THE INSIDE of the Timpfe, Inc. manufacturing plant east of Wayne is shaping up, awaiting the necessary equipment to begin plant operation.

By end of 1986

Timpte corporate offices moving to Wayne

Wayne city and industrial development officials received good news on Monday concerning Timpte, Inc.

Timpte, Inc., a Denver-based truck trailer manufacturer, announced on Monday that it will phase out trailer manufacturing at its North Washington Street plant in Denver.

It is estimated that that phaseout will occur by late summer of 1986.

In addition, Timpte, Inc. officials also announced plans to relocate the company's corporate offices from Denver to its Wayne facility by the end of this year.

These decisions, finalized earlier this month, were announced to Timpte Denver employees on Friday, Jan. 24 and publicly released on Monday, Jan. 27.

According to a news release through Timpte, Inc.'s Wayne office, Timpte's Denver manufacturing plant has been in operation for approximately 25 years. The decision to close this facility was based on economic factors and market prospects for the trailer models produced in Denver, officials mentioned.

TIMPTE CURRENTLY has approximately 120 plant employees, represented by UAW Local 1129, at this location. By law, all matters regarding the impact of the plant closure on these employees must be determined through discussions with the employees' Union Representatives.

Officials from Timpte said in the news release that Timpte has traditionally had a "hands on" management style. With the closure of the Denver plant, the relocation of its corporate office from Denver to its Wayne manufacturing facility will permit that style to continue.

This will involve the company's top management roles, as well as technical, administrative and production support functions.

THERE ARE approximately 80 employees that will be affected by these changes.

Certain employees will be offered reassignment to other Timpte locations or have the opportunity to relocate to Wayne. The actual number of employees that will be transferred to Wayne is not known at this time.

While the final timetables for these changes have not been determined, Timpte's purpose in announcing them now is to allow maximum time for proper planning and to achieve an orderly transition and to reduce the impact of employees and company operations as much as possible, Timpte, Inc. officials mentioned.

Timpte has been in business in the Denver area for over 100 years. Its Commerce City, Colorado branch facility, with approximately 100 employees, will continue to provide full service, parts, truck equipment and van bodies, as well as new and used trailer sales and warranty support for Timpte products.

TIMPTE INDUSTRIES, Inc., which is Timpte, Inc.'s parent company, will also continue to maintain a small corporate office in the Denver area.

Officials say that Timpte's new Wayne plant project continues on schedule with production start-up targeted for this spring.

Timpte has recently increased the amount of space in the new facility that will be finished into offices to accommodate the additional personnel that will be based in Wayne.

The product to be manufactured in Wayne will be a newly designed modular, refrigerated van trailer, not now being produced at any other Timpte location.

Timpte will continue to manufacture grain trailers and non-refrigerated (dry) van trailers at its David City, Nebraska plant.

Also, operations will also continue at Timpte sales and service branches located throughout the United States.

Coffey anxious to take on WSC president's role

Dr. Thomas Coffey

by Chuck Hackenmiller

Dr. Thomas Coffey, selected last November by the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges to succeed Dr. Ed Elliott as president of Wayne State College, will begin his duties on Monday, Feb. 3.

And as the days approach for the transition from top administrative position as president of Thomas More College in Crestview Hills, Kentucky to president of Wayne State, Coffey said he is approaching his new job with anticipation and excitement.

"Things are going well here," said Coffey in a telephone conversation with The Wayne Herald on Tuesday from his home in Kentucky.

"Thomas More College recently appointed an acting president [Michael Bromberg, vice-president of administration] and the past few days we've been busy packing."

He expects to begin traveling to Wayne Saturday and begin his job on Monday. On Wednesday, he will be in Lincoln meeting with the state college board of trustees and the following day will be meeting with members of the legislature.

Lately, he's been spending most of his time wrapping up his work at Thomas More College. "But I have been keeping abreast of the general problems and concerns facing Wayne State College and have been very pleased to see how they are being handled [by the current administrative staff]," Coffey said.

COFFEY SAID Wayne State College had some resignations and that soon the college will need to begin thinking about filling those positions. Among those resignations he had referred to was that of Kirk Hutton, who recently was appointed Central Missouri State University's new director of development at Warrensburg, Missouri.

Hutton had served as institutional advancement assistant for WSC and currently is the executive director of the Wayne State Foundation and director of alumni affairs.

Among the first priorities, once he steps into his position as WSC president will be to review where the college stands now and determine what positions need to be filled, he said.

Also, the work on the college budget and meeting with the legislature will continue.

Coffey said he becomes excited about coming to Wayne State as he is learning more and more about the institution.

He said that overall, he is pleased at the way the college is being operated by the current college administrators.

"They are doing a whale of a job," he said.

City to pay percentage for alley paving project

It was decided by a 5-2 vote Tuesday evening that the city council would contribute 4 percent of its general obligation funds toward the total cost for a recently paved Wayne alley.

Residents residing along the legal boundaries of the alley, located between Main and Logan Streets and 7th and 8th Streets, will be assessed for the remaining 96 percent of the alley paving costs.

Earlier in January, during a public hearing on the original assessment schedule, two motions failed to pass since a majority did not vote. One motion was to have the city finance 20 percent of the $7,200 total costs for the alley paving (about $900) and the remainder would be assessed to neighboring property owners.

Another motion was to stick with the original proposal which assessed the entire project to the property owners.

The schedule to pay the assessments would be 15 years at 9.5 percent interest, according to City Attorney Kent Swartz.

On Tuesday, City Councilman Darrel Heier said he spoke with property owners involved with the assessments. "Most had the feeling that the city would be participating somewhat [in paying for the project] although at the top of the petition it said they would pay the 100 percent," Heier mentioned.

Heier said the alley is being used more because it is hard surfaced and he sees the city having some advantage because the alley is paved. "I still would like to propose a 80-20 split where the 80 percent is paid by the residents and us [the city] 20 percent," said Heier.

CITY ATTORNEY Swartz remarked on several cases where the city had contributed to alley improvement projects. The most recent was in 1975 when the city council voted to participate 50 percent on gravel or rock projects in alleys and 4 percent of general obligation funding on alley paving.

Council Member Carolyn Filler suggested an alternative to Heier. "Since we are all very concerned about dollars, and things are very tight now, would you consider compromising on 10 percent [of city participation on the alley project]?" she asked.

"The point is, the city is getting 20 percent worth of good out of it," Heier responded. He said the city's participation would encourage other residents along problem alleys to consider paying the dollars to improve those alleys.

Councilman Larry Johnson, acting as mayor in the absence of Mayor Wayne Marsh, said he received a telephone call from one resident by the alley who is currently out of state, saying that if he had known that [the

Accidents up Crime dips during 1985

by Chuck Hackenmiller

Traffic accidents were about the only areas of increase when comparing the Wayne Police Department's 1985 final report to the 1984 statistics.

Those 1985 statistics and comparisons were made available Tuesday evening during the regular meeting of the Wayne City Council.

"I am extremely pleased with the overall operations of the police department during the past year. Decreases were shown in almost every area of our responsibility," said Wayne Police Chief Vern Fairchild.

Traffic accidents in 1985 investigated on public increased by seven (122 to 129) over 1984. If increased from 51 to 56 for traffic accidents on private property.

"We were running below 1984 until about the middle of November, when the winter snow and ice caught up with us and put us ahead of the previous year," said Fairchild in his report to the council.

"The one area that really surprised me the most was the criminal cases reported. With the economy the way it has been for some time now, I had expected an increase in this area," he said.

IN 1985 THERE were 136 criminal complaints compared to 191 the previous year. Of these tallied in 1985, 63 were reported as larceny/theft, eight as burglary, and 39 as vandalism. In 1984, there were reported 88 larceny/thefts, 12 burglaries and 42 acts of vandalism.

"I feel that it is a credit to our citizens in taking a more active part in reporting any criminal activity, etc., that we have been able to hold the line as well in this area," Fairchild mentioned.

"I am still very concerned about the number of vandalism in the city, and we will be working very hard in the next year to hold these down even more," he added.

Other comparisons of 1985 to 1984 show 187 less complaints/requests for police service; 217 less radio messages; 155 less 911 calls and 60 less justifiable 911 calls; 14 less in both criminal cases cleared/unfounded and criminal arrests; 11 less animals impounded; 14 less vehicles impounded; and 227 less miles driven.

"Written activity that concerned me the previous year showed a very good increase, with the exception of

Annual meeting of Chamber Sunday night

The annual membership meeting of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce will take place this Sunday, Feb. 2, scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the Black Knight in Wayne.

The evening will include a report of the past year's activities as well as the naming of the 1986 Citizen of the Year.

A "Citizen of the Year" award is bestowed to an individual on the basis of personal accomplishment and dedication to community service. The individual should have a fairly consistent "track record" for accomplishments that have made Wayne a better place to live. This should include a reputation in the community for character, respect and reasons for their possible selection. On the selection committee are David Ellington, Paula Plueger, Grant Ley and Wayne Marsh.

Former winners of the award have been Dean Pierson, Stan Morris, Arnie Reed, Wayne Marsh, Bob and Marilyn Carnah, Lyle Seymour and David Ley.

Young Peoples Citizenship Seminar

Students interested in attending the 1986 Young Peoples Citizenship Seminar on March 16-18 at the Nebraska Youth Leadership Development Center in Aurora must obtain their applications for scholarships to the seminar from the Dixon County Farm Bureau office by Jan. 31. Application forms may be obtained at the Farm Bureau office in Allen, telephone 635-2166; or from Mrs. Dale Jackson, Rt. 1-Box 89, Allen, telephone 635-2341.

The seminar is specifically designed for high school students who will complete their sophomore or junior years this spring. Purpose of the seminar is to gain a better understanding of Nebraska heritage and the unicameral system. Students will have an opportunity to visit the legislature in session on one day. They also will hear a variety of speakers.

Farm Bureau pancake supper

The Dixon County Farm Bureau has announced plans to sponsor a pancake and sausage supper at the Allen school on Monday, Feb. 17.

The supper will provide an opportunity for all residents of the 17th legislative district to hear Senator Gerald Conway speak on issues being considered in this legislative session.

Supper will be served beginning at 6 p.m., with Senator Conway addressing the group at 7:30.

Accepts Wisner carrier position

Betty Schwarten of Wakefield has accepted the position of rural mail carrier on Route 1 out of Wisner. She began her new duties on Jan. 18. Schwarten had worked in the Wakefield Post Office for 20 years, beginning in April 1966. In addition to her other duties, she had served as a substitute rural mail carrier since March 1978.

'How to Manage Money' lessons

The Christian Church of Wakefield is hosting a series of lessons, entitled "How to Manage Your Money."

The lessons, which began two weeks ago and will continue for the next 10 weeks, are being conducted via videotape by Larry Burkett, founder and president of Christian Financial Concepts, Inc.

The public is invited to attend the free lessons during Sunday evening worship services at the church, beginning at 7 p.m. The lessons focus on principles for money management, how to make it, spend it, save it, invest it, and share it.

Valentine poster contest slated

The residents council of Wayne Care Centre is sponsoring a Valentine poster contest for youngsters in kindergarten through eighth grade.

Youngsters are invited to send or bring their posters to the care centre from Feb. 1-13. Judging will be for the prettiest poster for grades kindergarten through four, and the most humorous poster for grades five through eight.

The residents council will judge the posters on Feb. 14, with the winners to be notified. Persons with questions regarding the poster contest are asked to call Peg Wheeler at the care centre, 375-1922.

Doane College honors

Dilynne Jensen, junior, of Wakefield; Jill Mosley, junior, of Wayne; and Trisha Willers, sophomore, of Wayne, all at Doane College, have qualified for the Dean's List for the 1985 fall semester. To be eligible for the Dean's List, students must post a grade point average of 3.4 or better on a 4.0 scale.

Out-patient services

Anyone interested in learning what out-patient services are available for the mentally ill is invited to join the Community Caretakers who will be going to Norfolk Friday, Jan. 31.

Visits will be made to the Monroe Mental Health Center and the Life Improvement Program/Liberty Center.

The Life Improvement Program is one of the newest community support programs being developed by the Northern Nebraska Comprehensive Mental Health Center. This program offers emotionally disabled adults a prevocational day program, where members train and gain clerical, custodial and food service skills. The LIP also offers members temporary part-time employment positions in the community as members take steps toward full-time employment. The club offers such activities as camping trips, bingo, field trips, birthday parties, dining out and many other social and recreational activities.

The LIP provides its members a place to go where they are needed and wanted, a place to gain vocational skills and a place to get assistance in managing their financial, emotional and social affairs.

The day is sponsored by the Cedar County Community Caretakers. Contact Cheryl Laport, 254-7378, for car pooling, meeting time and place or for any other information about mental health services.

Public address test

The City of Wayne will conduct the monthly testing of the Civil Defense Outdoor Warning System at 1 p.m., January 31.

All sirens will be tested in the silent mode, with exception of the following:

Public address: A short verbal message will actually be given to test the effectiveness of the system.

If any resident living near a siren location should fail to hear the Public Address message, please contact the Police Department promptly, so that the siren can be checked for malfunction.

Travel Council working to promote area tours

For years, Americans have had the misconception that a fun trip or vacation can only be found a long way from home. That is just not the case according to the Northeast Nebraska Travel Council — and they're doing something about it.

