Paulsen wins championship at state wrestling tourney

march once gown skipping beats.

"Doug's given me a few coronaries over the past couple of years," Sok loked. "But falling behind like that goes with his style. I was confident he'd come around."

And come around."

And come around is exactly what Paulsen did as he overcame a 7-1 deficit and claimed a pin for the ultimate — a state title.

Paulsen was trailing Sargent's Donny Selfriend 7-1 in the championship bout But Sok wasn't worried because he was accustomed to Paulsen failling behind.

Paulsen falling behind.
"He was getting beat, but it wasn't cause for alarm. If I had been by a few more points, then I would've started to worry." Sok said. "But like I said before. falling behind just goes along with his style. He was on his back in almost every (state) match, but that kind of thing happens when you wrestle aggressively.

you wrestle aggressively."

After falling behind by six points, Paulsen admitted that he was concerned. But he added that he was still

'Yeah, I was worried a little," he sald. "But I really didn't have time to think about it. I was just trying to get him pinned."

Paulsen finished 40 at the meet, and his foughest match, perhaps, came in the semifinals against Ber-nie Howard of Scribner.

Howard and Paulsen had met three previous times this season, and Howard claimed a 2-1 advantage. Paulsen said that naturally worrled nim.

"I was worried before the Howard match because we always wrestled each other close," he said. "But I was confident I could win."

And although the semifinal match was the only one Paulsen didn't win by pin, he still dominated and dealt Howard a 15-7 setback.

Paulsen breezed through the first

Paulsen is winside's - 14th state champion, and only being in 10th state in Class D. Paulsen is Winside's - 14th state champion, and only being in 10th grade, his future prep career obviously looks promising.

Paulsen said he still hasn't realized that he is the best 112-pounder in the state in Class D.

"I don't really know how I feel," he said. I guess it still hasn't hit me yet."

heading into the champlonship bout as well. After disposing of Tike Degroff by pin in the first round, he stuck Clay Center's Dallas Doupnik in the second round. But Terence Burns scored a takedown against Kant in the first period of the semifinals, and made the two points hold up for a 2-0 vic-tory. It was the first time this year Kant was shutout.

Sok said that Kant came close to scoring several different times during the Burns match, and added that his 105-pounder was never in trouble. "Mace wrestled under control and came close to scoring several different times," he said. "And he was never in trouble, but just couldn't get on the scoreboard."

Kant battled back, however, and pinned Lee Gutemer of Humboldt before claiming a 5-2 victory over Bryan Roberts of Sargent for third place.

Mitchell Rogers of Mullen cap-tured the 105-pound title by pinning Burns in 3:35. Sok said Kant's style might have allowed him a better chance at beating Rogers than Burns

"This is totally my own opinion, but I think Mace would've done a bet-ter job against Rogers than Burns

Senators select priority bills

Senator Bill Barrett of Lexington picked his priority bill because he's "a marshmallow for kids." Senator Bill Hairris of Lincoln picked his priority bill because he wanted to assure that some measure would be available to use for paying Commonwealth Savings Co. depositors some of their lost money.

Last week senators selected 100 priority bills, thus settling the agenda for the rest of the 198 (egislative session. Each of the 49 senators chose one personal priority bill. Each of the 13 standing committees picked two bills, and Speaker William Nichol added another 25 speaker priority bills ded another 25 speaker priority bills to the list.

These measures get special status.

These measures get special status.
They're scheduled for floor action first, before the other 600 plus bills still awaiting consideration.

PRIORITY STATUS means sur-priority bills.

The selection of these priority measures indicates how the system works and sometimes the special interests of individual lawmakers.

SENATOR BERNICE Labedz wanted to name her lottery bill, LB 1021, as her priority. But she changed her mind when it became clear that bill might never get out of committee. So the Omaha senator selected another, lottery bill (LR 322, sponsored by Senator John DeCamp), one which had a better chance of being sent to the floor.

Senator Harris: wanted to make sure there was some vehicle that could be used to help Commonwealth Savings Co. victims. Individual committees had already killed the most obvious bill. So he listed as his priority LB 278, a broad measure that froduced LB 1041, a measure that provided extra money for the state's small race tracks. During committee deliberations, it became the vehicle for other needs including a potential tax break for Ak Sar Ben.

Despite its transformation, the bill still "had four legs on it and it was coming out of committee." And it still contained Conway's original proposal.

