Farm programs causing confusion

by Chuck Hackenmiller

A combination of the 1986 Farm Bill and the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings Act isn't mixing too well with area farmers these days and is also confusing officials who are designated to carry out the program.

The Wayne County ASCS (Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service), SCS (Soil Conservation Service), Extension Service and the FmHA (Farmers Home Administration) offices conducted a public informational meeting last Wednesday afternoon to explain the farm programs which are affecting farm or ranch producers at the present time.

Late passage of the 1986 Farm Bill has resulted in information on the farm program provisions being received later than usual.

What a large number of producers found out at the information meeting was not good news.

The sign-up period for the separate 10 year CRP (Conservation Reserve Program) and the Feed Grain Program begins on Monday, March 3.

However, Ray Butts of the ASCS said on Friday that the forms for the CRP program has not yet arrived.

"We can do everything else except contract and enter his bid."

SIGN-UP Monday for the Feed Grain Program has been complicated by the fact that there has been no final procedure on establishing crop base and yields.

"We can't sign until we know what their base is," Butts said.

There is still an amendment to the 1986 Farm Bill that is awaiting the signature of President Reagan, he said.

Once it is decided as to exactly what will be designated as the base, Butts said it will take a week to prepare sign up notices and several days to get all the material mailed out.

The chaos doesn't end with the lack of information or forms intertwined with the 1986 farm programs.

In previous years, advance deficiency payments for corn was available to farmers at the time of sign-up to the Feed Grain program. Using a formula based on corn base and yield, multiplied by an advance deficiency figure of .412, the deficiency amount is established. The farmer can then draw nearly three-quarters of that advanced deficiency amount in cash and the other one-quarter in grain certificates.

THIS YEAR, advance deficiency payments will not be distributed at sign-up beginning March 3, according to Butts. And he cannot pinpoint exactly when the payments will be forthcoming.

The critical nature of the delay in advance deficiency payments to farmers will spell trouble for some producers depending on that cash for this year's operation, according to Kevin Kal, a farmer from the Wakefield area, who voiced his displeasure about the situation following the informational meeting last Wednesday.

Kal told The Wayne Herald that he feels the weeks that go by without advance deficiency payments poses a critical situation, particularly when farmers are teetering on the borderline of existence as the planning for producing 1986 crops begins. Having that deficiency cash can sometimes have a bearing on whether or not a lending institution will loan the producer money or not, he said.

Butts told the Wayne Herald Friday that he knows the advance deficiency cash is needed by the producers. And it will be a top priority, he said, to make the money available "as quick as we can."

"But it can't come ahead of getting everybody signed into the programs," he said.

"We're not holding it up just for the sake of holding it up," he said. "We'll continue providing what service we can. But they are going to be numbered."

THE GRAMM-RUDMAN-HOLLINGS Act has put a dent in the ASCS budget, Butts said, that will cause the local ASCS office to be short of staff. Reductions were necessary in an effort "to try and make sure we're in operation at the end of the fiscal year," he mentioned.

"We cannot put in anymore over time," he said.

"In previous sign-up periods there were people signing up for programs till seven or eight at night," he ad-ed.

At the district level, the consensus was that the local ASCS office would not have time to make the necessary deficiency payments at the initial sign-up. At the state level it was suggested that "no overtime" for ASCS employees would become a possibility.

On Friday morning a note from the national level revealed the "no overtime" policy, Butts said.

"Word came from our district director that we had to reduce our staff, and that includes [eliminating the position] of one temporary employee," he said.

Along with Butts, there are currently three regular and two temporary employees at the Wayne ASCS office.

BEING SHORT-STAFFED, plus the shortness of time of when the farm bill programs were approved to the signing date, will bring on a hectic schedule, Butts feels.

"We don't have an understanding of all the details we do have. It's going to take longer to explain the program and to figure up the payments," he said.

"I thought the PIK program was difficult. That was a piece of cake compared to this," he added.

There is a two-week sign-up for the Conservation Reserve Program — a program in which farmers put bids out on the amount they would accept for annual rental on the acres of their highly erodible cropland if the land is taken out of production for 10 years.

Community Club supportive

Wakefield looks into hiring administrator

Following several months of study, the Wakefield Community Club has gone on record as supporting the hiring of a city administrator.

At a special meeting on Feb. 21, Community Club members voted unanimously to recommend to the Wakefield City Council that a city administrator be hired.

The Community Club also voted to pay $10,000 of the initial cost of hiring such a person.

The city council is expected to discuss the issue when it meets Wednesday, March 5.

THE RECOMMENDATION that a city administrator's position be created in Wakefield follows a feasibility study conducted by a committee of Community Club members.

The committee, which was formed in December, is comprised of Alden Johnson, Terry Baker, Terry Nicholson and Bill Rischmuller.