The council, formed early in 1985, believes there are many interesting and exciting things to do and see in the area and is working to get the word out to local people and travellers. With this idea in mind, council members are gathering information for two proposed publications, according to Pat Straight, travel council chairperson.

"At this time the council is working on a 32-page sportsman's guide which we hope to have ready in early February," she said. "This tabloid will feature hunting and fishing guides and regulations, stories on where to go and who to see, and other information which is important to the outdoorsman."

This projection will be funded by the sale of advertising to area businesses.

Also, word was recently received at the council's Hartington office that a $4,000 grant has been approved by the Nebraska Department of Economic Development for production of a 64-page tourist tabloid geared for the travelling family. This project will not be available until the spring of 1987.

"THIS PUBLICATION will include promotions of scenic wonders, museums, and tourist and recreation attractions; all this is necessary because very few people are planning to come to northeast Nebraska for an extended period unless they are going to visit relatives," Straight noted.

By informing local people and travelers, the council hopes to bolster the area economy by "grabbing everyone that comes through and, once they have stopped, we have to pass them around from one attraction or recreational site to another."

Both publications will be distributed at travel and recreation shows in Nebraska and other midwest states, at tourist information booths along the interstate and through local chambers of commerce and travel-related businesses, such as motels and gas stations.

At times people don't realize what they have in their own towns that is interesting and would draw vacationers. Straight cited events such as softball tournaments, local festivals, horseshoe contests, rodeos and horse shows. Small town museums, community parks and even grocery stores and laundromats are of interest to travelers.

"Along with local events, we will also promote traditional attractions, such as Ponca and Niobrara State Parks, Neligh Mills, the Nelighard Center and Gavins Point Dam and Lewis and Clark Lake," said Straight. "Plus we have new features like the wild horse holding facility west of Bloomfield which cares for over 3,000 animals."

ANY COMMUNITY, business, organization or person with an interest in promoting tourism can join the Northeast Nebraska Travel Council by paying a $15 yearly membership fee. Included among the council's current members are motel owners, chamber of commerce officials, community service professionals and town mayors.

The council meets every other month in various locations throughout its 18-county coverage area. Each meeting begins with a tour of a recreational site, allowing members to become familiar with the variety of area attractions. The next meeting is scheduled for Friday, January 31, at Neligh Mills.

Anyone wanting additional information or wishing to contribute articles for consideration is urged to contact the Northeast Nebraska Travel Council, Box 576, Hartington, NE 68739, or phone 254-3466.

Airplane purchase in the wings

By Melvin Paul
Governor Bob Kerrey wants to buy the next governor a $1 million present — a new airplane.

The state's biggest plane, a 1977 twin-engine Navajo, is too slow and too old, says Nebraska's current governor. With a strong headwind it takes four hours to get from the capital city to Scottsbluff.

Besides, says Kerrey with a touch of exaggeration, a governor should be able to fly above the weather without having an oxygen mask fall from the overhead compartment.

Kerrey wants the state to buy a new King Air turboprop plane with a pressurized cabin.

Kerrey or his staff used the Navajo for 76 flying hours last fiscal year, for trips to Nebraska communities — to North Platte for NEBRASKAland Days, to Scottsbluff for meetings with local officials.

Kerrey flew to the governor's conference in northern Michigan in late summer and has used the state plane for trips to Denver to meet with regional officials.

But it's not the kind of plane the governor would want to take much further than western Nebraska. It's not feasible to use the slow craft for trips to Washington for example, according to John Auer, director of the Department of Aeronautics.

KERREY OFTEN makes jokes about the quality of the aircraft to emphasize his point that the state needs a new plane. But has the Governor ever faced any real danger aboard the craft?

"Yes," said Kerrey to that question recently.

"I had a very painful streak of bad luck. I once lost almost my entire life savings to Larry Bare (budget director) in a game of gin."

Kerrey did have one close call with the Navajo. Kerrey and two state senators drove to Kearney for the funeral of state Senator Martin Kahle in October 1984 after the plane lost an engine on takeoff.

"We felt a bump and my first thought was that it was a flat tire," Kerrey said at the time. "But then there was smoke and it turned out one of the engines was gone."

Kerrey is not the only state official who used the Navajo for official business. The seven-seat Navajo, purchased used from Arby corporation in 1979 for $190,000, carries all kinds of state employees — anyone who needs a bigger plane.

The state department owns a fleet of three planes — the Navajo, an ancient Cessna and the most popular, a four-seater 1978 Beach Duchess.

Kerrey's oxygen mask joke aside, the state will have to get a new plane or make do with only two planes, Auer says. The geriatric Cessna, a 1967 model with over a million and a half miles, is used primarily by the state Roads Department to film project sites. It's safe but expensive to maintain, Auer said.

EVEN IF THE $1 million purchase is not approved, the old Cessna will be grounded and a hole cut in the Navajo for the Roads Department camera.

"We've got to buy a $25,000 airplane anyway, so why not buy a top-of-the-line and move the other planes down?" says gin playing Bare.

The airplane isn't Kerrey's only gift to his successor. Kerrey has built into his budget proposal for governor's office money for some other extras.

There's $45,000 in transition expenses for the new governor. That's $10,000 more than Kerrey had when he moved into the governor's suite of offices.

He's included $75,000 to start a state lobbying office in Washington D.C. or hire a representative to protect Nebraska interests from the federal bureaucrats and legislators.

And he'd like the state to join the Western Governor's Association for another $30,000 in annual dues.

Tragedy in space

At the same time Uranus was being photographed by NASA's satellite in the far reaches of outer space, a space tragedy occurs at home within the visions of those onlookers on earth.

By now, all Americans know of the tragic flight of the space shuttle Challenger and what happened to the seven crew members — through reruns and pictures of the fireball-like explosion that rocked the emotions of a gazing world.

President Reagan said it eloquently: "The future doesn't belong to the faint-hearted. It belongs to the brave."

He said the Challenger Crew was daring and brave and that they had that special grace and special spirit that says "Give me a challenge and I'll meet it with joy."

The space program will continue, with more shuttle flights and more shuttle crews, and yes more civilian volunteers. There will be more teachers in space. Christa McAuliffe was the first teacher to enter space. Upcoming will be a launch of the first journalist in space.

Some people will be remembering the day this shock in space happened, recalling what they were doing at the time the news reached them. It is compared to the day the entire nation had learned President John F. Kennedy had been shot and killed.

A son whose father is a teacher that had applied for the Challenger ride told a reporter that had his father been on the shuttle and killed, his father would have died for a good cause and now is not the time to stop the program.

The send-offs of the space shuttles have become almost a state of complacency among Americans. Sending people up into the space shuttle was quickly becoming an event that was commonplace. People took for granted that something this tragic could never have happened to a shuttle.

But it did. Clues to why the shuttle disintegrated is, at this point, speculation.

Indeed the faces of those who have perished in the space flight should be remembered as courageous pioneers who wanted so badly to become a part of the space program and its scientific endeavors.

They all are heroes indeed.

The incident also brings to mind the dangers involved in space projects and that the trips should not be taken for granted.

It is an ugly coincidence that the Challenger tragedy follows on the heels of the nation's worst years of air travel disaster.

Monday will be a day long remembered as a bleak day for NASA, America and the rest of the world.

Proposed bills liquor licenses are debated

This past week, the Legislature completed its twelfth official day of this session. The period for introducing new bills ended with a total of 520 added to the hold over legislation from last year. Simple corrective changes shouldn't take much time; however, there are a number of important ideas that will demand attention.

For the next few weeks the Legislature will have floor debate only in the mornings. Afternoons have been given over to legislative committees which hold hearings on bills within their specified subject areas. The committees consider each bill directed to them and make a determination whether to advance the bill to the floor for debate before the entire legislature or kill the measure. I currently sit on two of these standing committees, Judiciary and Miscellaneous Subjects.

Local authority to issue of liquor licenses dominated the work of the Miscellaneous Subjects Committee this past week. Four bills were heard last Thursday that would, in different ways, respond to the outcry from some communities that the Liquor Commission grants licenses over local objections.

Testimony stretched into the evening hours as the proponents and opponents presented their arguments on the bills. We decided to use LB 911, a bill which I co-sponsored, as a vehicle to resolve the problems expressed. The other bills were killed to clear the way so that floor debate can concentrate on one bill relating to the issue. Progress has been made, but work remains before all the concerns are addressed.

Proposals to repeal Initiative 300 and the death penalty will be two of the more controversial measures discussed this week. Initiative 300 is scheduled for debate Monday, January 27. I have filed a major amendment to that resolution in order to deal with serious problems, yet retain constitutional protection from corporate ownership. I expect to be very involved in a lively floor debate.

This next week I will be busy preparing testimony for the eight bills that I sponsored, providing support for other bills that I am co-sponsoring and re-researching issues that will be addressed during floor debate. I will also be meeting with constituents that come to Lincoln to share their views on various legislation that is being considered.

When I am in debate, committee hearing, or meetings, my staff will be happy to help you with questions or concerns. We can be reached by calling my office at 471-2716, or writing. Additionally, the Clerk of the Legislature provides a toll-free "hotline" for anyone wanting information on bills or requests for publications. The "hotline" number is 800-742-7464 and has an operator on duty between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. During non-working hours, the toll-free number may be called to have a tape recorded message of the next day's agenda.

Nebraska ETV focuses on special farm programs

The state of Nebraska's agriculture may be in its worst shape since the Depression. Many farmers are losing income, land, faith and, most of all, hope for a brighter future.

A month-long programming project on Nebraska ETV this February—including special public television programs and accompanying outreach efforts—pays heed to the special problems of Nebraska's farmers. This landmark project, dubbed AgReach '86, is being conducted jointly by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's Cooperative Extension Service and the Nebraska ETV Network with the advice and support of many other public and private agencies and agricultural groups.

AgReach '86 seeks to clarify the issues for farm and ranch families and others in rural communities as well as those indirectly affected by the state's agricultural economy. It will spotlight ways in which farm and ranch families are dealing positively with the present situation and planning for the future. The project will also identify many of the sources of assistance, both public and private, available for farm and ranch families.

The programs which are being specially produced for AgReach '86 include "The State of Nebraska's Agriculture," "Who's Minding the Farm?," "Failing Banks," "Coping With Change," "Agricultural Services and Assistance," and an "Agricultural Town Meeting." Interested groups and individuals are encouraged to videotape these programs for re-use after their original broadcast.

In addition, numerous other related programs are scheduled to air during February. In conjunction with the television component of AgReach '86 is an intensive campaign to reach out to Nebraskans to help them make positive decisions in their own lives. Small group discussions of the program are encouraged and a viewer packet of essays, questions for discussion and resources is available from AgReach '86, Box 83111, Lincoln, NE 68501, (402) 472-3611.

AgReach '86 programs airing during the first week of February are:

- "Blowing Up a Storm," a Nebraska ETV Network production airing Monday, February 3, at 8 p.m., tells the story of farm protest movements since the post-Civil War era and compares them with today's volatile farm situation.

"The State of Nebraska's Agriculture," produced especially for AgReach '86, airs Wednesday, February 5, 7 p.m., repeating Monday, February 24, 7 p.m. This 60-minute program seeks to pull into perspective the separate parts of the ag problem and sets the stage for the AgReach '86 emphasis this month. Included in the program will be conversations with state leaders, in government and agriculture—assessments of the reasons for the current situation, and their "educated guesses" on what the future holds.

And lives, pastimes and occupations of the inhabitants of Glencoe, a small, rural Minnesota community, whose residents are mostly farmers, are intimately captured by filmmaker Louis Malle in "God's Country," airing Friday, February 7, at 9 p.m. Despite their long work hours and the monetary risks involved in farming, most of the farmers involved in the program would choose no other life. "God's Country" is closed captioned.

Q. If a lawyer says he will take your case on a contingent fee, what percent of the amount you get must be paid to the lawyer?

A. There is no set percentage for contingent fee arrangements. They are negotiable between the lawyer and the client. This type of fee arrangement should be agreed upon by both parties at the beginning of the case, and it is recommended that the agreement be in writing to avoid misunderstandings later on. Depending upon the type of case involved, its complexity and amount of time which the lawyer believes may be required to see it to a successful conclusion, the contingent fee may range from 25 to 50 percent of the amount recovered, depending upon your agreement with the lawyer.

The lawyer receives no fee unless money is recovered for the client. However, in a contingent fee arrangement, the client must still pay for court costs such as filing fees and subpoena fees, and must also reimburse the lawyer for such out-of-pocket expenses as long distance phone calls, medical reports and depositions. These costs are assessed to the client regardless of the outcome of the case.

For a free pamphlet on Legal Fees, write to "Ask a Lawyer," P.O. Box 2529, Lincoln 68502.

The Wayne Herald, Thursday, January 30, 1986

MARILYN STROMAN, assistant area director with Region IV Services-Wayne, and Lanny Gleason, director of special services with the Region IV Central Office in Wayne, were recently chosen Employees of the Year from the Wayne program and

Stroman, Gleason honored Region IV selects Employees of Year

Marilyn Stroman, assistant area director with Region IV Services-Wayne, and Lanny Gleason, director of special services with the Region IV Central Office in Wayne, were honored last Thursday morning during a meeting of the Region IV Office of Developmental Disabilities Governing Board.

Stroman and Gleason were chosen as Employees of the Year from the Wayne program and Central Office by their co-workers.

They and six fellow Employees of the Year from the other Region IV offices received certificates of appreciation for their work.

