ESU approves budget

By LaVon Anderson

The Educational Service Unit One board of directors Tuesday night approved a budget of $2,277,100 for the 1986-87 fiscal year, down from last year's budget of $2,284,379.

The ESU 1 tax levy for 1986-87 is expected to remain at 3.5 cents per $100 of actual valuation in the six-county area the system serves, including Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Knox, Thurston and Wayne.

The levy is expected to generate about $507,000 of the $2,277,100 budget adopted by the board during Tuesday night's budget hearing at headquarters in Wakefield.

PROGRAMS FUNDED by the county levy include health services, administration and administrative supervision, business, maintenance and operation of plant, and media center.

Total estimated valuation for the coming fiscal year for 10 counties, including Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Knox, Thurston, Wayne, Antelope, Pierce, Stanton and Cumming, is $1,463,202,857.

That compares with last year's figure of $1,536,764,862, for a total decrease in valuation of $73,562,005.

A COMPLETE breakdown of the 1986-87 ESU 1 budget expenditures include $1,253,100.00 in special education services; $559,500.00 in general levy services; and $239,500.00 in transfers, for total budget expenditures of $2,052,100.00.

The budget also calls for $225,000.00 in cash reserves, an increase of $10,000 over last year, bringing the total to $2,277,100.

Estimated revenues during 1986-87 include $308,000.00 in estimated cash carryover; $1,220,600.00 in special education contracts; $507,000.00 in total taxes; $22,000.00 in nursing contracts; and $219,500.00 in transfers, for a total of $2,277,100.

IN A STATEMENT prepared for ESU board members Tuesday night, the ESU 1 administrative staff said it feels that the budget is "as accurate as possible under the circumstances of working with so many unknown factors."

Those unknown factors include the final cost for staff salaries for 1985-86, and salaries for the 1986-87 year.

"These unknown factors also effect the cost of social security, teacher retirement and disability insurance, as they are based on the salary of each staff member."

The staff base salary and all related items make up approximately 75 to 80 percent of all service unit costs.

MEMBERS OF THE ESU 1 board of directors held their regular monthly meeting following Tuesday night's budget hearing.

Following an executive session which lasted approximately 15 minutes, ESU 1 Assistant Administrator Rodney Garwood said the matter of contract negotiations between the ESU board and ESU Education Association for the 1985-86 year is now before the Commission of Industrial Relations.

"The matter is now on the CIR docket," said Garwood, adding that he does not know how long it will be before the case is heard.

AN ATTEMPT to solve the contract dispute for the 1985-86 school year was made last month when representatives of the ESU 1 board and Education Association met with a federal mediator.

Contract negotiators for the board and Education Association have been at an impasse for several months, with ESU staffers working the 1985-86 school year without a contract.

IN OTHER BUSINESS Tuesday night, ESU 1 board members:

—Heard reports by ESU 1 Administrator Harry Mills and board member Dr. Ervin DeBoer regarding "Administrator Days" held Aug. 6-7 in Kearney.

—Heard a report by ESU 1 Treasurer John Portwood regarding the investment of ESU 1 funds.

—Unanimously approved a building contract for 1986-87 with the South Sioux City School system for the Bryan building for $14,000 per year, up $1,000 from last year's contract.

—Unanimously approved a building contract for 1986-87 with Region IV for their facility in Wayne for $685 per month, compared to approximately $735 per month last year.

—Unanimously approved a change in board policy, to comply with state statutes, which states that the probationary period for new teachers is three years. Members also voted to suspend second reading on the proposed change and to adopt the change in policy on the first reading.

—Learned that an ESU 1 staff opening day workshop will be held Aug. 21 at Wakefield, and that an area staff opening day workshop will be held at Wayne Public Schools on Aug. 22.

NEXT MEETING of the ESU 1 board of directors is slated Sept. 9 at 8 p.m. The agenda will include discussion of the ESU 1 nursing services program.

Ellingsons add Chev-Olds line

by Chuck Hackenmilller

Ellingson Motors, Inc. of Wayne has added the full line of General Motors products to its dealership, recently acquiring the Chevrolet-Oldsmobile franchise.

Grant Ellingson, co-owner of Ellingson Motors, said the franchise rights for Chevrolet-Oldsmobile were approved by the General Motors (GM) Corporate Office in Detroit, Michigan. Ellingson Motors can now purchase direct from the factory all GM products in addition to offering the warranty and service work on the total GM line.

Added to Ellingson Motors' current line of Pontiac, Buick, Cadillac and GMC trucks is an inventory of new Chevrolet cars and trucks and Oldsmobile cars.

Ellingson said the dealership will be expanding with additional lot space. No building additions have been planned at this time, he said.

The previous Chevrolet-Oldsmobile dealership, Mike Perry Chevrolet-Oldsmobile, discontinued operations in April of 1986. A General Motors study of the market area had indicated there was a need to establish a Chevrolet-Oldsmobile dealership in the Wayne area. Ellingson Motors expressed an interest in the Chevrolet-Oldsmobile franchise and they received approval of their application this week.

Ellingson purchased the dealership from Ed Wolke in 1975. Glenn Ellingson retired from the dealership in June of 1983. Employed with Grant Ellingson in the car and truck dealership corporation are Jon Ellingson and Cedric Ellingson.

An open house has been scheduled for late September of this year to display the new 1987 Chevrolet and Oldsmobile lines.

Father Jim Buschelman dies

St. Mary's Catholic Church Pastor Rev. Jim Buschelman died at Marian Health Center in Sioux City Monday evening.

Rev. Buschelman, age 46, was discovered at his home unconscious on Monday morning.

He was taken to Providence Medical Center and then transported to Marian Health Center.

An autopsy is currently being performed to determine the cause of Rev. Buschelman's death.

Father Jim Buschelman came to St. Mary's Church in 1981 from St. John's Vianney in Millard.

He replaced Father Tom McDermott, who left the parish for Omaha in June of 1981.

Funeral services for Rev. Buschelman will take place Saturday at St. Mary's Church in Wayne at 11 a.m.

Archbishop of Omaha Daniel E. Sheehan will be the principal celebrant of the funeral Mass. Burial will take place at the parish cemetery in Harrington, with the Wintz Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Father Buschelman, a native of Coleridge, Nebraska, attended St. Francis High School in Randolph and St. John Vianney Seminary in Elkhorn, before enrolling at Conception College in Conception, Missouri, where he was awarded a bachelor's degree.

In 1967 he obtained a master's degree in theology from St. Bernard's Seminary in Dubuque, Iowa and he was ordained into the priesthood on May 27, 1967 at St. Cecilia's Cathedral in Omaha.

His assignments included St. Peter's Church in Omaha; St. Mary's Church in West Point; and St. Patrick's Church in O'Neill, where he also served five years on the faculty of St. Mary's High School in O'Neill.

During 1974 to 1980, he was superintendent of Scotus High School in Columbus and he was an associate pastor of St. John Vianney Church at

Rev. Jim Buschelman

Millard from 1980 to 1981.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buschelman of Harrington; brothers Joseph of Omaha and Kyle of Ottawa, Canada, and Roger and Ronald of Sioux City, Iowa; and a sister, Carole Ingenghron of St. Louis, Missouri.

City studies alleys, building fees

by Chuck Hackenmilller

The Wayne City Council will be doing some homework during the next few weeks, studying the data from two proposals presented to them by Wayne Planner and Building Inspector Marcia Pankaskie.

Pankaskie presented the council with data concerning the alleys within the city of Wayne and a review of the city's building permit fee.

The Aug. 1 report on the study of all the alleys in Wayne was classified in two segments. The first deals with those alleys that are currently being maintained or are being used enough and have a definite path in them.

The second classification graphically pointed out by Pankaskie are the alleys that are overgrown with brush or grass — those alleys where there is not enough use of it to claim it as an alley.

Some of the alleys are not being used, she said, but have utilities in them.

No formal action was taken by the city council on Tuesday regarding the alley study, since it was only a presentation of data and requires study by the council members. Councilman Darrel Heier mentioned during discussion of the alley data that some of the alleys not being used, which contain no utilities and are covered with trees and shrubs, could be considered for closing.

ANOTHER AREA the city council will study concerns building permit fees. Pankaskie said an individual had recently obtained a building permit from the Wayne city office and had been surprised by the fee he had to pay.

Since the 1985 Uniform Building Code was adopted, fees have increased substantially.

"It came up to about 46 percent. That is quite a big jump," Pankaskie mentioned.

In her data presentation, she revealed a permit fee comparison with neighboring cities — based on a house valued at $43,700. Under the current plan, the fee for Wayne would be $369 while the total cost for Columbus and Norfolk (breaking the fee down to building, plumbing and electricity) would be $224 and $200 respectively.

Building permit fees in Fremont and South Sioux City were less by even greater amounts.