Since December, the committee has met with Laurel City Administrator L. J. Mallott and Wayne City Administrator Phil Kloster.

IN MAKING the recommendation that a city administrator be hired for Wakefield, the committee stated that the purpose of the city administrator would be to provide the centralization of the administrative responsibilities of the city.

The administrator would serve as the administrative head of city government under the direction and control of the mayor and city council, and would be responsible to the mayor and council for the efficient conduct of the office.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS stated that the strengths of the office would include centralization, convenience, efficiency, closer supervision of city finances, closer supervision of city personnel, and better coordination between departments.

In addition, the office would allow time for a city representative to attend meetings and seminars to take advantage of any assistance offered through federal and state programs.

Committee members also pointed out that the position would remove politics, making the mayor and city council positions more attractive; would establish a healthier and stronger climate for business and industry; and would encourage new business and industry to locate in Wakefield.

THE POSITION of city administrator would be created by passage of a city ordinance, with the administrator being appointed by the mayor with and by consent of the city council.

In the event the city administrator position does not prove beneficial for the city, the ordinance and position could be revoked.

Not great TV Equal time not necessary

by Richard Leshner, President Chamber of Commerce of the U.S.

Something got under my skin recently in the worst way. It had to do with President Reagan's State of the Union address.

For 200-plus years, these speeches were the stuff of stodgy ritual. The president told us how well we were doing and how he was going to keep it that way. His message was warmly and politely received by leaders of both parties, whose leading spokesmen made statements of soothing support or gentle disagreement.

Fortunately, this time the president spared us the traditional legislative laundry list in favor of reviewing the themes of his administration. My problem is with the Democratic response aired by the three major networks.

By the way, let me step back a moment in the interest of truth in commentary, and point out that I am a registered Independent — and unlike others of my ilk, I have never been or registered as a member of either political party.

Back in the old days, the networks ensured fair and balanced reporting by interviewing spokesmen from both sides on their reaction to the speech. Sometime in the recent past, however, someone decided that since the State of the Union had political content, the opposition must have equal time.

NEVER MIND THAT the Constitution requires the president to report on the State of the Union — making it a legitimate event for straight news coverage. Such an official act is easily distinguishable from a political activity, say, a campaign speech.

But in the last few years, the networks have given the Democrats a period for response directly after the speech — in the prime of prime time. This year the response even ran longer than the speech.

What's truly infuriating is that this "response" had developed into a political equivalent of MTV — a slick video that was packaged in advance and contained heart-wrenching backdrop filler materials.

The effect was to have series of unpaid political advertisements attacking the president and boosting Democratic stars. In one, Rep. Thomas Daschle, D-S.D., a candidate for the Senate, half-weepingly blamed the government for a farm family's troubles — while the camera zoomed in through a window of their picturesque prairie farmhouse to capture the family saying grace.

Great TV — but unrelated to the president's speech.

What's really galling is that these three networks refused to sell time to W.R. Grace & Co. for a commercial on the effects of the deficit — claiming it was too "controversial." And two of the three refused to air a film the Republicans wanted to air introducing the president at their convention — claiming it was too political.

The Democrat's "equal time" response was neither equal nor a response. It's time the networks reviewed their ground rules for such offerings to ensure that they are given in response to the original subject matter — and that the rules are the same for everyone.

viewpoint

Honor their memory.
Send a letter
to name
Uranus moons
after the crew.

"We the undersigned understand that you have proposed official naming of the recently discovered satellite of the planet Uranus to honor the crew [of seven recently killed in the space shuttle tragedy]. We all wholeheartedly support this proposal."

The display, photographed above, is what was on display at the Wayne Elementary and Wayne Middle School, allowing students there to sign a letter and mail it to proper authorities.

This is one way we can pay tribute to these courageous pioneers and we applaud the effort. There are also many ideas on honoring the space heroes which are taking place much closer to home — such as in the form of scholarships to teachers in the name of the teacher who was the first in space.

If we can only block out the circumstances and judgment errors by space officials that led to the explosion in the first place, as members of the special commission appointed by President Reagan to investigate the incident are now finding out.

No doubt the errors will be forgotten. But at least the names of the space shuttle crew who lost their lives will be remembered in dedication.

Those who wish to name the Uranus satellite after the seven crew members should write to Dr. Harold Masursky, Chairman, The Working Group, International Astronomical Union, 2255 North Gemini Drive, Flagstaff, Arizona 86001.

Many of the married Wayne Volunteer Fire Department members did a nice thing recently for their spouses.

They took them out for dinner.

An appreciation dinner, that is.

Firefighters, as we all know, are men (and women) who appreciate the simpler pleasures of life, like hot coffee held in numb, unbending fingers; the flush of fresh air pumping through smoke- and fire-convulsed lungs; a warm bed for bone and muscle compelled beyond feeling; the camaraderie of brave men; and the divine piece of selfless service and a job well done in the name of all men.

