county courthouse. That was four and a half years ago, and he's still enjoying life.

For another, I visited with a cousin of the Big Farmer whose heart stopped in a car at Wahoo, two and a half years ago. A nurse in the car behind them initiated CPR, and he eventually had a helicopter ride to an Omaha hospital, where he spent a few days in ICU, or CCU. Medical people love abbreviations: ICU is the Intensive Care Unit; CCU is the Coronary Care Unit.

Clarence has no memory of that day, or the one following, but he is appreciating each one since.

THE FINAL incident occurred as I was walking in the back door of the hospital, returning from Home Health rounds. A little lady in the waiting room grabbed me in a big hug.

At first I didn't even recognize her. And I'm amazed she did me. It had been at least six years since we met.

She had walked into the emergency room about 4:30 one evening, saying she was to meet her doctor there because she'd not been feeling well all day.

Then she collapsed to the floor. Her heart had stopped. Of course, the emergency room at a hospital is the best place for that to happen, if it's to happen at all. I started CPR, the girl at the desk called for help, and there were all kinds of people there in a very short time.

I helped put a pacemaker into this lady later that evening, and she thinks I'm a life saver. I don't mind a bit. It's nice to be appreciated.

These people help to make up for the times we failed, when CPR was not enough.

A YEAR AND a half ago, I attended the dedication of Willow Creek Dam at Pierce. Governor Kerrey was to be the speaker, and Debra accompanied him. We were all gaping as the Mayor welcomed them. We continued to stare at them as the Mayor took his seat.

Consequently, it took me a few seconds to realize what had happened when I heard a thud and turned my head to see the Mayor on the floor.

It was a very long, hot ride in that rescue unit to Norfolk. My hat goes off to the EMT's, Emergency Medical Technicians. We all tried very hard. But there was no response.

You don't have to be a nurse or an EMT to learn CPR. They teach it in schools. It's a simple, effective technique.

People often shudder and tell me they could not perform in case of emergency. But time after time, they do. Somehow, we have the strength we need to do what we have to do when we have to do it. We may fall apart later, but when it's up to us, we can do it.

If you've not had the class, get registered to take it. If you have had the class, get refreshed. CPR really does save lives. And Christmas time was a wonderful time to be reminded of it.

Winter storm damage to trees

Freezing rain and heavy snow can cause heavy damage to trees and shrubs through limb or stem breakage. Several types of damage can occur, and different steps are required to treat an injury in each situation.

1. A limb to the main stem has split, but is still attached. If splintering is minimal, it may be possible to reattach the branch by using cables or long bolts. This usually requires a professional tree worker, but smaller limbs could be done by homeowners. Use large round washers at the ends of the bolt or the backside of eyebolts. Cut the bark out from under the washer so that is rests on, but not in, solid wood.
2. The branch has splintered or is a secondary branch. Remove the branch with a pruning saw, making a reasonably close cut. Remove splinters if possible. Caution: cutting too close to the remaining limb or trunk or attempting to remove still-attached splinters can further damage to the tree. Painting the wound is not necessary. This does not stop tree decay.
3. Heavy snow on evergreens. Snow may be gently brushed off evergreens but take care to avoid breaking twigs and branches.
4. Ice. There is no way to remove ice without causing damage to the tree or shrub. Attempts to do so invariably cause twig or limb breakage. If air temperatures rise above freezing, a garden hose may facilitate removing the ice, but often the ice will melt off in a few hours.
5. Young trees that are bent over by ice or snow. It's usually best to wait until the ice or snow has melted. Young trees usually will return to the upright position. If not, you can stake them in early spring before growth starts. Attempt to straighten and stake ice and snow-caked trees usually will result in significant breakage. Proper care of these trees can help ensure a longer living, more vigorous tree in the future.

Farm bill will affect commodity prices

One potential result of the 1986 Farm Bill is the likelihood that cash corn prices will not reach as high levels this spring as had been predicted prior to the legislation's passage. A University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension economist said.

Under conditions prior to passage of the compromise bill, the market might have worked up to the $2.50 to $2.60 level, according to Lynn Lutgen. In the aftermath of the bill, however, prices are more likely to be in the $2.40 to $2.50 range.

A lower loan rate called for in the comprehensive legislation will be largely offset for the individual producer by a deficiency payment—the difference between the average loan rate and the target price of $3.93 for corn, Lutgen said. However, the overall impact of the bill is expected to depress cash market prices.

Corn producers need to analyze at what point they should consider selling corn under loan. To avoid continuing interest costs, versus holding the corn for the duration of the loan and then turning it back to the Commodity Credit Corporation and having the interest forgiven, Lutgen said.