Pankaskie proposed a fee schedule in her data presentation, that is similar to Columbus and Norfolk. She suggested to go back to the 1976 Uniform Building Code and "to add a small fee for plumbing and electrical."

With that proposal, the building permit fee on the fictional $43,700 valued home would be approximately $206.

The proposed new schedule also includes a penalty clause, which provides incentives to contractors and homeowners to obtain the necessary permit. Purpose of the study, she said, is to re-evaluate what and when to charge for a building permit fee.

THE BOTTOM LINE, she said, is that the city needs to get a better idea of what type of construction is being done, who is doing the work and what changes are being made.

The new schedule proposed will provide both the city and county with more accurate information about changes taking place. Pankaskie wrote in her report.

City council members will study the information from the building permit fee data presented by Pankaskie.

In other action Tuesday night, the city council:

—Accepted City Administrator Phil Kloster's recommendation that property on the corner of 12th and Lincoln in Wayne (secluded by brush and trees) be given a clean-up or have the city attorney take the necessary action to get the property cleaned up.

—And gave approval for the plans, specifications and for the advertising of water distribution system improvements within Wayne during 1986. Total cost for the project is $124,850. The work on the water distribution system will improve the "fire flow" of water quite a bit, city engineers said.

For Winside School District

Budget decrease proposed

by Chuck Hackenmilller

Winside School District's proposed 1986-87 school year budget has been reduced from the previous year, which will result in another decrease in tax askings.

Winside School Superintendent Don Leighton said on Monday that the school district's tax requirements have not been upped in three years.

Projected figures for the 1986-87 school budget show the projected cash balance (on Sept. 1, 1986), plus the projected non-tax income will bring in available revenue of $582,944.

The proposed budget calls for $978,129 in school district needs, which is $17,277 less than the previous school year's budget. The total proposed budget, plus the cash reserve, brings the projected needs level at $1,142,584.

The projected needs ($1,142,584) minus what is anticipated to be available through non-tax income and cash balance ($582,944) results in a proposed tax asking of $559,640. Add a 1 percent county treasurer collection fee to that amount and the total "general fund" tax requirement is $565,236, an increase of about $23,800 from the previous year.

However, a proposed decrease of $24,111 was recorded in the "bond tax" requirement, bringing the total general fund and bond tax requirements to $610,181, which is $303 less than the previous school year. A proposed budget comparison of school expenditures reveals a 1.7 percent decrease over the 1985-86 year.

Below are the reported decreases: Institutional Services — $7,274 less. Support services (other than instructional services) for pupils — $2,823 less.

Support services for general administration — $681 less. Support services for school administration — $76 less.

Support services for operation of the plant — $822 less. Support services for pupil transportation — $1,850 less.

Bereuter writes harsh letter to National Corn Growers Association president Dain Friend

The National Corn Growers and the Textile Bill

On August 6th, the House of Representatives voted 276 to 149 to sustain the President's veto of a bill being backed by textile and apparel manufacturers and unions that would have imposed quotas on the import of textiles and shoes. I opposed that bill and opposed the veto over-ride.

A week earlier I sent the following letter to Mr. Dain Friend, President of the National Corn Growers Association:

ing retaliation against American agricultural products. Fortunately the president's veto was sustained with nearly every House member of both parties in our region voting to sustain the veto.

It is true that the National Corn Growers cite a long list of grievances against the unfair trade practices of many nations and against past and present U.S. administrations. Of course the National Corn Growers are frustrated and disgusted, but one doesn't switch sides to support legislation that will cause corn growers across the country further great damage!

This switch also has the effect of pulling the rug out from beneath that half dozen of us who vehemently fight the battles in the House against the most overly protectionist legislation that will harm farmers back in our home states. Such groups as the American Farm Bureau, the National Association of Wheat Growers, and the National Grain Trade Council opposed the Textiles Bill. A fragmented position among grain producers' organization hurts their credibility for future battles, too.

The National Corn Growers has some explaining to do on this matter to its membership and leaders back in Nebraska and in other states. The group also needs to quickly confirm or repudiate the persistent rumor circulated to my colleagues in Congress that the textile or cotton interests offered big bucks to the National Corn Growers to defend themselves from a Canadian lawsuit on the condition that they switch their position to support the over-ride of the veto on the Textile Bill.

Nebraska corn growers are a great group of people with fine leaders in Nebraska. Perhaps they can turn their national organization back in the proper direction. We need to continue working energetically together against unfair trade practices and for more successful export promotion programs and policies.

We cannot afford extra money for Philippines

The House of Representatives passed a bill last week that authorized an additional $200 million for the Philippines for the current fiscal year. I opposed that authorization. The $200 million to be paid before October 1, 1986, to help that country deal with its budget deficit, is excessive. It is $200 million that we cannot afford to give if we are to be fair and responsible to U.S. taxpayers and if we are going to demonstrate concern about our own budget deficit.

I am totally supportive of the effort to restore democracy to the Philippines, and I am not a Johnny-come-lately in supporting President Aquino. This country has been generous to the Philippines and is likely to be generous in the future. But this amount of money, in addition to the amount we have already provided for this year, is more than we can afford. We put ourselves in the position of increasing our own deficit to lower the Philippines' deficit.

Will be missed

So often, the tasks of clergymen are taken for granted. They visit the sick, offer counseling, help coordinate the religious activities and conduct worship services of a parish — all in the line of their duties.

But some go way beyond that calling. Rev. Jim Buschelman, or Father Jim as he preferably wanted to be called, was one of those caring individuals who fulfilled much more than his duties entailed.

His death Monday evening has saddened those of many faiths in this community, and those from far beyond this area. To the parishioners, Father Jim was more than just a pastor at St. Mary's Church. He was a friend.

And not just a friend to the Catholic Church, but to the Wayne community and Wayne State College.

You would often hear him promoting Wayne. He made it a point in his homilies to welcome new members (and new businesses) to the community. And when the news was discouraging, he had the courage for encouraging optimism.

Education, and primarily students of area schools, were of great esteem in his eyes. He had many kind words for them — be it the young kindergarten students at St. Mary's School or the graduating seniors of Wayne State College.

The unselfish Father Jim liked to mingle with the people in this community — at parishioners' homes, while participating in a CROP Walk or when running on the basketball court. He was at peace sitting along a river bank with his friends, happy to haul in a big fish but content with only conversation.

His liking of the outdoors put him in touch with those that worked in the outdoor environment.

The last Sunday homily he gave reflected a story about how evil greed can be.

The time he gave of himself for others, and the work he did that would take more than two people to do, showed that greed was not in Father Jim's vocabulary.

His humor was always evident. For instance, last Saturday evening he welcomed those attending church service from out of town — primarily families of the ballplayers participating in the State Legion tournament going on in Wayne.

After the welcome, he smugly warned them: When it came time for them to play Wayne's Junior Legion Team, his loyalties would be with Wayne.

One could say that Father Jim was not only an ambassador to his faith, but also an ambassador to his community.

And he will be truly missed.

Lacked coverage

I noticed in a recent paper what a good job you did on covering the State Legion Baseball Tournament that was held in Wayne. There were pictures of ALL of the out-of-town teams, plus a large article about each of the games played, PLUS brackets for all of the following games. Very impressive, and a nice job.

However, I was wondering where your Sports Editor was with his camera and his notebook whenever there has been an adult Slow Pitch Softball Tournament in the same town. During the months of June and July, Wayne hosted a Men's Class B, and Men's Class C, a Men's Districts, and a Chicken Show Tournament in which there were 24 Men's teams and 9 Women's teams participating.

All of these tournaments were very successful, with many out-of-town teams as well as many Wayne teams involved. We estimate that the Chicken Show tournament alone brought at least a thousand people into town.

At one point during that same tournament you came right out and told me that you wouldn't print or even consider taking pictures of most of the out-of-town teams because 'nobody would be interested in seeing them anyway'. So I tried myself, with my little Instamatic, to get pictures of all of the winners - could. However, I took too long to get them back and they were of such poor quality, that no one could use them for any of their local papers.

Your coverage of Men's Districts was also disappointing, with NO pictures or accounts of any of the key games. I did notice, however, that there were two good sized articles the following week when the Wayne Sporting Goods team finished second in Class C State — out of town.

Anyway, it's great to see pictures of all those boys baseball players, even though nobody knows any of them, but couldn't you maybe start covering your local adult tournament as well? You had an editorial a while back about what Slow Pitch softball means to you but your sports pages don't seem to go along with your feelings very often.

Slow Pitch softball has become a large part of the summer for a great number of men and women in Wayne. Many men who can't afford to go out of town to a tournament are happy to participate in one when held in their own town. Maybe even more teams would participate if they had a little more recognition by their local media. We are already planning tournaments to fill next summer, so maybe with this notice you could have somebody out there next year to give this sport the recognition it deserves.

Nebraskans get ripped off

Starr's job can be frustrating

Sometimes Mark Starr feels like Sisyphus, the mythical Greek god who kept pushing the rock up the hill. Every time Sisyphus got the rock to the top of the hill, it rolled back down.