Apparently the firemen felt that their spouses are also deserving of some recognition.

Here is a poem which explains why. I hope this doesn't offend any female members. Their spouses are also worthy of the praise.

Safely Home

One quick glance at the clock. It's getting awfully late. As time ticks away, I start to worry about my husband's fate.

He'd been gone for hours since that fire whistle blew. Didn't even finish his meal. Just 'out the door' he flew.

What kind of fire was it? A car? Chimney? Or shed? Poor guy. Temperature outside's 10 below. Hope he covers his head.

Had plans to go out tonight, you know, to a popular movie show. Gee, do you suppose that he's okay? I wish someone would let me know.

Another hour quickly gone. Still haven't heard anything yet. He won't come home, I'm sure until all responsibilities are met.

There will be washing to do 'cause after he's done facing a fiery hell his clothes will be carrying soot and that lingering smoke smell.

Oh, I know he faces danger each time he answers a call and that I'm supposed to be supportive of everything he does and all.

But golly, what if he slipped or lost his way inside a burning building that was collapsing as his breath was being denied.

Stop! Don't dwell on the 'what ifs' and think on the positive side of how proud I am of my husband as he heads for the firetruck ride.

Because he's doing a great service and fighting without fear, something that could be so deadly. Oh, how I wish that he were here!

Another hour passes. Wait! He's back! I see the pickup's light. But I can't let him know that I worried about him tonight.

He'll say: "Why are you up? Shouldn't you be sleeping in bed?" You want to say: "Thank God you're home!" But settle for a hug instead.

No, nobody said it was simple or an easy way of life. But let me tell you one thing, I'm darn proud to be a fireman's wife.

Confusing program

We have just returned from a scheduled informational meeting at the Wayne City Auditorium (Feb. 26) to explain the 1986 farm program. Farmers, farm related suppliers, bankers, farm managers, real estate men, etc. poured into the 1:15 session to hear finally the long awaited directions for farming — 1986.

When it was over, these same people "poured out" more confused than ever, literally ready to throw up their arms in disgust. The kind of information we heard today — or lack of — being channeled down from Washington is causing undue criticism of the local ASC offices — and certainly as much frustration for them as everyone else. The meeting was prefaced with the statements that the local office still does not have all the information relating to determining individual acreage bases and farm yields. When this is received it will take a minimum of two weeks to process these calculations.

This is the situation only a few days remaining to Monday, March 3, the scheduled start up day for signing up for the program. This has got to be a prime example of government bureaucracy — red tape! It is becoming so complex, a farmer needs to take his lawyer along to learn what he can and can't do, how the payments are computed, etc.

Even the lawyer is confused at this point. To document the situation, the local ASC director stated that the directives coming down are changed, not only day to day, but almost from hour to hour!

This kind of government bungling is adding to the emotional and financial stress of the agricultural communities. Here's why: We still don't know how to plan our cropping, what seeds and fertilizer to purchase. We were told that any advance deficiency payments would be delayed possibly up into May; that the final payment (1986) may not be forthcoming until October, 1987.

Many farmers were planning on this financial income soon — for putting in the crop. To add to the frustration of the local ASC offices in accelerating the paper work, they have received notice they may have to reduce their office staff at this critical time. All this confusion when we still haven't received the 1985 deficiency payments.

This is a sad commentary on Washington's administering the 1986 farm program. A random survey of neighbors' reactions to this letter before its mailing, indicates this may portray exactly the frustrations of every farmer, farm related businessman in rural America! The bottom line is: Do you have encouraging words of hope for us in the very near future? It's a mess right now!

Thursday Nighters

There has been state-wide mention made recently concerning a group that regularly meets in Wayne called, for the lack of a better name, Thursday Nighters.

This group began meeting approximately a year ago with little purpose except to bolster one another by searching for positive actions that might be undertaken, either individually, or as a community. As the months passed, a myriad of subjects were discussed and the participants were amazed at the benefits that could come from interaction through quality conversation. The group grew more diverse with representation from clergy, business, agriculture, manufacturing, education, banking and law. Conversation topics ranged from personal to community, from theology to humor, from politics to family, and from profound to inane.

Whether any problems have been solved is debatable. Whether any attitudes have been changed is probable. Whether any ideas have been born is assured. The suggestion has been made that the Thursday Nighters are a think tank. Well,....maybe. Perhaps thought pot would be more accurate. A great deal of time is spent conjuring and sharing visions. Thursday Nighters tend to believe that it is our perception of reality combined with our vision of the future that determines our priorities. We act in accordance with the way we see our future and our actions determine what we become. Accepting that premise, we realize that the first step toward any desirable change requires a vision.