STROMAN STARTED with Region IV Services in Wayne in 1976.

She began in the children's program where she worked for three years before becoming residential coordinator for all of the Wayne programs. She held that position up to six months ago when she assumed the duties of assistant area director.

Stroman has been a resident of Wayne for the past 12 years.

Gleason began as Region IV director of special services a year and a half ago. He and his wife Rhonda have two children, Christopher, age nine, and Ember, age seven.

Originally from Minnesota, the Gleasons have lived in Stanton for the last five years.

OTHERS RECOGNIZED for their outstanding work were Barb Friedrichsen, residential assistant with Region IV Services at Bloomfield; Jess Rojas, van driver with the Columbus program; Phyllis Hultquist, residential assistant from Lyons; Cathy Cornish, social service worker with the Norfolk program; Jeanie Miller, instructor at Region IV Services in O'Neill; and Brenda Twyford, residential assistant at South-St. Louis City.

Region IV Office of Developmental Disabilities is a 20-county agency which provides community based services to mentally retarded adults and children in northeast and north central Nebraska.

briefly speaking

Iverson Singers at Baptist Church

The Iverson Singers, a family musical group from Albion, will present a gospel concert at the First Baptist Church, 400 Main St., in Wayne on Sunday, Feb. 2.

The public is invited to attend the program at 4:30 p.m. Refreshments will follow in the church fellowship hall.

Workshop on food/drug interactions

Combining drugs with certain foods, alcohol and smoking can produce serious and sometimes fatal complications.

The Cooperative Extension Service is sponsoring a workshop on food and drug interactions, free to any community group representatives. It will be held Monday, Feb. 3 at 1:30 p.m. in the Villa-Wayne community room.

Reading the label on over-the-counter drugs, following doctor's orders, eating well-balanced meals, and asking how the drug may interact with your favorite foods are ways to prevent undesirable food-drug interactions, according to Mary Temme, Wayne County extension agent-home economics.

Temme added the workshop will cover this and more on the interactions of drugs with alcohol, smoking and the systems of the body. Sessions also will cover drug use, misuse and abuse.

Persons who would like more information on the lesson, entitled "Food and Drug Interactions," can contact the Cooperative Extension Service office at 375-3310.

Lunch 'N Learn in Laurel

A Lunch 'N Learn lesson on "Fabric Scrap Fun" will be presented Monday, Feb. 3 from 12:10 to 12:50 p.m. at the Corner Cafe in Laurel.

Participants will learn how to make a patchwork heart wreath, shadow applique, Easter egg patchwork, fragrance balls, appliqued towels, stenciled towel holder and more. The lesson will be led by Carol Schwarz, Cedar County extension agent-home economics.

Participants need not be a member of a home extension club. The lesson will be repeated on Tuesday, Feb. 4 at the Randolph Senior Citizens Center, and on Wednesday, Feb. 5 at Pop's Cafe in Harlington.

Soup supper planned at Wakefield

The Wakefield Firefighter's Auxiliary has scheduled a chili and potato soup supper in the fire hall meeting room on Sunday, Feb. 2.

Serving will be from 5 to 8 p.m., and cost is $3 for adults and $1.50 for children. Storm date is Sunday, Feb. 9.

54th anniversary celebrated

Class 9 of the Springbank Friends Church in Allen sponsored a party at the Wakefield Health Care Center last Sunday to honor the 54th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stark.

Attending were the couple's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Stark, Douglas and Kent, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Mathieson, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Osbahr, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Monty Lundahl, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Roberts, Ruth Roberts, Emma Kyes, Elsie Branner and Carmen Stewart.

Starks, who were married Jan. 30, 1932, were presented a plant from the class and many cards.

Former Hoskins woman marks 85th

Former Hoskins resident Mrs. Lydia Langenberg, a resident of Heritage Village Nursing Home in Tilden, was honored for her 85th birthday during a dinner for family and friends on Jan. 26 at the Country Inn in Norfolk.

An open house reception followed from 2 to 4 p.m. Hosting the event were Mrs. Langenberg's children, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Langenberg of Hoskins and Mr. and Mrs. Willard (Dawn) Ditter of Norfolk.

Program on Statue of Liberty

A program on the Statue of Liberty was presented by Marvel Corbit at the Jan. 27 meeting of Minerva Club. Eleven members and a guest, Arlene Ellermeier, attended the meeting in the home of Norma Koeber.

Next meeting will be Feb. 10 at Aunt Bea's Cafe.

Founders subject of program

Twenty-one members of Wayne PEO Chapter AZ met Jan. 21 with Anna Mae Wessel. Assisting the hostess were Kirk Swanson and Ruth Haun.

Pauline Nuernberger presented a program of the Founders. Marlynn Carhart will be the Feb. 4 hostess at 1 p.m.

LaPorte plans carry-in dinner

LaPorte Club will meet for a carry-in dinner at noon on Feb. 18 in the home of Alma Luschen.

Six club members and one guest, Esther Baker, attended a meeting Jan. 21 in the home of Elsie Thompson. Roll call was answered with a poem, and cards furnished entertainment.

At Wayne State College

Spiritual Emphasis Week planned

Spiritual Emphasis Week returns to the Wayne State College campus on Feb. 29 with a variety of events planned under the theme "He Lights Up Our Darkness."

Headlining the weeklong event will be presentations by Anne Marie Aita of Omaha and Rick Nielsen of Des Moines, as well as a video concert by recording artist Amy Grant and a special Sunday afternoon musical program.

ON SUNDAY, Feb. 2 students representing campus religious organizations will visit area churches to announce activities of the week and to call attention to the contributions these churches make to the spiritual life of the college community.

At 9 p.m., a devotional service will be held at Connett Chapel to kick-off events on campus.

Following the basketball game Tuesday night, the video "Age to Age" featuring gospel artist Amy Grant will be shown on a big screen at 10 p.m. in the snack bar area of the Student Center.

Cooperative Campus Ministry will provide refreshments.

"LIGHT AND Darkness: Your Choice" will be the subject of Anne Marie Aita's talk during a 7 a.m. prayer breakfast on Wednesday in the Nebraska Room.

Student Senate members and area clergy, together with college faculty, administration and staff are invited to attend the breakfast.

Alta also will conduct a workshop Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 in the Nebraska Room. The workshop will include a meditative slide presentation on the plight of the poor in Nicaragua. Refreshments will be provided by the Spanish Club and Nebraskans for Peace.

Aita will describe her own spiritual pilgrimage from atheism to faith in an address entitled "He is the Light of My Life" to be given Wednesday night at 8:30 in Ramsey Theatre.

A reception in her honor will be held in the foyer of the theatre following the program.

RICK NIELSEN will lead a workshop entitled "Life is What You Make It" on Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in the Nebraska Room at the Student Center.

He also will present a program, "Championship Lifestyle," in Ley Theatre at 7:30 p.m. Thursday night.

Nielsen, former director of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes for the State of Iowa, is a versatile performer combining the talents of a magician, singer-guitarist, juggler and humorist.

THE WEEK WILL conclude on Sunday, Feb. 9 with a special vocal music concert at 3 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre.

Special programs open to public

Two guests appearing at Wayne State College during Spiritual Emphasis Week, Feb. 2-9, are no strangers to the college campus.

Anne Marie Aita, chaplain at Bergan Mercy Care Center in Omaha, has been a frequent guest at freshmen orientation at Wayne State. For several years she has led the freshmen in a variety of games and mixer activities at Rice Auditorium and also delivered the weekend keynote address.

She will be speaking Wednesday, Feb. 5 at 8:30 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre located in the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center.

RICK NIELSEN, former Iowa director of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, has presented a variety of programs to high school, college, and professional sports enthusiasts across the country.

In addition to public speaking, Nielsen is a versatile performer combining the talents of magician, singer-guitarist, juggler and humorist.

Nielsen is a graduate of the University of Northern Iowa where he participated in football and basketball. He now resides with his family in Des Moines.

"Championship Lifestyle" is the title of his presentation scheduled Thursday, Feb. 6 at 7:30 p.m. in Ley Theatre located in the Brandenburg Education Building.

SPIRITUAL EMPHASIS Week programs are open to the public. There is no admission charge.

Special activities scheduled for Catholic Schools Week

"A Rainbow of Excellence" has been chosen as this year's theme for Catholic Schools Week, a national celebration of the role that Catholic primary and secondary schools across the country play in providing a well-rounded education for America's youth.

Joining in the observance on Feb. 2-7 will be St. Mary's School in Wayne.

ACTIVITIES AT St. Mary's will kick off this Sunday with a parish mass at 10 a.m., followed with coffee and rolls. Monday is "Rainbow Dress-Up Day," and on Tuesday there will be a door decorating contest using a rainbow theme.

Kindergartners of St. Mary's will work with cookie cut-outs on Wednesday morning, and in the afternoon all of the students will participate in a variety of mini-classes, including microwave cooking for kids, aerobics, glass etching, German, cheerleading, Tae-Kwon-Do, paper folding art, calligraphy, cookie decorating, and computer graphics.

Activities on Thursday will include two special movies for the students — "Damien" and "The Giving Tree."

On Friday, the final day of the celebration, St. Mary's School will host the weekly Wayne Chamber of Commerce coffee at 10 a.m.

There will be an all-school mass at 11:30 a.m., followed with a special lunch for students, parents, teachers and friends of the school at noon.

At 1:30 p.m., students will enjoy a bowling field trip.

Catholic Schools Week also will include a special drawing of "rainbow prizes" for students of St. Mary's.

$350 per family. Tuition is double for non-parishioners.

Students are offered a general education along with physical education, music and computer.

Several students of the school recently became involved in an adopt-a-grandparent-program in cooperation with Wayne Care Centre.

In addition, students are involved in Tiger, Daisy, Cub, Boy and Girl Scouts, take part in local recreational sports programs, and participate in 4-H activities along with Junior Fire Patrol and Junior Police Patrol.

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS Week, which began in 1973, is designed to promote community awareness and involvement in Catholic schools throughout the country.

The philosophy of St. Mary's School in Wayne, as taken from the student handbook, states that "St. Mary's School exists in order to create a Catholic educational community where human knowledge, enlightened and enlivened by faith, is shared by teachers, students, parents and the parish community."

"Therefore, the school endeavors to develop the mental, the emotional, the social, the physical, and most important of all, the spiritual life of each individual."

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS A RAINBOW OF EXCELLENCE

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL opened its doors in Wayne in the fall of 1953. There are presently 48 students enrolled in grades kindergarten through six, with three full-time teachers and two part-time teachers.

Serving as principal of St. Mary's is Patricia Ruther, who also teaches grades five and six. Other teachers are Sister Catherine Schillmeyer, grades three and four; Ellen Imdieke, grades one and two; Terrie Bowder, kindergarten; Deb Daehnke, physical education; and Connie Webber, volunteer music director.

ST. MARY'S is open to all youngsters regardless of race, creed, etc.

Tuition is $62.50 for kindergartners and $125 for grades one through six, with a maximum of

Mr. and Mrs. John Post

Former residents to be honored for 40th

Former Wayne residents Mr. and Mrs. John Post, Rt. 7, Columbus, will be honored on their 40th wedding anniversary.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend an open house reception on Sunday, Feb. 9 from 2 to 4 p.m. at Johnny's Steakhouse located on Highway 30 east of Columbus. No other invitations are being issued, and the couple requests no gifts.

Posts were married at the Presbyterian Church in Wayne on Feb. 10, 1946, with the Rev. Oliver B. Proett officiating.

Entries being accepted for beef cook-off

Residents of Nebraska are being invited to enter the 1986 Nebraska Beef Cook-Off. Deadline for entries is April 1.

Persons interested in entering the contest are asked to send a typed copy of their favorite beef recipe (using only chuck, round, rump, fresh brisket, plate, shank or ground beef) to Nebraska Beef Cook-Off, HC 63, Box 34, Moorefield, Neb., 69039.

Entries must include a name, address, phone number, and brief statement about the origin of the recipe.

REGIONAL WINNERS will compete at the Nebraska Beef Cook-Off on June 12 at the North Platte Holiday.

The first place winner will receive $250 and represent Nebraska at the National Beef Cook-Off on Sept. 14-16 in Dearborn, Mich., sponsored by the American National CowBelles in cooperation with the Beef Industry Council of the Meat Board.

All recipes must contain a minimum of one pound of beef and not more than five, and each serving must contain at least three ounces of cooked beef. Meat used must be exclusively beef.

Cooking time cannot exceed four hours. The recipe must be specific with no use of brand names, and must state the number of servings and approximate preparation time.

All entries become the property of the American National CowBelles, Inc.

CONTESTANTS must be 18 years of age or older, with non-professional food status. Any person who has owned one or more head of beef or dairy cattle (or who lives in a household where any person has owned cattle) in the 12 months preceding Oct. 1, 1985 is ineligible.

CowBelles or employees of state beef councils or the National Livestock and Meat Board also are ineligible.

Recipes are judged according to taste, ease of preparation and practicality, originality and appearance.

Secretaries are big help, eight make all-area team

During the course of the day, it's not at all uncommon for me to call an area school several times within an hour. And the first person I usually talk to when I make these calls is the school's secretary.

And you don't know if I'm just lucky or what, but a guy couldn't ask for a nicer bunch of cooperative people to work with.

As I mentioned before, it's not at all strange for me to bug the area secretaries. And fortunately, these ladies never complain and always come through with the information I ask them.