Starr, an attorney, is head of the small Consumer Protection Division, a part of the Nebraska Attorney General's Office.

The office was created in 1975 to protect Nebraska consumers from unfair and deceptive business practices.

It's a frustrating job. The office is understaffed — an investigator will soon join Starr and a secretary — and the state's laws are weak. Starr says.

And despite Starr's best efforts Nebraskans continue to be ripped off by the unscrupulous.

But Starr does what he can. HIS OFFICE provides some consumer education by way of pamphlets and brochures. And he produces a Consumer Alert, sent to news media and selected organizations, with tips on everything from health club rip-offs to buying frozen meat.

The Consumer Alert has warned Nebraskans to check out the percentage that goes to a charity before donating money. It's not uncommon for a charity to receive less than 15 percent of the donations.

The Consumer Alert reminded Nebraskans that state law gives consumers until midnight of the third business day after receiving a Buyer's Right to Cancel notice from the seller to change his mind about many purchases made by mail or door to door.

Starr has one primary piece of advice for Nebraskans: NEVER pay for anything in advance.

Many of the problems, many of the consumer complaints his office receives, involve prepayment for goods or services, he said.

Take vacation plans, a common area-of-complaint. Starr has heard the story over and over. "We were told we could take this vacation at any time during the year and it would cost $179 round trip. But when the vacation certificate arrived we found that you had to prove you had a $25,000 income and the trip is only good during certain times of the year and there is a $250 refundable deposit."

Starr also fields complaints against businesses. Sometimes the complaints are settled. Sometimes the businesses refuse to respond. Sometimes they are long gone from the state.

And sometimes Starr is able to put together enough information to go in to court.

THE AGENCY GOT a temporary restraining order against Executive Life Insurance Co. Limited before they even received a complaint. The company was beginning to recruit Nebraskans who would pay a fee to sign up others, who would allegedly be reinvested in "international high yield deposits (whatever those are)" which would then supposedly pay off the principle and interest of the loan itself plus provide an additional certificate of deposit.

Starr's office went to court when they first learned the firm might be recruiting in Nebraska. "There were enough farmers out there desperate for money that we didn't want to take a chance."

Despite occasional success stories, Starr's job has many frustrations. He's often frustrated by the gullibility of those who pay little heed to the warning — if it's too good to be true it probably isn't.

For example, some Nebraskans got advertisements for Fertile Myrtle, a product that promoters claimed would predict fertility when held in the human hand. Starr has no idea how many Nebraskans ordered the product.

Businesses get taxed hard

The essence of tax reform was best defined by Senator Russell Long 10 years ago: "Don't tax you, don't tax me, tax that fellow behind the tree."

In the current quest for tax reform, it is beginning to look more and more as if that fellow behind the tree is wearing a business suit. The House bill would raise corporate taxes almost 45 percent and the Senate bill, including the latest corporate tax increases offered by Senate conferees, would raise corporate taxes about 30 percent.

This is a surefire prescription for economic disaster. At a time when business is striving to modernize and improve its competitive position in international commerce, Congress is considering a draconian raid on corporate treasuries.

wholesale elimination of loopholes and reduction of basic rates — are sound. They would have a dramatic effect on the economy, spurring investment and consumption, providing groundwork for long-term economic growth.

But not if Congress first pounds business on the head with a sledgehammer of massive tax increases. The very possibility of this is already shaking financial markets. Our nation is at a crossroads that will determine our future for a long time to come.

THIS CRISIS STEMS from Congress' failure to comprehend the implications of what it is doing. This is no routine tax reform, shifting goodies around among competing interest groups. Rather, it is an attempt at fundamental change of the very concept of taxing; change that would radically alter the way businesses and individuals work, invest and spend.

But Congress refuses to consider this in its projection of revenues. Using traditional assumptions, it concludes it is facing a major shortfall. Having erected this straw man, it is now scrambling to swat it down by hiking taxes on business.

This approach will surely make prophecy of a revenue shortfall self-fulfilling. It will avail us little to reduce tax rates if, at the same time, we launch a massive assault upon the 'financial' base of business. Capital will flee our shores like rats from a sinking ship. And I hasten to add that we all have a vested interest in the structural integrity of this particular vessel.

Q. As a result of an on-the-job accident ten years ago, I have finitiss (ringing of the ears). My doctor told my employer to move me to a quieter work area, which he did for a while. Now the problem is getting worse as my work area is getting noisier. My doctor told my employer that I should be in a quieter area, but the company says the statute of limitations has run out and they do not have to comply. Is this correct? It seems like my employer should have to do as the doctor suggests.

A. The obligations of an employer under the Nebraska Workers' Compensation Law are to pay medical expenses and indemnity benefits as well as to provide death benefits or vocational rehabilitation where appropriate. The employer is not required to retain an employee in its employ after an injury or to accommodate the employee by, for instance, providing light duty or a quiet work area. However, the Nebraska Workers' Compensation Court would certainly encourage employers to do so. Whether or not the two year statute of limitations has run is irrelevant because the court does not have the authority to order an employer to provide an employee with a quiet work area. The request for a quieter work place aside, you may or may not be entitled to other benefits depending upon facts which you have not provided in your letter.

If an employee receives benefits and the claim is closed with a court-approved lump sum settlement, the employer is no longer obligated to provide workers' compensation benefits. If the employee has received benefits, but no claim has been filed with the court, and it has been more than two years since the date of injury or since the employer has paid a medical bill or compensation benefits because of the injury, the statute of limitations has run and the employer is no longer obligated to provide workers' compensation benefits.

Erwin-Carrott exchange vows

The Evangelical Free Church of Concord was the setting for the Aug. 2 ceremony uniting in marriage Susan Erwin of Concord and Brian Carrott of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Officiating at the 7 o'clock double ring ceremony was the Rev. John Tubbs of Carleton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Erwin of Concord, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carrott of Clear Lake, Iowa.

THE BRIDE WAS given in marriage by her father and appeared in a long white dress designed with a Queen Anne neckline, cap sleeves, and an accordion pleated skirt with a long train. Lace and bridal pearls trimmed the bodice.

Her waist-length illusion veil was accented with lace and bridal pearls and attached to a wedding ring headpiece.

The bride carried a lace nosegay of white silk roses accented with pink and teal baby's breath.

WEDDING MUSIC included "Forever," written and sung by the bride, "Security," sung by Steve Linn, and "Lift Up the Lord," sung by Karl Peterson, Lori Koester, Lisa Erwin and Lana Erwin. Organist was Cheryl Schroeder of Carleton.

Guests were registered by Connie Lichty of Carleton, and ushered into the church by Jim Gibson of South Sioux City, Doug Peterson of Jackson and Lindy Koester of Allen.

Flower girls were Shannon Koester of Allen and Jami Peterson of Jackson, and ring bearer was Aaron Molencamp of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Lighting candles were Becky Forsberg of Laurel and Ryan Erwin of Sioux City.

MAIDS AND maistrons of honor were Lori Koester of Allen, Lisa Erwin and Lana Erwin, both of Concord, and Karl Peterson of Jackson. Tracy Claude of Clear Lake, Iowa served as best man, and groomsmen were Doug Kellogg of Clear Lake, Iowa, Costa Hassapopoulos of San Francisco, Calif., and Rod Carrott of Salem, Ore.

The bride's attendants wore crepe tea-length frocks in teal, fashioned with white lace overlays on the bodices. Each carried a hand cluster of white roses, star blossoms and pink baby's breath.

The men were attired in silver tuxedos with teal bow ties and cummerbunds.

The bride's mother chose a pink street-length dress, and the bridegroom's mother wore a seafoam green dress, also in street length, with accordion pleated sleeves.

A RECEPTION WAS held for 200 guests at the Laurel Senior Citizens Center following the wedding ceremony. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Don Dahlquist and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Linn, all of Laurel.

Mrs. Bud Erlanson of Wakefield and Mrs. Bill Erwin of Colorado Springs, Colo. cut and served the cake. Mrs. Dale Erwin of Sioux City poured.

Waitresses were Diane Olson of Concord, Kristi Kvols and Tonya Kamrath, both of Laurel, and Heather Benstead of Allen.

Girls Staters speak

The Llewellyn B. Whitmore VFW Auxiliary No. 5291 met in the Wayne Vet's Club room on Aug. 11 with 12 members and two guests present.

Eveline Thompson introduced Eunice Wacker and Paula Koplin. Miss Wacker told of her experiences at the 1986 Girls State session held in June at Lincoln, and Miss Koplin shared her experiences as a counselor at this year's Girls State.

Mrs. Thompson presented a Certificate of Appreciation from the American Legion Auxiliary for the VFW Auxiliary's participation in the sponsorship of Girls State.

PRESIDENT BETTY Helthold called the meeting to order.