At any rate, the message to be conveyed here is that the Thursday Nighters threaten no one. No axes are being ground. No plots are simmering. And there's room for more around the table. There are no agendas, no officers, no minutes, no dues, no openings and no closings. Thursday Nighters don't gossip. They don't rumor. They talk....and think....and talk. If you're curious about Thursday Nighters, join in! Thursday nights — 6:30 p.m. (for supper) at the Lumber Company.

Change is coming. We can attempt to influence it. Or we can wait and react to it.

Philippines situation

The change which has occurred in the Philippines is a promising one. It suggests that peaceful transformation can, at least sometimes, take place in social systems, that people acting non-violently can sometimes bring down tyrants. Nebraskans for Peace has had a history of supporting non-violent change, and we salute the Philippine people for their moving demonstration of courage. We admire them for what they have accomplished. We also wish to commend the Reagan Administration for its actions to support a peaceful transition.

The Marcos regime folded when it was apparent that U.S. tax dollars would no longer prop up this corrupt government. His flight proves that U.S. tax dollars have an enormous influence on the success or failure of the unjust governments we support. We should not allow that lesson to be lost in our development of policy toward South Africa, Chile, and a host of other Third World countries. We can encourage peaceful change.

Our next step must be to make certain that real change takes place in the economic position of the very poor in the Philippines, in the distribution of land, in the defense of human rights and in the control of the traditional military and landowning classes. Such reform will be difficult for the Aquino regime with our support. It will be impossible without it.

Q. I have life insurance and want to know if the beneficiaries will have to pay federal and state taxes on the money they would receive from my insurance.

A. The payments your beneficiaries receive from the insurance company on your life insurance policy are not considered to be a part of their gross income and thus are not subject to federal or state income tax. If they are paid by reason of your death. If you owned the policies, the proceeds would be considered as part of your estate and would be subject to federal estate tax, whether they are payable directly to your beneficiaries or to your estate. Whether any tax would be due would depend on the size of the estate and other provisions of your estate plan. If payable directly to the beneficiaries, the proceeds would not be subject to Nebraska inheritance tax.

How to file an insurance claim

When you need to file a claim with your insurance company, you may feel lost in a maze. The following tips to help you succeed came from our state family economics specialist.

Report your claim promptly. Call your agent as soon as an accident occurs or loss is discovered. Your agent also can help you collect from the company. Agents know more about processing claims than you do and they're paid to help you. An agent should have some advice and suggestions to help you file a successful claim.

Get a claim number. The first time you talk to your agent or the company's home office, ask to have the forms you'll need to file sent to you. When you receive the forms, check to see if your case has been assigned a claim number. If not, call or write and ask for one. Whenever you speak to anyone at the company about your claim, have the claim number ready.

ALWAYS TALK TO the same person. If possible, speak directly to the person who assigned the claim number. If you must talk with someone different, be sure to get that person's name and telephone number.

Don't call over the lunch hour. If it's your lunch hour, it's also the lunch hour at the insurance company.

If a problem arises, ask for a letter stating the status of your claim. Ask also that the letter specifically state what the problem is and when the company expects to have the problem solved.

If the company intends to dispute your claim, ask to have it reviewed by their legal department.

Verification problems. Be creative about the proof you are required to furnish with your claim. If you don't have the original receipt or canceled check or charge account bill verifying you indeed did purchase something, do you have a picture of the item?

A WOMAN WHO recently had her wedding rings stolen remembered her wedding pictures with a close-up of the wedding rings. The insurance company accepted this picture as proof that she did indeed own the rings she claimed had been lost.

Think ahead. Purchase additional coverage for those items valued above the limits of the policy. Get appraisals from recognized appraisers. Insure for replacement value. Take pictures and make an inventory list of valuable items. Be sure to store the inventory and additional proof elsewhere.

Follow the steps carefully and remain patient. Thoroughness will pay off when you file your claim with the insurance company.

Area women invited World Day of Prayer observance March 7

Wayne area women will join Christian women from throughout the world in observing World Day of Prayer on Friday, March 7.

The observance is sponsored locally by Wayne Church Women United and will begin at 2 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church.

All area women are welcome to attend.

WORLD DAY OF Prayer is a worldwide call to prayer observed by Christian women of many traditions in the United States and more than 170 countries and regions of the world.

"Choose Life," theme of the 1986 service, articulates the hard choices women are called upon to make if peace is to be achieved in today's world.

The service is a challenge to women of the world from Christian women of Australia who wrote this year's World Day of Prayer worship materials.

World Day of Prayer offerings make possible, in part, the mission of Church Women United, including the Intercontinental Grants for Mission program that funds national and international projects in support of the empowerment of women, human rights, justice and peace.

WORLD DAY OF Prayer began in the United States in 1967 as a day of prayer for mission by laywomen in the Presbyterian Church.

It now has spread worldwide and acts as a catalyst for women to come together in continuing relationships of prayer and action for peace.