Based on individual circumstances, with cash flow, debt load and storage being prime factors, this may mean selling some corn very soon—rather than waiting until spring as has often been the case—or planning to forfeit the corn to CCC this fall, Lutgen said.

"We had better get real concerned about where we are going to put this year's (1986) crop," Lutgen warned corn growers. "If we think storage is tight now, we haven't seen anything yet," with a national carryover estimated at 3.25 billion bushels.

THIS AMOUNT compares to the 3.12 billion bushels in all positions in 1982 when the PIK Program was instituted, he pointed out.

Emphasizing that in most instances, the major storage responsibility falls back on the individual producers, Lutgen said the timing when a farmer put 1985 corn under loan is a major consideration in developing a marketing strategy.

If a producer was able to get corn harvested early or on time, and put it in storage and under loan in November, he stands a good chance of forfeiting it and clearing the bins in time for the 1986 harvest, Lutgen said. However, if the corn was put under loan later, perhaps in January, the storage crunch will hit home with a vengeance this fall.

Because a number of farmers are likely to see the need for clearing up storage, and believe that now is the time to move corn, this in itself will

Partnership seminar set

The active involvement of all members of the family as a management team in the farming operation is becoming increasingly important. This seminar is targeted for husbands and wives—partners in agriculture. The one day program is being sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Beginning with registration at 9:30, the day's agenda includes the following: "Taking Control of your Situation...by setting goals and communicating as partners"; Rod and Carmen Patent of Randolph and Dave and Cindy Goeller of Pilger; Addie Scheve of Battle Creek is the noon speaker: "Agriculture—It's a Partnership."

In the afternoon, participants will choose from the following workshops:

- Marketing clubs—becoming more involved in the marketing of your commodities' by Doug and Renee Sunderman and Norm and Sheri Funk, Madison.

- Family Wellness—maintaining your health while under stress' by Ann Witkowski, Wayne and Pat Meierhenry, Hoskins.

- Legal Alternatives—knowing your options' by Dave Aiken, Asst. Professor in Ag Economics, University of Nebraska.

- Managing your Stress—getting Support from others' with Rev. Jack Thiesen, Norfolk.

- Making the Decision to Leave the Farm—Dave and Janis Tomka, Battle Creek.

Pesticides restricted

There have been some changes in the law on what pesticides are considered restricted and thereby requiring a farmer to be certified through the Pesticide Applicator Recertification program says Don C. Spitz, Wayne County Extension Agent. Sessions on Re-Certification are being held at the Wayne City Auditorium starting at 12:30 p.m. on Wednesday Jan. 22, Monday Jan. 27 and Wednesday, Feb. 5 (Please note the change from the previous scheduled date of Tuesday, Feb. 4.)

Following is a list of pesticides that are being restricted and the reason why:

- Fumigants: Phostoxin/Fumatox. Inhaling fumes or droplets during applications may cause sickness or death.

- Herbicides: Hoelan - may irritate skin and eyes after direct contact; Paraquat - Inhaling can cause irreversible lung damage; swallowing can be fatal; Tordon - Persistent residues in water can kill natural vegetation.

- Insecticides: Ambush/Pounce - Direct contact with skin or eyes causes irritation; Pydrin - Residues in streams can kill aquatic life; Pennac-M - Swallowing, inhaling or direct skin contact can cause serious illness or death. Residues can kill aquatic wildlife;

- Counter, Dyonate, Furadan, Mocap, Thimet - Swallowing, inhaling or direct skin contact can cause serious illness or death.

Don't waste nutrients

Sampling for nitrates helps lower costs

Recent research shows that deep soil sampling can help farmers in the irrigated and drier regions of the United States reduce nitrogen costs, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln agronomist said here Thursday (Dec. 5) during the annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy.

"In most cases, nitrogen fertilizer rates can be reduced in regions of the country receiving less than 24 inches of rain when the quantity of nitrate present in the soil is known," said Gary Hergert.

Hergert, extension research soils scientist at the UNL West Central Research and Extension Center at North Platte, Neb., told scientists that applying the proper rate of nitrogen is economically important to farmers. "In today's market, farmers can't afford to waste nutrients through over-fertilization."

Also, Hergert said, "From an environmental standpoint, reducing nitrogen application to just meet crop needs should help reduce nitrogen leaching and help reduce the potential to enrich ground and surface waters with nitrate-nitrogen."

CONSIDERABLE RESEARCH the last few years has focused on the importance of using root zone soil samples to test for residual nitrate-nitrogen. These samples are commonly taken from a 2- to 6-foot depth, depending on the rooting of the crop.

In general, said Hergert, nitrate does move in soils with soil water and can be leached below the crop root zone. But, in regions of the United States where irrigation is used, or in areas receiving less than 24 inches of rainfall, deep soil testing for nitrate can be used to determine soil distribution of nitrate.