During the year, the Wayne Herald sports department selects several all-area teams. And this year another squad will be added to the list.

Because of all the assistance provided by eight school secretaries in the area, I've decided to name a Wayne Herald All-Area Secretary Team.

Initially I was going to select two teams, but since each school is represented with an ace secretary, naming half the selections to a second team or an honorable mention squad would only be an injustice.

The main qualities I was looking for when I put together my all-star team was how cooperative and how consistent the secretaries were. And it's difficult to imagine a better group of high school and junior high school secretaries in the state that are consistently more cooperative than these selections.

JEAN GAHL (Winside) — Jean is, perhaps, the friendliest secretary in the area. Whenever you call her and ask for her assistance, she's always willing to help regardless of how busy she might be.

DARLENE FAHRENHOLZ (Allan) — Allan's coaches probably have the highest percentage of returned phone calls to the Wayne Herald than any other coaches in the area, and it's because of Darlene. She's very efficient.

CONNIE UTECHT (Wickoffield) — Many times when I call to Wakefield about a Trojan player or squad, a coach isn't even needed because Connie already knows what I need. That insight makes her one of the top selections.

KAREN GRANQUIST — Each editor at the Herald uses Thursday to drive through different parts of the area and see what's happening. Laurel is my designated territory, and Karen always keeps me clued into what's going on in "Bear Country."

DORIS DANIELS, ANNETTE BASMUSSEN (Wayne High School) — This could be the best secretary trio in the state. When I call Wayne High, I very seldom have to leave a message because one of these three either know what I want or hunt down a coach while I wait. They're all three very good at what they do.

DIANE CREAMER (Wayne Junior High) — Bob Uhing and Marlene Uhing, Wayne's boys and girls respective basketball coaches, both teach at the middle school in Wayne. And Diane does an excellent job of keeping the touch with them. Wayne sports is usually the lead story on the Herald's sports pages, and I'd be lost without Diane's help.

Wayne wins sixth of last seven

Defense boosts Blue Devils past Pender, 37-27

This week might be one of the toughest of the 1985-86 season for Wayne's girls. Tuesday night the Blue Devils played host to Pender and Thursday Hartington Cedar Catholic travels to town. But Wayne assured itself of at least a split by downing the Pendragons 37-27.

Pender entered the game with a hefty 9-3 mark. But a hawking Blue Devil defense and Kecia Corbit's impressive board work carried Wayne to the triumph.

The Blue Devils held Pender to just eight field goals in 45 attempts. And according to head coach Marlene Uhing, Wayne did an effective job of shutting down Pender's main offensive threats.

"After the first quarter, we did a good job of shutting down Hollie Miller and Jill Martin. Miller's their leading scorer and Martin hit a couple of quick shots from the baseline, but then we closed them off," Uhing said.

Wayne tallied eight points in each of the first three quarters before totaling 13 in the final frame.

The Blue Devil strategy was to free their outside shooters in the last stanza. After bringing the ball up court, the point guard would penetrate without the ball to the opposite side she passed to.

The off guard would then lob high passes over Pender's 1-3-1 zone defense to the open guard and after receiving the pass, she would either shoot or hit an open teammate on the inside.

Jodi Ditman was Wayne's mainstay from the outside in the final frame. Ditman, known mainly for her defensive ability, tallied 10 points in the game, most of which came in the last quarter.

Corbit led the Blue Devils in scoring with 16 points on six field goals and 4-for-5 free throw shooting. But her biggest contribution was her rebounding as the 5-11 junior speared 16 boards on the night.

"We outrebounded them 40-28, and Kecia had the most rebounds by far," Uhing said.

After opening the one point advantage in the first period, Wayne increased its lead to five, 16-11, at the half.

Pender closed the gap to two, 24-22, early in the third quarter and the game remained close until the final few minutes of the contest when the Blue Devils exploded and eventually outscored the Pendragons 13-5 in the period.

Joni Martin led Pender in scoring with 10 points, while Miller totaled eight markers. Dana Nelson and Laura Keating tallied four points apiece for Wayne, while Shelly Pick closed out the Blue Devil scoring with three markers.

The Blue Devils finished 14-for-49 from the floor and 9-for-15 from the line. Pender canned half of its 22 giffers.

Keating led Wayne with four steals. Nelson and Leslie Keating both dished out three assists for the winners.

Wayne junior varsity claimed a 25-21 triumph. Andrea Marsh led the Blue Devils in scoring with eight points. Robin Luth and Jennifer Wessel led Wayne's JVs in rebounding with six boards apiece.

The win improved Wayne's record to 7-4 on the year. Tuesday's victory was the Blue Devils' fourth in a row and sixth in their last seven games.

Hartington Cedar Catholic has lost just two games this year. The Lady Trojans fell to Sioux City East and Tuesday night, dropped a 52-46 decision to Battle Creek.

Blue Devil grapplers peak at West Point dual

WEST POINT — Wayne's grapplers peaked at a dual here Tuesday night as the Blue Devils dropped a close 36-34 decision to powerful West Point.

Wayne entered the dual with a 2-5 dual mark, while the Cadets sported an impressive 6-2 record. But the better record didn't intimidate Wayne, however, as the Blue Devils opened a 24-18 lead after Mark Janke and Robbie Gamble claimed pins at the 132 and 138-pound weight slots, respectively.

Jamie Fredrickson then increased Wayne's lead after claiming a 10-0 victory at the 145-pound slot.

The Blue Devils lead was short-lived, however, as the next three Wayne grapplers were pinned and West Point pulled ahead 36-28.

Steve Cowgill, Wayne's heavyweight, rounded out the match's scoring by capturing a forfeit to make the final score 36-34, West Point.

Prior to Janke's pin, Wayne's Chris Corbit and Corey Frye also claimed pins at the 112 and 119-pound weight brackets. The two pins offset two Blue Devil forfeits at 98 and 105-pounds.

Corbit's victory was, perhaps, the most inspiring for the Blue Devils. Despite trailing 12-2, the 112-pounder pulled out a pin and started Wayne's comeback.

Corbit's effort drew praise from head coach John Murtaugh.

"Chris' match was a good example of why you should never quit," the Blue Devil skipper said. "He was getting beat 12-2, but hung in there and ended up winning."

Murtaugh also praised several other Blue Devil grapplers.

Murtaugh added that he was pleased with his squad's effort, and said he hopes his grapplers believe in themselves now.

"This was the best team performance we've had this year. They (the Cadets) were heavily favored, but we just got after them and nearly pulled off a win," he said. "I'm never pleased with a loss, but this match was definitely encouraging because of the way the kids performed. I know we have the potential to have a good team, and now maybe the rest of the team does, too."

Wayne claimed three victories in the junior varsity match. Chad Frey pinned his opponent at the 119-pound slot, while Jason Cote captured two victories at 145 pounds. Both of Cole's victories were pins.

The Blue Devils wrestle again Saturday, Feb. 1, at the Albion Invitational. Wayne then closes out the regular season Tuesday, Feb. 4, when Columbus Lakeview travels to town for a dual. The Lakeview dual is parent's night.

Willoughby sparks Wayne State

Wildcats rally past Chadron State

CHADRON — Wayne State's Calvin Willoughby scored the game's final three points and rallied the Wildcats to a come-from-behind 53-51 victory over Chadron State here Tuesday night.

Wayne State trailed 51-50, but Willoughby supplied the Wildcats with a one point advantage with a jumper at the :40 mark.

Chadron then missed a shot on its next possession and Willoughby was fouled. He canned the first gifter to make the score 53-51, and was called for a 10 second violation on his second attempt. A player has 10 seconds to shoot each free throw.

But the violation didn't hurt Wayne State as Chadron missed its game tying attempt and the Wildcats hung on for the victory.

Wayne State trailed 21-20 at the half and by as many as seven points with eight minutes remaining.

The main factor in the Wildcats' slow start was shooting. Wayne State canned just 9-of-27 field goals in the first half, but made 14-of-27 fielders in the last half and finished 23-for-54 for 42 percent. The Wildcats went 7-for-15 from the line.

Vincent White played another solid all-around game for Wayne State, finishing with 16 points, three steals and four assists. Mike McNamara also dished out four assists for the Wildcats.

Russ Rosenquist and Willoughby followed White with 10 points apiece. Wayne State outrebounded the hosts 33-31. Keith Berg and Willoughby led the Wildcats with eight and five boards, respectively.

The victory improved Wayne State's record to 7-12 overall and 1-3 in the Nebraska Athletic Conference. Chadron State is now 8-11 on the year.

Aggers inks 7-footer

Three new basketball recruits have joined the Wayne State College men's basketball team, according to head coach Steve Aggers.

Bryon Haas, a 7-0 sophomore center, comes to Wayne State from Marshall University. Haas also played a year at Southeast Community College in Fairbury, Neb., and at the University of Utah.

Haas is a 1983 graduate of Lincoln High School where he was all-city, honorable mention all-state and a member of the Nebraska All-Star team. Haas averaged 17 points and 11 rebounds per game while in high school.

Daniel Gallagher, a 5-11 sophomore guard, played last year for Aggers at the College of Great Falls in Great Falls, Mont. He spent this past semester at the University of Colorado.

Gallagher is a native of Boulder, Colo., and a graduate of Boulder High School. He averaged 15 points per game and shot 50 percent from the field while in high school.

Robert Grinter, a 6-4 junior forward, averaged 10 points and three assists at Frank Phillips College in Borger, Texas. A native of Louisville, Ky., Grinter is a graduate of Waggener High School in Louisville.

Wildcats place fourth at Oakland-Craig

Winside claims four championships

OAKLAND — Four Wildcats claimed championships and Winside placed fourth at the Oakland-Craig Wrestling Invitational here Saturday.

Howells won the 10 team invite with 132 1/2 points. Northeast placed second with 113 1/2 markers, while Oakland-Craig and Winside rounded out the top four with 107 1/2 and 106 points, respectively.

Mace Kant, Doug Paulsen, Chris Olson and Randy Leapley all claimed titles for the Wildcats. And two of the four Winside champions avenged earlier season losses during the tourney.

Paulsen pinned all three of his 105-pound opponents, including Bernie Howard of Scribner. Paulsen dropped a 17-14 decision to Howard at the Battle Creek Invitational last week, but dominated him in Saturday's semifinals.

Paulsen then downed Tom Gatzmeyer in the title bout. Gatzmeyer is ranked No. 2 in Class C.

Randy Leapley, one of the hottest wrestlers in the area, captured the 155-pound division with two pins and a 14-2 triumph over Matt Stahl of Battle Creek. Stahl beat Leapley in overtime at the Winside Invitational on Jan. 11.

In the last three tournaments and two duals, Leapley is 11-3 and has improved his overall record to 18-9.

Emerson surge downs Laurel

RANDOLPH — "Let me tell you, they're one good ball club."

Those were the words of Laurel head coach Gale Hamilton after his squad dropped a 53-28 decision to Randolph here Tuesday night.

The game was evenly played until Randolph erupted in the second quarter.

After opening a 13-10 advantage early in the second stanza, the Cardinals increased their lead to six midway through the second frame.

Randolph then stole the ball three straight times and opened a 12 point lead. Hamilton said his club never rebounded from that outburst.

"It was a pretty good game until they hit those six straight points and opened a 12 point lead. After that, they controlled the rest of the game," he said.

Randolph owned a 27-15 lead at the half and a 42-20 advantage after three quarters. The Cards then outscored

Laurel 11-8 in the last stanza to round out the game's scoring.

Michelle Joslin led Laurel in scoring with eight points, while Gail Twiford and Sara Adkins added seven and six markers to the Bear cause.

Randolph had a balanced scoring attack. Jodi Scott led the Cards with 15 points, while Marci Moser and Kristia Borst totaled 12 and 11 points, respectively.

Randolph's balanced scoring was a key to the win, according to Hamilton.

"They just had too much fire power," Hamilton said. "Three girls scored in double figures and they had a lot of other players score, too."

The Bears grabbed 32 rebounds on the night. Twiford and Becky Christensen led Laurel with 12 and eight boards, respectively.

Adkins dished out a team high four assists for the Bears. Laurel finished with 11 team assists.

The Bears' canned just 12-of-59 field goals for 20 percent and made 4-of-9 free throws. Randolph drilled 23 fielders and made half of its 14 giffers.

Randolph also won the junior varsity game, 48-15. Donna Herrmann and Debbie Roeder led the Bears' JVs with six points apiece.

Laurel's varsity is now 4-7 on the year. The Bears play again Thursday when Wakefield travels to town.

Wayne State drops another thriller

CHADRON — Wayne State lost its second straight close game as the Wildcats fell to Chadron State, 75-74 here Tuesday night.

The Lady Wildcats seemed to be in control in the second half as they held a comfortable 65-56 advantage with nine minutes remaining. However, Chadron State rallied back and trailed 74-71 with 90 seconds to go.

Chadron State's Sandi Pagel then hit a layup to make the score 74-73 and followed with another inside shot at the :09 mark to make the final score 75-74.

Pagel's game-winner came off an offensive rebound. It was only Chadron State's fifth offensive rebound of the contest.

Both teams played below average as the contest was hampered with 59 turnovers. Wayne State finished with a season high 31 miscues, while Chadron State totaled 28.

The Lady Wildcats finished 30-for-58 from the field and 14-for-22 from the line. Chadron State canned 35-of-62 fielders and 5-of-9 free throws.