Church Women United, sponsor of World Day of Prayer in the United States, is the ecumenical movement that brings Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women together into one Christian community of prayer, advocacy and service.

Church Women United works through a national unit, 52 state units, and 1,800 local units.

Allen upsets Winnebago, 59-50

WAKEFIELD — Just seconds after Thursday night's Allen/Winnebago game began, Eagle head coach Dave Uldrich shouted to his troops, "Remember, this is when it counts," referring to the C-27 Subdistrict Basketball Tournament.

Many coaches, like Uldrich, view subdistricts and districts as an entirely new season. And Allen ushered in its second campaign with a bang by tripping the powerful Indians 59-50.

Winnebago entered the game with a 14-3 record, a first seed in the C-27 tourney and a top 10 ranking by the Omaha World Herald. But the 3-13 Eagles led practically the entire game and knocked off the Indians with relative ease.

Uldrich said he was confident Allen could put off an upset, but added that he thought the Eagles would have to play almost errorless ball.

"I honestly thought we could do it, but I was concerned about Winnebago's pressure and I thought we'd have to keep our turnovers below 15," he said. "But we finished with 22 turnovers and still won."

Allen could afford a few more mistakes than usual because of Winnebago's cold shooting. The Indians hit just 22-of-69 field goals for 31 percent.

The Indians should have guessed they were going to be a long night when Allen's Craig Noe catted his first four shots from the floor and then his first 7-of-9.

When Noe goes, so do the rest of the Eagles, it seems, and the 6-3 senior tallied a game-high 27 points on 10-of-15 shooting from the floor and fueled the Eagle offense.

"I thought Craig played a great game," Uldrich said. "But the rest of the kids did, too. Our guards did a pretty good job against their press and our big guys got a lot of offensive rebounds."

Allen's rebounding might have been the difference. The Eagles outboarded Winnebago 48-36, including

15 offensive boards. "I think the difference was our rebounding," Uldrich said. "We especially got a lot of offensive rebounds, we probably scored around 20 points on offensive rebounds."

Max Oswald led the Eagles with 18 boards, while Noe and Steve Jones both grabbed 12.

Jones followed Noe in scoring with 16 points for the Eagles, while Clark McGrath tallied eight, Oswald scored seven and Jyoti Kwankin added one.

Darren Payer led Winnebago with 19 points, while Darwin Snyder added 14.

Indian and Nebraska Cornhusker fans received a scare late in the game when Snyder tumbled to the ground after attempting to block an Oswald shot. But the 5-10 senior was only shook-up and returned to play. Snyder received a football scholarship from UNL.

Uldrich was worried his club would experience an emotional letdown in the championship contest against Bancroft-Rosalie. "The next game might be tough because we'll be coming off our biggest win of the year. I just hope the kids will be up for the game," he said. "But maybe they'll say 'Hey, we already beat the first seeded team so lets go after it all.'"

Allen and Bancroft-Rosalie have met once during the 1985-86 campaign and the Panthers claimed a come-from-behind two point victory. Allen led in that game by two points with just over one minute to go.

Eagles up-ended by the Panthers

Bancroft-Rosalie downs Allen, 52-38

WAKEFIELD — Bancroft-Rosalie overcame a late third quarter spurt by Allen and thrived the Eagles 52-38 for the championship of the C-27 Subdistrict Basketball Tournament here Friday night.

Both teams were flat during most of the first three quarters, but Allen's Jyoti Kwankin and Steve Jones drilled the final two hoops of the third period to cut Bancroft's lead to six and supplied the Eagles with momentum.

Allen then tallied the fourth quarter's first six points to make the score 34-30. However, Jones fouled out with just over four minutes remaining in the game and Bancroft held a comfortable lead the rest of the way.

With Clarke McGrath leading the way, the Eagles desperately tried to stage a comeback in the final period. But Allen never seriously threatened after pulling within four of the Panthers.

McGrath was deadly from the outside. The 5-7 senior led the Eagles in scoring with 16 points and hit 8-of-10 field goals.

"I'd like to give credit to all the players for getting to the finals,"

Allen head coach Dave Uldrich said. "But McGrath shined the most in this game. Coming into the game he averaged two points, but he finished with 16."

McGrath was the only Eagle to score in double figures. Craig Noe followed McGrath with nine points, while Jones finished with six.

Bancroft's Jason Slaughter claimed the game's scoring honors with 19 markers, but his teammate, Brent Gatzmeyer tallied 14 markers and was the Panthers' mainstay down the stretch.

"That young Gatzmeyer went 6-for-12 from the floor and really got them going," Uldrich said.

Jones and Max Oswald led Allen in rebounding with 10 and seven boards, respectively.