It was announced that M & M pillow cleaning will be held Sept. 12. Members helping that day will be Darlene Draghu, Helen Siefken, Frances Doring, Eveline Thompson and Faunell Hoffman.

District III President Joyce Lantz also is scheduled to visit Wayne during September.

Mabel Sommerfeld reminded all members to attend the 40th anniversary celebration of the post and auxiliary on Aug. 16.

SEVERAL COMMITTEE reports were given during the evening.

Frances Doring reported that Darlene Draghu donated blood recently at the Bloodmobile.

Eveline Thompson reported that Windmill pins are for sale to aid cancer research. Mrs. Thompson also reported on membership and announced that there are 11 paid memberships for 1987. She also announced a probable dues increase effective after the national convention.

Mrs. Thompson also reported for the program committee and announced that 75 books were assembled and completed for the current year.

Helen Siefken reported that a card had been sent to Elsie Ehlers who was recently hospitalized.

Mrs. Siefken also reported on the auxiliary sponsored bingo party at the Norfolk-Veterans Home on July 30. Members who attended were Eveline Thompson, Ruth Korth, Faunell Hoffman, Helen Siefken and Amy Lindsay.

Members who rode on the auxiliary float in the Wayne County Old Settlers parade at Winside were Frances Doring, Eveline Thompson, Faunell Hoffman, Amy Lindsay and Darlene Draghu.

DARLENE DRAGHU installed new officers, including Mabel Sommerfeld, conductress; Verna Mae Longe, flag bearer; and Helen Siefken, color bearer number one. Betty Helthold presented Mrs. Draghu a centerpiece as a past president's gift.

Hostesses for the meeting were Betty Helthold and Darlene Draghu.

Next meeting will be Sept. 8 at 8 p.m. in the Wayne Vet's Club room.

Larsons marking 50th

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Bertil Larson are hosting an open house reception to honor their parents' 50th wedding anniversary. All friends and relatives are invited to attend the event on Sunday, Aug. 17 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Evangelical Covenant Church in Wakefield. The couple requests no gifts.

Anniversary, wedding dance honors Lobergs and Doffins

Harold and Janice Loberg of Carroll were honored for their 30th wedding anniversary with a dance on Aug. 4 at Riverside Ballroom in Norfolk.

Also honored were their daughter, Kimberly Stroman, and Rod Doffin who were married that day.

Providing music was Lobergs' son-in-law, Jack McKown and the Ashlioh Band.

HAROLD LOBERG and Janice Ann Mau were married Aug. 4, 1956 at Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church in Carroll.

They have resided in Carroll for 27 years where they own and operate a construction and feed business.

They are the parents of six children, Mrs. Rod (Kimberly) Doffin of Hoskins, Kirk Loberg and Mrs. Jack (Katherine) McKown, both of Norfolk; and Kris, Kary and Koby Loberg, all of Carroll.

There also are five grandchildren: Bryan and Samuel Stroman of Hoskins, and Karla and Derick Loberg and Kiley Jo McKown, all of Norfolk.

MRS. LOBERG'S parents, Mrs. Florence Mau of Wayne and the late Gilbert Mau, also were married on Aug. 4, 1936.

Harold Loberg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reynold Loberg of Wayne.

Good news about drug use at WHS

After superstars Lenny Bias and Don Rogers both died of drug overdoses, I decided to find out, as best I could, whether or not drugs are frequently used at Wayne High School.

I asked students, without telling them I was searching for information for a possible story, whether or not drugs are commonly used at Wayne High. And fortunately, those asked informed me that although there is some usage, drugs are pretty much frowned upon by the majority of Wayne High students.

You pessimists out there are probably thinking that since the students knew I worked for the paper, they covered up. But that just isn't the case.

Over the past few months, I've developed a friendly/trusting relationship with many of the students — the same students I asked — and believe me, their answers are the truth.

Some did say they knew of a few recent graduates that used drugs, and I'm sure there are a handful of others still in school that are users of drugs that the "informants" didn't know about. But for the most part, only losers, it seems, participate in drugs at Wayne High School.

Actually, when one thinks about it, only losers anywhere participate in drugs.

Don Meyer has come along way from his days in Wayne.

But although coach Meyer has won an NAIA national basketball championship and is coaching in a metropolis like Nashville, Tenn., Meyer hasn't forgotten his country roots.

When he was recently asked whether he plans to coach at a higher level or stay at David Lipscomb College, Meyer responded, "I don't think about stuff like that...if you stand around looking for greener grass on the other side of the fence, the farmer will come up and milk you."

It's unfortunate that Scott Baker couldn't participate in the Class B State American Junior Legion Baseball Tournament.

Baker couldn't play because of a nagging back injury. He's had the injury several years now, and playing football, basketball and baseball every year took its toll.

Wayne couldn't use "Bake" during the state tourney. During the season he quietly went out and consistently collected big hits and played almost error-free ball. But when the Class B Area 3 Tournament rolled around, so did his back ache.

But Robbie Gamble deserves credit for doing a nice job of filling in. During the area and state tourneys, Gamble displayed a good glove and a steady bat. Gamble, along with many others, will be heard from next baseball season.

Believe it or not, football season is just around the corner. And Wayne High School coach Lonnie Ehrhardt wants to remind players that haven't checked out equipment to do so by Friday.

"I'd like to have all the equipment checked out by Friday so we won't have to mess with it next week," Ehrhardt said. The Wayne skipper added that he'll be at the school from 6 a.m. until 9 a.m. to distribute equipment.

Practices begin Monday, August 18, at 7 a.m. Hey guys, that's only five more days. And Wayne's first game — a Friday, Sept. 5, contest at South Sloux City — is only 23 days away!

RICK MARCELLUS scores one of five runs during the fifth inning of O'Neill's 7-0 win over Wayne. Brent Pick is the catcher and looking on is umpire Rick Janssen.

Appleby guides O'Neill's Juniors past Wayne with crafty two-hitter

By John Prather
Sports Editor

"We got out of it what we put into it — nothing," a disgruntled Hank Overin said as he watched Wayne's Junior Legion baseball team during the seventh inning of the quarter finals of the Class B State Tournament which Wayne lost, 7-0, to O'Neill.

The game was, indeed, disappointing for those associated with the Wayne squad. In addition to numerous errors and passed balls, a lack of hitting hindered the host team's effort to reach "the final four."

The game started smoothly for Wayne as hard-throwing Don Larsen struck out the first two batters he faced. And although Greg Appleby reached on an error and Dave Eby followed with a walk, Larsen got Phil Blum to fly out to right fielder Shannon Dorcay to end the inning.

But O'Neill opened a 1-0 lead in the third before blowing the game open with five runs in the fourth.

Brad DeVall led the third off with a single and stole second on a close play. Curt Harte then followed with a walk.

Larsen quickly got ahead of Appleby with two curve balls, but one pitch later the composed Appleby drilled a fastball to left-center for a run-scoring double.

Larsen was in obvious trouble, but he continued to battle and after striking out Eby, retired Phil Blum when Blum attempted to squeeze home Harte with a bunt, but instead popped up to first baseman Jeff Hausmann.

Larsen then spun and picked Appleby off second base to escape the inning with only one run allowed.

The pick-off sparked the Wayne players, and Ted Lueders added fuel to the fire by leading off the bottom of the third with a bunt single.

Bill Landanger then sacrificed Lueders to second with a bunt, but Tim Fleming followed by flying out to center before Dan Gross lined hard to the left fielder to end the inning.

Things snowballed for Wayne in the fourth. Rick Marcellus led the inning off with a single and advanced to third on two consecutive passed balls.

One out later, Marcellus scored when Mark Howard's grounder was misplayed. Howard then moved to third on two more passed balls.

Doug Smith grounded out to third baseman Robbie Gamble for the second out, but DeVall and Harte followed with two consecutive singles.

DeVall and Harte both stole second and after moving to third on a passed ball, both scored on passed balls.

Appleby scored O'Neill's final run of the inning when he walked, moved to third on two passed balls and scored when Eby's grounder was booted.

Blum added a single, but Lueders, who relieved Larsen earlier in the inning, fanned Marcellus to end the inning.

O'Neill added an insurance run in the fifth. Howard stroked a one-out single and after moving to third on a passed ball and a stolen base, scored on a Wayne error.

As he has done throughout his career, Appleby stifled Wayne's offensive attack. The side-armed right-hander allowed only two hits, struck out six and walked only two.

Other than Lueders' third inning bunt single, Gamble was the only other Wayne player to record a hit.

Gamble stroked a one-out single in the second and followed by stealing second base. However, Appleby retired the next two hitters to end the inning.

Lueders and Gamble were the only Wayne players to reach second base, and Wayne only had five base runners the entire game.

Appleby has never lost to Wayne in his four-year Midget and Junior Legion career, and the win improved his 1986 record to an impressive 16-1.