Shelle Tomaszkiwicz led Wayne State in scoring and rebounding with 23 points and 10 boards.

Wayne State outrebounded the hosts 39-27. Shari Krohn added nine boards to the Lady Wildcat cause.

Deb Nygren and Linda Schnitzler followed Tomaszkiwicz in scoring with 14 and 13 points, respectively.

Michelle Blomberg and Schnitzler led Wayne State with five and four assists, respectively.

The loss dropped Wayne State to 3-14 overall and 2-3 in the Nebraska Athletic Conference. Chadron State is now 6-11 overall and 1-4 in the league.

Allen has fun in 59-28 win

ALLEN — Allen head coach Gary Troth said he thought his girls might be able to try a few different things and have a little more fun than usual against Coleridge, and have fun is exactly what the Eagles did as they trounced the Chargers 59-28 here Tuesday night.

"Lately we've had to play very patiently and with a lot of discipline," Troth said. "But against Coleridge, I wanted to open things up a little more and let the girls have a little fun."

Allen only led 7-4 midway through the first quarter but outscored Coleridge 7-1 the rest of the way for a 14-4 advantage.

The Eagles then owned a 24-10 lead at the half and a 38-16 lead after three stanzas.

Allen's most productive quarter of the night was the fourth period as the Eagles scored 21 markers and held Coleridge to 12.

Denise Magnuson and Kristi Chase led Allen in scoring with 14 and 13 points respectively, while Kris Blohm added eight markers to the win. Allen's press and fastbreak were the keys to the blowout, and Troth said he was also pleased with his club's ball movement and shot selection.

"I thought we took good shots," he said. "And we moved the ball pretty well, too."

Allen canned 23-of-59 field goals and 13-of-29 free throws. Coleridge finished 10-for-37 from the field and hit 8-of-20 giffers.

The Eagles owned a 29-18 rebounding advantage. Blohm and Magnuson led Allen with six and five boards, respectively.

Barb Hansen led the Eagles in assists with three, while Denise and Diane Magnuson both totaled three steals to lead Allen.

The Eagles' junior varsity claimed a 33-25 victory. Nikki Olesen led Allen's JVs in scoring with 10 points.

The victory improved Allen's varsity play to 7-4 on the year. The Eagles play again at Emerson Thursday. Thursday's battle will probably be for second place in the Lewis and Clark Conference, according to Troth.

"Walhill pretty much has the conference title," he said. "But the Emerson game is a big one for us because it's for second place."

Allen then plays at Ponca on Saturday in the opening round of the Lewis and Clark Conference Basketball Tournament. The Eagles have split with Ponca in two games so far this season.

Lady Wildcats fall in overtime

Pittsburg State trims WSC

If you like exciting, action-packed basketball, Rice Auditorium was the place to be Saturday night.

The Wayne State Lady Wildcats rallied in the second half to force an overtime before losing 91-90 to Pittsburg State. And Wayne State's men dropped a heart-breaking 63-61 decision later that night to the Gorillas.

In the opener, Pittsburg State appeared to have the game under control with a 72-63 lead and only 7:02 remaining in regulation.

But the Lady Wildcats hustled their way back into the game and with impressive offensive rebounding, tied the game at 74 with 3:50 to go.

A Shelle Tomaszkiwicz bucket at the 2:20 mark gave Wayne State its first lead since a Deb Nygren hoop with 4:10 remaining in the first half supplied the hosts with a 34-32 advantage.

But Pittsburg State pulled ahead 83-82 on a Karen Colegrove fielder with 1:15 to go. Nygren tied the game back up at 83 with a free throw at the :33 mark and the game advanced into overtime.

Pittsburg State led during the first 90 seconds of overtime, but the Nygren bucket put the Lady Wildcats on top, 88-87, with 3:02 remaining.

Another Nygren hoop supplied the hosts with a 90-87 advantage at the 2:28 mark, but the Gorillas outscored Wayne State 4-0 down the stretch for the triumph.

The two biggest differences in the game were field goal shooting and rebounding. Although Wayne State made just 38 percent of its shots and Pittsburg State canned 48 percent, the score stayed close because the Lady Wildcats totaled 58 rebounds, compared to the Gorillas' 37.

Nygren and Linda Schnitzler led Wayne State in scoring with 25 and 24 points, respectively. Tomaszkiwicz and Kris Smith added 17 and 10 points, respectively, to the Lady Wildcat cause.

Six Pittsburg State cagers reached double figures in the game. Darlene Champ led the Gorillas with 21 points, while Colegrove tallied 17 markers, and Shari Waters and Carla Caputo both finished with 14. Terry Barto and LaTonya McGee added 12 and 11 points, respectively.

Tomaszkiwicz led Wayne State with 13 rebounds, while Smith and Schnitzler totaled 12 and 11 boards, respectively, for the Lady Wildcats.

Michelle Blomberg, last week's District 11 player of the week, dished out 12 assists and totaled three steals for the hosts. Both were team highs.

The loss dropped the Lady Wildcats to 2-11 on the year. Wayne State played at Chadron State Tuesday night and hosts Washburn Friday night.

Poor first half sinks Wildcats

Wausa downs Wildcats, 61-46

WAUSA — Winside's girls struggled in the first half and as a result, dropped a 61-46 decision to Wausa here Friday night.

The Wildcats tallied just 13 points in the first two quarters and trailed by 20, 33-13, at the half.

Jill Stenwall, Winside's head coach, said there were several factors that affected her club in the first half.

"We only took 18 shots in the first half, and we passed up some shots we should've taken," she said. "We also turned the ball over too much, and Wausa's height gave us some trouble offensively."

The Wildcats snapped out of its offensive problems in the last half by scoring 12 points in the third frame and 21 markers in the last quarter.

The final eight-minute session was one of the best periods of the season, according to Stenwall.

"That was one of the best quarters we've had this year on offense," she said. "Kerri Leighton hit three long shots, and Tracy Topp and Julie Brockman did a good job on the inside and we ended up scoring 21 points."

Brockman led the Wildcats in scoring with 12 points, while Kay Meierhenry and Leighton followed with nine and eight, respectively.

Wausa's Lori Anderson claimed the game's scoring honors with 16 points. Winside held 6-1 Sandi Fink to seven points, but Stenwall said Fink still made her presence felt.

"We thought she'd score a lot, but we did a good job of holding her down," the Wildcat mentor said. "But she finished with a lot of rebounds and bothered our offense."

Wausa outrebounded the Wildcats 47-32. Topp grabbed a team high nine boards for the visitors.

Kristy Miller, who finished with seven points for Winside, led the Wildcats in assists with five.

Winside totaled 19 turnovers in the game. The Wildcats canned 21-of-49 field goals and 4-of-9 free throws.

Wausa finished with 15 turnovers, went 24-for-54 from the floor and made half of its 26 free throws.

The loss dropped the Wildcats to 3-9 on the year. Winside's next game is Tuesday when Osmond travels to town.

Strong Walthill finish sinks Allen

WALTHILL — Walthill used a strong finish to down Allen's girls, 43-32 here Friday night.

Both teams played evenly and Walthill held a four point advantage with just under four minutes remaining. However, the Bluejays used a late flurry to claim the nine point triumph.

Allen head coach Gary Troth said a defensive gamble led to Walthill's strong finish.

"We've played a man-to-man defense all year, but we got behind late in the game so we went to a match-up zone to see if we could get something going," he said. "But a couple of girls missed their assignments and (Deb) Henges got free for three easy baskets and we fell behind by 10."

Henges finished with a game high 24 points for the Bluejays. Lana Erwin led Allen with nine points, while Kris Blohm tallied six markers for the Eagles.

In addition to its strong finish, Walthill also had a productive second quarter that figured heavily into the win.

Allen opened an 11-8 lead, but the Eagles were outscored 16-9 in the second stanza and trailed 26-20 at intermission.

Both teams tallied six points in the third frame before Walthill's strong finish lifted the Bluejays to the triumph.

Allen made 14-of-40 shots from the floor and went 4-for-8 from the line. Walthill finished with 18 fielders to go along with its 5-of-8 performance from the stripe.

"Both teams played good ball," Troth said. "Both teams worked the ball around well and we shot pretty good until the final few minutes."

Walthill outrebounded Allen 26-24. Blohm led the Eagles with nine boards.

The loss dropped the Eagles to 6-4

Wayne State magic runs out

Pittsburg State nips Wildcats 63-61

The Wayne State magic ran out Saturday night.

Friday night, the Wildcats upset 12th ranked Missouri Southern 71-70 when Mike McNamara hit layup with five seconds remaining. And although Wayne State made a run at Pittsburg State in the second half Saturday night, the Gorillas prevailed, 63-61.

The game was close throughout the first 25 minutes, but Pittsburg State gradually pulled away in the second half and opened its biggest lead of the contest, 48-35, on a Mike Adams field goal from the baseline with 11:28 remaining.

But Wayne State battled back in a hurry. An Arnie Hayes bucket cut the gorilla lead to seven with 8:51 to go, and Vincent White followed with a steal and a basket just 17 seconds later.

White was fouled on the play, and a Pittsburg State player was whistled for a technical foul for slapping the glass. White made the foul shot, Russ Rosenquist canned the technical gifter and Markus Wilson hit a jumper on the ensuing possession to make the score 48-47, Pittsburg State.

The Gorillas held a slight lead the rest of the way until Wildcat Mark Gracy drilled a pair of gifters to supply Wayne State with a 57-56 advantage at the 1:53 mark.

Adams followed with a bucket for Pittsburg State and a Russell Partridge hoop gave the Gorillas a 60-57 advantage.

Calvin Willoughby's fade away jumper with 26 seconds remaining sliced the lead to one, but Jeff Gulot nailed a free throw and Adams added two more gifters to claim the victory.

White closed out the game's scoring with a layup at the :01 mark.

Statistically, the game was evenly played although Pittsburg State did make 19-of-22 free throws for 86 percent, while the Wildcats hit 11-of-15 gifters for 73 percent.

Gulot claimed the game's scoring honors with 21 points, while Adams and Partridge added 14 and 10, respectively.

Willoughby led Wayne State with 16 markers, Rosenquist and White tallied 13 and 12 points, respectively, for the Wildcats.

Wayne State's first hoop-of-the game was a Rosenquist slam dunk.

The Wildcats outrebounded Pittsburg State 31-27. Wilson and White led Wayne State with seven and six boards, respectively.

White played a solid floor game for the Wildcats dishing out six assists and totaling three steals. Both were team highs.

The loss dropped the Wildcats to 6-12 on the year. Wayne State played Chadron State Tuesday night and plays again Friday when Washburn invades Rice Auditorium.

WAYNE STATE'S Calvin Willoughby (No. 33) has a shot goal tended against Pittsburg State. The play was ruled as a clean block, however.

Trojans shoot just 31 percent

Wakefield has off night in 47-43 loss

WAKEFIELD — An off night of shooting cost Wakefield's boys a 47-43 loss to Ponca here Monday night.

Wakefield shot just 31 percent from the floor, hitting only 14-of-45 field goals. Ponca, on the other hand, canned 16-of-34 fielders for 47 percent.

"That was the difference in the game," Wakefield head coach Paul Eaton said. "If we shoot just a little better, we win."

Wakefield jumped out to a 13-10 lead after the first quarter and held a 21-19 advantage at intermission.

Ponca started its comeback in the second half, however, and outscored the Trojans 13-10 in the third stanza for a 32-31 lead.

The Indians increased their lead to five late in the fourth quarter, but Wakefield came back and cut the lead to one. However, the Indians pulled out the four point triumph.

Each team had off nights from the line as the Indians and Trojans both finished 15-for-28 for 53 percent.

Wade Nicholson and Jeff Rose led Wakefield in scoring with 12 points apiece. Kevin Greve added nine markers to the Trojan cause.

Ponca's Brian Willenstein claimed the game's scoring honors with 20 markers. Eaton said Willenstein's biggest asset is his quickness.

"He has a good shot, but his quickness hurt us," Eaton said. "He did a lot of back doors against us. We knew he was quick, but he still managed to get open for about four or five back door layups."

Wakefield outrebounded the Indians 34-28. Rose led the Trojans with 12 boards, while Greve and Nicholson both totaled seven caroms.

Eaton said Rose played one of his better games of the season.

"Jeff really had a good game," the Trojan mentor said. "He scored 12 points, did a good job on the boards and really worked hard on defense."

Wakefield's junior varsity claimed a thrilling 32-30 victory over Ponca. Scott Lund led the Trojans with 11 points.

Wakefield's varsity slipped to 5-8 on the year. The Trojans play again Friday at Laurel. Wakefield then plays Wausa in the opening round of the Lewis and Clark Conference Basketball Tournament Monday, Feb. 3.

Eaton said his club will have to play well in both games in order to win.

"Laurel is coming on after a slow start," he said. "And Wausa was seeded only one spot ahead of us, but they might be the best team we've played so far this year so we'll have to be ready to play."

Dickey selected Laurel top citizen

Roy Dickey, age 75, of Laurel was chosen on Saturday, Jan. 25 as the Laurel Citizen of the Year.

The selection was made during the Chamber of Commerce annual meeting at the Wagon Wheel Steak House in Laurel.