Hergert said recent research in the Midwest indicates that a very good relationship can be established between residual nitrogen and the rate of nitrogen fertilizer needed. Also, he said, research shows a high correlation between crop yield and the amount of carryover nitrate.

Discussing farmer use of deep soil sampling, Hergert said because of the variable nature of nitrate, it's usually suggested that producers take at least 20 soil cores from a 40- to 50-acre area or less to obtain sufficient cores to produce a good average of nitrate in the area. Soil sampling depths for most irrigated crops are three to six feet; for shallower rooted crops two to three feet is often enough, he said.

contribute to a lower trend on the cash market, the economist said.

Producers need to consider now, not later, the three currently obvious market strategies—early sale to avoid continued interest payments, forfeiting the corn to the government this fall and if necessary, taking steps to assure adequate storage in anticipation of the new crop.

Producers just can't expect market price relief from either increased exports or greater domestic demand for corn in the 1986 marketing year, Lutgen said.

"If you're looking for export markets to save us, forget it," the UNL grain marketing specialist said. Any modest gains on the horizon would not have enough impact to do much good in pushing up prices.

WHILE IT appears there may be a modest increase in corn utilization in food processing, it is doubtful much more corn will be used for livestock feeding, despite favorable prices to the feeder, because livestock numbers are down, Lutgen said.

The combined increase in domestic demand is just too small a percentage of the mammoth stockpile to have a measurable impact on prices.

The picture is different when considering marketing strategies for milo, Lutgen said. While corn prices will likely move closer to the loan rate, the gap between the cash price for milo and the loan rate has been much greater. At harvest time, for example, the loan rate was $4.14 per hundredweight for milo, while the cash price was riding in the $3.02 to $3.18 range, he said.

There's more incentive to hang on to milo for the duration of the loan because of slim prospects that the cash price will improve materially, he said.

Finally, farmers who raise a combination of soybeans, corn and/or sorghum may need to do some pencil-pushing on soybean yield and price prospects as an input to planting decisions this spring, Lutgen said.

"With the current soybean carryover, assuming an average 1986 crop and even considering a poor crop in Brazil, we're looking at lower prices for soybeans this fall," he analyzed.

Some producers, because of lower production costs on soybeans have been willing to protect smaller soybean yields and lower market prices and still hope to come out OK in comparison to corn, Lutgen said. With the drab outlook for soybean prices, "they may need to think differently now," he concluded.

It's a tough decision. Each year after the harvest, the same questions come up. Which one will make the most money this year? Should you sell your grain today or store it for a better price tomorrow? If you store it, should it be on-farm or stored commercially? The questions make your head spin and finding the answers seem like finding the needle in the haystack . . . until now!

An informed decision. Now you can find answers to all these questions right in your own home, with Farm TABS from Terra International, Inc. The Farm TABS Corn/Soybean Management program helps you make informed management decisions that will increase your profitability. It calculates drying and storage costs, net crop value, and break-even prices over a period of months. It allows you to look ahead and speculate taking into account fluctuating interest rates, market prices, storage costs and storage periods. You can instantly determine what effect changing cost and price levels might have on your storage costs and overall grain marketing plan . . . but, Grain Storage Decisions is just one of the many options of this Farm TABS program.

The right decision. The Farm TABS Corn/Soybean Management program also has a Harvest Loss Calculator that allows you to check your combine's efficiency, a Crop Yield Calculator that calculates yield figures based on information from a given test strip, a Field Population Calculator that compares different hybrids and management practices and a Planter Calibration Calculator that determines the most efficient rate at which to plant.

You decide. The Farm TABS Corn/Soybean Management program gives you the answers that can help you better manage your crop for better profits. This program alone is an incredible assistance in managing your farm operation, yet it is just a small part of the complete Farm TABS program. You can see the complete Farm TABS system at your local Terra Dealer.

SCHOLARSHIP ESTABLISHED
The families of Louis and Amy Nuernberger have established a memorial scholarship at Wakefield Health Care Center in the name of their deceased parents.
The families are Faith Nuernberger of Wakefield, the Dean Nuernbergers of Oberlin, Ohio, and the Marvin Nuernbergers of Lincoln.
Louis and Amy Nuernberger were longtime Wakefield residents and at one time operated a business on Main Street. Prior to her death in November 1984, Amy was a resident for several years at Wakefield Health Care Center.

Through this association with the care center, the family decided to establish a memorial scholarship in the name of their parents in the amount of $1,000 annually.

The scholarship will be restricted to an employee of the nursing home who has worked there at least one year. The scholarship may be used to further the recipient's education beyond high school in the area of their choice.