The victory propelled O'Neill into the Class B final four, along with Lincoln Glass, Blair and Beatrice.

Overin recaps 1986 Junior Legion baseball season

By John Prather
Sports Editor

Wayne's performance in the Class B Junior Legion State Baseball Tournament was indicative of its entire 1986 season — up and down. After playing well but losing a tough 2-1 decision to Blair in the opening round, Wayne trounced Hickman Norris 18-3 before turning in a sub-par effort in a 7-0 loss to O'Neill.

Wayne head coach Hank Overin said the year teetered between peaks to valleys, and offered several opinions why he thought the season consistently swayed from one extreme to the other.

"We had an up and down year, just like the tournament, and one reason why is because we put into the year what we got out of it," he said, referring to his squad's effort.

A lack of improvement in the upper classmen and no team leadership also hindered Wayne's Juniors, according to Overin.

"The younger guys like Jason Jorgensen, Russ Longe and Bill Landanger improved a great deal from last year, and Robbie Gamble improved 100 percent from last season. But the senior players didn't improve much from last year, and that hurt," Overin said.

"We also didn't have any leadership this year, and that affected us. You need some kind of leadership — a field general — to make your team go," the Wayne skipper added.

Overin added that another factor that hindered his club was the number of players on the roster.

"We had 20 kids at the beginning of the year, and ended with 18. And I'm glad that only two kids didn't stick it out, you never want to see kids quit, but when you get that many kids out they lose the individual time they can work with the coach to improve their game," he said.

Overin added that the numerous players took away from the team concept.

"We had 18 kids so we broke down to two teams. And although that meant more playing time, it also destroyed the team concept because we had two teams instead of one," he said.

Overin said that in the future he will have his players working more on baseball.

"Next year and for a few years after that, we shouldn't have as many kids out as we did this year and that means they'll have more time to work on their game and improve," he said.

Despite finishing 1-2 in the state tourney and 2-2 at the area tourney in Blair, Overin said he was pleased with his club's play at the end of the season and called Wayne one of the top three teams in the state.

"I thought we played up to our potential during the end of the season — we especially played well at Blair," he said. "After watching the state tournament for the past few days, I'd have to say we were one of the three best teams in Class B. We had a lot of talent on this year's club."

Hausmann fires one-hitter

Wayne explodes in 18-3 thrashing of Hickman

A lack of offense shot Wayne down in a 2-1 loss to Blair in the Class B State Junior Legion Baseball Tournament at Overin Field Friday night, but Wayne made up for its lack of offense Saturday afternoon by trouncing Hickman Norris, 18-3.

Wayne scored in every inning except the second and fifth frames, and tallied seven markers in the seventh. Wayne opened a 3-0 lead in the first when Tim Fleming and Dan Gross led off with singles and scored on Jeff Hausmann's double.

Hausmann moved to second on a sacrifice bunt by Brent Pick and scored on a sacrifice fly by Robbie Gamble.

Wayne went down in order in the second, but Fleming scored the host's fourth run when he led off the third with a walk, stole second and crossed the plate on a Hickman error.

Wayne blew the game open in the fourth with four runs. Shannon Dorcay started the Wayne fireworks by reaching on an error and Ted Lueders followed with a single.

Lueders then stole second and Dorcay scored seconds later on a Bill Landanger grounder.

Fleming then followed with a two-run homer to left-center and after Gross singled and stole second, he scored on a Hickman error.

As Wayne's offense was exploding, Hausmann mowed down Hickman batters.

Hausmann fanned five of the first six batters he faced and entered the sixth inning with a no-hit shutout.

Hickman ruined Hausmann's gem in the sixth with three runs on one hit, one walk, a hit batsman and two Wayne errors.

But Wayne came right back with three runs of its own in the sixth before scoring seven markers in the seventh.

Fleming led the top of the sixth off with his third hit in as many at bats, and after Gross flew out to center field, Hausmann ripped a two-run

Wayne's third run of the sixth came after Pick doubled, stole second and crossed the plate on an error.

Dorcay led the wild seventh off for Wayne by drawing a walk and stealing second. One out later, Landanger reached on an error and Fleming drew a walk.

Gross then stroked a double to plate all three base runners and later scored when Hausmann's grounder was misplayed.

Hausmann and Don Larsen, who reached after being hit by a pitch, rounded out Wayne's scoring when they crossed the plate on a Lueders single.

Fleming finished 3-for-3 with two walks and the home run. Other offensive standouts for Wayne included: Gross, 3-for-5 with three RBI; Hausmann, 2-for-5 with four RBI; and Lueders, 2-for-5.

Pick collected Wayne's other hit.

In addition to allowing only one hit, Hausmann finished with 13 strike outs against three walks and a hit batsman.

The victory moved Wayne into Monday's action against O'Neill.

Dale Jackson wins Dixon Stampede

CONCORD — Early morning showers greeted the 43 runners that competed in the 2nd annual Dixon County Fair Stampede. Luckily, by starting time the rains stopped, leaving the ideal 70 degree overcast skies behind.

The one mile and 10K races both began here at 8 a.m. from the southwest corner of the fairgrounds. Joe Finn led the pack over the wet grass in the mile, but was passed by Dale Jackson of Allen with approximately 100 meters remaining in the race.

Jackson ran a 5:53. The winner of the women's division was last year's champion, Deb Uehling of Allen, who finished with a 4:19.

Donald Mandel of Omaha and Joel Greve of South Sioux City ran side-by-side over the first four kilometers of the 10K, before Mandel slowly pulled away to win with a 38:29 clocking. Greve finished with a 39:01.

Joan Giese won the women's division in the 10K with a 50:56 effort.

The youngest runner at the event was Matthew Meyer of Wayne who, at age six, ran an 8:42 mile. Meyer showed outstanding stamina for his age.

The entrant from the farthest distance was Miki Torimura, who is an exchange student with the LABO program. Torimura is from Hiroshima, Japan, and is staying with the Lloyd Hambleton family at Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Roberts places second at Grand Island

GRAND ISLAND — Tom Roberts of Wayne placed second in the Men's 45 Singles Division at the USTA Grand Island Open here over the weekend.

Despite not being seeded in the tourney, the 53-year-old Roberts defeated Bill Arendt of Omaha 6-0, 6-1 in the opening round before trimming Ron Willman of Grand Island 4-6, 6-2, 6-3 in the semifinals.

Roberts then slipped No. 1 seeded Ken Tharp 7-6 in the first set of the championship round, before losing the final two sets 6-1, 6-1.

The 53-year-old Roberts said the first set of the championship match took nearly one hour and 45 minutes to complete, and added that the entire match took approximately three hours.

Roberts will compete again in the state tournament in Omaha during Labor Day Weekend.

Arlington downs Wakefield for Dodge crown

WAKEFIELD — If you're the gambling type, you probably wouldn't like Wakefield's team's chances against Arlington in the Dodge County League championship game here Sunday night.

The law of averages were with Wakefield, considering Arlington had claimed both regular season contests with a pair of victories. But Arlington made it three in a row with an 8-3 victory for the league title.

Unfortunately for Wakefield, it played one of, if not its worst game of the year, finishing with six errors and stranding 11 base runners on base.

To top things off, Wakefield starting pitcher Mark Startz, one of the league's hottest hurlers over the last month, was hit by a pitch in the bottom of the second inning that broke his right hand.

Joel Ankeny relieved Startz in the third, but Arlington took advantage of Wakefield's shaky defense to score three quick unearned runs.

Two throwing errors and a sacrifice fly allowed Arlington to open a 3-1 lead, and the visitors continued to add to its advantage the rest of the way to claim the championship.

Despite throwing a five-hit shut out over nine innings Wednesday night, Ankeny pitched three innings in Sunday's game before giving way to Neil Blohm in the sixth. Blohm finished the game for Wakefield.

Ankeny said the three unearned runs opened the gate for Arlington. "It was just one of those games when nothing went right," Ankeny said.

"Arlington has a good team. They have three guys with minor league experience so when you get behind them, you're asking for it."

Offensive standouts for Wakefield were Paul Catvert who consistently reached base and Brian Soderberg who stroked an RBI single.

Despite ending Dodge County League play on a sour note, Wakefield turned in a fine season finishing with a fine 15-7 mark and placing second behind West Point in the final regular season standings.

Wakefield trimmed Snyder 1-0 in the opening round of the playoffs Wednesday night before dropping Sunday's game to Arlington.

The season still isn't over for Wakefield, however, as it will participate in the Cumming County Fair Baseball Tournament at West Point later in the month. Wakefield's first game in the tourney is Thursday, August 21, against Wisner.

WSC to have 'Sack Lunch Day' August 21

The Wayne State football coaching staff and players are inviting the public to "Sack Lunch Day" Thursday, August 21, from noon until 1 p.m. at Memorial Stadium.

The Wildcats will hold a short practice, and the coaching staff will be on hand to explain more about the drills performed. In addition, those in attendance will have the opportunity to meet the players and talk with the coaches.