Dickey moved to Laurel in 1945 and has participated in several community organizations. He was a past member of the Laurel School Board and current is a member of the Lion's Club, the Chamber of Commerce and Cedar County Livestock Feeders. He and his wife, Frances, are members of the Laurel United Methodist Church and he has held offices in the church in previous years.

He farmed near Laurel many years until his retirement. Awards received by Dickey include the Extension Service 4-H Leader (1959-1960), Nebraska State Dairymen's Association Production Certification in 1957 and the 5 Year Dairy Production Trophy in 1954-58.

Also, he received the United States Department of Agriculture Animal Disease Eradication Certificates (1957-58); 1970 Soil Conservation Award Winner of Cedar County; and is Dekalb-Pfizer Seed Corn Salesman in his retirement years.

Some of the community projects he has helped with include selling shares to begin Laurel's first milk co-op (with Gunnar Swanson), presently the AMP. As a member of the Laurel Investment Club, Roy helped with the beginnings of the Laurel community bowling alley and golf course.

Roy Dickey

Some of the commendations from others about Roy were: "He is always willing to help others. He can be seen at local pancake feeds, church bazaars, helping at the Laurel barbecue, raising funds for the new swimming pool and others. "He has faith in his church, his community and his personal endeavors."

His hobbies include golf, fishing, playing pool at the Senior Citizen Center, antiques and old machinery. He has a 1930 Chevy he drives in parades.

"His family is very important to him and he can always find time to take his grandchildren fishing," said one of the written commendations.

parking tickets. I feel that the economy has had a lot to do with the decrease in parking tickets," reported Fairchild. "People seem to be more aware of spending $2 for that ticket," he said.

A TOTAL 1,441 parking tickets were issued in 1985, compared to 2,116 issued in 1984. Sixty-one percent of the 1985 parking tickets were distributed for the "no parking mid-night to 5 a.m." violation.

A total of 835 traffic warnings were issued in 1985 compared to 601 the previous year. The most common warning issued went to speeding (580). There was also miscellaneous warnings issued for failure to license dog (26); failure to remove snow from sidewalks (8); dog at large (2); and one barking dog.

Of the 449 violation cards from 1985 issued on vehicles (381, the previous year), 147 went toward no headlights while another 111 was attributed to no operators license.

Of the total arrests, there were 221 for speeding; 37 for failure to dispose of parking ticket; 33 for minor in possession; 20 for no valid registration; 16 for no operators license; 15 for theft; 14 for traffic signal violation; 14 for warrants; 12 for stop sign violations; 12 for dog at large; nine for consuming alcohol on public way; six for DWI; six for procuring for a minor; six for disturbing the peace; five for illegal u-turn; five for burglary; four for negligent driving; three each for driving under suspension and reckless driving; two for littering; and one each for criminal mischief, improper use of school permit; driving on sidewalk, leaving the scene of an accident, intimidating phone calls, failure to yield right of way, refusal to submit to breath test and discharging firearm within the city limits.

"The other written activity [besides parking tickets] has increased as I feel that it should. We will continue to keep the pressure on moving traffic violations, etc. in the upcoming year," said Fairchild.

"With the addition of a new officer to the department in 1986, we expect to see some significant changes in several areas during the upcoming year. We have revised our work schedule to more effectively use this officer and feel that we will be able to do some innovative things with this additional manpower that will help make Wayne an even nicer and safer community to live in," he mentioned.

DROPS WERE reported in the number of bicycle licenses sold (from 230 to 69) and dog licenses sold (from 335 to 319). Police department speaking engagements increased from 17 to 24.

A breakdown of the crime summary is as follows:

*Homicide, rape, robbery and assault (felony), none reported in 1985; none reported in 1984.

*Assault (misdemeanor), 1985, three reported; 1984, seven reported.

*Stolen vehicles, 1985, one reported and one unfounded; 1984, two reported and none unfounded.

Participation in '86 farm program likely to be increased

With the announcement of more discretionary decisions involving the Food Security Act of 1985, commonly called the Farm Bill, the shape of things to come becomes more recognizable, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln agricultural economist said.

Using appropriate data for a Platte Valley irrigated corn farm, Roy Frederick said in this example "participation in the program is preferable to non-participation by about $95 per acre."

The extension economist-public policy said participation in the 1986 farm program should be very high, "because the program really forces producers to think in terms of a high proportion of gross income coming from the government. Producers who don't participate are likely to be hurt by low commodity prices," he said.

The facts of the wheat, corn and soybean sorghum sections of the legislation is to try to be more competitive in international markets by lowering loan rates, while at the same time protecting farm income through target prices, Frederick said.

The overall level of support for wheat and feed grain producers will be less in 1986 than in 1984 and 1985, he said, primarily because the quantity of land to be retired in order to take advantage of target prices has increased. Corn producers must retire 20 percent of their acreage base in 1986, up from 10 percent last year.

In the central Nebraska example farm referred to earlier, Frederick calculated returns over cash costs on 100 acres of cropland to be $19,436 in 1986, compared to $21,983 in 1985. The example assumes all variables remain constant except the loan level and the acreage reduction requirement, the economist said.

A substantial reduction in acreage in crop production because of the bill may help balance supply and demand in the United States, Frederick said. But some observers argue that acreage restrictions in this country will encourage foreigners to increase their acreage.

worldwide buyers are trying to defer grain commodity purchases as long as possible," Frederick said.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see (U.S.) exports for the current marketing year turn out to be lower than currently projected. Next year, however, we might see a nice rebound in exports."

Frederick had these comments on other implications of the bill:

- The drop in loan rates in 1986 — from $2.55 to $1.92 for corn — probably will encourage livestock producers to feed cheap grain. By 1987, this could have a strongly negative impact on livestock prices.
- The success of the acreage reduction program nationwide will depend on the level of participation.

by large producers who control a significant share of the total output. The portion of the government payment representing the difference between the adjusted loan rate of $1.92 and the basic loan rate of $2.40 will not be subject to a $50,000 payment limitation. This is expected to generate negative publicity about large payments to large farms.

Producers should not underestimate the importance of having a farm with a large acreage base for program purposes. Without the acreage base, no deficiency payments will be forthcoming. Land without a good acreage base probably will sell or rent for less than land with a large base.

- The unprecedented spread between old crop and new crop loan values — 63 cents for corn and 90 cents for wheat — suggest (in the absence of a crop scare in 1986) that forfeiture of 1985 crop corn and wheat to the Commodity Credit Corporation will be massive.

"The ultimate success of the bill may depend on the weatherman," Frederick said.

"An irony is that if the U.S. or some other significant producer or importer has poor weather, the bill will appear to be working well. If weather conditions are good, then expect some dissatisfaction.

"In the latter case, producers may not think it provides enough income protection or government policy makers may believe it is too expensive," he concluded.

IN THE AFTERMATH of the farm bill passage and fallout, "potential

FLUORESCENT BULBS

If fluorescent bulbs have dark rings but work, should they be replaced? The darkening of fluorescent bulbs indicate a deterioration of the material which makes a fluorescent bulb operate. The darkened areas indicate a significant decrease in light output efficiency and hence the efficiency and the use of electrical energy. Although the extent of decay may be as little as 10 percent, if more likely is in the range of 25-20 percent. Replacement of such bulbs with new ones is recommended for energy efficiency and cost effectiveness.

Despite the blackening of the fluorescent tube (deterioration of the interior fluorescent material), the lamp should continue to operate at a low level of efficiency until the fluorescence is completely destroyed or some other failure occurs. Improper heating of the tube can also hasten the onset of blackening. Improper heating might be the result of low voltage. Faulty ballast or an improperly installed fluorescent tube so that good contact between the pins on the end of the tube and the contacts in the luminaire is not achieved. Operation in cold areas can cause similar problems.

To enhance the useful life of fluorescent bulbs, a minimum burn or "on" period of one to three hours should be used in each case. Frequent on-off cycles and short on times significantly reduce the effective life of a fluorescent tube. This is due to a gradual erosion of the fluorescent material each time the lamp is started. The darkening is further developed through the evaporation of some fluorescent material all the while a fluorescent tube is operating. Manufacturers use an on time interval of three hours in determining lamp useful life.

By using infrared thermometers

Reduce irrigation guessing

Recent advances in technology have made it feasible to use hand-held infrared thermometers to determine when plants need irrigation.

Blaine Blad, University of Nebraska-Lincoln professor of agricultural meteorology, told participants at the UNL Irrigation Short Course in Lincoln Jan. 27, the use of infrared thermometers to schedule irrigation based on plant canopy temperatures has a strong appeal.

One advantage to the canopy temperature approach is that the field itself serves as its own reference and no data other than crop temperature is required, he said.

"When soil water is inadequate to meet the demand for evaporation placed on the plant by meteorological conditions, then in order for the plant to avoid desiccation (drying out), the stomata (opening on a leaf surface) may partially or completely close," he said.

When this happens, transpiration is restricted and heat which would have been consumed in the transpiration process is used to heat the plant. "Then, plant temperature increases and the plant becomes 'sick,'" Blad said. If crop temperature can be measured, it should be possible to detect and quantify the level of plant water stress. That's where infrared thermometers can come into use.

"Infrared thermometers are lightweight, battery operated, accurate and reliable," Blad said. "They are hand-held and can be readily transported from one location to another."

Infrared scanners also can be attached to aircraft and flown over a field to provide a temperature map of the field for use with the canopy temperature approach to irrigation scheduling.

One drawback to the aerial method, he said, may be the requirement that skies be relatively cloud-free when the data are collected.

"Recent application of these approaches by individual farmers has demonstrated that they will work," Blad said. "Presently an individual must go out to the field to make measurements but, in the future, the instruments may be mounted in the field and used to automatically turn on the irrigation system."

While additional research and field evaluation are still needed, Blad said the use of infrared thermometry to schedule irrigation appears to have a bright future.

FDA still concerned about antibiotic use by the beef industry

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration recently ruled that low-level feeding of penicillin and tetracyclines to livestock does not constitute an "imminent hazard" to human health. While the FDA placed no restriction on this practice, it is still considering a ban first proposed in 1977, which would restrict such use.

The fuss about antibiotic use in animals centers on creating the potential of "developing antibiotic resistant bacteria in animals which could spread to humans. The antibiotic resistant status of such bacteria could make them untreatable.

Dr. John Schmitz, head of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Veterinary Science Department, noted that the bacteria's genetic resistance material, contained in plasmids, can be transferred from one type of bacteria to another — such as from the common, non-pathogenic intestinal bacteria E. coli to Salmonella bacteria that can cause poisoning or other forms of disease.

"However, we should note that a bacteria can be resistant to one antibiotic and susceptible to another — this is the situation with most bacteria," Dr. Schmitz said.

Despite the publicity and widespread concern, there have been only a few isolated cases of antibiotic-resistant bacteria transferred from animals to humans, Dr. Schmitz said.

A CASE REPORTED in the New England Journal of Medicine about an antibiotic-resistant Salmonella, received strong publicity and stirred the recent proposed ban on low-level feeding of antibiotics to livestock. But a definite link establishing transmission of the Salmonella from animals to people was not established.

It is ironic, Dr. Schmitz said, that the "beef industry" is "receiving so much comment on this issue because "it really is not abusing the use of antibiotics, as might be indicated by the publicity."

The National Cattlemen's Association found a voluntary moratorium on low-level feeding of antibiotics and is continuing that moratorium until implications of the current decision are clear.

The beef industry is reducing the use of antibiotics overall, Dr. Schmitz said. It is starting to use antibiotics that are not used in human medicine. "This reduced the risk of an antibiotic-resistant bacteria developing in livestock and spreading to people," he said.

Beef producers in today's economy are being forced to consider their return on investment for antibiotic feed additives, Dr. Schmitz added.

And producers' concern about humane animal treatment has established management systems that decrease antibiotics' use since diseases are being controlled better by other means, he said.

Kevin Ochener, an FFA member from Fort Collins, Colorado and an entrant in our UP WITH AGRICULTURE Writing Contest, describes farming as the fuel that keeps the torch of liberty burning.

"How right he is! With agriculture generating some 24 million jobs, there is no doubt that the future of our nation rests in the hands of the American farmer. We are a strong, independent nation because we are self-sufficient in food production. As long as we continue to be prolific producers of food, we control our destiny.

We have independence as a nation because we produce an abundance of food — food most other countries need. Our agricultural progress gives us leverage among world powers. Our "food for peace" programs have advanced living standards for millions of people in developing nations. Grain embargoes, by contrast, misuse that leverage. But the use of food as a political tool nevertheless illustrates just how powerful our nation's agriculture is.

We have independence as individuals because of our agricultural production. We Americans spend less of our disposable income (only about 16 percent) on food than do people in any other country. That means Americans have the financial freedom to purchase more luxury items.

We have the personal freedom to enjoy a broad menu of food. If we were cut off from the rest of the world, we would not want for much. With the exception of coffee and a few tropical fruits, almost every kind of food is produced right here in America.

Our golden fields of grain — from corn to soybeans and wheat — are the envy of the world. Our feedlots and confinement houses produce the finest beef and all the pork and chicken we can eat. Our dairy facilities and technology are unsurpassed. And our diverse production areas in California and Florida yield a long list of fruits and vegetables.

And while we often grumble when this fruit or that vegetable is out of season, the truth is we enjoy a tremendous freedom of selection almost year-round, courtesy of the American farmer.

Most of all, American farmers have freed us from hunger. While most Americans are overweight, people in many countries are enslaved by the constant struggle to feed themselves and their families. In many lands, there are no meat-and-potato meals. Only beans and rice. No desserts. Only deserts.