FOR SOME SENATORS the priority decision is purely personal.
Senator Cal Carsten of Avoca knows well the heartache associated with Alzhelmer's disease. His wife Ruth is a victim. And his priority bill, LB 804, would create a task force to explore solutions to the problem of providing long-term health care for persons with Alzhelmer's disease.

initiate court action under Nebraska law.

Some sensitive and sensible judges have looked the other way in some cases where the alleged father was obviously the most, fit father. But Barrett saw. a need for, the law to clearly recognize their claim of fatherhood. His priority bill, LB 813, would do that.

"I guess that I'm a marshmallow for kids," said Barrett, chairman of the Legislature's Business and Labor Committee.

If these simple precautions result in even one less pedestrian being killed or seriously injured, then it can be surmised that the visibility factor is something to be reckoned with ed with.

As the saying goes — dressing bright, is right.

Bring on the trees

Despite all its pitfalls, the new USDA farm program, with its provision to establish permanent cover on highly erodible cropground, offers several excellent opportunities for participants to establish tree plantings.

Why is it such a good idea? Several reasons.

Research at UN-L has proven a payback of 13-15 years for all costs associated with establishing field windbreaks. Since acreages accepted for the program will receive an annual "rental" payment for 10 years, field windbreaks will reserve acres and obtain a revenue while the trees are growing.

Also, any farmer/rancher that winters livestock on corn or other crop stubble can appreciate the protection of a windbreak for the livestock out in the field.

Firewood plantings and timber production plantings (like walnut) are possible where eligible.

And tree and shrub plantings with grass seedings provide most of the essential requirements for wildlife habitat. Odd areas and unproductive areas can be best utilized for wildlife habitat.

Fifty percent of the establishment costs associated with the grass seeding and tree plantings on those acres will be reimbursed to the landowner.

Though time for the committee to work and act is short, the Legislature will wait for our findings before taking further action. A dispassionate examination is necessary so that we may base any further action less on emotion and more on fact.

THE LATEST predictions of tax revenues by the state's Economic Forecasting Advisory Board were released Thursday with less than rosy predictions and many qualifications.

Tax-receipts for the 1986-87 fiscal year were predicted to be $21.2 million less than anticipated earlier. The figures they arrived at, while indicative of trends, cannot be confirmed as definite numbers.

All of this combines to make a nerve-wracking, tense almosphere in the Legislature. We are continuing to narrow the spectrum of billis that we have to debate while keeping an eye on the amount of money that will be available to maintain programs for the people of this state.

By the time the second half of this legislative session is finished, we'll have done as good a job as possible to balance these policy and money decisions into a comprehensive program that, hopefully, will do well for Nebraskans in the future.

Loan guarantee denied

Sale of wheat to South Africa

South Africa recently requested a GSM-102 export loan guarantee to purchase $35 million of winter wheat from the United States. Under the Executive Order of Sept. 9, 1985, which was issued to protest that country's continuing apartheid policies, the loan guarantee was denied.

I have written to Treasury Secretary James Baker and asked him to override the rule and include food sales, in the list of exceptions to the Executive Order.

The Secretary of the Treasury has the authority to override the rule if he determines that the credit will improve the welfare or economic opportunities for people disadvantaged by the apartheld system.

While I was a supporter of legislatively mandated sanctions against South Africa. I was pleased that the President placed our nation concretely against South Africa's apartheld.

1 agreed with the Administration's view that disinvestment would be counterproductive to the interest of the people of South Africa, particularly the black people of that country.

But the same is true of wheat sales. By, not exempting food sales we might hurt the people we aim to help most by risking the creation of food shortages for the hungry.

Agriculture Committee's Subcommittee on Wheat, Soybeans and Feedgrains to protest a provision in the 1985-Farm-Bill-that-allows producers to plant non-program crops such as popcorn and dry edible beans and still receive 92 percent of the deficiency payments allowed for not planting-their usual program crops.

the commodity programs. One of those bills exempts dry edible beans from being freated as a non-program-crop when the Secretary of Agriculture allows producers to plant non-program crops on 50 percent of their permitted acres and yet receive 92 percent of the payments.

While I am fully supportive of the bill, and I realize the devastating effects that might be placed on many dry edible bean producers throughout Nebraska, I know that popcorn growers can experience the same problems as dry edible bean growers because of that provision in the Farm Bill.

The purpose of the provision is to provide an incentive for farmers not to produce a surplus crop, but it should not be at the expense of an alternative crop already established in the markelplace.