A sack lunch will be available at the stadium for $2, or participants can bring their own lunch.

Those who intend to purchase a sack lunch should call Jean Berger at 375-2200, ext. 326.

In case of inclement weather, the lunch will be held in Rice Auditorium.

Wayne begins volleyball Aug. 18

Two-a-day practices for the senior high volleyball team will begin Monday, August 18, at 9 a.m. and at 1 p.m. at the high school.

Marlene Uhing, Wayne's coach, said the girls should come dressed to play and should have their physical examination and parental consent forms ready if they haven't already turned them in.

Eckhoffs hook two Master Anglers

Like son like father?

That sounds a little backwards, but when it came to catching Master Angler fish the past few weeks, that was the case at the Bob Eckhoff house.

Eleven-year-old Mike Eckhoff landed a 1 lb. 7 oz. bluegill several weeks ago at the Izaak Walton League pond.

Then, a week after Mike caught his award winning fish, Mike's father, Bob, hooked a 5 lb. 4 oz. bass, also at the Izaak Walton League pond.

Mike used a fly to catch his bluegill. The bait Bob used was not reported to the Wayne Herald.

Blair reaches finals with 1-0 win over O'Neill

Neither Phil Blum of O'Neill nor Blair's Brian Green should've lost the semifinal game Tuesday night at Overin Field. But Green's teammate, Mark Clemens, stroked a one-out triple in the bottom of the fifth and scored the game's only run one out later on a clutch single by Troy Carmichael to boost Blair into the finals undefeated.

Blair will play Beatrice Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m., weather permitting. Should Blair lose Wednesday night's game, the two teams would play again Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. Beatrice defeated Lincoln Class 5-4 in other semifinal action Tuesday night.

The Blair/O'Neill game was a pitcher's duel from the very beginning as Blum and Green retired the first six batters they faced. But O'Neill threatened in the top of the third.

After Green retired the first batter of the second on strikes, Bob Pikerman reached on an error and Doug Smith followed with a single.

Brad DeVall, O'Neill's lead off hitter, then loaded the bases when he stroked his second consecutive single.

But Green buckled down, and after striking out the next batter, ended the inning by getting O'Neill's leading hitter, Greg Appleby, to fly out to center field.

Blair also threatened to break the ice in the third inning. After Mark Clemens flew out to start the inning, Green drew a walk but was picked off by Blum.

However, Carmichael, Blair's ninth hitter in the order, drilled a double and took third on a Blair error. But Blum ended the threat by getting Brad Lehl to fly out to the shortstop.

After retiring O'Neill with relative ease in the fourth and fifth innings, Green received all the support he needed in the bottom of the fifth.

Craig Aman started the inning by grounding out to the third baseman, but Clemens followed with his triple and after Blum struck out Green, Carmichael delivered with his second hit in as many at bats.

Green retired the side in order in the sixth, before surviving a shakey seventh inning to preserve the win.

Rick Marcellus greeted Green in the seventh with a lead off single and moved to third when Mark Howard's grounder was booted.

But Green got Pikerman to fly out to center fielder Lehl, and Lehl then threw Marcellus out trying to score. Green then ended the game by getting Smith to fly out to right field.

The game had an interesting start. DeVall led off the first with a shot over the third base bag that the base umpire grabbed.

The plate umpire ruled the ball was fair, however, and allowed DeVall first base. Green then picked DeVall off.

Another strange play occurred in the second. Blair's Joe Foley drew a one-out walk and stole second. However, Foley unexplainably started walking back to first and was tagged out.

Blum fired a four-hitter while Green allowed five hits. Both team's ninth hitters collected two safeties: apiece as Carmichael finished 2-for-2 and Smith went 2-for-3.

Kevin Rasmussen, perhaps the tournament's most feared hitter, singled in three at bats for Blair. Rasmussen also flew out to the left field fence in the sixth.

Clemens collected Blair's other hit, while DeVall finished with two safeties for O'Neill and Marcellus added one hit.

Green finished with seven strike outs against two walks, while Blum recorded three strike outs and walked two.

State tourney notes

By John Prather
Sports Editor

While you're watching the state tournament, don't be surprised if the person next to you is fiddling with a stopwatch or radar gun. Eleven professional scouts and three college scouts have already attended the tourney, and as long as Blair and Beatrice keep winning, more are likely to come.

Doug Tegtmeler of Beatrice and Blair's Kevin Rasmussen have stirred the most interest during the tourney, according to Wayne head coach Hank Overin.

"The scouts are impressed with Rasmussen's bat speed, and they like watching Tegtmeler pitch," Overin said.

Rasmussen entered the tournament with 15 home runs, including some tape measure jobs.

Although this is only hear-say, word has it that Rasmussen jacked one earlier in the year at Blair that landed on top of a house some 450 feet away from home plate.

Tegtmeler possesses a lively arm, and has a fastball that has, at times, been recorded in the 90 mile-per-hour range.

"Most of his pitches have been clocked in the upper 80's, but he has been in the 90's," Overin said. "And that's according to the ray gun, which is most accurate."

Although Rasmussen and Tegtmeler have attracted most of the attention, Tegtmeler's teammate, Jerry Madison, has been a pleasant surprise.

While watching Tegtmeler play, scouts have taken notice of the speedy center fielder's skills.

Madison was clocked in 4.1 down the first base line, and according to Overin, that's quality.

"They clocked him in 4.1 down the first base line, and 4.2 is considered good," the Wayne coach and St. Louis Cardinal scout said.

To say Rasmussen, Tegtmeler and Madison are skilled is an understatement, but perhaps their most impressive quality is their youth — all three are underclassmen.

Wayne's 7-0 loss to O'Neill and 1-2 record in the state tournament were disappointing as far as gate receipts go. Obviously, the longer the home team keeps playing, the more money the tournament is likely to raise.

For example, the Wayne/Blair game last Friday night drew an estimated 700 fans, while approximately 400 to 500 spectators watched Wayne's other two outings.

But although Wayne's absence will be noticed, Overin and tournament director John Melena said the tournament has been drawing well.

"Considering Wayne is out of it and the damp weather we've had, some pretty good crowds have shown up," Melena said.

One often hears how a certain player performs well against a certain team, but one can almost say that O'Neill's Greg Appleby owns Wayne.

During his four-year Midget and Junior Legion career, Appleby has never lost to Wayne. And he was the winning pitcher in O'Neill's 7-0 victory over the hosts Tuesday afternoon.

Appleby finished that game with six strike outs against two walks. The side-armed right-hander also allowed only two hits.

Not only did the victory allow O'Neill to reach the Class B final four, but it improved Appleby's season record to an incredible 16-1.

"He's a very good competitor. He likes to compete and he does a great job of it," Overin said of Appleby.

As you might've already noticed, coach Overin is referred to quite often in coverage of the state tourney. But when it comes to state tournaments, there aren't too many others that can offer the insight Overin has.

This is the 17th state tourney (including Midget and Junior Legion) that Overin has coached in since he started the profession 28 years ago, and he has seven state championships to his credit.

Not only that, but as a player the Wayne skipper made it to the triple A level of minor league ball, just one step below the "bigs."

Although Overin has coached seven state champions and has led some fine teams in 10 other state tourneys, he said this year's Junior Legion team was one of the most talented squads he's ever coached.

"As far as talent goes, this was one of the best teams I've coached," he said. "And after watching the state tournament over the past few days, I'd have to say we were one of the top three teams in Class B. We had a lot of talent on this year's club."

Over the years, Don Meyer was a familiar site at Wayne baseball fields and Overin Park. And although Don passed away earlier this year, his presence is still felt.

After the "super fan" died, a Don Meyer Memorial Fund was developed and the money raised was used to purchase bleachers for the players that play on Little League and softball teams.

And now, at least the memory of Don Meyer is still present at every Wayne game.

Blair guns for two titles

Blair will be attempting to achieve something this week during the Class B American Junior Legion State Baseball Tournament that hasn't been achieved for 23 years — to win Midget and Junior Legion state titles the same year.

Blair's Midgets have already captured the 1986 state crown, and should Blair's Juniors also win the state title, it will be the first town to win Midget and Junior Legion state championships since the 1963 Wayne Midgets and Juniors.

Blair's Juniors are the only undefeated team remaining in the tourney, and are scheduled to play Beatrice Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m. in the championship round.

Should Blair lose Wednesday night, the two teams would play again Thursday night at 7:30 p.m.

Shoefelter single boosts Beatrice

Some day, Alan Shoefelter will be able to tell his grandchildren how he was the hero of Beatrice's 5-4 victory over Lincoln Glass in the semifinals of the 1986 Class B American Junior Legion State Baseball Tournament.

Shoefelter delivered a clutch one-out single in the bottom of the seventh inning to plate Jerry Madison with the winning run to propel Beatrice into the finals of the state tourney against Blair.