The Eagles trailed 10-6 after the first quarter and 22-15 at intermission. But Allen bounced back by outscoring Bancroft 15-8 over the next 11 minutes. However, Bancroft totaled 22 markers in the last quarter and held Allen to 14 points to claim the victory.

Ponca duo thumps Wakefield

Rough first half sinks Trojans

SOUTH SIOUX CITY — Ponca's Brian Wellenstein and Tony White supplied the Indians with a 35-25 halftime lead and Ponca hung on to defeat Wakefield 59-56 in the opening round of the C-19 Subdistrict Basketball Tournament here Thursday night.

Wellenstein and White combined for 33 of Ponca's 35 first half points. Wellenstein tallied 19 first half markers, while White scored 14 in the first 16 minutes.

Wakefield head coach Paul Eaton said Wellenstein and White's first half play proved to be the difference in the game.

"I thought our kids played a good game, but we just couldn't stop Wellenstein and White in the first half," he said. "We played man-to-man against them but we didn't stop them until we used a double team in the last half." "The defensive switch allowed Wakefield to work its way back into contention. The Trojans outscored Ponca 14-12 in the third frame and eventually pulled to within one with 18 seconds to go.

But Wakefield missed the front end of a one-and-one that would have tied the game, and Wellenstein followed by hitting a layup to ice the Ponca win.

Free throws also assisted Wakefield in its second half surge. Ponca finished an impressive 7-for-10 from the line, but the Trojans hit 15-of-21 gitters on the night.

Wade Nicholson closed out his career by leading Wakefield in scoring with 24 points. Brad Lund and Kevin Greve followed Nicholson with 14 markers apiece, while teammates Jeff Rose and Todd Kratke both added two points. Wellenstein claimed the game's scoring honors with 28 markers. White did not score in the second half.

The Trojans speared 35 rebounds on the night. Greve led Wakefield with 10 boards, while Rose and Lund added nine and eight caroms, respectively.

The two clubs met earlier in the year and Ponca won by four points. Eaton said the Indians are a better team than they were earlier in the season.

"Ponca is a better team than the one we played earlier in the year," he said. "But we are, too. Our guys played a good game, we just couldn't stop them in the first half."

The loss ends Wakefield's season at 6-12. Eaton said he was proud of his players' effort during the year, and added that they were just a few breaks away from having a good year.

"I thought the guys gave a good effort all year. We lost eight of our games by 10 points or less so we were just a few breaks away from a good season," he said.

In addition to Nicholson, Rose, Jason Erb and John Halverson were also seniors this year for Wakefield.

Cool shooting dooms Bears

Laurel falls to Stanton, 65-46

NORFOLK — Cool shooting by Laurel and a quick second half surge by Stanton allowed the Mustangs a 65-46 victory here Thursday night in the opening round of the C-10 Subdistrict Basketball Tournament.

The favored Mustangs held a slim 15-12 advantage in the first quarter before pulling ahead by six, 31-25, at intermission.

But Stanton opened the game in the third period by drilling two quick jumpers for a 10 point advantage.

Laurel tried to bounce back, but the Bears went cold from the floor and Stanton never looked back. The Mustangs outscored Laurel 20-12 in the third frame and 14-9 over the final eight minutes for the 19 point triumph.

Mark Hrabik, Laurel's head coach, said his club's cold shooting and inexperience were the differences in the game.

"They hit a couple of quick ones and we went cold and that's when they took off," he said. "I could tell early in the game that the guys were a little nervous, too, and that didn't help."

Laurel hit 19 field goals and went 8-for-19 from the line. Stanton totaled 26 fielders and finished 13-for-25 at the stripe.

Steve Schmitt led the Bears in scoring with 15 points, while Erick Christensen and Doug Manz added nine and eight markers, respectively.

Both teams grabbed 27 rebounds. Christensen led Laurel with 10 boards.

Schmitt paced the Bears with a team high three steals.

The loss ends Laurel's season with a 5-11 mark. Hrabik said he is optimistic about the future.

"I'm pretty optimistic about Laurel's basketball future," he said. "I was just going over our season statistics, and we averaged 44 points a game this year, and of those 44, 38 will be coming back."

Although Hrabik is optimistic about next year, he said a successful 1986-87 campaign will not come without a lot of hard work from next years players. He said that future Bears will have to develop their offensive skills during the off season to be successful next year.

"We have the type of kids that play hard defense and hustle a lot, so if they can improve their offensive skills over the offseason, I think we could get something going up here (Laurel) in basketball."

Chad Blatchford and Christensen were seniors on Laurel's squad this year.

Anderson, a 5-9, 180-pound defensive back, was a three-year starter at Central High School and was named to the First Team All-State and All-Metro Conference. He will play cornerback at Wayne State.

Other players signed by Chapman are:

Bob Sterba, 6-0, 205 lb., linebacker Sterba, from Omaha South, was an honorable mention All-Stater. He will play linebacker at WSC.