At this moment, construction crews are refurbishing Lady Liberty. Millions of dollars have been raised for the restoration. Hundreds of manhours have been invested by volunteers dedicated to the preservation of this international symbol of freedom.

$6,160 must we refurbish agriculture. Like Lady Liberty, agriculture has been neglected. High interest rates are tarnishing farm income, and a strong dollar is deteriorating our export potential.

We must all make the survival of American agriculture our top priority. For without agriculture, the torch of liberty will go out.

Pesticide certification

The last of the pesticide certification training meetings will be held Wednesday, Feb. 5 at the Wayne city auditorium starting at 12:30 p.m. There has been some confusion over the expiration date of the pesticide certification cards.

Farmers should check the expiration date on their blue federal card and disregard the green state cards which are no longer valid. If any Wayne County farmer has doubt about the expiration date of his card he should contact the Wayne County Extension Office.

Pesticide training rescheduled

The pesticide training meeting scheduled for Jan. 30 at the Emerson fire hall has been changed to Monday, Feb. 3, from 9 a.m. to noon. Latecomers will need to remain additional time to cover material missed, reports Stan Starling, Dixon County Extension Agent, so there is an advantage to being on-time.

Producers with schedule conflicts on this date can contact the Extension Office for dates at other locations. Training can be taken in another county if this is more convenient. Conversely, applicators from other counties can attend this meeting for training.

Starling expects all area farmers who do not have current certification to train this year, since several pesticides in common use have been added to the restricted list. Those who trained in 1984 should have certification cards good until 1988 and will not need to attend at this time.

Livestock Feeders annual meeting

On Monday, Feb. 3, the Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association will hold their annual business meeting at the Black Knight Steakhouse in Wayne. Social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. with dinner at 7:30 p.m. All feeders, spouses and guests are invited to attend. For those individuals renewing memberships or joining the association, the evening meal will be provided free of charge for the member and spouse.

In addition to the business meeting, representatives from the Hoeschel Corporation and Pioneer Hi-Bred will be on hand to discuss animal health and feed products.

The association would like to encourage all interested individuals to attend this meeting. If you are unable to attend, but wish to join or renew your membership, please contact your local board member or Roger Trempa at Walthill (845-5355).

Why are barns always red?

by Cheryl Stubbendiek

When I was a little girl, Sunday tradition pretty much required a drive in the country. Something pretty special had to be happening in Lincoln to keep us home. My father was a farm boy but the Depression forced him to get a job in town. He never made it back to the farm, but I think he needed that weekly look at the crops or the cattle sometimes, just to keep going.

Our usual destination was the farm of one of my several aunts and uncles. Sometimes we were expected, other times we would just "drop in" and stay for supper. Another family tradition said Mom didn't have to cook on Sunday evenings; so this was a good deal.

My reason for mentioning all this is that I recently learned the real answer to one of those childhood questions: Why are barns red? My father's responses varied but when he said "Because they just are, that's why," I knew he'd had enough of that conversation for that Sunday.

THERE WERE various theories about why barns were red. I thought it was the prettiest color, so barns were red to pretty up the countryside. Or they were red so that cattle could find them, never mind that cattle are color-blind.

Or maybe it was that the red paint absorbed the sunlight and kept the cattle warmer in winter.

Well, now I have learned the true facts. Around 1890, when store-bought paint was very expensive and hard to find, paint was often made at home. The color red was easy and cheap to make in large-size quantities.

To make red paint, you filled a barn drum with buttermilk, added some iron scraps and waited a few weeks until the iron scraps rusted enough to turn the buttermilk red.

Synthetic iron oxide pigment is used nowadays to make red paint, but it's also cheap and one of the most durable pigments known.

So that's the scoop about the red barn tradition. It has nothing to do with making the countryside prettier or helping the cows come home. The simple truth is that barns were and are painted red because of economics.

Economics. Not very romantic, often not much fun. But it's the reason for much that happens in farming today.

I think I preferred my earlier answers to "Why are barns red, Dad?"

USDA announces '86 feed grain programs

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block announced provisions of the 1986 price support programs for feed grains, and wheat.

The programs include required acreage reductions of 20 percent for feed grains and 25 percent for wheat. Included in these reductions is a 2 1/2 percent paid land diversion for wheat and feed grain producers.

Signup for the farm programs is anticipated to begin in early March.

The 1986 loan rates (per bushel) will be $1.56 for barley, $1.92 for corn, $99 for oats, $1.82 for sorghum, $1.63 for rye, and $2.40 for wheat.

Target prices will be the same in 1986 as were in effect for 1985 crops. They are (per bushel): barley, $2.60; corn, $3.03; oats, $1.60; sorghum, $2.88; wheat, $4.38.

Producers are eligible to earn deficiency payments on the acreage planted within the extent permitted. Producers who plant at least 50 percent of the permitted acreage to the program crop and plant the remaining permitted acreage to a non-program crop, "other than soybeans" or extra long staple cotton, will be eligible to receive deficiency payments on 92 percent of the permitted acreage.

Winter wheat producers who reduce the acreage planted to wheat on the farm for harvest so that it does not exceed 65 percent of the farm wheat base may be eligible to receive diversion payments on an acreage equivalent to 10 percent of the wheat base.

Implementation of discretionary provisions relating to payments in commodities and other contractual provision will be announced later.

Individual producers will be notified of their farm acreage bases and program yields by their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices.

Haying and grazing will be permitted on acreage conservation reserve land at the request of individual state ASC committees. However, haying or grazing will not be permitted on the acreage during the five principal growing months as designated by county ASC committees. Block also approved a standby measure authorizing, in the event of a natural disaster, implementation of emergency haying and grazing privileges.

Approval of the emergency privileges would be made as needed on a county-by-county basis.

the farmer's wife

Human beings are complicated, yet predictable. I worked 3-11 this weekend, so I missed the Super Bowl on Sunday. I also missed the Saturday night documentary on Black birth rates and numbers of welfare recipients.

The reviews made me wish I could have seen it, though I'm sure it would have angered me. It's a well-known fact that we have third generation welfare families, black and white, in this country. The statement is often made that the welfare system has destroyed pride.

Pride is a wonderful thing. It can also be a terrible handicap to growth. When it keeps us from asking for help, it can be sad. Lately, I've been concerned about pride. It was Lowell who said, "pride and weakness are Siamese twins."

THE BIG Farmer and I attended the Partners in Agriculture day in Norfolk last week. One of the handouts told of a farm girl who heard of her Dad's foreclosure in the local cafe. That disturbs me. I wonder if that father's pride kept him from being honest with his children.

A young couple told of making the decision to leave the farm last year. His father did not speak to him for six months.

Another woman, whose sale is being scheduled, told her daughter she could not face her neighbors. People are staying away from church. A young friend at work talks to me of her Dad, who sits in his chair all day.

THE SUNDAY World-Herald features farm people who did finally apply for food stamps and drive miles away to use them, rather than buy groceries locally.

Sadder still, school kids who are eligible for free or reduced lunches are not applying for them. My heart was warmed when a State Education Department consultant was quoted as saying, "superintendents are told to feed the children anyway."

The article is titled, "Depression—like poverty tests Sandhills residents' pride."

A Knox County supervisor tells me about hungry people who have not applied for help. "We don't have Father Baffiato," he says.

On another level, I see pride in my home health visits. There are elderly folks who are no longer independent and don't want help. Many are living alone only because of a caring neighbor; yet they refuse to move to an apartment or family member's home.

Often, the person we are seeing is the victim of arthritis, diabetes, Alzheimer's or heart disease. Somehow, the spouse feels he or she must assume the entire burden of care and will not accept help. Many times, the caregiver's health gives out, too. Then there is a double problem.

I'm convinced that the acts of violence we read about are often the results of the inability to seek help. Everyone has a breaking point.

People who have formerly scorned those who have turned to welfare will have very conflicting emotions about receiving it themselves. But if may be necessary, at least temporarily. We hope anyone receiving welfare is doing so temporarily. And if the children are hungry, help is needed.

Better than welfare are local efforts, such as the Community Pantries and Soup Kitchens.

IF IT'S emotional help that's needed, local clergy are interested in helping. Our speaker on Thursday told us that his Catholic priest helped him "get his ducks in a row."

One man told us to stay out of the coffee shop. I don't agree. Continue conversations with neighbors and friends; we need their support now more than ever. Remember that a non-family member can be more objective.

Most of all, if you need help, ask for it! Don't wait until it's too late. Don't let pride stand in your way.

To succeed in farming: the right hand must know what the left hand is doing.

Farm TABS keeps it straight.

Farm Accounting—a lot goes in and plenty goes out, and in order to be successful, you've got to know what both your right and left hands are doing.

Farming isn't what it used to be. Today's farmer has crops, livestock, machinery and many other items to consider. So in order to keep up you need something that keeps it all straight, like a computer and ag-specific software from Farm TABS, a computer store located within Terra.

A helping hand.

Farm Accounting software provides a better record-keeping system which is more accurate, easier and faster than keeping records by hand. It can help you gauge your financial performance and make profitable decisions. Farm Accounting provides you with:

- Balance sheet—reflects what you owe and what you own
- Income statements—shows income received over a time

- Accounts payable listing—provides listing of outstanding debts and records
- Detail trial balance—tracks transactions and provides audit trail for accurate record-keeping
- Period Register—for tax preparation, loan documentation, management decision-making and cash flow management

Getting a handle on profits.

You can't afford to mismanage your money in today's farming economy. That's why Farm TABS Farm Accounting software is your best route in keeping tabs on your farm operation. When it means the difference between profit and loss, Farm TABS is your best alternative.

BELDEN BUYS A RESUSCI ANNIE
The Belden First Responders were able to practice CPR rescue on their new Resusci Annie during the Jan. 20 meeting at the Belden fire hall. They also practiced using oxygen with the Resusci Annie.
Part of the agenda will be of possible interest to those wanting either a refresher or beginner CPR course. A six-hour, two meeting course is to be given in Belden some time in February since most of the Belden First Responders will need a refresher this spring. The cost will be $6 for refresher and $7 for beginner. Posters will be up in Belden by the last week in January announcing the instructor, the time and the place.
Present at the last meeting were Clyde Cook, Jerry and Betty Gross and Julie Boughn.

STOP

Don't Do Anything Else This Thursday, Jan. 30th From 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. But Come To Discount Furniture's Gigantic Sale! "3 Big Days"

HERE WE GO AGAIN. This is the time of year that people at DISCOUNT go a little crazy. This is really a chance to save a good sum-of money and get a worthwhile investment with it. If you need furniture for any part of your home... and want to really save, now is the time and Discount Furniture Home Furnishings is the place! This special event is going to be for a limited time. 3 Big Days only. So be here when the doors open Thursday at 9 a.m.

Looking over our inventory, we find we have got to get rid of a lot of merchandise before we can take inventory. Some items have been here too long or some are being discontinued so we are not just reducing prices but are slashing, hacking or whatever you may call it but we are going to get rid of this furniture. If you want a real bargain, now is the time to buy.

Well enough of this jabber... Let's get down to the nitty-gritty OUR CRAZY UNBELIEVABLE SALE PRICES. Yes, they are crazy, but we're going to move these items now.

OUCH!! This is a great buy for the living room. Look at this great Mastercraft sofa that was $1,270.00. Now it's only $499.00. NOW you know we mean business!! Check out this fabulous Mastercraft sofa with solid oak trim that was regularly $1,110.00. You can have it for only $499.95. CRAZY?? Yes — but we're going to move merchandise.

Here's great value you can't pass up — Mastercraft swivel rocker in green velvet which was $399.95. NOW it's only $99.95. Yes, that's right, $99.95. Other swivel rockers with values to $239.00. Take your pick, only $129.95.

Oh Yes... everything is reduced. Just take a look. We are sure you'll find something you want.

WE'VE GOT THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS WORTH OF FURNISHINGS THAT MUST GO NOW... Our display floors and warehouses are jam packed and now is your chance to save on hundreds of items at giveaway prices... Some haven't been sold... some have been lost in the warehouse... some are discontinued... some left odd. We have to move them. NOW.

Of course not everything is half off... but in no way will you pay regular price for any item in the store... For 3 days you'll find the best bargains of the year... We must sell hundreds of items that tie up our space and money... prices are not just reduced... PRICES ARE DROPPED, SMASHED, SLASHED... TO GET RID OF THESE ODDS AND ENDS, DISCOS AND ONE-OF-A-KIND GEMS... HERE'S ANOTHER EXAMPLE: Reg. $599.95 3-pc. Bedroom Set includes double dresser w/mirror, 4 drawer chest and headboard and it's all yours for $376.50.

Reading this far, you will know that we are serious... We have truckloads of fine furniture that we intend to sell (or should we say, give away) in 3 days and it has to go.

Looking for a good regular or queen size Sofa-Sleeper? Choose from brand names you can trust for quality. Many in stock to choose from with sale prices as low as $288. Our building and warehouses are loaded with furniture so, of course, we can't possibly list all the items but we can assure you that our prices are right and lowest in Northeast Nebraska.

When it comes to recliners we have only the best!!! Laz-Boy, starting at $179.95. Stop in and get one of these.

To sum it all up, we say there is no one that can beat our prices no matter how they try. We sell only quality merchandise for lowest prices anywhere. So take advantage of this crazy sale and enjoy a better looking home while saving money. We have free delivery and set up at no extra charge.