Weather permitting, Beatrice will play Blair at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday night. Should Beatrice win Wednesday, the two teams will face each other again Thursday night at the same time.

Lincoln Glass had Beatrice in the palm of its hand as the visitors held a 4-3 lead heading into the seventh inning.

But after Beatrice's Mark Nulsmier led the inning off with a single and was tagged out, Brian Bosigner walked and Jerry Madison singled.

Doug Tesmeier followed by striking out, but the ball eluded Lincoln catcher Bruce Bode and Tesmeier raced to first to load the bases.

Brad Tesar then walked to force in Bosigner with the tying run, and Shoefelter followed with his game-winning hit.

Lincoln opened a 2-0 lead in the second when Bode and Ken Sedlak both walked, and later scored on Chris Moode's single.

But Beatrice tied the game in the bottom of the frame when Jeff Scott walked and scored on a Mike Cook double. Cook later crossed the plate on a Lincoln error.

Both teams tallied their third run in the fourth inning. Sedlak led Lincoln's half of the fourth off with a walk and moved to second on Moode's grounder. Sedlak then scored on a single by Tim Mertens.

But Beatrice equaled that in the bottom of the fourth. Tesar led the inning off with a single and later scored on a Lincoln error.

Lincoln then opened a 4-3 advantage in the fifth when Bode drew a two-out walk and then scored on an error by Beatrice's right fielder.

Beatrice sent nine players to the plate in the fifth and sixth innings, but stranded three base runners to thwart potential rallies. However, Beatrice rallied for the two markers in the seventh to claim the victory.

Beatrice collected six hits in the game. Bosigner, Madison, Tesar, Shoefelter, Mark Cook and Nulsmier all stroked safeties for the winners.

Lincoln finished with seven hits, including two singles by Ron Schell and one each by Russ Dolezal, Moode, Mertens, Jeff Barrech, and Bruce Haller.

Madison, the winning pitcher, finished with nine strike outs against four walks, while Dolezal struck out four and walked four.

Blair defeated Beatrice 9-2 earlier in the tourney.

Belladonna Medicines

Atropine is one example of the belladonna alkaloids — a group of naturally occurring medicines obtained from plants. Belladonna alkaloids cause a partial or complete reversal of the effects of the chemical acetylcholine that is normally produced by the body. It is acetylcholine that causes the pupils to constrict, the gastrointestinal tract to propel food, the mouth to produce saliva, and hundreds of other regulatory effects.

Belladonna counters these effects and causes the pupils to dilate, the gastrointestinal tract to slow down, and saliva production to decrease. At one time in history women placed belladonna in their eyes to enlarge pupil size and, by their way of thinking, enhance beauty. Mascara and eye shadow serve much the same purpose today and draw attention to "larger" eyes.

One of the chief uses for belladonna today is in treatment of gastrointestinal problems such as ulcers and irritable-bowel syndrome. Because belladonna helps relieve spasms of the stomach and intestines, its alkaloids are classified as "antispasmodic" agents. The chief benefit of belladonna use in stomach and bowel disorders may be pain relief through elimination of cramping.

Boosalis campaigns in Wayne

Democratic candidate for Nebraska governor, Helen Boosalis, made Wayne a stop in her campaign trail Thursday afternoon — visiting the Wayne State College of Nebraska campus and meeting people at the Wayne County Fair.

In her address at Wayne State College concerning educational issues, Boosalis said the next governor of Nebraska must be a strong supporter of and an advocate for quality education.

HELEN BOOSALIS has a word or two with Dean Jacobs of Wayne.

Budget

slightly in the areas of support services for instructional staff and support services for business operations.

Leighton said he anticipates $14,000 to be cut from state aid this school year, and drivers education has been discontinued.

Some programs involving special education, which at one time were financed entirely by state or federal programs, have been reduced to 90 percent funding — leaving the 10 percent to be picked up by the school district.

"It may not be much, but $1,000 here and another $1,000 there could really help you," he said.

"Don't get me wrong, I'm proud that we're not increasing the tax askings. But it could have been better," he added.

The amount taxpayers pay could increase or decrease, depending on the evaluations of property.

"Valuations play a big part in this. When taxes go up, it is not always the school district's fault. It could be in the valuation process," Leighton remarked.

"We've done about all we can do with this proposed budget," he added.

Negotiations for teacher salaries within the Winside School District for the 1986-87 year are still incomplete, Leighton said.

Earlier this year, the Winside School Board reduced the staffing of business instruction to a half-time position and had combined the half-time home economics instructions and half-time guidance counseling into one position.

The hearing on the proposed 1986-87 school year budget is set for Monday, August 18 at 8 p.m. in the Winside Elementary Building.

Boosalis said 60 percent of school property taxes come from property taxes on land, and that land values have dropped in Nebraska by nearly 60 percent during the last few years.

To maintain quality education, the state can either increase the property tax burden on landowners or the state can substitute revenues from another tax, she told an audience of close to 50 people.

"I prefer the substitution of a 1 percent sales tax in order to give property tax relief," Boosalis said.

She would work with the Unicameral, she said, to have a third of the state's taxes from property tax; a third from sales tax; and another third from the income tax.

"We can fulfill these promises without a tax increase," mentioned Boosalis.

First priority of the colleges and universities should be the education of the state's undergraduate students in the basic arts and sciences. This priority, she said, should be followed by pinpointing other areas of undergraduate studies which students are demanding and areas which they need to prepare themselves to "function well in our technological society."

PRIORITIES should also be directed toward meeting the needs of Nebraska, with teaching, research and public service funded in those areas.

Boosalis said she would make certain that the state's tax dollars "are supporting the kind of research departments which can compete for the federal and industry dollars."

She said more can be done for the state's colleges and universities, without involving taxes, by some of the following methods:

- Getting the state and higher education to cooperate to seek out more research grants from National Foundations and the federal government.

- Working with industry and the federal government to establish consortia of industry and higher education institutions.

while they are still graduate students.

- And funding more graduate students by having them hired in business, government and industry

After meeting with the audience at Wayne State College, Boosalis attended the Wayne County Fair barbecue, passing out campaign literature.

Pankaskie resigns post

Marcia Pankaskie, full-time city planner and building inspector in Wayne, submitted her resignation Tuesday evening to the Wayne City Council.

Her resignation is effective Aug. 30, 1986.

Pankaskie said Wednesday morning that she has attained a drafting position with a private industry in Kansas called Marley Continental Homes of Kansas.

Pankaskie joined the Wayne city staff in March of 1982.

Pioneer Farm Families

Samantha and Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ulrich and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Baker. The award, which is co-sponsored by Ak-Sar-Ben and the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers, recognizes farms which have been owned by the same family for 100 years or more.

Bailey attends conference

Northrup King Co. Territory Sales Manager Richard Bailey, Laurel, recently attended the company's National Sales Conference in Minneapolis, Minnesota. During the four-day conference which was themed "Go for the Top", about 170 Northrup King sales managers and agronomists from across the U.S. planned next year's marketing strategy.

Two speakers of national prominence addressed the group. International consultant and speaker Don Beveridge discussed what it takes to be a successful 20th century salesperson. He noted there are four sales generations which culminate with the customer perceiving the salesperson as an unpaid staff member in his/her business. Farm Journal Staff Economist Dr. John Marten was optimistic that in the long run the new farm bill will allow the U.S. to regain its world-market dominance. Marten also discussed the positive macroeconomic conditions that influence farming: lower inflation, lower real interest rates, lower energy costs, lower unemployment, more private investment and a devalued U.S. dollar.

by pat meierhenry

I had Sue really clean the kitchen while she was home last Monday and I've messed it up swatting flies all weekend. It's too much like Autumn; they want in the house.

Carol Jorgenson said this morning it will probably be hot for the first week of school; and that would be typical Nebraska.

I'm writing this at the picnic table, and it is cool. There is a Bob-white somewhere to the south of me.

The Big Farmer is stacking hay. It's been difficult to combine and take care of hay between showers.

The kids have gone to the Demolition Derby. The old Pontiac that was new when my Sis was married is going to get it tonight. Sue drove it to school and it had a hole in the back, so they called it the Blue Bomb.

The actually had a calf show at the County Fair without a Meierhenry calf, for the first time in a dozen years. The show went just fine, but the kids had withdrawal symptoms!

To boot, our faithful 4-H leader, Romona Fuhs, ended up in the hospital and she missed the first fair in about twenty years! Kay took care of her, so they comforted each other.

I ONLY MADE it to the Farm Bureau booth for about one hour on Friday night, to hand out fly swatters and cajole folks into guessing the number of candy corns in a jar.

We did get to meet a shirt-tail cousin of Mike's as she came campaigning through the commercial building. Diane Schmieck, candidate for state treasurer and Mike have the same great-grandparents. She must be a renegade, though, for there are very few Democrats in his family. I thought she was charming.