In Nebraska, there are many growers who have raised popcorn for several years— In the areas around O'Nelli, Hastings and Minden, and in Thurston and Dakota Counties.

Many of these producers have either decreased or eliminated their production of field corn. Farmers who have decreased the supply of feed grains by raising popcorn are now going to be penalized for not hav-ing asked the government for help. The provision could cause con-siderable overplanting and erode the price for popcorn by 20 to 30 percent.

Nebraska ranks second in the na-tion in both planted acres and pounds of popcorn produced. I made it clear to the Committee that Nebraska's popcorn industry will be seriously damaged if popcorn is not included in their legislation as a protected non-program crop.

THE OTHER BILL under consideration would prohibit the Secretary of Agriculture from setting a producer's program yield for 1987 at a level below a farm's assigned yield for 1985. I support that bill.

ductivity and have increased their assigned yields, must now face the possibility of lowering their assigned yields.

M ask a lawyer a public service of the nobraska state bar association

Q. Why does it take six years to bring a medical malpratice lawsuit to trial?

A. Many factors can cause delays in bringing a case to trial, although six years would be an unusually long time for a case of this sort. The pretrial process of discovery — gathering evidence from witnesses through depositions and interrogatories — may turn out to be more time-consuming and complex han the attorney originally anticipated. The testimony of medical experts is generally necessary, and it may take time to find qualified individuals.

Another reason for delay could be the involvement of a medical review panel in the lawsuit. In 1977, the Nebraska Hospital-Medical Liability Act went into diffect, requiring most medical malpractice claims against "qualified health care providers" to be submitted to a medical review panel before a plaintiff ould file suit. The panel (three doctors with voting power and one lawyer who cannot vote) reviews the claim and renders an opinion as to its merits. Selecting and convening the panel, and the review process, can add considerable time in getting a case to trial. In 1994, the Act was changed to allow the plaintiff o waive this medical review procedure. However, if your case was filed prior to that time, if probably would have been subject to the mandatory provisions of the Act.

Without more information as to your situation, it is difficult to answer your

Odds point to another state title for Paulsen

Ho hum, Winside has another state wrestling champion.
Now don't take that opening sentence the wrong way. Winning a state championship is truly a remarkable accomplish.

Since I've been a sports writer in Nebraska; I've covered approximately 40 varsity wrestlers, and Paulsen is "my" first state champ.

anomer state title.

But what 'm, getting at is state champions are almost "old hat' at Winside.

"Success-breeds success" is a common citche', and it describes the Winside wrestling program to a fee.

IN THE PAST AS ASS

describes the Winside wresting program to a tee.

IN THE PAST 16 YEARS, Winside has had. Al state champions. That's atmost a state champions. That's atmost a state champions any school/sepctality one the size of Winside.

Not only that, but Winside has had a number of successful teams over the years. In 1975 and 1979, the Wildcats won state tittles, while in '76 and '78, Winside was runner-up. Wildcat squads have also finished third three times. So almost every other year, a Winside team places in the top three. Again, not a bad record. Wildcat head coach Paul Sok, himself a state champ in 1972 and 1973 for Oakland-Craig, said tradition plays a very big part in Winside's success.

"The kids know the program

"The kids know the program has been successful and that helps." he said. "And being successful at state isn't all that I'm talking about. There've been lots of Winside district hampions and district runners up and that adds to the tradition, too."

The entire Winside community seems to back the Wildcat—wrestling program, and Sok offered a few examples.

all the others that have helped."
Like so many other successful athletic programs, Winside has used "off" seasons to motivate them for future success, according to Sok. "About three years ago, Winside didn't place in the top 10 in feam scores at state, and it we the first time that happened in something like 10 years. And nobody was too proud of it," he said.

This year the Wildcats plac

Seth Carlson began Winsle's state championship string in 1970 when he captured the 95-pound title.

Brian Foote is the only two-time state title holder from Winslde. Foote won his first championship in 1980 at 131-pounds, and claimed the 126-pound title in 1981.

Paulsen has two chances to at least equal Foote's school-record of two championships. But for the moment, the 112-pounder is savoring, or trying to savor-pis first state title.

"I really don't know how I feel," Paulsen sald Monday, morning. "I guess it still hash!" hit me yet."

Wausa too strong for Allen, down the Eagles 50-35 in C2-4 finale

WISNER — "They just had too many dimensions. They're a very good baskerball team."