Rick Perkins, 5-11, 210 lb., linebacker Perkins was an All-Metro selection last year who played noseguard at Northwest High School. He will play linebacker at WSC.

Tony Caniglia, 5-11, 210 lb., running back Caniglia was the captain of Westside's state playoff team. He was selected to the first team of the Federal Division of the Metro and was an honorable mention All-Stater as a linebacker. He also earned three letters in track at Westside.

Pat Boyle, 5-10, 145 lb., defensive back Boyle is a teammate of Anderson's at Central where he started at cornerback. He was honorable mention All-Metro and is the son of Omaha mayor Mike Boyle.

Ready Woodward, 5-10, 165 lb., defensive back

Woodward played for Bellevue West and is also a member of West's track team.

Jeff Crouch, 6-2, 240 lb., defensive tackle Crouch, an Omaha North player, with honorable mention All-State last year, where he played both the offensive and defensive line. He will play defensive lineman for the Wildcats. Crouch also finished fifth in the State Wrestling Tournament.

Bob Klopateski, 6-0, 225 lb., linebacker Klopateski played for the 1984 state championship team at Columbus Scotts High School. A defensive end in high school, he is expected to play linebacker at Wayne State. Klopateski also played in the State Track Meet in the discus.

Speller was selected third team All-State as a tight end and is a member of East's baseball team. He will play wide out at WSC.

Roger Benitz, 6-0, 185 lb., defensive back Benitz played for Homer's state playoff team and also plays on the Homer basketball team.

Steve Fox, 6-2, 200 lb., offensive lineman Fox played both offensive and defensive line at Sheldon, Iowa. He will play offensive lineman at WSC.

The 14 recruits signed by Chapman are the first he has announced. The fourth-year coach expects to release more signings in the near future.

Doane a lot like WSC

A first round meeting in the NAIA District 11 playoffs with Doane College awaits the Wayne State Wildcats Saturday, March 1.

On paper, Doane looks a lot like Wayne State. The Tigers finished the year 17-14 overall and second in the Nebraska Intercollegiate Athletic Conference behind Nebraska Wesleyan, which competes in the NCAA Division III.

As a team, Doane averages 69 points a game, just above Wayne State's 62 markers. Doane's defense allows 68.7 points, while the Wildcats allow 68.2. In all other statistical categories, the two teams are virtually even, with only fractions of points separating them.

Doane is led by 6-6 junior forward Brian Hoffman, the District 11 Most Valuable player this year. Hoffman, a native of Norfolk, averages 22 points and leads the district in total points scored with 690 and in field goal percentage at 60 percent. Hoffman is also third in rebounding with a 7.6 average.

Wayne State will also have to contend with Andy Allen, Doane's senior playmaker, who was also selected to the first team of the all-district squad. Allen averages 11 points and four rebounds per outing. The Wildcats earned a playoff spot after finishing 5-3 in the Nebraska Athletic Conference (NAC) behind Kearney State, 7-1. Bellevue College defeated Peru State, enabling Wayne State sole possession of second place.

At one point this season, the Wildcats were 0-3 in the NAC, but won five conference games in a row to claim second place.

"It's a tremendous tribute to our kids and our program that we've come so far to make the playoffs," Wayne State head coach Steve Aggers said. "I'm so proud of our kids. We're looking forward to the playoffs."

Wayne's Johnson named Miss Nebraska Softball

"It was a physical game," Uldrich said. "But they could afford to be physical because they have a good team."

The loss ends Allen's season at 3-14. Uldrich said next season will be a rebuilding one for the Eagles. "McGrath, Noe, Jones and (Brian) Malcom are all seniors this year so it will be a big rebuilding year next season," he said.

Wildcat baseball season begins

WAYNE — The Wayne State College men's baseball team played the role of bridesmaid twice last year, finishing second in both NAIA District 11 and the Central States Inter-collegiate Conference (CSIC). The Wildcats will be seeking the top spot as they head into 1986.

Wayne State opens with Phillips University, the nation's sixth ranked team on Sunday, March 2 in Enid, Okla. as they begin their annual spring road trip. Phillips is coming off a 52-18 season and will have two games under their belts when they meet the Wildcats. Phillips has nine letterwinners back from a year ago and will have to replace their shortstop, second baseman and three pitchers. But All-American catcher Chris Cotler returns as does All-American outfielder Tom Carbonaro.

Wayne State also plays Oklahoma Baptist, Central State University, East Central State University and Southeastern Oklahoma State on their southern road swing. In all, the Wildcats are scheduled to play 12 games in six days.

Wayne State is coming off a 26-25 season and a 14-2 record in District 11. The 1985 Wildcats' .354 batting average was 10th in the nation, but gone are power hitters Gregg Cruckshank, Pete Miller and Pete Saacks.