Kermit Brashear is married to a third cousin of mine. We were already planning to have family reunions in the governor's mansion but it was not to be.

Mike has another relative in politics: South Dakota's attorney general. We've never met him, but we vacationed in the Black Hills last year he closed the house of ill-repute in Deadwood. They were a one-hundred year old tradition and folks were upset. Whenever we used our Mastercard, someone would ask "Are you related to the Attorney-General?" in an unfriendly manner.

I walked around the section a couple of times this week. It's getting easier, though there are a couple of steep hills. I can't ever finish in an hour because someone always stops to talk. One night I met my neighbors going as I was coming back.

THAT SAME night, I talked to a man who rents some ground to the west and we had never met before!

Sue's getting ready to move to Omaha and is scrounging for furniture. Ann and Kay are cleaning closets and getting ready to trade bedrooms. What a mess!

The beans are being walked. The last softball games are played. We're eating corn and beans and tomatoes as fast as we can.

Someone told me last week that it is easier to give away a box of kittens than a bushel of zucchini. I don't think I believe that!

But I'd better try that new recipe for zucchini bars before I have to throw the darned things out!

For farm borrowers

Bereuter supports project

Nebraska has a good chance of being selected for a pilot project that would permit the discount sale of farm loans that the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) has required from closed banks. Representative Doug Bereuter has sent a letter to FDIC Chairman William Seldman, who has called a meeting on the project in Omaha next week, to urge that early action be taken to implement the pilot project in Nebraska.

"Next week's meeting could be a giant step forward in our efforts to keep farmers and ranchers in business," Bereuter says. "This proposal has been advanced by Nebraska State Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) Director Kirk Jamison, and it has the support of Vance Clark, FmHA Administrator and Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng. If it can be implemented without unnecessary bureaucratic delay and red tape, it will offer a measure of hope to financially troubled farmers and ranchers, to our already strained rural banks and farm credit institutions, and to our rural communities.

"Almost two years ago I spoke of the need to find a mechanism to buy down and resell the loans of borrowers who had the rug pulled out from under them when their local bank closed," Bereuter said. "Through no fault of their own, they found themselves without a financial home faced with the probability that the FDIC would liquidate the loan. Liquidation should be the last resort," he said. "The FDIC still loses a great deal, and the farm family loses everything. The proposed demonstration plan is a creative attempt to enable the discount sale, guarantee and restructuring of substandard farm loans obtained by the FDIC in the course of closing failed farm banks.

"I believe that a good number of these acquired loans can be auctioned at discount to interested lending institutions who then will proceed to re-activate, guarantee, reduce and otherwise restructure the FDIC-owned loans, thereby allowing farmers to continue in operation.

"The closing of a bank is a devastating occurrence in a small community, even if it reopens. A bank closing creates uncertainty and despair of tremendous proportions. Those who borrow money, those who lend money, and those who regulate the system should work cooperatively to seek solutions that keep liquidations at an absolute minimum," the First District Representative said.

"It now appears that we may have a workable plan on the table. Those who prepared it are to be commended. If it is as feasible as it appears, it should be implemented without delay."

Typical signs of stress described

by Jeff Berger

A question that has been asked us a lot recently is "How can you tell if someone is under a lot of stress?" In the next three weekly installments of this article, three types of symptoms that are typical signs of stress will be described.

A change in your stress level can cause three different types of change in your body. These effects on your body can be seen by changes in your behavior, your physical functions and your emotional state. Since changes in behavior are often the easiest to see, they will be discussed first. Physical and emotional symptoms of stress will be discussed in the next two weeks.

What kind of things can be called changes in behavior due to stress? Basically, they are any actions that are out of the ordinary for a person when compared to their normal behavior. A person can increase the amount of certain activity they do regularly or a certain behavior might decrease in the presence of a changed stress level.

Smoking, drinking or using either illegal or prescription drugs more often than normal can indicate that a person's routine has changed lately. Whenever routines change, stress occurs and that can put a pressure on you. People under stress experience and are viewed as having a drop in energy level. They will have a lack of enthusiasm and will often pull away from people they usually associate with.

MISSING WORK more often than normal and a lowered job performance are also indicators that a person is under some stress lately. A person will experience some more or-ers in their daily tasks and will have a lack of concentration if the stress they are used to changes for some reason. A person will also forget things and will seem absent-minded.

If two or three of these symptoms are present in you or someone you know, take a hard look at what can be done to ease the stress that is present. Some questions that should be asked are: 1. What is going on in my or my friend's life that may be causing this stress? 2. Am I in control of things? 3. Is there anything I want from the key people in my life that I'm not getting? 4. How can I change things to get rid of this stress?

If answers to these questions indicate a high level of stress, steps need to be taken to make sure that stress is reduced. Studies show a high level of stress over a period of time can cause illnesses such as ulcers, high blood pressure, heart disease, migraine headaches, increased numbers of colds and stroke.

The Wayne Stress Prevention Center would like to help you and your friends in your efforts to handle the stress in your lives. There are a variety of approaches that are effective to reduce stress, including talking it out, deep breathing, assertiveness training and relaxation techniques. If the level of stress you are feeling is beyond the scope of our services, we are linked to a wide range of helping resources located in northeast Nebraska. Come in and talk with us. We might be able to help.

The Wayne Stress Prevention Center, sponsored by the Providence Medical Center Foundation, meets weekly at Wayne-Carroll High School Saturday mornings at 10 a.m. We are also available for your group. If interested in having us talk, call 375-5289 or 375-2420.

To commemorate the Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. J. Canarsky, their children are hosting a reception on August 23, 1986, from two to four p.m. at Zion Lutheran Church, Bancroft, Nebraska.

ALLEN FFA CHAPTER

The Allen FFA Chapter held their annual barbecue and tractor driving contest last Tuesday evening at the school. They had six participants in the contest with Jeff Gotch taking first place and Gregg Stapleton, second place. The first two in each chapter will represent the school at the district contest to be held at Tekamah tomorrow (Friday). Mark Isom placed third. Mr. Wilmes, advisor, reported nine alumni members of the chapter attended the supper and helped with the contest.

SENIOR CITIZENS

The Allen Senior Citizens have been recycling cards at the center. They have a nice variety. If you need some cards, they also send cards to those in the hospital. Sylvia Whitford is in charge of this.

Tonight (Thursday), the center will hold their annual card party at 7:30 with Mil and Bob McCord and Helen and Maynard Schroeder hosting. All attending are asked to bring fingerfood.

The August potluck dinner will be held at noon tomorrow (Friday). The theme for the dinner will be school. If you have an old school book, paper, pictures, your dinner pair or such, bring it along. Joanne asks for your report cards or to remember an old poem or song. Practice it and they will have some entertainment. You can even come dressed as you did in the good old days.

Mary Buford, the Legal Aid representative, will be at the center on Aug. 21 at 10:30. Note, this is a change of time. She will have a short talk and then will answer any questions you may have.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Koester returned home last Monday after attending the wedding of their grandson, Rex Koester to Shelley Strange on Aug. 2 at Arkansas City, Kan. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Luhr of Wayne.

David and Brian Stalling of Omaha spent the week with their grandparents, Cliff and Donna Stalling. Their parents, Scott and Judy Stalling were weekend guests in the Stalling home and the boys returned home with their parents.

Honored by auxiliary

Allen woman becomes United States citizen

The Allen American Legion Auxiliary honored Binita Kwankin in a special presentation ceremony on Aug. 10 during morning worship services at the Allen United Methodist Church.

Binita, daughter of the Rev. Anderson and Elizabeth Kwankin of Allen, was one of several thousand persons who took an oath of United States citizenship on July 3.

Binita came to the United States from India with her parents in 1977.

DURING SUNDAY'S ceremony, Gail Hill read a patriotic poem, entitled "What It Means to Be An American."

Marge Hoffman, Americanism chairman for the auxiliary, presented Binita with an American flag desk set and gave a reading on the flag written by a past national commander of the American Legion.

Auxiliary President Deenette Von Minden, accompanied by Mary Lou Koester, sang "They Call It America," with the congregation joining in the chorus.

BINITA, 25, is a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University and received her master's degree in biology from the University of Nebraska in May 1986.

She is employed in Lincoln.

BINITA KWANKIN DISPLAYS the American flag desk set she received Sunday from the Allen American Legion Auxiliary during a special ceremony at the Allen United Methodist Church. Binita, 25, became a citizen of the United States on July 3.

Showmanship: Purple - Amy Wriedt; Blue - Lyle Luff, Chris Hammer and Mark Hammer; Red - Jennifer Reinhardt.

RATE-OF-GAIN judges, above, and food judges, below, and all Wayne County Fair judges play an important role in helping 4-H'ers broaden their 4-H skills. It can be a thankless job and it is behind the scenes work, so sometimes proper recognition can be overlooked. Thank you judges for taking the time to care and for your contributions to the 4-H cause.