I hose were the humble words of Allen head coach Gary Troth after his Eagles were humbled by Wausa, 50-35, in the C2-4 District Tournament championship game played here Monday night.

Wausa does, indeed, have many different-weapons. And the Vikingshave used these numerous tactics to run their win streak to 21 after losing their first two games of the season. Monday night it was Wausa's incredible shooting and quick defense that boosted the Vikings to win number 21.

Wausa used numerous steals in the opening quarter and converted the theffs into easy hoops to open an early lead. But although Wausa was controlling the game's tempo, Allen managed to hang close and a Barb Hansen steal and hoop just before the first frame's buzzer pulled the Eagles within two, 10-8.

But Wausa got its Inside game going in the second frame. Sandl Finck, a 6-1 junior, posted up low against Allen's zone and was consistent fed with nice passes as she rolled to the bucket for easy baskets. Finck finished with 22 points and 16 rebounds.

The Vikings went on to outscore allen 14-6 in the second period to open a 24-14 halftime lead.

Wausa then added yet a different dimension in the second half as Laura Anderson and Patty Wrickstarted hitting long range hoops.

The Vikings opened a quick 13 point lead in the third frame. The closest Allen came the rest of the way was nine points when Kris Blohm drilled a jumper at the 3:22 mark. But Wausa held a 20 point advantage much of the fourth period and wasnever seriously threatened in the last half.

Istently outscored Westmar by two or four points every few minutes and slow, pulled away with the triumph.

Mike McNamara led Wayne State in scoring with 14 points, while Vincent White added 12. Westmar's Scott Hartman claimed the game's scoring honors with 18 points, hithing 9 of-12 fielders, most of which came from long range. Wayne State, claimed a 32-25 rebounding advantage. Terrance Hall and Aarkus Wilson led the Cats with 10 and eight boards, respectively.

Hall set the school record for consecutive free throws made, but his string of 6 straight was ended in Tuesday's game.

The Wildcats finished 19-for-26 from the line for 73 percent and hit 23-of-31 ield goals for 45 percent. Westmar hit 21-of-41 fielders for 51 percent and made 4 percent of its free throws going 9-for-14.

The Wildcats end the season with a 12-9-record. Wayne State plays again alturday at Doane in the opening round of the NAIA District 11 Playoffs.

The Vikings finished 22-for-36 from the field for a nifty 61 percent. Allen, on the other hand, finished 16-for-46 for 36 percent.
Diane Magnuson and Biohm led the Eagles in scoring with eight and six. points. respectively, while Denise Magnuson. Tiffanny Harder, Hansen and Kristi Chase all added four markers.

The Eagles were outrebounded 32-21. Troth said the Vikings were just too strong down low.
"Wausa had a big rebounding advantage because we just couldn't push with them underneath." he said.

Biohm led Allen with five boards.

Aithough the 1985-84 season ends on a sour note for the Eagles, they have nothing to be ashamed about. Allen finishes with a 12-6 mark, a share of the Lewis and Clark Conference regular season champlonship and the Eagles won seven of their last eight games.

Chapman inks 14 grid recruits

Wayne, State head football coach Pete Chapman's main goal this recruifing season was to build up his defense, and the Wildcay'skipper did just that by signing six defensive players from the Omaha area, including highly-fourde Eric Anderson of Omaha Central.

Anderson, a 59, 180-pound cornerback in high school, made first team all-state in the Omaha World Heraid and the Heraid's All-Metro Team. Anderson was considering to walk on at the University of Oklahoma, but decided to attend Wayne State.

Chapman has signed 14 recruits so far this year, Including eight from the Omaha area.

For further details about the Wildcat recruits, check Monday's Wayne Heraid.

meet.

Sok said that Leapley's inexperience might have cost him the loss.

"He was doing a pretty good job, but I think the fact that it was his first time at state might have caught up to him. Wrestling at state is quite a change," he said.

Despite losing, Leapley had a fantastic season. He closed the campaign with a 28-14 record, which is 24 more victories than he accumulated the preceding season.

Soft praised Leapley's 1985-86 effort.

Sok praises committee fort.

"Randy did an outstanding job for us this year. He only won four times last year's so that's quite a dramatic change." he said. "He made the change from basketball to wrestling his freshman year, and I don't think he has any regrets now."

strength, 100," he said.
Sok and the Winside team's main priority heading into the state tourney was to finish in the top 10. And the Wildcats accomplished that by tallying 48½ points and a 10th place finish.