The Nuernbergers have set up the scholarship to be funded in two ways. First, they have purchased a $12,000

U.S. Treasury Note delivered to the Wakefield Health Care Center. Second, they have opened a Wakefield National Bank money market account. Others from the Wakefield community, Sioux City, Iowa, Oberlin, Ohio and Lincoln have contributed to this account.

The family's intention is that the money market account be used as an open account for crediting interest payment from the treasury note and any additional contributions by the founders or others.

Both accounts will be earmarked for the scholarship payment. It is anticipated that each year, beginning in 1986, following the designated procedures of the family, a $1,000 scholarship will be awarded.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN

The Union Presbyterian Women's Association met Thursday afternoon in the church parlors with 13 members present. Pastor Robinson conducted the Bible study, which this year is on the "Apostle's Creed." One segment of the creed will be studied at each meeting.

The program on Central America was given by Mrs. Doug Preston, assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Fuchs. They presented a skit entitled, "I Am a Woman." It depicted the life of women in Central America showing the contrast of the rich and the poor. The members were then divided into groups and given material and clippings on different countries in Central America. After a study period, each one reported on the life and conditions in the various countries. A report was given showing how money churches give is being used to help these countries.

Mrs. Muriel Stapelman was seated at the birthday table.

On the serving committee were Mrs. Lawrence Fuchs; Mrs. Muriel Stapelman and Mrs. Craig Bartels.

COMMUNITY CLUB

The Belden Community Club met the evening of Jan. 8 in the fire hall. A carry-in supper was held at 7 p.m. with 12 members present.

During the business meeting which followed, several members demonstrated the new Resusci Annie, recently purchased by the club, on which to practice artificial respiration. This spring there will be a class given on CPR, cardio pulmonary resuscitation, and anyone interested in taking this class may do so.

The club would also like ideas submitted for a float to be used in the centennial parades coming up this year.

For businesses, developers

Loan monies available

Loans are still available for low-income, small business owners and low-income persons wishing to start new businesses in northeast Nebraska — $40,000 in funds have been obtained by Goldenrod Hills Community Action Council of northeast Nebraska and will be distributed through KCD Regional Development Corporation, based in Hartington, Nebraska.

A $2,500 loan has already been made to one qualifying business in the 12-county area served by Goldenrod Hills. These counties include Antelope, Burr, Cedar, Cumming, Dakota, Dixon, Knox, Madison, Pierce, Stanton, Thurston and Wayne.

This loan program was established through a grant from the Community Service Block Grant program from the Nebraska Department of Social Services. These loans will run up to $10,000 or ten percent of the total cost. Interest rates will be set at eight percent for up to 20 years.

Borrowers must meet eligibility requirements before any monies will be made available.

According to these criteria, borrowers:

- must have a certain cash percentage of the project available to them.
- must have tried every other available source for financing before being considered.
- must show that they would not be able to stay in operation without the help of this program (monies will not be used for straight refinancing of existing debt.)

• must show an ability to pay back the loan.

• must have a personal adjusted gross income at or below the current state income guidelines set for that particular county.

• must reside within a ten mile radius of town, village or township where the project will be undertaken.

• must guarantee the retention and/or creation of two permanent, full-time equivalent jobs.

THE LOAN application process will be similar to that presently utilized by commercial lending institutions, according to KCD Development Chairman Paul Theilroff of Niobrara.

"Applicants will be asked to fully document their present financial condition, show a need for these funds, submit plans with detailed cost documentation and submit a feasibility study upon request," Theilroff said.

According to Theilroff, loan monies that are repaid will then be used in a revolving loan format that will mean more and more area businesses will have the opportunity to utilize this program, thus enhancing the overall economic impact.

Interested business persons or developers are urged to contact Cheryl Pinkelmeier, KCD Development Corporation, Box 576, Hartington, NE 68739 or phone 254-3466 for more details concerning this program.

FOOD AWARENESS By Ann Crowley R.D., Ph.D.
LESS IS BETTER

QUESTION: Ann, I have a weight problem. I'm overweight. I know the caloric value of most foods. I try and count my calories but don't seem to be able to lose those extra pounds. You are a nutritionist how about some tips to help me lose weight?

ANSWER: Here are some tips to help you and about 40% of the adult population lose weight.

- Avoid refrigerator snacks.
- When you feel you want something, drink water or decaffeinated tea or coffee.
- Eat slowly. Chew your food thoroughly. Cut food into smaller pieces. ... eat only one piece at a time.
- Learn to eat in only one place such as at the table. Avoid eating in front of the TV.
- Keep your hands busy. If they are full you can't pick up food.
- Avoid second helpings.
- Weigh yourself every other day and record this weight.
- Increase your daily exercise program.
- Avoid opportunities to break your diet.

I know it's very difficult to lose weight but sometimes changing ones eating patterns can be most helpful.