But head coach Lenny Klaver, in his third season, still expects the Wildcats to be a good hitting team. "We're a good hitting team, but we won't have that three-run blast as often as we did last year," said Klaver. We'll have to manufacture our runs and count on our strong pitching and solid defense."

Solid pitching is one thing Klaver is counting on this year as four starters return, headed by All-District and All-Conference performer Jeff Rothrock. Rothrock had the lowest ERA on the team at 5.33 and lead the team in strikeouts with 46. Righthander Mark Prignitz had 35 strikeouts and had a school-record 16 appearances. Lefthander Jose Ruiz is being counted on as the team's main reliever.

New additions to the pitching staff include Steve Roberts, a righthander reliever Ed Heritage (R), Brad Hohensee (R), Frank Fundernger (L), Jeff Addison (R) and Aaron Campbell (R).

"Our added depth on our pitching staff could be the key to our long-range success," said Klaver. "Last year we were hurt by injuries and were short-handed there at the end of the season."

The catching battle is between three young players: freshman Morfy Shultz, Kearney; sophomore Mike Brazda, West Point; and junior Ralphy Lau, Sargent Bluff, Iowa. Shultz shows the most promising defensive skills while all three must learn to hit college pitching, said Klaver.

Junior Mike Hoffart moves from third to first to anchor the Wildcat infield. The 6-5, 220 lb. "Hoss" has good hands defensively and carries a .365 batting average. Jeff Strain returns at second base. The All-District performer hit .342 from the lead-off spot last season. Sophomore Dale Clayton returns at shortstop after batting .371 and stealing a school-record 31 bases in 1985. Clayton's speed and range should pace the speed-oriented Wildcats in 1986, according to Klaver.

Two sophomores are battling for the third base position: Pat Salerno, who hit .346 as a DH last season and Craig Koehler appear to be the leading candidates for the job.

Wayne State's outfield will feature speed both on the basespaths as well as defensively. Senior captain Kurt Brosamle hit .364 with four homeruns and 44 RBIs. Last year Brosamle was one of the fastest players in the outfield. But that's changed for the better, according to Klaver.

"Kurt currently ranks fifth out of five outfielders in the 60 yard dash at 6.9," said Klaver. "And he's not slow by any means."

Brosamle will be in righthand field with Paul Calvert in center. Calvert, a junior, hit .331 last season. Randy "Rock" Raabe nailed down the left-field spot last fall after playing two seasons behind All-District performer Pete Miller.

Kearney State and Wayne State appear to be the teams to beat in District 11, along with Bellevue College, said Klaver.

"I'm really optimistic about this year, he said. "I'm sure Wayne State will be right in there this year, battling with Kearney for the top spot."

Wayne State opens their home season on March 21 against Concordia at 3 p.m.

Microcomputer course conducted at Doane

Nebraska teachers are investigating ways to teach economics using microcomputers. A series of workshops are being held throughout the state to acquaint leaders in the area with software.

Directors of economic education centers from the following educational institutions recently attended a workshop on the Doane campus in Crete: Wayne State College, Hastings College, Kearney State College, University of Nebraska-Omaha, University of Nebraska-Lincoln and Doane. The Doane Campus was chosen as the site because of its excellent computer lab.

The workshop, sponsored by the Nebraska Council on Economic Education, provided training and opportunities for participants to use software programs which are currently available to teach economics in the classroom. The sessions provided the directors with an annotated bibliography compiled by Karen Hallows, assistant director of the UNL Center, and Bill Walstad, director of the UNL Center, as well as hands-on experience with several software packages.

ONCE THE directors are trained, they return to their communities to train teachers.

In compiling the bibliography, the authors researched and experimented with various available economics software programs. They looked for ways the programs could be used to illustrate or reinforce basic economic concepts. Over 140 programs are annotated in the manual.

Several teacher workshops are planned throughout the state. Business people will be involved as resources at some of the sites.

Those people attending the training session at Doane were: Joyce Gleason, Doane College Center for Economic Education; Sara Drieling and Jim Dick, UNO Center for Economic Education; Cliff Ginn,

DAVID ROSS, economics teacher, Omaha Burke High School, shows Cliff Ginn, professor of government and director of economic education, Wayne State College, and Sara Drieling, area coordinator for economic education, UNO software available to teach economics.

STEADFAST... OVER THE LONG HAUL... THAT'S US!

We know that most banks are pretty much alike. Some have more branches than others, while all offer the same kinds of accounts, the same basic interest rates, the same financial programs. If there's a difference between banks, it's got to be the way a bank takes care of its customers.
And here's where we lay claim to the successful growth and dependability of our bank... in the professional, prompt, attentive and interested service we like to give every customer of ours. Regardless of whether you keep your checking account with us or make us responsible for watching over a multi-million dollar business, we're steadfast over the long haul!