Paulsen and Kant totaled six pins and a major decision between them, and Sok said the Wildcats needed all those lopsided victories to place in the top 10.

"Doug and Mace finished with six pins and the major decision, and we would've finished 16th or 17th if we would've just won one of those mat-ches by a win so the fact that they wrestled aggressively really helped out." he said.

Whipple sald she will begin her vocal presentation with two numbers but a rebusy to the control of the vocal presentation with two numbers by Lachner. The pieces will be ac-companied by her sister, Denise, on the french horn and Linda Baddorf at the piano. Both accompanists are also music students at WSC.

Whipple's mother, Carol Dibbert Whipple, a WSC alumna and former Stanton music teacher.

"The recital program," said Whipple, "will be taken from the repertoire I've built up over the years." Selections will include some Bach, a few pieces from the Romantic Era, spirituals and a couple of contempories, she said.

Whipple has taken vocal lessons for seven years. While at WSC, she has been involved in the Madrigal Singers, cholr, band, jazz band, orchestra and the Music Educators National Conference.
"I plan to teach both vocal and instrumental (music)," she said.
The student recital is free and open to the public.

Lola Peacock studied the skills of painting in Germany.
Now, as student furned feacher, she'll be the first to say fhat Nebraskans are the best painting students around.—It not in the world, at least in the nation.
Peacock, a sister-in-law to Sandy Weander of Wayne, currently resides in Lone Pine, Nebraska. In the second and third weeks of March, she will be in Wayne to offer 16 hours of class in tole painting.

Her classroom will be in the Weander Crafts place of business at 710 Nebraska Street. Those registering for the session can attend class four hours during Monday, four hours on Tuesday — to be repeated the following week.

Cost for the tole painting class is $20 for the 16 total hours. There is an additional $5 charge if Peacock pro-vides the paint for the tole painting lessons. Participants should contact Weander to discuss the other supplies

'I will be teaching participants to e paint on wood, glass and metal,"

TOLE PAINTING originated around the 1700's and was used in decorating furniture. Poor people could decorate their home as good as the rich people [through tole painting], Peacock said.

"Tole painting is a way to get into more serious types of art," she sald. "It's a hobby everyone can do. I got my start tole painting." "It's for men as well as for women.

I taught my mother, and she is 76 years old and I'm very proud of the work that she has done. People in their low teens can learn it too."

Over in Germany, she taught for nearly eight years the art of oil painting. She has traveled all over the world and has viewed many forms of art that appears in various shapes and forms. "I've been exposed to a lot of art. But I like traditional art, where a tree looks tike a tree and people look like people," she mentioned.

The newest generation of tractors feature a mechanical front-wheel-assist (FWA) drive which is very similar to the 4-wheel drive tractors. The difference between the two tractors is that the FWA uses smaller front wheels.

The initial concept of FWA consisted of the ability to engage or disengage the front wheel drive mechanism. Although the option of 2-or 4-wheel drive modes has been considered an advantage, this may not be the case.

nas open considered an advantage, this may not be the case.

When comparing the EWA to conventional 2-wheel drive tractors that are correctly ballasted, little difference exists between the performance of these two tractors when operating on dry or firm soil conditions. The advantage of FWA is performance during tough tractive conditions such as well-slippery surface or soft soil conditions.

Results from University of Nebraska-Lincoln traction studies conclude that continuous operation of the FWA drive (engaged) may be the most effective method. For example, a FWA tractor ballasted for the engaged mode has about 7 percent higher tractive efficiency than the same tractor operating in the 2-wheel drive mode.

IF A TYPICAL farmer operated his 140 PTO horsepower FWA tractor in the lisengaged mode, an additional annual cost of $640 could be expected without accounting for the FWA option cost.

In the opinion of some manufacturers, dual wheels are self defeating on FWA tractors: Traction studies show that FWA tractors equipped with dual wheels consume 10 percent more fuel than those not equipped with dual wheels.

The outside dual wheel causes increased rolling resistance due to its opera-tion in uncompacted soil since it does not follow in a front wheel track-However, duals may be required if mounted implements impose loads in ex-cess of the rated load capacity of the single wheel, or flotation is necessary.