HOLD IT!!! If you haven't read this before you turn the page, you may have missed the savings of your life! Don't stop to think about it, be here 9 a.m. Thursday when the doors open.

LEGION AUXILIARY
The American Legion Auxiliary met Jan. 13 at 8 p.m. at the Legion Hall. Lois Schlines, president, led the meeting with five officers and 15 members present. Ariene Benson, chaplain, led in prayer, the Pledge of Allegiance and the Preamble. Famy Johnson, song leader, led the group in singing "The Star Spangled Banner" and "O God, Beneath Thy Guiding Light."

A report on County Government Day, held at Ponca in November, was presented by Val Krusemark, Ker Boeckenhauer, Tanya Wilfers and Susie McQuistan. This day is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary each year.

Lois Hollman, floral and card chairman, reported that she had sent a number of Thanksgiving and Christmas cards to members. Helen Anderson, community service chairman, reported on gifts purchased for two residents at the care center at Christmastime.

Membership committee reported the unit has 115 members. Jennifer Neal is a new junior member and Marcia Lundin, a new senior member by transfer from the Allen unit.

The group voted to contribute to the Little Red Schoolhouse Fund to be used as need scholarships. Next month the Auxiliary will take a collection for the Auxiliary emergency fund at their meeting.

Lois Schlines, president, asked the committees to check on their responsibilities and be prepared to report on their activities so far this year at the February meeting.

Auxiliary members Carol Ulrich and Mary Jane VanCleave gave a report on the mid-year conference they attended Jan. 10-12.

Phyllis Swanson, member of the scholarship committee, reported that she is working with Mrs. Remer, school counselor. All parents are urged to remind their children who might be eligible for Legion and Auxiliary scholarships to be in touch with Mrs. Remer.

The secretary read a letter from Department Secretary that the Wakefield auxiliary unit is one of 45 in Nebraska that qualifies for the Nov. 11 membership award. This award is given by the national organization to a unit president who led her group to exceed the previous year's membership by at least two percent.

The Auxiliary will hold a Legion birthday party on March 8 at 6:30 p.m. This will be a potluck supper. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting by Famy Johnson, Rudie Polen and Jean Turner.

SPORTS SPECTACULAR

Troop 172 from Wakefield attended a Sports Spectacular for Scouts at Wayne Jan. 18-19.

Over two hundred scouts attended to participate in basketball and volleyball games, chess, and checkers matches and ping pong competition.

All the scouts from Wakefield attended, including Stuart and Steve Clark, Scott Johnson, Joe Kucera, Anthony Brown, Cory Blatter, Jeremy Jensen, Chris Looft and Matt and Marcus Tappe.

In the ping pong competition for 11-12 year olds, Marcus Tappe got the ribbon for first place. Matt Tappe took first place in the 13-14 year olds. Matt also took first place in the older groups' chess tournament. Chris Looft took first place in the 13-14 age group in the checkers tournament.

In the 11-12 age group team competition Joe, Steve, Marcus, Anthony, Jeremy and Scott took first place out of 16 teams in the volleyball tournament. They also got third place in the basketball tournament.

The competition with 12 other teams in the 13-14 age group of Stuart, Matt, Chris, Cory and several boys from Crofton took third place in volleyball and fourth place in basketball.

The Sports Spectacular was hosted by the Wayne Scout Troop. Wakefield leaders are Duane Tappe, Jim Clark and Dave Kucera.

STUDENTS INVITED

The Wakefield Legion Post is encouraging local students who will be completing their junior year to consider attending the Nebraska

American Legion's 19th annual Junior Law Cadet Program. Identical programs for boys and girls have been scheduled. The boys session is set for June 9-13 and the girls, June 16-20 at the Nebraska State Patrol Training Academy located at Lincoln Air Park.

Participation in the one-week program is open to students completing the 11th grade. Two students will be selected from each of the 15 American Legion districts in the state to attend each session. Interested students may obtain an application form from local Post Commander Tom Eaton or at the high school office.

Scheduled activities include classroom studies in such subjects as motor vehicle laws, court procedure, human relations, safety education and first aid; tours of state buildings and state law enforcement offices; highlighted by field activities including marksmanship; VASCAR and radar operation and maximum performance driving. The state Legion commander says the program is designed to "help the youthful participants better understand the true role of today's professional police officer."

ONE-ACT PLAYS

Dwight Fischer was selected as the best supporting actor in the Lewis and Clark Conference one-act play contest held in Winside on Jan. 13. Wakefield's entry in the contest, "Help" finished third in the competition behind host Winside and Cole ridge.

The 23-member one-act play cast will give their presentation before district judges on Saturday afternoon at Lyons. Play director Val Baird said Wakefield would be on stage at approximately 2 p.m.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

The Mid-Year Conference of the American Legion and Auxiliary was held at the Midtown Hilton Inn in Grand Island Jan. 9-12. National chaplain Rev. Gordon Patheron from Scottsbluff was honored at a reception-Friday evening. Reports from all the committees of Legion and Auxiliary were given throughout the conference. The ladies were added on Saturday by Josie Melgard, the National President of Auxiliary. The Wakefield Auxiliary was given an award for having attained 100 percent membership for this year.

Duane Bokemper, Adjutant, presided at the Sunday noon banquet. Main speaker was H.F. "Sparky" Gierke, National Vice Commander of American Legion. Music was furnished by the Liberty Bells of Grand Island.

Attending from Wakefield were Carol and Dean Ulrich, Jeff Swanson and Mary Jane and Everett Van Cleave.

1986 PROM

Walters and waitresses for the sophomore students have been selected to serve at the junior-senior prom this spring. Selected were Shelia Anderson, Lana Ekberg, Kelly Fredrickson, Christy Oswald, Tricia Schwarzen, Raymond Ferguson, Jeremy Grace, Todd Kratke, Brian Larson and Mike Nelson.

THE WSC CHOIR members are embarking on an 11-concert tour in both Nebraska and Missouri, ending the tour at WSC's Ley Theatre on Feb. 9 at 3 p.m.

In two states

WSC choir goes on concert tour

The concert choir of Wayne State College, conducted by Dr. Cornell Ruesstad, is taking a five-day, 11-concert tour in Nebraska and Missouri.

The Feb. 5-9 trip includes concerts at five high schools, a college and university, two churches and the Kansas City Conservatory of Music before a four-ending concert at home in Wayne State's Ley Theatre.

The repertory of the 59-voice choir includes sacred and secular music from many styles and periods, both accompanied and a cappella.

The choir has concertized in Mexico, Canada and toured Europe three times during the past five years, performing in the Mozarteum in Salzburg, Vienna, at the Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris, and was the featured American choral group at the Swiss Song Festival in 1984.

The Madrigal Singers, an 18-voice group from the larger choir, returned in early January from a two-week concert tour of England and Wales.

The tour schedule is:

February 5 — Central City High School, 10 a.m.; Grand Island Senior High School, 12:10 p.m.; Recital Hall, Kearney State College, 8 p.m.

February 6 — Wilber-Claonia High School, 11 a.m.; Beatrice High School, 1:40 p.m.; Humboldt High School, 7:30 p.m.

February 7 — Kansas City Conservatory of Music, Kansas City, Mo., 1 p.m.; Hart Recital Hall, Central Missouri State University, Warrensburg, Mo., 6 p.m.

February 8 — Dundee Presbyterian Church, Omaha, 8 p.m.

February 9 — St. Cecilia's Cathedral, Omaha, 9 a.m.; Ley Theatre, Wayne State College, 3 p.m.

Area WSC Choir members include: Layne Johnson, Concord; Mitch Schulte, Emerson; Jerri Grader, Emerson; Kathleen Gnirk, Hoskins; Fran Gross, Wayne; Jeff Morre, Wayne; Michelle Sherlock, Wayne; Mary Sieler, Wayne; Doug Johnson, Wisner; and Bryon Keller, Wisner.

RETIRE RICH

At Columbus Federal Savings Bank, we believe that every person who works should have some kind of plan to save money.

For many people, an Individual Retirement Account is the ideal savings plan.

Here's why.

Come by Columbus Federal Savings Bank and open an IRA.

We'll show you how a simple savings plan can become a sizeable fortune.

1 AN IRA IS A SAVINGS PLAN.
An Individual Retirement Account is simply a personal tax sheltered retirement fund. The IRA concept was begun a few years ago to encourage working people to set aside money for their retirement years.

2 MAKE CONTRIBUTIONS WEEKLY, MONTHLY OR YEARLY.
Contributions to an IRA are entirely voluntary. After making the minimum opening contribution ($10.00) you can contribute any amount you wish, up to the stated annual maximum. You can contribute in one lump sum, in monthly or weekly installments, or in any other manner you choose.

3 CONTRIBUTIONS ARE TAX DEDUCTIBLE.
Your IRA contribution can be deducted from your gross income for income tax purposes, even if you do not itemize deductions. Contributions are not taxed until distributions are made from the IRA, which is usually when you will be in lower tax bracket. The maximum contribution for an individual is $2,000. If you work and your spouse is unemployed, the maximum is $2,250. If you and your spouse are both employed, each can have an IRA and make a combined contribution of $4,000.

4 ALL INTEREST IS TAX DEFERRED.
Unlike other investments, the earnings of the funds contributed to your IRA are not taxable as long as the funds remain in the IRA. Thus, your investments are allowed to grow tax-deferred until you withdraw them.

YMACA SWIM NIGHT
A minimal number of Winside residents attended the Jan. 19 YMACA swim night at Norfolk. Starting in February, the monthly event will be held the third Saturday instead of Sunday from 6-8 p.m. for the next three months. The contract with YMA will be ending with the May swim night. The regular cost for an adult to swim is $3.50. Under the contract, the cost per adult is $1.50, children 12 and under $1, with a maximum cost per family of $4.

Anyone who has not previously taken advantage of this extremely low cost fun family night, will be encouraged to do so for the next several months. The community of Winside is supposed to have at least 80 participants each month. It has been falling quite a bit below this number the past several months. It will be highly unlikely to be offered such a generous contract again by the YMACA if there aren't more participants the next four months. Mark your calendars now for Saturday, Feb. 15 and call your friends to come along.

TRINITY YOUTH AND ANNUAL MEETING
Church services at the Trinity Lutheran Church on Sunday were conducted by the youth group. Chris Nau and youth leader Peg Eckert conducted the sermon. Letha DuBois and Brian Thompson took up the offering. Jenni Toop played the piano and Tim Jacobsen, Jeff Gallup, Kristy Miller, Rhonda Seuff and Angie Thompson also participated. The youth presented Pastor Von Seggern with a gift for their new baby daughter. Following the services, the adult congregation members met for their annual business meeting. Officer reports were given and the annual budget was accepted. Robert Jensen and Warren Gallop were elected as new officers.

Following the annual meeting, the youth group served approximately 75 people for a chili and chicken noodle soup dinner. The youth donated nine cakes for a cake walk. Tickets were sold for 50 cents each. Approximately 40-45 people participated. Funds from the walk will be used for the youth's expenses.

GIRL SCOUTS
Ten Girl Scouts and leader Peg Eckert met Jan. 23 at the fire hall. The girls finished their worksheets and have earned their badge on the "Home Living Badge" lesson. They discussed going to summer camp which will be June 18-20 at Ponca. On Saturday, Feb. 8, the girls will have a fun day of swimming at the YMCA in Norfolk. Tawnya Krueger served treats. The next meeting will be Jan. 30 at the fire hall at 4 p.m. Holly Holdorf will bring treats. Anyone wanting more information can call Peg Eckert, 286-4516.

WEBELO'S
Three Webelo Cub Scouts met Jan. 25 with leaders Helen Hancock, Donna Nelson and Cathy Holtgreve. The boys continued their geology lesson and discussed the hardness-scale of minerals and rocks. Afterwards they had a craft lesson and made snowmen out of tubsocks. Bobby Holtgreve served treats. The next meeting will be at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 1 because the Cub Scouts are going roller skating at 9:30 a.m. that day. Chad Evans will bring treats.

COTERIE
Mrs. Wayne Imel hosted the Jan. 23 Coterie Club with two guests, Mrs. Jane Witt and Mrs. Dottie Wacker. Prizes were won by Yleen Cowan, Gladys Gaebler, Jane Witt and Dottie Wacker. The next meeting will be Feb. 6 at Dolly Warnemunde's home.

CUB SCOUTS
Ten members of the Wolves and Bears Cub Scouts met Jan. 21 with their leaders Donna Nelson and Mary Stalling. The Bears discussed the history of Winside book and the Wolves studied a lesson on conservation. Treats were furnished by Mathew Jensen. The next meeting will be Jan. 28 with Kurt Jaeger furnishing treats.

Has real estate lost its charm? Is inflation really behind us? You'll find out at "Investing in the 1980s." It's a special program that looks at the relationship between the economy, investments, and financial planning and discusses the advantages of managed investing.

You'll get the inside track on ways to:
• match your risk tolerance with the right investments.
• choose investments that meet your personal needs.
• lower the average cost of your investments.

"Investing in the 1980s." It's for anyone who wants to know how to build wealth in the current economy.

It's free. There's absolutely no obligation. Sure, IDS would like to have you as a client, but this is not a sales pitch. Whether you become an IDS client or not, you'll receive some valuable information on investing.