Farm credit banks sustain losses during past year

As a result of the adverse agricultural economy, the three Farm Credit Banks of Omaha (FCBO)—the Federal Land Bank of Omaha (FLB), the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Omaha (FICB), and the Omaha Bank for Cooperatives (OBC)—each sustained losses during 1985, according to John A.—Harling.—FCBO—President—and-Chief Executive Officer.

Our losses were expected. Since the Farm Credit Banks lend only to agriculture, the stressed financial condition of agriculture impacts the Banks' condition in direct propor-tion." Harling said.

For most agricultural areas, 1985 was a year of sharp declines in farm and ranch land values, Harling said. For many agricultural producers it was also a year of continued negative cash flows and inability to pay in-stallments due on borrowed capital. Numerous factors, including chang no government agricultural policies. Numerous tactors, including chang-ing government agricultural policies, reduced agricultural exports resulting from a strong dollar and ex-panded foreign agricultural capaci-ty, high real interest rates, and low commodity prices led to economic stress for farmers and ranchers.

"In spite of the bleak picture generated by year-end financials," Harling said, "there is reason to be optimistic about the future because of some positive factors which go beyond the Banks' year-end financial figures."

According to Harling, those positive factors are:

Reductions in the interest rates of Reductions in the interest rates of FLB variable rate loans. The FLB has announced that the variable rate will decrease to 12.75 percent effec-tive March 1. The cost of new funds for the banks.

The presence of loss sharing agreements between units in the Farm Credit System which assures that System units support each other to the extent possible.

Passage of the Farm Credit Amendments Act of 1985 which pro-vides to System borrowers assurance that the System will confinue to exist as a dependable, competitive source of credit. The legislation also provides stability for investors.

Reorganizations in the banks and associations which are improving the operating efficiency and effectiveness of the organization.

And stabilization of Production Credit Association (PCA) capital through the merger of the 37 former PCAs Into the PCA of the Midlands at the close of business on December 31, 1985, which assured that the System financial assistance package would be put in place. The merger also allowed for the resumption of PCA

The year-end combined FLB/FLBA statement showed a 1985 net loss of $385 million, compared to a net loss of $11 million in 1984. The 1985 net loss of $11 million in 1984. The 1985 loss was due to the need to add an unprecedented $573 million to the FLB's allowance for loss accounts during 1985, primarily to reflect a decrease in the value of land which secures FLB loans. Land values have decreased as much as 60 percent from their peak in some areas of the four-state Omaha Farm Credit District, according to Harling.

Our oldest wants to be a physical therapist. When she was a candy striper. She helped in that department and has always maintained an interest in it. With that goal in mind, she acquired a degree in biology. But getting into PT school is like getting into med school, and I've never been able to understand how those selections are made.

She applied at Wichita State and they told her last year that her German did not fulfill their humanities requirements. So she god a semester of philosophy and this year, they granted an interview.

She decided to take some moral support: her roommate's mother. Charlotte, and me. Charlotte is also her boss at Arby's, and her "Lincoln mother."

High jumping seems so impossible to me. You run up to a bar, give a mighty leap, arch your back over the bar, and land on the foam without catching your heels on the bar. If the bar falls, it's a miss. You get three altempts at each height.

I remember the 'day Jon first cleared 6' at the Boys' Town fleld house. The following year, he consistently went 6'4'. He's 6'5'.
But they go much higher than that. I saw Randy De Buhr of Midland go 7''' last year. And he's only 6' tall. Jon calls him "poetry in motion." It's a beautiful sight.

Jon calls him "poetry in motion." It's a beautiful sight.

The approach at the Doane field house is short, so you can't get much of a run for it. Opening height is 6'. A couple of self-confident individuals passed to 6'4", and one didn't make that. They increase the height 2" at a time, and 6'6" seemed to separate the men from the boys.

I'd not even seen Jon go 6'6". It took two tries, but he did it. His teammate, Darin Bentzinger, stayed right with him.

WHEN THE BAR was raised again. I held my breath. The first attempt was so close, and on the second, he had it. How exciting! I could not believe it. Darin made it on the third try, so they both qualified. I had to call home and share the news. Now we have to figure a way to get to St. Paul next week.

On Sunday night, we took in Janniter's senior recital, which was also tantastic; and a very sleepy quintent headed south on Highway 81 early Monday morning.

We were amazed at the number of, oil wells. There was a blowout outside of Salina. Sue had it about changed when a friendly fellow crossed the medlan and tightened the lug nuts for us.

We delivered Kay to her daughters, after wandering around the city; found a quiet motel and napped, look ed over a near-by shopping center, and had delicious Chinese food for supper.

They told us not to eat steak because Kansas beef has not had as much corn and would not taste as good as Nebraska's. South Kansas is very warm, 73°, and the natives have a southern draw.

The interview was at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday. We cased the campus and bought mugs at the bookstore. WSU's logo is a "Shocker."

since Sue had a 7 p.m. class in Lin-coln, we hurried back. Now if they just accept her, it will all be worth it. Meanwhile, she's-preparing for one-at Creighton. It's frightening to think we'll have three people in college next year. We need one of those oil wells.

Commodity programs to be reduced

Secretary of Agriculture John Block said the U.S. Department of Agriculture soon will begin spending reductions In. Its commodity programs to comply with President Réagan's Feb. 1 sequester order issued under the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings Act).

Block said the order calls for a USDA spending reduction of $1.3 billion for fiscal 1986, equal to a 4.3 percent reduction in those USDA-outlays subject to provisions of the Act. The reductions, scheduled to begin March 1, will be allocated equally on a pro-rated basis among these programs.

USDA programs exempted from spending reductions include the Food Samp, the Child Nutrition, and the Women, Infants and Children Special Supplemental Food Programs.

Block said $822 million in reductions will be made in 1986 Commodity Credit Corporations programs.

What is the legislature doing about groundwater quality?

Groundwater resources in Nebreska are vest, and for the most part the quality is excellent. Until recently most people have considered this resource elmest unitarited and safe. However, the age of chemicals that we live in, coupled with the horror stories of mastive spills and pollution are beginning to make everyone wonder just how safe our groundwater supplies are. Now is the time to be concerned and to take steps to safeguard our preclous groundwater resources. But it is not a time for panic or rash actions that we will regret later. We must not forget that Nebraska's economy based largely on the utilization of groundwater for agriculture and industry. We must insure that this use is proper and not detrimental, but we should not overroact to the point of harming our economy with unnecessary restrictions.

Why plant trees now?

If you are one of those people who like trees, but haven't been able to justify the cost of planting, on the merits of the trees alone, your time may have come. Several intentives are now in place, which may be just the excuse you have been welling for to plant:

1. Cost sharing is available from the ASCS in many counties.

counties
2. Tree planting is encouraged as a part of the NRDGame and Parks Commission Wildlife Hobitet Program
3. The Consistency represent of the new farm bill offers several advantages itself:
2. 50% cost share on planting the trees
b. Amount payments for the 10 year life of the contract c.At the end of the contract you can have a well established firewood plantation, windpreak, wildlife area and in some wees a tumber planting.

Besides these financial intentives, you can order a great variety of low cost tree seadlings from LENRD in lots of only 25 trees per species. Cost is 58.25 per 25 seedlings: You can plant them yourself or contract with the NRD to plant them. The fallowing species are available: Evergreens — Red Cedar, Ponderosa Pine, Austrian Pine, Scotch Pie (Tur), Jack Pine. Hardwoods—

OF PRAYER
World Day of Prayer, scheduled Friday, March 7, is a world wide call to prayer observed by Christian women in the United States and more than 170 countries and regions of the world.

In Dixon, the World Day of Prayer observance will be held at 2 p.m. at 51. Anne's Church.
Women from the United Methodist Church. In Dixon and Concordia Lutheran and Evangelical Free Churches in Concord have been invited to athend, as well as other women in the area who wish to participate.

women in the area who wish to participate.

"Choose Life" is the theme of the 1986 service and articulates the hard choices, women are called upon to make if peace is to be achieved.
The service is a challenge to women of the world from Christian women of Australia who wrote this year's worship materials. It calls women to make decisions and take actions that will begin to change the injustices and inequities that cause suffering to countless numbers of the world's people.

card of comm

WOULD like to thank Rev. Vogel &

THANKS TO MY family, relatives and friends for the many cards, flowers, and gifts received while in the hospital. To Drs. Robert-and Walter Benthack and Dr. West, the nursing staff for their good care. To Sister Gerrude for all her prayers and comforting words and Pastor Youngerman for his visits. Alice Bruns.

WE WISH TO express our sincere thanks to our dear family, relatives, friends and neighbors for all the beautiful cards, best wishes, flowers, giffs and prayers we received for our 60th wedding anniversary. To all who helped to make our day special and also thanks to Sharon. God bless each and all. Arthur and Annette Hagemann.
